MONDAY EVENING, JULY 22.

THE MEETING ON SATURDAY.

Unable to obtain a Coalition victory at the meeting on Saturday, the Leader of to-day has its report of it crammed as full of lies as can well be worked in. First, it calls the meeting a Reform one—held by the Reform electors. It is true a majority of those present were Reformers, but the meeting was initiated by Conservatives. It was Conservatives who hawked round the requisition, and with the exception of a few Reformers, who, in order to obtain their names, were told that it was got up mainly to hear the candidates, all the signatures were those of Conservatives. Indeed, we know one Reformer whose name was on it, and who states that never put it there. No doubt the Coalitionists would have been very glad if there had not been so many Reformers. Things would have been much more to their liking, and the ill-fated amendment might have had a chance of being carried. The second lie is, that an invitation was sent to Mr. Brown to attend the meeting. This is a pure fabrication of the Leader's. A rumor had got abroad that both Mr. Brown and Mr. White of Hamilton would be present; but so far as Mr. Brown is concerned, he never had an invitation. The Reformers of South Wellington are able to fight their own battles without the assistance of any outsider. A whole string of falsehoods follow about calling in the aid of policemen, and telegraphing going on between Toronto and Guelph, all of which are pure inventions of the most barefaced character. The fact is, the Leader had to say something to account for the unexpected defeat of the Coalitionists, and it was not inclined to stick at trifles. It makes one correct statement, however, which deserves a remark. It says the speakers on both sides were Reformers—the Conservatives having prudently declined to interfere. This was a cute dodge of the Conservatives to catch Reform votes. The gentlemen who still call themselves Reformers, but who are at the same time as thorough going Coalitionists as the most ultra Conservatives, stepped into the breach; but it was no use. Though every Conservative in the room cheered them on, and voted with them, they found it impossible to make a single convert, and in common with the Conservatives were greatly disappointed.

The Reformers have good cause to exult over their victory. It was a skillfully devised and well arranged scheme to steal a march on them, and had they not turned out nobly and defeated it, the announcement of a great Conservative-Coalition triumph would have been spread far and wide. Had the meeting been a week later, by which time saying would be over, we are safe in saying that twice the number of Reformers would have been present. But we are satisfied as it is.—The Coalitionists and their allies have been fairly beaten at their own meeting, and we are happy to know they are honest enough to admit it.

THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT COMPLETE.—We announced in Saturday's issue that Mr. J. S. Macdonald had completed his Government by taking Mr. E. B. Wood of Brantford—a kind of half-and-half Reformer—who only a week or two ago denounced Coalitionists, and Mr. M. C. Cameron, a Tory of the most extreme description—as his colleagues. The former is to be Treasurer, and the latter Secretary and Registrar. The latter leave till to-morrow any long remarks about this most absurd nomination.

The C. Bs.

Messrs. Cartier and Galt have both declined to accept the title of Commander of the Bath, because of the seeming partiality in bestowing it.—Mr. Cartier declines, because he thinks he is as much entitled to be made a K. C. B. as John A. Macdonald. We agree with him, for he has done far more for the Lower Canadians than ever Sir John did for Upper Canada. Mr. Galt declines, because he entertains the same notion about the matter as Mr. Cartier, and thinks, of course, he ought to be knighted. Then it is objected that poor Mr. Langevin did not get even a C. B., while Mr. McDougall and Mr. Howland were made C. Bs., and both having precedence of Mr. Cartier. The upshot of the business is, that all are dissatisfied except Sir John A., who like a cat, always falls on his feet, right side up, while others are apt to fall on their backs or on their sides. Sir John is always bound to have the best of whatever is going, no matter what becomes of others.—Hamilton Times.

False Pretences.

We notice that a number of Coalition journals, all of the Conservative stripe, are attempting to raise false issues at the coming elections. They pretend to assume that the contest in Ontario is between Unionists and anti-Unionists—that those who advocate a Coalition are Unionists, and those who oppose it are anti-Unionists—thereby conveying the impression that those who are opposed to a Coalition are opposed to Confederation, and that those who favour a Coalition are the only friends to Confederation. This is as wicked as it is false. The question of Confederation was settled years ago, so far as this Province is concerned. There are no anti-Confederationists amongst us now, Confederation being an accomplished fact. But all those who opposed the scheme are now on the Coalition side. The Hon. J. S. Macdonald, the Premier of Ontario whom all the Coalition journals support, was the leader of the anti-Confederation party in Upper Canada, and also led the Opposition in the last Parliament. Mr. Stephen Richards, one of his two colleagues, was an anti-Confederationist and an anti-Coalitionist up to the time he entered Mr. Sanfield Macdonald's Government. It is the Coalitionists therefore, who support the anti-Unionists, if any remain. It is the Conservatives who bring out anti-Union candidates and support an anti-Union Government.

Some time since, it was pronounced by the organs of the present Coalition a horrible thing for those who were opposed to Confederation to take any part or have any share in the first Government to be inaugurated under the Union Act; but those very journals join in advocating a Government for Ontario, a majority of whose members have all along been opposed to Confederation. Such are the changes Sir John can bring about by a single wave of his magic hand.—Hamilton Times.

THE N. Y. Tribune says: We wonder that the Times should endorse such a silly idea that the Queen of England is likely to be compelled to abdicate, in consequence of the discontent of her subjects arising out of her neglect of that Court pageantry in which the aristocracy take such prodigious delight. Whatever changes may have taken place in the English mind on the abstract question of the usefulness of royalty, it is notorious that no monarch who has ever sat on throne of England has had a firmer hold on the affections of the people than Queen Victoria; and it is well known that the causes which have lowered her in the estimation of the nobility and their myrmidons have contributed to strengthen her popularity with the masses, for whom the showy but hollow ceremonies of State have lost the attractiveness they once possessed.

A dissatisfied couple in Cleveland, Ohio, quarrelled the other day, when the husband converted his property into cash, intending to separate altogether, and leave the city the next day. He deposited $45,000 between the cloth and lining of his vest, where his wife found it in the night. She substituted an old almanac, and next day they took different trains, he going to Toledo in blissful ignorance of his loss, and she to her friends in Indiana with the money.

It is said that at a recent audience given by the Pope, an American lady stepped forward upon the entrance of His Holiness, and with the peculiar nasal twang of the New England States, thus spoke: "How d'ye do, Pope Pius Ninth? I want to introduce you to my darter Jane." His Holiness appeared to take the affair very good naturedly, and to appreciate the joke, while the Federal Americans present were quite overwhelmed with feelings of mortification and disgust.

NORTH WATERLOO.—It appears now that our Coalitionists in this Riding have at last been obliged to give up in utter despair of getting any gentlemen, at home or abroad, to be willing to sacrifice themselves on the altar of their country and become candidates to oppose the Anti-Coalition ticket. Messrs Bowman and Springer. It is now the general impression that this ticket will not be opposed. Chronicle.

AT THEIR OLD TRICKS.—The Milton Champion says:—Mr. Chisholm received a severe defeat at his Nassauwaya meeting on Thursday last, which broke up with rousing cheers for White, and not a word for Chisholm, yet a telegram was sent to the Leader from Oakville, stating that a vote of want of confidence was passed in White, and the meeting was enthusiastic for Chisholm! Whoever telegraphed this, told a manifest falsehood.

THE WRITS.—No word yet of the issue of the writs. At a meeting in Vaughan, on Wednesday, Mr. Sandfield Macdonald gave a sort of intimation of his belief that the elections would be over before the 1st of September. But the Journal of Quebec, Sermoned by Mr. Cauchon, had previously stated that the elections will not take place till the middle of September.—Which is right?

SOUTH RIDING OF WELLINGTON.

To the Electors of the South Riding of Wellington:

GENTLEMEN,—I am a candidate for the representation of South Wellington in the House of Commons. I have become so at the request of a Convention of Reform Delegates, lately held in the Town of Guelph, and also at the request of many of my political friends throughout the Riding, who, while approving of my public career in the past, have been kind enough to express a willingness to still further extend the confidence reposed in me at the next last general election.

I regard the new Constitution, so graciously conceded to us by Her Majesty and the British Parliament, as the means by which the British North American Colonies will be brought finally bound together, and our connection with the British Empire established upon a firm and lasting basis, and if elected as your representative, I shall consider it my first and paramount duty to give a hearty and loyal support to the provisions of that Act.

On entering upon our new state of political existence, many important questions will necessarily engage the attention of our first Parliament, and much will depend upon the ability and integrity of the gentlemen composing it. A good economical government is what the country most requires. Honesty of purpose, intelligence and ability are among the qualities necessary in the gentlemen at the head of our affairs, and to secure these I am convinced that they are honestly working for the welfare of the Confederation—I will tender a generous support, but I will oppose any Government, or any set of men, who will attempt to barter the best interests of the country for the sake of place and power, or who will make their public duty subservient to their own personal aggrandizement.

I am in principle opposed to the form of government styled "a Coalition." I believe that the general tendency of such arrangements leads to the lowering of public morality, lavish public expenditure and general corruption in the management of our public affairs, and that while holding those views in all sincerity, I am decidedly opposed to the introduction of anything like a factions opposition such as has too often in the past characterized our political history.

The events of the past eighteen months must have convinced the most skeptical that some more efficient system of defence is absolutely necessary for the better protection of the country. I believe the Volunteer system of service to be most in accordance with the genius of our people and best adapted to the wants of our country. But the most efficient must be kept efficient, must be encouraged and supported. Officers and men serving for a number of years do so at much personal sacrifice, and have to be ready at a moment's notice to leave their homes and their business at the call of duty. If, therefore, we have men amongst us who are thus ready and willing to make such sacrifices for their country, we should not hesitate to accord to them in return encouragement of the most generous character. If elected I will do all in my power to foster and encourage our Volunteer Militia system so far as it is compatible with the resources of the country. I am also in favour of some general scheme which will have for its object the encouragement of rifle practice amongst the young men of our country.

I am in favor of a renewal of reciprocal free trade with the United States of America, such as will be of mutual advantage, and consistent with the honour of both countries.

A general revision and equalization of our Tariff will become necessary under our new Constitution. If elected I will endeavor to secure a measure based upon equitable principles to all interests and sections of the Dominion.

I am in favor of a lower and uniform rate of postage upon letters, the total abolition of postage on newspapers, and I am also in favor of the passing of some measure which will be the means of reducing the exorbitant charges now made for the transmission of messages by telegraph.

The currency question will doubtless engage the early attention of the Legislature. I am in favor of a uniform currency throughout the Dominion, and I will support any well-considered measure for the removal of the Silver Nuisance which we at present labour under.

I am opposed to the re-enactment of the Usury Laws. Such, gentlemen, is a brief outline of the views which I hold on the public questions of the day, and also of the course which I am resolved to pursue, should you again confer upon me the honor of being your representative. It is, therefore, for you to say whether you approve of my principles and can trust in my integrity. To judge of a man's character it is necessary to examine his past life; you have to look at his actions and from them form your conclusions. I have been a resident in the Riding for nearly forty years, and for half of that period a servant of the public, and to that public I now appeal whether I have ever neglected my duty, or attempted to advance my own interests at the expense of the community.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your most obedient servant,
D. STIRTON.

CENTRE RIDING OF WELLINGTON.

To the Electors of the Centre Riding of Wellington:

GENTLEMEN.—At the meeting of the Convention of the Reform Party, in the Centre Riding, held at Fergus on the 4th of April last, I was elected by a majority, and afterwards by an unanimous vote, as the Reform Candidate for the representation of this important Constituency in the Ontario Assembly; and, as the nominee of the Convention, I now have the honor of soliciting your vote. In doing this, it becomes my duty to state to you plainly, if briefly, by my opinions upon the leading questions of the day.

Confederation, in giving us a Local Government, has invested the one Legislative Body of Ontario with great powers, and entrusted to its leading members the management of our Public Lands, our Educational System, our Laws relating to Agriculture, Immigration and Civil Rights, the maintenance of our Prisons and Asylums, and with permission "to deal generally with all matters of a private or local nature in the Province." The Ontario Assembly will also be empowered "to levy a Direct Tax, within the Province, for Provincial purposes; to borrow Money, to incorporate Companies for Provincial objects; to Legislate with respect to the Marriage Rite; and to make Laws in relation to Local works and undertakings. The Ontario Legislative Assembly, it will thus be seen, will be entrusted with a charge nearly as important as that of the Provincial Parliament; it is therefore important that you should carefully and deliberately use the franchise entrusted to you in making your choice of a Representative.

Without boasting, I think I can say that my residence for more than forty years in this section of the Province, and my knowledge of the workings of its Municipal Institutions (with which I have been connected since 1830) gives me some claim to your confidence on the ground of my acquaintance with these matters in this division of the Province. Our Municipal Laws require me to attend to our Public Lands, which have been sadly mismanaged, and it would afford me pleasure to be able to turn my experience in Municipal matters, and of the workings of the first settlers, to a good account, and to help to devise some plan by which Immigration may be encouraged, and the balance of our wild lands profitably taken up and brought in. I am a friend to cheap and convenient legislation for all, and should seek to carry out fully the provisions of our School Laws, which the Province has good reason to boast of. It is almost unnecessary to say that, being a Farmer myself, and having been accustomed to earning my living by the sweat of my brow, every thing relating to Agriculture would receive my most careful attention, and that in me a strong advocate for improvement, so far as a Legislative Body can give. As our new Government will be empowered to levy a Direct Tax, it is all important that our Assessments should be fairly based upon the Province; and I should be glad to have your confidence in this respect. I will give this important subject my closest attention.

I may add that any Charter for public improvements will find in me a warm supporter; and that useful public improvements will be encouraged by me. But I wish to tell you plainly and directly, that I shall set my face, from the first, against the extravagant expenditure which has disgraced our country during the past year.

I hope to be able to meet every Elector in the Riding, at the various meetings which I intend to call before the polls, when I will endeavor, in my own homely way, to explain my views at greater length.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
JOHN DOBBIN.

THE RUSSELL WATCH!

A FEW REASONS THAT MAKE IT SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS.

- 1st—It proves itself a reliable time-keeper beyond all question.
- 2nd—The RUSSELL WATCH being made on correct and scientific principles, it must follow as a natural consequence that it will keep time.
- 3rd—Each part of which the RUSSELL WATCH is composed is a reflex of the perfect machine by which, under skillful direction, it is produced.
- 4th—Truth is the essential of each part.
- 5th—Uniformity and conformity must therefore characterize the several parts in fulfilling the purpose for which they are made and brought together.
- 6th—Reproduction, as regards watch work, is simply an application of the principle that "things which are equal to the same things are equal to one another," and if there is any merit, the RUSSELL WATCH possesses that merit to a demonstration.
- 7th—The greatest variety of price, quality and size, that confidence and perfection will admit, is afforded by the RUSSELL WATCH.
- 8th—The RUSSELL WATCH stands pre-eminently above all competitors for public favor and patronage.
- 9th—Proofs of the foregoing—the universal testimony of all Watchmakers who have sold, and the positive statements of the thousands in Europe, the United States and Canada, who have worn the RUSSELL WATCH.

Allen's LUNG Balsam
FOR THE CURE OF CONSUMPTION, and all Diseases that lead to it, such as Coughs, neglected Colds, Pain in the Chest, and all Diseases of the Lungs.

Dr. A. L. SOOVIK says: "I can truly say that this is by far the best expectorant remedy with which I am acquainted. For Coughs, and all the early stages of Lung Complaints, I believe it to be a certain cure; and if every family would keep it by them ready to administer upon the first appearance of disease about the lungs, there would be very few cases of fatal Consumption."

N. HARRIS, M. D., writes: "Nov 20, 1886—To the Middlebury, Vt. Register—Two years ago I was attacked with a severe cold; it settled in my throat, which so affected the organs of speech that I could not speak aloud for nearly six weeks. I got through the winter, coughing nights almost incessantly, with cold night sweats, with increased irritation, which extended into the Bronchial tubes, and which kept me coughing all summer. I procured a bottle of Allen's Lung Balsam, and took it according to directions, and found immediate relief. I have now taken two bottles, which have entirely cured me."

Allen's Lung Balsam causes the mucus and matter to rise, without irritating those delicate organs (the lungs), and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

Each College derives special benefit from all others, in the combined experience of numerous teachers, the collection of manuscripts, and the publication of text books, beyond the ordinary means of any single school. We have the best system of Penmanship known to the public, taught by experienced, first-class Penmen, for which we were awarded First Premiums in all departments at the late Provincial Fair. Regular class instructions in Arithmetic, Commercial Law, Penmanship, Book-keeping, English Grammar, Correspondence, Composition, &c., &c., with ample black-board explanations, and special lectures to suit individual cases. Actual business is here introduced by the use of Banks, and other offices, as in business houses. The practical method of giving instruction in this institution is the most important feature. Students count their thousands of dollars, buy and sell merchandise, real estate, stocks, &c., with as much interest as our first merchants, thus converting the school-room into a banking house and corn exchange, by introducing the actualities of business, as well as the abstract theory of Book-keeping. PAIN KILLER!
IT IS A BALM FOR EVERY WOUND.
OUR FIRST PHYSICIANS USE
And recommend its use; the Apothecary finds it fits among the medicines called for, and the Wholesale Druggist considers it a leading article in his trade. All the dealers in medicine speak alike in its favor, and its reputation is

A Medicine of GREAT VIRTUE
Is fully and permanently established, and it is the great

FAMILY MEDICINE!
OF THE AGE.
Taken Internally, it cures
Dysentery, Cholera, Diarrhoea, Colic, Cramp and Pain in Stomach, Bowel Complaint, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sudden Indigestion, Colds, Sore Throat, Coughs, &c.

Boils, Felons, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, old Sores and Sprains, Swellings of the Joints, Toothache, Pain in the Face, Neuralgia and Rheumatism, Chapped Hands, Frost-bitten Feet

PAIN is supposed to be the lot of us poor mortals to come upon us. Therefore it is important that remedial agents should be at hand to be used on an emergency, when we are afflicted with the various kinds of pain, or the depressing influences of diseases.

Such a remedial agent exists in Perry Davis' Pain-Killer, the fame of which has extended over all the earth. Amid the eternal cares of the world, and the intolerable and burning pains of the tropics, its virtues are known and appreciated. And by it, suffering humanity has found relief from many of its ills. The effect of the Pain-Killer upon the patient, when taken internally in cases of Cough, Cold, Bowel Complaints, Cholera, Dysentery, and other affections of the system, has been truly wonderful, and has won for it a name among medical preparations that can never be forgotten. It cures, in a remarkable manner, external remedies, in cases of Burns, Bruises, Sores and Sprains, Cuts, Stings of Insects, &c., and obviates the necessity of using the medicines of the day.

The Public Voice.—Extracts from a few of the many testimonials given in favor of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer:
"Scarcely a week passes by, during which we do not hear of some remarkable cure having been performed within the circle of our acquaintance by the use of Perry Davis' Pain-Killer.—Providence General Advertiser."
"We have used the Pain-Killer and found it valuable. The following article in the United States is beyond all precedent.—Cincinnati Commercial."
"It is a real pleasure to us to speak favorably of this article.—Waters Chronical Advertiser."
"I have used Davis' Pain-Killer, and consider it an indispensable article in the medicine box."—New York Evening Post.

Beware of cheap imitations and worthless imitations. Call for PERRY DAVIS' VERIFIABLE PAIN KILLER and take no other.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL
Cure of Consumption!

BY THE
GREAT SHOSHONEES REMEDY,
IN CANADA.

Messrs. Young & Chamberlain:

GENTLEMEN.—I, Wilson Storms, of Brighton, C. W., make oath and say: I feel anxious to let you know what the Great Shoshonees Remedy has effected for me. My wife was afflicted with Consumption and died; I was also afflicted with the same disease, and after her death I continued sinking just as she had done. I had very severe Night Sweats; coughed nearly all night, and every night could not sleep unless I vomited in the morning. I raised over a quart of matter every 24 hours; had severe pain in the left lung, &c., and was greatly debilitated. In fact I was going as fast as I could. I was taking medicine from a regular physician, but it did not even relieve my cough. I went to the village one day, about a quarter of a mile, which took me to go and come about two hours. While there I saw Squire Wellington, and happened to say to him I wish you could give me something to doles. He said:—
"There is a Great Indian Remedy just introduced; Dr. Baker has it for sale, and I believe it will cure you." I took his advice and bought a bottle from him, and took a teaspoonful at once, which I felt through my whole system. At night I took a table spoonful and rested well all night, and continued to rest well every night. The cough, night sweats, raising of matter, pain in the lung, &c. gradually left me, and I got hearty and strong. I took only three bottles. I am not taking it now, and I am as hearty and well as ever I was in my life. My sister-in-law was with me for a while, who was affected with the Liver Complaint. She has taken the remedy, and is well. This certificate you may show to the world if you please.

DOCTOR DAVIS,
Physician and Surgeon.

OFFICE—Merrick-st. between the McNaughton Methodist Church and the Royal Hotel, up stairs, directly opposite the Market. Entrance on Merrick Street.

Can be consulted at all hours day and evening, on all Chronic Diseases, Diseases of Women and Children, Midwifery, &c., &c., together with those of a private nature. He has devoted over thirty years to the treatment of the above named diseases, and the success so far has been without a parallel, as may be seen from the numerous testimonials in his possession.

Private Diseases.
It is well known that this branch of the medical profession has been much neglected, from the fact that it is most represented by quacks, who invariably practice under an assumed name. Dr. D. has devoted much of his time to the various forms of this disease, and by his improved remedies the worst stages are brought under subjection in from four to ten days. The many lives arising from Secret Habits in both Sexes permanently eradicated.

No Mercury Used.
Patients at a distance can be treated by corresponding with the Doctor, stating the symptoms of the disease, age, length of time afflicted, &c., and receive his celebrated pills by express, or as otherwise directed, securely packed from observation. A reasonable remittance on all such applications will be required.

Dr Davis' Celebrated Female PILLS.
For irregularities, Suppression of the Menstrue, Leucorrhoea or Whites, and all female difficulties, have been before the public for the last ten years, and are universally admitted to be the best remedy for which they are recommended of any now in use. Thousands have used them without single instance of their failing to have the desired effect. Printed directions accompany each box. Sent by mail to any part of the country on receipt of one dollar.

The doctor can be consulted at all times with the utmost secrecy, as his office is so arranged that it is impossible to see each other, unless by appointment. No charge for advice when obtained at the office. If by letter, one dollar. All letters must be addressed (pre-paid) to Dr. Davis, M.D., Hamilton, and to contain a postage stamp when an answer is required.

MONDAY EVENING, JULY 22.

NORAH CUSHALEEN

OR THE HAUNTED CASTLE.

CHAPTER I.—NIGHT.

"Quick, quick," said his master, "I cannot bear to think of what we are about to do."

The old man succeeded at length in lighting the lamp, and put it into Malvrin's hand, which shook as much as his own.

"Stop a little, masther," whispered Dennis, going to a recess, and returning with a bottle and a cup. "Take this drop o' poteen. It's not much. I've got, but take it, it will do your heart good."

The contents of the bottle almost filled the cup, and the excited youth took it with-out a word, and drained it at a draught.

"Now, the key of the room."
"Bedad, and I forgot that entirely," uttered Dennis, taking a huge rusty key from his bosom, and handing it to Malvrin, who instantly turned on his heel and left the apartment, taking his way along a passage which led to a stone stair at the base of the tower.

Dennis silently watched him till he disappeared at the first winding, then returning he walked rapidly to and fro in the kitchen, wringing his hands and groaning deeply.

"And this is the beginning o' murder," he murmured. "Little and little does the poor innocent colleen drame that it's to her death she's going, and not to a bright home to live with masther. Oh, but it's well for her, after all, for will she not sing this night in glory; and that's a better place than even Blantire Castle, which is as beautiful as any in Ireland. If we could only kill her quiet and peaceful, and if she wouldn't scream for fear o' the death that will never harm her, she'd be wid the Virgin, her and the babe in her arms, afore their purry bodies has time to settle on the green flour of the say. Ochone! I wish it would fall the same to ould Dennis; but I haven't the conscience to look for it; for its murder I'll be afther, and sure the punishment for that is more nor the praste himself can tell. But hould Dennis, hould, and don't think any more about what you were born for. It's for the good uv Masther Malvrin and the honour o' the name o' Blantire, and for that sure it's my duty to do this night black work. Oh, how the wind roars round the ould walls that I'll never see again in the blessed sunshine. Bedad, but it's little the boat will need to make it sink. Maybe it'll go down herself if she will, and that'll take the worse side o' the murder off my soul."

While the old man was thus trying to find excuses for the awful crime he was about to commit, and striving to reconcile its cruelty to his naturally tender heart, he, for whose interests he was going to sacrifice himself and Norah, was proceeding to the chamber of the latter.

Ascending the winding stone stair which led to the lower apartments of the tower he paused at a black oak door, which was still in good preservation, and applying the key to the lock, turned it, pushed open the door, and entered.

The apartment within had a surprisingly comfortable look. A quantity of thick soft rushes were strewn on the floor, the walls were covered by a faded tapestry, and a few rude articles of furniture were ranged against the wall. At the far end a fire blazed cheerily up the wide chimney, and on a seat near the fire sat Norah with her infant in her lap, fast asleep.

A young and very beautiful girl was Norah Cushaleen, and as she sat there, with the firelight playing on her sensitive face, and her large blue eyes bent with a mother's pride and tenderness on the up-turned face of her sleeping babe, she presented a picture which the greatest artist would have been eager to copy. Her's was a soft, fairy like beauty—not the bold queen-like gracefulness of a flattered belle, but a sweet, captivating loveliness of a pure, guileless being, that would give all the powers of her nature up to love.

She heard the door open, but did not turn her gaze from the sleeping cherub on her knee, thinking that the visitor must be her considerate attendant, Dennis Morgan.

"What! no word of greeting, Norah?" was spoken in a voice which made her bound from her seat, snatching the child in her arms as she did so, and turn round with a countenance of eager, happy joy.

"Oh, Malvrin! you have come at last," she cried, running towards him and throwing her unoccupied arm round his neck.

"You have been so long," she murmured, "and I have worried so much. Why have you been so long absent, dear Malvrin?"

"Business detained me," he hastily replied. "I have come as soon as I was able." "And on such a night, too," she rejoined, as the wind howled in a fearful gust around the dilapidated tower. "It was kind of you to come up the mountains when the storm raged so violently. But you have not kissed me, Malvrin, nor our boy. See how handsome he grows; and he becomes more like you every day. If it wasn't for him I would have hoped to death in this lonely place."

She held up her rosy lips to his, and he was forced to kiss them, though his conscience-stricken soul shuddered as he did so, knowing that all things had been planned for murder, and that in one hour she would be consigned to the depths of the sea. He also laid his lips on the soft, downy cheek of the sleeping child, and the act made the mother's eyes dance with joy.

"You do not like this solitude, then," he remarked. "What if I have come to take you from it? Would you quit its shelter in such a wild dark night as this?"

"I would go anywhere with you, she fondly replied. "But will you, indeed, take me hence? and shall we live together in one house?"

"Even so," he answered; "and we must now set out on our journey. My horse is waiting for us among the rains. It will carry us to the beach where we shall require to cross the bay in a boat. Will you not be afraid?"

"Not if you are by my side," was her ready reply. "I will wrap our little Malvrin carefully up."

"Do, do," he hurriedly rejoined; "and pray get ready as fast as you can. I will wait for you in the kitchen, beside Dennis."

So saying, he put down the lamp and quitted the apartment in great haste. He almost ran down the stair and along the winding passages till he burst into the kitchen, where Dennis stood near a still blazing fire.

"She is coming," said the youth in accents hoarse with agitation. "I have deceived her, and she is happy at the thought of going home with me. Oh! little does she know the fate to which she is doomed!"

"Whist, masther speak low or she may hear," whispered Dennis. "It's all for the best. It's the honour of the house and the name that requires it. And now, Masther Malvrin, follow the old man, I will see when she comes, not a word will we dare speak at all, at all."

"A last farewell," repeated Malvrin. "What mean you?"

"Just that I would like yer honour to say 'Good bye, Dennis. You have been a faithful servant to our house.' And maybe yer honour will think kindly on me sometimes when there's dancing in the hall o' Blantire Castle, and the family is in its pride again in the country?"

"I don't understand you at all, Dennis. I hope you'll be there to share in the restored prosperity."

The old man shook his head. "Arrah, then yer honour, you are too kind to think so; for this night ould Dennis Morgan will find his last pillow at the bottom of the say!"

"You?" exclaimed Malvrin, in amazement.

"Whist," whispered Dennis. "I'm ould now, masther, and sure you can do without me. I've said more than once or twice that I would die for ye; and sure I will, for I might get into dotage, masther, and spake something about Norah Cushaleen and that might get you into trouble."

"But—"
"I am quite ready now, Malvrin," said a happy voice behind him, and turning round, they beheld Norah arrayed for her journey, with the infant carefully enveloped in her shawl, and still sound asleep.

Her presence put an end to the conversation, and in silence they quitted the ruined castle, their unsuspecting victim cheerfully accompanying them.

Allen's LUNG Balsam

FOR the cure of CONSUMPTION, and all Diseases that lead to it, such as Coughs, neglected Colds, Pain in the Chest, and all Diseases of the Lungs.

Dr. A. L. SOUILLIOT says:—"I can truly say that it is by far the best expectorant remedy with which I am acquainted. For Coughs, and all the early stages of Lung Complaints, I believe it to be a certain cure; and if every family would keep it by them ready to administer upon the first appearance of disease about the lungs, there would be very few cases of fatal Consumption."

N. HARRIS, M. D., writes:—"Nov 20, 1886—To the Middlebury, Vt. REGISTER—Two years ago I was attacked with a severe cold; it settled in my throat which so affected the organs of speech that I could not speak aloud for nearly six weeks. I got through the winter, coughing nights almost incessantly, with cold night sweats, with increased irritation, which extended into the Bronchial tubes, and which kept me coughing all summer. I procured a bottle of Allen's Lung Balsam, and took it according to directions, and found immediate relief. I have now taken two bottles, which have entirely cured me."

Allen's Lung Balsam causes the phlegm and matter to rise, without irritating those delicate organs (the lungs), and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

Commercial College

Located in 46 of the largest cities of the States and Canada, under the management of J. D. ODELL, Principal.

A SCHOLARSHIP issued from this College is good for an unlimited time, and entitles the holder to the advantage of instruction and influence in obtaining situations. Each College derives special benefit from all others, in the combined experience of numerous teachers, the collection of manuscripts and the publication of text books, beyond the ordinary means of any single school. We have the best system of Penmanship known to the public, taught by experienced, first-class Penmen, for which we were awarded First Premiums in all departments at the late Provincial Fair. Regular class instructions in Arithmetic, Commercial Law, Penmanship, Book-keeping, English Grammar, Correspondence, Composition, &c., &c., with ample black-board explanations, and special lectures to suit individual cases. Actual business is here introduced by the use of Banks, and other offices, as in business houses. The practical method of giving instruction in this institution is the most important feature. Students count their thousands of dollars, buy and sell merchandise, real estate, stocks, &c., with as much interest as our first merchants, thus converting the school-room into a banking house and open exchange, by introducing the actualities of business, as well as the abstract theory of Book-keeping. For further information please call at the College, or send for a College Monthly, enclosing letter stamp.

PAIN is supposed to be the lot of us poor mortals, and is a most distressing and painful affliction at any time to come upon us. Therefore, it is important that remedial agents should be at hand to be used in an emergency, when we are made to suffer from any of the various pains, or the depressing influences of disease.

Such a remedial agent exists in Perry Davis' Pain-Killer, the fame of which has extended over all the earth, and the eternal verities of the noble regions, or beneath the intolerable and burning suns of the tropics, its virtues are known and appreciated.

And, by suffering humanity has found relief from many of its ills. The effect of the Pain-Killer upon the patient, when taken internally in cases of Cough, Cold, Bowel Complaint, Cholera, Dysentery, and other affections of the system, has been truly wonderful, and has won for it a name among the people, which can never be forgotten. Its success in removing pain, as an external remedy, in cases of Burns, Bruises, Sore and Sprains, Cuts, Stings of Insects, &c., and other accidents, has secured for it the most prominent position among the medicines of the day.

The Public will be interested to read a few of the many testimonials given in favor of Davis' Pain-Killer:

"Scarcely a week passes by, during which we do not hear of humanity finding relief from many of its ills. The effect of the Pain-Killer upon the patient, when taken internally in cases of Cough, Cold, Bowel Complaint, Cholera, Dysentery, and other affections of the system, has been truly wonderful, and has won for it a name among the people, which can never be forgotten. Its success in removing pain, as an external remedy, in cases of Burns, Bruises, Sore and Sprains, Cuts, Stings of Insects, &c., and other accidents, has secured for it the most prominent position among the medicines of the day.

ASTOUNDING, CONFOUNDING, BUT TRUE.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL

Cure of Consumption!

GREAT SHOSHONE REMEDY,

IN CANADA.

Messrs. Young & Chamberlain:

GENTLEMEN.—I, Wilson Storms, of Brighton, C. W., make oath and say: I feel anxious to let you know what the Great Shoshone Remedy has effected for me. My wife was afflicted with Consumption and died; I was also afflicted with the same disease, and after her death I continued sinking just as she had done. I had very severe Night Sweats—coughed nearly all night, and every night could not sleep unless a little towards morning; I raised over a quart of matter every 24 hours; had severe pain in the left lung, &c., and was greatly debilitated. In fact, I was as fast as I could. I was taking medicine from a regular physician, but it did not even relieve my cough. I went to the village one day, about a quarter of a mile, where I took me to go and come about two hours. While there I saw Squire Wellington, and happened to say to him I wish you could give me something to relieve my cough. He said:—"There is a Great Indian Remedy just introduced; Dr. Baker has it for sale, and I believe it will cure you." I took his advice, and brought a bottle home with me, took a teaspoonful at once, which I felt through my whole system. At night I took a tablespoonful and rested well all night, and continued to rest well every night. The cough, night sweats, raising of matter, pain in the lung, &c., gradually left me, and I got hearty and strong. I took only three bottles. I am not taking it now, and I am as hearty and well as ever I was in my life. My sister-in-law was with me for a while, who was affected with the Liver Complaint. She has taken the remedy and is well. This certificate you may show to the world if you please.
