The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

University of British Columbia Library

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the criginal copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol -- (meaning "CON-TINUED"), or the symbol ▼ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'examplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

University of British Columbia Library

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exempleire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole -- signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ▼ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir da l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

Alaska Sleighs Klondike Boats

You will need them both, because you must cross water to get to the gold fields, and there are many miles of snow. It is easier to use a boat for one and a sleigh for the other, and we have them cheap. We also make doors, sash, etc., of every description, and when you trade with us you are doing business with the oldest firm of the kind in the Pacific Northwest.

HE designation Golden Gate given to the entrance of San Francisco bay has, for nearly half a century, exercised world-wide influence as an advertisement of powerful effect upon the destinies of California, helping by attraction to enrich the commonwealth and to center in its chief city the commerce of the Pacific coast. Substance of value and great fortune is drawn to the lodestone of a name. There it denoted both the object of universal desire and an appearance typical of and re-enforcing the reality which lay behind—the mellowing rays of the setting sun lending color of resplendence in portraiture of the yellow wealth of sands and rock. The painting is a masterpiece of nature's handiwork, suiting place and occasion, its graphic title inflaming the imagination of man-By the shifting of a seene, the world's attention is diverted in open-eyed astonishment along shore far toward the Arctic, where nuggets are held in ice, to Puget Sound as the newfound Golden Gate, and to Tacoma as the head of its deep sea navigation, its leading maritime and manufacturing city and most important eenter of land transportation and commerce.-Vincent Ryan in The Taroma Evening News.

The Klondike

e e Gold Fields

mr. Ceonard Fowler

The long, sunny afternoon was drawing to a close. ready the pines across Commencement Bay had wrapped about them their robe of purple and along the avenue of the city men and women were hurrying homeward. It had been a warm day; somewhat tiresome. A large number of delegates returning from the Christian Endeavor Convention were visitors in Tacoma, and all day long the better class of stores and hotels had been busy. In addition to its usual number of pedestrians Pacific avenue was for the nonce an Unter den Linden for the visiting excursionists. In the doorways of many of the hotels and stores groups of citizens were gathered fraternally discussing the economic phase of the visit of the tourists and amusedly watching them as they strolled to and fro. It was nearing the sunset hour and business for the day was almost done. Over the city was a spirit of content.

This was Tacoma late in the afternoon of August 21. A half hour later and the scene was changed. The spirit of content was gone and on every street corner groups of excitmen were gathered. Up the street and down, news boys were shrilly calling. "Extry Ledge' an' News. All 'erbout de Klendi'." It was the old story. From up the coast the wires had brought a marvelous tale. The steamship had had touched at Port Townsend and twenty-four hours later the world knew of her million dollar treasure.

and of the men, made rich in a day, that comprised hereight. It was another tale of marvelous wealth found amid the glacial fields of the far Northwest. And compared with it the uncovering of the nugget in Sutter Creek in the days of 79 was something to be forgot. It was a wonderful story, a strange tale—strange enough indeed to come from that land of glattering snow and gilded ice.

As yet the excitement has not abated. Rather has it incremed, It is not confined to men. Women and children will go and the coming and going of the delegates of the Christian Endeavor Convention is forgotten. "Westward Ho!" is no lenger the wat hword. It has given place to "Klondike boute."

It is well. There are indeed hardships to encounter but there more than elsewhere are brains and brawn needed for great occasions need great men. Already Tacoma has seen nearly two thousand of her best men go. About six thousand have gone from Washington. Every train is bringing more men from all over the world and every ship that leaves Tacoma for the golden land carries as many of these Argonauts as can squeeze themselves between her decks. All over the world companies have been formed for the purpose of working the great fields, and for the development of the naives. The fever is increasing, and, to paraphrase an old, old an otation: He fares best who gets there first.

That Maska is rich in gold cannot be doubted. The proof has been overwhelmingly in favor of the affirmative. For years prospecting has been done there and strike after strike has been made. Little with regard to this, however, bas ever reached the outer world. Indeed it was over ten years ago that Franklin Gulch was discovered. It yielded but four thousand dollars the first year and was abandoued for other portions of the Forty-Wile district, as discovery after discovery was made. In this district auring the first year over one hundred and tifty thousand dollars of gold.

were produced. Other eamps which flourished in those years were the Silver Bow Basin, Treadwell, Miller creek, and one two minor ones whose names at this time have escaped me. For these, commonly called the Yukon creeks the mint director at the close of the fiscal year for '93 reported a total production of $198,000, with a total mining population of only 196. How this extremely interesting fact ever escaped notice seems at this time to be remarkable to me. Certainly it caused enough excitement among those one hundred and minety-six men gathered up there far away from their respective homes. In 1894 the yield had become $100,000, and 1895 saw these figures creep up to $800,000. Men, indeed, were beening wealthy in a day. And during the latter part of this latter year some illy defined and unauthenticated rumors of the fabulous riches up there were brought to Taeoma and the Puget Sound cities by the various ships that run between here and Alaskan ports. Some little of it was cold in the daily newspapers, but the wiseacres sagely nodded their her is and talked sareastically of "only another boom." There were a few not so wise who left on the succeeding boats. There whose ignorance at the time was termed a bliss are now not so sure but that ignorance too may mean wealth.

Leaving these, however, for the Klondike Josich Edward Spurr, Government Geological Surveyor, has made an especial report with regard to that region. After a general introduction Mr. Spurr goes on to say:

"With the announcement of gold here in the winter of 1896 '97 there was a genuine stampede to the new region. Forty-Mile was almost deserted. But 350 men spent the winter on the Klondike, in gulches, and at the new flown of Dawson. The more important parts of the district are on Bonan-Zarra Hunker Creeks. According to latest information 400 claims had been located up to January 1, 1897; about half as many on Hunker Creek. There is plenty of room for many more prospectors and miners, for the gulches and creeks which have shown good prospects are spread over an area of 7)) square miles. The estimated Maskan gold production (52 1896 is $1,400,000). Ten dollars a day is the general wages paid, $12 for a day of ten hours being paid in some of the more remote gulches. In winter the price for labor is $5 to 85 per day of six hours. Many times the miners have been at the point of starvation; hardly a winter when they have not been put on a ration basis. Universal suffrage is given and aff bave an equal vote."

From this it would then seem that the excitement is well grounded and that all rumors are confirmed. But even were this report unauthentic other incidental facts would be sufficient to excuse all men who are actuated by desire to do and dare; to once and for all attempt a solution of the questim "Poverty or wealth?" Certainly Mayor Wood of one of the Puget Sound cities so thought when he resigned his henerable office and set sail for the far Northwest. Ex-Governer McGraw, of Washington, and several other of the most prominent men of the Pacific Northwest followed his example, and Tacoma in common with other Puget Sound cities was ccampelled to call an especial session of the city council and raise the salaries of the policemen and firemen, the fever at one time threatening to carry off the chiefs of police and fire departments. Not even royalty has been exempt. The Dake of Fife in far away London heading a company formed on the lines of the famous South Africa Company. But that the excitement certainly spread all over the United States may be seen from the following table compiled by and taken from the Chicago Tribune. By this table it is shown that over $273,000,000 has been invested in capitalizing various ecompanies, the common purpose being to dig from Alaska's ice the shining nuggets of precious gold. This does not inchase a company of which Edwin O. Lanphere of Chicago is the bend, and whose purpose shall be to construct a railroad from some point on the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway 1) Dawson City. The consummation of this plan, however, will not be attempted for some time. Certainly not until after the next session of the Canadian Parliament, during wantleit is expected an especial franchise will be granted.

Another phase not yet treated is an interesting one. The experiences of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lippy and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Berry, all of San Francisco, have fired the feminine fancy. Both of these families returned to San Francisco on the Portland. Both returned independently wealthy and Mr. Borry, who was assisted by his wife, washed out in a few mouths the almost impossible sum of $135,000. In many cases indeed it is advised that prospectors who can afford it have their wives accompany them. The climate is not so exceedingly rigorous, though many reports to the contrary have been made.

In addition to the two instances mentioned the case of Mrs. J. T. Wills, of Tacoma is a notable one. Her husband is a machinist. He was suffering of rheumatism, so much so that Mrs. Wills hearing of the richness of the Alaskan gold fields, determined to go forth herself and conquer poverty. She vowed when she left Tacoma that she would not return a poor woman and keeping up the reputation of her sex, Mrs. Wills has had the last word with Fate. When the Krondike fields were first discovered she was among the first on the field and to-day in addition to owning her laundry at Day son City she is reputed to be worth $300,000, all or which William Stanley, formerly a blacksmith of this city, who went to Alaska two years ago. He had with him $115,000 worth of gold, found on Bonanza Creek, about five miles above Dawson City.

Jack Horne, a professional pugilist of Tacoma, was among the few who might be called unlucky. He brought back only $5000 worth of dust.

J. Kelly, of Tacoma, went to Alaska last year with his soa. He rturned with $10,000 in gold, and his son is still at work on their claim, taking out more.

Henry Anderson, a Ewede, who is well known in the Puget Sound country, came back with a good supply of gold dust and $45,000 he had received for half his claim on the Klondike.

Frank Kellar, of Los Angeles, Cal., went to Alaska last year, and returned with $35,000 received for his claim.

William Sloat, a former dry goods merchant of Nanaimo, B. C. has $52,000, received for his claim.

A fellow resident of Nanaimo, named Wilkenson, sold his etain; for $40,000.

Frank Phiseator, of Baroda, Mich., has $96,000 worth of dist and nuggets.

Rebert Kooks brought back $14,000 in gold dust and $12,-000 be received for his half interest in a claim. He has an interest in another claim, and intends to return after he has had rest and enjoyment.

J. B. Hollinshead, after two years spent in the diggings can show $25,000 worth of dust, and still possesses a claim, to which he intends to return.

M S. Norcross was one of those who were looked upon as unfortunate. He beleeted a claim, but became ill and could not work it, so he was compelled to sell out for $10,000.

Thomas Flack has only $6000 worth of dust, but he has a Con Stamatin returned with a third share of $33,000 worth of dust taken out in forty-five days' work.

Williamm Kulju brought down just one thousand ounces of dust and sold it to the smelting works. He also sold his claim for $25,000.

John Marks is the possessor of $11,500 in dust.

Frederick Lendseen returned with $13,000 worth of gold after two years spent in Alaska.

Greg Stewart brought back $35,000 received for his claim and a good quantity of dust he had taken out before selling.

For the women who go there three rules have been promulgated:

First, Be sure you are perfectly strong and able to endure hardships.

Second. Do not think for a monment that you are going to have an easy time of it at all.

Third. Be sure you don't go unless you are well equipped with all the necessaries and prepared for all emergencies.

For the men there are three lists of supplies taken from the newspapers of three different cities; the Tacoma list is fir cheaper and is the more complete, and in addition to all other considerations the argonaut saves transcontinental freight. For example the following list comprises all things deemed absolutely necessary by the experienced men, it is cheaper than the others and the only freight he would have to pay on it would be that charged by the steamship companies running from Tacoma to Dyea.

These three tables are given not for the purpose or furnishing a list of necessaries nor an iron-clad bill of expenses, but in order that you may note the difference in prices, and by comparing the lists note the advantages over all others possessed by the one taken from the Tacoma Ledger. Many prospectors buy a great many things not enumerated in any of the lists, but even the most economical omit but very few of those things enumerated by the Tacoma Ledger, for it must be remembered that these are not the days of '49 nor are the gold fields in semi-tropic California. On the contrary they are in an inhospitable climate where men may expect to meet inhospitable neighbors. The free spending society loving Mexican don is not there to tell you to help yourself to his cattle and his sheep. It is a different time, different people, almost a different world.

The common advice given by all returned miners, as well as those who bought their supplies in the east is, to buy nothing until you reach the coast. By heeding this you save freights and also profit by the superior knowledge of the experienced miners already here. Your provisions must be purchased before you start, however. The following table fur-

As to routes it is far better to buy your tickets via the Northern Pacific Railroad direct to Tacoma, as the trains of this railroad make direct connections with the Alaska ships at the wharves. The following table applies to you if you depart from any of the Atlantic seaboard towns. You can easily make the proper deduction should you depart from the middle west.

Fare from New York to Tacoma via Northrn Pacific, $81.50.

Fee for Pullman sleeper, $20.50.

Fee for tourist sleeper, run only west of St. Paul, $5.

Meals served in dining car for entire trip, $16.

Meals served at stations along the route a la carte.

Distance from New York to Tacoma, 3,290 miles.

Days required to make the journey, about six.

Fare for steamer from Tacoma to Juneau, including calin and meals, $35.

Days, Tacoma to Dyea about four.

Number of miles from Tacoma to Dyea, 1,000.

Cost of living in Dyea, about $3 per day.

Number of days New York to Dyea, twelve. Cost of complete outfit for overland journey, about $275. Steamers leave Tacoma once a week.

Best time to start is early in the spring.

Total cost of trip, New York to Klondike, about $667.

Number of days required, New Fork to Klondike, thirty-six to forty.

Total distance from New York via Tacoma and Dyea to Klendike, 4,840 miles.

From Tacoma there are a number of routes and with regard to these the Chicago Tribune in an ably written article says:

At Tacoma the traveler may take a sceamer for a 3,000mile ocean voyage to St. Michaels Island, and then make a 2,600-mile journey up the Yukon, or he may go by steamer to Juneau and from there climb over 600 miles of rough mountains. The Yukon route is the one most in favor as being invested with the minimum of hardship, but it is only open during the short four-month summer. It is a forty-day journev from Tacoma to the new gold fields by water. Leaving Puget Sound the steamer sails out to the northwest across the Pacific ocean to the Aleutian Islands, between which a channel leads into Bering Sea. Safe in these latter waters the steamer is put on a direct northerly course to St. Michaels Island, which lies on the far western coast of Alaska at the mouth of the Yukon River. There a transfer is made to a light-draft river boat and in this the rest of the voyage to Dawson, Circle City or Fort Cudahy is made. Up to this time there have been several boats in this Yukon River service, each of which make three round trips during the sum-The first boat up in the spring reaches Circle City toward the end of June, and the last one leaves there early in September on the return trip to St. Michaels Island. The trip of 2,600 miles to St. Michaels Island can be made by dog sled over the frozen river. Hitherto the traffic by water has been solely in the hands of the North American Transportation and Trading company, a Chicago corporation in which such men as P. B. Weare and Michael and John Cudahy are interested. The company will carry a passenger with 150 pounds of baggage from Tacoma to the head waters of the Yukon for $165, and give him all he wants to eat on the way.

The great danger that now laces people in the Klondike is the scarcity of provisions, so that it is best in all instances to luy ones own food supply at Tacoma before the final start is made. Everthing in the way of supplies that it is possible to get there this year is now on the road. With the stocks now it store 10,000 people can be few this winter. There are nearly now that many on the ground and the number is increasing right along. With 15,000 mouths to feed it is certain to be a case of short rations at the best, and a swelling of the population to 20,000 means starvation for some of them. An effort is being made to get eattle and sheep into the country by driving them through the mountain passes from Juneau, but the journey is exhausting and dangerous. Such live stock as ean be landed in Dawson City in eatable condition will readily bring $1 a pound. The principal food used now is bacon, beans and flour, with condensed milk, and a few canned goods. Fresh milk, butter and eggs are unknown quantities.

There are three paths over the mountains from Juneau to the upper Yukon. These are known as the Chilkoot, the Chilkat, and the White Pass. The former has been generally used, but the latter is now coming into favor as the most favorable. Prospectors can get from Tacoma to Juneau by steamer for $25, but after reaching the latter port then expenses will be heavy. It is a trip of 600 miles through most tains covered with snow and subject to sudden storms of terrible violence. Supplies must be transported by dog sled or packed on small ponies, the former being preferable. To get any kind of an outfit requires a large e penditure of morey, and besides this Indian guides and porters must be well paid for accompanying the expeditions. In addition to the animal loads every man carries from fifty to sixty pounds of previsions and tools on his back, and when this is packed along for four weeks up and down steep hills and over rude trails in ice and snow, the task is herculean in its nature. The Indians charge $1 a pound for carrying loads through the fords. American traders are now making an experiment by way of the White Pass, through which they think the trip from Skagua to Dawson City can be made in two weeks. For some unknown reason this pass has been overlooked by most of the people now erowding the Yukon country overland, and the thousands who were unable to get passage by the last boat to St. Michaels Island are going through the Chilkoot trail. There is one advantage in the overland route, and that is the traveler may carry anything in the way of provisions he wishes to, provided he does not run afoul of the Canadian customs authorities.

Even in this case a recent ruling of Canadian commissioners exempt all of a miner's outfit and $100 worth of provisions from duty. Presuming, however, that he must pay duty it is yet better to buy his provisions here, because all provisions are bought here in the first place by the Canadians themselves, and in this case the prospector who buys his outfit at Tacoma and pays duty on it saves the profit when the canadian merchant to charge.

The following epitome of valuable information with regard to routes is used by permission of Mr. C. M. Shulze, proprictor of the Tacoma Ledger, which paper recently published a magnificent special edition bearing particularly on the Klondike gold fields and cost of getting there.

Hotels and restaurants are abundant in Tacoma, and the reasonable prices surprise everybody.

Fare is $200 from Tacoma via Sc. Michaels to any point on the Yukon. This includes 200 pounds of baggage, also means and berths. Time from Tacoma to St. Michaels, 13 to 15 days.

Made especially for this Publication.

Fare between Tacoma and Dyea or Taiya is $40 cabin; $25 second class. It requires four days to make the passage from Tacoma to Dyea.

There are at present only two traveled routes to the Klondike. One is by the Lynn canal, the Taiya or Dyea Pass and down the Yukon; the other is by way of St. Michaels. At the last named place the passengers and freight are transferred to steam wheel river boats, and Cudahy is reached after ascending the swat current of the Yukon for 1600 miles.

As a rule it is not safe to enter Norton Sound, into which the Yukon empties, before the 1st of July, owing to the ice. St. Michaels is 80 miles from the northerly mouth of the Yukon. To cover that distance in a flat-bottom river boat requires calm weather. After crossing the bar the boat is tied up to clean the boilers and get rid of the salt.

The passage up the river takes from 18 to 20 days. The first boat does not arrive till late in July, and the river closes in September, so that the arrival of the last boats is somewhat uncertain. Two round trips in the season are all that can be relied upon.

The most popular route is by way of Lynn canal, the Dyca or Taiya Pass, and down the Yukon. The distance from the sea to Dawson is only 600 miles, and by starting in April or May the diggings are reached in the beginning of June.

The upper part of the river opens several weeks before the lower part is free from ice. After crossing the pass the trip to Klondike or Dawson can be accomplished in seven or eight days.

Another route is now being explored between Telegraph creek and Teslin lake, and will soon be opened. Telegraph is the head of steamer navigation on the Stikeen river, and is about 150 miles from Teslin lake. The Yukon is navigable for steamers from its mouth to Teslin lake, a distance of 2300 miles. A road is being located by the Dominion government. A grant of $2000 has been made by the province of British Columbia for opening it.

J. Dalton, a trader, has used a route overland from Chilkat inlet to Fort Selkirk. Going up the Chilkat and Klaheela rivers, he crosses the divide to Tahkeena river, and continues northward over a fairly open country practicable for horses. The distance from the sea to Fort Selkirk is 350 miles.

Last summer a Juneau butcher sent forty head of cattle to Cudahy. G. Bounds, the man in charge, crossed the divide over the Chilkoot pass, followed the shore of Lake Arkell, and keeping to the east of Dalton's trail reached the Yukon just below the Rink rapids. Here the eattle were slaughtered and the meat floated down on a raft to Cudahy, where it retailed at $1 a pound.

It is proposed to establish a winter road somewhere across the country traveled over by Dalton and Bounds. The Yukon cannot be followed, the ice being too much broken, so that any winter road will have to be overland. A thorough exploration is now being made of all the passes at the head of Lynn canal and the upper waters of the Yukon. In a few months it is expected that the best routes for reaching the district from Lynn canal will be definitely known.

The following also are the Canadian placer mining laws. They will be found exceedingly useful as it must be borne in mind that although the Klondike 's peopled mainly by American miners the region itself is really under Canadian control.

To the Honorable, the Minister of the Interior.

Regulations Governing Placer Mining Along the Yukon River and its Tributaries in the Northwest Territories.

INTERPRETATION.

"Bar diggings" shall mean any part of a river over which the water extends when the water is in its flooded state, and which is not covered at low water.

"Mines on benches" shall be known as bench diggings, and shall for the purpose of defining the size of such claims be excepted from dry diggings.

"Dry diggings" shall mean any mine over which a river never extends.

"Miner" shall mean a male or female over the age of eighteen, but not under that age.

"Claims" shall mean the personal right of property in a placer mine or diegings during the time for which the grant of such mine or diggings is made.

"Legal post" shall mean a stake standing not less than four feet above the ground and squared on four sides for at least; one foot from the top. Both sides so squared shall meae regulations of Council of "Close season" shall mean the period of the year during which placer mining is generally suspended. The period to be fixed by the Gold Commissioner in whose district the claim is situated.

"Locality" shall mean the territory along a river (tributary of the Yukon) and its affluents.

"Mineral" shall include all minerals whatsoever other than coal.

NATURE AND SIZE OF CLAIMS.

- 1. Bar diggings: A strip of land 100 feet wide at high water mark and thence extending along the river to its lowest water level.
- 2. The sides of a claim for bar digging shall be two parallel lines run as nearly as possible at right angles to the stream, and shall be marked by four legal posts, one at each end of the claim at or about high water mark, also one at each end of the claim at or about the edge of the water. One of the posts at high water mark shall be legibly marked with the name of the miner and the date upon which the claim is striked.
- 3. Dry diggings shall be 100 feet square, and shall have piaced at each of its four corners a legal post upon one of which shall be legibly marked the name of the miner and the date upon which the claim was staked.
- 4. Creek and river claims shall be 500 feet long, measured in the direction of the general course of the stream, and shall extend in width from base to base of the hill or beach on each side, but when the hills or beaches are less than 100 feet apart, the claim may be 100 feet in depth. The sides of a claim shall be two parallel lines run as nearly as possible at right angles to the stream. The sides shall be marked with legal posts at or about the edge of the water and at the rear boundaries of the claim. One of the legal posts at the stream shall be legibly marked with the name of the miner and the date upon which the claim was staked.

- 5. Bench claims shall be 100 feet square.
- In defining the size of claims they shall be measured herizontally, irrespective of inequalities on the surface of the ground.
- If any person or persons shall discover a new mine, and such discovery shall be established to the satisfaction of the Gold Commissioner, a claim for the bar diggings 750 feet in length may be granted. A new stratum of auriferous earth or gravel, situated in a locality where the claims are abandoned, shall for this purpose be deemed a new mine, although the same locality shall have previously been worked at a different level.
- 8. The forms of application for a grant for placer mining and the grant for the same shall be those contained in forms "H" and "I" in the schedule hereto.
- 9. A claim shall be recorded with the Gold Commissioner in whose district it is situated within three days after the location thereof if it is located within ten miles of the Commissioner's office. One extra day shall be allowed for making such record for every additional ten miles and fraction thereof.
- 10. In the event of the absence of the Gold Commissioner from his office, entry for a claim may be granted by any person whom he may appoint to perform his duties in his ab ence.
- 11. Entry shall not be granted for a claim which has not been staked by the applicant in person in the manner specified in these regulations. An affidavit that the claim was staked out by the applicant shall be embodied in form "H" scedule hereto.
- 12. An entry fee of $15 shall be charged the first year and an annual fee of $100 for each of the following years.

This provision shall apply to locations for which entries have already been granted.

- 13 After the recording of a claim removal of any post by the holder thereof, or any person acting in his behalf, for the purpose of changing the boundaries of his claim, shall act as a forfeiture of the claim.
- 14. The entry of every holder for a grant for placer mining must be renewed and his receipt relinquished and replaced every year, the entry fee being paid each year.
- 15. No miner shall receive a grant for more than one mining claim in the same locality; but the same miner may hold any number of claims by purchase, and any number of miner may unite to work their claims in common upon such terms as they may arrange, provided such agreement be registered with the Gold Commissioner and a fee of $5 paid for each registration.
- 16 Any miner or miners may sell, mortgage or dispose of his or their claims, provided such disposal be registered with and a fee of $2 paid to the Gold Commissioner, who shall thereupon give the assignee a certificate in form "J" in the schedule hereto.
- 17. Every miner shall during the continuance of his grant have the exclusive right of entry upon his own claim for the miner-like working thereof, and the construction of a residence thereon, and shall be entitled exclusively to all the proceeds realized therefrom; but he shall have no surface rights therein, face rights therein, and the Gold Commissioner may grant to the holders of adjacent claims such rights of entry thereon as may be absolutely necessary for the working of their claims, upon such terms as may to him seem reasonable. He may also grant permits to miners to cut timber thereon for their own use, upon payment of the dues prescribed by the regulations in that behalf.
- 18. Every miner shall be entitled to the use of so much of the water naturally flowing through or past his claim,

e e Pori of Departure

Col. C. P. Ferry

To catalogue or rather to set forth the reasons why Tacoma is the logical outfitting point and port of departure for the Klondike gold fields in catalogue fashion would be a rather dry and uninteresting account of our resources, native and acquired. By the intending prospector or voyager for that far away land, or to anyone interested in the Pacific Northwest, it must be borne in mind that Tacoma, the City of Destiny, is actually by all rights of reason and logic the natural port of departure. At our back door there lies interminable forests. We have mines of coal, fields of grain and every supply needed by man, whether he be the humble homeseeker, the investor carrying about with aim plethoric purses of shining gold, the dweller in our cities or the seeker for the riches that lie icebound in Alaska. We have our own Klondike too, mines of silver and copper and veins of iron that rib the earth. Before us, at our very front gate there is tr: Puget Sound with its broad unruffled waves opening into the placed Pacific. And when the sun goes down the ornate golden of the western sky has the seeming of a reflection borne hitherward from the auriferous floes of ice girt Alaska.

Along our water front we have the trains of the Northern Pacific burthened with freight from the eastern states destined for oriental lands, and at our wharves lie moustrous ships cargoed with freight from the orient. And by our railroads these are taken and the diverging lines they make as they leave Tacoma for other places seem as though they were the channels that lead from the human heart.

But leaving this which will interest everybody for the subject which will particularly interest those to whom this brochure is addressed it is well to state that Taeoma's manufacturing interests even by comparison are vested with no mean importance. We have here establishments manfacturing sleds for the Chilkoot and White Passes, boats for the Yukon and Lake Linderman, pack saddles for the Chilkat, stoves Klondike, the boots, hosiery, clothing and blankets for all Alaska. Here, too, are made the food staples, flour, made from our own fields of waving grain, dried fruits grown in our own orchards and on our own limitless ranges. For years and vears the merchants of the Pacific Northwest have been supplied by Tacoma wholesalers. For years and years boats laden with our produets have sailed for Canadian ports, consigned to Canadian customers. For years and years our own merchants have had to do with miners and those who dig in the earth. The wisdom of long experience has taught them what you need, and here on Pacific avenue any night, or in the corridor of any hotel a bronzed man from the mines can tell you what he used up there and what he thinks you need. Evidently to you it must be a manifest advantage, advice is not to be scorned, certainly not the advice of one tried in such a manner and by the very conditions with which you propose to cope, and to you the argument that we not only grow and sell but that we make the things you need should be unans werable. And again, von must be satisfied that who have no freights to pay, no expenses to incur but the normal ones, and before whose very front doors the completed stock is delivered intaet and with no other but drayage expenses must able to sell to you far more cheaply than the merehant of another city who after all buys his goods from us and other American cities at a very little less than what you pay for them.

To commence with your clothing, you may come here as Adam came to the garden of Eden and while you wait, the busy looms of our great woolen mills and the skillful fingers of our many tailors will clothe you, even as you must be clothed for Narraganset pier or Alaska's frozen fields. Your hoods, sleeping bags, clothing bags, gloves, shoes, hosiery and underwear are made here by this mill and to order if you like. Similar articles in our outfitting stores you can find in great variety of the best brands of American manufacture.

Our rubber company will fit you out with rubber boots, with rubber coats and anything of rubber you may wish. Our shoe manufacturer in the very heart of the city, on our principal street will make your shoes to order, or sell to you from his stock, and the one can be done as quickly as the other.

And whatsoever you may buy of this or of these are American made in every sense. The hides come from the beeves nutured from calfhood on our own nutritious grasses. And the wool in your clothing is the native product, for on the hills that sit at the feet of our mountain ranges the sheep have grown from gamboling lambs.

With regard to our groceries it is the same. Coffee, tea and sugar we do not make but we import them by cheap ocean freight direct from the countries where they are produced, and a dozen flouring mills hereabouts will give you the choicest and cheapest flour in the world wherewith to make your bread.

evaporate. Our prunes are our own. The beans you buy in Ticima were bought from Washington farmers. Cur oatment and commeal came first from our rural districts. Your matches we make on the shores of Commencement Bay and two large factories supply us with baking powder and yeast.

By the buyer it must be borne in mind that all of these articles and food products before enumerated are really the e hoieest of their kind. The idea that the climate and soil of Washington is inhospitable and unarable is a mistaken one. It is not possible anywhere on earth to raise finer a g rieultural products, and Washington wheat is a standard in the markets of the world. \mathbf{It} must, too, be recollected that our skies are genial and our temperature an even one.

Your hardware and camp outfit we also produce, and your medicine is made by native chemists, from native yerbas beunas. And from our ports for years our steamers have carried our goods to our customers, in what almost amounts to, our Alaska. So from us you may buy your ticket. From us you may buy the wherewith to get your gold, and when you have it, as I sincerely hope you will, our banks will take it and pay you therefor.

Some idea of our material resources—if you will tolerate figures and pardon statistics, may be gained from these facts:

She is the Pacific Ocean terminus of a great transcontinental system of railroads, with a system radiating in several directions, with unexcelled terminal facilities which have cost $8,000,000.

Her facilities for handling freight from ear to steamer, and from steamer to car, are so perfect that she has earned the reputation of being the quickest and cheapest port in the world.

Commencing at her very city boundary are forests of practically inexhaustible giants, which are sent in the shape of lumber and spars to all parts of the world. Underneath these forests are wonderful deposits of coal, iron, gold, silver, copper, lead, sulphur, granite, sandstone and clays unequaled in America, and rich valleys are tributary where fruits, hops and vegetable grow in profusion.

All these things within a hundred miles. Beyond, on one side are several great plains with wheat, barley, fruit, loops, and everything which makes diversified farming possible. The scenery is grand, beautiful, inspiring, unsurpassed. The climate is mild, healthful to a degree, and agreeable. On the other side a beautiful arm of the Pacific ocean, a delightful sea for pleasure, a broad road to the commerce of the world.

Many more things might be added, but these are enough to show the city is built on a broad foundation. All through the hard times her shipping and manufacturing interests have grown steadily and strongly. Can any other city of 40,000 people make the same showing? I invite criticism and comparison.

• • Chamber of Commerce

Mr. Samuer Coliver

"No community can be prosperous or successful without co-operation and the unique position that this body of men occupies relatively to the business interests of Cleveland is a practical demonstration of that fact. Here are twelve hundred men, the leading citizens of Cleveland, the best talent we have in the country, combined together—for what? For the single and sole purpose of benefitting their neighbors and fellowmen. We are fast putting on metropolitan airs. Our city is growing to that extent to justify our taking a step forward in the way of public improvements and those things which make a city great. In all these things the chamber of commerce is a potent factor."—Hon. Mark Hanna at 49th anniverstry of the Cleveland chamber of commerce.

Mr. Hanna might well have added to the foregoing masterly statement that every live community has its business mens organization in some form or other, be it chamber of commerce, board of trade or what not. Modeled on lines closely resembling the Cleveland chamber of commerce the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade, with a membership of over two hundred of the most representative business and professional men of the city is doing its part to push forward into its destined place one of the most promising of the seaport cities of the United States.

It was on a dark, dismal and cheerless afternoon in February, 1884, that a few public spirited men met in the old court house on C street and declared their intention to organize a chamber of commerce for the purpose of uniting the business men of the city in an effort to promote business enterprises, enlarge commerce, and publish to the world the manifold advantages of Tacoma as a place of residence, as well as to show ambitious men how to make money in the new west. General John W. Sprague was elected president of the new organizution; a lot was purchased and a building-the most imposing in the city at that time-was erected on the corner of Pacific aveand Twelfth mie street, now known as the Columbia building. $_{\rm In}$ 1888 the capital of the e o rporation which was at first \$20,000, was increased to \$240,000 and the present noble edifice, six stories in height, erected. Occupying its own home, the institution is enabled to dispense hospitalities to strangers and to use as much space as is necessary for the conduct of its business.

The duties of the secretary of such an institution are manifold, guided, of course, by the intelligent action of a board of trustees and an official head. The secretary is expected to be in his office from nine in the morning until six at night, but the reading, billiard and whist rooms are open from 8 a. m. until 11 p. m. Cards are left at the hotels inviting strangers in the city to visit the rooms, but precaution is taken for fear the stranger may not call that the card shall contain information about the city's advantages, and it is also a guide to points of interest in and about the city. The duties of the secretary in addition to the care of the property of the chamber include the answering of correspondence and the gathering of statistics regarding the commerce and general business of Tacoma. The administration of the Chamber of Commerce is placed each year in the hands of a board of nine trustees elected by the stockholders and members, the president, vice president and treasurer constituting a part of the board. Weekly meetings of the trustees are held and monthly meetings of the chamber, at which important matters are discussed and plans adopted.

The facilities of the Chamber of Commerce for obtaining information are of such an extended nature that the facts as set forth in published statements are regarded as official and reliable, so that many calls are received from all parts of the country for the reports of the chamber as they are published.

As the Chamber of Commerce is primarily organized to advertise the advantages of Tacoma in every way, no one need have any hesitation in addressing the secretary upon the subject and any and all correspondence will be promptly answered.

Sleds

Certainly no sane man wishes to go to Alaska without a Sled. The idea is preposterous. That being true, you certainly want the best in the market. We are manufacturers of that one. It is called The Arctic, and glides over the snow as a chappie slips on an overripe banana peel. It is truly a combination miner's and prospector's sled, and is patented, name and all. You must have The Arctic if you want the best.

Wagons____

We also manufacture a wagon, made especially for the Alaska miner. This is an all-embracing combination. It is a truck, a sled and a gold rocker. One man, a little while ago, made over $250 a day with it. But he had a good thing, and we make it—to be pushed. We have already sold one hundred. We also make express and delivery wagons, drays and trucks, and repair carriages and buggies. Horse-shoeing a specialty.

Washington and Alaska Steamship Company.

This Company gives the quickest and best service between Puget Sound and Alaska. Their steamers will leave Tacoma and Seattle every five or six days for Alaskan points. The "City of Seattle" is the finest and fastest steamship which runs to Alaska and makes the trip from Puget Sound to Skaguay and Dyea in seventy hours.

The "Rosalie," although somewhat smaller, is in every respect a first-class steamship, and passengers will obtain unusual comforts on this vessel. Other steamships will be added from time to time.

THE PRICES OF PASSAGE

(subject to change without notice) are as follows:

From Tacoma, Seattle, Port Townsend or Victoria, to Juneau: First-class, $32.00; Second-class, $17.00. To Skaguay or Dyea: First-class, $40.00; Second-class, $25.00. This includes 150 pounds of baggage.

Applications should be made of once.

is conducted by the satisfactory store. If you want to know anything about the Yukon country, feel at liberty to write to us. You will want to know what a proper outfit will cost in the Tacoma market. We will tell you by return mail. The big store occupies a third of a block, and contains five floors. It stands almost within a stone's throw of the head of deep water navigation. The magnificent tourist steamers leave here for Alaska, and during the past few weeks a boat or two has steamed away from Tacoma docks, carrying hundreds of fortune hunters to the far north.
