

BIRKETT'S BEACH MAY BE MOVED

Playgrounds Commission Will Propose Change in Day or So.

There is a possibility that the municipal swimming pool now situated at Birkett's flats on the Thames river, may be moved to a point further east at the foot of St. Julien street.

The question will be taken up by the playgrounds commission within the next day or two, it was stated by Manager E. V. Buchanan, of the public utilities commission, this morning.

Since the dressing-room accommodation at Birkett's flats has been almost completely demolished during the past winter as well as through age, and must be replaced and because a request has been forwarded to the commission by residents in the vicinity of St. Julien street for the establishment of a pool there, it is quite probable that the commission will decide to take such action, inasmuch as the facilities for a pool there are said to be much better at that point than at Birkett's flats. The commission is hard-pressed to find $1,000 with which to erect new dressing rooms at Birkett's or at St. Julien street, if the pool is transferred to that point, as that is the count which was placed in its estimates, but eliminated by the council for that express purpose.

Meanwhile the pool at Becher's Island is being exceedingly well patronized these warm days. Safety ropes and two life guards were placed at the pool yesterday for the first time in order to safeguard the lives of those swimming there. Supervisors to give instruction in swimming will not be placed at the pool by the commission until after the closing of the schools for the summer holidays.

Now! Whiten Cloudy Teeth

Under that film on your teeth (run your tongue across your teeth and you can feel it) are the clean, glistening teeth you envy. Combat it this way—see what pretty teeth you have.

Off the United States today, it is estimated that over half a million people a day are cleaning their teeth in a new way. These are people who used to have dull and dingy teeth. That is why you see gleaming teeth wherever you go.

Now leading dentists tell how to clear up dingy teeth. A method that supplants old type dentifrices—combats, without harsh grit, the stubborn film that covers teeth and makes them ugly. Run your tongue across your teeth. You will feel that film. Under it are the pretty, white teeth you envy in others. This offers you free a 10-day tube of the way authorities advise combating it. TO DECORATE GRAVES SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

G.W.V.A. and I.O.D.E. Will Conduct Ceremony at Woodland, Mount Pleasant.

Soldiers' graves at Mount Pleasant and Woodland cemeteries will be decorated by members of the local Great War Veterans' association and the C. E. F. chapter of the I.O.D.E. on Saturday and Sunday, June 13 and 14.

The program for the Mount Pleasant decoration, announced this morning, calls for the assembly of G. W. V. A. members at 2:30 o'clock, on June 14, at G.W.V.A. headquarters, near the city hall. The Kiwanis club has offered to supply 15 automobiles to take veterans to the cemetery. The service will be conducted by Rev. J. Bruce Hunter. On completion of the service wreaths will be placed on the cross of sacrifice. Mrs. Campbell, representative of the C.E.F. chapter of the I.O.D.E., and Harry Wray, president of the G.W.V.A., will decorate the graves. By permission of Col. George Little, the Canadian Fusiliers will be in attendance. The date for decoration services of soldiers' graves at St. Peter's Cemetery will be announced next week.

"STOP CORNERS" MAY BE FIXED BY COMMITTEE

No. 1 committee of the city council meets this afternoon at 4:30, but unless the unexpected happens there is nothing outside of routine business to be discussed. Information will be sought on the designation of certain street corners in the city as "stop corners," and the city engineer will report on the situation. A petition by the owners of the bus operating to South London will be presented, requesting permission to make a left-hand turn at Richmond and Dundas streets. They point out that street cars now have this privilege, which they think should be extended to them. A petition will also be forthcoming from a resident, asking for the use of Glasgow street, a newly opened thoroughfare in East London.

SITE APPROVED BY DEPARTMENT

Rectory School Must Be Demolished and Playground Secured.

Official ratification has been received by the board of education from the provincial department of its proposal to build the new east end collegiate on the site of the Rectory street public school. The department's sanction is contingent upon two things: first, the demolition of the Rectory street school, and second, the securing of adequate playgrounds on the property of the western fair association, until such time as the Rectory street site is extended to meet the requirements of the departmental regulations for collegiate purposes.

When this letter is tabled at the regular meeting of the board next Thursday afternoon it will be considered by a motion by Vice-Chairman A. Roy Cairncross that the three resolutions of the board fixing the Rectory street site as the site for the new east end collegiate be rescinded and plans formed to build wings to the central collegiate to take care of the students attending the central and east collegiate units.

Two-Thirds Vote.
Mr. Cairncross' motion of course, requires a two-thirds vote of the members of the board and it is probable that if such support will be accorded his proposal. Those who are almost certain to support the vice-chairman, however, are Trustees William G. Murray, Bryden Campbell, and N. P. Willmott. Several other trustees are known not to be very keenly wedded to the tearing down of Rectory street school, including Trustee G. F. Copeland, Mrs. J. A. Rose, Mrs. J. Hunt Rev. R. D. Mess, M.M., and J. B. Wright, but just what stand they will take when faced by the question again is only a matter of conjecture.

It is possible that while Mr. Cairncross can hardly secure the necessary vote to put through the enlargement of the central unit he and those dissatisfied with the Rectory street proposition can delay all collegiate construction for a year.

The letter received yesterday afternoon from the department of education regarding the Rectory street plan is as follows: "I am directed by the minister of education to acknowledge receipt of your letter of June 1 and in reply to state that on recommendation of the high school inspectors he approves of the Rectory street site for the London east collegiate on the understanding that:

(1) The present public school building be removed and a new collegiate institute be built on the site. (2) Adequate playgrounds be furnished on the property of the western fair association until such time as the Rectory street site is extended to meet the full requirements of the regulations of the department of education.

CRIMINAL FOREIGNERS MAY BE DEPORTED

Subject, Introduced At Police
Chiefs' Convention, To Be Discussed Further.

The question of deportation of undesirable foreigners was the main subject for discussion at the Canada chief constables' association convention held last week at Winnipeg, according to Chief of Police Robert Birrell, who returned to London yesterday. The subject, introduced at the convention, has not been dropped and further discussion may result in the deportation of all immigrants found to have criminal records. Chief Birrell, who attended the convention with his wife and daughter, Miss Margaret Birrell, introduced a paper on uniform traffic laws through which he advocated international uniformity as a preventive against increasing motor accidents.

Following his invitation to hold the convention in London next year, the members of the association were practically unanimous in their acceptance. Of the 128 present, 100 were in favor of London, rather than Vancouver, the other city from which an invitation was received.

BOARD MAY SOLVE TRANSPORTATION ISSUE

argument is bound to be about the fares. It is merely found by the board that there has been a violation of the franchise and the company is ordered to revert to the old scale of fares, then Londoners can bank on a shut-down of their street railway. Can Be Arranged.
If on the other hand the fares question is arranged to the mutual satisfaction of both the city and the street railway, there is a possibility, however, of settling minor problems such as repairs to bridges and paving.

"But there is no use of going into a review of the whole situation," stated Mayor Talbot. "If increased fares are denied, the company will have a good case on the fares, and there the whole question hinges so far as we are concerned."

Officials of the local county court house received notification today to have the courtroom prepared for the sitting of the board on June 17.

CIVIC ROAD'S RIGHT TO SEEK BEER UPHELD BY DRY CHIEF

David Ross Declares Government Responsible If Beverage Intoxicating.

"WATCHFUL WAITING"

L. and P. S. Action May Be Talked at Tonight's Prohibition Meeting.

David Ross, chairman of the London Prohibition Alliance, offered no criticism this morning of the London and Port Stanley Railway commission in making application for two licenses to sell 4.4 beer at Port Stanley this summer.

"If the Port Stanley commission sold 2 1/2 per cent beer," said Mr. Ross, "then it has every right to apply for a license to sell 4.4 beer, because the provincial government declares that the new beer is non-intoxicating."

"If 4.4 beer proves to be intoxicating," continued Mr. Ross, "the government is to be held responsible, because the government is the one who has committed a misdemeanor in promoting drunkenness throughout the province. The government will be responsible if the new beverage proves to be intoxicating."

Mr. Ross declined to venture an opinion as to whether 4.4 beer is intoxicating, claiming that sufficient time has not elapsed on which to base an opinion along this line. The president of the alliance, pictured the attitude of that organization toward 4.4 beer as being one of "watchful waiting," until events prove themselves through the sale of the beer in the province.

Mr. Ross added that the executive of the alliance is meeting tonight and that the subject of the sale of 4.4 beer at Port Stanley by the railway commission might be considered and some action taken by the executive.

WOMEN'S LODGE ROW CENTERS DAMAGE SUIT

Mrs. Bertha M. Davis Asks
$500 For Alleged Slanderous Remarks.

The $500 damage case of Mrs. Bertha M. Davis against Walter Richards is occupying the attention of Judge Macbeth in county court today.

Mrs. Davis had several witnesses who swore that Richards had made remarks to the effect that she had used funds for her own use belonging to the Circle Pride of London, an auxiliary of the Ancient Order of United Workmen. The remarks alleged to have been made, were denied by Mr. Richards, in the witness box.

William Davis, 486 Dorinda street, husband of the plaintiff, told of the trouble at a meeting of the circle on Dec. 19, 1923, after which he and his wife resigned.

Did Not Get Letter.
Questioned by J. M. Donahue for the defence, Davis said he had never received any letter stating that he and his wife were to be tried under the laws of the order. Witness said he never saw Richards after Dec. 19. His wife had been secretary of the order for four weeks before resigning.

Mrs. Jennie French said she was a former member of the circle. At that meeting on Dec. 19, witness said that Mrs. French, who was sitting next to him, said she was not a member of the circle. Mrs. French, who was sitting next to him, said she was not a member of the circle.

Favors Plaintiff.
Ernest Nutkins and his wife also gave evidence in favor of the plaintiff. Richards, in the witness box, stated that Mrs. Davis still owed $418 on the fund, but he admitted that he had received check covering the amount which was marked payable after things were settled up.

Richards, who was a waiter of the books in 1923, said that all the trouble started when Mrs. Mellen asked Mrs. Davis to retire from the meeting. Mrs. Davis swore at him and called him a "old fool," witness said. He didn't remember talking to Mr. Nutkins at the circle picnic on June 24 last year.

The case will be concluded this afternoon. Albert M. Murphy is acting for the plaintiff.

CITY POPULATION TO GET UNEXPECTED INCREASE

London will have an unexpected increase in population than that which was anticipated when John C. Stothers, M.A., B.Sc., B.A., B.C., was named as public school inspector here to assume his duties Sept. 1. Mr. Stothers was so proud of becoming the father of an 8-pound baby yesterday that he wired Administrator G. A. Wheable, B.A., M.C., who is a personal friend, of the latest addition to his family.

Mr. Stothers was so taken with London while here making a personal application for the position of inspector that undoubtedly he will be delighted that John, who will have the opportunity of growing up in such a fine, beautiful and highly-equipped city educationally as London really is.

CANADIAN WAR VETERANS ASKED TO G.W.V.A. PARLEY

COOL SPELL COMES AFTER EIGHT DAYS

Decided Drop in Temperature
Appreciated After Hot Wave.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, June 8.—Cooling breezes from the southwest have brought relief to Ontario residents after eight days of sweltering heat during which period the mercury approached the 100 mark at many points, causing a number of deaths.

Last evening a distinct drop in the temperature was noticeable while at 8 a.m. today the official record showed 70 degrees in Toronto, or seven points lower than at the same hour the previous day. Corresponding declines occurred at other places.

Continuance of the cool spell is indicated by official meteorological reports this morning, with the wind changing from southwest to north-west and the possibility of scattered showers.

ARGUMENTS AGAINST CENTRAL COLLEGIATE

East Enders Say Idea Works
Out Badly Elsewhere.

At an informal discussion of the one large central collegiate, some of the east end residents produced facts showing that the idea was not working well in places where it had been tried. "According to Mr. Miller's report," stated one of the east end residents, "there are 306 at the central collegiate, 442 in the lower school, 334 in middle school, and 99 in the upper school. According to the minister of education's report for 1923, there are 49 collegiates in the province of Ontario, and the total number of pupils attending is 26,493, therefore, the average number in each college is 540. In the whole province there were only three collegiates with over 1,000 pupils, and these were at Hamilton, Oakwood (Toronto), and Ottawa. The only collegiates with over 750 students were Hamilton, Ottawa, Oakwood, Harbord, Humberstone, Jarvis, Parkdale, Riverdale (Toronto), Brantford and St. Thomas. There were 126 high schools, with an average of 144 per school."

"It is admitted," declared the east ender, "that the smaller school does the better work, because of closer personal contact with the teachers and principals, more opportunities for discovering and developing ability. In view of this, we can't see why there are those in London who want to rush in and have a school in the center of the city, with an attendance of 1,200 or 1,300. What chance will the students of the east, north and west have in a school against those of the south with the smaller school there?"

Both Ottawa and Hamilton," he continued, "kept to the one college idea until they found their system suffering. They are now getting back to the smaller school. Hamilton has another another school house for 500 students, and is seriously considering the opening of another. More-over the department has placed its stamp of approval on the unit system for London, and there is not the slightest reason to believe that the authorities would allow, let alone approve of the idea of, additions to the central. They have approved of the Rectory street site for an east end collegiate. Further, needless delay in the building program is going to be avoided by the unit system, with additional hardship on the students from the east. What we fear is that all this consideration is fear of the idea of denying the east end people the collegiate that has been promised them and to which they are entitled."

BOY HIT BY MOTOR
NOW OUT OF HOSPITAL

Remarkable Recovery Is Made
By Little Donald Ward.

One of the most remarkable remarkable recoveries in the history of the hospital physicians have experienced is that of Donald Ward, 4-year-old son of Mrs. Joseph Ward, No. 4 Stanley street, who was struck by a car three weeks ago when struck by an automobile in front of his home.

For several days the lad remained in an unconscious condition at the hospital, where he suffered from a severely fractured skull. Practically no hope was held for his recovery. He regained consciousness and from then on showed rapid improvement.

Yesterday he was in fit condition to be removed from Victoria hospital to the Children's War Memorial hospital. He will be confined at that institution for some time, however. He still suffers from a fractured leg which will take several weeks to heal.

Western Ontario Divided Into 3 Groups By Union

London, Guelph and Hamilton Selected As United Church Conference.

DELEGATES LIMITED

Two Hundred Clergymen and Two Hundred Laymen From Each.

Western Ontario is likely to be divided into three United Church conferences in the reorganization to be effected this week at Toronto.

The Congregational Union of Western Ontario, the Presbyterian Synod of Hamilton and London, the London Methodist conference and the Hamilton Methodist conference will give place in the United church to the London conference, the Guelph conference and the Hamilton conference.

Conferences in the United church are likely to be limited to 400 delegates, 200 ministers and 200 laymen, and on general principles to have their boundaries set according to county

Pinery Highway Is Opened Again

Special to The Advertiser. Sarnia, June 8.—After being closed for repairs and the completion of the bridge work, the Pinery road was reopened at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon for traffic. It was announced at the local branch office of the Ontario league motor club today.

lines. The Presbyteries are likely to be larger than the former Methodist districts and on general principles also will be formed with regard to county boundaries, six or seven to each conference.

County Arrangement.

The suggested arrangement of counties in Western Ontario to form the three United church conferences is as follows:

London conference—Middlesex, Essex, Kent, Elgin, Lambton and Oxford.

Guelph conference—Huron, Bruce, Grey, Perth, Wellington and Waterloo.

Hamilton conference—Wentworth.

Norfolk, Haldimand, Welland, Halton, Peel and Lincoln.

The division of this portion of the province along the lines outlined above will be submitted to the general council of the United church, which will hold its first business session in Toronto on Thursday, at the suggestion of the committee appointed from the three denominations concerned, and as such, will in all probability be approved by the council.

Committee Handles.

The members of the joint committee, which prepared the draft arrangement, include the following: Rev. H. B. Storey, Congregationalist; Rev. (Col.) William A. Beattie, D.D., C.M.G., Rev. T. A. Symington, M.A., Rev. John Richardson, B.A., Presbyterian; Rev. A. E. M. Thomson, M.A., B.D., Rev. H. J. Uren, Rev. J. E. J. Milyard and Rev. W. E. Millson, Methodists.

DROUGHT HITS LARGE SECTION

Weather Report For Week Is Reflected in Crop Report.

The crop report for the past week is practically the weather report. The warm weather has been general throughout the province, but unfortunately the rainfall has not been so uniform.

There is a fairly large important section of Western Ontario, extending from south end of Peel, through Halton, Wentworth, Brant, Norfolk, Oxford, Essex and Kent where there has been very little rain for several weeks past and the crop outlook is not as good as a consequence. Grains hay and clover are all short. In some instances, fall wheat is beginning to head out with short straw and with a prospect of small grains. Only a real good rain, very soon, could materially alter the situation. This applies to all kinds of crops, including hay and pasture.

In other sections of the province there is a better picture. In the more northerly counties of Bruce and Simcoe, and in practically all the counties of Eastern Ontario, there have been frequent rains and the abundant moisture and warm weather have brought on the crops to a very high degree. The outlook is remarkably good and the prevailing feeling correspondingly optimistic. This applies to all kinds of crops, including hay and pasture.

This is also largely true of Northern Ontario, although the season there is slightly later.

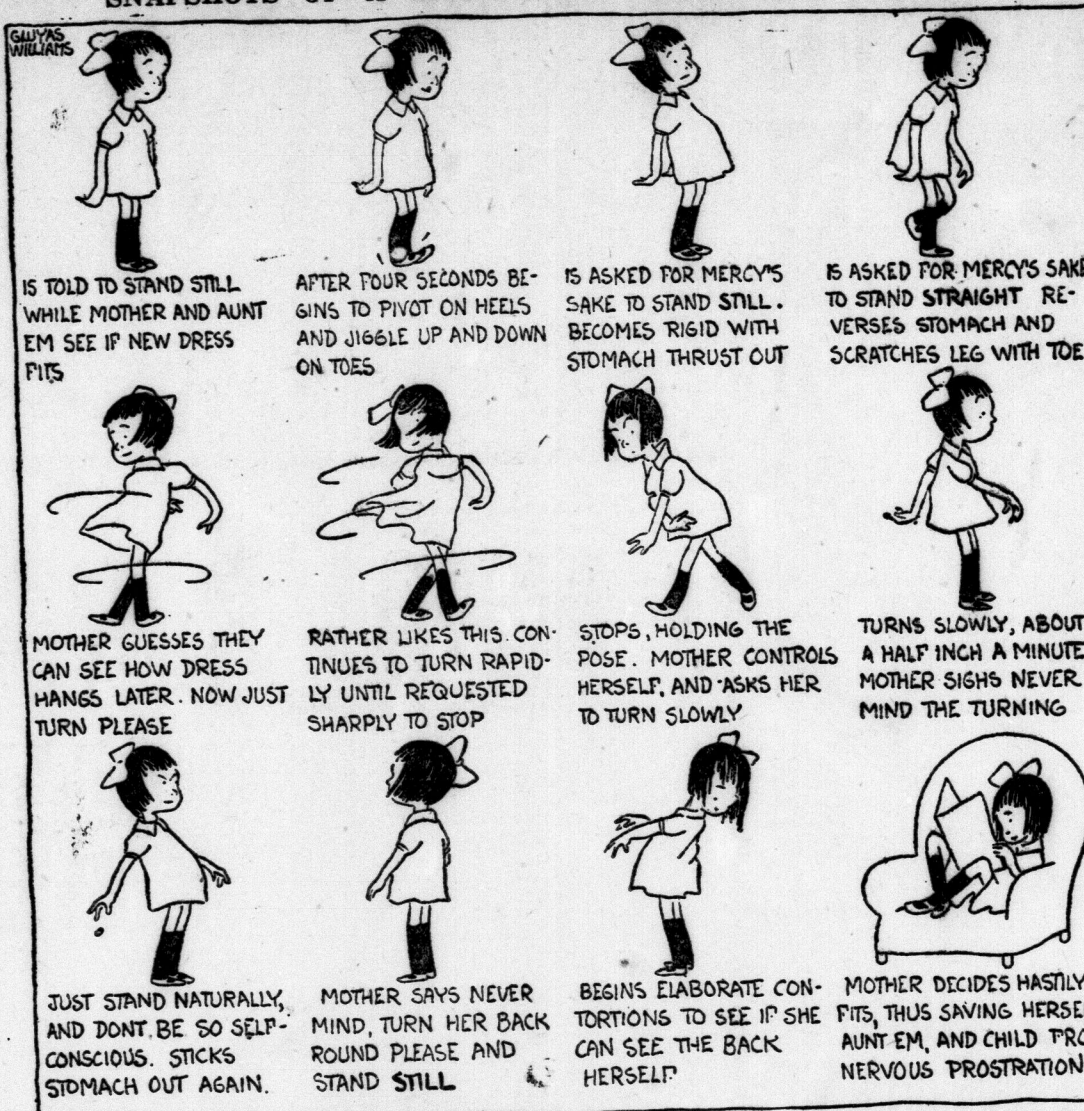

As to the fruit crop, the outlook is somewhat mixed. In the large fruit-growing areas of Western Ontario, the drought is having a serious effect. Strawberries are beginning to ripen, but the size will be small and the yield limited unless there are good rains very soon. Tree fruits have not yet been so seriously affected. The showing of apple blossoms was specially favorable of an abundant crop, but there is the June drop and the remote possibility of a late frost still to be taken into consideration. One thing is certain. The growers have devoted special attention to spraying and this has been an exceptionally favorable year for spraying, so that the crop should be of good quality.

Eastern Pasture Better. Weather conditions, especially pasture conditions, are having their effect on live stock. In Eastern Ontario, milk production has been very considerably increased as the pasture have improved. The price of cheese is holding around 17½c. The price of hogs at country points range from $11.50 to $12.25 and little pigs are scarce and are bringing as high as $12 to $15 per pair. There is a strengthening of prices for pure-bred stock as illustrated by a recent sale in Brant, where pure-bred Holstein cows brought from $225 to $300 each.

$5,000,000 BOND ISSUE OFFERED BY QUEBEC

Associated Press Despatch. New York, June 8.—The province of Quebec offered a $5,000,000 gold bond issue on the local market today. Of 25 years tenure, the bonds were of the 4½ per cent sinking fund type and were priced at 97½. Interest of about 4.70 per cent will be yielded on the issue.

SNAPSHOTS OF A LITTLE GIRL TRYING ON A DRESS.

BASEBALL REVIEW

Associated Press Despatch. New York, June 8.—The leading Philadelphia Athletics today viewed with alarm the reduction of their advantage over the champion Senators in the American league to but a game and a half. Little hope of recovery for the team from a slump is entertained until its weakened pitching staff is bolstered by the return to regular duty of Sam Gray and Fred Heimach, both of whom are injured.

Washington picked up another half-game on Mack's team yesterday by retaining idle while the pacemakers were being jolted again in Philadelphia, where the Tigers pulled out a 2-5 triumph after the Athletics had tied the score in their half of the ninth. Baumgartner and Groves were both pounded as well as supplied a stumbling block for the Giants, but the 12-4 defeat of the champions at the hands of the Cubs was balanced by the downfall of the second place Brooklyn Dodgers in St. Louis. Grover Alexander kept New York bats silent while his mates were shelling Bentley and Greenfield, with Brooks making the Chicago pace by poling out two homers. The Yankees made it three out of four in their series with the Browns by taking the final game, 6 to 5, in the tenth inning. Home runs by Robertson and Rice in the ninth enabled the Browns to tie the score at 5-all, but Earl Combs outgassed the St. Louis team and sped home with the winning run on a short sacrifice fly. Ehmanke bested Shaute in a pitchers' struggle, letting the Indians down with five hits as the Red Sox won, 3 to 1. But Boston's entry in the National went down before a Pittsburgh batting assault on three pitchers as the Pirates won easily, 8 to 4. Grantham of Pittsburgh recorded safely in four times at bat. The Reds pounded the adventures of their former team-mate, Jimmy Ring, and won from the Phillies, 5 to 2, making four runs in the first inning.

DISTRICT CHAIRMEN MUST BE APPOINTED

Methodist Changes Leave Two Administrative Posts Open.

New chairmen of the Windsor and Wingham Methodist districts will have to be appointed by reason of changes within the past day or two.

Rev. John Garbutt, Dundas center Methodist church, who was scheduled to go to Kingsville church and become chairman of the Windsor district, is withdrawing from the active Methodist ministry to become secretary for the Bible society in Western Ontario.

Rev. G. N. Hazen, D.D., Blenheim, who was set down for Wingham by the stationing committee of the conference, and as chairman of the Wingham district, now comes to Centennial church, London, through further transfers made necessary by Mr. Garbutt's withdrawal from the Kingsville pulpit.

Prominently mentioned for the chairmanship of the Windsor district now are: Rev. John A. Agnew, Ridout street church, London, who was originally set down for Centennial church, London, now goes to Kingsville; Rev. J. E. Holmes, North street church, Goderich, and immediate past chairman of the Goderich district, who has been moved to Sandwich; and Rev. A. J. Thomas, pastor of Central church, Windsor.

Those whose names are being advanced as chairmen of the Wingham district are: Rev. A. W. Barker, Brussels; Rev. T. W. Cosens, Lucknow; and Rev. L. W. Reid, who has been moved from Hale street church, London, to Kincardine church.

Special meetings of the Windsor and Wingham districts will be called in the near future to make the necessary appointments.

GIRL'S DEATH IS SUBJECT OF PROBE

Martha Winkelman, 20, Died of Poisoning at Employers' Home, Welland.

Canadian Press Despatch. Welland, Ont., June 8.—The inquest into the death of Martha Winkelman, 20-year-old German girl, who died under peculiar circumstances last Thursday evening at the home of her employers, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Snyder, Humberstone township, brought out some startling evidence yesterday. It was shown that the girl was in cheery spirits at 6:10, and was dead from poisoning at 6:30. It also transpired that the presence of the girl in the home caused friction between husband and wife. One witness stated "it was a case of jealousy" with Mrs. Snyder. Asked if she remarked to Dr. Workman, when he was attending the girl as she was writhing in the agonies of convulsions before passing away, that "it would be an act of God to take her away," Mrs. Snyder declared: "Oh, no, I don't remember saying that."

Evidence was given by Pastor Toebe of the Lutheran church that on several occasions he had been called in by Mrs. Snyder to try and make peace in the home, who also expressed her desire that the girl should leave for the sake of peace. Mrs. Snyder denied that the girl's presence resulted in family quarrels, and claimed that the girl desired to leave, "not because I wanted her to go."

North End Open Stand At the Western Will Also Be Rebuilt.

Tenders for the new red brick front for the horse and cattle barns at the Western Fair grounds will be received until Monday night by Secretary Jackson of the Western Fair board. They will be presented to the fair directors for consideration at a meeting to be called in the near future.

The north end open stand which has needed repairing for several years will be rebuilt. This will be good news to the dining hall proprietors who run establishments beneath the stands. It will take some six or seven weeks to complete the repairs, secretary Jackson states.

Our catalogue for 1925-26 is ready for distribution. It gives complete information concerning our courses, tuition rates, dormitory accommodations, employment for students who are obliged to earn part of their expenses, and opportunities for our graduates.

This is the largest professional school of college grade in the world devoted exclusively to training men for the duties of office manager, cost accountant, auditor, comptroller, treasurer, credit man, and public accountant. It requires two years to complete our courses and be ready for a good position with a promising future.

Men who have completed the classical, general, technical, or commercial course in a high school are admitted without entrance examinations.

The demand in business is for specialists, for men qualified to do some one thing particularly well. Our graduates are in demand because they are equipped with a training which, coupled with business experience, qualifies them ultimately as specialists in the great field of accounting and finance. If you aspire to a successful career in business, fit yourself for something more than a mere clerical position; otherwise, your chances to become an executive are much less favorable.

To be Bentley-trained carries prestige in business.

Through our placement bureau we have filled more than 800 positions during the past two years. Send for catalog.

We Can't Take It All in One Jump

Most men whose beautiful and expensive homes we pass and envy began by owning a much less luxurious place. They knew that such things aren't acquired in one jump. They also knew that a small investment in London real estate would grow healthily with the growth of the city. Their first real estate investment probably involved only a few hundred dollars cash. "You can't climb a hill unless you start." It only takes a few hundred dollars to make a good home or business property investment. Opportunities are numerous in the

Prevent tooth decay below the gum-line

As the soil nourishes the tree roots, the gums nourish the teeth. And as the tree decays if you bare the roots, so do the teeth decay when gum shrinkage starts in.

This condition—one of the first stages of Pyorrhea—is very common and something that ordinary tooth pastes are powerless to prevent. If not checked promptly it will lead to loss of teeth and serious organic diseases.

If used in time and used consistently twice daily, Forhan's will prevent Pyorrhea or check its progress. It will preserve the gums in their pink, normal, healthy condition, safeguard your health and keep your mouth clean, fresh and wholesome.

Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhea. Thousands have found it beneficial for years. For your own sake ask for and get Forhan's For the Gums. At all druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

County Judge Decides Action in Favor of F. H. Butler.

Judgment by default was given F. H. Butler yesterday afternoon by Judge Macbeth in Mr. Butler's action for $690 against A. E. H. Ladd, Detroit. The action against R. J. Edwards and Wm. J. Mortimer, London, and W. G. Rounds, Woodstock, was dismissed. The judge reserved his decision as to costs.

According to plaintiff, he loaned the money to Mr. Ladd in March, 1921, and at various times received payments on interest. Later on Ladd, who owned the London Art Glass and Mirror works, took the other three defendants into partnership.

In giving judgment, his honor declared that there was no contract between the plaintiff and the defendants, Edwards, Mortimer and Rounds.

Ladd was not in court, nor was he represented by counsel. A. R. Douglas appeared for Mr. Butler, J. L. Hodgins for R. J. Edwards and W. G. Rounds, and F. E. Perrin for W. J. Mortimer.

HEAT TAKES FIRST WOODSTOCK VICTIM

Mrs. J. L. Wright Dies Suddenly After Trip in Auto.

Special to The Advertiser By Staff Correspondent.

Woodstock, June 8.—Death came very suddenly to Mrs. J. L. Wright of this city at an early hour this morning. Mrs. Wright had been on a motor trip to Hamilton beach Sunday with her husband and family, and it is thought that the excessive heat and trip were too much for her, although she felt no ill effects when she returned. However an hour or so afterwards she collapsed and died almost immediately.

Mrs. Wright was born in Warwick township in 1882. Surviving are her husband, four daughters and two sons.

TRAIN UPSETS, KILLING EIGHT TRACK LAYERS

Negro Workers and Trainman Crushed To Death by Overturning Freight.

Associated Press Despatch.

Peru, Ind., June 8.—Eight negro tracklayers and one trainman were killed today, when a Chesapeake & Ohio freight train overturned while rounding a curve near Converse, Ind., 15 miles south of here. The negroes were buried beneath the wreck of the engine tender, and 15 coal cars. The tracklayers had stepped aside to permit the train to pass, and were caught as the cars overturned.

GRANDMA'S LITTLE BOY.

Beside me oftentimes there played

A blue-eyed, gentle boy,

And as I watched him day by day

My heart oft throbb'd with joy,

For he was such a lovely child,

It always seemed to me

That all that's noble, kind and good

I in that child could see,

He loved to do the manly things—

The clever little lad,

And pleasure in this heart of mine

At all times made him glad.

He was a very busy chap,

So work, as well as play,

Engaged his head and hands alike

Through all the happy day.

What cared I though I'd oft to dust

And sweep up scattered chips;

My work was thrice tenfold repaid

When I saw "Bubby" ships

And countless other things he made

With unassuming joy,

For he was both a workman fine

And grandma's little boy.

Then, when the shades of gloaming fell,

What soft, sweet tunes he'd play!

The music which his fingers wrought

Beguiled my griefs away.

To do the many things he did

He had a wondrous art,

So I expected that in life

He'd act a splendid part.

But disappointments surge my soul,

And oft my heart is sad,

For in the passing of the days

I've lost my little lad.

No more I hear him at his work,

Nor see him at his play,

For, to the land beyond the bar

My darling's called away.

He will not now be building ships,

As here he used to be,

For up in glory, we're assured,

There'll not be any sea;

Yet, there will be unending bliss

And music, we are told,

So "Bubby" there will sweetly play

On instruments of gold.

So in my heart a joy consoles,

Though tears my eyes oft dim,

For though he'll ne'er return to me,

Some day I'll go to him.

Kent County Chief Declares War On Lovers In Motor Cars

Special to The Advertiser.

Chatham, June 8.—High Constable George Peters today declared war on the youthful motorist who drives his car with his left hand and endangers a girl's waist with the right. "If that is not reckless driving I do not know what is," says Chief Peters.

During the past days the high constable has had several complaints of this nature from different motorists who have reported near-accidents because of some young men paying more attention to their fair companions than to the cars which they were driving. Responding to an urgent call from the country last night, Chief Peters encountered four motorist-lovers. Only by skilful manipulation was the high constable's driver able to avoid mishaps. The urgency of Chief Peters' trip deterred him from giving warning to the offenders.

Dear Sir:

You will be interested to know that at our recent Convention of the salesmen from all parts of the United States and Canada we exhibited some of your bread.

Your loaves were in competition with those of some of the best bakers in both countries and the unanimous opinion was that your bread was without a rival both for appearance, keeping quality and flavor.

We think you will be interested to hear this as we hear so much about bread in the United States being so good. Once again Canada takes the prize and there was no man present who did not think your Money back loaf was perfectly ideal from every point of view.

Such a loaf would only be obtained from the use of the finest of ingredients and by the best method of manufacture and we take this opportunity to congratulate you upon it.

Very truly yours,

DAY OF PRAYER DOMINION-WIDE

Presbyterian Auxiliaries To Usher In Union With Special Services.

Heralding in the consummation of church union on Wednesday, the W. M. S. auxiliaries of the Presbyterian church are holding sessions of prayer today. The call to prayer is Dominion wide and official notices have been sent to all Presbyterian churches in Canada by the president of the Dominion council, Mrs. Donald McGillivray.

A copy of the letter arrived in London recently and it advised all auxiliaries of the W. M. S. to call their membership together to usher in the great new day of union by holding on Tuesday, June 9, a meeting for prayer for personal reconciliation for intercession and thanksgiving for all who have engaged in the great work of preparation for union and for the upbuilding of the three great bodies of Christian people who will form the United Church of Canada on June 10, 1925.

Preparations are being made throughout the various societies in the city to assist the Dominion president in making the day one of much success in the work of earnest devotion and thanksgiving. First Presbyterian church is transferring its regular meeting to tomorrow evening, when special prayers will be a feature. Letters from Hearst regarding literature sent there will be read and a report of the sale, valued at $75, to Malheson Hospital, New Ontario will also be received. Mrs. Hubert Eckert will give the Bible reading, and Mrs. W. J. Knox and Mrs. George Lethbridge will lead in prayer.

At King street church there will be a Bible study and special prayers, with the afternoon featured by an address, when Mrs. W. R. McIntosh will speak on The Forward Outlook of the Church. Owing to the previous arrangements, St. Andrew's auxiliary will not be able to hold a day of prayer tomorrow, but on Thursday the members of the Mission band, the Pathfinders and the Marion Keith club will observe the day of prayer together, meeting with the W. M. S. The band is to give choruses, while the girls are to give short addresses on the benefit missions have been to them.

Although You Can Lead a Man to the Altar, You Cannot Change "Like" Into "Love."

"I am madly in love with a man who merely likes me," wails a young woman. "He has been coming to see me regularly two or three times a week for three years. He takes me to all sorts of places of amusement. He gives me pretty presents. He enjoys my society, but never once has he said a word of love to me, or asked me to marry him. As he and I dust to me, I must have him. How can I win his love? How can I make him ask me to be his wife?"

As to winning his love, I do not believe that any woman can heat a man's lukewarm affection up into a burning, sizzling passion. If there is not something in her that arouses a thrill in his breast and makes him desire her for his own when he first knows her he is immune from palpitations, so far as she is concerned, to the end of the chapter, and he cheerfully acts as a best man at her wedding instead of craving the leading role.

A woman has a far better chance of capturing the heart of a stranger than she has that of a man she has known a long time. To the stranger she has the elements of surprise, of mystery, the chance of being the Inexpressible She of every man's seeking. But the old acquaintance is a familiar with her whole bag of tricks. They have been tried out on him in vain. None of them awakened more than a mild interest in him, and for him she has no conjure left, no wand of enchantment by which to lead him on.

Out of the congeniality of tastes, and long association, and comradeship a very close and tender friendship may result, but this is no more love than skim milk is cream or home brew is vintage champagne. It lacks the sparkle and kick. It lacks the glory and the circling wings of romance, for the man's feeling for the woman is brotherly, not loverly, and no woman is so ignorant as not to know the difference or so poor a creature as to be satisfied with the substitute.

No woman can make the man who merely likes her fall ardently in love with her, but it does not follow that she cannot marry him. On the contrary, thousands of women turn the trick every day and invade unwilling bridegrooms to the altar, who never had the slightest intention of approaching that fatal spot with their present companions.

To his dying day, many a man never knows how it was that he happened to marry his Maria. He liked her, of course, and appreciated all of her many good qualities. They were corking good friends, and he used to see a lot of her. She was always so interested in all he was trying to do and so sympathetic about it, but she wasn't the type of woman that fired his fancy. Not in any way his ideal of the dream woman he wanted for a wife. Why, he never even thought of such a thing as falling in love with her! Still less, of marrying her! Yet he did it, and he puts in many a long hour puzzling over how it came about without ever finding the answer to the conundrum.

Mr. Bernard Shaw says that the woman always marries the man. Mr. Thackeray said long ago that any woman who didn't have an actual hump on her back could marry any man she chose.

That's as may be. Actual experience shows that marrying a man who doesn't want to be married

Jumper, the Hare, Invites His Cousin Peter Rabbit To See His Babies

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

It didn't take Peter Rabbit long to find out that little Mrs. Peter had no thought or time for anybody but the six helpless little babies which made up the newest Peter Rabbit family. In fact, Peter wasn't wanted around. At least that is the way it struck him. So at the very first chance back he went to the Green Forest. He wanted to find his cousin Jumper the Hare. He wanted to tell Jumper about this new family of his, for, like all fathers, Peter was a little proud down in his heart.

So he scampered lipperty-lipperty through the Green Forest until at last he found his big cousin, Jumper the Hare. "Hello, cousin Jumper," cried Peter. "While I was over here last time a wonderful thing happened over at my home in the dear old Briar Patch."

Jumper pricked up his long ears a little and looked mildly interested. "I want to know," said he.

"Yes," replied Peter. "There were six birthdays at my home all on the same day while I was away."

"Well, that isn't a particularly new experience with you, is it, Peter?" replied Jumper.

"Well, Mrs. Peter says they are, and really she ought to know," replied Peter.

"Huh! Mrs. Jumper told me the same thing about our babies," replied Jumper. "And the other day I overheard Mrs. Grouse telling Mr. Grouse the same thing about their babies. I even overheard old Mrs. Possum telling Uncle Billy Possum that never since the world began had there been such beautiful children as their latest family. Now what have you got to say about it?"

Peter had to grin. He simply couldn't help it. "I guess all mothers are alike," said Peter. "I never yet saw a mother who would admit that her baby wasn't the most beautiful baby in all the Great World. But really, cousin Jumper, these babies of mine are quite wonderful. I wish you could see them. I really do."

"I think you would say that, as babies, so, these are very unusual. Did I understand you to say that you have a family?"

"Yes," replied Jumper. "Anyways, Mrs. Jumper has a family, and I suppose that amounts to the same thing. I don't see much of them, but I suppose I will later."

"And I suppose Mrs. Jumper thinks her babies the most beautiful babies in all the Great World," said Peter slyly.

"Huh! Mrs. Jumper told me the same thing about our babies," replied Jumper.

"I suppose so," replied Jumper. "If she doesn't there's something wrong with her. When did you say your babies were born?"

"When I was over here in the Green Forest two days ago."

"Oh," said Jumper. "That is the day my four babies were born. It seems we have the same birthday in both families. They are surprisingly lively little scamps for their age. I don't suppose you would care to see them, cousin Peter?"

"Indeed I would," replied Peter. "I would like to see how they compare with mine."

"Oh, of course they don't really compare with yours, because yours are the most beautiful in all the Great World," replied Jumper. "But if you want to see them, come along with me."

COMMONS VOTES TO GIVE RELIEF TO DEPOSITORS

Gideon Robertson Reported To Have Attempted Upset For Relief.

COMMONS VOTES

Government Upheld by 100 to 20 Margin in $5,450,000 Bill.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, June 8.—By a vote of 100 to 20, the House of Commons tonight adopted a resolution providing $5,450,000 for relief to Home bank depositors, and subsequently gave first reading to the bill. Of the 20, only two were Liberals—F. N. McCrea, of Sherbrooke, and Roch Lanctot, of La-Prairie-Naperville. The remainder were from the ranks of Conservatives and Progressives.

Altogether there were three votes, although, as the House was in committee at the time, in no case were the names of individual members recorded. First came votes on an amendment and a subamendment. J. W. Kennedy, of Glengarry, had an amendment, which would have divided the vote between the Home bank depositors and Farmers' bank depositors. To this, Roch Lanctot moved a subamendment, which would also have given a share to depositors in the Banque du Peuple, the Banque Ville Marie and the Banque St. Jean. Mr. Lanctot's subamendment got only three votes. Mr. Kennedy's amendment was defeated by 100 to 15. Then came adoption of the main government's resolution.

Discussion practically monopolized the day, and was productive of some sharp encounters. In particular there was the reading by Premier King of a letter from Senator Robertson to W. J. T. Lee, chairman of the Home Bank depositors' relief association. The letter was dated February 27 of the present year, and at the time, Premier King said, Senator Robertson was acting as a Conservative leader in the senate.

What right, Premier King sharply queried, had Senator Robertson to say what action the senate was going to take on a public matter? "Having regard to a threat such as that," added Premier King, "the government had no alternative even if it wished to take any other course, than to proceed in the manner in which it has proceeded at the present time."

UNIONISTS' BUDGET TO BE $4,000,000

Concurring Presbyterians and Methodists Will Spend $1,970,000 Apiece.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, June 8.—From the Presbyterian general assembly there goes to the first general council of the United church a suggestion that the first union budget be for $4,000,000, which would be intended to cover all activities of the united denominations for all of the year 1925 and the first three months of 1926.

Rev. Dr. Laird, treasurer of the church, voiced the suggestion this afternoon in behalf of the general board, and the assembly sent it along to the council. Dr. Laird explained that the Presbyterian church was entering union in much better financial condition than he had dared to hope a year ago. The board had fixed their 1925 budget at $1,500,000, and added $300,000 for the first quarter of next year. The church had a total debt of about $220,000, a reduction of $210,000 in two years, for which they should make some provision. They had decided, therefore, to suggest in all a budget of $1,970,000 to take adequate care of their work. The Methodists would ask for the same and the Congregationalists for $60,000, making the total United church budget of $4,000,000.

AT THE THEATRES

LOEW'S THEATRE

"The Crowded Hour."

"The Crowded Hour," presented at Loew's theatre yesterday for the first of a three-day run, is one of the most pleasing pictures in which charming Bebe Daniels has appeared. It combines laughs, thrills and drama, constituting a novel and entertaining photoplay.

Miss Daniels is brought to the screen in the role of a typical New York girl, who plugs along day after day, but who has stage aspirations. This ambition is shared by Matt Wilde, a genial young man with gift for comfoley. The two put on an amateur skit during an "amateur night" at a bowery theatre, but their audience fails to appreciate them. One man in the audience, however, recognizes a spark of originality in their act. The girl's performance and her dynamic personality lead to success, which she achieves rapidly. The story, commencing in the United States, goes to France during the latter part of war days.

Many most interesting scenes of the picture are laid in the battlefields of Flanders. Three excellent vaudeville acts conclude an outstanding program of entertainment at Loew's for the first of this week. Max York offers a number of trained "pupils"—dogs who perform "canine capers" with rare dexterity. Al Abbot drew much applause in an individual act in which he admirably impersonates a number of characters at a "home talent show." The four Clifton sisters provide the feature turn in a presentation of unique acrobatic stunts. Adding flavor to the program a Pathe news film and "Cur Gang" photoplay are shown.

Peninsular Fair Expects $5,000

Special to The Advertiser. Chatham, June 8.—A government grant of $5,000 a year for ten years is expected by directors of the Peninsular Winter Fair. It was stated today by those who joined in a deputation which waited upon the minister of agriculture last Friday. The deputation hoped to secure the promise of a yearly grant of $10,000. As a result, it is altogether likely that accommodation arrangements will be of a temporary nature for the next fair. In the meantime the directors are considering other plans for securing permanent accommodation for subsequent fairs.

SEES LITTLE HOPE FOR WINNING TRIAL

Blue-Eyed John Scopes Wants Freedom of Thought in Schools.

CITES TEXT-BOOKS

By ROBERT T. SMALL. Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent. Copyright.

New York, June 8.—John T. Scopes, the young Tennessee teacher, who has suddenly become the focal point of all controversy over evolution or a strict acceptance of all that is set forth in the Bible, impresses you when you see him as just another youth who looks wide-eyed at the world. The wide-eyed illusion or impression is heightened by the big horn-rimmed glasses which cover the blue eyes of the youth. He is only 24, a mere stripling, and he looks particularly wide-eyed here in New York, which is somewhat of a far cry from Main street in Dayton, Tenn. Prof. Scopes, if one so young may be called professor, is here to confer with his rapidly-accumulating counsel. It is a sort of council of war—war against the stand-patters and the fundamentalists. There really is not much to confer about, however, for all the conferees gathered around the Tennessee teacher agree in their beliefs and doctrines. Furthermore they all agree that, in the parlance of the street, the young professor hasn't a Chinaman's chance at the trial which starts on July 10. The professor himself frankly admits that he can't see how the jury they will gather from in and around Dayton can do anything else but convict him.

The council of counsel, which began here today, may reach the decision to plunge on the move to squash the indictment on the ground of both vagueness and the unconstitutionality of a law which, it is claimed, transgresses the fundamental principle of the right of freedom in religious worship.

Young Scopes is no radical. He merely is a student of biology, and says no one can be a biologist and believe in anything but evolution. He has brought with him here to New York some of the best books approved for the schools of Tennessee. The books were approved before the anti-evolution statute was enacted, and they show that either the statute be repealed or ignored or the list of approved books must be cut down. One of the books, "A Civic Biology," definitely deals with evolution, and says:

"We have now learned that animal forms may be arranged so as to begin with very simple one-celled forms and culminate with a group which contains man himself."

That, says Prof. Scopes, is all he has taught in school—just what the approved books stated.

PORT FOLK MISS CITY'S SWELTER

Complete L. & P. S. Service Aids Sizzling Citizens Gain Relief.

The record-breaking heat wave and the resultant sudden burst of traffic to Port Stanley has caused the London & Port Stanley to revise its plans, and as a result the full summer train service will be provided every day, commencing tomorrow morning.

Under the new schedule, which has been brought forward from June 15 to meet the emergency, there will be trains every hour in each direction between London, St. Thomas and Port Stanley, and those who delight in a refreshing visit to the "Coney Island of Western Ontario" will find that all trains will operate through to the beach terminal.

The summer excursion fares have been in effect for some time, namely, 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children for the round trip from London, and 30 cents for adults and 15 cents for children for the round trip from St. Thomas.

The traffic to Port Stanley during the past week has shattered the records for the corresponding periods of the last few years, and has demonstrated how important a part the weather plays in the prosperity of the people's railway.

The band concert presented on Sunday afternoon on Invererie Heights proved a musical treat for the thousands of London and district people who attended. This is the first of a series that will delight the lovers of fine music in which the R.C.R. the First Hussars, the Western Ontario Regiment and London Veterans' bands of this city and the Elgin Regiment band of St. Thomas will be presented.

Rev. Dr. Crossley Officiates at Eventful, Interesting Ceremony.

Special to The Advertiser. St. Thomas, June 8.—The mortgage which has rested on Central Methodist church for the past 25 years was officially burned by Rev. H. T. Crossley, D.D., at an impressive congregation service this evening. The church was freed of debt at the 50th anniversary of the congregation last fall, but owing to the inability of Dr. Crossley to be present at the jubilee services this final ceremony was postponed.

Dr. Crossley, associated with the late Rev. Hunter, was largely instrumental in the dismantling of the old church and the erecting of the present edifice, and it was thought that one who had taken such a keen interest in the life history of the church and congregation would be the proper person to officiate at this final scene.

Held over a metal plate by Steward Bailey and A. MacDonald, representing the church bodies, the mortgage was ignited by Dr. Crossley, and was allowed to burn itself to an ember before the eyes of the assembled adherents and members of the church.

Says Pilots of the Sky Digress In Talk of Shingle and the Dress

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, June 8.—Delegates to the Toronto Methodist conference today were told by Rev. J. C. Endicott, D.D., that they had been bothering young people too much with talk about "bobbed hair and short skirts and other fool things," instead of what really mattered in regard to religion. Dr. Endicott said that the youth of today preferred Dr. Fosdick and Dr. Bland to other preachers because they believed they were "braver," honest and more penetrating than the rest, and because they believe they are not so loyal to shibboleths as they are to Christ.

"The fundamentalists—and I do not know who they are—are going to split the churches if they have their way," continued Dr. Endicott. "They are causing confusion. If we do not have a revival of religion, we are going to have a revival of theological squabbles which will be a disgrace to the whole Christian church. There are millions of white people living without any church. If we can't reach these people, then God will have to raise up another church."

Dangerous Precedent.

A train on the M. C. R. carrying the firemen's brotherhood from Detroit to Niagara Falls made the 240-mile trip in 198 minutes, which is around 70 miles an hour. This lowers the previous record of 217 minutes which was made some time ago, and was considered mighty fast travelling.

If the railroadmen wanted to have such a fast passage by themselves why couldn't they have arranged beforehand to do the thing without any person knowing about it—go out like ships that sail under sealed orders from the admiralty?

Can't they see what a commotion they have started among all the drivers of automobiles? The drivers of those flying engines, for there were three of them a respectable distance apart, could go roaring along on two steel rails, blowing their whistles for level crossings, and people would scold and hop for safety.

Now, is there not a danger that drivers of cars, even of ancient vintage, will catch a new and dazzling vision of what can be done? The driver will recall the day when out on the tenth concession he touched 47 miles an hour and had to stop at the first drug store to get smelling salts for his wife. He had that feeling of reckless abandon that comes only three or four times in a life. He'll read about those flying trainmen, see that figure 70 miles an hour and reckon there's a 25-mile difference in there that represents a thrill he's missed. So out he'll go; what does he care for another quarter's worth of smelling salts, and he'll be tooting, honking and snorting away at pedestrians who desire above all else to quit jumping and climbing trees in this hot weather.

Heat Prostration.

Heat prostrations are not frequent in Canada, largely because we seldom have conditions to warrant them. That does not mean that we are a stronger people, because if we had continued heat forming an entirely unnatural condition, prostrations would undoubtedly follow.

The blood in human beings is at 98.4-5 degrees, and when that is exceeded by the heat outside we come to the point where there is danger. In many cases prostration that is not fatal is similar to a fainting spell that results from a close, oppressive atmosphere. In more excessive cases, where fatal results follow, this condition gives way to one where a very high fever ensues, due to the disturbance of the thermic centers of the body. Doctors say it is not necessarily an affliction that follows old age, and statistics show that old people are not much more liable to heat prostration than young.

Medical men describe it as a general collapse due to outside conditions, from which the average constitution has sufficient reserve power to rally under proper treatment.

The Druggists Did Well.

The drug stores that sprang up in Toronto to defy law, and for one purpose of selling liquor, have been put out of business, according to a report made to the Council of Pharmacy by its own committee.

The way in which these places were put out of business is a demonstration of what can be done when effective action is taken, and also that laws can be enforced. The license board and the College of Pharmacy took action that was quietly effective, and cancelled the licenses. The clerks who took a chance on working in such places soon found they were in danger of losing their standing.

The druggists are to be commended on the steps they took to protect their own business. They are zealous of the standing of their profession and it is to their credit that they are determined to keep it clean.

Being Dog-Catcher in Peterborough.

Being the official dog-catcher in Peterborough is not such a simple matter as might appear on the surface. Offhand, and without looking up the Municipal Act, one might guess that the business of the dog-catcher would be to catch dogs. That's as simple as it is apparent and as apparent as it is simple, but, according to the Peterborough Examiner it does not work out that way at all. The official must have a streak of diplomacy in him; he must get just those dogs whose presence in the dog cart will not raise a cry. "There goes my prize poodle!"

Judging from the remarks in the Peterborough paper, dogs just naturally divide into several classes. There's the mongrel that makes his home in many places; he's a specialist in garbage cans, and can go with the unerring precision of a homing pigeon to the homes where the framework of a rooster gets thrown out without being bleached for soup. He knows the tulip beds where it is easiest to cache a bone. Instinct and education have taught him many things that a dog with a pedigree and doused with flea powder knows nothing about. The trouble seems to be in Peterborough that when the dog-catcher starts after this animal he's not where the official saw him last. He got early training by being kicked under the back shed when the assessor came around, and the great truth was established in his young mind that there were enemies in the land.

On the other hand, some of the Peterborough dogs are just naturally easy marks. They fall for the dog-catcher as easily as some humans succumb to oil stocks and some new-fangled sort of silver polish. Just a few weeks ago a hound belonging to the Deputy-Speaker of the Commons at Ottawa was scooped in by the dog-catcher in Peterborough while his master was busy trying to keep the steaming statesmen from saving the nation too abruptly. So there's indignation in the city. The official catcher can't catch the dogs that should be caught because they're too smart, and he even up the score by caging the easy marks, the trusting, perfumed, pedigreed dogs that shouldn't be caught.

Being mayor of Peterborough would be a more desirable occupation than acting as official dog-catcher. His worship gets his blame and praise and honor mixed in fairly even quantities, but the dog-catcher gathers to himself no praise, no honor, but just large sections of blame.

Improving the Ontario Hospital.

The fact that $60,000 is to be spent on enlarging and improving the Ontario hospital in London brings to mind other changes that have been brought about not only at the institution but in the public's conception of what it is. It is very seldom that it is ever referred to as "London asylum," because the word "hospital" tells the story better, and people know and admit it.

The Ontario hospital is in reality, as well as in fact, an institution where mental disorders are treated. The trouble is regarded just as much a disease as any of the many cases that go to other hospitals, and the aim of the specialists who make a study of these cases is to remove the disease.

Fortunately the public mind has undergone a change in regard to the Ontario hospital at London, and to other places doing a similar work. One of the most erroneous impressions, and one that was very hard to weed out, was that the institution was a place where crazy people were locked and held in confinement. The people, many of them, actually believed this to be the case. They had never been through the buildings; they knew nothing of the care that was given to each individual case, nor of the study made to try and locate and, if possible, remove the cause of the mental disorder.

It would not be possible, either, to have large numbers of persons shown through the hospital. Yet the public conception of the work carried on has undergone a vast change. People are beginning to realize that mental disorders, taken in their early stages, can be checked and not allowed to turn into progressive maladies. Light, sunshine, fresh air, quiet and rest are the chief factors used.

These are the reasons why it is desirable that needed extensions should be made. The care of an unbalanced mind is not a case for physical force, shackles and confinement. It has developed to a science where skilled and devoted men are studying day after day in an effort to push back the curtain and probe into the mystery that surrounds that baffling condition when a human mind ceases to function properly.

Montreal has a case of vandalism on its hands that has found vent in chopping down trees planted on "The Road of Remembrance." There were in all 840 trees planted there four years ago, one for each Montreal soldier who fell in the great war, a name being fastened to each tree. So far twenty-five of these trees have been chopped down, the raids being made at intervals. Deportation would be the proper sentence for such dirty work, the only drawback being that no country would open its gates for the reception of such a thug.

To June Brides

This trainin' husband's quite an art, be firm and dominate the show, and train the beggar for a spell into the ways that he should go.

Ah, dear June bride, I see you come, I see the gifts and presents too, so we will stop with thee a spell and sing a verse or so to you. For now the courtin' days be spent, the time of chasin' has been run, and now you'll demonstrate as how that two can live as cheap as one.

And when your weddin' day has come the folks will flock to see the show, they'll pelt old boots upon your brow and weep because they see you go.

A husband is a rare old beast, be not expectin' much from him, for most of them be fickle like with temper like six kinds of sin.

So when you've lived with him a spell you'll find the things folks say is right, and you'll be lookin' out the gate a-wonderin' where he's gone tonight.

And when he comes unto the door and enters in at half-past two, don't let the tales that he will spring draw sympathetic tears from you. He may be tellin' how he met a friend of his upon the street, who suffered from a stomach ache and bunions clustered on his feet.

This friend he needed help just then to get unto the place he dwelt, your man will tell you of his woe and of the sympathy he felt, and how he had to go with him and place him gently on his cot, and after that he had to wait to see if he would die or not.

Ah, bride, fall not for guft like this, it's nothing but domestic sin, just wallof him upon the jaw and on him bounce the rollin' pin.

And when his pay day comes around, you be on guard until you're through, until you make him take his wad and hand the duvats on to you. Then if you care to let him go and spend a tiny little bit, why train him young so that he'll come quite humble like and ask for it.

And when you turn, you bride of June, and mix strange things for him to eat, be firm in all you say or do, and bind the beggar to your feet. Or if you make lead biscuits first, or turn a heavy jellycake, don't let him prattle of the things his mother's oven used to bake.

In all these things, fair bride of June, insist as how you run the show, be firm, my dear, and train the beast along the way that he should go.—ARK.

To the Editor

Use Sulphur Water.

Londoner Recalls Days When Sulphur Baths Were in Existence, and Wants That Used For Swimming Pool.

Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir,—As a citizen and ratepayer of this fair city, I would suggest that the city consider that everlasting flow of mineral water running to waste at the foot of Dundas street. The expenditure in linking this up with the Thames park pool would be very small. It would not require a very large pump (if any at all) to force this water over that short distance. The citizens of London will probably recollect a report made by eminent analysts a few years ago that London had mineral water second to none in comparison with other mineral waters of the world running to waste at the rate of thousands of gallons daily.

The system employed since the Thames pool was installed of filling it up and leaving it stand for a week could be eliminated by having a constant running stream from the sulphur springs and a constant outlet of the same water, thereby maintaining practically a full tank of clean, invigorating mineral water at all times. Most of the present grown-ups will recollect the days of the old sulphur pool and baths at the foot of Dundas street, and what could be better for the present young generation, and older ones too, than a large free tank of this water? Besides the benefit derived it would be good advertising for the city. Thanking you for space,

J. W. BOYCE.

A touring car pulled up at the side of the street and the tourists emerged. One of them was a woman fairly well along in years. She had on a set, or was it a pair, of those khaki knickers, a fairly nice white blouse and a nice-looking Sunday bonnet. We were glad to see you, sister. Come again.

The Triumph of Science Applied to the kitchen

IN the first place, it is so clean. You would scarcely believe what a difference the Moffat Electric Range makes in freeing you from the tyranny of dust, soot, smoke, ashes, and other inconveniences.

In the next place, Moffats Electric Ranges cook so much more exactly. You can regulate the heat to just what you want. You can have a hot broiling fire for a steak, or you can have heat enough just to keep the kettle simmering.

Then take the oven. The heat of a Moffat oven is exactly even. The new Heat Deflector spreads the heat to the front and into every corner. You can control the heat of the Moffat oven as easily as you can turn on the electric lights. The Mercury Thermometer indicates the exact temperature.

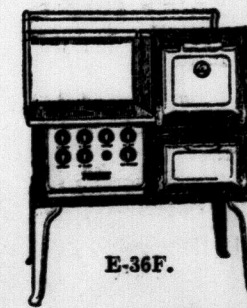

Because of its scientific construction, the Moffat Oven will roast to utter perfection without causing undue shrinkage or drying up of the meat.

Moffats Electric Ranges are economical of power and they are safe. All electric connections are made outside the range itself. There is not the slightest possibility of fused wiring, or leaking current. Moffats elements are more durable. They save power.

There are many other features. Any good electrical dealer will be glad to demonstrate the Moffat. When you see it, you will be impressed by its beauty of appearance, with its shining nickel and white enamel.

Moffats Electric Ranges are made in many different sizes, including models to suit apartments, flats, duplex houses and homes with larger kitchens. Also for Hotels, Restaurants and public institutions.

Holidays in Muskoka are pleasant days of never-ending variety. The three-bordered, shadowy rivers and inviting ice-dotted lakes of this famous vacation country form an ideal setting for slim canoes or graceful sailboats, while well-planned golf links, ideal tennis courts and airy dancing pavilions add to the list of Muskoka's attractions.

BELIEVES WIFE'S LOVE WILL SAVE HIM FROM GALLOWS

Russell Scott, in Shadow of Scaffold, Still Has Hope.

ONE LAST EFFORT

Chicago, June 8.—The shadow of the scaffold, like a grinning phantom, haunts the cell in the county jail where Russell Scott, found guilty of the murder of Julius Maurer in April, 1924, awaits death and where he paces the floor like a caged tiger.

"The noose, the noose, and nothing between me and it but Cathy's love, and—her last $75. Those last precious dollars, that went to defray the expense of Scott's counsel, Leslie Whelan and C. P. MacAuley, who left Chicago for Springfield today to present a motion for a rehearing of the case before the supreme court of Illinois.

"And now," says Cathy, the pretty, loyal wife of the condemned man, "now I have to go to work. I don't mind—I'd do a great deal more than that to help R. T., but work is hard to find and there's nothing in particular that I can do. In the old days, and it seems so long ago though it's only two years, I never thought that I'd have to earn my own living—or earn money to save my husband's life. In the old days we always had money—lots of it. Then it disappeared over night."

Mrs. Scott referred to the winter of 1923 when her husband's brokerage firm went to the wall and his fortune of a million dollars went with it.

FIRST METHODIST LEAGUE.

A delightful departure from the regular indoor meetings of the young people's league of the First Methodist church was a motor trip to Springfield last evening and an enjoyable picnic supper followed by jolly games. Over 100 were present. Miss Lillian Walton was the convener of the supper and Lisle Rooke, assisted by Miss M. S. convention in charge of the sports program, which included races and an exciting game of softball between the quarterly meeting of the church and the girls of the league. The former won with a score of 6-2.

RIDOUT STREET LEAGUE.

The missionary department was in charge of the regular meeting of the young people's league of the Ridout street Methodist church last night and the missionary vice-president, Miss Jean Phelan, occupied the chair and also read the scripture lesson. A piano duet was given by Miss Luella Holmes and Miss Hazel Coles, and Miss Roda Proctor and Miss Rose Asbury contributed a vocal duet. The topic was taken by Jim Blair, who spoke interestingly on "Japan's St. Francis of the Slums."

The contest for attendance and membership is succeeding. Last night there were 50 present and five new members were added to the roll. Final arrangements were made at the meeting for the league members to take charge of the evening service on Sunday, and plans were also made for the members to hold a picnic at Springfield next week, as it is the league's social evening.

At the regular monthly meeting of the W. M. S. of the Dundas Centre Methodist church, held yesterday afternoon in the ladies' parlor, Mrs. W. E. Millson, who attended the recent W. M. Next Monday night the meeting is to take the form of a reception for young people desiring to join the league.

The lesson from the studybook, "Chinese Lanterns," was taken by Mrs. Jones. The band decided to hold its final meeting a week from next Monday, when it will take the form of a social.

Following the business of yesterday's meeting a short program was much enjoyed. It included piano solos by Donna Dye and Beth Duguid, and a reading by Betty Weames. The afternoon was closed with prayer by Mrs. Jones.

SOUTHERN CONGREGATIONAL.

This was followed by an interesting discussion on the topic. L. R. Anderson occupied the chair, and as this was the consecration meeting of the church, the members repeated the pledge and responded to the roll call with a verse of Scripture. Dr. H. D. Taylor presided over the business session, when it was decided to hold a debate on June 30 at which time the Intermediate society will be in charge of the meeting.

SOUTHERN M. B.

The closing meeting of the Mission Band of the Southern Congregational church was held yesterday afternoon and the story "Little King David" was completed by the assistant superintendent, Mrs. Rodda. Plans were made to hold a picnic on June 20. The following were awarded books

WEDDINGS

GUEST—MORAE.

A pretty but quiet church wedding was solemnized on Saturday, June 6, at 12 o'clock, in St. George's Anglican church, Sarnia, when Miss Ida Mae McRae of Toronto became the bride of Robert Charlton Guest, also of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Colly, in the presence of the immediate relatives of both parties.

The bride, who is a daughter of The Rev. Canon Colly, was given away by her brother, William McRae, and looked lovely in her silk crepe, with large picture hat to match. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Mildred McRae, of Toronto, wearing a lovely green tulle frock, was the maid of honor. Her flowers were sweet peas and lilies of the valley.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Guest left by train for Montreal and other eastern cities. The bride's travelling wrap was of black silk bengaline, with gray fur trimmings. On their return they will reside in their new home on Waverley road, Toronto.

SHERWOOD—KEADLE.

A quiet wedding was solemnized by Rev. Finlay Matheson at Stratford recently, when Miss Dorothy Keadle, daughter of Mrs. W. Keadle, Kewtown, England, was united in marriage to Thomas Sherwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sherwood of Stratford. Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood will reside in Stratford.

PARKINSON—HARDING.

On June 6, at high noon, beneath a natural arch of spruce and honey-suckle, a very pretty June wedding took place at the home of Mr. Fred Harding, 7th concession, London township, when the only daughter, Mary Gladys, became the bride of Thomas Parkinson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Parkinson.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful gown of white georgette and crepe de chine. Her veil was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and Ophelia roses. Rev. A. J. Love of Siloam circuit officiated.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served in the dining room, which was prettily decorated with streamers and white bells. Early in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Parkinson left by motor for Hamilton and Toronto, the bride travelling in a green ensemble suit with hat to match. On their return they will read of Bible stories for regular attendance at the mission band meetings: Teresa Byrnes, Edna Pellam, Vera Pellam, Shirley Byrnes, Gordon Dean, Violet Movat and Carl Byrnes.

EMERSON AVENUE LEAGUE.

The missionary department of the Young people's league of the Emerson avenue Methodist church was in charge of the regular meeting last evening with Miss Margaret Bowie in the chair. The scripture lesson was read by J. A. Guymer, after which Mr. Graham and Miss Jones rendered a duet. Miss Viola Mitchell gave a splendid paper on "The Early Missionary." The business session was presided over by the president, J. A. Guymer.

INTERMEDIATE ENDEAVOR.

The regular meeting of the Intermediate Christian Endeavor society of the Southern Congregational church was held last night, with Jack Osborne presiding. He also read the scripture lesson. Henry Welburn led in the devotional exercises. An excellent paper on "Why I Believe in God" was given by Miss Mildred Hawks, and it was followed by a very interesting discussion on the subject. As this was the consecration meeting of the society, the members repeated the pledge and also responded to the roll call with a verse of Scripture.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL.

An exceptionally interesting debate featured last night's meeting of the young people's society of the First Congregational church. The topic was "Resolved that the world owes more to navigation than to railroads." The affirmative was taken by Miss Margaret Stevens and Miss Irene Smart, and Miss Phyllis Bock and Miss Hilda Gray upheld the negative. The judges were Miss L. J. Wrixton and Miss Annie Moule, and the final decision was made with one point in favor of the affirmative. Miss Kitty Munday arranged the meeting. A trombone solo was given by William Reid, after which there was a short business meeting, during which arrangements were made to hold the annual election of officers at the final meeting of the season next Monday night. Plans were also discussed for a picnic to be held at primebank on June 29, and a report of the recent garden party was given.

Miss Lena Hyde, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, with Mrs. Joseph Davies as best man. The bride wore a smart tailored suit with blue hat to match, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and carnations. An ensemble suit in henna shade and hat to match was worn by the bridesmaid, who also carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and sweet peas. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a dinner ring, to the bridesmaid a bar pin, and to the best man a gold knife.

About forty guests were present at the reception which followed the ceremony in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce left on a wedding trip for points east, the bride travelling in a gown of blue canton crepe with wrap and hat to match. On their return they will take up their residence in London.

Vitamines in Fish

Besides being a tasty, nutritious and economical food, fish is rich in the very vitamins which are so necessary to good health.

Encourage the children to eat fish at least once a day. The vitamins in fish foods will promote growth and help to build strong, sturdy little bodies.

For business men — "inside workers" — fish is the ideal food. It keeps one feeling fit. It lends happy and healthful variety to the meals and, being very digestible, eliminates the heavy after dinner feeling.

Fish is preparable in a variety of tempting and appetizing ways. The free cook book which we will send you on request contains scores of recipes.

WALKED THE FLOOR FOR HOURS NERVES WERE SO BAD

Wherever there are people who are troubled with deranged nerves they will find in Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a remedy that will restore the equilibrium of these deranged centers and bring back the shattered nervous system to a perfect condition.

Mrs. W. W. Aulhouse, Woodrout, Ont., writes: "After having a severe attack of bronchitis I was left in a very weak, run-down condition; my nerves were all broken up; could not sleep at night, and would have to get out of bed and walk the floor for hours."

"After using a box of

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

I began to feel much better, and after taking a few more boxes I could enjoy my rest as well as I ever did. I always recommend them to all my friends."

CHINA DISTURBED BY SOVIET'S PLOT

Reds Already Are Gathering Forces To Seize Neighboring Nation.

By J. RUSSELL KENNEDY.
Special Despatch to The Advertiser and the Chicago Daily News. Copyright.

Tokio, June 8.—From Canton to Peking and from the far interior province of Szechuan to the mouth of Yangtze river on the Pacific Ocean, China is seething and sporadically exploding.

Reports from Canton show that real war has broken out between the Yunnanese and Cantonese. The foreign concession, Shamoen, is isolated, the bridge and gates being closed, while across the river little Canton government gunboats are spitting shells. The city is completely in the hands of the Yunnanese generals who profess loyalty to the cause of the late Sun Yat Sen.

Unrest in Peking is increasing, while reports from interior points show the riot is spreading. Students are parading, demonstrating, demanding boycotts against the British and Japanese.

Lengthy despatches from Washington, detailing information showing that Russia shortly expects to secure control of China, has been the cause of a number of important hastily called conferences in high places here. There is every reason to believe the expose did not cause surprise, but rather consternation, because it is deemed dangerously exact, also premature.

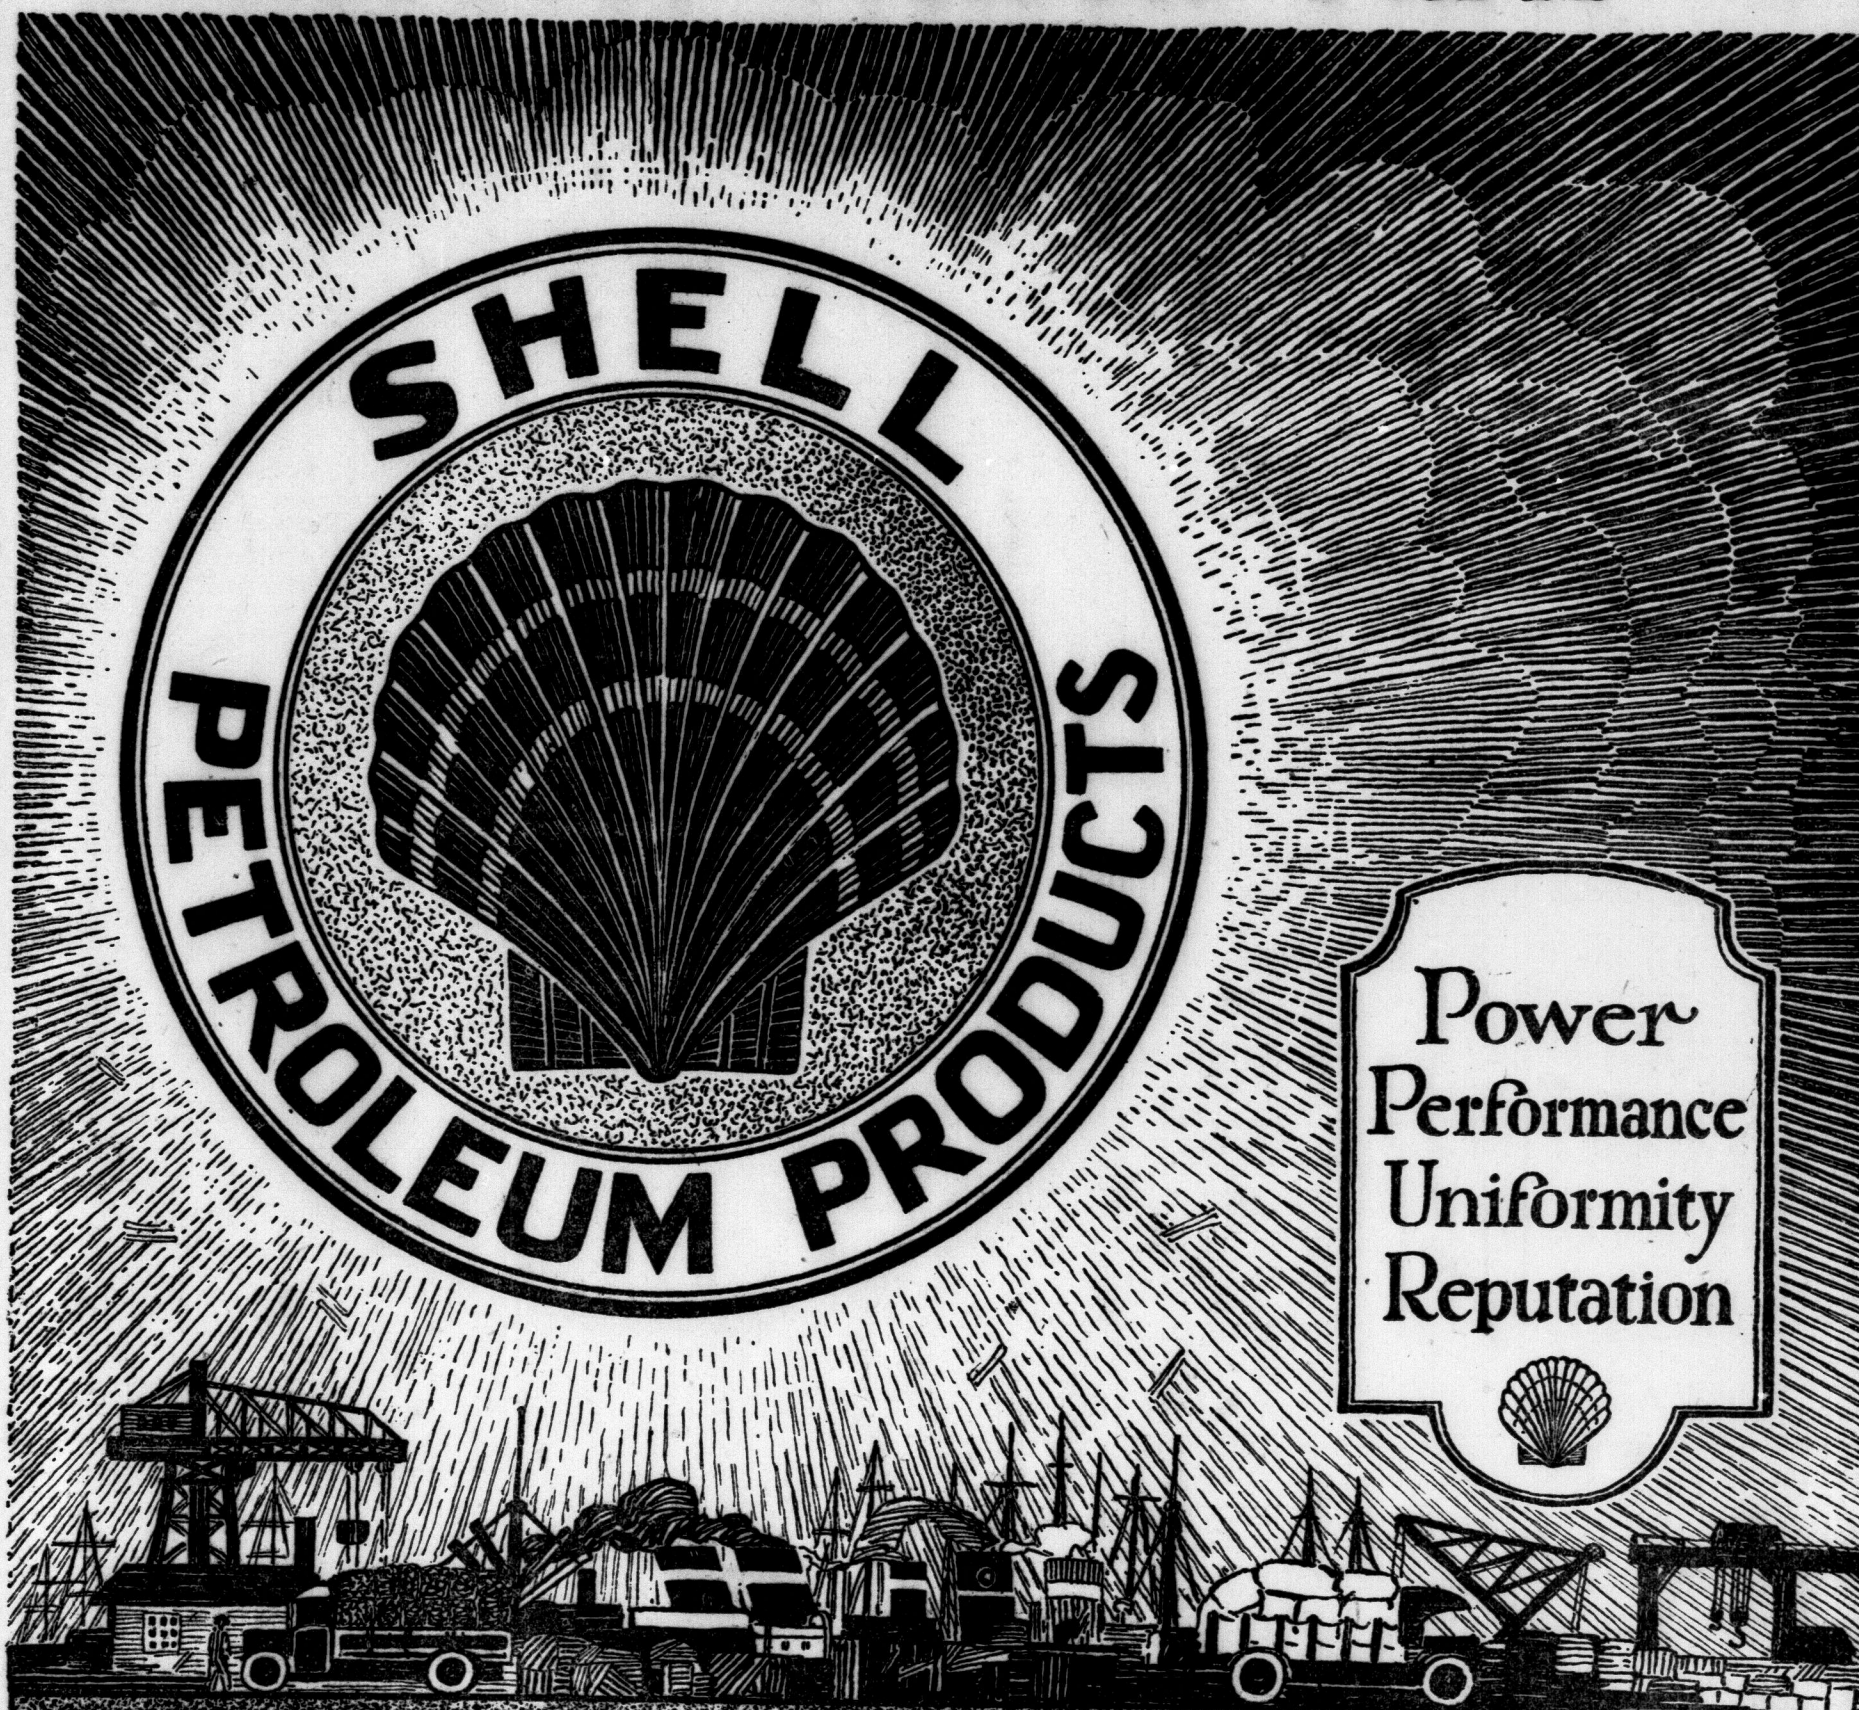

FISH ARE BITING IN KAWARTHA LAKES.

Enthusiastic fishermen in the Kawartha Lakes district are sending back reports already of wonderful catches of fish. The dozen lakes, large and small, which make up the chain, all have a reputation for fine fishing. Speckled trout are caught in the rivers and smaller lakes; in the larger lakes there are maskinonge, small mouthed black bass and lake trout.

Access to all the lakes is very easy. There is an abundance of accommodation at hotels and farm houses, or you can take your choice of hundreds of fine camping sites. Ask any Canadian National Railways agent for illustrated booklets, rates, fares, or any other information.—Adv.

Fiala Urges Giant Airship Start Hunt For Amundsen

Noted Explorer Believes Los Angeles Would Find Missing Fliers.

PLAN IS DISCUSSED

Special to The Advertiser and the North American Newspaper Alliance. Copyright, 1925.

New York, June 8.—The sending of the naval dirigible Los Angeles in search of the missing Amundsen-Ellsworth party was urged today by Anthony Fiala, the Arctic explorer.

"Such a flight would be a superb humanitarian measure," said Mr. Fiala. "It would also be a trip of the greatest value to the cause of exploration and to the science of air navigation. I believe the Amundsen-Ellsworth party will be found somewhere north of Cape Columbia, and I think the Los Angeles will have no great difficulty in finding them."

"Of course the attempt should be made only after the most careful consideration of equipment and personnel. My theory of Amundsen's failure to return is that it took him some time to locate the pole and he was then too short of fuel to reach his Spitzbergen base. The natural thing for a veteran explorer to do under such circumstances would be to head towards the American continent, which is nearer by over 200 miles than his base at Kings Bay, and where there is game and an assurance of practical travel toward the Danish settlements in Greenland."

SEARCH PRACTICABLE.

Washington, D.C., June 8.—The possibility of sending the Los Angeles in search of Amundsen was discussed by aviation experts here today. Although government officials would not speak for publication in advance of a possible declaration by President Coolidge or Secretary Wilbur, it was pointed out that the practicability of such a flight had been fully established last year when a polar trip was planned by Secretary Denby. The flight was abandoned only because President Coolidge desired special congressional authorization before incurring a large expense on a project intended mainly as a test.

TILSONBURG LAWYER HEADS ONTARIO BOARD

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, June 8.—Victor A. His appointment dates from July 1, when Mr. Price's resignation will also become effective.

BETTER IN EVERY WAY

After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ingomar, N.S.—"I took your medicine for a run-down condition and inward troubles. I had pains in my right side so bad at times that I could not walk any distance. I saw about Lydia E. Nervous Breakdown Relieved

Toronto, Ont.—"It is pretty hard to explain your feelings in nervous troubles. I felt low spirited, had pains in my head and eyes, always crying, and did not want to go anywhere. I do knitting and fancy work, and I would get irritable after a few minutes of work. I have been in Canada five years and have been this way ever since I came. I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I sleep better and it seems to make me eat, and I must say I am feeling more jolly. I have great faith in your medicine because of what it has done for my husband's sister, and she recommended it to me."—Mrs. A. SMITH, 10 Burleigh Ave., Toronto, Ont.

Simple Remedy
For Bad Stomach
Gives Quick Relief

No Need of Strong Medicines or Diet—Famous But Simple Old English Recipe Keeps Stomach in Fine Condition, Banishes After-Eating Drowsiness.

If you are a victim of Stomach Troubles—Gas, Sourness, Pain or Bloating—you may have quick and certain relief by following this simple advice: Don't take strong medicines, artificial digestants or pull down your system by following unnecessary unbalanced diets. Never hurry your meal or overeat of anything, but within reason most folks may eat what they like—if they will keep their stomachs sweet, clean and active and free from the souring acids that hinder or paralyze the work of digestion.

And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with a small amount of pure Bismarck Magnesia—a pleasant, harmless and inexpensive form of Magnesia that promptly neutralizes acidity and keeps your stomach sweet and clean.

A week's trial of Bismarck Magnesia, which may be obtained from any druggist for only a few cents, will easily convince you of the great value of this old English recipe.

Be sure and get BISMARCK Magnesia—not a laxative.—Adv.

CANADA TO POLICE ISLANDS IN ARCTIC

Will Organize Administration Body For Dominion's Discoveries.

Canadian Press Despatch. Vancouver, B.C., June 8.—The Sunday Province says: "During this summer Canada will organize an administrative body and police for all the islands that have been discovered in the Arctic region, and which the Dominion claims as part of this country."

For this purpose George P. Mackenzie, gold commissioner of the Yukon, who has arrived from the north, has been given the assignment, that, in point of territory over which he becomes the chief executive, is the most extensive that has been placed under the jurisdiction of any person herebefore, for it embraces that part of the Arctic on the Atlantic Ocean side as well as the Pacific. The first expedition to bring order into the Arctic outposts and to report on the natural resources of the far-off Canadian possessions, will leave on July 1, under the leadership of Mr. Mackenzie, who will have a staff of geologists and other experts in this party. En route to Ottawa to complete preparations for the first expedition, which will be by vessel to the North Atlantic, Mr. Mackenzie has arrived here.

While he would not deny the new undertaking to which he has been assigned, Mr. Mackenzie had nothing to say regarding the government's plans for the administration of the new territory.

FATAL SCALDING OF ORPHAN TOLD

Inmates of Montreal Orphanage Testify of Cruelty That Caused Death.

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, June 8.—Brother Usmar, charged with manslaughter in connection with the fatal scalding at the Huberdeau Orphanage of 7-year-old Hector Galarneau, an inmate, appeared for trial this morning in the court of king's bench. Some time was occupied by the choosing of a French-speaking jury, after which the hearing of testimony was started. Most of the witnesses are young inmates of the home.

Dr. A. Turcot of Huberdeau was called and described Hector's condition when he arrived to examine him after the scalding. The burns, said the physician, came up to the small of his back, where there was a distinct line of demarcation running about him like a belt. Extending upwards from this line were several small burned lines. The legs were burned from the feet to the knees. The thighs were burned all over except on the upper surface. The abdomen was not burned.

The doctor thought the water must have been about four inches deep. After his testimony the court adjourned.

CHICAGO DENIED REHEARING OF WATER DIVERSION CASE

Associated Press Despatch. Washington, June 8.—The sanitary district of Chicago was today refused rehearing of the appeal which it recently lost before the supreme court, arising out of the diversion of Lake Michigan waters.

The sanitary district insisted the court should review its decision, because it had erroneously construed the Canadian boundary waters treaty; had ignored permits for the opening of the drainage canal, and the enlargement of the Chicago river, which it contended was irrevocable, and had improperly constructed the effect of the permits granted by the government. In reaching its decision, it was argued, the court had not confined its opinion to the grounds taken by the government, but had applied other principles.

Under the decision today, the sanitary district must comply with orders of the secretary of war governing water withdrawals.

Kalamazoo, Mich., June 8.—Oliver Rittenbaugh, 22, died in Old Burgess hospital early today of injuries received yesterday when his parachute failed to open properly when he cut loose from a leaking balloon at a height of 500 feet. The parachute, according to observers, did not open until 50 feet from the earth and failed to protect Rittenbaugh.

The Kirk In Conclave

Presbyterian Assembly Hears Great Preachers—County Clerics Help City Brothers.

By R. E. KNOWLES, Special to The Advertiser
Toronto, June 8.—The business of the general assembly yesterday was the preaching of the Gospel—which hath much news value.

And as from time immemorial observed, the assembly selected and set apart, for the assembly kirk, two preachers. And a privilege seldom enjoyed, the one of them was Irish and the other Scotch. The former is by name Rev. R. K. Hanna, D.D., of Dublin, a pastor there; the latter, Rev. Arch Main, D.D., professor of church history in Glasgow college. Which started the wonder as to why there have not been more great Irish preachers. Strange, this, when you come to reflect on it, that Ireland, the fountain-head of the passionate, the romantic, the imaginative, has been infinitely less rich in poets or novelists than either England or Scotland, prosaic in comparison. And the same is true of preachers, especially—a great world preacher like Beecher or Liddon, Ireland has never had.

Under the Saddle.
In every way stimulating and instructive was Dr. Hanna's sermon yesterday morning, although—and this should really be seriously regarded—his audience had been under the saddle a whole steaming hour before the stalwart Irish divine had a chance at them. This is a form of cruelty that every anniversary preacher or preacher at any special occasion is well familiar with. His sermon dealt with the power and willingness of God to arrest the ravages of evil and the machinations of Satan at a certain stage of their activities, which was full of comfort for its own time and place—but with the collateral mystery of the pre-arranged period Dr. Hanna did not attempt to deal.

Rev. Dr. Main is very Scotch. That is not said in any spirit of disparagement, of course. He is that rather rare production, a professor and a good preacher still—all of this in full and reverent memory of Principal Grant and Professor Law. With a splendid voice (which will be heard in the arena on Wednesday next), a high mentality, a hidden and glowing passion, he is well equipped for his dual office. And it was refreshing, although he comes from where the dragons of orthodoxy are supposed to hold their court, to hear him distinctly say that creeds should be simpler, and that, while the soul is adrift without the doctrine of the Cross, he yet refused to tie himself to any exact theory of atonement of Jesus Christ.

The Unseen Power.
Nobody could look round upon the hundreds of preachers who yesterday sat at the feet of these preachers, both attested as masters, without sensing their evident desire to persuade their own great craft by learning, if they might, the Master's secret. This was especially to be seen on Saturday morning, when a great world-preacher, Dr. F. B. Meyer, addressed the assembly. Not, I suppose, that one can ever learn much by watching the skill of his superiors, however eagerly he peers. Phillips Brooks used to tell of how he and a country parson from Massachusetts went once to hear Spurgeon. Walking homeward in fitting silence, Brooks suddenly heard the curate say, "Well, I saw it." "Saw what?" replied the parson.

piled Brooks. "I saw the secret of his power," whereupon his companion, knowing the uncertainty of life, implored him also to communicate it. "Well," said the observant one, "didn't you notice that when he wanted to say anything very uplifting and inspiring he turned his hand up, and when he wanted to say anything very subduing and overawing he turned his hand down?"

The information volunteered by Dr. Brooks, that his clerical brother, he supposed, had come on from that day to this turning his hand upside down and upside up, and marveling that if there was no shaking of heads on Saturday morning there should have been, when Dr. Meyer so earnestly besought his brother ministers to be of the same method and cheerfulness in the same ideal. If all preaching were expository, or dogmatic, or "evangelical," or "worldly," both the church and the world would lose.

The good and great Dr. Meyer endorsed the opinion, on Saturday morning, that the "topical" preacher would run dry, all of the city pulpits exhausted; which must have brought to mind some unexhausted preachers, like John McNeill, New York, and like John Cameron, whose sermon stock seems like an autumn moon stock seems like an autumn moon.

Preachers Busy.
At the Knox college garden party on Saturday afternoon, it seemed that one couldn't speak to a minister's wife whose husband was not going to preach in one of the city pulpits yesterday, and very pretty it was to learn that in every case, especially those from the country, those ministers' wives were going nowhere else than where their own pastor was to officiate.

"I thought I'd just like to hear how Charlie sounds in a city pulpit," said one of radiant expectants, and it was easy to see that this idolatrous partner secretly felt that he should have been functioning in that exalted sphere all his life.

And closing—for it is cruel hot—why is it that, of all trades, jobs, professions, occupations, the ministry is the only one wherein the laborer will walk up to his brother toiler and say to him unflinchingly: "Sir, I want you without fee or reward, to do my work tomorrow." This will stand a little thinking over.

COMMONS PASSES ANTI-BETTING BILL
Measure For Suppression of Handbooks Given Approval by House.

Special to The Advertiser.
Ottawa, June 8.—Another important piece of government legislation was pushed forward in the Commons tonight. Hon. Ernest Lapointe's measure for the suppression of handbooks gambling by the prohibition of the publication and distribution of betting intelligence went through all but the final formal stage without meeting criticism.

This bill makes it an offence against the criminal code to publish betting odds and other information bearing on betting anywhere other than in the premises of a race meeting. The bill is the same as that submitted by Sir Lomer Gouin at the request of former Attorney-General Ranney of Ontario, which was passed by the Commons and thrown out by the Senate. It does not prohibit the publication of entries or the names of winning horses.

In many quarters it is anticipated that the Senate will again take a stand for personal liberty and reject the legislation. The same bill makes several other amendments to the criminal code. Among these is one providing imprisonment for terms varying from seven days to one year for persons convicted of driving motor cars while intoxicated.

Jury Views Remains of Child Found in Waterworks Pond.

Tilsonburg, June 8.—Coroner Dr. W. H. Bennett today opened an inquest into the circumstances surrounding the finding of the body of a babe in waterworks pond on Sunday. A jury was impaneled and viewed the body at Taylor's undertaking parlors, after which the hearing was adjourned until Tuesday, June 16.

Police Chief Carter and Provincial Officer Doyle are working on the case, but so far have found little clue upon which to work.

The jury is: William Kelly, (foreman), H. L. Johnson, T. W. R. Taylor, A. B. Richardson, Ed. Finch, Ansen Fawcett, Frank Rogers, James Rodgers and F. M. Cook.

WOMAN GIVEN LIBERTY BY TILSONBURG COURT
Special to The Advertiser.
Tilsonburg, June 8.—A woman, aged 22, whose name is being suppressed by the police in the hope that she will correct her ways, appeared before Magistrate Hare today on a charge of vagrancy. She was released on condition that she immediately leave town. She was in her charge and was allowed to go at that time. She did not return to town until Saturday last and was arrested on Sunday by Chief Carter.
