Juicy Roasts---Perfect Pies

A great General said: An army marches on its stomach. He meant that unless men are well fed they simply cannot do their work. This is true in private life for man, woman and child. The first essential to good feeding is proper cooking -- that means a FIRST-CLASS STOVE, not necessarily a high priced stove, but a good one.

The Gurney-Oxford Senior is the Steel Range, we want you to see, it today.

The Gurney Oxford Senior

A Big well built Steel Range, one of the Best Values we have ever seen. Unbreakable steel top, riveted to body of immense strength, oven is surrounded by the famous Gurney-Oxford divided flue system, guaranteeing perfect baking. Grates are especially adapted to the fuel you burn, and fire box is of special economical design.

Will give you years of hard, faithful service, competent with six 8 inch covers, twenty inch oven, right hand reservoir, and warming closets, as shown $42.50.

We have many New GURNEY-OXFORDS on our floor -- Come in and look them over.

Stationery at Old Prices

As you know, the price of paper has advanced a lot in the last few months. All kinds of stationery are much higher than they were knowing that prices would go up, I bought a good-sized order early last spring, and that is the reason I have not advanced prices on stationery, but just as soon as my present stock is sold I will be compelled to raise on all lines. You would be wise to buy a good supply now. The saving would be worth while.

A PRISONER NOW ESCAPED

Amherst, N.S. Nov. 12—After nearly two years of anxious waiting because their son, Private Lloyd Higgs, was a prisoner in Germany, the hearts of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Higgs, of Macaan, were glad by a cable from London yesterday stating he had made his escape and had arrived in London. Other particulars are awaited with keen interest by the happy family. Private Higgs enlisted with the 17th Nova Scotian Battalion and was transferred to the 13th Highlander at St. Julien where the 13th had suffered fearful losses. Private Higgs was taken prisoner. No word had been received from him for some months so that the friends who had anticipated the worst were happily surprised by the telegram from their gallant son.

The death of Mrs. Cain, widow of the late Charles Cain, took place at Hillaton on Thursday last at the advanced age of 98 years. She had resided long at that place and since her husband's death has lived for nearly 20 years with the family of Mr. G. M. Hofferty. The funeral service was held on Sunday last conducted by Rev. Dr. Donahue burial at St. Joseph's R. C. Cemetery.

COAL PLENTIFUL, BIG OPERATORS SAY

Facts and figures gathered during an extensive survey of the Pennsylvania hard coal fields warrant these conclusions, based on the preponderance of the best evidence obtainable:

There is not at present any anthracite coal famine, nor does one impend.

The resources of the Pennsylvania collieries, which produce nearly all the hard coal used in the United States are ample to meet the demands of the winter. Only senseless, panic-stricken over-buying on the part of the public can furnish justification for extreme prices.

The production of anthracite during that part of the year 1916 which has elapsed was greater by nearly 1,500,000 tons than during the corresponding period of 1915. At the same time, there has been a depletion in the amount of storage at the mines and along the railroads which may be guessed conservatively at 1,000,000 tons. It is probably much greater, but no figures are available. The extra production and the amount taken from storage have gone to increase the consumption of the consumer's supply.

GRAND DIVISION SONS OF TEMPERANCE

The sixty-ninth annual session of the Grand Division of Nova Scotia opened in Sons of Temperance hall Halifax Tuesday evening. Seventy representatives were present from different parts of the province. There were fourteen initiations and owing to the delayed arrivals of trains a number of initiations had to be deferred.

The grand worthy patriarch, B. O. Davidson, of Wolfville, presided, and rejected that the grand old order had been able to so well "carry-on" in face of the unusual conditions that have prevailed. He referred to the fact that the coming year will see the celebration of the 75th anniversary of its organization, and hoped to see delegates appointed from Nova Scotia to the exercises which are to be held in Boston on September 29th, 1917.

The grand scribe reported the finances to be in splendid condition and ninety per cent of the membership paid up. Notwithstanding the large number of members at the front, the order had maintained its standing.

POTATOES SLUMP DOLLAR A BARREL

A Fredericton despatch says: Potatoes, which have been selling at the record prices for some weeks have taken a decided slump. The demand has fallen off in the American markets and consequently the price has slumped one dollar a barrel.

BRITISH CONSOLIDATING GROUND WON IN GREAT VICTORY

London, Nov. 16—The first phrase of the battle of the Ancre is ended following a mighty blow by which they obtained one of the most sweeping victories in four months. The British troops have settled down to consolidate their new positions and prepare for still greater efforts to come.

Meanwhile the counter attacks expected on the Ancre front were delivered by Germans yesterday against the French lines both north and south of the Somme. This fact leads to the conclusion that the Germans believed Foch's troops are less able to withstand a heavy assault at the present moment than the triumphant British.

NINETY VICTIMS OF AUSTRIAN BOMB

Paris, Nov. 15—A despatch to the Havas Agency from Badua, Italy, says the total number of persons killed or wounded by a single bomb dropped by an Austrian aviator Saturday night aggregated ninety, of whom thirty-two were killed. The despatch adds that all the persons were non-combatants, and that most of them were women and children.

SUCCESSFUL RAID

London.—Two successful air raids have been carried out by air craft operating with the British forces in Egypt says an official announcement today. The points raided were Maghdaba and Biraha. A ton of high explosives was dropped. Two Fokker machines were brought down by the raiding aeroplanes, all of which returned safely.

New London, Conn., Nov. 17—The Deutschland, the German submarine, which arrived here on November 1, slipped out of the harbor at an early hour today bound for Bremen. She left her pocket at the State Pier at 1.30 o'clock, and was towed down the harbor by two tugs.

Latest Joke on the Kilties

It was in a little out-of-the-way village in France, and the Highland regiment was swinging alone the road (says the Sporting Times). Two old Frenchmen, obviously puzzled by their costume, were having a heated argument on the same.

Said: "Zey cannot be men for look at ze dress and ze skirts?"

Replied the other: "Zey cannot be women, for zey have ze moustachios."

"Ah!" replied the first speaker. "I have it. Zey are ze famous Middlesex regiment of hom I have heard so mooch!"

FIGHTING PARSON IN CANADIAN ARMY PROUD TO FIGHT

The following is about a Lt.-Colonel who was at Aldershot for a few months this summer: London, Nov. 13.—Lieut.-Colonel F. C. Bullock, formerly of the Church of Our Father, Ottawa, and the only clergyman to command a battalion of troops, is now in London, where without doffing his khaki, he has been preaching in a Unitarian church. He is in command of one of the 'American Legion' battalions raised in Canada.

In answer to a question why he, an American minister, had joined the British army as a combatant, the colonel said: "I hold it is wrong to tell another man to go out and shoot unless you go to do likewise. The men I have the privilege of commanding came voluntarily. They realized, as I did, that this was a war of principles, not of Nations, and that the United States was affected by the outcome just as much as the Allied nations."

"It was a question whether the mailed fist should rule civilization, or whether the principles of the Man whose fists were nailed to the Cross should prevail. "But the sinking of the Lusitania was the casting of the die. Then I announced I had furlined my flag, that it never should be caressed by the breezes until the country which had been so long my home should declare itself against such a damnable outrage."

"I then took a commission and combatant rank and helped to raise a battalion of Americans to fight. That one battalion grew into eight," added the Colonel with a satisfied smile. "In America," he continued, "there is a ubiquitous sign, 'safety first.' There is no more ignominious cry it may be 'too proud to fight.' As honor comes before safety, righteousness it comes to a question of pride and fight."

Mr. L. G. Lamond of Billtown picked a strawberry blossom in the field on Nov. 13th a pretty late comer. He has placed on our table a fine Northern Spy apple which weighs 13 oz. a good weight for that variety.

WINTERING IDLE HORSES CHEAPLY

Belgians are given some results obtained at the Experimental Station Cap Rouge, Que., in the cheap wintering of idle horses. The methods followed and the feeds used were such as to make the plan applicable to, and worth a trial in, practically all parts of the Dominion.

More Horses are Required—Help is scarce, high priced, and oftentimes unreliable, so that larger implements and more working stock have to be employed. It is not always possible to buy a good team at a reasonable price in the spring, while it is often hard to get a decent figure for the same animals in the autumn. It would thus seem advisable, when the ground freezes, to lay aside, as it were for the winter, all horses which are not absolutely required and to feed them as cheaply as possible without impairing their future usefulness.

A Cheap Winter Ration

To gather data upon this subject, an experiment was started at the Cap Rouge Station in 1911 and has been continued during five consecutive winters, with mares and geldings, some nervous, other quiet, aged five to eighteen years. It has been found that they fared well on a daily ration of one pound mixed hay, one pound oat straw, and one pound carrots or swedes for each one hundred pounds of their weight. Not only did they gain an average of twenty-nine pounds during the five months of the test, but they showed, the following season, that they had lost no vitality nor energy.

Changes Must be Gradual

The rule generally followed was to gradually cut down the work, also the feed, from November 1 until Nov. 15 when the animals under test were placed in box stalls. They never went out, during the winter, with the exception of an occasional drive of a mile or so. On April 15, easy jobs were given to them and a small quantity of concentrates was allowed until by May 1 they could be under harness ten hours a day and were on full feed. These are important points not to be forgotten: to lower and raise the ration little by little, and to leave the horses practically idle.

Details Essential to Success

In horses, due to a hard season's work, are in low condition, they should be fed up to their normal weight before being left aside for the winter, and enough exercise should be allowed during that period to prevent stocking. Another good thing is to give a purgative so as to clean out the system before the long rest. One should also remember that some animals are more restless than others are dissipate more energy, which means that more food will be required, so that the above mentioned quantities should be increased or decreased slightly, according to circumstances.

Notes on Different Roughages

Mixed hay for this purpose, can be of any grass or weed which horses will eat, must not be mouldy or musty, and should not be worth more than half of timothy. Roots may be carrots mangles or swedes, though the first are always liked, and the two latter are sometimes refused at first, which requires skill on the part of the feeder to have enough eaten; if roots are not given, bran should form part of the ration, as animals at rest will soon get costive and will not thrive very well on dry roughage alone. Oat straw should be used, as it is more palatable than other sorts.

How To Feed

It would probably be well to chaff at least half the hay and straw, but as the idea is to lower expenses, there seems no doubt that the cost of cutting these roughages would be greater than that of the extra feed necessary to supply the energy used in masticating them. The roots were sliced, most of the time, for the experiments, and it seems better to give them thus, though it is not absolutely necessary, as long as they are not of such sizes as to be swallowed whole, when these may be dangerous of choking.

When to Feed

It was noticed at Cap Rouge that the legs of horses kept in box stalls, and fed as previously described, did not stock up. If there is no box stall, it is advisable to turn the animals out every day, when the weather permits, so that they may take some exercise. In this case, it is probable that somewhat more feed will be needed, to make up for the lost energy and heat. As to the number of times to feed, it seems that twice a day is sufficient, and that about the same quantity can be given both morning and evening.

THE STORY OF A FAMILIAR HYMN

Pittsburg Post.—The familiar hymn beginning "God moves in a mysterious way," known as "Cowper's Hymn," had its origin as follows: Cowper was all his life the victim of melancholia, and more than once attempted suicide. One day, bent upon destroying himself, he got into a cab and ordered the driver to take him to a certain point on the river, where he intended to drown himself. The cabman, noticing his strange appearance and feeling that all might not be well with him, drove him about the city and finally stopped in front of the poet's door. Stepping out recognizing the old familiar surroundings and shocked at the thought of his narrow escape, Cowper exclaimed, "God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform," and rushing in, immediately composed the immortal hymn.

REASONS ENOUGH

The Minister—Mackintosh, why don't you come to church now?
Mackintosh—For three reasons, parson. Firstly, I dinna like yer theology; secondly I dinna like yer singin'; and thirdly, it was in your kirk I first met ma wife.

For the first time in history, a Jew became a member of the Quebec Legislature last week. With hat on head, and hand on the Old Testament, Peter Bercovitch, Liberal member for Montreal St. Louis division, took the oath.

"AFTER THE WAR BARGAINS."

Canada (London): One of our readers suggested to us the other day how valuable some of the war material which would be sold for an old song after the war would be in Canada. He was thinking chiefly of portable huts and motor lorries, but there are many other things now being used for the Army which would be most useful to settlers in Western Canada. It might be well for the Dominion Government to remember that when peace returns there will be such a knock-out sale of useful property as the world has never seen. It is generally recognized that steps must be taken to assist new settlers who are expected to flow Canada-wards after the war, and there are many things which could then be purchased at a fraction of their cost which would greatly add to the comfort and success of the immigrant who could repay the Government by instalments.

HUNS BOMBED BALTIC COAST, LOSE WARSHIPS

Petrograd, Nov. 13.—via London.—The text of the Russian official statement dealing with the Baltic Sea, says: "On Friday night a flotilla of the enemy's 36-knot torjedo craft entered the Bay of Finland. A dense fog hindered discovery of the enemy vessels in good time and in consequence the enemy succeeded in bombarding the Baltic coast for several minutes. "About 100 shells, mostly shrapnel, were fired. Seven civilians, including five children, and two rank and file, were killed. One woman and 4 soldiers were wounded. Several houses were damaged, and 12 horses were killed. "The enemy retired hurriedly, but we sunk the majority of the torpedo craft. Further pursuit of hostile units was abandoned in consequence of dense fog and the timely discovery of the enemy's traps."

BARONETCY AWARDED TO SIR MAX AITKEN

London, Nov. 8.—Sir William Maxwell Aitken is gazetted a baronet.

Sir Max is a member of the British House of Commons. He is a well known Canadian financier, who removed to England several years ago. Since war broke out he has specially been engaged as the Canadian "eye witness" and is the head of the Canadian War Records Office, in which posts he has served without remuneration.

ALONG THE ANCRE

One of the most important British strokes in the operations of this Fapt appears to have been the blow struck on the Ancre. It is more significant than a similar advance upon the Somme would have been. Along the part of the Somme where the British drive was begun last July the Germans are occupying positions that can only have been fortified within the past few months. The iron outer crust of the German front was broken there last July. On the Ancre, however, the Germans were holding the positions that they fell back upon after the Battle of the Marne, some of them are reported to have as well fortified as Thiepval, whose capture by the British was one of the most notable incidents in the Somme offensives. The Ancre victory is additional proof that the British can break the German front at any point they may select, and is a happy refutation of the owlish forebodings of J. L. Garvin, the British editor who asserted only a couple of days ago that the German lines could not be penetrated, and that the operations on the Western front had come to a standstill.

One of the significant features of the fighting upon the Western front is the failure of the Germans to strike back. Counter-attacks have been few and unsuccessful. This strengthens the belief in which many people have never wavered since the beginning of the war, that the Germans lack the real bulldog spirit. They will not fight unless they see before them a reasonably sure prospect of victory. They are not of the stuff that makes up forlorn hopes; when they are really hurt they quit. The large number of prisoners taken in the Somme offensive and in the more recent attack upon the Ancre, and the statement that the prisoners, Silosians for the most part, are poor material, shows a decadence in German morale. Of what county or province in the British Empire could the Germans say that the soldiers were poor fighting material? From now on we may expect that the Germans captured will be fairly described as still worse fighting material. In breaking their front in France and Flanders the British, French and Belgians appear also to have broken their hearts.

Libraries in the United States and Canada received $3,555,001.61 in gifts and bequests during 1914. Carnegie contributed $1,778,195 of this sum.

New York's smallest theatre is the Bramhall playhouse, seating only 225 persons. The stage, however, is large enough for the ordinary play.

WHO WILL BE WARDEN

There is considerable discussion as to who will be warden the next three years. The Liberals still having their former majority will be able to elect whomever the party chooses and the other aspirants will have to sit tight and according to a homely saying—grin and bear it.

Councillor Campbell of Ward 2 is the most likely one to land the position. He has been deputy warden for many years and has knowledge of the work the capabilities of a presiding officer and a long and successful business training.

There are many who claim that Councillor Gaul of Dalhousie is entitled to the position. He is the Nestor of the Council having seen continuous service for over 25 years, taking the place of the late Councillor Mack. It is doubtful if any other councillor in the Province has such a remarkable record. The fact that he never aspired for the position of warden accounts for him never occupying that position. But now his friends claim for him the right to the first position in the Council as fitting tribute to his long and most honorable record.

Another name frequently heard is that of Councillor Kinsman from Ward 1 the most populous Ward in the County. He has not long been a member of the Council but for many years was County Auditor and became familiar with all the business transactions of the County and the mode of procedure from his attendance at the meetings. His supporters claim for him a better knowledge of County affairs than any other member elect.

The Conservatives being in the minority, as usual, have no present say in the matter. Of their number Councillor Anderson holds the record nearer to that of Councillor Gaul than any other.

WHY NOT THE NEXT LIEUT.-GOVERNOR FROM KINGS COUNTY

The death of Lieut.-Governor MacKeen leaves a very important position to be filled by the Ottawa Government. The position has been held by men of conspicuous ability and such will be required for the next incumbent of office.

We wish to call special attention to the fact that right here in Kings County we have one who is eminently qualified for the position. Mr. Barclay Webster of Kentville is a man who has been prominently before the public for many years. He has long been a practicing barrister and for many years has held the position of Kings Council. As Recorder and Stipendiary Magistrate he has safely advised and guided the Town officials of Kentville for a score of years and more. He has all the mental ability and social dignity required for the office and has knowledge of the constitutional requirements and responsibilities of the office of Lieutenant-Governor. Moreover he is a man of independent means, and it is well known that one who occupies that position requires more than the income from the office to entertain as the custom seems to require.

Mr. Webster also qualifies from a political standpoint. He belongs to a family of steady-support Conservatives back beyond his father's day. Mr. Webster upholds all that is good in the Conservatives and is ever ready to condemn their shortcomings. He led the poll in a provincial contest and was recognized as a leader in political thought and action while he was a member.

No one whose name has been mentioned in the Province has better right or more pronounced qualifications for that office.

1,820 SHIPS SUNK.

One thousand eight hundred and twenty ships, with an aggregate gross tonnage of approximately 3,326,584 have been sunk by belligerent nations during twenty-seven months of war ending November 1, according to figures compiled from cable despatches and mail advices and published recently by the New York Journal of Commerce.

The losses during October were larger than for any one of the preceding five months, according to the statistics, amounting to 127 vessels of a total of 227,158 tons gross.

Norway lost the largest number of ships, 56 according to the statistics, but their tonnage was only 57,333, as compared with Great Britain's total loss of 115,546 gross tonnage of 38 vessels destroyed.

A table showing the total shipping since the war began estimates those of Entente Allies at about 75 per cent, and those of neutrals at about 18 per cent, with Teutonic losses less than 7 per cent.

SOME MODERN GIANTS

An unusual problem has to be faced by the military authorities in Wiltshire in the shape of a young man named Frederick Hempster, who is said to be 8 ft. 2 1/2 in. in height and still growing.

Mr. Hempster, who not long ago passed his majority, turns the scale at 27st. His boots are marked "sized 22 1/2," a penny can be dropped through his ring. When he travels he goes in the guard's van, the available space in an ordinary coach being too restricted for comfort. Three ordinary beds have to be placed side by side for him so to sleep in; he can span two octaves on a piano and light a cigarette comfortably at a street lamp. As the military authorities do not know what they could possibly do with him if they had him in the army, he remains for the time being peacefully at home.

At one time the distinction of being the tallest man in the British Army belonged to Pte. H. Barter, who joined the Grenadier Guards five years ago. 13 years of age at that time, he stood 6ft 8 1/2 in his stockings, and was still growing rapidly.

On Pte. Barter joining the Army the record of Major Oswald Ames, of the 2nd Life Guards, who reached the height of 6ft. 7 1/2 in. was beaten. Major Ames had previously held the record for the British army by 1/2 in.

These records, however, are easily surpassed by that of Marchnow, who created a sensation at the London Hippodrome some years ago, and who weighed over 32st., and was 9ft. 3in. in height. The cloth used for one suit of clothes for him was sufficient to have made suits for six ordinary individuals.

Mention of Marchnow recalls Miss Mariel, the Tyrolean giantess, who stood 8ft. 3in. high, 23 years of age, her physical attractions were such while appearing at the London Hippodrome she received a proposal of marriage from Mr. Darral, the son of a wealthy Australian farmer, who stood no less than 8ft. 5in high in his boots. Mr. Darral was reported to have two sisters in Australia, each of whom was 7ft. 6in. in height, while his father stood 8ft. 3in. in his socks.

Another giant whom Londoners had an opportunity of seeing a few years ago was Constantine the Great, a giant standing 8ft. 1 in. in his stockings with a chest girth of 53in. To satisfy the needs of the inn he ate meat and drank five or six meals a day.

Chang, the Chinese giant who ended his days at Bournemouth some years ago, was a man of enormous size, standing over 8 ft. in his socks and turning the scale at 26st. He used to declare however, that he had a sister in China who could look over his head. This remarkable lady was 8ft. 4in in height, weighed 23st, and had a hand with a span of 2ft.

NORWEGIAN WAR BOAT FIRES ON GERMAN SHIP

Copenhagen, Denmark, Nov. 14.—The Morgenbladet says that a Norwegian torpedo boat has fired upon a German steamer which refused to stop when passing Stavanger.

The Norwegian fired a shot at the rigging, the newspaper says then boarded the steamer and dismantled her wireless.

Since the beginning of the war foreign ships have not been permitted to carry wireless installation when in Norwegian waters.

REPORT ON POWER FROM FUNDY TIDES

Peculiar Formation of Cape Split Makes That Location Particularly Suitable for Proposed Plant.

Efforts are now being made to utilize the swift tidal currents in the Bay of Fundy in the production of power. This bay extends from the island of Grand Manan, of the mouth of the St. Croix River, in a northeasterly direction, for about 150 miles. It separates the Provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and for two-thirds of its length from Grand Manan is a straight solid body of water some forty miles in width, then is split by a narrow neck of land into two almost equal legs, the left leg known as Chignecto Bay and the right leg as Minas Basin. In this great body of water the tides of the ocean rise to a greater height than anywhere else in the world.

At the head of the bay in the two legs mentioned the tides reach the height of 50 feet; even at the city of St. John, on the main body of the bay, they rise 28 feet to 30 feet. In some places there are very swift currents, exceeding, in fact, the flow of the swiftest rivers, and it is the utilization of these currents for power that is now greatly interesting the maritime provinces of Canada.

The general flow in the middle of the bay is from one to two knots per hour, and the maximum rate at Digby Gut, on the Nova Scotia coast, is four knots; but in the right leg of the bay, known as Minas Channel, the rate is from eight to ten knots.

This rapid current, says the United States consul at St. John, in an interesting report on the subject, is doubtless due to the peculiar shape and formation of a neck of land known as Cape Split, which extends up into Minas Basin in the shape of a hook, narrowing the waters of Minas Basin at the extreme end of the cape to a very few miles.

It is at this point that the waters of the bay offer the greatest advantages for water power, because, first, there will be no obstruction to navigation; second it is an ideal situation for a power house; third, the swiftest current is here; fourth, here are the highest cliffs; and, fifth, it is the central position in relation to the needs of the province. Within a radius of 100 miles an urban population exceeding that of any city in Canada, except Montreal, can be reached.

Up to this time the use of tidal power has been almost entirely by means of large reservoirs, one of which is kept at high-tide level and empties thru power gates to the other kept at low tide level. Those who are promoting this power scheme at Cape Split because of the great current at this point expect to use just the tidal current rather than the head system. Storage will have to be provided for to meet the periods in every 24 hours when the tidal flow will have to be made. These features are now taxing the skill of engineers and others who are endeavoring to harness the tides of the Bay of Fundy.

BRITAIN MAY STOP THE MANUFACTURE OF LIQUOR

London, November 14.—A motion that the manufacture of intoxicating liquor in Great Britain should be prohibited will be made in the House of Commons, according to notice given by a group of members, after the speech last night of Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade on the food situation.

The members of the group, the notice stated, will move that this prohibition should be imposed, in view of Mr. Runciman's grave statement respecting the shortage of corn, sugar and other foodstuffs.

NO REST TO BE GIVEN THE GERMANS

British Gains at Ancre Only the Forerunner of What is to Come

London, Nov. 16.—Major-General F. B. Maurice, Chief Director of Military Operations at the War Office, in an interview with the Associated Press in the Ancre Valley were only the forerunner of further equally important advances which will be made on the Western front during the winter months.

"Our success on the Ancre," said General Maurice, "means that we are not going to give the enemy much rest this winter. It means that whenever weather conditions permit we are going to attack and subject the enemy to unceasing pressure during the coming months, so as to prevent, as far as possible, the Germans from establishing themselves in new positions."

"All the attempts of the enemy to minimize our success will not explain away the fact that in three days the British troops, by the capture of Beaumont, St. Pierre-Divion and the semi-circular ridge they dominated have gained an important strategical advantage. This ridge formed a salient jutting into our lines from the northern bank of the Ancre. Thus the enemy was able to direct the fire of his artillery massed behind it."

"Our troops advanced from below sticky white chalk and a network of defences. They gained the ridge and forced the enemy back across the valley to the next hill. As a result we dominate the situation in this territory and are consolidating the positions for further activities."

MOST RAPID ROAD TO VICTORY

Former French Minister Says Actions of the Allies on Saloniki Front Must be More United and Vigorous

Paris, Nov. 16.—Jean Cruppi, formerly Minister of Foreign Affairs, speaking at a meeting today presided over by Professor Paul Painleve, Minister of Public Instruction, outlined the importance of the intervention of Roumania on the side of the Allies in the war. As a result of Roumania's participation the Allied armies are now at Orsova, from which point he said they would be able to advance toward Budapest. It is only 60 miles from Kalafat to Nish, through which passes the railway connection the Central Powers with the East.

He pointed out also that it is only 180 miles from the advanced positions on the Saloniki front of the Danube, and that the Russo-Roumanian armies have a natural path through Dobrudja towards Sofia and Constantinople. Dorna Watra, in Moldavia, where the Entente Allies have been fighting successfully, overlooks the plains of Hungary.

These considerations, he urged, are sufficient to show the importance of the Roumanian front in the plains of the Entente.

"But," continued M. Cruppi, "if, in default of action, vigorous, immediate and concerted, Roumania becomes enfeebled; if the thrust of the Central Powers, coming from the north or west, succeed; if Von Falkenhayn and Von Mackensen join their armies in the direction of Dobrudja, then we will see, instead of a definite encircling of the Orient open widely to the enemy, and the flank of the Russians, previously covered by the neutrality of Roumania, will be directly threatened. That is the truth; it must be looked in the face. The Germans know that and they prove it by immensity of their efforts."

M. Cruppi spoke of the splendid efforts of Roumania, but said it was not sufficient for the Allies that Russia each day was increasing her forces in Dobrud-ja and the Carpathians. The actions of the Allies on the Saloniki front, he declared must each day be more united, more vigorous. This as the most rapid road to victory.

Pussy-Footing Will Not Do.

The defeat of Mr. Hughes in his candidature for the Presidency of the United States may fairly be attributed to his failure bravely to discuss the most vital issues that were before the people. He showed a lack of courage in the campaign, that is usually fatal in elections. The vagueness of the promises, as well as of his criticism of President Wilson's policy in connection with the war must have left a great many of the people of the United States in a cloud of doubt as to what they had a right to expect from Mr. Hughes if he were elected.

This particular contest shows that what the people want is a leader who is upright and downright. The pussy-footing candidate invariably courts defeat. The man who boldly takes the platform and declares his views in such terms as cannot be mistaken excites the enthusiasm of his followers, and at least wins the admiration of his opponents. From an attitude of admiration to support is not a very long step. But the people must have something to fight for. Mr. Hughes failed to give it to them. If his place had been taken by Theodore Roosevelt, in all probability the Republican party would have won. Notwithstanding all his faults, Mr. Roosevelt, by the positive qualities of his character, excites enthusiasm. The very strength of the animosity which he inspires in those who oppose him adds to his strength and compels a thorough discussion of every question that he raises.

What could be better for a democracy than that. Any man who refuses or is afraid to discuss frankly the views he holds does not deserve the suffrages of the people, and nine times out of ten he will not get them.

We do not see that it matters one straw to the Dominion of Canada whether Mr. Wilson or Mr. Hughes is President of the Republic. We probably have as much to expect from one as from the other. In return of Mr. Wilson, there is this consoling fact, that there will not be that four months' interregnum which would have been unavoidable had the returns favored Mr. Hughes.—Sentinel.

CLAIM TO HAVE WRECKED 121 ALLIED AEROPLANES

From the Truthful Hun

Berlin, Nov. 14.—An official statement says: "With great success in the month of October, our flying forces fulfilled their heavy and variegated task especially in the western war theatre, special acknowledgment and thanks are deserved by the observation fliers of the artillery and infantry. They were protected by the battle aeroplanes, which also splendidly fulfilled their special tasks and by the anti-aircraft guns."

"We lost seventeen aeroplanes. Our enemies in the west, in the east and in the Balkans lost 104 aeroplanes, 83 of them in air fights, 15 shot down from the ground and six by being forced to land behind our lines. Sixty hostile aeroplanes are in our possession, 44 machines were seen to fall down on the other side of the lines."

Palestine Bombed By Allied Airmen

Constantinople, Nov. 14.—"4 enemy aeroplanes" dropped bombs on Beersheba, Palestine, on November 11 without causing any damage," says the statement issued today by Turkish army headquarters. "Two workmen were injured, the enemy machines were pursued by ours."

The shamrock was adopted as the national emblem of Ireland because St. Patrick selected it in order to explain to the Irish the doctrine of Trinity.

APPLE SHIPMENTS FROM DIGBY

Digby, November 13.—The steamer Empress made another special trip to Digby on Saturday night for the purpose of conveying Nova Scotia apples across the Bay of St. John's across the Bay. An extra D. A. R. train had brought 23 cars of apples and 3 cars of canned apples, and by the time the boat arrived at Digby several cars were at the pier ready for shipment. From 11 p. m., a gang of stevedores were kept busy until nearly noon today, and the whole 26 carloads were stored aboard. The hold was filled, also between decks and one car load on deck. There were 1,800 boxes of canned apples, and the whole consignment was for the west. This is the third trip the Empress has made this fall for apples from the Annapolis valley.

The Commission which has been investigating charges of corruption made against Liberals in Saskatchewan has uncovered a nasty thing. 4 members of the Legislature, all supporters of Scott Government, have been found guilty of graft, very glaring graft. Liberal newspapers are now engaged in an attempt to turn this state of things to the credit of the Scott Government. It will be remembered that what the Opposition in Saskatchewan wanted was an investigation into the treaty made between the Scott Government of Saskatchewan and the liquor in interests of that Province, an investigation which the Scott Government, supported by a Liberal majority, refused to allow. That question was never investigated but in the other investigation which was allowed, the charges were proven. That itself seems rather significant. Liberal newspapers are telling the people of Canada that the Scott Government has been exonerated. There has been no investigation into the relations of the Scott Government with the liquor interest, and therefore there has been no exoneration.—Gleaner.

Another heavy increase in the price of newsprint last week makes the burden of the publisher still more heavy. Were newsprint the only item of increase country papers might still continue at the former price. But every thing that enters into the make up of a paper has increased from 20 to 100 per cent and some things used in small quantities have advanced even a greater per cent.

Subscribers will still be given an opportunity to pay for their paper for 1917 at the old price of One Dollar if paid to us during the month of November. We are making this offer because we need money and we need it now.

Many very old accounts are in the hands of a Magistrate for collection. Those accounts will be collected forthwith with costs added. Others whose accounts are still owing for several years, can be settled at our office early this month. For a short time we will allow such delinquents who pay now, all arrears and also pay for the full year of 1917, to settle at the One Dollar a year rate. As soon as the money we require for pressing needs is obtained this offer will be withdrawn.

WEDDING BELLS

Chipman-Rankine

St. John, Nov. 16—In the presence of immediate relatives, Miss Emma Murray Rankine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Rankine, 210 Germain St., and Reginald Henry Chipman, son of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Chipman, Grand Pre, N. S., were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents by Rev. F. S. Dowling, pastor of St. Andrew's church. The bride who was unattended, wore a travelling suit of brown Bolivia, trimmed with moleskin fur, with hat to match, and carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The house decorations were of white roses, palms and white chrysanthemums. Following the ceremony refreshments were served, the table decorations being lilies of the valley and roses. Mr. and Mrs. Chipman left last evening on a honeymoon trip to New York, and on their return will reside at 210 Germain St. The bride was the recipient of a large number of beautiful and appropriate presents.

OBITUARY

At her home in Berwick, on Monday morning, November 13, in her 31st year, Laura, beloved wife of Dr. F. L. Comstock, passed away very suddenly. Her death cast a shadow over the whole community, where she, a general favorite, was held in highest esteem by all who knew her.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rainsforth, she grew up in Berwick. Her heart early inclined to her Saviour and she united with the Baptist Church, when twelve years of age. She attended school and graduated at Acadia Seminary in 1905 and was married to Dr. Comstock in December, 1910.

Largely attended funeral services, conducted by her pastor Rev. W. A. Robbins, were held at the home, Commercial Street, on Wednesday afternoon the 12th. The floral tributes from fraternal orders and personal friends, were many and beautiful, including a pillow and wreath from mother and husband.

Mrs. Comstock leaves three children, Marion, Leslie and a little babe, a mother, Mrs. George Rainsforth of Berwick, a sister, Mrs. Dr. W. D. Murray of Vancouver, and her husband, Dr. F. L. Comstock, to whom many friends are giving expression of sincere sympathy, in his great bereavement.

The cargo of the Prince Arthur on Wednesday evening was valued at about $20,000. Cargoes of greater value have been carried of the boats but this particular one consisted almost entirely of fish, both fresh and salt.—Yarmouth Post.
