Maddolena's Story AND The Cameo-Bracelet.

CHAPTER VIII.

"I decline this—positively decline to accept so magnificent an offer," cried Charlie, reddening. "She behaves to me with a generosity I do not deserve, and I cannot burden my conscience with more obligations."

"You really are, Lady Ormsby considers that the terms of the marriage ceremony bind her to this division of property."

"I will see her," said the baronet. "If we were on amicable terms, and I could hear her say that she forgives any remarks I have made in the language that wounded her womanly vanity, I might reconcile myself to this arrangement, for I don't mind confessing that it would tide me over a heap of difficulties. Will you ask her to appoint an interview with me?"

"She has left London, and I am not at liberty to mention her present address."

"But you will write to her; and pray say that I will not let any distance from town interfere with my wish to see her. I am in much better health than when we last met."

again to Messrs. Benton & Sons, the solicitors already adverted to.

But here he learned little or nothing. Lady Ormsby had certainly answered the letter advising her that her wishes had been complied with; but she had made no allusion to Sir Charles' messages.

"Then, I must pursue my original intention, and demand an interview in person. Will you give me her address?"

"Permit me to advise you not to undertake this journey, Sir Charles," said Mr. Benton, politely. "I feel convinced that it will be a fruitless one."

"Is she so embittered against me, that she will not permit me to hold an hour's conversation with her in her own house?" the young baronet demanded. "Or"—and a frown began to settle on his fine features as he said this—"or are there other reasons why my presence is shunned by her and those with whom she associates?"

"I have already told you, Sir Charles, that we are not sufficiently in the lady's confidence to answer any questions concerning her. Indeed, we should not have known so much about our client as we do, if old Hannah had not recognized her when she first called upon us, and inveighed in our hearing against the society to which in her childhood she had been subjected."

"Give me, then, her address," said Charlie, and Mr. Benton handed him a card, on which was written the name of a secluded watering-place on the east coast, not very far from Lowestoft. "Miss Goldryne, Prospect Cottage, Lutford."

"I should like to go to la pauvre fille," Lady Ormsby observed, "if you are well enough to be left, my son."

"Quite, dear mother. In fact, I am planning an expedition on my own account, and shall seize the term of your absence to make it. I hear that an acquaintance—a friend I much wish to see—is residing near Lowestoft; so I shall leave town by an early train to-morrow."

"You will take Antoine with you, and I will myself give him directions to take care that you do not over-exert yourself."

Charlie permitted her to do this, but at the last moment he elected to leave Antoine behind; and it was therefore alone and incog. that he made the journey to Lutford.

On inquiring for Miss Goldryne, he was immediately ushered into a neatly furnished parlour and his card taken upstairs by the country lass who admitted him. His pulses quickened a little as he waited for the coming of the lady whom he had never beheld since they stood at the altar, and he glanced around the room to glean from her surroundings some idea of her tastes and present habits.

There was a book open on the table by the window, but it was a volume of devotional poetry, and a pair of spectacles lay between the leaves. There was a neat little workbasket on a basket, but a very coarse, unfinished knitted stocking appeared to be its sole contents; and thus baffled, he began to listen impatiently to the step that came so slowly down the stairs.

At last the door opened, and admitted—not the dwarfish girl he expected to see, but a respectably attired elderly woman.

"There is some mistake here," she said, civilly. "My servant should have told you that Miss Goldryne has left Lutford."

Charlie Ormsby expressed his regret to hear this.

"I have traveled from town purposely to see her. May I ask why you smile at this information?"

"Because you must have passed her

LOOSEN UP THAT COLD WITH MUSTEROLE

Have a jar of Musterole handy. The moment a cold starts use it freely. Rub about the throat with ointment with your fingers over the congested parts. You will immediately feel a warm tingle as it penetrates the pores, followed by a soothing cooling sensation and quick relief.

Made of pure oil of mustard and other simple ingredients of well-known medicinal value, it will not blister. Many doctors and nurses recommend Musterole not only for colds but in cases of bronchitis, sore throat, pleurisy, pneumonia, lumbago, group neuritis and congestion. Taken in time it may prevent pneumonia. There is nothing just like Musterole or nearly so good for any of the above ailments.

on the way, as she left here this morning."

"To avoid seeing me?" he asked, suspiciously; and the elderly female's silence confirmed it.

As he was too gentlemanly to question her, he did not remain at the cottage, but returned to town, and on the following morning drove to Mr. Benton's offices to acquaint him with the non-success of his journey.

"So sorry you were not here five minutes earlier, Sir Charles. Lady Ormsby has just left us."

"For Lutford?"

"No. She was even more reticent than usual; but, from a few words she let fall, we have reason to believe that she is about to travel. She shook hands with me when she went away, and said that, unless she altered her present plans, it might be some years before we met again."

Charlie Ormsby bit his lip. Was he beginning to feel a strange curiosity to be once more face to face with the bride who thus avoided him?

CHAPTER IX.

There was a little additional bustle at the Hotel Boulogne, for as the waiters, dressed in new gaudy uniforms, came and just arrived, and a party of gentlemen, who had been visiting Paris to witness some national demonstration, and were now on the point of embarking for England gathered at one of the windows of the room where they had been luncheon, to watch the advent of the new arrival.

"A great lady. Jove! what an accurate description!" cried the Hon. Moncton Gore. "She wants but the sixteenth of an inch to be seven feet high, and is broad in comparison; the race of gigantes is revived. Who can she be?"

"What matters? She is too old to be interesting!" drawled one of his companions, an officer of the guards, with more hair than brains.

"Some instructress of the young—some Parisian schoolmistress," suggested Moncton Gore, "who has been to our little island to pick up more pupils. I must be right in my guess, for see, there are two or three young girls in her train."

Judge Morris

DISMISSES THE COMPLAINT OF S. P.C.A. AGAINST DR. RENDELL.

This is an action taken upon the complaint of Jonas Barter, Chief of the Society for the Protection of Animals, against Herbert Rendell, M.P., charging "that he did on the 5th day of December last cruelly ill-treat, shoot and wound, three dogs..."

The defendant admitted the shooting but denied any intention to wound or kill. The defendant, who is medical superintendent in charge of the Sanatorium Toppal Road, being sworn stated: "For the last two or three years I have been very greatly annoyed by large numbers of dogs which enter the Sanatorium grounds..."

M.C.L.L.

The second meeting of the 5th session was held last evening with good attendance at 7.30 p.m. The subject for debate was "The Commercialization of Sport..."

The affirmative contended that good, clean, healthy sport and entertainment is necessary for the proper development of the race, but that this is the age of extremes and that we were now "sport and entertainment mad" that home life is sacrificed and that we have to a large extent lost the faculty for intellectual discussion and friendly intercourse...

The negative speakers were Messrs. H. E. Cowan, S. R. Peasey and W. Edgecombe. The case was based on the fact that it wasn't the isolated cases where degeneracy may be applied and condemn the whole. Because some men gambled at sports was no reason why all events should be condemned or closed...

The speakers from the floor were Messrs. A. E. Parkin, S. Hendry, Capt. Keas, A. Hayward, J. M. Moore, W. White, Fred. Moore, J. Bursay and W. Dwyer. On the vote being taken the affirmative won the debate. The speeches were all of a high order and the debate was much enjoyed by the members and visitors present.

PLAN FINANCING TRAM POWER CO.

(Financial Times, Jan. 5th.) Pending the result of court proceedings to unseat at the present Board of Directors of Montreal Tramways & Power Company, the opposition is being made with their plans to be ready to take charge if the legal contest results in their favor.

We are now negotiating with financial houses to provide for the refunding of the $7,300,000 short term debt that mature in March, said T. K. Dickinson to The Financial Times. "We expect to secure terms that under the circumstances will be satisfactory and certainly better than the other side can be expected to obtain."

What's Wrong With the Women?

Ever since Mother Eve imbedded her pearly teeth in the forbidden apple, mankind has pondered from time to time the age-old problem: "What's Wrong With the Women?"

Now comes a motion picture that sets for itself the same eternal question and comes pretty close to answering it—at least, so far as the present high-powered, helter-skelter, flapperized generation of women is concerned.

It is called "What's Wrong With the Women" and was produced in powerfully dramatic sequences by Daniel Carson Goodman, and it thrilled and entertained a big audience at the Nickel Theatre where it was shown for the first time yesterday. It's an Equity Picture.

Mr. Goodman, with the facility and understanding of the master storyteller, wastes no time in getting into the core of his subject. With bold and powerful strokes he rips aside the curtains that hide the whims, the follies and weaknesses of that dynamic of ever-changing emotions—the Modern Woman. It is in no sense an attack on womanhood. It is in no sense preachy although in its big treatment may be found a sermon that will absterge doubt and extravagance and weld closer together the bonds of love and human sympathy.

The story, which was written by Mr. Goodman, is a straightforward narrative dealing with the lives of a smart group of men and women in the gilded strata of big town society. Women and men, too, plunge into the maelstrom of life unrestrained. Extravagance, folly, broken hearts and twisted souls. It won't do to reveal the plot.

A big reception was accorded Misses Drury and Harrington, the popular singers who rendered a high class programme of selections. The duo concert special number, "An Olden Day" was heard such excellent blending of voices and last night's rendition was indeed something out of the ordinary.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR BUICK

President Bassett says The Preparation for the New Year Production of Buick Motor Co. is being made in active co-operation with the provisional directors.

The many factors upon which the fullest prospect is contingent seem to be working out in a manner that warrants a most thoroughly optimistic outlook for the Buick Motor Co. in 1924.

STEEL CO. OF CANADA

President Hobson optimistic on Outlook for Canadian Industry. (Boston News.) Toronto—President Robert Hobson of the Steel Co. of Canada, stated that he considered the 1924 outlook for Canada steel companies to be a fair one.

Business is at a low ebb at the moment, with foundries closed for inventory. Mr. Hobson expects his company's plants to open the New Year at 80 p.c. capacity and increase percentages materially at end of a fortnight. He said that his plants had averaged 90 p.c. capacity all year and that 1923 would prove "quite as good a year" as 1922. In latter year earnings were $2,295,197 before interest charges, bond interest and royalty provision of $214,981, which showed a deficit of $366,144 after dividend payments. Opinion is current that this deficit will be wiped out in 1923.

Special Programme at Crescent To-Night

The big Amateur Contest at the Crescent tonight promises to out-rival any held so far. The genial Dan Delmar who is in charge has received quite a number of new entries during the past few days and we look forward to a lively night.

There is a new Pola Negri picture also at this theatre. It is the Goldwyn picture, "Mad Love" and gives the Polish screen beauty one of her most outstanding roles as Sappho, a beautiful and notorious woman who delights in exacting the homage of men.

Sappho discards the lover of whom she has just weaned, breaking his heart. His brother, anathematizes the woman in her hearing, thereby arousing an interest in himself which soon turns to the first and only genuine love the woman has ever experienced. She tried to hide from her new love that it was she who had treated his brother so shamefully, but a jealous millionaire, who has been supporting the woman, reveals the truth. The three principals then become as bits of flotsam flung into the vortex of a whirlpool, tossed hither and thither as passion dictates. Sappho is killed by her discarded lover, at the end, in a magnificently acted scene.

Closing Branch Lines

The Railway Commission have decided to close down the Bay de Verde and Trepansey Branch Railways, after Monday next. The Bonavista line will be kept open for an unlimited period. Upwards of 300 car loads of wood are at present on the different railways ready for delivery to places along the line. The wood was cut down last fall but owing to the late season had the hauling of the line open was their only resource.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES

124 SENT TO THE BOTTOM WITH ENTIRE CREW. WEYMOUTH ENG. Jan. 11. British Submarine L24 was sent to the bottom of the sea to-day by dreadnaught Resolution with which she was in collision. The disaster which occurred off Portland was similar to one which happened two years ago when K5 was sunk. So far as is known all the forty three who composed the crew were drowned. Details are meagre, but it seems that the Atlantic fleet was leaving Weymouth in various groups including several subs for spring cruise, when the Resolution rammed L24 which was a minesweeping boat and had fourteen lives mines aboard. The accident occurred in a fog when the vessels had opened out in the Channel. L24 sank immediately and although the whole area was searched by a mine sweeping flotilla no trace of the submarine was found. There is a bare possibility, naval men say, that there may be some survivors, that is if the submarine can be brought to the surface, and depending upon in what manner the vessel was rammed. The crew may have been able to close some of the airtight chambers in which they could live 48 hours. Subs K2 and K12 also collided in the same place, but were only slightly damaged.

FRONTIER CLOSED

Gen. Demetz, the Rhineland Commission delegate at Speyer, says a despatch to the Echo De Paris from Mayence, has closed the frontier between the Palatinate and unoccupied Germany except for railroad traffic and food supplies, and also has put on a curfew for Speyer and that in the district no public meetings of any kind will be permitted.

PARIS, Jan. 10. The Chamber of Deputies has voted an appropriation of 150,000,000 francs for the relief of sufferers from the recent floods, tidal waves, avalanches, forest fires, and other calamities.

STEAMER FOUNDERED IN STORM

The Italian steamer Tuzimania is reported to have been sent foundering in heavy seas off the French coast during the storm. One of her small boats with a number of the crew was picked up, but another boat containing the captain and the remainder of the crew is said to have drifted away. The Tuzimania is a vessel of 2466 tons.

WILL NEKY CHANCELLOR BE A LABOUR MEMBER?

The march of political events naturally leads to the assumption that the Budget to be brought down in April will be prepared by a Labour Chancellor of the Exchequer. The scheme to establish a naval base at Singapore is almost certain to be abandoned by a Labour Government. Labour leaders assert there was nothing more popular with the electors in the recent political contests than the statement that their social programme could be paid for by money saved on Premier Baldwin's proposals with regard to the Singapore naval base.

INTER-ALLIED COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE

Delegates of the Inter-Allied Rhine Land Commission are going to the Bavarian Palatinate to make investigations on the spot of activities attributed to secret organizations which culminated last night in the assassination of Herr Heints at Speyer along with five others.

TAMPA HUNTING FOR PARR

The United States revenue cutter Tampa which sailed from here Tuesday night for Boston after refuelling, having come in from an unsuccessful tussle with the months-old derelict four master Governor Parr, returned to Halifax last night with orders intercepted by wireless sending her back out into the steamer lanes to make another effort to remove the danger and tow it into the shore to be destroyed or salvaged. It is understood also the Tampa is looking for another steamer reported on fire at sea, probably the lumber laden tern schooner J. W. Comau, which was recently abandoned at sea and set fire while on a voyage from Lunenburg to Barbados with lumber. The Tampa sails shortly for sea after taking supplies here.

SIR ROBERT HORNE PREDICTS A COALITION

An early formation of a coalition government in Great Britain which would overthrow the power of the Labor faction now in control of the political situation was predicted to-day by Sir Robert Stevenson Horne, former Chancellor of the Exchequer and now Conservative member for one of the Glasgow divisions in the British Commons, when he arrived here on the majestic day enroute to Canada. It is regarded as ridiculous that a Labor Socialist element should be permitted to gain control of our government," he said. "There is no excuse for it. Labor has only one third of the members of Parliament. Liberals and Conservatives have two thirds, yet with the real strength of the voters and country resting with the Liberal-Conservative wings, Labor controls. With the protective tariff question out of the way, there will be an early decline in the power of Laborites," he concluded. "Following the passing away of that question," he said, "the Liberal-Conservative groups would form a coalition government."

SIX PERSONS KILLED BY ASSASSINS AT SPEYER

It now transpires that six persons were killed at Speyer when the assassin on Wednesday shot and killed President Heints, President of the Autonomous government. His two companions Herr Fuschholer and Dr. Weisemann were mortally wounded. Shooting as they fled after killing the President, the assassins killed two electricians and also mortally wounded Dr. Weisemann. The separatist investigation seems to show that the desperadoes belong to the Hitler party.

A GENTLE IMPEACHMENT.

Our morning contemporary makes what cannot even be called a veiled suggestion that Canada's decision to have an Ambassador at Washington is a first move towards cutting adrift from the Empire.

We are under the impression that the proposal did not originate with Premier King, or even with his immediate predecessors, and further that it was submitted to the British Government and was approved.

Precedent lays down that independent countries only have their Ambassadors in the capitals of foreign states, but precedents are not hard and fast laws, and of late years many of them have crumpled up in the same way as they have been disappearing down through history as circumstances change with the times.

Time was when the Upper Chamber of Parliament could impede reforms or interfere in the distribution of taxation. Once it was laid down that the English merchant princes could control and check the development of this little Island Home of ours.

We were once subject to the dictates of a foreign power, Canada, not so much because of the terms of a treaty, as because of the meaning which in course of time had been given to that treaty. Because we have insisted upon relief from such impositions no one has accused us of waverings in our loyalty to the Mother Country.

On the contrary she has been the first to appreciate the justice of our demands and to take effective steps to relieve us of the hardships.

Canada to-day is not only the most important of the Dominions geographically and financially, but she has also shown in a very practical manner that in her loyalty to the Mother Country and to the Empire she is determined to yield her place to no other. It may be that there are a few irresponsible individuals who love to talk secession for the sake of gaining notoriety, but their voices do not exercise any influence and they are not heard in the Councils of the State.

We are well aware that Canada does not require her cause or her attitude to be championed by any outsider, and our purpose in referring to our contemporary's editorial is simply to indicate that it is not expressive of the view taken of the Dominion's decision by the whole of this country, and further that no purpose is served by throwing grit into the delicate Empire machinery of which we ourselves form no unimportant part.

PEPYS BEHIND THE SCENES.

Jan. 10th.—I was forced to go to the office; thence home, but finding my wife gone, and in the Enquiry, I after her. But Lord, what a host of women I did see there, and they outnumbering the men two to one, almost, nor could I get through them to my wife, whom I had to leave. But what did I care, my most was to see her many of them knitted, nor could I tell if the strained looks on their faces came from fear that they might drop a stitch, or from their anxiety not to miss such evidence as might prove shocking to them.

Counsel Shows Up Controller's Dept.

Meaney Agrees Conditions Were Disgraceful - Firm's Books Appear in Chaotic Condition, But Allegation Not Sustained, Says Commissioner.

Yesterday afternoon's session of the court was opened for the most part by the further examination of Mr. J. T. Meaney by Mr. Hunt. Mr. Curtis also occupied the stand while further inquiries were made regarding the firm of Squires & Curtis in relation to the Insurance case of Brown of Blaketown.

Mr. Hunt then asked if up to the time of his suspension, he had brought to the notice of any person the I.O.U.'s and cheques, to which witness replied no, with the exception of Miss Miller, which would almost make it appear as if they themselves might not be called upon to testify.

Mr. MEANEY replied that the summing up was correct with the exception that as far as ordinary revenue was concerned the audit was complete. To the Commissioner he said he agreed that it was a disgraceful state of things and added that he neither created or tried to stop it.

Mr. HUNT to the Commissioner: Yes, Sir, there was a Board of Control did not control the Controller? Mr. MEANEY: But the Board of Control did not control the Controller?

Mr. HUNT next introduced the subject of the burglary at the Controller's Department which took place January 18th, and questioned the witness as to having a conversation with Dr. Chisholm, Mr. Meaney admitted previously he had removed the I.O.U.'s and cheques from the office at the suggestion of Dr. Chisholm in consequence of a conversation.

Witness having stated that his opinion came shortly after the burglary by a letter from the Colonial Secretary's Department, signed by Deputy Colonial Secretary, Messrs. Howley asked that it be put in evidence. A messenger went out to Mr. Meaney's house to fetch the letter.

WITNESS replied that an account was kept with respect to fire losses. THE COMMISSIONER thought that if payments were made before the cheques were received, the sum would be debited, and was told by witness that in these particular cases and in view of the fact that payments had been made, a special account, called the Globe and Rutgers' Fire Account was opened.

Mr. HUNT to the Commissioner: When did you first show them to anyone? A.—When I discussed them with my solicitor. Q.—Mr. Heston was your solicitor? A.—Yes.

Municipal Council

WEEKLY MEETING.

The regular weekly meeting of the Council was held yesterday afternoon. Mayor Cook presided and Councillors Martin, Outerbridge, Vignacombé, Collier, Ryan and Dowden were present. The meeting was a very short one, routine matters only being discussed by the Board.

The Great War Veterans' Association applied for advertising matter in connection with their magazine, which will be given them.

H. G. Clarke called attention to the fact that those frequenting Burton's Pond for the purpose of enjoying outdoor exercise, skating, hockey, etc., are subjected to great annoyance by persons who pile snow to considerable heights when clearing space for a small skating rink, thereby covering the greater portion of the ice, and preventing its use by others. As the pond is situated outside the city limits, the Council cannot interfere in the matter.

Messrs. Bowring Bros., Ltd., called attention to damage done one of their trams some months ago by a runaway horse belonging to the Council. The Sanitary Supervisor was asked to make inquiries and report.

The St. John's St. Railway Co. submitted statement to annual gross earnings for 1923, amounting to $43,675.00.

The City Engineer reported on the work necessary to be done in connection with the repairing of motor truck and sprinklers, and putting same in order for the coming season. It was ordered that specifications be prepared, and tenders called for the work.

Attention was called to the fact that business people on Water St. have complained of annoyance caused them through smoke from chimneys of both Court House and Post Office buildings, and it was suggested that both chimneys be extended. The Colonial Secretary is to be written in this view, if possible, to remedy the cause of complaint.

A draft of proposed regulations for Motor Garages was tabled and was referred to Special Committee, who will give the matter consideration, and report back to the Council.

The Medical Officer of Health reported 21 new cases of Scarlet Fever in the city during the week, which is an increase of 7 cases over the previous week. At present there are in Hospital 58 cases, and 41 under treatment at home. Making a total of 99.

During the week, the Sanitary Staff took up their quarters in the new stables, now completed. The various stables for men, animals, and storage of supplies etc., are thoroughly up-to-date and well finished, and the furniture is to be congratulated on having this most necessary work carried out. The old stables were an eyesore to the public, unfit for occupation, and considerably depreciated the value of property in the immediate vicinity. The building contractors, Messrs. Bolger Bros., who gave satisfactory service and splendid workmanship, and the construction etc., was under the supervision of Architect Barber.

Within the past few days the Committee of Council appointed to consider the acquiring of land belonging to the Hamlyn Estate, Casey St., situate the site and other sites, consideration, recommended the same be purchased. It was ordered accordingly.

Complaint was made that farmers are in the habit of depositing manure etc., on land west of Smye's Bridge, much to the annoyance of residents in that vicinity. It was ordered that the Department of Public Health be communicated with on the matter.

The condition of sidewalk fronting the premises of the British Import Company, Water St., was referred to, as being dangerous to pedestrians. Although the occupants of the building carried out the law as regards removal of snow and ice, it was found that the smooth concrete face is very slippery in wet weather. The City Engineer was instructed to see what can be done in this matter.

Reports of the Plumbing Inspector, Sanitary Supervisor, etc., were read. Applications for the several Departments granted, and the meeting then adjourned.

Many people think that Crisco is expensive. It is not, when the excellent satisfaction it gives is considered. Crisco goes farther than cooking butter and keeps the pastry and cakes fresh for a longer time.

The Enquiry Conducted By T. Hollis Walker, K.C.

MRS. HARSANT examined by Mr. Hunt (Continued). Q.—What was the reason that you changed from the cheque to the I.O.U. system? A.—I was getting married and Mr. Fraser came in the office to take over my work and my power of attorney was cancelled at the bank. Still I was then working for Sir Richard Squires. Q.—But can you explain clearly the real cause for the change? COMMISSIONER.—Apparently there was no bank in the country on which she could draw a cheque. A.—(Witness)—No. Q.—In other words you could no longer sign as attorney and that was the reason is it why you changed to the I.O.U. system? A.—Yes. Q.—Now the greater part of this money under the I.O.U. system went to Sir Richard Squires did you say? A.—Yes. Q.—Going back. You say that at one time there was about seven thousand dollars owed to Meaney and that Sir Richard Squires sent you with four thousand dollars that you paid Meaney. Is it correct that you received back from Meaney certain cheques? A.—That is correct. Q.—What became of those cheques. Were they taken from the Department by you? A.—No. They were left in the office. I think. In fact I do not remember whether Mr. Meaney gave me back the cheques or not. I am not quite sure about it. COMMISSIONER.—Mr. Meaney gave you in return for those redemptions face value cheques and equal to the amount of your payments. Is that the case? WITNESS.—I do not remember exactly whether he gave me the cheques back or not. It was dinner hour at the time I remember and I was in a attorney to sign cheques was cancelled or after? A.—Before. Q.—Is that between the 11th Dec. and the date when your power of attorney was cancelled when seven thousand dollars worth of cheques had been cancelled by Mr. Meaney? A.—It was more than that. Q.—And of which amount you paid four thousand dollars? A.—Yes. Q.—Well, we have here the cheques for $3,000 approximately. If the amount obtained during that period was more than seven thousand dollars where are the other cheques in excess of that amount? A.—The amounts were not cheques. They were I.O.U.'s. Q.—From the date that you first negotiated the first cheque in December 1920 up to the date when your power of attorney was cancelled did you have any financial transactions with Meaney other than evidenced by cheques? A.—I.O.U.'s. MR. HOWLEY.—But those I.O.U.'s came afterwards did they not? COMMISSIONER.—I thought the I.O.U.'s began when the new partner came into the firm. I think that that was what witness meant. I think the change in the constitution of the firm formed the basis of her losing the power of attorney. MR. HOWLEY.—The original firm of Squires and Winter and the new firm of Squires and Curtis did not come into the transactions at all. A.—Mr. Curtis would not know anything about them. Q.—Would any of the cheques that Mr. Meaney cashed be signed by you for Squires and Winter or Squires and Curtis? A.—I do not remember. Q.—Were there any cheques cashed by Meaney that were signed by Sir Richard Squires himself? A.—No. Q.—Were there any cashed that were signed by Mr. Winter? A.—Mr. Winter did not know anything about the matter. Q.—Well all the cheques cashed by Meaney were signed by Sir Richard Squires per J. G. Miller, is that correct? A.—Yes. Q.—And the giving of these cheques commenced with this one in December 1920. A.—Yes, I think so. (Mr. Howley produces cheque for $500 dated Dec. 11th, 1920, and marked J. T. M. No. 1, and is identified by witness.) Q.—When did the giving of the cheques end? A.—I don't remember. Q.—Did you give any cheques after the date of the cancellation of your power of attorney to sign? A.—No. Q.—Then these were all the cheques which you gave as payment between the 11th of December, 1920, and the date of the cancellation of your power of attorney at the Bank? A.—Yes. Q.—The four thousand dollars given to Meaney was paid to redeem cheques? A.—Yes. Q.—Not I.O.U.'s? A.—That was not mentioned. Q.—What did you get in return for the four thousand? A.—That is what I do not remember. Q.—But the four thousand dollars was paid before your authority was cancelled? A.—I do not remember that. Q.—At the time you paid the four thousand dollars you estimated that there was about seven thousand dollars due? A.—I think so; I am not sure. Q.—And the cheques still outstanding represent $2,500 or approximately $2,500—I.O.U.'s separate? A.—Yes, having usual practice even if it were a small amount, would you not remember it? A.—I do not remember. THE COMMISSIONER.—She does not remember any occasion when she got the cash without the cheque. MR. HOWLEY.—So that it may be that not one of these cheques represented cash got on the day the cheque was dated, is that so? A.—As far as I can remember these cheques were brought up to Mr. Meaney by me when I asked him for the money. When he was not able to give me the money I called again but I did not leave the cheque with him. Q.—Were these cheques cashed at the time they were given to Meaney or afterwards, or was there any case in which you got the cash and sometimes afterwards gave Meaney the cheque? A.—I am not quite sure about that. I know I got amounts from Mr. Meaney and gave him cheques or I.O.U.'s as receipts. Q.—The position now is that we cannot proceed further with the assumption that the payments synchronized with the dates on the cheques? THE COMMISSIONER.—Mr. Meaney did not say that. He said in his evidence that sometimes she brought a cheque and that he was unable to pay it. He did not say that the payments synchronized with the dates on the cheques; but that any individual cheque might not be paid on first presentation because the Department had not sufficient funds. MR. HOWLEY.—We have been told that the payments did not precede the cheques? THE COMMISSIONER.—Mr. Meaney has said they had not. Q.—Do I understand Mrs. Harsant that is no case did you get any of the money represented in these cheques before they were drawn? A.—I remember one case in which Mr. Arch Brown was taking legal action for a fire insurance claim of $1,000 and we had no money in the Bank. I don't exactly remember whether I went, telephoned or sent to Mr. Meaney and asked him for the money. Q.—Was that after your power of attorney was cancelled? A.—Yes. THE COMMISSIONER.—That transaction just referred to by witness is not a cheque transaction. Q.—Will you look at that stub? Is that your writing on that? A.—Yes. Q.—Please read the stub? A.—J.T. $1100.00, 1303 is the number of the cheque. COMMISSIONER.—The amount is $1100.00? A.—Yes. Q.—What is the date? A.—March 19, 1921. Q.—Payable to whom? A.—J.T. Q.—That may be anyone or anything? MR. HOWLEY.—The cheque is numbered 1303, pay cash $1100.00? A.—Yes. Q.—Is it marked cash? A.—Yes.

Q.—Now you told us you changed the system and at one time gave Mr. Meaney I.O.U.'s instead of cheques and you told us why you changed that system. Would you mind repeating why you changed it? A.—It was then Mr. Curtis became a partner and he made new arrangements in the office. He did not want any private accounts paid out of the firm's account. He wanted to open an account at the Bank to sign himself. Sir Richard Squires knew that I was getting married and Mr. Fraser came to do the work. I still held the keys of the office. Q.—Did the cancellation of your authority to sign cheques form any part of the reason why you changed from the cheque to the I.O.U. system? A.—I did not consider it the reason. Q.—What was the actual reason why you ceased signing cheques? A.—Because I could not sign them. Q.—When you say you could not sign cheques I presume your cheques would not be honoured? A.—Yes. Q.—And that is the reason why you gave I.O.U.'s is it? A.—Yes. I did not think much about it at the time though. Q.—And so far as your recollection goes the reason was because your authority to sign cheques was cancelled? A.—When I left the office Mr. Fraser looked after my work. Q.—You told us that you did not discuss with Sir Richard Squires this change? A.—No. Q.—Did you discuss with Mr. Meaney the change? A.—I think he asked me about it. Q.—I presume it is natural to suppose that when you had been in the habit of giving cheques and then changed to I.O.U.'s he would ask about it? A.—Yes he did ask about it. Q.—What did you tell him? A.—I told him that Mr. Fraser was enquiring about the stubs not being filled in at the Bank and I told him he would have to see Sir Richard Squires about them. Q.—Mr. Fraser became accountant for Squires and Curtis? A.—Yes. Q.—Who appointed him? A.—Sir Richard did. Q.—And as soon as he entered the office he asked you awkward questions about the stubs? A.—Yes, Sir Richard had promised to explain to him. Q.—Is this the reason why you gave I.O.U.'s to Meaney instead of cheques because Mr. Fraser was asking questions? A.—I do not remember what I told Mr. Meaney at the time. Q.—But there was a conversation with Meaney about the change wasn't there, and you do not remember what it was? A.—I gave him some explanation but I do not remember what it was. Q.—But you told him that the reason in the main was because your authority in the Bank had been cancelled? A.—Yes, I could not give a receipt.

The Enquiry Conducted by T. Hollis Walker, K.C.

Q.—Would that represent a cheque drawn on the 24th Feb. for that amount with these terms?
A.—I do not know really.
Q.—That stub is numbered 1283?
A.—Yes.
COMMISSIONER—I would be glad to see time to let me see all these cheques. The ones that I want are those all the outstanding cheques.
WITNESS—I think it is hardly fair for Mr. Howley to produce these stubs and to produce all of those cheques drawn on Sir R. A. Squires and myself.
COMMISSIONER—I do not think it is anything unfair. Quite the contrary, they may be interesting and illuminating.
MR. HOWLEY—When you say that these cheques should have been gone for between Sir Richard and yourself, and that it is not fair to ask you to produce them, do you mean that they are not gone over?
A.—I do not think he has checked anything since August, 1920.
Q.—I take it from that that you do not know whether Sir Richard had knowledge of these transactions?
A.—He knew that I was financing them.
Q.—But that is all that he knew?
A.—I think it was enough.
Q.—That is a stub number 1283?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Is that your stub?
A.—I cannot see it very well with glasses.
COMMISSIONER—What is that?
MR. HOWLEY—The Witness says that she cannot see without her glasses.
COMMISSIONER—Do you think you could read without your glasses, if she came nearer the light. It would be interesting to see if you could read them.
A.—I can see the number 1283.
MR. HOWLEY—Then you identify it as your stub of the cheque number 1283 filled up by you?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Do you identify that?
A.—That is stub No. 1285 in favour of H. H. Peet.
Q.—Now this Number 1283 is a cheque drawn on 24th Feb.?

A.—Yes.
Q.—And No. 1285 is drawn on 26th Feb.?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Will you look at this number 1284, what is on that?
A.—"Cancelled, see cheque 1302."
Q.—Anything else?
A.—It looks like $1100.00, but it is marked out.
Q.—But it was on it?
A.—The cheque was evidently cancelled.
COMMISSIONER—It seems to me that there was a cheque drawn in Feb. and instead of it being handed over to Mr. Meaney another cheque was drawn on March 19th and the original cheque cancelled.
MR. HOWLEY—That is what I am trying to find out. I can suggest that it is not obvious for this reason that the cheque could not well have been paid out because there is no date on the stub, nor "J.T." or anything on it except the amount $1100.00.
COMMISSIONER—That is why I want to see all the stubs. They might explain all the facts.
MR. HOWLEY—I may say that so far as I am concerned I do not know what the facts are.
COMMISSIONER—But I do not see what you are driving at with that obvious explanation I cannot see what you are driving at.
MR. HOWLEY—Now you say that you authority to sign cheques was cancelled finally?
A.—I remember that Sir Richard sent a letter to the Bank of Nova Scotia. I do not think I saw the letter.
Q.—But he told you that he had sent one?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Will you look at that if you can see it without glasses?
A.—I have seen that letter before.
Q.—Are you able to read it?
A.—I am afraid not.
Q.—You identify that as a letter, a copy of a letter, that you have seen before?
A.—It is a letter cancelling the Power of Attorney to Mr. Winter, Mr.

Curtis and myself. That is a copy of the letter.
Q.—Did Sir Richard send you a copy of it?
A.—I do not remember that.
MR. HOWLEY—I ask to put that in evidence.
COMMISSIONER—The Witness says I have seen a copy of this letter before and this is a copy of a letter from Sir R. Squires to the Manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia.
MR. HOWLEY—I think a copy of that letter was given to J. A. Winter, and L. R. Curtis and Miss Miller.
COMMISSIONER—That is a letter in very clear terms and its date is 21 March, 1921, two days after the last cheque.
MR. HOWLEY—Will you just take a look at that letter and tell me if you have ever seen it before?
A.—Yes I saw that before.
MR. HOWLEY—I will put that in.
COMMISSIONER—This letter is dated on the same day. This was a letter to her?
MR. HOWLEY—Yes.
COMMISSIONER—Did you receive that letter?
WITNESS—I guess it came into the office and was left on file.
COMMISSIONER—Was it received and read by you?
A.—Yes, and left on file.
COMMISSIONER—It is the same date as the other?
A.—Yes.
Q.—And this is the letter?
A.—Yes.
Q.—At the same time in March, 1921, apparently you had only just begun what is called the I.O.U.'s system?
A.—Yes.
MR. HOWLEY—The first I.O.U. is dated March 19th, 1921, and in this matter Sir R. Squires arranged to call at his law office every morning at 9.30. Were you at that time attending at the law office?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Do you remember seeing him any morning at 9.30?
A.—I do not remember if I saw him at 9.30, but I know I saw him sometimes. If he came there he would be engaged. I might have seen him passing through.
Q.—When I mean is, on those occasions when you were there in the morning and he was there did you mention the fact of signing those I.O.U.'s to him?
A.—I think so. But there were usually so many people there that there was a stampede to see him. I was called in often enough but it was on other matters.

COMMISSIONER—At this time at any rate, he appears to have been in attendance at his office regularly.
MR. HOWLEY—From that time I suppose you did not sign any more cheques?
A.—No.
Q.—Now that we have cleared up the date of the cancellation of authority, can you come back to the question of the return of the cheque for $4000.00? Will you try to remember, if you can, the particulars of the transaction. Why was that cheque returned?
COMMISSIONER—Do you remember where that money came from?
WITNESS—Yes, one day at about 1 o'clock Sir Richard came into the office with the money in his coat pocket in notes and he gave it to me and I put it in my pocket. I could not tell where it came from.
COMMISSIONER—That 1 o'clock is a thing that happens every day, and does not help us very much to fix the date.
WITNESS—Sir Richard brought me the money and I took it from him and he asked me if I would take it to Mr. Meaney.
COMMISSIONER—Is there nothing that will help your recollection as to the date?
A.—I do not know.
MR. HOWLEY—What I want to get at is this. Apparently, from the evidence, between the date and the date of the cancellation of the power, there must have been about $7000.00 issued, and the cash paid Meaney was $3000.00 which was returned when this money was taken to him. I can find no evidence that will indicate the possibility of any other cheques being issued. I cannot find counter folios to correspond.
COMMISSIONER—can you not find any blank counterfolios during that period?
MR. HOWLEY—No, I am trying to find where the cheques came from and if it can be connected up.
COMMISSIONER—Of course I do not want to see any counterfolios that are no concern of mine. The counterfolios that I want to see are those from Dec. 1920 to March 1921, and see if there are any "J.T." or "J.T.M." or blank ones, or any fact that can tell me what they are.
MR. HOWLEY—(Hands Commissioner book of stubs) I have here counterfolios to March 19th, 1921, but I have not gone through them yet.
COMMISSIONER—Here, the first stub that I see is dated Nov. 19th, 1920. I think it is one of them. It is dated Nov. 19, 1920 and is "Cash J.T. $1000."
MR. HOWLEY—We have been told that the first one was on Dec. 11, 1920, and I was going by that?
A.—I said that was as far as I could remember.
MR. HOWLEY—I commenced from the date given us by the witness.
COMMISSIONER—She was probably mistaken. The first cheque I see here is cash $1000.00.
MR. HOWLEY—That brings down to the position that this (shows cheque of Dec. 11, 1920) was not the first one that was cashed?
A.—I am not sure about that.
Q.—Here is your stub, No. 1228, is it not? (Stub No. 1228).
A.—Yes.
Q.—There is no date or other indication as to what it is for?
A.—Sir Richard did not want any record of it I suppose.
Q.—But is it so that there is no date or number?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Here we have no 1218 dated Dec. 4th, "Cash J. T. $900.00." Is that one that was cashed at Mr. Meaney's office?
A.—Evidently.
Q.—Here is another one No. 1215, dated Dec. 4th, "Cash J. T. $1055.00." Is it not so?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Here is another one, No. 1211, dated Nov. 27th, "Cash J. T. $1000.00." A.—Yes.
Q.—And here is another dated Nov. 19th, "Cash J. T. $1000.00."
COMMISSIONER—One more and we will have the $4000.00.
MR. HOWLEY—Now, sir, with your permission I will call these cheques in order.
No. 1209, dated Nov. 19th, 1920, Cash J. T. $1000.00.
No. 1211, dated Nov. 27th, 1920, Cash J. T. $1000.00.
No. 1215, dated Dec. 4th, 1920, Cash J. T. $1055.00.
No. 1218, dated Dec. 4th, 1920, Cash J. T. $900.00.
No. 1228, no date, no marks, amount $500.00.
COMMISSIONER—Up to Dec. 11th then according to those counterfolios there has been $3985.00. I said with luck we would get to $4000.00 and we have now got within $45.00 of it.
Adjournment until Wednesday, Jan. 8th, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon.
Mrs. Harsant Cross-examined by Mr. Howley.
Q.—Mrs. Harsant I would like to go over some of the items and statements that you made in your examination yesterday before we go any further.
In the year 1920 I think Sir Richard Squires went to England, do you know when he left?
A.—In August 1920.
Q.—Do you remember the date of his return?

A.—I am not quite sure about the date of his return.
Q.—It was somewhere about December?
A.—I think so.
Q.—During the periods that Sir Richard was absent in England you had full charge of office affairs, especially all the cash and records and accounts?
A.—Yes Mr. Howley.
Q.—I think Sir Richard went to England again the following year?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Do you remember when he left?
A.—No.
Q.—Do you know the date of his return?
A.—No.
Q.—Again in 1922 he went abroad?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Then during the years of 1920 and 1921 and 1922 a considerable portion of his time was spent abroad?
A.—Yes.
Q.—And during all these periods you were officiating as cashier, accountant and book-keeper?
A.—Yes, Sir.
MR. WALKER—I think if you suggest the periods that Sir Richard was away she might be able to recall the dates. She says she does not know but she may be able to recall them.
MR. HOWLEY—I think she can only give us the approximate dates of his absences and returns.
MR. WALKER—I shall want to know sometime.
MR. HOWLEY—I shall get the exact dates when I come to deal with the matter.
MR. HOWLEY—Q.—You told us here in answer to the Commissioner yesterday, when asked you this "During that time when you were financing and keeping things going, I want to know did you ever see Mr. Meaney on any occasions?"
A.—Yes, that is right.
Q.—The Commissioner asked you when did you first see him and you said "You did not know the date but it was shortly after Sir Richard's return from his first trip." Is that correct?
A.—I said I was not sure.
Q.—What do you say now?
A.—I don't know the exact date but when Sir Richard Squires went away in 1920 his account was in a bad shape.
Q.—For the present I want you to leave the account and answer the question. My question is: Is it correct when you stated to the Commissioner yesterday that you first saw Mr. Meaney shortly after Sir Richard came back from his first trip?
MR. WARREN—Read the whole thing.
MR. WALKER—Are you reading the full answer that she gave?
MR. HOWLEY—I shall read the question first. "When did you first see him" and the answer is "I do not remember the date but it was shortly after Sir Richard came back after his first trip."
MR. WALKER—Is that correct? I mean is that the whole answer?
MR. HOWLEY—Yes, sir.
MR. HOWLEY—I want to ask you, Mrs. Harsant, either to verify it or to correct it if it is incorrect. Now what do you say?
A.—Sir Richard asked me to look after his account; it was in bad shape. After 3 or 4 weeks I succeeded in getting forty-six thousand dollars ($46,000.00) from my brother. I could not get any more. Sir Richard Squires had suggested Mr. Meaney so I went to Mr. Meaney.
MR. WALKER—Before Sir Richard went he suggested that you go to Mr. Meaney?
A.—My brother first and as a last resort Mr. Meaney.
Q.—You first went to your brother.
A.—Yes.
Q.—I don't want the details but you had financial dealings with him?
A.—Yes.
Q.—He was unable to assist you further as you went to Mr. Meaney. When was it that you went to Mr. Meaney first?
A.—I don't remember the date.
Q.—Do you remember if it was before or after Sir Richard's return from abroad?
A.—It must have been before.
MR. HOWLEY—This means, Mrs. Harsant, that your answer to the Commissioner yesterday was not correct. When you stated that it was shortly after Sir Richard came back, that is not correct.
A.—Well, Mr. Howley, I must have been confused because that cheque as was told by Mr. Meaney and me, was the first time.
Q.—Which cheque was that?
A.—The cheque of December 11th.
MR. HOWLEY—What do you mean, that Mr. Meaney said?
MR. WALKER—It was your suggestion in your first question to Mr. Meaney, was it not?
MR. HOWLEY—And now, Mrs. Harsant, when you were asked this question yesterday, you were under the impression, from Mr. Meaney's evidence, that that was the first cheque?

SCOTT'S EMULSION

The Enquiry Conducted by T. Hollis Walker, K.C.

A.—I thought it was.
Q.—Had you heard Mr. Meaney's evidence to the effect that it was?
A.—No.
Q.—Had you read it?
A.—No.
Q.—Had you been told it?
A.—I was told that it was.
Q.—Who told you?
A.—I don't remember. I heard it in the room.
Q.—You heard it?
A.—Yes.
Q.—When you gave your evidence yesterday you were under the impression that December 11th was the first cheque?
A.—I didn't think it mattered.
Q.—Weren't you under the impression that it was?
A.—I knew it was some time while Mr. Squires was away.
Q.—Will you answer this question because it is very important. When you gave your evidence yesterday, having heard what Mr. Meaney had said before didn't you have the understanding that December 11th was the first cheque on Mr. Meaney's Department?
A.—I did not make any record of the dates. If you had mentioned any date around about that date I would have agreed with it.
Q.—In the course of your examination it transpired that it was not the first date?
A.—I didn't think anything about it.
Q.—We eventually discovered that the first was a month before that.
MR. WALKER—There certainly was a cheque a month before that.
MR. HOWLEY—We discovered instead of December 11th being the first cheque there was a cheque as early as November 19th.
A.—That must have been the first cheque that I took up to Meaney.
Q.—We discovered it yesterday. We found it out yesterday afternoon.
A.—Yes, I think so.
Q.—Up to that time you thought December 11th was the first cheque?
A.—I didn't think anything about it.
MR. WALKER—Personally I thought it was my discovery.
MR. HOWLEY—Now, then, Mrs. Harsant, since the discovery of the fact that it was not the first cheque, we have discovered also that this statement of yours as to when you first saw Mr. Meaney as to whether it was before or after Sir Richard Squires came back. We have discovered that that also was wrong?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Might I ask you this question.

were to go to Mr. Meaney when you wanted the money; is that so?
A.—If my brother could not furnish the money.
Q.—Were you told not to go to Mr. Meaney as long as you could get it from your brother?
A.—No.
Q.—You were told you should exhaust your brother's resources or supplies before you went to Mr. Meaney?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Then it was contemplated at the time that your brother would not be able to meet all the demands that would be made on him?
A.—It was.
Q.—The demands that were made before Sir Richard Squires' departure. Did Sir Richard think that your brother would not be able to meet all those?
A.—The whole trouble was that he was called upon.
MR. HOWLEY—I do not wish to interfere with your giving evidence, but if you have anything else to say, say it after you have given your answer to my question.
My question is: Was it understood and contemplated by you and Sir Richard Squires before he went away that you would need more money than your brother would be able to supply?
A.—I hardly know. When Sir Richard went away I received a radio message from him saying that he was writing Goodland to send a list of outstanding amounts. I did not know then about the Daily Star.
COMMISSIONER—When Sir Richard Squires went away, was it known to him or to you that these demands were coming?
A.—I knew that money would be required.
Q.—And so did he?
A.—He surely did.
Q.—Did either of you know how much would be required?
A.—I did not know, at any rate.
Q.—Did you know how much money your brother could find?
A.—I had no idea.
Q.—And so far as you know, did he?
A.—I know he was surprised when he was asked for the different amounts.
Q.—Then your instructions were to exhaust your brother first?
A.—He may have thought that my brother would be able to do it all.
Q.—And if he was unable to do so, then you were to go to Meaney?
A.—Yes.
Q.—But neither knew at that time what would be required?
A.—No.
MR. HOWLEY—Now then, at the time that these transactions took place you told us that you were not expecting to have anything to do about the Daily Star. Did you discuss the question of the Daily Star at all?
A.—No, I did not.
Q.—The Daily Star was, I think a newspaper published in the city at that time?
A.—We were helping the Daily Star ever since I went into the office.
COMMISSIONER—Was it a newspaper?
A.—Yes.
MR. HOWLEY—As a matter of fact was it not the newspaper that most prominently supported the Squires' Government party?
A.—Yes.
Q.—And monies for the object of the support of that party were from time to time found by your office?
A.—Yes.
COMMISSIONER—You mean for the support of the paper?
MR. HOWLEY—Yes, but it may mean the same thing eventually.
COMMISSIONER—But you are now dealing with the paper?
MR. HOWLEY—Yes. The paper was one in which Sir Richard Squires had interests, so that in respect of the upkeep of that paper demands were made upon the office.
Q.—So far as we have got, I take it that at various times monies were supplied by Sir Richard Squires in connection with the maintenance of that paper, and that up to the time of Sir Richard's departure for England in 1920 he had discussed the finances of his office with Miss Miller and had made provisions or arrangements for financing after he had left, but there was no discussion or arrangement for the financing of the Daily Star newspaper?
A.—Yes.
Q.—Was the manner in which you were to get monies from Mr. Meaney discussed?
A.—No.
Q.—You were simply told to get the money from Mr. Meaney after you had reached the stage with your brother that he could not find any more?
A.—Yes.
Q.—And no plan of procuring this and of how that was to be done was discussed between you?
A.—No.
Q.—Now when Mr. Hunt asked you "can you tell us just what happened when you went to Mr. Meaney with the request the first time?" you answered, I think, "he was surprised at my request."

Mr. Howley might seal up any other cheques.
COMMISSIONER—I do not want to know before anyone's private affairs, but if any difficulty or embarrassment might result from having the stubs torn out, then the book might be sealed up, except as regards the particular stubs which I must see. But I cannot for the moment see how it is to be done.

MR. HOWLEY—So then this was a cheque cashed through Meaney, and I identify it as that because of the initials "J.T." on it?
A—Yes.
Q—And I think you told me yesterday that you had adopted this system marking the stubs on the instructions of Sir Richard Squires?
A—Sir Richard asked me how I liked the cheques, and I am not sure, but I think I remember asking me how I had marked the stubs, and I think I told him "cash," whether I mentioned "J.T." or not, I do not know. He said "that is good."

Q—So that you adopted it without the knowledge of Sir Richard?
A—He knew that the cheques were being issued.
COMMISSIONER—In the first instance, in November, Sir Richard Squires was away, and what is suggested is that you adopted this marking of your own motion.
A—I think he asked me what I had done on the stubs.

Q—What did you tell him?
A—I think I told him "cash."
Q—Did you tell him "J.T."?
A—I do not remember, but he knew it were for J.T.
Q—You think you told him cash, you do not know about J.T.?
A—I did not think it mattered at all.

MR. HOWLEY—So far any statement that you have given us in that regard would be positive, or that you do not recall, or that you tell us whether you said anything to Sir Richard Squires about marking of the stubs?
A—Nothing more than I have told you, that is all that I can remember.

Q—Can you tell us positively what the stubs were marked with?
A—I remember distinctly that I marked them with "J.T."
Q—And you may or you may not have told him J.T.?
A—Yes.

Q—Now then, that is number 1203, number 1211, November 27th, J.T. $1000.00?
A—Yes.
Q—That also represents a cheque cashed by Mr. Meaney?
A—Yes.

Q—And this is number 1215, December 4th, $1055.00 Cash J.T.
A—Yes.
Q—Does that also represent that cheque was cashed by Mr. Meaney?
A—Yes.

Q—Then Mr. Hunt asked you if you found him at his office and if you paid him the four thousand dollars and if Meaney passed over to you four thousand dollars in cheques and you replied in the affirmative. Is that correct?
A—Yes.
Q—Now up to this time was your acquaintance with Meaney confined to the meetings and transactions you had with his cheques and payments?
A—Yes.

THE COMMISSIONER—Did he ever see those stubs?
A—Yes.
THE COMMISSIONER—Under what circumstances did he see them?
A—He could see them any time if he wanted to because they would be on the desk in the office. He called and checked the books with me up to August, 1920.

THE COMMISSIONER—But we are dealing with later than that period?
A—I am not quite sure.
THE COMMISSIONER—But after August, 1920, the calling of had not taken place?
A—He knew from what I had told him after his return from his trip abroad.

THE COMMISSIONER—Do you know as a matter of fact if Sir Richard Squires ever saw those particular stubs?
A—He may never have seen those stubs at all.
MR. HOWLEY—I have gone through the file Sir, and there is no case in which Sir Richard Squires' writing appears on any stubs.

THE COMMISSIONER—Have I not got all I can for you Mr. Howley?
MR. HOWLEY—I think you said yesterday (witness) in answer to my learned friend Mr. Hunt, that your first acquaintance with Mr. Meaney was when you first went to cash that cheque?
A—No, I think that the first time I met him was in the office of Squires & Winter.

Q—I want to ask you to recall what you said yesterday in answer to a question from my learned friend with regard to the payment of four thousand dollars and if whether you were at Meaney's office at all in connection with those cheques and to which you replied that you said to Sir Richard Squires that at one time seven thousand dollars were owed to Meaney and that Sir Richard Squires give you four thousand dollars to pay Meaney. It was at dinner hour at the time and you had to go home to his house to catch him. You said you found him and gave him the amount. Is that correct?
A—I am not quite sure that he gave me back the cheques but I think he must have given them.

THE COMMISSIONER—I don't think she said that.
MR. HOWLEY—She said exactly the same words yesterday.
THE COMMISSIONER—I think she said yesterday she was not quite sure but that was the best of her recollection.
MR. HOWLEY—Q—Then again Mr. Hunt asked you yesterday if you had been at the office of Meaney at any time and you replied that at one time Sir Richard Squires asked you the amount owed Meaney and gave you $4000 in bills and asked you to get them to Meaney as quickly as you could. You said you visited the house where he lived at the foot of Carter's Hill at 1:30 p.m. You said that Mrs. Meaney told you he was not in and that later you found him at his office. Is that what you said yesterday?
A—Yes.

Q—Then Mr. Hunt asked you if you found him at his office and if you paid him the four thousand dollars and if Meaney passed over to you four thousand dollars in cheques and you replied in the affirmative. Is that correct?
A—Yes.
Q—Now up to this time was your acquaintance with Meaney confined to the meetings and transactions you had with his cheques and payments?
A—Yes.

Q—Did your acquaintance with Mr. Meaney become greater or less or did it remain the same after that payment was made?
A—What do you mean.
Q—During those periods that Sir Richard Squires was away out of the country I think at times there were

While parties held in the office, isn't that so?
A—Not by me.
Q—At times when Sir Richard Squires was absent from the Colony there were little gatherings of friends in Sir Richard Squires' office. Is that correct?
A—I do not know what you mean.

THE COMMISSIONER—Just little social gatherings I suppose.
WITNESS—When Sir R. Squires was leaving the country I remember him telling my brother that he and his friends of the Steel Co. could have the use of his office.
MR. HOWLEY—Is this brother of yours James Miller?
A—Yes, of Bell Island.

Q—And he with Sir Richard Squires' permission had the use of one of the offices?
A—Yes, the office is now occupied by Mr. Curtis.
Q—And at other intervals he has his friends visiting this office, did he not?
A—My brother came in very occasionally and brought in some of the Steel Co's officials. I would know when he would be there.

Q—Would he ever be in the office or in the building after closed up hours?
A—Not that I know of, or unless it happened to be there myself as he did not have the key.
Q—Were you ever there?
A—Very often.

Q—Was your brother there on any of those occasions?
A—He may have called in to see me.
Q—And did you ever call in to see him in the office he occupied?
A—I probably was there with him. I do not say I remained there with him.
Q—Did Mr. Meaney ever call at the office?
A—Yes.

Q—Squires' office or Miller's office?
THE COMMISSIONER—She did not say Miller's office. It was actually agreed upon that Miller had permission to use it.
Q—When Meaney called did he visit the room that Miller had permission to use?
A—No, I do not think that he knew of the room.

Q—You mean he did not distinguish that room in the Squires' suite of offices?
A—I do not think that Meaney knew anything about it.
Q—Did Meaney and your brother ever visit the office together?
A—I think you are insinuating. Meaney visited the office at different times when he had business to do.

Q—Was the business of the office conducted after usual closing up hours, after six o'clock in the evening?
A—Yes very often.
Q—Did Meaney's business bring him to the office after that hour?
A—Not that I remember.

Q—Do you ever remember Meaney and your brother being present together?
A—No.
Q—Do you ever remember any occasions upon which Meaney, your brother and yourself would be present?
A—No, my brother was not very much acquainted with Mr. Meaney at the time.

Q—Do you ever remember any occasions when any liquid refreshments were consumed in this office?
A—Yes I think I do, that my brother and his friends used sometimes consume. I think it was on one or two occasions.
Q—Was Mr. Meaney ever present on any of these occasions?
A—Not to my knowledge.

Q—Do you know the nature of the beverage that was consumed on each occasion?
A—My brother takes nothing but beer.
Q—Did you ever see any whiskey there?
A—I don't think so.

Q—Did you ever see any champagne there?
A—I did not see any there in use.
Q—Have you ever seen any there not in use?
A—Yes, I saw some locked up in Sir R. Squires cupboard.

Q—Have you seen any other besides that locked up in Sir Richard Squires' cupboard?
A—I think I saw some with some friends of my brother.
Q—Have you seen any Benedictine there?
A—Not that I remember.

Q—Do you know where the liquor came from that you saw there?
A—I do not know.
Q—Do you know if any of it came from the Controller's Department?
A—I do not know, but I presume I did.

Q—Do you know who used to bring it there?
A—I do not know.
Q—Did you send it there?
A—No.
Q—Do you know if it was got on prescription or on special account?
A—I do not know.

Q—Do you know if it was a present or whether it was got on credit?
A—I do not know.
Q—Do you know the quantity and value of the liquor consumed on that premises by your brother and his friends or by anyone else who visited there?
A—No.

Q—Do you remember the name of the boy you had named John Pearce?
A—Yes.
Q—Did the office boy ever bring liquor to the office from the Controller's Department?
A—He may.

Q—Did you ever send him to the Controller's Dept. for liquor?
A—I do not think so.
Q—Are you prepared to swear you do not know that John Pearce went to the Controller's Dept. for liquor?
A—I had nothing whatever to do with the office.

Q—You mean it had nothing to do with the office for Sir R. Squires and it went there that was not the champagne locked up in Sir R. Squires' cupboard. If the boy's visit to the Controller's had nothing to do with the office?
A—I do not know. As far as I am concerned any parcels which the boy Pearce got from the Controller's had nothing to do with the office, nothing whatever.

Q—Well who had it to do with it?
A—I know that when officials from Steel Co. were down here that my brother handled liquor for them, but it had nothing to do with the office.
Q—Do you know to your own knowledge if John Pearce ever went to the Controller's Department from the office of Sir Richard Squires for the purpose of setting liquor?
COMMISSIONER—On whose account. In what way possible is that sort of question going to have bearing on the issue in this case?

MR. HOWLEY—Did you ever send Pearce for liquor?
A—I told you.
Q—But you did send him for some one else?
A—I think he has brought parcels from the Controller's, but they had nothing to do with the office.

COMMISSIONER—Who sent him, was it on his own account he went? Did you ever send this boy for liquor for yourself or for somebody else?
A—Yes but not for myself personally. If the boy was out of the office in the morning I have asked him to call at the Controller's Department.
COMMISSIONER—I assume that was not done. She was not a medical lady.

Q—No, it was not got on a prescription.
A—(Witness)—The parcels referred to were parcels for my brother and his friends because it had been previously arranged for between my brother, his friends and Mr. Meaney.
Q—Do you know how those parcels were paid for, if at all?
A—I do not know, I had nothing to do with that.

Q—And these parcels of liquor were consumed on the premises occupied by Sir Richard Squires' Law Office?
A—No, not at any time as far as I know.
Q—Have you ever seen any liquor consumed on the premises?
A—Yes I have.

Q—How did it get there?
A—It may have been sent there if it may have been brought in pockets.
Q—Would some of the parcels referred to have been consumed on the premises?
A—I do not know.

Q—Did you ever see any of them opened?
A—I cannot remember seeing any.
MR. HOWLEY—And some of that liquor was taken away in motor cars was it?
THE COMMISSIONER—Is this mentioned in any way in connection with this enquiry. It may be interesting reading for the newspapers?

MR. HOWLEY—I think so, Sir.
THE COMMISSIONER—How can it assist me in coming to a conclusion concerning the allegations contained in the paragraph?
MR. HOWLEY—I think, Sir, I can mind, but this cross-examination seems to be a mile from the point.

WITNESS—I think that Mr. Howley is confused in the office of Sir Richard Squires. Mr. Howard Reid and my brother had the office on the first floor of that building. I think it was room one, I am not sure.

James Baird

Stonhenge has proved this beyond any reasonable doubt. It remains uncertain, however, whether they were transported by sea or land. Dr. Thomas, whose examination of the stones has led to the knowledge of their source, decides tentatively in favor of a land route, mainly because a sea route would be hazardous and difficult. But I think he underestimates the sea-going powers of our prehistoric ancestors. In the Early Bronze Age gold objects from Ireland reached Wiltshire, for several of them have been found in the barrows there; beads, gold mountings for knifehandles and for buttons and other objects were particularly abundant in the barrows immediately round Stonehenge. Some were also found in a barrow at Hengistbury, the natural port of Salisbury Plain, at the mouth of the Avon. They have been found in Dorset (in barrows near the coast), and in Cornwall. Such a route is not from Ireland. There is no evidence of any such finds along a land route, which too, would be a most difficult one in those days. Dr. Thomas himself suggests that the port of Milford Haven was used, since the Altar-Stone at Stonehenge is formed of a rock which occurs only in that corner of Wales. We know that the Scandinavians of those days had good ships, for they have left pictures of them carved indelibly upon the rocks of Bohuslan. Why not also the people of these islands? This is one possible objection to this theory. Was the Avon deep enough then to float a raft carrying a stone over two tons in weight? If it was not, the theory of flotation from Hengistbury up the Avon must be abandoned. It is not a new one; but the new discovery of the Avenue's terminus makes it worth re-examining. Perhaps some engineer will work out the depth necessary.

The conclusions of Dr. Thomas give a remarkable confirmation to the tradition recorded by Geoffrey of Monmouth in the twelfth century, that Stonehenge was brought by Merlin from Ireland, and set up again as a war memorial. Dr. Thomas suggests that the extreme west of Wales might well be confused with Ireland, especially if there was any racial connection between the inhabitants of each (and there certainly was). I would add that the confusion is the more likely if the journey was made by sea. Further the only monument at all comparable to Stonehenge (though less advanced--Cairn-y-cof-is near Newport in Pembrokeshire. Doubtless the motive in transporting the stones was a religious one. If they had been set up in their Welsh home as a sacred circle of stones, they would certainly have great magical value. This indeed, is the only conceivable reason for carrying them off--Saturday Night.
