CURRY MUST MAKE GOOD FOR THEFTS OF CLERKS

Premier Ferguson Declares New Defalcations Have Been Discovered.

MAY TOTAL $150,000
Prosecutions Are Expected To Follow Soon as House Adjourns.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Feb. 29.—Premier Ferguson said this morning that J. Walter Curry, registrar at the Toronto registry office, would be held responsible for the Ontario government for money lost by defalcation by two clerks in his office. The sum is stated to be $50,000. The premier said the clerks were employed by Mr. Curry, and that it would be up to him to make good the losses. The clerks were not bonded by the government. The alleged defalcations were unearthed by an audit. The government has started audits in many departments, Premier Ferguson said this morning that many irregularities had been discovered. "The whole trouble has arisen through the fact that no audit of receipts was ever made," said the premier. "Loose bookkeeping and lack of supervision is largely responsible for the existing state of affairs." It is stated that the total losses will run about $150,000. The discoveries made by audit will mean a shakeup in the civil service in many departments. "These changes will be started immediately after the House rises. It is also stated that prosecutions of some of those alleged to be responsible for defalcations will be instituted."

MAY DROP CHARGE AGAINST SISTERS

Constable Peters States Neighbors Will Aid in Cleaning Place.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Chatham, Feb. 29.—The charges against the Radmore sisters, Luella and Mary, the eccentric Romey Township spinners who are now in the county jail on charges of cruelty to animals, may not be pressed by the authorities provided the present conditions on the farm are remedied. High Constable Peters, who visited the farm yesterday, declared today that if the home is made presentable, equipped with furniture and household utensils and conditions on the farm improved generally, the authorities would have no desire to press the charges. People residing in the vicinity of the Radmore place are in sympathy with the women. Many of them have expressed a desire to assist the Radmores and arrangements are already under way for a "cleaning up bee" to be staged on the place. For years the women folk in the vicinity of the Radmores have been more than willing to aid the sisters but were afraid to approach them regarding their mode of living. The Radmores lived to themselves absolutely.

CANADA'S FIRE LOSSES.
Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Feb. 29.—Fire losses in Canada for the week ended Feb. 27 are estimated by the Monetary Times at $433,100, compared with $1,122,100 for the previous week, and with $2,251,200 for the corresponding week last year.

AWAITING THE ARRIVAL OF POLICE.

Above is shown Miss Luella Radmore, pitchfork in hand, and surrounded by four of her large pack of dogs, watching the arrival of the authorities on the morning of her arrest. Miss Radmore, dressed in clothes made of bags and wearing rubber boots, was brought to Chatham with her sister and is now held on a charge of cruelty to animals. Authorities found their farm near Port Alma in a filthy state.

LONDON RENTS SECOND HIGHEST IN PROVINCE

HON. ERNEST LAPOINTE.

Canada's minister of justice, who will introduce a bill in parliament at an early date to amend the Penitentiaries Act.

'STOP' STREETS WOULD REGULATE TRAFFIC

Ald. Douglass Believes This Plan Is Solution of London's Problem.

There are growing indications that Ald. Towle's through streets proposal will be largely modified before it passes the city council, if at all. Ald. L. H. Douglass, chairman of the finance committee, suggested today in amendment that "stop" streets be inaugurated as the most sane policy. He mentioned York, King and Dundas streets and Queen's avenue for tentative consideration. It is his contention that "stop" streets would tend to offset speeding, while through streets designated as such would be but an invitation in that direction. Ald. Douglass would have all vehicles stop when they come to the streets he names, but he would designate no city streets as through thoroughfares, as advocated by Ald. Towle.

HIGH STRUNG PIANO TONES UP THEIR NERVES

People Walk Below a Ladder, But They Take No Chances With Pianos.

It has never been actually determined whether the disinclination of the public to pass under a ladder is based on fear of getting a shower of paint over their hats or just plain superstition. This morning, however, it was proven that the dislike of the public to passing under a hoisted piano is fear and nothing else. A huge piano was being raised with pulleys outside Flynn's tobacco store. A little group of the curious watched the operations, and when the music box was appended about twenty feet in the air, it was expected the crowd would pass by. Not one walked under the hanging piano, however. Although the chances of the instrument falling were negligible, the public apparently believe that discretion is better than being smashed.

MAYOR HAS SYSTEM TO ELIMINATE CITY TAXES

Would Inaugurate the Metering System, But Fears Time Not Ripe.

OUTLINES HIS PLAN
Thinks It Would Tend To Reduce Waste and Carelessness.

Municipal legislators, aldermen and others, are prone to abide too much by precedent, Mayor Wenighe charges. In the main they do not look to the future sufficiently for the welfare of the community. The mayor has some very advanced ideas and policies in the regard. In the first instance he would abolish all city taxes. This proposal may appear startling to the casual observer and impossible but the mayor believes that it can be done and with satisfactory results. His worship would inaugurate, with the co-operation of all municipal boards the metering system of assessing but he fears and regrets that they are not ready for it. "All our public utilities and public ownership projects should be operated in such a manner as would produce such substantial surpluses as would practically eliminate taxes as they are now assessed and collected." The mayor instanced the fire department. This branch of city service could be placed on a meter system; those who had the fires would have to be assessed for them. If he did not have a fire throughout the year at his place of business or residence, he would not have to pay anything toward the maintenance of that department. And the tax upon fires would have to be sufficiently large to carry the department. In that way also he believes there would be fewer fires in a year. More care would be exercised by the people. As a result, much smaller department would be required. And so on. The mayor would place the sewer system on the same basis. Those who use them would be metered accordingly and to the extent of their use.

TWO SCHOOLS MEAN ONE MILL ON TAX RATE

Education Committee Will Ask Council for $700,000 Debtenture Issue.

Almost one mill will be added to the tax rate if the city council seeks to grant the request of the college board and issue debtentures for $700,000. This was stated by Secretary W. A. Tanner today after figuring out the annual charges on such an issue. Over a period of 20 years, with interest at five and a half per cent, these would be $58,569. The decision to request two schools was arrived at by members of the committee yesterday afternoon, and the board will be asked, next Tuesday, to make a formal request of the city council for this amount of money.

SCHOOLS WILL BE RE-DECORATED SOON

Spring Cleaning For Temples of Learning To Be Started Shortly.

As soon as weather permits, the work of decorating the city schools in need of this work will be started. According to Capt. W. H. Robinson, superintendent of works, two schools, Riverview and Tecumseh, will be redecorated externally, while Tecumseh, Chesley Avenue, Lorne Avenue and Pottersburg schools will have the interiors painted and decorated. This work, authorized by the board, is essential to these schools, as it has not been done for a number of years, and the rooms are beginning to assume a dingy appearance. Several other schools will be touched up here and there.

RETURN STENOGRAPHER.
It is understood that provision will be made for the return of a stenographer to the mayor's office. This position was eliminated when Mayor Wenighe assumed office early in 1923.

PRINCE CYRIL, younger brother of King Boris of Bulgaria, will visit the British Empire Exhibition in London this summer. Militarists of Bulgaria are anxious to have Cyril replace his timid brother upon the throne.

PRISONERS SING HYMNS IN CELLS

Condemned Men Change From Lifting Ragtime to Favorites of Youth.

Williams, Murrell and Topping are still singing in their cells at the county jail. They have forsaken lifting ragtime and sobby ballads for the sobering yet beautiful hymns that they learned in their early youth. Last week the three men who are to be hanged on April 10, passed the time by warbling "My Cutie Went Away" and "That Old Gang of Mine." This week the young men switched over to "Lead Kindly Light" and "Onward Christian Soldiers." These two hymns seem to be their favorites, although "Rock of Ages" is also very popular with them. Murrell and Williams both possess good voices, while Topping although "not so good," does his best. In the evening, prisoners who have been working outside or around the jail help the boys out and suggest songs to them. Regular song services are the order each night before lock-up.

LINER IS BADLY BATTERED DURING RECENT STORM

Associated Press Despatch.
Plymouth, England, Feb. 29.—The Royal Netherlands steamship Atjeh, voyaging from Central America and West Indian ports, arrived here yesterday badly battered by a hurricane, which reached its height on Feb. 22. Her bows were smashed and the smoking-room, saloon and cabins swamped.

Efforts in Special Drive Rewarded by Cash Prizes

Advertiser Will Give $500 To Candidates Securing Most Votes.

FOR SEVENTEEN DAYS

Winners in Recent Campaign Will Be Announced in Near Future.

Five hundred dollars will again be awarded by The Advertiser—four special prizes—to the leaders of the three groups during the next 17 days. This is the second additional bonus of $500 offered since the contest.

The extra awards should be a big incentive for candidates to work harder the next seventeen days than they ever worked before. The new 250,000 extra vote offer for every two subscriptions will make it comparatively easy to pile up large scores. The winners of the recent preliminary contest will be announced any day now.

Any person bringing in one to six subscriptions a day or less is almost certain to gain one of the numerous prizes at the rate things are going now. With milder weather approaching it is much easier for candidates, particularly rural candidates, to get around among prospects and double the number of their subscriptions. Cash only should be accepted, regardless of whether the subscription in question is a six months, yearly or long term renewal. The next seventeen days will probably prove to be the most important of the contest. In two weeks it is expected the standings of candidates will be more or less fixed. That is why real effort and salesmanship counts so much right now.

OSCAR WARNER, 22, apprehended in Sarnia yesterday and brought here in custody of Detective Bolton last night to answer a charge of theft, pleaded not guilty in police court this morning.

GRAYDON REMANDS SUSPECT FOR WEEK

Oscar Warner Pleads Not Guilty to the Neal Bakery Robbery.

ARRESTED AT SARNIA

Elects Summary Trial by the Magistrate in Court This Morning.

Oscar Warner, 22, apprehended in Sarnia yesterday and brought here in custody of Detective Bolton last night to answer a charge of theft, pleaded not guilty in police court this morning. Warner, who is suspected of having broken into the Neal Baking Company on February 17th and stealing a substantial amount of cash, was remanded a week by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon to secure his witnesses and employ a counsel. The prisoner is a thick-set, short, young man. When asked whether he wished immediate trial or trial by jury in June Warner stated he wished to be tried by the police magistrate as soon as possible.

FARMER IS GIVEN TWO MONTHS' TERM

Charles Wyatt Is Sentenced For Fraud in Connection With Weight Receipts.

Two months in the common jail was sentence imposed on Charles Wyatt, confessed perpetrator of fraud, by Magistrate Graydon this morning. Wyatt was caught changing the figures on weight receipts for his grain, thereby cheating customers out of varying amounts. It was the first case of the nature apprehended here in 22 years. Wyatt had nothing to say in court, but Crown Attorney Albert Judd made an appeal in his behalf. Mr. Judd said three cases of fraud by Wyatt had come to light, and in each of these his father had made restitution. To date the young man had had a good, clean record. Many former friends and employers testified to his previous good character, and one concern said it would give him a job. Magistrate Graydon said the prisoner did not seem to appreciate the nature of the offense. If others descended to such dishonesty and deceit as he had committed the business of the market could not be carried on. In giving the prisoner two months in common jail the court said it was acting extremely lenient and in consideration of his father's respectability.

BUILDING BOOM SHOWN BY INSPECTOR'S REPORT

Figures To Date For 1924 Show $100,000 Increase Over Period Year Ago.

The February building report issued by City Inspector A. M. Piper shows an increase of $6,000 over February of 1923. The 1924 total to date shows an increase, however, of more than $100,000 over the corresponding period of 1923. The detailed report follows: 36 permits during February. 1924..... $61,670 27 permits during February, 1923..... 55,535 68 permits since January 1, 1924..... 237,070 6 permits since January, 1923..... 136,250

TRUSTEES DECIDE ON LONDON FOR CONVENTION

Kingston Convention Closes With Election of Officers For Next Year.

DEALS WITH ACT
Dr. J. H. Putnam of Ottawa Favors Abolition of Matriculation Exams.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Kingston, Feb. 29.—The urban school trustees' convention concluded this morning with the election of officers and the transaction of other business. London Ontario, was decided on as the meeting place for next year. The following officers were elected: President, A. M. Cunningham, Hamilton; vice-president, J. G. Elliott, Kingston; executive, F. B. Edmunds, Toronto; Mrs. Agnes Hodges, Brantford; F. W. James, Chatham; T. H. Kirby, Ottawa; A. McGie, Belleville; Rev. C. Q. Warner, London.

Dr. J. H. Putnam of Ottawa, in addressing the convention this morning, stated that it had proved impossible to put the adolescent act into effect because of public opinion. He stated his opinion that "if a boy has not reached the fifth grade at the age of 15, this is the best possible reason for letting him out of school." He advocated the organization of junior high schools and the ultimate doing away with matriculation examination. He also advocated vocational schools throughout the province.

ALD. DRAKE SUGGESTS A SCHOOL EACH YEAR

Also Scores the Unit System of High Schools Now in Vogue.

Ald. Gordon Drake, ward three, suggests that members of the board of education revise their collegiate plans and build one branch high school in 1924 and the other in 1925. "I don't know what we are going to do about this expenditure," he stated. "It seems like a big undertaking for this year. It would be a good move if they constructed a school out in East London, and one in South London next year." Ald. Drake incidentally scored the unit system of high schools, and hinted that "The school board let somebody put it over them when they decided not to put the students all under one roof."

TRAFALGAR SCHOOL NEEDS MORE MONEY

New Building Will Probably Cost $15,000 More Than Expected.

The city council will in all likelihood be asked to furnish more money for Trafalgar school, recently completed, according to information received this morning. Number two committee of the board of education is meeting within a few days for this purpose, and although no information could be obtained as to the amount required, it is understood that it will be in the neighborhood of $15,000. The school cost $97,000, of which $70,000 was a transfer from Victoria School, but there is still a small amount needed to complete the cost. In addition to this, the committee may also discuss the estimates, as when they were taken up at a previous meeting, the chairman, S. F. Lawerson, was out of the city. He will occupy the chair tonight, and they may be run over rapidly.

EXPLAINS FRENCH IDEAL IN COMING TO SETTLE HERE

Pierre F. Chauvin Appeals For Amicable Relations Between Nationalities.

ADDRESS KIWANIS

Contrary to the general belief and unlike other European nations who colonized in North America, the French came here mainly to seek converts to their religion, according to Pierre F. Chauvin, who spoke at the Kiwanis Club, Jacques Cartier, he said, and other interested explorers of the early days were prompted by the motive of compensating France for her losses in the great number of people who had been driven from the Catholicism. M. Chauvin spoke on "The Origin of the French-Canadian."

Mrs. Ward, beloved of all local Salvationists and citizens generally was a Kiwanis great honor. Mrs. Ward is celebrating her 84th birthday, after 41 years of service in the army. True to form, Mrs. Ward had with her an armful of copies of the "War-Cry" and the Kiwanis' birthday gift to her was the disposal of every one.

Members of the Lions' Club, with M. R. Graham, district governor of the Lions' Clubs of Canada, were present. "As long as France remained true to the principle which prompted her to colonize," Mr. Chauvin said, "New France remained true to her, but as soon as she descended into practices of degradation and license, the finger of Providence descended on the St. Lawrence and effaced New France, but it wrote instead Canada. France wanted a colony which was a replica of herself. I do not think she has failed in this. Not even the Jews have been able to create a nation to their own liking. They have the French-Canadians. They have their own poets, sculptors, composers, artists. It's people are a nation to themselves."

With an appeal that French and English, distinct in nationality, but with the common bond of their new land might live peacefully together, Mr. Chauvin concluded.

LONDON TO LEND HELP IN ECONOMY CAMPAIGN

Local Chamber of Commerce Asked To Send Delegates to Toronto Conference.

A conference of the Ontario Boards of Trade and Chamber of Commerce will be held in Toronto, week today to discuss the imperative need for the greatest economy in government administration, federal, provincial and municipal, with the view of reducing expenditure and thereby ensuring an adjustment of taxation. A letter was received from the Ontario Boards of Trade by the local Chamber of Commerce this morning for it is expected London will send several representatives to the conference. According to Secretary Gordon Phillips of the local Chamber of Commerce, this is a co-operative movement with the eastern and western provinces, where provincial conferences have already been held and resolutions urging national economy adjusted.

A dominion conference at Ottawa will follow the Ontario conference later in the month, the conclusions of which will be submitted by joint delegation to the federal government. According to Mr. Phillips, the Maritime Provinces have approved of the Ottawa meeting and will have strong delegations present.

WITNESS TELLS OF CARS AROUND DELORME HOME

Paul Beauchamp Declares His Car Was Used Only in Summer Time.

TRIAL PROCEEDING

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, Feb. 29.—Evidence as to cars which were owned in the neighborhood of the Delorme home was put in at this morning's session of the trial of the abbe on a charge of murdering his half-brother Raoul on Jan. 6, 1922. Crown Prosecutor Calder called Paul Beauchamp, who has not previously testified in the case. Mr. Beauchamp said he owned an automobile at the time of Raoul Delorme's death, but it was not used in the winter.

In summer he kept it in a yard immediately opposite the Delorme garage. Witness was asked to produce to the court a receipt showing when he put his car in storage in the winter of 1921-22. Mr. Beauchamp said only three people owned cars in this particular neighborhood, a Mr. Cardinal, Abbe Delorme and himself. The crown intimated that Mr. Cardinal would be called later.

Alban Germain, K.C., of counsel for the defense, got permission from the court this morning to examine the documents on which Willie Marion, who audited the accounts of the Delorme estate, based his report.

LABORERS AROUND JAIL FIND OLD WALL TOUGH

Believe They Would Prefer To Tackle Section of Gibraltar.

Jail laborers are busily engaged in excavations for the new sewer pipe, which will lead from the county buildings to the new registry office. The work proceeded at a fairly rapid rate until a start was made on a hole in the foundation of the county buildings, which were erected in the days when there was no swamping on material.

The men employed on the job believe that the contractors knew their business and decline to do any more work until they have dug away at the rock of Gibraltar.

"I'll bet that Murrell would get through that wall in 15 minutes, observed one interested spectator as he watched the men toiling at the job. "But put him in the cellar with a pick and shovel and I'll bet he wouldn't get through that wall in no time. We could stand here and catch him without trouble."

The plan, needless to say, was not approved by Governor Byron Dawson.

CITY POLICEMEN HOLD FINE SOCIAL EVENING

The Thursday social evening of the London policemen was held at the home of Constable Chester Langford, 185 Sackville street, this week, and it was more than a success. Twenty-eight of the policemen and their friends enjoyed progressive euchre, the prizes being won by Sgt. Wm. McCullough and Mrs. Earl Knight.

POLICE COURT ENJOYS RECORD ATTENDANCE

Prisoners' Box Also Accommodates More at Session This Morning.

An attendance record was noted up in police court this morning when 73 persons occupied the ancient hall of justice. Every available seat was filled, and about a dozen men crowded the entrance, peering in to get a glimpse of the prisoners and hear the cases. The prisoners' box, which usually holds about five people, contained seven this morning.

There are about half a dozen police court habitués who simply can't stay away. Every day they appear as regularly as a child going to school.

This morning several men had to remain in the waiting-room owing to the congestion.

GREER SAYS HIGHWAY BILL MUST BE PAID

Chairman of Board of Works, Though, Questions Wisdom of Making Protest.

Ald. John Greer, chairman of the board of works, questions whether it could be wise for the city to protest too strongly to the province against the payment of the $164,000 highway bill.

The chairman presumes, however, that in the meanwhile there is no alternative for the council but to order its payment. The city should order 20 per cent of the cost of the increased highway bill, which could be considered a fair division of payment, the chairman thought. The point to be determined, however, he reminds, is if this argument holds good.

SEMINARY STUDENTS PAY STATUTE LABOR

Tax Has Always Been Paid Promptly and Affects 1,000 Persons.

Assessment Commissioner Harry Bennett conferred today with City Clerk Baker with respect to the statute labor tax as it affected students at the R. C. Seminary.

The ruling was that this tax should be imposed in that direction, as in former years, following the recent decision of the city council to order no change.

City Treasurer Bell stated that the tax from this source had always been promptly paid in the past. The assessment commissioner expects that about a thousand persons of all classes will be reached through this tax in 1924.

YOUNG WOMAN IS CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

Associated Press Despatch. Portland, Me., Feb. 29.—Nettie May MacLean, giving her address as Tacoma, Washington, walked into an undertaking establishment here yesterday with the body of her infant daughter in her arms. She was arrested on a technical charge of manslaughter. Kenneth Ross MacLean, a sophomore at Bowdoin College, said by the woman to be her husband, was arrested later at Brunswick, and brought here. He also was charged with manslaughter.

Mrs. MacLean, who is 18 years old, said she had carried the child from Brunswick, 26 miles by train. Before leaving the college town, she said, she informed MacLean, whom she found out by the name of the infant's death, but he replied that he was busy with examinations, and could not aid in disposing of the body.

DISCOURAGED INVENTOR TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Associated Press Despatch. New Bedford, Mass., Feb. 29.—Discouraged because of repeated rejection by the United States, French and Argentine governments of his plans for a siege gun which, he claimed, would be capable of throwing a shell a distance of 105 miles, John G. Conception, found dead in his room here Tuesday night, mailed the plans as a gift to the British government three weeks before he died. The plans were sent in turn to Washington, the Argentine government and the French government, being returned in each

Church News

MISSION CIRCLE TEA.

Miss Donna Johnston was the hostess last evening at her home in Windsor avenue of a talent tea held for members of the Mission Circle of Riddout Street Methodist Church. Contests and games formed a part of the evening's program, and the members also spent some time in sewing and fancywork in aid of the talent money which they are to raise. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the evening.

WILLING WORKERS AUXILIARY

The Willing Workers Auxiliary of Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Pinnell, 43 Terrence street, for their regular meeting. Mrs. E. M. Copeland, the president, was in charge, and the meeting was devoted to the opening of devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Rumball and Mrs. Cree. The meeting was in the form of a shower for social service work, and as the result of gifts brought by each member a splendid quantity of clothing and groceries was received. Plans for distributing these to the best advantage were discussed and Mrs. Charles Pirie made general outline of a small committee to canvass the needs of the various districts of the congregation. Tea was served at the conclusion, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Emily Coleman.

CHALMERS CHURCH MUSICAL

In aid of the organ fund of Chalmers Presbyterian Church, Mrs. A. P. Light arranged a delightful musical at her home, 343 Hamilton road, last evening. Songs were contributed by Mrs. Froeland, Miss Farrow, Mrs. H. C. Watson and Frank Emery. Violin numbers by William Duncan, and instruments by H. E. Watson.

Mrs. Chris Pink presided at the attractive table from which refreshments were served, and the hostess was assisted by Mrs. S. Light and Mrs. J. Richardson.

A splendid sum was realized.

Members of the board are returning to Ottawa, and will make their decisions known at some future date. Capt. Premlin, soldiers' advisor for the district, appeared in

RELIEF DEPARTMENT EXISTS ONLY IN THEORY

Mayor Refers Application to Social Service Council For Investigation.

The municipality's "social investigating" branch exists in "theory only," Mayor Wallaceburg stated today.

In pursuance of this policy, the mayor sought the assistance of the Social Service Council this morning.

Major Wallaceburg, who is better equipped to conduct these investigations and make reports upon these cases than the relief department, the mayor explained. "The latter exists in theory only."

BUILDS A GRAVEL BOAT SUPPLY MUNICIPALITIES

Wallaceburg Man Endeavors To Overcome Present Conditions.

Special to The Advertiser. Wallaceburg, Feb. 28.—There has been considerable difficulty during the past years in getting gravel. The government allows gravel to go to the municipalities, taking large quantities to Detroit and Windsor, unless they bring a certain proportion of the gravel to the municipalities. The outcome is that these companies have brought up their claims that they were losing money on every cargo owing to the deep draft of their boats, and the shalowness of the water, and the bridges they had to go through and general navigation conditions.

Mr. J. S. Fraser of Wallaceburg has now under construction in the gravel boat which will take care of the supply of municipal gravel to Sarnia, Dresden, Chatham, Wallaceburg, and the north branch of the Sydenham. The boat, which will cost in the neighborhood of $30,000 will be all steel, and will carry 300 cubic yards of gravel on a draft of six feet. She will be 100 feet long on keel, 130 feet on deck and the depth of the hold will be seven feet. She will be equipped with a crane for loading and unloading and a general command and control outfit for the handling of gravel. When light she will draw 15 inches of water.

It is hoped to have everything in readiness for launching in the first week of May.

Application has been made to the government for a license to take gravel for municipal purposes from the St. Clair river.

OIL AND FUEL RESERVES MADE FOR WORLD FLIGHT

Vancouver, Feb. 28.—H.M.C.S. Thiepal will sail at dawn Saturday for Japan via Alaska and the Aleutian Islands.

By the way, the Thiepal is a British round-the-world air flight, which it was announced yesterday, will start from Cranford, England, March 25. Col. Broome will act as pilot for the British fleet, oil and provisions for the British fliers at uninhabited places on the trans-Pacific route. The Thiepal will take on board her 4,000 gallons of petrol, 400 gallons of oil and other supplies.

LAPORTE SEEKS TO HAVE PRISONS ACT AMENDED

Minister of Justice Will Submit Bill in Parliament at an Early Date.

NOTICES ARE FILED

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, Feb. 28.—Notice of government legislation is already appearing on the order paper of the House.

The prime minister intimates that he intends to present the redistribution bill again. Hon. E. Laporte, minister of justice, will have bills to increase the salary of the judge of territorial courts, the Yukon Territory from $7,000 to $8,000 per annum, and to amend the penitentiaries act.

Hon. T. A. Low, minister of trade and commerce, has a bill to provide a standard quality for platinum goods, and to amend the French version of the patent act. There will also be a bill to amend the much-discussed halibut treaty with the United States in legislation of which Hon. J. P. A. Cardin, minister of marine and fisheries, has given notice in the House. The bill will amend the section of the Northern Pacific Halibut Fishery Protection Act, which touches on the seizure of ships engaged in halibut fishing in prohibited waters.

URGES COMPANIONSHIP BETWEEN FATHER-SON

Boys Less Confiding As They Grow Older, Declares "Y" Leader.

Special to The Advertiser. Kitchener, Feb. 28.—The need of genuine companionship between father and son was emphasized in the address of J. Howard Crocker, physical director of the Canadian Y. M. C. A., to the fourth annual father and son banquet, held in the gymnasium of the Kitchener Y. M. C. A. this evening. Nearly 400 fathers and sons were present and sat down to the banquet, which was prepared by the ladies of various Twin City churches. The speaker urged the fathers not to postpone the establishment of such a bond too long, as the growing boy became less confiding as he advanced in years.

HORSE SHOW IN SPRING CALLED OFF THIS YEAR

East Lambton Agricultural Society Holds Field Crop Competition.

Special to The Advertiser. Watford, Feb. 28.—After two postponements, owing to stormy weather, the annual meeting of the East Lambton Agricultural Society, which was held in the boardroom of the public library, with a fair attendance.

The report of the secretary-treasurer, J. Russell McCormick, revealed that the fair, which was the usual, was a complete financial failure on account of the continuous downpour of rain which marked the two days.

It was unanimously decided that the association will enter the standing field crop competition this year as usual, but the directors decided against the proposal to hold a horse show in the spring of this year.

Government judges will be employed for the fair, the dates for which were left to the decision of the president and secretary.

The election of officers for the ensuing year then took place, the following all being reappointed: Honorary president, John Farrell; president, Dr. J. McGillivuddy; first vice-president, James F. Elliot; secretary, vice-president, S. W. Edwards; directors, C. E. Jones, S. W. Edwards, S. Hair, J. Gilliland, W. Annett, Clarence Debeer, W. G. Connolly, Richard Williamson, W. E. Parker, W. D. McKenzie, A. G. Brown, W. H. Harper, D. Cameron, John Zavitz, J. B. Parker, J. Manders, G. T. Fuller, H. W. Nixon and T. W. Collier.

William McLeay and W. H. Shrapnell were reappointed auditors.

At a meeting of the directors, which followed the regular meeting of the society, J. Russell McCormick of Watford was reappointed secretary-treasurer, and Directors Richard Williamson, W. G. Connolly, J. F. Elliot and President Dr. J. McGillivuddy were appointed a standing committee to appoint all other committees.

DUNDAS CENTRE CHOR ARRANGES FINE PROGRAM

Ten annual choir concert in Dundas Centre Church, March 6, promises to be a rich musical treat. ## French Doctors Engage In Duel

Associated Press Despatch. Chantilly, France, Feb. 29.—General Messimy, former minister of war, presided over a duel between two leading lights of the French medical world, Professors Bernard Cuneo, a surgeon, and Elie Brocq, a physician.

As soon as the general gave the signal the two eminent specialists fell upon each other with rare ferocity. They lunged and parried for a good half hour. Both were pretty well winded when in the seventh bout Professor Cuneo was run through the sword arm, and this ended the encounter. The quarrel was not of a scientific but of a private character.

PALMER TESTIFIES IN OIL INQUIRY

Former Attorney-General of the U. S. Explains His Connection With Industry.

Associated Press Despatch. Washington, D. C., Feb. 29.—A. Mitchell Palmer, attorney-general in the Wilson administration, testified before the oil committee today the circumstances of his retention as attorney for Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, in the oil inquiry. He denied that J. W. Zevely, counsel for Harry F. Sinclair, is his law partner, as suggested in the McLean telegram. He added, however, that "Zevely is an old friend of mine," and had outlined to him a couple of months ago the salient facts in the oil inquiry.

Sincerely asking his opinion, he said, as to whether Sinclair and Fall could be compelled to answer questions before the committee. Palmer gave it as his opinion that they could. Palmer said he had not seen Fall "for years," and denied he was to look after the interests of "the man at Wardman Park" as John F. Major said in one of his telegrams to McLean at Palm Beach.

"I did not take up this matter with Senator Underwood," Palmer said when asked about a report sent to McLean that he had done so. He also denied that he had discussed the matter with any senator, except Walsh of Montana, and Chairman Leffert. Testifying that he had never represented E. L. Doheny, Palmer said, smilingly: "I rather regret that, considering the size of the sharp barking and howling of his fees he paid."

TORONTO MAN SAVES HIS FAMILY FROM FLAMES

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Feb. 29.—Hanging from the window sill of the second store window of his home by his feet, Victor Signorello dropped his wife and three small children in safety to the sidewalk below, and then saved himself by jumping, when fire broke out in his home this morning. Dense smoke cut off the stairway when the family sought egress that way. Signorello was awakened by the sharp barking and howling of his dog.

What the Gerhard Heintzman Phonograph Is

Almost any furniture maker or cabinet shop can make a phonograph but it takes more than skill in cabinet-making to produce a good phonograph. For the essential feature of a phonograph is not the case design but TONE. Tone production is a scientific problem. Tone is the test we would ask you to apply to the Gerhard Heintzman Phonograph. The same scientific experience that is embodied in the Gerhard Heintzman piano is embodied in the Gerhard Heintzman Phonograph. Working with genuine Violin

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog, and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness, and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts, or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water, and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advt.

COHAN'S BRILLIANT SHOW ENCHANTS GRAND AUDIENCE

Sumptuous "Little Nellie Kelly" Finest of Its Kind Ever Seen Here.

ANIMATION PERPETUAL

"Little Nellie Kelly," George M. Cohan's brilliant musical comedy, which played at the Grand Theatre last evening is indisputably the finest production of its kind that ever came to London. It was so good that it spoiled a packed house for anything of a lesser calibre.

The piece is a most sumptuous and versatile exhibition of a series of lively dances, varied by tuneful singing numbers, and handsomely staged and costumed. There is a slender story attached, with a sensational incident of the mysterious disappearance of a costly pearl necklace.

The stage is one perpetual scene of animation with an array of dancing talent the equal of which Londoners have never seen in this city before. There are no less than 20 distinct stars in the play, each possessing marked ability, in his or her particular line.

It is impossible to employ platitudes in describing a show of this nature. All one can say is that it was genuinely good. Last evening was noted that the audience was of this opinion, for the applause was almost continuous, and when the final scene closed spectators were riveted in their seats handclapping and expressing real admiration.

From the galaxy of stars Marion Fairbanks, one of the most attractive actresses of the ingenue type in America, shone with marked splendor. This petite and winsome miss is a dancer of rare ability and would have proven more satisfactory in the title role than Norma Terris if she had possessed a better voice. Miss Terris, however, is an extraordinary appealing young woman with a remarkable stage presence, but is a bit too large to be selected as a typical "little" Nellie Kelly and carry off the impression which the name brings up. Nevertheless Miss Terris danced with real sprightliness, sang in a dulcet voice, and exhibited much plasticity in her stage action.

A clever impersonation was that of Arthur Cunningham as Captain John Kelly of the New York police force, who made a capital Irishman and sang his solo, "The Name of Kelly," with fetching gusto.

Leslie Cobb, as the lover of Nellie, scored a pronounced success in his song, "Nellie Kelly, I Love You," and also gave a finished characterization of the swagger Bronx lad who calls a girl a "koll," and distills his English wit with that rather appealing variety of phraseology as New Yorkers.

George Cohan employed artists of exceptional merit in arranging the beautiful scenes with which the comedy abounds. The music, too, is distinctive for its quality. "Something's Got To Be Done" was particularly fine, being a satire on musical comedy plots, with several subtle observations thrown in.

"Little Nellie Kelly" is so full of good things one cannot begin to mention them individually. The skilled hand of the born theatrical artist is seen in every department of the performance, and there is not a moment in it when the audience is not absorbing every note and word.

Henderson Wins In By Election

Majority of Seven Thousand Over Conservative Opponent.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Feb. 28.—In the Burlington by-election today Arthur Henderson, Secretary for Home Affairs, received 24,571 votes against 17,534 for Mr. Camp, his Conservative opponent.

In the general election of last December Mr. Henderson was defeated in East Newcastle. He was a member of the war cabinet without portfolio. Mr. Camp, the Conservative opponent of Mr. Henderson, was unsuccessful in the last general election.

GRAY'S, LIMITED, MARKS BIRTHDAY WITH REAL SALE

24th Anniversary To Be Celebrated by Week of Sales, Starting Saturday.

NEW GOODS BOUGHT

The buying public of London knows, from 24 years' experience, that when Gray's, Limited, advertises a sale it's a real sale, and then some. As a rule, the sales at this store last but a day, but a birthday celebration must be fittingly acknowledged to the public, and that's the big reason James Gray is putting on a whole week of sales, starting Saturday, to celebrate the 24th birthday of the opening of his store.

The Advertiser caught Mr. Gray in a reminiscent mood yesterday afternoon. He told of that auspicious morning, March 1, 1900, when he and E. F. H. Parker opened a small dry-goods store at 150 Dundas street.

"We got away to a great start," laughed Mr. Gray. "We opened at 9 o'clock, prepared for a big day's business, and closed at 1 o'clock that afternoon to celebrate the relief of Ladysmith, for you will remember that the Boer war was on at that time."

"We occupied just half of the main floor of that store when we opened, but in two years' time we had had to branch out to the second floor. We were there 14 years, and finally had the store extending right through to Carling street."

"Our growth was steady. We didn't have up-to-date cash carriers, telephones and other things at that time. We didn't buy things till we had the money to pay for them. Back to 1900 we had three clerks beside Mr. Parker and myself. Today we have a staff of 60, and I think it would be hard to find a more obliging staff in the country than there is in our store."

Mr. Gray stated that each sale he has conducted has been more successful than the previous one.

"We prepare for these sales," he stated, "it is not a case of trotting out a lot of old stock. We buy specially for our sales a lot of new goods, and in such quantities that bargain prices prevail. At the present time, on our fifth floor we have thousands of dollars' worth of reserve stock that will be on sale Saturday and next week. We have always kept faith with the public, and the public has replied with a whole lot of business."

"There are bargains in every department of our store," continued Mr. Gray, as he pointed out a stock of women's hosiery valued at $6,000.

There are millinery creations on the fourth floor that will be within the reach of every woman's purse next week, and the same may be said of the merchandise shown on the first, second and third floors.

SCIENCE DEMANDS UNIFORMITY.

Careful research made in recent years in the study of dietetics has shown the great importance to the human system of purity and uniform quality in foods. It is a great blessing that today so many delicious foods as well as tea and coffee can be procured in this and sealed metal packages. "SALADA" Tea was one of the first pure food products to become widely popular in Canada. The flavor-preserving aluminum package keeps the tea fresh and delicious. Skillful blending maintains the quality absolutely uniform.—Advt.

TWO PENSION CASES BROUGHT UP TODAY

Cases Appealed For Second Time To Be Heard on Saturday.

Two cases regarding pensions were taken up yesterday by Commissioner Dr. B. L. Wickware of the Federal Appeal Board which is in session at the courthouse. Cases being appealed for the second time will be heard Saturday morning by the full board of commissioners.

Captain Premlin, who acts as advisor for the returned men of the district put the case of G. E. Collins, Woodstock, before the commissioner today. Collins has been forced to give up work and is in straightened circumstances as a result of war service. It is claimed that his disability has been refuted by the pension commission.

Mrs. Emma O. Taylor, widow of M. C. Taylor also gave evidence as to why she was entitled to a pension.

NAVARRO HEADS SPLENDID CAST IN LOEW'S FILM

"Thy Name Is Woman," Colorful Spanish Romance—Barbara La Marr Excels.

VAUDEVILLE FEATURES

Both pictures and vaudeville at Loew's just now are up to the usual high standard of entertainment featured by this house. The three vaudeville acts combine excellent variety. Ruge and Rose open the program with their novel act, which satisfactorily combines gymnastics and comedy. Cortez and Ryan follow this with a return engagement of their popular act. It is a safe recommendation for any act to say that it will stand repetition as this does. McCoy and Walton were given the position of headliner, and they grace it with a zestful balance of comedy, singing and dancing.

"Thy Name Is Woman" is a title which might be applied to any one of a number of pictures, but in this particular instance it applies to a romantic story of Spain, admirably directed by Fred Niblo. Color, beauty, action, all these are given greater power by a splendid cast which is headed by Ramon Navarro and Barbara La Marr. The role of Guerrita is one in which the latter excels, and Navarro, one of the most popular of all male stars, in this new role is seen as a young Spanish soldier, torn to make his decision between duty and honor. Edith Roberts gives one of the most excellent portrayals among the supporting cast.

Recommends It to Patients.

"I would never have believed any medicine on earth could help me like Tanlac did," is the precise statement of Mrs. Colla Fleming, 1115 Addison street, Berkeley, Calif., a practical nurse of 16 years' experience.

"In 1904 a serious operation weakened my system so I never saw a real well day until I took Tanlac three years ago. I never seemed to be hungry, my stomach was so disordered I could scarcely retain a thing I ate, and I lost weight till I was almost a shadow. I was very anemic and shattered nerves and sleepless nights, contributed even more to my already miserable state. "Tanalac built up my appetite and digestion wonderfully, and every single ailment went away. Then, with returning strength came a 32-pound increase in weight, and from that day three years ago my health has been splendid. I recommend Tanlac to many of my patients, for it is indeed a remarkable medicine."

Miss Enid Robertson of Ontario College of Education Opens a Series of Educational Lectures to Teachers of London Domestic Science Department.

STRESSES IMPORTANCE OF SEWING CLASSES

That sewing should be taught in every grade of the public schools was the opinion expressed by Miss Enid Robertson, instructor in the department of sewing in the Ontario College of Education, Toronto, who opened a series of educational lectures to the teachers of this city in the Lord Roberts School yesterday afternoon. Miss Robertson was brought to the city by the teachers of the London domestic science department.

Under present conditions sewing is not taught in the public schools until the sixth grade, although the kindergarten and the first grade work, declares Miss Robertson. She believes the instruction should be gradual and continued from the first school grade up. And that the work of the individual child should be of first importance and that for display of secondary consideration.

Should be important. Sewing, in the speaker's opinion, should be placed on an equal plane with other subjects in the curriculum. The children should be taught to see the importance of this art as it is related to other businesses of life. When they are taught sewing, they should be given a motive for what they are doing. The old-fashioned way was to teach them one group of stitches after another, which became very wearisome. Now the idea was to teach these stitches through the making of some article in which the children would be interested. In this connection, Miss Robertson had with her cloth calendars, scrap books, memorandum holders, needle holders, and milk-ticket holders, attractive Christmas candy bags, and so on, as examples of what the children might do.

In the Classes. Miss Robertson does not advise the teaching of sewing on paper instead of cloth, as is often done. The paper work is not useful, and therefore the children have not the same inspiration in their task. She advocates the teaching of the different cloth weaves, and would encourage teachers to keep silk worms for demonstration purposes in their classes. Pictures of sheep, with lessons in the wool industry, pictures of cotton fields, pictures of the life of the silk worm and its work in connection with the silk industry, are all valuable helps in the teaching of domestic science, she says.

Whether the sewing is a success in the school or not, depends on the teacher, declared Miss Robertson. If the teacher is interested and enthusiastic about her work, that interest can be readily taken advantage of by her pupils. Educators have realized for some time past the instinctive tendency in every child to learn by doing something, and that instinct can be readily taken advantage of by the teacher in the instruction of the child, if the teacher is ready to make use of it, says Miss Robertson. The lectures continue today at the Lord Roberts School.

WOMEN and THE HOME

WINNERS OF ORENDAGA SPORTS CUP.

Miss Aileen Hallett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hallett, 16 Cathcart street, and Miss Amy Bowden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bowden, 91 Dreaney avenue, winners of the Sports Cup at the Orendaga Camp for girls at Port Bruce last summer. ## ST. JOSEPH'S MOTHERS PRESENT FINE CONCERT

Very Interesting Program Is Given Last Night at the School.

The concert held at St. Joseph's school, under the auspices of the Mothers' Unit, was a successful affair of last evening. An excellent program was presented, which was greatly enjoyed by the large audience which filled the rooms. An impromptu address was given by Rev. Father Brisson, who congratulated the mothers on the splendid work being carried on by the unit in connection with the school.

Among the artists taking part were: Mrs. Pat Carney, Mrs. George Dandeno, Mrs. Marjorie Carney, Mabel Comsie, Alma Connors, Madeline Dwyer, Galbraith, Mr. Johnston, Messrs. Kelleher and Master Ronald Drimble, Miss Margaret Haines acted as accompanist.

Mrs. E. A. Pocock, president of the unit, acted as general convenor, and Mrs. Craft was in charge of the home cooking sale, which was held in connection with the concert. Mrs. William Wilson, secretary-treasurer, was assisted by Mrs. Greening.

LOCAL COUNCIL PLANS TWO EDUCATIONAL TEAS

Albert Chamberlain and Miss Evelyn Harrison To Be the Speakers Next Week.

The women's citizenship committee of the Local Council of Women already announces two interesting meetings for next week. For Friday afternoon next the committee has secured Albert Chamberlain of and Welfare League, who will address the women of the city on "Immigration From the British Isles" at 2:45 o'clock in the Small-Spinner and Mr. Mann. Dainty refreshments were served and the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Spooner, Mrs. Sharratt, Mrs. Charles Keens, Mrs. Funt, Mrs. Styles, Mrs. North and Mrs. Parsons.

A second address, already announced, is to be given at the same place at 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, March 5, when Miss Evelyn Harrison, a barrister of this city, will talk on "The Laws of Succession as They Affect Women and Children." Tea will also be served on this occasion.

These gatherings are being arranged by the citizenship committee with a view to educating the women of London along the lines of a better understanding of their citizenship, and are but the first of a series of such lectures which will be offered.

The Crow of Croup A Warning To All Mothers

Croup starts with a dry cough and rattling in the throat; after which the croupy crow gives warning of disease. The child, after tossing restlessly about, will start up with a flushed face, protruding eyeballs, and a distressing look of terror and anxiety. There is a struggle for breath, and the expectation of a mucous matter is so difficult to get rid of that the effort appears to threaten strangulation.

On the first sign of the "croupy crow" mothers should administer Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and thus give the child prompt and permanent relief, and perhaps the life saved by taking the precaution.

Mrs. H. A. Langhorn, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "My little boy was very bad with the croup and I could not get anything to relieve him until I tried Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I cannot praise it too highly for the relief it gave him."

Price 35c a bottle; the large family size 60c; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. Adv.

LUCKY SEVEN CLUB.

The regular meeting of the Lucky Seven Club was held last evening at the home of Miss Grace Blanchard, in Stanley street. An interesting article, giving a description of an armless woman, who resides in Chicago, was read by Miss Blanchard. The girls have completed the re-decoration of the Blue Bird Nursery at Bethesda, which they commenced some time ago. The members were busy during the evening making flowers, which they are selling to raise funds for their work. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess later in the evening.

VICTORIAN ORDER EXHIBIT.

It is expected that Miss Campbell of the government dairy department, Ottawa, will be the speaker at the Victorian Order of Nurses' Exhibit to be held in Smallman and Ingram's store, next week. Miss Campbell will speak Thursday, while Miss Elizabeth Smellie, R.R.C. of Ottawa, chief superintendent of the Victorian Nurses for Canada, is scheduled to speak on Friday afternoon.

Why Women Excel in Small Talk

Dorothy Dix

Says It's an Art To Talk Much and Say Little Women Twitter and Gossip to Men Because Experience Has Taught Them That Is What Men Like—Great Problems and Philosophies Are Discussed Only Among Themselves.

A correspondent asks: "Why do women talk so much and say so little?"

"I don't know, unless it is because women are just human beings and all of us humans, male and female alike, love the sound of our own voices and few of us either sex have any very profound thoughts or deep philosophy to promulgate. Furthermore, nobody would listen to us if we had."

Try to hold a serious conversation with your dinner partner and he or she will turn a cold shoulder on you and beam upon the person who is babbling nonsense on the other side. Attempt to describe to your friends the marvelous things you saw in Tibet, and they weep tears of boredom and remember pressing engagements that take them elsewhere. Let it once become known that your favorite topics are religion, world politics, the new movements in art and literature, and people flee from you as they would a leper.

And if no one will lend an ear to a man whose discourse is highly intelligent and edifying, still less does the general public crave the society of the woman whose talk bristles with wit and wisdom, and that forces her auditors to do that highly disagreeable act of thinking. The name of the strong-minded woman has always been anathema and about the only "dates" that a lady highbrow ever knows anything about are the dates of the famous events in history.

Therefore, we all chatter. First, because it is easier to talk without thinking than it is to think of something worth talking about, and, lastly, because our friends and acquaintances would not stand it if we tried to present them with real solid sixteen-karat ideas.

Especially is this true of women. Women are expected to twitter like canary birds and the minute they stop this and begin to discourse with old-like wisdom they are done for. They speak to the empty air, for there is not a listener in earshot.

Once upon a time I went with one of the most highly intelligent and cultivated men I have ever known to pay a call upon a famous woman who was a graduate of many colleges, and had half of the alphabet trailing after her name, who spoke many languages, and who had held many high positions in many lands. She was a brilliant and eloquent speaker and just to listen to her talk was a liberal education in itself. Nevertheless as we got home my companion said to me:

"Heavens! Think of the horror of being married to a woman like that! A woman who would talk to you about the Einstein theory at breakfast and ask you while you were shaving what you thought of the situation in the Balkans and the self-determination of some people you never heard of! Why, a man who is interested in that sort of thing reads about it. He doesn't want to talk about it at home. I like a woman who babbles on like a brook and that I can listen to with one ear and half a lobe of my brain. I don't want Niagara eternally thundering over my head."

Perhaps the reason that women talk so much and say so little is because thousands of years of experience has taught them that that is the kind of conversation that men like to hear. When the tired businessman comes home at night he wants to be amused and entertained and diverted by the chatter of a cheerful woman who can make a good story of her day and who has gathered up all the little jag ends of gossip of their circle.

So the clever wife babbles on about the Joneses having a new baby and the Smiths being engaged and the Browns having lost their cook and the cute thing the baby did and the funny experience she had with the butcher's boy. And husband grunts from time to time to show he is listening, pricking up his ears when she relates a juicy bit of scandal of the "They-say" order. Then he probably says something scathing about how much women talk and what an awful thing it is to repeat a slander, and wife smiles because he never stops her until she is through and he has gotten the last word.

It is only among themselves that women discuss the great problems, such as husbands and children and points of ethics, life, death and the great hereafter. And when they do, they have shrewd and profound thoughts that would astonish their husbands to whom they merely chatter at home.

Of course, men's gibe at women for talking too much is as old as the hills. But no man is sincere in making it, for no man likes a silent woman.

You never hear of the dumb-bells ringing wedding bells. No-baby's idea of a happy home is one presided over by a plump, speechless woman, or a woman whose conversation sounds like an oration from a gymnasium platform.

On the contrary, the ideal wife and mother and home-maker is a gay and chatty woman who is a good gossip, and who has a thousand interests of which she can talk without malice or back-biting.

Lucky the man who has such a treasure! For it takes art and diplomacy to talk a lot and say little. DOROTHY DIX.

THE VOGUE OF LACE.

The all-lace frock and the dress that is trimmed with lace are to play an important part in the coming season. An attractive dress that has much to commend it is made of delicate gray chiffon and lace drey the exact shade. The dress is sleeveless and the lace outlining the long armholes from neck to waist. There are two wide bands of the lace upon the skirt.

SOMETHING FOR BABY.

The baby's crib will stay in place more firmly if held by little clips of silver. These clips are fastened together with a fine silver chain. Some are in the shape of tiny teddy bears, others are oval with little laces attached upon them.

TRUNKS HARD TO LOSE.

The indefatigable traveller will revel in the new trunks that are covered with a material that resembles canvas. It is light beige with wide stripes of red and orange—so say that it would be impossible to overlook the trunk, no matter how great the baggage man's rush.

BLACK KID GLOVES.

New York, Feb. 29.—Among the smart gloves for present wear are black kids, with eyelet embroidered gauntlets. These gauntlets turn back smartly and are only four or five inches wide. White gloves in the same design are seen, as well as the favorite black-and-white mixtures.

BRILLIANT BEACH CAPE.

For the bathing beach nothing could be nicer than a cape of red and white cretonne stamped with a striking design of trees and little athletic figures running and jumping. The cape is bordered and collared with a wide band of white turkish towel.

ADORABLE CHILD'S DRESS.

An adorable child's dress of dotted swiss is hand-made and trimmed with hemstitching and insertions of real Valenciennes. The lace is particularly fine and the little frock is beautifully made.

WOMEN and THE HOME

DENNY BROOKS

A STORY OF COURAGE
By ELENORE MEHERIN.

CHAPTER XXII.

The Operation.

If the head of the Independent thought Denman Brooks was a dog, he didn't act it. He was a smooth, ready man, well dressed, well mannered, with a long, thin mouth, plenty of light brown hair and a large, slightly crooked nose. He combined the gentility of a sales-man with the suavity of a deacon.

"Yes, Channing told me you'd be here, Mr. Brooks. Glad of it. It's a good move for both of us, I believe."

Denny said simply, "Yes." He was conscious of a confused, nervous feeling of apprehension of doubt. This was Anson, former head of the Consolidated; the man he suspected of blowing the coffee dam; of snapping the suspension of the man who had brought Martin Loop to his death. An agreeable, polished fellow, inspiring none of the personal repugnance of the man who had blown the dam.

Yet when he went to the hospital he swung his chin upward. Katy'd not know. You bet she'd not know! If the golden promise still held; if Katy was still to walk. As he went into the small office he felt as though some one were peeling the flesh from him; peeling it in long, quivering strips, each one tearing from his heart.

He kept saying to himself, "She looks all right, looks great." But when he saw the doctor's grave face, a steely quiet entered and half numbed his brain. Long words came to him, exploratory, in-elision—X-ray findings—necrosis of the bone.

He asked faintly, forcing out the words, "But she'll be able to walk? It hasn't altered that?"

"I don't know. We'll have to have this operation first. We can't do any grafting till all the bones are in a perfectly healthy condition."

Something chill and accusing—a reproachful terror that had Katy's red lips and tear-filled eyes whispered, "You waited—why did you wait? See what you've done to me." Like a fearful presence hanging about his neck, crying in his ears.

He mumbled a word or so of it. The doctor shook his head. "Condition may have been present, then, Mr. Brooks—probably was, though not apparent. The waiting of six months after eleven years shouldn't worry you."

"You'll be able to cure it?"

"I hope so."

"There's no danger in this operation? No serious danger?"

"Well—"

Denny broke into that with a sharp, "Why don't you mean there's no danger?"

"Mr. Brooks, there is danger—there is always danger. But it is more grave for you to postpone this operation than to meet it—far more grave."

Denny couldn't meet Katy after that. He went out and walked, saying over and over again, "What a hell of a note."

And clenching his fists at heaven or God, or whatever it was that had brought this frightful thing upon him.

After a long while he told Katy—there must be two operations, one of them at once. She sank her face in a bowl of baby roses Violet had brought.

"That's nothing, Denny! 'Tain't nothing if there's twenty. Me and the angel has decided this. You'll see!" She laughed and took his hand. "You the big baby, Denny—you the dear coward!"

The next morning early he was there. He didn't even try to keep the tears from his eyes or his lips from shaking. Katy's hair was all tied back, face vivid.

"Come here, Denny. Now haven't we waited and waited for this? Don't have tears in your eyes. You think I'd let anything happen to me and you out here waiting? Now, do you think I'd be that mean? Not much."

CHAPTER XXIII.

Waiting.

His heart was behind the white door. He stood outside and it was there drawing him with a thousand warm, beseeching tendons.

At last and when he was half way down the corridor, the door of the waiting room opened. He folded his arms, unable to move.

It was evening when he sat at her bed, looking down into the white face, chiseled in beauty as Queenie's. Now the face was under the shadow and it fell in bright curls about her forehead and at her shoulders.

The stillness of the room, the shaded light, the quiet loveliness of Katy's face, smothered him with pain, with fear.

Only a few days after this time he stole into the room, found her with her hands pressed together, biting her lips, a madness in her eyes. It drove through him like knives. He stood at the bed, unable to speak.

But the moment she saw him, she brushed a hand over her face, "Gone now, Denny—Gee, I just have a pain now and then to make me glad for all the hours I languish here in lazy joy without the slightest twinge."

"And don't I look pretty today? See—Violet brought me perfume. Oh, I love it."

After these visits, Katy was ex-hilarated, full of plans. "I'll be sitting up soon—in a few weeks. Oh, Denny, darling, won't you be the glad fellow though? Why I'll be ready to go to the mountains with you. Sit down now while I'm feeling so chirper and tell me more and more about the most beautiful new job, I'm praying about it, Denny, and about Joan. So tell me."

These were the moments he dreaded. If Katy should ever learn—how would he meet the look in her clear, beautiful eyes?

In the first week he was launched feverishly in the job—the Indian River project, a monumental undertaking involving millions. He threw himself into it with a grim fury, fighting against thought, against the carping of his own mind. Yet there drummed incessantly in his ears the rugged voice of Denny Brooks, demanding "Answer this—why is the engineer of our company trafficking with the Consolidated?"

And Denny never looked at Murray Anson without remembering Dunlap and the yellow pallor overspreading his face.

It happened one noon just after he had come from Katy and found her white, listless, prodding valiantly and falling. As he went in to lunch he saw Dunlap with a group of men.

They were leaving as Denny took his place. Dunlap stopped at his table. "Congratulations, Mr. Brooks."

Denny stood up, intense antagonism flaming. "For what, Mr. Dunlap?"

"Well—well—glad to see you settled. Sorry for our misunderstanding."

"Not exactly a misunderstanding, Dunlap."

"Well, now," the shiny face red to the eyebrows, "I'd call it that. And that little matter of your coming to my house and accusing me about Miss Lewis."

"What has Miss Lewis to do with this?"

"Only the little misunderstanding between us—"

Denny spoke from the madness and the anxiety tormenting him. He caught Dunlap's coat. Dunlap was suddenly ashen. "I'm not sure about that, Dunlap. If you know where Miss Lewis is, I don't. God pity you when I find out."

The next afternoon he went to John Merchant's office, stopping with apparent unconcern before

Miss Blanche Taylor's desk.

"Oh, say, Mr. Brooks," she began glibly. "I was going to ring you up tonight. What do you think your stenographer's doing now? Can you imagine?"

Charlie Evans told me this morning. Think of it—dancing at Teehan's!"

"Miss Lewis?"

"Yes, just imagine! Charlie says she's a beauty!"

A gust of fire let loose in his face wouldn't have affronted him more savagely. "Well—is that so?" he answered, and walked off.

Was this why Joan had avoided him? Dancing in a café—what had driven her to this? He remembered suddenly the little sister coming that afternoon to the chemistry building—Joan getting up in a swift panic—leaving. She had danced before.

But why had Dunlap brought up her name in that incriminating way? Chance?

But he would see Joan—more sweeping than any fear, any suspicion was this certainty. He would hear the fine, clear voice—see the eager trust in her eyes.

He went to the café in a moist violence of excitement. It was late—the tables crowded. He saw little—heard little till presently the orchestra drew out a weird, haunting strain—a tenacity tightened the silence. People were sitting forward, he saw and the heart in him stood still. Joan—was this Joan—the brilliant thing in black, with sweeping wings of gold and long arms swaying in maddening grace? Flame licked through him.

He wanted to cry out her name—to rush up and hide her in his arms. He could have driven his fists against the men who sat about him, watching greedily, their faces glowing. It was frightful to him.

Then he saw her long white throat, the intense pallor of her face, sharply drawn, beautiful—warmly beautiful as he had never seen it before. He wanted then to say, "God, Joan, don't do that! Come away from here—come away!"

He stood up, unaware that he was standing. And Joan saw. Cheeks and throat stained like blood on a white petal. Her arms, just then extended, stiffened; she closed her eyes, but not till he had thought to see a torture, an agony-lap in them.

It was over, people leaving. She passed him the platform swiftly to the aisle. He stepped before her.

A moment she paused, looking at him, a piercing sadness trembling over her face. She shook her head. "No, Denny," opened her hand with a despairing gesture—passed.

Special to The Advertiser. Copyright.

Paris, Feb. 29.—One gorgeous wedding gown shown here today is of silver cloth, with a girle of the cloth circling the hips. The gown, which is ankle length, is made with almost tailored severity, but a gracious effect is given by the sheer tulle veil and a wide crown of orange blossoms.

VIOLET AND GREEN PLAID.

London, Feb. 29.—Not the least beautiful of the plaids which have come in with the "Scottish" season is of violet and green, with a stripe of black and a touch here and there of yellow. In silk, this is effectively used for afternoon frocks; in wool, for golf skirts.

WIDE BEAD HEM.

London, Feb. 29.—A flounce or heading of bead embroidery is a brilliant finish to an all white dancer frock recently worn here. The wide bead "hem" is in many colors, and serves not only to beautify but also by its weight to keep the filmy full skirt in place.

ENVELOPE WRIST BAG.

New York, Feb. 29.—A demure little wrist bag of envelope design now on view here is in mouse gray suede. It's very neat, trim lines are untroubled by tassels or langles. The one note of color is struck by a small, vivid enamelled brooch which serves as a clasp. The design is a Greek head.

Peter Rabbit Is Bold Again, and Jumps Over Reddy the Fox

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

How would you feel if just when you were sure that everything was safe you saw one of your worst enemies right in front of you? If you can guess what such a feeling is like you will know just how Peter Rabbit felt when he saw Reddy Fox come around the end of the dear Old Briar Patch.

Reddy saw Peter at the instant Peter saw him. Reddy bounded forward so as to get between the dear Old Briar Patch and Peter. There was joy in those yellow eyes of his. He grinned. There wasn't a doubt in Reddy's shrewd head that at last his chance had come and he would catch Peter Rabbit. He knew that if Peter turned and ran back he could catch him long before he could reach a place of safety. There was only one place that Peter could escape from him, and that was the dear Old Briar Patch, and he was between Peter and the dear Old Briar Patch. He felt as sure of Peter as if he had already seized Peter in those wicked-looking teeth of his.

Peter Rabbit saw it all just as Reddy Fox did. To turn and run back the way he had come would be useless. He must get into the dear Old Briar Patch. There was only one way to do it, and that was to somehow outwit Reddy Fox. Reddy was already trotting forward to meet him. Peter stopped. He half turned as if to start back. Reddy began to run a little faster toward him. Suddenly Peter whirled and started straight toward Reddy Fox as fast as his legs could take him. It was so sudden and unexpected that Reddy didn't know just what to make of it. Peter could see the surprise and uncertainty on Reddy's sharp face.

"He'll think," thought Peter, "that I'm going to try to dodge him."

This is exactly what Reddy did. So Reddy prepared to jump either one way or the other after Peter. He knew that Peter might dodge him once or twice, but he was sure that Peter wouldn't be able to do more than that.

Straight on came Peter. Reddy crouched ready to spring. His eyes were fixed on Peter so as to see which way Peter was going to dodge. Peter didn't dodge. At the point where Reddy expected him to dodge he seemed to run faster than ever, and then he made a flying leap in the air. Yes, sir, he made a flying leap in the air. He jumped right over Reddy Fox! You know, those stout hind legs of his were made for jumping.

Was all so unexpected and caught Reddy by surprise that he didn't even jump up into the air to catch Peter as he sailed over. By the time Reddy had whirled around Peter was streaking it straight for the dear Old Briar Patch. Reddy wasted no time. He was after Peter in a flash. Peter was already tired, and he couldn't run his best. Reddy gained at every jump. Three more jumps would take Peter into the dear Old Briar Patch and safety. Would he make it?

One! It seemed to Peter that Reddy was right at his heels. Two! Peter was sure that he felt Reddy's breath. Three! Peter plunged headlong under a friendly old bramble, and Reddy landed with a crash right in that very bramble. He was just too late.

5 Pair Tickets To Loew's To First Five Shoppers

One of the merchants listed below on this page will give one pair of tickets to Loew's Theatre to each of the first five shoppers in his store tomorrow morning, who buy goods listed in his advertisement on this page. Mention advertisement in The Advertiser when making your purchase, and inquire if his store is giving the first five shoppers tickets for Loew's, and if you are one of the first five. The merchants listed on this page are taking turns in this novel and friendly plan. Frank Smith, Market Lane, paid the prize money last week.

Practical Recipes

Helps For All Who Appreciate Good Cooking.

CODFISH CREOLE.

Soak one pound of brick codfish in cold water over night; break in flakes, remove all skin and bones, place in a saucepan, cover with cold water and simmer until tender, about forty-five minutes. Place in a saucepan three tablespoons of olive oil, half of a sliced onion, one crushed clove of garlic and two teaspoons of butter; cook until the onion is golden colored, add one chopped green pepper, three cups of canned tomatoes, one crushed bay leaf, one quarter of teaspoon of thyme, one teaspoon of chopped parsley; bring to a boil and simmer thirty minutes; add the flaked and cooked codfish and simmer thirty minutes. Cover a platter with squares of buttered toast, pour over the fish mixture and serve very hot.

SNOWBALLS.

6 egg whites.
2-3 of fine granulated sugar.
1-2 cup flour.
1-2 teaspoon cream of tartar.
1-2 teaspoon vanilla.
Sift flour and sugar three times before measuring. Sift cream of tartar in flour. Beat egg whites with a pinch of salt, add sugar gradually, and the flour and flavoring. Bake in a thin sheet. Cut in one and a half inch squares. Dip squares in icing and roll in cocoanut.

VEGETABLE BOUILLON.

Place in a saucepan two quarts of canned tomatoes one scraped and sliced carrot, five chopped stalks of celery, two chopped young green onions, one chopped pimiento, one bay leaf, and a small blade of mace; bring to a boil and simmer twenty minutes; strain into a clean saucepan, add two tablespoons of elder, two tablespoons of orange juice, and a seasoning of salt and paprika, reheat and serve in consommé cups.

MAPLE CREAM PIE.

Mix in the top of a double boiler half a cup of sifted flour, half a cup

MAY BUILD CHURCH FOR F. EMMONS

Businessmen of Mission Offer Materials To Erect New Gospel Tabernacle.

O. T. A. FINE SUSTAINED

Special to The Advertiser.
Tillsburg, Feb. 28.—Members of the undenominational gospel mission under the leadership of Fred Emmons, late pastor of the local Baptist Church, are seriously considering the building of a gospel tabernacle. Several businessmen connected with the mission have made offers of lumber and supplies for the new building. This evening Pastor Emmons took for his subject "A man among lions," for his regular Thursday evening prayer meeting.

Major Rennie received a wire today from representatives of an American firm that they will be in town in a few days to look over the local flour mills, which have been in bankruptcy since the failure of the Canadian Cereal and Flour Mills a couple of years ago.

Liberty Endangered.

Declaring that the traditional liberty of the British people was endangered if the Presbyterians were forced into a church union against their will, Rev. James MacKay of London, speaking in the Presbyterian Church here Tuesday night, appealed to the people to band themselves together and to oppose with all their might the church union bill. In the course of his address, Mr. MacKay also took exception to the term "anti-unionists," as applied to those who opposed amalgamation. He said that a note of reproach was implied in the name and that it should not be used by good Christian people. Rev. James Sweeney of Norwich acted as chairman for the evening.

BUDGET BALANCED, REDUCED TAXATION GOVERNMENT'S AIM

Speech From Throne Forecasts Slash in Federal Taxes Affecting Production.

PRACTICE ECONOMY

Budget Will Be Balanced First Time in Thirteen Years.

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—A reduction of taxation aimed "primarily at reducing the cost of the instrument of production" and the appointment of a board to investigate and study the various modes of taxation were the two chief items in the government program announced at the opening of the third session of the 14th parliament of Canada today.

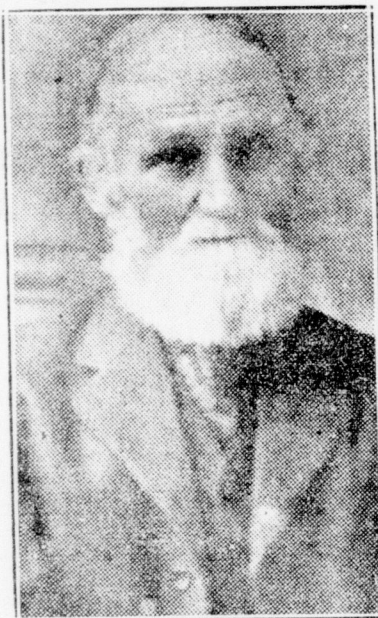

In addition to the announcements indicated above, the speech from the throne laid emphasis upon the efforts already put forth by the government to secure strict economy and rigorous retrenchment, and the belief was expressed that for the first time since 1912-18 the national budget has been balanced.

The consolidation of the various taxation branches under one head was announced, and in regard to the St. Lawrence waterways the opinion was expressed that further inquiry was necessary before a final decision could be reached.

Lower Ocean Charges.

An effort to secure a lower carrying charge on shipment of Canadian cattle and the removal of discrimination in ocean rates on flour and other Canadian products, were referred to while the re-introduction of the Canadian National branch lines bill, killed by the Senate last session, was also foreshadowed.

After listening to the speech from the throne, the commons held a short session in their own chamber and then adjourned until Monday, when the debate on the address will be commenced. During the brief session in the Commons chamber, three ministers were introduced to the House: Hon. T. A. Low, minister of trade and commerce; Hon. E. M. MacDonald, minister of national defence; and Hon. E. J. McMurtry, solicitor-general.

On the Conservative side of the House, W. A. Black of Halifax, and A. J. Doucet of Kent, N. B., took their seats. Mr. Black represents the seat formerly held by Hon. A. K. McLean, now president of the exchequer court, while Mr. Doucet succeeds A. T. Legeve, former Liberal member for Kent, who died last summer.

Fielding Absent.

The premier stated that Right Hon. W. S. Fielding, though absent, was most anxious to be able to continue to play his part; that he retained his old seat, but that his strength was insufficient. He could only hope that the breakdown of the minister of finance had suffered would not be as serious as it was threatened, and that in his advanced years he would enjoy the health and honor which his distinguished career deserved.

Mr. King announced that Sir Lomer Gouin would very presently take his seat in the House as a private member.

Redistribution Bill Here Again

Announcement One of Interesting Passages in Throne Speech.

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—One of the interesting passages in the speech from the throne read at today's opening of parliament is the announcement that the redistribution bill which failed to pass all stages of the House last session will be introduced again and that an amendment to the elections act will be brought down to provide for the use of the single transferable vote in single-member constituencies.

STREET RAILWAY EMPLOYEES SEEK NEW CONFERENCE

Notice Served on Company Today by Officers of Union.

NO SPECIAL DEMAND

Members of the London street railway union are serving notice today through their officers upon the company that they desire to reopen their agreement on May 1.

This 60 days' notice is compulsory when either of the contracting parties wishes to reopen negotiations. The formal notice will reach the company in ample time to conform with this regulation.

No special demands are incorporated in the communication, the union contenting itself at this time with the mere notice. It is pointed out that there is plenty of time left in which to draft any new agreement or suggest any amendments to the present one.

Ex-Ald. John Colbert, president, states that in all probability the request for the 8-hour day would be pressed when the negotiations open on May 1. This action would conform with the 8-hour day fight launched at the 1923 convention of electrical railway employees in Oakland at which the local president attended.

The London men now have the 9-hour day, it is stated.

At their recent regular meeting the local railway employees authorized their officers to serve the prescribed notice.

URGES SEVEN-DAY WEEK ABOLISHED

Brotherhood of Railway Employees Unanimously Supports Resolution For Reporters.

The following is a letter received from A. S. Dean recording secretary of division 96 of the Canadian Brotherhood of railroad employees, protesting the seven-day week for news-paper reporters:

Editor London Advertiser:

Dear Sir:—At our last meeting I was instructed to send you a copy of the following resolution which was adopted unanimously:

"Whereas, as it has been brought to our attention that the reporters on the daily press are required to be on duty (7) days a week and that the Ministerial Alliance, at a recent meeting has endorsed this (7) day week for reporters.

Therefore, be it resolved that Division No. 96 of C. B. of R. E. goes on record as opposed to such (7) day work week, and would suggest that the management of the daily press be instructed to limit the number of reporters up to the Lord's day act, or at least in seven, for reporters, as well as other workers in this country.

"And, further, be it resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to the daily press for publication and to the secretary of the ministerial alliance.

"Please acknowledge receipt."

Yours truly,

A. S. DEANE,

Recording secretary

REPLACE ROMAN BRIDGE.

Originally built by the Romans, Carmarthen Bridge, a massive stone structure of seven arches, which spans the River Towy, the main artery from the South Wales industrial areas to West Wales, has been condemned as unsafe by an inspector of the ministry of transport, who has recommended the erection of a new structure. The records show that in 1250 the bridge was broken "by pressure of ice."

DIES IN WORKHOUSE.

London, Eng., Feb. 28.—Formerly a missionary to the Congo and author of a book on Darkest Africa, the Rev. John H. D. died in the Congover Union Workhouse, aged 67. He founded a training college at Colwyn Bay for black students, known as the Congo Institute.

"DROWNED" BOY COMEDY.

Copenhagen, Feb. 28.—An ice-drama enacted in the harbor last evening had an unexpectedly humorous ending. Two men fell through the ice and a carpenter who ran onto the ice to save them also fell through. Two other workers crawled on the ice and one of these men was rescued. The harbor pilot, rescuing his comrade, and then together they rescued the carpenter and one boy. After several hours of fruitless search the other boy was given up as lost. When the police proceeded to the boy's home to inform the parents they found the boy at supper.

CLIMB BLAZING LADDER.

Belfast, Feb. 28.—Exciting scenes were witnessed in Belfast Lough, when the Dunmore motor vessel, Hara, of 538 tons, outward bound with a cargo of empty petrol cans, caught fire. The vessel was quickly engulfed in flames. The harbor pilot, two Dutch and two Chinese, were nearly trapped in a hold. They had to climb up a blazing ladder, and were badly burned. London, Eng., Feb. 28.—John Howard, a Sumbury boy, was rewarded with £1 at the Middlesex sessions for the part he played in the arrest of Joseph Osborne, found guilty of receiving the proceeds of a burglary at Wembley. The boy said Osborne asked him to carry a parcel. When a quantity of plated goods fell from it he handed the parcel back to Osborne and went to the police.

LYONS WILL SEEK HARDWOOD DUTY

Minister of Lands Announces Intention of Stopping Export.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Feb. 28.—Within the next few days Hon. James Lyons, minister of lands and forests, will introduce the Ontario legislature a bill providing for an export duty—practically an embargo—on all hardwood from the crown lands of Ontario, the minister announced tonight.

Success of past embargoes, coupled with an increasing invasion of timber limits by United States interests are the reasons for the introduction of the measure by the government, according to Mr. Lyons, who stated that in the townships hardwood was one of Ontario's most valuable assets.

CRANE USED TO RELEASE BODY BENEATH CAR WHEELS

Montreal, Feb. 28.—A powerful crane was required to lift a freight car on a siding in the Canadian National Railway yards here last night in order to remove the body of Duigt Totario, 53, who fell from the car beneath its wheels and was cut to pieces. Totario had been employed as an extra hand in snow-removing work.

SIMPLER METHOD OF ELECTION IS URGED IN CANADA

Recommend Permanent Returning Officers Be Named To Aid in Work.

STOP REGISTRATION

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—The appointment of permanent returning officers to simplify the work of organization at election time, is recommended by the chief electoral officer for Canada in his report to parliament, tabled today.

An amendment to the elections act is suggested empowering the naming by the government either of an individual or a public officer such as the sheriff by virtue of his position, to act at all times as returning officer in his county. He would familiarize himself with conditions and be in a better position to perform expeditiously and efficiently the duties of his post at election time. The report remarks that the time required for preparation for an election in Canada is very much longer than the period consumed in Great Britain, where the system of permanent returning officers is in vogue.

The chief electoral officer also recommends that urban registration for electoral purposes should not be required, except in certain communities where the population of an electoral district is less than 5,000. At present urban registration is required of all communities over 2,500. Exemption would have to be made in the case of a few small communities which are essentially urban, but the majority of the rural communities are rural communities and effect economy in registration. The increased population limit, says the report, would reduce the number of communities now requiring urban registration from 185 to 80.

Some minor changes in the wording of the elections act are also recommended. The report says that no complaints or suggestions have been received by the electoral officer in connection with the nine by-elections which were held in 1923.

Col. Currie attacked the Ontario temperance act, which urged the system of liquor control and to have the people vote on them as soon as possible. If the people wanted the new method, then the government could bring them into effect by order in council.

Mr. Mageau attacked the U. F. O. and said his fall was due to political entering into its business life, and because the farmer had been wrongfully educated during the past five or six years by the U. F. O. leaders.

Col. Currie said that when the United States was wet and Canada dry during war time, the big export houses were maintaining liquor in Canada. He did not think that Canada should now spend large sums of money to prevent liquor going into the United States.

SMALLPOX DEATHS NOW NUMBER NINE

Seven More Cases Reported in Border City Epidemic Yesterday.

Special to The Advertiser.

Windsor, Feb. 28.—One more death, bringing the total number of victims of the epidemic to seven, was reported today.

Miss J. Halford, 21 years old, daughter of Robert A. Halford, formerly of Windsor, died at her father's home at Maidstone, 19 miles south of Windsor early today.

Among the seven new cases is Percy J. Stokes, proprietor of a local cigar store.

ENGINE SMASHES 4 STANDING CARS

Line Is Tied Up For Several Hours Following the Collision.

Four standing freight cars, a short distance east of Eglinton street, on the main line of the C. P. R., were completely smashed when a west-bound engine, No. 486, crashed into the cars early Thursday morning. The freight engine was in charge of Engineer J. Smith and J. Boucher of Sarnia. Both escaped injury and fatalities were prevented by the quick action of the train crew in the standing freight cars.

The caboose on the standing freight was completely telescoped and other cars were smashed to splinters. Four of the boxcars, containing hard coal, were rendered useless.

Following the collision auxiliary train crews and wrecking trains from Toronto and Hamilton labored for ten hours before the tracks were cleared of the wreckage. Both east and westbound main line trains were blocked to freight and passenger traffic until early this morning. The wreckage was finally cleared to the side of the track where it was burned.

Foggy weather, smoke and steam from an eastbound freight train which had just previously pulled out of London prohibited a clear view of the tracks to Engineer Smith, and this was given by him in his report as the cause of the accident.

SENATE WILL CONSIDER DIVORCE APPLICATIONS

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—The senate is now before the senate 137 applications for divorce, compared with 135 at this time last year. It is expected there will be at least 20 more applications before the session closes.

Of these applications, 69 are by husbands and 68 by wives. From Ontario there are 121, Quebec 23, Manitoba 2, and British Columbia 1, and from the leading cities: Toronto 67, Montreal 11, Hamilton 8 and Ottawa 7.

TWO LIQUOR CASES. Special to The Advertiser.

Wallaceburg, Feb. 28.—Leo Benway was acquitted by Magistrate Caraculian on a charge of selling liquor. Wallaceburg, a Walpole Indian, was acquitted on a liquor charge, but fined $5 and costs for assaulting Peter White.

CURRIE ASKS BILL TO REPLACE O.T.A.

Demand That Government Frame New Legislation To Provide For Control.

WANTS REFERENDUM

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Feb. 28.—Col. John A. Currie (Conservative, Southeast Toronto), and Sotique Mageau (Liberal, Sturgeon Falls), continued the debate on the budget in the legislature today.

Col. Currie attacked the Ontario temperance act, which urged the system of liquor control and to have the people vote on them as soon as possible. If the people wanted the new method, then the government could bring them into effect by order in council.

Mr. Mageau attacked the U. F. O. and said his fall was due to political entering into its business life, and because the farmer had been wrongfully educated during the past five or six years by the U. F. O. leaders.

Col. Currie said that when the United States was wet and Canada dry during war time, the big export houses were maintaining liquor in Canada. He did not think that Canada should now spend large sums of money to prevent liquor going into the United States.

Col. Currie said the Conservative party had always been the party of moderate temperance, and had never got too far ahead of public opinion until the Heast government adopted prohibition.

Mr. Mageau said if the finances of a private business were handled like those of the province it would be in the hands of a receiver. No other business would allow its treasurer to declare that he would give another job to the province. The treasurer, he said, should tell the House where and how he proposed to get the money necessary for wiping out the deficit.

He thought perhaps the treasurer had something up his sleeve, and he would not be surprised if the some thing was revenue from government liquor control. Seventy-five per cent of the people of Northern Ontario, he said, were under the impression since the last election that some change was to be made in the O. T. A.

Mr. Mageau claimed part of the difficulties of the farmer today were responsible to the bad education he had received in the last few years. He had been told he had been robbed and had gone into co-operative stores. These stores have since become political committee rooms.

GERMAN RAILROAD CONTROL PROBLEM

Reparations Experts Seek a Plan To Secure Allied Guarantee.

Associated Press Despatch.

Paris, Feb. 28.—The problem of the control of German railroads occupied the reparations experts today. What they seek is a plan that will give a guarantee satisfactory to the Allies and at the same time afford sufficient freedom of management to give German industries the service they want.

It is understood on good authority that the Germans have made no objections to the principle of control. The difficulty is, however, that for maximum railway service the Germans very likely will demand an adjustment of rates which will not be sufficient to furnish the guarantees for which it is proposed to pledge the railroad system.

QUEBEC LEGISLATURE STILL OPPOSES ACT

Quebec, Feb. 28.—The legislative assembly yesterday reiterated its unanimous opposition to the federal bankruptcy act.

SMALLPOX CASES IN PERTH.

Perth, Feb. 28.—Several cases of smallpox have developed in the district and the local health authorities are taking every precaution to prevent its spreading.

HOME LIFE MENACED

Never in the history of the world has the life of the family as a social unit been menaced as it is today. Social unrest, the independence afforded women by earning up, almost every profession and every line of industry to them, equal rights with men, all of which are perfectly justified if not abused, and women have the health and strength to carry out their inclinations in these matters. But alas, when a woman is almost at the point of breaking from her household cares and social life, to take on outside duties often means the breaking point, and homes are often neglected for lack of strength or some ailment develops because of overwork. Weak and ailing women will do well to remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from roots and herbs benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try it, and let it help them—Advt.

Treat Sore Throat With Vicks

Follow the Example of T. Nova Scotia Lady.

Mrs. F. S. Myra, of Bridgewater, Nova Scotia, writes: "I am delighted to let you know of the good Vicks VapoRub has done me. A few weeks ago I had a very bad sore throat. I happened to have a sample of Vicks in the house, so I used it, and it did my throat so much good that I bought a bottle from my druggist. I cannot praise Vicks VapoRub too highly."

Treat one cold with Vicks VapoRub and you will adopt this external treatment for all the cold troubles of the family. Vicks is a salve that acts like a plaster and a vapor lamp at the same time. It is absorbed and inhaled.

When the children come in wet, and sniffling, apply Vicks liberally over throat and chest, and cover with a warm flannel cloth. Treated at bedtime, the child is usually better next morning and all he had after effects of internal dosing are avoided. Croup attacks are kept away, too.

At all drug stores, 50c a jar. For a free, last size package, write Vicks Chemical Co., 344 St. Paul St., W. Montreal, P.Q.

Though Vicks is new in Canada it has a remarkable sale in the States. Over 17 million jars used yearly—Advt.

Lumbago? Sciatica?

When attacked by pain in the back (lumbago), or limbs, neuritis, shooting pains, or after a long ride usually that the kidneys are not working properly—not eliminating as they should the poisonous uric acid from over the blood.

You may be nervous, despondent, sick, feverish, irritable, spots appearing before the eyes, and lacking all ambition. The latest and most effective means of overcoming such trouble is to drink plenty of water between meals and to take a single An-uric (anti-uric-acid) tablet before each meal for a while.

An-uric was originated at the Invalides' Hotel, Buffalo, N.Y., by Dr. Pierce, and after a long period of treatment of thousands of kidney cases. Get An-uric at any drug store or send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Elmira, Ont., for a trial package—Advt.

BEST LIVER AND BOWEL LAXATIVE

If Headachy, Bilious, Sick, Constipated

No gripping or inconvenience follows a gentle liver and bowel cleansing with "Cascarabs." Sick Headache, Biliousness, Gases, Indigestion, and all such distress gone by morning. Most harmless laxative for Men, Women and Children. 10¢ boxes, also 25c and 50c sizes, any drug store—Advt.

Corns

Don't risk blood poisoning by paring corns. Apply Blue-jay ointment. The pain will vanish in 10 minutes. Then the corn begins to fall out. Get Blue-jay at your druggist.

The Retired Farmer.

Two men were coming down the London, Huron and Bruce, getting on at Lucan Crossing. They had evidently come from some point west of that. "There are too many retired farmers in the place, and all they think about is keeping down the taxes, and that stops us from getting ahead in the way other places are doing. They wouldn't stand for a loan to a new factory or anything like that." And so on it went.

Take the case of the retired farmer, then, and consider it. He has worked hard for years, saving a little each year, looking forward to the day when he would not be able to carry on as he had during his best working years. He finally arrived at the stage where he was through with his hard work, and he moved to town. There was nothing else for him to do. He has probably got a place with a good-sized back yard, and it may be that if his son has taken possession of the farm he can get some of his produce there.

All went well for a few years; he had his money on first mortgages or in some other place where it brought in a steady but conservative income. If he had $10,000 when he retired, he probably had an income of $500 or $600 per year, and with careful living in pre-war days he was able to get along on that and enjoy the rest he had worked for so many years.

But with the increase in values that has been so marked in recent years his lot has changed. He finds that the income he had is not nearly as potent as it was; his dollar will not do the work it did, and his income is not sufficient to keep him without cutting into his principal, and if he does that he lowers his income. He can do nothing to help himself; his earnings days are over, and he finds that in town there are very few places where an old man can get a chance to work.

He has, by trying to make provision for his old age, made it certain that he will not become a charge on the state, and for that he must be given credit; he does not come in for relief from the unemployment funds or work. He has no alternative but to cut down as much as he can in order to make his means spin out for the rest of his years.

The fact that farmers were able to retire at one time was one of the best things that could be said for Canadian agriculture; there are very few of them, under present conditions and present returns from their line of business, who will be able to retire in their old age; they will have to keep on going. It would be better for the whole country if conditions were such that the farmer of today could once more look forward to the time when his earnings would be sufficient to allow him to retire. It is a short-sighted view that seeks to label the retired farmer a burden on the community because he finds himself caught between a fixed income and a soaring expenditure.

On the Way Down.

Canadians have been asking for a balanced budget and a decrease in the amount of taxation they have to pay. That matter was much discussed at the time of the federal election, and the Liberals promised to work in that direction.

The bringing in of a balanced budget means that there will be no addition to the national debt. That is as it should be, because it is unthinkable that we should go on indefinitely making annual contributions to the debt of Canada.

Not since 1912-13 has there been anything approaching a statement showing that the country was living within its means. During the time of the war and during demobilization of troops it could not be expected. We were spending money on a world war and the matter of adding to our debt could not have its proper place in national finance.

The fact that we have that war debt is the reason of the call for increased economy today. That obligation must be carried, and what is more, we must look forward to its discharge, in part at least. It is too great a thing to be nursed indefinitely.

The government has done well to state plainly that it means to scale down on civil government and to retrench in public expenditure. There should be a willingness on the part of all sections to make this possible; it would be the poorest sort of poor business for various sections of the country, fearing that some wished-for expenditure might not come their way, to assume an attitude of hostility, or seek to bring pressure for a raid on the public purse.

The government is going to be judged on the measure it has laid down, that of giving us enough service and enough of government at a decreased cost, and applying what may be saved to reducing the debt which is at the root of all its financial problems.

The Case of Two Boys.

Guelph had a peculiar police court case, where a boy of 16 pleaded guilty to four charges of burglary and 11 thefts of motor cars. He was sent to Mimico for five years, which sentence may be shortened by good behavior.

A somewhat similar case came up in the same old courtroom about nine years ago, when a boy, whose father was overseas, came into the hands of the police with a long string of juvenile delinquency. It is doubtful if the lad in the latter case could show him any new tricks.

He had nothing for defence and was on the road to Mimico when a Guelph lawyer broke in with an offer to become responsible for anything the boy did for the next six months. There was no formal agreement, just one of those genuine, quick-action affairs, and ten minutes after the boy was on his way home.

That boy never appeared in court again; he stood that morning at a fork in the road, and one Guelph lawyer had sense enough to take in the whole situation. It did not take that boy ten minutes to realize that the lawyer trusted him and had confidence in his ability to make good, and the boy did make good.

Mimico may be a very good place for some boys, but we can never get over the feeling that there is a question mark over the advisability of sending boys there as long as there is another move that can possibly be made in the case.

Women On a Jury.

A deputation waited on the premier of Ontario, asking among other things that women be allowed to sit on juries, and that no man or woman under 30 be allowed on any jury.

With the latter request there is more reason to agree than with the former. Mature judgment seldom comes before 30 years of age.

We may arrive at the stage some time when women will be knocking at the door asking for a chance to sit on the jury, and help sift the wheat from the chaff in a murder or manslaughter case, or any of the lesser crimes that call for jury decision. That time may come, but the average woman has not arrived there yet, and it is to be hoped that there is very slow progress made in the matter of arrival.

Rightly or wrongly, few men would get enthusiastic over a wife, mother or sister being called to do duty on a jury.

Cause and Effect.

There is not going to be a return to positive and well-grounded prosperity on the part of towns and cities until the farmers make money.

We all admit that in a general way, but it comes with more force when a firm like Massey-Harris openly admit the fact in the annual statement, which shows a loss for three years of $1,456,000 in 1921, $643,000 in 1922, and $22,448 in the year just closed, and the losses in 1923 would have been greater but for the sale of some timber limits which helped to offset the greater deficit.

The implement company states frankly that its losses reflect the condition of agriculture in Canada today, and in so saying it simply subscribes to a basic economic truth that is too often overlooked.

Note and Comment.

All the best marathon runners seem to be in that rebel army in Mexico.

Home Bank losses anticipate the coming of spring. They have started to grow.

Hon. Mr. Drury had to declare who he was before getting into a U. F. O. caucus. Once inside he would need no credentials.

Burglar in Glasgow threw powder in a woman's face when he tried to rob her, but he was caught. A burglar who thought he could scare or confuse a woman by throwing powder in her face isn't fit to burglar in 1924.

George Wells, aged 71, of London, Eng., has spent 51 years in jail on various charges. He got his first sentence at 16, so after that he's been at liberty for four years. What he did in those four accounts for what he didn't do in the 51.

Tavish Mactavish

Fatalism is often accepted by the robust man of business as the hopeless refuge of the inefficient, yet when one sees a story such as this it seems that some things in life are foreordained and that nothing can prevent their consummation.

In New York, Miss Leontine Briscoe, a nurse just recovering from accidental gas poisoning fell from an elevated station and was killed. Physicians attributed the accident to dizziness which, stately, cautious utterance leaves us as wise as before.

Some people are extremely careless all their lives and suffer falls and all kinds of accidents with impunity. Others are either killed in their first accident or caught in this case by an accident following closely after some other. Perhaps the psychologists—those wonderful experts—will tell us why.

Formosa, one of the Argentine provinces, have a solution of the liquor problem all their own, though I am not in a position to say how it works out. They have a law which forbids the opening of a country saloon (drinking place) within 30 miles of another. Up here in a Ford-ridden land this would mean nothing, but on the wild and woolly prairie where cow ponies are the only means of transport the 30 miles stretch in between drinks should have a very steady effect.

There is something large and open-handed about the Princess Elaine de Lippe Lipski of New York, wife of Prince Nicholas Vladimir Lippe Lipski, who is claiming $100,000 from her sister, Mrs. Gertrude Schroeder, for alienating the affections of her husband. It might be said in exculpation that the husband was a page to the late Czar of Russia, but to value his affections at such a large figure seems the outcome either of sublime faith or a pecuniary temperament.

Democracy is looming on the horizon of our lives but the day has not yet dawned when a curate can not yet make just of a bishop, at least not in England. The Rev. Walter James Karran, curate of an Anglican church in the Isle of Man, was out of touch with the spirit of the time as far as to send a bogus telegram to his bishop signed with the name of Stanley Baldwin, the prime minister. The bogus work-out in a Liverpool police court resulted in the curate having to cough up $125. This includes the fare of the good bishop, who had made a journey into a far country on the strength of the telegram.

At the rate at which curates are usually paid over the world, it is not likely that Rev. Walter James Karran will have the price of a telegram for quite a long time. Bishops are expensive playthings for poor curates.

A Spine Needed

MARION L. BURTON, president of the University of Michigan, in an address to the alumni:

"Americans today need more to develop a spine. Too many of us have lost the inner standards of right and wrong."

"People today are not asking 'What is right?' but 'What is good form?' The standard of too many is merely not to be found out."

"When the leading article in the Atlantic Monthly says that virtue is to live with a woman one likes, married or unmarried, and that vice is to live with a woman one does not like, even though married to her, we are forced to face the change in our moral standards."

"University students today say the older generations were immoral and concealed it, while they are immoral and admit it. They say they are at least sincere."

"The modern outbreak against conventions is not an expression of an unquenchable desire for freedom and life. Such expressions show the present generation is a fine artist in the art of self-deception."

An Experience

I READ a card that came to me, I read it over sixteen times, of how some duces had made a pot by buying in some shares in mines.

One gent had struck a lump of gold, his debts would tie him up in jail, in one short year he'd made his way, his pockets bulged with healthy kais.

Just how he chanced to pick on me I never stopped to figure out, or why he wanted me to come and browse upon his pasture lot. I went unto the village bank and put a harpoon on my cash, for I was tired of humble fare that circled from pressed hay to hash.

All this took place ten years ago, when skies were blue and wind was rare, it never trickled through my skull that they were ruining me for fair.

And in them ten long years what's fied I've been bombarded with more bomb, about a shaft that cleaved the soil wherein my honest wad was sunk.

And never once in them ten years a word of cheer has wandered through, or no epistle said to me, "Here son's, dividend for you."

A jolt like that's no pleasant thing, it filled my chest like bunks of sin, to think a fakir digged a pit and I be first to tumble in, but after all I think again and wonder if 'tain't awful true, experience what will dent your wad's the only kind that's good for you.

Peace

By ROYAL WILSON BREAUGH. Watch the soft and gentle raindrops. Glistening on the window panes; 'Twill reflect to you the brightness That a loving soul attains.

When the gentle breeze is blowing And the sun is setting low, There is peace in homeward going. For it's homeward we must go.

When the autumn leaves are falling And the robins flocking low, 'Twill remind you of the joy Of reunions here below.

As the golden sunlight shines Through the murky clouds below, So let your light be shining, If God's peace you wish to know.

The Guide Post—By Henry van Dyke

JUDGMENT IS GOD'S PROVINCE.

The judgment of God is according to truth.—Romans ii, 2. God has declared that he will reward every man according to his works.

He has made known the riches of his grace, his willingness to forgive the penitent, and to help the fallen, in Jesus Christ.

And by the same lips he made known his indignation against those who will not repent, nor trust in his mercy, nor show to others that love which God has shown to them.

Nothing could be more clear and positive than the revelation of duty which God makes to each one of us under our cross and follow Christ if we would be saved.

But beyond that is the region of secrets. When we try to peer into it and explore it with our little lamps of reason, when we ask how God will deal with the heathen, who have not had our privileges and opportunities, when we inquire what is to become of this man or that man in the eternal future, we are simply going beyond the horizon.

The very attempt to pronounce final judgment on our fellow creatures implies what Butler has well called "the infinitely absurd supposition that we know the whole of the case."

One thing is certain. God will never do injustice to a single soul, "but in every nation he that feareth him and worketh righteousness is accepted with him."

The rest we may leave in silence with God; for judgment is his province, and there we may not intrude. (Copyright, 1924, by The Republic Syndicate.)

Works Both Ways.

We Should Be On the Job to Get Alberta Coal in Order to Build East and West.

Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir,—I was at the meeting regarding Alberta coal, which was called by the officials of this city and the mayors of different municipalities, and was very surprised to see so few of the manufacturers who ship very extensively to the west.

I was in the west for years in the mercantile business, and handled McClary's stoves, and exactly the same equipped as we have here, and the Alberta coal gives great satisfaction in them. I was four years in Dauphin, Man., which is very cold, and Alberta coal is the only coal we used there.

We do not seem to realize the good that it would do them to keep this money that is going to swell the bank balances of Americans, in Canada. It seems that we are content to reap the benefits in increased output to the west, which Alberta coal will surely bring when we are using it altogether here, while others do the actual work getting it on this market.

I hope that when the next meeting is called we will consider this matter more, and take an interest in getting the benefits of every year, and that they are going to make an effort to keep it home (in United States), and that there is only a certain number of years only. Yours truly, GEO. ELLIS, 767 Dundas st.

About the Parks.

Former Employee Has Something to Say About Shrubs and Bushes at Springbank.

Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir,—So my letter to the mayor, dealing with park irregularities, amuses the general manager. If Mr. Buchanan told the truth he would admit that it annoyed him, and caused him to be very irritable.

However, he that as it may, he much prefers not to answer the embarrassing questions I have asked from time to time, i.e., what became of the thousands of rose bushes I planted on the rosebank drive at Springbank, or the $400 worth of new hybrid teas more recently planted in the nine beds at the easterly approach to the Riverside park? Rather than make an admission as to the whereabouts of these and other bushes he seeks to give the impression that I make these disclosures because I am a "disgruntled former employee."

What a pitiable alibi Mr. Buchanan, who does not think that my statements "express the opinion of the citizens of London." While it is true that "what the eyes does not see the heart does not grieve for," and many citizens only see a few well-kept flower beds in the late summer, I am perfectly willing for the ones who know conditions as they are, to say whether or

You Can Eat Anything You Like And Not Have HEARTBURN

In all cases of heartburn there is a gnawing and burning pain in the stomach attended by a disturbed appetite, as when too much food is taken into the stomach it is liable to ferment and become extremely sour, vomiting occurs, and what is thrown up is usually sour and bitter. When you are in this condition you will find that Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills will give you relief right away.

Mr. Joseph H. MacDonald, Christmas Island, N.S., writes: "Two years ago I suffered all the time from heartburn. I took one vial of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and have never been troubled since."

"It is very nice to be able to eat anything you like and not have heartburn any more."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.—Adv.

of Commerce.

The campaign now being carried on by the Tecumseh Baseball Association to increase their paid-up stock by the sale of $40,000, is progressing most favorably and President Heard optimistically declares that the objective will most likely be reached within a very short time. Response has been coming from most unlooked for quarters, the fact that stock is being issued in denominations of $25 and $10 on application, and the balance in three months, making it possible for every class of citizen to interest themselves in the national game in a tangible way.

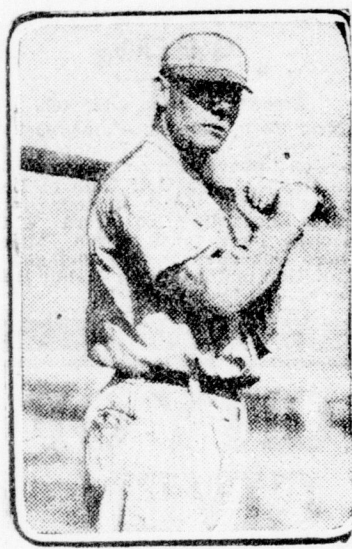

The Chamber of Commerce have written an unsolicited letter to club headquarters stating in apologetic terms that professional baseball has not been receiving the moral and financial support of the businessmen of this city to which it is deserving, and asked for full information regarding the affairs of the club. President Heard, has, therefore, arranged to appear before the chamber and give them first hand particulars. Arrangements are also being made for Mr. Heard to appear before the Rotary, Kiwanis and Canadian Clubs at their next meetings to explain to them why London should retain a professional baseball team.

President Heard has stated repeatedly that he will be only too glad to have anyone interested visit his office and go over the books of the organization for the last five years. The existence of professional baseball in London now depends on the success of the stock selling campaign now in progress and as London is now at that stage of its growth when it requires every advertising feature possible to compete with the other thriving industrial centers of Ontario and Canada, it can ill afford at this time to pass out of organized baseball.

PORT DOVER JUNIORS PLAY WATERFORD KIDS TONIGHT

Special to The Advertiser.
Port Dover, Feb. 27.—Garner's juveniles expect to go to Watford Thursday evening for the first game in the contest for the Norfolk County Juvenile Cup.

In days gone by this cup was the center of attraction for the grown-ups in what was known as the Town League, but it was deemed advisable to let the youngsters contest for it and thus furnish material for keeping up the O. H. A. societies of later years.

"RED" WINGO.
Erstwhile Toronto fielder, whose hard hitting is making his fellow Detroit Tigers sit up and look down in sunny Georgia.

Wingo Setting Pace in Augusta

"Red" Electrifies Tiger Squad
by Hard Clouting.

Augusta, Ga., Feb. 28.—"Red" Wingo, the man who is expected to be the new Babe Ruth this season, has signed with the Tigers and was in uniform today. Yesterday he was unsigned, and it was not until he had enjoyed a long talk today with Ty Cobb that he really became a Tiger.

At once he electrified the whole ball club by his work. He played the outfield, his regular position, this afternoon; came into the infield and performed acceptably, took his turn at bat and hit the ball farther than any other man on the team has hit it, sending several pellets over the outfield wall, and then dashed in to Fred Carisch, coach, who was directing the play and asked if he could be allowed to pitch or catch.

The famed Georgia sunshine came to life today, and made it possible for the Tigers to get in a real workout for the first time since the bunch of rookies has been down here.

CAYUGA WINS.

In a fast intermediate exhibition here, tonight the locals outclassed Caledonia and emerged victors on the long end of a 6-1 score.

Caledonia—Goal, Morrison; defence, McDonald, Crick, centre, Keffer; wings, Emerson, Small; sub, Spratt.

Cayuga—Goal, Fisher; defence, McSorley, Dyte, centre, Darrey; wings, Murphy, Heaslip; subs, Kowler, Barnes.

Referee—Robbins, Dunnville.

When You Can Be Well, Why Be Sick!

Why Suffer Delay and Grow Worse?

Enjoy Life—Health—Happiness

To Have No Back Pains, No Nervousness, No Kidney Disease, With Plenty of Life, Energy and No Blood Disease, Is the Wish of Every Young, Old or Middle-Aged Person.

To you—if you are sick—if you suffer—if you are afflicted with any ailments of MEN—if you are worn out, tired or failing, if you need medical advice—if you are not in perfect health—if life is a dragging, miserable existence—if you lack energy, vim and vigor that make life worth living, to you—rich or poor—young or old—you need my treatment at once.

Nerves and Blood Are Life

The lack of nerve force is found among men of all ages. This is true with men in all walks of life, from the day laborer to the mechanic or professional man. Merchant and clergy are alike sufferers—no man is exempt from the ailment who has rebelled against nature's laws—so if you have the result of overwork, dissipation, sedentary habits or worry, and your vital organs are disturbed, remember, delay in seeing the right doctor makes it more difficult to overcome the symptoms, and you might reach an incurable condition beyond relief if you delay too long.

My Equipment

Is composed of the latest and best known agents in Electrical, Surgical and Mechanical Apparatus, and I am prepared by the knowledge of their uses and the experiences in prescribing them so as to get the greatest uniform results from them.

I Am Prepared to Give You

Mercuries, Bacterins, Vaccines and any and all forms of treatment of this character that have been tried and proved a success.

YOUNG MEN—THINK OF YOUR FUTURE

How about it, are you qualified to face it, are others doing more and getting more out of life than you are? Find out, if you don't know already, what is dragging you down. No one can violate nature's laws and succeed. I have helped thousands physically, mentally, morally (as I have thousands of other men), can help you. Just be frank and tell us your troubles and we will help you to regain and maintain your health.

St. Thomas O.B.A.A. Nine Is Greatly Strengthened

Three New Pitchers, Two Catchers, Two Infielders and Outfielder Added To Veterans of Last Year.

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, Feb. 28.—With the advent of milder weather, the thoughts of fans here are naturally turning to the local prospects for baseball. People have read with interest, and many with regret the news of "Sober" Danny's entrance into the big league, but all wish him the luck and prosperity he deserves. St. Thomas O. B. A. A. ventures have always been associated with name of "Sober" Danny McPhee and rightly so, but a review of the mound material here, might relieve the tension caused by his departure to a remarkable extent.

Bill Billings, veteran pitcher, will be available. A left hander and a right hander have been added to the local line-up. The former is "Lefty" Moran of Wingham. Moran is no spring chicken in O. B. A. A. circles, having been associated with the Wingham team last year. He holds the enviable record of having pitched a no-run no-hit game in the finals with Owen Sound last season. The third hope lies in Harold Monk, a 19-year-old aspirant, weighing 178 pounds, who came to St. Thomas in December and located with the Imperial Oil Company. Monk is a protégé of Jack Millen, Thamesville, of Canadian League fame. He has been connected with the Kent County League, and is anxious to make this year a step up.

Four Catchers. Four catchers are available, including two new men with considerable experience. The roll includes Snapper Binns and Jack Campbell, who have been associated with the O. B. A. A. ever since its origin. Back Graham of the Galt Terriers took up residence here in December, and will likely land a berth. The fourth prospect for the position is Ernie Crawley, who played with Lucan last year.

In the infield will be found Joe

Evans, "Norb." Arlen, Ralph Lindsay and Billy Rieborough. Evans comes to this city from Galt, and brings with him a good batting average, besides other credentials. Arlen is an old stand-by and good anywhere. Lindsay dropped in here from Guelph, and will likely be used on the infield. Rieborough played for the Flower City last year, and will be on deck again for 1924. There is a possibility that Farley will play the infield.

Doan Returns.

Local fans are pleased with the return of Leo Doan this week. Doan completed a very successful year in baseball last October and found it necessary to go to Florida for his health. His return is looked on as a good omen for the Saints, and he will be found in the outfield. Jack Greenaway landed here last December from Guelph in time to comply with the residence rules and brings with him an enviable record as a batter. He led the Maple Leafs in hitting last season. Besides these two, three others of last year's squad will be available for the outfield. They are Barclay, "Smiling" Bill Cabot and Meredith. All the new men are good average hitters and experienced on the mound.

George Nethercott is managing the team again and has great hopes of producing a winning nine.

Some slight changes in the executive of the association were made necessary by the death of W. H. Duke, former secretary, the list of officers for 1924 standing at present as follows: President, R. J. Cottrell; Vice-president, James Tremblay; secretary, T. G. M. Jamieson; treasurer, W. G. Gifford; manager, G. Nethercott. The executive is composed of all the officers, and R. Christie, Bill Billings and L. B. Birdsall.

Short Jabs

You'll have to hand it to Pa and Ma Stribling for confidence in that "Billy" of theirs. It doesn't suffice to say that Billy is going to whip Mike McTigue when they talk of the coming bout at Newark for the light heavyweight title. They don't stop there. They'll have a knockout or nothing at all. Billy usually does what he is told, and going into the ring with Mike and Pa telling him to win the title with a K. O. is going to make the boy fight harder than he has ever fought before. It behooves Mike to be at his best that night, for the Guelph kid is going to be a troublesome schoolboy indeed.

Knox writes: "Finn's victory over Farmer Lodge in Buenos Ayres brought about an odd aftermath bit of gossip. It only goes to show what queer things the gossip-monger will spring. They have it down there that because Lodge went down from a right hand crack on the jaw and was counted out as he lay on his face WITH HIS EYES OPEN that he was not actually knocked out and that the result was not genuine. "That's about the silliest cry that ever cropped up after a bout. Possibly the Argentine is not used to seeing a man knocked out. Many a man has been knocked out with a smile playing on his face. "We remember poor little Terry McGovern being knocked out in Folsom—counted out—as he rested on one knee, smiling. Terry's eyes were not closed. He had the power to bring his face into a smile. But so far as setting up or knowing WHEREIN WAS, why that was a different story. "Jim Corbett was knocked out by Bob Fitzsimmons at Carson, but he was on his knees as he was counted out, trying desperately to get his legs to function. Not out because his eyes WERE OPEN! Well that will make even Farmer Lodge laugh."

WOODSTOCK JUVENILES

LOSE ST. THOMAS GAME

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, Feb. 28.—In a snappy game of basketball in the local "Y" tonight, the C. I. juvenile O. B. A. team defeated Woodstock 16-14.

Stevenson and Rankin were the stars for the visitors while Udell and Fenwick starred for the C. I. The teams:

Woodstock—Studdard and Stevenson, forwards; Hill, center; Downs and Rankin, defense; subs, Gibson and Wilson.

St. Thomas—Bernard and Udell, forwards; Fenwick, center; Small and Farley, guards; Long, Matthews, subs.

In the preliminary, between Orions and Elgins, the latter were defeated, 18-16.

The teams:

Orions—Seearles and Westrope, forwards; Dowdy, center; Lay and Saunders, guards; Rupp, Hind, Martin, subs.

Elgins—E. Lang and Skelding, forwards; Mitchener, center; Blough and Bebbin, defense; G. Long and Johns, subs.

INGERSOLL SHOOTERS HOLD FIRST PRACTICE

Ingersoll, Feb. 28.—The first practice of the Ingersoll Gun Club since the first of the year was held Wednesday. Ten members faced the trap and despite rapid flights and sharp angles all hung up good scores. It is the intention of the club to hold weekly shoots beginning at an early date. A number of rural members will then turn out, and it is expected a strong squad will be mustered for the Western Ontario

Trapshooters' League. Playing here in the U. F. O. Hockey League, Drury defeated Dicksons by a score of 3 to 0. The Dickson team were recently conquerors of Drury, but in this return engagement were minus two or three of their regular players.

MORRISON DENIES FUND SWITCHING

Politics Never Aided by Co-operative Co. Moneys, Secretary Declares.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Feb. 28.—Strong denial of the imputation by Z. Mageau, Liberal member for Sturgeon Falls, in the legislature today that funds of the U. F. O. Co-operative Company had been used to finance U. F. O. candidates in the provincial election of last year was given tonight by J. J. Morrison, secretary of the company.

"It is absolutely false—not a shadow of truth in it," said Mr. Morrison. "Neither the U. F. O. nor the U. F. O. Co-operative Company, which are two separate organizations, has ever contributed to a political fund. The accounts of both are audited by a good firm, and their audit will bear out what I say. Money for political purposes has always been gathered by public subscription and kept quite separate from both organizations. As for the co-operative company, it is entirely a commercial institution, with men of all political leanings on its directorate."

Mr. Morrison, who has been confined to his home through illness for some weeks, is slowly regaining his health, but said tonight that he did not expect to be able to go out for several weeks yet.

MURDOCK ANSWERS LATEST CRITICISM

Says Check Book Is Open To Inspection in Home Bank Transactions.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—When asked this afternoon if he intended to resign from the government because of charges made against him in connection with his deposit in the Home Bank, Hon. James Murdock, minister of labor, merely smiled. It has been alleged that Mr. Murdock withdrew $4,050 from the Home Bank just before it failed and that to this end he used knowledge of the bank's condition obtained as a minister of the crown.

Mr. Murdock declares that his deposits and withdrawals were ordinary banking business and that his check book was open to inspection if necessary.

WESTERN SYNOD ASKS REFERENDUM

Saskatchewan Anglicans Favor System of Government Liquor Control.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Regina, Feb. 28.—By a standing vote of almost the entire Anglican synod in session here today the report of the committee on temperance submitted by Canon Pratt was adopted. It embodied a recommendation that, in view of the deplorable conditions of the S. T. A., and proven impossibility of enforcing such an act now, as it is rendered doubly difficult by the law in force in Manitoba and Alberta, a resolution be submitted to the government urging that a bill be presented providing government vendition of liquor, or in the alternative for an immediate referendum on continuing the present legislation.

His Lordship Rt. Rev. Harding, bishop of the diocese of Qu'Appelle, concurred in the resolution, stating that the synod should assist the government in bringing about a sane policy of temperance in the province.

ASK STANDARD THREAD FOR WATER STANDARDS

Waterworks Association Seeks Move To Aid in Fire-Fighting.

Hamilton, Feb. 28.—The Canadian section of the American Waterworks Association in session here today, adopted a resolution urging all municipalities to adopt a standard thread on fire hydrants, that outside apparatus called in cases of emergency might be of service.

Montréal was chosen the next place of meeting.

Officers elected: R. M. Wilson, Brantford, president; C. D. Brown, Walkerville, vice-president and secretary-treasurer; J. J. Meadows, Montreal, Water and Power Company, trustee.

SEMI-PRO LEAGUE APPEARS LIKELY

London Interests Are Likely To Fall in Line With the Proposition.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, Feb. 28.—Rumors given in despatches from Galt, Ont., that National Hockey League club owners might interest themselves in a semi-professional league in that district, which would practically be a "farm" for the teams of the eastern professional circuit, took on a more definite aspect today, when the situation was explained here.

Leo Dandurand, managing director of the Canadian hockey club, admitted that such an idea had been discussed in meetings of the N. H. L., but that instead of club owners in the Calder circuit controlling semi-pro clubs in such points as London, Kitchener, Galt, Stratford and Woodstock, those who proposed to form the new league, had approached the N. H. L. officials with a view to entering into alliance with them.

While these things have been discussed there is no agreement reached as yet between the two interests. During the course of his discussion of the matter, Mr. Dandurand revealed the fact that before this season had commenced London had "felt out" the situation, with a view to placing a franchise in the Calder loop. However, no official application was made. London interests believe that city is ripe for "big league" hockey, but should the new semi-professional circuit go through it seems likely that they will fall in line in that direction for the present.

POPLAR HILL SEXTET LOSES TO KOMOKA 9-3

Special to The Advertiser.

Komoka, Feb. 28.—The Komoka hockey team added another game to its list of laurels by defeating Poplar Hill, 9 to 3. The visitors were the better skaters, but the locals were much superior stick-handlers.

The teams:
Poplar Hill—Goal, McVicar; defense, McGugan and McArthur; center, Brown; wings, Carmichael and Brown.

Komoka—Goal, Campbell; defense, Swales and Scott; wings, Ross and Graham; center, Hammond.

THAMESFORD MAY FORM AMATEUR ATHLETIC BODY.

Thamesford, Feb. 28.—A special meeting of sports enthusiasts was held here last night to consider raising further funds for the hockey club. Due to the condition of the roads, the hockey club has been to a greater expense to provide conveyance for the team to Ingersoll for practice and games, whereas other years this was done almost free.

It was decided that the hockey club should ask the loan of $50 from the baseball club, and the baseball executive meeting at the close of the general meeting granted the loan. The advisability of forming an athletic club to cover all lines of sport was also discussed, and it was decided to defer any steps along this line until spring, when the baseball season opens.

FRENCH GOLF CHAMPION TO SETTLE IN STATES

James Ockenden To Sever His Connections With London Golf Club.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Feb. 28.—James Ockenden, French open golf champion, has decided to sever his connections with the Raynes Park Golf Club of London, and will locate in the United States, according to word which reached here today from Miami, where Ockenden is now engaged in exhibition matches with Arthur Havers, British open champion.

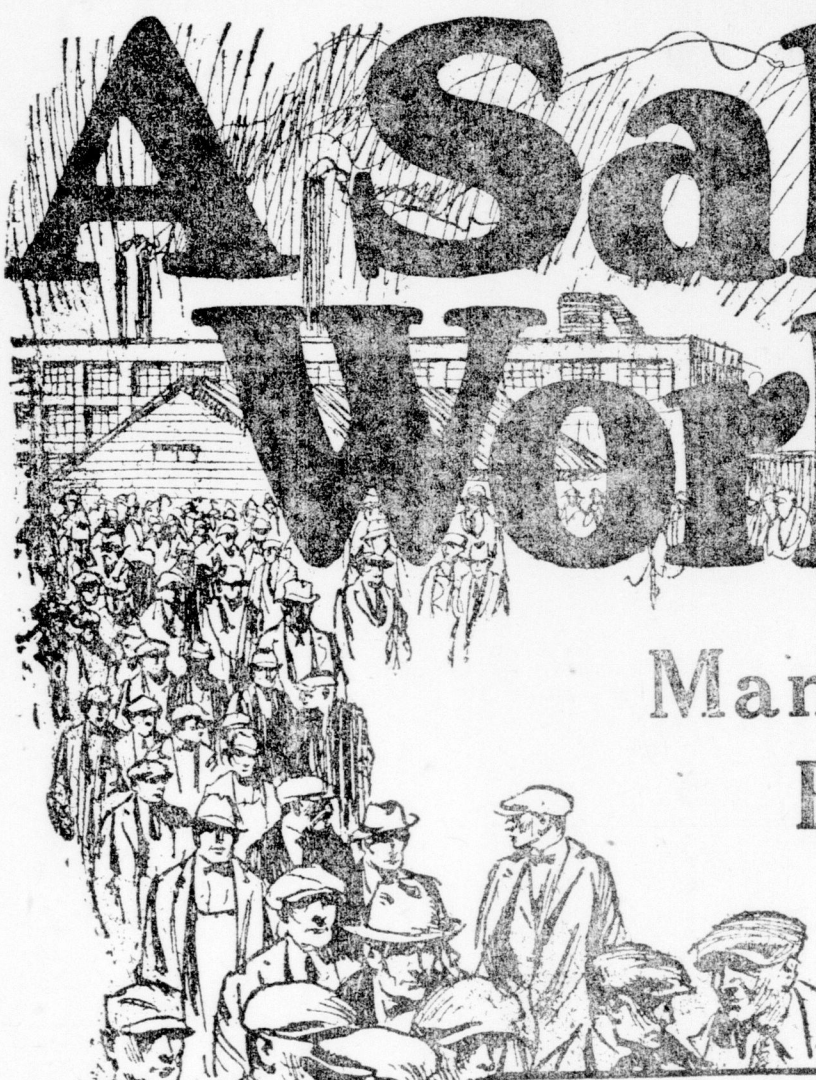

WOMEN LIBERALS HOLD DELIGHTFUL "AT HOME"

Special to The Advertiser.

Tillsburg, Feb. 28.—A delightful "At Home" was held at the residence of Mrs. P. W. Mahoe, Oxford street, Wednesday by the Tillsburg Women's Liberal Association. During the afternoon several splendid papers were given, including "The Founders of the Reform Party in Upper Canada," by Mrs. E. V. Tillsburg; "Citizenship," by Mrs. Chas. Thomson, and "Current Events," by Mrs. J. C. Ross.

A musical program was given by Miss Marie Mahoe, Mrs. T. Westinger, Mrs. Chas. Waller, and Mrs. W. A. Slater. The president, Mrs. W. A. Brown, was in the chair, and Mrs. W. A. McKay expressed a hearty vote of thanks to the hostess.

THE NEW ROYAL MILLINERY SHOP
OPENS SATURDAY

Premises At 246 Dundas St.
Entirely Renovated After Recent Fire.

MANY NEW CREATIONS

With the entire premises newly renovated, remodelled and decorated,
a bright new stock of Dame Fashion's
new millinery for spring and summer,
1924, the Royal Millinery and Fur Company opens its doors to London at 9 a.m. tomorrow at 246 Dundas street.
The recent fire at the Royal necessitated moving into temporary premises in the old Advertiser building, but a staff of men have been busy for the past four weeks getting ready the former store at 246 Dundas street, and tomorrow the result of their labor will be open for inspection.
The same dependable and artistic millinery creations that have built an enviable reputation for the Royal in the past will be featured, and patrons who are desirous of inspecting the new style tendencies in millinery for spring, will do well to attend the formal opening tomorrow.
The popular prices a feature of the Royal, will be maintained in the new store, and millinery interested in securing new distinctive millinery at economy prices will find here one of the most complete stocks of millinery in Western Ontario.
The firm has enjoyed the reputation for the past several years as the store of confidence, and one can safely shop in here at all times with an assurance of last-minute styles at lowest prices. Mr. Louis Griesman, popular manager, extends a cordial invitation to every lady in London to visit the Royal and inspect the many new millinery creations
just received.—Adv.

Brilliantly and Quaintness
Intermingle With Dignity
As Parliament Is Opened

Colorful Scenes Rule At Impressive Ceremony in Senate Chamber.

MANY WOMEN ATTEND

Interested in Politics As Well
As in Gorgeous Array of Gowns.

By ISABEL C. ARMSTRONG.
Special to The Advertiser.

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—Resembling a medieval pageant in its colorfulness, quaintness and dignity was the ceremonial which today marked the opening of the third session of the fourteenth parliament in the impressive Senate Chamber. With its rich crimson carpet, dark oak furnishings, Gothic arches and mural decorations, reminiscent of Canada's part in the world war, the Senate formed an appropriate setting for the event.
Brilliant as was the spectacle, it was overshadowed in interest stirred by the speech from the throne, striking a dominant note of optimism.
Foreboding measures to be presented by the government, looking to the furthering of national prosperity and national unity.

Guns Boom.

Two hours before the great guns
on the hill boomed out the salutes, announcing the arrival of his excellency the governor-general, the ladies' gallery was crowded, tier upon tier, with women beautifully gowned in the smartest of evening creations.
Even as they commented upon the kaleidoscopic effect of the multicolored gowns of the wives and daughters of cabinet ministers, senators and others entitled to be on the floor of the chamber, the fair onlookers whispered of politics and the possibilities of the speech from the throne in a manner scarcely conceivable a scant ten years ago.

While the orders read "full dress,"
the senators, who occupied front seats, manifested their independence and democracy by going exactly as they pleased, wearing anything and everything, from evening clothes and frocks to tweed muffs. In striking contrast was the uniform of the speaker of the Senate, Hon. Hewitt Bostock, and the speaker of the Commons, Hon. Rudolph Lemieux, both of whom appeared in knee breeches, silk stockings, buckled shoes and lace ruffles.

Variety in Costume.

If variety is the spice of life, it was also the spice of coiffures and costumes of the fair guests. There were heads slicked back and turned into tight knots, and heads elaborately marcelled. There were bobbed locks and locks twisted to suit the faces and fancies of the wearers. Hair ornaments were omnipresent richly jeweled combs, bandeaux of every width from "headache bandages" to narrow strips, circles of brilliants and wreaths of silver leaves. Gowns were long, short, medium, clinging, bouffant, straight, silhouetted, draped, paneled, and a few dignified distinctive for graceful, pointed side trails.

Grecian and Quaker simplicity of line and coloring brushed the richness and elaboration of Tutan-khamun revivals. Colors revealed a tendency to be very definite, in greens, royal and powder blues, amethyst, with occasionally rose or Amalgam beauty, frequently a variation of brown, peach color, white and black, with silver, gold and glitter everywhere in sequin, rhinestone and precious jewels.

The prime minister, Hon. W. L.
Mackenzie King, in his gold-laced
Windsor uniform, escorted Lady Byng, who wore a rich, trailed costume of Madeira velvet and sable wrap.

Several Wear Black.

Black was worn by several of the wives of cabinet ministers, including Mrs. George P. Graham, who was seated at the head of the row in the absence of Mrs. Fielding. Madame Beland, Mrs. Jacques Bureau and Mrs. Charles Stewart. Madame La-Pointe was in black and mauve, and Mrs. Thomas A. Low had chosen a gown of amethyst with amethyst bandeau. Mrs. Motherwell was in golden brown velvet, and Mrs. J. H.
King also wore in brown. Mrs. James Murdock wore black and white. Mrs.
A. B. Copp, blue with ermine. Mrs.
E. M. MacDonald, black and silver.
Mrs. E. J. McMurtry, white, with broad silver bandeau. Mrs. Arthur Meighen, wife of the leader of the Conservative opposition, was in peach color.

Conspicuous in the front seats of the general gallery were the scout leaders from all parts of Canada taking a special course in Ottawa, for whom this vantage ground was reserved.

Above the murmur of conversation rang out the command, "Order!"
Shortly after 3 o'clock, in the lush which formed Speaker Bostock opened the proceedings of the Senate for the session, rising to do so from a very ordinary chair, placed on a temporary platform in front of the handsome new Speaker's chair with canopy of magenta and gold.

The new senators were sworn in,
then proceedings adjourned until after the formal opening of parliament.
The temporary Speaker's chair and platform were whisked away.

Element Of Humor.

For the ultra-democratic, an element of humor as well as pious ponderous dignity was injected into the proceedings by the arrival of the four judges of the supreme court in their red robes with ermine and hoods edged with ermine, and their tricorn hats.
Solemnly they advanced to the wool-sack in front of the throne, and formally seated themselves back to back.
A prominent figure on the Commons side of the gate was Miss Agnes McPhail, M.P., true to her first principles in wearing a simple businesslike frock of navy blue.
Col. E. J. Chambers, gentleman usher of the black rod, in knee breeches, velvet coat and silver buttons, buckled shoes and ruffles, performed his traditional duties in announcing the arrival of the gentlemen and lady of the Commons.
The voice of Baron Byng of Vimy, which commanded the Canadian forces overseas, rang clear and distinct, giving every syllable with full value in reading the speech from the throne, both in English and in French.

Following the withdrawal of the vice-regal party, and of the prime minister, cabinet ministers and members to the commons chamber, the guests remained in the senate for the prayers, read by Speaker Bostock, the laying of bills on the table, and adjournment until next Tuesday.

Hold Receptions.
Receptions were subsequently held by Speaker Bostock and Mrs. Bostock, and Speaker Lemieux and Mrs.
Lemieux, the prime minister and other members of the cabinet going quickly from a brief sitting of the commons to greet personally as many of the visitors to the opening as possible.

The influx of strangers from out-of-town points which has marked the past week, will be greatly augmented on Saturday for the drawing-room, when debutants from the far west to the far east of the Dominion will make their bows to Their Excellencies Lord and Lady Byng.

Associated Press Despatch.
Constantinople, Feb. 28.—Great applause greeted the introduction in the National Assembly at Angora yesterday of a motion by Deputy Sar-

DISTRICTS URGED TO PAY FOR ROADS

President of Good Roads' Associations Appeals To Urban Municipalities.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Feb. 28.—A strong appeal to the urban municipalities to live up to their obligations and pay for the improved roadways for which they asked, and not to attempt to dodge the issue by saddling the responsibility upon the government, came during the afternoon session of the Ontario Good Roads Association, from R. T. Kelly of Hamilton, president of the Canadian Good Roads Association.

In dealing with the advantages of improved highway from the strictly urban standpoint, Mr. Kelly found that they increased business, extended the trading zone and generally improved the conditions of the people.
Touching upon the tourist advantages, Mr. Kelly pointed out that the Ontario Motor League had estimated that during 1922 tourists left $35,000, 000 in Ontario; in 1923 they left $50, 000,000, and the estimate for 1924 was $75,000,000.

A further advantage of improved highways was the lowering of the cost of upkeep on cars.
Charles Talbot of Middlesex County advised against the use of oil on gravel roads. The result, he felt, would be costly in the end.

WINDSOR COUNCIL
BY ACCLAMATION

Body Ousted by Court Order
Returned To Office
Yesterday.

Special to The Advertiser.

Windsor, Feb. 28.—Mayor Frank J. Mitchell and the 1924 council, elected at Windsor Dec. 3, and afterward ousted by a court order because of election irregularities on the part of polling-booth officials, were returned by acclamation at the nominations held in the city hall today.

After he had been declared elected by Harry J. Neal, chairman of the nomination meeting, Mayor Mitchell assured the electors that so far as is possible all irregularities, such as caused the protest against the last election, would be eliminated
by city officials in future elections, his election officers are to be instructed in their duties and every precaution taken to see they are carried out.

Albert W. Strong, one of the ousted council, said before nominations closed that he would withdraw his nomination rather than place the city to the expense of another election. A special meeting of the council probably will be called Monday to go through the formalities of choosing the committee from the first election.

FOUR CHILDREN, MAID
PERISH IN FLAMES

Parents Stand Helplessly By and Watch Five Burned to Death.

Canadian Press Despatch.

St. John, N.B., Feb. 28.—News was received by long distance telephone this afternoon of a fire tragedy in an isolated village, Maittempeque, Gloucester County, in which four children, ranging in ages from four to twelve years, and a maid, 22, were burned to death in the destruction of the farm house of Adelard Savoie.

Mr. Savoie was visiting a next door neighbor last evening, when he saw his house in flames. He found that Mrs. Savoie and their infant child had escaped, but all those sleeping on the upper floor perished.
Neighbors who flocked to the rescue, and the crazed parents, were forced to stand by helplessly until the fire had burned itself out.

Montreal Market Trading Prices Firm, But Volume Is Light.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, Feb. 29.—There was a further falling off in the volume of trading on the stock exchange this morning, although a firmer tone prevailed in the narrow range of issues that came out in board lot quantities. Most of the leaders registered fractional gains. Spanish Iron, the most active stock of the session, closed at 109½, for a net gain of 1½ points. The preferred registered an advance of 1½ to 44½. Other active trading was noted in Atlantic Sugar, off 1 point to 15½; Brazilian, off ¼ to 52½; Steamships preferred, off ¼ at 42; Provincial Paper, off ¼ to 10½; and Canadian and Montreal Power, Brompton and How-

Local Market

More than 100 loads of hay have come into the London market this week. Thirteen loads came in today, and the snow has been helping expedite them after the slack period following the snowstorm. The prices for loads from $14.00 to $14.50 a ton, some of the best quality loads going at $15 to a ton.

Straw is selling at $2.50 to a ton. Oats are a little easier at $1.50 to $1.55 per cwt.

Barley is a little easier at $11 per cwt. Fresh eggs are a little more plentiful and are going at about 45c a dozen. Hens are still offering 40c and 40c, but so far this week there has been the lowest price accepted for strictly fresh eggs.

HIGHWAYS WORK DEFERRED UNTIL FUNDS ARE KNOWN

Premier Ferguson Announces Policy Before "Good Roads" Banquet.

HEAVY LOADER TO PAY

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Feb. 28.—According to the definite pronouncement of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson on the highway program of the Conservative government as made tonight at the banquet of the Ontario Good Roads Association, there will not be the construction of a single mile of roadway under the provincial highway development scheme until the government has had an opportunity to make a complete financial survey of the affairs of the province, and learn exactly where Ontario stands with relation to its highways expenditures.

But, at the same time, there will be highway work, confined for the most part to the townships, in order that the people who live in the country and who contribute so largely to the cost of highways construction, may get some adequate returns for their taxation in this regard. Mr. Ferguson spoke for the highways department in the absence of Hon. George S. Henry, minister of public works.

In another feature of highway construction Hon. Mr. Ferguson made the announcement that the government will not take over the provincial highway and assume 100 per cent of the financial responsibility.

There were cheers for the premier.

WASHINGTON SEND REPLY TO OTTAWA

Note Regarding Development of St. Lawrence May Be Considered Friday.

Associated Press Despatch.

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—Washington's reply to the Canadian note regarding the St. Lawrence power project, had not been received in the prime minister's office tonight, although it was understood that it had been despatched.

The reply, therefore, will not be considered until Friday at the earliest. Nothing could be learned here tonight concerning the probable contents of the United States note.

CANADIAN SERVICE

when he made his announcement that the government would continue the policy of attempting to see that all those who use the highways help pay for them, and that these would also be a guarantee that the rural communities on the back concessions got some returns for their highway taxation.

In explaining the system by which the government purposes to develop highway work in the direction of the back concessions, Hon. Mr. Ferguson announced the appointment of an advisory committee of three members of the legislature whose duty it will be to keep in touch with the local township councils and work out some system of development with those officials.

The premier also had some announcements to make with regard to maintenance.

"The time has come," he declared, "when the heavy loader will have to pay. The man who travels too fast is also going to pay more. He will be penalized, and if he does it too often he will lose his license. Things like that must be introduced if the people who pay for the highways are going to get a fair deal. The tourist trade must also be encouraged, and we hope by judicious advertising to get our fair share."

As to the tax on gasoline, the premier declared that it looked as though the time had come when the fairest way to keep check on the extent to which any motorist makes use of the highways is by the amount of gasoline he buys.

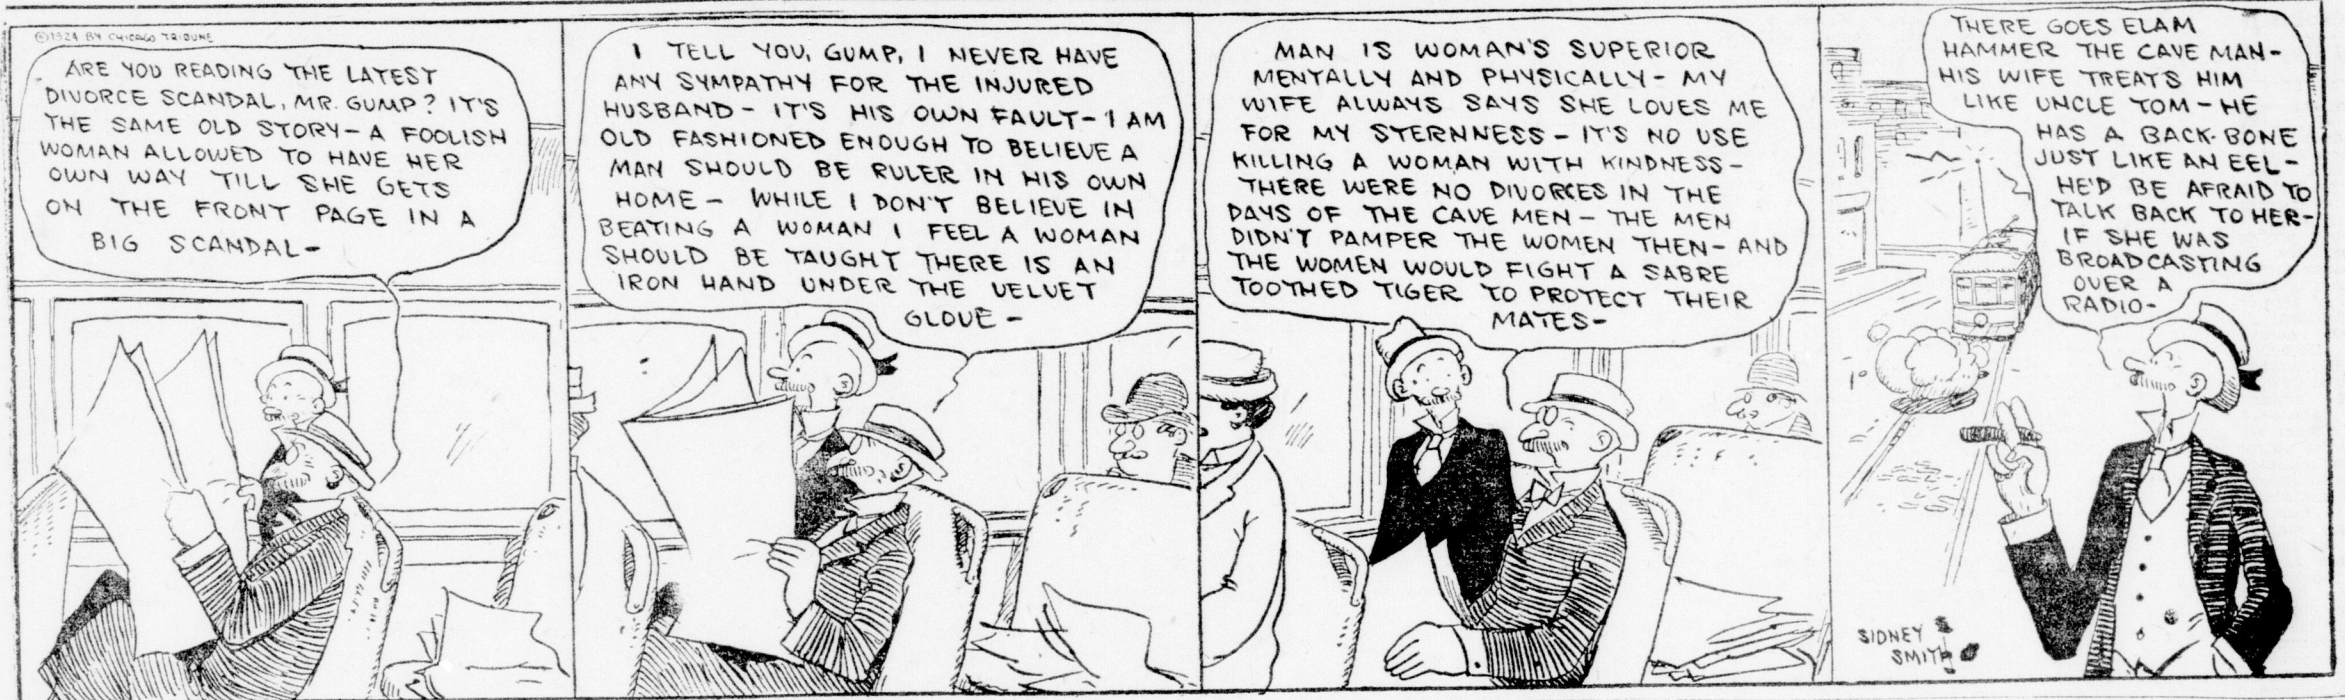

Another announcement of the premier was that he purposes to pass legislation in the present session to prohibit municipalities bonus-ing industries.

There were cheers for the premier.

The New Puckered Ribbons

They have realized that flowers are an important trimming note for spring, and they offer their services in fashioning lovely new ornaments. Flat little flowers like plaques or medallions for the front of your narrow-brimmed cloche; a gay little spot of color for coat or suit or dress.

The puckered ribbon has convenient little drawing strings so that the flowers may be quickly made. In a most intriguing color range, maize, havane, capitol blue, buttercup, raspberry, Italian, chantung, marine, black, Mongol, cameo, and Romaine.

The 1-inch width is priced at 55c yard; the narrower width at 40c. Tinsel Puckered Ribbon is frosted over with sparkling silver. It is as soft as silk and has a metallic glitter. In the same color range as the plain puckered ribbon. The narrow width is priced at 65c and the 1-inch width at 85c.

ALL assortments of midseason garments have dwindled to a very few garments. These last wraps—furs, frocks and suits are as lovely as all that have gone before, with the added advantage of price reductions. There will be weeks of waiting before the balmy days are here in earnest, and meanwhile there may be many opportunities to enjoy garments from our season's end clearance. A fashionable but inexpensive twill, and a new dancing dress will brighten the time and lighten one's purse only a little. Every garment represents splendid value, and the store invites all women to benefit.

News of New Trends In Table Lamps

Table lamps are getting lighter and brighter. This tendency is shown in all kinds of table lamps, whether their bases are the newer ones of shimmering glass or the more popular types in porcelain or pottery. All day long they glow (like Aladdin's after the polishing) because of their substance or color—or both.

LIVING-ROOM TABLE LAMPS—

The newer bases are of fragile white glass in the vase or stem shapes.

(1) Etched in floral sprays; encrusted with gold; fluted; or with a core of brilliant yellow, red or green glass.

(2) Of heavy, slightly opaque glass. Made just like old-fashioned hand lamps—like those found now only in parlors of farm houses. These heavy glass bases are white or yellow to look as if they were filled with oil.

Shades for the first type, for the more fragile glass base, are of delicate fabrics—pleated or ruffled georgette or chiffon.

Shades for the second type, of heavier glass, are sturdier, pleated chintz, cretonne, even blue and white checked gingham. Often in round or conical shapes like the globes of those old-fashioned lamps. The first type of glass lamp goes with furniture of the Empire or Duncan Phyfe lines; and the second type with real or imitation early American furniture.

The brighter, lighter base is also seen in highly glazed pottery, porcelain or china. No matter which the material, new table lamps all agree as to the advantages of sparkle and lighter colors, such as cream, terra cotta and the Chinese blues.

The best liked shapes in these substances are:

(1) Shapes that resemble classical or Empire urns. Handles for these urns are more and more used.

(2) Converted vases, which are still far in the lead in popularity.

(3) Decorated figures, which are gaining a hold, especially for the smaller table lamps.

The shades for these pottery or porcelain lamps are divided about equally between being fringed or fringeless, with the slight majority on the fringeless side. The fringed shades still appeal to those of conservative taste, with a liking for more sweeping lines in lamps, or as a choice for more formally furnished drawing or living rooms.

The fringeless shade is less formal, less expensive, and newer. So its appeal is more widespread. Bandings of the material, picot edgings, ruffles, braid, or ruching are the favored substitutes for fringe.

The most popular fabrics in shades for these porcelain or pottery lamps are pleated or ruffled silks in the golds, flame, rose, cream, or yellow. Applique of velvet coral sprays is a popular trimming note for these silk shades. Pleated chintz is still popular. Parchment, when golden and stippled, or painted with flower sprays, bird designs, or quaint medallions, is another fashion favorite.

BEDROOM TABLE LAMPS—

Lamps for vanity, bedside, or nursery tables are, of course, like living-room lamps, made more exquisite with a more delicate glitter and in pastel colorings.
