Embezzled $730,000.

FARIS, Oct. 4 .- M. Pingault, a prominent sugar broker in this city, was arrested on Tuesday charged with embezzling $720,000, which, it is claimed, was due to Baron Hirsch, the complainant, as the result of recent speculations in sugar.

Good Crops in France. Paris, Oct. 4.-The French official crop estimates just published place the yield of barley for 1894 at 19,932,144 hectolitres, against 12,240,099 heotolitres in 1893. The yield of oats for 1894 is estimated at 98,-304,482 hectolitres, against 62,561,524 hectolitres for 1893. No Cause for Alarm.

LONDON, Oct. 4 .- The Times' Paris correspondent says that Mr. Phipps, Secretary of the Embassy and Charge d'Affaires, in the absence of Lord Dufferin, had an interview with M. Hanotaux, Foreign Minister, last evening, and the intercourse of the two was very cordial. Mr. Phipps expresses his conviction that any difficulties which may have arisen between France and England are perfectly susceptible of settle-

The Czar's Condition Alarming. London, Oct. 4.-The Standard's St. Petersburg correspondent telegraphs that the Czar's symptoms are those of cancer of the kidneys

BERLIN, Oct. 4 .- The Kreuz Zeitung, which generally obtains accurate news of the Russian court, learns that the Czar is in a far worse state of health than has been officially admitted and that his death may be expected within a few weeks. The visit of the Czarewitch to Darmstadt was postponed upon the advice of the Czar's physicians, and the marriage of the Czarewitch to Princess Alix was also postponed upon the same advice. It was rumored that the engagement of the Czarewitch to Princess Alix had been broken, but this is

The Scare Ended.

LONDON, Oct. 4 .- The Admiralty have ordered to proceed to China the first class cruiser St. George, now at Portsmouth, and the second class cruiser Æolus, from the Mediterranean squadron. The gunboats Redbreast and Pigeon, of the East India squadron, have also been ordered to Chinese waters. This action is understood to be in accordance with the decision of today's Cabinet council,

The Daily News says: There is no reason whatever to believe that the alarmist rumors of the last few days were the offspring of any inspiration but that arising from a complete misunderstanding of the actual state of things.

Details of the Cabinet meeting are not disclosed, but the restoration of confidence is almost complete. Consols recovered most of the fall and also other securities.

The Standard says: Whatever truth there may have been in yesterday's rumors all danger of a rupture, if such existed, has vanished.

The Exchange Telegraph Company says at 6,000 troops will be sent from India protect the treaty ports in China. The rifle brigade will leave Calcutta Oct. or Hong Kong. The district about Tien Tsin is inundated, and the calamity is said to be hailed in Pekin as a blessing, since it offers an effectual impediment to the Japanese invasion. Rumors say that orders have been issued forbidding any attempt to lower the waters, despite the ruin and famine entailed on the peasantry. The steamer Chean was recently wrecked in Shetung Pass with a loss of several hundred Chinese soldiers. The Japanese Gazette says Japanese journalists are taking alarm at the pros-pect of an alliance between England, France, Germany and Russia. They fear that after Japan has demolished the Chinese fleet and driven the Chinese army out of Corea that the four European powers will intervene and prevent Japan from inflicting any further injuries on China, so that indemnity will be attainable.

The Captain of the Lydia Tells of an Excising Experience. NEW YORK, Oct. 4.-The schooner Lydia, of the Atlantic Yacht Club, Henry Banks, owner, which returned on Mon-something of a surprise to the crew and still more of a surprise to a "monster of the deep." This is the story:

The yacht was bowling along at a lively rate in a smooth sea on the run from Stonington to Block Island. When well out toward the island the captain, who was in the bows, saw what looked like a long, black rock, some distance out of water and directly in their path. The captain knew the locality too well to expect a rock thereabouts, but, whatever the thing was, it was dead ahead, and in less than a minute would be close aboard. He yelled to the steersman to sheer off in a hurry, and the vessel changed her course just enough to avoid striking an immense whale of the "finback" species, which lay lazily resting at the surface of the ocean. Everybody jumped to the side as the monster came within arm's length, some 25 feet of his glistening back showing above the water, As they passed him he raised one mighty fluke of his tail, waved it fairly in the faces of the astonished ship's company and suddenly sank into the depths. The captain says the fluke of that tail was six feet long, and the whale itself at least 50. He wonders what would have happened had the Lydia struck the great creature, and adds, half regretfully: "Why, that 'ere tail came so close to me I could a-touched her. And why didn't I? He never would a felt it a bit, and I'd give a dollar to tell as how I'd had a hold of a whale's tail, so I would."

Various Speculations on the Results of the Change.

A Confervative Paper Regards It as Disaster to the Opponents of Sir Oliver.

(Special to Hamilton Times. OTTAWA, Oct. 4 .- Before the next 24 hours are over it is expected here that Hon. W. R. Meredith, leader of the Opposition in the Ontario Provincial Legislature, will be Chief Justice of the Common Pleas Court in the place of Sir Thomas Galt, who resigned. The appointment has not yet been officially made, but it is understood that Sir John Thompson is preparing a memorandum to council, recommending Mr. Meredith's appointment, and that the order in council will be passed today carry. ing it into effect. It is understood that Mr.

Meredith has accepted. David Creighton, of the Empire, is here seeing the Premier about the matter. It is said that his visit has to do with Mr. Meredith's successor. It is understood here that O. A. Howland will lead the Opposition in the Legislature in the place of Mr. Mere-

(Associated Press Dispatch.) TORONTO, Oct. 4.—The newspapers here been in the Legislature for over 22 years. received information this evening that the he says, "and I believe that with the exorder-in-council appointing Mr. W. R. Meredith to the chief justiceship of the Court of Common Pleas had passed. Mr. Meredith was seen later in the evening, and had not at that time received notice himself that the order had actually passed, though he was expecting it. The names of Messrs. Whitney, Marter and Howland are mentioned as his possible successor; the latter probably will be most favorably received generally. Mr. Meredith's salary in his position is $13,000, besides his private practice. Of this sum, however, he had to pay several thousand a year for assistance. His impending retirement is the topic of the day.

(Special to the ADVERTISER.)

OTTAWA, Oct. 5 .- As briefly telegraphed you late last night, William Ralph Meredith, Q.C., was appointed Chief Justice of the Court of Common Pleas at the Cabinet meeting yesterday afternoon. The order was not signed by the Deputy Governor, Mr. Samuel Strong, and that accounts for the delay in the official announcement, which is likely to be given out tomorrow.

Another Ottawa correspondent telegraphs: "It was said that Mr. Justice Rose expected promotion, the expectation being that a puisne judge would be appointed, and the presidency of the court conferred on one of the existing judges. Precedents have been made for the appointment of gentlemen from the bar to high judicial positions. Hon. Mr. Boyd was taken from the bar and made Chancellor of Ontario, and Mr. Sedgewick was appointed from the bar to the bench of the Supreme Court of Canada. In Mr. Boyd's case, however, Vice-Chancellor Blake, who had thus been passed over, immediately resigned." Mr. Meredith's salary will be $7,000 per annum as Chief Justice of Ontario. RESIGNED TORONTO CITY SOLICITORSHIP. TORONTO, Oct. 5 .- W. R. Meredith, the new chief justice, this morning handed in his resignation to Mayor Kennedy as Toronto's city counsel, to take effect immediately. A CONSERVATIVE DISASTER. The Toronto Star, which supports the Opposition in the Legislature, says:

The resignation of Mr. Meredith will certainly disorganize the whole Ontario Conservative party. He was the entire party, himself fashioning the policy of the Opposition.
This is plainly shown by his last act in that he retired without consulting one of his colleagues. "Mr. Meredith brought in all the important bills and delivered all the important speeches in connection with them. He had all the knowledge of all the departments. Clancy alone had any originality, and he is no more. "The Opposition has not a man to succeed. Whitney is untried and not very industrious. Marter is paltry, and has no wide view on any great subject. Howland is a faddist, not a practical politician, and an untried man. No other man has a ghost of a show.

"It seems as if the Opposition were born for disaster. For twenty years they have fought and lost. Now at last, when a glimpse of success was in sight, the only man who could carry them to victory has withdrawn,

"Directly, I should think," he answered. 'The protests are coming on now. No one man unless specially appointed would care to assume the responsibility of looking after them.

"There are so many protests that it will be like another election. We couldn't go into the fight without a leader." "The whip, Dr. Willoughby, will doubtless notify all the members elect to meet in the city in a short time and the situation

HOBBS THE MAN FOR LONDON. A special telegram to the Toronto Star from this city says: "Surprise was not very great at the announcement, as there have been rumors for some time past that Mr. Meredith was likely to receive such an appointment. In some quarters it has caused no little excitement from the fact that the accomptance of the appointment may be a bye-election for London at no distant date. In that case, Mr. Thomas S. Hobbs will probably be Lendon's member, as it was generally acknowledged that it was Mr. Meredith's prominent position in politics that won the seat for him here in June.

PERSONAL REMINISCENCES. A Globe reporter called on Mr. Meredith when news of his appointment came. Mr. Meredith calmly accepted the situation, and offered his visitor a seat. The new Chief Justice became reminiscent, "I have ception of Tom Gibson, of Huron, I am the oldest member of it. Baxter came in when the first Provincial election was held and Gibson at the second. I came in with Sir Oliver Mowat on the bye-elections of 1873, when Blake, Mackenzie and the other Federal leaders went out. Perry resigned his place in Oxford for Mowat and Carling for me. I was elected, however, before Mowat. Let me sec."

Here a copy of the journals of the House was brought from its place and consulted. "Yes, the writ for my election was dated Aug. 1, and that for Mowat on the 18th of November. Of course, we were both sworn in as members on the same day.

"Mr. Fraser came in afterwards and Hardy did not come, I think, till 1874. OTTAWA, Oct. 4.—The Premier was asked | Of the members of the Opposition I tonight if Hon. W. R. on the Opposition side, except Mr. Kerns. "When I went in first we had not Waters and the ditches and watercourses, but we had D. D. Calvin, who was always at the assessment laws. Albert Prince was rather an eccentric member, but Jim Metcalfe was the first real wag that we had.' It was made evident from subsequent conversation that Mr. Meredith had prior to his acceptance of the new provincial office, despaired of soon reaching the position of Premier. He frankly stated that his retirment "simply means that a man in active business, as I have been, cannot give the time necessary to politics." Hon. Mr. Hardy, in reply to a query, said: "With so many of his lieutenants out of the ranks Mr. Meredith can hardly be reproached, even by his friends, on account of his retirement after 21 years of most arduous public service."

Hon. Geo. W. Ross said he was sure Mr.

Meredith would acceptably fill his new SOME PRESS OPINIONS.

The Toronto Mail says: "Mr. Meredith's elevation to the bench will please no one more than it will Sir Oliver Mowat and Mr. Hobbs.

Says the Tozonto Globe: "Mr. Meredith may be congratulated upon his release from a position of increasing worry, annoyance and discouragement. His successor, whoever he may be, will have an arduous task

The Hamilton Spectator, though asserting that Mr. Meredith's task as leader has been "an uphill job and a thankless one," urges that he should not retire, but await the "orisis,"

To the formal opening of Fall and Winter Millinery, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. It will be the best chance to see the newest styles in Hats and Bonnets. London, Paris and New York have paid tribute to make the occasion a marked success, and our Miss Genge with her corps of assistants stand ready to turn their best ideas to your betterment. There are prevailing shapes, but beyond that your own taste is fashion's law. Every conceivable color and shape intermingle in such pleasing confusion as to almost bewilder the eyesight. Flowers, Ribbons, Velvets, Jets and Braids enter largely into the make-up of Parisian novelties. Unusual skill and care have been expended upon the collection of shapes and materials for making to order any style of hat you say. The entire Millinery Section is full of magnets. You recall the displays of last year and the year before. Nothing to equal them had ever appeared in this city; and vet they don't begin to compare with what is to bewhat is already. It's something better than the average show of autumn finery. Miss it, and you are the loser. There's no tinge of exaggeration in the statement that it's the finest display, the most attractive in every way that you have ever seen.

We take second place to no one in this department; everything that capital can do, we have done. Comfortable fitting rooms, a good light, and only the most experienced artists, are a few of the advantages to be had here. Under Miss J. ### CANADA'S BUSINESS OUTLOOK As Reported by R. G. Dun & Ce.'s Commercial Agency. TORONTO, Oct. 4 .- R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly report of trade in Canada says: There is little change in the financial situation this week. General trade has not resumed the buoyancy that had been anticipated. There is no particular activity in the industries that stimulate the demand for money. Travelers of leading Toronto houses report a continuance of the satisfactory trade improvement.

The movement in barley is yet restricted and flour are lower. General produce is plentiful and lower, including apples, logs, potatoes and other vegetables.

Prime commercial paper is discounted at 6 to 61 per cent, while call loans on choice collateral are quoted at 4 to 43 per cent. The number of failures for the week ended Oct. 3 was 29, as compared with 44 in the corresponding week of last year.

THE latest thing in the chicken business is the electric incubator, which is now very nearly perfected. The capacity of such a machine is practically unlimited, and the experiments have shown that electricity is very much better adapted to hatching purposes than steam or hot air. The percentage claimed for it is far greater than has ever been accomplished before, and the chicks come into the world in much healthier condition. The electric incubator has evidently come to stay.

A DAYLIGHT meteor was seen recently near Ayrshire, Scotland. Its movement was very slow and it shone with a brilliant, intense light which was concentrated in itself and did not leave a train behind it. It got gradually smaller and smaller, and just b fore disappearing broke into three or four pear-shaped portions. During its varied in hue, crimson and a rich ultramarine blue being most noticeable.

The Dorchester Seduction Case Brought to a Sudden Termination.

Kilbourne Gets Off on a Legal Technicality-The Judge States His Opinion of Him.

Thursday Afternoon.

The court-room was crowded when Judge Robertson this afternoon called on the crown to continue the prosecution in the case against Edward Kilbourne, charged with seduction. The developments, howcuriosity of the onlockers, though the latter to a sudden stop. Dr. McCausland was recalled and crossexamined by Mr. Meredith. Witness was quite confident as to the date of Miss Collier's birth. It was in January, 1873. Squire Aylesworth gave evidence as to the issuing of an information against Kilbourne in 1893. He had known the prisoner from boyhood, and always understood his character to be good. "But that has already been settled," said the judge. "That is why Mrs. Collier allowed him to sit up late in the evening with her daughter." (Laughter.) Constable R. W. Ward, of London West, said he had got the warrant for Kilbourne's arrest on July 12, 1893, and executed it previously noted in these columns. Remit- the same day near Dorchester. He had a tances from the country show a slight conversation with the prisoner on the way to jail, but it was not through questions put by the witness. Ward said he warned and prices firm. On the other hand, wheat | Kilbonrne not to talk, but it had no effect. "He told me he had committed the offense. but vowed he would never marry the girl,' said witness.

Q.-Was that all he said? A.-Yes, in regard to marrying her.
Q.—What else? A.—That he could not resist when Miss Collier offered such inducements. County Constable Luke Jeffery, who assisted in the arrest, failed to warn Kilbourne not to make any statements regarding the case. The judge reprimanded him for neglecting to do his duty. Squire Lacey, who had been called for before, appeared in court. "You have been keeping the court waiting," said the judge. "Sorry," said the witness, "but I was having taken the information nor having seen it filled out. This closed the evidence for the crown, and Mr. Meredith claimed there was no case to go to the jury. The crown should Drewe heard the call of fire about five or course, although the massy head was have started the prosecution within a always brilliantly white, the little tail year. It devolved upon the prosecuting attorney to show, by legel evidence, that the prosecution was begun within the statutory period of twelve months. There was no foundation for the issue of the warrant by Mr. Lacey. It should have passed it. been issued by the justice before whom the information was laid. Therefore it was void. There was no corroborative evidence that the ofiense was committed under promise of marriage. Judge Robertson-I think there is evidence of corroboration, and I am satisfied that is sufficient to go to the jury. There is no doubt about it. The prisoner admitted it to Mrs. Collier. I never saw or heard such a straight case put by the prosecution, and it was amply corroborated by Kilbourne's own statement to Miss Collier's mother. Mr. McDougall claimed that the information and warrant being issued by two separate magistrates made no difference whatever. And proceedings were begun in the statuory time.

Judge Robertson hesitated a moment, and on turning to the jury, said: "Gentlemen, in my judgment, the evidence in regard to the commencement of the prosecution within the time is not sufficient. The information doubtless was laid, but it was given up by the prosecutor to be used at his will and pleasure. That was an improper thing to do, and I hope that all magistrates will take into consideration what I am now saying. It is a most extraordinary proceeding. The paper became a public document, but should have been held in custody. It was not for Collier to say that the warrant should be issued only at his instance. If the magistrate was satisfied with the information it was his duty not to wait for the prosecutor, but issue the warrant and have it executed.

But he gave up the information, and in my judgment it become from then a piece of waste paper. We find that this information is kept in the possession of the presecutor-I cannot say for what purpose, but it is suggested that Collier held it in order to induce Kilbourne to marry his daughter. The offense was committed in April, 1893, but although the information was laid in November of last year it was not acted upon until July, 1894. Both magistrates did an improper thing. In the first place I think Mr. Lacey was wrong in issuing that warrant. The case from beginning to end is full of extraordinary circumstances. I will have to find the prisoner not guilty.

opinion-it is, that the information fell to the ground the moment it passed into the hands of the prosecutor." There was a little attempt at a demonstration on the part of some friends of Kilbourne, but it was checked. Turning around and facing the dock, Judge Robert. son ordered the prisoner to stand up. "Before I discharge you," said the judge, "I want to tell you what I think the evidence has established against youit is that you are a dastard. judge's remarks. His face was very red. and as soon as the finishing sentence escaped the judge's lips he hurried out of the room.

MANSLAUGHTED The grand jury in the case of Edward Bowers, charged with the shooting of Wm. Cain, in Biddulph township, on July I, returned a true bill for manslaughter. Half an hour prior to the bill being brought in, the foreman, Geo. C. Elliott, of Ekfrid, asked Judge Robertson for instructions. He wanted to know if the jury could bring in a bill of manslaughter under an indictment for murder. Judge Robertson informed him that it was within the jury's power to return any bill. Mr. Elliott stated that it was the general feeling of the jury that no murder had been committed. Bowers was arraigned, pleaded held their places until the case was brought not guilty and will be placed on trial today. THE STRATHROY ARSON CASE. Robert Herrington, who is alleged to have set fire to the Lyons planing mill.

Strathroy, on Aug. 15, and who jumped from an express train while coming to London with Chief Dodd, of Strathroy, was placed on trial. James N. Witness laid the information. He first asked Herrington to walk into his office and then placed him under arrest. The then was questioned about the many fires that had occurred in Strathroy of late. Judge Robertson told Dodd it was very improper on his part to ask the prisoner questions relative to the fire. Much trouble was caused through lack of duty or overofficiousness on the part of constables. "Do you object to this evidence, Mr. Cameron?"

prisoner was given the usual warning and asked his lordship. "Not a bit-let it go," was the reply. Dodd continued-Herrington first stated that he was at the station from 8 o'clock till the fire bell rang; afterwards the story was changed. He dropped out of the car window when witness was bringing him to London and escaped. "Do you know he is subject to epileptic fits, Mr. Dodd ?" "I believe he is."

Q .- And liable to drop down in the streets several times a week ? A .- So they Arthur Drewe, a young man from Strathroy, and living near the planing mill, knew the prisoner and met him on the evening of the fire going along Maitland Terrace towards the mill. It was before the fire. Witness evertook the prisoner and asked where he was going. The answer was, "Up English street for a walk." The two walked down the street together, and when the witness went in his home Herrington turned back in the direction of the mill. ten minutes after he went in the house. Witness was at the fire, but did not see Herrington there. The following day Miss Alice Drewe saw the accused sitting on a fence and wanted to know his name. HOME ONCE MORE.

No. 1 Company, R. C. R. I., in Quarters at Wolseley Barracks.

A New Captain and Changes and Promotions-A Rough Journey.

No. 1 Company of the permanent corps of the active militia of Canada re turned to Woiseley Barracks last night after an absence of a couple of months spent in camp at Point Levis, Quebec. The home-coming was quiet, and unaccompanied by the martial notes of that regimental standby, "When Johnsy Comes Marching Home." The troops arrived at the C. P. R. station on the 3 o'clock train from Toronto, and were met at the depot by a drizzling rain, a cool wind and about 30 friends of the soldiers. The Seventh Band played the company out of barracks on the August morning when they left for Point Levis, and it was understood at the time that they were to have the satisfaction of playing the company into quarters again. But in the meantime "a new king had arisen, who knew not Joseph," or, as was explained in last night's ADVERTISER, the new colonel of the Seventh had called in the band instruments, and on that account the musicians could not turn out. But the soldiers were home again, and glad of it, band or no band. They had had a rough voyage on the water and looked tired. Two months in camp is calculated to put a tan on anything or anybody, but the color of those soldiers' faces is a caution! "Jerry," the regimental dog, appeared to be the only part of the outfit to escape the browning influence of the sun. The men wore their white helmots and were in heavy marching order. They quickly lined up on the platform. shook hands with a few friends, came to attention, numbered and then wheeled off up Richmond street to Piccadilly, where the lights of the barracks and home glimmered feebly on the hill in the distance. A few men were left to superintend the removal of baggage with the aid of a "lantern dimly burning," and in a short while even they had gone and the station was deserted. There are new faces with the company and some familiar ones will be missed. Capt. Cartwright has been transferred to Toronto, and Capt. Hamming, late of redericton, succeeds him. Corp. Magood went to St. Johns, N. B., and Col. bergt. Davis as been promoted to the position of serge instructor, and Sergt. ergt. Copenan, of Toronto, comes here. Sergeant. Annual Meeting of the Women's Christian Association.

Interesting Reports of Committees and Election of Officers.

The Salvation Army's Jail Policy Approved - The Association Prosperous Financially.

The annual meeting of the Women's Christian Association was held in the "Y' rooms yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Robt. Reid, president, in the chair, and the following ladies in attendance: Mesdames Kent, Ward, Hopkins, O'Neil, Davis, Hyttenrauch, Fraser, Whitehead, Carfrae, Hutchinson, Complin, Merchant, Piper, Wilson and Meck, and Misses Skinner, Moore, Kennedy and Hutchinson. THE SECRETARY'S REPORT.

In connection with the review of the work of the past year, the report of the secretary, Mrs. M. M. Pattullo, was very interesting. Among other things it stated: "It is only 36 years since the first Women's Christian Association formed on this side of the Atlantic was organized in New York, and today there are associations to be found in every city in the United States and the Dominion of Canada." They in London had entered on the second decade of the association's exist-ence. With thankful hearts they recorded their gratitude to God for all his mercies and goodness. In the Women's Refage and Infants' Home the work had been faithfully carried on, and the health of the inmates had been remarkably good. One death-that of a sickly infant-had

At the last annual meeting 5 adults were in the home, 19 had been admitted since and 5 now remained. At that time there were 9 infants in their care, 18 had been admitted since and 8 now remained. As might be expected, in the Home for Aged People there was always a great deal of sickness. Seven of the old people had died during the year-the youngest at the age of 72 and the oldest 34 years old. On Oct. 1, 1893, there were 50 aged people in the home, 14 had been admitted since and 43 now remained. The labors of the relief committee had been increased by the distress of last winter among the industrial classes. Eight hundred and twenty-one visits had been made to 94 families and 236 new garments besides much half-worn clothing had been distributed, with blankets, quilts, etc. The discovery of many sad cases had demonstrated the need of a home for incurables, and an appeal to the citizens had been generously responded to, and a comfortable house had been erected and furnished. It was opened in June and now had three patients within its walls. All friends, and especially the medical men, who had kindly given encouragement and substantial help were heartily thanked. Miss Freeman, and the King's Daughters, and the Ministerial Association and ministers of the Episcopal Church, who freely held services in the homes and hospitals. were also thanked. Gratitude was expressed Dre. Gardiner, English, Mitchell and others for their attention to the sick. Mr. J. H. Flock and the city press were also kindly remembered.

BELIEF COMMITTEE'S REPORT. Mrs. E. Hopkins presented the report of the relief committee, a brief outline of which was given in the secretary's report. There had been expended in city relief during the year $691 61, an average of $7 26 to the 94 families visited. Mention was made of the seven rooms furnished in the home for incurables by the King's Daughters and class 13 of the Dundas Street Church. Medical men were thanked for their kind services and the W. F. M. S. of St. Andrew's Church for four large parcels of clothing. To Miss Bogh, Mesdames Ingram, Cox, Kent, Lashbrook, Browne and Flock thanks were also returned for garments and clothing. THE TREASURER'S REPORT. The treasurer's report was presented by Mrs. Perrin. It tended to show that the association was in a very prosperous condition. The jubilee fund deposited with the London Loan Company now amounted to $1,067 35. The balance, after meeting all expenses, amounted to $1,209 90. The total receipts, which amounted to $8,883 73, contained the usual Government grant of $1,206 24 to the Aged People's Home and $238 81 to the Women's Refuge and Infants' Home. City collections reached $388 75; membership fees, $29; legacy of late Benjamin Jarman, $50; board of inmates of Aged People's Home, $3,672 81; legacy of the late T. Thompson, St. Marys, $500; donations to the Home for Incurables, $185 50; grant charity fund, $115. Of the disbursements $5,315 60 was conmeeted with the Aged People's Home, and $1,230 74 with the Women's Refuge and Infants' Home. The Home for Incurables cost $347 36, and the total disbursements amounted to $7.673 83. OTHER REPORTS.

from City Council, $200; donation, Dalton

The report of the visiting committee of the Aged People's Home, as presented by Mrs. L. Ingram, was very interesting. The question of sewage still remains open at the home. Deaths and dismissals during the year were 94. Inmates to date.

Miss M. A. Moore submitted the report of the devotional committee, and Mrs. Kent presented the report of the Women's Refuge and Infants' Home, of which reference is made in the secretary's report.

Miss Hutchinson submitted the jail report. It contained, to begin with, the statistics published in last night's ADVER-TISER. It stated that the women's cells were for the most part occupied by old habitues who drift in and out and to the Mercer for a change. It mentioned the fact that 25 years ago Amanda Wilson was in jail, and was there today-more at home there than anywhere else. This intensified the thought that prevention was better than cure. The report dwelt on the necessity of pure environment in childhood, and mentioned, as a matter of thank fulness, that there were fewer lunatics in jail this year than last. Continuing it commends the ever-ready. always helping attitude of the Salvation Army. The report went on to pray that the new Children's Protection Act would soon be enforced, and the indiscriminate mixing of juvenile prisoners with the older ones stopped. MR. MEREDITH APPOINTED. Our special correspondent in Ottawa telegraphs this afternoon that the Dominion Cabinet, at its session on Thursday, passed the Order-in-Council appointing Wm. R. Meredith, Q.C., M. P. P. for this city, as Chief Justice of the Court of Common Pleas in succession to Sir Thomas Galt.

This intelligence, which has already been foreshadowed in our disputches, occasions little surprise. It has been pretty generally understood during the past year or two that Mr. Meredith had become convinced that his vocation was not likely to be that of a successful political leader. The readiness with which his reported retirement is now received, and without the offering of opposition to the step from any quarter, indicates that the general opinion of even those with whom he has been associated politically is in favor of a transference of his talents to another sphere.

Let us say in all fairness to the new

Chief Justice, however, that success in the position which he has occupied would have been difficult of command by any man as against a Ministry of the strength maintained by Sir Oliver Mowat. Then it is also fair to Mr. Meredith to say that, sent, he has been largely hampered by the conditions imposed upon him through the necessities of the Dominion leaders of his party. At a time when the rights of his Province were assailed by the Dominion Administration there was a signal opportunity for Mr. Meredith to have "made" himself in the cause of Provincial autonomy. Through the exigencies of the Ottawa leaders of his party, however, he was compelled to take the wrong side in regard to Ontario's rights to control her northwestern territory, in regard to the escheats case, the rivers and streams bill, and the right of the Province to control the liquor licensing system. On these and other great questions Mr. Meredith was compelled to take the anti-Ontario view. But all this apart, no one who desires to be fair to an erstwhile political opponent can deny that in regard to the perfecting of legislation and in performing that class of most useful committee work which is seldom blazoned abroad, Mr. Meredith has rendered valuable aid to the Government, just as the leader of the Opposition in the Dominion House of Commons has been able to aid the men in power to improve many of their measures. The leader of an Opposition is by no means debarred from opportunity to be useful to a degree too often ignored by the outside SATURDAY MATINEE AND EV'G.

With regard to the appointment of Mr. Meredith to one of the most responsible positions in the service of the people, whatever the motive which has induced the Dodoubt at all that his large ability, his habits of industry, his splendid memory. And a specially selected company with will enable the new Chief Justice to become a most efficient, fair-minded and upright judge. Leaving the past to take care of itself, we feel sure that we but voice the sincere views of the mass of the citizens of London when we say that they join with us, irrespective of party, in wishing the new Chief Justice of the Court of Common Pleas a long and useful career in the high position to which he has been called.

THE SWEET AND THE BITTER OF PUBLIC LIFE.

The prospective withdrawal from public life of Mr. W. R. Meredith, after a long, hard, and unsuccessful battle to reach the revive the discussion on the advantages and drawbacks of a political career in this country. There is much that is fascinating in public life. To be chosen to represent one's fellows in the legislative chamber; to have the opportunity to electrify thousands of the assembled electorate by eloquent dissertation on matters of common concern; to have presented a from politics to some substantial office in his possessions. the gift of the Crown-these are all actuating influences that have their attractions, Hill ticket in the New York State election the railroad track." to a greater or less extent, on most public tions, and will try to restore harmony of men, There is, too, the highest motive of the ranks.

accede to every reasonable call to duty which one's fellow countrymen may choose to extend, and to which too few men of ability and of reasonable opportunity have in the past responded. The attractions, indeed, are great, but we cannot conceal from ourselves the fact that public life too often entails difficulties and disadvantages upon men that render the task of serving the public far from pleasant. We omit from the calculation the arduous nature of the private canvass and baby kissing industry that must be fostered during the period of a general election campaign. These "duties" have to be performed in almost very civilized country the world over, though we have never been able to see why the electors could not decide on the merits of a candidate without looking for a personal visitation from him, with a plentiful addition of coaxing and simulated esteem for every member of the voter's household. We do not take into account in this calculation the drafts that are often made upon representatives or candidates by church-managers, charitable institutions, clubs of all sorts, and almost every conceivable organization in need of funds. What society ever got together without resolving on a levy? To note these agencies for keeping a member or candidate in remembrance of his standing in the community would be to chronicle a small portion of the onslaught made on the time and means of public men. They might with a little grumbling stand all these things. But it is scarcely fair for an Administration to pile ipon them the expenditure of time and money to keep the voters' lists straight on pain of being left hopelessly in the minority when the next election comes round. It may be said that it is the duty of the political parties to see that the lists are properly prepared. That is a point scarcely well taken. It is found that in many constituencies the rank and file tire of the continual performance of altogether unnecessary work, and veteran public servants have either to toil early and late in overseeing the work, neglecting their ordinary means of livelihood, or suffer defeat. The ideal system would be the one man, one vote residential franchise, with obligatory voting, each man having to poll his own vote. But until such time as we have a change of men at the head of affairs, we that was on the blotter today, but it was is common to men on both sides of politics, and equally vexations and expensive, except where the revising officer unduly favors his friends, and until a reform is effected the worst existing discouragement to independent men to continue in public life will have to be endured.

The duty of our lawgivers is to make it easy for good men to enter the legislatures and to keep their seats there. And when a constituency has a good representative. one thoroughly devoted to its interests. and with no dividing entanglements, it should see to it that the duties are not rendered irksome by troublesome concern about matters not strictly germane to the proper representation of the people. A man's record in Parliament, as set forth from year to year in addresses given at central points in a riding, should be sufficient groundwork on which to record a verdict either for or against him when election time comes about.

Of Interest To Drivers-A Penitent Girl -Polly Patrick Up Again at This Morning's Police Court.

The first case called at the Police Court this morning was of more than usual interest to drivers. Wesley Stockwell, a coachman for D. S. Perrin was charged with a breach of bylaw in refusing to drive on when ordered to do so by P. C. Birrell, The affair happened at the fair ground on Dundas street and the policeman stated that Mr. Perrin told the driver to stay where he was.

Mr. Perrin said that he was waiting for the balloon to go up. He had done so for four days and no fault had been found. He denied that he told the coachman to stay where he was, but told the policeman that he would have no trouble in getting his name whenever he wanted it. The street was not blocked, and he was not causing an obstruction.

Mr. Macbeth, Mr. Perrin's lawyer, held that as no obstruction was caused there was no breach of bylaw. But Mr. Parke thought that there was, and found the charge proven. He suspended sentence.

Then Mr. Macbeth stated that he could bring witnesses to prove that the prosecution was not launched by reason of any obstruction of the street, but because the Western Fair Board did not wish people to stand outside. As the court had already decided the case, however, he would not waste

A PENITENT GIRL. Nellie Rogers, an East End girl, was in a very penitent mood this morning, when she found herself seated on the bench awaiting the coming of the magistrate. Nellie is not out of her teens yet, but had managed to misbehave to such an extent as to land her in a very unpleasant position. She cried and sobbed while she waited. Nellie was not the only one in court who felt the position she was in. At the back of the room sat a man and woman who had an air of hard work and respectability about them. They were the girl's parents and the downcast appearance of the father and the tearful eye of the mother expressed their feelings more earnestly than words could.

"Discharged to go with her parents," was all the magistrate said . And Nellie took her mother's hand and left the court. POLLY'S PROMISE WAS BROKEN. Polly Patrick is the woman who pleaded so earnestly and tearfully on Thursday to be let off. She would never touch liquor again as long as she lived. No, she wouldn't! Polly Walsh was the name the same Polly that stood up before the magistrate and pleaded just as hard for another chance. This victim of drink was well dressed and has even a refined appearance. She was fined $2 yesterday, but got drunk again and slept in the cells last night. Her lawyer pleaded hard for her and the magistrate was more inclined to pity than he was on Thursday. Will you take her home and be re sponsible that she goes there?" asked the magistrate of Mrs. Patrick's lawyer. He said he would. Then Mr. Parke addressed the woman.

"I won't do it again," sobbed the woman. "Yes, but you said that yesterday," said the magistrate, as he shook his head. "You go right home to your husband."

THREE STRANGERS. Frank Moore and Thomas Gleason were arrested on York street last night and charged with being drunk and disorderly. Moore admitted that he might have been drunk, but Gleason was sure he was not. They came from Buffalo, and were fined $5

Daniel Thompson, a Detroit man, was charged with begging. He is a dealer in brass coat hangers. "Got any money?"

"Yes, sir; 45 cents." "If I let you out, will you leave town forthwith?

"Yes, sir." AN ACCOMPLISHED PREVARICATOR. John Schultze told a lie to get work, and then stole from his employers before he had finished the first week. The prisoner was charged with stealing a half caddy of chewing tobacco from the G. T. R. freight shed on Sept. 27 while the goods were in transit. He elected summary trial and pleaded not guilty. The box of tobacco was produced. Nearly a dozen plugs had been used, and one was produced that was found in the prisoner's pocket when arrested. Wm. Gall, of the firm of Elliott, Marr & Co., identified the box. It had been shipped to H. J. Horton, Goderich.

Frederick Churchill, a G. T. R. car checker, stated that he had checked the goods on the night in question, and Schultze had carried them on his truck to the car.

The prisoner conducted his own defense. and made out an excellent case for the prosecution. "Are you sure you gave it to me?" he asked.

"A man who was standing there put it on the truck." "He didn't put it on my truck."

"I have no doubt but what it was you. There was only one man besides you who was trucking to that car. This the prisoner denied, and said that there were four or five men trucking to the

Charles Schryver Had Kidney Discase All This Time and Didn't Know It -Eow He Found Out and

How He Was Cured. TORONTO, Oct. 1 .- Sixteen years ago kidney disease attacked Charles Schryver, a bricklayer in this city, but he did not know it. It showed itself in the form of pains in the small of the back. They did not amount to much at first, but kept growing worse. Within the past six years Mr. Schryver has almost every week had to quit work for one or two days on account of their severity. Doctors ascribed them to the liver and other causes, and prescribed, but their medicines did no good. Last spring a city physician diagnosed the case as one of diabetes and wanted to prescribe, but Mrs. Schryver said, "No, if it's diabetes, I'll use Dodd's Kidney Pills, which I know will cure me." They did cure him, too, and today Mr. Schryver is free from ache or pain and able to do his day's work, week in and week out, with any man in his trade.

BALEBALL

THE CHAMPIONS BEATEN. BALTIMORE, Oct. 4 .- No deeper or more Intense rivalry ever characterized a game of baseball in Baltimore than was felt and displayed in today's contest for the Temple Trophy. Trouble was averted at different stages of the game by the few cooler headed players, and a riot at the conclusion of the game was prevented only by the large police force which escorted Umpire Emslie off the field. The excitement was at fever heat from start to finish on the field. Rusie's delivery was a puzzle to the Oriole patsmen throughout the game. The New Yorks fared a little better. They pushed three balls into the crowd beyond the ropes out of reach of the fields, and these under the ground rules were good for three bases each. They all reached home. One other un was scored. The Crioles did not make a long hit in the game. The fielding on both sides was very brilliant, and every run was earned. Things looked squally when McGraw ran into Ward at second base in the seventh inning, and again when he accidentally struck Farrell at the home plate. Again in the ninth inning when Emslie declared Jennings out at first there was a terrible row. Brodie, who was on the coaching line, in his excitement struck Boyle, and the players all flocked in. CRICKEL CANADIANS VS. ENGLISHMEN-A DRAW. TORONTO, Oct. 4 .- In the cricket match today between Lord Hawke's team and the Ontario eleven, the latter's whole side were retired for 55 runs, which compelled them to continue their second inning on account of this small score. In their second venture they did remarkably well, knocking out 125 runs for the loss of five wickets, and had not time been called there was every likelihood of the side putting together as many more. At 5 p.m. time was called and the match was declared a draw. The feature of today's play was the splendid stand made by Horstead, Laing and Boyd, who put together respectively 46, 31 and 23 by sterling cricket, and the fielding of the

ATHLETICS. THE BALTIMORE SPIDER DROWNED. NEW YORK, Oct. 4 .- The body of Jack Dorsey, the Baltimore Spider, a colored prize fighter, was found floating in the North River today. Dorsey went to Park View Grove last Sunday. On the way home he fell overboard and was drowned. FOOTBALL. A game of football, in the international championship series, was played on Thursav between the Victorias, of Plattsville,

THE LONDON R. C. The regular monthly meeting of the London Bicycle Club was held last night at the club house. A goodly number of members were present, and several new members were elected. The treasurer's report was read and showed a good balance to the credit of the club. An amusement committee was appointed to provide entertainment for the boys during the cool weather. The club's racing men won some 22 prizes during the past month.

FASTEST MILE EVER DONE IN HARNESS. CHILLICOTHE, O., Oct. 4.—Some 10,000 people covered with overcoats and wraps witnessed the fastest mile ever made in harness by Flying Jib today. The weather was cold and a stiff wind was blowing from the north, making fast time apparently impossible. Flying Jib, however, was equal to the occasion. He was advertised to go against the record of Robert J, when in reality he went hitched to a running mate to beat the record of Westmont, 2:013, made at this style of racing in Chicago in 1884. The great horse seemed to go pacing without a skip in a very easy manner while his running mate seemed to lag behind. The time was only caught at the half mile post, which was done in 59 flat. Down the home stretch he came like a western cyclone, and when the wire was reached the spectators yelled themselves hoarse, as they knew the record was beaten. Starter Hooper addressed the multitude as follow .. This assemblage has witnessed something no other has ever seen. Flying Jib has paced a mile in 1:584, making the first half in 59 and the last half in 591. Directly was brought on to beat his record of 2:071, but made the mile in 2:091

QUEEN VICTORIA AT A BAZAR.

The Queen had looked in at the (Balmoral) bazar on Saturday afternoon, and she was expected to visit it on Monday afternoon to give the preparations the imprimatur of her approval. Shortly after 4 o'clock a sudden stir in the hall announced the approach of the sovereign. and the words went round, "The Queen! the Queen !" Everyone moved away from the stalls so as to leave the view unimpeded, and, seated in the chair, the Queen made the tour of the bazar. She looked in excellent health and spirits, scanned everything through the lorgnette she carried, and stayed quite a long time making purchases, which Lady Churchill noted as they went along. Without being thin, her Majesty was not so stout as when I last saw her a few years ago, and altogether she gives one more the impression of age. She grows "little boukit," as we say in Scotland, and the hand which holds the glasses trembles just the least little bit. She is rather a comfortable, motherly looking old woman in a plain black dress, from beneath which is visible the point of a broad, easy-fitting shoe. A warm gray shawl is pinned about her shoulders by a gold pin with a big ball for head, and she wears a shady hat with touches of white in the trimming over which her Tory "advanced Prohibitionists" would black veil is flung back. She is the indulgent grandmother, too, and stops to the Ontario elections is not at all encourage smile benignly at the group of little figures | ing. Even in South Brant it was surprisso busy round the doll stall, while even the | ing how many Prohibitionist Tories prepicturesquely attired Indian servant ferred to support a man who made no beams in sympathy. Then take the lander, John Brown's successor, clearing case of the Templar itself. Sir Oliver everything from the path of his royal Mowat came out straight enough for promistress, and all the ladies who are sent hibition, but did our contemporary rally for to speak to the Queen make a deep earnestly to his support as against Mr.

Convention of the Twelfth Annual Session.

by the Convention.

Reports of the Conference Organizers-Teeswater Gets the Prize Banner.

STRATHROY, Oct. 4. - After the opening devotions of the Women's Methodist Missionary Society today the nominating committee reported the convention divided into the following committees: Resolutions and memorials, modes of work, organizers, mission bands, courtesies.

Miss Hargraves, returned missionary from Japan, was accorded all the privileges of the convention.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON. A partial report of the committee on resolutions was given, the following recommendations being accepted: From Brantford auxiliary asking that the branch be divided according to the arrangement of the General Conference. From the modes of work committee, that auxiliaries hold more public meetings, also that they keep a supply of missionary literature on hand to distribute through the pews, also that the programme published in the monthly letters be used, and each member be encouraged to take part; also that missionary literature be scattered broadcast; maps truly, recommended for public meetings; that a larger space be asked for in the Guardian, and that we make better use of it; that the Women's Missionary Society request that their representatives at the annual conferences be received at an evening meeting instead of the afternoon.

Miss Pitcher, of London, gave a beautiful and touching recital entitled "As I Have Loved You," after which Miss Carrothers sang "Love One Another."

The reports of the conference organizers were given by Mrs. Scarff for the Guelph Conference, Mrs. Jackson for the Niagara Conference, and Mrs. Wright for the London Conference. Summaries: Guelph Conference, 13 districts-Guelph district, auxiliaries and 2 circles; Galt district, auxiliaries, I mission band; Stratford district, 5 auxiliaries, 1 circle; St. Marys district, 6 auxiliaries; Goderich dis-trict, 13 auxiliaries, 4 circles and bands; Kincardine district, 3 auxillaries; Wingham district, 4 auxiliaries; Listowel district, 3 auxiliaries; Palmerston district, 3 auxiliaries; Mount Forest district, 5 auxiliaries; Walburton district, 2 auxiliaries, 1 circle; Owen Sound district, 6 auxiliaries, 3 circles. Niagara Conference, 8 districts - Hamilton district, 10 auxiliaries, 6 mission bands and circles; St. Catherines, allorganized except four small circles; Brant- States, an increase of 100 per cent in eleven ford, 9 auxiliaries, 3 circles, 9 mission bands; | years. Woodstock, 10 auxiliaries, 3 circles and bands; Simcoe, 9 auxiliaries, 12 circles and sion bands. London Conference, 9 dis- sive alliance, cannot be far off. tricts-Sarnia district, 3 auxiliaries, 2 mission bands; Strathroy district, 3 auxiliaries, 1 mission band; Ridge-town district, 3 auxiliaries; Windsor district, 5 auxiliaries; Chatham, 3 auxiliaries and I mission band; St. Thomas, 6 auxiliaries, 2 mission bands; Aylmer, 5 auxiliaries; Exeter. 4 auxiliaries, 1 mission band; London, 16 auxiliaries, 5 circles, 3

The reports were accepted with applause. A most interesting conference of workers, led by Mrs. Wright, brought out many useful suggestions as to the management of and in the absence of Secretary-Treasurer B. Glover, J. R. Miller officiated in his appeared to be prayer. Some touching accounts were given of struggles and victories in the direction where timid women had learned to use their voices in this branch of the Master's service. Mr. Cassidy and Miss Hargraves spoke a few words to the delegates and the session closed with the benediction.

WEDNESDAY EVENING. The church was filled with delegates and friends to listen to the work of the young people, in whose hands the principal portion of the programme had been placed. This trust they discharged with Edelity and credit. On the platform the mission band of the church were seated and led the service of song most delightfully. The chairman, Rev. Jasper Wilson, spoke some cheering words with regard to woman's work in the mission fields.

The report of the branch corresponding secretary, Mrs. Daly, of London, showed that the branch had made rapid progress, and that the work of the W. M. S. among the young people was of a character to command earnest attention. Fourteen new bands have been organized, five have dropped, making a total of 58. The membership is 1,809, an increase of 78; the income $2,388 03, an increase of $234 09.

A solo by Mr. Kinder was followed by clever dialogue between six girls dressed as Chinese girls and representing a scene in the Pekin school. Their efforts were received with applause.

The prize banner was awarded to Teeswater and received for them by Miss Gillies. The president, Mrs. Burns, spoke a few graceful and kindly words in presenting it, and Mrs. Phelps replied for the band, explaining the good done by the banner competition. The Rev. Mr. Cassidy followed with an address full of praise of the Japanese as a people and of the work of our ladies among the women and girls. A touching reference was made to Miss H. Lund and her valuable work in that interesting and promising land. A collection was taken, and the mission band rendered sweetly a chorus.

> SIZED UP. (Brantford Expositor.)

The Expositor has very great respect for the Templar, but we are bound to say that its evident anxiety to embarrass the Liberal party and to cast discredit on the bona fides of the Mowat Government before there was any ground whatever for its suspicions has led us to fear that it is quite as anxious for the maintenance of an 'agitation," with a view to exhibiting its own usefulness, as it is for the triumph of the temperance cause. The Templar would have Mr. Laurier (if it were possible) make the Liberal party an out-and-out Prohibition party. If he did so, how many rally to his support? The experience of reverence as they approach which is re-peated as her Majesty passes by.-[Letter cite, after the people of Ontario had spoken most emphatically?

THE OPEN FORUM.

The Board of Health and Deputations. To the Editor of the ADVERTISER: I have learned that in some circles my action regarding recent deputations of members of the Board of Health has been misrepresented. When the Provincial board met at Niagara Falls, Dr. Hutchinson, city health officer, was one of the delegation sent. He went to Toronto and spent his time there. This year the chairman of the board and Dr. Hutchinson went to Chatham and attended the Provincial board there, and as yet we have no report from this meeting. When it was proposed that the chairman, Dr. Hutchinson and Dr. Gardiner should attend the American Health Association meeting in Montreal, I was not at the meeting when they were appointed, and I joined with other members in having the motion reseinded. I did not think it was wise to spend money unless the city was to be benefited by it. Dr. Gardiner tendered his resignation to the council immediately afterward, but the aldermen considered that he was too valuable a man to lose, and unanimously declined to release him from office. With this indersation Dr. Gardiner attended the meeting in Montreal, did good service for the city there, and returned possessed with many valuable hints for the use of the board. therefore considered it in the public interest that we should become possessed of his report, and that it was only fair that might have enjoyed the honor which has we should pay his actual expenses. Dr. Gardiner, I may add, has served the city faithfully for many years, and this, if my motion had carried, would have been the first occasion on which he officially represented the city as a delegate. This is an explanation of my motion at the Board of Health last night. Yours WM. HEAMAN.

TEACHING THE YOUNG IDEA TO SHOOT.

(Canada Farmers' Sun.) It is announced that 2,000 school boys will march in military array in Terento on Oct. 13. What nonsense! It is nearly time that those in authority were called down, Shame on the Christian parents who allow their children to take part in such an ungodly parade. Just so long as we encourage our youth to entertain hatred towards our neighbors or to believe that war with somebody is a possibility, others will be as foolish as we are, and war will therefore become a possibility. Better far to teach the principles of brotherhood and to establish the foundations of peace,

A curious wedding took place at Romford Abbey Church, England, recently, both parties being deaf and dumb. A deaf and dumb clergyman was expected to officiate, but he was prevented by illness from attending. This caused a little anxiety to the couple, and a search was made for a lawyer to give advice, so that the contract might be perfectly valid, but one could not be found. However, a clergyman, with the assistance of the bride's brother, who acted as interpreter, proceeded with the ceremony. Prayer books were placed in the hands of the bride and bridegroom, and each made signs by pointing as the passages were read. Then, when responses were required to the questions the parts were submitted in writing, and read and duly signed and witnessed. These documents will be kept in the abbey as momentoes of the wedding.

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

PEAKS AND NAMES-APPLIES TO

(From New York Sun.) The naming of the mountain after a public functionary holding office at the time it is named has disadvantages. The captain of a revenue cutter in Alaskan waters recently reported to the Treasury Department the discovery of an unnamed peak, 12,000 feet in height, in that territory. Second Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Hamlin was aboard the revenue cutter in Alaskan waters at the time of the alleged discovery of this peak. As soon as the captain had sent his report to the Treasury Department at Washington the mountain was named after Mr. Hamlin because he happened to be with Capt. Hooper aboard the Rush. That particular peak is hereafter to appear on the maps of Alaska under the name of "Mount Hamlin." The second assistant secretary thus honored is a Massachusetts Democrat of the Cleveland school, but if he were an Ohio Republican of the McKinley school, the case would be precisely the same.

If the unnamed peak had been discovered before Mr. Hamlin got an office in the Treasury under Cleveland's Administration we cannot suppose it would have been called Hamlin. If, for example, its discovery had occurred two years ago, when Mr. Nettleton held the office now held by Mr. Hamlin, and if Mr. Nettleton had been in Alaskan waters aboard a revenue cutter at the time it was discovered, Nettleton been won by another.

In any event, the naming of the peak was political accident which would not have occurred if Harrison had been successful in the last presidential election.

It is a haphazard way of naming our lofty mountains. It is not the right way. If a better way is not adopted we may yet have Bepublican, Democratic, Prohibitionist or even Populist peaks all over Alaska, for which we paid $7,200,000.

It seems to us that Congress ought to have semething to say about the calling of our yet undiscovered and nameless heights. It is a great thing for any man to win earthly immortality by having a peak called after him. For

MONTREAL.

There were about 475
head of butchers' cattle, 125 calves and 600
sheep and lambs offered for sale at the East End abattoir yesterday. Trade was rather slow, and the prices of all but the best cattle were depressed, and it is probable that quite a number of common and inferior beeves will have to be held over for a future market number of common and inferior beeves will have to be held over for a future market. Really good beeves were scarce, and sold at from 32 to 4c per lb; pretty good stock sold at from 3c to 31c do; thrifty steers and common dry cows brought from 2c to 3c, and the leaner beasts about 2c per lb. There were more calves on the market yesterday than for some time past, and some of the best were sold before reaching this market. Mr. Bourassa paid 310 cach for four good calves, and Mr. Meunier paid $18 for two more. Common calves sold at from $3 to $6 each. The prices of mutton critters are advancing. Shippers are paying from 31c to 34c per lb good large sheep, and the others sell at from 2c to 31c do. Good lambs bring from 32 to 36 per lb, and the others from 24c to 3c do. Fat hogs are in pretty large sup-2 to 3c do. Fat hogs are in pretty large supply and sell at from 5c to 5 gc per lb.

the mischief done by the children at home to a reasonable minimum we have never been able to learn. Perhaps both objects were simed at."

-St. Thomas Journal: Offenbach's well known comic opera, "The Grand Duchess," received a pleasing presentation at the Duncombe Opera House last evening at the hands of the London Opera Company. The audience was small, but appreciative. Mrs. Alfred D. Holman, in the title role, carried off the honors. She played the role with a chic and action which were very very creditably. Miss Eva Roche was a sweet Wanda, though her voice was a little in front of the mill just before the fire. roles and sang their numbers very satisfactorily. A noticeable feature was the total absence of that stiffness which generally characterizes amateurs. The chorus was an excellent ope, large and well trained, the costumes were elegant, and the orchestra the best heard in the new opera house. Mention should be made of the Seventh Annual Athletic Sports at the London Asylum.

Large Crowds From the City-Events Keenly Contested-The Results.

The beautiful athletic ground of the asylum yesterday was the scene of the seventh annual sports of the patients and attendants. The weather was threatening in the morning, but became clear in the afternoon, and the air was just nipping and eager enough to suit competitors. though a little chilly for spectators. The usual large crowd from the city enjoyed the games and incidentally asylum hospitality, the levely surroundings and the superb music of the Young Liberal Fleet Band, under Mr. Fred Evans' direction. All the events were keenly contested. zest being added by the handsome array of prizes, for which the asylum authorities desire to heartily thank the contributors. Trophies were even donated after the programme had been prepared, and there were extra events to meet them. Dr. Sippi managed the sports with dispatch and vigor. KINGSMILL'S MILLINERY OPENING.

The Very Latest Styles in Trimmings Colors and Shapes-What Will Be Worn This Year. Kingsmill's fall millinery opening commenced yesterday afternoon, and from now on visitors to the show room will be regaled with the very latest styles, colors, and trimmings that the markets of Europe can produce. Kingsmill's millinery estab-lishment like everything else connected with this mammoth firm is con-ducted on a lavish and extensive scale and no trouble or expense is spared by the proprietor in order to present the most recent novelties to the inspection of the ladies of London. In fall trimmings jet predominates; a new color, "bluett," is very tasty and becoming. The perfect blending and contrasting of colors is a feature of this year's style. Among the prettiest blends are green and eminence (a new purple), gray and petunia, green and black, maize and the fashionable cornflower, blue, coral and maize, and many other pretty designs in single colors, such as gray, brown, cherry and chriese. Black in all trimmings is very fashionable, and is used largely in combination with other colors. Birds and wings of queer shape, ostrich plumes and feather and steel tips, jet sprays, lingerie and tinsel lace, small flowers and roses are all worn. The bonnets are calculated Three-legged race, 50 yards—1 England to capture the heart of any lady, and Donley, 2 Wooster and Henry, 3 Pumshape and rich in color and beauty. "They promised to be here at seven y'c ock this morning, and now it's nine," mildly responded Phillis, her pleasant dark eyes raised to Jelly's. "We thought we'd try and do it ourselves, so as to be able to get the table and chairs in, and the room unished. Perhaps Turtles have forgot it." "I'd forget them, I know, if it was me, when I wanted to buy another carpet," said Jelly, tartly.

But, even as she spoke, a vehicle was heard to stop at the gate. Inquisitive Jelly looked from the window, and recognized it as Turtle's. It seemed to contain one or two pieces of new furniture, Phillis did not know that any had been coming, and went out. Molly Green rose from her knees, and stood regarding the carpet. This was Jelly's opportunity.

Now, then!" she cried sharply, confronting the girl with imperious gesture. "Did you dron that, or did you not, Molly Green? Molly Green seemed quite bewildered by the address - as well she might be. "Drop what?" she asked. That plum-pudding receipt on Mrs. Gasa's parlor carpet."

"Weil, I never!" returned Molly after a pause of surprise. "What is it to you, Jelly,

Now the girl only spoke so by way of retort; in a spirit of banter. Sally, hardly believing her ears, accepted it as an admission

"I didn't drop from my hands. As to staring, it's you that's doing that, Jelly, not "Where had you picked up the receipt? Out of Mr. Edmund North's room?"

"Out of Mr. Edmund North's room!" echoed Molly in wonder. "Whatever should have brought me doing that?" "It was the night he was taken ill."

"And if it was! I didn't go a-nigh nim. A frightful thought now came over Jelly, turning her quite faint. What if the girl had gone to her aunt Green's that night and picked the paper up there? In that case it could not fail to be traced home to Timothy

'Did you call in at your aunt's that same evening, Molly Green?

Suppose I did?" retorted Molly. "And how dare you call in there, and bring - bring - receipts away with your sucreptitious?" shrieked Jelly in her anger. Molly Green stooped to pick up the hammer lying at her feet, speaking quietly as certainty of benefit. For nursing mothers she did so. Some noise was beginning to be ting a piano into the house, and Phillis talking to them. "I can't think what you are a-driving at. Jelly. As to calling in at aunt's, I have a right to do it when I'm out, if time allows. Molly was beginning to feel just a little teason for attacking her in this way.

"And what if I did get it from him, pray? A plum-pudding prescription's no crime, "But a copy of an aconymous letter is." retorted Jelly, the moment's anger causing ler to forget caution. "Don't you try to brazen it out to me, girl."

But in a moment Jelly's senses had come

To think that my mind should have run off from the pudding-receipt to that letter of poor Mr. Edmund's! It's your fault. Molly Green, bothering my wits out of me!

Where did you pick up the paper? There.
Answer that; and let's end it."
Molly thought it might be as well to end it; she was growing tired of the play; besides, here were Turtle's men coming into the room to finish the carpet.

"I never had the receipt at all, Jelly, and it's not possible it could have dropped from ne; that's the blessed truth. After talking to me, just as you've done, and turning me inside out, as one may say, Mrs. Gass as good as confessed that it might have fell out of her own bundle of receipts that she keeps in the sideboard drawer.

Slowly, Jelly arrived at a conviction that Molly Green, in regard to knowing nothing about the paper, must be telling the truth. It did not tend to lessen her anger. "Then why on earth have you been keeping up this farce with me? I'll teach you manners with your betters, girl.' "Well, why did you set upon me?" was the good-humored answer. "There's no such great treason in dropping a plum-pudding-receipt, even if I had done it - which I didn't. I don't like to be brow-beat for nothing; and it's not your place to do it, Jelly said no more. Little did she sus-

Williams' Royal Crown Remedy Saved John Weir's Life,"

May be seen in large letters on the covers of the horses that precede the handsome Royal Crown Remedy wagon at Toronto and Western Fairs. To a Globe reporter, Mr. Weir said: "This is a most marvelous cure. I became pale as a corpee; my blood seemed to be turned to water. I had dizziness and a ringing noise in my head; my hands and feet were cold all the time, and my limbs were completely swoolen up to the body. Some doctors called it consumption of the blood. I got so weak that I could not walk, and finally took to my bed." Mrs. Weir says: "All M. Weir has told you is true, At times he lay for days unconscious and unable to take nourishment of any kind, and was reduced to a mere skeleton of & pounds; and I fully believe that if we had been one day later in getting Williams' Royal Crown Remedy he would be in his grave to-day. So it may well be said "Williams' Royal Crown Remedy saved John Weir's life. The best druggists keep Royal Crown Remedy, but if your dru ggist does not, remit direct to Isaac Williams Company. London, and they will send it to you by first express. # Popular Stores.

People have long ago recognized this as the most popular store in London. To retain our popularity will always be our aim. It requires something back of money to build up a business such as we have done. Notwithstanding the depression all around, we have experienced nothing but progress. We do not say this in a boastful manner, but there are hundreds who do not know it yet, and we mean that all shall be acquainted with this store before we get through.
