THE PASS TAKEN.

British Forces Marching Onward With But Slight Resistance.

THE DIVISION UNDER GEN. WESTMACOTT

Dispersed Rebellious Tribesmen at Arhanga Pass on Sunday Morning.

The Amer of Afghanistan Asked to Mediate on Behalf of the Afridis and Orakzais, with the British Officers—The Valley Around the Pass is Thickly Studded with Villages Full of Grain and Fodder—General Sir William Lockhart's Capture of Sempahga Pass was Accomplished by Good Generalship—The Rebels were Drawn to the Flanks and Then the Centre was Attacked—Early Close of the Campaign Expected—The Cost Will Be Heavy.

Shma, Oct. 31.—Special despatches received here from Gundaik today announce that, owing to the difficulty in getting transport over the Sempahga Pass, General Sir William Lockhart was unable to attack Arhanga Pass, 18 miles from the Afghan frontier, at Safe D-Poh Saturday, but he has been reconnoitering in force the enemy's position, which seems to be strong, and which is held by masses of the insurgent tribesmen. The valley around the pass is thickly studded with villages, apparently full of grain and fodder. The comparatively easy capture of Sempahga Pass was due to a manoeuvre of General Lockhart, who feigned an attack upon the enemy's right, which was immediately reinforced by the commanders of the insurgent tribesmen. But by so doing he weakened their centre, and the British commander, acting with great quickness, threw the main column of his troops against the enemy's centre. The tribesmen were thus taken by surprise and their leaders did not know their right and they were obliged to abandon their positions, as a line of hills swept across them after entrenchment, which were immediately occupied by the British troops. The British soldiers were killed, and 20 wounded during the engagement.

ARHANGA PASS CAPTURED.

Gen Westmacott's Force Expelled the Tribesmen With But Little Trouble. The British force, consisting of a detachment from Karappa, the expected advance to Arhanga Pass was made this morning. General Lockhart, with the artillery, brought into action at 8:30 o'clock, and the tribesmen fled from the Sempahga Pass. Only slight opposition was encountered. The crest was reached at 10:30. The British sustained only trifling loss. Captain Scobie of the Sikhs was slightly wounded. The Mullah of Saitabar has fled to the west, and Sir William Lockhart is now descending into the Afridi Tihah.

The Amer is Friendly. The Amer of Afghanistan received a despatch from the British at Kabul, his capital, on the 17th of the month. In notifying the British agent at Kabul of the capture of the Sempahga Pass, the Amer said that the tribes were "full of alarm and repentance," and had asked him to submit the British proposals to the British Government, and to ascertain the conditions of pardon. He enquired of the great warden of the negotiations, whether the British would be prepared to accept the conditions of pardon. He enquired of the great warden of the negotiations, whether the British would be prepared to accept the conditions of pardon.

A WEEK MORE WILL END IT. But the Campaign in India Will be Found to Have Cost Much Money. The London correspondent of The Sun says: Next week will probably see the end of the British expedition to the heart of the Afridis, as far as actual fighting is concerned, but there will be a lot to do after that, and not before the end of the year will see the bulk of the army sent against the mountain tribesmen be back to their customary Indian quarters. Then the British and Indian Governments will have to consider the bill of costs. It will be a large one, the cost of the year will be about £2,000,000.

MGR CLEARY'S MANDATE

Vicar-General Kelly Interpreted His Meaning to His Flock at the Masses Yesterday. Kingston, Ont., Oct. 31.—At all the masses in St. Mary's Cathedral today the Rev. Father Kelly, Archbishop Cleary's secretary, interpreted the meaning of His Grace's mandate in regard to Catholics attending Protestant funerals. Catholics are allowed to go as far as the church door or cemetery gate, but not to participate in the ceremonies at the graveyard or church. The mandate had no reference to offences committed before the war with Afghanistan, nearly 20 years ago.

CROW'S NEST GRADIENTS.

Sir William Van Horne Says They Will be Less Than Those of Any Other Railroad Across the Rockies. Montreal, Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Sir William Van Horne, who was interviewed by The World today, said that the maximum gradients on the Crow's Nest road from the main line at Dunsmuir to Robson, on the Columbia River, crossing both the Rocky and Selkirk ranges, would not be one foot in a hundred. In other words, the maximum gradients of the Crow's Nest are only about half of those of the other mountain lines in the United States and Canada.

THE RICHMOND DEAL.

Details Are Gradually Coming to Light. GREAT WEALTH BEHIND IT. Fifteen Toronto Capitalists Have Joined With Montrealers. There will, it is said, be two sets of directors, with Mr. James Ross of Montreal, president of the Eastern End and Frank Toronto contingent include Sir Frank Smith, senator C. E. Oster, George Gooderman and others.

THE ROSS-GROVE POLICE BULLY.

A man in a public position has no right to be either a crank or a bully. If he draws his salary out of the public or civic purse he ought to conduct himself when dealing with the public as a gentleman. Sometimes, however, there is an excuse when an aged official, who has become morose from the service, is cranky. He is apt to become imbued with an idea of ownership of everything within sight and forget that he is a public servant and not a boss or a bully.

His defeat and that of his colleagues are therefore probable.

STABBED IN THE HEART

An Aged Father Kills His Son in a Spiteful Moment.

JOHN HUTTON, WAS THE VICTIM

While His Father, James Hutton, is in the Cells on a Charge of Murder.

The Only Witness of the Awful Deed in a Toronto Tailor Shop on Saturday Afternoon Was the Wife of the Murdered Man—The Weapon Used Was a Pair of Scissors in the Hands of a Man Crazy by Drink—The Victim Lived Only a Few Minutes, as the Deadly Blade Had Punctured the Heart—An Inquest Will be Opened To Night.

A tragedy was enacted in a small tailoring establishment upstairs at 21 Richmond-street east on Saturday afternoon, and James Hutton, 60 years of age, is now in jail charged with murdering his son, John Hutton, who he lived and worked, at the address where the awful affair took place.

John Hutton, the victim, was 39 years of age, and was an industrious fellow. He made up clothing for the Army and Navy Company and for other large stores. He did his work in a small room on the first floor of the building on the southwest corner of Richmond and Victoria-streets, and was white at his work in this room that he met an untimely death at the hands of his aged parent.

Henry of the Tragedy. This is the story of the tragedy, as near as it can be ascertained, as Mrs. Hutton, wife of the deceased, who was the only witness of the crime, is so upset that she cannot give a coherent version. At about 4 o'clock in the afternoon old Hutton delivered some finished work to the Army and Navy store and he returned at about 5 o'clock, under the influence of liquor. A friend of the Huttons, James Black, a middle-aged man, who lives on Queen-street east, was in the shop when the old fellow returned, and he was accompanied by Hutton the younger. Mr. Hutton, to go to Metarron's saloon for a quart of beer. The old man had had sufficient already. This made the father-in-law's wife angry, and she snatched a pair of scissors from the table and told him to get out of the house. This she did not do until he was helped.

Victim Seen Dead. With all haste Black ran out and fetched Dr. Garratt of Bay-street. The medical man was on the scene quickly, but death claimed the unfortunate fellow a few minutes after his arrival. The murdered man made no statement, while the murderer stood by stunned by the results of his passionate act.

The Old Man Arrested. Policeman Charles Bell had been called to his father's door by the younger Mr. Hutton, who had been drinking. He had arrested and took him to Police Headquarters, where he was locked up and afterwards sent to the jail. He made a statement that it was "Jack's own fault." The body of his son and victim was taken in the patrol wagon to the morgue, and Mrs. Hutton went down to some friends on Berkeley-street, where she remained all night.

James Black, the man who went for the beer, is a respectable, hard-working man, who was called by the police to Police Headquarters to let them know of the sad affair and to assist the officers in their inquiries.

Victim a Temperance Man. Deceased was a good father. He was 30 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches tall. He was well known in the neighborhood, and had relatives in good circumstances in the city. He was a temperance man, and a cousin of deceased arrived in town last night.

MR. BARBER FELL DEAD. Therefore the Courts Will Not Have to Try Him on the Charge of Indecently Assaulting Mrs. Hall. Ottawa, Oct. 30.—A telephone message today from Cardinal states that Mr. Adam Barber, who resides near Cardinal, fell dead yesterday morning at 5 o'clock. Mr. Barber had intended going out to hunt and nose early for his purpose. He had just got out of his house when he fell to the floor, and in a few seconds was dead. Dr. Gray of Cardinal was sent for, but could do nothing. Mr. Barber was partially deaf when the doctor arrived.

Winnipeg, Oct. 30.—The stories concerning the horrors of the Skaguay Pass have not been exaggerated, according to a letter dated Oct. 10, received by Mrs. P. C. Wade, from Mr. Wade, who went to Dyea, not more than 900 feet across, and only 200 of the 3200 horses owing to the hardships, accidents and poor food.

The Government expeditions expect to leave for Dawson City this morning. Premier Sifton and Major Walsh are on the trip.

What quotations throughout the Province were maintained at good figures, as high as $1.25 having been paid. At several points yesterday afternoon, however, the price was still higher, 24 cents per bushel, and flax 60 cents.

A HAUL OF $2000.

SAYINGS OF THE PREACHERS

A METHODIST ON CLEARLY

Thinks the Country Would Be Better Were Separate Schools Abolished.

Rev. Dr. Lyle Invents Questions on Live Topics in Which the Church is Interested, Which He Will Answer From His Pulpit—Rev. W. F. Wilson Preaches to the Royal Templars—General News From the Ambitious City.

Hamilton, Oct. 31.—(From The World's Staff Correspondent)—Rev. R. Burns, pastor of Simcoe-street Methodist Church, made reference to Archbishop Cleary's question this morning, and said it was a question of his church. The preacher said the method would prosper more, morally and religiously, if the educational and ecclesiastical barriers between Catholics and Protestants were cleared away. He believed separate schools should be abolished. This evening Rev. Father McHale of Niagara University preached an eloquent charity sermon in St. Lawrence Church.

Dr. Lyle's New Departure. The Rev. Dr. Lyle of Central Presbyterian Church announced tonight that the day had come for the nineteenth century mission, and that hereafter at the evening service of each second Sunday in the month he would discuss the different questions that had been handed in by any member of his or other congregations. The questions have to do with, indirectly at least, upon the church. Dr. Lyle has recently returned from a study of scientific theology in Germany.

FUNERAL OF HENRY GEORGE

A Tremendous Display of Popular Sympathy. CROWD OF 75,000 PERSONS

Thronged the Streets in the Neighborhood of Grand Central Palace.

People Passed by the Mer in Thousands and Through the Glass Lid of the Casket Took a Last Look at the Friend of the Common People—Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott Spoke Kindly Words—A Non-Religious Service From the Single Tax Club of Chicago—Services Lasted Five Hours.

New York, Oct. 31.—The body of Henry George lay in state in Grand Central Palace today. The crowd began to assemble at dawn, swelled to a multitude that filled many adjacent blocks, and at mid-day 75,000 persons, perhaps more, were in the vicinity. This vast gathering was constantly dissolving and recruiting. As many of the people came without previous notice they were met by the police.

In the early light of the morning the body was placed in a casket and carried from the hotel to the Palace, unheeded by the guards of honor and four policemen. Behind the hearse came a single carriage. Anna George, the youngest daughter, had insisted upon accompanying the body to the Grand Central Palace, and Richard George, her brother, accompanied her. There with loving hands she arranged the flowers as she would have them, and permitted no one to lead the slightest aid.

Entered With Bared Heads. The doors were opened at 9 a. m., and immediately several hundred entered the hall with bared heads. The crowd in front of the hall, in an immense bower of floral tributes, a plain, heavy, black cloth-covered casket, resting on a single carriage. Through the glass they saw the great man's calm face. The left arm was raised to the breast, the other by the side. The body was clad in black broadcloth. The left arm was raised to the breast, the other by the side. The body was clad in black broadcloth.

For the last two hours the crowd came at the rate of 6000 an hour. This is the highest rate obtainable under such circumstances. Any further increase would have meant an undignified, irreverent rush. In this through were the women, some with their arms raised their children and bade them look at Henry George.

At the back of the platform on a heavy carpet background, was a portrait of Henry George, surrounded with American flags. In front of the platform, a bust of the fallen leader, modelled by his son, Richard. At the front of the pedestal upon which the bust stood, were many floral tributes.

Good Police Arrangements. The police arrangements were a credit to the city. Chief McCullagh was in personal command. Under him were 122 sergeants, 422 constables, and there were 655 policemen on duty in the neighborhood and in the palace. The service began with the singing of the hymn "Lead, Kindly Light," by the Plymouth Church quartet. The Rev. Dr. R. Heber Newton, who was pastor, then read the burial service. Dr. Newton did not read it, but the service was, therefore, in a way entirely informal, there being also no responses.

NORMAL SCHOOL JUBILEE.

Celebration Was Begun With Divine Service AT METROPOLITAN CHURCH

Rev. Dr. Dewart Preached Anniversary Sermon Last Night.

The Methodist Divine Jubilee is the anniversary of the founding of the Normal School was begun last evening in the Metropolitan Methodist Church, when Rev. Dr. Dewart preached the jubilee sermon before a big congregation. Taking as his text, because three God had made a revelation, but the sinners were not, he said, "I believe," said Dr. Abbott, "that Henry George was a true follower of Christ, that I who also pray to be a follower of Christ, am glad to be here to-day and say these few, simple words, inasmuch as he did not look upon us as mere theoretical wrong. He loved truth. He loved his fellow-men. And he identified himself with them."

Other Speakers. Robbi Gotthell was the next speaker. After another hymn by the choir, the Rev. Dr. Edward McCullagh spoke. Prior to his address the vast assemblage had passed a church-wide resolution, but the singing of Dr. McCullagh's hymn could not be repressed. Dr. McCullagh's hymn was "The Good Time."

John S. Crosby, who has been one of the most active campaigners for the only layman who spoke. His address dealt more with the duty of the citizen than with the principles laid down by Henry George, rather than with mere eulogies of his life and work. He evoked applause even more energetic, perhaps, than the remarks of Dr. McCullagh.

The address was concluded shortly after 5 o'clock and the meeting was dismissed. Nearly 1,000 persons were present. The opportunity offered to view the face of Henry George, and the march past, was a grand finale. The march past was in progress during the day.

INDUSTRIAL AFFAIRS IN ENGLAND

Little Prospect of a Compromise in the Engineering Strike and a Cotton Strike Threatened as Well. New York, Oct. 31.—London despatch to the World.—The industrial situation in England is the gravest it has been for many years. A compromise in the engineering strike, which has been in progress since the beginning of the year, and which will paralyze the greatest trade of the country, is in the present state of affairs, a possibility which will be decided on Monday whether they will submit to the 5 per cent. reduction in wages. The cotton manufacturers' dilemma are fully understood.

The cotton manufacturers' dilemma are fully understood."

THE INTERCOLONIAL IN HONOLULU.

In the matter of the Canadian winter export trade the Grand Trunk, which has always been the chief factor of the Intercolonial, naturally favors Portland, where it controls terminal facilities of its own. As a matter of course, the Canadian Pacific influences western freight to St. John, N. B., and between the two Intercolonial interests are neglected and the road forced to subsidize on what freight it can carry to points on its own line. Instead of becoming, as it was intended to become, one of the great trunk lines between the producing interior and the seaboard, it has always remained in the position of a branch line of either or both of the two great railway systems of Canada. On this account, too, the Intercolonial has been a great burden upon the taxpayers of this country, and it was absolutely necessary that this should cease. That it can be placed temporarily upon a paying basis can only be done by giving the railway an opportunity to obtain its full share of export freight. The connection with Montreal was a natural necessity that was forcing itself upon the management of the Intercolonial, and the agreement with the Drummond Counties road is the effort of the Ottawa Government to bring this about.

We do not propose here to discuss the merits of the deal with the Drummond Counties road, but we certainly believe that by bringing the Intercolonial to Montreal the Government have put it in a position that increases its earning power, gives it greater independence, and removes a Government work, owned and controlled by the people of Canada, from the unenviable situation of being practically subject to the whims of private corporations whose interests are apt to be in many cases diametrically opposite.

ABOUT SHIP CANALS.

A report prepared for the House of Representatives at Washington has been received, entitled "Preliminary Examination for a Ship Canal from the Great Lakes to the Navigable Waters of the Hudson River." This report was prepared by Thomas W. Symons, Major, Corps of Engineers, and advised by Brig-General John M. Wilson, Chief of Engineers, U.S.A.

Mr. Symons, quoting from his instructions, shows that his examinations and estimates of cost of construction were to be confined to the most practicable routes, wholly within the United States.

Three such routes are considered: (1) From Lake Erie to Lake Ontario, thence to Oswego, from there to Troy and down the Hudson to New York; (2) from Lake Erie and the Niagara River through to the Hudson by a continuously descending canal; (3) from Lake Erie to Lake Ontario, and thence by lake and river St. Lawrence to some point near Ogdensburg, thence across the State of New York to Lake Champlain, and through the Champlain Canal and Hudson River to New York. Although not strictly within the scope of his instructions, he alludes to another projected route, via the St. Lawrence River, Caughnawaga, Richelieu River, Lake Champlain and the Hudson.

Mr. Symons estimates that a ship canal of capacity adapted for the great ships of the lakes to the sea would be a stupendous work, involving the expenditure of an enormous sum of money, roughly approximated at $200,000,000. To justify such an undertaking he argues that it must be clearly shown that it is a necessity and will accomplish the end aimed at—of greatly reducing the cost of transportation, and that the benefits derived from it will be commensurate with its cost and the cost of its maintenance; and further, that these greater benefits are not practically attainable in some other way and at a less cost. He says: "My study of the problem, in the light of existing conditions and of improvements in these conditions, which are rapidly approaching completion, convinces me that the ship canal would not accomplish the object aimed at—of greatly lessening the cost of transportation—and that it is therefore not a necessity; that, if built, it would not be used to any great extent by large vessels, and that the benefits to be derived from it would not be commensurate with its cost and cost of maintenance. And, furthermore, I am fully convinced that the benefits equal in practical value to those which could be secured by the construction of a ship canal could be secured by the enlargement of the Erie Canal to a capacity sufficient for barges of about 1500 tons net burden, the cost of which enlargement and improvement would, while great, be small in comparison with the cost of a great ship canal."

The improvements on the Upper Niagara River required for a canal, round the Falls would require international agreement between the United States and Canada, and the use of any portion of the Erie and Oswego or Champlain canals would require an agreement between the Federal Government and New York State.

To make the ship-canal available for vessels with over twenty feet draught of water would involve another large expenditure on the channels and harbors of the upper lakes. For vessels drawing twenty feet there ought to be twenty-two feet depth of water in the canal. The cost of maintenance and operation would be about $2,000,000 per annum. It is believed impossible for ocean vessels to do business on the lakes economically, or lake vessels to do business economically on the ocean, except in rare cases. An increase in depth of canal from twenty feet to twenty-six feet would add at least fifty per cent. to the cost and would be enlarged to a size sufficient for 1500-ton barges freight could be transported from the west to the east at a lower rate than by a ship canal navigated by the large lake or ocean vessels. The amount of tonnage which it is estimated may be possibly tributary to a ship canal is 24,000,000 annually; 18,000,000 tons transported eastward and 6,000,000 tons transported westward. If a ship canal were built the business would not be done in large lake or ocean vessels, but in barges and boats which could be equally well accommodated in a canal of less size.

JUST BACK FROM THE COAST

Sir William Van Horne and Party in Montreal.

EVERYTHING WAS BOOMING

Steamers Purchased by the C. P. R. For the Klondike Route.

Preparations for a Great Rush to the Gold Fields Next Spring - Mr. Clouston, Manager of the Bank of Montreal, Says a Large Trade is Springing up Between the Kootenay and Alberta and British Columbia Ranchmen - Agitators Who Want to Have Minis Established -

Montreal, Oct. 31.-(Special.)-Sir William Van Horne and party arrived home from the coast yesterday, and report everything booming in the west. Mr. R. S. Clouston, general manager of the Bank of Montreal, states that the Canadian Pacific Railway have purchased two steamers for the Vancouver-Victoria route next spring, and that a hotel-keeper in Vancouver has signed a contract to provide for two thousand people en route for the Klondike in Victoria and Vancouver have sold out their stocks twice over, and expect a greater boom in the spring.

The supplies for the Kootenay district, he adds, are now mostly secured from the ranches of Alberta and British Columbia, and one man purchases 800 head of cattle and 2000 sheep every month.

Mr. Clouston also came in contact with an agitator for a mint to coin silver in British Columbia, but the banker says it is a free silver movement in disguise. When the mint was established they could get nothing but American silver, the banker told them that his bank had a mint in Canada, and that he would be glad to coin silver for them, but that the government would not permit it. Another section of the agitator's party had returned to Montreal converted to the mint theory. He says that the boom has subsided in the west, and that the town has settled down to a solid business basis. In connection with the new loan, Mr. Clouston expressed himself as being confident that the money market there would be in any way affected. "The Bank of Montreal," he declared, "had subscribed for four or five times the amount of any other bank, and not a dollar had been taken out of Canada. The bank always kept a reserve in Great Britain, and was just as well that this should go into the loan, as it could be realized on at any time."

Mr. R. B. Angus has been appointed a director of the Montreal Street Railway Company, and will have charge of the village of Gunningham, who has gone to Birmingham to reside.

Mr. T. J. Macdonald has submitted a new plan to the Montreal Harbor Commission for harbor improvements, providing for two piers, a new wharf, and a harbor with wide wharves. He advises the commission to commence work on this plan at once.

It is pretty certain that Mr. A. R. Macdonald, ex-Superintendent of the Lewis and St. Francis, in Canadian territory, will be appointed Superintendent of the new Western Division of the Lewis and St. Francis. Mr. Macdonald is remembered that Mr. Poulton, ex-M.P. for Temiscouata, had Mr. Macdonald suspended from office, and was called to establish any of the charges alleged against him.

Honoring Mercier's Memory. The Liberator's tribute to the number of several hundred people repaired to the late Premier Mercier's grave to-day and recited prayers for his repose. The clergy present, and the attendance was not as large as last year. Wreaths were sent by the Hon. Mr. Cartwright, his colleagues and many others.

The United States Frigate Yantic, which was captured at the rate of six miles an hour. She is commanded by Lieut. Carter, and has a crew of 21 men. It is reported that the Michigan authorities decline to take over the vessel until the question of damages is settled, so the famous frigate may be here all winter.

Mr. Charles Hibbert Tupper arrived here to-day and proceeded to Ottawa.

GLASSFORD CAUGHT AGAIN. Alleged Assaulter of Miss Hand Blaine Run Down in the Woods Near Hastings.

Chatham, Ont., Oct. 31.-John Glassford, a tramp who assaulted a young girl near London, and who escaped from the London jail about two weeks ago, while awaiting trial, was cleverly captured in Harwich Township, about five miles from here, this afternoon. Constables McGeevey and McInerney, Glassford eluded the constables several times by cutting across the country, but was finally brought to bay at a woods. He had a drawn knife and a club in his possession, but was unarmed before he could use them. SOMETHING FOR THE GUARDIAN.

Where an Eloquent Sermon was Delivered by Rev. Mr. McLaughlin, Pastor of St. Andrew's Church - The March Heard Well While on the March Headed by Their Bands - The Staff and Official Parade State.

Toronto was again handed over to the soldiers yesterday, and the annual fall parade of the down town thousands of people, who enjoyed a grand spectacle throughout.

The weather was simply all that the soldiers could desire, and although it was a little chilly for the spectators, it was, on the whole, a very pleasant afternoon. All along the long line of march citizens lined the streets, particularly on the down town thoroughfares, where the crowds were enormous.

How the "Sappers" Looked. Long before the troops were expected people turned out and took up a good position, and as the soldiers marched by they were much criticized. As usual, the Queen's Own turned out the largest in numbers, but in their smudge uniforms of dark green they were not in it with their sister regiments from a spectacular standpoint. The Grenadier Guards, however, in their immaculate white tunics and other picturesque details of their dress, were a most attractive sight. What the Queen's Own were all about in marching, the Grenadier Guards were all about in marching, the Grenadier Guards were all about in marching.

At Massey Hall. The service at Massey Hall was abbreviated and, therefore, the more impressive. The regiments filed in to the music of the band, and the Grenadier Guards were allotted their usual place on the platform, while the much more numerous British and Queen's Own regiments composed a very brilliant foreground for the mass of civilians who were present.
