LAST FIGHTING MOTION OF THE SESSION DECIDED.

Mr. Edgar's Amendment Re Charges Against Sir Adolphe Caron Lost By Majority of 30. Sir Adolphe Caron's Reply to the Motion of the House to Discuss His Discussion and the Division.

OTTAWA, March 23.—"It is difficult to tie ourselves down to a week from Saturday for prorogation," said the courteous leader of the Opposition in reply to a question by The World this evening, "but it is most probable that the business of the House will be completed before Easter, or immediately after."

This agrees with the general consensus of opinion, and is borne out by the fact that Mr. Foster intimated this afternoon that the House would sit next Saturday, and informed Sir Richard Cartwright that the supplementary estimates for 1910-11 would be brought down on or before that date.

There really does not appear to be much reason to think that this program will not be carried out.

The Caron charges were disposed of this afternoon by Mr. Edgar's amendment to the motion to go into supply being defeated by a vote of 69 to 111.

It is generally believed that what will be the last "fighting" motion of the session. The estimates are well advanced and the House has been quietly and promptly getting through with those relating to public works at the evening session.

The Opposition has not been in anything like an obstructive or over-inquisitive mood, and the various items have been run through with promptness, after the necessary information being given by Hon. Mr. Oimmet, who has been handling his estimates in good style, showing that he has been industrious during his year of office and has made himself familiar with the details of his department.

Mr. Oimmet's speech was well received, and he was generally well liked by the members of the Opposition. He was particularly well liked by the members of the Opposition.

Richard Cartwright followed, more for the purpose apparently of reading the draft of a facious bill than with any idea of making a serious speech. He introduced a bill to amend the law relating to the duties of a justice of the peace.

After Sir Richard's burst of humor, Mr. Cartwright very seriously announced that he would vote for the amendment to the motion to go into supply, but that he did not believe that the Postmaster-General had any personal interest in the matter, or that it affected his conduct as a member of Parliament.

A Pacifist Amendment. Hon. Mr. Oimmet strongly defended the Postmaster-General, and the motion to go into supply was defeated by a vote of 69 to 111.

That inasmuch as the Liberal party of Canada has always claimed extraordinary priority in the conduct of elections, that after the general election the judges shall not have power to unseat more than 50 per cent. of the Liberal candidates not to disqualify more than one-half of those unseated."

The House then divided and Mr. Edgar's amendment was lost by 69 to 111.

When Mr. Edgar moved his amendment yesterday afternoon, Sir Adolphe Caron left the chamber and did not occupy his seat last night or this morning. He was about the corridor and in room 10, however, and as soon as the vote was announced he went to his room and took his seat amid a perfect storm of applause from the Conservatives of the House.

Good Weather Promised at East. It is expected that the weather will be good at Easter, and that the spring will be well advanced.

HORRIBLE CRUELTY BY ROBBERS.

They Torture an Infant to Make Its Mother Tell Where Money Was Concealed in the House.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 23.—Four masked robbers yesterday went to the residence of J. C. McClelland, a wealthy farmer residing on a mile from Findlayville, during the absence of all members of the household except Mrs. William Kerr, McClelland's married daughter, and her 18-month-old infant.

McClelland had gone to Washington to deposit $2000 in a bank. The robbers were hiding on a table in Findlayville, during the absence of all members of the household except Mrs. William Kerr, McClelland's married daughter, and her 18-month-old infant.

HIS CLOTH NO PROTECTION.

A MURDERER IN CORRA TREATED BRUTALLY.

Knocked Down by a Mob-Kicked Unmercifully—His Beard Torn Out—Narrowly Escaped Being Burned Alive in the Sand-His Two Companions Were Also Badly Used Up.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—According to Korean advice by the steamer Gaelic, Father M. J. Joseph, a Catholic missionary, was terribly maltreated by a mob recently. He was passing on foot through the market town of Kinohon, accompanied by a teacher and a boy. As soon as the crowd recognized him there were shouts of "Kill the foreigner! Stone him!"

The natives threw themselves upon the priest, knocking him down and kicking him unmercifully. After the mob had torn out his beard, they beat him and then tried to bury him alive in the sand. At last, someone alarmed at the consternation of a possible murder—always a serious matter in Korea—the mob dispersed, leaving the missionary and his companions half dead upon the ground.

A YOUNG LAWYER MISSING.

A Warrant Out For His Apprehension, But His Friends Say There's Nothing In It.

Ernest W. McIntyre, formerly of the firm of Armstrong, McIntyre & Co., barrister, King street, and formerly vice-president of the Young Liberal-Conservative Association, but now of Chicago, is in trouble. A warrant has been issued at the instance of Henry Beckwith charging McIntyre with the murder of a woman named Mrs. J. G. Whitely & Co., in trust with McIntyre, who gave him the amount.

McIntyre was not seen since he fled from Chicago, and since that time has been doing a law business in the Windy City.

TEMPST IN A TROPIC.

A Bag of One-Dollar Bills Creates an Episode of Mania.

Mr. James L. McKinley of S. V. Vincent street missed a bag last evening containing 42 one-dollar bills. No one but the domestic, Miss Ada Yates, had been in the room where the bag lay on the table, and Mr. McKinley was unable to find it.

The girl took the money. Mrs. McKinley, too, thought Miss Yates guilty, and the girl started for No. 2 Police Station to settle the affair.

Sergeant Cross told Mr. McKinley that nothing could be done in the matter unless the girl into custody unless a formal charge was laid against her. This he was unable to do, as he could not find a witness to say no one else could have taken it.

Mrs. McKinley was about to lay the charge, but when she learned that she would have to appear in court against the accused she changed her mind and became as anxious to recover the money as to see if the money could have been mislaid.

Miss Yates consented to go back to the McKinley residence, together with a couple of officers, to search for the money. She stepped into the hall first, and exclaimed, "Why, here's the very bag!" and picked up the bag under Mrs. McKinley's feet.

The money was all there. The two girls who had been in charge of the house during Mrs. McKinley's absence, and who were not there the whole evening. The accused girl went home.

40 YEARS A COMPOSITOR.

Sudden Death of Mr. John Lewis, an Old Type.

Mr. John W. Lewis, one of the oldest composers in the city, died suddenly yesterday morning at his residence, 85 Gifford street. Deceased, who was a stepson of the late Judge McRae of Algona, was born in Brockville 54 years ago. He served his apprenticeship on The Canadian Press and subsequently was foreman of The Windsor Record. Twenty-one years ago he took office on The Globe and Mail.

He died at his residence, 85 Gifford street, on the 21st inst. He was in fairly good health until a few minutes before his death, which was occasioned by Bright's disease.

Deceased leaves a widow, two sons, Alexander C. and Walter, and two daughters, Mrs. R. E. McNeil, and Mrs. E. J. Foster of Testarville. The funeral will be held in Mount Pleasant Cemetery at 3 p.m. Saturday.

A Fireman's Death.

Adam Pritchard of Lombard-street fire hall, and a member of the department for over 16 years, died yesterday at his residence, 400 Wellesley-street, from erysipelas. The flag on all of the city firehalls are at half-mast.

Sudden Death of Walter Gillett.

Mr. Walter Burridge Gillett, manager for Manitoba of the London and Ontario Loan Company, and well-known to Toronto business men, died suddenly at Winnipeg yesterday from the bursting of a blood vessel in his head. Deceased was 43 years of age and was a son of the late H. Gillett of Port Hope.

CANADA; ANNEXATION OR WHAT?

The Bond-street Proprietor Says Imperial Federation Is Sure to Come—Two Parliamentaries For Ireland.

Last Sunday night Dr. Wild told his pupils that he would lose himself on hunger and thirst on Thursday night at the Auditorium would give them 25 cents' worth of free speech on "Canada; annexation or what?" Last night some 500 of the Doctor's admirers listened to a lecture on these momentous questions given in the happy anecdotal vein which the Bond-street orator excels in response to the query of the title Dr. Wild dismissed independence and annexation as unfeasible and undesirable, and prophesied as the ultimate destiny of Canada Imperial Federation with local provincial parliaments.

Referring the favour shown by the Canadian Government to the Catholic minority Dr. Wild reminded his hearers of the difference between the British Empire and a constitutional right. As the late Pope Pius had remarked, nowhere did the papacy have a more powerful ally than under the flag of Great Britain. In Canada as elsewhere the Roman Church was regarded as a dispensing power, and the cause of two rebellions and was the source of much debate in the Imperial and Dominion Legislatures. The ignorance of the distinction between privilege and right was the prevalent theme of the lecture. Because leclanders, Menonites, French and Germans settled in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, Germany had the right of the language. As soon as possible the settlers should teach their children the language of the Empire. Germany had conquered Alsace-Lorraine, and had imposed their language upon the French in Poland, and Canada had the right of other ruling nations to take a similar course.

In regard to the Imperial School Act, the Council had wisely decided that no right had been taken from our French brethren, but a favor had been withdrawn. The school act was not intended to be a modest one, but to give separate schools, but without special tax for their maintenance. The Council had wisely decided that no right had been taken from our French brethren, but a favor had been withdrawn.

THREE TOWNS SWEEP AWAY

BY A CYCLOPE IN MISSISSIPPI AND TENNESSEE.

If This Sort of Thing Keeps on There Will Be a Rapid Return to the Customs of the Era of Cave Dwellers—The Wires Are Down and the Details Are Few.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 23.—Well-authenticated reports say the town of Tupelo, Miss., the home of Congressman John Allen, was destroyed by a severe storm to-day. The little town of Kelly, 15 miles from Memphis, on the Memphis and Birmingham Railway, was wiped out during the same storm. No lives lost.

A cyclone swept over Northern Mississippi and Western Tennessee late this afternoon, leaving ruin in its wake. Tupelo, Miss., and Kelly, Tenn., were completely destroyed. The wires are down in every direction and the details are few to get.

THE MONETARY CONFERENCE.

United States Delegates Are Not Anxious To Follow Up the Business.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Congressman McCreey of Kentucky tendered his resignation to the President this morning as a member of the Monetary Conference. The reason he gives is that he has such a large number of constituents to attend to that he cannot give the time to the conference.

The conference adjourned on Dec. 19 last to meet May 30. Since then three of its members, Mr. McCreey, Mr. Allison and Mr. Jones and Representative McCreey, have all tendered their resignations. The conference has since indicated that the question whether or not the conference should reconvene is one which the United States, as the inviting power, must determine.

After his talk with Mr. Cleveland this morning Mr. McCreey said that, while he was not at liberty to discuss details in connection with the question whether Mr. Cleveland would appoint other delegates to the conference, he would say on his own responsibility that, as the United States had called the conference, the President, he thought, would be obliged to see to its completion. This question, said Governor McCreey, is now being considered by the President, and the Secretary of State and the Secretary of the Treasury.

KEMPVILLE POISONING.

The Inquest Adjourned Until April 4—A Complicated Case Over Which Statement Is Not Abating.

The adjourned inquest on the body of Alexander Kennedy, the victim of the Kempville poisoning case, was continued Wednesday and further adjourned until April 4 pending the arrival of a Government detective. Coroner Buckley stated that he had received instructions from the Attorney-General that the analysis had found arsenic in the stomach of the said Alexander Kennedy, also in the porridge.

With regard to the missing will of the said Kennedy, it will never be found. The will of the said Kennedy was buried. The will of the said Kennedy was buried. The will of the said Kennedy was buried.

The Toronto World

NO. 10 YONGE STREET, TORONTO. A One Cent Morning Paper.

The Inspector of Penitentiaries has raised a storm in England by speaking of their being "periodical shipments to Canada of cockney sneak-thieves and pickpockets," and of a "hardened and irremediable class of criminals gathered from the slums of St. Giles and East London," being found in the penitentiaries of Canada.

Mr. Moylan has the sympathy of this country in denouncing its being made a dumping ground for the refuse of the old land. In reply to Mr. Massie of the Central Prison is reported to have informed the Ontario Government that in that place there are ten times more criminals from the United States than from all parts of Great Britain. He declares that 25,000 children brought to Canada by well-known importers of such goods grants only 3 per cent. have lapsed into crime.

We have never favored the wholesale, indiscriminate importation of pauper children into Canada. It is a cheap and easy way which is a source of trouble. These children are brought here in a state of illiteracy much below the average of those of our own people. They are put to work on arduous and unwholesome tasks and are not given any education and almost wholly without any domestic or manual training. Thus they are not likely to grow up to become such intelligent citizens as the rest of our people, and such as we alone need. Mr. Massie may be near the mark in his guess, but there are other ways of getting into jail, and we are satisfied that a very large number of these uneducated children drift into undesirable modes of life which are the natural result of their defective moral and physical training. They drift into our cities, which are overstocked with the class they represent, and they do not go upon the lands needing cultivators, the demand for which is alleged to be the justification of their being sent to this country.

The number of convicts in our penitentiaries, according to their countries of origin, is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Country, Number of convicts. Includes Canada, United States, and other countries.

That 27 per cent. of our convicts come from the United States is a fact which is not to be overlooked. It is a fact which is not to be overlooked. It is a fact which is not to be overlooked.

The British postal authorities have made two admissions in regard to cheaper ocean postage which break down the main lines of defence of the present rate. These are the question of revenue and the question of the cost of the first it is now admitted that the adoption of a two-cent or penny rate for letters to distant parts of the Empire would involve so trifling a loss of revenue that with a small surplus.

It is pleasant to hear that the Board of the Home Government so as to show that cheaper ocean postage is "strongly desired" by this country.

We are satisfied that a reduction of the rate on letters to the old land would not only increase the correspondence, but make the sacrifice of revenue very trifling, indeed, we should rather expect it to involve no burden to the postal service.

Besides this, the convenience to commercial men, and the convenience to the general public, would be rendered the reduction of ocean postage highly popular. We need not dwell upon the influence this would have in drawing closer the ties between our people and the people of the other side of the world.

It is pleasant to hear that the Board of the Home Government so as to show that cheaper ocean postage is "strongly desired" by this country.

We are satisfied that a reduction of the rate on letters to the old land would not only increase the correspondence, but make the sacrifice of revenue very trifling, indeed, we should rather expect it to involve no burden to the postal service.

TRANSMITTING WRITING BY WIRE

A CURIOUS MACHINE WHICH IS SAID TO WORK PERFECTLY.

It is called the Telegraph, and may supersede the Telephone by Means of It One Person Can Communicate, Electrically, With Another, and the Sender's Handwriting is Conveyed to the Receiver.

The very latest thing in telegraph instruments was shown at No. 80 Broadway yesterday. It is called the telegraph, or long-distance writing machine. All the afternoon business men, telegraph experts, newspaper folk and other filled the rooms of the National Telegraph Company and watched the remarkably accurate records made by the little machine.

It consists of a transmitter and a receiver associated for use at one station. The mechanism of the machine is extremely simple and direct. An ordinary lead pencil is used in transmitting. The pencil is held in a holder and is fastened at right angles to each other. These connect with the instrument, and, following the motion of the pencil, the writing is done on ordinary paper five inches wide, conveniently arranged on a roll attached to the machine. A lever is so moved by the hand as to shift the paper forward mechanically as the transmitter and electrically at the receiver. The receiving pen is a capillary glass tube placed at the junction of two aluminum arms. It is supplied with ink, which flows from a reservoir, through a small tube placed in one of the arms.

The World has been making some inquiry as to the noise of our electric street cars and has ascertained that there is no reason for a good deal of the horrible din which greets the ears of the passenger. The Ottawa cars run much more smoothly and quietly than those of this city. A comparison shows that the difference consists mainly in the style of tracks used and the way in which the cars are built. The Ottawa car with motor and all costs about $4000; the Toronto one, with motor and all, costs $5000 or more. The difference is due to the fact that the Ottawa car is built on a more substantial foundation. Our engineer cannot be too careful in this particular.

Without great expenditure, but with quiet determination and hopeful trust, the little rough-hewn building at the south-east corner of Wilton-avenue and Victoria-street was last night dedicated for the above purposes by Commandant and Mrs. Herbert Archibald.

THE THIRTY-THIRD ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE LONDON MUTUAL FIRE INS. CO. OF CANADA.

The thirty-third Annual Meeting of the members of the above Company was held at the offices of the Company, Richmond-street, London, Wednesday, the 1st day of February, 1910. The President of the Company, was called to the chair. The following Report was read by the Assistant Secretary:

This is the thirty-third annual report of the Company and in presenting the same your Board have, in the general results of the year's business, reason to congratulate the members upon the satisfactory condition of the Company, notwithstanding the fact that the year has been marked more than ordinarily by a decline in the number and extent of losses. Your Company is not to be wondered at, seeing that we carry a larger sum at risk in Ontario than any other Company in the whole Dominion, and, with one or two exceptions, more than any other Company in the world. The total amount of our insurance reaching $4,524,382. The particulars of each loss are set forth in the Appendix, and the subject is treated further on in the report, as also in the report of the Fire Inspector, which is hereby referred to, for what the Board deemed good cause. The volume of business done has kept up to the level of the year before, and is shown in the Appendix. The result is very gratifying, as a different year was anticipated, and the year before was a record year for the Company.
