

GOODSPEED ON THE STAND.

Tells the Same Terrible Story Without Variation.

Stands Cross-examination Well, but Makes One Bad Contradiction—Mr. Mullin Protests Against Him as a Witness.

"Higgins said he would shoot me on the spot unless I took a hand in it," and later, "Higgins said he would kill me if I told on him." was the burden of Fred Goodspeed's evidence Thursday afternoon as he stood in the witness box and told straightly, unhesitatingly, with clear unembarrassed voice, the story of the brutal murder in which he is charged with being an accessory.

All the details of the crime were given as coolly and in practically the same words as at the inquest, and in the police court. With the same round-eyed, convincing manner, he told of the walk out to the park, of the sudden shots fired, of Doherty's pitiful pleas for mercy, of the savage blows raised on his prostrate form by Higgins, of the covering of the mutilated body, of the return home, of the hiding of the fatal revolver, and in everything varied not a word from his previous depositions.

And for nearly two hours he stood under the fire of Mr. Mullin's searching cross-examination, and gave quick answer to sharp question after question without a trace of confusion. Nothing he had given in direct examination was shaken, although some new evidence of a dubious character was elicited and he was involved in at least one serious contradiction. This was when after declaring that he had not seen Higgins on the morning of the Monday the body was found, he was forced to admit that he had seen him, and that he had walked out to the park with him while Higgins looked at the place where the body of the victim lay. Counsel also confused him somewhat regarding the time consumed in the various actions of the day.

But with these exceptions the evidence of the principal crown witness was substantially maintained. The cross-examination is not through, however, but will resume at the opening of the court at 10 o'clock this morning.

EVIDENCE UNDER PROTEST.

Goodspeed's evidence was received only after vigorous protest by Mr. Mullin, who on technical grounds argued against the hearing of an accomplice under indictment unless other corroborating testimony was forthcoming, which he insisted was not the case. He occupied nearly two hours in arguing his contention, which was finally overruled by Judge Landry, who allowed the witness to be heard.

The rest of the evidence was not of direct importance, consisting largely of the circumstances surrounding the identification of the body and the finding of the revolver. More witnesses who saw Higgins with a revolver previous to the murder were also heard.

The crown's case will undoubtedly be closed today, and the defence will open, though how far it will proceed will depend upon the number of witnesses to be presented by Mr. Mullin. He has some important evidence to present, but, as formerly, is exceedingly reticent regarding the nature of it. It is believed, however, that he will conclude the reception of evidence, leaving Saturday for the closing addresses, the summing up, and the deliberations of the jury.

INTERESTED CROWDS.

That the interest in the case is growing toward its conclusion was evidenced by the crowded court yesterday. During the afternoon every spare bit of space was occupied by the crowd hundreds outside the railing, while benches from all over the building were carried in for the privileged visitors within.

Mrs. Higgins and her daughter and Mrs. Goodspeed occupied their usual places and sat through the proceedings quietly. Mrs. Doherty, who yesterday afternoon, broke down under the strain of listening to the heart rending details of her son's murder, and sobbed hysterically, her husband, who sat by her side, tried in vain to soothe her, without success, and before the proceedings were half over she was obliged to leave the room.

HIGGINS SERIOUS.

Higgins grows a little more serious and the lines around him tighten. He has lost none of his coolness and watches every bit of evidence with calm interest, but he does not smile so carelessly as he did at first, and at times his frequent change of position, slightly worried expression and unsteady, wandering fingers betray a growing nervousness. During Goodspeed's cross-examination he consulted with his counsel with earnest volubility. He watches his client's fight with personal interest now instead of his former wildly bored expression.

His laugh of incredulous contempt was ready on several occasions when Goodspeed gave bits of evidence of a more than usually damaging nature. As the first witness at the morning session Detective Patrick Killen, was recalled, and he told of being given two cartridges left in the box from which Higgins purchased the balance in A. Hunter's shop. The boy Sharkey gave to him, but he did not see him take them from the box.

BULLETS WERE 33.

A. Hunter, gunsmith, called and sworn, was shown the bullets found in Doherty's body and said they belonged to a .38 calibre fire cartridge. The revolver produced was a .38 long asked Higgins to look at it. He looked and said it was Doherty's.

Then witness and Sergt. Kilpatrick lifted the body up and Higgins said, "That's Willie Doherty, all right." The same night Higgins told witness he would be his cousin to help and the murderer. He told me he had last seen Doherty alive at a quarter past eleven the preceding Friday. He said and Fred Goodspeed stayed in the old graveyard all the afternoon. At a quarter past eleven he saw Doherty going up Sydney street with a parcel, he supposed it was his father's dinner. Cross-examined by Mr. Mullin, witness said he had no talk with Goodspeed at any time after the arrest. The night the body was found Goodspeed came to, but witness didn't see Goodspeed go in. Having made his statement Goodspeed adhered to it until after his arrest.

To the judge—it was in the presence of both witnesses and Goodspeed, that Mr. Doherty told witness of seeing his son last when he brought his dinner to him Friday noon. The boys knew this was a lie, and they were sworn.

To Mr. Mullin—When the face was washed off I distinctly recognized the boy as that of Doherty.

MR. MULLIN OBJECTS.

Mr. Mullin here asked that an order be issued to bring Fred Goodspeed from prison into court.

MR. MULLIN OBJECTS.

Mr. Mullin objected, submitting that a prisoner indicted as an accomplice in connection with a crime should be called as a witness. He cited legal authorities supporting his contentions, and said his objection was made with the knowledge that the matter rested largely in the discretion of the judge.

A witness so testifying, he said, would have a terror held over him which would tend to make him fix the crime more closely upon his associate, where if he were pardoned or a nolle prosequi entered he would have no such inducement.

MR. MULLIN OBJECTS.

Goodspeed was again removed from the court room.

Mr. Mullin further claimed that it was for the prosecution to show that no inducement had been held out.

Judge Landry ruled that the witness should be heard, and Goodspeed again took the stand, and Mr. McKewen began his examination.

"I will be 15 the 14th of next April," said the witness. "I live at 48 Mecklenburg street. I knew Willie Doherty about two years, and Frank Higgins about the same time. I only came home July 10th from Salem, in the States, where I was working in a cotton mill. I remember Friday, Aug. 1. The night before I was home, and on Friday morning I got up at 10.30 and went up around the Opera House, where I met Frank Higgins about 11.30. I went home to dinner at 12 and came up to the old graveyard about 5 or 10 minutes to one. Frank Higgins and Willie Doherty were there. I did not expect to meet them.

HE MEETS HIGGINS.

There was nobody else there at the time, but I saw Harry Kelly and Clifford King, who I had been there before about a quarter of an hour before they came. They stayed about 20 or 25 minutes and then went away the same way they came. I stayed a couple of minutes or so, when Frank Higgins said: 'Let's go to the park and get a feed of berries.'

Continuing, the witness told of their progress down Brunsell street and out to the park, where he saw a fellow on the lane who asked if there were any girls in the Park. I said, 'A lot of girls like you could get a girl all right.' The boys passed a few minutes and went in the main entrance of the Park. They walked at an ordinary gait and didn't hurry. They followed the main road out as far as the path to the bear den.

The plan of the Park drawn by Mr. Knox was here produced, and on it the witness pointed out their route.

IN THE PARK.

"We went down to have a look at the bears," continued the witness. "Higgins went to the right and I went to the left. We saw him next down by the fence that runs along the foot of the hill. We followed along the fence until we came to the top of the hill, where we went up over the big hill by Connell's house, picking berries as we went. I was picking berries at the time. We brought up at the end of Lover's Lane, behind the Park.

On the way out Willie Doherty and Frank Higgins were talking about the place they had robbed in the Park. They were talking about hypnotism and seemed on the best of terms.

THE MURDER.

As we were walking out near the path on the burnt land back of the Park, Doherty and I were ahead and about five feet apart. Frank Higgins was picking berries behind us. I was picking away when I heard four shots go off and Willie roared out: 'My God, Higie, you've shot me.' I ran up the hill a little, about ten feet.

Before the shots were fired I saw no revolver. When I heard them I was scared and I ran up the hill, but I got in the same direction as the two of them and caught Willie Doherty. He never saw him till he passed me. When Higgins caught him Willie turned around. I don't think Frank took hold of Willie, but he raised his arm to hit him with the revolver. Willie grabbed hold of it and then sank down on his side and said:

"If you get a doctor, so help me God I'll swear it was an accident."

MR. MULLIN OBJECTS.

Goodspeed was again removed from the court room.

Mr. Mullin further claimed that it was for the prosecution to show that no inducement had been held out.

Judge Landry ruled that the witness should be heard, and Goodspeed again took the stand, and Mr. McKewen began his examination.

"I will be 15 the 14th of next April," said the witness. "I live at 48 Mecklenburg street. I knew Willie Doherty about two years, and Frank Higgins about the same time. I only came home July 10th from Salem, in the States, where I was working in a cotton mill. I remember Friday, Aug. 1. The night before I was home, and on Friday morning I got up at 10.30 and went up around the Opera House, where I met Frank Higgins about 11.30. I went home to dinner at 12 and came up to the old graveyard about 5 or 10 minutes to one. Frank Higgins and Willie Doherty were there. I did not expect to meet them.

HE MEETS HIGGINS.

There was nobody else there at the time, but I saw Harry Kelly and Clifford King, who I had been there before about a quarter of an hour before they came. They stayed about 20 or 25 minutes and then went away the same way they came. I stayed a couple of minutes or so, when Frank Higgins said: 'Let's go to the park and get a feed of berries.'

Continuing, the witness told of their progress down Brunsell street and out to the park, where he saw a fellow on the lane who asked if there were any girls in the Park. I said, 'A lot of girls like you could get a girl all right.' The boys passed a few minutes and went in the main entrance of the Park. They walked at an ordinary gait and didn't hurry. They followed the main road out as far as the path to the bear den.

The plan of the Park drawn by Mr. Knox was here produced, and on it the witness pointed out their route.

IN THE PARK.

"We went down to have a look at the bears," continued the witness. "Higgins went to the right and I went to the left. We saw him next down by the fence that runs along the foot of the hill. We followed along the fence until we came to the top of the hill, where we went up over the big hill by Connell's house, picking berries as we went. I was picking berries at the time. We brought up at the end of Lover's Lane, behind the Park.

On the way out Willie Doherty and Frank Higgins were talking about the place they had robbed in the Park. They were talking about hypnotism and seemed on the best of terms.

THE MURDER.

As we were walking out near the path on the burnt land back of the Park, Doherty and I were ahead and about five feet apart. Frank Higgins was picking berries behind us. I was picking away when I heard four shots go off and Willie roared out: 'My God, Higie, you've shot me.' I ran up the hill a little, about ten feet.

Before the shots were fired I saw no revolver. When I heard them I was scared and I ran up the hill, but I got in the same direction as the two of them and caught Willie Doherty. He never saw him till he passed me. When Higgins caught him Willie turned around. I don't think Frank took hold of Willie, but he raised his arm to hit him with the revolver. Willie grabbed hold of it and then sank down on his side and said:

"If you get a doctor, so help me God I'll swear it was an accident."

MR. MULLIN OBJECTS.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap' and the text 'Best for every day of any Grocer'.

Advertisement for 'You Can Buy' soap, featuring a box of 'Surprise Soap

WHO IS THE MURDERER?

Higgins Takes the Stand and Swears Goodspeed Killed Doherty.

Prisoner Turns Tables on Crown's Witness—A Dramatic Scene—Higgins Tells Straight-Forward Story and Sticks to It—Goodspeed Confused in Cross-examination.

Then they went up to the... Higgins the following day. This Sunday in the tanyard. This morning. In the afternoon... Higgins while they were there. Was on till about 9.30.

CONTRADICTS.

Goodspeed was on the stand and gave his testimony, after which the attorney general addressed the jury, saying that it was only fair to the other prisoner to say that he had not yet been heard. He said it was Higgins' privilege to speak, though he was not bound to do so. In the meantime, he said, the crown was willing to accept Goodspeed's evidence. Mr. Mullin stated that he would advise his client to make no statement at that time.

HE WAS AFRAID.

What reason did you have for not telling of the murder before you did? asked Mr. McKewen. "Frank Higgins said he would kill me if I told and I was afraid he would get me before I was arrested. He told me this afternoon of the murder, and told me to say he was in the tanyard on Sunday night and gave me the name of the man who was with him. He said he was in the tanyard on Sunday night and gave me the name of the man who was with him. He said he was in the tanyard on Sunday night and gave me the name of the man who was with him."

HE HAD FORGOTTEN.

"Then when you said you stayed there all the evening you stated what was not true," said Mr. Mullin. "I didn't remember then," was the answer. "I remember now that I was in the tanyard Sunday night and gave Higgins some candy. I stayed in the tanyard on Sunday night and gave Higgins some candy. I stayed in the tanyard on Sunday night and gave Higgins some candy. I stayed in the tanyard on Sunday night and gave Higgins some candy."

WITNESS STILL DENIES.

Mr. Mullin resuming, witness swore positively that he did not meet Frank Higgins by the Opera House that Friday evening and asked him to go out to the park and set fire to the body. "I never said this," he said. "I never said that I did not go out that night. I was not at the Opera House that night."

LONG STRAIN OVER.

It was now a quarter to one and the little chap, after a most trying inquisition of two hours and a half stepped down from the stand with an air of relief and was taken back to his cell. Chief Clark was then called and asked about Goodspeed's confession, swore he had warned him not to speak and declared that no inducements had been held out.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At the opening of the afternoon session Mr. Mullin requested that Goodspeed be released for consideration. He might question him further about the Kennedy burglary. He wished to ask him if he had not told a certain person about it, and later he intended to produce this person as a witness.

GOODSPEED CAUGHT IN A LIE.

"You stated this morning," said Mr. Mullin, "that you and Holm did not break into Kennedy's store." "Yes, sir," was the sharp answer. "Did you break into it with Holm?" "Yes, sir," came the unexpected reply.

THE CASE OF THE DEFENSE.

In introduction he referred to the momentous case under consideration one of the most dreadful in the history of the province. As to who was the perpetrator of the crime it was the jury's duty to decide. The issue of life and death was in their hands. In outlining his course of defense, he told of attending the coroner's inquest, representing the prisoner at the bar.

"Help, Higgle, help!" I heard Willie Doherty cry as the shots went off," said Frank Higgins on Friday afternoon as he told his story of the ghastly murder. "Then I ran up as fast as I could and saw him lying on the ground, his breast and stomach heaving up and down, while Fred Goodspeed went out with the revolver in his hand, stood by the body's side."

Never in the criminal history of the province was situation more thrillingly dramatic than that afforded to the wide-eyed, breathless crowd that thronged the court room at the time. They crushed forward eagerly, gasping in the close atmosphere as they listened with intent stillness. The judge impassively leaned back in his great chair. Around the fronting table counsel in the case and visiting lawyers sat quietly with assumed indifference. No questions were needed and the stillness of the room was broken only by the rasping monotone of the witness' voice and the nervous rustling of pencils and quickly turned sheets of paper.

GOODSPEED CONTRADICTED.

The difference between the two stories began when he told of the three sitting down on a hill about a half mile back of the Park, an occurrence which Goodspeed, in answer to repeated questions, had strenuously denied, insisting that there had been no rest of this kind.

CRYS FOR HELP.

"Then I went into the bushes and had been there only a few minutes when I heard four or five shots go off and heard Doherty cry 'Help, Higgle, help!' I took it out of my pocket and gave it to him. He pointed it at me and at Doherty and asked Doherty: 'What do you think of the things in there?'"

GOODSPEED SHOOTED.

I asked Goodspeed if he did the shooting and he said yes. "I asked him how he did it," he said. "Doherty asked me for the revolver and I refused to give it to him. Doherty tried to take it and I pointed it at him, not intending to shoot, and he turned and ran away to get a rock to throw at me and I fired at him as he was running."

ROCKS ON THE DEAD FACE.

Then he picked up two big stones and pegged them, one after the other, on Willie's head. I told him to stop, and then I helped him get sticks and brush and long grass to cover him up. I picked up a piece of paper and hung it on a tree near the body so that it might be discovered. Then we came to town, down Lover's Lane, out to Gilbert's Lane to the C. R. track, across the Marsh Bridge and along Erin street. Here Goodspeed offered me the revolver again and I told him I would not take it, that he could keep it now. He said he would chuck it in Marsh Creek, and I said "all right."

THROW REVOLVER IN CREEK.

Goodspeed asked me to walk to the creek with him and we went to Sandy Bank and down to the edge of the water, where he chucked the revolver in. We both came up along Ekinon street, in along the track to the foot of Brunswick street, then up to Clarence street, where I left him and went home. He went on up the track.

TO SET DOHERTY ON FIRE.

After supper I saw Goodspeed about 7.30, coming down Union Alley, and he asked me to go out and set Doherty on fire. "I said I wouldn't, and he asked me to come on out to the Park anyhow. I said I would but that I wouldn't go near Doherty. We went out Waterloo street and Gilbert's Lane to the Park, going by the refreshment house and out Lover's Lane. I waited in the lane till Goodspeed went out to see the body, and came back and said it was all right. Then we went back to town by the straight in the tanyard and to the graveyard about nine o'clock. John Goodspeed and Will Kelly joined us about 9.30."

AT THE MORNING SESSION.

When Frank Higgins walked carelessly into the court this morning the room was already filled by the crowd who were prepared for a session of more than usual interest. The opening formalities over the cross-examination of Fred Goodspeed were resumed. He swore positively that neither Mr. Morrill nor anybody else had been talking to him since he gave evidence the day before.

As he stepped into the dock his face, pale as ever, was serenely confident and betrayed no nervousness. But the arteries in his neck throbbed flutteringly and his hand as he grasped the outstretched Bible, trembled a little. He looked the administrator of the oath straight in the eyes as he kissed the book.

Then he told in carefully selected words, spoken with a rapidity that took the stenographers off their feet, of meeting Goodspeed and Doherty in the tanyard Friday, of Goodspeed suggesting that they go out to the Park and shoot birds and squirrels, after he had found that Higgins had the revolver with him. The walk out Gilbert's Lane was described exactly as by Goodspeed, and his account of the route through the Park differed but little from the previous testimony.

GOODSPEED CONTRADICTED.

The difference between the two stories began when he told of the three sitting down on a hill about a half mile back of the Park, an occurrence which Goodspeed, in answer to repeated questions, had strenuously denied, insisting that there had been no rest of this kind.

CRYS FOR HELP.

"Then I went into the bushes and had been there only a few minutes when I heard four or five shots go off and heard Doherty cry 'Help, Higgle, help!' I took it out of my pocket and gave it to him. He pointed it at me and at Doherty and asked Doherty: 'What do you think of the things in there?'"

GOODSPEED SHOOTED.

I asked Goodspeed if he did the shooting and he said yes. "I asked him how he did it," he said. "Doherty asked me for the revolver and I refused to give it to him. Doherty tried to take it and I pointed it at him, not intending to shoot, and he turned and ran away to get a rock to throw at me and I fired at him as he was running."

ROCKS ON THE DEAD FACE.

Then he picked up two big stones and pegged them, one after the other, on Willie's head. I told him to stop, and then I helped him get sticks and brush and long grass to cover him up. I picked up a piece of paper and hung it on a tree near the body so that it might be discovered. Then we came to town, down Lover's Lane, out to Gilbert's Lane to the C. R. track, across the Marsh Bridge and along Erin street. Here Goodspeed offered me the revolver again and I told him I would not take it, that he could keep it now. He said he would chuck it in Marsh Creek, and I said "all right."

THROW REVOLVER IN CREEK.

Goodspeed asked me to walk to the creek with him and we went to Sandy Bank and down to the edge of the water, where he chucked the revolver in. We both came up along Ekinon street, in along the track to the foot of Brunswick street, then up to Clarence street, where I left him and went home. He went on up the track.

TO SET DOHERTY ON FIRE.

After supper I saw Goodspeed about 7.30, coming down Union Alley, and he asked me to go out and set Doherty on fire. "I said I wouldn't, and he asked me to come on out to the Park anyhow. I said I would but that I wouldn't go near Doherty. We went out Waterloo street and Gilbert's Lane to the Park, going by the refreshment house and out Lover's Lane. I waited in the lane till Goodspeed went out to see the body, and came back and said it was all right. Then we went back to town by the straight in the tanyard and to the graveyard about nine o'clock. John Goodspeed and Will Kelly joined us about 9.30."

As he stepped into the dock his face, pale as ever, was serenely confident and betrayed no nervousness. But the arteries in his neck throbbed flutteringly and his hand as he grasped the outstretched Bible, trembled a little. He looked the administrator of the oath straight in the eyes as he kissed the book.

Then he told in carefully selected words, spoken with a rapidity that took the stenographers off their feet, of meeting Goodspeed and Doherty in the tanyard Friday, of Goodspeed suggesting that they go out to the Park and shoot birds and squirrels, after he had found that Higgins had the revolver with him. The walk out Gilbert's Lane was described exactly as by Goodspeed, and his account of the route through the Park differed but little from the previous testimony.

GOODSPEED CONTRADICTED.

The difference between the two stories began when he told of the three sitting down on a hill about a half mile back of the Park, an occurrence which Goodspeed, in answer to repeated questions, had strenuously denied, insisting that there had been no rest of this kind.

CRYS FOR HELP.

"Then I went into the bushes and had been there only a few minutes when I heard four or five shots go off and heard Doherty cry 'Help, Higgle, help!' I took it out of my pocket and gave it to him. He pointed it at me and at Doherty and asked Doherty: 'What do you think of the things in there?'"

GOODSPEED SHOOTED.

I asked Goodspeed if he did the shooting and he said yes. "I asked him how he did it," he said. "Doherty asked me for the revolver and I refused to give it to him. Doherty tried to take it and I pointed it at him, not intending to shoot, and he turned and ran away to get a rock to throw at me and I fired at him as he was running."

ROCKS ON THE DEAD FACE.

Then he picked up two big stones and pegged them, one after the other, on Willie's head. I told him to stop, and then I helped him get sticks and brush and long grass to cover him up. I picked up a piece of paper and hung it on a tree near the body so that it might be discovered. Then we came to town, down Lover's Lane, out to Gilbert's Lane to the C. R. track, across the Marsh Bridge and along Erin street. Here Goodspeed offered me the revolver again and I told him I would not take it, that he could keep it now. He said he would chuck it in Marsh Creek, and I said "all right."

THROW REVOLVER IN CREEK.

Goodspeed asked me to walk to the creek with him and we went to Sandy Bank and down to the edge of the water, where he chucked the revolver in. We both came up along Ekinon street, in along the track to the foot of Brunswick street, then up to Clarence street, where I left him and went home. He went on up the track.

TO SET DOHERTY ON FIRE.

After supper I saw Goodspeed about 7.30, coming down Union Alley, and he asked me to go out and set Doherty on fire. "I said I wouldn't, and he asked me to come on out to the Park anyhow. I said I would but that I wouldn't go near Doherty. We went out Waterloo street and Gilbert's Lane to the Park, going by the refreshment house and out Lover's Lane. I waited in the lane till Goodspeed went out to see the body, and came back and said it was all right. Then we went back to town by the straight in the tanyard and to the graveyard about nine o'clock. John Goodspeed and Will Kelly joined us about 9.30."

As he stepped into the dock his face, pale as ever, was serenely confident and betrayed no nervousness. But the arteries in his neck throbbed flutteringly and his hand as he grasped the outstretched Bible, trembled a little. He looked the administrator of the oath straight in the eyes as he kissed the book.

Then he told in carefully selected words, spoken with a rapidity that took the stenographers off their feet, of meeting Goodspeed and Doherty in the tanyard Friday, of Goodspeed suggesting that they go out to the Park and shoot birds and squirrels, after he had found that Higgins had the revolver with him. The walk out Gilbert's Lane was described exactly as by Goodspeed, and his account of the route through the Park differed but little from the previous testimony.

GOODSPEED CONTRADICTED.

The difference between the two stories began when he told of the three sitting down on a hill about a half mile back of the Park, an occurrence which Goodspeed, in answer to repeated questions, had strenuously denied, insisting that there had been no rest of this kind.

CRYS FOR HELP.

"Then I went into the bushes and had been there only a few minutes when I heard four or five shots go off and heard Doherty cry 'Help, Higgle, help!' I took it out of my pocket and gave it to him. He pointed it at me and at Doherty and asked Doherty: 'What do you think of the things in there?'"

GOODSPEED SHOOTED.

I asked Goodspeed if he did the shooting and he said yes. "I asked him how he did it," he said. "Doherty asked me for the revolver and I refused to give it to him. Doherty tried to take it and I pointed it at him, not intending to shoot, and he turned and ran away to get a rock to throw at me and I fired at him as he was running."

ROCKS ON THE DEAD FACE.

Then he picked up two big stones and pegged them, one after the other, on Willie's head. I told him to stop, and then I helped him get sticks and brush and long grass to cover him up. I picked up a piece of paper and hung it on a tree near the body so that it might be discovered. Then we came to town, down Lover's Lane, out to Gilbert's Lane to the C. R. track, across the Marsh Bridge and along Erin street. Here Goodspeed offered me the revolver again and I told him I would not take it, that he could keep it now. He said he would chuck it in Marsh Creek, and I said "all right."

THROW REVOLVER IN CREEK.

Goodspeed asked me to walk to the creek with him and we went to Sandy Bank and down to the edge of the water, where he chucked the revolver in. We both came up along Ekinon street, in along the track to the foot of Brunswick street, then up to Clarence street, where I left him and went home. He went on up the track.

TO SET DOHERTY ON FIRE.

After supper I saw Goodspeed about 7.30, coming down Union Alley, and he asked me to go out and set Doherty on fire. "I said I wouldn't, and he asked me to come on out to the Park anyhow. I said I would but that I wouldn't go near Doherty. We went out Waterloo street and Gilbert's Lane to the Park, going by the refreshment house and out Lover's Lane. I waited in the lane till Goodspeed went out to see the body, and came back and said it was all right. Then we went back to town by the straight in the tanyard and to the graveyard about nine o'clock. John Goodspeed and Will Kelly joined us about 9.30."

As he stepped into the dock his face, pale as ever, was serenely confident and betrayed no nervousness. But the arteries in his neck throbbed flutteringly and his hand as he grasped the outstretched Bible, trembled a little. He looked the administrator of the oath straight in the eyes as he kissed the book.

Then he told in carefully selected words, spoken with a rapidity that took the stenographers off their feet, of meeting Goodspeed and Doherty in the tanyard Friday, of Goodspeed suggesting that they go out to the Park and shoot birds and squirrels, after he had found that Higgins had the revolver with him. The walk out Gilbert's Lane was described exactly as by Goodspeed, and his account of the route through the Park differed but little from the previous testimony.

GOODSPEED CONTRADICTED.

The difference between the two stories began when he told of the three sitting down on a hill about a half mile back of the Park, an occurrence which Goodspeed, in answer to repeated questions, had strenuously denied, insisting that there had been no rest of this kind.

CRYS FOR HELP.

"Then I went into the bushes and had been there only a few minutes when I heard four or five shots go off and heard Doherty cry 'Help, Higgle, help!' I took it out of my pocket and gave it to him. He pointed it at me and at Doherty and asked Doherty: 'What do you think of the things in there?'"

GOODSPEED SHOOTED.

I asked Goodspeed if he did the shooting and he said yes. "I asked him how he did it," he said. "Doherty asked me for the revolver and I refused to give it to him. Doherty tried to take it and I pointed it at him, not intending to shoot, and he turned and ran away to get a rock to throw at me and I fired at him as he was running."

ROCKS ON THE DEAD FACE.

Then he picked up two big stones and pegged them, one after the other, on Willie's head. I told him to stop, and then I helped him get sticks and brush and long grass to cover him up. I picked up a piece of paper and hung it on a tree near the body so that it might be discovered. Then we came to town, down Lover's Lane, out to Gilbert's Lane to the C. R. track, across the Marsh Bridge and along Erin street. Here Goodspeed offered me the revolver again and I told him I would not take it, that he could keep it now. He said he would chuck it in Marsh Creek, and I said "all right."

THROW REVOLVER IN CREEK.

Goodspeed asked me to walk to the creek with him and we went to Sandy Bank and down to the edge of the water, where he chucked the revolver in. We both came up along Ekinon street, in along the track to the foot of Brunswick street, then up to Clarence street, where I left him and went home. He went on up the track.

TO SET DOHERTY ON FIRE.

After supper I saw Goodspeed about 7.30, coming down Union Alley, and he asked me to go out and set Doherty on fire. "I said I wouldn't, and he asked me to come on out to the Park anyhow. I said I would but that I wouldn't go near Doherty. We went out Waterloo street and Gilbert's Lane to the Park, going by the refreshment house and out Lover's Lane. I waited in the lane till Goodspeed went out to see the body, and came back and said it was all right. Then we went back to town by the straight in the tanyard and to the graveyard about nine o'clock. John Goodspeed and Will Kelly joined us about 9.30."

As he stepped into the dock his face, pale as ever, was serenely confident and betrayed no nervousness. But the arteries in his neck throbbed flutteringly and his hand as he grasped the outstretched Bible, trembled a little. He looked the administrator of the oath straight in the eyes as he kissed the book.

Then he told in carefully selected words, spoken with a rapidity that took the stenographers off their feet, of meeting Goodspeed and Doherty in the tanyard Friday, of Goodspeed suggesting that they go out to the Park and shoot birds and squirrels, after he had found that Higgins had the revolver with him. The walk out Gilbert's Lane was described exactly as by Goodspeed, and his account of the route through the Park differed but little from the previous testimony.

GOODSPEED CONTRADICTED.

The difference between the two stories began when he told of the three sitting down on a hill about a half mile back of the Park, an occurrence which Goodspeed, in answer to repeated questions, had strenuously denied, insisting that there had been no rest of this kind.

CRYS FOR HELP.

"Then I went into the bushes and had been there only a few minutes when I heard four or five shots go off and heard Doherty cry 'Help, Higgle, help!' I took it out of my pocket and gave it to him. He pointed it at me and at Doherty and asked Doherty: 'What do you think of the things in there?'"

GOODSPEED SHOOTED.

I asked Goodspeed if he did the shooting and he said yes. "I asked him how he did it," he said. "Doherty asked me for the revolver and I refused to give it to him. Doherty tried to take it and I pointed it at him, not intending to shoot, and he turned and ran away to get a rock to throw at me and I fired at him as he was running."

ROCKS ON THE DEAD FACE.

Then he picked up two big stones and pegged them, one after the other, on Willie's head. I told him to stop, and then I helped him get sticks and brush and long grass to cover him up. I picked up a piece of paper and hung it on a tree near the body so that it might be discovered. Then we came to town, down Lover's Lane, out to Gilbert's Lane to the C. R. track, across the Marsh Bridge and along Erin street. Here Goodspeed offered me the revolver again and I told him I would not take it, that he could keep it now. He said he would chuck it in Marsh Creek, and I said "all right."

THROW REVOLVER IN CREEK.

Goodspeed asked me to walk to the creek with him and we went to Sandy Bank and down to the edge of the water, where he chucked the revolver in. We both came up along Ekinon street, in along the track to the foot of Brunswick street, then up to Clarence street, where I left him and went home. He went on up the track.

TO SET DOHERTY ON FIRE.

After supper I saw Goodspeed about 7.30, coming down Union Alley, and he asked me to go out and set Doherty on fire. "I said I wouldn't, and he asked me to come on out to the Park anyhow. I said I would but that I wouldn't go near Doherty. We went out Waterloo street and Gilbert's Lane to the Park, going by the refreshment house and out Lover's Lane. I waited in the lane till Goodspeed went out to see the body, and came back and said it was all right. Then we went back to town by the straight in the tanyard and to the graveyard about nine o'clock. John Goodspeed and Will Kelly joined us about 9.30."

As he stepped into the dock his face, pale as ever, was serenely confident and betrayed no nervousness. But the arteries in his neck throbbed flutteringly and his hand as he grasped the outstretched Bible, trembled a little. He looked the administrator of the oath straight in the eyes as he kissed the book.

Then he told in carefully selected words, spoken with a rapidity that took the stenographers off their feet, of meeting Goodspeed and Doherty in the tanyard Friday, of Goodspeed suggesting that they go out to the Park and shoot birds and squirrels, after he had found that Higgins had the revolver with him. The walk out Gilbert's Lane was described exactly as by Goodspeed, and his account of the route through the Park differed but little from the previous testimony.

GOODSPEED CONTRADICTED.

The difference between the two stories began when he told of the three sitting down on a hill about a half mile back of the Park, an occurrence which Goodspeed, in answer to repeated questions, had strenuously denied, insisting that there had been no rest of this kind.

CRYS FOR HELP.

"Then I went into the bushes and had been there only a few minutes when I heard four or five shots go off and heard Doherty cry 'Help, Higgle, help!' I took it out of my pocket and gave it to him. He pointed it at me and at Doherty and asked Doherty: 'What do you think of the things in there?'"

GOODSPEED SHOOTED.

I asked Goodspeed if he did the shooting and he said yes. "I asked him how he did it," he said. "Doherty asked me for the revolver and I refused to give it to him. Doherty tried to take it and I pointed it at him, not intending to shoot, and he turned and ran away to get a rock to throw at me and I fired at him as he was running."

ROCKS ON THE DEAD FACE.

Then he picked up two big stones and pegged them, one after the other, on Willie's head. I told him to stop, and then I helped him get sticks and brush and long grass to cover him up. I picked up a piece of paper and hung it on a tree near the body so that it might be discovered. Then we came to town, down Lover's Lane, out to Gilbert's Lane to the C. R. track, across the Marsh Bridge and along Erin street. Here Goodspeed offered me the revolver again and I told him I would not take it, that he could keep it now. He said he would chuck it in Marsh Creek, and I said "all right."

THROW REVOLVER IN CREEK.

Goodspeed asked me to walk to the creek with him and we went to Sandy Bank and down to the edge of the water, where he chucked the revolver in. We both came up along Ekinon street, in along the track to the foot of Brunswick street, then up to Clarence street, where I left him and went home. He went on up the track.

TO SET DOHERTY ON FIRE.

After supper I saw Goodspeed about 7.30, coming down Union Alley, and he asked me to go out and set Doherty on fire. "I said I wouldn't, and he asked me to come on out to the Park anyhow. I said I would but that I wouldn't go near Doherty. We went out Waterloo street and Gilbert's Lane to the Park, going by the refreshment house and out Lover's Lane. I waited in the lane till Goodspeed went out to see the body, and came back and said it was all right. Then we went back to town by the straight in the tanyard and to the graveyard about nine o'clock. John Goodspeed and Will Kelly joined us about 9.30."

As he stepped into the dock his face, pale as ever, was serenely confident and betrayed no nervousness. But the arteries in his neck throbbed flutteringly and his hand as he grasped the outstretched Bible, trembled a little. He looked the administrator of the oath straight in the eyes as he kissed the book.

Then he told in carefully selected words, spoken with a rapidity that took the stenographers off their feet, of meeting Goodspeed and Doherty in the tanyard Friday, of Goodspeed suggesting that they go out to the Park and shoot birds and squirrels, after he had found that Higgins had the revolver with him. The walk out Gilbert's Lane was described exactly as by Goodspeed, and his account of the route through the Park differed but little from the previous testimony.

GOODSPEED CONTRADICTED.

The difference between the two stories began when he told of the three sitting down on a hill about a half mile back of the Park, an occurrence which Goodspeed, in answer to repeated questions, had strenuously denied, insisting that there had been no rest of this kind.

CRYS FOR HELP.

"Then I went into the bushes and had been there only a few minutes when I heard four or five shots go off and heard Doherty cry 'Help, Higgle, help!' I took it out of my pocket and gave it to him. He pointed it at me and at Doherty and asked Doherty: 'What do you think of the things in there?'"

GOODSPEED SHOOTED.

I asked Goodspeed if he did the shooting and he said yes. "I asked him how he did it," he said. "Doherty asked me for the revolver and I refused to give it to him. Doherty tried to take it and I pointed it at him, not intending to shoot, and he turned and ran away to get a rock to throw at me and I fired at him as he was running."

ROCKS ON THE DEAD FACE.

Then he picked up two big stones and pegged them, one after the other, on Willie's head. I told him to stop, and then I helped him get sticks and brush and long grass to cover him up. I picked up a piece of paper and hung it on a tree near the body so that it might be discovered. Then we came to town, down Lover's Lane, out to Gilbert's Lane to the C. R. track, across the Marsh Bridge and along Erin street. Here Goodspeed offered me the revolver again and I told him I would not take it, that he could keep it now. He said he would chuck it in Marsh Creek, and I said "all right."

THROW REVOLVER IN CREEK.

Goodspeed asked me to walk to the creek with him and we went to Sandy Bank and down to the edge of the water, where he chucked the revolver in. We both came up along Ekinon street, in along the track to the foot of Brunswick street, then up to Clarence street, where I left him and went home. He went on up the track.

TO SET DOHERTY ON FIRE.

After supper I saw Goodspeed about 7.30, coming down Union Alley, and he asked me to go out and set Doherty on fire. "I said I wouldn't, and he asked me to come on out to the Park anyhow. I said I would but that I wouldn't go near Doherty. We went out Waterloo street and Gilbert's Lane to the Park, going by the refreshment house and out Lover's Lane. I waited in the lane till Goodspeed went out to see the body, and came back and said it was all right. Then we went back to town by the straight in the tanyard and to the graveyard about nine o'clock. John Goodspeed and Will Kelly joined us about 9.30."

CASTORIA ALWAYS BEARS THE SIGNATURE OF CHAS. H. FISCHER.

Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fischer. It is a child, she clung to Castoria. She became Miss, she cried for Castoria. She had children, she gave them Castoria.

ADVERTISING RATES.

$1.00 per inch for ordinary transient advertising. For Sale, Wanted, etc., 50 cents each insertion.

Special contracts made for time advertisements. Sample copies cheerfully sent to any address on application.

The subscription rate is $1.00 a year, but if 75 cents is sent IN ADVANCE the paper will be sent to any address in Canada or United States for one year.

SUN PRINTING COMPANY, ALFRED MARKHAM, Manager.

NOTICE.

When a subscriber wishes the address on the paper changed to another Post Office, the OLD ADDRESS should ALWAYS be sent with the new one

THE SEMI-WEEKLY SUN

ST. JOHN, N. B., SEPT. 24, 1902.

CHURCH PRECEDENCE.

The Methodists assembled at Winnipeg have decided that ecclesiastical precedence at state functions shall be according to the numerical strength of the various church bodies.

WHERE IS THE ATTORNEY GENERAL? Hon. H. A. McKewen, who is conducting the prosecution of Frank Higgins, will receive several hundred dollars for his services.

NO COMPETITION. Supporters of the policy of plunder tell us that the Toronto capitalists got their Restigouche lease at an open competitive sale.

A TWO-FACED GOVERNMENT. While the Pugsley-Tweedie press in St. John is begging the liberals to support these uncertain politicians in the interest of the liberal party, Mr. Turgeon, the liberal member for Gloucester, complains that two of the three men comprising the government ticket in his county are conservatives.

THE WHOLE ADMINISTRATION. The Halifax Chronicle has too warm a feeling for its former editor, Mr. Fielding, to take kindly to Mr. Tarte's assumption of Mr. Fielding's duties, and proposed overturn of Mr. Fielding's policy.

PRINCIPLES, NOT MEN. The Toronto Globe and other organs whom Mr. Tarte is worrying are venting part of their spite on the tory papers.

upon himself. His campaign is in method opposed to all the principles of responsible government. He has conspired against his colleagues. He has taken advantage of Mr. Fielding's absence to declare a tariff policy, and to conduct investigations in Mr. Fielding's department.

A North Shore correspondent suggests an explanation of the circumstance mentioned by Mr. Tarte, that the provincial government, which did not see its way clear to intervene, to prevent the transfer of a crown land lease in Restigouche, felt quite free to intervene and prevent a transfer in a Northumberland case.

BRITAIN AND VENEZUELA. The statement is made that diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Venezuela are again broken off.

THE ST. STEPHEN COURIER SAYS THAT the only difference between the Rigouash bridge in Charlotte, and the former under its own weight, and the latter required a team to break it down.

IT IS AS WE EXPECTED, MR. TARD'S TRIAL by the jury on Friday was interrupted by the telegraph. Mr. Tard is an uncompromising opponent of the government.

BOSTON BUZZARD

Make An Open Confession to Save His Brother. BOSTON, Sept. 22.—An open and candid, but perhaps not entirely full confession, by the late John B. Petersen, a noted burglar, of the trial of Julius C. Petersen, his brother, in the Superior criminal court today.

FATAL FIRE IN BOSTON. BOSTON, Sept. 22.—Daniel Shea, a fireman, was killed, and another, Donahue of Engine 15 seriously injured, and property valued at $50,000, destroyed in a five story brick building on Atlantic street.

OPPOSITION LEADER. CALGARY, N. W. T., Sept. 18.—R. L. Borden of Halifax, the conservatively liberal member of his party, had an unpleasant experience on his return to the city yesterday from visiting the Sarcee Indian reserve, about twelve miles out.

NATURE'S REMEDY FOR ALL SUMMER COMPLAINTS. It only costs twenty-five cents to have on hand a sure remedy for all Summer Complaints, Diarrhoea, Cramps and Pains.

HEALTH FOR WOMEN. "Few things are more important to a community than the health of its women. If strong is the frame of its mother, says a proverb, the sons will give laws to the people."

WANTED. Capable and intelligent young men to learn the Shorthand business system, supply the demand for such writers, and no class of work gives better opportunities for advancement.

charge of assault against Kerrigan and the parties went home to lead a more quiet life. Clerk of the Peace Vincent appeared for the prosecution; J. E. M. Baxter for the defendant; Kane, and John L. Carleton, Esq., appeared for the defendant Kerrigan in the second case.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

WHERE TRADITION IS A LIAR. To the Editor of the Sun: Sir—While I appreciate Mr. Mullin's address to the jury on behalf of his client, it is due both to the fair fame of this country and to historic accuracy to deny his assertion that a boy was hanged in St. John, seventy years ago, for stealing a loaf of bread.

THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BAPTIST Church—Personal Items. Rev. B. F. Ratray lectured in the Baptist vestry Sunday afternoon on the Attitude of the Christian Churches Towards the Salvation Army.

FAIRVILLE NOTES. The Annual Report of the Baptist Church—Personal Items. Rev. B. F. Ratray lectured in the Baptist vestry Sunday afternoon on the Attitude of the Christian Churches Towards the Salvation Army.

WOLFVILLE AND ACADIA. WOLFVILLE, Sept. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. William Chipman have returned from a month's trip to St. John and Clementsport.

GRAND MANAN. GRAND MANAN, N. B., Sept. 20.—The ladies of St. Paul's Church have beautified the east window behind the altar with a handsome crimson curtain edged with gold fringe, which brings out in relief the handsome brass memorial tablet of the late Rev. H. M. Hatch.

HOPEWELL HILL. HOPEWELL HILL, N. B., Sept. 20.—A coroner's inquest held at Hillsboro on Wednesday concerning the accident in the plaster quarry by which the two men, Chas. Pinder and Frank Steeves, lost their lives, resulted in a verdict of accidental death.

WHEN THE STRIKE IS ENDED. "Jerry," said Flaherty, "pshaw is the main of this wretched millinery?" "It means that glass time-a-comin'."

A CAT'S INTELLIGENCE. Dumb Animals can Scent Danger. A cat will refuse to drink coffee but will drink and thrive on Postum Food Coffee.

CASE DISMISSED BY JUSTICE WASSON. The case of Kerrigan v. Kane came before Justice Wasson in Lancaster yesterday afternoon for a few minutes.

WANTED. Capable and intelligent young men to learn the Shorthand business system, supply the demand for such writers, and no class of work gives better opportunities for advancement.

WANTED. Capable and intelligent young men to learn the Shorthand business system, supply the demand for such writers, and no class of work gives better opportunities for advancement.

WANTED. Capable and intelligent young men to learn the Shorthand business system, supply the demand for such writers, and no class of work gives better opportunities for advancement.

WANTED. Capable and intelligent young men to learn the Shorthand business system, supply the demand for such writers, and no class of work gives better opportunities for advancement.

WANTED. Capable and intelligent young men to learn the Shorthand business system, supply the demand for such writers, and no class of work gives better opportunities for advancement.

WANTED. Capable and intelligent young men to learn the Shorthand business system, supply the demand for such writers, and no class of work gives better opportunities for advancement.

WANTED. Capable and intelligent young men to learn the Shorthand business system, supply the demand for such writers, and no class of work gives better opportunities for advancement.

WANTED. Capable and intelligent young men to learn the Shorthand business system, supply the demand for such writers, and no class of work gives better opportunities for advancement.

WANTED. Capable and intelligent young men to learn the Shorthand business system, supply the demand for such writers, and no class of work gives better opportunities for advancement.

WANTED. Capable and intelligent young men to learn the Shorthand business system, supply the demand for such writers, and no class of work gives better opportunities for advancement.

WANTED. Capable and intelligent young men to learn the Shorthand business system, supply the demand for such writers, and no class of work gives better opportunities for advancement.

OPPOSITION MEETINGS.

GAGETOWN, Sept. 18.—A call has been issued for a convention of the opponents of the government in Queens Co., to be held at the shiretown on Tuesday, October 2nd.

FREDERICTON, Sept. 18.—J. D. Hazen, M. P., leader of the opposition, and Parker Glazier, M. P., Co. at the Court House, Burton, on Friday of next week. Geo. Y. McInerney, ex-M. P. for Kent county, may also be present.

DALHOUSIE, Sept. 18.—Albert Mott, M. P., formerly a staunch supporter of the local government, has issued a card to the electors of Restigouche county announcing his reasons for joining the opposition ranks. Mr. Mott gives good reasons.

CHARLOTTE IN ARMS. ST. STEPHEN, Sept. 18.—A largely attended meeting of the electors of St. Stephen and Milltown in opposition to the local government was held in the Salvation Army hall tonight for the purpose of arranging for a county convention. F. M. Murchie, mayor of St. Stephen, was elected chairman, and J. W. Richardson secretary.

Q. W. Ganong, M. P., was the first speaker. He believed that the people of Charlotte should have a chance to express their convictions at the polls. We could afford to be defeated a dozen times rather than to submit to such a government as we now have. A convention should be held to choose four good men.

Geo. J. Clarke was convinced there is a great amount of dissatisfaction throughout this county with the administration of provincial affairs and a strong conviction that an improvement can be made, but not under the present government. There was never a better opportunity to elect four opposition members from this county than at the present time.

Frank C. Murchie, mayor of Milltown, believed that a convention should be held and that the county is in better shape than at the present time for opposition success. In Milltown there is a strong and growing dissatisfaction with the present government.

A. I. Tegg felt that the conditions in the county were favorable for opposition success. The present combination is disliked and distrusted throughout the province, except in machine circles. There have been no overwhelming majorities in any county for the government. Where the county is so evenly divided it will not be hard to get a majority in opposition.

The following committee was appointed to arrange for a county convention: J. E. Ganong, A. I. Tegg, George J. Clarke, Fred Morrison, J. T. Whitehead, J. E. Osborne, J. T. Whitehead and F. C. Murchie.

FREDERICTON, Sept. 22.—There was sold in front of the court house here at noon today a lot of last year's logs belonging to Hale & Murchie, upon which the Boom Company's tolls had not been paid.

There were first offered the logs now in the boom at Lincoln, and they were bought as follows: 7,036 feet of merchantable and 1,288 feet of batten spruce to J. B. McConnell at $15 per thousand; 2,349 feet of pine to Hylton Bros. at $7.75 per thousand.

The next sold were those logs now at St. John, in the hands of James Holly & Sons, subject to the tolls, about five cents a thousand. The spruce, 16,248 feet of merchantable and 7,336 feet of batten was bought by Hylton Bros. at $11.75 a thousand and the same firm bought 2,300 feet of pine at $7.50.

DIGBY NEWS. DIGBY, Sept. 20.—Digby recently had a rare treat in the music line. That part of the Westminister Choir now touring through Canada, sang to a crowded house in the Oddfellows' hall. This was on Saturday evening just a week ago. They occupied the choir stalls of Holy Trinity the next evening and kept the congregation spell bound.

Hugo F. Halbot, Digby's popular band master and music teacher, assisted the Westminister Choir at the service in Holy Trinity, presiding at the organ. His volunteers were of the highest order and much appreciated. Digby will soon put on mourning for Mr. Talbot, as he intends to leave us. Whether he will accept an offer from Boston or St. John is doubtful. Wherever he may become a citizen, that place will have the envy of Digby.

Those who visited the exhibition lately held in St. John are ceaseless in talking of its great all round success. They will expatiate on some part of the show, which will be in a few moments eclipsed by something else, and so on ad infinitum. We are beginning to think that there is only one place in the world, and that is St. John. All the same, St. John is a fine city, and its people just the finest to advance a city.

William Farren has received a letter from San Francisco, California, stating that William Fleming died at the above place on July 29. Deceased formerly belonged to the north end and went to California during the gold rush of '49. He leaves a family at San Francisco.

CITY

Recent Events. Together With from Cor and Ex

The government reached a decision in Nova Scotia when the cranberry marshes is unjustly picking will begin.

On Oct. 4th next Moncton Driving include a 2.30 class. River next winter indications, and may fall below.

The Sun has received papers from Fredericton, N. B. Get as close to the man that makes the Tremaine, Manager.

The security of general Har and the cold in winter, and how he enjoys.

The St. Andrew's church is to acquire the Algonquin and end before another set.

Mrs. E. D. Wadsworth, conductor, in Dalhousie on the 18th in 73 years of age.

William Merrett, who was talking a moment ago that the Algonquin was seventy-six.

A delegation of men went to Deception Bay to see the work of the men at Cummings Cove.

The lumber cut James Barbee, M. P., and the mill at Chipman, N. B., was destroyed by fire.

The Nova Scotia election was brought Thursday. The vote was $9,840, which is the best in 1899, when $9,800.

The demand for lumber, N. B., this year will be seriously operations this winter on the St. John river.

Letters of admittance of the late P. B. were granted to his father of the deceased, valued at $1,065. Barnhill & Sanford.

Dr. Heber Bishop, sportsman, Dana, Boston and Maine. Les E. Fox arrived on the 19th and Cansan district on.

The death is reported Misericordia, a lady, Mrs. Mary Settlement. He reached the great is the wife of Dr.

The steam yacht Commodore Thom arrived on the 19th to Rothesay Saturday gentlemen who were in the highest form.

Arrangements are for the annual Corn Brunswick Sunday. It will convene the and the meetings of main street Baptist 13, 14 and 15.

There is a scare woods this fall and perceiving considerable getting crews together exceptionally high receiving from $26 to Fredericton Gleason.

We have not our tobacco. A bacco, Bobs, Curlew, Cheating Tobacco, and price to the Co. We have no extra the redemption of January 1st, 1904, Co., Limited.

SURETIES FOR In the case of A. G. with the market of George Marston, and in which Chas. on giving bail for general has approval of Southampton, Y. W. Simmonds, farmer, and Moses Fries, farmer, as the order.

