

HALTON'S SCOTT ACT

A LOAF OF LIBEL CORRESPONDENCE OUT OF IT.

Writing Dictionary Letters to the World - Talking to the Editor - A Barber that Wants Blood. The World has already published four letters from various corners of the county of Halton, giving interviews with residents as to the working of the Scott act.

It is so that the majority of the opinions given are against the act. It does not fit with the best of the temperance friends of the county. One of the papers named in the World office on Wednesday morning, and said our account of public opinion in Oakville was altogether misleading, and denoted right and left all the men who had given opinions against the act.

It is a pity that the young man who has sent in a letter embodying what is said, and as he gave his name and address, and became responsible for what he said, and the letter was written. That is the letter which appeared in this paper yesterday signed Temperance and addressed to the editor. It now turns out that this letter is full of mistakes and libels on several respectable gentlemen simply because they chose to give their opinion of the Scott act and its workings in Halton.

Both the man who supplied the information and the young man who wrote the letter for him have sent in humble apologies for the part they have taken in the matter. Whether this will be satisfactory or not to the parties aggrieved is an issue that concerns the writers of the letters and these people themselves. The correspondence in connection therewith is given below:

To the Editor of the World: Sir: I find in a communication in your paper of this morning, signed Temperance, a reflection on my character which I think is an old and a lie, and I am sorry to find that you have published it. I have no objection to your publishing what you think is for the good of the world, but I do not like to see my name used in a way that is untrue and libelous.

With regard to the gentleman who is named in the communication as having written the letter, I have no objection to your publishing what you think is for the good of the world, but I do not like to see my name used in a way that is untrue and libelous.

Should you refuse to disclose your correspondent's name, Mr. Bradbury will of course have no alternative but to hold you responsible for the publication. Yours truly, G. L. TIZZARD, Oakville, May 23, 1884.

THE FINANCIAL CROOKS.

AN APPEALING CHAPTER OF CRIME AMONG BANK OFFICIALS.

The Pittsburg Swindler Getting Worse and Worse - Impersonation Meticulously Done - The Swindler's Story. The assignee of the Penn bank has taken charge and discharged all the checks, and in the meantime has received a million and a quarter. Of forty thousand checks only four thousand were turned over to the assignee. The bonds, stocks and other collateral in the bank at the time of the suspension are said to be missing.

John P. Beal, of Pittsburg, Pa., has made a statement to-day to the receiver regarding the Pittsburg bank. He said that he had been in charge of the bank since its suspension, and that he had received a million and a quarter of dollars. He said that he had turned over only four thousand dollars of the bank's assets to the assignee.

St. Louis, May 29 - Andrew Bruce, president of the Hot Springs bank, and Mrs. G. W. Steele, his wife, were arrested here to-day by United States marshals for embezzlement of the bank's funds. He is charged with having stolen $100,000 of the bank's money.

St. Louis, May 29 - James D. Fish testified to-day in the case of Morris, against the Hot Springs bank. He said that he had been in charge of the bank since its suspension, and that he had received a million and a quarter of dollars.

St. Louis, May 29 - The Fall Mail Gazette declares that the United States marshal in Louisiana has received a request from the government to send 15,000 troops to the North to suppress the rebellion.

St. Louis, May 29 - The Philadelphia and Erie railroad for April were $113,000, a decrease of $10,000. The rails were laid from Bedford to Zanesville on the Kingston and Pembroke last evening and to-day an engine will run to the mine.

Oakville, May 23, 1884. Sir: In this morning's issue you have made several statements that are incorrect, and the best thing to do is to make an apology stating it was a misunderstanding. Put in to-morrow's issue and it will free both you and me. D. Chisholm keeps it around in adjoining buildings and some of the use it. I did not say he sold it or treated boys. Charles Bradbury was found with liquor in his house and threatened to be fined if caught again. He drinks too much occasionally, not so much lately as formerly as they say. George Tizzard comes next. He is not engaged to the Scott act in this county. I do not know who was engaged in the contest in Oakville. I did not tell you that the word was of worth a straw, nor did I say they would break the law every day to get liquor. Some people here would not give up their names. Nor did I say a doctor carried scraps in his pocket ready for use. The last statement I mentioned but told you it was wrong, and that I could not say whether true or not. You put it in as though I wanted to know whether the World was the libelous victor or the not a victor and that anything about it. Don't give my name to anybody. There seems likely to be trouble, so it had better be cleared up by stating in a report the misunderstanding. Although much is true, yet what I have stated is not. I should have stated what you took down, but I was too busy and did not wait to see if you had expressed yourself too strongly.

LABOR AND WAGES.

A Per Cent Reduction on the Midland Division - A. T. R.

An official circular, signed by W. B. Ferguson, district superintendent, and A. White, district traffic manager, has been issued to the conductors and trainmen on the Midland division of the Grand Trunk railway. It reads as follows: "Owing to the falling off in the traffic receipts it has been found necessary to make a reduction of 5 per cent upon the wages paid for a period of six months. This is a very unpleasant announcement to have to make, but there is no help for it, and as the employees of the Midland division have accepted the same, we feel sure the employees of the Midland division will show an equal willingness to assist the company out of its present financial difficulties. The rating will not be altered from the present standing, but for six months from May 1 a reduction of 5 per cent will be made in the column for deductions on the pay roll."

Several cotton mills in Augusta, Ga., have had their wages of employees. Others will run on short time. One thousand five hundred miners in the third pool on the Monongahela river have struck account of a reduction of wages. A meeting will be held in Monacaohela City to consider the advisability of a general strike in the four pools.

A committee of six employees of the New Jersey Central and Lehigh and Susquehanna railroads, representing the engineers, conductors and other workmen, will visit the manager of the Jersey Central to-morrow and demand that all employees of that road and the Lehigh be placed on the same division. They have not received their wages for April but paid in cash on once. If the interview does not prove satisfactory the committee will call on Gov. Abbott of Pennsylvania and learn if the company can be compelled to pay the men without further delay. Action on the result of the visit will be taken by brotherhoods at meetings on Sunday.

Five hundred laborers and workmen of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad struck yesterday at Mohler, Mo., on account of back wages not being paid. The strikers have established a camp at the place and are holding out for the full amount of their wages.

St. Louis, May 29 - A scuffling in the tunnel of the South Pennsylvania railroad fell to-day. Nine men were instantly killed and eleven wounded. There is slight hope of their recovery. A large force was excavating in the tunnel, a large feet from the entrance when the cave fell. The men were working on a ledge of rock when it fell.

BLIGHTING MAY FROSTS.

DECOURAGING REPORTS FROM CANADIAN AND AMERICAN POINTS.

The Damage in Niagara District Enormous - Grapes, Fruits and Garden Stuff Perish - A Short Crop the Result. The frost has done much damage to the crops. The tomato plants were cut badly, and the grape vines were especially hurt; the early kinds show the effects very much. The clover tops are turned as though they were burned. A gentleman from Winocon states that all the early fruits are very much injured, especially grapes and tomatoes, but he thinks that the apple crop is not affected to any extent. Your correspondent, in conversation with a farmer from the township, was told that the frost was very severe there, ice being formed in several places. In the vicinity of Bartoville the effects of the frost are plainly visible.

The effects of last winter are more plainly visible now than ever; the peach trees which were so healthy last year are now a withered growth. The leaves are all curling up and falling. The grape vines are turning black on the trees. The state of health and vigor of the apple trees is also very much injured. The leaves are all curling up and falling. St. Louis, May 29 - There was a heavy frost here last night. Potatoes, fruit and gardens were seriously damaged and there is every prospect of more frost to-night. In Bartoville, Mo., the frost was so heavy in this vicinity last night was so heavy that the ice frozen in stagnant water. Flowers were frozen in some localities and barley injured.

St. Louis, May 29 - Last night the thermometer recorded five degrees of frost below the zero point, and it is regarded as certain that there will be a hard frost on the first of June. The cold wave has received a rather severe check, while the blossom on fruit trees has been badly damaged. A large amount of the fruit has been injured. A GREAT JUSTICE.

A party may be disappointed in years if they will, almost without effort, also should more in two weeks than it has in ten years. This has been the case with the reform party.

St. Louis, May 29 - A party may be disappointed in years if they will, almost without effort, also should more in two weeks than it has in ten years. This has been the case with the reform party. It has slid, perhaps without knowing it, into the position of defending the idea of a divided Canadian nationality. The speech of Sir Richard Cartwright in Toronto, the speech of Hon. Wilfrid Laurier in Montreal, and the declaration of the Globe of yesterday, show it individually, elicit it collectively. It remains for Mr. Blake to come out and admit the soft impeachment. He might as well do it for he will be credited with it. If somebody don't pull them up the liberals will be drifting in a few days. It is in order for the Mail to try a treason.

University College Appointments.

The manner in which the Ontario government has dealt with the various colleges is much more satisfactory than the manner in which certain other well-known appointments were made a few years ago in the same institution.

The retirement of Mr. Vines, which was chronicled some time ago, left vacant the positions of classical lecturer and dean of residence.

The admission of defendants counsel that their case is at present an indefensible one, is a most important step gained for the public.

The retirement of Dr. Oldright from the lectureship in Italian and of Mr. Fernet from the temporary appointments, the places being filled last session by D. R. Keys, B. A., and John Squier, B.A., respectively.

Dr. Wilson, as appears from the new calendar of University college, retires altogether from the teaching of English and will confine his work to lecturing on history and ethnology.

Some Montreal aldermen of the Charlton blue-law type wish to stop the ferries to St. Helen's island on Sunday.

The Minister remarks: "None of that gentleman! Be paritaneous as much as you please; deprive yourselves of going out listening to music, playing cards, reading an amusing book, and even laughing about a certain patch."

their less prejudiced fellow citizens to submit to their narrow views. They would like to bring us back to the famous days of puritanism when it was not even permitted from Saturday to Monday to cook one's soup.

The Don and Sewage Nuisance. The compromise arrived at by the proprietors of the Don cattle byres and those who have been prosecuting them for creating a nuisance, gives a hint in more ways than one of the true mode of settling what is really a very difficult question.

It must be admitted at the outset that the testimony going to show that a nuisance exists was overwhelming and irrefutable. It is not reasonable to expect the residents of a large area on both sides of the river to perpetually breathe air loaded with stenches which are as injurious to health as they are unpleasant to the sense of smell.

At the same time it must be admitted that the sources of the nuisance are many, and that it is by no means easy to apportion the responsibility for its existence. It is a notorious fact that the most offensive of all the noxious exhalations do not come from either the cattle byres, which have no worse smell than any ordinary farmyard, or the marsh which is polluted by being made the receptacle of the liquid manure.

There are in the same neighborhood the Grand Trunk pig-pens, the glue factory, the pork-packing establishments, and other equally malodorous institutions, all of which afford employment to considerable numbers of workmen and add to the industrial importance of the city.

It must be taken as an indispensable condition of any settlement of the question that these large, varied, and important industries are not to be removed unless it can be clearly shown that it is impossible to abate the nuisance without resorting to so extreme a measure.

Toronto cannot afford, in the face of the keen competition of trade rivals, to taboo any industry on paltry grounds. We want more pork-packing and cattle-feeding, not less; and there is no reason why either process should be made so offensive to either health or olfactory as to become a nuisance.

Science should be equal to the task of finding a remedy for the trouble without clogging the wheels of industry. The admission of defendants counsel that their case is at present an indefensible one, is a most important step gained for the public.

The retirement of Dr. Oldright from the lectureship in Italian and of Mr. Fernet from the temporary appointments, the places being filled last session by D. R. Keys, B. A., and John Squier, B.A., respectively.

sewage and occasionally by freshets will keep the outflow open. The sewage can do no harm in the open lake. The amount of pollution inflicted on cities lower down the great stream will be no greater than now, and will be infinitesimal in any case.

A Timely Warning. Numbers of the residents of Toronto know where Pine Grove village is located — up the branch of the Humber river which joins the main stream at Woodbridge.

Of late there has been an unwonted mortality among the feline species popular to Pine Grove, and this it is which is the subject of this article, and leads us to sound a warning note to three classes of people in particular.

En passant we may mention that Pine Grove is a good place for the cat industry, as owing to the limited population of the place there are not so many bootjacks and other deadly missiles handy when, in the dead of night, the spirit-ringing notes of the ear-piercing Canadian nightingale fall with a crashing climax upon the slumbering neighborhood.

But lately Pale Death has here held kindly court, his ambassador being the numerous shot-gun, before whose deadly breath poor puss has badly hit the dust; and then lost her hide, which has found its way into a mysterious lawyer's bag.

The short clay pipe formerly used by smokers has of late years been to great extent supplanted by the wooden pipe, the manufacture of which is now an important industry.

The blocks are then placed in a vat and subjected to a gentle steaming for a space of twelve hours. During this process they acquire the rich yellowish-brown hue for which the best pipes are noted, and are then in a condition to receive the final turning; but this is done elsewhere.

The delay which prevented the sewer through this postulated drain seems to have been a trick of the works department, for it was decided upon last year; tenders were received, one was accepted, all the plans were perfected, and all was ready, but some official routine act which the chairman of the board of works either omitted through carelessness or worse.

so more might be shown, surrounded by agonized parents, and a figure of despair, never be placed revolving, having done his work. Following might come groups of large children, disfigured children, deaf and dumb children, in various stages of misery, and friends in the ploom of despair at a life-long grief.

To close the ghastly procession I would arrange a group personifying typhus, scarlet, and other fevers coming into the household and smothering it with their deadly wings.

INDEPENDENCE IN QUEBEC.

Mr. Laurier's Reference to the Club National.

At the annual reunion of the Club National in Montreal last week the speaker of the evening was Hon. W. Laurier. In the course of his address he said: "You, gentlemen of the National Club, who are still in the vigor of life, who still retain all the dreams of youth, who are going forward with gigantic tread in the path of progress, and without striking a blow you are surmounting all barriers, are still youthful enough to understand your enthusiastic impulses, but I am no longer so young as to make an illusion out of serious matters. I too, heartily desire to see your hopes realized; I too would like to see the dawn of that day to which you aspire; but I am obliged to take things as they are, and must ask myself this question: Has the day yet come when we should demand the independence of our country? Gentlemen, there is one thing to recollect. If the whole population was composed of men of your caliber we should be independent this very hour, but you, members of the club national, form but a minority in this country. If to-day we are not independent, if we are still a colony, is the fault to be laid on the shoulders of the mother country, but of the people of Canada who, we must confess, do not deserve independence.

Gentlemen, before gaining independence in all safety, because the answer is plainly written in the votes of our representatives. Observe what is going on at Quebec. One sixty-five representatives of the people of the province are gathered together. Will anyone tell me we are a patriotic people? Will anyone tell me that the people who have been benighted to feel the effects of the domination of which we have been the victims since the month of October 1870, are a patriotic people? With respect to those people who are waiting in the hands of the patriots when the party that on the 29th October committed the blackest treason of which any country can be guilty, when the party that cut off the head of a patriotic martyr, when this party under such circumstances held grace in the eyes of the people, and when the people, instead of bringing these traitors to the pillory, they are pardoned, may more, are rewarded; will you tell me that this is patriotism?

If we had our independence what would we do with it? I believe that we would be in the ranks of those people who placed the public well below their private interests; I believe we would fall to the rank of the people of Mexico, of Guatemala, and of South America as a consequence of our independence. In order to attain freedom it is necessary to give up one's personal interests; to attain freedom one must not be afraid to sacrifice all his time, his money, all his dearest interests, if it is necessary, in order to bring about the triumph of the common good. But as long as you see that state of affairs which has reigned for five years, as long as you see that class of men who have governed us for five years; that certain fatal epochs in history, as for example, at the end of the Roman republic, and when Cicero has called "the age of iron, the age of iron, the age of iron," as long as we are governed by these men, lost to all idea of crime, I despair of this country, I despair of ever seeing the torch of liberty kindling its destiny.

But when our country will be regenerated, when you young men of the National Club will have inherited in the hearts of our fellow citizens the principles which you nourish in yours, when you will have substituted the honorable and patriotic for the hateful suggestions of a greedy egoism, the independence of this country will come as naturally as the fruit detaches from the tree when it has been ripened by the heat and light of the sun.

The prospect for cheap telegraph is becoming brighter every day. The post-telegraph project has been practically agreed to by the senate committee on post-offices, and the chances that it will pass the house are very good.

The 1884 Meet of the C. W. A.

The committee that have in hand the making of the arrangements for the meeting of the Canadian wheelmen association, which is to be held in this city on Dominion day, met on Wednesday evening last and have the work as far towards completion as it is possible to have it. The affair will open with a grand parade of probably 500 bicyclists, the greatest number ever brought together in Canada. The

THE PEOPLE'S PASTIMES.

WHAT IS GOING ON IN SPORTING CIRCLES THE WORLD OVER.

The Canadian Wheelmen's Association—Chicago's Clay Pigeon Tournament—General Sporting Notes.

Wm. England, the pugilist, has arrived in New York ready to box any one.
A two days' meet of the Hudson river canoeists took place near Cornwall, N. Y.

At Birmingham, Eng., Tuesday, the Australian cricket team defeated the Middlesex team.
The Sullivan combination, after being on the road eight months and giving 200 performances, made a profit of $100,000.

In the game of lacrosse at Nottingham yesterday between the Arden and local club the Ardenians won by 6 to 0.
In the date of the Canada association of amateur oarsmen's regatta in the World of yesterday, for Tuesday, July 23, "Tuesday" July 29.

E. H. Huggill, Montreal, and A. D. Falcher, played seven games of pyramid pool at Peterborough Tuesday, the latter winning the match by two balls.
An effort is being made at Hamilton for a regatta under the auspices of the Beneficial societies to occur immediately after the regatta of the Canada association of amateur oarsmen at Toronto.

Peterborough and Lakeside played a cricket match Monday which resulted in a victory for the former club by two runs and eight wickets.
Campbellford and Lakeside had a match Saturday and the Lakesiders won by thirty-five runs.

If there were more of sports and less of gambling about the English turf, the death heat of the Derby would have been run in 1850 when Voltaire and Rusworo passed under the string together.
Ed Harnesty, a noted English middleweight pugilist, with his brother, Harry Secley, arrived in New York on May 25.

Harnesty fought Brock and defeated him in England; he was beaten by Peter Brabant, and claims to have fought a draw with Charley Mitchell for a silver cup.
In regard to his race at Oak Point today, Courtney says he is going to try to win, and if he is beaten he will try again.

The school which Courtney will row is of paper, made by Waters & Sons, and is eleven and a half inches wide by thirty-one feet long, and weighs thirty pounds.
Horseback riding is increasing very fast in New York, and there are many very elegant riders among the ladies.

There are hundreds of them who love the noble sport, having a good horse, and they can be seen daily sending their horses along the bridge path of the park in an athletic manner.
The trainer of Maud S. gave her charge a mile on Tuesday morning on the Chester park half mile track near Cincinnati.

After a few miles of slow jogging, Maud said she would give the mare a mile in 2:25.
She went to the quarter pole in 38 seconds, to the half-mile pole in 1:14, to the three-quarter pole in 1:49, and finished the mile in 2:24.

At Fort Wayne, Ind., yesterday, Umpire Chas. Cushman, after a game of baseball between the Fort Wayne and St. Paul clubs, was shot in the back by a seriously wounded by a stone thrown by a 14-year-old boy, whom Cushman ordered off the grounds for making unparliamentary remarks about his decision.
The lad was arrested by a witness of the grounds, but was rescued by the mob and escaped.

"One Who Knows" writes from Hamilton, Ont., that the baseball match between the Clippers of this city, and the Welland and St. Catharines, will be played to-day, that the match was played in Hamilton, not in St. Kitts, as was in the World.
The Clippers played all around the visitors, Bennett, the pitcher, being told to let the visitors hit him, so that it would not be a complete whitewash.

In giving the result of the 100-yard race between Ron McManis and Tom Smith, on the Rosedale grounds, yesterday, our reporter was unwittingly led into a grievous error.
The victory should have been accorded as having been won by the former.

As the information was received from the latter, we believed it to be accurate, but we have since learned that it was not so, and we now make the correction and congratulate the winner, who finished well to the front in spite of the fact that the loser's wheel spikes and fender.

The Petre Bill in Quebec.

St. Armand, Que., May 19.—A brutal prize fight came off about two miles from this place to-day between Kiley of Barlett and the Frenchman, who was told to let the victor hit him when down. Both were badly punished.

Beantford Races—Second Day.

Beantford, May 19.—Weather splendid; attendance very large. 2:40 race, purse $200, entries—won by McKay's Black, Stinson's Bob White 2d, Briggs' Combination 3d.
Running race, half mile, purse $100, 5 entries—won by McKay's Black, Stinson's Bob White 2d, Briggs' Combination 3d.

Open trot, purse $250, 5 entries—won by Elsie Ford, Little Billy 2d.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Communication Opened Between Dover Bay and Cape Ann.
From the New York Herald.

ROCKPORT, Mass., May 27.—Communication has now been established between Dover Bay and this point.
The Faraday cable has made the final splice and the cable is now in thorough working order. Yesterday afternoon a message was received from the Faraday, stating that the end of the cable had been picked up and that the splice was about to be made. In due time the first message was flashed along the cable from the Nova Scotia terminus, and congratulations were exchanged. The cable is in charge of representatives of Messrs. Siemens Brothers at either end, and a continuous test will be made for a month, when the wire is to be handed over to the Commercial Cable company.

STEAMER FARADAY, latitude 42 deg. 22 min. N., longitude 65 deg. 51 min. W., May 27, 1884, at Rockport, Mass.
The weather was magnificent, and in smooth waters and with a cloudless sky the final splice was made on Saturday morning. The vessel was magnificent, and in smooth waters and with a cloudless sky the final splice was made on Saturday morning.

Proposed Match Between Sullivan and Mitchell.
John L. Sullivan and Charley Mitchell met at the Ashland house, New York, Tuesday. The meeting was friendly between the rival champions. Sullivan said to Mitchell: "I think you have improved some in height and weight."

"Yes," Mitchell replied, "and I should like very much to meet you again and see which is the better." Sullivan replied: "Well, I will give you a chance, and will spar you four rounds, Queensbury rules, at Madison square garden at any time, the gloves under the whole receipts of the house." To this Mitchell demurred, and said he would spar Sullivan and share equally with him.

Sullivan went on to say: "I will give you a chance, and will spar you four rounds, Queensbury rules, at Madison square garden at any time, the gloves under the whole receipts of the house." To this Mitchell demurred, and said he would spar Sullivan and share equally with him.
Mitchell then said he would like to fight with bare knuckles. Sullivan then said: "I did not intend to fight any more, but if you want me to fight on bare knuckles, I will do so. There were no definite arrangements made; but it seems as though the men would finally come together, and fight with gloves or bare knuckles.—New York News.

DR. KING IN SCOTLAND.

He Addresses the United Presbyterian Church Synod on Canada.

At the meeting of the U. P. church synod in Edinburgh on May 10, Principal King, of the presbyterian college, Manitoba, and moderator of the presbyterian church of Canada, delivered an address. In Canada, he said, the different branches of the presbyterian church had secured a union which they could not hope to realize at home for a considerable time to come, and the result of this union was that the church which they had planned long ago in Nova Scotia and Upper and Lower Canada had been merged into one great presbyterian church, extending across the whole North American continent; and through their agency, the work of the vicar which they did to the cause of christianity had come to be simply inestimable in its value.

As a moderator of the presbyterian church of Canada, it was simply a duty and an extremely grateful testimony to the great service rendered by the missionaries of the presbyterian church of Scotland, that in that land by the early labors of the missionaries sent out by the united presbyterian church of Scotland, (Appendix) in Halifax, they had now secured a union which they could not hope to realize at home for a considerable time to come, and the result of this union was that the church which they had planned long ago in Nova Scotia and Upper and Lower Canada had been merged into one great presbyterian church, extending across the whole North American continent; and through their agency, the work of the vicar which they did to the cause of christianity had come to be simply inestimable in its value.
