GRAND TRUNK CONDUCTORS SHAKING IN THEIR BOOTS

A MALE QUARTET

Expected Singers Failed to Show up at Providence Social but Chatham Men Make up for Deficiency

J. M. Pike, Geo. W. Sulman, J. M. Northwood, and C. H. Mills of Thos. Stone & Son's, formed an entertainment company Wednesday evening, and landed at Providence where a bazaar and tea meeting was in progress. They were primarily engaged as speakers, but when they arrived at the entertainment, they found to their sorrow that the musical part of the program had decided to remain in Chatham. It being such a long time since any of them had participated on the musical stage, they were rather rusty at first.

Mr. Sulman had rather an unfair advantage over the other members of the quartet. While he was in Germany and Italy recently he had the opportunity of hearing some of the very finest vocal talent on the Continent, and as a result he was on to all the latest dodges. It was rather hard for Mr. Mills, for being of larger dimensions than his brother artists, he found considerably more difficulty in moving around quickly on the stage. As a result he was the favorite target for the people in the audience. Mr. Northwood's notes were of a primary character. John is used to running the "scale." What he lost in singing, he made up at supper time. Mr. Pike assumed the "role" of thunder, and his well rounded voice not only provided ample bass for the various selections, but also came in handy in calling for order while the quartet was performing.

The item on the program which seemed to please the largest number of people was an instrumental gem, executed on a common mouth organ by some man who just happened along. This item was considerably extended by request of the performer himself. It was evidently a strain from a comic opera success and judging from the audience, they caught the spirit of the humor—and the strain.

Other numbers on the program were recitations by J. M. Northwood. It is unnecessary to add that the bazaar was a howling success.

ALL WANTED TO GO

The City Fire Department All Turned Out At The Call Of One Lady

The joke was on the members of the Fire Department the other night. The story leaked out, and since has become common property, though the members of the brigade endeavored to keep it a secret.

One night recently the dressmakers in one of the King St. stores were working overtime. When they got through with their work they had in hand it was after 12 o'clock, and as the stores were quite dark, one of the ladies who had quite a distance to go home, became decidedly nervous. She was afraid to go home alone. In her predicament she thought of an obliging young man of rather giant turn, who slept at the fire hall. A bright idea she would ring up the department and ask him to go home with her.

She never dreamed that the members of the department retire several hours before midnight.

"One, two, three, Central, please," she called up the Fire Hall.

"Clang! Clang! A very different scene was being enacted at the department. No sooner had the telephone rang than the night-alarm startled the inmates from their peaceful slumbers.

The horses snorted and pawed in their stalls in anticipation of the run, and several firemen who had been dreaming of benefit concerts with immense profits, tugs-of-war and theatrical managers had to leap from their cosy beds and into long rubber boots and overalls. There was a scramble down the brass pole.

The apparatus was all ready for action when the Chief reached the phone, and made the interesting discovery that the only alarm was that felt by a young lady who was afraid to go home in the dark alone.

All's well that ends well, however, and although the firemen lost a little sleep, the lady had an escort home, who saw to it that she met with no mishap.

KENT BOY HONORED

All of the boys from Raleigh and Tilbury East who go or have gone West, send home flattering reports as to their successes in their new homes, but not all of them are honored with Government positions as Am. Hugheson has recently been.

In a recent letter to his home he informs his parents that on Oct. 6th this year he was appointed by the Minister of Agriculture as Game Guardian for the Province of Alberta. While this is not altogether a sinecure, yet Mr. Hugheson gets a handsome little salary in connection with the job.

We are pleased to learn of his success in the West.—Merlin Mirror.

Two Have Been Dismissed And it is Rumored Many More May Follow

It is Said That The Loose Manner Of Collecting Fares Is The Root Of The Trouble

Special Correspondence.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—It is rumored here today that 12 or 14 Grand Trunk conductors, running from Toronto to Montreal, are to be dismissed. No definite information has so far been given out by the railway officials so far, but it is understood that the G. T. R. management contemplated making a wholesale dismissal.

Two dismissals took place this morning, and it is likely that others will follow shortly.

The direct cause of this action is not known, but it is rumored that it is in connection with the collection of fares.

The action of the management of the road came when it was least expected, and it has caused quite a stir in railway circles.

NATURAL GAS FOR FLETCHER

Volcano Oil & Gas Company Will Pipe The Village This Fall

NOTES FROM THE FIELD

Volcano Oil & Gas Co. expect to pipe Fletcher for gas this fall. Pipe has been ordered by this company to pipe the gas to Chatham.

The Chatham Co.'s well on the Purdy farm is now down about 780 feet and drilling still continues. Central Oil & Gas Co. have a well on the H. Cooper farm down to a depth of 1200 feet. Also on the J. W. Campbell farm at about the same depth, Chas. Gore, contractor, Miller & Warner have set up a derrick on F. C. Denison's farm at Stewart, lot 9, concession 11, M. R. S. Well No. 2 on the Wm. James' farm was shot on Tuesday and is a light producer.

The Broadbent well at Buxton is down about 700 feet and is hung up on a fishing job.

Drilling operations were ceased on the David Phillips' farm on Friday and the well shot on Saturday. Immediately after shooting, the well started to flow and considerable oil was lost owing to the absence of tankage. It was then shut off. The well is on lot S 1-2-7, M. R. S. and only a few feet from Merlin. It is good for about 15 barrels per day.

The well on the Nelson Ball farm was shot on Tuesday this week and responded nobly to the shot. She has already filled two large tanks and is considered by her owners to be worth at least 50 barrels per day.

Central Oil & Gas Co. have made a location on the Oscar Simard farm north of the Williams well at Fletcher.

Oil was struck on the J. H. Williams farm at 142 feet, rather deeper than the general run. This is good for about 50 barrels.

Roth, Barnard & Co. shot a good well on Tuesday on the Jas. Stevenson farm.

Another well was brought in on the Chas. Campbell farm on Wednesday, and still another is expected in in about a week.

A well on the Chas. Campbell farm has produced 1600 barrels of oil in 19 days and is still keeping up the pace.

P. C. Stevenson has rented his farm, lot 2, concession 9, to the Roth, Barnard Co., at a good figure.

Messrs. Scott, Spencer and other Wellville operators are erecting a rig on the Leperance farm, about two miles directly south of Tilbury.

Well No. 5 on the P. C. Stevenson farm for the Roth, Barnard Co. was shot on Tuesday and shows up for a splendid well—50 barrels.

Central Oil & Gas Co. have made a location on the R. C. church property about one-half mile north of the Purdy well.

A location has been made on the Al. Graham farm at Valetta and the rig was moved there on Wednesday. Jacques Everitt, contractor.—Merlin Mirror.

IS DOING WELL

Mr. A. Sheldrick has received a letter from E. P. Naylor, formerly bookkeeper with Thos. Stone & Son, of this city, and who was recently connected with the Nash, Carson & Naylor dry goods house of Winnipeg. Mr. Naylor is now in partnership with another gentleman in Glenboro, Man., where they are running a general store.

SOME INTERESTING LIGHT ON PRICE OF SCHOOL BOOKS

It Cost Copp Clark Co. $30,000 And Royalties To Get Into Ring

No Competition in Letting Contracts—Syndicate Of Three Firms

Toronto, Oct. 26.—Mr. Arnold W. Thomas, secretary-treasurer of the Copp-Clark Co., stated in his evidence before the Text Book Commission that the Canada Publishing Co. was at least a syndicate composed of members of the three firms, W. J. Gage & Co., Warwick Bros. and the Copp-Clark Co., and that there was no competition. The Copp-Clark Co. paid $30,000 for the place of Thomas Nelson & Son in the syndicate, and in addition continued a royalty on the trade price varying from 2 1/2 to 5 per cent. A new agreement was made in February, 1906, by which the Nelson firm was to get 2 1/2 per cent. on first readers, and 5 per cent. on third and fourth readers.

Macmillan and other companies had the copyright for many selections which it was desired to use in the Ontario Readers, and for these the "Schoolbook ring" had to pay large sums.

Mr. Frank Wise, president of the Canadian Macmillan Co., said he did not think the fourth reader, for which 40 cents is charged, is worth more than 15 cents.

E. F. Townner and Albert Britnell spoke of the effect on the retail trade. They would like fair prices maintained.

How Firm Shared Business. E. H. Caswell of the Methodist Book Room, said the firm published books in use in the high schools, some being authorized.

"And the other publishers came to us and threatened to compete with us unless we came to terms with them," he said.

"Did they let you into the Readers?"

"Not likely."

"So that although they have no contract they are sharing the business with you?"

"That is just it."

"Do you make a return to the Government of the number of sales?"

"Yes, but I can't say if that includes those sold by Gage and the others."

"What was your agreement with Gage & Co.?"

"I could not say off hand."

"Were there any other agreements?"

"Yes, one in connection with the Latin Primer, in which Gage took advantage of the contract law. They came to us with an ultimatum that we should either make a deal with them or they would endeavor to cut us out, and we are now selling to them at the rate of 6 1/2 cents a copy, and that includes the royalty of 2 1/2 cents."

Never Encouraged. His firm had never been able to get a contract from the Government, because of the copyright plea.

"We wanted to get in, but on fair terms and not at the caprice of the Government, and considered, as an old house, we should have had a chance. We protested against the monopoly," said Mr. Caswell.

"And the answer was?"

"That the three firms had the exclusive right to publish."

"If you had taken a contract, it would have been at the risk of being sued in regard to copyright."

"Yes, and the Government did not offer to minimize the risk in any way."

Rose Co. Kept the Readers. George M. Rose, manager of the Hunter-Rose Co., testified that in 1894 a five-years' contract had been received from the Government to publish the Public School Euclid and Public School Algebra. He gave considerable information about prices and royalties.

As to copyrights, a good many in the High School Reader were accorded free.

The Gage Co. had wanted to break in on this, but the Hunter, Rose Co. would not stand for it. Then Mr. Gage had gone to the Premier, Mr. Ross, concerning copyright, but to no purpose.

Fred Casman said that a $1 book, which cost the retailer 75 cents, was now to be sold at 90 cents, owing to competition.

The Commission will not meet again until next week, when Mr. Townner will again be called.

A VERY SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL

On Wednesday evening the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends held a social evening in their hall, over Go-don's Store, for the members and their friends. The hall was tastefully decorated for the occasion with flags and bunting. The first part of the evening was taken up with a good program, and was listened to with much enjoyment by all present.

Light refreshments were served, after which games were played, which everyone took part in and enjoyed for a few hours.

After singing God Save the King, the gathering broke up shortly before the midnight hour, everyone present pronouncing the social a good one, and all having had a fine time.

QUITE A DIFFERENCE, TOO. Johnny, queried the teacher of the juvenile class, what is the difference between electricity and lightning?

Well, you don't have to pay nothing for lightning, answered Johnny.

ESCAPE A MIRACLE

Walter Anderson Meets With Serious Accident In Gray's Factory—A Close Call

Walter Anderson, a young lad about 16 years of age, who lives on Queen street, met with a rather serious accident while at work in Wm. Gray & Sons carriage works this morning.

The mishap occurred at about 11.30 this morning. Young Anderson was standing in the elevator, which was some distance up when the cage dropped to the floor beneath, throwing the unfortunate young man violently to the ground.

Burrows ambulance was summoned at once and the injured boy was taken to a surgeon's office, where his wounds were attended to.

He is not thought to be seriously injured, but his face about the chin was somewhat lacerated. Those who saw the accident say that it is a miracle that he was not killed.

NO CIGARETTES

Manager Parkin of the Lindsay junior hockey team last year, and who will probably handle the team again this season, has been giving an interview, in which he makes the following observations:

"The second consideration was the type of player we wanted. The first requirement was that he should be what is known in sporting circles as 'straight,' which means he will always do his best and cannot be bought. Next, he must not drink intoxicants or smoke cigarettes. The cigarette end of it troubled some of the boys, but those who had a few 'sub-rosa' at least out the number down so materially that they were in pretty fair condition. This year it is NO CIGARETTES or no hockey. If the game is not worth the cigarettes, stick to the cigarettes."

DR. CAMPBELL IN CHATHAM

Noted Divine Conducting
Services in William St.
Baptist Church

HE OPENED THE CHURCH

The William street Baptist church was filled with an attentive audience last night who had gathered to listen to Dr. J. L. Campbell, of Boston, who is here conducting a few nights meetings previous to the anniversary services, which are to be held in the church on Sunday next. Dr. Campbell is pastor of one of the leading churches in Massachusetts and has made a name for himself both as a preacher and orator among all denominations of the United States. He is a Canadian by birth, but for several years has resided in the American Republic where he has forged his way to the front rank of American preachers. Previous to his present pastorate, he was for 15 years the loved and honored pastor of the Lexington avenue Baptist church, New York City. He is a mature aged man of strong personality, rather stout in build and possesses one of the most impressive and sympathetic natures. His voice is clear and resonant, and his manner of expression is deliberate and impressive.

It is 38 years since Dr. Campbell was pastor of the William street Baptist church in this city, so he stated last night, and at that time the congregation was worshipping in a small building on the corner of King and William streets. Thirty-eight years ago last August the church was organized, and the same evening Dr. Campbell was ordained and became the pastor. It was during his pastorate that the present church edifice was erected. The speaker remarked on the growth of the church and also the rapid progress of the city since he was a citizen here, and was glad to note that the church had grown to be such a large and influential factor in the community.

For the first night's discourse, Dr. Campbell selected a text from Ez. 36: 37, and preached a very powerful and impressive sermon on the subject of "Prayer," in which he dealt with the importance of prayer, the reasonableness of prayer, and the efficacy of prayer. Several limitations to prayer were mentioned by the speaker, such as, God only promises to answer the prayer of the unconverted for the forgiveness of sin; God will grant only the requests that are promised in His word; God reserves to Himself the time, place and manner of answering our prayers. He answers them in one of two ways, either directly or indirectly. One of the most impressive parts of the service was where the speaker pointed out what prayer is and his earnest exhortation to true prayer.

Dr. Campbell will preach in the church again to-night and twice on Sunday, and it is expected that the church will be crowded at all these services. At the meeting last night several roses for prayer. The church is to be congratulated on securing the services of this noted divine for their anniversary occasion, which is due in a large measure to the efforts of the pastor of the church, Rev. J. W. Hoyt.

TOWER CLOCKS FOR CHATHAM

New Ones To Be Installed
On Market Will Fill Long
Felt Want

BUILDING GOING AHEAD

The work on the new Market Hall is progressing rapidly, and Contractor Gallagher, told a Planet reporter this morning that it was expected that the meat stalls would be finished and ready for occupation by Dec. 1, at the latest. The brick work is now almost completed. A gap in the westerly side and the front gable yet remain to be filled in. The brick work, which was done by Contractor McKenzie, speaks for itself. The archway over the main doorway is nothing short of a work of art, and the finish to the brick work is something quite new in this city. The new building will be a credit to the vicinity.

The upper flooring in the building is now almost finished, and some of the partitions are already being put up. A peculiar feature, which the contractors discovered when tearing out the old floors, was that the ceiling in the upper storey was sprung two inches, just as it had been placed when the building was erected, while the two floors below had both sunk several inches. When the new building is finished, Contractor Gallagher says that everything will be strictly on the level. The contractors were considerably delayed with the work on account of the non-arrival of the pressed brick from Milton when it was expected.

Mr. A. H. von Gunten, on request from the chairman of the Property committee of the City Council, wrote to the Seth Thomas Clock Co., of New York, to get their special prices on tower clocks which would be suitable for the new hall tower. He has received a reply that the company have no set prices for tower clocks, but that if measurements, etc., are sent they will forward an estimate on what they can supply a clock for.

Good, reliable clocks in the tower of the Market Hall will supply a long-felt want in this city, as at present there is no public clock in Chatham.

A GOOD STOVE

Rather hard, you may say to find a stove. Not so if you buy from us. We have succeeded in getting together a line of stoves and ranges that has never been equaled in Chatham.

For example take "Empire Queen" range. No range could be more satisfactory and certainly none with such a swell appearance. If you need a stove and want a good one it is the place to get it.

Half a dozen second-hand stoves too. Small prices with them as well as with the new ones.

CLEVER WOMAN

PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Amelia C. Shadd Williamson of This City Goes to Her Reward

With the death of Mrs. Amelia C. Shadd Williamson, at the family home at 185 Church street Friday, 5th inst., there passed away a woman who was one of the most gifted and best known women of her race in Canada.

The deceased lady, who was 76 years of age, was the widow of the late D. T. Williamson, who in the '50s conducted a jewellery store on St. Paul street, where Foster's bakery is now located, and the well-known jeweller of this city.

When the family left St. Catharines they moved to Western Ontario, and settled at Chatham, going from there later to Washington, D. C., where they resided for a number of years. For the past six years she has resided with her son, Mr. A. T. Shadd, in this city.

For a number of years prior to the emancipation of the slaves in the United States Mrs. Williamson was associate editor of the Provincial Freeman, a journal published in Toronto in the interests of the free colored people of this country. Her brother, Mr. L. D. Shadd, was the editor, and the paper having served its purpose was discontinued shortly after 1865. Mrs. Williamson was by religion a Presbyterian. She was the only surviving aunt of the paternal side of Dr. A. S. Shadd, of Melfort, Sask., Conservative candidate for the Saskatchewan Legislature at the last election.

Her husband predeceased her by seventeen years. She is survived by three sons, A. T. Shadd of this city, who is the third son, but who was adopted by his grandfather, Abraham D. Shadd of Raleigh Township, Kent County, Ontario, from whom she received his name; L. J. Williamson, and two daughters, Miss H. S. Williamson of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Amelia C. Jackson, also of Philadelphia.

The funeral takes place Sunday, 7th inst. Rev. Dr. Geo. H. Smith, moderator of the association of Haynes avenue Presbyterian church, with which deceased was connected, will conduct the services.—Star-Journal, St. Catharines.

Blenheim, Oct. 24.—Mrs. Geo. Cleveland, a married woman at Cedar Springs, became despondent last week over worries and on Friday attempted suicide by taking a dose of laudanum. A physician was procured and her recovery is assured.

THE OLD AND THE NEW

TEMISKAMING A HISTORIC REGION REDISCOVERED.

Two Centuries Old—A Mine That Was Operated in 1744—The Quebec Side of the Lake the Home of Adventurous River Drivers—Magnificent Waterfalls—Conveniences of Civilization in the Backwoods.

One of the great highways of the northland is Lake Temiskaming, a magnificent sheet of water 76 miles in length. In this land where everything is new and primitive it comes as a pleasant surprise to one to see evidences of age and a historic interest surrounding a district, writes J. C. Ross in The Globe. For over two hundred years Lake Temiskaming has been the great highway for the trapper and fur trader, and for many years before that it was the happy hunting-ground of numerous Indian tribes.

In the fall down the lake one sees old Hudson Bay posts, old forts and Indian encampments, Jesuit missions established by the Oblate Fathers, quaint French towns with their tiny white-washed houses and large churches, well-tilled farms, mines and mining claims, lumber mills and rafts of logs—almost every variety of industrial life combined with the historic and the scenic.

Lumbering Everywhere.

The lake is the great outlet for millions of acres of timber limits. All the rivers and creeks which empty into it bring down their quota of logs and the names of the great lumber kings—the Gillies, the Booths, the Lumsdens, the Eddys, the Bronsons—are on every man's lips. All the logs which come into the lake are swept down in charge of the Upper Ottawa Improvement Co., and at the bottom of the lake this "drive" is subdivided, and men sort out those belonging to each company. The supply of timber seems to be inexhaustible, for on both the Ontario and Quebec sides there have been lumbering operations for 25 or 30 years without the supply being lessened to any extent.

The Prospector Far Afield.

With the recent finds near Cobalt prospectors have gone far afield in search of the precious metals, and the result is that many fine finds are in evidence along both sides of Lake Temiskaming. All along the lake there are prospectors at work, and many good claims are being developed. At Point Fine a valuable silver-cobalt mine is in operation. Back of Ville Marie there are copper and nickel finds and even traces of gold. At the mouth of the Montreal River there are valuable traces of silver. At Quinn's Point there are galena and silver. One-half of Devil's Rock has already been sold for $40,000. In fact, the whole district is mineral-bearing rocks, and that fact formation keeps cropping out in various places.

Magnificent Water-Powers.

Some most interesting sights are seen on the trip, such as the "Notch" on the Montreal River, where the great sweep of waters pour through a narrow rocky gorge sixteen feet wide and tumble into the lake. A little lower down the Kipawa River falls three hundred feet in nine miles, furnishing enough power to drive any kind of machinery. A score of rivers and creeks pour into the lake, and draw lakes teeming with many kinds of fish. The residents of Temiskaming claim that they have the best fishing ground in the world at their doors, and certainly the catches of black bass, speckled and lake trout, pickerel and pike make one believe that their claim is justified. On the morning of the writer's visit a 151-2 pound lake trout was caught.

A Hunter's Paradise.

And not only is there fishing, but there is splendid hunting as well. The famous Kipawa Lake country has long been known as the best moose country in Canada, and there are other districts nearby teeming with game of every sort. It is somewhat of a surprise to the tourist to find at Temiskaming a hotel perfectly modern in every respect. Within a few minutes' walk or paddle from the Bellevue you are in the wide and northern Canada, and yet there you find a hotel with electric lighting, hot and cold water, bowling alleys, tennis courts, golf links, and every adjunct of modern hotel life.

The Backwoodsmen.

Not only are there attractions for the man lured by the lust of gold and for the man who seeks wealth in pine forests, but there are nameless attractions for the lover of nature: the beauty of the lake, with its high, rocky banks; the dense forests, the wide stretches of woodland and water, the eternal blueness of the Laurentian hills, and the rapid falls that fall along the way. Then there is the historic side—the opportunity to study the quaint life of the habitant far from the influences of modern life. One sees the tiny, white-washed cottage, the well-tilled farm, the thrift and energy of the farmer, and with it you meet the old river driver, the type made famous by Dr. Hammond, the habitant poet:

"A dem along de reever,
Ax dem along de shore,
Who was de best fightin' man
From Managance to Shawinigan,
De place where de best beag rapide
roar—Johnnie Courteau."

"Same thing on every shainte
Up on de Mackinac:
Who was de best can walk de log
Wen wole de reever she's black wit' fog
And carry de beegest load on hees back?
—Johnnie Courteau."

It would almost seem that the discovery of silver in the northland came at an opportune time. It will give everyone a chance to know something of the wonders and charms of our new north. Not only are we having a new and greater west opening up, but we have also a new and greater north giving to us its wealth of forest, mine, lake and river, and hand in hand with material wealth come the gift of health and an awakened interest in the scenic charms of the country.

MONUMENT TO POET.

Memory of Alex. McLachlan is Honored at Orangeville.

Orangeville, Oct. 25.—The monument erected in the Forest Lawn Cemetery here by public subscription, in honor of Alexander McLachlan, the patriot poet, who died at Orangeville in 1896, was unveiled in the presence of a large number of people by Miss Elizabeth McLachlan, a daughter of the poet.

Addresses were delivered by the chairman, Dr. Hamilton, of Toronto; William Algie, Alton; Dr. Kennedy of Toronto; W. T. Bailey, Orangeville, and Joseph F. Clark, Port Elgin.

The monument is of Aberdeen granite, and bears the following inscription: "Alexander McLachlan, Canadian Patriot and Poet—1818 to 1896."

"Untutored child of nature wild, with instinct always true, thy voice did weave songs consecrated to truth and liberty."

There is more Catharism in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catharism to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catharic Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Suicided in Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—William S. Steward, 30 years old, whose home was at 28 Wilcox street, Toronto, Ont., committed suicide Tuesday night by shooting himself at the Saratoga Hotel. Steward had been making a tour of the west with Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Cloud, of Rochester, N. Y.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—Steward lived with his mother at 28 Wilcox street. His father, who was in the drug business, died ten years ago, left him a considerable sum of money and the son retired from the business as commercial traveler and took to a life of ease. His uncle, J. J. Hornbrook, left for Chicago yesterday.

Nothing simpler than inhibiting the germ-killing vapor of this grand remedy. Colds and catarrh flee as before fire. Every trace of throat and bronchial trouble yields immediately. Catarrhazone is scientific and absolutely guaranteed for preventing and curing catarrh and kindred ills. Two sizes, 25c. and $1 at all dealers.

The Beerd in Tunis.

In Tunis when a reigning prince dies it is necessary to go outside his immediate family to choose his successor. He follows an odd custom. There the wearing of hair on the face is the exclusive privilege of sovereignty. When the prince selects a successor he sends the court barber to the fortunate individual to notify him that he may wear a beard. This intimation is equivalent to a formal announcement that he has been selected as the heir presumptive.

NINETY-EIGHT PER CENT.

There is a fascination about big profits to a business man. But the conservative and cautious trader prefers to have the lesser per cent. of interest and the larger per cent. of safety in his investments. There is no business man who would not consider it a sound proposition to invest in an enterprise in which absolute loss was impossible and which offered ninety-eight chances in a hundred of a rich profit. The statistics of cures effected by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery show that ninety-eight per cent. of cases of "weak lungs" can be absolutely cured. Almost, if not all, forms of physical weakness may be traced to starvation. Starvation saps the strength. The body is just as much starved when the stomach cannot extract nutrition from the food it receives as when there is no food. "Weak lungs," bronchial affections, obstinate coughs, call for nourishment. Golden Medical Discovery supplies that nourishment in its most condensed and assimilable form. It makes "weak lungs" strong, by strengthening stomach and organs of digestion which digest and distribute the food, and by increasing the supply of pure blood.

Too much humility is just as tiresome a quality as too much conceit. Politeness sometimes merely paves the way for a touch.

HAIL, CANADA.

The North! The North! The rugged North! Queen of the North, fair Canada, Dear native land, thou gem of earth, We sing thy praises, Canada.

Hail, land of skies, whose colors rare Delight the eye, sweet Canada! Where in the world are skies so fair As those of our own Canada?

Her blues, those gorgeous blues so dark That dye our sky of Canada, Those colors rich, that gold, but hark! No words can paint thee, Canada.

There is no pen can paint thy hues: There is no pen, O Canada, No painter could the colors choose, But One, for thy sky, Canada.

Hail, northern land! Hail, beautiful land! Hail, thou, our native Canada, With skies of colors rare and grand, Those gorgeous skies of Canada!

The land of waterfall and lake, Of hero-men and deeds of brave, Who would not peril for thy sake His life to guard thee, Canada? —Isabel MacKinnon.

LADY ERNESTINE HUNT.

Titled Lady to Ranch in Canada—Buys 30,000 Acres of Land.

With the arrival of the steamship Montreal at Avonmouth, London, from Montreal, came the news of an expedition supervised by the Marquis of Salisbury, daughter of the Marquis of Salisbury, has been undertaken.

Lady Ernestine Hunt has started a horse-ranch at Calgary, Alberta, on a stretch of land between 30,000 and 40,000 acres in extent, and she has personally supervised the conveyance of seventeen of the horses to Great Britain. From Bristol the animals will be transhipped to Dublin, where they will be broken in and sold.

The horses are still in a half-wild state, and throughout the voyage across the Atlantic Lady Ernestine Hunt had little or no assistance in their management.

Lady Ernestine Hunt says she is the first woman who has ever brought live stock across the Western Ocean by herself, and she pays a tribute to the cattlemen, who are, in her opinion, a much-maligned class.

"Since I was 20 years of age," added her ladyship, "I have been facing the battle of life by myself. As long as I can remember I had a roving disposition and have been a fond of two things—horses and the sea."

"Three months ago I went to Canada with a perfectly open mind, but possessed with a vague idea of starting a ranch. The whole affair is in its infancy, but things will be on a much bigger scale before long."

A Canadian Abroad.

The long list of Canadians who have won distinction in the political, industrial or financial life of the United States includes the name of Edward Thomas Burrows, manufacturer. Mr. Burrows was born at Sherbrooke, Quebec, July 25, 1852. On Queen Victoria's birthday, May 24, 1867, he became a resident of Portland, Maine. At the age of 14 he entered a store and continued at that work until he had reached the age of 20. During this time he saved a little money, which he used to advance his education in the Maine Wesleyan Seminary and Wesleyan University. After one year he was obliged to leave the latter institution on account of ill health. It was about 1873 that he commenced the manufacture of wire screens in a small way. To-day he has the largest factory for the manufacture of wire screens in the world. He is also president of the Curtin Supply Co., Chicago, manufacturers of the wire screens which he invented. Mr. Burrows is a trustee of Boston University and a leading Maine prohibitionist.

A Canadian Gift.

The massive silver beaker which was presented by the citizens of British Columbia to Lieut.-Col. English and the other officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the Imperial troops at Esquimaux on the occasion of their departure from Canada in May last, has just been placed in the museum of the Royal United Service Institution, in Whitehall. With the beaker is an album of addresses, signed by the Mayor, recalling the fact that for upwards of 150 years Imperial troops had been stationed within the borders of what was now Canada. Another interesting relic which has just been deposited in the museum by Gen. Sir Julius Baines, G. C. B., is the sword of honor which was presented in 1804 to Capt. John Hilton, of the 2nd Regiment Loyal London Volunteer Infantry, in testimony of his conduct as a gentleman and ability as an officer.

New Ontario Developing.

While everybody is aware of the rapid advance in land values in the prairie country, few stop to think that Northern Ontario, outside of the Temiskaming country, is opening up very rapidly because of the preparation for the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific. Hilbert tourist travel from Kenora has all been southward over the Lake of the Woods to Fort Frances, but now, owing to the Grand Trunk Pacific being surveyed across the Winnipeg River, the sail northward on the Winnipeg River, between Kenora and the "crossing," is the trip of the season. The return journey takes about a day, and the scenery is said to be very picturesque. The Kenora News states that the land about Hout Point, which is the crossing, has been largely bought up and it promises to become a great summer resort.

Causes of Insanity.

In England, where insanity is excessive in a great civilization is to be found the causes which are frequent. Many special causes contribute to this, such as ill-assorted marriages, which engender hereditary insanity; hazardous and desperate speculations, the frequency of commercial crises, the increasing fluctuations of political life, the fastness peculiar to the rich, the abuse of fermented liquors, and lastly, the immense number of religious sects.—London Hospital.

SELECT YOUR MEDICINE WITH CARE.

In debility and weakness medicine should be mild and far reaching. Many pills and purgatives are too harsh, are drastic instead of curative. Excessive action is always followed by depression, and knowing this, Dr. Hamilton devised his pills of Mandrake & Butternut so as to mildly increase liver and kidney activity, flush out the elementary canal, tone and regulate the bowels. Thus do Dr. Hamilton's Pills eliminate poisons from the body, restore clearness to the skin, bring strength and that sweet restorer of health—sleep. Best medicine on earth, 25c. per box at all dealers.

Called his name.

"What!" cried the brutal husband, "You gave that old overcoat of mine to a tramp? You should have asked me first. I had placed a hundred dollars in bills in one of the pockets of that coat, simply to have the money in a safe place until you should want to purchase some clothes." "William Henry Suddsworth," replied the fond wife, fixing him with a judicial eye, "you worked that game on me two years ago. I went through the pockets of that coat and found a worn-out glove, six cloves, five candium seeds, four matches and a suburban time card. I'm going shopping for my dress tomorrow."

The new Pure Food and Drug Law will mark it on the head of every Cough Cure containing Opium, Chloroform, or any other stupefying or poisonous drug. But it passes Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure as made for 20 years, entirely free. Dr. Shoop all along his bitterly opposed the use of all opiates or narcotics. Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is absolutely safe even for the youngest babe—and it cures, it does not simply suppress. Get a safe and reliable Cough Cure, by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's. Let the law be your protection. We cheerfully recommend and sell it.

One-eyed Giants.

Sir John Mandeville saw all sorts of queer things and wrote about them in his celebrated book of travels. It was in 1330 that the voracious John visited a certain group of isles (yles he called them) which was inhabited by a race of one-eyed giants. Of them he says: "In one of these yles ben folk of grante stature, as gigantes, and they been hideous for to looke upon. An the han but on eye, and that is in ye myddyl of ye front." He also tells of another one of these "yles" inhabited by a race of one-legged dwarfs, each having three eyes.

IN THE HUNTING FIELD

BLOODHOUNDS NOW REPLACE BREEDS FORMERLY IN USE.

Henry P. East of Chislehurst, Owner of the Holmleigh Kennels, Possesses the Finest and Most Celebrated Pack of Bloodhounds in Existence in England—His Sister, Miss Ida East, is Their Field Master.

The finest and most celebrated pack of bloodhounds in existence in England to-day is the property of Henry P. East of Chislehurst, owner of the Holmleigh Kennels. The pack consists of twenty-five bloodhounds, which Mr. East hunts regularly during the season, two or three days each week in his country, which lies between Southampton and Swindon, with headquarters at Andover. Mr. East has done more good in the proper breeding of bloodhounds than probably any other man in England. He has, at great loss, killed in four years no less than seventy-two couples of weak and worthless hounds that were absolutely useless to breed from, so that all that had blood is gone, and those hounds of the strongest constitutions and the very best scenting qualities are left in his pack.

It is a pleasure to see these bloodhounds at a meet. They are big, upstanding black-and-tan hounds, on the best of feet and legs, the muscles standing out on their bodies like rope. They look ready to run fifty miles at any time without turning a hair. They have been trained to follow a man and to find him in the country without his boots being previously doctored by any artificial means—but it would be unreasonable in the very nature of the scent, to expect the hounds to do so in a thoroughfare through which countless thousands pass. The bloodhound being trained in England to-day, however, is the most useful animal in Europe for the purpose of tracking, particularly in rural districts, where there are few people to disturb the line which he has to travel; for even if the wind blows the scent two hundred yards or three hundred yards out of its original course, the bloodhound has the power to discover this and keep his head down upon it wherever it has gone.

The home of Mr. East is only twelve miles from busy, bustling London town. Consequently many distinguished people are always to be found at his meet. A very interesting and quite unique fact regarding the Holmleigh pack is that the owner's sister, Miss Ida East, is the field master. Miss East also occasionally helps to whip in. She is very generally regarded as one of the most brilliant horsewomen in England, and is usually in ahead of the other riders at the "death." Fine riding and good hunting horses are exceedingly essential to success in a man-hunt behind the bloodhounds, as the pace the hounds travel in a good scent is, undoubtedly, the Holmleigh pack have galloped ten miles over country without a check in half an hour. Fox-hunters will be somewhat sceptical over these figures, because ten miles in anything under fifty minutes would be accounted an exceptional fast thing with foxhounds. At the same time, "hunting the clean boot" and hunting a fox are entirely different things. A foxhound and a bloodhound together on a strong scent that would afford a mutually fair and reliable test of their relative speed would be a most difficult task. At least it may be allowed that on a favorable one of the bloodhound can show extraordinary pace. Many a good horseman, with a thorough knowledge of the country he was riding over, lost sight of a well-trained pack.

Judging the bloodhound merely by his points, one would sooner believe in his ability to puzzle out a cold scent on "slow and sure" methods than he could drive along with all the speed and dash of the well-bred, clean-built shapely, modern foxhound. Yet some wonderful feats have been recorded by followers of bloodhound packs to demonstrate the pace at which they can travel over a line on a good scenting day. Many hunting with bloodhounds as practiced in England is a sport in which the wealthy alone can indulge as the formation of a pack of good hounds is a most expensive process.

Mr. East has hunted since a child ten years old, and was "blooded" to foxhounds by the late Duke of Beaufort. He is 59 years old and has travelled all over the world, having hunted and shot in America, across the Rockies, from New York to San Francisco, Ceylon, Australia, New Zealand, but declares that there is no country so beautiful as the wild west countries of England hunted over by the Devon and Somerset staghounds, and which affords so many peculiar advantages for enjoying the new fad of hunting human beings with bloodhounds.

REV. A. SUTHERLAND, D. D.

General Secretary of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Church.

At pathetic figure in the Methodist conference at Montreal recently was the venerable Rev. Alexander Sutherland, D.D., for nearly a third of a century general secretary of the missionary society. Dr. Sutherland was fighting against a division of the work of the missionary branch. A resolution was offered—and finally prevailed—proposing the appointment of two general secretaries, who should be of equal rank and independent of each other. Dr. Sutherland objected. He felt that he was being reduced to a rank in an executive head in case of additional assistance, and he moved many delegates to tears when he said, with all the fervor at his command,

REV. A. SUTHERLAND, D.D., General Secretary of Canadian Methodist Society (Missionary Society).

"Whatever the missionary society of the Methodist Church is to-day, by God's help I made it, and let no man rob me of my boasting."

Dr. Sutherland was born in Guelph Township, on Sept. 17, 1833. He was ordained when he was 26 and at a first general conference of the Methodist Church of Canada, held in Montreal in 1874, was elected general secretary of the missionary society, a position he still holds.

No man in the Canadian church world is better known, better esteemed. At his advanced age he is still vigorous and contemplates an early trip to the Chinese field. All the higher honors of the denomination have been from time to time conferred upon him, and in national and international church circles he has a well-earned respect. The dignity, influence and strength of the Methodist Church of Canada. His courteous acquiescence in the wishes of conference in the matter of a division of missionary labor was graceful, and will still greater endear him to those who know him. He is regarded as the creation of his life's work.

One Kitchen to a Block.

A co-operative kitchen in the middle of every block to serve all the residents of that block is the latest solution offered every housekeeper, says a New York correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch. The plan seems feasible in view of the fact that the new Art club studios have a kitchen in common with the use of a small army of students who occupy bachelor apartments. It has been suggested by economists that a large kitchen be established in every block and that the place be under the direction of a chef, with several assistants. The housewife could take her food there to be cooked, thus saving the price of fuel and keeping the house free from the odor of cookery, and besides, in many cases, dispensing with the cost of dyspepsia tablets and peeps.

Tungsten in War.

The metal tungsten is remarkable for the great density of its alloys, and on this account, since the introduction of repeating rifles of small caliber, many attempts have been made to flatten the trajectory of the bullets by augmenting their density through the addition of tungsten. This fact has led to a singular situation with regard to the tungsten deposits found in the eastern part of France that have hitherto been exploited by a German company. The question is now seriously debated whether the French Government should not assume entire control of this supply of what may become an important material of war. Up to the present nearly all the tungsten of commerce has come as a byproduct from the tin mines of Wales.

Plucked by Machinery.

Chickens are now plucked in a wholesale manner by the use of pneumatic machinery. There is a receptacle in which the fowl is placed after being killed, and into this are turned several cross currents of air from electric fans revolving at the rate of 5,000 turns per minute. In the twinkling of an eye the bird is stripped of its feathers, even to the tiniest particles of down. The machine is ready for another—London Express.

RISKED HIS LIFE.

How an Enterprising Reporter Got the News For His Paper.

Undoubtedly the boldest undertaking on the part of a reporter to score a "beat" ever known in the history of American journalism was when Thomas B. Fielders of the New York Times leaped from a steamer in New York harbor at odds of about 100 to 1 of being drowned and brought in the first graphic story of the loss of the ocean liner Oregon. It is the custom of New York dailies to send reporters down the bay to meet incoming steamers, when it is known there is "big news" aboard. On the ground that it is better to be safe than sorry the editors dispatch the reporters by special permit on a government revenue cutter or else on a specially chartered tug with a view to catching the tug before the ship docks. It was known early one afternoon that a North German Lloyd steamer was not far out, and every city editor in New York laid plans for sending reporters to meet the incoming liner.

Fielders was one of these. He managed to get aboard the big steamer far down the bay and went among the survivors of the Oregon disaster and obtained some thrilling tales of escape. He took notes enough to write a book about the sinking of the ship, with minute details of heroic rescues and plenty of what newspaper men call "human interest" stories. Then time began to wear heavy on his hands. It was getting late at night and the ship had not yet passed quarantine. To make matters worse, the captain said that he would allow no one to leave the ship until she had made her way clear of quarantine. Fielders vainly pleaded that he was not a passenger and therefore was not amenable to the inspection of the ship by the health officers. His remonstrances were unavailing. The captain was obdurate.

Ten o'clock came. The city editor of the Times paced nervously around the night desk, repeatedly asking, "Where on earth is Fielders?"

Out there in the bay Fielders, wrought to a pitch of anger almost sufficient to impel an assault upon the exacting captain, looked vainly at the dimpling stream of light from his tug as she lay out in the darkened waters waiting for him. The captain of the steamer would not permit the tug to come any nearer to his ship. Fielders stood beside the rail, loudly remonstrating with the man commanding the big ship. He stealthily placed one leg over the rail, then the other. Then there was a splashing sound below and a chorus of shouts from the passengers. The reporter was overboard! Out in the rippling light his body was seen to rise, and as it did the daredevil began swimming toward his tug. His comrades had thrown out a line at a signal from him previously given, and he made for that line. Would he ever get it? Could they see him, a mere speck on the dimly lighted water? He gained a hold on the rope, was pulled aboard the tug and gave orders for her stern to be turned toward the Manhattan shore with all possible speed. The Times contained a full and graphic story of the loss of the Oregon the next morning—Remson Crawford in Success Magazine.

He who cannot bear humility cannot wear honor.

OUR WAY

When a man takes out his pocket-book and pays us $7.50, $9.00, $10.00 for his Fall and Winter Suit, we don't consider the transaction closed by any means.

The Salesman probably told him good points about the particular suit he bought, and we consider it our duty to see them carried out to the letter.

For this reason we want your co-operation and we want you to insist that your suit fills our representation of it, or bring it back and get your money.

Remember our way of doing business and we ask that you please remember, also, that you take no chances, whatever, with cheapness when you buy your clothes here.

BLENHEIM

Blenheim, Oct. 21.—Yesterday was the first day of the fall races at the driving park. Each event was well contested. The attendance was not very good. Those who did attend were highly pleased with the racing.

Mr. Sylvester Pearson, of British Columbia, who has been visiting his brother, T. W. Pearson, left for his home yesterday.

The harvest thanksgiving services in connection with Trinity church were held last Sunday. The church was decorated with house plants, palms and foliage. The service was conducted by Rev. G. McQuillan. At the morning service Mr. Eggleston sang a solo, "Face to Face." At the evening service, Miss W. Taborne sang "Leonard." Both solos were highly appreciated.

Mrs. and Miss Peters have returned from visiting Mrs. F. S. Boushall, Chatham.

Duncan Sullivan, Chatham, was a Blenheim visitor yesterday.

Rev. J. W. Ho was exchanged pulpits with Rev. Mr. Taylor, of Merlon, last Sunday.

Mr. Duncan McCollough, of Ridgetown, was a Blenheim visitor on Monday.

The harvest home services will be held in the Baptist church next Sunday. The services will be conducted by the Rev. G. W. Roy. On Monday evening there will be a platform meeting, at which Mr. Ray will speak on "South America." Revs. Holmes and Gilmore will also give addresses.

Mrs. G. J. Gibb and Miss L. Arnold have returned from spending the holidays at Toronto.

DRESDEN

Dresden, Oct. 24.—Mr. Dowdell, of Hamilton, was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Thornton on Monday.

Abram Hooper and family, of Lambton County, have moved into Dresden.

J. E. McIntyre, who purchased the grocery formerly owned by Emerson Meadows, is raising the roof of the store and fitting up a flat for his family residence.

Miss Houghton, of Detroit, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Jeffs.

The Bishop of Huron confirmed a number of candidates in Christ Church on Tuesday afternoon. The services were largely attended and the Bishop spoke very impressively to the candidates.

James McVean, Sandy McVean, W. T. Pringley and the Messrs. Wadell are in their duck shooting house here on the St. Clair this week.

Miss Irene Terrie has returned from visiting friends in Dutton.

Mrs. McIntyre is the guest of her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wright.

THAMESVILLE

Thamesville, Oct. 25.—N. H. Gillies, Chatham, was in town yesterday.

Special anniversary services will be conducted at Botany on Sunday, Oct. 28, by Rev. Mr. Irwin. The famous Boy Choir of the Ridgetown Methodist Church, under the leadership of John Smith, will furnish music. A large number from here will attend.

The Opera House was well filled last night to hear "Uncle Dudley from Missouri."

George Watts is shipping a carload of horses to Toronto.

Edward Griffith has resumed his duties as operator at the G. T. R. station.

The Art and Literary Club will meet for re-organization at the residence of Mrs. J. Duncan on Friday at four p. m.

Miss Rosa Causgrove has taken the organ in the Methodist Church, since the resignation of Prof. Verinder.

J. Wood, London, was in town yesterday.

Mrs. Blair is making an extended visit with relatives in Glenora.

J. Johnson has returned from Detroit and is spending a few days at his home here.

AN EXPLANATION

Evidently the program for the Firemen's Benefit, put on at the Opera House Tuesday night, was not all that it was expected to be, and as a result there has been considerable complaint from those who patronized the event. As far as the tug of war and the musical specialties were concerned, everyone was delighted, but the moving pictures were not by any means what they were advertised to be.

The Firemen have had to shoulder the blame, so they say, and Chief Pritchard, speaking for the department, told a Planet reporter this morning that the firemen were anxious that the people should know that the cause for complaint was not their fault.

"We advertised moving pictures of the Russo-Jap war," said the Chief, "and we were confident at the time that it would be those pictures which would be shown. On the night of the performance we found that the films for these pictures would not work, and we had to make the best of an awkward situation."

The Chief and his men feel very much put out that this portion of the program did not prove satisfactory.

There was no intention on the part of anyone to misrepresent this part of the performance. It was just one of those cases where at the last moment things went wrong, and it was found impossible to get the war films to work.

STRAY RIFLE BULLET

T. W. Smythe, the Wellington street grocer, has laid a complaint with the police against a number of young boys who have been bothering him or late. The other night, he says, he was sitting in his home when a bullet came flying through the glass in the front door. He could just see the boys beating it around a corner. He was able to recognize some of them and he has given the police the benefit of his sharp eyesight. Policeman Henry Durr has been put on the case and immediate developments are looked for. The boys spent yesterday afternoon in the vicinity of the grocery. Henry never says much about his work, but it is expected that a number of young boys will find out to their discomfort that Mr. Durr did not miss many clues.

There are a number of boys who have made a practice lately of shooting pigeons in that vicinity, and it is thought that the bullet which proved so offensive to Mr. Smythe was sent on a far different errand than the one it accomplished.

A PINE PROFESSION.

She has some hope of taking up a profession, I believe. Indeed! What profession. A profession of love from old Mr. Richley. He hasn't made it yet, but then she's working very hard.

ANDERSON - CURTIS

A pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Burditts, Richmond street, when her niece, Miss Carrie Curtis, was united in marriage to Mr. Herbert Anderson, of Raleigh. The wedding march was played by Miss Edith Black, the bridal party entering the drawing room and taking their places beneath a beautifully decorated arch. Rev. Mr. Richards, of the B. M. E. church, officiated at the ceremony. Miss Sara Gwynn, of North Buxton, acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. R. Robbins, of Raleigh, was best man. The bride wore a handsome gown of cream crepe de chene trimmed with lace, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Her bridesmaid was becomingly robed in white organdie trimmed with white lace insertion, and also carried a bouquet of white carnations. After the ceremony supper was served in the beautifully decorated dining room. The newly wedded couple will take up their residence in Raleigh.
