It was written late Friday night; written in a mood of righteous excitement, and it was an extremely ineffective article. In the night I could hardly sleep because of its badness and because I did so want it to hit hard and get its effect. I turned out of bed about 2 o'clock in the morning and redrafted it. Then I perceived that there were still many things to be said about this requisitioning of food. The board of trade has got its powers, but apparently they have still to be put into operation. It is extremely desirable that there should be strong public opinion supporting and watching the exercise of these powers, and that they should be applied at the proper point imme-

PARIS, August 11.—The French have been compelled to evacuate Muhlhausen in Alsace. This initial victory of the German forces in the war has been admitted by the war office, whose official state-ment adds that the Germans, in overwhelming numbers, after the army assailing Neu Breisach had been repulsed, advanced against Muhlhausen, forcing back the French.

Earlier reports had said that the German advance had been stopped by the French troops whose lines had been reformed outside

It is now reported that a battle is raging on the plains that surround the city. The war office makes the admission that the army, under command of Gen. Joffre, had met with a force which greatly outnumbered it, approaching from Neu Breisach. Half a Mililon Germans.

Women Defended the Town.

An interesting story of heroism on the part of the women of Herstal, outside Liege, comes in a special newspaper despatch, which says that when the German troops attacked the town, the women workers in the Belgian National Arms Factory, defended the village while the men were away with the army. These doughty amazons, trated upon the preparations for our armed with revolvers, and whatever weapons they could glean from supreme blow at Prussian predomin- the factory, successfully fought off the furious charges of the German Uhlans until their ammunition was exhausted. Then they quickly barricaded themselves in their houses and poured boiling water upon the German soldiers in the streets, disabling by wounds and scalds some 2,000 men. Even the little children and totering old men helps ing it off in the family car, adorned, ed to defend Herstal and on Friday the Belgian colors were still of course, with fluttering little Union floating over the factory. WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Mining of the North Sea as part of the plan of the European war not only may close most of the northern European ports to navigation, but the gold-laden cruisers Tennessee and North Carolina and neutral passenger vessels bearing Americans from Europe will be confronted with new dangers.

The American Government was formally advised during the day by the British embassy here that insamuch as Germany had been "scattering mines indiscriminately." Great Britain could no longer refrain from planting mines near her own ports.

Secretary of State Bryan said tonight Americans at home might rest assured that the passenger lines piying between northern European ports would take no chances that would imperil life. It is believed that Americans in both Germany and Austria from points in the Adriatic.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Advices to sorship is being imposed on all matter lay on such despatches as are allowed to come thru. The French Cable Company, which, except those with terminals in the British islands, is the only direct line to Europe now in operation has given notice that the congestion on its lines is such that all messages are subject to a minimum delay of forty-eight hours. In an effort to avoid this delay direct despatches of the Associated Press from Paris are being routed thru London, but the delay there is also very great. Despatches which left Paris early yester-day are being received with a delay of from fifteen to seventeen or more hours, and other Paris despatches have suffered even greater delay in trans-

On Sunday a message was sent to the Berlin bureau of the Associated Press and the wireless company said that it had been received in Ger-many, but since then only fragmentary signals have been exchanged over that system.

Inability to secure wireless com-

The loss from the stagnation of German commerce, which is caused by Britain's present control of the sea, applies to all German carriers that are hugging close to neutral ports.

on in the Great Dislocation. So severe has been the break-up of their trade, their finances, of their manufacturing organization, of a threatened failure to market their cotton, their inability to get a lot of needed supplies of one kind or another, ofore got exclusively from Europe—in a thousand ways they are more or less

And congress is uncertain what to do. Take for instance the case of how to ip their abounding crops to Europe, and with the proceeds meet maturing obligaans to that continent. They have $3,000,000 worth of this stuff piling up on their bands daily-hardly a pound going out.

One proposal, the proposal of the president, and the lower house has already ed it, is to legalize registration as American vessels under the American flag. the ships owned and that have been owned for some time by American citizens. cated by a prominent section of the press, is to vote large sums of money to Ameriwho will forthwith undertake the construction of a mercant under the United States flag and which it is hoped would in time displace the foreign vessels now carrying the trade of the United States. Another propo for the American Government to refuse to be bound by the so-called laws of utrality and to undertake to protect with their own navy any and all vessels flying any flag engaged in carrying the produce of the United States to Europe.

Outside of these legislative proposals an influential committee from all parts the Union was convened in New York on Monday to see if they could not suggest some way out and get trade moving once more, and to restore the usual lines of credit and the system of exchange by means of which the business of the United States has been adjusted with Europe. In these columns within the last two or three days we have published extracts from various American papers as to how trade and business has become more and more paralyzed by reason of the Great

Another impediment is the large German vote, who are either of German birth or descent, and who have a strong affection for the Fatherland, and also an important factor in the next presidential election. We have been listening to hear what Colonel Roosevelt has to say, but so far not a word has been heard from him. We do not know whether he is pro-British or pro-German; we do know that he is a warm personal friend of the kaiser, and with him, in his mind's eye, he may be lilting to himself at Oyster Bay the well-known lines:

Sharing each other's sorrows, sharing each other's joys. But if this is the colonel's attitude, he has not made it known, and so far he has no advice to offer. Perhaps he is giving President Wilson opportunity to lay up that as it may, the Americans are in sore distress, are looking for som kind of light and leading. Whatever bothers them is also of much concern to us, and unless we can get trade re-established either by way of the United States or by way of England and keep open the Atlantic, we, too, will suffer both on our own account and because of the paralysis in the United States.

It may be that the hope of English action is delaying congress, that they are nursing the hope that a few days more may see the smashing of the German fleet by the British navy, and if that should come about, then there would be little further trouble. The sea would be once more open and trade and commerce would once more resume wonted channels.

Or perhaps our American neighbors are waiting for a revolution to start in Germany and the kaiser's forces have to fight his own subjects rather than the armies many and the kaiser's forces have to light his own subject to light his sibilities the Americans are in a state of bewilderment.

And there is a still greater cause of pause to them, and that is they have even more at stake as republicans and as a democracy than anyone else from the ascendency of a German military despotism in Europe. Such a menace would mean more to the free institutions of America than any other country, and Americans may be thinking, as they ought to be thinking, whether it is not time for them now to intervene and help round-up the wild man of Germany who has done more to bring about the Great Dislocation than anybody else.

As we have said, there is a strong tie between Germany and the United States: many of the best American citizens and public men were of German birth. Carl Schurz is only one example, Joseph Pulitzer another. Germany has great influence in Wall street, where many of the bankers have German alliances. And Germany, as we said, is the Fatherland to all the Germans in America.

But this war that is now on is not so much against Germans and Germany as it is against the military despotism that now rules Germany and whose tyranny drove many of her sons to America, some to Canada. And all of us can appreciate the mingled feelings that must arise in the minds of the German population of America as the story of the war develops. They can't separate themselves from the Madness for German Comstruggle of their Fatherland; and yet many of them would like to see free government take the place in Germany of despotism and its military machine.

And yet the dislocation of business in the United States is becoming so severe as a result of the war that the German population of America feel and see, even more keenly than anyone else, how far-reaching are the effects of war, unnecessary war, on countries long distances removed from it.

The German farmer in the States must see the market for his products largely closed and his income disturbed by that kaiser whose military laws and system forced him to expatriate himself and make his home across the Atlantic. The kaiser still pursues him.

And it is our duty as Canadians to help rid the world of this military despotism without in any way making ourselves offensive to our German citizens or to the came easy for the invaders to get inwithout in any way making ourselves offensive to our German citizens of the distribution of the United States. But our first duty is to our own free instito to town by taking advantage of the German population of the United States. But our first duty is moment in a great woods and hilly ground. tutions and to our own empire, both of which are at this moment in a great

SUNDAY "EXTRAS"

Men Who Work on Sunday Object to Anyone Else Doing So.

STOP ADVERTISEMENTS

Publication of Columns Promiscuous Matter Also Objected To.

Rev. W. M. Rochester, general secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, has issued a statement concerning Sunday newspapers in which he says:

"The liberties of newspapers, so far as Sunday work is concerned, being defined in the act, and other exceptions being made, very special circumstances are necessary, it may be con-cluded, to justify a Sunday issue. On general principles, too, in the interest of preserving so great an institution as our rest day, only events of the most momentous character can warrant such intrusion. Provision is made in the act, however, for works of necessity and mercy. Assuming that the necessity exists, why should publicity depend upon private enterprise? The necessity to give such information does not rest with the newspapers, it does rest with the government, and it is the best judge of what is in the interests of the people, and might easily make provision for adequate publicity thru the medium of the open telegraph offices or similar means. This, in time of war, would be the most natural thing, inasmuch as the nation estab-lishes rigorous censorship of the press. Close Limits.

"Assuming, however, that upon the newspaper there rests the obligation of necessity, or perhaps mercy, to inform the public (altho we are tempted to say that it would be a mercy to leave the public alone on Sunday), the law would require the limiting of publication to the specific news required. There can be no justification for the issue of news other than that of immediate and imperative interest. Why should columns of promiscuou matter be issued on Sunday? Wh matter be issued on Sunday? Why should advertisements appear? They certainly could not be justified under the Lord's Day Act.

"A further limitation required by machinery, newsboys and other sellers of papers on the street corners and thru the avenues of the city, cannot be justified under the Lord's Day Act. The statute would require reduction of the news to the strictest limit, and with respect to circulation the limit-ing of business and labor to actual necessity. Beware of Corruption

War develops the highest patriotism and the noblest spirit of self-sacrifice, but, on the other hand, it breeds every kind of corruption. War time has been graft time the world over for centuries, and dishonest men, including politicians, reap a big harvest when a nation is in its gravest peril. Unparalleled corruption attended and followed the civil war in the United States and much the same can be said the many diplomatic difficulties settled of nearly every other great military by arbitration. From this we learn

Then again there is danger of local and political party influences being brought into play. It is therefore important that the Dominion Government at the outset should avoid any pathway that may lead to temptation. The supplies of be rigorously excluded. In the exciteto severely comment upon every "nice offence." We find this idea expressed in the quarrel scene between Brutus and Cassius, where the latter, a strictly honest man himself, condones graft in a subordinate. But if anything like dishonesty or unfair profits attend the operations of the government of Canada during the war time, the poisonous influences will be felt long after the war is over. A bank manager told yesterday of $50.000 that would go into circulation among ten different persons if the chairman of some investment committee came back from Muskoka to sign a mortgage release!

A week ago last Sunday every bank manager and big man of business was in his office in New York; the weekend fever was raging badly in these parts on the same day.

U. S. Sentiment.

One need only to cross the river from Detroit to Windsor to observe how much more intensely interested are Canadians in the great war than ere the people of the United States. For one thing Canada is to take an active part in the conflict, and is in fact already a belligerent, but in any event the people here have acquainted matter of public enterprise. We must norrors may be averted. Generally speaking, public sentiment in the United States is decidedly gainst the German emperor. Even in the German-American cities of the middle west one hears the hope expressed that the kaiser will be overthrown. Some reservists are going back to the fatherland for military duty, but undoubtedly many Germanomplete revolution in Germany, such as fell upon France in 1870 and 1871.

The reasons for Britain being in the conflict may not be understood by all of our neighbors, but they believe that the British navy will be the decisive factor, and are glad to see it enlisted

They believe that the defeat of the kaiser's great army would do away with much of the militarism on the nent of democratic government in the word that the defeat of the German mperor would be followed by great political changes and that despotic one-man rule would disappear.

As for the American navy, the almost universal sentiment of officers and men is that they'd like to be in the fight alongside the British ships.

The Progress of Peace

This is not an encouraging year for the universal peace propagandists, but the Carnegie Endowment has never-theless issued a pamphlet respecting that pecuniary awards in international disputes to which the United States was a party have totaled over $62,000,000. selves with corresponding glory.

Rev. W. M. Rochester, general secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, has issued a statement of his views, or of the views of the Alliance, it is not clear which, on the proper way to publish news of importance on Sunday. He admits, and we are properly grateful for the admission, that important news should be published. We are all aware that the ability to tell what is important news commands very high salaries in the newspaper markets. Also, the experience and ability to determine the best way to publish the most important news when it is obtained, are in equal demand. From Mr. Rochester's statement one would imagine that he has no doubts about his ability in either direction, and it should not surprise anyone after this to hear that another preacher had undertaken to run a newspa-

What most interests us in the statement of Mr. Rochester is the novel opinion he has formed that the publication of the news should become :

hat there be no mistake. He says!

Assuming that the necessity exists, why should publicity depend upon private enterprise? The necessity to give such information does not rest with the newspapers. It does rest with the government, and it is the best judge of what is in the interests of the people, and might easily make provision for adequate publicity thru the medium of the open telegraph offices, or similar means.

This indicates a confidence in the government which we should never have suspected in Mr. Rechester But the government has already established a censorship, or acquiesce: in the British censorship, and sends the news along to the newspapers by way of the telegraph offices. Does Mr. Rochester propose that the people shall desert the churches on Sunday morning and go down to the telegraph offices and wait around for bulletins? This almost seems to imply that Mr. Rochester does not think the information which passes the censor is sufficiently important to be published.

Perhaps it implies that Mr. Rochester s not so impressed with the importance of a war in which the people of Canada are giving the lives of their sons and brothers and friends. as he might be? And perhaps really thinks that news of the fate of the empire is not quite so important as the Sunday school lessons and nissionary magazines which are freely sold on Sunday every week of the year? We say perhaps this may be so, for Mr. Rochester is tempted, he observes, "to say that it would be a mercy to leave the public alone on Sunday," and he will never know how many people cordially agree with him on this point.

However, waiving this, we note that he comes to the conclusion that "the law would require the limiting of publication to the specific news required." This we fear is traveling in the vicious circle, for we need the authority to say what is the specific news required. The nation, as Mr. nounced that the French troops Rochester recognizes, censors it, and around Spincourt in the department of Meuse, forced the German cavalry specific? Who, then, should publish ported by artillery the news but those who are the regular mediums and purveyors of the continues in the region of Gerolstein, news, who know what news is, and but the principal landings occurred are competent judges as to whether carlier in the rear of Metz and Thionthe public want or do not want what has been given out by the government? OLD SOLDIERS JOIN PRINCESS PAT'S L.I.

Hamilton Gault's Corps Will Be Real Fighting Unit.

Toronto made a good start yesterday toward filling up the ranks of the new regiment that is being formed thru the public spiritedness of Hamilton Gault, a Montreal man. The Princess Patricia's Light Infantry, to judge from the class of men who were accepted, will be one of the crack regiments that the empire will put into the field. Eighty-seven men passed the rigorous medical examination, two doctors being kept busy all day. Many of the men who applied are veter-ans; all of necessity had seen service in some part of the empire. The re-giment will not invade the field of any other military organization; it is accepting only men who are unattached at the present time. This city is to supply 400 men out of the 1200 that will form the regiment and enlisting will go on until the Tor-onto total is reached, from nine in the morning to ten at night, at 304 Kent

EAST TORONTO CRICKETERS SCORE WELL AGAINST EATONS

SCORE WELL AGAINST EATONS.

East Toronto easily defeated Eatons in a C. and M. League match by $2 runs. Eatons, who batted first, made a disastrous start, losing three wickets for no runs and four for three runs, but a little free hitting on the part of Bloome and Clarke brought the score up to a more creditable figure. Scott and Hill were the only other batsmen to offer any resistance, and the innings closed with the score at 40. East Toronto started none too well, and lost their first two wickets for river runs, but when Nixon and Gawthorp became associated the bowling was soon collared, and runs came at a great pace, until 41 was reached, when Scott bowled Gawthorp for 16. On Gaved joining Nixon, things went on just as merrily, and they added 37 runs for the fourth wicket. Nixon was out, fifth wicket, after a well-played and hard-hitting innings of 42 runs. The remainder of the East Toronto batsmen, aided by a nice little lot of extras, ran the total up to 122 runs at the fall of the tenth wicket. Spooner had the best analysis for Eatons, capturing three wickets for 20 runs, while Tuchman, for East Toronto, bowled finely and came out with seven wickets for 21 runs bowled finely and came out with seve

CIVIL SERVICE LEAGUE. In a game replete with hard hitting yesterday the City Hall downed their old rivals, tho they were forced overtime to do it. DOUBLE-HEADER IN AMERICAN.

At Chicago—Chicago shut out Cleveland by the same score, 2 to 0, in each game of a double-header. Both contests were pitching duels. COBB NOT FOR THE FEDS.

DETROIT, Aug. 11.—Tyrus Cobb, prize entre-fielder of the Detroit American League team, today set at rest reports that he intended jumping to the Federal that he intended jumping to the Federal League by signing a contract to play three more years with the Tigers. The contract does not contain the maligned ten-day clause. Neither does it carry an increase in his salary, which is said to e $15,000 a year.

The contract under which Cobb is now playing contains this clause, but it will expire at the end of the present season. When Cobb completes the three seasons for which he has just signed he will have played thirteen years with Detroit.

Three days previously Miss Haswell had announced that she would give herself, her company and the entire house of the Tuesday matinee to the fund, and in that short space of time sufficient interest had been aroused to achieve what was termed by the box office "the finest emergency benefit ever given in Toronto."

Patriotic airs by the orchestra opened the performance. Every well-known in the minds of the sent and the gentle and dignified women her renewed warmth and admiration with her audience. She was recalled several times after each act, and her address. in which she as an American woman felt at being the first to have the honor of giving, a benefit for the hosp tal ship of the Canadian women, was applauded to the echo.

Francis J. Gillen demonstrated a very fine appreciation of the character of Lord Rochester, which in its varying time sufficient interest had been aroused to achieve what was termed by the box office "the finest emergency benefit ever given in Toronto."

Patriotic airs by the orchestra opened the performance. Every well-known selection evoked enthusiastic applause and the national anthem, introduced in the middle of the number, brought the audience in one great wave to their feet. The Girl Guides in their middy uniforms went about amongst the audience with pretty baskets slung over arm or shoulder, filled with choice bloom and queenly roses from the conservatories of Lady Pellatt and the Duniop florist company. Candies given by Patterson sold like wildfire and choice photos of Miss Haswell, contributed by Aylett, were also among the offerings. The Boy Scouts, Gordon Cummings and Charlie Truscott, sold programs and Miss Haswell herself after the second act came down amongst the audience carrying floral offerings to further tempt their generosity.

The play was "Jane Eyre," and many who had read the story in years gone by gave Miss Haswell and her aesist-

Inefficiency Means Waste

E have talked so much about efficiency that it might be well to stop a moment and consider what is the meaning of its opposite, ineffi-ciency. I believe that the best and simplest one-word definition of inefficiency is conservation. Likewise I sum up inefficiency in the word waste.

Yes, inefficiency means waste, either in a process of work, the materials with which the work is done, or with the worker. The great problem of efficiency, therefore, is to reduce or eliminate the amount of waste in any of hese three lines. It is unfortunate if there is a waste in materials; it is also to be regretted if there are wasteful methods; but it is still worse if there is wasted effort in the individual worker.

Waste in individual effort is what I am most concerned about, especially regard to the work of the home maker. If there is waste, for instance, in the food used in the home or if there is waste in the method which she uses at work I regret it, but I am most sorry when she herself wastes her own effort so that she herself is deprived of unnecessary energy.

In fact all our efforts are finally aimed to benefit the human worker. I tell a woman to raise her sink, or if I show her how to market economically I am doing so only that her personal effort shall be diminished. Some women write me that they feel that this efficiency idea would be an added burden on top of their present work, that it would be harder to impose new schedule and new plans than to go on with what they are now doing.

I tell these women that they do not understand what real efficiency means. It does not in any way mean added effort. It means simply elimination or cutting down of present faults. For instance, the other day a woman said to me: "If this efficiency idea of yours means a lot of expensive utensils I'm not going to have anything to do with it." Or, another writes: "You don't mean that I should add a complicated system of work to my present duties." On the contrary, it means that both these women and others should merely sit down and study how at present there may be waste in their management They do not need to add a cumbersome system or a dozen pots in order be efficient. They need only see how they work now; see what amount o materials they use now; notice what waste motion or effort there is at presen in various tasks or routines, and then merely eliminate some of this unn sary work, this waste motion and this superfluous effort,

If a woman once gets firmly fixed in her mind that efficiency means the elimination of waste she has the key to this whole new stimulating idea. It may be a waste in her food supplies; in the fuel she is using; a waste of time een various tasks; a waste of effort walking twenty feet unnecessarily; but somehow, somewhere, there will be waste. Then if she cuts down this waste in whatever department she finds it, in whatever task or routine she is in at the time, she will become efficient.

And the result will be not only saved materials and time but the grea final saving effected by all efficiency—saving human effort.

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to fat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such result is not impossible, despite past failures. Thin people are victims of mal-nutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, all the fat and flesh-producing elements stay in the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy, normal amount of fat, the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the vower which nature has denied them. This can best be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a scientific combination of six of the best strength-giving, fat-producing elements known to the medical profession. Taken with meals, it mixes with the food and turns the sugars and starches into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood, and its rapid effect is remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a single month are by no means in frequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Advice to Girls By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a business girl, so, of course, meet a lot of young men, but there is one I have met recently who has made my heart beat faster. I can truthfully say that I just love him with all my heart, but I do not know whether he cares anything for me, because he is a man of the world, as one might say. He is very popular, and is about so much, but I love him with a terrible passion, and I hate to see him with other girls. Of course he does not know of my love for him, but, Annie Laurie, dear, can you please tell me what to do so that I can have him for myself alone? I know my looks are fairly good. I have been told that I am pretty, and I know that I will not be able to live if he does not come to me. He is awfully handsome, and has told me he likes to go out with me, but that is not enough. I want his love. Oh, dear Annie Laurie, advise me what to do! MARION.

Cheese, combined with vegetables, fruit and one of the hard breads— zweifruit and one of the hard breads—zwei-bach, ryc bread or cereal breakfast food, makes a well-balanced meal with-out the item of meat expense. Cheese has another quality of economy for, owing to the amount of oil it contains, disher cooked in cheese only require skimmed milk or water for moistening. The Four Sparrows :: By Vernon Merry ITTLE SPARROW MOTHER had brought up four bables in a tiny nest; just as they were fledged a storm destroyed the nest and threw them all out. Luckily not one of them was killed, but they were separated from each other and their mother and she worried over her babies lost in the wicked world without her to guide them.

In the fall a great congress of sparrows met in a ploughed field, and Sparrow Mother was overjoyed to meet her four sons again. And she told them how much she had missed them and worrled about them, and she began to talk to them about the great dangers there are in the world for little birds. But the four sons fidgeted about and so Sparrow Mother stopped giving them advice and asked where they had been. The eldest son said he had stayed in the garden of a store-keeper, and Sparrow Mother told him that he must not let the world's ways make him deceitful and he must never want more than is right. The second son had been to court, and she told him to be careful because the wolf often eats the most sensible little dog. The third son had lived on the highways, and she told him he must remem ber not to confide in strangers. The littlest son had lived in a church. "Ah." said Sparrow Mother happlly, "if you live in a church, then you know that not even a sparrow can fall to the ground without God's permission. Trust him and you will be safe amid all the perils of this world."

Your wife and daughters have, in all probability, not been trained in the transaction of financial matters, investments, etc. The appointment of this Company as trustee in your Will relieves them of the responsibility and insures their greater comfort. Correspondence invited.

MONTREAL, Aug. 11.—There were no new developments in the local grain trade teday, prices for all lines being well maintained, with a continued good demand for car lots and a fairly active trade doing. One lot of 255,000 bushels of No. 2 Canadian western oats was sold at 55c c.l.f. In spring wheat flour the feeling is firm, with a good demand from local and country buyers for car lots, but the market is less excited. Winter wheat flour continues very scarce, there being none obtainable on spot from first hands. Bran is stronger at an advance of $1 under an increased demand. Baled hay is strong under a good demand. The trade in butter was rather quiet, but the tone of the market is very firm. There is no change in cheese for which the demand between houses was quieter. Eggs fairly active. Provisions in good demand at the recent advance in prices.

Corn weakened with wheat and as a result of beneficial rains in the chief producing states. Shipping demand continued active, however, and finally caused a decided upturn in the September option.
