TRIPLE-LINK CENTENNIAL

Local Oddfellows Accord a Hearty Welcome to Grand Master Cox

The members of Stella lodge, No. 125, the oldest lodge in the Ottawa Valley outside the city, had the honor of an official visit last Tuesday evening from the Grand Master Rev. W. Cox, of Gananoque, the first official visit from a Grand Master, in over a quarter century. The members turned out largely for the occasion, and there were many visitors from other lodges especially from Almonte, and Perth, D.D.G. Master Boyd, of Merrickville also being present. The business of the evening was hurriedly disposed of, after which a candidate was put through the initiatory degree by a team composed as follows: P.G., W. J. Porterfield, N.C., A. O. Flemming, V.G., J. H. Boyd, Chap., H. C. Boyd; Com., J. R. Moore; War., W. H. Matthews; O.C., T. E. Armstrong; R.S.S., W. L. Moffatt; L.S.S., D. G. Thompson; I.G., D. Smythe; R.S.N.G., J. M. Barber; L.S.N.G., R. J. McLaren; R.S.V.G., Jas. McIlquham; L.S.V.G., T. F. Griffith; S.B., D. S. Cameron, R. Watt, G. McCallum, J. S. Dolan; T.B., A. McFadden, T. Simpson; O.G., A. D. McDiarmid. An orchestra of 4 pieces supplied the music, led by Mr. H. McFadden. The work was beautifully done and elected the highest commendations from the G. M., as well as the hearty congratulations of all present.

Another feature of the evening was the presentation of a veteran jewel to Bro. D. R. McNeely. He was introduced by two of the veteran members, and on behalf of the lodge the Grand Master pinned the badge of honor upon Bro. McNeely's breast and in a most gracious speech indicated the high place this jewel held in the association of Oddfellowship.

On the adjournment of the lodge the members moved over to the town hall, where the members of Mississippi Rebekah lodge had prepared a magnificent spread, plates being set for two hundred, most of which were taken up. During the supper orchestral music was supplied by the members of the sister lodge.

After the good things had been fully tested, Bro. David Smythe, as toastmaster, introduced a programme, consisting of an address by District Deputy Boyd, songs (and responses) by Bros. Wilson and Jordan of Almonte, speeches by Rev. W. A. Dobson, and Bros. Donaldson and McDonald of Almonte, all of which were bright and inspiring. The Grand Master was then introduced, and for over an hour he held the attention of the audience whilst he enlarged upon the wonderful growth and achievements of the Order, making reference to its early ventures and its latter high achievements for the uplift of mankind. Touched briefly upon the Oddfellow's Home, which he said was to be put upon a good financial footing by a centennial fund of a quarter million to mark the 100th anniversary of the Order.

The evening throughout was a splendid success and will go down as one of the big events in the annals of Oddfellowship in Carleton Place.

The man who attends strictly to his own business has a good, steady job.

The anxiety that man feels for the want of funds is called capital punishment.

Mrs. Joseph H. Lowe and children, of Joliette, Que., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. Sutherland and friends in and out of town.

Refusing increase of wages amounting to nearly 30 per cent., employees of one department at the Toronto Paper Mills, Cornwall, went on strike, tying up nearly the entire plant.

Walter R. McIlquham is reported as having landed at Montreal.

The barbers have raised their rate for haircutting from 25 to 35 cents.

Mrs. Geo. Tait had the misfortune to fracture an arm one day last week in a fall.

Mr. Hillman Bailey, of Toronto, is spending a fortnight's vacation at his home here.

The Annual High School Concert will be held Thursday, May 15.

The paddlers have started to work out a bit, the weather moderating at last to something more seasonable.

Mrs. Chanoonhouse, of Eganville, spent a day or two in town last week, the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. W. Taber.

Mr. S. Ernest Smith left last week for St. Louis, as a delegate to the annual convention of Railway Telegraphers, at present in session in that city.

Rev. Mr. Taylor, of Braeside, occupied the pulpit in Zion church on Sunday, in exchange with Mr. Dobson, who was preaching anniversary sermons at Braeside.

The annual meeting of the District Committee, I.O.O.F., Lanark District, will meet at Merrickville to-morrow afternoon. Carleton Place will send half a dozen delegates.

Sale of HOME-MADE BAKING, also Useful and Fancy Articles, on Saturday afternoon, May 17th, in store next door to J. A. Dack. Afternoon tea served by Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church.

George Weedman, farmer, of Drummond township, six miles from Perth, while insane, inserted a gun in his mouth, Tuesday morning, and blew his head off. It is said he had been worrying about the sale of some property which he regretted. He was of German descent.—Rideau Record.

A public meeting will be held in the township hall at Black's Corners on Friday evening next, at 8 o'clock, to which both ladies and gentlemen are invited, to consider some form of celebration of the centennial of the settlement of the Township of Beckwith. A large gathering is looked for.

The Spring Assizes opened at Perth last Tuesday afternoon, with His Honor Mr. Justice Kelly of Toronto, presiding. There were no cases to be heard and after one notice of motion was given and two settlements reported Court closed after being in session a half hour. J. A. Hope was acting for the crown on any criminal cases.

Mr. John E. Aust, piano tuner, representing Mr. M. Webster, will make periodical visits to Carleton Place. Orders left at McIntosh's Drug Store will receive prompt attention. Mr. Aust is an experienced tuner and comes very highly recommended by Mr. Webster.

During the month of April Messrs. A. G. Sykes and F. B. Taber, inspectors working under the Ontario Temperance Act, secured convictions against 24 persons charged with contravents of the liquor law. The 24 convictions resulted in $4,400 being paid in fines. Liquor valued at $2,300, consisting of 693 bottles and 155 gallons, were seized by them during the month.—Brockville Recorder.

SHIPPING DAY
Hogs and Calves wanted. I will ship all kinds of Live Stock from here on Saturday, May 17th. Young, thin or Light Calves will be cheap, but good fat Calves wanted at good prices. Highest market prices for Hogs.

Died at Summer Home
The death of Mr. R. Bruce Jarvis, of Montreal, took place last Tuesday evening at his summer home on Rideau Lake. The deceased was a native of Smith's Falls, and for many years was a conductor on the C.P.R., and lived here. He moved to Montreal some years ago and subsequently gave up railroading and took a position with the Montreal Gas Company. He had been in failing health for some time and of late had been rather worse than usual. In the hope of being helped by outdoor life he and Mrs. Jarvis and their son, decided to come to their summer home on the Rideau Lake and they went up on Saturday. Mr. Jarvis was somewhat exhausted by the trip, but no serious results were anticipated until he was seized with a sudden weakness and in less than half an hour was dead.—S.F. News.

James Stewart of Renfrew
Another of Renfrew's old residents passed away on Wednesday, May 7th, in the person of James Stewart, Raglan street, at the age of 80 years. The late Mr. Stewart was born at Blair Drummond Moss, in Perthshire, Scotland, and came with his parents to Canada when only a child. They settled in Adamston township. At the age of 14 he went to Carleton Place and learnt the tin-smithing business, and later worked with the late David Ward in Almonte. He afterwards started in business for himself in Middleville, Lanark county. He came back to Renfrew in 1872, and for many years was a partner in the firm of Stewart Bros., who afterwards sold out to Stewart's Limited. Mr. Stewart took part in public affairs both as a member of the Town Council and the School Board, and was for long an esteemed member of St. Andrew's church. Besides his widow he leaves to mourn him a family of ten, all of whom are living.—Journal.

Arnprior's assessment for the current year is $1,595,929.

Remember the High School Concert on Thursday evening.

Mr. Hugh McPhail, of Renfrew, was a visitor to Carleton Place last week.

Miss Elsie Gould, of New York, is spending a few days here with her mother, Mrs. Tait.

The Gillies sawmills at Braeside were started for the season to-day. The Arnprior mills are also in operation.

The G.W.V.A. Almonte Branch are putting on a big celebration in Almonte on May 24th. Something doing every minute. Procession, lacrosse and baseball matches, Tag Day, Dance. Watch for posters.

The meeting of the retail merchants announced for a fortnight ago, and postponed on account of the illness of the secretary, is to be held on Thursday evening this week.

An effort is being made by the Sunshine Y to have Mrs. Nellie McClung, the famous temperance advocate, deliver an address in Carleton Place shortly, when she is touring in this vicinity.

The bi-annual meeting of the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends will be held in Hamilton the first week of June, when a proposition to advance the rates of the older members is to be submitted.

One Cent Sale on May 15th, 16th and 17th at the Retail Store, of United Drug Co. products, consisting of Toilet Articles, Remedies, Chocolates, Perfumes, Rubber Goods, Stationery and Drug Sundries. Take advantage of this Sale to buy reliable goods at greatly reduced prices.

The Bishop of Ontario has appointed Rev. W. H. Towle, of Wellington, to the parish of New Boyne and Lombardy. Before leaving Wellington, Rev. Mr. Towle was presented with an address and with a purse of $150.

Pte. Geo. W. Code, son of Mr. Abijah Code, of High Bluff, Man., a native of Carleton Place, who was invalided home from overseas last fall suffering from poison gas, died yesterday morning at the military hospital at Winnipeg. The deceased was well known here and his demise will be deeply regretted.

Mr. F. W. Coleman was in town last week, and found that his house had been broken into and goods valued at over a hundred dollars were stolen. He has placed the matter in the hands of the police. Mr. Coleman has since packed the remainder of his effects and taken them to Ottawa, where he is now located.

The fire brigade had two runs last week, one on Wednesday for a burning fire at the home of Mr. S. W. Stanzel, Lake avenue west, the other was on Saturday for a small blaze on the kitchen roof at the Harold belt factory. No damage in either case, but the laddies were on hand promptly ready for any contingency.

SHIPPING DAY
Will ship Cattle, Hogs, Sheep and Veal Calves from Carleton Place on Friday, May 16th.

J. M. QUINN,
Telephone 199, Carleton Place.

From a number of points in Glengarry county reports have been received of the depletion of dairy herds, in some instances to the number of four or five head, the cattle being stricken with a mysterious ailment that deprives them of the use of their front legs. The financial loss throughout the county is a severe one and bears most heavily upon the owners after having wintered their stock.

The Cadets at the Ranges
On Thursday last a bunch of public school cadets, in charge of Mr. D. B. Oliver, visited the ranges, when the following scores were recorded:

Maguire	23
Smith	15
Darou	14
Corr	12
Young	12
Taber	12
McIlquham	12
Garrick	12
Aberneathy	7
Steele	6

On Friday another squad went out under Mr. A. H. Edwards, with the following results:

Griffith Roy	28
Reynolds, Leslie	27
Reynolds, Willie	27
Hailey, George	22
Robertson, Blake	2

Death of Mrs. Edward Clarke
The Observer says: "We regret this week the death of one of Pembroke's old and well-known ladies, Mrs. Edward Clarke, who passed away on Tuesday after an extended illness. The late Mrs. Clarke, whose maiden name was Isabella Wallace, was born in Armagh, Ireland, and came to Canada when quite young. She had resided in Pembroke for over half a century and was widely and very favorably known, and among her wide circle of acquaintances numbered many warm friends. She was a member of Pembroke Methodist church, and the funeral will take place to-morrow (Friday) at 2.30 p.m. to the Methodist cemetery. Her venerable husband, Mr. Edward Clarke, survives, and three children—Mrs. (Dr.) McKay and Mr. John Dennison, town, and Mr. Robert A. Dennison, of Tyler, Texas, who has arrived home for the funeral. Several other friends from distant parts are here to attend the obsequies. The deceased lady was a sister of the late Mrs. James McFadden, of Carleton Place, and an aunt of Mrs. R. Hughes, Mrs. Grube, Mrs. Chisholm and Mr. J. H. McFadden, Carleton Place.

THE Y.M.C.A. CAMPAIGN

Carleton Place Contributes Nearly $1,000.00

The canvass in Carleton Place in aid of the Y.M.C.A.'s million dollar fund was made last week, ending with a tag day on Saturday. The objective set has not been reached, but still the contribution is no mean showing, the sum of $925 being subscribed so far. The ladies who did the tagging raised almost half of the whole amount. The following are the figures as compiled by the treasurer, Mr. Oliver, and the chairman, Mr. Baird:—

Mrs. A. C. McCallum's team	$205 49
Mrs. W. M. Cameron's	36 93
Mrs. C. Tetlock's	50 74

ST. ANDREW'S CHOIR CONCERT

A Lengthy Programme of Rare Merit—Well Patronized

The concert held in the town hall last Thursday evening, under the auspices of St. Andrew's church choir, was a splendid success from every standpoint. The choir was assisted by Miss Little, of Ottawa, an elocutionist of exceptional ability; by Rev. Mr. Merilees of Blakeney, by Mr. L. O. G. Poole violinist, whilst the chorus was augmented by a number of extra voices. The ladies were mostly attired in the fashionable robes of years gone by, whilst the men were quite gallant in their dress suits of sombre black. The choruses were well rendered, and reflected most creditably upon the conductor, Mr. A. R. G. Feden and the organist, Miss Hazel Allen.

The programme opened with two numbers by the full choir, followed with a recitation by Miss Little. Rev. Mr. Merilees rendered a solo and was succeeded by Mr. Poole with a violin solo. A double male quartette came next, then a reading by Mr. Merilees and a solo by Mrs. Monds, with violin obligato. Two more numbers by the chorus brought the first part of the programme to a close. The soloists were each recalled and responded, which added greatly to the length of the entertainment.

The second part opened with a double number by the chorus, a reading by Miss Little, another song by Mr. Merilees, a violin solo by Mr. Poole, and a song by Mr. Frank McDiarmid, with chorus by the men. A reading by Miss Little, violin solo (by request), Mr. Poole, whose work was exceptionally fine throughout, two more numbers by the chorus and the national anthem. The evening was one of rare enjoyment, and the performers responded most generously to hearty recalls.

During the intermission, Rev. Mr. Monds, on behalf of the choir, thanked the audience for their attendance and all who assisted in any way in making the concert such a splendid success. The net receipts exceeded $100.

Fourteen Men by the Baltic

Carleton Place had more soldiers return in one bunch on the Baltic last week than went over in the First Contingent—17 in all. The following is the list, in alphabetical order:

Allen, Cpl. E.
Camelon, Pte. D.
Crawford, Pte. J. N. N.
Dunlop, Pte. J. A.
Fulton, Sig. G. D. M.
Forbes, Pte.
Maguire, Pte. J. A.
Maguire, Lieut.
McPherson, Pte.
Neit, Pte. W.
Peever, Pte. W. A.
Scott, Pte. W. J.
Welsh, Dvr. F. J.
Whalen, Spr.
Leskey, Pte. Gordon
Robertson, Pte. Bert
Sullivan, Pte. Herb. J.

Most of the boys arrived by the 8:25 train from Ottawa on Friday evening and received a hearty welcome. Hundreds of our citizens were at the depot, and cars enough were in evidence to convey a whole battalion up town. And the welcome cannot be too hearty, the lads deserve it all and more.

Watchman Beaten by Tramp

A Sand Point citizen was badly beaten up Friday night last and he was lucky to escape with his life. He is watchman at the powder plant and on Wednesday of last week a man described as a tramp asked for lodging for the night at the powder works. He was refused. On Friday night he again visited the place and assured the watchman that he would pay for his refusal. Accordingly the tramp pounded the old man into insensibility, took what money he had on him as well as his gold watch and his revolver and then made off. He has not been seen since.—Arnprior Chronicle.

Some people are wondering why milk is selling in Ottawa city at 10 cents, with heavy overhead expense and high wages and taxation; whilst in Carleton Place, nearer the fountain head of production, it is commanding 20 per cent. more, viz., 12 cents.

We sell Everything that Men and Boys Wear.

Heavy Boots

For Farmers, Teamsters, Tradesmen, etc., we can suggest nothing better in the line of Footwear than our EVERWEAR Shoe.

This is a very durable shoe, made from heavy regulation army leather, on a wide roomy last, so that not only is the buyer assured of a good-wearing boot, but of solid comfort as well.

We have sold many of these boots, and know their merits. Several customers have bought them regularly, year after year, and they have found them entirely satisfactory.

Suppose you try a pair now,—you will not be disappointed.

At any rate let us show them to you.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

Pleasant Evening Reveries dedicated to tired Mothers as they Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide.

FATHER AND SON.

"I must look to the sheep in the fold,
See that the cattle are fed and warm,
So, Jack, tell mother to wrap you well,
You may go with me over the farm,
Though the snow is deep and the weather cold.
You are not a baby at six years old."

Two feet of snow on the hillside lay,
But the sky was as blue as June;
And father and son came laughing home
When dinner was ready at noon,
Knocking the snow from their weary feet,
Rosy and hungry and longing to eat.

"The snow was so deep," the farmer said,
"That I feared I could scarce get through."
The mother turned with a pleasant smile—
"Then what could a little lad do?"
"I trod in my father's steps," said Jack;
"Wherever he went I kept in his track."

The mother looked in the father's face,
And a solemn thought was there;
The words had gone like a lightning flash
To the seat of a nobler care:
"If he treads in my steps, then day by day
How carefully I must choose my way!"

"For the child will do as the father does,
And the track that I leave behind,
If it be firm, and clear, and straight,
The feet of my son will find
He will tread in his father's steps and say
"I'm right, for this was my father's way."

Oh, fathers, leading in life's hard road,
Be sure of the steps you take;
Then the sons you love, when gray-haired men,
Will tread in them for your sake;
When gray-haired men, to their sons will say,
"We tread in our father's steps to-day."

So great is the mind of a sweet woman on those around her that it is almost boundless. It is to her that we all go in seasons of sorrow and sickness for help and comfort; one soothing touch of her kindly hand workers upon the feverish child; a few words dropped from her lips in the ear of a sorrow stricken sister will do much to raise the load of grief that is bowing its victim down to the dust in anguish.
The husband comes home worn out with the pressure of business and feeling irritable with the world in general, but when he enters the cozy sitting room, and sees the blaze of fire, and meets his wife's smiling face he succumbs in a moment to the soothing influences which act as the balm of Gilead to his wounded spirits that are wearied by the stern realities of life. The rough school boy flies into a rage from the taunts of his companions to find solace in his mother's smile; the little one full of grief with its large troubles finds haven of rest on its mother's breast;
and so one might go on with instance after instance of the influence that a sweet minded woman has in the social life with which she is connected.

Beauty is an insignificant power when compared with hers.

The bar of the saloon, the bar of the court, and the bars of the jail are very closely related.

HONOR THY MOTHER

Honor the dear old mother. Time has scattered the snowy flakes upon her brow, plowed deep furrows on her cheek, but is she not beautiful now?
The lips are thin and shrunk, but those are the lips that have kissed away many a hot tear from the childish cheeks, and they are the sweetest lips in the world.
The eye is dim, yet it glows with the soft radiance of love that can never fade. Oh yes; yes she is a dear mother.
The sands of time are nearly run out,
but feeble as she is, she will go farther and reach down lower for you than any other on earth. You cannot walk into a midnight where she cannot see you;
you cannot enter a prison where bars will keep her out, you can never mount a scaffold too high for her to reach and kiss you with her deathless love.
When the world shall despise and forsake you, when it leaves you by the wayside to die unnoticed, the dear old mother will gather you in her feeble old arms and carry you home and tell you of all your virtues until you almost forget that your soul is disfigured by vice.
Love her tenderly and cheer her declining years with holy devotion.

HOME

Cherish the home with infinite tenderness. You cannot love it too much, nor give it too much time and thought.
Remember life has nothing better to offer you; it is the climax and crown of God's gifts. Make every day of life in it rich and sweet. It will not last long.
See to it that you plant no seeds of bitter memory; that there will be no neglect and harshness to haunt you in after years. Your little ones will die and go hence with your words and spirits planted in their eternal nature.
Sons and daughters will go from you into the great world, to live as you have taught them, to be strong or weak according to the spirit you have engrafted upon them. How you will yearn for them whether living or dead.
How sweet or how bitter will be the days when they prattled about you in the home from which they have gone forever! So live with them and train them now that when they are gone you and they can look back on the past with thankfulness and not regret.

The Editor's Position

A couple of weeks ago the Carp Review mailed statements of subscription accounts to readers in arrears, with the request that remittance be made as soon as possible. So far the response has been very unsatisfactory as only a few have responded to our appeal. The editor reasons thus: A whole year's subscription to the Review costs only a little more than two pounds of butter, less than a bag of potatoes, and only a trifle over three dozen of eggs and yet many are careless about it. Our newsprint to day costs us over three times as much as it did a few years ago. Our rates have not raised in anything like the same proportion and very little can be got now for $1.00. The price of ink, type and other material, has more than doubled. We do not want to force the paper on to any one as it is a man's own business whether he wants it or not,
but we wish to say that if the Review was worth $1.00 a few years ago it is easily worth $1.50 to-day in comparison with the price of everything else.
Newspapers do not make as much profit as they did when prices were lower, so that prompt renewals are essential to the financial success of all newspapers now-a-days. Therefore, it is desirable that all subscriptions in arrears be brought up to date, and we have every confidence that readers of this paper, who may have overlooked or neglected their indebtedness to this office, will comply with our request without delay.

Nelson as a Husband

Nelson was undoubtedly a great sea captain, but he was quite as certainly a most brutal husband.
"Just before the war we saw an amazing collection of letters written by Nelson to his wife sold for £2,200," says the London Telegraph. "In this the beginning of Nelson's infatuation for Emma (Lady Hamilton) was shown, and the collection had a pitiful close in a pathetic letter from Lady Nelson dated December 13, 1801, and containing the appeal: "Do my dear husband, let us live together, I can never be happy till such an event takes place. I assure you again, I have but one wish in the world
—to please you."
On the envelope of this last letter was the cold remark: "Opened by Lord
N. in mistake—but not read."

One of the Oldest of Flowers

The origin of the rose is lost in antiquity. It is certain that roses abounded in Palestine, and that the Jews possessed great knowledge of their culture and held them in high esteem. The Egyptians grew roses on the bank of the Nile, and as early as the days of Homer the Greeks had them in abundance. The Romans delighted in the luxury of roses and used them in incredible quantities. Nero spent $150, 000 for a single rose bouquet. Then the rose found its way into Persia, where love and honor awaited it.

"Fruit-a-tives"

ROCHON, P. Q.
"I suffered for many years with terrible Indigestion and Constipation.
A neighbor advised me to try "Fruit-a-tives". I did so and to the surprise of my doctor, I began to improve and he advised me to go on with "Fruit-a-tives".
I consider that I owe my life to "Fruit-a-tives" and I want to say to those who suffer from Indigestion, Constipation or Headaches—try
"Fruit-a-tives" and you will get well".

The Bright Side

Look on the bright side. It is the right side. The times may be hard, but it will make them no easier to wear a gloomy and sad countenance.
It is the sunshine not the clouds that give beauty to the flower. There is always before or around us that which should cheer and fill the heart with warmth and gladness. The sky is blue ten times where it is black once.

You have troubles, it may be. So have others. None are free from them;
and perhaps it is as well that none should be. They give size and tone to life, fortitude and courage to man.
That would be a dull sea, and the sailors would never acquire skill; where there is nothing to disturb its surface.
It is the duty of every one to extract all the happiness and enjoyment he can within and without him; and above all he should look on the bright side.
What though things do look a little dark? The lane will turn, and the night will end in broad day. In the long run the great balance rights itself.
What appears ill will become well; that which appears wrong, right. Men are not always to hang down their heads or lips and those who do, only show that they are departing from the paths of true common sense and right. There is more virtue in one sunbeam than in a whole hemisphere of clouds and gloom.
Therefore we repeat, look on the bright side. Cultivate all that is warm and genial, not the cloudy and repulsive the dark and morose.

Three Men and the Vision they Saw

In a certain city dwell three men.
And by accident of birth one of them is a Catholic and one is a Protestant and one is a Jew.
For thirty years they have engaged in business side by side, and the Catholic has not dealt with the Protestant; and the Catholic and the Protestant have no dealings with the Jew.
"What is he to me?" each man has said.
"He is not of my faith; I will avoid him."

So for thirty years they have dwelt together, strangers in a friendly world.
Then came the shadow of a fearful war. And out of those three homes three boys went forth alone. Three fathers waited heart-worn for the news from over there.

"There are soldiers of Friendliness over here," the boys wrote. "They bring us chocolate and good motion pictures, and baseball and good lectures;
and the memory of mother and of God."
"Help those friendly agencies when you have the chance," each boy wrote
home.

So it happened that the three fathers found themselves working shoulder to shoulder in a great campaign for funds.
Not as a Catholic and a Protestant and a Jew—but as good citizens united in a common cause.

And as they worked they came to know each other, and they were ashamed that for so many years they had been strangers side by side.

Surely this is one of the compensations of war," they said, "that in our deep love for boys we have learned a new respect for one another."
So a new spirit was born in that city,
as though in its heart it had discovered something of the greater religion, whose God is Father; and whose faith and creed are love.—Bruce Barton.

A New National Movement

Have you heard of the new national movement? It's the "get-a-stake-in-Canada" movement, launched a few months ago, and which is spreading quickly from the Atlantic to the Pacific.
It is both a national and a natural effort,
the wonder being that it was not started long ago. The "get-a-stake-in-Canada" movement is really another name for the War Savings campaign, the purpose of which is to induce people to purchase Dominion "Baby Bonds," which cost $4 and a few cents. These, which are just as secure as Victory bonds, are the "stake," which constitute part ownership in Canada.

The Belgian Government will ask the allies for an immediate loan of $500,000, 000.

The Canadian Pacific Railway and the Post Office Department have decided that after May 4th, the name of Kempton, as applied to the community near Kemptville on the line of the C.P.R., will pass out of existence and instead will be known as Bedell, in honor, presumably, of Lieutenant-Colonel T. C. D.
Bedell, who went overseas in command of the 156th Battalion.—Recorder.

Through the Looking Glass

By EVELYN NESBIT

It is a secret—a dreadful secret—and friend husband must not know.
It would be
leath and destruction
if he should find out.

So thinks Marguerite. She had the package sent to her friend's house, so that he would not discover the wrapping paper and the string that confined her latest extravagance. But some day, she told herself, she would tell him that Constan-Anie had bought it for herself, but that it was too small for her, so Annie made of it a present to Marguerite.

As for the hole the package had made in her husband's household treasury, Marguerite borrowed from sister to make it up. So hubby never would find out, and things would smooth out somehow.

Marguerite did not know what a tangle she had made for herself. She stroked her wrinkled brow—worry wrinkles already! Then she smiled as she thought of the wonderful sealskin coat that was causing all the fuss.

But if Marguerite had been a wiser woman she would not have caused herself all this uneasiness. She had fallen into the depth of iniquity, it is true, by wasting her money. But why did she add insult to injury by trying to cover it over with lies, borrowing, deceit? Why did she not tell her husband at once what she had done? She would have avoided the conscience pangs that made her life miserable and made her detest that scrap of sealskin.

The model shown above is a gown of ingly hand-painted and embroidered.

Tucks a Feature.

If one fashions dainty blouses at home and feels unable to cope with bead embroidery or hemstitching, there are always tucks as an alternative. Anybody can make tucks—all they require are a measuring rule, a fine needle and silk thread. Some of the new georgette blouses are first tucked up and down in pintucks and then across in deep inch-tucks. Other blouses have groups of pintucks running across, and then the tucked material is machine plaited up and down.
Many of the sheer batiste and georgette blouses have plaited jabots edged with flit, the fluffy jabot falling outside the coat from throat to bust, and giving a dainty, feminine touch to the tailored costume.

Quack Grass

This plant spreads both by seeds and by creeping underground stems which form a dense mat under the surface.
The seeds may occur in the grain sown, or in hay fed to farm animals. Some of the seeds may pass through the digestive system of the animal and afterwards germinate. It has been found that the seed of Quack Grass will grow if the plant is cut before the seed is mature. The underground stems usually occur in the first six inches of soil or less. They are jointed and each joint is generally capable of producing a new plant.

On large areas that are badly infested,
the land should be ploughed to a depth of about four inches. After it has dried sufficiently, the matter stems should be dragged out by a narrow-toothed cultivator, collected into heaps, dried and burnt. It may be necessary to repeat this operation, the ploughing being done in a direction running across the first furrows. It is not advisable to use any implement that will cut the underground stems into small pieces which cannot easily be collected by the harrow.

After the ground has been cleaned up as desired, there are several methods of treatment according to the locality:

1. Some crop that can be hoed regularly.
2. An early-sown barley crop.
3. A four-year rotation of grain, hay, corn and clover.

The underground stems are purchased extensively for medicinal purposes.—

D.A.C. at present residing in Eganville, Ont., writes:—"I was 18 months in France and went through the bottles of the Somme, Vimy Ridge, Lens, Hill 70 and Passchendaele. On account of Kidney Trouble I was invalided to England. I was treated there for some months in the 5th and 11th Hospitals, and was finally invalided home to Ottawa, where I received treatment in the Convalescent Home. I was finally discharged as being medically unfit for further active service.
Having heard of your Victory Rheumatic and Kidney Cure, I decided to try it, and after using four bottles I feel certain it has made me as well as ever, and I am gaining weight every week. I can highly recommend it to any sufferer from Kidney Trouble as a sure and quick cure."

Mr. W. J. Payne, Renfrew, Ont., writes:
—"I had Rheumatism in my arms, shoulders and legs for over four years. At times I was unable to get on my coat without assistance.
My kidneys were also in bad shape, where bottles of your Victory Rheumatic and Kidney Cure completely cured me."

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY'S WORK

DEPENDS UPON GOOD BLOOD TO NOURISH THE BODY

Weak People Need a Tonic, One Which Acts Directly Upon the Blood and that does Not Weaken the Body by Useless Purging.

There are thousands of people throughout Canada who are without ambition or strength to do their day's work, and who are always tired out, have but little appetite and a poor digestion. They cannot get a refreshing night's sleep and are subject to headaches, backaches and nervousness, because their blood is impure. To men and women in this condition Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give quick relief and permanent cure, because of their direct action on the blood which they build up to its normal strength. As the blood becomes rich and red it strengthens the muscles, tones up the nerves, makes the stomach capable of digesting food, and repairs the wastes caused by worry or work. In a word, the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills means restoration to perfect health.

Miss Jessie McLean, Trenton, N.S., says:—"I was as weak as it was possible for any one to be, and yet be able to go about. My blood seemed to have turned almost to water. I was pale, the least exertion would leave me breathless, and when I went up stairs I would have to stop and rest on the way. I often had severe headaches, and at times my heart would palpitate alarmingly. A good friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I have reason to be grateful that I took the advice. Soon after beginning the use of the Pills I began to get stronger, and by the time I had taken seven boxes I felt that I was again enjoying good health. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a blessing to weak girls and I shall always warmly recommend them."

The sufferer from rheumatism who experiments with outward applications is only wasting valuable time and good money in depending upon such treatment, the trouble still remains, and is all the time becoming more firmly rooted—harder to cure when the proper treatment is applied. Treat this disease through the blood and you will soon be rid of the pains and tortures. As a cure for rheumatism Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are unequalled. They act directly on the impure, weak blood; they purify and strengthen it, and so root out the cause of rheumatism. Mr. D. Lewis, postmaster at Eschminac, N.B., says:—"I was attacked with rheumatism, which settled in my elbow, shoulder and knee joints, and at times caused me great suffering. The trouble was particularly severe last spring and I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking the Pills for some time the rheumatic pains and stiffness in the joints disappeared and I have not had any return of the trouble."

Mrs. William Dale, Midland, Ont., says:—"I suffered for a long time from a severe form of indigestion, and had doctored so much without benefit that I had all but given up hope of getting better. Everything I ate caused me

HOW WEEDS ARE SPREAD

In his struggle against weeds, a farmer is more likely to be successful in his efforts if he understands clearly how weeds gain an entrance to the farm in the first instance and how these already there spread from one part of the farm to another. Weeds may gain entrance to the farm or be dispersed over a wider area in one of the following ways:— (1) As impurities in the seed sown. Most samples of agricultural seeds contain weed seeds in greater or less amount, which are sown with the useful seeds and thus the weeds may, quite unknown to the farmer, gain an entrance on to his land. The seed sown should be absolutely free from weeds of all kinds—a condition of things which is seldom realized.

(2) By the agency of threshing machines. The threshing machine should be thoroughly cleaned before it is allowed to begin operations on the farm. (3) In stables manure, and feeding stuffs. Hay and feeding stuffs often contain weed seeds, some of which are liable to find their way into the manure heap and eventually on to the land. Some seeds can pass through the bodies of animals and afterwards germinate. (4) By the action of the wind. Many seeds, such as those of Dandelion and Thistle, are furnished with a tuft of hairs which enables them to float in the air for long distances. In other cases the seeds or even the whole plant may be blown over the frozen surface of the snow.

(5) By the agency of animals. The seeds, or those parts of plants which contain the seeds, as in the case of Blue Bur and Burdock, are provided with hooks by means of which they become attached to the wool of sheep or the clothing of workers on the farm and in this way may be carried into fields where formerly they did not exist. (6) By cultivation. In some plants, especially those with creeping underground stems, such as Quack grass, the broken pieces may be carried all over the field by farm implements and thus dispersed over a much wider area than the parent plant originally occupied.

STRONG FOR CIVILIZED GARB

Sartorial Variety Seems to Be Chief Aim of Natives of Villages of Rhodesia.

Although we have not thought the people of Africa to be much concerned about clothes and fashions, yet styles, such as they are, have entered the villages of the dark continent and are beginning to cause the people much anxiety. Miss Pearl Mulliken, Methodist missionary to Rhodesia, writes of the African dress as seen in a day school, according to the Centenary Bulletin.

"Many of the pupils, who range from the kindergarten age to grandparents, are dressed in store clothes. Their store clothes, however, have largely lost their identity beneath a covering of many colored patches. Weather has nothing to do with clothes in this part of Africa. It may be a real summer day and you are wondering how you can keep cool, but not so these boys who have been to town to work and have clothes to exhibit to their less fortunate brothers. If these riches be sure to have it on and perhaps a bath towel around his neck, while most of the small boys are content with a yard of unbleached cotton for their entire outfit. But sometimes the big boys are quite generous with their little brothers and divide with them; such is the case of one little fellow who is the proud possessor of a vest which almost covers him. Two or three others wear their big brother's shirts, which is quite sufficient for all purposes.

"Some of the girls are dressed principally in beads, brass bracelets and anklets; while others have cloth draped around them forming a skirt and they are without a waist. One girl wears a pink silk waist with a dirty calico skirt. They often appear in evening dresses, the cast-off finery of the town women, and they may be seen digging in their gardens with these on. One came to school draped in a white bedspread." "Styles in names changing as well as in clothing. The following are some of the names which the African mothers have given their children: Spoon, Sauceman, Hotel, Pumpkin, Gingerbeer, Cigarette, Shilling, Sixpence, Penny, Coffee, Sweet Pudding, Very Nice, Office, Tomato, Fifteen, Vinegar, Sugar.

Uncle Sam Beneficiary. Members of the American Flint Glass Workers' union, assembled in Memorial hall, Toledo, were told an inspiring story of patriotic devotion by a member of their union at the unfurling of a service flag, with 866 stars, representing union men in the army. After an introductory speech, in which John J. Quinlivan, business agent of the Toledo Central Labor union, told of the determination of the unions to back the government, President William P. Clarke described the heroic death of Charles H. McCarthy, who sacrificed his own life in France for the sake of a friend. Not only had McCarthy, a former member of the Glass Workers' union, died heroically, but he had lived patriotically, Mr. Clarke said, for in taking out $10,000 insurance when he entered the army, he asked that the sum be made payable to the United States government.

Saving Man-Power. One of the recent devices designed to save man labor is the slab-handling storage battery truck, which is employed at the plant of a steel company in Cleveland to haul heavy pieces of steel from the storage yard to the heating furnaces, says Popular Science Monthly. The distance approximates 500 feet. Before electricity was substituted for man-power the slabs were loaded on hand trucks. The new truck is similar to the elevating platform truck, except that for its elevating mechanism a tilting platform is provided. This platform is secured to the rear axle by a pivot, being operated by a horizontal ram. By manipulating the ram the platform is moved toward a vertical position and its front edges are lowered.

Gentle Germans Quite Insulted. Mr. E. J. Riggs writes this short but pointed letter to the New York Sun about German sneaking: "On reading in the Sun that German newspapers are indignant because American soldiers are using shotguns, I was reminded of a 'card shark' in Leadville in '79. He had held out a big hand for a killing and had it stuck in the top of his boot. Finally he got his bank roll into a big pot and reached for his holdout to switch in, but found it gone. 'Hold on!' he yelled; 'I ain't going to play in this game—there's cheating going on.'"

Looking Far Ahead. A wife, whose husband is on active service, recently presented him with a bouncing baby boy. She wrote to ask him when he should get leave, and also when the war would be over. His reply was as follows: "Dear Lucy—I don't know when I shall get leave or when the war will be over, but if the baby should be called up before I get leave, give him a parcel to bring out to me.—Your loving husband, Bill."—London Tit-Bits.

The Clever Japs. Japanese manufacturers of electrical apparatus are planning to show their independence of Germany as a source of electric locomotives. Four locomotives are to be built for the Usul electrification as a start.

What Happened to the Governor? The Governor of a Western state, determined not to be interrupted by so many callers, instructed his negro doorman to say to all callers that "the Governor is not in." "But if they say they have an appointment with you, Governor?" asked the doorman. "Just say, 'They all say that,'" ordered the Governor. All went well until the next day, when a lady called, and when she was told that the Governor was not in she replied: "I know better than that. You tell the Governor his wife is here to take him to the theatre." "Oh," said the doorman, "They all say that."—The Elevator Constructor.

A Good One. A sportsman of great imaginative gift was telling how at one shot he had bagged two partridges and a rabbit. His explanation was that though he had hit only one partridge, the bird in falling had clutched at another partridge and brought that to earth entangled in its claws. "But how about the rabbit?" he was asked. "Oh," was the calm reply, "my gun kicked and knocked me backwards and I fell on the rabbit as it ran past."

THE HERALD.

TUESDAY, MAY 13TH, 1919

The Monetary Times' estimate of Canada's fire losses during April, 1919, is $1,089,070, compared with $2,154,095 in March, and $3,240,187 in April, 1918.

IMPORTS into Canada from the United States, for which payment must be made some time or other, continue to be on almost a wartime scale, the Canadian Trade Commission points out.

The Trade Commission is taking up a policy which may be stated as follows: first, to encourage consumption in Canada of Canadian produce and products to a much greater extent; second, to increase the exports, particularly of manufactured articles.

The ordinary man of to-day possesses more luxuries than kings in the old days ever dreamed of. Yet he is not content. The new conditions have brought in their train new responsibilities and new obligations whose claims he cannot put aside.—Kingston Whig.

The corner-stone of Bolshevism, remarks the Savannah News, has inscribed upon it: "No state, no schools, no church, no marriage laws or family institutions, no business, no rights to property, no God—nothing—but chaos as a preliminary to perdition." What a cheerful programme!

In the year before the war Canada had a net national debt of $338,000,000. To-day it is about $1,500,000,000. The interest on loans will require that the Dominion do about $100,000,000 more trade each year to keep up in relatively the same place as it was in 1914. To do this we must place our factory and field production on a new and enlarged plane, we must adopt the most up-to-date methods, we must co-operate in a broad and enlightened policy, we must do a hundred things not conceived even a few months ago by the most far-seeing. These are the things which the Canadian Trade Commission wishes to impress on every man and woman, even on every child, in the Dominion, for they are going to form for years to come the crux of our wellbeing.

FOREIGN CREDITS HAVE MAINTAINED OUR PROSPERITY

A large portion of the Canadian public has not yet realized how important a factor foreign credits have been in continuing good times.

Sir Thomas White recently said in Parliament: "Supposing the Dominion Government had said: No money for credit in Canada. What would have happened? Our wheat, flour, beef, manufactured goods, cheese, and salmon could not be sold abroad, and the export business of this country would practically come to a standstill.

From whom has the Government received the money that has enabled it to grant these credits? From the people who have loaned it.

If foreign credits are to be continued, and Sir Thomas says that they must be, for a while, then the people must continue to lend their money to the Government. War Savings and Thrift Stamps make this easy, besides they pay well. To invest in them is good business both for the individual and the country.

Canadian Trade with France

M. Paul Balbaud, formerly Professor of French at the University of Toronto, has returned to Canada after four years' service in the Translation Sections of the French and British Armies. He comes with the support of the French Ministry of Foreign Relations through the society "France-Amerique" to foster closer association between the countries, especially working through a subdivision, "France-Canada." M. Balbaud informs the Canadian Trade Commission that it is hoped to form self-supporting bodies in every Canadian city, naturally to make known French and Canadian products of field and factory, and to form groups of manufacturers and agents for trade purposes. He hopes to improve the opportunities for study of Canadian students in France, particularly those who desire to take up advanced commercial subjects. M. Balbaud is making a tour of the Dominion which runs to the Coast.

Veterans Go Back to Land

In an interview with The Globe, Mr. D. McKenna, Superintendent of the Soldier Settlement work in Ontario, stated that in the two months since the work was begun many hundreds of applications had been dealt with by the board. In the past month, he said, the applications of 462 returned soldiers applying for the benefits of the Soldier Settlement Act and similar legislation were received at the office of the Soldiers' Settlement Board. Of these 230 were approved. Eighty-six applicants required further agricultural experience, and each was advised as to how this experience might be gained. Of the 462 applications 110 remain undisposed of. In all of them further information is required, many have signified their intention of withdrawing for the present.

MUST ACCEPT TREATY

No Debate Will Be Permitted by Allies.

Sharp Reply Was Sent to Note from German Delegation, In Which Peace Terms Were Described as Unbearable—Huns Do Not Want to Sign League Covenant Without Being Granted Membership.

PARIS, May 12.—The Allies' can admit of no discussion of their right to insist upon the terms of the peace treaty substantially as drafted.

This is the reply to Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace delegation, who submitted a note to Premier Clemenceau declaring that the peace treaty contains demands which could be borne by no people, and many of them incapable of accomplishment.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau has also been informed, in answer to his complaint that Germany was asked to sign the Allied plan for a League of Nations, although not among the states invited to enter it, that the admission of additional member states has not been overlooked, but has been explicitly provided for in the second paragraph of Article 1 of the covenant.

The German peace delegation declares, in letters sent to the Allied and associated powers, that on essential points the basis of the peace of right agreed upon between the belligerents has been abandoned.

Two letters have been sent to the Allies, to which replies have been made. The first letter reads as follows:—

"The German peace delegation has finished the first perusal of the peace conditions which have been handed over to them. They have had to realize that on essential points the basis of the peace of right, agreed upon between the belligerents has been abandoned.

"They were not prepared to find that the promise, explicitly given to the German people and the whole of mankind, is in this way to be rendered illusory.

"The draft of the treaty contains demands which no nation could endure. Moreover, our experts hold that many of them could not possibly be carried out.

"The German peace delegation will substantiate these statements in detail and transmit to the Allied and associated Governments their observations and their material continuously.

(Signed) "Brockdorff-Rantzau."

To this letter the following reply was made by the Allied and associated powers:—

"The representatives of the Allied and associated powers have received the statement of objections of the German plenipotentiaries to the draft conditions of peace.

"In reply they wish to remind the German delegation that they have formulated the terms of the treaty with constant thought of the principles on which the armistice and the negotiations for peace were proposed. They can admit no discussion of their right to insist on the terms of the peace substantially as drafted. They can consider only such practical suggestions as the German plenipotentiaries may have to submit."

The second from the German representatives dealt with the League of Nations.

The German delegation, in notes transmitted Saturday night to M. Clemenceau, as president of the Peace Conference, proposes changes in the clauses of the peace treaty covering labor problems, and asks that prisoners of war be returned immediately after the signing of the preliminaries.

The notes suggest the holding of a joint labor convention at Versailles for consideration of the points raised. Satisfaction is expressed with the labor clauses in general, but it is pointed out that they cover principles already in force in Germany, and that they do not go far enough.

The Germans suggest that the labor agreement be considered at the proposed conference along the lines of the conclusions of the labor conference of July, 1917.

The note relating to prisoners criticizes the clause dealing with the return of prisoners-of-war, and asks that they be returned immediately after the signing of the preliminaries, and that adequate supplies of food and clothing be guaranteed them. It is considered in Peace Conference circles that the treaty as it stands provides amply for this point.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, German Foreign Minister and chairman of the peace delegation, tried to obtain a personal interview with President Wilson Friday, but was refused, according to L'Intransigent.

The administrative committee of the Socialist party made it known Sunday it did not consider the League of Nations in accord with the ideals of President Wilson's 14 points, while the indemnity demanded seems to the committee too heavy for Germany's resources. The stipulations concerning the German colonies and the Saar basin are objected to likewise as seeming to furnish causes for future wars.

"Standard Time."

LONDON, Ont., May 12.—London has been advised, in answer to a direct inquiry, that Greenwich, Eng., Observatory is operating on daylight-saving time in concord with the British law.

Mr. Justice Logie of the Supreme Court, who gave his ruling at the session at which application to quash the bylaw was heard, may not have given consideration to the origin of standard time in Ontario. The law prescribes that "standard time" is five hours in advance of the time of Greenwich, Eng., Observatory. Thus daylight-saving supporters contend that when England adopted the change the whole of the Province of Ontario was automatically forced to follow suit.

DISTRICT NEWS.

APPLETON

Special to THE HERALD. Mr. George Newman, of Merrickville, is visiting with his daughter, Mrs. J. A. McGregor.

Mr. Gilbert attended the funeral of her nephew in Ottawa last week. Saturday was Tag Day for the Y.M.C.A. and the collectors did a good day's work.

Miss Amy Fowler, of Almonte, is at present visiting her friend Miss Gladys Paul, and intends leaving in a short time for England.

Mr. and Mrs. Lockhart, of Yorkton, Sask., are the guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Jas. Syme.

Mr. John Black is making improvements to his comfortable home by giving it a coat of paint.

Mrs. Leslie, of Ottawa, spent last week with her brother Mr. Alex. Cavers. Owing to the unclimency of the weather our village churches were rather poorly attended on Sunday—"Mothers' Day."

INNISVILLE

Special to THE HERALD. Mrs. Jno. E. Moulton and Master Edward spent the week-end with friends near Halpenney.

Several from here attended the dance in Drummond Centre last Friday evening, and report an enjoyable time.

Most people like their town painted red, but it seems our village believes in having it white.

Mrs. T. W. Cooke is spending a few days this week with her niece, Miss Bertha Moore, in Ottawa.

Our church has again been opened for the summer; Rev. Mr. Brunet of Clayton, having the first service a week ago Sunday.

Mr. Chas. Crampton purchased a Chevrolet touring car last week from Mr. E. Robertson, Carleton Place.

Another one of those events which always cause such a flutter of excitement, took place at the Presbyterian Manse, Balderston, last Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, when Miss Elsie, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McLaren, of this village was united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Greig to Mr. W. P. Kilfoyle, the prosperous young cheesemaker of Franktown.

The bride, who was beautifully attired in her travelling suit of navy blue with georgette crepe waist and hat to match, was attended by her cousin, Miss Blanche McKim, of Carleton Place, while Mr. Basil Hughton ably supported the groom. After the ceremony the bridal party motored back to the home of the bride's parents, where they all sat down to a dainty wedding supper, the guests present being the immediate relatives of the bride and groom. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold pendant; to the bridesmaid a brooch and to the groomsmen, a pair of cuff links. The popularity of the young couple was shown by the number of costly and useful presents and cheques they received. After supper the happy couple left amidst a shower of rice and confetti for their home in Franktown, carrying with them the congratulations and best wishes of a large circle of friends.

ALMONTE

From the Gazette. Mrs. W. McAuliffe and family are moving this week to North Bay where they will reside.

Mrs. J. Malone of Ottawa was in town last week and disposed of her dwelling on Ottawa street to Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Honeyborne.

The names of five Almonte boys appeared in this morning's list of men who returned on the Baltic. They are: Gnr. R. Gibbons, Pte. D. A. McAuliffe, Pte. G. Monteville, Spr. L. G. Needham, Spr. D. B. Taylor.

An old and respected resident of Almonte, Miss Margaret Dolan, passed away suddenly at her home on Ottawa street early Wednesday morning after only a few days' illness. She was born near Westport, Ireland, seventy years ago, and in 1872 came to Almonte, where she has since made her home. She was the eldest of the family and leaves to mourn her loss two brothers, John, Carleton Place, and James, Perth, and two sisters, Mrs. Chas. James, and Miss Fanny, of town. The funeral took place this afternoon at 2.15 to St. Paul's church, where Rev. C. Saddington performed the burial service, and thence to St. Paul's cemetery. The pallbearers were: Chas. James, W. Beck, R. M. Bolton, Albert Lotan, Jas. Dolan and M. J. McCabe.

A quiet wedding took place on April 10th, at four o'clock in the afternoon, at St. George's church, Clayton, when Myrtle Goss of Carleton Place was united in marriage to Trevor Code of Smiths Falls, Rev. G. A. Brunet officiating. The bridal party were unattended. After the marriage service they drove over to the home of the groom's brother, Mr. M. Code, of Clayton, where lunch was served, and where a small reception was given in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Trevor Code will make their home in Smiths Falls.

Pte. Wm. Farrell has returned home from overseas. He was married in Scotland and brought his wife and family with him.

PERTH

From the Expositor. Last Tuesday morning about six o'clock, Mr. George Widenmaier, of the 7th concession of Drummond, was found by Mrs. Widenmaier in the summer kitchen adjoining the house with life extinct. Deceased had not been in good health of late, and had been troubled greatly with insomnia. On the morning of his death he got up about 6 o'clock and it was supposed was going out to attend to the stock but, hearing the report of the gun, Mrs. Widenmaier found deceased in the rear kitchen with a mortal wound in the head inflicted by himself. Deceased is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Widenmaier, and besides his parents is survived by Mrs. Widenmaier, whose maiden name was Ella Connors, two daughters Mary and Sadie, and two brothers and one sister. The deceased was industrious and had lived in Drummond some 35 years. The funeral took place Wednesday to Campbell's burying ground.

Death claimed Mrs. Lawrence Byrne who died Tuesday, May 6th. Mrs. Byrne suffered patiently for several months from an ailment which carried off four of her sons in their younger years. Deceased's maiden name was Sarah Brown. She was born in England 45 years ago and came to this country when a child of ten. Twenty-five years ago she and Mr. Byrne were married and for that length of time they have been honored and esteemed residents of town. A family of eight blessed the union, four of whom are deceased.

Mr. Thomas Farner has completed the sale of $6,800 of Perth bonds sold to pay for the construction of sewers in town lately. Interest at 5 1/2 per cent.

Mr. Fred Forsyth addressed a meeting in Carleton Place Tuesday evening, relative to the forming of an egg circle there and the selling of wool on the cooperative plan. A circle will likely be formed in due time.

Now that Carleton Place has decided for Hydro Electric power, work commences shortly on linking it up with the Rideau System. This will be by means of constructing a line from Glen View to Carleton, work upon which will commence shortly.

Miss Marion Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Robertson, town, graduated in Arts at McMaster University on Wednesday.

LANARK

From the Era. Lanark Village again honored herself last Thursday night by doing honor to another group of her returned soldiers. A reception was held by the citizens, which in point of spontaneous enthusiasm and sincere greeting, will serve as a lasting impression of a life time to all who bore a part either as spectator or engaged in the ceremonials.

On Sunday last Rev. C. C. Philips preached his farewell sermon in St. Paul's church, Lanark. Prior to his departure the members of St. Paul's church presented him with a beautiful club bag and an address which marked the esteem in which Mr. Philips was held by his parishioners. He responded feelingly to the presentation and the address. Rev. C. C. Philips has laboured faithfully in the Lanark Anglican Mission during the past five years. He leaves for Metcalf, Ont., and is succeeded by Rev. Lowe of that place.

A very pleasant event took place on Wednesday, April 30th, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Watt, Dalhousie, when Miss Mary Ashby of Fallbrook, sister of Mrs. Herbert Watt was united in marriage to Mr. John G. Watt, of Sherbrooke.

Reports received by the Ontario Department of Agriculture indicate that the present season is the most backward in fifteen years.

Tom Longboat arrived in Halifax on the troopship Baltic, last week.

Hon. C. W. Fisher, speaker of the Alberta legislature, died last week.

Frank McCullough, escaped murderer, was recaptured by the Toronto police. He had never left the city.

The Wheat Export Company is again in the market for flour, and all Canadian mills have orders for work at capacity till July.

Col. H. A. C. Machin's report on the Military Service Act shows that a net total of 113,461 men were secured through it.

A compilation of the deaths of French youth between 18 and 30 during the progress of the war shows that over half of the young manhood of the country has disappeared.

Queen's University will lose two professors, James Cappon, dean of the faculty of arts, will retire on Sept. 1, when he will have completed 31 years' service, and Dr. A. P. Knight, professor of physiology, is also shortly to retire. He has been with the university 27 years.

A watt is a unit of measure for electricity just as a quart is a unit of measure for milk and the bushel is a unit of measure for corn. Kilo is a Greek word meaning 1,000 and a kilowatt is 1,000 watts, and the watt takes the name from James Watt, the famous physicist.

EX-KAISER HEARS TERMS.

Wm. Hohenzollern Knew That He Must Face Trial.

AMERONGEN, May 12.—An official abstract of the preliminary peace terms published in the Dutch newspapers, which was translated and read to the former German Emperor Friday, has aroused considerable excitement among the members of the Hohenzollern party. An inkling concerning what the Entente intended to do in connection with bringing William Hohenzollern to trial had reached the German officials earlier in the week. They communicated the information to the former Emperor, who displayed signs of marked emotion, but decided to await the appearance of a fuller official report before making the news known to her husband.

A special messenger procured to Arnhem Thursday to procure a copy of the local newspapers. Meanwhile, the former Emperor continued his usual occupation of sawing logs, but apparently he is suffering from ever-growing nervous excitement. His saw worked as never before, and his physician, Dr. Foerster, who assisted him, was completely exhausted at lunch time.

How the former Emperor took the news the correspondent was unable to ascertain, as everybody in the castle is sworn to secrecy regarding happenings. Rumors were circulated in the village that he attempted to commit suicide by hanging, but these are considered cards since his attendants are quite calm.

The former ruler looked wonderfully well as he walked out to his sawing. It seems undoubted that he intends to stay in Holland, if he can, as further precautions have been taken around the castle. Orders have been given to erect a high fence along the entire side of the moat, which is still open, in order to prevent many summer visitors who are frequently in Amerongen from obtaining ingress.

HIS LEGS WERE NERVOUS.

Count Brockdorff-Rantzau Disliked by Big Four.

PARIS, May 12.—The Big Four will take steps this week to put into execution a plan leading to the withdrawal of Count Brockdorff-Rantzau as the head of the enemy peace commission.

This highly important action is supported mainly by the British, who believe that his presence as a plenipotentiary injects an unfortunate element into the peace-making which would be removed were he to withdraw. Strong protests have been made against allowing Count Rantzau being a German signatory, and when the German delegates sign the treaty it may be that Count Rantzau himself will decline to act further for the Teutons if he finds his protests disregarded, and will resign, permitting a substitute to carry on the work.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau's will was strong enough to enable him to deliver his speech on behalf of Germany to the Allies at the Versailles Peace Congress Wednesday, but he feared collapse if he stood.

This is on the authority of his secretary, who has been clipping and translating comments from the English papers, sharply reproaching the count for remaining seated when speaking. To these comments the head of the German delegation has been giving considerable attention.

His secretary being asked by a member of the delegation what Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau thought of this, made answer: "It was because he was master of his voice and not his legs."

MAY HOLD ENQUIRY.

Duke of Connaught and Lord French in Limerick.

LONDON, May 12.—The assertion is made that the Duke of Connaught will undertake a tour of the war zone at the request of the Government and will be asked to preside over the Governmental inquiry into the conduct of the earlier stages of the war.

This report evidently arises from the publication of Lord French's story of the 1914 operations. His account is of course being followed with absorbing interest, but opinion in responsible military as well as civilian circles is almost entirely one of regret that publication should have been made, at all events, at the present juncture.

It is understood that considerable pressure was exercised in an endeavor to delay publication of these memoirs. Many declare that Lord French will not add to his reputation by making known just now the tremendous responsibilities which faced him during the early weeks after reaching France. For one thing the great responsibilities have already received a fair measure of appreciation. Speaker Lowther, in the House of Commons, was particularly severe when Sir Donald McLean attempted to bring to the notice of the House Lord French's "entry into Journalism." Lord French was now the Viceroy of Ireland, maintained the Speaker, and his conduct could only be impugned by formal notice of motion. There was some cheering when Capt. Ormsby Gore suggested that Lord French was also field marshal and therefore subject to the King's Regulations.

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Thousands of mothers state positively that Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine they know of for little ones. Their experience has taught them that the Tablets always do just what is claimed for them and that they can be given with perfect safety to children of all ages. Concerning them Mrs. Joseph Therrien, St. Gabriel de Brandon, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine I know of for little ones. I thought I would lose my baby before trying the Tablets, but they soon made him healthy and happy and now I would not be without them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

During consideration by the special committee of the commons of the bill to consolidate the railway laws of the Dominion, Hon. T. W. Crothers moved an amendment to the effect that the wives and children of members of parliament should have the right to travel on trains free. Members now possess this privilege. The amendment was not accepted, but the minister of railways pointed out that members do not experience any difficulty in securing transportation for their families. All they have to do is ask for it.

ARE YOU UNDER-INSURED?

When you took out your insurance you did so to protect your dependents. It has been estimated that the present day value of a dollar, as compared with a very few short years ago, is only about Sixty Cents.

Therefore in the basis of your insurance requirements a few years ago, you are now underinsured about 40%.

Your requirements for Life Protection have probably increased. See our local Agent, he will explain how in a reasonable way you can make up the missing 40%.

German Ex-Crown Prince

Unfaithful and Brutal.
Wife Now Seeks Divorce

THE former German Crown Prince, Prince Cecilie has taken steps to divorce her husband, Frederick William, according to a statement given to Swiss newspapers by the former Grand Duchess Anastasia of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, mother of the former Crown Prince. The statement says that it long has been the desire of Cecilie to divorce her husband, but that the pressure of the Hohenzollern family up to this time had prevented her from carrying it out. The statement of the Grand Duchess charges Frederick William with cruelty to his wife, saying: "On one occasion some time ago the situation became so unbearable that my daughter actually fled her home. She almost succeeded in reaching Switzerland. Orders were sent from Berlin to intercept her and she was captured at the German frontier like a common criminal and taken to Berlin under arrest. "My daughter will be able to place before the German court overwhelming evidence against her husband and will be able to prove many instances of the grossest cruelty against him. His infidelities were numerous and there is absolute proof of them. His brutality was atrocious. On more than one occasion my daughter was treated with actual violence. She was bruised and her face was disfigured by her husband's blows." Berlin dispatches by way of Zurich on February 3 said that Frederick William had instituted proceedings for a divorce, but there have been no further reports on the case. The former Crown Prince and Princess Cecilie were married in June, 1905. The pair have five children, the youngest having been born in 1915. The former Crown Prince is now in exile. His family has remained at Potsdam. The former Grand Duchess Anastasia was a grand duchess of Russia before her marriage. Since the war she has been living in Switzerland. She renounced her German nationality and renewed her allegiance to Russia late in 1914.

Odd Numbers. It has been wisely remarked that an ancient and universal belief is not to be lightly ignored; there must be "something in it."

Odd numbers have always and everywhere been held in peculiar reverence, and if that is mere superstition, then it only proves that, despite our civilization, we are still superstitious.

A hen is always given an odd number of eggs to be hatched. Why? There is no reason at all, except superstition.

Salutes from warships, forts, etc., are always given in odd numbers, yet no valid reason can be adduced. It is a remnant of the old "odd numbers are lucky" superstition.

"Virt" records all sorts of charms and spells practiced round odd numbers—never even ones. And we still, after two failures, make another attempt, and murmur hopefully: "Third time lucky." The odd number again; and the old superstition!

Seven is the favorite Biblical number, and old divines taught that it held a mystical perfection. It's an odd number. Three is the number of the Trinity—an odd number again.

Falstaff, in the "Merry Wives," is entrapped for the third time. He himself said: "They say there is a divinity in odd numbers" because of the old belief that the odd time would be lucky.

Physicians of other days always insisted that "bleedings" should be in odd numbers—one, three, five, etc., and never an even one.

The number two was avoided and had an evil reputation, because on the second day hell was created.—Tit-Bits.

Canadian Commands Finns. Reuter's gathers that Finns to the number of about 1,500, known as the Red Finn Legion, who compose the auxiliary forces attached to the British armies in North Russia, and who were recently causing trouble, are commanded by a Canadian colonel, whose powerful personality and strong will have since their enrollment built them up into a disciplined and valuable body of troops. They have their own native officers, who in turn are controlled by British officers on the colonel's staff.

Stainless Steel Cutlery. The making of stainless steel cutlery, which originated in England, was suspended during the war. The result is achieved by adding about 13 per cent of chromium.

HAPLESS RUSSIA.

British Chaplain Describes Orgies of the Reds.

How Odessa suffered from a systematic campaign of murder, robbery, and outrage, after the first entry of the Bolsheviks on March 13, 1918, is described by Courtier Forster, a British chaplain at Odessa, in an article published in the Daily Chronicle. He says: "If the brutal tyranny which the Bolsheviks compelled the terror-stricken Russian people to accept in the name of 'freedom of the mind and body' punishes all liberty of thought with torture, outrage, and death, freedom of the body is equally travestied by unthinkable cruelties, unless the term is accepted as synonymous with bestial indecency and moral depravity. Women and girls engaged in shopping commissions in the lower parts of the town were seized by bands of men from the Red Army and carried off to warehouse yards and similar places, where their fate was worse than death. Indeed, in many instances they were found dead on the following morning. Orgies which defy description were of daily occurrence."

"Wine shops and cellars were by degrees broken into and looted. Throughout the city free drinks from pails and buckets were given to all who cared for them. Women returning from market in the morning were stopped and compelled to drink from pails held on high by two soldiers. On one afternoon it was my fate to come away from a shop and find the streets running red, with hundreds of gallons of wine pouring from smashed vats of a great store. Numbers of Bolsheviks lay flat on the pavement, with faces in the gutter, drinking from the stream which flowed past, carrying with it the accumulated filth and refuse of the uncleaned city."

"This is the Bolshevik idea of freedom of the body coupled with the right to make the public parks and gardens a scene of indescribable obscenities, and the recognition of murder and assassination as customary methods of dealing with those whose ideas of 'freedom of the body' savor of sympathy with the wornout and benighted standards of the effete civilization of the Allies."

"The brutality of assassination increased daily. There lived, a few houses further down the street in which I had my quarters, a young wife and little son of a junior officer who was at the time in Petrograd. She went one day to draw her allowance, which amounted to only a few pounds. Small as the sum was, it aroused the cupidity of a few watchful Bolsheviks. On the following morning her apartment was found looted and she and her boy were found dead in bed, pierced through and through with thrusts from bayonets."

"In the same street, the Kanatnaya, another ghastly affair came to my notice. One morning two quietly dressed ladies were standing at a corner awaiting the coming of a tramcar. A party of Bolsheviks approached and noticed them as members of the persecuted 'bourgeois' class. Without the formality of any arrest or the mockery of a trial, both were shot dead on the pavement at the street corner."

"It is the return of this wanton brutality and reign of terror which awaits those harassed and luckless citizens who find themselves once again in the clutches of the Red Army. Odessa has fallen, and Soviet Russia thrills with triumph at the defeat of the Allies. The armies of Denekine and Koltchak will be immediate. The anti-Bolshevik allies of the Entente will be weakened and disheartened. God help those who fall into the power of Lenin's armies! For a mortal blow has been struck at the prestige of the Entente in the home of Bolshevism."

Animals at Home In Water. Nearly all animals are said to be better swimmers than man, and to take to the water naturally. The rhinoceros and hippopotamus are wonderful swimmers and divers, while the Indian elephant crosses great rivers with heavy loads.

The elk and the reindeer are first-class swimmers. The elk keeps his head above water and crosses directly from bank to bank to avoid turning. The reindeer, on the other hand, turns as often as he likes, keeping his head only a little above the surface. But of all swimmers of all climes the best, though not the swiftest, is the polar bear, who passes half his time in the water swimming and diving. His swimming power is nothing short of miraculous if it be remembered that the water in the regions he frequents is invariably cold, and that cold is normally prohibitive to good swimming. It is said there are bears that can swim from twenty-five to thirty miles without great effort.

One of the swiftest swimming animals is the squirrel. A sportsman on one occasion, having at hand a squirrel born in captivity, which had never seen water, wanted to see if it could swim, and took it with him in a rowboat to the centre of a lake. The squirrel turned toward the bank, head and paws above the water, back and tail underneath it, and began to swim so rapidly that it was with the greatest difficulty that the man recovered it when it reached the shallow water near the land.

Artificial Limbs. Willow or other wood of a similar nature has heretofore been made use of in the manufacture of artificial limbs, but a cheaper and at the same time superior substitute has been found in a composition in which celluloid largely enters. The composition is made use of by spreading upon pieces of fabric, which are then wound about a mold. The new material is said to be light, easily worked and of trivial cost.

Flax. The average Argentine linseed (or flax) area of 3,000,000 acres is approached only by that of British India. The United States follows with about 2,000,000 acres.

Marquis Saionji
a Japanese Leader

MARQUIS SAIONJI, leading member of the Japanese peace delegation, has been for almost half a century a unique figure in Japanese politics, according to a Japanese correspondent of the London Times. The writer says:—

"Born of one of the proudest houses of the court nobility, he has been an enlightened and persistent advocate of liberalism. When the revolution of 1868 broke out—the revolution which overthrew the time-worn military autocracy of a feudal hierarchy and ushered in a new constitutional imperial regime, Marquis Saionji, though still a minor, found himself, in virtue of his birth and intelligence, in a position to take part in the great debate at the imperial court which decided the issue of the revolution. Soon afterward he was placed at the head of an imperial army sent to pacify nascent or open discontent. But when the imperial regime was solidly established Saionji resigned office and honors and went abroad to study."

"From 1869 to 1880 he lived in Paris, studying law and literature and mixing with the young Radicals of the Third Republic. With some of them, for example M. Clemenceau, he contracted a lifelong friendship. At the same time he was much influenced by the writings and personal magnetism of the late Emile Acollas."

"On his return he found the political atmosphere incongenial. The country was then dominated by the oligarchy of two great clans which had taken the largest share in the imperial restoration of 1868, and young Saionji, with the collaboration of a few others of like mind, issued a short-lived paper for the propagation of liberal opinions. On the other hand, he found in a leading member of the Government a kindred spirit, with whom co-operation in politics seemed possible. This was Mr. (afterward Prince) Ito. Between them there sprang up a lifelong friendship, Saionji sharing every important task undertaken by Ito, and, on the latter's retirement from active politics, becoming his successor in party leadership."

In 1882 Saionji went abroad as a member of the Ito commission to study the constitutional parliamentary working of European countries. Three years later he became Minister Plenipotentiary to the Court of Vienna, and afterward filled the same office at Berlin.

"By 1890, when the first Japanese Parliament met, he returned home and, in 1893, became Vice-President of the House of Peers, of which Prince (then Count) Ito was the first President. He was twice Minister of Education—in 1894-96 and 1896—in each case under the Premiership of Prince Ito.

"Political parties were growing in influence, and the mind of Prince Ito, the leading statesman of the day, was becoming rapidly convinced of the necessity of a national party. When in 1900 he announced the program of the Seiyukai, or Constitutional Party, he was recommended as Marquis Saionji stood behind him as his trusted adviser. In Prince Ito's first Seiyukai Cabinet Marquis Saionji became President of the Privy Council, and twice acted as Deputy Premier. In 1903 Prince Ito and Marquis Saionji exchanged posts, the former becoming President of the Privy Council and the latter the leader of the Seiyukai. During the Russo-Japanese War Marquis Saionji's leadership of the party was particularly brilliant. At its close, when a wave of opposition arose against the terms of the Portsmouth treaty, it was Marquis Saionji who, by a timely public pronouncement in his favor and by the weight of his personal authority, saved the country from a grave national crisis."

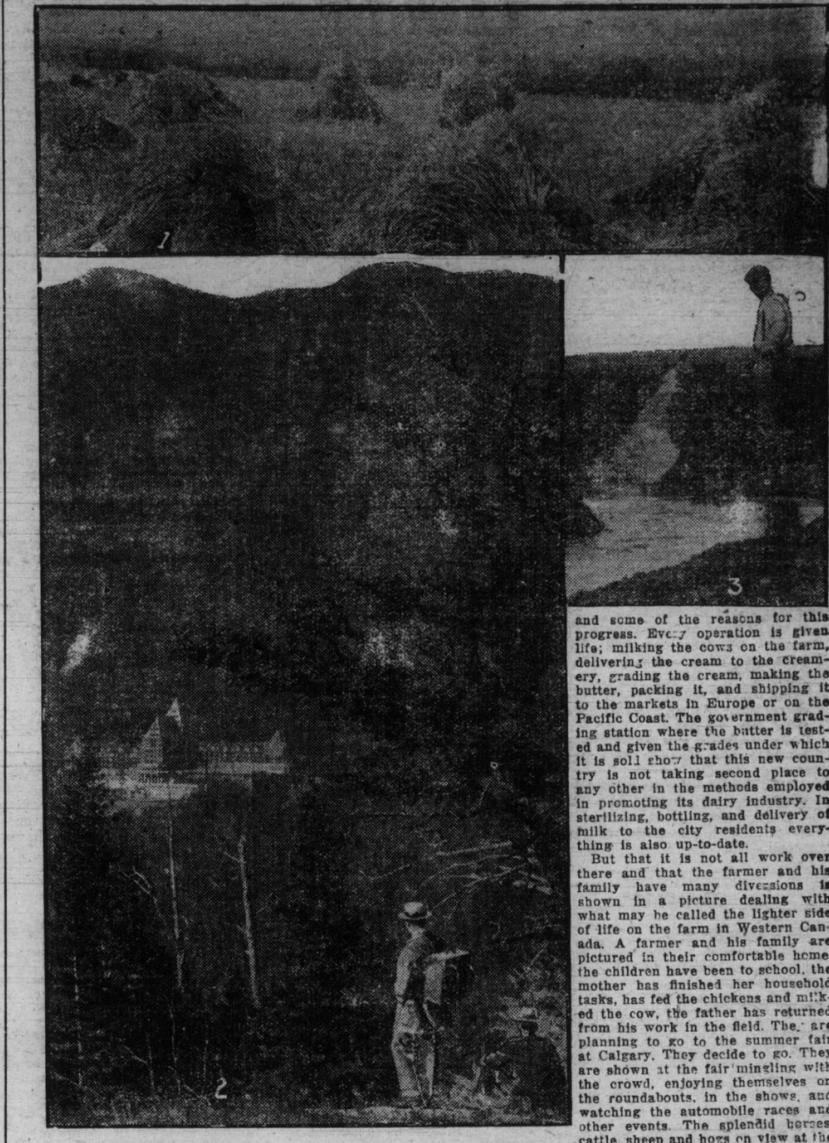

"Before the end of 1905, Marquis Saionji was recommended as successor by Premier Katsura. The first Saionji Cabinet lasted till 1907, the noteworthy event of the administration being the nationalization of the railways. It was during his premiership also that the agreement with France, known as the Pichon-Kurino convention, and a similar convention with Russia were concluded. In 1910-12 Marquis Saionji became Premier for the second time in succession to Prince Katsura. The chief event during his second premiership was the death of the late Emperor, and the accession of the present Emperor. In this connection Marquis Saionji did good service in democratizing the ancient court customs and usages so as to bring the crown and the people closer together. In 1915 he resigned his leadership of the Seiyukai, giving place to his able lieutenant, the present Premier, Mr. Hara."

An Old Saying. The most popular explanation of the origin of the expression, "Everything is lovely and the goose hangs high," is this: That it comes from the southern country, amusement known as "goose pulling." A goose, its neck carefully plucked and well greased, was hung by its feet to a branch of a tree, says an exchange. The men would ride past at a gallop, trying to catch it by the neck and pull its head off. The better the goose was in dodging the greater the fun. When the goose hung high, so that the competitors had to stand in their stirrups to grasp at it, the joy was greatest. Another suggested origin is that it refers to the fact that wild geese fly in clear weather; this explanation would change "hangs" to "honks."

Efficiency. Efficiency experts have been studying files and find that the life of one of these tools, on the average, is 25,000 strokes. To employ a file for more than its normal period of usefulness, it is claimed, more than doubles the cost of the work.

Giving Rooster Its Due. On my way to the railroad station with Victor, with whose parents I was spending my vacation, I remarked that he had lovely hair. Whereupon he said: "Yes, but our rooster has a better comb than I have hair."—Chicago Tribune.

The Canadian West In "Movies"

(1) An Alberta Wheat Field. (2) Movie Mat Near Banff Springs Hotel. (3) An Irrigation Stream. The film dealing with irrigation farming shows the land being prepared for irrigation, the application of water, growing crops of grain and alfalfa, harvesting, and livestock on the irrigated farm. It also shows the irrigation works, including the great Irrigation Dam, the largest of its kind in the world. The idea one gathers of these structures from the picture is that they were built to last, and that those who provided the money had great confidence in the country and the undertaking. The dairy film shows the rapid progress this industry has made in Alberta during the last few years.

CAPRONI'S AIRSHIP.

Constructed to Carry Hundred Passengers Per Voyage.

Signor Caproni, inventor of the Caproni plane and Italy's foremost maker of flying apparatus, announces he has nearly completed a triplane of the Caproni model capable of accommodating 100 passengers for a long trip.

This big passenger plane will be equipped with cabins, berths, appliances for preparing and serving food, etc. It is the first of a series of similar planes that will be used for commercial transportation.

Signor Caproni points out that the shape of Italy makes a trip between its northern and southern ends a time-consuming effort and transportation between Italy and its island and African possessions very much more so.

By these big passenger planes a trip from Rome to Naples would take an hour and a half, from Naples to Messina or Palermo, Sicily, two hours, and from Palermo to Tunis, Africa, less than two hours and a half.

Besides passengers these planes will carry mail, newspapers and compact express merchandise. Signor Caproni is assured in advance of business enough to carry the expense of the service and he anticipates a good profit.

To guard against disabling accidents the planes will have two reserve engines, capable of sustaining flight, and there will be also a reserve pilot always on duty against any human failure at the controls.

All this, remember, is not a dream or a vision of the future. The first of these 100-passenger triplanes is nearly ready for its first flight and the construction of others is financed. Italy's progressive transportation interests are taking up commercial airplane use promptly and in no timid way.

On my way to the railroad station with Victor, with whose parents I was spending my vacation, I remarked that he had lovely hair. Whereupon he said: "Yes, but our rooster has a better comb than I have hair."—Chicago Tribune.

She would never know. Still, poor Shirley—none the less! He set wearily to work once more.

The afternoon came to an end somehow. The clamor of machinery from the shop was stilled. The other offices became silent.

"Oh, I thought every one was gone?" "Yes, I thought so too."

"You are leaving, then? I didn't know." "Yes, at the end of the week."

He commanded his feet to go on, and they went—toward her. He rested his folded arms heavily on the tall desk.

"I'll miss you," he said. "I'll miss you very much. It won't seem the same here without you."

"But maybe you'll be leaving, too—if your plans are taken, you know."

"I'd forgotten them. I don't seem to care so much about them as I ought, now they're out of my hands, and I can't count on them."

"Why run away and leave her to face it alone?" "He was there a long time. It grew dark."

"The street, deserted by its daylight trollers, grew quiet except for the tramping of an occasional heavy footed watchman or policeman."

"The visitor, too, supposed that he had the building to himself. He worked by the light of a dark lantern and tiptoed instinctively."

"The announcement is made that a monster devil fish weighing 1,700 pounds, and measuring 12 feet from tip to tip, has been captured three miles out from Deer Island, near Biloxi, Miss., by local fishermen."

"The fish, a species which is seldom seen so close to shore, was caught in a trawl net by Pat Moran, and it took three power boats to haul the fish into port."

"The fish was brought to the exhibition on the pier, and placed in a shallow tank close to shore. It was caught in a trawl net by Pat Moran, and it took three power boats to haul the fish into port."

They saw him. No word passed then; there was nothing to say. She moved slowly out of the room by another door, the men, both as if in a daze, following her with their eyes.

"David!" Jonathan's voice broke like a boy's. "David, what have you done?"

"After a little that cry reached David's understanding. 'I never knew!'"

"He turned away from the stricken, accusing face. He heard Jonathan start away at last, then turn and come toward him."

"I was bringing this to you," said Jonathan's choking voice. And again: "David! David!"

"That time Jonathan did not return. Mechanically David took up and opened the letter. He had to read it twice before he grasped its import."

"The committee of St. Mark's has selected your plans. * * * We shall want you to supervise the work; * * * usual terms; * * * congratulations."

"The letter fluttered from his hands to the floor, St. Mark's from his mind. So he was not to have even the consolation of knowing that no one but himself had been hurt."

"It would be in his soul that he had hurt her, too—cruelly, hopelessly hurt her. And he could not help her, only run away and leave her to face it alone."

"And Jonathan, his kind friend—the meaning of the grief on that homely face was plain."

"The cup of David's misery ran over. He fell forward on his desk, his head, pillowing his head on his arms."

"Esther!" As if summoned by the cry, another little imp took stand by David's car. And his tongue was specious and honeyed, and he had the trick of making black seem white and gray a golden splendor."

"Why run away and leave her to face it alone?" "He was there a long time. It grew dark. The street, deserted by its daylight trollers, grew quiet except for the tramping of an occasional heavy footed watchman or policeman."

"The visitor, too, supposed that he had the building to himself. He worked by the light of a dark lantern and tiptoed instinctively. Very carefully, as his former cellmate had taught him, he made his preparations, substituting a sixty for a six ampere fuse—which would give him, the old crackman had said, 'juice' enough to cut through the ribs of a warship—and clamping one strand of his extension wire to the safe door. This done, he unscrewed all the light bulbs from their sockets, lest when he turned the switch a sudden glow through the shades arouse some prowling watchman's curiosity. Then he took up the other strand of his wire, to which was attached a carbon electrode, knelt on the floor and—gingerly, for so much juice suggested many possibilities to a novice—touched the carbon to the safe door."

"He drew back hastily, almost unnerved. The old crackman had not warned him of that blinding flash or that sputtering, loud enough, so it seemed, to be heard a block away. But he remembered that Jonathan often kept money overnight in the safe. He forced himself to make the contact again."

"David heard a shuffling sound from a nearby office. He straightened stiffly, wondering dully who the newcomer was—the watchman probably on a round of inspection, or perhaps Jonathan, who came to his office sometimes of nights to work off odds and ends that his lack of system allowed to pile up on him, Jonathan, his friend, who had been hurt, whose stricken, accusing, contemptuous face danced before him. David's heart gave a sharp twinge at that. He hoped it was not Jonathan. He did not want to face Jonathan just then."

"He started at a sudden crackling report that resounded through the lonely building, followed by a strange, continued sputtering. He went slowly into the corridor and to Jonathan's office. At the door he stopped, staring in stupid surprise at the intent kneeling figure dimly outlined in the glow of hot metal and the bluish, crackling flame. Then, with a vague notion that

It was the wrong thing to do, but his overwrought brain not quite grasping the situation, he took two steps into the room.

"Get out of here, whoever you are!" With a muttered ejaculation the intruder turned his head to look, then sprang back from the safe, breaking the contact. Instantly the room became black. David stared, still stupidly, at the dull red spot on the safe until it faded into blackness. Then he realized. He stood very still, muscles tense, senses sharply alert. He heard a faint rustling, but he could not make out from what part of the room it came.

Smith, the burglar, crouched, rigid, waiting for a shot. It did not come. Slowly, as silently as possible, he reached for the sheath knife he carried and drew it. He had a gun, but a knife, the old crackman had said, was much better for a fight in the dark, and it had the superlative virtue of noiselessness. He became motionless again, his eyes vainly straining to pierce the darkness, waiting for the other to make a move. The silence and inaction became unbearable. He gathered his nerve and muscles for a rush to where the door ought to be and leaped forward. At the third step a fist struck out and caught him on the neck. He recoiled a little, then lashed out blindly with the knife. He heard a sharp gasp and a body crumpling to the floor. But Smith waited no longer. Groping his way to the door, he sped along the corridor and through the shop to the rear window, where he had entered."

A quarter of an hour later a watchman spied the open window. He whistled a policeman to his aid, and together, after a period of timorous deliberation, they entered and, with many discreet pauses, tiptoed over the building. They found David in the corridor, where he had given up crawling, weakly trying to stanch the flowing blood."

"The policeman was young and new to his job. He mopped his brow nervously at sight of so much blood."

"Are you much hurt, d'ye think?" he inquired anxiously.

"More scared than hurt probably," David smiled wanly. "But just the same I think you'd better call up a doctor."

At the Door He Stopped, Staring in Stupid Surprise.

Most Ontario dairy farmers depend on the pasture crop for the feeding of cows during summer. If the pasture fails, there is no remedy, the cows go dry, the creameries and dairies suffer loss of patronage, the city milk plants are short of milk, and the whole dairy business is more or less handicapped. The time has come when dairy farmers should take out an insurance policy in the form of a summer silo, filled with corn from the previous year's crop.

Falling this, silage in the bottom of a winter silo is good feed, but the surface exposed should be reduced to one-half by cutting the silage down the centre with a hay-knife. If this is not available, the silage in one-half the silo may be dug down with a fork, but this leaves an irregular edge which causes excessive spoiling of the silage. Great care is needed in feeding summer silage, else there is danger of tainting the milk. The strong advantage of silage for supplementing poor pasture, is the fact that a man can get feed out of a silo for a herd of cows in about one-half the time required to cut a silo in a field and haul this to the stable for the cows to eat. Some meal, or wheat bran, should be added to the silage for best results.

If silage is not available for feeding during the season of '19, then soiling crops like clover, oats, peas and vetches, corn, etc., should be provided, so that the cows may not wait for feed to make milk.—Prof. H. H. Dean, O. A. College, Guelph.

Interest in farm tractors has increased rapidly in Ontario in the past two or three years. In the early part of this year the Ontario Department of Agriculture held 32 courses on farm power in different parts of the province, and there was a total attendance of 12,270. No greater interest has been shown in courses on any other subject, and much useful educational work was done.

FARM WATER SYSTEMS

A Summary of Best Available Types for Stables.

When Pastures Fail the Milk Flow Decreases Unless Soiling Crops Have Been Provided—Corn Silage Will Also Greatly Increase Milk Yield in Hot Summer.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

IN a day's visit among the farmers of Ontario in almost every county you would run across quite a number of stables equipped with some form or other of water system for supplying the farm stock more or less automatically with water every day. With few exceptions every new barn built now is provided with a water system. Among the available systems are the following, which, in this short article, can receive only a very brief description:

Of these probably the most common is that consisting of a water supply tank in the hay or straw loft above the stable, from which the water runs by gravity into a regulating tank on the stable floor, which supplies the individual drinking basins with water automatically. The tank is usually built of concrete and the size depends upon the kind of power used for pumping; if windmill be used then the tank needs to be large enough for three or four days' supply as the wind does not blow every day. Under these conditions a tank 10 x 4 x 4 feet, or its equivalent would be required for 30 head of stock. Sometimes the concrete tank is built just outside the stable wall and underground enough to protect it again frost, or in one corner of the stable, elevated enough off the floor to feed the regulating tank by gravity. In case pumping is done by gasoline engine and a smaller tank is sufficient, a metal one is suspended from ceiling of stable. In every case an overflow is necessary. Many provide means for collecting the rain water off the barn and running it into the storage tank so that in wet weather very little pumping is required, especially where a large tank is used. Another method of filling the storage tank is by the hydraulic ram installed at the spring. Still another is by means of a one-inch pipe leading from a spring or other source at an elevation at least as high as the storage tank. Sometimes where hydraulic ram or gravity system is in use the storage tank is dispensed with, the water, in the case of the former, running through the drinking basins or trough all the time and escaping to a good outlet or drain, in the latter the water is piped directly to the regulating tank which in turn supplies the basins or troughs automatically. Again, the water is pumped directly to tank in the attic of the house, and the overflow from it supplies the stable with water. And since the advent of the compression water system we find a few cases where it is used to supply the stables as well as the house, the installation being proportionately larger than it would be for the house alone. Probably no one system, however, can be absolutely recommended as best for every case as the circumstances pertaining to the source of supply, amount of water used, position and elevation of the farm buildings, etc., always have to be carefully considered in planning the ideal water system for the farm house or stable.—R. R. Graham, B.S.A., O. A. College, Guelph.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR MAY 18. THE GRACE OF GOD.

LESSON TEXTS—Ephesians 2:4-10; Titus 2:11-14. GOLDEN TEXT—We believe that through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ we shall be saved, even as they.—Acts 15:11. ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Genesis 6:7; 2 Cor. 12:9; John 1:16, 17; 1 Cor. 15:10; James 4:6; 1 Peter 4:10; 2 Peter 3:18.

Grace means unmerited favor. God's grace means his kindness toward us through Jesus Christ (Eph. 2:7). God's mercy does not go out to men because they are good but because he is good and desires to bestow that goodness upon lost and ruined men in order to make them good.

1. The Grace of God in Salvation (Eph. 2:4-10). Grace brings salvation; it does not send it. Jesus Christ, who is the embodiment of God's love and grace, came bringing salvation with him. In order to apprehend what the grace of God has done, observe:

1. Man's natural state (Eph. 2:1-3). In the natural man is found all that is opposed to the will and purpose of God. (1) Dead in trespasses and sins (v. 1). The supreme need of the dead man is life, therefore he must have life from without himself. The characteristic of one who is dead is that he is (a) without sensation—"past feeling." (4:19). The natural man, therefore, can neither love God nor hate sin until he is made alive. (b) Without motion. Activity is the demonstration of life. So far as God and holiness are concerned they are motionless. They are as helpless as Lazarus was in the grave. (2) Under the control of fleshly and worldly lusts (v. 2). The carnal nature holds sway over their lives. (3) Under the dominion of Satan (v. 2). All unregenerate men and women are ruled by Satan. Since he is the god of this age (2 Cor. 4:4), the prince of this world (John 12:31), all who have not been freed by Christ are under the rule of Satan. (4) Under the condemnation and wrath of God (v. 3). Over all these—death, worldliness, disobedience, lust of the flesh—hangs the wrath and condemnation of God.

2. Man's state by grace (2:4-10). (1) He is alive in Christ (v. 5). The Holy Spirit lays hold upon men dead in sin and quickens them into life. (2) Raised up with Christ (v. 6). God's grace not only makes lost men alive but raises them up with Christ. (3) Association with Christ in glory (v. 6). Christ's incarnation has so identified himself with the race that those who are saved are raised up to be with Christ and shall ultimately share his glory. The actuating principle of God which moved him to thus lay hold upon lost men is his love (v. 4). Man's salvation is due entirely to God's grace. Not only the salvation has been provided in grace but the faith which appropriates it is God's gift (v. 8). Works as grounds of salvation are absolutely excluded. (4) The purpose of God in the salvation of men (vv. 7, 10). (a) It is to display his grace in the coming ages. The demonstration to the inhabitants of the spheres in which sin has not entered, in the ages to come, will be the transformation of dead and lost men and their exaltation with Christ. (b) To glorify God through their good works (v. 10; cf. Matt. 5:16). While good works have absolutely no part in the salvation of men God's purpose in saving them was that they might do good works.

11. The Grace of God in Right Living (Titus 2:11-14). Grace is not only essential to salvation but essential to right living. It teaches saved men (1) to deny ungodliness (v. 12). The saved man has the divine nature. The grace which has saved him teaches him the necessity of a denial of everything that is opposed to God. (2) Worldly lusts (v. 12). The redeemed man is surrounded with the things of the world which have a downward pull upon him. The grace of God teaches him to renounce them. (3) Sober living (v. 12). The grace of God teaches the saved man self-control; to have the reins of his nature well in command and to rule with a strong hand. (4) Righteous living (v. 12). The grace of God teaches the saved man to live uprightly with reference to those about him. (5) Godly living (v. 12). It teaches him to so live in the present world as to enable him to meet God and abide in his fellowship. (6) It teaches the right motive in living (vv. 13, 14). The blessed hope of the glorious return of the Lord Jesus Christ is the grand incentive to holy living in this present world. He that has it will keep himself pure. (1 John 3:3).

Powerful Explosive. The liquid oxygen explosive apparatus, from notices in the German technical press, to have been developed as a mining substitute for nitric explosives, which had been all taken for military purposes. It was discovered a score of years ago that when a carbonaceous material is saturated with liquid oxygen and ignited by a fuse or electricity, the carbon and oxygen combine violently, and successful trials were made in blasting. This explosive, called "oxyliquit," is now doing duty quite extensively in breaking up coal and potash. In seeking a combustible, experiments were made with a mixture of gasoline and infusorial earth, pulverized cork, dry wood pulp and dried peat, but the best results were obtained with lampblack. This is placed in a suitable cartridge. In the preferred method the filled cartridge is immersed for half an hour in liquid oxygen in a special container, and then, with an ignition system quickly attached, is placed in the borehole, tamped and exploded. The effects are nearly equal to those from the same weight of dynamite. The serious disadvantage of the method is the necessity of liquefying the oxygen at the place where used; but a very great advantage is safety in transportation, and especially complete lack of danger from unexploded cartridges. The oxygen evaporates in about ten minutes, leaving simply inert lampblack.

WOMAN'S NERVES MADE STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Winona, Minn.—"I suffered for more than a year from nervousness, and was so bad I could not rest at night—would lie awake and get so nervous I would have to get up and walk around and in the morning would be all tired out. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thought I would try it. My nervousness soon left me. I sleep well and feel fine in the morning and able to do my work. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to make weak nerves strong."—Mrs. ALBERT SULTZE, 608 Olmstead St., Winona, Minn.

How often do we hear the expression among women, "I am so nervous, I cannot sleep," or "it seems as though I should fly." Such women should profit by Mrs. Sultze's experience and give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For forty years it has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

CARLETON PLACE COUNCIL

Transfer of Power Plant Confirmed—Treasurer and Clerk's Office to be Combined

The regular monthly meeting of Carleton Place Town Council was held last evening, the Mayor in the chair and every member of Council present except Mr. McKostie.

The minutes of previous meeting were read and approved.

Mr. C. McIntosh presented a deed from Messrs H. Brown & Sons for power plant, also a bylaw establishing power street.

From Mr. R. Morgan advising that the treasurer's books and papers be kept in the town hall to save town funds.

An enquiry was received re Peter Rodgers, beneficiary of the late John Rodgers.

From the officers of the local G.W.V.A. asking a grant of $250 to furnish their club rooms.

An invitation was received to send delegates to a meeting to be held at Brockville to discuss the railway situation and Hydro development.

Mrs. McWilliams applied for compensation as a result of injury received in a fall on Thomas street due to dangerous condition of walk.

A number of accounts were read and referred to Committee.

Mr. Pattie gave notice of his intention to introduce at next meeting a bylaw to appoint a collector.

The following report of the Finance Committee was presented:—

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Carleton Place and Council assembled:

Gentlemen,—We, your Finance Committee appointed to investigate the duties and salary of the Treasurer beg leave to report as follows:

1st.—That the salary of the Treasurer be $125.00 for the six months ending June 30th.

2nd.—After June 30th we recommend that the duties of the Treasurer be transferred to the clerk, the salary to be $200 per annum.

Respectfully submitted,

N. M. RIDDELL,
WM. PATTIE,
F. C. DONALD, Ch.

The Committee made it clear that no fault was to be found with the work of the present Treasurer, but the change was with a view to economy.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Cameron, for the Street Committee, on the request of Mr. Parsons for sidewalk, said the other residents on the street did not want the walk, but would like to see some means of taking the water off. The drain would cost $2,000, and it could not be touched this year. Should be up to the Water Works Commission to drain street and get a revenue from it. The stone crusher is at present a problem. Could rent from Beckwith and could get county roller in exchange for use of road roller. Would ascertain cost of use of Beckwith's roller for next meeting.

Mr. Galvin, the treasurer, stated that he would not think of continuing the work at present salary. Would have the books ready for the end of June for auditors. Thanked the Council for consideration shown to him during his term of office.

The bylaw to establish Power street was introduced and given the required number of readings and passed.

The bylaw authorizing the sale of power plant and shares of stock in the Mississippi Improvement Co. to the Hydro Electric was introduced and read a first time on motion of Messrs. Findlay and Hughes.

On motion the bylaw was read a second and third times and passed.

It was moved by Mr. Donald, seconded by Mr. Riddell, that the Mayor and Treasurer be empowered to make an agreement with a bank or person for the temporary advance to meet the cost of Water Works and Sewerage pending its completion, such amount to be placed to the credit of the Water Works Commission.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Donald, seconded by Mr. Pattie, that the following accounts be paid, and that the Mayor sign the necessary orders on the Treasurer:

Wm. Bennett, work on streets $ 35 00
Pay sheet ending April 26th.

1919 .....

Aden Mather, repairing chairs. 3 00
Geo. Doherty, hay. 23 00

H. McC. Wilson, collecting taxes 100 00

Carried.

It was moved by Mr. Riddell, seconded by Mr. Donald, that the request of Mrs. McWilliams be referred to the Street Committee for investigation.—Carried.

On motion, Mr. Frank Munro was heard before Council. He requested that the taxes on their tannery be reduced, the building not being used any more.

He was advised to put in an appeal to the Court of Revision.

The request of the G.W.V.A. was discussed, after which

It was moved by Mr. Cameron, seconded by Mr. Pattie, that Messrs. Riddell, Findlay and Hughes be a committee to meet with the G.W.V.A. and bring in a report as to the advisability of granting $250 for club rooms.—Carried.

The Mayor asked the members of Council to give some consideration to matter of an appropriate celebration for "Peace" day, and be prepared to suggest something at another meeting.

It was moved by Mr. Donald, seconded by Mr. Hughes, that Messrs. Pattie, Cameron, Findlay, Riddell and Edwards be a Court of Revision of the assessment roll of 1919, the first meeting of said court to be held on the 6th of June, at 8 p.m.—Carried.

Council adjourned.

Jumped from Train

A woman travelling from Chicago to Montreal, accompanied by her two young children, jumped from the Grand Trunk fast express Sunday afternoon when the train was going at top speed between Maitland and Prescott.

The conductor missed her from the train and in searching for her found a vestibule door open and when the train reached Prescott he sent out an alarm. Another train followed along a couple of hours later and the woman was seen, walking on the track and was picked up. She was uninjured and offered no explanation of her rash act.—Rideau Record.

Plant "Backbone" Crops

The gardener has a choice between vegetables but in the long run it will pay him both for his own sake and for the help he can be in fighting world food shortage to stick pretty close to the staple crop, says today's bulletin from the National War Garden Commission.

Vast quantities of food are needed to feed the hungry nations and the Victory Gardeners can perform a wonderful service.

The backbone garden crops are potatoes, lima beans, snap bean, sweet corn, tomatoes, cabbage and onions. These crops make a good fighting or working ration, but don't neglect the good "outs" like peas, beans, carrots, radishes, lettuce and others. Give right of way to main crops, and plant the secondary ones in between if land is scarce.

By good planting you can grow early spinach, lettuce, radishes, beets, carrots and turnips in rows between the rows of the main group and get them out of the way when the main crops need all of the room. And then later in the season when the backbone crops are maturing you can plant another crop of the others for fall use.

SOLDIERS WELCOMED IN THE DERRY

A pleasant social evening was spent at the residence of Mr. Joseph Kidd and family, of the Derry on Friday evening last, when a large company assembled to welcome back from service overseas, Nursing Sister, Mrs. (Dr.) Ramsay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kidd and Pte. Livingstone Kidd, son of Mr. Joseph Kidd, also to show honor in their absence to Lt. Col. C. G. Kidd and Clarence Kidd, of these same families, who were unable to be present. The occasion was very enjoyable and all seemed anxious to honor the guests of the evening.

Mr. Howard Morris was chairman and opened the programme with a few well chosen remarks. Songs were sung by Mr. D. H. Ferguson and Rev. Mr. Lowry, after which Mr. Loftus Fleming read the following address:—

To Nursing Sister, Mrs. (Dr.) Ramsay, and Pte. Livingstone Kidd, C.E.F., on their return home from overseas service, April, 1919.

Dear Friends,—Your neighbors and acquaintances in your native district display a deep and anxious interest in you and your home coming to pass without publicly recognizing the valiant and honorable services which you have both rendered so cheerfully and so heroically in the memorable struggle for King and Empire, and for civilization, and freedom.

At an early stage of the bloody conflict you both went forward fearlessly at the call of King and Country, one to face the foe boldly and unflinchingly, and to undergo suffering and death if need be; the other to contribute her part to the relief of suffering and to administer medical attention and help to the wounded on the field of war. Thus you have both brought credit and honor upon yourselves, and also upon your name and family, as well as high honor to our whole community. We desire to extend our warmest praise and congratulations to you both on the loyalty and devotion which you have displayed, and on the depths of our hearts to thank you for all you have done.

We further desire to express our profound gratitude to God for preserving your lives to come safely home again, and we earnestly pray that in the future life of our expanding Dominion you may be long spared to participate in the duties of citizenship in the hopeful life of our fair Canada.

We confess that it is different if not impossible for us adequately to appreciate the amount of suffering and sacrifices made by our soldiers, and physicians and nurses; and properly to recognize what they have done for us. One thing is certain, their heroic conduct on the field of war has made the Peace Conference at the League of Nations, a possibility and a success, for without the valor of our soldiers these things could not have been accomplished.

We are proud of the creditable part which you have played in the struggle; we welcome you home again most cordially; and we earnestly pray that the richest blessing of a convenient keeping God and Saviour may continue to rest upon you in your future life; and we ask your acceptance of the accompanying gifts as a small token of our esteem and affectionate regard.

May 9th, 1919.

Messrs. Herbert Donnelly and Hugh R. Ferguson then handed Mrs. Ramsay a beautiful gold locket and chain, and to Pte. Livingstone Kidd, a gold watch and chain, also locket and pair of cuff links. Locket and chains were also presented for Lt. Col. C. E. Kidd, and Captain Clarence Kidd, who was absent, the former in the West, and the latter not yet home from overseas. Mrs. Ramsay expressed gratitude for the kindness shown to herself and her brother by the good people of the Derry. She had not looked for such lavish kindness, but she appreciated highly their address and lovely presents.

Pte. Livingstone Kidd in thanking his neighbors and friends, said that he would rather face the Germans than make a speech, and he would be ready to do the same fighting again if necessary. He was very thankful for the address and gifts. Rev. Mr. Barron, of Ashton, addressed the company and said that he was much pleased to be present and to mingle his congratulations with those who were doing honor to Nursing Sister Mrs. Ramsay, and Pte. Livingstone Kidd. They well deserved the address and presentation and all the honor that their neighbors and friends could show them. It was a great thing to have had some part in the struggle against tyranny and slavery, and it was a matter for great rejoicing that their good friends had reached home in health and strength. He prayed that the blessing of God might rest upon them.

Rev. J. W. S. Lowry warmly eulogized the courage shown by Mrs. Ramsay, her husband, and her brother and cousins at the seat of war. They were the representatives of two of the best known families of that community and he was sure that their parents, and all who knew them were justly proud of the splendid services they had rendered. No country or people were held in warmer regard over there than Canada, and the Canadians and no part of the Empire had been truer to the old land than their beloved Dominion. It was the valor and devotion of the soldiers and sailors, physicians and nurses that under God, had presented our liberties and made possible the Peace Conference and the League of Nations. He concluded by expressing gratitude to God for the safe return of their good friends and they did not forget the dead in Flanders' fields, "amid the crosses row on row." They had died nobly and joyfully and the Lord would reward them. Rev. Mr. Richards was absent owing to a previous engagement. Supper was then served, after which Auld Lang Syne and God Save the King terminated the proceedings.

Rev. Dr. Ferguson, Home Mission Superintendent for Southern Alberta, declares there is no need for alarm about Mormon encroachments.

Transplanting

Trees from 4 to 10 inches in diameter can be very successfully transplanted by the following methods: The spring before the tree is to be transplanted, a trench 15 to 24 inches deep should be dug around the tree, leaving a ball of earth from 4 to 8 feet in diameter, depending on the size of the tree and the amount of earth which can be moved later with the tree. Good drainage must be provided and the trench filled with a rich compost. During the summer the cut roots will throw out numerous new roots into the rich compost and the following spring the tree can be lifted with this mass of fibrous roots practically intact; these quickly re-establish themselves in a new position. Regular watering will usually be essential to the successful starting of large trees. Two or three lines of tile placed in position at transplanting leading will down under the roots will afford the most satisfactory method. All evergreen plants require special care in transplanting because of the leaf surface exposure during the entire year. They should be lifted with a ball of earth which should be kept intact and the tops should be protected from the hot sun and direct winds. April and May are the preferable months for transplanting all evergreens. They should never be transplanted in the fall.
