TRUE LOVE'S PASSION.

CHAPTER X.

A Love Match.

Lady Ferndale took her to her own rooms, and began at once to make a daughter of her, insisting upon unfastening the long coils of red-brown hair with her own hands, and petting her to her heart's content.

The earl and countess were alone and all through dinner—which was less stately than the meal at Santeleigh Court, and not in the least formal—they vied with each other in making her feel at home.

Lord Ferndale had seen a deal of the world, both the great and the small, and he had set himself to amuse the beautiful girl with whom he and his wife had fallen in love at first sight, and presently Norah forgot that she had known them for only so short a time, and talked too.

Lord Ferndale glanced once or twice at his wife, and the glance said plainly:

"We have found a treasure; a young woman who is not only pretty, but clever and sensible."

"Now, while you are drinking your claret, Edward, Norah and I will have a quiet ramble; and if you are good, very good, we will give you some music when you come into the drawing-room."

"I will be virtuous personified," he responded, as he opened the door for them, "and mind, I only give you half an hour."

Lady Ferndale took Norah into some of the old, time-honored rooms, her arms round Norah's waist, and they sat under the flower beds in the delicious evening until Lord Ferndale came out of the drawing-room window and called to them.

"Time's up," he said, "and tea's waiting."

Just as if Norah were, indeed, a daughter of the house, Lady Ferndale drew her gently to the chair in front of the little table, and intimated that she was to preside over the delicate service of antique silver and Sevres; and Norah, filled with happiness and gratitude for the affection they were lavishing upon her, poured out Lord Ferndale's cup of tea and gave it to him with a smile and a blush.

CHAPTER XI.

The Accident.

THE footman, having brought in the tea equipage, had retired, and though the room was as superbly decorated and furnished as the drawing-room at the Court, it seemed almost as homely and simple as the little parlor at Cliff Cottage.

Listening to Lord Ferndale's cheerful unaffected talk, Norah thought wistfully how much nicer it would be

A Woman's Problem

How to Feel Well During Middle Life Told by Three Women Who Learned from Experience.

The Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Read these letters:—

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I started the Change of Life five years ago. I always had a headache and backache with bearing down pains and I would have heat flashes very bad at times with dizzy spells and nervous feelings. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new person and am in better health and no more troubled with the aches and pains I had before I took your wonderful remedy. I recommend it to my friends for I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. MARGARET GRASSMAN, 759 N. Ringgold St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Beverly, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for nervousness and dyspepsia, when I was going through the Change of Life. I found it very helpful and I have always spoken of it to other women who suffer as I did and have had them try it and they also have received good results from it."—Mrs. GEORGE A. DUNBAR, 17 Roundy St., Beverly, Mass.

Erie, Pa.—"I was in poor health when the Change of Life started with me and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, or I think I should not have got over it as easy as I did. Even now if I do not feel good I take the Compound and it restores me in a short time. I will praise your remedies to every woman for it may help them as it has me."—Mrs. E. KISSLING, 931 East 24th St., Erie, Pa.

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving women's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Such letters are received and answered by women only and held in strict confidence.

If her father were a little less stately and formal.

"You refused to sing for us the other night, Lady Norah," he said, with a pleasant smile.

"But I will sing now," she said, promptly, and she got up at once and went to the grand piano.

He was going to follow her and open it for her, but Lady Ferndale motioned to him to remain where he was, and Norah, without a trace of self-consciousness, and with only the desire to please these two loving souls who had made so much of her, sat down and sang the first thing that came into her head.

It is not at all probable that Norah would have made a fortune on the operatic stage, but she had a sweet voice that, though it had been carefully trained, was as natural as a bird's, and as it filled the room, softly lighted by the rose-shaded candles, Lord Ferndale looked at his wife with a mixture of surprise and admiration.

Lady Ferndale was delighted.

"What a dear, clever girl it is!" she andly Ferndale seemed, as she held her in her arms and kissed her, as if she could scarcely bring herself to part with her, and the last Norah saw of them they were standing, arm-in-arm on the steps waving their hands to her.

Norah looked out at the night—the moon was rising, a great yellow orb, above the hills—her whole being thrilling like some sensitive musical instrument, her heart melting under the influence of the lovable couple she had just left. For a time she leaned back in the luxurious carriage, and recalled their kindness to her, and forgot all else; but suddenly, almost with a shock, she found that her thoughts had strayed, and that they wandered to some one else, and she found herself thinking of Cyril Burne!

It seemed ungrateful to bestow a single thought upon any one but these two, and she tried to drive him from her mind but looking out of the window, she saw that they were ascending the hill on the other side of which Lady Ferndale had stopped to speak to him, and back he came again.

Would he accept Lady Ferndale's invitation and leave Santeleigh? How quickly Lady Ferndale had taken to him. Yes, he was a gentleman, though he might only be an artist poor and unknown. If he left Santeleigh, she would, perhaps, never see him again! The thought seemed to drive all the happiness out of her heart, and she leaned back and drew the shawl round her as if the night had suddenly become cold.

The carriage had reached the top of the hill, and was going down on the other side, and she bent forward to look at the gate upon which Cyril Burne had been sitting, when she saw something white flit from a tree and cross the road. It was an owl, and its screech startled her a little.

It seemed to have startled the horses a great deal, for she felt the carriage swerve, come to a standstill for a second, then rush forward so sharply as to jerk her on to the front seat. With a smile, she picked herself up, but the smile vanished, and a vague alarm fell upon her as she saw the hedges and trees flying past the window at racing pace.

Has any one ever yet been able to describe all the phases by which an accident progresses to the final catastrophe?

Norah knew and realized nothing more until she experienced a jar, as if the wheels had caught upon something, and felt the carriage sway and fall over; but as she fell with it, she was conscious of hearing, amid the stamping and snorting of the frightened horses and the voice of the coachman, the sound of another voice.

If she fainted, it must have been only for a moment or so, for without any appreciable interval she saw the uppermost door of the overturned carriage wrenched open, and felt a man's strong arm round her.

The next moment she was in the road, the arms still circling her, and looking up, she met Cyril Burne's eyes looking into hers with alarm and anxiety—and something else that even in that moment brought the blood mantling to her cheek.

"Are—are you hurt?" he said, or rather breathed, for his devouring anxiety made his voice almost inaudible.

She shook her head and tried to smile.

"No—no, I think not!" she replied, and her own voice was very low.

"Are you sure? Ah, you can't tell!" he exclaimed.

Cure Your Bad Cough by Breathing "Cattarrhazone."

You may dislike taking medicine—but coughs are best cured without medicine. The modern treatment is "Cattarrhazone"—it isn't a drug—it's a healing vapor full of pine essences and healing balsams. It spreads over the surfaces that are weak and sore from coughing. Every spot that is congested is healed—Irritation is soothed away, phlegm and secretions are cleaned out, and all symptoms of cold and Catarrh are cured. Nothing so quick, so sure, so pleasant as Cattarrhazone. Beware of dangerous substitutes meant to deceive you for genuine Cattarrhazone. All dealers sell Cattarrhazone, large size which lasts two months price $1.00; small size 50c; sample size, 25c.

A COMFORTABLE STYLE.

1862—Linen, lawn, madras, batiste, crepe or silk could be used for this waist, while serge, gabardine, repp, corduroy, poplin, broadcloth and voile are nice for the skirt.

The Pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 12, 14 and 16 years. It requires 3 1/4 yards of 36-inch material for the waist, and 2 3/4 yards for the skirt, for a 16-year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

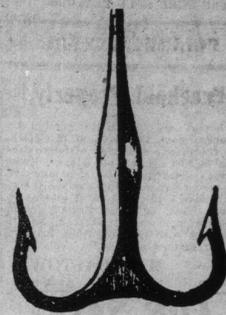

A COMFORTABLE MODEL.

1850—Ladies' Yoke Apron. This design is practical and desirable. The yoke is cut with the sleeve in one. Ample pockets trim the apron front. Lawn, gingham, seersucker, linene, drill, sateen and alpaca are good for its development. The Pattern is cut in 3 sizes: Small, Medium and Large. It requires 5 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for a Medium size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

Lord Ferndale went out of the room, and returned, bearing in his own hand a decanter of wine, and insisted upon Norah's drinking a glass.

"Better obey, dear," said Lady Ferndale, smilingly, "he is a dreadful tyrant, and fearfully obstinate."

When Norah had got her things on, and Lady Ferndale had wrapped the soft shawl round her, "making me into a parcel post bundle," as Norah laughingly declared, a maid came forward in her bonnet and cloak.

"I'll send her with you, dear," said Lady Ferndale, but Norah showed that she could be as obstinate as Lord Ferndale, and point-blank refused the escort.

"Why, what would happen to me in a close carriage between here and the Court, dear Lady Ferndale?" she said. "Please don't send her! I shall not like to come again if I give you so much trouble! You wouldn't send her if—I if I were your daughter," she added, shyly.

"Norah's right!" exclaimed Lady Ferndale. "But mind we take you to your word, and you are just to come to us as if you were our daughter. That's a bargain, my child."

"I'm to witness it," said Lord Ferndale.

Last Night's Open Air Recruiting Meeting a Great Success.

BIG CROWD ADDRESSED BY
LIEUT. HICKS, GUNNER DEVEN-
PORT, R. N., AND LIEUT. CYRIL CARTER.

At 7.30 last night the square in front of the Court House was literally blocked with people when the C. L. B. Band under Bandmaster Lieut. Coker, heading two large contingents of volunteers and Naval Reservists, left the Recruiting Camp and marched up Water Street to Steer's Cove. Along the route of march the band played patriotic airs, and on arrival at the cove the vast crowd of people who assembled were treated to a stirring address ably delivered by Lieut. Hicks, who expressed his pleasure in seeing such a large attendance but regretted that time would not allow him to say as much as he would like to. In speaking of the boys who had gone to the front he congratulated the proud parents who had sent them, they had done their "bit" and in doing so were the admiration of every true son of Britain. Speaking of July 1st when "Gurs" took part in that immortal charge which sounded the name of Newfoundlanders to the four corners of the world as the men who had done "better than the best," they had maintained by their steadfastness to duty the proud boast that the sons of the Empire can die facing the foe.

The late Lord Kitchener, who reviewed our Regiment at Aldershot just before he left for the Far East, was proud to meet the men from Britain's oldest colony. At Gallipoli the praise of General Cayley was a tribute that any regiment might well feel proud of. While under shell fire at Helles our men built bridges, breakwaters, and other necessary constructions for the evacuation of the Peninsula, and while in France they still kept up the reputation of the handy men of the nation by building a railroad 17 miles long for the purpose of moving troops and supplies up to the firing line. Arm chair critics who are fond of calling the immortal charge of July 1st "a blunder" should realize that it was part of the attack and the duty of Ours was to push on, and in doing so they won an imperishable name in the annals of the military history of the world. Though fully realizing what they had to face the spirit of the men before the charge was "we are going to it to-day." It is now up to us to fill the many gaps which were made by the loss of those who have paid the supreme sacrifice and the men who have since been discharged as medically unfit. Lieut. Hicks in concluding his address paid a high tribute to the splendid work of the Royal Navy, without which such a meeting as he was then holding would be impossible. He made a strong appeal for more recruits and asked the parents and sweethearts to encourage the young men to come forward and enlist.

AT BOWRING'S COVE.

On leaving Steer's Cove they marched east to Bowring's Cove where the big crowd was addressed by Gunner Devenport, of H. M. S. Briton, who for the past 27 years has been attached to the Royal Navy, and whose son is following in his father's footsteps. He spoke of the splendid work of the Fleet which is still mistress of the seas and without which the conditions under which we live would be more severe; for should the Hun get a footing on our Island Home we would have a different story to tell. The loss of so many of our brave Newfoundland sailors was to be regretted, but their sacrifice was not in vain, for like true sons of the Empire they died like heroes. In brief he described the work of our ships in the North Sea, but naval secrets have to be kept, and what he considered most interesting of all in relation to the work of the Navy he was not allowed to tell. The naval seamen who have left our shores for active service have proved their mettle time and again, and many more of their countrymen were needed.

Lieut. Cyril Carter, who was wounded at Gallipoli and still suffers from the effects of his wound, was the next to speak and in a forceful manner made a strong plea for more volunteers. Briefly he described the duties of Ours from the day he enlisted till the day he was hit in the knee by a shrapnell bullet while fighting the Turks. He made special reference to several who had made the supreme sacrifice, many of whom were his life long friends and companions. In speaking of Capt. "Jim" Donnelly, M. C., and Lieut. Sam Ebsary he paid a special tribute to their splendid work in connection with the Regiment and deeply regretted the loss of such valuable men. The Ebsary family were worthy of special praise for with two brothers killed in action the third had since offered his services and was now with the Regiment. Lieut. Carter in concluding his address said that though maimed for life, he felt no regrets at having volunteered, nor did any other wounded soldier who had returned. The knowledge that he was doing his duty towards his King and Country was sufficient payment for any man to enlist. It is but a few here who are indispensable and those who could and did not offer their services to replace the men that had fallen were nothing less than accessories to murder.

At the conclusion of Lt. Carter's address cheers were given for His Majesty the King, the Army and Navy and the speakers. The gathering then proceeded to the Recruiting Station at the Court House where the following young men offered their services, after which they were taken to the C. L. B. Armoury for medical examination:—

Last Night's Patriotic Dance.

Last night at the new C. C. C. Hall, King's Beach, a large number of merry folks attended the dance in aid of the Soldiers and Sailors Club. The ballroom was nicely decorated with the flags of Britain and her Allies, and the C. C. C. Band which supplied the music was never heard to greater advantage. Lady Morris and other prominent ladies were present; though some of the older people whose rheumatism prevented them from taking part in the dance dropped in to pay their admission fee.

FOR THE "MOVIE" ENTHUSIAST.

Almost every woman enjoys motion picture shows, but few realize how injurious the flash like shifting of the films is to the eyesight. For protection against bright light and sun-glare and wrinkles various colors of glass are now in use. The old-fashioned, so-called "smoked" glass is about as good as any. The goggles made for automobile use seems to have become a very much needed article for people in various walks and works of life.

The engineer finds them good, the long distance swimmer finds a pair set in rubber an excellent thing to keep salt spray from his eyes. The worker in dust or metal particles is glad to choose a well-fitting pair.

A kind intended to serve by night as well as day has insets of smoked glass in the lower half, this protects the eye-piercing glare of motor search-lights as well as the sun glare upon white roads. Such an idea might well be duplicated in glass, it would seem, if the one who wears such glasses must confront the same conditions.

Well-fitting, well-chosen, glasses, neither too large nor too small, too round, nor too low, worn not crooked-ly or too far away from the eyes, are not unbecoming. Indeed they are an adjunct to beauty in some cases where the eye happens to be ill-set, or her expression or of an indeterminate color. In such cases the glass hides the defect and heightens the good points.

Eyeglass making is indeed a fine art these days. Styles in rims in shape, in the clips used to set them upon the nose—all of these things do their part in making the up-to-date pair of eyeglasses things of beauty as well as of usefulness, when properly adjusted.

WEDNESDAY, November 8, 1916.

Last Night's Recruiting.

All concerned are to be heartily congratulated upon the success achieved by the recruiting effort last night: we hope it is an earnest of greater success to come. To have got in one night nearly forty new volunteers from St. John's alone, which has already done so well, reflects great credit upon all who took part in the parade and seems to show that the particular method adopted, which we have always advocated, was a step in the right direction. The hint to the authorities is plain. More men are needed and needed urgently: let the best means of obtaining them be used. The same means, and on the same scale, as produced such good results last night might not be practicable in the outports, but the essential parts of it are. Martial music, military display, the testimony and exhortation of some of the brave men who have been and seen and fought—these are the stirring arguments that should be used, and used in combination.

Another slight observation which we presume to make is that the appeals commonly made to men eligible but hesitating, perhaps, for good and not unworthy reasons, dwell almost too exclusively upon the abstract principles of duty and honor involved. While this is the first and greatest consideration, and cannot be too strongly emphasized, it is not the only one; and we think the companion benefits and privileges that accompany the duty could with great advantage be urged more fully and more often. To indicate only one of them, we are among those who see in the splendid experiences of so many Newfoundlanders and in their return to their native land with broadened vision and priceless knowledge gained in the best of schools one of the most valuable factors in the progress of the country that could be imagined. The nature and value and actual benefits of this experience, apart from such more material advantages as the pay and keep, support of dependents, improved health and so on, are very imperfectly understood by the majority of the men at home. The same may be said of other actualities. Nothing should be omitted which could bring home real facts to them, and mere words will not always do this. One expedient there is, the moving picture, which for some extraordinary reason has been overlooked entirely here. St. John's last year was enabled to see a splendid pictorial record of the life of the Regiment at Ayr. Why could not the outports see it also, and many others of the patriotic films that are widely distributed in other places and recognized to be among the most valuable of recruiting agents? The practical requirements are of the very simplest and the cost would be negligible.

These are only suggestions, but it is by such methods as these that the best results are obtained. If they are all used with energy, the results will be gratifying. If then there is still need of improvement there are other means left which it would be as well to recognize clearly. The Patriotic Association last night discussed seriously the question of registration. Registration is the mild-mannered brother of conscription. It is a regrettable fact that in some rare instances, fortunately very rare, sentiments have been expressed that savour almost of pro-Germanism. We can have none of this. At the beginning of the war it would have been strange enough: to-day, when the German nature and German methods have been revealed in all their inhumanity and brutality, it speaks an ignorance colossal and pitiable. It would be idle to attempt to remove it. The only thing worth while to remind the few individuals who hold such views and others who may be indifferent is the one fact that for the present at least we are under British and not German rule, and that our Government has power to compel any man, whatever his opinion, to take up arms in the British cause. This contingency will be imminent or remote exactly in accordance with the answer that is made between this and next March to the appeal for voluntary service.

Give Him a Welcome

By to-morrow's express there returns to the city the Newfoundlanders who has rendered what all will concede to be the most valuable services to the cause that our Island can boast of. This is Major Macpherson, whose invention alone of the gas helmet has made him famous in the British Army. His other achievements and devotion to duty at the front are too well known here to need to be recapitulated. It remains for them to be recognized by his native city, and we think every citizen will be heartily in accord with our suggestion that a record welcome be extended to him at the station. Every-

Grape-Nuts Flavor

Grape-Nuts food is probably the most appetizing form in which honest whole wheat is utilized as food.

But to whole wheat is added malted barley in making Grape-Nuts, and the sense of taste quickens at once when a spoonful of the food is eaten with cream. For the barley has a rich, individual taste which, blended with the sweetness of wheat, creates a rare flavor recognized by the palate as unusually new and delicious.

Aside from its wonderfully vitalizing value as a food, Grape-Nuts has a flavor that has made it a favorite everywhere.

Big Army For Venizelos

Will Total 100,000 and Co-operate with the French, it is Said.

The Greek National Herald, published in New York, yesterday received a cablegram from its Salonika correspondent, which in a review of the situation in Greece says:

"The Provisional Government will proceed to completely organize the volunteers daily pouring in from every where. It is certain that an army of 100,000 men will be formed under Greek officers in collaboration with their French comrades, many of whom are already in the service of the Provisional Government. The allied powers have amply provided for this national army, which is to be armed and fed by them.

"The Venizelos Government will pay war indemnities to the officers and soldiers, and will provide their families in the same way as France is paying these indemnities. At the same time, the Provisional Government undertakes to secure the rights of the officers serving in the army of old Greece.

"For all these reasons, the Venizelos Government is indifferent to the falsehoods printed by the pro-German Athens press."

Gift From the League of Empire.

The following messages were read by His Excellency the Governor at last night's Patriotic meeting:—

No. 625. Code Telegram from Captain Timewell.

(Received 5th Nov., 1916.)

Silk Union Jack and Silver Shield gift of the Women and Children of the British Isles will be presented by Princess Henry of Battenburg, on behalf of the League of Empire to Newfoundland Regiment.

Ceremony takes place at Chelsea Hospital, Nov. 10th, afternoon.

Premier and Major Paterson acquainted with circumstances.

Have you any message?

No. 253. Code Telegram to Captain Timewell.

(Sent 7th Nov., 1916.)

Your Telegram 5th Nov. (No. 625).

My Ministers desire me to convey their grateful thanks to the Women and Children of the British Isles for the gift to the Newfoundland Regiment of a Silk Union Jack and Silver Shield, and their cordial appreciation of the courtesy of Princess Henry of Battenburg in making the presentation on behalf of the League of Empire.

The Presentation by Her Royal Highness in person adds greatly to the value of the gift in the eyes of this loyal and ancient Colony.

GOVERNOR.

McMurdo's Store News

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 8, 1916.

McMurdo's Effervescent Saline is prepared for us by one of the best wholesale and manufacturing chemists in the United Kingdom, and is a reliable medicine for those who suffer from liver or stomach trouble or occasional constipation. It is laxative and cooling, and a specific in bilious headache. Mild yet certain in its action. Large Bottles price 65c. each.

As we announced yesterday, Sanident Tooth Paste has, after considerable delay arrived to us. Sanident is deservedly one of the most popular of dentifrices, and sells at the modest price of 25c. a tube.

Private Wm. Pilot.

Private William Pilot is in hospital at Colchester, suffering from gunshot wounds in the right leg. He has three brothers serving at the front and is the step-son of Maurice Cullen, R.C.A., the artist. He went overseas with a cycle corps recruited in Toronto. His brother Jack was wounded in the fighting in June and is now convalescing in England. Ned is at the front with the ammunition column and Robert went over with the ammunition column last spring. They were all born in St. John's, Nfld., and are grandsons of the late Canon Pilot. Their home is at 2540a Park avenue—Montreal Star.

Police Court (Before Mr. Morris, K.C., J.P.)—A 21-year-old volunteer, of Bell Island, arrested for drunk and disorderly conduct, was let go. The defendant in an assault case was fined $1 or 3 days. Several civil cases were disposed of.

MINARD'S LINIMENT LUMBER—WHYEVER.

Vive la France!

"France is Dying"—Hindenburg. If France is dying, she dies as day in the splendor of noon, sun-aureoled.

If France is dying, then youth is gray and steel is soft and flame is cold. France cannot die! France cannot die!

If France is dying, she dies as love when a mother dreams of her child-to-be.

If France is dying, then God above Died with His Son upon the Tree. France cannot die! France cannot die!

If France is dying, true manhood dies, Freedom and justice, all golden things.

If France is dying, then life were wise to borrow of death such immortal wings.

France cannot die! France cannot die!

FRENCH GAINS.
PARIS, Nov. 7. The French took German prisoners on a front of four kilometers (miles) extending from Chateaufort to the southeast of Ablaincourt, says an official statement issued by the war office to-night. Villages of Ablaincourt and Ablaincourt cemetery were captured. More than 500 prisoners taken.

ISLAND OF LEROS OCCUPIED.
LONDON, Nov. 7. The Entente Allied forces have captured the arsenal and Island of Leros, one of the Sporades off the coast of Asia Minor, according to a despatch from Athens.

RUSSIAN CAPTURE.
PETROGRAD, Nov. 7. In the region east of Keshli, the Transylvanian front, says a Russian statement from general headquarters, a Russian attack resulted in the dismounting of two enemy guns and the capture of trenches with 100 prisoners and two machine-guns. South of Dorna Watra, says the statement, we continue our successful operations in the Valley of the Tisza and Poutna Rivers. We captured within two days 7 machine-guns, officers and 800 men. On the Galician front we repulsed the Turks and captured the village of Aymur to the east of Katku. We have arrested Turkish offensive in the direction of Redjar. No change occurred on

The Hat All-Important.

By RUTH CAMERON.

Best Dressed Woman

The Best Dressed Woman I know came into my yard the other morning with a hat box. "Want to see my new hat?" she asked. "Was there ever a woman who didn't want to see a new hat? The other feminine members of the family, scenting excitement, flocked about us. The Best Dressed Woman carefully untied the tape and produced the hat. It was a beauty—tiny, smart, graceful, and of an odd color and unusual material. A single, stunning little ornament was the only trimming.

But He Would Be Much Mistaken

It was the kind of thing a man would expect to cost two or three dollars because it was so simple. The Best Dressed Woman put the hat on. Immediately it became more charming.

When we had raved for several minutes, someone said: "I thought you told us the war had affected your husband's business?"

The Best Dressed Woman laughed. "It has," she said, "and since you ask me point blank, I paid twenty dollars for the hat."

We opened our eyes in astonishment. Twenty dollars for a hat may spell poverty in some circles, but it doesn't in ours.

Instead of a New Suit

"My dear, this hat takes the place of a suit," she explained. "I was due for a suit this year, but I had to have a hat and shoes and some other things. At first I was going to try and scrimp and get them all in, and then I decided that I'd go without a new suit and put it into the hat and shoes. I studied it out and I've come to the conclusion that they are the things that count the most. You see a woman's hat before you see anything else and remember it longer. It's a frame for her face. If a woman has a well-tailored, conservative suit and a chic hat and smart-looking feet, she makes a much better all-round impression than a woman in an expensive, up-to-the-minute suit, if her hat is commonplace and her feet are unattractively shod."

She Was Still "The Best Dressed Woman"

"Wait," finished the Best Dressed Woman, "until you see my shoes." I saw her yesterday on the trolley. Her last year's suit was pressed and freshened. She wore the hat and the shoes, and she deserved her title.

Perhaps some of the women who cannot find money for a fresh outfit this season will find her clothes philosophy interesting.

A Reply to the "Hymn of Hate."

London Chronicle: Most of us have heard of the "Hymn of Hate," and of how the British and French troops quickly learnt it, and then astonished the Germans by yelling it triumphantly back to them across the waste land between. At a well-known and popular seaside resort the other day the band was asked as a favor to play it to the audience, who were curious to know what it was like. The band did so, and at the end a notice was put up, bearing the words "Our reply." Everybody, naturally enough, got ready to stand up, expecting to hear the National Anthem, but were much astonished and amused when the band began to play, softly and tenderly, "Two Lovely Black Eyes!"

Who Obeys in Married Life.

Washington Post: It is not provided in the marriage ceremony that the husband shall obey the wife, but somehow or other it usually works out that way. He may not think he is doing it, but he usually does. And as for the wife, if she obeys her husband it is usually a mark of respect to her tact and diplomacy rather than recognition of any right he may have. The problem of successful marriages goes much deeper than vows or promises at the outset of the great adventure. It is largely a matter of character, and it is not likely to be changed by the omission of the word "obey." Nor would it be changed if the man promised everything and the woman promised nothing. The growing number of divorces indicates that something is wrong, but the cause is not to be found in the wording of the marriage ceremony.

A Pay-Your-Bills Week

"We have a good many 'Weeks' nowadays—'Baby Week,' 'Old Home Week,' 'Clean-Up Week'—and the danger is that we shall have too many. But the town of Rock Hill, South Carolina, through its Chamber of Commerce, has added a week that is in every sense an excellent addition. It is a week when everybody is urged to pay his bills," says Collier's Weekly.

"To those who have a financial conscience and the proper moral responsibility for debts incurred in this way seem, at first glance, unnecessary, but all schoolmen and merchants, to say nothing of professional men, know how widely needed is such an urging of the public conscience. And Rock Hill gets out a 'stamp' that it affixes to every envelope during that week and prior to it. It is printed in black and red."

Mother! Don't Take Chances If Child's Tongue Is Coated

If cross, feverish, sick, bilious, clean little liver and bowels.

A laxative to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue. Mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation, poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

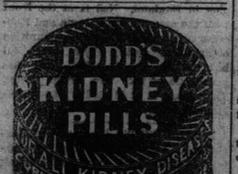

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

Fads and Fashions.

Evening slippers are in two tones. The great preference seems to be for the straight line silhouette. The smartest collars are finished around the edge simply with a hem. Occasionally mink, that old standby, is seen in small furs and coats. Velours de laine is a good material for the suit for many occasions. Jumper or smock blouses are Russian in style and richly trimmed with fur. A white blouse gains much distinction with striped blue collar and cuffs. The shoe with top of gray buckskin and vamp of black leather is very smart.

AT THE CRESCENT.

"Beyond the Law," a strong drama of the Canadian Northwest, is the headliner at the Crescent Picture Palace to-day, produced in three reels by the Essanay Company featuring Marguerite Clayton and E. H. Calvert. "The Son," a Lubin Society drama with Octavia Handworth. "Miss Sticky-Moude-Kiss," a Vitagraph-Drew Comedy with Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew. Professor McCarthy plays the newest and best music; Douglas J. Stewart featuring the latest English song successes. Go to the Crescent to-day, the show is fine.

FRENCH GAINS.

PARIS, Nov. 7. The French took German positions on a front of four kilometres (2½ miles) extending from Chailloues Wood to the southeast of Ablaincourt refinery, says an official statement issued by the war office to-night. The villages of Ablaincourt and Pressoir, and Ablaincourt cemetery were captured. More than 500 prisoners were taken.

ISLAND OF LEROS OCCUPIED.

LONDON, Nov. 7. The Entente Allied forces have occupied the arsenal and Island of Leros, one of the Sporades off the coast of Asia Minor, according to a Reuter despatch from Athens.

RUSSIAN CAPTURE.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 7. In the region east of Keshibaba on the Transylvanian front, says a Russian statement from general headquarters, a Russian attack resulted in the dismounting of two enemy guns, and the capture of trenches with over 100 prisoners and two machine guns. South of Dorna Watra, says the statement, we continue our successful operations in the Valley of the Dorok and Poutna Rivers. We captured here within two days 7 machine guns, 15 officers and 800 men. On the Caucasus front we repulsed the Turks and occupied the village of Aymur to the southeast of Katku. We have arrested the Turkish offensive in the direction of Hedjar. No change occurred on the Incandescent Gas Lighting.

The remarkable economy of the incandescent gas lamp is by no means either its chief or even an important claim for popularity. It meets better than any other source of artificial light the requirements of ideal light.

In the color of the light produced it is far superior to any other illuminant in general and universal use. The investigations of acknowledged authorities indicate that for the approximation of artificial daylight the gas mantle has at least one and one-half times the value of the carbon-filament electric lamp.

This quality is highly desirable, indeed absolutely essential where the approximation of daylight color values is important. For lighting shops, displaying haberdashery, suitings, gowns, millinery, etc., the incandescent gas lamp is not even remotely approached by any other incandescent lamp.

Of all the manifold advantages of gas light, perhaps the most important is its favourable effect upon the eyes. The development of the incandescent electric lamp with its intense brilliant and glaring filament has been accompanied by hitherto unheard of prevalence of eye troubles and diseases which are forcing themselves upon the attention of the medical fraternity. This is resulting in a greater appreciation of the soft mellow quality of gas light and is rapidly enlarging its field of use.—July 23, 1904.

Roumanian, Transylvanian or Danube fronts.

LINER ARABIA TORPEDED.

PARIS, Nov. 7. The Peninsular and Oriental Liner Arabia has been torpedoed. She carried 450 passengers, all of whom are believed to be saved. She was 7,933 tons gross, and was last reported bound from Sydney, N.S.W., Sept. 30 for London. She sailed from Adelaide on Oct. 5.

GERMAN LOSSES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. A News Agency despatch from London to-day, says German losses in the Roumanian frontier and Jiu Valley fighting exceeded a division and a half, a wireless despatch from Bucharest stated to-day. A German army division consists of about 200,000 officers and men usually of all fighting classes.

BRITAIN'S NOTE TO AMERICAN AND SPANISH AMBASSADORS.

LONDON, Nov. 7. Britain addressed a note to the American and Spanish Ambassadors regarding the recent sinking of a Greek steamer carrying supplies for the commission for relief of Belgium. Lord Robert Cecil, Minister of War Trade, told the Commons to-day that since the beginning of the commission's work twelve of its ships have been sunk, two or three being torpedoed while the rest were victims of mines.

SLIGHT ADVANCE.

BUCHAREST, Nov. 7. On the Transylvanian front the Roumanians advanced slightly in Buzau Valley. Violent fighting is underway in the region of the River Alt.

THE KAISER'S MAIL.

NEW LONDON, Nov. 7. The German Ambassador Von Bernstorff who visited the Deutschland with his wife to-day, denied formally that he has entrusted Captain Koenig with official mail for the Emperor of Germany. It was learned that certain mail matter from the German Embassy at Washington will be carried by her on the next trip. The Ambassador and Countess left here this forenoon for New York.

CHANCELLOR HOLLWEGG TO MAKE STATEMENT.

BERLIN, Nov. 7. Chancellor Von Bethmann Hollweg is expected to make an important statement on Thursday, according to the semi-official Overseas News Agency. On that day the main committee of the Reichstag, which has been authorized to meet during recess, will assemble for the first time. The Chancellor's address will be delivered before that body.

CAPT. MAINLAND'S STATEMENT.

CARDIFF, Nov. 7. Capt. Mainland, of the steamer Lano, sunk by a German submarine off Cape Vincent, said to-day that he knew nothing of the reported sale of the Lano to the Norwegians. He was acting on the assumption that she was still under Philippine register and entitled to fly the American flag.

ON THE BRITISH FRONT.

LONDON, Nov. 7. On the British front Les Boeufs area was severely shelled and the German support communication trenches in the neighborhood of Armentieres and Wetschets bombardment, according to an official from the British headquarters. The French issued to-night that calm prevailed all day.

STREET CAR ACCIDENT.

BOSTON, Nov. 7. The lives of 30 to 40 persons were lost to-night when a crowded passenger car on the Boston Elevated Street Railway plunged through an open drawbridge into Fort Point Channel, just outside of the South Boston terminal. Twelve other persons were rescued from the water by fire boats and tugs.

NO TRANSFER.

LONDON, Nov. 7. No transfer of the steamer Lano had been registered at the United States Consulate here, it was said at the Consulate to-day in reference to advices from the United States representing the transfer of the vessel from American to foreign ownership.

KAISER'S BATTLESHIPS.

LONDON, Nov. 7. A claim that two dreadnoughts were hit by the British submarine which yesterday was reported as launching a torpedo at and striking a German dreadnought in the North Sea, is contained in a further report received from the commanding officer of the submarine. It was officially announced to-day. The two dreadnoughts claimed to have been struck were battleships of the Kaiser class.

ON THE SOMME FRONT.

LONDON, Nov. 7. Gains by British troops in the neighborhood of Butte-de-Warlen-court, on the Somme front, during operations last night, were announced to-day by the war office.

Mr. Lloyd George's Verdun Trees.

Nottingham Guardian: The story about Mr. Lloyd George picking up chestnuts when he was at Verdun, and putting them in his pocket, has had a pretty sequel. The French General who was with our Minister for War thought Mr. Lloyd George was going to eat them but his real intention was, it seems, to plant them when he got home, so that his descendants might walk under Verdun chestnut trees, and never forget the immortal French defence. One can imagine this story going down through the ages amongst the French peasants, and it may be that in generations to come Mr. Lloyd George's Verdun avenue may become a place of pilgrimage for French visitors to this country.

The Duty of Forgiveness.

Manchester Guardian: Lord Bryce's statesmanlike, and indeed Christian plea, that the influence of the churches should be applied to restoring good international relations after the war is but a reminder to the churches of an elementary duty. Bad feeling there must be for a time after such a conflict as Europe is now passing through. It will unfortunately need some time to get over. Whatever interests may feel themselves impelled to continue the spirit of the war after it has actually ceased, there can be no excuse for the Christian Church adopting such an attitude. For even if Germany's offence were seventy times worse than it really is, the duty of forgiveness after punishment would still rest upon everyone who called himself Christian. His discharge will not be easy, but the churches will have to choose between attempting it and repudiating the central teaching of their faith. Lord Bryce has done them a service by reminding them of what is required of them.

The Wastage of War.

"What are the facts about Germany's use of her man power?" asks a reader. "In the 'Notes and Comments' column of The Globe I read that the Germans enlist boys of seventeen. It will greatly enlarge and prolong their supply of soldiers, for it will make boys who were only fourteen when the war began available. Obviously every year there will be a new batch of boys aged seventeen. How are the German armies to be exhausted at this rate? How is this horrible carnage ever to end?"

The question is one that demands an honest answer. Sir William Robertson, General Joffre, General Maurice and other leaders of the Allied armies, whose business it is to estimate the enemy's strength, frankly state that they do not know how long it will take to destroy Germany's military power. But they have all recently stated, in one form or another, that the Allies are making appreciable progress in their stupendous task, and that there is no longer doubt as to the issue of the war.

The correspondent who asks how the German armies can be exhausted if boys of seventeen are called up for service must remember that the annual war wastage of the German army—and of all the other armies engaged in the war except that of Russia—is vastly greater than the number of lads who annually reach the age of military service. The total number of male children born in Germany in 1913, the last year for which statistics are available, was 974,894.

The number born nineteen years ago who have survived the maladies of infancy and of youth and early manhood and are now available to fill the depleted ranks of the army assuredly will not total six hundred thousand. That would not equal Germany's net loss during the past four months on all fronts by death, disabling wounds, or the capture of her soldiers. Clearly, therefore, the accession to her fighting strength of young men who reach age will not enable Germany to prolong the war indefinitely.

The degree of exhaustion of Germany's man power is doubtless very well known to the chiefs of the Allied armies, but it can only be calculated in a rough way by those who have not access to official figures. In 1912 there were in Germany trained and untrained men between the ages of seventeen and forty-five totalling 8,898,000. When war broke out this

America's Two Bits.

San Francisco Bulletin:—Americans have given to the principal war relief societies about twenty-five cents per head for every man, woman and child in the country. Twenty-five cents is the price paid by many men for their cigars. It is the minimum tip for a waiter or a Pullman porter. It is little more than the cost of a gallon of gasoline. It will carry one fat man and four men who are merely lazy a large number of blocks on a street car. It will buy a fashionable mixed drink, half a pound, or less, of medium grade candy, or a shave and a shine. It is a useful amount to have in a chain-purse or a vest pocket; it does its work and does it well; yet it is but a small sum to send abroad to a continent which covers a third of the world. It is a mere fraction of the profits made in this country on munitions of war. Weigh the two sums together, and with them the mere qualities which they represent, and the United States, which tips the balance, is not the country which saved Belgium and Serbians, but a calculating nation of traders which saw profit in the spilling of blood. We are no country of philanthropists. In fact, we are in some ways rather a brutal lot, with hardly any superiority over Europe, save that given us by the mere luck of natural resources and geographical position. It is a patriotic duty to look this fact in the eye; we won't improve so long as we are wrapped in the belief that we are already perfect.

Your Boys and Girls.

Be sure your baby gets good milk after weaning. If one lives in the city where the certified milk is known by inspection, to be handled in a clean manner and obtained from healthy cows, the milk of that dairy is best.

In the smaller towns and villages, the question of where to obtain the best milk can be answered by personal inspection of the dairy, the cows and the manner of obtaining the milk and caring for it from the time it is taken from the cow until it reaches the purchaser.

All formulas used to mix the milk should be sterilized, scrubbed in some soap and water and immersed in boiling water, and used for no other purpose.

Torture of Sciatica Cured Quick! "Nerviline" A Success Every Time.

Stops the Pain Quick—Acts Like Magic—Is Harmless and Pleasant.

Sciatica is the most severe pain man can suffer. The great sciatic nerve is deeply placed, and you can reach it only by a pain remedy, as penetrating and powerful as NERVILINE.

The glory of Nerviline is in its strength—in its marvelous power of penetrating deeply. In severe pains, such as sciatica and neuralgia, NERVILINE demonstrates its superiority over every other remedy.

Extraordinary pains, such as rheumatic or sciatic, can be overcome only by a remedy as extraordinary as Nerviline. In many lands it has shown itself to be the best for little pains, best for big pains, and best for all pains.

When one has acute rheumatic pains, stiff joints or a stiff neck, don't experiment—seek a remedy that cures. Like lightning in rapidity, as sure as fate in its certainty of relief, Nerviline can never be surpassed for the removal of pain, no matter how advanced science may make. It is perfection in its line.

Do not trifle with ordinary or city ailments, use Nerviline. Prove its efficacy—its the one liniment that rubs right into the core of the pain.

A large 50 cent bottle will cure the aches and pains of the whole family. Trial size, 25 cents. Sold by all dealers everywhere.

The United States Elections Yesterday.

NEW YORK, 3 This a.m. The latest returns indicate the following standing of the election: Hughes, 292; Wilson, 165; in doubt, 72. Necessary to elect, 266. New York, Nov. 7.—The Herald flashed the election of Hughes at 7.30. The New York Times (Democrat) concedes the election of Hughes at 7.45. The New York American announces at 7.50 that its returns showed the election of Hughes.

The New York Evening World announces that Hughes has carried New York State, and that Whitman has been elected.

The Times, which supported Wilson concedes New York state to Hughes, estimating his majority from 125,000 to 175,000.

The New York American claims that Hughes has carried New York state by 150,000 to 160,000, and that Whitman has been re-elected Governor by from 135,000 to 175,000. Chairman Wilcox, of the Republican National Committee, gave out the following: "The victory is greater than we had expected. It shows the American people can be trusted to settle the issues of the campaign. The present outlook seems to indicate a clean sweep. That means Hughes has been elected President, and that both Houses of Congress will be Republican. The American people are to be congratulated."

Long Branch.—When the New York papers began conceding the election of Hughes, there was a perceptible lessening of optimism by the White House Executive officers, but the view was expressed that the chances of Wilson were still good. Anxiety to hear from the Western and Middle Western States was shown. All the important news was telephoned immediately to the President.

New York.—The State of New York has been carried for Hughes by a plurality of more than 100,000. The indications are that he has also carried Illinois and Indiana by like pluralities. Returns from Ohio are insufficient to determine the result in that State. All of the New England States, as well as Wisconsin and Michigan, have been removed from the list of doubtful States. Unless there is a substantial landslide for Wilson on the Pacific slopes, the election of Hughes is certain.

The following is an incomplete list of States and Pluralities: For Wilson—Colorado, 33,000; Maryland, 7,000; Missouri, 25,000; Ohio, 10,000; Oklahoma, 25,000; Texas, 165,000. For Hughes—Conn., 7,500; Ills., 20,000; Ind., 25,000; Iowa, 30,000; Kansas, 20,000; Maine, 7,000; Mass., 10,000; Mich., 100,000; N.J., 25,000; N.Y., 109,000; Penn., 200,000; Rhode Island, 1,500; Vermont, 20,000; West Va., 25,000.

Early returns from Illinois show Hughes leading Wilson in the race in Cook County. The city of Chicago is exceedingly close, but in down state precincts first reporting shows heavy plurality for Hughes. Scattering returns from Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia indicate that a normal vote was cast in these States with the usual majorities for the Democratic candidates including President Wilson. The returns from two hundred and six districts out of 1,511 in Philadelphia, gave Wilson 7,958 and Hughes 24,402. Incomplete returns reported before the polls closed from 168 precincts of 2,474 in Kansas gave Wilson 12,853 and Hughes 14,840. Milwaukee thus far, Hughes leads Wilson 2 to 1.

Just before midnight the election returns, still incomplete, from many States indicated the election of Chas. E. Hughes and Charles W. Fairbanks, but the figures are very close and Democratic managers steadfastly refused to concede a Republican victory. Although the metropolitan newspapers which have supported President Wilson conceded his defeat, the Democratic managers insisted that the incomplete returns from the west would reverse the trend which steadily seemed to be piling up in the Hughes column. "Remember 1892" was the prediction of the Democratic Publicity Bureau, which pointed out that in that memorable contest, next day's returns placed Grover Cleveland in the White House.

Just after 11 o'clock Republican headquarters absolutely claimed Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and California with a total of 254 electoral votes that was 12 less than the 266 necessary for election; but the statement appended added, "advices have been received from enough States to make the necessary 266." The statement, however, did not list them. This was the first official indication from the Republicans that the result would be so close. Republican managers realized that a sudden switch in the States incomplete or unheard from might increase the Wilson figures, but were sure that later figures would add to the States they were claiming.

10.30 A.M. To-Day.

HUGHES HEARS OF HIS ELECTION

NEW YORK, To-day. Chas. E. Hughes and his family received the election returns here last night in an uptown hotel which has been the Republican nominee's headquarters since nomination. When the early returns began to come Hughes was asleep. He slept until 6.30 p.m. Meantime the telegraph instruments in the adjoining room had been clicking for two hours, and a sheet of telegrams showing the trend of New York were awaiting Hughes' perusal. The first paper handed him told of the announcement by the New York papers that he had carried New York State by a 150,000 plurality. Hughes smiled. Mrs. Hughes and their three daughters, Misses Catherine, Elizabeth and Helen scanned the returns over Hughes' shoulder. A huge electric sign several blocks away flashed the returns. At 9 o'clock Mrs. Hughes congratulated her husband on his election. She told him then that he had been elected.

HOW WILSON HEARD THE RETURNS.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., To-day. In face of the returns indicating the election of Charles E. Hughes, President Wilson, his officials and family, here late to-night insisted that more definite news from the Western States would be awaited before any concessions were made. The President, surrounded by the members of his immediate family, read the returns in his studio at Shadow Lawn. As he continued discouraging news came to the executive office, disappointment was generally expressed, but the President himself remained cheerful. He filled the time between the receipt of the returns by talking with Mrs. Wilson, Miss Margaret Wilson and other relatives. Wilson displayed keen interest in the returns, indicating the political complexion of the next House and Senate. Discouraging as well as hopeful news was sent him by Secretary Tamm.

HOW THE ELECTIONS WENT.

NEW YORK, To-day. The Democratic party leaders insisted at a late hour that the control of the House had not been lost and that the Senate certainly would remain Democratic. The Republican leaders, however, were claiming the House and still were hopeful of victory in the Senate. In the House the Repubwith big electoral votes. The result was practically certain as early as 7.30 p.m. when New York and Illinois were observed to be surely in the Republican column. It appears from a general survey of the result that the President won over about 20 per cent. of the progressive vote.

2.00 P.M.

HUGHES' NEW YORK VICTORY.
NEW YORK, To-day. New York State gave Hughes a plurality of 100,000 or more, and re-elected Governor Whitman by an eleven (?) figure vote. All the rest of the Republican state ticket was won by large pluralities, including the candidate for the United States Senate.

DRAMATIC CHANGE IN SITUATION.

NEW YORK, To-day. The result of the election still was officially in doubt early, with a decided drift toward the re-election of Wilson. Upon a dozen doubtful States, from which returns are slowly coming, depends whether the next President will be Hughes. The Chairmen of both the National Committees claimed handsome majorities in the Electoral College for their candidate. The returns, however, show a steady trend towards Wilson.

All through the west, aside from the uncertainty of result, the most remarkable thing about the election was the sudden wiping out of the Hughes majorities piled up in the east by the returns coming in from the west. When the Republican landslide in New York became known and was quickly followed by heavy Republican victories in New England there was a veritable stampede to announce the election of Hughes and the defeat of Wilson. Hundreds of thousands waiting in the streets saw the signal lights flash the defeat of the President. The New York newspapers which have been prominent in their support of him conceded the President's defeat even before some of the Western States had been heard from. Thousands of persons in the east went to bed believing Hughes elected and woke up this morning to find the result apparently changed while they slept. Hundreds who made their plans for what they expected to happen in Wall St. to-day found them all awry. Congress returns were equally uncertain, but on their face at 8 a.m. to-day the Republicans had not been able to overthrow the Democratic majority, although they did succeed in reducing it in the House. Of the Senate the Republicans appeared to have gained 7 seats.

WITHOUT WARNING.

LONDON, To-day. The Peninsula and Oriental Line steamer Arabia, which was sunk by a submarine, was torpedoed without warning. The Admiralty announced to-day. All the passengers, including 169 women and children, were saved.

Section Man Meets With Accident.

Sectionman Patrick Walsh, 60 years of age, a native of Holyrood, met with a painful accident about 5.30 yesterday afternoon by falling from a hand cart this side of Petty Harbor, where he was working. He was picked up in an unconscious condition, placed on board the Trepassey train and brought to Bay Bulls where he was attended to by Dr. Chisholm who happened to be on the train. As the unfortunate man did not regain consciousness till his arrival at St. John's at 1 p.m. to-day, it was not possible to discover the full extent of his injuries other than he is badly cut around the legs and body. The ambulance was at the station to receive the patient and had him removed to the General Hospital.

Weakened by Anaemia Doctors Gave No Hope

Said She Was Threatened With Consumption, and Gave Her Three Weeks To Live.

Anaemia is indicated by thin, watery blood. The gums and eyelids grow pale; there is great weakness and fatigue and digestion fails. Since Dr. Chase's Nerve Food formula new, rich blood is naturally most suitable as a treatment for anaemia. This letter proves its efficiency in the most severe cases. Mrs. J. Adams, Port Hope, Ont., writes: "About six years ago I was taken with very weak spells and though I doctored with the family physician and used other medicines for two years, I got very little relief and, in fact, continued to grow weaker. I was so weak I could not wait on myself or raise my hand to my head and decided to go to my daughter in Toronto. When examined by Toronto doctors they pronounced me to be in a dangerous condition, threatened with consumption and other ailments and said I would not live for three weeks. One day I was looking through Dr. Chase's Almanac and read about the cure of anaemia by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I began the use of this treatment at once and am now well on the way back to health, after having used the Nerve Food for six months. I want my friends to know that my cure was effected by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food alone and after my discouragement from the use of other treatments, I feel it my duty to let everybody know about this remarkable cure." As a restorative for persons who are pale, weak and run down there is no treatment to be compared to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Gradually and naturally the red corpuscles are increased in the blood, the color is restored to the cheeks and the strength comes back to wasted nerves and muscles. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c. a box, $ for $2.50, all dealers. Edmansons, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

The Growing Boy or Girl must have Perfect Feet and Ankles to be Strong and Healthy

Do you know how severely their games and sports strain the tender ligaments and muscles of the feet and the ankles? Do you know statistics show that 33 per cent of the school children have "Flat Foot"? Do you know the result of this affliction as it develops through carelessness and ignorance while the child is growing? Do you know that early injuries like turned ankles, sprained ligaments, etc., frequently cause deformity because Nature is not assisted at the proper time by such a simple appliance as

Scholl's "Foot-Eazer"

Scholl's "Foot-Eazer" should be placed in children's shoes at first detection of rotating ankles—turning in or out—and wearing of the heels of the shoes on either side. Shuffling gait, dragging feet, weak ankles, pain in the limbs and back attributed to rheumatism or growing pains, are frequently caused by weak ligaments or flat-foot, all of which Scholl's "Foot-Eazer" instantly relieves and permanently corrects.

A complete line of Men's and Women's Arch Supports.

Men's Women's and Children's Ankle Supports just opened. Drop in and be fitted correctly if you have any foot troubles.
