Big Story of Thefts Comes Out in New York

Believed Arrest There Will Uncover Stealings of $500,000 or $1,000,000—Round-up in Several Cities

New York, Nov. 19.—David W. Sullivan, a member of the Consolidated Stock Exchange, was arrested here yesterday on a charge of larceny. The American Surety Company, which has been working on the case with the district attorney's office, declared in a statement last night that it is believed the arrest will reveal messenger thefts among downtown brokerage offices totalling at least $500,000.

New York, Nov. 19.—More arrests are expected today in the round-up in New York, Washington and other cities of persons suspected of having been implicated in the theft of $500,000 to $1,000,000 worth of securities in New York's financial district within the last six months.

With the arrest of W. Sullivan, a member of the Consolidated Stock Exchange, charged with larceny and criminally receiving two Crucible Steel certificates valued at $45,000, the police expressed confidence they had hit upon a trail which ultimately would clear up the "robberies" which have mystified Wall street and in which disappearing messenger boys have played a prominent part. The police assert that Sullivan admitted having received the two certificates, although claiming not to have known they had been stolen, and that one had been disposed of in Washington and the other in Philadelphia.

He claimed to have received these certificates, and other securities which the police declare had been stolen, from three mysterious "customers" giving the names of "Steel," "Wall" and "Earlight." The police so far have been unable to locate him, but today renewed their efforts to round them up.

The New York police are being assisted in their search by authorities of other cities. A member of the Washington force, coming here yesterday, identified Sullivan as a former bartender, who divided his time between New York and the national capital.

WILSON ASKS SENATORS NOT TO VOTE FOR IT

Says Ratification of Treaty With Reservations is Nullification

FOLLOWERS A UNIT

Defeat Lodge Plan, He Urges—Hope For "Genuine Resolution of Ratification" to Follow Declared to be Vain

Washington, Nov. 19.—A letter from President Wilson advising senators to vote against ratification of the peace treaty with foreign relations committee's reservations would provide the net for a conference by the final vote on the Lodge resolution of ratification.

The conference had been called to decide upon the final administrative tactics in the fight for ratification, which is expected to come to an end today or tomorrow.

After the president's letter was read there were indications that unless a compromise could be effected the administration senators would vote up almost solidly against ratification.

The president's letter, addressed to Senator Hitchcock and dated yesterday, follows:

"You were good enough to bring me word that the Democratic senators supporting the treaty expected to hold a conference by the final vote on the Lodge resolution of ratification and that they would be glad to receive a word of counsel from me.

"I should hesitate to offer it in any detail, but I assume that the senators only desire my judgment upon the all important question of the final vote on the resolution containing the many reservations of Senator Lodge. On that I cannot hesitate, for, in my opinion, the resolution in the form does not provide for ratification but rather for the nullification of the treaty. I sincerely hope that the friends and supporters of the treaty will vote against the Lodge resolution of ratification. I understand that the floor will then probably be open for a genuine resolution of ratification.

"I trust that all true friends of the treaty will refuse to support the Lodge resolution.

The president's reference to an opportunity to vote on a "genuine ratification" resolution referred to the plans of the Democrats to get action on an unreserved resolution after they had voted down the Lodge proposal. That plan apparently has been blocked, however, by the decision of the mild reservation Republicans to stand with Republican Leader Lodge against providing such an opportunity.

MAY WEAR MEDAL.
It was announced at local military headquarters this morning that authority had been received from militia headquarters, Ottawa, which entitles those who have served with the Canadian expeditionary force in Siberia to wear the victory medal.

Amazing Tale Of Boy On Stand

Told in Connection With Work of Band Mulcting Banks With Forged Checks

Montreal, Nov. 19.—A story of how an organized band of four or five persons were engaged in mulcting local banks with forged checks, rivalled only by the story of how the gang of forgers were shadowed and rounded up by the Thiel Detective, created great interest before the king's bench yesterday, when M. Schatzberg appeared for trial, but the cynicism of one of the witnesses, a self-confessed accomplice, who told his story with smiles and the pose of a hero boasting of his feats, was still more striking.

That witness was a boy of fifteen years and five months, of rather fine appearance and manners, now an inmate of the Shawbridge Boys' Farm. His name is Reuben Libovitch.

"I was paying my own expenses," he said proudly, when asked how he could go on trips to Ottawa, and stop at the Chateau Laurier, and when questioned as to how he earned his money, his answer was—"Cashing checks. I generally got 25 per cent as my share and sometimes fifty dollars for having them accepted."

The specific charge against Schatzberg, who is now serving a term at St. Vincent de Paul for forgery, was of having forged and passed a check of $805 purporting to be signed by the Canadian Shoe and Leather Sewing Company, and payable to F. Harris, in June last.

GO AHEAD WITHOUT THE UNITED STATES

Great Britain and France Considering Carrying Out Peace Treaty Terms

LONDON, NOV. 19.—(Associated Press)

Great Britain and France are considered to proceed with the carrying out of the German peace treaty and the operation of the League of Nations independently of the United States, pending the decision of the American government on its course.

It is pointed out that matters are continually arising under the treaty which need immediate attention, such as the operation of the various plebiscite commissions, and it is considered that, because of this fact, it is no longer possible to delay making the pact operative.

The opinion strongly prevails here that Great Britain will not accept any reservations made by the United States senate which would necessitate the negotiation of a new treaty, as the British government, it is declared, has every present intention of abiding by the decisions of the peace conference.

The belief still exists in this capital that the American government will ultimately take its place with the Allies. Meanwhile there appears to be a possibility that Great Britain and the others will proceed without the United States.

SEIZED WET GOODS BLOCK QUARTERS OF THE CHIEF INSPECTOR

Rev. W. D. Wilson, Chief Inspector Under the Prohibition Act, Arrived in the City This Morning and Found on His Arrival at His Office in the Government Buildings that as a result of yesterday's big coup there was very little available space for the transaction of business.

With the expected arrival of another shipment of liquor from Moncton today the chief inspector is confronted with somewhat of a problem as to the matter of storage. The inspectors say, however, that the lack of storage space will not affect their activities.

It was suggested today that a car should be provided for the liquor inspectors to follow out their work in the city. There are only three men besides the chief and their horses in the government buildings that as a great territory is assigned to their watchful eyes that the matter of a car is put forward as a pressing necessity.

THE POUND WORTH ONLY A LITTLE OVER $4

New York, Nov. 19.—Foreign exchange again dropped to new low levels today. The pound sterling brought only $4.03 3/4, which is three-quarters of a cent lower than the lowest rate reported yesterday. Franc checks dropped to 97.0 francs for dollar, one centum below yesterday's quotations, the previous record.

Live cables were quoted at 12.40 for the dollar, 35 centimes below yesterday's closing prices, and the German mark brought only 2 2/5 cents, as compared with 29 and 34 cents before the war.

PRINCE SEEING NEW YORK TODAY

He Makes His Usual Conquest—Guard of 2,500 Police Have Little to do

New York, Nov. 19.—The Prince of Wales was up bright and early today to see the sights. He was met at the pier by his welcome here yesterday, when he was made a freeman by Mayor Hylan, the prince displayed a boyish eagerness to become acquainted with the city. His morning programme included a trip to the top of the fifty-four story Woolworth building, an automobile ride through famous thoroughfares, visits to the stock exchange, the United States sub-treasury building, historic Trinity church and the Chamber of Commerce.

The afternoon was to be taken up with visits to the Academy of Music and the annual horse show at Madison Square Garden. Tonight he will attend a dinner of New York societies and later will be the guest of honor at a ball in the home of Mrs. Whitehall Reid.

By his democratic bearing, the prince has captured the heart of New York. He was greeted with unusual warmth everywhere he went. The crowdshowing a democratic disregard for royal dignity, saluted him with such remarks as "Hello Prince," and "He's a regular guy."

The prince is guarded by a detachment of 2,500 police, and federal secret service agents, but there has been little for them to do.

GREEK GOVERNMENT IS DISPUTING CHARGE FOR CANADIAN MEAT

(Special to Times)

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—Representatives of the Greek government are here in connection with a dispute with certain Canadian packing firms, including P. Burns & Co. and Harex, who are claiming that the price charged for a cargo of frozen meat shipped to Greece. The contract was signed in Paris in last August and provided for the payment of twenty-two cents for cows and steers f.o.b. seaboard here. This is said to have been considerably above the prevailing market price at that time and the dispute has been referred to the Canadian trade commission.

BONAR LAW MAKES PLEA FOR COALITION

London, Nov. 19.—Addressing Unionists in London last night, Andrew Bonar Law emphasized the importance of a coalition government in developing the strength of nations. He said that Great Britain, France and Italy in the war realized that the life of the nations was in danger, and formed coalitions to save them. The United States, being further away, did not form a coalition.

Now danger was seen, and he said, it would be terrible if it became a reality, that a great nation might not play a part in reconstruction after the war because there had been no coalition to save them. The result of the elections in France, he declared, was really a victory for coalition.

TRIBESMEN PUT TO DEATH

Madrid, Nov. 19.—Twenty-one Moroccan tribesmen were executed at Tetuan, east of Tangier, this morning following their conviction by a court martial of killing their officers while the tribesmen were in the service of the Spanish government, according to advices received here.

Hindenburg Still Playing The Game

Declares Kaiser, Government and People of Germany Did Not Want War

Berlin, Nov. 19.—(Associated Press)—Field Marshal von Hindenburg declared before the sub-committee of the National Assembly investigating war responsibility—"I know with absolute certainty that neither the people, the Kaiser nor the government, desired war, for the emperor, knew better than other Germans the tremendously difficult position in a war against the Entente."

Germany's defensive strength, said the field marshal, was as unfavorable as possible from the start. It might be left to history to decide why Germany's policy had failed.

"While with the enemy, notwithstanding his superiority, all parties were united even more firmly in the determination to be victorious with us, although we were numerically inferior, interests at home made their influence felt and this state of affairs led to the breaking of the will to victory."

Heinrich F. Albert, under secretary of state and former commercial attaché at the German embassy in Washington, read a report which he made in 1916 to the German government. This report gave color warning of the feeling in the United States of America, and of her intense leanings toward the Entente, and declared that, in case of American participation, "neutral nations would side with America; the psychological effect would be felt at once, it would be a national misfortune and Germany would be defeated."

London, Nov. 19.—The Egyptian ministry has resigned because of dissatisfaction with the mission appointed by Lord Milner, secretary for the colonies, for the investigation of the unrest in Egypt, according to official despatches from Cairo today. Rioting occurred yesterday in Alexandria, the trouble lasting throughout the day until the military restored order.

As Hiram Sees It

"I have no head for business," said the reporter. "You'd need a little capital," said Hiram—"jist a few hundred dollars. I'll back you for it myself—and it wouldn't be long till you could buy a farm or sixter power—or somethin' like that."

"You interest me," said the reporter. "I know I would," said Hiram. "The thing that puzzles me is that somebody ain't grabbed it up afore this."

Hiram paused at this juncture to indulge a severe fit of coughing. "You have a bad cold," said the reporter. "Yes, sir—I hev. That's what it cost me to get this tip for you. I was over to the west side an' to wait at the head of the floats to get a transfer from one street car to another. I wasn't alone by no means, but that didn't change the weather. There was some remarks that made the air sort o' blue, but we was all blue enough as it was. One feller said he'd got kind o' used to standin' on one leg an' then on a big stick, a shank there an' he didn't know how it 'ud be in the winter. It jist struck me then that if somebody'd build a shack there an' put a big stick an' some benches in it—and some books an' papers to pass the time—he could make a small charge an' be rich by spring."

"And you offer me the chance," said the reporter. "I do," said Hiram. "But suppose," said the reporter, "that just after I got the shack up and the fire along the street railway company should decide to make quick connections and give the people a real service?"

"Mister," said Hiram, "you ain't thinkin' you could ever get the moon for a plaything are you?" "Of course not," said the reporter. "Then go ahead an' build the shack," said Hiram. "You'll hev the moon afore them people in Carleton ever gets a real service—yes, sir."

JELICOE MAKES HIS POSITION PLAIN

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 19.—In addressing the Canadian Club here today Admiral Viscount Jellicoe, referring to his present mission, said it was to advise the people of Canada only on subjects on which his advice is asked. He said he had noticed that questions had been asked as to his presence in Canada. It was probably feared that he was going to suggest too much militarism and the spending of too much money. Such was not the case. He was only here, he said, in an advisory capacity, and it was Canada's right only to suggest. Admiral Jellicoe emphasized the necessity of British sea power if the empire is to live and the necessity of being prepared for any emergency. It was not necessary, he declared, to build up a spirit of militarism, but simply to face the facts. The empire's preparedness and he instanced how the temporary control of the seas was lost through the submarine menace, due to Great Britain's unpreparedness in meeting a new danger.

EGYPTIAN MINISTRY RESIGNS; MORE TROUBLE IN ALEXANDRIA

London, Nov. 19.—The Egyptian ministry has resigned because of dissatisfaction with the mission appointed by Lord Milner, secretary for the colonies, for the investigation of the unrest in Egypt, according to official despatches from Cairo today. SINN FEINERS WOULD PREVENT THE HUNT

Belfast, Nov. 19.—Sinn Feiners in north-east Ulster have sent an ultimatum with 200 signatures to the executive of the "County Down Stag-hounds" refusing access to hunting grounds in the district if General Hackett-Pain was permitted to take part in its hunt.

Gen. Hackett-Pain, prior to the war, was chief of staff of the Ulster Volunteer force. Being on the reserve list of the British army at the outbreak of the war, he took command of a brigade in the Ulster division. Until recently he was in charge of the Belfast district. Last August a nationalist and Sinn Fein "Lady Day" demonstration and procession was forbidden by Gen. Hackett-Pain.

Government Has No Definite Scheme For Development Here

Officials in Ottawa Say Authorities Are Not Prepared to Bind Themselves as to Future if Harbor is Transferred

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—Questioned regarding a suggestion that the government should declare its policy with respect to the development of the port of St. John, officials here say that the demand for the taking over of the port does not come from the government and it is not prepared to bind itself to any definite scheme of development. If, in the opinion of the people of St. John, it can be better developed by its possession remaining as at present, it would be wiser for them to retain it.

The policy of the government has been to develop all the harbors of Canada to as great an extent as possible consistent with the needs and possibilities of trade. The commissions at Montreal, Quebec and Vancouver are on the same footing as is proposed at St. John but in the case of none of the harbors mentioned have they bound themselves to any definite and continuous scheme of development in advance. The developments would probably depend very largely on the business accruing.

Drought, Worst In Years, Has Struck New South Wales

Australia as a Whole Suffers—Many Settlers Ruined—Skeletons of Cattle Litter Paddock

London, Nov. 19.—Australia, especially New South Wales, is suffering the most devastating drought since white men have lived in that country, even the drought of 1902 being surpassed, according to a Sydney despatch to the Daily Mail.

Stock and crops have been destroyed and it is doubtful whether there will be enough seed wheat for next season's sowing. Hundreds and perhaps thousands of settlers have been ruined. North-west New South Wales is described as a desert, being stripped of everything green. Paddocks are littered with the skeletons of cattle and even rabbits are dying in vast numbers.

NEW BRUNSWICKER WHO DROVE FIRST C. P. R. ENGINE IN THE WEST

George Bailey of Kingsclear Passes Away in Winnipeg

Fredericton, Nov. 19.—Relatives here have been informed of the death of George Bailey of Kingsclear. He was a native of Kingsclear and was one of the railway pioneers of the Canadian west. He was the first C. P. R. locomotive engineer in Calgary and lived in that city for the greater part of his life and drove the first locomotive in the great west. Mrs. Joseph McKay of Kingsclear, a patient in Victoria Hospital in this city, is his widow. His wife, three daughters and one son survive in the west. Mr. Bailey went to Winnipeg via St. Paul, Minn., in 1878. He was employed by the C. P. R. syndicate prior to the formation of the C. P. R. Company. In 1915 he retired on pension and during the war showed great interest in work for the soldiers, himself producing 3,000 pairs of machine knit socks.

SAD PLIGHT OF GIRL IN BOSTON; SAID TO BE FROM ST. JOHN

Boston, Nov. 19.—Mary P. Jerome, nineteen years old, of St. John, N. B., was discharged from the City Hospital yesterday. For several days her name had been on the danger list. She was a victim of gas poisoning and was saved from death in her room at 683 Massachusetts avenue when the caretaker of the house smelled gas.

Miss Jerome is said to be penniless and had been ordered from her room for non-payment. She says she had not attempted suicide. When taken to the hospital her pocketbook contained two pennies and some dance tickets. She has no friends here.

CANADA LIKELY TO WIN POINT AT CONFERENCE

Direct Representation on Governing Body of International Labor Office

Washington, Nov. 18.—(By the Canadian Press)—Canada is likely to win her point and secure direct representation on the governing body of the international labor office. The issue is one of some weeks' standing. The governing body controls the international labor office and direct representation in its membership is considered of prime importance. It consists of twenty-four persons. Twelve are to represent the government. The other twelve consist of representatives, in equal numbers, of the employers' and workers' delegates at the conference and chosen by these delegates. Of the twelve governmental representatives one of the four which the conference is to be of chief industrial importance. The other four governmental representatives are in equal numbers, but not yet reported. (Continued on page 9, fifth column.)

Women's Apparel To be Discussed by The Manufacturers

What are the underlying causes for the high prices of women's apparel? This will form one of the chief topics of discussion at the convention of the dress manufacturers of the United States who will assemble in Atlantic City on Dec. 2 and 3, participating in the first convention that the women's garment manufacturers have ever held.

Matters pertaining to the checking of credits—and in this connection the dress manufacturers who will attend the convention extend credits of more than $100,000,000 a year to the retail trade of the country, will be discussed by J. Harry Tregoe, secretary of the National Association of Credit Men.

Other speakers include June Rand of Los Angeles, president of the Sassy Jane Manufacturing Company, one of the few women manufacturers of dresses in the United States, and Dr. E. Ewing Pratt, former chief of the United States bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, who will tell of the enormous opportunities open to the manufacturers of women's wearing apparel in the United States to sell their products in foreign countries.

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB.

There could be no more hopeful indication of the adoption of a forward policy by the city of St. John than the formation of a strong association such as the new Commercial Club promises to be. It will not supplant or be in any way antagonistic to the board of trade, which, as Mr. G. E. Barbour pointed out last evening, has a recognized standing in common with boards of trade generally throughout the Empire.

The Commercial Club will have an ample field for its activities, and as long as it stands by the principles enunciated at last night's meeting it will command public confidence and support. The younger men realize that if they are to remain in St. John and achieve success the city as a whole must make progress; and it is attainable only as a result of team-work. They must get together in a hopeful and determined spirit, and see that no path of progress is closed through corporate greed, or the timidity of those in authority in civic affairs, or a lack of enterprise on the part of the citizens at large.

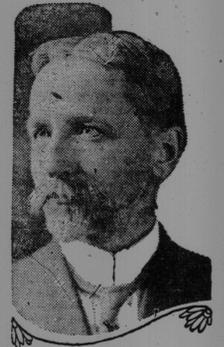

There were some references last evening to the habit of "knocking." The cure for that is found in combined effort to advance the city's interests. A knock that reveals something which should be remedied is really a boost. Nothing is more deadly to any community than a pious complacency which sees nothing to be knocked. So far as the newspapers are concerned, they will be very grateful for live copy of the sort that people like to read because it tells of progress. The Commercial Club will breathe the spirit of faith and optimism. It will bring the younger men together and make them acquainted with each other. It will draw them out and encourage them to take part in the city's business as well as their individual concerns. It will bring about that clash of thought out of which new projects are born. It will create a healthy community spirit and break down the walls of selfishness and prejudice. At least it will have these aims, and it is up to the members to see that they are accomplished. The organization meeting next Tuesday evening should be a rallying point for hundreds of young men eager to join the ranks and lend their aid in making the club the biggest live wire in St. John.

Many of the votes were cast by men he has arrested.

THE WORLD MOVES.

Nowadays we see the tractor doing duty, like a charm; it's the most important factor in the business of the farm. Oh, we see the farmer sitting on a spring seat painted green, and a wondrous gait he's hitting, and he toils his weird machine. Horses look to him like fakery, and for mules he'd give no money; for he plows a dozen acres where a team would fall at one. As I view the mighty tractor olden times return to me, when I was a tragic actor in the scenes of husbandry. One old mule took me a sweat mean, for I lapped her all day. All the weary day I whacked her, soaked her ribs, and then again, and I longed to have a tractor, which was not invented then. With a club her ribs I polished, hoping thus some speed to gain; but all schedules were abolished, that mule and clove were vain. All my better years were squandered in this slow and futile way; up and down the field I wandered, slow as goose grease, through the day. And the mule—at last I saw her, and took up my fountain pen, sore because the useful tractor had not been invented then.

Domestic Happenings of Other Days

MADELEINE VERCHERES.

The conditions of life during the long period when the Iroquois were the scourge of Canada put to the severest tests almost daily the valor of the French soldiers. There are many instances of heroism to brighten the annals of those days. One of the most romantic was the defence of the Fort at Vercheres in 1692 by Madeleine, daughter of the seigneur of that place. She was at the time a mere girl of fourteen years of age. The inhabitants were at work in the fields, no one was left in charge but two soldiers, two boys, an old man of eighty years and some women and children. Suddenly forty or fifty Indians appeared in the neighborhood. Madeleine placed herself in command of the settlers and the weak garrison. Her courage was inspiring, but one of the soldiers was so badly scared by the Indians that the girl found him preparing to blow up the fort with a barrel of gunpowder. Her two brothers, ten and twelve years of age, helped the soldiers to man the loopholes, from which a steady fire was kept up upon the Iroquois. The cannon on the fort walls were also fired occasionally to make the assaulters think there was a strong party within than to do much damage to the Indians. With her brothers and the old man placed at the three of the castles the girl took the fort, while the soldiers occupied the block house and kept the enemy busy on that side. For a week the little garrison was on constant duty, not resting day or night. Then a detachment of French soldiers came to the rescue and the Iroquois vanished into the woods. The fame of Madeleine was scattered far and wide among the early settlers and attracted the attention of the Iroquois themselves.

SING HO FOR THE WIND.

(Rev. George Scott.)

Sing ho! for the wind of the wint'ry days,
And the bushes laden with spotless snow,
And the icicles hung in the forest ways,
And the tingling pulse and the healthful glow.

Sing ho! for the smell of the cedar swamp,
'Mid the falling trees when the axes ring,
The warmth and glow of the lumber camp,
And the boisterous songs of its welcoming.

Sing ho! for the wind on the forest trail
Right merrily singing its blitheome song,
Where only the strong man's muscles avail,
Where the frost is keen and the battle long.

Sing ho! for the wind in the rocking pines,
And the jingling bells on the straining team,
And the distant hills with their sharp outlines,
And the logging road in the moon's pale beam.

Sing ho! for the wind on the homing track,
When the day is done and the stars are bright,
The rollicking song of the lumberjack
Is echoing now with a clear delight.

Sing ho! for the wind, let it blow its best;
Let the snow sift down through the drifts
Day is for toil and the night is for rest,
But we'll cheer our hearts with the strong man's lays.

LIGHTER VEIN.

There is a certain long-suffering father whose nerves sometimes give way under questions from his talkative eight-year-old son. "Dad," said the youngster, just as the old man settled down for a perusal of his newspaper. "Dad, am I made of dust?" "I think not," responded the unhappy parent, "otherwise you would dry up once in a while."

"I'm all in the dark about how these bills are to be paid," said Mr. Hardup to his wife. "Well, Henry," she said, as she added another one to the already large pile, "you will be if you don't pay that one. It's the gas bill."

"We ought to investigate the expenditures of this board," "How much did it spend?" "Twenty thousand dollars." "What will an investigating committee cost?" "Thirty thousand dollars." "Good business. Go ahead,"—Judge.

"Do you find that prohibition has depressed Crimson Gulch?" "No," answered Cactus Joe. "We're much more cheerful than usual. Everybody seems to think it's a great joke on all the rest of the boys."

Doris—Yes, she was furious about the way in which the newspaper reported her marriage. Helen—Did it allude to her age? Doris—Indirectly. It stated that Miss Oude and Mr. Yale were married, the latter being a well-known collector of antiques.

PERSIAN CITY OF SHIRAZ RETAINS MUCH OF BEAUTY.

In the midst of a broad expanse of barren ground lies the flat-topped Persian city of Shiraz, which was once so wonderful a sight as to cause the visitor to cry, "God is great!" and by its fascination and beauty to make him forget forever his native land.

The Shiraz of the present is still fascinating, though its power over the traveler's memory has waned. The stranger may hurry through the narrow streets lined with square houses, but on the outskirts of the city he must linger and dream awhile in the Persian gardens celebrated in many songs by the poets of the land.

Shiraz is proudest of being the home of two of Persia's noblest poets, Hafiz and Sadi, both of whom were enthusiastically loved by the people of the city. The city has changed greatly since their day, succeeding generations still view it through the rose-and-gold light of the poet's fancy and still boast of its wonders.

The citizens of Shiraz honor most the man who can quote most fluently and extensively from the poems of Hafiz; yet his grave, in the garden beyond the city, is neglected and desolate. A high brick wall encloses the garden. Within, the tomb of the poet is marked by a pavilion and a marble slab, on which is carved one of his verses. All about the beloved poet lie his followers and admirers, their graves headed by stones which peep through rank grass.

The gardens of Shiraz have such names as "Garden of Heaven," "Garden of the Eavy of Heaven," "Garden that Displays the World"—names which they do not always live up to in appearance, because of their owners' dreamy contentment in letting well enough alone. Yet even the uncareful gardener is delightfully beautiful. They streams wind through them, cypresses and elm trees shade them pleasantly, roses clamber riotously over the old walls and a shabbily dressed summer house peeps from among the trees.

THE MODERN HOTEL.

(New York Evening Post.)

The fourth national hotel men's meeting in this city reveals two powerful tendencies in hotel administration, and the amazing fact that some hotel men consider them identical. The "let-the-hotel-be-your-home" movement represents one; it seeks modern illustration for the comfortable old query, "Shall I not take mine ease in mine inn?" The other would fill the hotels with marvellous devices for comfort and amusement, economy and luxurious extravagance. The difficulty of entering a hotel of 2,000 rooms and hypnotizing yourself into the belief that you are going into something like your private home is not inconsiderable. All the comforts of home include the most awesome array of rare marble pillars, onyx counters, vast palms, magnificent chandeliers and an array of porters, bellboys, clerks and elevator men. You are introduced to simplicity and informality in the shape of mechanical hallboys, and can spend a marvellous week just in learning how many elaborate pieces of machinery are ready, at a button's pressure, to answer your slightest wish. Ease and retirement confront you at dinner in the choice of a half dozen places, from the Pompeian Room to the Hula-Hula Glades (full dress de rigueur in all). You wake in the morning perhaps wishing you could escape the complexity of life—no, there is a newspaper already under your door.

MILKING TO MUSIC.

(Toronto Globe.)

From somewhere across the border comes a story that milking cows to music may soon be fashionable because it is said to soothe the animals, induces a steadier flow of milk, and gives the hired help opportunity to become acquainted with the classical and current compositions. It is pointed out that the gramophone and all like instruments that the farmer may own are thus applicable for domestic use. They may give pleasure and entertainment to the family at stated hours, and to the cows at milking time. Such an extension of their area of usefulness had not been thought possible so recently as a few months ago, and the curd-chewers had to be content with the bursts of song or expressions of opinion, harsh or otherwise, that came from the throats of their attendants. Where the mechanical milker was used the clicking of the machinery, of course, supplied the lullabies.

Now all is to be changed. Bessie and her sisters are to be milked while the music-box reminds them it is "A Perfect Day," or that somebody is "Comin' Through the Rye," with variations and trills that some kinds of eye are said to produce when taken to ward off a chill or soothe a day-after headache. "Annie Laurie" and "Caruso" may vie with one another in the art of soothing the cows, while an occasional chorus from an opera may be turned on. But if the jazz craze does not soon go the way of other spasms of incipient insanity there is likely to be a series of scenes at milking time that will give a black-eye to the movement for the increased output and uplift of music. No self-respecting cow could be expected to stand at ease while the whirling disc blares out the weird noises which throw jazzers into convulsions, and which, as the movie-picture directors would say, signify ecstasy. If the new milking scheme is to be adopted in Ontario the appointment of a board of selection to draw up a musical programme calculated to produce the best results without alarming the cows will be one of the first duties of the incoming government.

RECENT WEDDINGS

McGuigan-McCormick.
A wedding of popular interest took place in St. Peter's church this morning at 8.15 o'clock, with nuptial mass, celebrated by Rev. Edward Scully, C. S. R., when he united in marriage Leo McGuigan and Miss Nellie McCormick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCormick, 3 Harvey street. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Katherine McCormick, while John Murphy supported the groom.

The bride wore a becoming fawn suit with seal furs and black picture hat and carried a bouquet of white roses. Her sister was dressed in navy blue with con furs and picture hat and carried a bouquet of pink roses. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride's parents, after which Mr. and Mrs. McGuigan left on a honeymoon trip by train to Boston and New York. On their return they will reside at City Line, West End. Numerous and costly wedding remembrances were received, accompanied by best wishes from a large circle of friends.

At the home of John Elliott, Annapolis Ridge, Wednesday, November 5, Miss Viola May Elliott was united in marriage to Frank Hazen Rouse of Corn Hill, by Rev. J. S. Gregg. The groom is a returned soldier who served with the 26th Battalion.

In St. John's Presbyterian church, Halifax, on November 10, Miss Carrie Ruth Carmichael of Halifax, was united in marriage to Arnold Malcolm Cromwell of The Narrows, N. B., by Rev. John Y. McKinnon.

SAYS TOBACCO SMOKING BY WOMEN IS GRAVEST DANDER

London, Eng., Nov. 19.—"Tobacco smoking by women is the great danger," says R. E. Moncrieff, a Fellow of the Statistical Society, in the National Tobacco Bill prepared for the Anti-Tobacco and Anti-Narcotic League.

"If the women of the nation become habitual smokers, as they rapidly are doing, what effect will it have on the future generation?" It is estimated by Mr. Moncrieff that English subjects spent £18,758,100 in 1918 on tobacco and smoking accessories, an increase, mainly due to the heavier tax, of £24,840,000 over the cost in 1917. This sum is about £9 per family of five, sufficient to pay the rent of a cottage in the country.

Apart from Army and Navy consumption, Mr. Moncrieff says we smoked over ninety million pounds of cigarettes, or 1,000 cigarettes for every man, woman and child in the country. Only 20 per cent of the tobacco was smoked in pipes, and 77 per cent in cigarettes, and 3 per cent in cigars. Army and Navy consumption was £5,128,900 pounds, valued, duty free, at £11,854,300.

The "Tobacco" Bill shows that in home and foreign manufactures we consumed:—
4,190,087 pounds of cigars.
28,919,880 pounds pipe tobacco and snuff.
90,505,468 pounds cigarettes.

In addition to 45,698,900 pounds consumed in the army, navy and mercantile service.

WIFE'S COMPLAINT.

London, Eng., Nov. 19.—A young woman told the Willesden magistrate that she had six points to complain of with regard to her husband:—
He would not allow her to speak to anyone.
He would not allow anyone to visit the house.
He would not allow her to take her little boy out.
He would not give her any house-keeping money.
He threatened her life.
He would not let her have her own clothes to wear.

The court missionary was asked to act as arbitrator.

TEACHERS REFUSE RAISES.

London, Eng., Nov. 19.—A new scale of salaries to Reading teachers, involving an additional £18,000, has been approved by the local education authority, but both the headmaster of Reading School and the headmistress of Kendrick School have declined to accept any increase in their salaries at present.

WHAT MILK IS USED FOR.

London, Eng., Nov. 19.—The Epsom food control committee complains that in Norfolk and other parts of the country fresh milk, which should be available for children and invalids, is being sent to London chocolate manufacturers from dairy farms direct.

IN INTEREST OF MORAL OR MENTAL DEFECTIVES

New Provincial Secretary of Ontario Makes Announcement

Toronto, Nov. 19.—Hon. H. C. Nixon, provincial secretary, in an interview yesterday on the question of re-organizing the social institutions of the province, said:—

"I am in deep sympathy with any movement that will tend to better the condition of moral or mental defectives, who have been left to the care of the province. The old practice of farming out inmates of public institutions will be discontinued, unless it is clearly shown that in the liberation of these inmates a real good will have been accomplished."

"Instead, we shall do everything in our power to make the social life within these institutions of such an attractive nature that, if possible, some of the unfortunate may at a future time again become useful members of society."

The minister declared that protective measures would likely be taken in legislation dealing with social diseases.

CANADA'S AGRICULTURAL POSITION.

Hon. S. F. Tisdie, Canada's new minister of agriculture, has summed up the outstanding facts of Canada's agricultural position in an article appearing in the November number of The Agricultural Gazette. Exclusive Styles That Usher in a Social Season of Brilliance

Preparing For a Gay Winter, We Have Culled the Newest Creations

HERE are Gowns resplendent with sparkling beads and gleaming fabrics, or quaintly picturesque with puffs and bouffants, or, yet again, naively simple, the better to display some rich, rare material of which they are fashioned.

Never, not even in the days when knight-hood was in flower, was color so opulent. That wonderful new Nile, fashioned with Silver; Orchid, Canary, Apricot, the odd shades of Rose, Sky and Pink appear in gowns of notable beauty; Black glittering with Gold or Sequins make up enchanting models.

Yet for all their exclusiveness and splendor, the prices are modest.

COUNCIL ADOPTS RESOLUTION RE HARBOR MATTER

Only One Dissenting Voice, That of Mr. Bullock

Vocational Training Grant Also Passed; City Will Pay Engineers Union Wages—Claim For Extra Work on City Road

The resolution presented at yesterday's meeting of the common council, and printed elsewhere in the Times, was adopted by the council at the adjourned meeting, Commissioner Bullock being the only one of the commissioners to vote against it. The addition of the word "North" before "Regency Wharf" in the resolution was agreed to and the resolution with this amendment carried.

On motion of the commissioner of public safety the quarterly bill for street lighting from the N. B. Power Co., amounting to $8,884.18, was ordered to be handed to the comptroller for payment.

An application from the C. N. Ry for permission to erect a five-light standard in front of their ticket office in King street, was referred to Commissioner Thornton.

A resolution was read from the Ladies' Branch of the Church of the Englewood Institute, protesting against the destruction of the court house. It was ordered filed.

The report of the committee of the whole was adopted. The committee had a grant of $5,000 to be made to the Board of School Trustees for meeting the expenses to the end of the present year in the equipment and maintenance of a report of the committee of the whole was adopted. It also recommended the preparation of plans for the paving of Douglas avenue, City road, Brussels street and the Marsh road from Marsh bridge to the city line.

On recommendation of Commissioner Bullock a lease of a lot in Sydney ward was granted to James Lewis for seven years at an annual rental of $30.

Commissioner Bullock made a report of the accident to the Governor Carleton on Monday. Damage done amounted to about $1,800. He also reported that on the 12th trip the same day the mate of the ferry had his wrist broken through an accident while at work.

On motion of Commissioner Bullock the N. B. Contracting Company had completed the work of trenching and backfill in City Road. On account of delay in arrival of pipe the company had a great deal of overhead expenses. The company was asking for $2,500 to pay for extra expense accrued and intimated taking action.

Commissioner Jones recommended that the claim be settled, saying that the work was done at much below the estimate.

The matter was left over until tomorrow at noon when Commissioner Jones will present details of the extra expense incurred by the contractors.

Engineers' Pay.
Commissioner Fisher moved that he be authorized to increase the wages of stationary engineers in the public works department from $4 to the union rate, $4.66 a day, to take effect from October 29. This affects only three men at present. The motion was carried.

On motion of Commissioner Fisher the public works department was authorized to arrange for purchase of 500,000 granite blocks from Morrison & Newlands at $97.50 a thousand, with the option of increasing the number to 100,000.

The manager of the Victory Garage wrote protesting against the erection of a building in the rear of their premises in Duke street for the storage of safety department apparatus, stating that a runway leading to the second floor of the garage would have to be taken away and would make that part of the building useless. He stated he did not know that any part of the runway was on city property. The matter was referred to Commissioner Thornton.

An invitation was extended the mayor and commissioners to attend a public presentation of honors and awards in the Armories on Thursday afternoon at three o'clock. The invitation was accepted.

A letter from the Board of School Trustees was received advising that they had, at the request of the council, appointed a vocational training board consisting of Dr. A. F. Emery, Thomas Nagle, J. D. P. Lewis, Mrs. Richard O'Brien, representing the Board of School Trustees; Geo. P. Hennessey, representing labor; Mrs. W. E. Raymond, representing dress-making and Alex. Wilson, representing employers.

Death Threat by Reds for American Officer

He Has Been Openly Denouncing The Radicals—Legislation That Promises a Hard Labor Fight

(Special to Times.) Boston, Nov. 19.—In Boston the Reds are working under cover. Edwin H. Cooper, a Yankee Division captain in France, has been threatened with death as a result of his bitter denunciation of Americanism and law and order.

Captain Cooper says he noticed that he has been followed in several cities, he has visited. He was called to the telephone yesterday and threatened with dire results if he did not lay off his radical speeches.

The army authorities are now helping the federal and police officials to run down the radicals but it is evident that the few arrests of late have driven them to hiding places.

Following the move in congress to invest the new railway measure with anti-trust teeth the state special commission a street railways has advocated like action here.

To Learn Public Opinion on Harbor Transfer Matter Council Takes Step—Resolution Authorizes Preparation of Deed of Transfer Subject to Approval by Plebiscite

The city commissioners in committee yesterday afternoon took the first step towards ascertaining the wishes of the people with respect to the transfer of the harbor facilities to the federal government and placing them under a commission. There were objections to the scheme, but the commissioners decided that the matter should be left with the people. With this object in view, a resolution, arranging for the delivery of the harbor property to the government under certain conditions, was passed.

The terms agreed upon were those submitted by the dominion house and provided for the payment of $2,000,000 to the city for the facilities. The ferry property is to be retained by the city. The deed to the property is to be drawn up but the conveyance is not to be operative until the vote of the citizens is taken. Commissioner Bullock strongly opposed the sale of the harbor for $2,000,000. He pointed out that the government engineer in his report said that the wharves had been maintained in good shape and were at present in a fair state of repair. He felt that the boundaries, as laid down, were vague and these should be definitely decided upon before the question was put before the people. He also said that the agreement with the government would take from the city the harbor fishing rights.

Discussed in Committee. The mayor and commissioners met in committee with the city solicitor, Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, also present. Mr. Fisher felt that there were several points to be considered and questions to be answered by the city solicitor before action was taken. The mayor explained that Hon. Mr. Ballantyne had said that there was no need of further legislation. Mr. Baxter explained the procedure necessary to enable the citizens to express their opinion on the matter. The commissioners should adopt the resolution, which he had prepared, and when this had been accepted by the government a further resolution would be necessary to secure the vote of the electors.

Mr. Fisher said that the act did not apply to the payment of the amount specified for the facilities. Mr. Baxter felt that the act was obscure in places but he advised that the resolution in question would put the question up to the government. If the commissioners were not willing to accept the $2,000,000 for the properties they could vote it down. The following resolution was then moved by Mr. Jones and seconded by Mr. Thornton: "Resolved, That acting under the provisions of the Act of Assembly 9th Edward VII, chapter 81, the City of St. John does hereby contract and agree for the transfer to commissioners to be duly appointed under the Act of the Parliament of Canada 9-10 George V, chapter 70, to constitute and form a board of harbor commissioners for the harbor of St. John of all the right, title, and interest of the said City of St. John as well as by the Charter of the City of St. John as by any Act and Acts of Assembly relating thereto and otherwise howsoever, of, in and to the harbor of St. John within the City of St. John, and of, in and to the land, stern water and the land covered with water, tenements and hereditaments within the bounds set forth in section 8 of the said Act of Parliament of Canada 9-10 George V, chapter 70 saving and excepting thereout and therefrom the right of ferriage from the foot or westerly end of Princess street on the eastern side of said harbor to Rodney wharf on the western side of said harbor at the same has heretofore been used and enjoyed also the east side ferry building (so-called) and the land occupied by the same and used in connection therewith together with the ferry slip and approaches on the eastern side of the harbor, also the west side ferry building (so-called) and the land occupied by the same and used in connection therewith together with the ferry slip and the approaches on the western side of the harbor including Rodney wharf from Union street eastward bounded northerly by land leased to the Canadian Pacific Railway, southerly by the southern line of the street railway trestle and the low water mark of a small piece of flats adjacent to the said Rodney wharf and easterly by the eastern line of the said wharf and also all movable property used in connection with or appertaining to the said ferry."

Insure Better Belt Traction

The adhesion of a belt on a Dodge Wood-Split Pulley is greater than the adhesion on a metal pulley at equal belt tension. The reason is that there is less belt slippage over the wooden surface than over the metal surface. Then there also is less weight friction because the Dodge Wood-Split Pulley is so much lighter and so much better balanced. It may be run at high speeds without burting.

This resolution to His Majesty for the use of said commissioners so to be appointed as aforesaid, but the improvements in this port should be undertaken by the government. The proposition would not go to the people with his approval. If there were any changes, it should be to nationalization. Mr. Fisher cited two reasons for the harbor being transferred: First, it would do away with the present dual control and, second, the future would require a growing expenditure which might make the harbor a burden. He felt, however, that the question should be given to the people. Many were in favor of nationalization, but this might be attained through commissioners. Commissioner Thornton favored the people being given an opportunity to express their opinion.

Mr. Jones felt that the resolution would show a willingness on the part of the council to have the people express their opinion. His worship said there had been much friction on account of the dual control of the harbor. The conditions had been unsatisfactory. The question should be put to the people and the step today was only for that purpose. The vote was then put and passed, with Mr. Bullock voting contrary. The committee then resolved into council and adjourned to meet this morning at 11 o'clock.

The date was fixed for the lecture which Dr. Hibbard has consented to give on the educational content of Winnipeg. In view of the keen interest being taken in this great national movement, Dr. Hibbard's address will prove a fund of information on how to make a better and higher type of Canadian citizen. An enjoyable musical programme was arranged for this address and it was decided to extend to the members the privilege of inviting their friends. A communication was read from the association of Canadian Clubs at Ottawa asking the Canadian Club of St. John to join this co-operative bureau.

Playgrounds Secretary's Report at Annual Meeting An Interesting One

PROBLEM OF THE BOY

Place For Boys' Club Needed—Sixty Former Members Saw Service in War, Some of Them Never to Return

The activities of the St. John Playgrounds Association during the year were outlined in a report presented at the recent meeting of the association by Mrs. Mary H. Good, the secretary. The report was as follows:

To the president and executive of the St. John Playgrounds Association I beg to leave to submit the following report:

The seventh year of our association has been one of earnest work on the part of the members of the executive and we feel that we are far from the goal we aim to attain as a modern playgrounds movement.

As an organized body of workers desiring to provide healthful recreation for the children of our city we have been impeded in our endeavors by the apathy of those in authority and by the people at large.

Playgrounds are a place in the civic and economic government of the larger cities and are considered a proposition worthy of the serious attention of the very highest in the control of their affairs, as well as philanthropic effort.

Unless so treated they can never be the useful influence they should be for the guarding and molding of the future fathers and mothers of the community.

We do not fear for the young while at school or at work, but the thought that is constantly before us is that in their hours of leisure the youthful energy may be misdirected and their minds polluted before the school age, and we struggle to give them at least two months of play that is supervised and leave them to the mercy of the streets in spare time for the rest of the year, because of the awful limitations of our finances.

Some of the things we have done are: We have been able to make during the year the personal devotion of some of our members to the carrying on of the play centres. Particularly is this true of our worthy vice-president and his wife who, in the absence of our president, showed the interest in the children, especially those of the West End.

Voluntarily and whole-heartedly they gave hours of their time assisting the young ladies in their care of the children of all sizes that flocked every day to the grounds in Carleton. To Captain and Mrs. Mulcahy we also owe several departments that were of great utility in making our work a success, and encouraged the board to feel that some one cared.

Two young women came as a team to help in the work, and the teachers being when procurable—kindergarten graduates or school teachers who had taken some training in work usually conducted on playgrounds. When

The Duke of Devonshire in his robe as LL. D., speaking at the laying of the corner stone of a memorial tower to the graduates and under-graduates who these were not obtainable our committee chose young women who were known to them as somewhat experienced in the care of little ones and considered efficient to assist the supervisor, and the ground to which each was assigned.

The caretakers were in most cases returned soldiers, and of much assistance in controlling the boys. The older boys were provided for on the larger grounds and baseball in the East End, West Side and South End. The East End was under the supervision of Harry Scott, who is never too tired after a hard day's work to see that the boys have a good time, under proper control.

Many citizens might envy the influence of this quiet working man whose intimate knowledge of the boys makes him a wise leader and a trusty friend to the lads who are quickly passing into manhood.

Mr. Scott is a real Big Brother, following the lead of our retiring president, with whom he has associated for many years and whose spirit he has caught.

Handicraft was a popular feature of our summer work, but had to be limited on account of the high cost of materials. Some excellent weaving of reed and raffia was shown at the closing, which was held by the grounds individually, the weather being unpropitious for any general outdoor gathering whatever.

Much interest was taken in sewing and crocheting as well as knitting and the utility of this was proved by the well finished garments shown at the Allison grounds. Some of the articles were not sold at the closing will be on exhibition at the tea and sale at the home of Mrs. H. C. Groat early in December, where they will be purchasable and will be found useful for Christmas gifts.

The grant from the city will cover the summer work but did not make the renewal of equipment or many needed repairs possible, as salaries had to be increased and such repairs as were made costs according to the times. The Aberdeen ground is particularly in need of a complete renewal of its apparatus if the play is to be conducted with any success, and the usual large attendance kept up to its average.

The same may be said of several of the play centres, for if we have insufficient funds with which to furnish proper means of recreation for the children we must face defeat in our endeavors.

It will be readily seen with the above facts before us that our winter activities for work for boys will have to be curtailed for in some special way financially as we only have a little over $300 in our treasury to pay instructors, rent and all other necessary expenses. That the work must go on and the expenses be met is the resolve of our board, the result of past years being sufficient justification for continued effort. On account of the influenza we were delayed in the opening of the club last year but when we got started we went with a swing despite the fact that we conducted the meetings in the most dismal hall fancy could picture. From this place, however, have gone forth sixty boys to fight for our liberty and some of them lie "over there".

We felt, however, that this is no reason for renewing the lease for such an inadequate accommodation, as the membership roll had increased to 125. We relinquished the hall over the little we were able to do for them. No one has come forward to offer the facilities or means thereof for continuing the work that has been started, and we are now roaming the streets looking for a place to keep our boys together.

There is a place we may have to use as a makeshift, for the call of our boys is ever in our ears and we are determined to meet the responsibility and not bring upon ourselves the censure of the Voice that said, "This ought ye to have done and not left the other undone."

To all who so kindly assisted us during the past year we are deeply grateful, especially those who made the evenings attractive for the boys. We echo the sentiments of the club when we say that those business men and manufacturers who talked intimately to the members of their own work and gave examples of the finished article have won golden opinions and imparted an influence they can never measure.

"The Water of Eternal Youth"

The beauties of the Austrian court of bygone days used a lotion which was so effective in keeping the face smooth and free from wrinkles, even in the face they named it "the water of eternal youth."

Some one recently has divulged the secret of this wonderful lotion, which is exceedingly simple, wrinkle lotion, which in her gratitude she was similarly dubbed a preserver of youth. One ounce pure salicylic acid (powdered), dissolved in a half pint witch hazel—that's all there is to it.

Any woman can get these ingredients at her drug store, put them together, and use the solution with entire safety. To bathe the face in the same brings immediate results, even in case of the deeper wrinkles and furrows. This is also effective for hanging cheeks and double chin.

FORM A SEPARATE UNION OF PRESSMEN

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 19.—Pressmen representing more than twenty cities yesterday formed the newspaper web pressmen of the United States and Canada, as a distinct organization from the parent body—the International Printing Pressmen's and Assistants' Union. One of the first provisions suggested was that there shall be no strikes or walkouts and that all differences be settled by arbitration.

COTTON REPLACES CANE

London, Eng., Nov. 19.—In parts of Zululand planters are taking up cotton, in place of sugar-cane, as a more paying and more promising crop. In view of high prices, Natal planters are proposing to grow their own rice.

COMMERCIAL CLUB IS FORMED HERE

New Movement Launched at Enthusiastic Meeting

Sixty-Five Enroll as Members—Plan Which Should Mean Much For The Progress of St. John

A movement which should mean much for the future of St. John was launched last evening, at a largely attended meeting of the younger business men, meeting from their enthusiastic and successful work in the Victory Loan campaign, decided to organize the new Commercial Club, the purpose of which is to put this old city on the front street and keep it there.

The main idea which ran through the speeches was whole-hearted co-operation to serve the city, to support every public movement for its good, and to inaugurate from time to time, plans and policies such as will help St. John to come into its own. It was the feeling at the meeting that there is today an admirable spirit abroad, especially among the younger element which has put so much energy into the loan campaign, and that this spirit of enthusiasm, this devotedness, should be organized and devoted henceforward to the fine work of serving the city.

Only the preliminary organization work was done last evening. After a general discussion committee on nomination of officers, on constitution, and on membership were struck, and it was decided that these should report at a greater meeting to be held next Tuesday evening.

Last night's meeting was held in Victory Loan headquarters, the old Bank of N. A. building, and it was filled to capacity.

Mr. Elkin Chairman. S. E. Elkin, M.P., was elected temporary chairman and briefly outlined the origin and general purpose of the movement to form an organization to be called the Commercial Club of St. John. Mr. Elkin explained briefly that the movement had grown out of the successful co-operation among the younger business men of the city in turning the Victory Loan campaign from a rather doubtful enterprise—at one stage into a success of which the city might well be proud. The promoters of the present movement had felt that the enthusiasm, resolution and co-operation which had done so much for the loan campaign, might well be turned to account in doing great things for St. John. He felt that a live organization, embracing all the younger business element and animated by their "pep and ginger" might accomplish great things for their native city. Such an organization, if it did its job behind any movement, which it was felt was for the public welfare, could make that movement a success.

Howard P. Robinson followed along similar lines, expressing the conviction that great good might be done to the city if the division of opinion on petty and personal matters could be subordinated to the general welfare and the co-operation of the younger business element could be used to work for the city whenever a good opportunity presented itself, and to put the "pep and ginger" into the city. Mr. Robinson said that he thought there should be an expression of opinion from others who were present to see what their ideas on the subject were.

The proper spirit. K. D. Paterson was called upon by the chairman and said that at former meetings at which this matter had been discussed, things had been talked over only in general and no plan of campaign had been arrived at. He took the working of the Victory Loan in this city as a model of the real principle dominating the people of St. John. Although citizens at first seemed disinclined to subscribe, when asked to do so in order to help St. John over the top, their answer in most cases was favorable. He felt that no question of politics should enter into the organization but that it should be strictly a club to improve the civic temperament and boosting ability and to develop the city for the individual and collective benefit.

W. S. Allison said that he had attended several of the former meetings of the club-in-embryo, and he had received the impression that it was to be an organization of the younger men with the object of making the city a better place to live in.

C. H. Peters referred to the reconstruction period and said that the people of St. John should get together and put this city on the map and to do this we need factories and businesses here. St. John would either go forward or backward in this period and it was to the business men to make it go forward.

R. H. Bruce felt that for the lack of accommodation in this city many people from large upper Canada companies had gone elsewhere when St. John had the office and housing accommodation.

WOMAN'S BEST LAXATIVE. Proved Every Day That Dr. Hamilton's Pink Pills Are Just Right for Woman's Ills.

Little wonder woman suffers so much from constipation. She always hesitates, continually puts off taking medicine. Of course a woman's system is delicate, is easily injured by drastic purgatives. Bitter experience with harsh medicines makes her shudder at the thought of the system is permitted. But pills are suited to the actual needs of woman—they are too strong. But there is a good woman's laxative, and it combines mildness with thoroughness of action—it is known to the people of many nations as Dr. Hamilton's Pink Pills, which never gripe, never cause nausea and are safe to use no matter what the conditions of strength or circumstances of health may be. A naturalness and regularity of the system, so important to every woman, is acquired by the regular use of Dr. Hamilton's Pink Pills. As a health-bringer, as a tonic laxative, as an all-round ladies' medicine, there is positively nothing so efficacious as Dr. Hamilton's Pink Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, 25c. per box, at all dealers.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

Look years younger! Use the old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens and restores naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a sure way of restoring them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance with in a few days.

they would have located here. At least one hundred times of the very best class of trade had drifted past this city, Mr. Bruce asserted, based on this handicraft. St. John was a good town, but the citizens wanted full co-operation and the club was to be a success if it must be gotten by "knocking."

The chairman here referred to the spirit of "knocking" which was prevalent in the city and said that this was the first thing that must be eradicated by the club. He said he knew it was a hard proposition to put up with any organization but that all present knew what concerted men and what was accomplished by it. He referred to the tendency here to haggle over petty things and let the bigger things go by.

He then suggested that two committees be formed, one to nominate the officers of the organization and the other to draw up constitution and by-laws. He was impressed upon those present the importance of electing to these positions men who were not figureheads but men of real life action.

Dr. J. B. M. Baxter thought that there was an insistent demand in this city for a place where people could get together and express their opinions and hear the opinions of others and that there was no such building or organization in this community. He suggested that the club go out and solicit subscriptions for a building of this character which would accommodate both the club and where public meetings could be held. In this way a great need to the city would be provided. He thought it would be a splendid idea to start the club with a concrete objective such as he had suggested.

Committees Named. All present expressed themselves in favor of starting the commercial club and then on the motion of T. F. Drummond, nominating committee of five members were elected, the duties of this committee being to nominate the officers of the organization, and to report at the next meeting. This committee was composed of the following: R. H. Bruce, J. A. Tilton, J. F. Brittain, L. J. Seidensticker, George W. T. Drummond, H. P. Robinson.

On motion of R. D. Paterson, the second committee of five members, to draw up constitution and by-laws which would be brought before the next meeting for approval, was elected, composed of the following: W. S. Allison, R. D. Paterson, W. J. Mahoney, L. A. Keith, H. P. Robinson.

There was some discussion about electing a membership committee but it was decided that all those present should form themselves into a membership committee and bring to the next meeting one or more friends.

J. M. Robinson was of the opinion that the meeting had formed the nucleus of an organization which could put St. John where it ought to be. He referred to Frederick and Montreal along with St. John, saying that he knew both these cities very well and thought what each needed was a body of men to push them along. He suggested that those present should show their faith in the club by joining the organization by joining the club at once and every one present handed in his name.

The two committees decided to get to work immediately and withdrew to the smaller rooms. Several citizens present brought up as an example the commercial club of Halifax and it was suggested by J. Seidensticker that the Halifax organization and a club of a similar nature in Cambridge should be communicated with in order to get ideas from them that would be helpful in the formation of St. John's club. Following along these lines it was suggested that W. H. Major, past president of the commercial club of Halifax, should be invited to address the club so that St. John might benefit from his suggestions.

B. E. Armstrong said he did not think Halifax could show St. John a better way. G. E. Barbour expressed himself of the opinion that the commercial club would fill its best channels to the objectives for which it was being formed. He thought the board of trade, and felt that this organization should give the board its heartiest support.

Several other minor topics were discussed and on motion of Dr. Baxter the meeting adjourned. It was decided to hold the next meeting on Tuesday night. All were very enthusiastic as to the future of the club and every one present affixed his name to the membership roll which totaled sixty-five names, as follows: S. E. Elkin, M.P., J. B. M. Baxter, H. H. Seovil, S. K. Smith, R. D. Paterson, J. R. Thomson, J. C. Chesley, H. P. Robinson, T. F. Drummond, H. P. Robinson, J. C. Berrie, A. Thomas, Ronald A. McAvity, J. Firth Brittain, R. H. News Notes About Prominent Baptists

(Maritime Baptist.)

Rev. Ivan S. Nowlan, who a few years ago served our churches here as our first field secretary of Sunday school work, is now pastor of the South Wayne Baptist church, South Wayne, Indiana. That he is still active in promoting interest in the best methods of Sunday school instruction is evidenced by an announcement we have received from the South Wayne Community Training School. His name appears as dean of the faculty. A strong course of study is outlined. Rev. W. Walden, who lately resigned as pastor of the Canterbury field, has accepted a call to Perth and has already taken up his work there. The Perth church also supports him, but it is situated in a growing town, and is, if we are not mistaken, the only Protestant church which has a house of worship in Perth.

Deacon and Mrs. R. A. Smith, of St. John, N. B., were pleasantly surprised on Wednesday evening, November 12th. At the close of the prayer meeting friends invaded their home for thirty years before they had been made one, and they have spent nearly all of their married life in Elgin, where they have given themselves unreservedly to the service of the church, and have been among the foremost in everything which concerned the welfare of the community.

We have received from the annual year book published by the Emmanuel Baptist church of Brooklyn, N. Y. Dr. Avery A. Shaw is the loved and successful pastor of this great church. The present membership now stands at 899. An assistant pastor and a pastor's assistant as well as a lady missionary are employed. Dr. Shaw, after his graduation at Acadia in '92, held pastorates at Canso and Windsor. He is now on his sixth year with the Emmanuel Baptist church. Dr. H. H. Humphreys who had been its pastor from its organization in 1882 until his resignation in 1912.

The first of the Sons of Temperance has embarked upon a forward movement in Nova Scotia by the appointment of an organizer who will give the time to that work. To fill this position they have called for boys at the province a former Nova Scotia, Rev. Charles Layfayette New. The new appointee was born at Smith's Cove, Digby county, Nova Scotia, and was reared in an extremely irritable fluid. These break and subsequently a crust is formed, and the intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when the part is exposed to any strong heat is almost unbearable.

Eszena or Salt Rheum manifests itself in little round blisters, which contain an extremely irritating fluid. These break and subsequently a crust is formed, and the intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when the part is exposed to any strong heat is almost unbearable.

The success which Burdock Blood Bitters has met with in skin diseases of such severity is due to its wonderful blood cleaning and purifying properties, and we know of no other remedy that has done or can do, so much for those who are almost driven to distraction with the terrible tortures of eczema.

Members of the government in Ottawa yesterday said that they did not think it likely that the demand for the Dominion Cigarettes matter could be granted, as they thought the matter lay with the British government. The transaction in Halifax, the work had been with it.

Half a dozen citizens last night gave a banquet in honor of E. E. Young, U. S. consul-general, who has been transferred to St. Petersburg, Russia. Governor Grant presided.

A recent report of big gold finds in the Yukon has been denied. The Halifacs in Moncton charged with being the possessor of the 212 bottles of whiskey which were found in a trunk on Monday afternoon. The case has been postponed until next Monday.

SCIENCE AND DRINK. London, Eng., Nov. 19.—Lord D'Abernon, chief speaker at the meeting of the Society for the Study of Inebriety, at the Medical Society's rooms in Chandos street, said there were three main aims to secure a sound system of drink control.

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

Wash away all the stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is very simple, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Get quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless. Drink it every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; and to prevent their formation.

MONCTON'S GAS QUESTION

Moncton, Nov. 18.—At a mass meeting of citizens held in city hall tonight, there was a long discussion of the natural gas situation and it was urged that the Public Utilities Commission be requested to issue further orders restricting still more the use of natural gas for industrial purposes and conserving it as far as possible for domestic use.

Mental Work Needs a Stomach

Great Mistake to Imagine You Can Work Better and Faster on the Starvation Plan. Eat What You Like But Follow With Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Mental work uses up energy fast. And energy comes from food. To eat little or nothing in order to do more work is a fallacy that has created an army of dyspeptics. A better plan is to eat the regular portions of food such as make up the average meal and follow each meal with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

RETURN OF THE TANGO?

London, Eng., Nov. 19.—Dancing this season is marked by an attempt to revive the tango. This is especially noticeable in the fact that the tango is being made with a view to freeing it from what are regarded as "bad interpretations." In this country, where dancing is making a bold bid for popularity, a similar attempt, though comparatively feeble, is also noticeable.

TRADING ON THE COLONIAL SOLDIER

Liverpool Girls Who Trick Returning Men.

(Lloyd's Sunday News.) Nowhere has the woman in search of adventures, or the woman of criminal instincts in search of easy victims to her wiles, more scope than in cosmopolitan Liverpool.

To masquerade as a man is a new phase of feminine ambition of which Liverpool has furnished the most examples, while it has provided fresh opportunity for unscrupulous women to trade on the credulity of ocean travellers.

More frequently than in any other city have cases come to light of young girls masquerading in full regiments, walking about calmly and cheerfully in broad daylight, mixing with and completely deceiving even serving soldiers themselves.

ASTONISHED TOMMIES. The American military camp at Knotty Ash has been the scene, perhaps, the most daring of this kind of adventure.

More by accident than anything else, the deception was eventually discovered, and the sex of the recruit disclosed to the great astonishment and wonder of her erstwhile "comrades in arms."

Equally audacious was a young woman, Laura Victoria Beak, who, at the military camp at Knotty Ash, was sentenced to four months' imprisonment for the unauthorized wearing of a military uniform and the Military Medal ribbon.

Particular interest attaches to the information which led to the detection of the young woman in uniform. The Liverpool police have been receiving complaints that returning Colonial soldiers were in possession of Colonial uniforms.

The methods employed follow upon the line of the confidence trick, and, according to the police, the soldiers and their dependants were all victimized by a "young woman in uniform." The landings were the scene of her operations.

Needles to say, the disguised swindler was never again seen by the passengers, who had to content themselves with reporting the matter to the stage police. Now the police are unable to secure the evidence necessary to enable them to pursue their investigations and secure convictions for the victims are on the other side of the ocean. Their only hope is that the girl in uniform will again succumb to the temptation to resume her exploits when she may be caught in the meshes of the police net.

LIVERPOOL, like all great seaports, has always been a popular haunt of women of an unscrupulous type. Particularly in the case today, the presence of so many American soldiers and sailors in the city, the constant stream of home-coming and returning troops, has attracted to Merseyside undesirable women from far and near, who prey particularly upon wealthy Colonials.

Their favorite trick is to assume a semi-nurse's uniform, consisting of a long cloak, with something resembling as nearly as possible the nurse's cap. It is a neat, attractive dress, and one which makes a strong sentimental appeal to the man back from the front. It gives, too, the necessary suggestion of cleanliness and respectability—a sort of guarantee to the lonely stranger that he will be safe in the company of a disciple of Florence Nightingale.

There must have been hundreds of soldiers trapped in Liverpool in this simple and heartily enjoyed. The serving of the victims are too ashamed to come forward to enable the police to trap the offenders.

LADIES' AID AT HOME.

The ladies' aid of Centenary church was at home to the ladies of the congregation in the church parlour last night. The invitations which were sent out were in amusing metrical form and were to the effect that each guest must measure her waist and bring with her inches in her waist measurement. As a result the sum of $36 was realized.

COST OF HIGH LIVING.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—That the public is not using good common sense in its purchase of food and is taking the high-priced foods largely because they have more money to spend than ever before is the belief of the United States, as compared with white wheat flour. Rye flour is obtainable here around $8.25 in small lots, against $13.50 to $14 for wheat flour. The cost of rye flour, however, is the same as wheat bread. Some try to explain this by saying that it takes more rye flour to make a loaf than it does of wheat, as the latter will absorb more water.

Housewives might reduce their cost of supplies by using more rye flour, but they prefer the white bread. Even the foreigners who were brought up on rye bread in Europe after getting a taste of white bread in the United States, stick to the latter. Rye is selling at $1 to $1.60 over the price of wheat. Supplies of rye are 17,246,000 bushels, as shown by the visible supply at the beginning of the week, the largest known at this season, and compare with 6,994,000 bushels last year. The bulk of rye is shipped to Minneapolis and Duluth, Chicago having 1,650,000 bushels, against 439,000 bushels last year.

Dandruff Soon Ruins the Hair

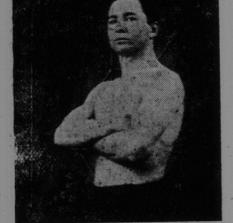

Girls—if you want plenty of thick beautiful glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't. It doesn't do much good to try to stuff and wash it out. The only way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this get also more four ounces of ordinary liquid arvo; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most of it will have dissolved and will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvo at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

GREENE DEFEATS BROOKS IN FAST WRESTLING BOUT

Good Bout Staged in Wrestling Revival in St. John—Local Boy Gives Good Account of Himself

That wrestling is due to become a popular sport in St. John was evidenced last evening at a revival bout held in St. Andrew's rink between Bridson Greene, champion welterweight of the New England States, and George Brooks of this city. The bout was won by Greene in straight falls, the first coming after thirty-four minutes of wrestling and the second in twenty-four minutes.

In a preliminary bout Courley and Latham wrestled for fifteen minutes to a draw, although the former had an edge on his opponent. With more experience and training these boys should put up a good exhibition.

When the main bout was called there was great enthusiasm manifested and all eagerly awaited the arrival of the contestants. Brooks first appeared from the dressing room and was greeted with cheers. Greene followed and was also welcomed. After they had been introduced by George Laird, the referee, the men shook hands and the bout was on.

From the start it was apparent that Greene had an edge on his opponent and showed that he is a clever exponent of the art. He was quick to obtain holds and seemed to have a great variety at his disposal. On the other hand Brooks showed wonderful strength and his leg work was very effective. He, however, showed lack of experience and on more than one occasion made the fatal error of taking his eyes off his wary opponent, with a result that he got himself in bad fixes. Several times Brooks secured toe holds, which seemed to be his special offensive attack, but Greene worked slowly and carefully and succeeded in breaking them. At another time Brooks secured a head scissors, which must have caused Greene some anxiety for a time, but like the other efforts of Brooks it went for naught.

A short time after George Parker, the official time keeper, announced that thirty minutes had expired, Greene secured an arm scissors and gradually forced Brooks' shoulders to the mat for the first fall.

After twenty minutes rest the men went at it again. Brooks took the initiative and went after Greene, evidently determined to get his man in short order. He secured several good holds, but Greene succeeded in breaking them and in turn got his opponent in some bad positions. Greene's superior knowledge and science was telling and he was evidently in better physical condition than Brooks, with a result that the end was soon in sight. After twenty-three minutes Greene secured a head scissors and arm hold and again forced Brooks to take the count.

At the conclusion of the bout Greene agreed to meet any man in the game providing he was within ten pounds of his own weight. He was given a great ovation as he walked to the dressing room. Brooks deserves credit for his excellent showing. He is a game, clean wrestler and with more experience should develop into a clever mat artist. Greene is one of the best wrestlers ever seen in this city and will undoubtedly become very popular with local fans.

Wilde-Sharkey.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Jimmy Wilde, British flyweight champion, who recently arrived in New York, will make his first American appearance in the ring against Joe Sharkey, of New York, on December 6 at Milwaukee, if plans announced today by Otto Borchert, president of an athletic club of Milwaukee are carried out. Borchert said Wilde had agreed to fight before his club for $11,000 and that Sharkey, whom he had selected to meet the British champion, had consented to make 116 pounds at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the proposed ten-round bout.

The Series Money Lost.

New York, Nov. 19.—A special meeting of the directors of the American League to consider the failure of the National Commission to award third place world series money to the New York Americans, has been called for here today by the majority directors. These are Jacob Ruppert of New York, Harry Frazee of Boston and Charles Comiskey of Chicago. The Detroit club had protested against

New York's third place position, contending that the games Carl Mays pitched should not be counted. New York was officially awarded the place at a special meeting of the directors, who adopted the resolution authorizing to pay the Yankees players their share of the world series money.

Ruppert said that August Herrmann, chairman of the commission, formally acknowledged receipt of the resolution from the president's private collection at Frazee, secretary of the meeting, but made no comment upon it.

NEW CREATURES AT THE ZOO.

(London Times.)

The Zoological Gardens have quickly resumed their normal appearance. An unusually beautiful floral display, much paint and regravelling, gifts and loans from the president's private collection at Woburn Abbey, and a fair number of arrivals from overseas have all contributed to a pleasant air of prosperity. The regular visitor and the zealous zoologist will still see many gaps in the collection. It cannot be expected that these will be filled until the conditions of transport are more normal, and the desire to "profit" has disappeared from the tropical jungle. None the less there is now a good collection at Regent's Park, more representative and richer in rare animals than any other menagerie in Europe. Of special interest are a number of young animals.

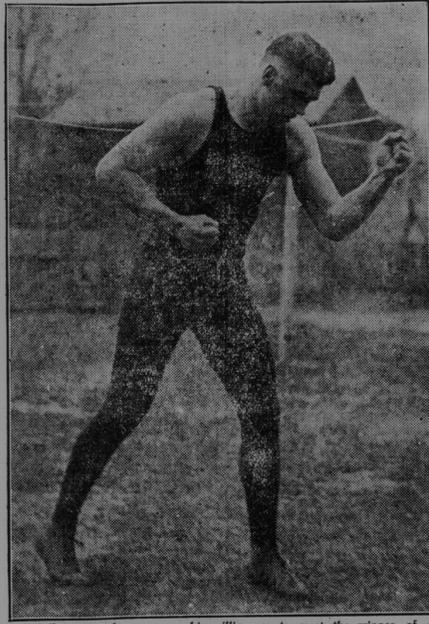

The place of honor must be given to a young male African hippopotamus, born in the Zoological Gardens at Amsterdam three years ago, and sold to the society at the same price as it would have fetched before the war. It came direct from Amsterdam to the Thames in charge of a keeper, Sergeant Bowman, who gained the military medal at Kemmel Hill. Bowman made friends with the new hippo from the journey. It now follows him like a dog, and is already at home in its new quarters, opening its mouth to beg for buns like an old inhabitant.

The Duke of Bedford has sent two adult and four yearling llamas from Woburn. They are being trained to pull children in governess carts, the four yearlings to make a team. The latter disapproved themselves in the Peace procession by refusing to keep their distance from the other animals, and ultimately lying down on the path.

These beautiful creatures cannot be distinguished from the Indian hunting-leopard, and belong to the same species. They are quite harmless to man, and become very tame in captivity, although they have not been trained in Africa as they have been by the native potentates of India from time immemorial.

EXCLUDE ALIENS FOR THREE YEARS

British Ruling Regarding Return of Enemies to Britain

London, Nov. 19.—When the Aliens' Restriction Bill was before the Commons a stiff fight was made to secure that enemy aliens shall not be permitted to return for seven years without the Home Secretary's permission. Two years was suggested by the government. A. Hopkins, a former soldier, protested against the perpetual hatred of Germans, who, he said, had put a magnificent fight of over four years, and on some occasions had nearly beaten us. Sir John Butcher expressed amazement and disgust at this speech. General Page Croft said that in Manchester today the man who had been Austrian vice-consul before the war, and fought against us as a colonel of the Austrian army, had now returned there in a permanent business capacity. Eventually a compromise of three years was agreed to.

NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY

The lives and customs of the Indians were illustrated last evening in the Natural History Society by the juniors of the organization. A series of papers, tableaux and an exhibition of relics formed a programme which afforded much enjoyment to those present. Mrs. H. Lawrence presided, and the programme was in charge of Miss Marjorie Manning.

The first paper, read by Miss Edith Patterson, told of the antiquity of the Indians of North America and described their manners and customs, how the wigwags were built, what was the correct etiquette to be strictly observed, how the meals were cooked and what food was eaten and how the utensils were devised. It also told of the division of labor in the Indian household, where the more dangerous duties fell to the lot of the man and the safer but often arduous tasks were done by the woman. Two tableaux illustrated this paper. The tableaux were shown in most spectacular manner behind a gilded frame with the full limelight of the reflectoscope upon them. Some very striking effects were produced when firelight was shown in the tableaux. The first tableau, in which Jean Young, Una Wilson, Katherine Wilkins and Gertrude Hare took part, showed Indian women dressing deer skins. In the second, Emma Wilson, May Jarvis, Jean Young, Jean Calkin and Lucille Wilson showed a captive facing his captors in defiant attitude. The second paper was read by Miss Jean Wilkins. It dealt with the strange games, songs and dances of the Indians and was illustrated by two more tableaux. The first of which showed the Indian maiden playing the Adeste game. Those in this tableau were Una Wilson, May Jarvis, Katherine Wilkins and Jean Calkin. The next represented the medicine man at the sick man's bedside and was illustrated by Marion Currie, Chrissie Higgins and Jean Young. The last paper, which told of many Indian myths and legends and related how many local names were given, was read by Miss Marjorie Manning. It told how the Indians explained every phenomenon by some quaint legend. A tableau entitled the story-teller, in which Emma Wilson, May Jarvis, Katherine
