Dante's Inferno the Divine Comedy

This Great Master piece will be shown at the Opera House Newcastle next Saturday night April 13th. The following is what the papers in other cities have to say about this marvellous production.

The audience assembled in the Opera House last night, had an opportunity of seeing the greatest and most wonderful drama yet placed upon the canvas, so far as moving pictures are concerned. It was beyond doubt a remarkable exhibition of the achievement of man. It took two and a half years to make the picture, at a cost of $100,000 and upwards of three thousand people took part in the performance. There are five reels shown depicting the five circles of Dante's journey with Virgil through the infernal regions. All who have read the poem and seen the picture, must have been amazed that a mortal could have possessed sufficient imagination to put his thoughts before the world in that marvellous poem "Dante's Inferno." Six hundred years ago, cruelty was so prevalent that Dante's conception of hell must have been colored by the times in which he lived. The grandeur of the scenery, the awfulness of the punishment of the wicked thrilled and thrilled the onlooker as no other production possibly could. Those, who, when in the flesh committed sins of various kinds, such as greed, treachery, hate, jealousy, robbery, cruelty, slander, rapacity, debauchery, immorality, shown in their circles of punishment, and their tortures sent shudders through the spectators. It was hell, as conceived in the past, and by numberless people in the present. Dante from the beginning of the story, when he finds himself lost in the woods, until the coming of Beatrice, who implores Virgil to protect him, passes safely through the inferno under the guidance and protection of the shade of the great Roman poet, and the legions of hell could not prevail against them. There are shown the lake of ice, together with the river of boiling pitch and the den of fiery serpents. The demons are seen torturing the wicked and the latter in all their forms of dreadful punishments and terrible tortures, give one a conception of what this marvellous Italian Poet imagined as due and fitting punishments of the transgressors who had lived and died. It would take columns of the Patriot to depict the various scenes of the Inferno. Dante climbed the Alps and his passage blocked by the tiger, the lion and the wolf, illustrative of sins—was a scene of superb grandeur. One of the most realistic and blood curdling of the five reels was the crossing of the River Styx in the boat, rowed by Charon. It gives an education in two and a half hours that could not be obtained in months—possible years of reading. All the mythical persons that are so frequently encountered in literature are shown and the parts they play in the Inferno. Mr. F. W. Taylor, of Mr. Cohen's company, beautifully and eloquently told the tale as the pictures were flashed upon the screen. —Charlottetown Guardian.

Coal Strike Ordered off

British Miners' Federation Decides To Resume Work At Once.

London, April 6.—The decision of the miners' Federation this afternoon to order the men to resume work has brought intense relief to the whole country.

London, April 8.—If the surface men's grievances can be settled, there seems to be nothing to prevent a resumption throughout the coal fields of the United Kingdom. The protests of the Yorkshire and Fifeshire miners against the federation's decision, are not likely to be followed by action. The miners' associations of these counties have already recommended the men to return to work.

DOINGS IN THE LOCAL LEGISLATURE

Exemption of Improvements From Taxation Defeated.—Women Suffrage Bill Thrown Out.—Hydro-Electric Bill Amended.—Miramichi Valley Railway Bill Introduced.

Fredericton, N. B., April 1.

House met at three o'clock. Hon. Mr. Flemming presented petition of Sir Wm. MacKenzie and others in favor of a bill to incorporate the New Brunswick Shales, Ltd.

House went into committee with Mr. Sproul in the chair and considered the bill to amend the agricultural aid act.

Hon. Mr. Flemming said that the bill provided that federal subsidy should not be added to consolidated revenue account but should be kept separately.

Hon. Mr. Flemming in reply to Mr. LaBillois said that the federal subsidy would be used to further advance agriculture. A portion of the grant would be expended towards advancing present policies of the department of agriculture, while new policies would be forwarded. The action of the federal government brought $25,000 more money for advancement of agriculture. It must be pleasing to Hon. gentlemen as well as to the country that the federal government had realized the paramount importance of aiding in a very substantial manner.

Mr. Copp asked if the $25,000 received would be in excess of the provincial appropriation for agriculture.

Hon. Mr. Flemming—Yes. The bill was agreed to; also the bill to amend the general mining act.

Fredericton, April 2.—In the Public Accounts Committee to-day, a prolonged and careful scrutiny was made of the scalars' returns wanted for examination by the committee, brought in by the deputy surveyor general. It was shown by these returns that in some districts a considerable percentage of small logs are being cut, and while the operators had been fined for this undersized cutting it had not put a stop to the practice. Col. Loggie, deputy surveyor general, said that it was one of the perplexing and serious problems which the province had to deal with. For several years the cutting of small logs had been permitted and for the reason that the tracts had been so often lumbered over that all the large trees had been taken off. Lumbermen and operators had large sums invested in mills and plants and the people of these lumbering localities depended almost wholly for their sustenance upon the lumbering industry. To absolutely prohibit the cutting of small logs meant the closing down of the mills and consequent disastrous result to a very large section of the community. The department and the government had given and were giving the problem serious consideration and with a view to conserving the interests of the province a large, while not working undue hardships upon the particular sections concerned. All the items of territorial revenue in the report were passed.

The expenditures on ordinary bridges were taken up and all the counties except Victoria, York, Madawaska and Restigouche were passed. Mr. Sheridan was present and was asked about the unusually large expenditure last year in Kent county, $56,235, the amount of the provincial deficit of the year's operations. The member for Kent said that there were five hundred bridges in that county, scarcely one of which was safe for public traffic in 1908, and it had been necessary to make heavy expenditures to try to restore the bridges and roads to something like a passable condition. Nearly one hundred bridges were rebuilt last year. All the work being of the most substantial and permanent character.

The House this afternoon voted down Mr. LaBillois' resolution to provide that automobiles should be prevented from running on country roads one day each week. Hon. Mr. Griemer said in Charlotte county there was no opposition to the running of automobiles, and he felt that farmers were not afraid of the machines. Mr. Burchill opposed the resolution.

The bill to give women suffrage in New Brunswick provincial elections was killed before it reached the House. The Standing Rules Committee threw the bill out because the rules of the House had not been complied with.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC BILL

The House went into committee with Mr. Burchill in the chair and resumed consideration of the bill respecting the New Brunswick Hydro-Electric Company, which proposes to dam the St. John river at Meductic.

Mr. W. F. Hatheway did not think that rights should be given away indefinitely as stated in the bill when the Company's agreement with St. John is only for 50 years. The conservation commission had recommended that the government should investigate conditions before granting water powers and Crown lands. There was a possibility of St. John city controlling its own electricity under the new commission. This company should not be given control of the largest water power privilege near St. John. The company has broken its agreement, passed in November, 1911 in respect to the definite rate for light and power and there was nothing to prevent the company selling out its franchise in three or six months to the St. John Street Railway Co. The government should assist the people to get cheaper power and should make a careful investigation before granting such extensive privileges.

If it was wrong to give power to the city of St. John to expropriate for industrial purposes it was doubly wrong to give the privilege to a private company to expropriate lands for private purposes. If the House acceded to the request of the company for expropriation rights other companies would naturally expect the same rights. He hoped that the time would come when a hydro-electric commission similar to that in Ontario would be appointed. Present legislation was a disgrace to its promoters.

Mr. Hatheway moved that the provision to enable the company to expropriate lands be stricken out.

Mr. McLachlan agreed that the principle involved in granting powers of expropriation was an important one and no legislation should be granted which would combines the rich gluten of Manitoba Spring wheat and the lighter, but equally important, properties of Ontario Fall wheat. The two combined form a perfectly blended flour that makes bread light, white, nutritious and extremely palatable, while pastry made with Beaver Flour has a crisp, flaky texture that brings many a compliment to the cook.

You don't need to be an expert in baking to attain the best results with BEAVER FLOUR.

But if you are an expert, you will readily recognize its incomparable qualities. Your grocer has BEAVER FLOUR, and will recommend it.

MEANING OF THE CROSS

This cross (in red) has been adopted in Canada and all over America as the emblem under which the Crusade against Consumption is carried on.

Every reader knows of the ravages of this disease; how, too often, the bread-winner of the family falls a victim, or the young man or young woman, with a promise of a happy and useful life, is stricken down.

This modern Crusade, like the one of old, is a winning fight. The death rate from Consumption in this province shows a decrease of over 25% in the past few years.

Nearly 6000 of these poor sufferers have been cared for in our Consumptive Homes in Muskoka and near Weston. To-day we have 300 patients under treatment—patients who, if they had the money, could not through fear of contagion gain admittance into other hospitals.

In the Muskoka Free Hospital alone we are now caring for 156 patients. 128 of these cannot pay a single cent for the cost of their maintenance, 15 pay 70c. per day, 1 pays 57c. per day, 12 pay 50c. or less per day.

Our Trustees, having faith in the generous-hearted people of Canada, have continued to carry on this work during the past year.

Money to pay doctors, food, nursing and caring of these sick ones, is urgently needed. Will your readers help and have the joy of sharing in a work that has the promise of the Master's reward?

THE CANADIAN PARLIAMENT PROROGUES

Senate Kills Several Bills Passed By the House of Commons, Among Which Is Aid to Highways Bill.

Ottawa, April 1.—Parliament prorogued to-day. His Royal Highness the Governor General gave assent to legislation and parliament prorogued with the following address:

Hon. Gentlemen of the Senate, gentlemen of the House of Commons:

I am glad, at this comparatively early period of the season, to be able to relieve you from further attendance in parliament. The diligence with which you have applied yourself to your public duties calls for my warm acknowledgments. The act to extend the boundaries of Manitoba and to make financial provision commensurate with the requirements of its enlarged area will, I am sure, be welcomed, alike by the present inhabitants of that province and by those who dwell in the added territory now admitted to the advantages of the provincial status. The enlargement of the limits of the provinces of Ontario and Quebec will undoubtedly contribute to the progress and development of those northern territories which hitherto have been little known and which will henceforth form part of those great provinces.

Highly important and far-reaching advantages should result from the measure to aid and encourage agriculture in concert with the several provincial governments, which I doubt not will materially contribute to the progress of that great basic industry. The act respecting grain, a most comprehensive measure, will, it is hoped, assist the farmer in the marketing of his produce as well as in obtaining better prices, thus relieving him of disadvantages under which he has hitherto labored.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons I thank you in His Majesty's name for the liberal provision you have made for the requirements of the public service.

Honourable gentlemen of the Senate; gentlemen of the House of Commons: I am happy to congratulate you on the many indications of the abounding prosperity of this country and I earnestly pray that the blessings of Providence may always attend this favored land.

Ottawa April 1.—The cabinet at a council meeting this afternoon decided not to accept the senate amendments to the tariff board bill and the highways bill, which means that neither of these measures go through this session.

The senate's amendment to the tariff board bill provides that where an increased tariff is recommended there shall be a special report on all the industries affected. On the highways bill it asks that distribution be specifically on the basis of population. The subsidy to the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway was killed outright. The bill to amend the inspection and sales act was refused consideration.

NERVOUS DISEASES IN THE SPRING

Cured by Toning the Blood and Strengthening the Nerves

It is the opinion of the best medical authorities, after long observation, that nervous diseases are more common and more serious in the spring than at any other time of the year. Vital changes in the system, after long winter months, may cause much more trouble than the familiar spring weakness and weariness from which most people suffer as the result of indoor life, in poorly ventilated and often overheated buildings. Official records prove that in April and May neuralgia, St. vitus dance, epilepsy and other forms of nerve troubles are at their worst, and that then, more than any other time, a blood-purifying, nerve-restoring tonic is needed.

The antiquated custom of taking purgatives in the spring is useless, for the system really needs strengthening, while purgatives only gallop through the bowels, leaving you weaker. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best medicine, for they actually make the new, rich, red blood that feeds the starved nerves, and thus cure the many forms of nervous disorders. They cure also such other forms of spring troubles as headaches, poor appetite, weakness in the limbs, as well as remove all the slightly pimples and eruptions. In fact they unfailingly bring new health and strength to weak, tired and depressed men, women and children.

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DR. DOHERTY FOUND NOT GUILTY

Da'houseie April 3.—The Supreme Court was engaged today in the case of Dr. W. W. Doherty, charged with the murder of Daniel Bruce on 21st of September last. The only witnesses for the crown were McGinn, a commercial traveller, who was an eye witness, and J. Ferguson, in whose store the tragedy was enacted. McGinn testified that Doherty thrust the iron point of an umbrella into Bruce's eye while Bruce's hands were in his pocket.

Dr. Lunan, Price and Pineault, were called and gave evidence as medical men. Drs. Price and Lunan dressed the injuries, while Pineault performed part of post mortem examination. The only witness for the defence was the accused himself. He stated that it was in self-defence as Bruce had struck him and was making for him and he held up his umbrella in self-defence, the point entering the left eye. H. H. Fowell put up an able defence, while C. Hartly prosecutor. His Honor Judge White instructed the jury as to the various points of law and the case was given to the jury at 5.40. The courthouse was packed to overflowing as such a case has not been tried in this county for years. At twenty minutes to eight the jury returned a verdict of not guilty and Dr. Doherty was discharged.

THE OPTIMISM OF THE CONSUMPTIVE

Perhaps there is no disease, whilst often fatal in its outcome, is yet viewed with so much optimism by the patients themselves. It is well that it is so, for all know to what extent one's own feelings, whether cheery or the opposite, influence both mental and physical conditions. "I was certainly impressed with this thought," remarked a newspaper reporter, "in interviewing a patient of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives. She was a pretty girl of 24, brown hair and dark gray eyes, who had come all the way from Saskatchewan. She said she felt pretty sick when she first arrived at the Hospital, and for two days the nurses had to personally feed her. 'I have been in bed all the time,' she said. 'I have been well cared for while I have been here. I am sure I am going to get well, and feel better now than before I took sick. Everybody seems so happy and 'right' and tells me when I get up to eat and sleep. Everything is done to please me and make me happy.' One day she said she had a patient who had been in bed for months and who had been told she would never get up."

Finally I saw a testimonial of "Fruit-a-tives" and concluded to give them a trial. I took nearly four boxes of "Fruit-a-tives" and they have made me feel like a new man. I can eat all kinds of hearty foods without suffering, and am no longer constipated."

ITALIANS NOT GAINING IN TRIPOLI

London, April 4.—The Italians have created an entirely false impression of the real situation in Tripoli, according to Geo. G. Abbott, the well-known writer, who has spent the last four months in the Turkish headquarters in Tripoli and has just returned to London.

Mr. Abbott declares that the Italian troops dare not quit their fortified trenches since they missed the psychological moment after their capture of the city of Tripoli at the beginning of the war.

The Italian blunder in changing the status of the country on paper instead of occupying it by garrisons has given the Turkish troops and their Arab allies plenty of time to rally their forces. When Mr. Abbott left Tripoli on March 18 the Arabs were still flocking up in large numbers daily from the south and swearing never "to submit to the invaders."

Mr. Abbott found that the Italians' position was being weakened daily while the Turks and Arabs were continually becoming stronger. The latter are well supplied with money and food, he says, which have been contributed from all parts of the Moham medan world. He continues: "Fever has proved more formidable to them than the Italian fire but for one sick Arab there are probably ten sick Italians."

WONDERFUL GOWNS

Dresses Rich and Wonderful That Make Women Gasp and Men St Up and Wonder If It Is Worth the Candle. One of the most beautiful costumes ever turned out was that worn by Queen Mary at the Coronation Durbar, and there are no fewer than 5,250,000 stitches in the train, which is of Irish point lace.

The train had been presented as a gift by the ladies of Belfast to Her Majesty, and was made by the Presentation Sisters of Youlston. It had been estimated that it would have taken over a quarter of a century for a single lace worker to complete the train, but sixty workers, working regularly, finished it in 98,020 hours.

This reminds one that at the Plantagenet Ball, held at Buckingham Palace in 1842, the late Queen Victoria impersonated Queen Philippa in a silken dress made entirely in Spitalfields.

The dress, which was on view for several days at Hanover Square, cost, in materials alone, nearly $1250 while the gems that decorated it, exclusive of the Royal pearl-necklace, head-dresses and other jewels, were valued at over $300,000.

The fur that trimmed her outer robe was miniver, the skin of the Siberian squirrel, the same kind of fur that Queen Philippa wore on her Court costume in the days of Louis XII.

Perhaps the most expensive dress ever worn by Queen Alexandra was that in which she appeared at the famous ball at Devonshire House in honour of the late Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee. She took the character of Marguerite de Valois, commonly called La Reine Margot, the train being carried by the daughter of Sir Francis Knollys.

Her Majesty's costumes are said to have cost $1250 to make. It was of rich white satin, embroidered in gold and silver, with a high collar from which hung the train—a gorgeous affair of cloth-of-gold lined with silver brocade.

The Dowager Empress of Russia has always dressed exquisitely, and in the richest and most expensive materials. She received on the coronation of her silver wedding a crown mantle which cost $60,000. It was presented to her by the nobility of the province of Kherson.

Gold-and-silver dresses are by no means uncommon. The metals, after being formed into very fine wire, are woven into cloth, and afterwards made into dresses. The women of Sumatra were the first to attire themselves in this expensive material.

Countess Palovolovitch wore a fiery dress at a garden-party given at Benares some years ago. This unique gown had the appearance of being constructed of tongues of blue flame resting on a bed of light liquid.

The material of the dress itself was rich brocaded silk, and attached to the gown were exactly 35 fireflies. These little creatures glowed so until the countess left the grounds, and doffed the "strangest gown ever worn at a society gathering in India or elsewhere."

The Countess de Villeneuve once had a dress made from beetle backs, and wore it on several occasions. When attired in this strange costume she wore a beautiful scarabaeus beetle on her neck attached to a collar by a slender gold chain, which allowed it to roam about the lady's chest and shoulders.

There is many a man who isn't worth what it costs him to live.

Did you ever hear any one say they could not get good coffee except in the States?

I have heard it, scores of times, and it's one of the reasons that made me decide to go into the Coffee business. Of the Americans who visit us in summer, hundreds take home a supply of Red Rose Tea because they have never used such good tea before. I determined to put up a coffee that would make for itself just as good a reputation. It has not been easy, but I am sure I have succeeded. Estabrooks' Red Rose Coffee, put up in sealed tins is—well, it's good coffee. You and your American friends will say so.

A good combination is Estabrooks' Coffee for breakfast and Red Rose Tea for other meals.

NEWCASTLE N. B., APRIL 10, 1912

THAT INGLOURIOUS VICTORY

During the last ten minutes of the Session of the Dominion Parliament which has just prorogued, the galleries as well as the Members were treated to a specimen of the logical arrangement of Sir Wilfred and his senatorial pensioners that must have delighted the Government following and caused the snowy plume of the erstwhile leader to creep down under his coat collar.

legislation was not considered in detail by our immediate electorate. Regarding the Tariff Commission Bill it may be said that the passing of that Bill would have demonstrated the untenable grounds occupied by the late Government, and would also have proved the wisdom of the present Administration in the attitude maintained by them while in Opposition.

Local Legislature

(Continued from page 1) give this or any other company such extensive powers. Hon. Mr. Maxwell rose to a point of order and said the amendment was out of order.

The amendment was lost. Mr. Hatheway moved an amendment that the provision enabling the company to expropriate land be stricken out.

Hon. Mr. Maxwell said that if the city of St. John desired exemption from the provisions of the bill, it should apply for a specific purpose they would be given.

The bill was otherwise amended so as to provide that fishing and hunting privileges on waters and lands acquired by the company should not be interfered with and for the payment of the amount for privileges and the renewal of leases, also that the company should place $10,000 with the executive council as a guarantee that the expenditures called for would be made.

ALD. BUTLER WITHDRAWS

To the Electors of the Town of Newcastle:— Ladies and Gentlemen,

Finding that the amount of time I gave last year to public affairs having left many things to be looked after in my private business, which cannot be overlooked and also that it is difficult to attend the Town's affairs properly while residing so far from the Town centre.

I wish to thank the electors for their past confidence, as well as those who wished me to continue in the service of the town; and to assure all that anything I can do in my private capacity for the benefit of the town will be done.

Yours sincerely, T. W. BUTLER

WEDDING BELLS

From a Bangor paper we clip the following account of the wedding of a daughter of Mr. H. A. Curtis of that place, formerly of Newcastle, N. B.

LIBBY—CURTIS

"A quiet wedding, and yet of the prettiest of the season, was solemnized at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Curtis on Wednesday afternoon when their daughter, Marion, was united in marriage to Clifford S. Libby of Manchester, N. H.

"Only immediate relatives and friends were present, yet there was a large and happy gathering when, at 3 o'clock, the ceremony was performed by Rev. Fred A. Snow of Old Town. The couple were unattended, and the right service was used. The bride, who carried carnations, was beautifully gowned in white silk and presented a charming picture.

"Following the ceremony refreshments were served, and an opportunity was given for an inspection of the numerous and attractive wedding presents of cut glass, silver and linen. Mr. and Mrs. Libby left at 8 o'clock for a short wedding trip to Manchester, and a group of friends followed them to the station, where they were delayed in a shower of courtesy.

"The bride is one of Bangor's most popular young women, and the wide circle of friends drawn by the charms of her beauty and personality will deeply regret her departure to another city. The groom, too, has made many friends during his stay here. He is the close of that Manchester trio they will go to Portland where they are to reside."

In Memory of Ernest Stewart

'Twas in the cold December,
A dark and cheerless day,
An angel it came down to earth
Where a loved one dying lay:
On a calm cool Sunday evening
About the hour of four
That a spirit went to Heaven
To return to earth no more.
No parents stood beside him,
The family all were home,
They knew not what was happening
To their beloved son.
He died while coming from the woods
No one to bid Good-Bye,
Away from hearts that loved him,
But contented for to die.
To see him was to love him,
For with him it was always day;
But when youth and life were fairest
Death was grappling for its prey.
How sad we are when parting
With the ones that we love best
When they leave this world forever
For to seek eternal rest.
May God look down and comfort
The sad ones here below
And grant them every blessing
In this their time of woe.

Steel Industry For St. John.

Burton Stewart, the managing director for Canada of the firm which has signed the $11,000,000.00 contract to improve Courtenay Bay, spoke, on April 1st, of the possibility of developing a large iron and steel industry in St. John and building steel ships on the shores of Courtenay Bay, and intimated that he was working on a proposition which might eventuate in the creation of such industries here.

TWO WOMEN TESTIFY

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Their Health—Their own Statements Follow.

Haliburton, P. E. I.—"I had a doctor examine me and he said I had falling of the womb, so I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a lot of good. All the bearing-down pains have vanished. I have gained ten pounds in weight, the discharge is all gone, and I feel better than I have for a long time. I think any woman is foolish to suffer as I did for the sake of a few dollars."

"You can use my letter as a testimonial. It may encourage other poor women who suffer as I did to use your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. GEO. COLLIOTT, Haliburton, Lot 7, P. E. I.

Read What This Woman Says:
New Moorefield, Ohio.—"I take great pleasure in thanking you for what your Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had bearing down pains, was dizzy and weak, had pains in lower back and could not be upon my feet long enough to get a meal. As long as I laid on my back I would feel better, but when I would get up those bearing down pains would come back, and the doctor said I had female trouble. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was the only medicine that helped me and I have been growing stronger ever since I commenced to take it. I hope it will help other suffering women as it has me. You can use this letter."—Mrs. CASSIE LLOYD, New Moorefield, Clark Co., Ohio.

$11,000,000 FOR ST. JOHN HARBOR

The agreement between the Dominion government and Norton Griffiths, Limited, for the development of Courtenay Bay, on the east side of St. John, was signed a few days ago. The contract involves an expenditure of upwards of $11,000,000, the scheme calling for development of the port on a very large scale. A great deal of dredging will be done, a breakwater upwards of a mile in length will be built, and a dry dock of the largest size is included in the plan.

All Is Right.

It is easy when the sunlight
Sheds its radiance o'er my way.
Just to say and say with meaning,
I will trust in God to-day.
But when clouds the sun have hid
And my morning turns to night,
It is harder then to trust Him,
And to feel that all is right.
Bitter are the disappointments
Felt when plans are all upset,
When each castle built has fallen,
And the way seems black as jet.
Friends are sometimes known to fall us
And we feel we stand alone.
Joys that once we loved so dearly
Now are never known.

We remember years that have been
Bright with happiness and health,
But now, sad distress and sickness
Have crept on with deadly stealth
as Thorns are growing in abundance
Where the fragrant flowers had been,
And the clouds hang dark and threatening
Where before bright skies we'd seen.
But the pathway we have travelled
Is the pathway God has planned,
For we gave our homeward journey
Into His Almighty Hands.
He has planned it, not in anger,
But because He knows 'tis best,
And some day we'll see the reason,
Why He brought us through this test.

For the Cross we labor under
Is not greater than His Grace;
And the clouds that hang so heavy,
Cannot hide the Savior's Face.
Let us look beyond earth's turmoil,
And remember God is love,
Who bids us to fit us truly,
For a work he has above—
Where with purer, clearer, vision,
All of mystery shall be plain:
And we'll know with certain knowledge,
Partly lost was heavenly gain,
Let us then leave questions till we Stand before the Great White Throne
'Till we taste the joys of Heaven
And shall know as we are known.

WHEN EASTER COMES

"Thirty days hath September,
Every person can remember;
But to know when Easter's come
Puzzles even scholars, some.
When March the twenty-first is past
Just watch the silvery moon,
And when you see it full and round,
Know Easter'll be here soon.
After the moon has reached its full,
Then Easter will be here.
The very Sunday after,
In each and every year.
And if it hap on Sunday
The moon should reach its height,
The Sunday following this event,
Will be the Easter bright."

DO YOU KNOW
that 90% of the telephones used by Canadian farmers have been manufactured by us? We are proud of this fact, for we think you will agree with us that it is a guarantee that our telephones give satisfaction to the farmer. It was to satisfy the farmer that we spent $10,000 in designing and developing our 1317 type Telephone Set, which contains the most up-to-date features of any telephone intended to meet the requirements of rural service.
"How to Build Rural Telephone Lines"
is the title of a most interesting and instructive book which we have just published and which we will be pleased to send you FREE. It not only contains a full description of our telephones, but also tells the complete story of the organization and construction of a Rural Telephone Company from the time the first post hole is dug until the last telephone is installed. With this book you have something definite to work on and can go among your neighbors and organize a community-owned system in your own locality. The book costs nothing—write and ask for Bulletin No. 786 and we will send it FREE.

Amatite ROOFING

Why the Buyer of Amatite Never Complains

When a man buys ordinary ready roofing he usually neglects to paint it and after three or four years he comes back to the dealer with a protest. It is human nature to neglect painting roofs.

There is nothing to be done but to buy Amatite. This surface is plastic enough so that the material can be rolled up into handy rolls in the usual manner and handled just like any other ready roofing. When unrolled on the roof and nailed down it presents to the weather a continuous surface of mineral matter and pitch. On this surface wind, rain, storm, heat and cold have little effect. Year after year it lies up to the sky undisturbed and unharmed. It costs nothing to paint and lives the owner free from all responsibility.

Double the life of ordinary roofing and improve their business. Amatite is painted by that.

OXFORD SLANG

Some Greek words have been used in the Oxford University slang.

Oxford University has a jargon of its own, which is partly culled from the slang of the continent and partly from the public school slang of England. Some of the expressions are rather bewildering to the student when he first "takes up" to the University.

Steady, social life and sport each have their peculiar expressions. The first examination to be passed is the Responsions, called "Smalls." The examinations are called "schools" because they take place in the Examination Schools. After "Smalls" comes the Divinity examination, which all must pass. The undergraduate calls it "divers," then comes the Honorarys—called "Mags."

The final examination for the B.A. degree called "Gravats." Lectures in preparation for these examinations are called "lekkers." If at the end of any term a student is not taking a public examination he has a college examination called "Conclerkers."

A man who is reading Chemistry is called a "Schnitz" man. If he is studying Mathematics secures he will be a "Maths" man. The tutors are called "Pons."

In his social life, too, the Oxford man has his pet expressions. Breakfast is a favourite meal for the display of hospitality. "Come to 'brekker' with me," a "second year" man will say to the "fresher." The manservant who brings up the breakfast, makes the beds, cleans out the rooms, etc., is called a "scout."

Breakfast, lunch, and tea are taken in a man's rooms, dinner is taken in "Hall." The bill for dinners is called "battels."

An average man's day put into Oxford jargon would run something like this—

Get up and "keep a chapel," services being held every morning and evening. After "brekker" go to "lekkers."

In the afternoon go and be "schooled" or take part in a football "rough." He will, perhaps, take tea by the college Junior Common Room, or familiarly, "J.C.R." At seven "Hall," after which he will read, having first, perhaps, "sported his cap" or closed his outer door to keep away intruders.

COSTLY SPITE

The most expensive act of damage ever committed by a railway worker was that of an Italian navy employed in the construction of a tunnel through one of the mountains in the Black Forest. Having a grudge against his foreman, he succeeded one night in altering the position of the stakes which marked the course of the work. The excavators were working upon the tunnel in two sections, one from the north and one from the south. Owing to the shifting of the stakes the sections, instead of being directed to the same point, were found to be twenty-six feet apart when they reached the middle of the mountain. The northern half of the tunnel had, therefore, to be entirely reconstructed, at a cost of $875,000.

BEING A FARMER

King George is a monarch who does not seem to make money by side-work. From his metal farms at Windsor, Balmoral, and Sandringham he derives a handsome revenue, and maintains a herd of several hundred superb cattle, which take prizes at agricultural shows all over the country. His Majesty is also keeping up the late King Edward's horse-racing establishment at Sandringham, where, in addition to racehorses, he raised hackneys, coach-horses, carriage-horses, and hunters.

MONEY FROM INVENTIONS

Many of the scions of Europe's reigning houses are in receipt of big sums from inventions for which they have been responsible. The reigning Grand Duke of Oldenburg, for example, has invented a kind of propeller which met with the approval of the German navy and is used on German warships and liners. A color-stud, which is selling in hundreds of thousands, has been invented by the German Crown Prince. Another of the most up-to-date inventions is the invention of the Grand Duke of Saxe.

FORWARD! CANADA

Sir Thomas Lipton at a dinner in Chicago praised Canada's bigness. "I once heard," he said, "a Saskatchewan farmer talk about the big farms they have up there.

"We have some sizable farms," he said, thoughtfully. "Yes, sir; pretty sizable. I've seen a man on one of our big farms start out in the spring and plow a straight furrow till fall. Then he turned around and harvested back."

"Wonderful," said I. "On our Saskatchewan farms," he went on, "it's the usual thing to see young married couples out to milk the cows. Their children bring home the milk."

"Wonderful," I repeated. "Once," he said, "I saw a Saskatchewan farmer's family prostrated with grief. The women were weeping, the dogs were barking, the children were squalling, and the tears streamed down the man's face as he got into his twenty-mule team and drove off."

"Where was he going?" said I. "He was going half way across the farm to feed the pigs," said the Saskatchewan farmer.

"Did he ever get back?" I asked. "It was time for him 'out' was the reply."

WHEN WOMEN LED

The French Revolution women led the bands of peasants who were against the aristocrats. At Troyes a similar sight was seen during the champagne riots which convulsed the Aube Department of France.

At the head of the detachment which one district sent to join the "Iron Battalion" marched a splendid-looking young woman, wearing a white-knitted cap, with the Revolutionary red ribbon twisted round it. For starting-point forty miles from Troyes, the girl trooped every step of the distance between dawn and dark. She was cheered by the crowds when she arrived in Troyes.

It was a girl, too, who headed the great recent strike in New York. Three years ago, in the most crowded section of darkest New York, are let to agents, who sub-let them in rooms or small flats to the poor. The rents are awful. A man will have to pay twenty-five dollars a month for three small rooms on a fifth floor.

It will be remembered that at the end of 1907 Eastern America suffered from the worst times which had been known in the States for very many years, and the result was that evictions for non-payment of rent became more and more frequent.

A REDUCTION IN RENTS

It was Cecile Arkin, a nineteen-year-old girl, who devised the plan of campaign, and banded together no fewer than thirty thousand families, who all vowed to pay no more rent unless a general reduction of twenty per cent was granted. Each family picked itself to shelter as many as possible of the evicted ones.

The struggle was a long and bitter one. Hundreds of families were turned out, but in the end Cecile Arkin won a victory; for the agents consented, and a general reduction of ten per cent was the condition on which the strike was settled.

The last Carlist rising in Spain was headed by a woman. This was in 1841, and the insurrection broke out at Parga, in the turbulent province of Catalonia. The identity of the lady has never leaked out. She was tall, beautifully dressed, and rode magnificently.

It was rumored at the time that she was Donna Blanca, Duchess of Ferrazza, and wife of Don Alfonso, brother of Don Carlos. But this surmise was proved to be false, and to this day her identity is a mystery. There has always been a deal of stirring about the western end of the boundary line between the United States and Mexico.

The most notorious of all these smugglers was a Mexican woman known as Lalla, Queen of the Emigrants. She was quite young, and extremely good-looking, and by her extraordinary talents rose to be head of a band of most daring smugglers.

A QUEEN BETRAYED

For nearly four years she reigned supreme, and then one day, as her long train of "burros" (donkeys), bearing contraband goods, was crossing the Rio Grande, she was surprised by a sudden shower of rifle-bullets. She had been betrayed, and a strong force of Mexican "Rurales" had been ambushed among the rocks. One of her arms was broken by a bullet, but with splendid courage she gathered her men and rode straight of the troops.

A soldier seized her bridle. She cut him down, and for some minutes a furious fight raged. Then numbers prevailed, and she and her surviving companions were pulled down. She died in hospital a few days later.

There is no part of the world and no race which does not produce its fighting women. Quite lately our Crown Colony of Southern Nigeria has been plagued by a lady of colour known as the "Omu."

Among her tribe she is reckoned officially as a man, and cannot have a husband.

After causing endless trouble to the authorities she made peace, and then coolly demanded a seat upon the legislative Council. So far that has not been granted, but it is possible we may hear more of this color-black Suffragette.

PERSIAN WEDDINGS

Tying the matrimonial knot is a very prolonged and serious affair in Persia. In fact, a wedding may extend for a week. On the last day of the wedding the bride, who has been treated as a sort of outcast, is conducted by a near relative to a room, where she undergoes further and more elaborate decoration.

She then returns to the guest-room, and her dowry is laid before her in trays. The dowry often comprises such queer things as cheap and brightly-colored oleographs, gaudy vases, birdcages, and many useful household articles. Having kissed the hearthstone of her home, she is then given bread, salt, and a piece of gold, and thus equipped and closely veiled she is hoisted on to a gaily-adorned donkey and, accompanied by a circular procession of friends, goes to a future home, where her husband awaits her.

"Are you a friend to William Biggins? That ne'er-do-well?" "I should think not, indeed!" "Then you'll hardly be surprised to hear that he has inherited a hundred thousand pounds."

"What? Dear old Bill!"

Asker: "How do you excuse those mother-in-law jokes of yours to me?"

Finnigan: "I tell her her 'mother-in-law' and she says she's not half bad at it."
