"WE HAVE DEPARTED FROM IMPERIALISM TO CONTINENTALISM"

—HON. ROBT. ROGERS.

Manitoba Statesman Declares that Reciprocity Arrangement Sacrifices the British Preference, and Impairs Canada's Commercial Independence.

NO BENEFIT TO THE WESTERN FARMERS

WINNIPEG, Jan. 27.—"No great service has been served by the reciprocity negotiations," said Hon. Robert Rogers in an interview. "On the contrary, I believe a great blow has been struck at our Canadian national development. The development of our national life should be the pride and aim of every true Canadian, and anything that would savor of treachery to confederation should not be condoned by the possibility that it might save a cent or a dollar to some individual or some company."

"But what have we done? We have sacrificed the British preference, we have impaired our commercial independence, we have departed from imperialism to continentalism. These surrenders and concessions we have made, for what? For purely theoretical and visionary benefits."

Had to Have Our Wheat Anyway.
"The western farmer gets nothing. President Taft's frank acknowledgment that the United States has to have Canadian wheat to supply the food demands of their large population is simply an official admission of a condition that was plain to every one. They had to have our wheat in any case."

"If I am not mistaken there will be no appreciable increase in the price of wheat to the western farmers. We have the world's market for our wheat and world conditions determine the price. The western farmer will lose thru the impairment of our wheat standards, in which case this easy access to the American market will prove a costly privilege."

Farm Implements.
"The western farmer," continued Mr. Rogers, "could have had something worth while if the axe had been laid to the root of the duty on farm implements, instead of the gentle love tap that won't reduce the price to the farmer one iota. By this treaty, or arrangement, or whatever they may be pleased to call it, the government closes the door completely against the demands of the western farmer for a reduction of the duty on agricultural implements. For the past few years the duty fixed by parliament has been overridden by a board of appraisers, and the duty paid by the western people has been arrived at in such a form as would meet the political necessities and requirements of the Liberal party."

The "Interests" Looked After.
"That seems to me to be the outstanding feature of the reciprocity arrangement. The interests have been well looked after. It is quite clear that the farm implement manufacturers had a special guardian angel in Fielding. In coal also his Nova Scotia coal barons. The cut of eight cents a ton won't hurt the coal interests, and assuredly it won't help the consumer."

"Then take the matter of lumber. If dressed lumber had been placed on the free list it would have substantially benefited the western farmers, but you don't find any reference to dressed lumber in the schedule."

"In short, the interests came out of this reciprocity affair without scratch, but you can't say as much for the producers, whose protection has been modified or lopped off altogether. It is quite clear to me that this reciprocity arrangement is to be used to stave off tariff revision. It is a mere expedient towards the attainment of a political object. It will serve no useful purpose, and it is positively mischievous in the measure it offers to the British preference and to those national ideas we have been building up since the day of confederation."

Injures Canadian Railways.
"No doubt of it at all," declared William Whyte, second vice-president of the C.P.R., when asked in the presence of what on the free list would injure the Canadian railways. "It means the end of the former long haul to Port William and Port Arthur."

Mr. Whyte stated that the other Canadian railways could suffer more than the C.P.R., which has now the Soo line in the south and connections between Minneapolis and the Soo.

"This loss of the long haul," said the vice-president, "is not the worst feature of the case. The fact is that trade will be diverted from its present channels of east and west to north and south, and consequently the bonds between east and western Canada will be materially weakened."

A Weak Solution.
BOSTON, Jan. 27.—The proposed reciprocal agreement between the United States and Canada is but a weak solution of the problem, in the opinion of Dr. Michael Clark, a member of the Canadian House of Commons, who was a speaker at a banquet of the Canadian Club of Boston to-night. Declaring himself a free trader, Dr. Clark predicted free trade, not only between the United States and Canada, but between all of the countries of the world.

Dr. Clark, premier of Canada and the members of his parliament, said Dr. Clark, "will pass a bill on the reciprocity treaty, and I believe also that it will pass congress. Further progress toward the final establishment of free trade between the two countries, however,

A MEETING OF PROTEST.

ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 27.—(Special.)—At a hurriedly called meeting of the executive of the Niagara Peninsula Fruit Growers' Association this afternoon, it was decided to hold a general mass meeting of all growers to discuss the effects of admitting fruit free of duty from the United States. The growers are very much agitated and alarmed at what they term the sacrifice made of them at the recent conference.

TARIFF BATTLE FOUGHT AT BEAVERTON

E. C. Drury Contended That Protection Stifled Competition and Raised Price to the Consumer, While T. A. Russell Saw Ruin in Low Tariff Town Hall Packed.

BEAVERTON, Jan. 27.—A detachment of upwards of 100 manufacturers from Toronto led by Thos. A. Russell, stormed the Grange etalod defended by E. C. Drury, president of the Dominion Grange, and on the floor of the town hall here, was fought last evening the battle of the tariff.

It was an event such as has rarely been witnessed here. "Of such interest was it, in fact, that future events are likely to date from it for some time to come. The Toronto contingent came up on the Canadian Northern evening train, and found the hall practically filled on their arrival. While they were accommodating themselves with the scant seating space which still remained, some of the village youth enlivened the proceedings with an agricultural college yell, the predominant feature of which was the word "reciprocity." It took but a few minutes to get down to business after the hall was reached.

Rev. McKee McLennan took the chair, and in a brief address outlined the object of the meeting. Then E. C. Drury proceeded to marshal an array of facts to prove that the policy of protection tended to prevent the expansion of not only agricultural interests but manufacturing as well. Mr. Russell, in opposition, ably championed the cause of protection from the viewpoint of both the farmer and the manufacturer. Both speeches were given an attentive hearing, and as the decision as to the winner was left to the audience, and as the audience was not called upon to express its opinion, the result was left in doubt.

Mr. Drury was allowed forty-five minutes and Mr. Russell followed for fifty minutes. Then Mr. Drury was given fifteen minutes for reply and Mr. Russell closed the debate with a speech of ten minutes. After the meeting the Toronto contingent returned via special N. C. R. train.

Protection Sometimes Justified.
Mr. C. Drury, who was the first to be heard, referred to the question under discussion as vital to the interests of Canada. He believed it was the first occasion on which two speakers holding opposing views on this non-political question had met on the same platform. He did not propose to discuss it from a class viewpoint. Canada was a country of vast resources. He believed in the future of the manufacturing interests. With the unbounded resources of Canada he believed that there was such a thing as wisely developed protection. There were instances when protection could be beneficial for a time. No industry that could not eventually become self-sustaining

A Surprise to the British Public

Were Not Expecting So Many Changes on the Free List—Viscount Milner Deplores Effect on Preference.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The scope of the reciprocity agreement between the United States and Canada came as a surprise to the British public. No one had expected so many changes to the free list or such important tariff reductions as the details of the proposed measure revealed. The Liberal government is distinctly favorable to the proposed measure. Several of these pointed out to-day that under the agreement the United Kingdom loses some of the privileges hitherto enjoyed, but that nevertheless the government is gratified that the Liberal party in Canada is achieving some measures of success in its policy of give and take.

The Standard says the Canadian commissioner for South Africa, said: "Nothing one says can make things any better. It is idle to shut our eyes to the fact that the treaty, like that already concluded with France, must tend to diminish British preference, and is, to that extent, detrimental to the policy of closer union."

The protectionists in Canada have considered that the agreement, if ratified, will deal a serious blow to British trade, and increase the cost of food in Great Britain, thru the diversion of Canadian supplies to the United States.

The Standard urges that the preference propaganda be pushed with renewed energy, lest Great Britain's place be indefinitely taken by America.

NAVAL SURGEONS

Rates of Pay Will Vary From $4.50 to $7.50 a Day.

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—An order-in-council has been passed fixing the pay of medical officers of the navy. Surgeons on entry are to receive $4.50 a day; after four years' service, $5.50 a day. Staff-surgeons on promotion are to get $6.50, and after four years $7.50 per day. For the conveyance of officers and men on railways the government has fixed a scale of 2 cents per mile east of Port Arthur and 3 cents per mile west of that point. That is for first-class accommodation, and for second-class the rate is to be 1-1/3 cents and 2 cents respectively.

FIRE-SWEPT.

HALIFAX, Jan. 27.—The greatest part of the business section of Middleton, N. S., was destroyed by fire to-day. The loss is estimated at $150,000. Middleton is in Annapolis County, near the shore of the Bay of Fundy, and about 100 miles from Halifax. It is an important railway junction point.

Pulled Off the Rocks.
SEATTLE, Jan. 27.—The steamer Tees has been pulled off the rocks by a tug and proceeded to Victoria under her own steam.

MUST KEEP PULP FOR HOME MARKET

Hon. Mr. Cochrane Says Plainly Ontario Government Will Not Assent to Free Exchange—Fair Play for the North Country Demands Present Policy.

No doubt need be entertained in regard to the attitude of the Ontario Government with respect to their pulp wood policy. The following is an authoritative statement of the government's position:

The proposed free interchange of pulpwood, pulp and the coarser grades of paper, which is subject to the consent of the several Canadian provinces interested, is not likely to find favor with the government of the Province of Ontario.

Hon. Mr. Cochrane, minister of lands, forests and mines, left for Sarnia with Hon. Mr. Hanna at noon yesterday to address a meeting last night. Mr. Cochrane was asked as he was leaving if he could say what the position of the Government of Ontario would be on the matter:

Opposed to Change.
"It has not yet been considered or discussed by the government," said Mr. Cochrane, "but I may say personally that I would be strongly opposed to any change in our existing policy. For three years past, in all pulp concessions advertised by the crown, we have imposed the condition that the pulp should be manufactured into paper in Canada. My own view is that this is the proper course to pursue if we are to develop the natural resources of our back districts as we hope to see them develop. In justice to the industrial possibilities of our great North country, and in the interests of the settler, for whom we desire to provide local markets, we must seek to conserve our resources. I could not recommend any other course."

It will be remembered that previous to three years ago the conditions governing the disposal of pulp concessions permitted the manufacture into pulp only of pulp or paper. As a result paper made could be taken across the line and finished into paper in American factories.

A Genuine Musical Comedy.
There are many so-called musical comedies that are really not musical comedies. The successful organization, "When Sweet Sixteen," which will be at the Princess next week, is regarded by the critics to be a musical attraction par excellence.

A Play Among Plays.
Seldom is there witnessed by theatregoers a play with such a strong scope as that which appears in the third act of David Belasco's production of "The Lily," now being presented at the Princess Theatre. "The Lily" will be seen here this afternoon and evening, when the engagement closes.

TAFT MAY APPEAL TO THE DEMOCRATS IF HIS OWN PARTY FAILS HIM

A BIG MISTAKE SAYS MR. ROWLEY

"We Were Beguiled Into This Thing," Declares President of the C.M.A.—A Blow to the Preference.

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—That the views of Mr. W. H. Rowley, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, do not coincide with those who framed the proposed new tariff arrangement between Canada and the United States, is evident from a statement which he handed out to-night.

"Reciprocity of any kind at the present time is a mistake," said Mr. Rowley. "We were beguiled into this thing."

Continuing, he said: "There is absolutely no necessity for any change at the present time. But it is just possible that in the future certain changes in the tariff may be advisable. It is inopportune, however, to readjust our tariff with the United States now. We should wait until we see what the Democratic party—the new party of power—is going to do."

"It is foolhardy to go about revising tariffs until we know how we stand with the Democrats. We should not tinker with our tariff at present, as at present we are doing very well as we are. We do not want any assistance from the United States in the management of our affairs. They had better learn first to manage their own."

Disturbs the Preference.
"Then there is another reason why these changes should not be brought about. We do not want anything done which will disturb our well-understood trade policy with Great Britain, and it looks to me as though the new arrangement would do so. We do not want anything done which will minimize or lessen the full benefits which we give Great Britain under the preference, and, as I say, it looks as though this agreement would do that."

"The new agreement also looks like an attempt on the part of President Taft and the United States Government to interfere with the work of imperial federation. It looks like the beginning of commercial union between Canada and the United States—a union which would be of vast benefit to the United States, and of no lasting benefit to Canada. Such a step will mean the wasting of our forests, fisheries, lands, fur-bearing animals, waterways and other public utilities, the same as they have been wasted in the United States. Our farmers and wheat growers of the west will become the victims of the same tactics that have been adopted in the United States. That is to say, the States will take everything from us, and replace it with nothing. Our lands will become barren, our forests denuded, and our rivers dry."

"I think U. S. Senate Will Kill It."
"I have been speaking as a citizen of this country; now I wish to speak as a manufacturer, with an extended knowledge of industrial conditions throughout the Dominion. I want to say that nothing should be done which will disturb in any way the life and energy of any industry in this country. Anyhow, I do not expect the United States Senate will pass the agreement. They can't manage their own affairs, at least, not in the same businesslike way we do ours."

"The people of this continent should ponder on the fact that Canada stands on the edge and limit of the last west. What we want to do is to absolutely protect our splendid natural resources which a generous Providence has given us. Let us stand firm and hold our own."

"I have been advised that the tariff committee of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association met last evening in Toronto to consider Mr. Fielding's draft of the new agreement. They adjourned without discussion until next week, when I hope to be present. When that meeting takes place this country will know more fully the views of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association on the question of trade relations with the United States."

The Tariff and Men's Hats

The tariff agreement with the United States does not affect many manufactured goods. As a matter of fact in many lines we enjoy a very low tariff on goods imported from the mother country. In woollens and men's wear, such as hats, we hold the unique position of being able to purchase better goods at a lower rate than our friends south of the border. Take English-made stiff hats for instance. Hatters sell the English product in New York for eight dollars each, and we, due to low duty, are able to offer the same hat for four dollars in Toronto. Directors of the great English-made hats—that by Henry Heath of London, England, for which he is sole Canadian agent. Store open till ten o'clock Saturday night.

31ST YEAR.

President is Determined to Carry Reciprocity, Even if He Has to Call a Special Session—Snags Loom Up for Tariff Measure—Hope for Support of New Congress.

ANXIOUS ABOUT THE TARIFF ON WOOL.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Snags began to loom up in the pathway of the Canadian reciprocity agreement before it had been in congress twenty-four hours, and confident predictions of its failure were made by pillars of the protective faith. It was said that even should the house accept the terms of the arrangements it could not pass the senate.

These dire prophecies were carried to the White House by members who visited the president, but Mr. Taft received them with smiles, which indicated that one defeat would not turn him from his purpose. If his own party fails to seize the opportunity and the credit of putting into operation this reciprocal trade pact, the president, it is believed, will not hesitate to submit his program to the Democrats.

One man in the confidence of the president who has been the administration's mouthpiece on more than one occasion, came from the White House to-night with the declaration that the proposed Canadian arrangement would not die an easy death so long as Mr. Taft was in the White House.

"The president was never more in earnest in his advocacy," he said. "He would not hesitate to call an extra session if he thought such a course would do the business."

The Cost of Living.
President Taft believes the mutual concessions arranged by the U. S. and Canada promise a great humanitarian movement that ultimately would mean a material reduction in the cost of living. He believes that, even if the promised reductions are not at once apparent, the very presence of this document in congress will prove a deterrent force against continued advancement in the price of foods.

Mr. Taft was disappointed that the tariff board had not completed its investigations of "Schedule K," the wool tariff—so that he could recommend at the same time a reduction in the duties on clothing. He believes that this commission would have appealed so forcibly to the great army of wage workers, who have felt the pinch of constantly advancing prices of what they eat and wear, that there would have been manifested at once an overwhelming demand thruout the country for the adoption of his program.

The overturning of the Republican majority of the house and the change in the complexion of the senate after March 4, is thought to give President Taft more than an even chance of success. When the resolution to put the trade agreement into force, such a resolution can be brought out of committee. The seven Democrats on the committee are believed to be in sympathy with the agreement, and it is certain that four Republicans will vote to report it.

The Opposing Forces.
The Republican counted upon to vote to report the resolution, are McCall of Massachusetts, Hill of Connecticut, Neuharth of California and Longworth of Ohio. Chairman Payne and Representative Dwight, both of New York, are believed to be in opposition, but it is doubtful if they will take a determined stand against the president's wishes. Should the resolution be brought out of the ways and means committee within the next two weeks a vote could be had on it in the house during the session.

It is in the senate that the barriers now look impenetrable. A Republican member of the finance committee said not one of the majority of that body favored the proposed agreement.

Some of those who favor the arrangement believe that Senator Culom will vote for it, and that Aldrich would give it his support if he were in Washington. It is admitted, however, that a majority of the committee as now constituted is opposed to the proposed arrangement, and it probably will require a majority vote of the senate for the discharge of the committee if a resolution to put the measure in force is brought out in the open.

After March 4 there will be seven vacancies, half of the members of the finance committee. It is not doubted that the filling of these vacancies, when the senate organizes for the next session, will increase the chances for favorable action on the reciprocity agreement.

The "stand pat" Republicans in the house were laughing loudly among themselves to-day at the position in which they stand. The members from the corn and wheat country must find themselves as a result of the proposition to place grains on the free list.

"The insurgents made the walking stick with their demands for further revision of the tariff and for lower duties," said one of the old-timers, "now let's see what they are going to do about it."

DR. CHAPMAN'S VIVID DESCRIPTION OF HELL

Place Where Mercy is Ended, He Says—Four Thousand in Massey Hall.

"There's a place where mercy is ended. That's enough." This is the way Dr. Chapman described hell. "Four thousand people crowded into Massey Hall last night to hear about 'the nether region,' and Dr. Chapman lost no time in telling what he thought of it. He doesn't seem to talk about hell, and admitted that he didn't.

"I want every person in this building to pray for me," said the evangelist, in commencing his address. "I need the sympathy of every Christian here to-night. I wish I might spend the time paying a tribute to Jesus, but I feel that God wanted me to choose the subject I am to discuss."

Since the campaign opened has Dr. Chapman delivered a more impressive or powerful address. His words seemed to make a greater impression on the audience than ever before. The appeal was eloquent, even at times dramatic.

"God casts no one into perdition," he exclaimed. "Hell was never made for you, but for the devils and his angels. I understand quite well that punishment is here when we break God's laws, but there is more than that. There's a place where mercy is ended. That's enough."

City of Despair.

Dr. Chapman waited a moment in silence.

"What would Toronto be," he said. "If all hope was taken away? Close your church doors, drive your ministers from the city, turn Jesus out. Then, indeed, we would have a city of despair. If you ever come to a place where hope is dead, to reach that spot you will have to step over the Bible—over the cross—over the outreaching arms of Jesus. Ten thousand years from to-night you will be somewhere. In the name of your mother, in memory of your father, I plead: 'Turn ye, for why will ye die?'"

"Perhaps I have spoken to you poorly enough. But I would not shun to declare to you the whole counsel of God."

There was no benediction pronounced. Dr. Chapman said he would ask no one on this occasion to make a decision without having time to think it over. A hush seemed to fill the entire building.

"Go out without talking," said Dr. Chapman.

"If this thing is true, its an awful thing to jest about it. But settle the question before you close your eyes in sleep to-night."

The meeting was over.

Stricken With Paralysis.

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—While attending the funeral of the late J. E. Schwartz to-day J. A. Clarke, relieving purchasing agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway of Montreal, was stricken with paralysis, and is seriously ill here. He fell just outside of his hotel. He is still unconscious.

DRIFTING

(By J. Wilbur Chapman).

"Lest—we drift away."—Hebrews ii, 1, R. V.

Drifting is an unconscious process and is fraught with danger. It is with the current, and not infrequently against one's will. When will is ignored the danger signals may well be thrown out ahead of us.

It is the result of lack of effort to hold one's self in the way or to stem the tide, and such experiences in ordinary life presuppose defeat.

We do not realize the extent of our drifting until we look back to the place where once we were moored and safe.

Drifting in the night is most to be feared and is not easily detected.

There is a mighty current to-day towards materialism, worldliness, selfishness, and a disposition to obtain success at any cost. To drift with such a current is at the cost of all which makes life's journey joyous and its end a coronation.

There was a time when you had high ideals, holy ambitions, sincere faith. Your lips framed prayers, your heart overflowed with songs. Then contentment was yours.

To-day you are drifting. The sky is darkening with heavy clouds, the night is coming on, the stars are hidden, wrecked lives are about you. Your danger is increasing.

Better call the Pilot to your aid. He will aid you in your struggle against the tide, steer you safely around the breakers—take you into safe harbor.

I speak of Jesus.

A NEW PLAYER-PIANO.

Readers of this paper have a special invitation to visit the new and beautiful warehouses of the old firm of Heintzman & Co., 193-195-197 Yonge-street, Toronto, and inspect the new player piano of this firm. It has fittingly been termed "a new creation"—a different kind of player piano—because of its aluminum action—exclusive feature—and other special features in construction. This instrument has won the admiration of leading musicians in all parts of the Dominion.

The artist and author have combined in producing something that will rivet your attention in this week's Sunday World Magazine Section, entitled "Baseless of Ingotitude." You had better order early from your newsdealer or newsboy.

VERDICT ON EACH COUNT JUDGE RIDDELL ASKS

Jury to Be Presented With Chain of Queries—Medical Evidence For Defence.

"The time taken to-day by the defence indicates that it may be necessary to have a special verdict on all the matters and no general verdict on any count. I will submit to the jury a chain of questions and when they answer them a special verdict will be found, and I will direct the jury to bring in this verdict as indicated in the answers to these questions. The court—that is myself—has no power to supplement a special verdict. If I found that this company were acting as they pleaded regardless of the law, that might be one thing. If I found they had acted upon legal advice that would be another."

With these words, Justice, Riddell adjourned the crown's case against the Toronto Street Railway Company last evening until 11 o'clock Monday morning.

By the last two sentences, his lordship referred to certain bylaws governing what the public were required to do or not to do, which the company had put in force, and which, if not in force, would render them guilty of some kind of a misdemeanor.

Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., asserted that the company had acted upon advice of E. S. Osler, K.C., and that Manager Fleming would be put in the witness box on Monday to testify to that effect.

In this case the company would be guilty in this respect.

Where Doctors Disagree.

A peculiar feature of the day's proceedings was the adverse medical evidence produced by witnesses for defence as opposed to the medical witnesses who testified for the crown. For instance, Dr. Silverthorn couldn't see any danger to life from overcrowding inside a car, and as to coughing and sneezing being a factor in spreading disease, that was only a small danger. Danger from coughing, so far as sputum went, was not great, because it did not travel far. Sputum did not separate into small particles. The danger of one particular person becoming affected by one particular cough or a dozen coughs was very slight.

This was the testimony given in answer to questions of counsel for the company, but to Corporation Counsel Drayton, witness admitted that the closer the contact and the danger the crowds in cars the greater was the danger of a diseased person spreading disease.

Dr. J. M. Cotton seemed to lightly regard the alleged danger from sneezing or coughing, particularly sneezing, which he said was an affection of the nose, and, consequently not tubercular.

No Danger From Sneezing.

Chief Coroner A. J. Johnston said that some years ago the theory was held that there was danger of contagion from sneezing, but that had been disproved. "If you have 1000 people together you have 100 chances of getting disease," he said. "If you have 10 you have only 10 chances, of course."

"But," he added, "the danger of infection is no greater on a street car than on the street." Dr. Johnston is consulting surgeon for the Street Railway Co.

Policeman McMenomy stated that if regulating the traffic at King and Yonge-streets he couldn't get the cars across the intersection fast enough in rush hours even by allowing south-bound and north-bound and east and west-bound cars to overlap and pass each other. He was so busy in getting autos, street cars and other vehicles thru that he could not pay any attention to the way people acted in boarding cars.

P. C. Ernest Hobson, stationed at Queen and Yonge-streets, had the same experience to relate. The cars could not be put over the intersection any faster than was being done.

John K. Stanley, general manager of the Cleveland Street Railway System said that an attempt had been made in that city to prevent overcrowding, but it caused a great outcry. Divisional Superintendent G. W. Barker of Buffalo said that Toronto cars were not as heavily loaded as in the "Bison City." They were unable to enforce the order to keep people off the rear platform, and hoped to solve the problem of overcrowding by laying more lines.

Single Trucks in Pittsburgh.

John A. Laughlin of Pittsburgh, with a population of 585,000, said that one-third of their 956 cars were of the single truck variety. They had fenders on their motors, but no protection in front of their trailers.

Henry Bullen, who has the same status in Detroit as R. J. Fleming has here, announced that they had 19 accidents by street cars, 28 by autos and 32 by steam railways last year.

Superintendent Blair of the Montreal Street Railway, owned by Mr. Drayton, said that the civic commission had ordered single truck cars off the service, and they couldn't operate them without special permission being obtained.

Superintendent McCullough of the Toronto system estimated that 10,000 people boarded cars daily at the corner of King and Yonge-streets, and 15,000 at Queen and Yonge.

"Evidently there are as many cars as can possibly be put on between King and Queen-streets," commented his lordship.

Later in the proceedings, Justice Riddell advised company's counsel, also R. J. Fleming, that he proposed to ask why the company couldn't avoid sending so many cars across the intersection of King and Yonge-streets. He suggested that they might bring certain King cars up York, along Queen, down Church and east on King-street, and vice versa from east to west.

Old Country Dance.

Over 120 stewart lads and buxom lasses of Northumberland and Durham Counties attended the monthly dance of their association in the Sons of England Hall last night.

VIRTUES OF SINGLE TAX

A. B. Farmer Discusses Them Before Laurier Club.

At a meeting of the Laurier Club last night the subject of the "Ontario Assessment Act" was discussed. The question was ably introduced by A. B. Farmer, president of the Ontario Tax Reform Association. A number of points were brought out in favor of a tax on "ground values" rather than "property values."

"For instance," he said, "we see in the Toronto downtown district a little tumble-down shack next to a large fireproof building. The large building is compelled to pay an additional tax because of its proximity to the fire trap alongside, for fire protection. If the taxation were on the basis of ground values rather than property values the shack would soon be torn down, and an office building erected, and a more uniform built up city would result. This has been proven to be the case in Vancouver, where the 'ground value' is used as the basis of taxation."

This Week's Comic Section of The Toronto Sunday World has for a frontispiece the Katzenjammer Kids putting one over on the captain and getting away with it. Foxy Grandpa's experience with the boys will make all the little folks laugh; then we have Jimmy, who gets into trouble by listening to a sad tale; Happy Hooligan as a great actor; Howson Lot, who has troubles with the professor. It will interest the grown-ups perhaps just as much as it will the juveniles. For sale by all newsdealers and newsboys.

Every Boy Scout who took part in the big field-day up the Humber last Saturday will want to see the pictures of that event in this week's Sunday World. Only Five Cents per copy.

Turned Back Again.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Jan. 27.—(Special.)—After having once been refused admittance to Canada, Samuel Richman, a Russian Jew, crossed the bridge, showing a Lehigh Valley employee's pass to the ticket-taker. Provincial Officer Kelly recognized Richman as a man previously turned back to the States. He was fined $5 by Magistrate Fraser to-day and deported.

UNKNOWN SUICIDES

Shot Himself in Room at a Niagara Falls Hotel.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Jan. 27.—(Special.)—J. B. Berriman, residence unknown, suicided some time during last night in room 15 of the Windsor Hotel, this city, by shooting himself in the head with a 38 calibre revolver. The bullet passed thru his head from over the left ear and fell on the floor, the blood spurting over the bed clothes. Nothing could be found on him to trace where he came from. His leather valise bore the above name. He had a gold-filled open-face watch and $7.15 in cash. All his linen was stamped "J. B. Berriman." He has every indication of an Englishman lately out about 45 years of age and of fair complexion. He was 5 feet 9 inches, and weighed 180 pounds; had brown hair and moustache, and appeared as a well-dressed business man.

Eggs and Fruit Cheaper.

Local coal dealers seem unanimous in saying that the reduced tariff on slack coal will not materially affect the situation.

That eggs and fruit will be cheaper in Toronto seems the belief of commission houses. It is stated that the price of the former will be regulated by the price in New York and Chicago, where Canada's surplus will go. Cold storage eggs in Chicago are going at 17 cents a dozen, and if this arrangement had been in force they would have been the same price here.

Cement Unchanged.

Cement dealers say the change will not affect the price of cement materially.

Automobile manufacturers also remark "never touched us."

S. N. Waldie of the Victoria Harbor Lumber Co. said:

"I think that the reduction will give us a better market for our lower class lumber. I don't think prices will be affected, tho'."

Art Exhibition at Library.

To-day is free day at the splendid loan exhibition of pictures in the gallery of the public library at St. George and College-streets. The collection is the work of deceased Canadian artists, and is well worthy a visit.

Closed on Evenings Now.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Jan. 27.—The announcement was made to-day that the local branch banks would be closed Saturday evenings after Feb. 25. This is in connection with the movement all over the country to close all banks during the evenings in future.

Rehearsal Lodge, A.F. & A.M. will hold an at home in the Temple Building on Thursday, Feb. 2.

FIRE CAUSED $18,000 LOSS

Broke Out in McNab Fur Company's Store and Kept Firemen Busy.

Fire, which broke out in the second storey of the McNab Fur Company, 274 Yonge-street, at 6:15 last night, damaged those premises to the extent of $600 and stock to the extent of $18,000.

The cause of the fire is unknown. The blaze was heavy for a time, but the firemen had it under control in 15 minutes and out in an hour. The heaviest damage was by smoke and water.

BRITANNIA LODGE.

Britannia Lodge L.O.L. 1288 held their annual supper, concert and dance in Victoria Hall last night, nearly 800 members and friends enjoying the festivities. Among those at the head tables were: Mayor Geary, Grand Master Harry Lovelock and County Master William Bush.

WAS TERRIBLY AFFLICTED WITH LAME BACK.

COULD NOT SWEEP FLOOR.

Three Boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills Cured Her.

It is hard to do housework with a weak and aching back. Backache comes from sick kidneys, and what a lot of trouble sick kidneys cause.

But they can't help it. If more work is put on them than they can stand it is not to be wondered they get out of order.

Weak back is simply a warning from the kidneys and should be attended to immediately so as to avoid years of terrible suffering from kidney trouble.

Mrs. N. Larmour, Smith's Falls, Ont., writes:—"I take pleasure in writing you, stating the benefit I have received by using Doan's Kidney Pills. About a year ago I was terribly afflicted with lame back and was so bad I could not even sweep my own floor. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, which I did, and with the greatest benefit. I only used three boxes and I am as well as ever. I highly recommend these pills to any sufferer from lame back or kidney trouble."

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

N.L.U. MEETING TO-DAY

The Toronto men to attend the N.L.U. meeting at the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, at 2.30 p.m. to-day left last night.

From the present outlook Jimmy Murphy will be the first pick for president and it would not be at all surprising if he made his election unanimous.

HOCKEY NOTES.

Varsity and Argonauts play a Senior O. H. A. game to-night at Mutual-street rink. The college boys have to pull down a five-goal lead in order to win the game.

The Parkdale team are practicing every night this week, soft or hard ice, and are developing great teamwork. They practice to-night at 8.30.

Considerable interest is being manifested in to-night's game between Wanderers and Ottawa. In Montreal, rivalry of long standing exists between the two clubs.

It should be a great game in Stratford Monday night. Menford Juniors have defaulted their remaining game, thus giving Collingswood the district championship.

There will be a dining car attached to the Parkdale special to Stratford Monday. The fans will appreciate this.

TORONTO CANOE CLUB DEFEAT BROADVIEW 1-0

One of the Hardest Fought Games Played This Season at the Mutual-Street Rink.

Toronto Canoe Club juniors defeated Broadview at Mutual-street Rink last night by 1-0, with no score at half-time.

Two overtime games and a 1-to-0 game have been the last three days' sport at Mutual-street Rink among the juniors, and hard contests they were all the way thru, and no let-up of any kind.

Last night, on the heaviest kind of going, the paddlers won out by the narrowest kind of a margin—1 to 0. Both teams were very evenly matched, and during the closing moments of the game Broadview were all over their opponents, and with any kind of luck should have tied the score.

Canadiens Win Great Game. RENFREW, Ont., Jan. 27.—The Renfrew hockey team lost another game in the National Hockey Association on their own ice, going down to defeat before the wonderful fast Canadiens of Montreal.

Canadiens substituted Delaire for Payan the first period, and the latter was injured. Gilchrist for McNamara, and Doherty and then Sprague Cleghorne for Smith.

North End returns to it again with the suggestion that the local lacrosse club may now have some prospect of landing the championship.

FRISCO FIGHTER SAYS C. MORRIS IS SOME HOPE

Australia Has Promising Youth, Named Colin Bell—England Has a Few.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—The germ of activity is manifesting itself again in heavyweight circles and unless signs fail, there will be a contest for the championship during the present year, writes Big Bill Naughton.

Who will be the other? Barney Oldfield's recent attempt to justify his claim of being druged in Reno has caused a certain suspicion to arise.

Some people see in this intimation of Jeff's desire to get a return match with Johnson, I don't regard it as a nightmare to Jeffries, and that he is leaving no stone unturned to bring the public to a way of thinking that his defeat was brought about by foul play.

The search for a "white man's hope" is certainly becoming world-wide. This country has several brand-new candidates for the championship.

He is rawboned and tall, as most up-country Australian youths are. He has been assigned to Foley's tender mercies by a rich land owner named Warby.

The Cyclone Johnny Thompson has offered himself as a trial horse for Jeffries, and when the last mail steamer left Australia it looked as though the Thompson match would be arranged.

The idea of a sacrifice to aspiring heavyweights will cause some of Cyclone's friends in this country a smile, but it is not so apparent to the Australian climate has so affected Thompson that he has become big enough to fight any man who is big enough to fight him.

Tommy Burns is coming back into the lists again, the veteran being that he has accepted Hugh McIntosh's offer of $2500 to box Bill Lang of Australia in London.

While Lang and Burns are still in England, they cannot Carl Morris and Al Kaufman arrange a match in this country? If this were done the new hope would be reduced to such an extent that it would not be hard to select the man who has the best right to challenge Johnson.

HARNESS HORSE GOSSIP STAKE EVENTS FOR EX.

Suggestion For Driving Clubs to Put on Some Early Closing Races.

The driving clubs of Toronto have both held their annual meetings, and have presented good reports. Now the Exhibition Association have held their inaugural meeting, and will no doubt be appointing committees. Would this not be a good time to look into some stake events for the coming National Exhibition, and also for the driving clubs to take the matter up and put on some early closing events?

It may be said that the Exhibition Association could not make stake events pay unless privileges could be collected. The past two years the races have been good, but what we want is better than has been. The stake events will draw the best class of horses we have in Canada, and would be an inducement as well to our neighbors to the south of us. The attendance at the harness races the past year was at both the Exhibition and the meeting given by the Toronto Driving Club, away ahead of what it has been for some years. One of the reasons for that was the increased purses, and I am led to believe that the entries have been much larger than in former years. If these stake events were opened, I believe the entry list would double. A city the size of Toronto, with so many lovers of the light harness race, should be able to give at least purses as large as some of the smaller towns in Ontario. Let both the Exhibition Association and the driving clubs take this matter up and see if Toronto, instead of following, may be the leader.

The outlook for racing next season on the half-mile tracks in Canada is very encouraging. If track managers, judges, owners and drivers will one and all guard against every form of crookedness, the interest in the sport will increase all over the country. Matrices racing has done much to keep alive the interest in the light harness racing.

The new performer, Flying Jib (2164), is not by Deveras (2114), as reported, but was bred by Claus Forrester (2114), son of Santa Claus (2174). The dam of Flying Jib was by Hercules, a horse that was called a Hambletonian.

The Montreal races are over, and now for Ottawa. Sir Jas. Coulter has made all the necessary arrangements for the Toronto contingent, having a special car attached for the horsemen and their friends. The tickets have been distributed, and are for sale at Mr. Coulter's office, 118 West Queen street, or at W. A. McCullough's (secretary) Dufferin Driving Club, 360 West Queen street. The rate is $10.00, good going on the 23rd; good to return till Feb. 28. The Toronto contingent will go on Wednesday, Feb. 1, by night train, arriving in Ottawa for the first day's races.

It is related of the successful trainer and driver, also popular horseman and author John Splan, that on one occasion while waiting for a horse to be ridden, he was approached by someone who had witnessed the race from the grand stand. Wishing to encourage the noted horseman, this spectator remarked: "Mr. Splan, your horse's name is 'The Best' under the wire. I heard more than twenty people in the grand stand say so." Pointing his whip at the judge's stand, he philosophically retorted: "My friend, I would rather have the opinion of those three men up in that little club, than the opinion of the people in the grand stand and on the grounds."

The Canadian hammer circuit will be inaugurated in Chatham, June 6, 7 and 8. Then comes Seaforth, 13th, 14th and 15th; Tillsonburg, 20th, 21st and 22nd; Aylmer, 28th, 29th and 30th; and July 1, London, July 2, 4, 5, 6 and 7; St. Thomas, July 11, 12, 13 and 14. All told, $17,000 in early season races will be offered at the big meetings, together with plenty of speculation and good cheer.

David T. Harless of Buffalo has shipped his pacer, Spray, Nyrwig and Game Maid, to Ottawa for the big ice-racing carnival, which commences on January 29, at 10 a.m. Both mares are entered in several 1000 stakes. The year that the killing was made in Ottawa was 1908, when the mare entered in the name of Mrs. O'Keefe.

Midland has an ice meeting booked for Feb. 25 and 26, at Bowling Ottawa. Hamilton has a similar one with races, too. If the 12th, 13th and 14th are the harness horses may be at all success.

Diago H. J. (2074) is the recognized champion of the pacing brigade over in Buffalo this winter. He is owned and driven by Oliver Cabana, Jr.

TORONTO NIGHT AT BUFFALO. Report comes from Buffalo that the 10th Regiment has held there tonight by the 10th Regiment has the largest number of Canadians entered of any meet ever held there, and it has been decided to call it Toronto night. This is the way they will start in the relay race and from all accounts a record will be established.

Prices for Horses Fair at Repository Another Good Sale

Another good sale was held at Burns & Sheppard's Repository yesterday. The galleries as well as the ring were filled during the entire sale. Nearly everything offered was sold and the prices were very fair. Several western parties filled up their car lots. The Repository seems to be a great meeting place for horsemen. Representatives of all classes of horses meet there on the sale days and there is a lot of business done, not only in horses, but in horse goods.

R. Loyd of Saskatoon bought a car lot of 14 horses, averaging $180 each. This was an extra fine lot and when paraded were a grand sight. They were mostly mares. R. J. Thompson, a western gentleman, got a nice pair, a black gelding and a bay mare, nicely broken together and showing a lot of class. They were in the pink of condition and fit to go in a show ring. This pair was bought by W. A. Silverwood and he will make a grand team of 14 horses, averaging $180 each. This was an extra fine lot and when paraded were a grand sight. They were mostly mares. R. George McMichael bought a pair of brown geldings at $150.00; pair of bay geldings, $30; bay gelding, $18. A. McMichael, black mare, $18; B. Charles, bay gelding, $20; John Collins, a grand bay gelding, $20; brown gelding, $10; Gums, Limited, a good bay gelding, $10; a black mare, $10; a bay mare, $10; Webster of Owen Sound bought a big dark brown gelding, a beautifully made horse, would make a grand team with great feet and legs; not too much hair; good flat bone, and could act like a hackney. This fellow was $100. The same firm bought a nice bay mare at $100. The Farrame Co. bought a grey gelding for wagon use at $125. The same firm bought a nice bay gelding, $125. W. V. Hunter, bay gelding, $125.00. J. M. Phillips, black gelding, $80. J. Phillips, bay gelding, $80.00. J. Phillips, black mare, $25.00. J. Brice of Cuper, bay gelding, $25.00. J. Brice, J. Walsh, black mare, a grand one, $200. W. Trussler, Huntsville, brown gelding, $175.00. J. Brice, brown gelding, $147.50.

There were the usual number of cheap city horses sold at prices about the same as last sale. A very large quantity of blankets were sold at auction. Mr. Burns was again at his office, but has not as yet been in the harness business. He is improving every day and hopes to soon take his accustomed place. He was well pleased with the result of the sale.

Statute of Limitations Never Runs. A well-known Kansas banker told a story the other day about the statute of limitations. One day an old southerner walked into this banker's office. The southerner was a typical gentleman of the old school. "What can I do for you?" asked the banker. "Well," replied the southerner, "about thirty-five years ago I loaned a man down south some money—not a very big sum. I told him that when ever I should need it, I would let him know and he could pay me the money. I need some money now, so I shall let him know and I would like to have you transmit the business for me."

"My good friend," replied the banker, "you have no claim on that money. The statute of limitations has run against that loan years and years ago."

"Sir," replied the southerner, "the man to whom I loaned the money is a gentleman. The statute of limitations never runs against a gentleman."

So the banker sent for the money, and within a reasonable time there was a courtly gentleman at the other end of the transaction also—Kansas City Journal.

Light Heavied. Nice—Uncle, they say that there are more marriages of blondes than of brunettes. Why is it, I wonder? "Uncle Singleton" (as confirmed and splenetic bachelor) "H'm. Naturally, the light-headed ones go first."

Late Charlie Barr The Great Record Of Famous Skipper

Capt. Barr, who died suddenly of heart failure Tuesday in Southampton, England, has been in England since last spring, when he took over his last command, the schooner Westward, built by the Herreshoffs for A. S. Cochran of the New York Yacht Club. With the Westward, Capt. Barr won many trophies in the regattas at Kiel and Cowes last summer. His remarkable success as skipper of the defenders of the America's Cup gave him international fame and a high place in European and American yachting circles. The news of his death brought out many expressions of keen regret from the yachting and yachting men the world over.

Charles Barr was born at Gourock, Scotland, in 1864. His father was a Scottish boat builder. Charlie, as he was called, was always known as the skipper of the regattas at Kiel and Cowes last summer. His remarkable success as skipper of the defenders of the America's Cup gave him international fame and a high place in European and American yachting circles. The news of his death brought out many expressions of keen regret from the yachting and yachting men the world over.

His first experience in the America's Cup races was on a Scotch challenger, Thistle in 1887. He acted as mate on the Thistle, his brother, John Barr, being the skipper. This race brought Charlie much prestige, and two years later he brought over the Minerva, which he won. He was skipper of the twenty-two starts, and in 1890 he captured ten starts out of twelve starts.

The following year, against the newly-built Defender in the trial races off Sandy Hook, a second trip to England in 1899, he was selected from a score of skippers to handle the famous Columbia, which sent the Shamrock II back to England. The Shamrock II was called back to the Columbia in 1901, and won an uphill fight. Barr beat out his competitor, a newer boat, in the race for the America's Cup defence. The sailing duel that year between Barr on the Columbia and Rhoades on the Constitution was regarded as the grandest fight in American yachting annals. The Shamrock II met the fate of her sister, altho this second attempt of Sir Thomas Lipton to lift the cup failed, altho defeated by the crew work of Charlie Barr in the last race off Sandy Hook.

Then came Charlie Barr's real advent as an America's Cup defender. In 1903 he was selected from a score of skippers to handle the famous Columbia, which sent the Shamrock II back to England. The Shamrock II was called back to the Columbia in 1901, and won an uphill fight. Barr beat out his competitor, a newer boat, in the race for the America's Cup defence. St. James' Basketball Team Wins. In the opening game of the City Basketball League, intermediate section, St. James' Catholic parish house last evening, St. James' signaled their entry into the City League by defeating Varsity by a score of 25 to 21. The game was a remarkably fast one and marked by very close checking throughout. The teams lined up as follows: St. James' (21): Armour, Smith, Mitchell, Rankin (capt.), Russell. Varsity (21): Preston, Scott, Chadwick, Carey, E. R. Buscombe. St. James' will play West End an intermediate City League match on Tuesday evening and Hamilton Y.M.C.A. Saturday, Feb. 4. Both games will be played on St. James' floor.

GREAT BOOM IN PUGILISM FIGHTERS FLEE TO LONDON

LONDON, Jan. 21.—London has become the Mecca of half the big fighting men of the world. From Australia and America those of the big fellows who have proved handy with their fists have made the journey to this country so as to engage in what is likely to prove one of the biggest tournaments that England has yet known.

The boom in boxing has not been exaggerated, and if evidence is required to show that it is not a passing fancy, one of the many halls which cater to the enthusiast will supply more than sufficient proof.

For the coming battles, however, something will be attempted which will be in the nature of a new introduction to England.

The Americans will bring with them their own managers and sparring partners, and it is the intention to establish a number of training camps which will be conducted on lines similar to that which has been the feature of the preliminaries at Reno.

Small charges will be made for admission. In the afternoon the boxing will go through a performance with their partners, while each day bulletin will be issued giving the names of the men and all the necessary details. People in general will be given an excellent idea of the introductory boxes set into shape for their big fights.

That much money is at present being made by the promoters, but it is not that many who are taking part in the number of small fry greatly outnumber those who have excellent reputations.

In the smaller halls the participants in the minor bouts are snatched for a few shillings, and as a rule they are much more battered than the men in the big bouts. The promoters are arranged at least a couple of times a week. In no instances are the prices small, yet it is a remarkable fact that on almost every occasion the places are quite filled.

O'KEEFE PILSENER BEER LAGER "The Light Beer in the Light Bottle" Is Far Better Than The Government Regulation Requires The Canadian Government regulation, regarding the brewing of lager, is probably the most exacting in the world. It calls for a brew of Hops, Malt and Water only. The American Government places no such restrictions on her brewers. O'Keefe's "Pilsener" not only complies with the Canadian Government regulations—but is brewed of the very finest Hops and Malt, and pure filtered Water. SATURDAY MORNING, JAN. 28, 1911.

THERE WILL BE NO DEAL.

An appropriate adage to describe the situation in regard to reciprocity is the one which says: "There is many a slip betwixt the cup and the lip"; a still more homely and more pointed one: "There aint goin' to be no core." The World at this writing has no hope, rather, no fear, of the reciprocity deal between the Laurier Government and President Taft becoming effective by reason of legislative endorsement there of at Ottawa and Washington. It may be that the proposition can be voted in parliament at Ottawa, tho' even if it is done there, it must be done by the 4th of March; and it will be no great work if a fraction of the members of the house decide to talk it out. They certainly could do it.

But we pass from that to a consideration of the possibility of the president securing legislative confirmation from the present congress now sitting at Washington. It expires by effluxion of time on the 4th of March. It has a lot of work to do, notably in the matter of appropriation bills. It would, therefore, be a very easy thing for those who are opposed to the proposed arrangement to obstruct it and prevent passage before the 4th of March. There may be enough Republicans representing agricultural, lumber, fishing and other interests affected to easily talk it out; and there will be only a few days at the most allowed to this proposal. And it will be still easier for the Democratic party to obstruct sufficiently to prevent any ratification of the proposal by the 4th of March.

For a moment we wish to present what we consider to be the Democratic attitude towards the proposal: The Democrats, after the 4th of March, will have control of the house of representatives, and by aid of what are called the insurgent Republicans in the senate, they will in all probability have control of that body also. Now the new congress can meet either in special session, if the president decides to call one in March, or the meeting will go over until the time provided by law, in the month of December of this year. The Democrats, after long absence from office, are more than intent upon two things: First, in making good their pledge to reduce the tariff, to reduce it in a drastic way; and second, they are pledged as partisans to prevent President Taft in any way securing credit for a measure which they consider theirs, and which, if it succeeded in carrying in this reciprocity proposal, would go a long way toward giving him a second term, and perhaps giving the Republicans control again of the house and the senate at the close of 1912. Can anyone who happens to be cognizant of political passion in the States imagine the Democrats doing anything of the kind? They are the party, they say, who represent the views of the people in favor of cheap food. The high cost of living was the cry which last fall put the Republicans out of control of the lower house, and the Democrats, therefore, say: We are bound to give it, will insist on giving the relief of a lower tariff and a lowering of the cost of living, and in no way will we assist a party, that has been the friend of high prices for years and years, and a party which, at the present moment, is represented by Mr. Taft, more than by anyone else, to give it.

You can, therefore, put it down as the best opinion of the World, and we think a study of the case will justify the opinion, that there is no prospect of the Fielding-Taft proposals being authorized by law at Washington between now and the 4th of March.

So that there is of only the possibility of the measure being obstructed at Ottawa, but there is every prospect of its being successfully obstructed at Washington. And yet, to our mind, the lowering of the American tariff is in sight, and if that lowering is to come, and if it comes of its own accord as the expression of the views of the American people, it will come in a way much more pronounced and perhaps more advantageous to the raw products of Canada than if it comes by way of the limited Fielding-Taft deal. So that even those Canadians who wish access to the American markets have more to hope from the Democrats, once they are in control of the house of representatives, than they have from the president and his shattered ranks down at Washington.

We do not know that this is exactly the time to pass judgment on Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his methods; but anyone who is familiar with his past can easily see that Sir Wilfrid Laurier long years ago fell a victim to the fetish of British free trade and Cobdenism as the most convenient cloak under which he could mask himself as a great moral reformer. George Brown and Alexander Mackenzie were the same class of man. They wanted a high moral cloak, and free trade furnished the material.

To our mind freer trade with the United States is not the thing that the Canadian people want so much as efficient administration of public affairs in this country and the assertion of public rights, the protection and the enforcement of the laws of Canada that protect or are supposed to protect the common and general interests. For instance, to our mind, the tariff has never been a grievous burden on the Canadian people; but the lack of efficiency in the public departments and the non-enforcement of the law which would bring the railways to time and compel them to give reduced rates to all the people of Canada would be a real and a lasting boon, not only to the people of the east, but to the people of the west. If we had the reduced express rates which we are entitled to, if we had reduced telegraph tolls, which we are entitled to; if we had reduced railway fares and reduced sleeping car berths and things of this kind the marked difference that would have existed between Canada and the United States would be such as would command the respect of all the world. But Sir Wilfrid Laurier, unfortunately, has no inclination in this direction. He wants to do something in the high moral way, and to his mind reduced tariffs seem to be the easiest and the most picturesque. He still thinks of the former missions to Washington; he is still infatuated with his idea of commercial union and continental free trade, and he still, we imagine, wishes to earn the right to wear the Cobden medal, which he accepted some years ago. To him and many of his followers the establishment and the maintenance of a great Canadian nationhood is of less importance than the free trade views which he thinks are the way to political immortality.

The issue then is between a lower tariff and Canadian nationhood, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier prefers a lower tariff to realizing our national aspirations.

What Canada wants at this moment is little or no disturbance of the lines on which the wonderful development of recent years has come to this country, and based largely on that national policy which was adopted thirty years ago.

We do not say that Canada cannot survive under the advent of freer trade with the United States; but we do say that for some years now Canada has a better chance of realizing her right to be a great, free and independent English-speaking community on this North American continent, if she thought less of tariff and more of nationhood. In time we will get all these things and they may be to the advantage of the country, but the first thing to do is to lay good and deep and solid foundations of our claim to half of the North American continent, and of our right to be British and to maintain British institutions and to look forward to some kind of an even closer bond between the various members of the British Empire.

No matter what happens, in any case Canada will go ahead and assert her autonomy and realize her aspirations. And one way to our mind is to make a tariff that suits ourselves absolutely, and not be a party to one which may happen to suit the desire of American statesmen and their aspiration of "unifying this continent."

There is more hope for all America in at least two experiments of free government than there is in one. The American republic to-day is in a state of stress by reason of a combination and concentration of most acute, political, social and economic problems, and Canada, as far as she herself is concerned, ought to avoid anything that would in any way implicate her with these. Our wise policy, therefore, is not to become a party to any entanglement. Let us cut our own fish in our own way. Let the Americans, too, get their own fish, and if a lower tariff is one of them let them have a free hand.

THE EXHIBITION.

Some unworthy gossip has been spread abroad as regards the way the votes went that were cast for directors of the Canadian National Exhibition at the recent annual meeting. President George H. Gooderham, it is said, was nearly left off the board. As a matter of fact there was such a disparity between his vote and the one that failed that he was very far from being laid aside. Indeed, there were but ten votes between the first and the last of the eight representing the manufacturers' section.

If he had been left, it would not only have been a misfortune, but nearly a catastrophe, for none of the very excellent presidents the exhibition has been favored with has served that institution more diligently, energetically and unselfishly than Mr. Geo. H. Gooderham. Still, had he not been counted out, he would not have been the first good man to suffer on account of overconfidence.

We recall the time the late Dr. Andrew Smith was overlooked, only to be triumphantly returned on the next occasion. It was doubtless thought that Mr. Gooderham was safe, and therefore some votes that would and should have gone for him went elsewhere. Anyhow, the story that seven city directors went dead, against him is absurd, and if they did the vote would appear to indicate that the majority of the other nineteen of their colleagues in the council cast their ballots for him.

To speak plainly, it looks as if epistolical political animus were behind the bordered remarks that appeared on Thursday night on the front page of the lesser Liberal organ. This is more than sufficiently implied by the incorrectness of the statements and the misleading deductions contained in the two-inch space.

YONGE-STREET SUBWAY.

Controller Hooken has lost no time in taking up the question on which the people passed favorable judgment so emphatically a year ago. The subway system of railways is bound to come, as Ald. McCarthy observed in council. The elaborate estimates prepared by Messrs. Jacobs and Davies have merely had the effect of indicating that the scheme is not one to be undertaken all at once. The complete development for the next twenty years may appear to be of staggering immensity, but what is immediately needed will not constitute a task impossible for the present.

It has been decided to proceed with care, and estimates are to be had from Engineer Cousins of the city staff of the probable cost of an independent investigation of cost and conditions for a subway on Yonge-street. This will probably be found to be a practicable project, and Controller Hooken's plan to call for tenders for the construction of the tube when designed will at once place the matter on a strictly business basis. There should be little more difficulty in the construction of a tube railway on Yonge-street than there is in building the trunk sewer.

When Hon. Mr. Fielding can arrange for the free exchange of such natural products as Big Bill and Smiling Wilf our trade relations with Uncle Sam will be perfect.

In the great success that attended the joint meeting of the Salvation Army with the Massey Hall revivalists there is a lesson for those who have been wondering why the meetings have not created more interest. The Army holds the key of one of the great secrets.

NORTH AMERICAN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

Elsewhere in this issue of The World will be found in summarized form the report of the directors submitted to the 13th annual meeting of the shareholders in the North American Life Assurance Company. The cash income from premiums and other sources totaled $2,477,021.61, showing the satisfactory increase of $147,134.91 over the revenue for the preceding year. Assets increased by nearly $900,000, and now stand at $11,288,773.32, invested as heretofore in high-class securities, chiefly mortgage loans and bonds. Policyholders received $87,792.31 during the year ending Dec. 31 last, whereas $142,764.06 represented surplus or dividends. The fact that only $6000 was paid to guarantors makes it apparent that the interests of the policyholders are paramount. After making provision for all liabilities and further strengthening the reserves, the net surplus on policyholders' account was increased to $1,174,739.88 and the whole statement reflects highly on the excellent management of the company's business.

WORTHY CITY ENTERPRISE.

Editor World: We are surely justified in speaking of the Canadian National Exhibition, held annually in Toronto the last week of August and the first week of September, as "the" exhibition, for it is the largest, most important and best attended exhibition, not only in Canada, but also in America. At the same time it is doubtless open to improvement—to greater perfection.

One feature worthy of peculiar and particular notice is the fact that it does not depend to any great extent for its popularity, as the majority of other large fairs do, on horse racing. It approaches nearer to the ideal exhibition than any other institution of its kind. Objects of much attention is given to the amusement end. But what would a fair be without its special attractions and its entertainment? It would not be fair at all. And it must be acknowledged that in a general way all entertainment offered at Toronto's big fair is of a clean, wholesome and meritorious character. Especially is this true of its music, its art and the big fireworks sections.

At the annual meeting held on Wednesday the usual chant of praise for every body was heard. Some excellent suggestions were made, especially by Mr. George C. Creelman, relative to the agricultural section. It is omitted to suggest the necessity for improved stables and cattle sheds, and the reports presented left little or nothing to be desired.

Altho no faults were found some it is impossible to avoid expressing in the front ranks was elected for an order striking out paragraph 6, 7, and 8 of statement of claim as irrelevant and therefore embarrassing.

There does not seem to be anything really objectionable in paragraphs 6 and 7. Paragraph 8 stands on different ground and seems to be in violation of the decisions on the point. It cannot be part of the plaintiff's case to show what happened afterwards to the ferocious animal. How it came to its end does not render the defendant liable for what it did several weeks at least earlier. Order made striking out paragraph 8 and defendant to plead in a week thereafter. Success being divided, costs in the cause.

RED CORPUSCLES.

Editor World: Tell me please what woman's divine rights has not got to do with red corpuscles anyway. True, we have a lot to learn, as you say, in your editorial on "Life in Other Worlds," and this I want to know. I thought all to do with woman's sufferings, and I can't see as to how red corpuscles can have any bearing whatsoever on that. I went to 37 Carlton-street, but could not get. I thought I was in the wrong. I got the address wrong. Please advise me. My wife wants one. She says she is a woman suffering and perhaps her corpuscles need adjustment.

STREET RAILWAY CRITICISM.

Editor World: I note a request for opinions from the patrons of the street railway in regard to the services of the company, and an invitation to restrain favorable or otherwise, such testimony might serve a useful purpose. I am not sufficiently acquainted with the conditions in other large cities to judge as to the comparative services. I have seen the Divine Right visitors from other cities almost invariably speak favorably of the Toronto management. It seems that Mayor Geary, for reasons he does not explain, plainly intimates that he does not favor such comparisons.

Aside from any question of comparison, however, I may state that I am a daily user of the Toronto cars at different hours of the day, and during the past year have frequently traveled over all the principal routes in the city, and in the light of my personal experience and observation, I simply cannot understand the constant abuse of the company. It is true that, at certain times of the day, when the crowds are pouring out of the factories, offices and theatres, the cars are frequently overcrowded, as it is well known they are in any large city. When I find a car overcrowded at these rush hours, I simply wait for the next car, and note that most people prefer to get into a crowded car rather than wait for another, even with the prospect of finding more room in the next car which may not be more than one or two minutes later. At other hours in the day, crowded cars are not found as a rule, more often than not half empty cars run regularly on their scheduled time. There are undoubtedly a great many very reasonable passengers who have the opinion that this constant crowding of the railway company and the obstructive tactics at the city hall have done much to prevent the extension and improvement of the system, and that the same have been carried into effect, and that a more friendly attitude on the part of the city would be in the interest of all concerned. I venture to say that, if the mayor or any prominent member of the city council could be prevailed upon to come out squarely and suggest that this abuse of the company should cease and a more friendly attitude towards the railway be adopted, such a recommendation would meet the hearty approval of the business public. There is no good business reason why the railway should not have free entrance to the city. Two sensible and competent business men, one on each side, could and would advance a basis for agreement in ten minutes without sacrificing any present or prospective important interest on either side. Toronto stands notoriously and ridiculously alone in this position as far as the railway is concerned in Canada and the United States.

Defendant by defendant before pleading under C. R. 279, for an order striking out paragraphs 6, 7, and 8 of statement of claim as irrelevant and therefore embarrassing.

There does not seem to be anything really objectionable in paragraphs 6 and 7. Paragraph 8 stands on different ground and seems to be in violation of the decisions on the point. Divisional Court.

Before Meredith, C.J., Teetzel, J.; Sutherland, J. Isherwood v. Ontario and Minnesota Power Co.—G. Osler for defendants. W. H. McGuire for plaintiff. An appeal by defendants from the judgment of the district court of the City of Toronto, Nov. 1, 1910. An action by plaintiff for $800 for damages from being compelled to close down his mill situate on Rainy River, from loss of water alleged to have been caused by defendants thru erection of a dam across the Rainy River at a point between the Town of Fort Frances and the Town of International Falls, Minnesota. At the trial judgment was awarded plaintiff for $300 and costs.

Judgment: Having come to the conclusion that neither of the statutes nor the agreement on which the appellants rely is an answer to the respondent's action, it is unnecessary to consider the question principally discussed on the argument, whether the answer to the respondent's action, coupled with the answers to the other questions, entitled the respondent to have judgment entered in his favor. That question would have been important had the appellants succeeded in establishing their right to erect, operate and maintain their dam and works, without being answerable to property owners for damages necessarily caused by their erection and operation of the dam, for in that case the right of the respondent to recover would have depended on his establishing negligence on the part of the appellants. The appellants also claim that the damages are excessive. Tho' the jury had no doubt measured the damages on a somewhat liberal scale, we do not think that a case has been made for directing a new trial. The appeal falls and must be dismissed, but inasmuch as without the additional evidence which the respondent was permitted to adduce, the appeal would have succeeded, there will be no costs of the appeal to either party.

Before Falconbridge, C.J.; Riddell, J.; Sutherland, J. McLachlin v. Schlevier—E. D. Armour, K.C., and A. Burwash (Ampror) for plaintiff. B. J. Slattery (Ampror), for defendant. An appeal by plaintiff from the judgment of the county court of Renfrew. This was an action for $200 damages for trespass and alleged wrongful acts on plaintiff's lands in connection with the erection and occupation of lot 41, in the Town of Ampror, is entitled to a right of way over Reserve Z from the rear of said lot 41. Judgment: In our view the judge below erred in holding that the facts disclosed facts sufficient to justify a finding that the right of way alleged had been proved. In this view of the facts it is not necessary to express any opinion on any of the many questions of law raised at the argument. We are of opinion that the appeal should be allowed and the judgment below varied by striking out from the second paragraph thereof all the words from "other than" to the end, and by inserting the word "not" in the third line of the third paragraph between the word "is" and "entitled"; and striking out all of the said paragraph after the word "to" in the fourth line of the said paragraph. The plaintiffs are entitled to their costs on the county court scale, but in this appeal they are to pay the costs of the judgment below if necessary be amended accordingly.

Before Mulock, C.J.; Clute, J.; Sutherland, J. Caswell v. Toronto Railway Co.—J. W. McCullough (plaintiff) and J. R. Meredyth for defendants. An appeal by plaintiff from the order of Meredith, C.J., of Nov. 15, 1910, refusing to allow the plaintiff to withdraw a consent given by her junior counsel at the trial, and refusing to alter the direction as to costs endorsed on the record, and also appealing from the judgment of Meredith, C.J., at the trial of Oct. 6, 1910. This was an action for damages for an accident to plaintiff arising, as is alleged, thru the negligence of defendants. At the trial the action was dismissed, without costs, on plaintiff's junior counsel giving a consent that no appeal would be made, but new evidence being now forthcoming, plaintiff wishes a new trial, alleging that the consent was given under mistake and without authority. Judgment: We think there should be a new trial, costs of the former trial and of this appeal, including the examination of the witness on her affidavit, to be costs in the cause. Mulock, C.J., dissenting and thinking that the motion should be dismissed with costs.

Court of Appeal.

Before Moss, C.J.O.; Garrow, J.A.; MacLaren, J.A.; Meredith, J.A. Attorney-General v. Canadian Niagara Power Co.—C. S. MacInnes, K.C., for appellants and representing all parties for purposes of this motion. Motion by appellants on account of delay parties for a postponement of the appeal herein to next sittings. Appeal postponed as asked.

Strait v. Toronto Construction Co.—G. H. Watson, K.C., and S. Watson for defendants. W. N. Tilley and T. K. Allan (Kempville) for plaintiff. An appeal by defendants from the judgment of Teetzel, J., of Nov. 2, 1910, in favor of plaintiff for $2000. This action is brought by the administrator of Leone Lamata, late of South Gower, Grenville County, who was in the employment of defendant and who was killed by an explosion of dynamite which he was engaged in thawing out while in such employment, for $6000 damages. Appeal argued and judgment reserved.

NORTH AMERICAN LIFE

FINE RECORD FOR 1910

The Thirtieth Annual Meeting of the North American Life Assurance Company was held at its Home Office in Toronto, on Thursday, Jan. 26, 1911, when the report of the business for the year ended December 31, 1910, was presented.

CASH INCOME

The Cash Income for the year in premiums, interest, etc., was $2,177,021.61, showing the satisfactory increase of $147,134.91.

CONSERVATIVE MANAGEMENT

The business continues to be conducted in a conservative and economical basis, the North American Life being among the foremost in this regard.

PAYMENTS TO POLICYHOLDERS

The amount paid on Policyholders' Accounts for the year was $87,792.31, or $142,764.06 was for surplus or dividends. Considering that the sum of $6,000,000 was paid to Guarantors, the preponderance of the Policyholders' interest is apparent.

ASSETS

The assets increased by $588,308.42, and now amount to $11,288,773.32. They continue to be, as heretofore, invested in the best class of securities available, principally in Mortgage Loans and Bonds.

SURPLUS

After making ample provision for all liabilities and further strengthening the reserves, the net surplus on policyholders' account was increased to $1,174,739.88.

INSURANCES INCREASED

The policies issued during the year, together with those revived, amounted to the sum of $5,106,047, being an increase over the previous year. The total business in force amounts to $43,331,236.

AUDIT

A careful and systematic audit was made every month by the Auditors who also made a thorough scrutiny of all the securities of the Company. In addition a Committee consisting of two Directors made an independent audit of the securities each quarter.

NEW BOARD OF HEALTH

Ontario Government Appoints Representative Body for Next Three Years

The new provincial board of health appointed for the next three years by order-in-council of the government for Ontario are: Dr. Adam Wright, Toronto, chairman; Dr. David B. Bentley, Sarnia; Dr. George Clinton, Belleville; Dr. W. H. Harvey, Sudbury; Dr. Paul J. Maloney, Cornwall; Dr. James Roberts, Hamilton, and Dr. J. W. S. McCullough, re-appointed secretary and chief health officer of the province. The board succeeds the one appointed in 1906, of which Dr. Sheard was chairman.

Doctor Told Her She Did Not Have A Pint of Good Blood in Her Body.

Mrs. Dosithe P. Cormier, Middle Sackville, N.B., says: "In the spring of 1897 I was all run down, and the doctor told me I had not a pint of good blood in my body. I took different remedies from doctors, but they did not seem to do me any good. After having taken a lot of different kinds of medicine, and they did not seem to benefit me, I was almost in despair and did not know what to do until my husband met a lady and told her about my sickness and she told him to try Burdock Blood Bitters as she had received the greatest benefit from using it. My husband went and bought me a bottle, and after having taken it a few days, so I kept on using one bottle after another until I had taken six in all and then I was strong and well. I am positive that my being alive to-day is due to the use of Burdock Blood Bitters. One spring since then I was not feeling very well and had a lot of work to do, I thought I would procure a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and after I had taken two I was able to do a lot of hard work all the summer, and I never felt better in my life. In the winter of 1906 I had Pneumonia, and it left me with a severe pain in the left side. Every morning when I would get out of bed I had to sit down for a while it was so painful. After I had used Burdock Blood Bitters the pain disappeared completely. It has also cured me of bleeding piles. I have received so much benefit from Burdock Blood Bitters that you may publish this as it may help others as it has me."

THE SUNDAY WORLD

To-morrow's paper will be interesting from many points of view. In the six separate sections which make up The Sunday World, 46 pages in all, you will get a variety of information, as well as many pleasing pictures.

THE ILLUSTRATED SECTION: We have grouped an exceptionally fine lot of photographs of Canadian outdoor life in the parks of Toronto.

A half-page reproduction of a black and white sketch entitled "The Bank Failure," which was drawn by Max Cowper for Black and White after the suspension of the Glasgow Bank in 1878.

Another half page deals with the exhibition of Dutch paintings in the gallery of the Woman's Art Association.

Another half page, depicting the winter manoeuvres of the Toronto Boy Scouts.

THE MAGAZINE SECTION: This is the four-color section, and we know that there is nothing so good as it is printed in Canada. On the front page is an attractive illustration of the most excellent art of man.

The color editorial on the back treats of a son's duty to his father and mother, instancing a case in the New York courts where an opulent, skyrocket banker, hailed to the bar of justice, sneers at his aged parents in poverty and denied that he was their son.

Two excellent pages for women, conducted by Madame Cavallieri and Lady Duff-Gordon. Other special features of this section are: Louis Joseph Vance's story, "Plunder Island"; Mr. Good's comment on current affairs, a page for musical people and Mr. French's literary contributions and criticisms.

THE EDITORIAL SECTION: Each week we present a page of music. For this week the song is "Land of the Beautiful Dream," as sung in "Alma, Where Do You Live." In the music stalls you pay 25 cents for this. In The Sunday World you get it without extra charge.

Another of Nell Brinkley's superb sketches. Charming nature stories; humorous and serious comment on news stories of the week; articles by T. P. O'Connor, M.P., and John E. Redmond, M.P., on the political situation in Britain. Two pages of automobile news and gossip, two pages of stage news and a full page of editorial.

COMIC SECTION: All our old friends are here this week. The Katzenjammers, Happy Hooligan, Foggy Goggles, Hooty Lott, Jimmy and Bad Mans, Mutt and Jeff. Aren't they the limit?

NEWS AND SPORTING SECTION: We are covering everything that is going on at home and abroad, and by this we have the aid of three of the best news gathering organizations of the world. Nothing can happen that we don't get.

thought that the sum total of my efforts should result merely in fighting the battle of the manufacturer in this country.

Mr. Russell replied to Mr. Drury's claim, heretofore, that protection has resulted in a decrease in the rural population throughout the country.

"Let us examine," he said, "this charge fairly in the light of facts and not as one anxious to please particularly cases in 1851 England had 6,000,000 people, of whom 1,376,051 were tillers of the soil or nearly 6 per cent. of the total population."

Why Farms Are Left. The speaker then proceeded to show that the depopulation of the rural districts was due to the working of three great economic forces, which have been at work for over a century and which are as follows:

1. That by the use of labor saving devices, fewer men produce a given amount of farm produce than ever before.

2. While the capacity of man to consume farm produce has not appreciably increased, perhaps you will say (unfortunately), his appetite has been educated to demand all sorts of other articles and auxiliaries to comfort and education, not dreamed of a generation ago or so ago.

3. Finally, under the tendency towards specialization, has resulted in the making of many implements, machinery and auxiliaries in specialized factories.

Notwithstanding the fact that the United States, with its high tariff, has drawn 1,500,000 Canadians, he decried the tariff as a cause of this movement from the farm, how are we to be improved with closer union with the highest tariff country in the world?

"Our tariff in Canada serves two purposes," explained the speaker. "It was an important source of revenue to the country and it was an encouragement for the building up of manufacturing industries. The tariff bore more slightly on the farmer than any other citizen with the same income. A moderate tariff, framed with a view to the collecting of a surplus of public affairs and administered with the object of encouraging such diversified industries as the character and resources of the nation would permit, is the wisest and most practical policy for Canada."

Protection Needed. "If we prefer to see a development of our own country," he said, "the development of our own people; the retaining of means of employment for them at home, then free trade is not the policy we should follow for us to consider some form of national protection. My view with regard to a policy of moderate protection in Canada is that it is as far as taxation provides a revenue on imports, it means the same as it applies to the prices on commodities which are manufactured here, it results in retaining diversified industries in our country, and it does not impose a hardship thru enhanced prices."

Referring to the action of the government in accepting the invitation of the United States to negotiate on reciprocal trade relations in the face of the views of many of the men like Sir Geo. W. Ross, Hon. Clifford Sifton and Hon. Wallace Nesbitt, who have made reciprocity a staple and have publicly expressed their views, Mr. Russell said:

"I do not condemn our government for accepting the invitation to negotiate. In my opinion it would have been better to decline to do so, but they could not do so with past experience well in mind. The results of that negotiation have not been announced, but they would have been too sweeping to permit of my attempting an estimate of their effects. First, however, we must see whether congress is prepared to pass the agreement. If it does not, it will be a mistake to refer to the subject in the past. If it passes, then we will all have opportunity of viewing the results of the agreement as it applies to you as farmers have been taken into your word, and nearly every kind of farm produce placed on a free list. What I most fear is the growth of a dependence on that market, which we have all learned may be closed in a day."

What N. P. Has Done. "If one looks back on our Canadian history, he finds it hard to realize what a position we have reached in the United States. Would the C.P.R. have been built? In any event not until a generation later. We would not have been building our third trans-continental railway to-day, instead,

ENGLAND'S NEW HOUSE OF COMMONS. England's new house of commons offers some interesting features in its representation of various callings. Of the 660-odd members, 190 consist of bankers, merchants, manufacturers and men engaged in industrial and mercantile pursuits generally. Then there are 147 lawyers, 53 authors, newspaper proprietors and journalists, and between 80 and 90 officers of the army and navy, the latter preponderating. There are also two Nonconformist ministers, two Irish peers, 45 sons of peers, 25 engineers, architects and surveyors and about 40 farmers or men directly interested in agriculture. The Labor party consists of 42 members, of whom nearly all began life as pit boys, factory hands, in the blacksmith's shop or the iron foundry. The oldest member of the house is eighty-eight, Viscount Wolmer, son and heir of the Earl of Selborne and the Hon. C. T. Mills, son and heir of Lord Hillingdon, both of them being a little over twenty-three.—Marquise de Fontenay, in The N. Y. Tribune.

maintain should be fostered by a protection tariff.

Any tariff arrangement that was for the disadvantage of the farmer was a whole. The tariff, he contended, was not one for revenue only. He was opposed to any tariff arrangement which placed raw material on the free trade list and taxed manufactured goods.

Agriculture the Basis.

The nation was to aspire to greatness, said Mr. Drury. It must do it along the lines of agriculture. It could not hope to compete as a manufacturing country with countries which had already their manufacturing developed.

It was not true of Canada, as was known by the exacting work of farm labor. He contended that the depletion was due rather to the burden placed on the farmer by the system of protection and making the duties paid by the farmer equivalent to a large mortgage on his farm. He charged the depletion to the rural sections, to the unjust fiscal system which permitted this condition.

"We have got to look to the farm as the basis of a sound physical national policy," said Mr. Drury. "The country is not the nation that maintains its good physical condition. Morally, materially and physically the nation is losing heavily by the drain on the rural population."

Some thought the farmer should sacrifice himself for the benefit of the nation. They were willing to do this if they were sure it would be of any benefit, but he failed to see where it was.

The tariff, he declared operated to raise the price of manufactured articles above what they should be. The price of the manufacturer of articles should cost only the price of the raw material, the cost of production and the amount of profit to the manufacturer. The condition which he contended existed was that the cost of the manufactured articles to the consumer included, invariably, in addition to these other charges, the amount of duty charged on the raw articles imported from another country.

He then cited instances where the manufacturers from England were imported and sold at prices a shade below that which the home article of precisely the same class could be purchased.

Competition Crushed.

He declared that the tariff was encouraging conditions which prohibited expansion. It allowed opposition to be brought against the small manufacturer to crush him that would not be possible under free trade. He referred to the increase in the manufacture of cream separators and binder twine as two instances in which there had been a phenomenal expansion as an argument that other manufacturers if protected, would have more rapid growth.

Referring to the delegation of farmers who visited Ottawa, Mr. Drury explained that it was not merely a representation of the war. The east had been represented, and strongly represented, too. The tariff was the one 1897 I was all run or told me I had not in my body. I took on doctors, but they did me no good. After different other kinds they did not seem to do until my husband told her about my ailment. I am positive to-day is due to the Blood Bitters. One was not feeling very work to do. I procure a bottle of Blood Bitters and after I had used a while it was of a do a lot of hard work, and I never felt it left me with a left side. Every day I get out of bed. I had used Burdock in disappeared cured me of bleeding and so much benefited. Bitters that you may help others.

IT IS FAR BETTER TO BE AN OLD MAN WHO FEELS YOUNG THAN A YOUNG MAN WHO FEELS OLD

HERE IS AN OLD YOUNG MAN. Years count for nothing if you have the vitality. You can feel young all your life where there is ample nerve force to back your courage.

HERE ARE THE BOOKS THAT GIVE THE SECRET OF PERPETUAL YOUTH. LET ME SEND THEM TO YOU FREE. HERE IS A YOUNG OLD MAN. Have been cured by my HEALTH BELT. Worn night for two or three months, it sends the continuous tonic current of electricity into your system all the time you are sleeping.

FREE UNTIL CURED. Call or write to me and I will at once arrange to let you have the Belt on trial, not to be paid for until cured. No deposit or advance payment.

Ten Reasons Why

- You Should Send for Brooks Rupture Appliance. 1. It is absolutely the only Appliance of the kind on the market to-day, and in it are embodied the principles that inventors have sought after for years. 2. The Appliance for retaining the rupture cannot be thrown out of position. 3. Being an air cushion of soft rubber, it clings closely to the body, yet never blisters or causes irritation. 4. Unlike the ordinary so-called pads used in other trusses, it is not cumbersome or ungainly. 5. It is small, soft and pliable, and positively cannot be detected through the clothing. 6. The soft, pliable bands holding the Appliance do not give one the unpleasant sensation of wearing a harness. 7. There is nothing about it to get foul, and when it becomes soiled it can be washed without injuring it in the least. 8. There are no metal springs in the Appliance to torture one by cutting and bruising the flesh. 9. All of the material of which the Appliance is made is of the very best that money can buy, making it a durable and safe Appliance to wear. 10. My reputation for honesty and fair dealing is so thoroughly established by an experience of over thirty years of dealing with the public, and my prices are so reasonable, my terms so fair, that there certainly should be no hesitancy in sending free coupon to-day.

Remember

I send my Appliance on trial to prove what I say is true. You are to be the judge. Fill our free coupon below and mail to-day.

A GOOD ROADS RLPJRT

Leeds and Grenville Spent $29,395 on Improvements. BROCKVILLE, Jan. 27.—(Special).—At this afternoon's meeting of the county council the good roads commission presented a report covering the past year's operations. Roads and bridges rebuilt entailed an outlay of $29,395. The commissioners suggested that the council petition the minister of public works for Ontario for $9708, being one-third of the total expenditure which is due the counties under the highway improvement act.

NORTHERN ONTARIO NOT DEPENDENT ON MINES

Gratifying Statement of Increased Earnings by T. and N. O. Railway.

One of the most progressive votes of the present session of the Ontario Legislature will be one of $1,500,000 for the extension and standardizing of the T. & N. O. Railway.

Chairman Englehart said yesterday that notwithstanding the advent of the power companies, concentrating of ores, settling down of Cobalt to normal mining conditions, the receipts from passengers and freight traffic have increased, demonstrating that the great northland has come to stay, dispelling the thought, frequently expressed, that it would not be for the mining industry the future success of the railway would be in doubt.

This revenue account for 1909 and 1910 is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: 1910, 1909. Rows include Revenue from transportation, Revenue of other than transportation, Total operating revenue, and Cobalt's Output.

Mr. Cole says respecting the Porcupine gold camp that the preparations "boded a year of great activity in the district, which the rosy results obtained in 1910 seem to amply justify."

TRY ZAM-BUK FOR PILES

Don't you believe that experience is better than hearsay? If you suffer from piles, just try Zam-Buk. You can do so at our expense.

Scores of people daily acquaint us with the benefit they have derived from the use of Zam-Buk. Mr. F. A. Stridge of 3 St. Paul-street, St. Catharines, Ont., says: "For five years I have suffered untold agony with protruding piles. The pain was so great at times I would almost scream."

"I lost weight and had no appetite. I tried everything, I ever heard of for piles, as I was willing to take anything to get relief. It was useless, however, and I almost gave up in despair."

"One day a friend gave me a sample of Zam-Buk, and told me of a friend of his who had been cured. I decided to try Zam-Buk, and the relief I got was encouraging. I used three boxes, and at the end of that time I was completely cured. I wish I could have saved me a great deal of misery."

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, ulcers, blood-poison, varicose sores, scap sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions and chapped places, cuts, burns, bruises, and skin injuries generally. All drug stores and stores sell at 50c box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. You are warned against harmful imitations and substitutes. See the registered name, "Zam-Buk," on every package.

GREY COUNTY OLD BOYS.

The Grey County Old Boys' Association met last night in St. George's Hall for the purpose of electing their officers for the coming year. The treasurer's report it was shown that after paying all expenses of the excursion held in July, a balance of $253.96 was deposited to the credit of the association. It was decided to hold the 1911 excursion about the 15th of July.

The following officers were elected for 1911: Hon. president, David Creighton; president, S. Dumrie; vice-president, David L. White; secretary, John T. O'Neill; treasurer, Jas. McBride; auditors, C. W. Chadwick and H. A. Kirvan; county representatives, Chas. J. L. Little, South; Grey, J. W. Bates; East Grey, John Whitten. The question of holding a smoker was left in the hands of the executive.

Industrial Chemical Club.

A meeting of the Industrial Chemical Club of Toronto University was held at the St. Charles. The subject of the evening, "Tanning and the Leather Industry," was dealt with by Kenneth Marlatt, who has made this industry a study in England for the last two years. At his next meeting it is expected that Mr. D. E. Beynon, late of the Continental Rubber Company of Mexico, will address the club.

Miss Ramsden's Recital.

Widespread interest is manifested in Miss Arleigh Ramsden's recital in Association Hall on Thursday evening next. The artist is being well supported by Mr. Percy Redfern Hollinshead, Mr. Arthur Elight, and Dr. Harvey Robt. Miss Ramsden is a finished elocutionist of wonderful sympathy and naturalness, and will please all tastes with a most diversified repertoire.

Revival Meeting in West Toronto

"We are casting our lines where there are no fish," was the ready-thought serious greeting given by Dr. William Patterson to your scribbles.

"There is a skating rink not far away, where young people are going," another explained. "Victoria Church is not a place to hear will."

But the church, choir and pulpit looked to a visitor like a most promising time for winning the fish. The Christian men and women of the uniting churches in West Toronto were fairly well represented. The meeting also "breaking of bread," for they were His disciples. "Now get up the cans and sinners" were down the stream.

They have the shoals of unsaved men and women gone by the Gospel bait during all these meetings? A brace of ragged, thin, shivering men and women ushers on an average Sunday, but they would have been a "good seed" to the meeting. Not even a Mary Magdalene have received a cold shoulder. For a month the stock exchange has been ruled out of court. It has catered deliberately to the needs of the King's servants.

It is known, however, that multitudes go down regularly to Massey Hall. There have been two hundred cards signed at Victoria Church and several raised their hands. This mission is partially successful. Were it not for the meeting, a smaller chance would be offered at the centre for the unsaved to wander. The meeting is held here, and the increase, the not indicating that the town has been swept with evangelism, will strengthen the King's forces.

Mr. W. W. Weaver gets the best out of his choir and the living water of the old wells of hymnology. One out of the choir sang a hymn, and the choir was ashamed to own his Lord in the presence of the multitude. The solo was bravely offered to a brother evangelist, Mr. McBratney, who sang with much feeling. "It is his business, it would have affected the audience greater had it been rendered by the choir. Now sit down." "Blind Bartimeus and the Rich Young Ruler."

Fishermen are born, not made. This is true whether you go up the creeks with a rod or down the streets with a Bible. Dr. Patterson needs no introduction in the city, where many of his rich and noble friends are. It is fine to see that his eye is not dimmed or his natural force of eloquence abated. He is a great teacher of men.

"Both the blind man and the rich were unhappy. He caught the heart of the men. "People say that we ought to be in business or in politics. When the blind man began to shout for Jesus of Nazareth, the world was in a commotion. "Keep quiet."

This stirs the feeling. His big frame and earnest voice in a man shouting for salvation tonight. "What opened his eyes? Christ said it was his faith. He himself said Jesus did it. He cast away his burden. Now sit down."

"What draws a Pullman car? The power of the coupling? It was the poor man's faith that linked the Light of the World to his life."

"I am not here to talk like a Junatic against money," he said, "but to tell you that money is not the end of the world. It is power; it gives eyes to the blind and money to the poor. It is the power that has reached the Central Prison. It is the power that has cast away the devil's temptations. He said at length, in the meantime he had chased the fish out of a tank, and he would save them from the sharks. But, as stated above, the ninety and nine were cast away."

Music Notes

The famous pianist, Arthur Friedheim, will positively appear in recital in Massey Hall on the evening of Monday, March 13, when his program will contain many great compositions of Liszt and Chopin.

The New York Evening Post of Dec. 15, 1910, says: "Friedheim's herculean playing brought to mind his earlier teacher, Rubinstein, in its overwhelming sweep and powerful command. Such playing as they heard Saturday is rare, and always will be rare. It was wonderful."

Just a Woman.

My dresses cost me more than they ever did before. And the price of all the other stuff is double. And the landlord raised the rent, as well as a spinster's rent. I'm a spinster now. Into this weary world of trouble. What we eat and drink and wear keeps on soaring in the air. In a most effective agitation. Everything in fact has "hiz" and the one exception is My woman's rate of cash remuneration.

At the Y.W.C.G. Professor Coleman will give an illustrated lecture at the Y.W.C. Guild to-night at 8.15 on "The Rocky Mountain Trail."

The Y.W.C. Guild will again be visited by Mrs. Asher to-morrow afternoon at 4.15. This will be Mrs. Asher's last meeting with them during the evangelistic campaign. Tea will be served in the parlors.

MUST MEET LIABILITY ON ONTARIO BANK SHARES

Eighteen Judgments Entered Include One Against Charles McGill For $190,760.

Judgments en masse are being entered at Osgoode Hall against the shareholders of the former Ontario Bank who have not paid up their double liability. Eighteen judgments have been handed down by Referee Kappelle for amount of totalling $1,195,480 have been made out. The amount for which the call was issued was $800,000, but already there is $925,000 on hand, making $125,000 more than is necessary to pay all the creditors. The judgment against contributors are as follows: Mrs. M. E. Cameron, $1995; Mrs. Sarah Hewton, $1425; Mrs. R. B. Koyl, $880; Mrs. R. B. Cochrane, $95; Mrs. E. Fortin, $950; Mrs. Eliza Atchison, $475; Mrs. M. A. Hayes, $475; Mrs. Emma Thompson, $380; William Lehmann, $475; Miss Mina Abbott, $880; Mrs. Janet Forbes, $190; A. Clement, $190; Mrs. C. D. Sutherland, $475; Mrs. Blanche Dunscombe, $950; Mrs. C. S. Leonard, $475; Charles McGill, $190,760; Mrs. H. A. Blair, $325.

The orders to pay have the same force as the judgments. They are: W. H. Patten, $95; M. P. Nicol, $350; E. G. Hicks, $1350; H. O. Smith, $190; W. Stewart, $190; J. B. Creighton, $3085; A. Russell, $200; Elizabeth Higgins, $355; W. E. N. Johnson, $280; Mrs. M. E. McAllister, $4560; M. H. Staples, $190; H. Mearns, $280; A. C. Bradshaw, $190; E. J. Parr, $285; A. G. Simpson, $85.

Perpetual Motion.

What has become of perpetual motion? That is a question frequently asked, and seldom is there a reply. There was a time when a girl-tongued man with a perpetual motion idea could get respectful hearing in scientific and financial circles, and if he were plausible enough, obtain financial backing. Keeley, the motor man, lived in affluence for years on a perpetual motion idea attractively presented to men and women who had both money and an overstock of credulity. Nowadays, however, the men with the perpetual motion idea is at a discount, and little is heard of him. Many persons who have studied the efforts of shrewd men to get into the pockets of the rich by using perpetual motion schemes at the golden key wonder that Keeley should have met with such success at such a late day. As early as 1781 the Parisian Academy of Sciences refused to receive any further schemes for perpetual motion, regarding it as an impossibility. It was admitted that, states the New York Press, that there had been a time when the perpetual motion problem was worthy the attention of philosophers and men of inventive genius, just as there was a time when it was an open question whether the earth was round or flat.

Wages of Flight.

Last year was the golden year of the professional flying man. They charged high, and their takings compared well with the gains of opera singers and successful oldtime horse jockeys. Graham White is said to have taken in $100,000 in the two months that included the show at Belmont Park. Paulhan is credited with earning the same sum in the course of a year, which is a good rise from the mechanic's wages which he was getting before he began to fly. At these rates the airman business must be profitable. The drawback is the risk, but it is a sporting risk, and there will be no lack of takers if it whether the wages of flight are high or low. No doubt flying shows will be cheaper presents. The better the air men keep up, flippantly remarks Life, the more their wages will come down.

Part of the Role.

"Shall we pass as millionaires or as design dukes at the hotel?" "As the latter, my boy. As millionaires we might be expected to display some evidence of wealth. But as dukes, nobody can possibly take it amiss if we skip."

Emergency Medicine Chest.

There should be in every house a small chest or box containing such articles as a mother or doctor would need for instant use when something alarming or unforeseen has happened in the nursery. To have to begin to look for things when a child is cut or bruised or fainting from pain is a desperate feeling indeed, and it is best to be prepared beforehand for the little emergencies that are only too likely to arise.

Such a box should contain a large quantity of absorbent cotton, a small bottle of brandy or whisky, a small quantity of spirits of ammonia, a spoon of adhesive plaster two inches wide, cut adhesive, several rolls of two-inch gauze bandages, a large handkerchief for a sling, scissors, safety pins, medicine glass, medicine dropper, combs, a hot water bag, an ice bag, a bottle of some antiseptic lotion and a graduated measuring glass.

CURE YOUR WEAKNESS NOW

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt Will Make You Strong and Well

To be strong and manly is the aim of every man, and yet how many we find who are wasting the vitality and strength which nature gives them. Instead of developing into the strong, vigorous, manly young fellows that nature intended them to be they find themselves broken down and dependent—no ambition to do anything. They struggle aimlessly along, sooner or later to become victims of dreaded disease, their finer sensibilities blunted and their nerves shattered.

Is this the way you feel

Do you feel tired in the morning and easily exhausted? Is your back weak or lame? Do you have difficulty in fixing your thoughts? Is your memory failing? Are you losing ambition? Do you feel you are not the man you once were? Do you have hot flashes up and down the spine or sudden weak spells, especially after eating? Have you palpitation of the heart, dull headaches, pain at the base of the brain, sudden spells like fright from no apparent cause? Are you very restless or sleepless at night? Are you very nervous and irritable, with a feeling that you want to be alone? Are you gloomy, with a sense of some great oppression upon you? If so, then you need my treatment. You surely do not want to remain in this condition. Don't suffer longer. I cured others. I can cure you. Master your disease before it masters you.

If You Have Rheumatism, Nervousness, Backache, Kidney, Liver and Stomach Troubles, or if You Have a Pain or an Ache, Etc.

My Electric Belt Will Cure You

It has made thousands of ailing men and women strong and healthy. It will do the same for you.

KIDNEY AND STOMACH TROUBLE CURED. Dr. McLaughlin: Dear Sir,—I purchased a Belt from you four years or so ago, and I hardly know what I would do without it. To say it has done that which you said it would do for me is a very tame way of putting it. My friends say I would be a good agent for it, for I have so much confidence in it. It has cured me of all my ailments, my trouble being in my kidneys and stomach. Yours indebtedly, RALPH W. G. BAKER.

Dr. McLaughlin: Dear Sir,—I have found your Belt to be a great help to me, and since using it I have regained my weight and can sleep well. I feel that I have had my money's worth; in fact, I can say that your Belt is all you say it is. If there are any from here who want to talk to a user of your Belt, send them to me, for I am satisfied with it. Yours truly, W. J. HONEYFORD.

My Belt, with special Electrical attachment, will restore your vigor. It will check all loss of vitality and strengthen every organ of the body. It cures nervous Debility, Varicocele, Rheumatism, Stomach Back, Lumbago, Sciatica, any case of Kidney Disease that has not gone as far as Bright's Disease, Stomach Trouble, Constipation. If you haven't confidence in electricity, let me treat you at my risk. I will give you the Belt on trial, without one cent of risk to yourself. SHE CURED HER HEART DISEASE

When She Cured Her Kidneys With Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Henry J. Jacques Found a Speedy Relief for All Her Troubles, and Now Enjoys the Best of Health.

ST. ROSE DU LAC, Man., Jan. 27.—(Special).—That Heart Disease is one of the results of disordered kidneys, and is consequently easily cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills, is the experience of Mrs. Henry J. Jacques of this place. "My heart troubled me all the time," said Mrs. Jacques in an interview, "and I knew what terrible results might follow. The fact that my limbs would swell and my back ache led me to believe that I also suffered from Kidney Disease, so I determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I bought four boxes, and before I had finished the third box the swelling was gone, my back was well, and my heart no longer troubled me. I am now in the best of health, and I owe it all to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Heart Disease is one of the troubles that come from unhealthy kidneys. They fail to strain the impurities out of the blood, and these impurities are bound to affect the heart, which is the engine that propels the blood through the body. To cure Heart Disease, cure the kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills; to prevent Heart Disease keep the kidneys toned up and healthy by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

STAYS ON KEELEY BOARD TRAVERS OBSTINATE

Other Directors Resigned Yesterday, But Former Banker Refused to Budge.

W. R. Travers will not resign from the board of the Keeley Mines, Limited, and at a meeting of the directors, held in Crown Attorney Corley's office, at which several of his fellow directors resigned and were replaced, his fellow members on the board were not strong enough to force his resignation, so that the ex-general manager of the Farmers' Bank, who was brought up from the jail at 3.30 to attend the meeting, returned to his cell still a member of the board of directors of the mine.

This is all that could be learned of this meeting, which was held with closed doors. At it were present as well as Mr. Travers, Inspector of Detectives Walter Duncan, Solicitor Wood of Bicknell, Bain, Strathy and Mackelcan, solicitor for the Bankers' Association; Mr. Clarkson, brother of G. T. Clarkson, curator of the bank; E. W. Owens, barrister, and another man from New York, representing American holders of the stock. Who were the directors who resigned, or who the newly appointed ones are, could not be learned.

Once more Curator Clarkson is confined to his house through ill-health brought on by overwork upon the tangled affairs of the bank. No new information was laid yesterday, nor was any further information with regard to the matter forthcoming.

THREW HIM OVER BRIDGE

Fatal Termination to Quarrel Over Tobacco.

PEMBROKE, Ont., Jan. 27.—A fight that took place the night before last proved to be fatal for one of the parties concerned.

It appears that two young fellows, by the names of Wright and St. Denis, met on the Indian Bay bridge and started a friendly conversation. In the course of it St. Denis asked Wright for a chew of tobacco. The latter refused and matters were complicated. In the quarrel that followed Wright took hold of his adversary and without further preliminaries, it is alleged, threw him over the railing of the bridge on the ice below, with the result that St. Denis died from the injuries sustained within 24 hours.

Wright will likely have to face a charge of manslaughter.

ROBERT BURNS CAMP.

'Twas a braw night for the dance last night, and Robert Burns' Camp, Sons of Scotland, made grand use of the opportunity. About two hundred 'Hellan' men 'thir lassies gathered at the first notes of the pibroch to enjoy a good Scottish concert. Lt.-Col. D. M. Robertson, the grand secretary, was in the chair. The program included a selection on the pibroch by Camp Piper A. McPherson, and songs by W. Gillespie, Frank Remrose, Eddie Figgott, Miss E. Fairweather and Jean Anderson Shirde. Miss Annie McKay acted as accompanist.

CYRENE PRECEPTORY BALL.

It was a glorious and resplendent display of proud uniformed knights and members of the Cyrene preceptory of the Knights Templars No. 28, who gathered at their annual military ball at home in the Temple Building last night. A great array of 350 knights, brothers and their ladies faire filled the hall and eloquently displayed the strength of the order. Among the notable present were: R. Em. Sir Knights Harry Leonard and family, Damasus Commander, Detroit; Dr. D. A. Clarke, provincial grand prior of Toronto district; John Dunlop, Albert Combe and the Misses McCombe, Chas. E. and Mrs. Howarth, H. C. Montgomery, and about 100 sir knights of the city.

OBITUARY.

I. A. Whatmough. Isaac A. Whatmough died at the residence of his son, Thomas, 186 Avenue-road, in his 96th year. Born in England, Mr. Whatmough came to Canada in 1863, and within a year settled in Toronto. For a long time he was engaged in the hardware business on King-st. east. He is survived by five children. The funeral will be held at 2.30 to-day from his son's residence to the Necropolis.

Robert C. Healey. On Thursday morning, Robert C. Healey, probably the oldest professor in the city, passed away suddenly and unexpectedly at his late residence, 48 McCaul-st. Mr. Healey was well known and much esteemed by the various newspaper employees in the city, among whom he had worked for a great number of years. He was born at Rochdale, Lancashire, England, and came to this country when a young man, about 15 years ago. He was for 25 years employed in The Globe proofroom and had also temporarily worked in the proofroom of several offices. Owing to ill-health, he was forced to give up work at The Globe, and subsequently he engaged with The World, where he acted as relief man in the proofroom. A few weeks ago he was seized with an attack of acute indigestion which compelled him to take a rest and was the immediate cause of his death. Mr. Healey was in his 70th year and at his age had not the strength to throw off the attack. The funeral takes place this afternoon at 2 o'clock privately from E. D. Humphrey's undertaking rooms to St. James' Cemetery.

The Spider Cure.

The request for a "nut to put a spider in to cure baby's whooping cough," which has just started a Somerset shopkeeper recalls the spider "cures" of the past. There was, and indeed is, for instance, that fish-belly in the web as a remedy for cuts, warts and bruises, and that superstition of the eastern counties which credited it with power to cure fevers. The weaver of the web, too, was looked upon as a doctor of medicine. A note from an ancient Notes and Queries gives the illustration: "One of my parishioners suffering from ague" wrote a Somerset squire, "has advised to catch a large spider and shut him up in a box. As he pines away the disease is supposed to wear itself out." A similar belief prevailed in the south of Ireland, but there treacle had to be substituted for the box as coffin for the ague healer.—Westminster Gazette.

WEAVING CORONATION VELVET.

In the ancient borough of Sudbury in Suffolk the few remaining hand loom weavers are hard at work making the velvet for the coronation robes.

Among the number are the Misses Foakes, members of a family of weavers who in days past were makers of bunting for the royal navy. In their cottage, which was once visited by the Queen, are two hand looms on which are two lengths of beautiful velvet, one rich crimson in color and the other dark brown.

The weavers are seated when at their looms, their feet working pedals resembling those of an organ. There are two sets of threads, the visible one forming the back of the material and the other the pile, each of these being delicately threaded thru vertical threads known as the harness. The weaver passes the shuttle backward and forward, and each warp and weft is pressed home by a swinging wooden frame. A cutter which runs across the loom on a wire cuts the threads to make the pile.

The process of manufacture is slow and tedious. The time is occupied not so much in the weaving as in the cleaning. At each foot or so made the weaver uses a curious knife like a spokeshave and shaves the surface of the velvet to clean it.

There are now not more than thirty hand loom weavers left in Sudbury, the Misses Foakes being among the number. The looms of weavers' cottages, now occupied by other artisans and general workers, show the extent of the industry fifty years ago.—London Daily Mail.

WON'T SHOW TEETH.

"Men in every other profession and business have the advantage of dentists in the matter of advertising," said a man with forceps in his hand. "They can persuade good-looking young women to wear their goods for photographic purposes; the dentist cannot. The whitest, evenest set of false teeth ever made cannot tempt a woman to wear them and be photographed with her mouth wide open."

"Manufacturers of cosmetics and artificial hair are besieged by women who are willing to daub their faces with paint and powder and build their heads up with puffs and braids into any style of architecture desired for photographic advertisements. Neither do they balk at patent wearing apparel. The most absurd garment ever invented can find somebody to pose in it before the camera. But false teeth are universally blacklisted."

"Every woman who gets photographed with her mouth spread into a smile wants people to think that the teeth she shows are her own, and the dentist who would dare to label the picture 'These teeth made by Dr. Blank' would lay grounds for a libel suit."

Mountain as a Gift. The Church Army has in the course of its existence received many novel gifts, and now it has been favored with the offer of a mountain. A friend in Wales has written offering to the society what he describes as a small mountain. The explanation is that the mountain contains a large quantity of stone which the donor thinks may be useful in providing employment in quarrying to the men under the society's charge.—The London Evening Standard.

A BROKEN-DOWN SYSTEM.

This is a condition (or disease) which doctors give many names, but which few of them really understand. It is simply weakness of the system, as it were, of the vital forces that sustain the system. No matter what may be its causes (for they are almost numberless), its symptoms are much the same; the more prominent being sleeplessness, sense of prostration or weariness, depression of spirits and want of energy for the ordinary affairs of life. Now, what alone is absolutely essential in such a case is increased vitality—vigorous VITAL STRENGTH & ENERGY to throw off these morbid feelings, and experience proves that as night succeeds the day this will not be speedily and permanently overcome by the most certain remedy secured by a course of THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY THERAPION No. 3

than by any other known combination. So surely as it is taken in accordance with the directions accompanying it, will the shattered health be restored, THE EXPIRING LAMP OF LIFE LIGHTED UP AFRESH, and a new existence imparted in place of what had been lately seemed worn-out, used up, and valueless.

This wonderful medicine is suitable for all ages, constitutions and conditions. In children, and in difficult to imagine cases of disease or derangement, whose main features are those of debility, that will not be speedily and permanently overcome by this recuperative essence, which is destined to cast into oblivion every ailment that had preceded it for this wide-spread and successful remedy.

THERAPION is obtainable at principal chemists and druggists. The Le Clerc Medical Co., Haverstock Road, Hampstead, London. Price in England, 1/6. Purchasers should see that 12 1/2 oz. "THERAPION" appears on Royal Government Stamp (in white letters on a red ground) next to every genuine package.

THERAPION is now also obtainable in ORANGE (TASTELESS) POWDER.

Sharp Drive Against Cobalts And Stock Values Yield Easily

Throwing Away of Long Date Stocks Brings Declines in Cheaper Stocks—Little Nipissing Sold Heavily.

World Office, Friday Evening, Jan. 27.

There was a sharp reaction in general to the Cobalt stocks on the local markets to-day, and new low records were made in several instances. The exchanges were plainly suffering from a plethora of selling, and were in poor condition to combat any kind of pressure, the buying power being decidedly limited.

The general opinion in relation to to-day's declines was that a considerable amount of long date stock was being thrown on the market. These commitments were renewed some time ago, but the recent action of the various listed issues has not been such as to inspire confidence in the situation, and when the date of settlement once more came round, the securities were sacrificed for about what they would bring.

The bulk of the transactions were confined to Little Nipissing, which was also the most spectacular mover in the day's dealings. Opening at 10, the shares declined rapidly under heavy liquidation as low as 8. Support was in evidence, but the reaction, but this was not sufficient to check the movement, and it was not until 8 cents was reached that a turn took place. A gain of 1-1/2 points was made later in the day, and at the close the stock was bid for at 9 1/2.

While Little Nip was the most active issue, it was not the only stock to show the effect of the pressure of bear selling. Both Peterson Lake and Chambers lost over a point in the early dealing, and Hargrave dropped a large fraction at 22. Other losses were confined to small fractions of a point.

The dividend paying issues were not appreciably influenced by the slump in the cheaper stocks, and prices in general held firm with the previous day. Crown Reserve gained three points at $27 1/2.

To-day's market showed plainly the effects of a bear assault on prices, but the recovery which followed the downward movement showed that investors were still inclined to support values on the declines.

PLEASSED WITH PORCUPINE

Chisholm Party Enthusiastic Over Prospects of Ontario Gold Camp.

PORCUPINE CITY, Jan. 25.—(From Our Man Up North.)—The Chisholm party from Duluth and Colorado Springs, who have been looking over the Chisholm Veins and also inspecting the ground in general, left this morning for Cochrane, where two days will be spent in that section.

On leaving Archie Chisholm said to the World: "I shall return in a short time. The doctor of course, and the other members of the party will return to their homes. They are very much pleased with Porcupine."

Work on the south Tisdale Vein will be continued. We have good showings there. I cannot now say, aside from what is being done, just what our future plans are.

Two Minnesota lumbermen, Tom Cummings and Edward Lynch, were in the party. Mr. Chisholm formerly lived in Canada, and moved to the west some years ago.

A LUCKY ESCAPE

Brakeman Narrowly Evades Death at Kelso Mines.

PORCUPINE CITY, Jan. 25.—(From Our Man Up North.)—Narrowly avoiding being ground into pulp by the engineer accidentally stopping the train in time, Lawrence Campbell, a brakeman on the T. & N. O., escaped a death at the siding in Kelso Mines last night, as he stepped from the top of a box car down between the bumpers.

Campbell was so badly injured that the way to the hospital, which he escaped with merely bruises. This is the first railway accident here this winter.

BIG BRITISH INTERESTS GOING INTO PORCUPINE

Northern Ontario Exploration Company Formed to Take Interest in Gold Camp.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—A development of the first importance as affecting British investments in Canadian mining is now in progress.

Under the auspices of the well-known English firm of Bewick, Morling & Co., who operate forty mining concerns, many of them of world-wide repute, a group of influential Englishmen formed themselves into the Northern Ontario Exploration Company, a capital of £400,000, of which £100,000 is already subscribed.

Among the sponsors are Alexander Morling, the Earl of Errol, the 23rd hereditary Lord High Constable of Scotland, and therefore the nearest subject in Scotland to the royal family; Sir William Bell, one of the King's bodyguards in Scotland; David Gifford, a director of leading Australian gold mines; John Barry of Lincolne fame, and other wealthy English interests.

Messrs. Morling, Richards and a staff of engineers, sail on the Lusitania Saturday to investigate and purchase properties in the Porcupine gold camp.

LONG DATE CONTRACTS

Throwing Away of Commitments Depresses Whole Market.

The drive against Peterson Lake stock in the markets yesterday, which put the price back over a point to 18 cents, was understood to represent the throwing away of a lot of long date contracts which fell due.

Trading in long date stock represents one of the features of stock market dealings in which the speculator seldom makes any profit. If any idea of the injurious effect that trading in long date contracts has on the market is desired, it is only necessary to look at yesterday's list of transactions. Brokers stated that it was the contract stock which was coming out that inspired the weak undertone, and as long as there are commitments of this nature overhanging the exchanges, just so long will values prove vulnerable to pressure.

If the speculator in Cobalt or other mining stocks wants to make money, let him beware the long date contract.

A STABBING AFFRAY

Peace of Porcupine Camp Marred by Brawl Between Italians.

PORCUPINE CITY, Jan. 25.—(From Our Man Up North.)—Two Syrians engaged in a stabbing affray at Kelso Mines last night, and one known as Metta Sweva lies in hospital down the country with a broken leg and many bad wounds on the body, which may yet prove fatal, while the other, a native of the same district, was stabbed several times about the head and shoulders, while his antagonist was struck on the arms.

Sweva was the result of unprovoked assault, and his antagonist, a native of the same district, was stabbed several times about the head and shoulders, while his antagonist was struck on the arms.

Only occasionally does a fight of this character mar the peace and happiness of the district.

Golden City Lots Selling Well.

Mr. T. Marlowe, real estate agent in Golden City, reports sale of town lots as very brisk, following the announcement of the establishment by the T. & N. O. Commission of a railway station at Golden City, which was being situated on King-street, is particularly favorable to Golden City, as King-street is the main thoroughfare at present from Kelso to Porcupine Lake. Father Bourassa of Hatterly street in Porcupine on Thursday, with a view of securing a site for a Roman Catholic church, hospital and school. The site selected is one of the most beautiful locations in the district, being on the hill at Golden City, about one-quarter of a mile south of King-street. The Methodist church has secured two lots on Martin-street, and the Baptist church has also secured a site. The new recorder's office has been completed and splendid accommodation is now afforded the hundreds of people who have business daily with the recorder. Lots are still held at very reasonable prices, but the number available is diminishing very fast. Between this time and the actual completion of the railroad, there will be many lots turned over at a handsome profit.

$5000 for Husband's Death.

Mrs. Amelia Carruthers, a widow with three young children, was granted $5000 by a jury yesterday, for the death of her husband, Robert Carruthers, in September last, by a Toronto and York radial car. The award was apportioned as follows: Mrs. Carruthers $2000, and to each of the children $1000.

Mr. Carruthers met his death in the North Toronto Station of the railway by being crushed between the freight platform and a moving car.

Robbed Thirteen Houses.

Thirteen was an unlucky number of Thomas Bredin and Edward Shields, who appeared in police court yesterday morning, charged with stripping thirteen houses of brass taps and lead pipe. Bredin will be away three months, while Shields will not be seen outside the Central Prison, for three times that period.

Stole Gold Watches.

Charles Griffin stole two gold watches from the chief's room in the Day House. He admitted in a police court yesterday morning, and was sent to jail for 60 days.

SAISFACTORY WORK DONE ON UNITED PORCUPINE

Directors Give Details of Development Already Done, and Funds Arranged For Continuance.

At the annual meeting of the shareholders of the United Porcupine Gold Mines, Ltd., held at the head office of the company, the shareholders received the financial report and statement of development work on the property from the directors, all of which was approved. The work for the past year has been principally stripping and sinking test pits, which was reported as follows:

On lot 8 on the north-east quarter there has been considerable work done. There was a quartz reef running east and west which was stripped for 800 feet in length, varying in depth from a few inches to 6 feet, and averaging in width about 9 feet. North from this trench another one was run for 200 feet, varying in depth from a few inches to 5 feet, and north from that there is a large propylite dike running east and west. This has been stripped for 1900 feet.

The quartz veins on the surface numerous small quartz stringers running thru it in all directions, but a short distance from the surface they all run into solid quartz. A shaft 24 feet deep has been sunk on the dike and running across the lot is a large quartz reef. This runs north-east by south-west, and on the north end of it a trench was dug lengthwise for 1600 feet, varying from a few inches to 10 feet in depth, and 200 feet in width. In three places trenches were dug varying in length from 400 to 500 feet.

Four test pits have been put down 10 feet, and on the south end of this reef it has been stripped for 400 feet in length, varying in depth from a few inches to 5 feet. A test pit 7 feet deep was sunk on this reef.

On the south-east quarter considerable stripping was done and some small veins of quartz uncovered, and on the north-east quarter a lot more stripping was done, uncovering some large reefs of quartz. A test pit 10 feet deep was also sunk.

On lot 9 on the north-east quarter a trench was dug running north and south, 400 feet long, varying in depth from a few inches to 6 feet, and west of this trench another one was dug running east and west in length 700 feet, uncovering some large quartz dykes. On the south end of this trench was run the whole length of the south boundary, and several other trenches were dug in other parts of this quarter, and on the north-east quarter a large quartz dome was stripped 150 feet long and 80 feet wide, and on the same to the south a trench was dug in length 180 feet, varying in depth from a few inches to 8 feet. Two other trenches were dug on the same quarter.

On the same quarter to the east of this reef a large dolomite reef was stripped and a test pit 8 feet deep sunk, and on the west line of this quarter a large amount of stripping was done, uncovering some large outcroppings in the low land, and at the present time a test pit is being put down on lot 9 and blasting a trench across the big quartz reef on it for sampling purposes.

The new directors elected were: B. P. Foster, W. D. Lumis, J. H. Stephens, E. P. Smith, J. M. Wallace.

The officers are: President, B. P. Foster; vice-president, J. H. Stephens; secretary, E. P. Smith; treasurer, J. M. Wallace. Mr. Halston was appointed general manager of the company, which he agreed to accept without compensation.

The company still having in the treasury $100,000, it was decided to offer 85,000 shares of the treasury stock to the shareholders at 10 cents per share net to the company, to provide additional working capital for the development of the property. This stock was subscribed for at the present time, and the meeting was thoroughly satisfactory, everybody seeming well pleased with the condition of the property up to date.

Exchange Your Cobalts

We have tried to advise you to watch the developments of all Cobalt properties very closely and when there does not seem much prospect to the mine you are interested in making good, to exchange your stock for a more likely one. There are many people holding listed Cobalts, which may in the end prove worthless. Why not seize the opportunity of exchanging them now? Let us have a list of your holdings for our opinion as to their respective merits.

Estates of the Dead.

The will of the late Arabella Diana Hanbury Halton, who left an estate valued at $1,650,551, was filed in the surrogate court yesterday. The estate, which is made up principally of land in the Bank of Hamilton, Dominion Telegraph, Consumers Gas and mortgages, was divided as follows: To her nephew, Herbert H. Todd of New York, $800; to St. Mark's Anglican Church, $50; to be spent on the charitable and to her son, George Halton, the bulk of the estate. He is the executor.

William Boyes Nicol, who died on January 15, left $50,000, consisting of stocks and bonds, and a number of securities in the Standard Bank, Canada Permanent, Twin City, London and Canadian Loan and Agency, and the Toronto Mortgage Company. The estate is divided equally between two nieces, Marion Patterson and Emily Wright, and Henry B. Nicol.

Captain Cookerill's Recital.

In spite of the inclemency of the weather the recital by Capt. Robert C. Cookerill and Miss Minnie L. Strachan was well attended, and proved very successful. Capt. Cookerill sang a long program with taste and expression, and Miss Strachan displayed excellent technique and style in her numbers.

Fought on Car.
P.A.Y.E. fare boxes and street car windows are cheap. Arthur Shurt tore loose on a car the other day when Conductor Shepard wanted him to step inside from the back platform. There was a scarp and the box and window were busted. Yesterday morning in police court Arthur paid $1 and costs.

New School Inspector.

GODERICH, Jan. 27.—Dr. J. M. Field, principal of the Goderich Collegiate Institute, has been appointed by the Huron County council to the position of inspector of public schools in East Huron. He is to succeed David Robb, who retires owing to ill health.

Some Firming in Prices on New York Stock Market

Market Shows No Great Activity But Prices Keep on Up-Grade

Outlook for Good Bank Statement a Favorable Influence in New York—Toronto Market Slightly Disturbed

World Office, Friday Evening, Jan. 27.

The local market opened softer this morning, but developed a better tone during the afternoon session.

Sentiment framed from the reciprocity proposals was bearish on certain Canadian issues, among them being the Milling Company shares, the Steel stocks and Cement issues.

The selling was confined largely to Montreal. Lake of the Woods fell off rapidly and at one time registered a decline of seven points from yesterday. Ogilvie suffered to a less extent. Maple Leaf common and preferred were offered lower on the Toronto Exchange, but without sales.

Transactions in Cement and Dominion Steel were not a factor in the Toronto market.

Rio sold down a point from last night's close and then recovered a fraction. Sao Paulo held at practically unchanged quotations.

Toronto Electric and C.P.R. were strong in the late dealings and were practically the only issues to make gains during the day.

Altho the markets were slightly disturbed to-day by the Washington and Ottawa news, it is not believed that this will have anything but a temporary effect.

The accumulation of funds is going steadily on and more of these are becoming available for the stock market. Investors are not scared by matters not considered as of great moment, and good stocks and bonds are certainly in better request.

Too little speculation exists in local securities at present to permit of more than small declines.

Buying for Higher Prices.

Playfair, Martens & Co. in their fortnightly market letter, say:

The trend of the market has caused admiration. Stocks have kept strong enough to retain the interest of those already having commitments on the bull side, and the market has broadened in a way to attract an increasing circle of the public. Almost every day has brought some new feature, and some stocks have moved up to the accompaniment of rumors having the merit of at least plausibility, while other issues acted in a perfectly natural way, responding to such influences as should produce certain results. A wave of profit taking caused recessions, but confident buying is met on the declines. Those who are buying are not doing so with the view of forcing prices up, but buying stocks apparently because they want them, either as an investment, or to hold for at least better prices. Rio is still by far the most active stock on the local exchange. Rumors are current that the different financial institutions are carrying as collateral as much of this stock as they care to. This may or may not be true, at the same time much of the stock that has been purchased in Toronto has gone into strong hands and is firmly held. While there has been a lot of this stock purchased for Canadian investors, there is still a good demand for the issue, as indicated by the market. Every little reaction is met with actual buying. We are pretty safe in saying that present holders are looking for higher prices before selling out, and we have little hesitation in saying that with a little patience they will be able to. The December earnings which are just out continue to show large increases, in fact they are the largest for the year, with the exception of the month of August, when they were nothing less than phenomenal.

ON WALL-STREET.

Erickson Perkins & Co. had the following: Stocks advanced sharply all along the line. New records for the movement were made by various issues and much of the buying was thought to come from substantial investors. U. S. Steel was conspicuous. That it was thoroughly sold was clear from the way it traded, when it reacted only to the very slight extent. The same was true of Union Pacific, of which very little came out on the trifling recession this morning. The advance was directly the result of the improvement in the business situation. From the look of things, U. S. Steel Corporation will make a pretty good exhibit of unfinished business on Feb. 10. We will have more setbacks to buy on and do not buy on bargains. Chas. Head & Co. to R. R. Bondard: While the stock market showed no special activity to-day in the general list, prices were firm with advances of one or two points for quite a few issues. There was no special news during the day to influence prices, but a good bank statement may be predicted from the known movement of currency, which suggests a cash gain of $7,000,000. Considerable opposition seems to have developed to the reciprocity plans of the administration, and the outlook for favorable action by congress this session is not considered bright. Apparently, little will be done in the way of tariff revision of any sort before the next election, so that business will not be disturbed materially on this possibility. The market acts well despite the absence of the outside public.

Domestic Failures.

The number of failures in the Dominion during the past week, in provinces, and corresponding week last year are compiled by Dun's Review as follows:

Date	Ont.	Que.	Man.	Alta.	Sask.	B.C.	N.B.	N.S.	P.E.I.	Total

More Increased Dividends.

The General Chemical Co. declared a quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent. on its common stock, payable Mar. 1. This is an increase of 1/4 per cent. and putting the stock on a 6 per cent. basis.

Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh declared a dividend of 2 1/2 per cent. on its common stock. This is an increase of 1/4 of 1 per cent. over the previous dividend. The usual semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent. has been declared on the preferred stock.

Readjustment in Steel Prices.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—It was reported here to-day that a general readjustment of steel prices would be made during the latter part of March. A meeting of the leading steel manufacturers of the country will be held in February, it was said, when the matter of prices will be taken under consideration. The president of the independent company is quoted as saying there will be no reduction in prices next month.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Such strength as the stock market displayed for the greater part of to-day's session was limited in large part to certain specialties. International Harvester and Bethlehem Steel, together with other stocks in the same category, made material gains. It is a fair assumption that the proposed reciprocity treaty with Canada, which was the subject of some discussion in financial circles, had no strong part in the movement in certain of the stocks mentioned. Ratification of such a treaty with Canada, it is anticipated, would be of advantage to our manufacturers, particularly those engaged in the steel industry and kindred lines, as the Dominion now purchases in the active finished material from Great Britain. The rise in Bethlehem Steel was also attended by rumors that the company is to increase its capacity, and that it may incidentally avail itself of the services of a distinguished expert, who was technically identified with the United States Steel Corporation.

Heaviness of the copper stocks was attributed to further shading of prices here and to technical weakness in the metal market abroad. Exports of copper for the month, however, were well ahead of the same period in 1910.

Trading, both in stocks and bonds, was again very light, but with a firm undertone, and in the last hour the movement in the active financial market was particularly noticeable. The close was strong at generally top prices of the day.

Another feature was the further activity in certain bank shares, the movement probably pressing some important merger or consolidation of local financial institutions in the near future. More financing was reported to-day, and more is good ground for the assertion that negotiations for the placing of a large block of securities to be issued by one of the Harriman companies are in process of completion in Paris.

RECIPROcity AND THE STOCK MARKET.

World Office Friday Evening, Jan. 27.

The proposed reciprocity deal with the United States had an influence on the Canadian markets to-day. Milling shares felt the effect most. Lake of the Woods common, which sold at 142 yesterday, was forced down to 135 on the Montreal market. Ogilvie and Maple Leaf issues were not subjected to the same pressure, but each of these stocks was necessarily easier. Steel Corporation shares dropped over a point. Suggested tariff changes took part of the snap out of dealings on the Toronto exchange, and were responsible for the change in market sentiment. Reflections are liable to change present convictions, and the matter is one that can only have a temporary influence at the worst. The market stands liquidation without difficulty, and this, at least, is favorable.

Montreal Stocks

MONTREAL, Jan. 27.—The stock market to-day in certain respects reflected the uncertainty over the outcome of the reciprocity announcement, certain industrial issues being chiefly affected. Lake of the Woods Milling, for instance, had a marked decline, selling down to 135, or seven points below yesterday's close, but it recovered to 139 1/2, and declined to 129 1/2. There was some liquidation in Steel Corporation stock, which declined to 65 1/2, or 2 1/2 points below yesterday's close, but it recovered to 67, with 5 1/2 bid at the close. Cement common declined two points, to 20 1/2, but recovered to 21 1/2. The preferred, after declining to 8 1/2, recovered to 8 1/2, which sold off to 107, closing at 107 1/2. The general closing was stronger.

Talk of Removing Wheat Duty Not Liked by Chicago Traders

Market Opens Lower and Prices React Sharply Through Session—Wheat Values Drop 1-2 Cents During Day.

Receipts at Primary Centres. Yesterday's wheat receipts in car lots at primary points, with comparisons, were as follows:

	To-Week	Week ago
Chicago	200,000	224,000
Winnipeg	49,333	139,000
Duluth	55,333	53,000
Minnesota	315,250	330,000

Winnipeg Inspection. Winnipeg receipts of wheat graded as follows: No. 1 northern, 9 cars; No. 2 northern, 16; No. 3 northern, 14; No. 4 northern, 4; No. 5 northern, 3; No. 6 northern, 1; rejected, 2. Oats, receipts to-day were 27 cars, against 31 a year ago.

European Wheat Markets. At Liverpool wheat futures closed to-day 3/4d to 1/2d lower than yesterday; corn futures 1/4d higher to 1/2d lower. Antwerp closed unchanged. Berlin, 1/2c lower for wheat. Buda Pest, 1/2c lower for wheat.

Primarys. Chicago, Wk. ago, Yr. ago. Wheat, receipts, 200,000, 224,000, 683,000. do, shipments, 261,000, 188,000, 383,000. Corn, receipts, 1,108,000, 780,000, 726,000. do, shipments, 331,000, 274,000, 215,000. Oats, receipts, 415,000. do, shipments, 456,000.

World's Estimates. Broomhall estimates wheat and flour shipments for the week exclusive of North America at 11,200,000 bushels, against 8,820,000 bushels last week. Of this Europe will take about 10,000,000 bushels. The shipments last week, 11,072,000 bushels, and last year, 10,704,000 bushels. Arrivals of breadstuffs into the United Kingdom will aggregate about 2,400,000 bushels, the shipments from Kurraichee next week will be about 218,000 bushels.

India Shipments. India-Wheat shipments, 1,362,000 bushels, against 553,000 bushels last week, and 944,000 bushels last year. Broomhall predicts that the shipments from Kurraichee next week will be about 218,000 bushels.

Australia Shipments. Australia-Wheat shipments, 2,168,000 bushels, against 2,176,000 bushels last week and 2,978,000 bushels last year.

Argentine Shipments. This wk. Last wk. Last yr. Wheat, bush, 2,350,000, 1,254,000, 302,000. Corn, bush, 126,000, 126,000, 126,000. Visible supply—Wheat, bush, 2,350,000. Argentina's wheat shipments a week ago, 2,304,000 bushels. Argentina's wheat shipments a week ago, 2,304,000 bushels. Argentina's wheat shipments a week ago, 2,304,000 bushels.

Broomhall's Cable. LIVERPOOL, Jan. 27.—Notwithstanding the easier American cables yesterday and the heavy arrivals from the interior, together with liberal shipments from India and Australia and the forecast of heavy world's shipments this week, other than America, (though expected support adds) bushels in excess of last week, the market opened 1/4d to 1/2d lower. Following the opening, arrivals from the interior were small, particularly from the interior, which were very small, with the quality satisfactory.

Modern Miller's Report. The Modern Miller, St. Louis, says: Further rains have fallen in the principal winter wheat areas, and the interior of Oklahoma and Kansas, where the condition of the crop is poorest. Elsewhere, the prospects are reported satisfactory. In the Pacific Northwest the wheat crop condition is excellent.

ST. LAWRENCE-MARKET. Receipts of farm produce were four loads of hay. One load of hay sold at $20 per ton. The other three loads were held over for Saturday's market.

Grain—	Wheat, bush, $1.07 to $1.08
	Wheat, goose, bush, 0.80
	Eye, goose, bush, 0.68 to 0.70
	Barley, bush, 0.70 to 0.83
	Buckwheat, bush, 0.48
	Peas, bush, 0.78 to 0.80
	Oats, bush, 0.39

Chicago Grain Review. CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—President Taft's message, recommending that Canadian wheat be put on a parity with the rest of the world's wheat, has been the subject of much discussion here. The market closed weak, after much unloading by timid holders. Latest prices were lower, with the exception of the day's receipts sold and 300 undipped of May options here ranged from 96 1/2c to 96c, and in the end was 1/4c off, at 96 1/2c.

Chicago Gossip. J. P. Bickell & Co. say at the close: Wheat—Lower. Bearish construction, led by the proposed tariff treaty between Canada and the United States with the overshadowing influence to-day, long wheat being liquidated freely and short selling continuing. Leading long interest apparently inactive and professionals and trade in general inclined to selling positions. We continue to expect erratic market and caution buying on bulges, but on good declines purchases are in order.

The Time and Place For Women to Buy

The uncertain, unsatisfactory weather of last week was enough to drive the woman who takes an interest in her clothes to distraction. Mild and muggy, then cold and windy, she never knew what to wear or when to wear it. But take consolation in the fact that just as surely as the spring dress goods have begun to come into Simpson's Store, so have the days begun to get longer, and spring will be upon us before we realize it. Remember, too, that $1.00 spent now means a great economy, and that any time you may take to pick out what you want is time well spent. Just notice the prices below, then come here and inspect the goods:

Monday Basement Sale (CHINA)

Nothing can exceed the beauty, the richness of coloring and the delicacy of good china. A visit to the Art Section of our China Department is very impressive. Some of the gems on view look too good even to touch. Here, Coalport, Royal Worcester and Crown Derby; there, the wonderful work of Bernard Moore, the master colorist, commands attention; further on, beautiful Amphora and Teplitz, or a delightful Wedgwood are seen. Through all this beauty appears the sparkle of cut glass and glint of gold; and the visitor is apt to forget that all this was made by the hand of man. Have you seen this collection? It is well worth a visit.
