Baccalaureate Sunday

Baccalaureate Sunday dawned bright and fine and College Hall was filled to capacity at the 11 o'clock service. The students from the University, Seminary and Academy occupied the seats on the main floor of the Hall. Dr. Cutten presided; Rev. R. O. Morse Grand Harbor, N. B., offered the invocation; Dr. deBlois read the scripture lesson; Dr. W. C. Goucher, St. Stephen, N. B., offered prayer. A vocal solo by Miss Winnifred Stephens, a violin solo by Miss Pauline Nelson, and a selection by the Seminary Glee Club were much enjoyed. Rev. S. R. McCurdy, of Providence, R. I., pronounced the benediction.

The Baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. Austen K. deBlois, Ph. D., D. D., LL.D., pastor of the First Baptist church of Boston, Mass. His theme was "The Strong Soul and the Strengthening Christ", which he based on the words of St. Paul (Epistle to the Philippians, 4th chapter): "I can do all things in (through Him) Christ that strengtheneth me".

"There are," he said, "three elemental attitudes towards human life at the present time—first, that of egoistic self-assertion; second, that of ambitious self-culture; third, that of sacrificial self-realization." The first is that of our world's—late enemies. It is the ideal of personal energy for self-aggrandisement.

Dr. deBlois found in the ideal of ambitious self-culture a standard genuinely lofty. It is the old Greek ideal of strength and grace—of full, rich manhood. The war resulted in a fuller, richer manhood for many. This leads to the third ideal, sacrificial self-realization. The speaker stated that the Christian ideal of sacrificial self-realization means, first, a steadfast faith under all vicissitudes; secondly, irrepensible hope; third, a pure and passionate love of Christ. The present hour calls for these three qualities in all men. Each man should strive to be a clearer thinker, a nobler citizen, and a better Christian. It is not mere scholarly thinking that is wanted. Every man must think straight and think thorough. Nobler citizenship implies that men give themselves for their fellows. To be better Christians men must be supreme lovers of mankind. Thus it shall be that we can do all things through Christ, and save the world. For this world is not a great factory for making things, but God's greater workshop for making men. Be not self-made, be Christ-made, and help to make others for Christ's sake in the mould of the divine self-sacrificing pattern."

In the evening a very interesting service was held in College Hall, under the auspices of the College Y. M. C. A. The speaker was Rev. Dr. MacDonald, pastor of the Wolfville Baptist church, and his address was a most able and thoughtful one. Dr. MacDonald began by referring to the pleasant relations that had existed between himself and the students during the year. Under the circumstances his message would be of the nature of a farewell. He urged upon those going out to take up the duties of life that above all else they keep their lives pure and make them count for something in the world. His address abounded in helpful advice and will be long remembered by those present. The congregational singing was conducted by Dr. Spidle, and there were vocal solos by Mr. Paul Cross and Madam Hobbs, and a violin solo by Miss Helen DeWolfe. The scripture lesson was read by Rev. W. V. Higgins and Rev. Mr. Prosser, of Canard, made the prayer.

Acadia Seminary Class Day

The Class Day exercises of the graduating class of Acadia Ladies' Seminary were held in College Hall, on Monday afternoon, before a large audience which thoroughly enjoyed the whole proceedings. While the processional march was being played by Misses Georgina Phinney and Berta Duncanson, of the Junior class, the Seniors and Juniors took their respective places on the platform. The former looked very neat being all dressed alike in white dresses, trimmed with green, the class colors, the dresses all being home made.

Miss Ellen Spencer, president of the class, gave a short address of welcome, after which the roll call and minutes were read by the secretary, Miss Leola Swim. The other officers were Miss Doris Crandall, vice-president, and Miss Phyllis Pollard, treasurer. By a unanimous vote of the class these officers were elected for life. It was decided to have the first reunion of the class in 1923.

The musical numbers on the program were a piano solo by Miss Pollard, and a vocal solo by Miss Swim, with violin obligato by Miss Hilda Kinsman. Miss Rita Atkinson read the Class Will, some of the bequests being of a very humorous nature. The Presentation of Gifts was conducted by Misses Isabel MacNeill and Cassie Smallman, and was much enjoyed by all, but especially by the recipients. Miss Edith Jenkins gave the Class Prophecy which was well written and as usual very humorous. The Valedictory was delivered by Miss Mary Crandall, and it was most ably written and well delivered.

Acadia Academy Closing

The closing exercises of Acadia Collegiate and Business Academy were held in College Hall on Monday evening, the Hall being well filled with the friends of the graduating class. While the processional march was being played by Misses Ora Annis and Violet Holden the students of the Academy took their places in the seats reserved for them. The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. Gordon C. Warren, of Fredericton, N. B. A vocal solo, "Cloverland", was well rendered by Miss Erna Conrad. Murvale Vail, of the graduating class, read his essay on "Wireless", which was well written. The class history was given by G. deWitt Mullin, and the Valedictory by Llewellyn M. Gray. Other musical numbers on the program were a violin solo by Miss Mary Lusby, a vocal solo by Miss Marguerite White, and a vocal duet by Madam Hobbs and Elden Henshaw. The address to the graduates was given by Rev. Gordon C. Warren. Dr. Archibald, principal of the Academy presented diplomas to 45 members of the Graduating class, including the following Wolfville boys:

John Crowell, Edgar DeWolfe, J. Merle Porter, Donald Stuart, Allan Smith, Donald Smith.

We have received a clipping from a Bridgewater, Mass. paper giving an account of the Mother's Day service in the First Baptist church of that city. The pastor of the church is Rev. Clarence F. Bleakney, and Mr. Lewis Pick, of this town, was the soloist at the service.

Acadia Seminary Closing

The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. A. J. Archibald, of New Glasgow. A pianoforte solo, Valse Caprice, by Rubenstein, was played in an excellent manner by Miss Mollie Somers. Three essays were given: Water as a Symbol, by Miss Ellen Spencer; Growth of Vocal Music, by Miss Leola Swim; and Should Canada Strike for Independent Nationhood, by Miss Rita Atkinson. All the essays showed careful preparation and were much enjoyed by the audience. Two vocal selections were given by Mr. Paul Cross, and a pianoforte solo, Rhapsody No. 6, Liszt, by Mr. S. St. Elmo Selfridge. Two selections were also given by the Ladies' Choral Club.

Principal DeWolfe addressed a few words to the graduating class, after which he presented the diplomas. The following received diplomas in the Collegiate Course: Kathleen M. G. If a train moving at a speed of forty-five miles an hour were to stop suddenly, it would give the passengers a shock equal to that of falling from a height of fifty-four feet.

The report that in some parts of the States as high as 10,000 per cent. has been made in a year's business on sugar transactions will not tend to reconcile the public to the recent boosting of prices.

Business men of Calgary and other localities are assisting farmers in their seeding by placing at their disposal every available team of horses. The assistance of Calgary's quota of about 200 teams makes possible 42,000 acres in three weeks.

Centuries ago an edict was issued in China that upon the failure of a bank the heads of the president, cashier and directors should be struck off and piled up in a corner with the assets. The edict has never been repealed, nor has there been a bank failure in China for more than 900 years.

Five municipalities will assist in the construction of the new Montreal-Sherbrooke highway, the cost of which is estimated at $25,000 per mile. The federal government road agent will superintend the work, the expense of which are borne 40 per cent by the federal government, $3,000 per mile by the municipalities, and the remainder by the province.

Publishers everywhere are experiencing considerable difficulty in obtaining their wanted supply of paper stock. An evidence of this is contained in the published notice that the two well-known Curtis publications, "Saturday Evening Post" and "Country Gentleman," will discontinue circulation in Canada for three months at least because of the shortage of paper.

The bogey of the sugar shortage has been pretty thoroughly exploded by the revelations of hoarding made in the United States. It is not improbable that similar investigations were conducted in Canada it would be found that all the time the country was being warned about the tremendous scarcity, great stocks of sugar were stowed away in various parts of the country, not to say in the refineries.

The vote for, or against, the prohibition of the importation, and the bringing of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes into Nova Scotia, will be taken on Monday the twenty-fifth of October, it was announced by Rev. H. R. Grant, who said he had been advised that that was the date fixed by the Dominion Government, following the request made by resolution of the Provincial Legislature.

The incorporation of the Fraser Paper Co., Ltd., with a capitalization of $10,000,000, promises the establishment of the largest industrial enterprise in the province of New Brunswick. A sulphide mill is to be established at the mouth of the Tobique river with a capacity of 150 to 250 tons per day, and also a paper mill for the manufacture of newsprint. Some 5,000 horse-power will be developed and an army of men employed.

Anaemia Robs Its Victims by Stealth

CONDITIONS OF THIN BLOOD THAT COULD BE CORRECTED EASILY ARE STEALING THE HEALTH AND ENERGY OF MANY MEN AND WOMEN, AND BOYS AND GIRLS.

Anaemia, which literally means bloodlessness, is one of the most prevalent troubles of the present day. If neglected it is apt to develop into pernicious anaemia, one of the most hopeless diseases. While anaemia attacks men and boys, it is more prevalent among young girls and women and for this reason every woman, particularly every mother, should know how to recognize the signs of this trouble which makes its approach so gradually and so stealthily that it is often far advanced before the nature of the trouble is noticed. One general symptom of anaemia is pallor. The cheeks gradually lose their color, and the lips become pale or white. With this loss of color there come a tendency to fatigue, a palpitation of the heart, and breathlessness after slight exertion, with occasional headaches. In the more severe cases fainting spells frequently occur.

In ordinary anaemic conditions, including the anaemia that affects young girls in their teens, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are all the medicine required. Fresh air, sunlight and nourishing food will do the rest. Any woman or girl taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can tell by the growing redness of her lips that the pills are making her blood rich and red.

Miss Mabel Feener, Liverpool, N. S., says:—"Before I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I felt like a complete wreck of my former self. My blood was thin and watery; I suffered from faint and dizzy spells, and had headache almost every day. I was taking doctor's medicine, but it was not helping me and at this time I was learning my trade as a tailoress, and was forced through my illness to give up work. After reading an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills one day I decided to give the pills a trial. After taking two boxes I felt that I was being benefited, and continued their use until I was fully restored to health. The pills certainly did wonders for me, and I cannot recommend them too highly."

The purpose of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is to build up the blood. They do this one thing and they do it well. They are for this reason an invaluable remedy in diseases arising from bad or deficient blood, as rheumatism, neuralgia, after effects of the grip and fevers. The pills are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any harmful drug, and cannot injure the most delicate system. You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

What Good Roads Mean

While there may be some difference of opinion as to what kind of roads we require, or how we are to get the necessary finances needed to build these roads, yet there is no difference of opinion that we need better roads in Nova Scotia.

Good roads benefit a community by making travel quick, safe and comfortable. They extend neighborhood limits, bring more people into personal touch with each other, increase social opportunities and remove the monotony of isolation. They bring greater content to the youth on the farm, make city and country near neighbors, reduce illiteracy by increasing school attendance, and thus develop a broader knowledge of life and higher standard of living. Permanent roads are giving an ever-increasing share of service in providing safe, dependable highways for heavy motor truck traffic, relieving railroads of much short haul, lessening terminal congestion, and in these ways making the handling and shipment of supplies urgently needed both at home and abroad much easier.

Permanent roads make daily rural mail delivery a fact. Every home in the community is put on a new wire with political, financial, industrial and trading centres of the world. The best thought in every line of endeavor is transmitted daily to the communities served by a network of well-surfaced roads. The permanent road saves more than it costs. It is open to maximum traffic all the year. It brings greater freedom and ease all around in essential travel and transportation. It permanently increases land values.

But the need is for more good roads now; permanent roads that will bring these benefits with them and leave disastrous drawbacks behind—roads that will not bankrupt the community with a heavy maintenance expense. There is always this fact to be remembered: While the initial expense of a good road may seem heavy, its upkeep is considerably less than that of a poor road, which stands in need of constant repair, and in the long run an expensive road may be the cheaper of the two.

Food Value of Fruit

The actual food value of most fruits certainly is not high, but the acids in composition are agreeable and wholesome solvent of the fibrous portions of a meal. The potash salts and other mineral compounds, in which fruits are rich, are needed in order to keep the blood in a healthy condition, while the fibrous portions give bulk and tend to promote a healthy condition of the organs of excretion. We often hear it said that "Health is the greatest of all possessions, and is not quoted in the market because it is without price." Therefore the use of plenty of wholesome fruit, when it is in season, should be encouraged, and by preserving it in various ways a good supply for winter use will help to lighten the food bill, and will give variety to the table in winter as well as summer. It will also provide a palatable dessert, which can be taken from the pantry shelf and served immediately, without cooking or other preparation. There are also a large number of simple, dainty desserts that can be prepared from preserved fruits, many of which are inexpensive and tasty. The woman who is interested in her home and home life should be able to conserve all the excess products from the garden, orchard or market purchases at a moderate cost, thereby preventing any waste. The home product, when well preserved, is both attractive and palatable, and many leading grocers have customers who prefer such goods, causing a constant demand for first-class home-made preserves.

The old saying that "One man's meat is another man's poison" appears to be true in the case of different kinds of live stock. It is a fact that some plants which poison horses are not injurious to cattle or sheep, and some which cause loss among cattle and sheep are not eaten by swine and horses. In Bulletin No. 39, Second Series of the Experimental Farms, "Principal Poisonous Plants of Canada" by Miss Edith Fyles, B. A., obtainable free upon application to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, a list of plants which do injury to the various classes of animals is given. The bulletin, which is prepared for live stock owners, gives information regarding poisonous plants and enables the farmer to distinguish the most harmful species in his neighborhood so that he may be able to avoid pasturing animals on infested areas until the danger is past. The yearly loss due to plant poisoning is known to be on the increase but the amount of the loss is not ascertainable because many fatalities are attributed to other causes through lack of knowledge of poisonous plants.

Our People and the Americans

A gentleman connected with a well known educational institution in the Maritime Provinces, and who had formerly been a teacher in an American college, was recently asked what he thought was the main difference between our people and the Americans. The questioner was amazed at the answer he received. He had thought of fifteen or twenty things that might be, but the one he got surprised him. "The American people love to paint their houses; the Canadian people apparently do not," this educationist said. And then he went on to say that in the small town in which he lived across the border for some five or six years, the average householder apparently thought quite as much about spending money for paint as he thought about spending money for himself and his family. "And I am prepared to say," said he, "that he gets as much comfort out of his paint money as he does out of his clothes money; he takes just as much pride in seeing that his house, verandah and garden fence (if he has a fence) looked spic and span as he would get in seeing himself in a new spring overcoat and hat to match.

"But", said the questioner, "do you think all the residents were that way? Do you think that all the men in the place in which you lived who painted their houses were really bent on seeing them made attractive?"

"Well, no", he replied, "perhaps it might be too much to say that, but perhaps it might also be too much to say that all men and women who buy new clothes buy them because they enjoy being well dressed. Sometimes they do so purely for the purpose of 'keeping up with the Joneses'. The man in the little college town in which I lived, who would not paint his property, made himself conspicuous by its neglected appearance, and it was not long until he had the feeling that people were talking about him—saying, perhaps, that he was not a nice man to have on their street. At any rate, whatever the cause, all the people painted, and as a result their town was a delight to the eye—a beautiful place in which to live.

The psychological effect of a place that is pleasing to the eye is to inspire a man with increased interest in the local affairs of his town and in a general way to make him a better citizen. Paint, we admit, is an expensive article these days, but it would need to be twice as dear before a town that wants to be all that a town should be, could afford to ignore its use. Each citizen has an obligation to his own community in this connection. The Maritime Merchant.

Almost every farmer in Canada is interested in some phase of the agricultural work carried on by the Dominion Experimental Farms System both at Ottawa and on the twenty branch farms distributed between the Atlantic and the Pacific. The work covered on these farms includes investigations with live stock, field crops, fruit growing, tobacco, bees, poultry and, in fact, all branches of agriculture adapted to Canadian conditions. The report of the Dominion Experimental Farms for the Fiscal Year, 1919, is obtainable from the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. This report records many valuable and interesting experiments that are under way. Among these are experiments in feeding live stock for market, and summer and winter experiments in fattening swine; the Bee Division gives a preliminary report of its experiments with two queens in one hive, and in the Division of Economic Fibre Production the variety test and the prairie flax straw experiments are outlined. Throughout this publication there are many valuable conclusions stated which are based on the experimental work conducted at these farms.

Experiments made by men versed in such matters place the dog first in the order of animal wisdom, then the monkey, then the horse.

A Mother's Advice

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she is always happy to recommend them to others. Her advice, given after a careful trial, can be readily followed with assured good results. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach. They always do good—they cannot possibly do harm even to the youngest babe. Concerning them Mrs. P. Laforest, St Nazaire, Que., writes:—"For three months my baby was constipated and cried continually. On the advice of a friend I gave him Baby's Own Tablets and now at the age of five months he is perfectly well and weighs twenty pounds. I am delighted to be able to advise other mothers to use them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A piano tuner suggested that the reason moths do not injure the felt on new pianos is that there is so much turpentine about the pianos. A thrifty house wife tried rubbing turpentine on the inside woodwork of her piano. Moths never trouble it now.

KING COLE TEA

"YOU'LL LIKE THE FLAVOR"

Ten Years After

Ten years ago the first packages of KING COLE TEA were packed and put on the market. The time that has elapsed since then has been filled with hard work and with many difficult situations to be met and overcome. But withal, it has been a period of unquestionable, steady and persistent progress. KING COLE TEA has never looked back. Every year has brought its increase. Today its sale is ten times greater than the first year's business. This is the public's remarkable tribute to the worth of KING COLE TEA. It speaks for unusual service.

Editorial Jottings

Acadia's eighty-second anniversary was favored by ideal weather conditions. From the beginning to the end of the exercises the weather bureau was on its best behavior. The attendance of the friends of the institution was large, many old graduates who had not been present for years attending this week's exercises. The past year has been a record one in the history of the schools and the prospects are bright for continued prosperity. THE ACADIAN wishes students and professors a pleasant vacation and the best of luck to those who are going out from Acadia's halls to take up life's responsibilities.

Class Day at Acadia

The graduating class of the University held their Class Day exercises on Tuesday morning. College Hall was filled to capacity and all enjoyed the entertainment given. The members of the class took their places on the platform while the march was being played by Messrs. D. D. Cameron and Ralph Harlow. George H. Estabrooks, president of the class, gave a short address of welcome, after which the roll call and minutes of preceeding minutes were read by the secretary, Miss Miriam Chisholm. The other officers are Miss Pauline Parry, vice-president and Vernon B. VanWart, treasurer. The present officers were elected for life by a unanimous vote of the class. It was voted to have a class reunion every five years, with the first reunion in 1924, Old Home Summer. Mr. Angus Elderkin was appointed to look after the ivy which the class had had planted around the college buildings. Miss Mildred Harvey sang a solo which was much enjoyed. The Class History was given by Miss Elmira Borden and the Prophecy by Miss Miriam Chisholm. Both were written in verse and were exceedingly well done. The prophecy as usual was very humorous. Lorne F. Titus delivered the Valedictory which was ably written and well delivered. The exercises were brought to a close with the giving of the Class Yell.

Basketball

Last Friday the final game of the Tuxis Basketball League was played. It was one of the liveliest games ever played in the Scout Gym. Both teams started well, scoring in the first few minutes; but soon the better combination of the Shamrocks began to tell. Bud Cook and Gilbert Weatherbee scored repeatedly. The second period was hard fought. Robert Rogers and Harold Weatherbe, the two defence players of the Shamrocks, followed some excellent team work with some star long shooting. The third period was fast. Robert Rogers, who had twisted his ankle, was replaced by Clifford Weatherbe. Stanley West played his usual good game. The Pathfinders did most of their netting this period. Arthur Brown and Leon Rhodenizer played well. Final score 46-17 in favor Shamrocks. The game was clean and both teams conducted themselves in a sportsmanlike manner.

A Most Enjoyable Recital

The recital given in College Hall on Saturday evening by Wadsworth Provandie and Marion Lina Tufts, was surely the musical event of the season. The Hall was completely filled with a large and attentive audience that plainly showed its appreciation of the treat given by the loud and prolonged applause that greeted each number. Mr. Provandie possesses a wonderful baritone voice and his singing completely captivated the audience. Miss Tufts' playing was marvellous and we feel safe in saying that she is the finest pianiste ever heard in Wolfville. The program was as follows:

They expect to spend some time at Ottawa with their son, Lieutenant Frank Higgins, before returning to India in the fall.

FOR SALE.—Building sites, among the choicest in the town of Wolfville. Apply to Stackhouse Brothers.

Many old Wolfville friends were glad to again have the privilege of meeting Rev. Dr. A. K. deBlois at the anniversary exercises this year. Dr. deBlois is a Wolfville boy of whom we are all proud. His father, the late Rev. Stephen W. deBlois, was for a long time pastor of the Wolfville Baptist church. His son grew up and was educated in Wolfville and still continues his interest in his native town. He is now pastor of the first Baptist church of Boston, and has made a name for himself as an able preacher and writer.

LOST.—A valuable black silk hand bag with solid silver mountings. The finder will be rewarded by leaving same at THE ACADIAN office. Mrs. A. L. Wood.

An interesting occasion took place on the campus Wednesday afternoon when the corner stone of Acadia's Memorial Gymnasium was laid by Lt.-Gen. Sir Arthur W. Currie. Dr. Cutten presided and called upon Dr. A. K. deBlois to open with prayer. After declaring the stone "well and truly laid" Sir Arthur Currie addressed the large crowd that had gathered to witness the event. The proceedings were brought to a close by the benediction pronounced by Rev. S. R. McCurdy, of Providence, R. I.

Breaking The Potato Habit

There is an interesting suggestion in the news items from Denver which states that restaurants that city have stopped serving potatoes, because of the vegetable's exceeding scarcity. It is entirely a logical thing to do, but may occasion a bit of surprise because it never occurs to the average person that he could get along without potatoes.

Perhaps in all our list of dietetic habits none is more firmly fixed than the potato habit. We class the potato with bread as an indispensable item of food. Yet as far as nutritive value is concerned there is no comparison. Bread is really the staff of life. Without bread we would actually suffer physical deterioration. But potatoes could be utterly abolished and not a person would be worse for it.

Potatoes are mostly made up of water. They also contain starch. The starch is all that has any noticeable food value. Any vegetable rich in starch is competent to take the place of the potato. There are many such substitutes, and they have the added virtue of containing food values that the potatoes does not—proteins, chiefly.

No one is compelled to pay the present prohibitive potato prices. Macaroni, rice, baked beans, peas are at hand. But the potato habit is hard to break. A meal with no potatoes on the table seems incomplete and no amount of argument will overcome the sense of something missing. However, if anything in the world can break the habit it is a poor grade of potato selling at 10 cents a pound. A pound of potatoes is about one portion for one meal. Ten cents' worth of rice or beans or macaroni is a meal for a family.—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

The Country Paper

(Hamilton Spectator.)

The old chap who writes these Musings spent over 40 years as the owner of a country newspaper, and naturally he has great sympathy for the boys who are now trying to struggle along and keep out of the sheriff's hands in these days of the high cost of living. It is a question at times whether the country editor is really appreciated by the people who think they are conferring a great favor on him by paying him a dollar or two dollars a year for the weekly visits of his paper, or give him a small ad. to let their neighbors know how cheap they sell goods, even in these "over the top" times. Do they ever think that the home paper gives each year from $500 to $1,000 in free advertising to the community in which it is published. The editor, in proportion to his means, does more for the town in which he lives than any other dozen men, and in all fairness he ought to be supported—not because you like him or admire the interesting way in which he tells the current history of the town. Is there a child born, has Johnny or Jenny developed as a scholar in literature or music, is there a wedding in the family, or sad tale to tell, is there a death, who is it that can so kindly tell the story as the country editor? The Bugle Horn of Liberty may not be brilliantly edited or crowded with high-falutin thought, but financially it is of more benefit to the community than the preacher or the teacher. Understand me, I do not mean mentally, yet on moral questions you will find most of the papers, in city or country, on the right side. Today the editors of city and country papers do the most for the least money in the community in which they are published of any people on earth.

Horn Was O.K.

Possibly the apex of sarcasm or something, was reached the other day when Jones took his fiver to a repair shop and asked the man there what was the best thing to do with it.

The repair man looked the car over in silence for several minutes, after which he grasped the horn and tooted it. "You've a good horn there," he remarked quietly, "suppose you jack it up and run a new car under it."

A Boy of Method

It was a week before little Willie's birthday and he was on his knees at his bedside petitioning Divine Providence for presents in a very loud voice.

"Please send me," he shouted, "a bicycle, a tool chest, a—"

"What are you praying so loud for?" his younger brother interrupted, "God ain't deaf."

"I know he ain't," said little Willie, winking towards the next room, "but grandma is."

Nobody on earth is so long suffering as the country editor. He can make jokes about the high cost of living even as he starves to death. Expenses have doubled, trebled, quadrupled, but he gets no more for his paper than the ancient dollar and a half which was less than enough before the war. He pays his help more, he pays the farmer more for less food, the grocer more for his supplies, the tailor more for his clothes, the shoemaker more for his shoes, and everything else in proportion. Yet he continues to charge $1.50.

Piles and Constipation Cured—Says Internal Bathing Saved Her Life.

If the thousands of men and women with constipation and the many ills which follow would bathe internally instead of continually dosing themselves with drugs, they would soon realize why every user of the J. B. L. Cascade is so enthusiastic in its praise. Keep the colon clean and free from poisonous waste and you will not need the doctor.

Mrs. Robert Gordon, 422 Cadillac St., Montreal, Que., writes: "I cannot speak too highly of the J. B. L. Cascade. It has saved my life. I have been troubled with constipation, piles and ulceration of the bowels for years, have only been using the Cascade for three months, and am happy to be doing my own work again after having been laid up for many months. I would not take one hundred dollars for my Cascade if I could not procure another."

The J. B. L. Cascade is the only perfect appliance for Internal Bathing, the invention of Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell, of New York, and is doing more towards improving the health and efficiency standard of the nation than all other means combined.

Where Music Boxes are Appreciated

An Alaskan explorer and fur trader back from the frozen north states that among the Eskimos he met in his recent trip were some who were really "mad" over getting possession of his "box with the music," as they termed his talking machine, which he had taken along with him to bear him company. They offered as much as $12,000 worth of pelts for his little horn model.

As a rule these people are shrewd traders, but one of these Eskimo from the moment the first shrill note came from the horn was willing to heap silver fox skins and priceless sables at the trader's feet if he would but part with his machine.

Give an Eskimo a music box and a half dozen records, said this traveler, and he will sit and play until the records are threadbare and the springs are stretched beyond resiliency.

The Cricket Club will meet at the Royal Hotel next Friday at 8 p. m. sharp, to arrange matters for the coming season. A good attendance is requested.

Rabbit Rearing A Neglected Resource

Rabbits are valuable for their meat and for their fur. Their flesh is wholesome and tender and, when properly cooked, it is difficult to distinguish from chicken. Not only are their pelts dyed to imitate more expensive skins, but those derived from some of the most handsome breeds are used in their natural color. Rabbit fur is moreover, extensively employed in the manufacture of hatters' felt.

In northern France and Belgium, rabbits are as commonly kept on farms as poultry. It is therefore, only natural that several of the utility breeds should have been developed in that part of the world. Enormous quantities of rabbits are consumed every year in England; indeed, the home supply has to be greatly supplemented by imports from Australia.

In cities, pigs are objectionable because they are malodorous and chickens because they are noisy; rabbits are clean and quiet as well as easily kept. True they will not devour the house garbage in any considerable quantity, nor is it good for them, yet they can be fed cheaply. They will eat many weeds such as dandelions, couch grass, shepherd's vetches and plintain. From the table they can be given the leavings of cereals cooked potatoes, and milk. But their staple diet should be hay, wheat or oat straw, clover or carrots.

Rabbit hutches should be divided into a sleeping chamber, which should be tight and free from draughts and a more open space, protected by wire netting. A small hutch may have a floor space 6 feet by 2 feet and the floor should be raised off the ground. For larger rabbitries, courts are used these may be either paved or grass courts surrounded by a fence sunk deeply enough into the ground to prevent the animals burrowing out.

Boys and girls generally take an interest in feeding and caring for these animals. Work of this kind would have an educational value and would have the further merit of enlisting the sympathies of the younger generation in the campaign for greater production. Rabbit rearing on a more extensive scale can also be made a profitable occupation for adults.

"Greater production" must again be the slogan for the farmers of Canada. Dr. J. W. Robertson, who has just completed a speaking tour of the Dominion, and who knows whereof he speaks declares that this is Canada's most pressing duty and opportunity at the moment. World-wide scarcity will ensure good prices for farm products.

Crest of High Prices in U. S. Reached

New York, May 18—Telegraphic reports to the Evening Sun, from the leading industrial centres where the necessities of life are produced are to the effect that the crest of the high prices has been reached in the United States, and in many instances passed. Nowhere is there found an indication that prices will be higher next fall and winter than they are now, and in most places it is indicated that a reduction is certain to come.

The main reason for the prediction is that people have finished their era of extravagance and are not buying without regard to price as in the past. They are doing without non-essentials to a larger extent and are buying cheaper articles than the best and highest priced.

$15,000,000 THEFTS FROM CARS SHOWN.

Booty Double That in Any Pre-War Year.

Wholesale looting of merchandise in transit on the railroads of the United States caused a loss of approximately $15,000,000 in 1919, according to United States Railroad Administration statistics made public recently.

This is estimated to be more than double the losses sustained in any pre-war year, but it is pointed out that the increased cost of the commodities stolen, roughly estimated to average 85 per cent, must be taken into consideration when comparing the losses in the days of low prices with losses now. Nevertheless there has been a steadily increasing number of packages stolen, and the organization combating the thieves have met an increased ingenuity in diverting goods from their owners.

A technique of robbery has been developed so highly that the methods of "master thieves" are similar in the United States, England, France, Italy and Argentina, according to a recent report of the United States Chamber of Commerce in Argentina. Detectives, however, are inclined to discredit that organization's belief that a "widespread international organization" is at work stealing merchandise.

Substitution is the usual method used by the thieves. Sometimes boxes supposed to contain velvets are found at their destination to be filled with calico or other cheaper grades of cloth, but as a rule, waste paper is found. These are referred to as "concealed losses" by railway men, and are especially difficult to trace, as the shipment leaves and arrives apparently in good condition, and it is almost impossible to discover at what point the theft occurred.

The silk industry has been one of the most severely hit in the last year, and so great has the risk become that the Railroad Administration has been considering excluding raw silks from the privilege of freight transportation by rail. The Merchants' Association of New York through its traffic bureau, has protested against such an exclusion, advocating some less radical measure to minimize or prevent the theft of silk in transit.

A Ripe Old Age

A very pleasant and social evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Coldwell, Gasperau, on April 30th, when the former's mother, Mrs. Mary Coldwell, celebrated her 90th birthday. About thirty guests were present, including her four children, Mrs. C. W. Duncanson and Messrs. Otis, Emory and Everett Coldwell; seven grand-children and one great grand-child, there being four generations present. The entire family was present excepting two grand-sons, Mr. Percy Anderson, of Wolfville, and Mr. Ray Coldwell, principal of the schools at New Waterford, C. B., and one great grand-son, Master Clair Davison.

After a social time spent in games, music, etc., Mrs. George Miner, in a few well chosen words, presented Mrs. Coldwell with a birthday cake on which were written the words, "Mother, 90 yrs.", and lighted with ten wax candles. Mrs. Coldwell cut the cake. After a time refreshments, including pies, cakes and ice-cream, were served. At the close all joined in singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again", each one saying what an enjoyable evening had been spent.

Mrs. Coldwell is a very remarkable smart woman for her years, retaining her mental and physical powers to a remarkable degree.
