

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., DEC. 30, 1904.

In a few hours the year 1904 will have passed into history. For what has the year been notable? Is the question which naturally forms itself in the mind as the old year ends. The war between Russia and Japan, the general election in Canada, the presidential election in the United States, and the new Union of a large number of arbitrators' treaties at once present themselves as events of great importance. In many respects the year has been a most remarkable one, and one which will long be remembered. It was predicted that the year 1904 would be a year of disaster and accident and this has in a large measure come true. Probably never before has the record of a year been filled with such tales of disaster by land and by sea. While this is true the records of the year also bear testimony to progress along all lines of activity and the condition of the old world, let us hope, has been made better and happier. We bid the old year good-bye and look forward with hope to the New Year soon to dawn upon us.

The time for the annual meeting of the Municipal Council is near at hand. This being the first session of the new Council will be looked forward to with interest by the electors of the county. There are many matters which should, in the public interest, engage the attention of our county legislators, some of which we hope to refer to in a future issue. The first act of the Council will of course be the election of a Warden, and since the late Warden is not now a member of the Council, the duty and honor of the office will necessarily fall upon a new man. The election of Councillor Campbell, of Ward 2, would be a natural as well as a wise procedure. Mr. Campbell has had considerable experience in the Council, of which he has been a member for several terms. He is a man of high integrity and good business ability, and represents a central and important Ward. In the last Council Mr. Campbell filled the office of Deputy Warden, and when called upon to fill the chair, presided with dignity and ability.

Christmas passed off successfully in Wolfville. The merchants report a good trade, notwithstanding the little money that has been realized from the apple crop this year. The weather preceding the big holiday was favorable although the last two days of the week were too cold to make it pleasant for out of town people to do their shopping. Monday was pretty generally observed as a holiday, and the fine bright weather and good roads made an enjoyable one. The city was as usual many home gatherings, and a Merry Christmas was a reality in most of the home of Kings county.

The Dominion inspector of timber and forestry urges strongly that steps be taken to preserve our forests, as the world is beginning to look to Canada for its timber supply, and a reasonable percentage of forest land should be under government inspection to assure their scientific disposal. The outlook is far from reassuring, and a time of scarcity may be in the near future. The forest, with its network of roots and mossy growth, forms a natural reservoir whereby the fertile moisture in the ground is conserved, and the energy of streams and rivers undiminished. He predicts a great loss to the productivity of the Manitoba soil and the pasture lands of Southern Alberta if the forests abounding in the mountain regions are not recognized as agents of fertility.

A Statesman.

Among those who took part in the Howe Memorial Service at Halifax in connection with the unveiling of the monument erected in honor of Nova Scotia's gifted son, was Mr. George N. Morang, of Toronto, who made an excellent address, from which we copy an extract below. Does anyone recognize the characteristics described by Mr. Morang in the so-called statesman of our present Provincial Assembly?

"Survey as you will the character and achievements of the men who have made Canada what she is—the home of political and personal freedom—and you will not discover one who will so fully realize your ideal of citizenship that deserves above all others to be cherished as the model for the future generations of this country."

"Howe was not a politician; he was a statesman. He never untinged his knee to seek for popularity. He never abandoned a course which his judgment and his conscience showed him to be just, in order to wheedle the votes of the multitude. His attitude upon the confederation question has been misunderstood and misrepresented. The truth is that no action of his career more clearly reveals his manly and his strength. He had the opportunity, so tempting to less noble natures, of playing the demagogue with the multitude. He made his choice at great personal sacrifice and by it made many bitter enemies among his former friends; but at his death the old animosities were buried, and his loss was mourned in nearly every home in his native province."

Compulsory Attendance.

DEAR ACADIAN.—In a recent issue you published a letter from the chairman of the Board of School Commissioners, calling attention to the requirements of the Compulsory Attendance Act in connection with our public school, and stating it to be the intention of the commissioners to have the same carried into effect. While the anxiety of the Board in this particular is commendable it may be questioned if at the present it would be very much more to the point for its members to devote their energies in the direction of providing accommodation for those children who do attend rather than in looking up recruits. If report is true during last term there was not sufficient seating capacity in some of the departments for all the children who presented themselves at the regular sessions of the school. For some time back it has been apparent that there was a need of more accommodation in our school, and it is to be hoped that provision may be made for another department before school resumes after vacation.

A PARENT.

At a special meeting of the Town Council on Tuesday evening resolutions of sympathy for the family of the late Town Clerk were passed, and the following letter was ordered to be sent to Mrs. Dixon:

WOLFVILLE, DEC. 27th, 1904.
MRS. F. A. DIXON,
DEAR MADAM.—We, the Mayor and Council of the Town of Wolfville, desire to tender to you our heartfelt sympathy in your bereavement. Although you have known for months past of your husband's failing health, yet he was so persistent and punctual in the performance of his duties that when the summons came his sudden and early demise caused you and his friends a severe and painful shock. We know you have lost a kind and considerate husband, your children a fond and loving father, the Town of Wolfville a faithful officer and a good and loyal citizen. May our Heavenly Father vouchsafe to you and yours His grace, protection and blessing.
THE MAYOR & COUNCIL, of Wolfville.

Poultry Keeping and Winter Egg Production.

The reason the poultry output of the Maritime Provinces is not larger is because you have considered that poultry keeping is too small for your attention, said W. R. Graham, Poultry Superintendent of the Ontario Agricultural College, at the Maritime Winter Fair.

In most businesses it is the profits that are got from the little things that pay. Statistics show that for every dollar that did your field crops there is a profit in cents, in bees a dispute with a neighbor, in a city of 50,000, in comparing the hen at 50 cents with the steer at $75, the hen looks very small, but when enough of them are put together the result is all right. Poultry keeping is really one of the most profitable branches of the farm. This exhibition is the best I have ever seen at any exhibition in America. This is a good start. Keep up the quality of your utility birds and breed from them.

No doubt many of you have considered how our boys and girls can be induced to stay on the farm. Why do they leave—is it because we do not interest them? Poultry keeping is one of the best ways to interest the boys and girls in farm life. Attention to detail and good business management are needed in the poultry business, as in all others, but it does not cost a great deal to start the boy or girl with poultry. Give him or her a small house and a good pen of utility birds. Ask that they keep an exact account of the cost of the house and birds, the cost of food and care, and of the returns. At the end of the year have them present a full statement.

If you want to train your boy for a live stock man, you can train him with poultry in a cheaper and better way than with any other stock.

Most youngsters get tired of work when the novelty wears off. Poultry will stop hating as soon as the care stops—the boy sees the result of lack of care immediately.

Winter Egg Production—Your success or failure in getting winter eggs depends upon—

- 1st—Proper stock.
- 2nd—A suitable house.
- 3rd—Egg-producing food.
- 4th—Care and attention.

Among the various breeds, the Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes and Orpingtons are most likely to lay well in winter.

Early hatched pullets, or early moulting hens, make the best winter layers. Pullets should be hatched between April 1st and May 15th to lay well in early winter.

The house should be comfortable in cold weather. We do not need a warm house—we must not shut off all fresh air. A house should be waterproof, wind-proof, and with an abundance of fresh air and light. Let in the sun—plenty of it.

The food must include meat food, vegetable food and grain. A flock of twenty hens will eat almost as much clover hay as a yearling steer. In the summer the hen eats grass, and gets meat in the form of worms and insects. The latter can be supplied in winter by green cut bone, tannage, blood meal, kitchen waste, etc. Wheat is the best single grain, but a mixture of grain is best.

Give the hens plenty of exercise by entering their grain in six inches of chaff or leaves.

GREETING

A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

With the passing of the old year and the coming of the new we tender the compliments of the season to our patrons, our friends and to all others. To those who have favored us with their patronage in the past years we extend our thanks and an assurance of our best efforts in serving them in the future. To those who have not favored us with their trade we wish to say that it is our earnest endeavor to offer the people of Wolfville the best Pharmaceutical service that is to be found anywhere.

Our only resolution for the coming year is as always, to try to do still better those things which we now do well, and to extend and improve our business in every way possible. May the New Year be a bright and prosperous one for you.

Sudden Death of Mr. Dixon.

The Christmas season brought sadness to one Wolfville home, the inmates of which were called upon to mourn the loss of a fond husband and loving father at a season when joy and mirth filled other homes.

Wolfville people were very much shocked on Monday afternoon to learn of the sudden death of Mr. F. A. Dixon, our genial and popular town clerk. Mr. Dixon had been in poor health for some months past, and had been warned by his physicians that he could not count with any degree of certainty upon his span of life being continued to him. Notwithstanding this he bravely looked to the future and faithfully performed the duties allotted to him. For months past it has been necessary for him to be driven to and from the office, and those who have been called upon to do business at the town hall noticed his weakness and the effort required on his part to carry on his work. But in spite of this he was ever affable and painstaking, keeping his own troubles to himself and ready to help in any way those who came to him for assistance.

On Saturday he was at the office as usual and on Sunday carved the Christmas turkey and helped to celebrate the glad yule-tide festival. While he was not so well on Sunday night or Monday, no immediate danger was anticipated by Mrs. Dixon, who was alone in the house with him when the end came suddenly at shortly after one o'clock on Monday.

Frank Allison Dixon was a native of Liverpool, England, a son of the late W. T. Dixon. He came to this country about sixteen years ago, and has since been a resident of Wolfville. For twelve years he has faithfully and satisfactorily filled the office of town clerk. He was a good citizen, a devoted adherent of the Church of England, and a prominent member of St. George's Lodge, A. F. and A. M. During his residence in Wolfville he made many friends and, so far as we know, no enemies.

His portly figure will no more be seen upon our streets, and his kindly spirit will long be missed.

He leaves a widow and seven children, who have the profound sympathy of all.

The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon, and, notwithstanding the rather unpleasant state of the weather, was very largely attended. Rev. R. F. Dixon had charge of the services at the home, the church and the grave. The members of St. George's Lodge attended in a body, and the interment was made with Masonic honors. The beautiful ritual of the order was exceedingly well carried out under the leadership of Rev. J. D. Spidel and Rev. Dr. Dil. Mr. T. L. Harvey well performed the duties of Marshall. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful, fittingly testifying to the general esteem and respect felt for the departed.

BEST WISHES FOR 1905

We wish to begin the new year with an acknowledgement of our appreciation of the favors shown us during the past twelve months by the people of this community. Our business through 1904 has been very satisfactory indeed and we desire to thank those who have contributed to this result. We endeavor to so conduct our business that our customers will be our friends, and we have no doubt that steady growth of our business is in a large measure due to the loyalty and influence of our patrons. We hope to merit a continuance of this good will and to so conduct our store that it will attract those who appreciate high quality of goods and service at most reasonable prices.

To all our friends we extend our best wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year.

The reported purchase of the Midland Railway by the D. A. R. is contradicted. It is said that while the Midland is for sale and that several offers have been made for it none yet received is satisfactory to the directors.

A terrible explosion took place at Waverly, Halifax county, on Monday, when the drying house of the Acadia Powder Company was blown to atoms. A ton or so of gunpowder exploded, the cause of which is not apparent. The property loss is about $30,000. There was no loss of life, though the concussion was tremendous.

Among the contributions to the Youth's Companion for December 29 is an article on "A New Insect Enemy"—the brown-tailed and the gypsy moth, which are working destruction in some parts of New England; an account of the training of a big alligator in the New York Zoological Park; a tale of adventure, "In an African Cavern," by David Sloan, and a startling warning by a physician of "The Dangers of Wood-Alcohol."

The post office department has issued a circular explanatory of the new postal connection between Canada and Mexico, which takes effect on Jan. 1st, next. Mail matter, first, second and third classes, letters, newspapers, samples of merchandise and printed and miscellaneous matter, may be sent to Mexico at the same rates as to Canadian points. Articles of merchandise which pass as fourth class matter in Canada, will have to be sent to Mexico by parcel post.

The funeral service of Rev. H. H. Roach was held at Clarence on the 25th inst. Pastors Daley and Kinlay were present to assist in the service. Mr. Roach was widely and favorably known and his death is sincerely lamented. Mrs. Roach is a daughter of the late Dennis Redden, of Black River. She will remain in St. John until spring, the Main Street church, of which Mr. Roach was pastor, giving her the use of the parsonage until that time, and rendering beside many acts of sympathy and kindness.

The Duke of Argyll has long been a regular yearly contributor to the Youth's Companion. For the issue of Dec. 29th he has written an interesting article on the powers and duties of the Governor-General of Canada. Having formerly held the appointment himself, the duke speaks with authority as to the influence which the vicerey is able to exert, if he is a man of tact and ability, in promoting the internal welfare of the Dominion and strengthening the attachment of the people to the mother country. A fine portrait of Earl Grey, the new Governor-General, illustrates the article.

St. John's church was simply but prettily and effectively decorated for the great festival of the Incarnation, last Sunday. There were two celebrations of the Holy Communion, at 8 a. m. and at 11 a. m., when a large number of the parishioners received. The singing at both the morning and evening services was excellent and reflects great credit upon all concerned: upon the organist, Mrs. Chas. Borden, who has so long and faithfully and so efficiently presided at the organ; upon the choir leader, Mr. Syron, who at considerable personal exertion has so carefully and painstakingly trained the choir, and upon the choir whose attendance at the practices and interest in the singing leaves nothing to be desired. The new organ, it is to be hoped, will soon be within sight. The church will also be shortly beautified by a new pulpit and oak lectern, the latter in memory of the late Mrs. Tremaine and her sister Miss Chipman. The construction of these articles of furniture has been entrusted to Mr. Geo. A. Prat, whose well known artistic ability is a guarantee that they will give the highest satisfaction.

We have received a copy of the "Corticelli Home Needlework" published by the Corticelli Silk Co., of St. Johns, P. Q. It is a handsomely printed magazine, and should be very useful and entertaining for lady readers. The table of contents includes a large number of articles having to do with table decoration, embroidered work, lace making, etc., and it is handsomely illustrated with colored plates. The price of the magazine, which is published quarterly, is 50 cent per year or 15 cent a copy.
