Technical and Bibliographic Notes / Notes techniques et bibliographiques

The Institute has attempted to obtain the best original copy available for scanning. Features of this copy which may be bibliographically unique, which may alter any of the images in the reproduction, or which may significantly change the usual method of scanning are checked below.

Coloured covers /
Couverture de couleur
Covers damaged /
Couverture endommagee
Covers restored and/or laminated /
Couverture restauree et/ou pelliculée

Cover title missing /
Le titre de couverture manque
Coloured maps /
Cartes géographiques en couleur
Coloured ink (i.e. other than blue or black) /
Encre de couleur (i.e. autre que bleue ou noire)
Coloured plates and/or illustrations /
Planches et/ou illustrations en couleur Bound with other material /
Relié avec d'autres documents
Only edition available /
Seule édition disponible
Tight binding may cause shadows or distortion along interior margin / La reliure serrée peut causer de l'ombre ou de la distorsion le long de la marge intérieure.

Additional comments /
Commentaires supplémentaires:

L'Institut a numérisé le meilleur exemplaire qu'il lui a été possible de se procurer. Les détails de cet exemplaire qui sont peut-étre uniques du point de vue bibliographique, qui peuvent modifier une image reproduite, ou qui peuvent exiger une modification dans la methode normale de numérisation sont indiqués ci-dessous.

Coloured pages / Pages de couleur

Pages damaged / Pages endommagées

Pages restored and/or laminated /
Pages restaurees et/ou pelliculees
Pages discoloured, stained or foxed/
Pages décolorees, tachetées ou piquées
Pages detached / Pages détachees
Showthrough / Transparence
Quality of print varies / Qualité inégale de l'impression

Includes supplementary materials /
Comprend du matériel supplémentaire

$\square$
Blank leaves added during restorations may appear within the text. Whenever possible, these have been omitted from scanning / Il se peut que certaines pages blanches ajoutées lors d'une restauration apparaissent dans le texte, mais, lorsque cela était possible, ces pages n'ont pas été numérisées.

-SWEET CHILDISH DAYS THAT wERE' AS LONG AS TWENTY DAYS ARE NOW:- Wordsworth. From a photograph by tho Borlin Photograph Company.

WINNING BOYS.

How so DO IT.

If you are going to capture boys you must imagine yourself to be a boy. Frota seeing boys select toys, you will know that they waint a drum, and a hammer, and a bicycle, and a kite, and all the rest that boys like ; and this ought to tench us that boys like noise, and things that go. Mike a note in your Junior book, nad when you have a sociable, introduce a little of each of these elements.
Boys, too, like military methods; so follow on that line. If you teach Scripture, lov on that line. If you tench Scripture, select some military verses, and divide select sone minitary verses, and divide your boys into Company A and Company $B$ and let them charge on each other with Scripture verses. For example, A will recite, 'Tight the good fight of faith.' $B$ will respond with, "Quit you like men, be strong.' A, "Through God we shall do valinntly.' $B$, 'Budure hardness as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.

Have also two anti-saloon brigades, and toss temperance verses back and forth, interspersing temperance songs. Hive occasionilly a ten-minute debate by the boys on the hurtfulness of the use of tobicco, liquor, opium, on the demoralizing effect of gambling, often early started in inarbles, of gambing, often early started in lottery, candy stores, and so on.
Let the boys be monitors and choristers, and let them have in their breasts the feeland let them have in their breasts the feeling that the society could not do without ing that Witch their failings carefully, and cor rect them, not with a long preachment in a tremulous'voice, but by a story foimed or made over to fit your particular need. One sentence (after the story) such as 'We should be sorry to have'such a spirit creep into our lovely society, is better than forty into our lovely society,' is better than forty long-drawn-out sermons.
Inve illustrated talks, bright new facts, varied programmes, and you have bait that will catch a great many boys, But notall; and, as we should aim to hive them all, I will mention entirely new tactics which have been most successfully tried in the Jersey City Titbernacle: It is different from all methods, but if it catches boys from all methods, but if it catches boys don't shrink from it, ind call it impractical. don't shrink from it, and callit impractical. It looked at first impractical, very im. mense success.
I speak of our gymnasiums (one for boys and one for girls), and to them we repair at the conclusion of each Junior Encleavor meeting. So helpful are they to us that without them I should feel as maimed ns a man without arms. For one hour each week I have under my training many boys who would nerer come into the Junior who would nerer come into the Junior meetings but fur this attraction.
It is funny to watch them when they first come, for they are far more restless than 'in cat in a strange garret. I sumle continually nt them, have my helpers aid them in finding Bible verses, use all means not too finding Bible verses, use all means not too consppicuous in supporting their activity, conspicuous in supporting their netivity, and wonder all the time if they can ever be nnd wonder all the time if they can ever be spiritualized. They nre such boys as would distribute Barnum's hand.bills if your batck were turned; who would pull another boy's hair in prayer time, and keep your nerves on the last strain; boys full of life who need a gymnasium in which to work off their surplus energy.
Do such boys become spiritual? Of oourse they do, and anuch sooner than you think. First, their manners improve, then they soem a little drawn towards you, then next they come eirly to nid you in preparing for the meetings, soon they lend the meoting, and at last stand at the altar to meoting, and at last sta unite with the church.
What wrouglat this. change? Tho Lord Jesus Christ, undoubtedly, nided liy a gymJosus Cnrist, undoubtedy, mided biy a gym nasium and an earnest Christian teacher but neither the Lord Jesus nor the teache but neither the Lord Jesus nor the teacher could have caught those gay lads with onn could have on enipty hook.
Remember that it is these happy-golucky lads who stand the best chance of landing in jails or reformatories. There is nore religion than you can under tand, miess you have tried it, in meeting your boys in a gymnasium. You little know the influence you exert when you push a swing, turn $n$ jumping-rope, praise a high kick, cheor a tug-of-war combat; for, while you are helping the boys to develop their bodies, you are also knocking on the cm't be relisious and have a cood time,

In such happy fellowshipa teacher doubles her chance of siving the boys under her cire. I never go away from these her care. I never go a way from these happy gatherings without wishing myself a happy gatherings without wishing myself a such happy auspices.
'But,' some will sny, 'fitting up gymnasiums is expensive work. It is, there is no denying it. But there never was a better expenditure of money thin saving boys. Take this for your motto, if you desire to teach your children in this way, and you will be successful: 'Where there's a will, there's a way.' If you want such an annex to your church, in most cases you can get it. Try and see.-Mrs. Alice May Scudder, in Golden Rate.

TRUST.

Supposing a dcar littio robin
Were to come on your window sill, And pick up the crumbs yout had scattered Until ho had had his fll.
Would not jour heart be tender With love for the sweet woo thing? And tho more if at last it ventured:
On your outstretched hand to cling

So God our father in heaven

For his children n feast has sprend, And calls the sons that are hungry To feed on the 'Living Brend.'
Then, oh, let us boldly trust him, Let us venture very near,
And gather the crumbs of comfort Hogiveth, our souls to cheor.

For all who conflde in the Father,
To them his compassions move
When his children fully trust him,
-From the Chord Found, by d. M. P.

STUDYING THE CHILD'S HOME.

To woman has been credited the instinct f curiosity. If this be true, and it leads the primary teacher to know the home life her Sunday-school scholars, certainly it is wellordered. We ferr, however, that many good teachers in the cliss room fail to realize the importance of home visita tion in order to make practical the lessons of Sunday, Therefore, for the best reshlits of her work we urge the teacher to study the child through its home life. An ncquaintance with the parents and home surroundings is a strong link in the chasin of interest between teacher and child. One visit at the child's home will unfold more knowledge of the daily life of the through other channels ; and this informa tion is of value to a teacher desiring to aid child in its religious life.
The following is a list of reasons for home visitation given by primary teachers at a onference
One disheartoned teacher was much on couraged when she found out that her lessons were carried by her pupil to other nembers of the household.
Another secured the attendance of the father upon the services of the house of God.
Pirents havo been interested to visit the lass and listen to the teaching of thei children.
To give sanitary suggestions.
To wisely warn of evil companions
To aid in the correction of bid habits among scholars.
To secure co-operation of parents in home instruction of lessons.
To consider the child's reading matter In some cases to hang upon the wall haste and educating pictures.
To read God's Word.
To care for the sick and relieve the sufforing
To dispense the bread and water of life for the sake of him who said, 'If ye will eat and drink of that which I give, yo shall not hunger nor thirst.
Many of these reasons were illustrated by facts, one or two of which we give :
A teacher in her round of visits upon absentees found in one home six children seated upon table and chairs (barefooted). The nother was moving about in a half shod condition. A careful inquiry revealed the facts that the fither had been out of employment for three months, the fuiel was low, and food scarce. A report of the case was made to the Sunday-school supply orps, who came together, and, after sin ing + Something to do for Jesus, took th case in hand. On the following day an amusing scene wis witnessed, as in turn the bare floor to test the size of new shoes and stockings
We feel assured that the visitation of the scholar's home puts us in contact with the mightiest forces that mold the child's life. The mothor's heart of love, the father's instinct of protection, are both allied to the teacher's ability to shape the heart of the child by Gospol truth ; and to secure the parents' alliance for the clinching of the parents aliance for the clinching of the Sunday-school tenchings brings the grandest result;-Mrs, Jas. S. Ostrunder. in S. S. Journal.

SCHOLARS' NOTES

(From Westminster Qucstion Bool.) LESSON V.-JULY 20, 1801.
THE YOUTH OF JESUS.-Luka 2:40.52. COMMIT To menoty vs. 40-13. GOLDEN TEXT.
'And Jesus ncercised in 'Wisdom and statime, THE LESSON:STORY.
Once every y car Joseph nind Mary went to Jerusalem to kecp the foast of the pmssover. Bo you remember when and where the first passover was eaten?
When Jesus was twelve years old he went with them for the first time. This was the third jour ney of the child Jesus. What was his first ney of the child Jesus. What Was his first.
journev? (Luke $2: 22$. .) And the second? (Matt.
$2: 13,15$ ) 2:13, 15.) ware a small hillside city, nbout Noventy miles north of Jerusalem. The people Nazareth was a small hillside city, nbout soventyy miles north of Jerusalen. The people from Nazareth went up to the feast together, some walking and on some waiking and some rining onmules, It was a bentiful, peaceflijourney. be sure that Jesus cored to lcarn all that he could in the hat city We may be sure that Jesus cored to learn all What he could in the holy city, for when the little company started to go back to Nazareth he could that he could in the holy city, for when the could compary started to po back to Nazareth he could not bo found. They searched for him, and after 2. At what aro was he takon to the passover?
Ans. At the nge of twelve years. 2. At what aro was he takon to Ans. At the nge of twelve years.
3. What did he do at the clos 3. What did he do at the close of the feast?
Ans. He stayed at Jerusalem. 4. How long did his paronts scek him? Ans Thred Whys . Where wid they find him? Ans. In the LESSON VI.-AÜGUST $6,1894$.

THE BAPTISM OF JESUS.-Mark 1: 1-11. COMMIT TO MENORY vs. 9-11.

GOLDEN TEXT.
"Thon, art my beloved Son, in whom I am well to the teachers of the law and asking them wise questions. When his mother asked why he stayed behind he aid that he must bo about his Father's busi-ncss. But he went home with them, and wus theirobedient child, nd God blessed him more and more--Bercan Lesson Boo

LESSON PLAN

I. His Early Childhood. vs. 40.42 II. His First Pasover III. His Young Manhood. ve. 50.1 , 52 HOME READINGS

 Psalm 112. 1-9.-Joy in God's House.
Eph. $6: 1.9 .-$ Children, Obcy Your Parents.
Time:-A.d. 8, April, twelverears after ourlast cesson: Augustus Cesar emperor of Rome; lesson; Augustus Cesar emperor of Rome; Places.-Jerusajem, Nuzarcth

OPENING WORDS

The crents of our lessons in the lifo of Christ months after his birth. Between this lesson and montas thereisan initerval of about eleven years the lat half. Our Saviouriped at Nazareth until hnd $\Omega$ half. Our Savioun he was thity ycars old.
we know of theso years.

HELPS IN STUDYING.

40. Grace of God- the divine favor. 41. The month (parts of March and April), in memory ofthe deliveranco of the firstborn In Egypt. Ex.

 counting one for departure, ono for roturn and -tcachnrs A A sling them quiestions-as scholars ## his questiong.

Wist yo
1 mus
Intronuctory - Wher did tosins live during
 I. His Farry Cimphood vs 40 42. - What i said of the child Jesus? What was forelolid on jear? What was tho jpa dinance has taken its placo?
II. His First Pissovir. Vs. 43.50.-At What ook place as they retiniricel Where did they ## stonished? What did: Mary say to Jcsus

hat.wne his reply?

have toward them? How should all ch ike him? In what did Jcsus increase 1 PRACTICALILESSONS LEARNED.

1. Jesus knows thio wants of children, for he
2. Ho set an example that children should
3. Children should love the house of Goa, and begin early to serve hime begin early to serve him.
4. Thoy should try to get.
especinlly tolearn the thaths of tho Biblc.
. Liko Jesus, wo should love and obey our REVIEW QUESTIONS.

THE LESSON STORY.

> I. The Voice of Prophecy. vs. 1-3.
II. The Yoico in the Wilderness. Fs . $4-8$,
III. The Voice fron Heaven, vs. 9-1h. Tasar.-A. D. 27 enrly in January ; Tiberius Place-The fords of Rethnbara, on the Jordan.
fve miles north-cast of Jercho OPENING WORDS.
The author of this. Gospel was John, whose eurname was Mark. Acts $12: 25$. His mother was nanie was Mark. Acts 12: 25. His mother was Mary the sister of Barnabas. Col. 4:10. He was probablyiconverted under the prenching of Peter, and his Gospel was probably written under Petor's direction. It omits all mention of our Lords birthnd early years, and begins with the mission of John the Baptist. Study with this mission of John the Baptist. Study with this lesson the parullel accounte, Matt. $3: 1-17$; Luke

If Gospel-the glad news of salvation. Jesus One (Luke 2: 11); The Son of God- divine and eternal. 2 . In the prophett -Mai. $3: 1$; Isa. $40: 3$ My messienper-J Jonn the Baptist, In the Enst many of the roads are but mere paths, crooked, and ofter blocked with stones and other obstructions. Kings and princes sent heralds before-them to clcar and prepare the way. 4. Wilderness-a wild, thinly-peopled region. Baptismof ness repe aw s and only Ghost-John's baptism was outward, ald onbol. Christs is sniritun. and clenses the henrt. 9: Was baptized-sec Matt. 3. 13-15. In. A voice-the Father spenks, tho Holy Spirit descends. nand the Son receives the divine approval. Niy beloved Son-implying divine approval.
Christ's divine nature Questions.
TNTRODECTORY. - Who wroto this Gospel 9 Whatdo you know about Mark? Title Gosper G text? Lesson Plan? Time? Place? Momory verses?
I. Trif
I. The Foici of Prophecy. vs. 1.3.-What is What is Jesus here called? Who is meant by my messenper? What did Malachi say of him? what mescnper ?
Wh, Tur Voice in TRE Wimprness. 'vs, 4.8.Hfo? What was the effect of Johns nreaching ? was his food ? Whose coming did ho foretell? did John baptize? Hlow would Jesus baptizel How did Joln prepare Christ's way III. Tre Vorce From Heaven. vs. 9.11. Who came from Nazarethio to bo baptizcd What occurred at his baptism? Why did the Spirit

PRACTICAL LESSONS LEARNED.

1. Jesus Christ, the Son of God, came into the world to be orrr Sa viour.
2. Our hearts must be prepared to receive his 2. Our
g. If 3.

bo forgiven and snved.
4. Water-baptism wiil not save us; we noed the 4. Water-baptism will not save us;
baptism of the Holy Spinit.
REVIEW QUESTIONS.

REVIEW QUEESTIONS.

1. Whonppeareत as messenger to proparo thio wis tho coming of Christ? Ans, Joln the way Bapt
2. 2. What did tho mesenger doo Ans. Ho nptized in the wilderness, and prenched the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins.
1. What he forctell of the Messiah ?: Ans: Ho shall baptize sou with the Holy Ghost. Ans.
2. What followed the baptism of Jesui? Ans.
The Splillike dove descended upon him. Ans.
3. What did the voice from heaven sny? Ans. Thournrt my"beloved Son, in whom I am well

THE HOUSEHOLD.

SOHOOL DECORAIION.

bamd.

Have you tried it? If you have, you have found it too fascinating to be neglected: the you have not, you have missed much o ghould lose no time in reaching for $\begin{aligned} & \text { it. }\end{aligned}$
Do you say, 'But my scliool is so dingy and awkwardly built, just-fnur of the barest of walls, and the phanest of window and door frames, painted in the dullest of grays. I cannot afford to decorate, and grays. 1 cannot afford to there is no use attenipting it.
Isi't there? Your windows have sills, haven't they? And these would hold a half-dozen flower-jars ? And surely there are plants kept in the homes of some of your pupils. Get as many of them as you can, to bring plants or slips which you can can, to bring plants or slips which you can plant in empty fruit cans. Cover these if you like, but the bright tin cans do not look amiss.
Then go yourself to $n$ florist's, and spend one or two dollars carefully, and if they do not yield you a hundred percent of interest (thele is a pun there) before the end of October,-why, don't try again. A few iviesclimbing over your windows, with snme flowering plants below, will change their appearance considerably.
Your plants will make themselves useful too, in other ways. In Object and Lan too, in other ways. In Object and Language lessons, and in Composition, to say nothing $c i$ Botany, they will helpyou, they nothing ci Botany, they will help you, they will make more interests in common be tween you and your pupils, and will keep your and their faces brighter, and your hearts too.
As you talk and write of them, you will mention other plants and flowers with which your pupils are not acquainted, and will fin them.
them.
These you may tack up on the walls, for all to examine. If very pretty; you may frame them Then you will got some pretty calendars, and you or your pupiils will find sugyested to you other cheerful pictures which you may frame with evergreen boughis, or gay leaves, which you will all go out together to gather. At the sane time you'may col, lect pretty grasses, inake bouquets or lect pretty grasses, inake bopdidets or sheaves of them and tie them with brightsheaves of them and tie them with bright-colored ribbons, and hang them in the colored corners.
If you are so fortunate as to live within a. few miles of (and not too neir to) a -butcher's slaughter-house, get some finely shaped horns, scald, scrape, and polisi them, and you will have as pretty and graceful wall-vases as you could wish for, graceful wall-vases as you could wish for, with this very desirable quality-they canwith this very not be broken.

I need saly no more. . If you try even so little as this, other idens will surgest themselves to you, and when you observe how much more regular the attendance is, and how much more easily managed the chilhow much more easily managed the chil dren are, you will feel amply repaid for any trouble you may have taken.--Educationa Jourral.

KEEPING THE HOUSE IN ORDER. Mrs. Fnirchild wns sick, and as there Was no help in the kitchen there was no thing for Mr. Fairchild to do when he came homent night ign of housework.
There was always an accumulation of Thers was anways an accumulation of dishes to. wash, rooms to sweep, and -shelves to arrange, to say nothing of meals that must be either bought or cooked. Ho did not mind the work for a few nights, it seemed only a reliof from his nights, it seemed only a reliof from his office work; but what puzzled and anoffice work; but what puzzled and annoyed him was that nothing stayed in order. There were just the same dishes to wash and just the same rooms to sweep night, after night ; there was no change, no variety, in the work. After a week of it he becane heartily tired of house wo but he had to keep at it just the same.
In time Mrs. Fairchild's health returned, smooth, comfortable way as of old, with this difference, that Mra. Fairchild noticed that her husband never asked her when that her husband never asked her when she was going to do this or why she had she was going not done thit.
She was surprised to find that he was even. we mended.

She chided him gently for not having told her of his wants and he replied:
'Why, dear, I never realized how hard your work, even your seving, was until you were sick and 1 had it to do I tried you were sick and I had it to do. I tried to mend the lining of niy cont one day; it tired when it was done. I nover realized, he added, "f what heroines good wives and mothers are to do the dirudgery of housekeeping and unconiplainingly and undinchingly for montlis and years together, with often never a word of appreciation from those never a wom they or aph, Dear, tired housewife, do
Dear, tired housewife, don't got discouraged because the house will couraged because the house will not stay in order. It order:
It is a mountainous task to keep a house in order ; don't try too hard ; be particular indeed about actial clennliness, but better tolerate a little disorder than worry your life out overdoing what will nover stay life out overdoing what will never stay
Said
Said an old housekeeper, who had If it were not for the delusion women have that sometime everything . would be done, they would not have the heart to keep on. This delusion is a mirige that keeps them al ways working.
A housekeeper's work can never be finished. She is always working at it. Let her realize that there is no nobler work. no work that has a wider or more far reaching influence, humble as it may seem

THE GRANDES'T WORK.

People sometimes chafe because in their circumstances thoy cannot do any grea things; as if nothing could be really a divine mission unless it is something condivine mi
A mother occupied with her children laments that she has no time nor leisure for any mission that God may have marked out for her. Does she know. that caring out for her. Does she know that caring well for her children may be the grandest thing that could be found for her in all thing that could be found for her in all the range of possible duties? Certainly the range of possible duties? Certainly ing else in all the world so great: Organizing missionary meetings, speaking, at writing books, painting pictures, 一thes are all fine things when they are the things are all God gives ; but if the mother neglects that God that xod gives ; but ifthe mother neglects her clildren to rum after these she simply her children to run atter these she singly puts out of her hand the largest things to puts out of her hand the largest things to In other words, that which the Master gives any one to do is always the grandest work he can find. The doing of God's will for any moment is ever the subwill for any moment is ever the sub limest thing possible for that moment. Morving Star.
WHAT SHALL WE EAT FOR
This question is answered most satisfactorily by Mrs. Rorer in the Household Nelus. as the following excellent recipes will show:
Potato Mufrins.-Put two good-sized potatoes on to boil. After they have been boiling five minutes, drain them off and boiling five minutes, drain them off and cover with fresh boiling water. Boil until cover with fresh boiling water. Boil until thoroughly done. Weigh one pound of flour, make a well in the centre. Put in a quarter of a pound of butter. Dissolve of warm water, then stir into it suflicient flour to make a biscuit. Knead it lightly on the board, and with a knife cut a cross on the top. Drop it into a kettle of warm water, cut side up. Now let it stand until it floats on the surface of the water, which will take from ten to fifteen minutes. Beat four eggs without separatimg, and pour them over the butter. Then mash pour potatoes until perfectly smooth, and stir them in also. Now we will have worked butter, eggs, potato and flour together. Add one teaspoonful of salt, and gether. Add one teaspoonful of salt, and a tablespoonful of sugar, and as soon as the yeast biscuit fionts on top, skim it off with your hand and work it in with the other ingredionts. Work this lightly (the dough must be suft), until it loses its stickiness. Put it in a bowl ; cover it, stand it in a very light; then form it carefully into tiny rolls ; drop them into greased gem pans, and when light the second time bake in a quick ovenabout ten minutes. They a golden brown and a perfect puff.
Flied Cemaline. - Put one pint of m in a double boiler to cook; when hot, stir in, quickly, two cupfuls of cerealine, a. half-- teaspoonful of salt and one eqg, well benten; tèaspoonful of silt and one egg, well benten; cook one minute, turn into a square pan cook one minute, turn into a square pan aud stand aside over night to cool. In the morning turn it from the mould, cut it into bloeks and fry un dripping or lard.
Quick Muffins. - Beat three eggs separately until very light; add to the yolks one pint of milk, a teaspoonful of salt, two and a half cupfuls of flour, and a table spoonful of butter, melted. Beat until smooth and then stir in carefully two heapsmooth and then stir in carefully two heaping teaspoonfuls of baking powder and the ing teaspoonfuls of baking powder and the well beaten whites of the eggs. Bake in rem pans, in a, quick oven, twenty minutes.
$\qquad$
THE STORE-RDOM AND CLOSETS.
However orderly the housekeeper ma be and however carefully she may look over her store closers and presses it is.immpty thein of all of their holdings and give them a thorough going-over.
Every crack, crevice and cranny should be examined. It is a good plan to have the walls of such places very carefully hard-inished and all cracks closed with is anser of Paris or putty. A grood mixture is one quart of white lead and linseed oil, such as is used for painting wood work. such as is used for painting wood work.
Into this stir about one pound of putty worked soft with oil. Keep this on hand in a tin can with a tight cover. When required for use, pour a small quantity into a cup, add one-third to half its bulk of inely ground plaster of Paris, mix thoroughly and apply at once. The combination of putty and plastor makes a firm, gritty mass that mice and moths are no plied with a putty knife and carefully pressed into the cracks. After a few times using, the wall and wood-work will become so closely united that there is little difficulty experienced in keeping moths away If all of the cricks in the floor are brushed tion and carofully refilled ais the boards shrink, there will soon be a surface as firm and smooth as a chinit plate, and one tha miy be wiped off with a damp cloth an ept in order with very little labon IIt is a good plan to tack strips of ticking or other thick cotton material around the erlge of the docr and occasionally wot them with strong camphor or, if this is objectionable, with oil of cedar, that may be purdoi to thost every one. Moths do not like it, and are inclined to keep at a distance from it. This, however, must not be talken as any indication that it will keep then away altogether: It only helps a little.
All shelves should be removable, and may be taken out and brushed with a stiff whisk, then wiped over with a cloth wrung out of niphtha. Wipe the hard finishe walls and woodwork of the closet in the same way, to remove all nccumulations of dust and possible eggs of moths that the industrious and painstaking miller may ave deposited there.
Carefully brush all woollen garments hat are to be used occasionally during the Wirm season. Sometimes dresses are eaten full of holes within a single week, and furs that have been allowed to hang enourl in the course of three days to work their total destruction under the very eyes of their owners.
Precautionary measures are the only safe fine wo far as the preservation of furs and fine woollens is concerned, and untiring vigilance is the price one must pay for the possession of such dainty belongings.
New Yorik Ledger.

TO PRESERVE BRIC-A-BRAC.
Delicate pieces of bric-a-brac are often broken by upsetting them with a dustcloth, or by accidentally touching them same shelf. To prevent this, weight down every vase" or jaif that is not quite heavy evitself with sand or small shot. It will not require a great deal in each piece, and will often save one from being broken in consequence of some slight jar. This is especially useful where there are smal children who have not been trained not to

OUR INVALIDS.

- The word 'invalid' usually brings a feeling of sadness and a desire to help the willing to help know how to begin! and those who have been shut in can renlize how an act of kindness is appreciated. If an act of kindness is apppreciated. hood, try the experiment of kindness to her, and see if two lives are not brightened ins the result. Take your last magazine along, and read a cheery article to her ; run in as often as you can and don't lorget to ask about her health, and express sympathy for whatever afflictions she has, oven though you may think her view of them highly colored ; then as soon as convenient lead the talk to more cheerful subjects, and when you find that her spirits have followed the lead, your mission for the time is accomplished.
Try to take something with you each time, and your visits will bo anticipated with a degree of pleasurable curiosity, a few Howers, a bit of fruit, an interesting A few howers, a bit of fruit, an interesting paper, a picture, or a poem or joke will be paper, a picture, or a poen or joke will be appreciated. If you are sure that the family of your invalid will not object, you can take some little delicacy occasionally.
Go in Sunday afternoon and tell her about the sermon and the hymns that were sung at church, and if you cam sing you may be sure she will like to hear you, un less she is one of the very nervous kind. If she is able to use her hands and likes fancy work, you can givo her pleasure by saving bright scraps of cloth and perhaps you can afford to buy some bright silk for her to work them with Take a little from your tithe purse (I hope you keep one) and buy soft worsteds, Root a slip from how to make fancy articles. Root a slip from your geranium and whon bloom is gone replace it with a pansy, a weet violet, or any little plant.
If she is not contined to her bed, perhaps a ride in your carriage would please her.
There are old people who are not able to There are old people who are not able to walk, children who seidom have a chance to ride, and mothers who need rest and a breath of fresh air in nearly every neigh-borhood.-Housekeeper.

SELECTED RECIPES
Georgiaia style pielci it Rever.-Ta boil rice in the minutcs; it will then bo ready to shake. Shake not use a spoon to removo it and do not bress it in shape, but servo it as it is thrown lightly on Beaf Hasir on Toast.-Cut cold cooked beof Benf Hasir on Toast,-Cut cold cooked beot nto dice. Put tablospoonful of butter in a frynf pand and it it brown; then add a tablespoon-to slowly heat for ten minutcs, while you prepare tho tomato sauce and toast. When the metis.

heated, serve it on the toast with the tomato sauce poured around.
Broiled Mutron Criops.-Loin of mutton, pepper nnd salt, a small piece of butter of Cut tho chops from a well-1mng tender loin of mutton comove a portion of the fat and trim thom into a nicmove a portion of the fat and trim them into a nice shinp ; slightily beatand level them; place the gridiron over aright clear fire, rub the burs with a little fat and lay on the chops.
While broiling frequently turn them, and in about cight minutes they will bo done. Season with pepper and salt, dish them on a very hot dish, ruba small piece of butter on each chop dish, yuba smanli pieco of butter on each chop and serve very hot and expeditiously.
Fist CutLers. - Pick fine about two pounds of cold boiled fish. Putono tablespoonful of butter cold boiled fish. Putono tablespoonful of butter in $\AA$ spider, hinve four Ingo sponfuls of flour mixed with two tablespoonfuls of cold butter then put into tho spider : add ono pint of hot the mil of cook ono minntic. in the yolks of four eqge and cold fish and the firc, add tho parg cold fish and two tablespoonfuls of chopped of salt, mix and pour outin a cool dish. When cold minke into cutlets dip intobenten ecg then into bread crumbs and fry in lectlo or hot fat; Frimd ToMatoes.-Mix on a platterfour tablospoonfuls of flour. half a tenspoonful of salt, and Asmall snitspoonful of white pepper ; wash some towei and slice them whaf them dry on a clean he slices in the flour as they are cuy the sices in tho flour as they aro cut and turuing them over to cover them with flour. Put a large frying-pan over the fire, with two hicapine tablespoonfuls cach of butter and lard, and as soou ns the fat bubbles, putinslices of tomatoes to cover the bottom of the pan. When one side is brown, brn the silices caredully with a cake-turner or a broad knife, in order to avoido brcaling thom, and brown the othor aido. Uso cnough fat to provent burning, and when the tomatocs are done, sorvo them on toast,

MY NEIGEBOI'S BOY.

Ho seems to bo several boys in ono,
So mich is he constantly evory where! And the mischievous things that boy has dono $\therefore$ No mind can remember, nor mouth declare He flls the wholo of hisshare of space With hits strong,straight form and h
Ho is vory cowardly, very brave,
Io is kind and cruel, is good and bid
A brute and $a$ hero! Who will save
The best from the worst of my nciphbors lad? The moan and the noble strive to day-
Which of the powers will havo its way?
The world is needing his strength and skill He will malse hearts happy or mako thein ache What power is in him for good or ill
Which of life's paths will his'swifl, fect take? Will he rise, and draw others up to him,. Or the light that is in him burn low and dim?
But what is my ncighbor's boy to me More than nulisanco? Myncighbor's boy Though I have some fears of what he may Is a source of solicitude, hope and joy, And a constant pleasure. Beenuse I pray
That the best that is in him will rulo some day
Ho passes mo with a smile and a nod. He linows I have hope of hin-guesses, too, That; I whisper his name when I ask of God That men may be righteous, His will to do And I think that many would have more joy
If they loved and prayed for n neighbor's boy. If they loved and prayed for a neighbor's boy.

TEIE TESTS OT A LIFE.

by. helena maynard.

'Oh, Mrs. : King, I am so glad this pleasant afternoon has tempted you out. J was just wishing I had time to run over to your house for a call,' said Mrs. Marsden, your house for a call,' said Mrs. Marsden, cordially.. 'Come, take oft your things and stay, to tes with us.'

- Oh no, thank you, I can stop but a moment to-day, I have been down to see Mrs. Eddy.; she is quite sick with neural gia.
'How is she to-day ?' I heard last week that she was sick and meant to have gone to see her before now, but TEhave been so busy.
'She is better, but I hope you will find time to call ; you know they have not been here long enough to make many friends, and I am atraid none of our church ladies did not complain, but sho seemed so lonely and so glad to seo me.
'Well, I will-6ry to go in soon, she seems to be a very pleasant lady
'So she is, and intelligent tro. By the "Way, she was speaking of Miss Bird's "Unbeaten Tracks in Japan," and that reminded me of your kind offer to lend me your cony after you had read it, so I thought I would stop and get it to-night as I suppose you finished it long ngo.' 'I shall be very glad to let you take it., said Mrs. Marsden, taking down the book from the well-filled shelves of the bookcase, 'but I an ashamed to say I haro not rend it yet, I am renlly afraid Philip thinks I did not nppreciate his present, but when he give it to me I was making those drawnwork curtains for sister Alice's wedding present. They were a great deal of work, and I nearly ruined my eyes over them as I was obliged to hurry so as to finish them in time. I sent them of three weeks nro, and she was delighted with them. I wish you had seen them; they were beautiful if I do say it. Of course. I had no time to lead while I was doing that, and since I read while I was doing that have been resting my eycs.'
'Is that the way you rest your eyes?' smilingly inguired Mis. King, pointing to the work on her friend's table
'Oh, my dress,' said Mrs. Marsden, 'I must show it to you,' and she held up, the benutiful fabric which she was ornamenting with handsome embroidery. 'The pattern with handsome embroidery. 'The pattern is one of my own designing; how do you like it ?'
- It is very elognant and in perfoct taste, but surely working in those cark shades must be trying to the eyes.
* Oh, I have been careful, I only work a little while at a time, though I an very anxious to finish it before Wednesday night.' don't intend to wesday night? Iou surely don't intend to wear it to prayer meeting ${ }^{\text {? }}$ ' other prnyer meeting, on no, laughed the oxpect will be quite the event of the expect wil be quite the event of the season. Of coutse I sm sorry that she season. Of coutse I am sorry that she should have chosen that night, but I wouldn't miss it on any account, and Iam determined to finish my dress so you need not hesitate about taking the book, you will be through with it before I shall get a chance to read it:'
- I thought I should like to rend it before Miss Marter's talk on Japan at the union missionary meeting
- When is that, I didn't know she was to be here?
-Why the notice was read in all the churches on Sunday.
'I didn't go out Sundity. Youremember it looked like rain in the morning, and I didn't think it would be prudent to risk getting another wetting, $I$ wis out the day before in that heryy shower. I was oblged to go down town to match some before I got back, nnd so it did, büt it didn't lurt me at all. IVlien did you say Miss Harter was to speak?'
- Next Tuesdily, and you must be sure to hear her: She is salid to be very entertaining speaker.
'I hope I can, and if I get my dress done I will. You know one can't do every thing. Something must be crowded out.'
' Yes, said the other, as she rose to go, 'and I think so often of what Mrs. Whitncy said in one of her books: "The tests of a, life are the things that are crowded out "", "ife ""re the things that are crowded out crowded out", repeated Mrs. Mirsden thoughtfully, as she took up her work again.' 'I wonder how my lifo would stand that test:; but bud, that will have to comeout. so much bud, that will have to come out ; so much for bothering ny head with Mis. King's quotations.'

Mrs. Marsden did not go to the union missionary meeting but she did get her dress done and wore it to the party, where it was admired by nll. She had so many interruptions that she was obliged to worls hard at the last to get it done, and she was tired and nervous. Too tired for that tired and nervous. Too tired for that hasty glance she usually gave, while undressing, to the Bible text-roll on the wall. It was a gift on her last birthday and hung just below that pathetic picture, familiar to all, of the 'kingly stranger,' with the glory crowned brow and the patient eyes so tender, knocking at tho ivy-tangled door.
It was late, but Mrs. Marsden couldnot sleep. Long before she closed her eyes the moon rose full upon that picture, and in the soft light there scemed a weird fascination about it for her-and she watched it half hoping to hear the croaling of the key and to see the door open on its rusty hey and to see the door open on its rusty hinges while through her nind echoed the hymn :
'Hast thou room in thine heart for the King?
Thou harborest many a guest:
As she lay there vainly trying to recall the other lines, which seemed just on her tongue's end and yet eluded her, she noticed a window on ench side of the cloor, stantly passing ingly, she saw that each one wore a badge. Mnst of them were so curiously wrought that she could not decipher them, buta few she could syell out, and amn Society, Pleasure, Fashion.
Looking still more intently she saw a plate upon the door which to her surprise bore the name of 'Alice M. Marsden,' but while she wondered at. it the figure at the door slowly turned toward her with a look of pitying reproach, and in clear tender accents spoke the words, 'Crowded out,' and moved away, while through the windows came the sounds of music and laughter. But at the words a passionate longing and a diro terror seized her, and springing up she fell at his feet, exclaiming, Not so, my Lord, not so.
' What is the matter, ' Alice?' It was her husband's voice that spoke nad lo, there were neithor windows, guests nor door-plate, and the 'pilgrim, strange and door-plate, and the 'pilgrim, strange and but there was a tremor in her voice as she said solemnly, 'Jhilip, I hive been crowding the Lord out of my life.
'You have been dreaming,' he said soothingly.

Yes, thank God, it was only a dream, she answered.
Then in the silent watches of the night Alice Marsden looked into her heart and prayed that he might abide there, and that henceforth she might s seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness. kingdom of Stainlard.

OUR WILLIE.

BY THE REV. CLIARLES GARRET
Some time ano on a specially festive occasion, I was invited to dine at a benutiful home which Ihad often visited before: There was a large gathering of friends, for There was a large gathering of friends, for the family was noted for its hospitality. I knew that total abstinence lind not been smiled upon there, and $I$ was therefore smiled upon there, and I was therefore smprised, on sitting down to dinner, to surprised, on sitting down to dinner, to notice the entire absence of wine-glasses. I wondered for a moment whether this was done out of compliment to myself, and I therefore asked the lady of the house if they had become abstainers since $I$ had last visited there. I saw, by the change in her face, that my question had given her pain, and, bending towards me, she anid in a whisper, 'I will explain it after dinner.

As soon as dinner was ended, she took me into an ante-room, and, with great emotion, she said, 'You asked me about t absence of wine-glasses at the table?
'Yes,' I replied, 'I noticed their absence, and was puzzled at the reason.'
$\cdots$ With a quivering voice, she said, 'I want to tell you the reason, but it is a sid story for me to tell and for you to hear. You for me to tell and for yon
'Oh
'Oh, yes,' I answered, 'I romember him well.'
'Wasin't he a bonnie lacd?' she asked, with tears in her eyes.
'Yes,' I said, 'Willie was one of the finest lads I have ever scen.'
'Yes,' she continued, 'he wis my pricle. and perhaps I loved him too well. . You know that we always used wine freely, and never imagined that any harm would come from it. You are aware also, that our houso is known as the "Ministers" Home and that they are nowhere more welcome than here. On Sundays I have always let the children stay up to supper, so that they, and as my husband and the ministers took wine, I always gave the children half a glass-on Sundiys only. By-and-by Willi went to business, and I was as happy ins a went to business, and I was as happy as a mother could be; I thought I had everything to make me so.

After a time, however, I began to feel uncomfortable. I noticed, when I gave Willie his good-night kiss, that his breath smelt of drink; and I spoke to him about it. He laughed at my fears, saying he had it. He laughed at my fears, saying he had only had a glass with his friends, and I thought that perhaps my strong love for him had made me foolishly suspicious. tried to dismiss my fears; but it was in vain, for I saw things were getting worse.
There was a look in his eyes and $n$ huskiThere was a look in his eyes and $A$ huskiness in his voice which told me he was, at least, in terrible danger. I didn't know what to do about it. I feared to speak to his father. If it should turn out that I was mistaken, I knew that he would be vexed with me for suspecting sucha thing: and if I were correct in these suspicions, I dreaded he might take some strong measures with Willie which would end badly. So I waited, and prayed, and hoped. My hopes, however, were in vain: He begm to come home lite at nights; his father became alarmed, and, as I feared would be the case, spoke sharply to him, and threatened severe punishment. Willie, who had high spirit, answered his father as he should not havedone, and they frequently came to high words.
One night Willie came home quite drunk. I tried to get him off to bed without his father knowing it, but I failed. His father met him in tho passage, and many bitter words passed between them. At last his father ordered him to leave the house. father ordered him to leave the house. He went, and for months we heard nothing whatever of him. Father ordered us never to mention him, and I and his sisters could do nothing but pray that in some way God would restore him to us.

Atlength, one night, after ny daughters and servants had gone to bed, and while I heard a faint voice, which I though sounded like Willie's
'I dared not speak; but father looked enrnestly at mo and snid, "Did you hear anything ? sand, I thought I did. He and opened the side door, and there, looking more like n corpse than a living body, was IVillie' "Wille!"
"Mother," he said, "will you let ne in?
"Ay, my boy," I said, as I folded him to my heart; "Youshould never have gone aviy, Come in and welcome." He tried to do it, buthe was so feeble that I had to help him. Ho said, "Don't tako me into the drawing-room; take mo in to the kitchen I aim cold and dying." I said," "No, my boy, I'll soon nurse you up, and you'll be yourself aignin
"Mother," he said, "I wish you would make me a basin of bread and milk, as you used to do when I was a little boy. I think I could eat thit:". I said "I'll malke you niything you want, but don't look so sad'; conie upstairs and go to bed, and I will suonget you right.

Fre tried to walk, but fell back into the chaii: I called his father, and he came. Not an angry word was spoken:" Theyonly said "Willio !"一"Father !" Seeins his condition, his father took him up in lis hins as he would a little child, and carred him up into his own bed. After a moment's puse he said, "Father, Lam dying, and the drink has killed me." His father said, "No, no; my boy, cheer up)! you'll be better soon: Your mother will bring you round." "No; never; God be merciul to me a sinner."
'His head fell back, and my bonnio boy was gone.
-His father stood gazing at him with a look of agony for some minutes, and then turned to me and said, "Mother, I see it all now. The drink has killed poor Willie, but it shall do no more harm in our house; there shinll jever be another drop in this house while I live.". All there wis in the house was destroyed, and we parted with the'tery wine-glasses, and that's the reason of what you noticed. to-day.'-League Jonvical.

SAVING WORDS:

There is a little text I should like to have you find, which tells of words : whereby "we" may be saved,' Acts xi: 14 ... Why, perhaps you ask, how can words save us? Go out into the street ; see that man just crossing thie road a he hits not looked carefully, for there is an omnibus close upon him. A little more, and he will be killed. But one seeing his dinger, calls out to him. Ho hens, 'Get out of the way.' Words, warning words, have saved him ; words believed. Read these words of Jesus: 'God so loved the world, that Ho gave His only. begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Fim should not perish, but have everlasting life.' 'Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.' These and others ike them are 'words' whoreby 'you may be saved'-if you believe them.-EDiscopal Riccorder:

MORE LIGHT.

Dr. B. W. Richardson says, that the first words of most plyysicians when they enter sick rooms in peivate houses should light! nore light!' It certainly is true, that generally before the doctor can true, goud look at the patient ho has to ask that the curtains be rised, in order that the the curtains be rased, in order that the rays of a much greater healer than the rays of a much greater healer than the be admitted. If the patient's eyes are no be admitted. If the patients eyes are so affected that they cannot bear the light, a little ingenuity will sulfice to screen thein, and at the same time allow the cheerful light to enter. A dark sick room must be an uncheerfal one, and now that it is known that light is one of the most potent microbe-killers, let us haveit in abundance.

TUE SPIDER WEB.
Whencver I see
On bush or treo
A grent big spider web,
I say with a shout:
Litile ny. look ont!
That web scems nretty and white.
But a spider hides chere, and hes ready to bite.
So, if anyone here
Irinks cider nor beer,
I sny to him now,
With my very bcot bow,
Finvo a careof thatyarer nod cider,
or thero hides a wicked old spide Andituills him with joy.
And itaills him with joy
To catch man or boy

'don't you wake up l'
'DONT YOU WAKE UP.'
Who does not love to watch tho earliest diwn of the mother instinct in a littlo child, and what mother could not duplicato this little scene in her own memory. Our little mother loves her baby brother, nud loves to tend him-for a little while. But she is only a baby herelf and the but bility is too much for her, for long. Should bility is too much for her, for long. Should le wake up beforo mother comes whatever he wake up beforo mother comes whatever would sho do. What a sigh of relief she would she do. What a sigh of relief she will give when mother does come and she will give when mother does come and she can give her whole attention to her froliccan give her whole attention somd decrepit doll.

STRIPED CARNATIONS.

BY ED. CLIFFORD.

Tom and Hester Moody lived at No. 4 Eastield street, Birmingham. They hat a nice little garden at tho bnek, and thoir carnations especially were beautiful, and much admired
One day, Albert Baker, a small boy who lived it No. 3, jumped over the grarden wall to get his ball, and he jumped right on to the best carnations. Some of them were broken off, and most of tho Hester shw it from the kitchen window, and boiled with nager. She told Tom as soon as he came home from work.
' Do we plant oul, flowers for that wretched, dirty boy to trample on whenever he chonses? I'Il have the law on him,' said Torn Moody And Hester backed him up well, talking about the neglected, untidy garden next door, and about the shiftless, slatternly Mrs. Baker and her dirty, spoiled boy, and her idle husbind. And most of what they said was true.
And it was not tho first time they had been annoyed. Once a dead cat had been thrown over, and worse still, there was a live cat that they believed had damaged [longed to get up and have their own say somo white lillies. The matter had been back. It would have been, 'Do you mean mentioned' to Mrs. Baker at tho time, but had not been well received by her. But the horrid boy actually daring to come into their garden was worst of all.
Now Tom and Hester wero sincere Christinns, and that night they knelt together in prayer, as usual. They grave thanks fur many good gifts, and prayed for miny blessings for themselves and others. Tom did not like to leave the quarrel out of his prayers, but he felt it was rather an awkward thing to pray about, though he had no doubt that he was quite right. At last he prayed: 'O Lord, guide right. At last he prayed: 'O Lord, guide us about this quarrel. Thou knowest, us about this quarrel. Thou knowest, Lord, how very ingquating these people have been, and we feel it is not right that we shonld put up with such conduct. Guide and direct us, Lord, foir Jesus Clrist's sake.' 'They both silid. 'Amen,' and went silently to bed.

We won't do anything on Sunday,' said Tom, 'but on Monday morning I'll go in and have a straight talk with them.
I think they were glad that as yet they had not acted. Thom and Festor had begun to feel that perhaps some of the words they had phanned might not be spoken at all. The telling a vexation to God calms us down, and often puts things in a differ. ent light.
They started talking about tho carma tions tho next morning, while they wore retting up, and before church-tino they elt almost as hot as ever.
The Bakers did not go to church.
Tom and Hester had prayed that they might be guided about tho quarrel, and their prayer was answered, for after the morning service everything was changed. The vicur, Mr. Higgins, preached from the text, 'Why do yo not rather suffer wrong?' Tom and Hester at first felt indignant and unconvinced, and each of the to say, sir, that we ought to let people bully us, injure us, and trample on our No, no, that camot be right,' But in church people camot speak out without being thought lunatics, so they sat on and listened, and presently Mr. Higgins silid: The rule is that in quarrels and differences, Christian people are not so much to protect themselves, as to bless others. We aro often willing to deny ourselves in money and pleasure in order to help those form of self-denial for us to bear orm of self-denial for us to bear a little injury without resenting it, and to simply do what is best for the one who has injured us. Do not say to yourself, "I will have my rights," but say, "Lord, teach me what will be best for the person who is willing to quarrel with me." It is not al ways the kindest thing to give way, for that may mean that the soul of the other person is hart and the character spoilt. Many a father and mother, and many a husband and wife has elred in this way by ndulgence, and has made the other selfish and idle and unreasonable. But, in mos of our quarrels, God blesses the kindly yielding spirit. Can we imagino Christ standing up for His rights in such quarrel as, for the most part, occupy us ?
'It is wondexful what a power a quarrel has to embitter life and to make us dis agreeable. It casts a fog on our happiness and spoils everything. Good humor and enjoyment are impossible if we are quarrel ing. Let us avoid quarrels.
'And now may the perce of God which passeth all understinding, keep our hearts and minds in the knowledge and love of God and of Jesus Christ His Son.
Tomand Hester both said' 'Amen' rather loud. and as they wallied home they hunbly agreed that they would let the matter drop. And immediately they felt happy and penceful and that they hadd done the right thing.
Poor Mr's. Baker was leaning on the wall of her littlo front yard, as they came bick. She looked more depressed than ever, but when sho saw them coming, sho drew herself together as if for a conflict. But Tom and Hester both gave her a pleasant smile and a pleasunt greeting. This made her wonder, for she had fully expected to hour about the striped carnations, and she was prepared to say that her boy and a right to play ball she supposed, and hat if they did not want the ball to come over, they ourht to put rabbit netting to protect their garden, as other people did, and thit she was not going to leather the boy, or to hear him spoken agamst, and that it was not her cat that had broken down those lillies, and that if people went to church it was a pity they could not keep their tempers, und that she was not tho only one that conpplamed of Mrs. Moody's fine-lady airs about her house and garden, and that Mis. Moody's aunt by marriage was not any better thin she ought to be. Instead of this she said nothing, but ooked ashamed, and the Moodys knew they had done rirrht.
But, oh, how thinkful they felt five days ater that they had acted in this way, for poor little Albert Baker fell into a well and as drowned.
Hester went in, full of sympathy, and belped, and trice to comfort the poor nother. She ind Tom lent thirty shillings towards the funeral and attended it, and helped with some little things for the mourning. And the hearts of the poor Bakers were won forever, and eventually hey were won for Christ.
Teirs fell on the little coffin, but none. of the tears were bitter. . On it liyy a beruiful wreath of white roses and striped car nations.-Union Signal.

Fimesine Fincies, Irom Painting by H. Spertind.

MASTER - BARTLEMY OR THE THANKFUL HEARI.
By Frances $\begin{aligned} & \text { E. Crompton, Author of } \\ & \text { 'Friday's Chilld.' }\end{aligned}$

IV.

In the course of some years' exporience, Trimmer had moro than oince had occasion to remark that Miss Nincy's belavior, like that of many children, run in frooves. When sho conducted herself in a manner creditable to herself and hor elders, she creditable to herself and hor elders, she could be depended on for days, and even could be depended on for days, and even weeks ; when she did etherwise, Trimmer weeks; when she did otherwise, Trimmer was less disturbed in mind by the one deed committed, than by the immediato prospect of others to follow. Miss Nimcy's next exploit was the more painful to all properly constituted minds, because it took place on Sunday. Nay, to confess the truth, it was actually in church.
It was a Sunday in what might have been either late spring or early summer. Miss Nancy always reinembered that she wore a now Leghorn hat, and what Trimmer called a 'lawn' frock with an om mer cidered hem, cool and spotless and, like everything chosen for Miss Nincy by - Aunt Norreys, plain, with that very dainty Aunt Norreys, plain, with that very daint plainness which is fine in the extreme. plainness which is fine in the extreme.
Miss Nancy walked to church with the squire through the hall fields. Aunt Norreys always drove, and every Sunday it was Miss Nancy's surest ain to have escaped, nud have fairly set out with dear daddy, before the Jumbering old fanily carriage came to the door. She had successfully evaded it to day, she had safely set out with the squire, and she had plodded beside him through the hall fields to the churchyard gate, in the contented silence which al ways prevailed between them.
One went through the churchyard al most waist, deep in meadow grass, unider ash trees so nncient and spreading that the little old church seemed half covered with the trees, and half sunk into tho earth. The ivy had climbed triumphantly to the battlements, making of the tower one vast nest for hundreds upon hundreds of birds.

They flew out, chattering and screaming at tho sound of voices below, and fluttered round the tower in a cloud, - jaclicdaws, and starlings, and martins, to say nothing and chiefly perching in rows on the headstones. The porch was very small and sunken, the rafters low within, and the roof without so covered with ivy and traveller's.joy, that tho doorway was like the mouth of a green cave.

You also went down a step into the porch, and down another into the churel tself, in a manner agreeably contrary to your preconceived idens, and what naturally caused Miss Nancy, a mooning child, as Trimmer truly said of her, to fall orward into obscurity with an unseemly noise nearly every Sunday of her life. It was dark and cold within, after the sunshine outside, the rafters were so low, and general inpression sunken as to givo a centre of the earth. The ivy had crept under the eaves into the church, hanging in corners like green banners; and the birds had followed the ivy, and fluttered here and there all service time. There were pigeons among the rafters (report not quite guiltless of scattering corn was the flou for them during the corn on on drowsy Sunday afternoons the mice came out and played on the chancel floor while the bats flitted overhead, like ghosts of long-dead micc.
But this was considered only proper to Forest Morton, the smallest and oldest church in the shire with its primitive tower of unhewn stone, and rude belfry lights, its low arches, and small windows deeply set in the massive walls. It might also have boasted of that marvellous old chancel wood-work, which had no counter part in all the country-sido. It was standing admiration to Miss Nancy fanciful cream of figures, and leaves, and flowers, and sheaves of corn, and ancels with outspread wings and palms in their Miss

Aunt Norreys in tho square Throgmorton pew, with her feet half a yard off the floor, owing to the shortness of her legs, and her head hatr a foot from the pew-back, owing Nancy being rather small, and the sides of the pew rather high, the only thing she ould see as she sat was the window in the wall. Miss Nancy's great joy ; for the sunlight came throughit in a very enlivening manner and she could see the apple-trees in Tuminus Trowle's garden, and the ashtrees in tho churchyard, and the white roses that flourished under the sunny window, and nodded friendly greetings, and ven came inside when occasion offered.
Beneath the sunny window was an old friend of Miss Nancy's. Sho looked at him every Sunday, for he was always there, at rest on his worn stone tomb, being also stone himself, only he was such a dear old friend that she had almost lost sight of the circunstance. He lay in his ruf and fully on his breast, and his gentle face ooking upward. He was not a Throgmorton. Miss Nancy herself was of pinion that he was too beautiful to have been a Throgmorton, of whose looks as a race she could not think highly. Dear daddy was daddy, and as such forever to be admired; but from the dozen dull porraits at the Hall it could only have been concluded that the Throgmortons had been no more handsome than they had been famous.
All her life Miss Nancy had cherished deep affuction for this friend, looking at him when she could not understand the sermon (which was usually), and wondering how long. he hatd been lying there so nd nodded, and showered their petals on him, because they loved him. There were not many to think upon him, and tho dust ay thicis over his body, and in the few hy thick over his body, and in the few Fere ly- Bartholom-, Iummus Trowle, when he swept out thing that, to do him justice, rarely occurred to him), called him Master Bartlemy and Miss Nancy too called him Master Bartlemy, and rather inclined to the belief that he had never had any other name.
Miss Nancy sat and looked at him, very upright, becauso of the brim of her hat, and very stiff, because her shoes dangled so far from the floor. The sunshine came in through the open window, and made a dancing pathway, which fell across Master Bartlemy's face; for Miss Nancy had olserved that if there was any sunshine at all, it alwiys lingered there. He lay and took his rest very quietly, and the buds of the white roses peeped in through the lattice, and nodded sleepily at him ; and Miss Nuncy too nodded sleepily, and would have fallen quite asleep if the envious Leghom would have permitted it.
But then there came down a pigeon from the darkness of the rifters and settled on the old tomb, pluming himself on Master Battlemy's breast, with movements so griceful and innocent thit Miss Nancy held her breath for fear of disturbing him. And then he began to coo softly; opening his wings in the sunlight, and nestling against the crossed hands of him Who lay there as if, Miss Nancy thought, living creatures very dearly.
(To be Continued.)
SARCASM IN SUNDAY-SCHOOL.
As a rule sareasm is out of place in a school-room. It should never be used in dealing with younger children. Among the older ones there is ocasionally a nature that cin apprecinte sarcasm and majority of cter for receiving it. In the feeling, which it should not be the aim of the teacher to arouse. The result of sarcasm is one of two emotions ; either a hurt, wounded feeling, or one of retaliation-a desire to give an answer as sharpas the remark. This in an immatured mind will fall short of sarcasm and be simply impufall sho dence.

a sugar plantation.

A DAY ON A SUGAR ESTATR IN Jamaica.
The Caymanas Estate, one of the best estates in Jamaica, is within easy access of Kingston.
The estate, which is in renlity three estates combined, contains about 1,000 acres of land or the plains, 2,000 acres of acres of land or the plains, 2,00 acres of mountain land, and 500 ncres of ligoon. mountain land, and 700 ncres of ligoon. There aro 70 acres under cane cultivation, the rest being given up to cocoa-nut trees, the rest being given up to cocon-nut trees, logwood, and other agricultural produce. The estate gives employment to some five The estate gives employment to some five or six hundred hands, men, women, and or six hu children.
Work coinmences at six o'clock in the morning and lasts till dusk.
The period of sugar-making extends from the beginning of December till the middle of June, the cane being planted so as to ripen in succession during those months for if it all ripened at once it months; for if it all ripened at once it would be impossible to find either the would be impossible to find either the labor or the machinery to deal with it-the more especially in Jnmaicn, where the more especially in Jamaich, where the central factory system is at present unknown.
$\mathrm{On}_{\mathrm{n}}$ a visit out of senson-that is to sny, when sugar is not being made-there is ap parently little life about the place.
When sugar is being made, however, all his binder, usunlly a womm-cut down the rows of cane; the bundles are received into the wains, and are drawn by oxen to the yard in front of the boiling-lhouse, where they nre uncarted and deposited. where after the other, upon an automatic one after the other, upon an auto carrier working on an endless chain.
By means of the carricr they are deposited between the rollers, three in number, of the mill, by which the cine is crushed, and juice to the extent of 65 to 70 percent is extracted at the rate of 1,000 to 1,200 extracted at the rate of gallons an hour ; the juice falling through gallons an hour, ; the juice falling through gauze filter into a smanll chamber, and the crushed cane, or megass as it is cilled, being conveyed away on another called, being conveyed away on another automatic carrien, to be subsequently used as fuel.
The juice, which is tested from time to time by the polariscope (which instrument is also used to ascertain the riglit time att which to cut the cane), as it passes through the chamber mentioned noove, is subjected th sulphur fumes, in order to clean it. Thence it passes up into a henter, which consists of a cylinder with 175 small perpendicular tubes, each surrounded by stenm, in order that it may be at ance or directly uuboiled juice is to bount acidity the air it commences to turin acid. It nov passes through wire gauze for the third time, to get rid of any small portions of cane which may have eluded the provious strainings, into a series of four tanks, After staying there about fifteen minutes, tho juice is drawn of into three ' eliminators,' where it is again boiled-up, skimmed, brushed, and allowed to settie; the clea iguid is drawn off with syphons, and the bottoms' are passed through filter bags. The clear juice is then run into a suction into three receivers, or ' triple cffet' ass they are called-perpendicular cylinders, about five feet in diameter, with 420 pipes in each. As the contents of each succeeding each. As the contents of each succeeding cylinder boils at a lower temperature than the one preceding it, the series is, in a way, co-operative, the waste steam from the one being utilized to boil the next.
As soon as tho juice is sweet enough it is run off into a receiver below the vacuum charges, granulated, and the grains built charges, granulated, and the grains built on. After boiling in the pan for seven or eight hours, it has turned into an almost solid body of sugar and molasses, called massecuite. It is then put into boxes, an howrs to cool for from twelve to eightee hours. Then it passes into a 'pug mill' undergoes one of the most important undergoes one of the most important features of its complicated manufacturethe centrifugal machine, some $2 \frac{1}{2}$ feet in diameter. Where it is whired round at the which speed causes the molasses to fly out through the wire gnuze of which the inner sides of the machine are composed. In the old days, when sugar was not so carefully prepared, the molasses used to run out of sugar was being conveyed to England, and formed a valuable perquisite for the mate The molasses from the centrifugal machine goes to the distillery to play its part in the process of of rum. Thus the whole sugar fit for table-of the more important fentures of which only a very brief sketch has been given-is carried on in a building no larger than about sixty feet by forty feet ; and during the months of manufacture as much as ten tons is made in a day or, taking an average, forty-five to fifty $2,500,000$ cups of tea.-Pall Mall Budget.

SOAP-BUBBLES,

and tile forces whicir mouid them. By C. F. Boys, A.R.S.N. F.R.S. of the Royal

(Continued.)

PRACTICAL HINTS.

parapfined sieve.

Melt some parafin wax or one or two paraftin candles of the best quality in a clean Int dish, not, over the fire, which Would be dangerous, but on a lot plate.
When melted and clear like water, dip the sieve in, and when all is hot quickly take it out and knock it once or twice on the tnble to shake the paraffin out of the holes.
Tenve upside down until cold, and then be Leave upside down until cold, and then be careful not to scratch or rub off the parafin. This had best be done in a place where a mess is of no consequance.
There is no difficulty in filling or in set ting it to float upon water.
narrow tubes and caftillarity.
Get some quill-glass tube from a chemist, that is, tube about the size of a pen. If it pieco by first making a firm seratel in one place with a three-cornered file, when it will break at the place easily, To make ery narrow tube from this, hold it near the ends in the two hands very lightly, so that the middle part is high up in the that the middle part is high up in the brightest part of an ordinary bright and flat gas flame. Keep it turning until at hold it straight. It can then be bent into any shape, hut if it is wanted to be drawn out it rnust be held still-longer until the black smoke upon it begins to crack and peel up. Then quickly take it out of the flame, ind pull the tivo ends apart, when a long harrow tube will be formed between This can be made finer or coarser by regu ating the heatand the manner in which it ispulled out. No directions will tell any ne so much as a very lita pacice. Fo drawing out tubes the flame of $\Omega$ Bunsen venient; but for bending tubes nothing is so good as the flatgas flame. Do not clean off smoke till the tubes are cold, and do not hurry their cooling by wetting or blowing upon them. In the country where gas is not to be had, thie flame of a large spiritlamp can be mado to do, but it is not so good as a gas-flame. The narrover these tubes are, the higher will clean water be observed to rise in them. To colur the water, paints from a color-box must not be used. They are not liquid, and will clog the very tne tubes. Some dye that will quite dissolve (as sugar does) must be used. An aniline dye, called soluble blue, does very well. A little vinegar added may make the color last better.
capilla itity between plates.
Two plates of flat glass, say three to five inches square, are required. Provided they are quite clean and well wetted there is no difficulty. A little soap and hot water them.
tears of wine.
These are best seen in $a$ mixture of from two to three parts of water, and one part of spirits of wine containing a very little rosaniline ( $a$ red aniline dye), to give it a nice color. A piece of the dye about as large as a mustard-seed will be enough for a Jarge glass. The side of the glass should be wetted with the mixture:

Gat-boxes.

Every school-boy knows huw to make these. They are not the boxes made by cutting slits in paper. They are simply made by folding, and are then blow like th.
paper.

LIQUID BEADS.

Instead of melting gold, water rolled on to $n$ table thickly dusted with lycopodium, ther fine dust, or quicksilver rolled or difference in a smooth table, will show the beads perfectly. A magnifying-glass will make the difference more evident. In using quicksilver, be caroful that none of it falls on gold or silver coins, or jewellery, or plate, or on the ornamental gilding on book-covers. It will do serious damage.

plateau's experiment.

To perform this with very great perfection requires much care and trouble. It is easy to succeed up to a certain point. spoonful of snlad-oil, and pour upon it a mixture of nine parts by volume spirits of wine (not methylated spirits), and seven parts of water. Shake up and leave for: a day if necessary, when it will be found that the oil has settled together by itself. Fill a tumbler with the same mixture of spinit and water, and then with a fine glass pipe, dipping about half-way down, slowly introduce a very little water. This will make the liquid below a little heavier. Dip ito the oil a pipe and take out a little by closing the upper end with the finger, and carefully drop this into the tumbler. If it goes to the bottom, a little more water is required in the lower half of the tumbler. If by chance it will not sink at all a little more spicic is wanted in the upper half. At last the oil will just float in the middle of the mixture. More can then be added, taking care to prevent it from touching the heavier and the liquid nbove ever so little lighter than oil, the drop of oil perhops lavge as a hulfpenny will be of on perhaps as raugeas a halfpenny will be ammost perfectly through the glase becuse the ghas if seen fies it sidewiys but not up ghass magniminy be seen by holding a coin in the liquid just above it. To see the drop in its true shape the vessel nust either be a globe, or one side must be made of flat glass. (To be Continued.)

NORTHERN MESSENGER

FAR AWAY REFORMERS.
New Zealand is so distant from the rest of the world that the average person knows less about it than about some other smaller and less interesting countries. Austraha is its nearest neighbor, and Australin is 1200 miles to the westward. Recently at1200 miles to the westward. Recently attention has been called to this group of tention has been called to this group of islands by an election likely to be famous islands by an election incely to be camous as the first of importance in which women had equal powers with men. In Now Zeiland every person more than twenty-one yenrs old has a right to voto for nay public States, but not for all officess, nud in no country except New Zealand has anything like a national election been held in which women wore on an equal fouting with men. As was expectod, they were less influenced by parties than by the character of men running for office, and a majority of them voted against the liquor interests.
The country which has just taken this decisive step in politics is still a colony of Great Britian, and its onpital, Wellington, is aimost directly opposite to London on the globe. New Zealand, therefore, is the most remote colony under the government of the Queen, and it is also likely to be one of the most inportant. Its population is not yet a million, but is very near that figure, and the three principal islands are together about twice as lirge as Now York State, and nearly as large as Grat. Britain and Ireland. The days averuge a little warmer than in New York and London, but the weather is neither so warm in summer nor so cold in winter as in England and the Thited States. There is heavy rainfall and an almost constant west wind. In the northern island especinlly the climate is so fine that it has attracted many settlers from the British Isles, while the rich soil and the valuable mines luve brought many more immigrants.
New Zealand would seem to most persons born in the north temperate zone a strange land. At first sight it is not so very different in appensance from hilly countries with which our readers are familiar. A mountainous ridge runs the whole length of the islands, and the highest penk, in the southernmost island, which is nearly all mountains, rises into the air 12,350 feet. One point of difference that would soon suggest itself is the topsy-turvy arrangement of seasons, according to Northern idens. Christmas is nearly at midstummer, and the days are longest about that time. Winter comes when we re having our summer, and spring is like our fali, and fall is like our spring. When Cuptain Cook landed on the islands in 1760 the ouly animals on it except men were two kinds of bats, one of rats, and a few lizards. There are no snakes, and none of the furry crentures which give life to the woods and fields of America. Jiven the fish in the clear streams and large fine lakes are sumall and of little value as food. The natives of New Zouland, the Maoris, were onco camibals, who were greatly feiried by sililors, until a missionary went there, educated them, and made them Christims.
Since white people have gone to NewZenland to live they have stocked the islands with cattle, sheep, horses, and other animals, and the wool industry is one of the most important in all Now Zealiand. The white peoplo had to import grains ind vegetables, too, for fow of the mitivo plants can be eaten. The forests contain ferns of great size and benuty, and some of the trees are valuable for their wood, but most of the usefimd, when Tasman found it in 1642 , looked lind, when Tasman found it in 1642 , 100 ked like a remmant of a long-past geologic age, line a remmant of a long-past geologic age, and it is like Australin in that man has to a and it is like Australian that man has to a very great extent. brought its vegetation yery great ext down to date.
The Governor of New Zealind is appointed by the British crown, and so are the forty-one life menbers of the Upper House of the Legishature, called the Legislative Council. The Lower House is mado up of representatives elected by the people evory third year. There are seventy of them, including four Maoris, who are elocted by the 40,000 natives who still remain. These Maoris look like the other Pacitic Islanders, and speak a languaro similar to that of the people of Itavaii. Limilar to that of the people of Hawain.
Like most other savages who como in conLake most other savages who como in contact with civilization, they are dying out, tact with civilization, they are dying out, and the time probably is not far distnnt and the time probably is not far distnnt when all that is known of the Maori will be his portrait and $n$ few books nnd magazine articles about him.- Hurper's. Youn People:

MESSENGER' BIBLD COMPETIMION

THE PRIZE WINNERS.

We are a little later than we expected to be ill announcing the prize winners of the first quarter, but "botter late than never.
tim junior prize winems are both boys and both only ten yenrs old, The first junior prize has been won by James Miles Langstuff, Ontario, and.tho second by Milton I. Morris, Ontario.
the senion prize winners are both girls. The first prize is taken by Miss Maud Gunter, Ontario, and the second by Miss Edna Stone, Ontario.
We congratulate Ontario this time. But are the other provinces going to let their Ontario friends win all the laurels next time?

honorable mention.

The sketches sent in by the following so deserve honorable mention:-Seniors, Nellie M., Annie Libley, W. R., Muriel, Guillnume, Nona Lee, Walnat, Ambitious, Mayflower, Maggio Johnston, Peacli Blossom.

Juniors:-Rex, Diisy, St. John, Willie May, Millie Watson, The Winter Bird, Star Bright.
Beluw we give the prize essays.

the story of genesis

In the begiming, God created the earth. When it was ready for man God formed Adam and Eve, pure and holy, and placed them in Fden with everything necessary for happiness. They, temjted by Satan, disobeyed God, thus bringing sin and death into the world. They were driven from Eden, and though promised redemption in Christ, the disposition to sin tainted the race.

Meir eldest son, Cain, murdered his righteuus brother, Abel, and when the descendants of Cain and Seth became numerous they became so exceeciingly sinful thit Gind degtroyed them by a flood, from which (in the ark' built by Noah at God's command) Noah's family, and seed God's command Noan's family, and of breathing creatures were saved.
Afterward, the descendants of Noah's sons-Shem, Ham, Japheth-also beame numerous and tried to build a tower to heaven, but God confused their languages and scatterec them abroad, thus founding the different mations.
Although sin abounded, God alwnys had some faithful worshippers, Abram, eighth patrinch from Shom, being one. While in Ifarm, God appeared to him, cilled him into Canatin, promised to givo him that land, ande make from him a great nation. Abram believed God, so with Sarai, his vife and Lot, his nephew, went into Canan. Having sojourned in Egypt on account of fanine, they fanlly settled in Caman, Lot choosing the plains of Sodom, Abram staying at Mamre.
A great war broke out among tho nations. The Sodomites were defented and Lot taken prisoner, Abram pursued and defented the victors, brought back Lot, gave the spoils to the Sodomites and gave tithes of all to Melchizedel the priest of God. God again appeared to Abram, renewing his covenant and promising him a son. Soon, Ishmat, son of Sitrai's hnndmaid, Hagar, was borm, but God promised that though Ishmael should bocome a great nation, Sarrai should bear a son, Isanc, who should inherit the birthright. God then instituted circumcision.
God again visited Abrahani, renewed the promises and grimted Abraham's plen that Sodon should be spared if therein were ten righteous. These not being found, Sodoun and Gomorrah were destroyed, but Lat escaped.
At the promised time, Isanc was born, and Sshmael sent away for having mocked him. God afterward tried Abraham's faith by commanding him to snorifice Isaac. Abruham proving faithful, God saved Tsanc's ife aid promised still greater blessings apon them Rebecca, grand-daughter of Abranam's brother, Nahor, became Isanc's wife, and twins, Esnu and Jacob, were born to thein. In Philistia where Isach had gone from famine, God confirmed to him the covenant made with Abraham.
Esau sold his birthright to Jacob who, by deception, also received the blessing Isanc intended for Essu, and so had to flee from Esnu to his mother's brother Laban titan-Aram whose shepherd he became dodgreatly blessed him, he married Laban' childden were born to him. Liban not paying him just wages, he collected hi possessions and departed secretly. Laban pursued them; butfinally parted from then peacefully.
Isomen.

junion prize essay.

God croated heaven, earth, sea and all that in them is in six clays. His last and greatest work was the creation of man. On the seventh day God rested and thus in stituted the Silbbath.
Adam and Eve were placed in the garden of Elen with permission to ant of any tree in the garden except one. Satan, disguisec is a serpent, pursuaded Eve with flattering promises to eat of the forbidden fruit. She gave to Adam. When God afterwards walked in the garden they both hid. Callect by God and questioned, Adam blamed Evo and Eve the serpent. God oursed Satan, drove Adam and Eve from the gnrden, at the same time mercifully promising them a Saviour.
Cain and Abel were Adam's sons, the one a farmer, the other a shepherd. Both went at one time to worship. Cain seeing Abol's sacritice accepted while his own was rejected, became angry at his brother and finally killed him.
After a while, people becmme so wicked that God sent $n$ flood which destroyed all but Noah and family who were saved in the arls. God afterwards made a covenmint of. which the rainbow was a sign that a flood would never again destroy the earth. On the world again becoming wicked God called Abram from Ur to go to Cinam to become the founder of the Hebrew na tion.
Ho wandered nbout with his flocks When about ninety years old, God appenred to him, chauged his name to A braham and promised him a son in whom all nations should be blessed.
At Mamre, angels came to him to foretell the birth of his son and the destruction o Sodom. Abraham pleaded with the Lord to spare the city if fifty, forty-five, even ten righteous could be found. God grinted his request. Soon after Isnac was born and when about twenty-five years old, God called Abrahnm to offer him as a sacrifice Abraham obeyed, took Isanc to Mount Moriah and was about to slay him when God interposed. A ram caught bushes was offered in Isanc's stead.
bushas was offered in Isane's stead.
After Sarah's death, Istac married Rebecen. Twenty years afterward, Esau and Jacob were born. The one becane a hunter, the other a shepherd. One day Dsau came in faint and hungry from hunting and found Jacob with pottage pre pared. On Esiu's asking for some pottage, Jacob took advantage of his weakness to gain the birthright. Again, when Isnac had become very old, Jacob, with his of Istu's anger, Jacob left home, The second night on his way to Haran he dreamed that he saw a ladder with angels ascending and descending and God abovo. In the morning he was so impressed with the dream that he placed a stone for a memorial and made a vow that the Lord should be his God and that he would do vote a tenth of all he had to Goas servico.

Selim.
TO SUBSCRIBERS IN THE UNITED STATES.
Our subserbers throughout; tho United States where International money orders cannot bo procured can remit by money order, pajable at Ronses Point Post Ofice. N. Y. State, or secure Montreni.

TILE ATTENTION ON SUBSCRIBERS is orrnestly that all businoss lotters for the Mfessen ener should bo addressed "John Dougall & Son." nuth not to any personnl nddress. Attontion to this will snvo much tronblo and will roduco the chancos of delay or irregularity.
" MESSENGER CLOB RATES.
The following are tho Clus Rates for the

Jonn Dougalit &Son
Publishors, Mrontrent:

Pletringere candat

COUPON FOR PART. $\dot{\text { d. }}$

NORTHERN MESSENGER.

Cut out and send with 4 three cent stamps to Coupon Departiment : Northern Messenger' Office, Mont real.

Name

P. 0.

Prov. or State

ADVERTISEMENTS.

BABY'S OWN 命

GRATEFUL-COMFORTINC.

LEASE MENTION THE " NORTHERN MESSENGER" WHEN RERLYING TO ANY ADVERTISEMENT THEREIN. THIS WLLL ALWAYS BE ESTEEMED A FAVOR B
TISERS AND PUBLISHERS.

THE NORTHERN MESSENGER' is printed and mb. lished every fortnight at the 'Witness' Buildinge at tha corner of Orniz and st. Peter streets, in the city of Montreal, hy John Reupath Dougnll, of Montreal.

John Dougall & Son.' and all letters to adaresbed hould bo addressed Editor of the "Northern Messenger."

