MEDIATION IS A DEAD ISSUE SOLDIERS READY FOR BORDER, TRAINS HAVE A CLEAR TRACK

"Nothing to Arbitrate About", United States Tells the Bolivian Minister—Red Cross Officials Taken Under Direct War Command.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Washington, June 27.—Mediation of the dispute with Mexico was a dead issue to-day, and 12,000 national guardsmen were ready to start for the border to enforce the United States demand on General Carranza's government.

Even greater efforts were made by the war department to eliminate "red tape," and expedite the dispatch of national guardsmen to relieve the regular army border patrols for a possible Mexican campaign. Orders issued will permit postponement of final physical examinations until troops reach their destination.

Progress of the resolution authorized by the national guards in federal service was delayed while the House to-day was to consider amendments made yesterday by the Senate. The upper-house eliminated the $1,000,000 appropriation for families of guardsmen, but those whose families are dependent upon them. The House may not concur and thus make further delay by forcing the resolution into conference committee.

Red Cross Censored. New York, June 27.—The war department has placed the movements of the Red Cross under the same cover of secrecy as those of the regular army and the militia.

Officials of the Red Cross throughout the country have been advised to be careful as to information they give out as the disposition of their forces would indicate the points where troops are to be sent.

Troops Moving Already. The Red Cross now has 6,000 nurses who are expected to respond if needed. It was arranged also to provide equipment and personnel for 400,000 men and to turn these over to the government in event of war.

House vs. Senate. Progress of the resolution authorized by the national guards in federal service was delayed while the House to-day was to

ASQUITH ASKS FOR NO QUESTIONS

At His Request Enquiries on Irish Situation Were Postponed.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, June 27.—Questions regarding the progress of the Irish negotiations directed to Premier Asquith in the House of Commons to-day were postponed at his request. This suggests that hopes of a settlement have not been entirely abandoned, despite the action of the English Unionists.

The attitude of Casement himself is far from being one of gravity. He appears neither crushed nor subdued by the seriousness of his position and takes the proceedings in a light and casual manner.

IRISH SOLDIERS SPOKE THE BROGUE Moved Audience to Levity, So Judges Had to Issue a Rebuke.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, June 27.—The second day of the trial of Sir Roger Casement for high treason opened with no change in the apathetic attitude with which the general public regards the case. Although the chief justice of England is presiding over the trial and the prosecution is being conducted by the highest law officer of the crown, it might seem to interest all of the popular excitement of the day, it attracts.

There were clear indications to-day that if American cavalrymen captured by Mexican troops at Carrizal were not released within forty-eight hours action would be taken by the United States.

The impression prevailed in official circles that President Wilson would not wait beyond Thursday at the latest and possibly not beyond to-morrow afternoon for a definite reply from the Carranza Government.

Getting Troops to Frontier. While the diplomatic aspects of the crisis awaited Carranza's action, the war department drove forward its efforts to hasten mobilization of the national guard on the border.

Vienna Hears News Calculated to Cheer it Up—German Strategic Railways Make it Very Easy For Them to Rush Reinforcements.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, June 27.—According to the latest Vienna communication the Austro-Germans have effected a breach in the Russian front in the Lutsk salient near Svidnik bridge head, an important position on the direct road to Kovel. This statement is in contradiction to the Petrograd report, but it probably was issued later. Otherwise than in the Lutsk region neither side has made any headway in this theatre.

The situation is excellent now, but with the German system of railways behind their line, it is clear that the issue depends upon the extent to which Germans are able to drain their other fronts and to keep

United States Will Act If Troops Are Not Released Within Forty-Eight Hours. Discussion of the Mexican Crisis Occupied To-day's Session of the Cabinet. No Change in the Situation, Says Lansing.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Washington, June 27.—Discussion of the Mexican crisis occupied to-day's brief session of the cabinet. When it was over Secretary Lansing announced there was no change in the situation that the administration was awaiting word from General Carranza and Secretaries Baker and Daniels said no new army or navy orders had been given.

FRONT, FLANK AND IN REAR

General Smuts' Way of Attacking the Enemy Positions.

London, June 27.—An important success for the British forces campaigning in the northeastern portion of German East Africa was officially announced yesterday. The announcement says— "The enemy occupied a strong position in the dense brush on the western side of the river and was frontally attacked in the morning. Another column arriving after a night march attacked the enemy on the flank and in the rear. We took a pom-pom, two machine guns, rifles, various munitions and numerous prisoners, including 11 Germans. "Our losses were four men killed, and 20 wounded. The enemy's losses were severe."

TO EAT PENGUINS TILL RESCUED

Sir Ernest Shackleton Unable to Reach Party on Elephant Island.

London, June 27.—Lieut. Sir Ernest Shackleton has been unable to rescue the men, numbering 22 and comprising the main body of his Antarctic expedition, who were left on Elephant Island. This information was received in a despatch from Shackleton from Port Stanley, Falkland Islands. The explorer has evidently returned on the steamer which had been placed at his disposal by the Uruguayan Government for the purpose of effecting the rescue of his men. According to his despatch the ice conditions have so increased in severity that he was unable to get nearer than twenty miles of the island. He thinks that there is still hope for the men, however, that there is an excellent chance that they will be rescued on short rations supplemented by penguins, until another rescue party, provided with an ice-breaker, can push through to them. The steamer Instituto, provided by the Uruguayan Government, left Montevideo on June 8, with Lieut. Shackleton aboard, to succor the men on Elephant Island. Billy Malone's in town. The Associated Advertising Clubs of the world are meeting in Philadelphia.

ALD WARD GAVE NOTICE

Cleveland places there was opposition to it, in Brantford it was almost unanimous. On the whole he thought it was working successfully in the city. Ald. Jennings' View Ald. Jennings said it worked both ways. Some liked it and some did not. If Ald. Ward would produce a petition to back up his notice of motion, then he would agree with the new motion. Ald. P. H. Secord said that he had yet to hear one voice in opposition to daylight saving, except one man, among his employees. The working-man gained just as the business man gained. He got away from work one hour earlier in the afternoon. Tip at Three A. M. Ald. Bragg said at Cockshutt's, Verity's and Massey-Harris, many men went to work at five in the morning on Saturday. Now they had to go at four. Therefore their wives had to get up at three. Children were scarcely on the streets in the evening during June, said Ald. Dowling, since there were only about three dry nights. This was the confirmation by-law of the sale of the City to Galt end of the Brantford Municipal Railway system to the L. E. and N. Moving Picture Films. Ald. Dowling moved, seconded by Ald. Harp that the council authorize the finance committee to negotiate with some responsible person to try and obtain moving picture reels of the local battalions, and if obtained, to be let to the property of the city in a fire proof vault. Good for the Future. Ald. Dowling said that in the future it would be a very nice thing for the city of Brantford to own reels of moving picture films. He would only negotiate, it would not commit the council to any expense. Ald. Bragg asked if he had any idea at all of the cost. Ald. Dowling said that the idea was vague, but no expense would be put on the city without consultation with the council. Erie Avenue Matters. Ald. Jennings stated, in regard to the paving of Erie Avenue, that if it were not paved he would have to move out of Eagle Place, the residents bothered him so. He, therefore, submitted a resolution that the Board of Works be authorized to have other alterations as possible at Erie Avenue to try and get the paving through to the T. H. and B. It could be done, except for the length of one hundred yards, where the dyke would be moved back to make a roadway. Had Same Idea. Ald. Ward said this matter had been discussed at the last Board of Works meeting. It was decided to go to the work as originally planned, and when nearing completion to consider the problem brought up by the petition. As far as the resolution was concerned, he had already decided on that plan. Hence the resolution had no meaning. He wished to have the aldermen, the fire chief, and the railway commissioners present to look over the whole matter. He felt certain that the people of Eagle Place would approve of the action of the Board of Works. Why a New Dyke? Ald. Bragg said if the dyke were shifted over nearer the river he thought there would be much land available to straighten South Market street to Peachey's store. He did not see why a new dyke had to be built before the old one was touched. Shifted for $300. The dyke along Erie Avenue was to be removed entirely and that dyke built along Ontario street before that were done, was Ald. Willey's explanation of the matter. Ald. Jennings' solution was to shift 100 yards of the dyke inside the fence. It could be moved for $300. Thus the west side of the street would be a roadway but not a paved way. Ald. Ward did not think the scheme was feasible. He intended, as he said before, that every man in the council should go down and look over the matter himself. Holes in the Pavement. Ald. Dowling asked if the Board of Works was going to repair the pavement on Dufferin Avenue, and was it going to curb the remainder of the thoroughfare this year. Guarantees had been given by the paving Co., said Ald. Ward, and the city was asking to recover these, and would know where it stood by next council meeting. If the curbing could be financed, then it would be done. It was not included in the estimate. Ald. Mellen inquired a similar question of Ald. Ward regarding the Chatham street pavement. The pavement was there, but the guarantee was gone. Ald. Bragg thought there was too much street sprinkling since the streets were so well oiled. One application of water a day was enough. Ald. Ward said that the Chatham

HUNGARY AFAR OF BAD CROPS

Unusual and Radical Measures Adopted to Ensure Speedy Harvest. By Special Wire to the Courier. Budapest, via London, June 27.—With the memories of the 1915 weather in mind and the freakish weather of the past three weeks as a warning that a record crop can easily be turned overnight into a partial failure, the Hungarian agricultural authorities have decided upon unusual and radical measures to harvest the 1916 crops in the speediest possible manner. The municipal local authorities throughout the country have been empowered to requisition for harvesting purposes the services of every man, woman and child at home not serving the state in some indispensable way, at fixed wages. Prisoners of war working in non-military concerns have also been requisitioned from Russian Poland, and all the troops in the interior who can be spared, will be furloughed for the same purpose. Billy Malone's in town. City law preventing peddler from ringing bell to aid sales; Schenectady, N.Y., has to support him and his family. Measure providing $50 a month for dependent families of militiamen was cut out by Senate Committee on Military Affairs. Los Angeles claims 550,000 population.

THE SITUATION.

There is another pause in the German operations against Verdun. No one at all imagines that the enterprise has been abandoned, and the offensive is again likely to be renewed at any moment on a scale which the Huns are planning to be conclusive.

The opinion persists that the Allies are preparing for a great offensive, and British guns continue to blaze away in what is regarded as part of the opening overture.

From Rome there comes the report of an Italian advance along the whole front, and the re-taking of a number of positions previously captured by the Austrians.

One section of the Russian army is threatening the fertile plains of Hungary. Another section is facing a much harder time on the Kovel front. Here large forces of German troops have undoubtedly arrived to aid the Austrians. Stanley Washburn, the well-known correspondent, in a despatch from Russian headquarters, says:

"I can state without reservation that I believe the Russians are engaged in the fiercest and most courageous fight of the entire war. They are hanging onto their hard-won positions, often facing troops concentrated on strategic points of the line which outnumber them sometimes by three to one. It should not be forgotten that the Russians are holding lines nearly 1,000 miles long, and it is always impossible for Russians to effect concentrations with the same speed as the Germans."

All the indications point to the fact that during July the war plans of the Allies in Northern France and Flanders will be put into effect—plans with regard to which no attempted diversion by the Germans at Verdun, or elsewhere has caused any change, and whose launching must be awaited by the Huns in more or less trepidation.

HOSPITAL BY-LAW.

This measure was carried by a pretty good majority, and supporters of the same can congratulate themselves upon having done a good day's work on behalf of a most worthy and well-run institution. All indebtedness will now be lifted, and there will be a sufficient margin on hand to rehabilitate the old building, renovate the plumbing of same, put the grounds in suitable order, and so on.

One cause of disappointment is the small number of property-holders who took the trouble to go to the polls.

The number of ballots entitled to be cast was 4,415, whereas the total count at the end of yesterday's polling was only 763. The fact that large numbers of citizens favoring the by-law realized that it would assuredly carry caused many to refrain from going to the polls, and under such circumstances the majority of 174 may be regarded as a good endorsement.

That the money will be well and carefully expended, to the further up-building of this excellent institution, all those who have at all kept in touch with the administration of affairs will feel fully assured.

FRENCH CANADIAN MENACE IN THE NORTH.

The Hearst Government's colonization plans for Northern Ontario have been on a most comprehensive scale. In connection with the notable schemes to induce settlement in this region so full of promise, short-term loans have been arranged. Hon. Mr. Ferguson has been the sponsor for the steps taken, and he has done his work well. Now there comes the warning from Mr. F. B. Brady, superintendent of the National Transcontinental Railway, that unless special steps are taken to encourage English-speaking settlers, the whole of this arable region will be appropriated by French-Canadians from Quebec. This is what he has to say with reference to this matter:

"French-Canadians are going into this country so rapidly, all the way from 125 miles east of Cochrane to 250 miles west of it, that in ten years' time the country will be transformed. The clay belt, extending 400 miles east and west and 150 miles north and south, will be well settled in twenty years' time, or maybe less, so that the unsettled portion between the east and west of the Dominion will then be a thing of the past. Between the two internment camps some 700 miles of the best land in the country has been cleared, and following the cutting of the pulpwood and the extracting of the stumps a year later, the new settlers now flowing into the clay belt find themselves in possession of farms as level as a billiard table and with soil as good as in any other part of the Dominion."

It is said that the French reactionists are back of the move, both by encouragement and financial assistance, and that it is part of their plan to still further gain a hold on Ontario. As long as there is a Conservative government in power in this province, however, they may rest assured that all their machinations will come to naught. Thank God, the Conservative party does not possess leaders like Laurier, who tried to play into the hands of Bourassa and the other traitors by making bilingualism an issue in the Dominion House, or Hon. George Graham, Laurier's right-hand man, who went to Quebec and told the people that they had a right to feel aggrieved at Ontario, and that it was the Tories who had robbed them of their rights. These are the two men to-day, forsooth, who are willing to sacrifice anything and everything for a seditious Quebec vote.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

There is a pause here, Verdun, and Russian paws elsewhere.

Don't forget that the attempted French-Canadian menace has received the approving cognizance of two Liberal leaders.

Hay is the name of the Liberal candidate in the Perth bye-election. It is going to be a great crop this year for cutting.

A double police guard has been stationed at the doors when the Montreal Board of Control is in session. Is that because of their lack of control?

Uncle Sam has scornfully refused an offer of mediation with Mexico tendered him by the "A B C" nations, as the South American peoples are termed.

In other words, he has said to the A B C's "You be d'd."

Hamilton Herald (Independent): Bonar Law cables that the British Admiralty is well satisfied with the damaged ammunition purchased from the Canadian Militia Department, and says that the manner of purchase and payment was carried out in accordance with instructions. And the Canadian public has been paying much money to investigate this transaction in order to find out whether Sir Sam Hughes' friend Allison "soaked" the British Admiralty for a big commission on the sale!

Bonar Law's cablegram looks to us like a polite snub—an intimation that the Admiralty is well able to protect itself from sharpers.

ASSOCIATED AD. CLUBS IN CONVENTION

Big Parade in Philadelphia Which Opened Eyes of the Quakers.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Philadelphia, June 27.—The members of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, which is holding its twelfth annual convention in this city, had a program to-day to keep each of the thousands of delegates busy. While all Philadelphia was still discussing the wonders of last night's street pageant, the general sessions of the convention opened at 9 o'clock with an invocation by Bishop Garland.

Different departmental sessions and conferences were held in various buildings of the University of Pennsylvania during the day. Experts in various lines discussed their specialties at these conferences, in both morning and afternoon sessions. Women's advertising clubs also held a session in the afternoon, while John Hart, of London, delivered an illustrated lecture on "Advertising in the British Isles."

The pageant last night was one of the most spectacular ever witnessed in this city, if not in the country. The history of advertising, printing and lithography was shown by the use of the 15 floats in line while others depicted the development of various industries and portrayed historical incidents of the city, state and union. More than 7,000 delegates from all sections of the United States, Canada, Mexico and Europe marched in the parade.

FAREWELL GIVEN TO MR. BRANDON

Methodist Pastor Honored Before Leaving Paris For St. George.

COUNCIL MET LAST NIGHT

Special Committee Will Decide on Going Back to Standard Time.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Paris, June 27.—On Monday evening after a three years' sojourn in the Methodist church here, a farewell was given Rev. W. J. Brandon, Mrs. Brandon and family. A good program was rendered during the evening, interspersed with addresses, wishing Mr. Brandon God-speed in his new field of labor at St. George. Refreshments were also served.

Rev. Mr. Brandon, who was visibly affected, thanked them all for the kind words expressed for his family and himself. Further, in leaving, they would carry with them the memories of many pleasant friendships formed here.

During the evening, the instrumental program was interspersed by addresses from the local clergy, all expressing regret at Mr. Brandon's leaving, and wishing him God-speed in the Master's vineyard.

A Painful Accident

Corpl. George Leishner met with a painful accident at about 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was assisting to lift a heavy stove, and by some means it slipped over, badly crushing his left hand. On one of the fingers the bones were protruding, and it is feared that it will have to be amputated from the second joint. The other fingers were badly mangled.

Council Meeting

At the regular meeting of the Council last evening, considerable business was done.

Thomas of Ald. Davidson for three months leave of absence, was granted.

A letter was read from Mrs. Brooks, complaining that the sewer running from the Laivoie property on the Grand River bank, was destroying the property. The matter will be referred to the Medical Health Officer, as a statement was also made that the sewer was dangerous to health.

Bad Condition of Streets.

The complaint of Percy Poydes, of the bad condition of Catharine and Ball streets as also the residents of Warwick street, that the drainage from Jane street flowed over their property, was referred to the street and sidewalk committee.

The Pennan Ltd., also drew the attention of the Council to the bad condition of West River street, the same endangering their trucks and wagons, and stated they would hold the Council responsible for any damage that might occur there.

An application of the Imperial Tea Company that a peddler's license be reduced from $100 to $50, was referred to the by-law committee.

Back to Old Time

The McFarlane Engineering Co. wrote asking that the time might be changed back to standard time, as after a fair trial it was not found to be working satisfactorily, and they would like the opinion of other manufacturers on the subject. The Mayor, Reeve and Deputy Reeve were appointed a committee to investigate, and report at a special meeting.

The fire committee suggested that a new fire alarm siren be purchased at a cost of about $420.00. No action was taken.

Bridge Over the Race.

The streets and sidewalk committee reported that a combined street and sidewalk bridge of steel and cement could be built over the raceway at a cost of $10,000. Of this amount the Pennan Ltd. offered to pay $2,500, leaving $7,500 as the town's share. Respecting the combined bridge over the raceway on Mechanic street, the structure would cost $1500, of which amount the Winney Mill Co. offered to pay $500.

The matter will be dealt with at a special meeting.

MUCH ACTIVITY AT NIAGARA CAMP

Bombing School Opened Yesterday, With 220 Men in Attendance.

Niagara Camp, June 27.—The impression seems to prevail pretty generally that no battalions will be moved from here for probably two weeks. Headquarters staff will leave for Camp Borden in about ten days. There are 221 scouts in the camp, divided among the eleven battalions. These scouts are instructed in map reading, making maps, etc., during five days of the week. Each Friday they go ahead of the troops on their route march, practicing real warfare. The scouts have made careful maps of the whole Niagara district.

There was some spectacular work in camp yesterday. Some of the battalions practiced charging the enemy, and with the cheering of the men as they doubled at the supposed foe, the scene was very life-like, indeed.

Visitors to camp are given an excellent idea of what it is like at the front, by the series of trenches, constructed by the schools of trench warfare. These trenches are very elaborate affairs, and perfect in every way. There are also dugouts.

Mrs. W. A. Telfer, who ran a little restaurant near camp, was caught selling beer to soldiers and sentenced to jail for three months by Magistrate Sheppard in default of a fine of $300, which is the lowest which can be imposed for selling liquor without a license.

From beginning to end every number presented upon the artistic program was truly delightful, and received with proper appreciation by the audience. The chair was fittingly occupied by Capt. W. N. SHRAPNEL KILLED GENERAL MERCER

First Suffered During Attack From Shell Shock and Broken Leg.

Toronto, June 27.—The manner in which Major-General Mercer met his death in Armagh Wood, following the terrific bombardment of the Canadian trenches by the Germans, is described in a postcard received by Mr. E. G. Gooderham, 40 Madison avenue, from his son Lieut. Lyman Gooderham, A.D.C., to the deceased General, Lieut. Gooderham writes June 6, 1916. Dear Father and Mother—Am now a prisoner and en route to detention camp. Am quite well and have been treated well indeed by our captors. Was beside my beloved General when he was killed, and lay in the battlefield for two days suffering from shell-shock until picked up by a patrol with some of our wounded men. Will write first opportunity giving details. Asked Elizabeth by card to cable you so hope you were not caused great worry. Can make arrangements at camp for money and any necessities to be sent on. Tell Fred Mercer his brother was first shocked by a large shell and when I tried to get him away, but impossible, was shot through leg and broken, lay in field, no pain, and next day killed by shrapnel instantly. German staff arranged honorable burial for one of Canada's greatest soldiers. God bless you all and don't worry. "Your loving son," "Lyman."

PTE. SMITH AND CORPORAL SMITH ARE WOUNDED

Two Names in the Lists, Today—Corp. Smith is Recovering.

Two casualties appear in to-day's list, both men named Smith and both wounded. Pte. John Smith, wounded, is a married man with a wife and two children. His wife resides at 2 George Avenue, but when he left Brantford his address was 82 Walnut street. He is an Englishman, and had nine years service to his credit in the Royal Army Medical Corps, before he went out with Col. Ashton's Thirty-sixth.

Corporal A. L. Smith, Thos. Grinter, 7 Emily street, received word yesterday morning that Corporal A. L. Smith, who left Brantford with a draft from the 2nd Dragoon, but who was later attached to the 8th Canadian Mounted Rifles, has been wounded in France, and has completely lost his hearing. He is in hospital in France and good hopes of his recovery are held out.

Five youths were arrested in Vancouver last week for "joy riding." None of them were over seventeen. The Grand Forks, B.C., Fire Brigade presented "D" company of the local Battalion with the sum of $50.

Wedding Bells

The following item from a Detroit paper will be of interest to many Brantfordites, the groom being formerly of this city:

PENNESSY—POLLARD. "One of the pretty June weddings was solemnized Wednesday morning at Holy Redeemer church, when Miss Lauretta Pollard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Pollard, became the bride of Reginald M. Pennessy, Rev. Fr. Carroll officiating.

The bride was charmingly gowned in gros de londre silk. The short bouffant skirt was combined with rose pointed lace and silver cord. A quaint bonnet of tulle completed the pretty costume, and she carried a shower bouquet of roses and valley lilies. The bride's only attendant, Miss Anna McNamara, was gowned in rose pink tulle with pointed bodice of tulle. She wore a large fluffy hat of pink georgette crepe and tulle, with streamers of turquoise blue velvet and carried pink Killarney roses.

"Francis J. Pollard assisted as best man, and the ushers were Donald Shattuck, of Owosso, Mich., and Randall Martin.

"Following the ceremony, a banquet and reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 558 Campbell Avenue. Pink peonies were artistically arranged about the rooms and the tables held vases of pink roses bound in tulle.

"Mr. and Mrs. Fennessy left for an eastern trip. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Otto Mortensen, of St. Paul, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. N. L. McDowell, of Buffalo, and Misses Dorothy and Maurine Donley, of Jefferson City, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Jones, of St. Albans, Vt."

GENERAL MERCER IS DEAD; OTTAWA HEARS THE OFFICIAL STORY FROM HEADQUARTERS

Body Was Recovered From a Demolished Dugout in Woods, Buttons and Decorations on His Tunic Were Cut but Rank Badges Remained—Quieter Conditions at the Front.

Ottawa, June 27.—Details of the death and burial of Major-General M. S. Mercer and the work of the Canadians at the front are conveyed in a cable received to-day at the militia department from the Canadian representative in the field. It states:

"The body of Major-General Mercer was recovered from a demolished dugout in the Armagh wood. All the buttons and decorations on his tunic had been cut, but rank badges had not been touched. Examination showed that the General had been severely wounded in the leg and had also received bullet wounds in the head either of which would have been sufficient to cause death.

"General Mercer's body was carried back and buried in a military cemetery close to Poperinge. A large number of officers, including the general's commander and the late general's staff attended the funeral. Some of the latter had travelled all night.

"During the past few days quieter conditions prevailed on our new front. All ranks have been busy settling down in the new area recently taken over. The late oc-

THE DAILY NEWSPAPER

EVERY YEAR EVERY MONTH EVERY DAY CHURCH ADVERTISING

"I believe," says Dr. Talcott Williams, "that if churches spent as much for advertising as they do for music, they would have larger congregations and better worship."

"Thought is moving in this direction. The churches are using more and better advertising, while many public movements have been successfully carried on through the advertising columns of the daily newspapers.

"If great causes were to spend more money in the public press instead of depending on begging for their support, they would undoubtedly come much nearer to success."

TROUBLE LAST NIGHT BROKE OUT DOWN TOWN

Soldiers Were Angry at Restaurant Keeper and Showed Their Feelings.

A rather serious disturbance took place last evening on Colborne street which provided much excitement and a good deal of noise. The trouble lay between the soldiers and the proprietor of the Brant restaurant, Nick Poullos, and as a result, the proprietor was hustled in a lively manner, and some damage done to both the outside and inside of his place of business.

The origin of the trouble appears to have been caused about 6 o'clock last evening when a returned soldier, dressed in civilian clothes by all accounts, became involved in a wordy altercation with the proprietor's brother, who struck his opponent on the head with a bottle, and as a result the soldier left the premises.

Evidently his plight roused angry feelings among the men in khaki, for about 8 o'clock a number went down to the restaurant and entered it, hunting for the proprietor's brother. He couldn't be found, although they made a thorough search, going pretty well over the whole premises, take two trouble.

Meanwhile a crowd of civilians and soldiers gathered outside and became somewhat unruly. Some stones were thrown and the windows of the restaurant smashed in a couple of places.

The police were on hand and later the military police. The crowd was more or less demonstrative, but no particular damage was done. A guard of men was obtained about midnight and with loaded rifles and fixed bayonets, took their station for about one hundred yards on the south side of Colborne Street.

Though people stood around, all excitement was over by ten o'clock last night. Today the license of the Brant restaurant is cancelled until Nick Poullos produces his brother, who, it is said, struck the blow.

MAJOR HICKS' WOUND HURT HIS LEFT KNEE

In Letter Home He States He is Unfit for Further Service.

The following letter was received to-day by his mother from Major Hicks, telling of his wound:

No. 1-Red Cross Hospital, A. T. Office, 3 11, B.E.F. June 14.

My Dear Mother—I am going to try and write you a few lines, though it is a very difficult task, as I cannot sit up. I was wounded June 5th by a piece of shell which badly smashed my left knee joint. I was operated on the same day, but without the X-Ray they could not locate a piece of shell, which had penetrated the knee-cap, so I was sent on the next day to another hospital, where an operation located and removed it. My leg was badly smashed and I am lucky they were able to save it for me. It is now doing nicely, but will probably be six months before I can get about much, but as soon as I can travel I will be sent to England and when I am able to go they will send me home to Canada, as I am unfit for further service. I am being well cared for. This is said to be the best hospital in France.

AT THE BRANT

Earl's Diving Nymphs upon their return engagement, head the bill at the Brant Theatre for the first half of this week, yesterday receiving greater ovations of applause than ever before in their previous appearance. The act is both novel, artistic and exceedingly clever. All the nymphs being most accomplished nautical experts. Damico, the wizard of the accordion, also created a furor in his act last night, winning the applause and admiration of all by the truly admirable manner in which he handled his instrument. In "The Lost Bridegroom," John Barrymore is more comical than ever, though the story in itself is a very strong drama, to which he also does full justice. The other moving pictures, completing an excellent bill of attractions, include the second episode of "The Mishaps of Musty Suffer," which appeared to create a great hit last night, although a rather crude piece of slap-stick comedy.

In connection with the appearance of the diving nymphs, a nightly diving contest is held, being open to any local competitors. The winners of each night's contest will compete in the final on Friday night. Master Harold Harris was last night declared the winner.

and a flag of the revolutionists which were found in a hand bag.

There was a stir in the court room as the big green emblem of the rebels was spread out in the center of the room and all eyes turned towards the prisoner. He shifted uneasily in his seat and then leaned back with folded arms, smiling nervously as he gazed at the flag. Alexander Sullivan, chief counsel for the defense, volunteered the information to the court that the emblem on the flag was that of the city of Limerick.

Had Been Arming. Mr. Sullivan cross-examined the police witnesses at length in regard to the general unrest in Ireland, and brought out the fact that the people of the south were arming themselves against those of the north, and against conscription, and that after the Curragh incident, when the military refused to serve against Ulster, the southerners felt they could not trust the soldiers to protect them against Ulster volunteers.

One police witness said that although the carrying of arms and drilling went on unhampered, by the authorities, the handing of arms would have had a very grave effect. Sir Roger's Code. During the testimony of Constable Riley, who assisted in the arrest of Sir Roger, the prosecution introduced as evidence a paper on which was written a code Sir Roger is said to have thrown away shortly after his arrest. This paper was picked up by the ammen Billie. The prosecution has laid great stress on the importance of this code, which it contends was intended for communication with Germans. Opposite a series of numbers on this paper, were sentences such as "Send cannon and ammunition," and "Send more explosives." The prosecution attempted to establish that some of the pencilled figures on this code were German characters.

The testimony was disposed of rapidly this morning, and a large number of witnesses appeared for the prosecution. Much of the testimony was corroborative, and showed events pertaining to Sir Roger after his arrest.

Movements of Ship. Having traced his movements until he was lodged in prison, the crown attorneys, turned their attention to the ammunition ship Aud which was sent from Kiel to Ireland. Sidney Washburn, leading signalman on the British patrol boat, Blue Bell, told the court of a story as to how the Aud was held upon suspicion by the Blue Bell off Tralee, and how the crew blew her up on hearing Queenstown. A diver was called to the scene and identified rifles and ammunition he found on the wrecked Aud. It is claimed the steamship carried 20,000 rounds of ammunition.

Maps Found. The prosecution laid emphasis on the maps found in the handbags on the beach. Col. Gordon, a map expert, testified they were foreign reproductions of British ordnance maps. The prosecution stated its case suddenly shortly after the luncheon recess, and the attorney-general announced that he had no statement to make. Mr. Sullivan immediately began an address in an attempt to have the indictment quashed. His argument was highly technical, being an effort that the alleged treasonable acts were committed outside British realms and could not be tried in Great Britain.

COMPETITION DESTROYED

Washington, June 27.—Holding that water competition between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts has been completely destroyed under war conditions, the Interstate Commerce Commission to-day ordered transcontinental railways to revise their rates from the east to the Pacific coast by September so that they shall not be lower than rates to intermediate points.

CARRANZA AND VILLA FOLLOWERS ARE RECONCILED

By Special Wire to the Courier.

El Paso, June 27.—Evidence that the possibility of war with the United States has healed the breach between the Carranza and Villa factions in Mexican politics, continued to increase here to-day. More than 100 wealthy Mexicans, who prior to the surrender of the Villa garrison of Juarez last January, had been active in supporting the bandit leader, and who since have been refugees in El Paso, crossed the Rio Grande and and apparently were received in good favor by authorities of the de facto government.

Handbills printed in Spanish asserting that Villa himself had been pledged to support the Carranza Government in the event of a break with the United States, were circulated in Juarez and to some extent in the Mexican quarter of El Paso. All reports indicated, however, that the bandit chieftain has not yet joined the constitutionalist forces, but, with a body of his troops, is somewhere in the Rio Florida district of southern Chihuahua, awaiting developments in the crisis.

"In Persia Russian troops of all arms, under protection of their fortified positions, made an attack east of Servil. The engagement lasted until evening. The Russians finally withdrew without accomplishing their purpose, having suffered considerable losses."

SIR DOUGLAS HAIG A MAN WHO AVOIDS SHOW OR ADVERTISEMENT; A QUIET, METHODOICAL ORGANIZER

By Sheer Application, Hard Work and Military Ability Shown on the Field of Battle Has This Canny Scotchman Risen to the Chief in Command of the British Army.

No One Even on His Staff Knows When the Hour Will Strike For the Great Drive Which Will Carry the Allies to Berlin.

British Headquarters, France, June 27 (correspondence of The Associated Press)—No military leader is more averse to publicity or works more silently than Sir Douglas Haig, the British Commander-in-Chief in France. To those who are importunate for the offensive his answer is patience and yet again patience, while the new munition factories begin to produce and he continues his building. His generals say that he never tells them his plans; only what they are to do.

Young for a Leader.
Probably not one man out of ten of the million or more under his command would recognize him if they saw him. Not given to reviews or any kind of display, this quiet and studious Scotchman was the choice of the progressive, practical, driving element of the army as the one fit to succeed Sir J. French. At 55 he is nine years younger than Sir John, and ten years younger than Joffre or Von Hindenburg.

A Thorough Student.
There is a story that he entered the army as the result of a boyish wager. He went through Oxford with distinction before he went to the military school at Sandhurst. His choice of arms was the cavalry which has had so little to do so far in this war. But no sooner had he received his commission, later in life, than most officers, because of the time that he had spent at Oxford, than he set out with the thoroughness of the student to master every branch of his profession.

"Captain Haig."
"It was in Berlin in the nineties that I met a Captain Haig who was studying German and the German army," said an Englishman. "I was struck by his industry—not a brilliant man, perhaps, but a sound and well-balanced one. A little hesitation of speech; what he did say went to the heart of things."

He studied the French army, too, and the history of all campaigns with the systematic thoroughness that he applied to everything. It was the same with his pastimes as his profession. Whether he had talent for it or not he made himself a first-class golf player though the form which he developed did not excite the envy of professionals.

A Soldier's Soldier.
At the British Army Staff College, where officers learn organization, he was a marked man before he acted as Chief-of-Staff to General French in South Africa in the operations that made French's reputation. He had a soldier's soldier who had won public had hardly heard of this reserved, unobtrusive worker.

Of the men of command rank in the British Army in August, 1914, he and Sir William Robertson—another studious man who were appraised by the generation of officers who had developed since South Africa as having prepared themselves for the direction of large bodies of troops on the scale of continental warfare. They are not the magnetic Headquarters' time. There is little ceremony. Life at that small chateau has a real soldierly simplicity. At luncheon the soldier servant places the food on the sideboard and everyone takes his plate and helps himself. Few guests come. Sir Douglas keeps his time to himself for his own choice of recreation.

One of the aides receives the caller, and a minute later the man with iron gray hair and mustache, sturdy, athletic of build, slightly above medium height, who comes into the hall could not be mistaken. Whether in or out of uniform, for anything but a soldier, though something about the well-chiseled regular features also suggests the scholar.

Maps and Photographs.
In one of the rooms of the ground floor the walls are hung with maps including a series which have been crowded on a roller. Any portion of the front in all its details may be referred to in a moment. In the center of the room a desk; and against the wall a table with more maps and drawings and some of these strange photographs from aeroplanes of grayish lines of trench systems in a dusky field of shell and mine-craters which make one think of the dead world of the moon. Out of doors a field of daisies, birds singing, a typical sunny day in Northern France.

Army in the Making.
From this retreat a vast army is being trained and its organization completed and directed in the day by day tug-of-war for "The Chief" commands an army still in the making. The staff always refer to him as "The Chief." There is something impersonal about it and yet personal; for he is absolutely the chief. There is no suggestion of any commission system in the command of the British Army these days.

Like a Business Autocrat.
The man and his method are quiet as the room. With a battlefront which remains in the same place month after month the routine of his work has become almost as set as his habitation and not unlike that of the auto of some great business organization. The regular staff of officers are in a town not far away. Subordinate chiefs of the different army branches, be it Operations, Intelligence, Ordnance or Supply, come to him in succession at set hours set during the morning to make their reports and receive their instructions. They do most of the talking; and they have learned how not to do more than necessary.

Confers with Joffre.
It is a longer conference than usual is desired, if any come. Lunch is taken at 12:30. The regular staff of officers returns from his ride, which he takes regularly every day. Then more work until dinner and then some after-dinner. If he goes to the lines or perhaps confers with General Joffre in the one car which alone of all the cars carrying staff officers and generals along the roads, flies the British flag, the routine for that day is broken.

Takes Plenty of Sleep.
Like General Joffre, he sleeps long hours. A rested mind is a clear mind for great responsibilities. Like Von Hindenburg, he never reads fiction. When reading has not to do with his profession it is of serious books and monthlies and quarterlies. Even during the battle of Ypres when it was touch and go with disaster, he slept as soundly as Joffre during the battle of the Marne. At a crisis of the retreat from Mons, he remarked as quietly as if he were giving a direction to an aide: "We shall have to hold on here for a while if we all die for it." There is never any fustian about these modern scientific soldier organizers. Again, during the retreat when a certain general became somewhat demoralized, Sir Douglas took him by the arm and walked up and down with him in silence till he was over his fit of nerves on that terrible August day. Those who work with him know that his anger is a prolonged silence of a telling kind. He has a temper, but does not let it get past his lips, it says, He has, too, a keen sense of humor, with a Scotch flavor.

Must Have Trained Men.
"In the Civil War," he said, "it was a case of raising armies of untrained men to fight armies of trained men, while with us the small nucleus of regular officers who survived the retreat had to train even larger forces to meet a military machine which had had forty years of preparation. Not only man to man, but in organization must we make ourselves superior to the powerful enemy. The training of battalions and the manufacture of guns in England and their transfer to France represented only the first stage of real preparation for our task."

Organization in France.
Here they must be organized into divisions, corps and armies under the actual conditions of warfare before they could become worthily effective as a whole, in any decisive effort against a foe whose staff training reinforced by experience in the field, must remain excellent, however exhausted he becomes. Every day he grows weaker and we grow stronger. Owing to the indomitable spirit of our officers and men in learning, we are accomplishing what seemed the impossible to many soldiers at the outset of the war. Our cause gives us strength; for we are fighting for civilization. Those who have looked to us for victory will have their patience rewarded."

He Will Carry it Through.
A lieutenant in the trenches knows as much of when the blow will be struck as a corps commander or a staff department head. A quiet order from that quiet room and then the struggle, which by the token of the commanders strong chin and imperturbability, he will carry through with unbending resolution and Scotch "canniness."

Being a good Scot he goes every Sunday morning to a little wooden Presbyterian Chapel which has been erected on the outskirts of Headquarters town, where he sits in the little company of Scottish officers and soldiers during a good Scotch sermon and a long one, too.

It is just thirty years ago last Tuesday since the City of Vancouver was laid waste by fire.

HUNS HOPED TO THROW CANADA INTO BIG PANIC

Von der Goltz Tells of Plan to "Blow Up the Border."

New York, June 27—Details of alleged German conspiracies—one to invade Canada with an armed force and another to "blow up the Canadian-American border"—were related on the witness stand today in the trial of Hans Tauscher, former German army officer, by Horst Von der Goltz, upon whose confession of participation in the alleged plot to dynamite the Welland Canal in September, 1914, Tauscher, Wolf Von Inget and others were indicted.

Von der Goltz testified that Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador at Washington, "objected" to the plan to send an army into Canada and that in lieu of this scheme, Capt. Franz Von Pape, recalled military attaché of the German embassy, engineered a plot to destroy, with dynamite, elevators, bridges, canals and railroads along the Canadian-American border.

To Create Panic.
The purpose of this campaign, the witness said, was to throw the Canadian people into a panic, destroy the morale of their troops, and stop the sailing of troops and munition laden steamers to England.

After Von der Goltz had accepted employment from Von Pape, according to his own testimony, the latter gave him a letter to German consuls at Baltimore and St. Paul, asking them to do everything possible for Von der Goltz.

"I was then sent to Capt. Tauscher," the witness asserted. "He, Von Pape told me, would furnish all the guns and dynamite needed."

The written order for the dynamite, signed by Capt. Tauscher, was admitted into the record. Sums of money from $150 to $250 were paid him, the witness said, by John Ryan, a Buffalo lawyer. Von der Goltz identified receipts given him by Ryan.

Von der Goltz identified a cheque for $200 signed by Von Pape, dated Sept. 1, 1911, in favor of the witness.

Forced Out of Army.
Under cross-examination Von der Goltz said that while in El Paso, Tex., he adopted the name of Von Der Goltz "at the suggestion of the German Government." He declared that he deserted the United States army in 1915, but was not permitted to state whether he worked for him at that time.

A snowslide at Slocan City, B.C., crashed into a blacksmith shop, smashing the building and injuring several people.

SIX HUN ATACKS AND SIX RUSSIAN COUNTER-ATTACKS

But Germany Won in Seventh Attack, Says Enemy Writer.

FURIOUS STRUGGLE IN VOLHYNIA

Muscovites and Teutons Fought All Day, Each Regardless of Loss.

Amsterdam, June 27.—Some idea of the fierceness of the fighting on the Russian front is given by a correspondent of The Koelnische Zeitung, with Von Linsingen's army, who says that the dogged persistence of the Russians shows that their determination to continue the offensive in Volhynia is as strong as ever.

Shell Firing Heavy

Describing the battle for Stokhod he telegraphs:

"Both sides were strongly supported by artillery, and at times the battlefield was real hell. Around the German advanced trenches howled the diabolic song of the Russian shells. When the Russian attack burst forth the clash was terrific, as the enemy rushed forward in dense masses.

Slowly Withdraw

"The battle surged back and forth from eight in the morning. So powerful and determined was the thrust that our lines, which had been subjected to the heaviest attack, slowly withdrew, fighting step by step for the ground they had won in the course of the day.

Six Attacks

"As the afternoon progressed, the Russian artillery fire grew ever more violent, the Russian machine guns working with redoubled energy. Finally we again lost part of a Russian main trench, before we were able to break the massed attack, but the hot fighting still was not ended. The Bavarians and Saxons had already made six attacks and six strong Russian counter-attacks had come.

Held the Positions.

"Still our troops had not had enough. In the evening they attacked for the seventh time, and the success they had won had to be maintained. The Russian main position was again captured, and this time it was firmly held.

"During the night the Russians made three fresh attacks against the lost trench. There was no respite for our men, but they had in the meantime firmly placed our machine guns in position and the enemy assaults collapsed with sanguinary losses."

Women's Institute

The singing of the Institute ode, "A Goodly Thing It is to Meet," served to open the meeting of the Echo Park Women's Institute held on Friday last. Mrs. Barnes presided at the piano, and Miss M. E. Nolan, the president, occupied the chair. It was decided to continue Red Cross work through the summer months, though no regular meetings will be held until the fall. A piano duty was next excellently rendered by Miss Isabel and Master Frank Wood, niece and nephew respectively of Mrs. Devereaux, Jr. With Mrs. Quilly at the piano the 26th, returning leave Madawaska 4.25 p.m., Algonquin Park 5.55 p.m., daily except Sunday, arriving Toronto 7.30 a.m. Effective June 26th, returning leave Madawaska 4.25 p.m., Algonquin Park 5.55 p.m., daily except Sunday, 9.30 a.m., Madawaska 11.00 p.m., Algonquin Park 5.10 a.m., Algonquin Park 6.40 a.m., arriving Toronto 2.55 p.m., daily except Sunday.

WHEN BATTER STRIKES OUT OUTFIELDER GETS ASSIST.

An odd play came up in a Moline-Davenport game one day recently. An outfielder got an assist on a strike-out. The batter swung at the third one, the catcher let it go by. The batter hesitated about running to first and the catcher threw to that base. It was a wild throw, and the right fielder, backing up, got the ball and fired it back to first before the stupid base-runner could reach the bag. Davis of Moline, was the stupid base-runner. Mills was the catcher who made the wild throw. Kraylor the right fielder who recovered the ball, and Duggan the first baseman who made the unusual put-out.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Washington, June 28.—This regarded by Washington officials the crucial day in negotiations with Mexico.

It was probably the last day General Carranza in which comply with the United States demand for release of 23 troops as prisoners at Chihuahua City, his reply, either by act or in communication does not arrive by night, or if it is unsatisfactory, President Wilson is determined before Congress, probably to-morrow, and ask authority to rescue the sons by force.

Indications were that Carranza would comply promptly with President Wilson's request.

Reply on Way Now.

Unofficial reports stated that Carranza's reply was on its way to Washington, having been patched from Mexico City last night. Officials had no intimation of its nature.

Only incidental consideration given by the state department day to Mexican ambassador de Arredondo's communication sent last yesterday, asking that Mexican civilians whom he said been arrested in California and zona, be released, and complain against the unofficial embargo against shipment of food stuffs merchandise across the boundary into Mexico.

Troops Must be Released.

All questions, including possible military or were regarded secondary to that of the freeing the American troops at Chihuahua. Officials were gratified to learn report of the British consul in city that the prisoners were well treated and that only two slightly wounded.
