MUNICIPAL OFFICIALS IN CONVENTION HERE

NEW BRUNSWICK'S SHARE IN MARITIME MATTERS TAKEN UP

Terms of Duncan Report Must Be Carried Out, Says J. D. McKenna, in Leading Discussion on Subject

ADDRESSES OF WELCOME DELIVERED

More Than 30 Delegates, Representing All Municipalities in Province, Are Present—Premier Baxter and Mayors Speak—Papers Are Read

THE terms of the Duncan Commission report are not carried out, it would be found that the agitation in connection with the Maritimes has only just started," declared J. D. McKenna, in an address today before the 20th annual meeting of the Union of New Brunswick Municipalities in the County Court House. In a forceful address, Mr. McKenna outlined to the gathering what, in his opinion, the people of New Brunswick could do to help themselves, declaring that they should not depend on other parts of Canada, or governments, to give them prosperity. He dealt particularly with agriculture and showed the opportunities that lay in that line of endeavor.

More than thirty delegates, representing all the municipalities of the province, were in attendance at the opening session, when addresses of welcome were delivered by Premier J. B. M. Baxter and Mayor White. Responses were delivered by Mayor Ambrose Wheeler, Moncton; Mayor W. B. Belyea, Woodstock; and Mayor F. D. J. Graham, of St. Stephen.

The president of the Union, Hon. R. W. Wignome, Warden of the Municipality of the City and County of Saint John, was in the chair and presented the annual presidential address.

PAPERS ARE READ

During the morning session papers covering municipal matters were presented. Dr. Roy B. Liddy, professor of philosophy at Mount Allison University, discussed the questions of municipal homes and old-age pensions, while Dr. Mabel Hanington, medical inspector of schools for Saint John, gave a very interesting paper on the practical side of the feeble-minded question.

At noon the delegates to the convention motored to the Provincial Hospital in Lancaster, where they were guests at luncheon and on their return to the city resumed their sessions in the Court House.

In calling on Mr. McKenna, R. W. Wignome, president of the Union, paid him a tribute for the work he had done in spreading the views of the people of these provinces through the other parts of Canada. He also told of the efforts of A. M. Belding, and paid a tribute to The Telegraph for its aid in sending these men throughout the country.

J. D. McKenna

In opening, Mr. McKenna expressed his appreciation at being present and recalled the time when he was a member of the Union of Municipalities and wished success to its efforts. He also paid a tribute to Dr. M. L. Hanington, for her fine address, and recommended it for their consideration.

DISCUSS CONFEDERATION

He said that he would deal with the subject of the Maritime Confederation in general terms in regard to their position with the rest of Canada. He outlined the evidence he had given before the Duncan commission, and said that these provinces had a partnership based on the Confederation agreement. This agreement was a treaty between Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Ontario, signed in 1867 in London by Sir John A. Macdonald, as chairman.

This treaty was the basis for the British North America Act and it was recommended that the resolutions in the agreement should be presented to the Imperial Government. The main reasons were that a Federal Government be established in Canada, and, secondly, that the government should provide harmony, equity and prosperity in this country, and that the whole agreement should work out to the common advantage of all the provinces. The intention was to form a partnership, but instead of that partnership, said the speaker, the result had been a joint stock company, with most of the stock held in Upper Canada.

WILL PURSUE ACTIVITY

Mr. McKenna said that he believed that we here had had support from the people of Canada and that they were prepared to use the people of the Maritime Provinces fairly.

Speaking of the Duncan report, he said that the people here would expect to see the terms of that report carried out. If they were not carried out, he said, the agitation which had been carried on, would be found to have only started.

When we had desired certain things, said the speaker, it was said that we had received too much, that we were gratters and had gotten more than our share of public works, etc.

He called attention to the money spent on railroads in the various provinces and the share received here, exclusive of the C. N. R. Taking official figures it was shown that the Dominion government had taken over the roads of, and subsidized railroads to

Aid From Dominions For Navy Considered At Conference

WHOLE VILLAGES ARE WIPED OUT BY UPRHEAVALS

Thousands of Armenians Homeless and in Dire Want

RELIEF RUSHED

Trans-Caucasus Has Sent 50,000,000 Roubles for Relief of Sufferers

CONSTANTINOPOLE, Oct. 27.

Soviet officials here today received reports from Erivan stating that more than 5,000 persons were killed or injured in the recent earthquake in Armenia. The villages of Alachkep, Yenibayazide and Ditchimzine, were destroyed entirely. Churches along the line from Chemuru to Erivan suffered heavily. Thousands are homeless and in distressed state.

The Near East Relief is caring for the homeless and the trans-Caucasian Federation has sent 50,000,000 roubles for the relief of the sufferers.

It is believed that Turkish territory was not touched by the quake since no reports concerning it has been received from the Turkish district near Armenia.

UNABLE TO STOP DOUBLE SUICIDE

QUESTION OF PORTS.

In regard to ports, he said, the railway authorities were meeting on that question. Before the Duncan commission in Montreal those speaking for the railways and other transportation interests had stressed the determining factor regarding Eastern Canada ports was that they must be equipped on a low cost so as to have low rates. The equipment must be on the level, he said.

Speaking of conditions here, Mr. McKenna said that we could not depend on Providence and politics to build up our province. There were many things that we could do to help ourselves. In the West when one asked how the production of hatter and cheese in the province had been stationary for the last 20 years. The West was shipping millions of tons of dairy products to the old country and paying in addition $50 a ton more for the cost of freight.

We could produce hundreds of thousands more in dairy products and still have room for more.

URGES WIDER MARKET.

How were we to do this, he asked. The first thing was to produce a standard article to get into the British market and the second was for the producer to receive the maximum amount received for the goods. Taking the question of pork for an example, he said that only a couple of years ago when pork was shipped into Saint John 10-14 cents were received for it and if 100 hogs came in the market was swamped. Now there were two abattoirs in the province, one here and another in Moncton. While before there had been no hogs shipped from Sussex now every two weeks there were two or three carloads going to Moncton to the Swift plant and the farmers were getting 16 to 18 cents for the dressed pork and could not produce enough. The manager of the Swift plant had told him that New Brunswick produced the finest hogs used by any of this company's plants.

These were things that we could do for ourselves, Mr. McKenna said. We could not expect the Department of Agriculture to do everything as its resources were limited. If the business men and farmers made up their mind to get together and make a common cause regarding agriculture, the country would go ahead.

TRIBUTE TO MINISTER

Paying a tribute to Hon. James Macdonald, Minister of Trade and Commerce, Mr. McKenna said that the United States manufacturer would soon find himself excluded from the markets of the British Empire and, if he wanted to continue to participate he would have to come to Canada or other countries in the Empire. Mr. Macdonald suggested that some of these so-called

Hand To Paw Combat With Bengal Tiger

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 27.

What every zoo keeper needs is an encounter hand to paw with a tiger, according to C. A. Wilson, superintendent of Parks at Minot, North Dakota. "It teaches you how to handle cats, and it builds up your nerve," declared the intrepid Wilson, as he lay with 29 stitches in his forehead, recovering from a combat with El Tex, a native of Hans Nagel, keeper of the Herman Zoo here, and a gun which Nagel happened to have. As Wilson attempted to enter the cage of El Tex yesterday the beast sprang through the open door, and tiger and man went down in a confusion of tufts and claws. Nagel slipped his gun under Wilson's arm, and shot El Tex through the heart, but not before Wilson's shoulder had been torn by the teeth, his face clawed and his left leg ripped. Wilson's knowledge of cats assisted him in the combat. He clinched with his opponent, pressing himself so close to the trunk of the brute that the claws of the hind feet were unable to reach his vitals.

For the month of September, 1926, the gross earnings amounted to $25,712,051, the largest total for any September during the five years beginning with 1922. This sum compares with gross earnings of $22,406,253 in 1924, an increase of $1,105,888 or 4.90 per cent. for September last.

The net earnings for September, 1926, totalled $18,797,691.60 as against $18,666,192.16 for September, 1925, an increase of $131,499.44 or seven tenths of one per cent.

GROSS REVENUES COMPARED

Taking the nine month period of 1926, including September, the gross earnings of the C. N. R. amounted to $189,496,292, while during the first nine months of 1925, the gross earnings totalled $169,208,260, showing an increase during the first nine months of 1926, of $20,288,032, or 11.95 per cent. Again, this gross is the largest for the similar period of any year since and including 1922.

VALERIAN NEEDED ONE HOUR TO PORT

Would Never Have Sunk if the Weather Had Remained Moderate For While

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Oct. 27.—If the weather had remained moderate for an hour or so longer, on Friday afternoon, H. M. S. Valerian, which foundered with 84 men, could have run to safety through the Narrows and into the port, the British Admiralty stated today.

The commanding officer of the port has visited the 19 wrecked ship, the disaster at the Naval Hospital. All are doing well. No further information will be given as to the loss of the vessel and incidents connected with the sinking until the Admiralty has reviewed the full official procedure in investigating the sinking.

It is believed that the Valerian turned over when she was caught by a terrific sea during a turn of the hurricane Friday afternoon which shifted from southeast to northwest with increased velocity.

OTTAWA, Oct. 27.—Canada and United States magazine publishers will oppose one another before the tariff advisory board here on Thursday next at the hearing of the application of the Magazine Publishers Association of Canada for a duty on American magazines entering Canada.

While announcement of the filing of the application was made two weeks ago an official statement made of the grounds advanced in favor of a duty on United States magazines has not been made public here. It is understood, however, that the reasons to be put forward by Canadian Publishers will be along the lines of several speeches made in the House of Commons last session by members favoring the imposition of a duty on American periodicals. These grounds will include a protest against the Americanization of Canada by United States publications and representations tending to show the difficulties confronting Canadian publishers under existing conditions.

SINGAPORE BASE TO BE DISCUSSED

New Zealand Anxious to Make Some Contribution

REVIEW SATURDAY

Fleet Will Be Visited By Delegates Following Parley on Imperial Defence

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The question of the distribution of naval armaments and of their burden on the supporting nations will be brought up at the committee appointed by the Imperial Conference, this morning. New Zealand is most anxious to make some contribution to the cost of naval defence and to the expenditure on the base at Singapore, while Australia is also willing to follow that Dominion's lead.

Premier Bruce's idea is to strengthen the Australian fleet and to spend money both on its increase and on the cost of the Singapore base, but not to make any contribution to the Imperial exchequer for the upkeep of the British fleet.

Yesterday's conference consisted largely of an elaborate review of Imperial defence and after the delegates have seen the British fleet in full review order next Saturday, the question of the distribution of naval armaments will assume a new phase.

ARMENIA STRIVES TO RECOVER FROM QUAKE DESOLATION

15 Villages Are in Ruins and 23 Others Are Partly Destroyed.

100 SQUARE MILES OF LAND STRICKEN

Property Destruction Will Be Greater Than at First Supposed

LENINKAN, Armenia, Oct. 26.—Heartened by the immediate assistance from the United States and every part of Russia, Armenia is struggling valiantly to extricate herself from the misery, famine and desolation caused by the series of earthquakes beginning Friday night.

Fifteen villages are in ruins and 23 others partly destroyed. The death toll is placed as high as 600, with 1,000 others maimed or missing in the earthquake zone which covers 100 square miles.

PROPERTY LOSS GREATER

An extraordinary commission has been despatched to the earthquake region by the Trans-Caucasian government and reports already have begun to come in saying that the property destruction will be much greater than at first announced. Not a single house remains in the towns of Deary and Baidoup, while even sturdy churches and school houses built of concrete have been reduced to fragments.

The havoc on Leninkan was so great that the entire city must be rebuilt, leaving 80,000 persons more or less homeless for the present. All schools have been closed for ten days, the payment of all taxes suspended and a month's salary advanced to workmen in all state industries.

The city of Karakala has suffered heavily also. The Leninkan survivors are camped on the bleak hillside, unsheltered, lacking bedding and some with only necessary clothing, the intense cold adding to their misery. There is also an acute food shortage, as much of the live stock was destroyed and the flour mills were closed.

WINNIPEG ROTARY TOLD OF CUSTOMS

'Laying Table' Dates Back 400 Years, Says Ex-Museum Deputy

WINNIPEG, Oct. 26.—Antique etiquette and the origin of modern customs and conventions were related in an address given before the Winnipeg Rotary Club by R. F. Martin, former deputy keeper of the Victoria and Albert Museum, London.

According to Mr. Martin, "laying the table" dates back 400 years to the time when tables were merely a number of boards laid down upon trestles. To lay the table meant merely setting these in place.

Those were the days when plates of any kind were unknown, and forks had not been thought of. As a large cut of venison was brought around, each guest hacked off a chunk with his hunting knife and laid it on a thick slice of bread.

Wooden platters came into use during the sixteenth century; pewter plates in the 17th, and porcelain and china in the 18th. Forks were introduced in the reign of James I. Previous to that time the ladies and gentlemen used their fingers.

The word euphoric, Mr. Martin explained, comes from the cup board found behind the master's seat, along which he ranged his collection of gold and silver cups and dishes.

Quoting from a code of manners drawn up in the 18th century, Mr. Martin said that the guests were recommended to keep their finger nails clean, to refrain from picking their teeth with their hunting knife or clean them on the table cloth. As the ladies ate from the same platter as their gentlemen companions they were reminded not to take the choicest cut, but to turn it to their lord. The guests were also asked to breathe through the nose as silently as possible and warned to wipe their mouths before drinking so that no grease would go into the wine, "which is most unpleasant for the next person."

Addresses Heard At Union of N. B. Municipalities Meet

The city during the year, but perhaps none dealt with more practical facts touching on the life of the community than the convention meeting here today.

He deplored the fact that there was so little enthusiasm over municipal elections, in which matters vital to the people were decided, particularly that of the imposition of direct taxation.

The voter, he declared, wants many facilities, but a great majority objects to paying the share of the cost. He urged the members of the union to try and stir up interest in civic matters.

It is a popular thing to decry a municipal government. His Worship declared, and thought that the difficulties of members of civic and municipal governments were not appreciated by the general public.

The Mayor said it was a pleasure to welcome the members of the city. He was glad to see that the French-speaking population was so well represented, and in a few words in French he welcomed those delegates.

MAYOR WHEELER
Mayor Ambrose Wheeler, of Moncton, in reply said all present would appreciate the kind words of welcome extended by Mayor White. He congratulated the city on having such an able Mayor. He hoped the present convention would cement more closely the feeling of friendship between the different municipalities of the province.

MAYOR OF WOODSTOCK
In reply to Mayor White's address of welcome, Mayor W. B. Belyea of Woodstock said:
"We have listened with pleasure to the splendid address of welcome by His Worship Mayor White, the one to whom I believe I express the thanks of all the visitors for the words of welcome to this dear old city. Its every aspiration has found an echo in my heart. It may be because it is here I was born, and where my father and grandfather were freemen.

"We have heard it said from time to time that Saint John wants it all. In the words of Lord Clive, the conqueror of India, when accused of undue wealth, 'When I think of my opportunities, I am amazed at my moderation.'
This great winter port of Canada has never had its national or natural rights, and has been almost neglected by all the governments. We demand our rights and when this great winter port of Canada takes its rightful place among the greater ports of the world then, and only then, will we rest content.

I wish to extend the best wishes of the people of Woodstock to the people of Saint John and all the delegates of the other towns assembled here today. I trust that this convention will have good results in the betterment of our several incorporations.
I thank you most cordially for your kindness. I look with delight and with pride on the extent and beauty of this noble city, a city which I might almost call mine. With every wish for its prosperity and honor when I shall bid it farewell.

PREMIER BAXTER
Premier Baxter added his words of welcome to those of Mayor White. He is confronted by a double standard in municipal matters, Dr. Baxter said. Every possible improvement was desirable, he added, but it was necessary to pay for them. People who see many facilities in the larger cities must remember that those cities have large taxable values.

Dr. Baxter said that many funds in the United States were unsuitable in Canada or British territory. So long as taxes were high, if every body's fund were adopted, there would be little chance of reduction.

MAYOR GRAHAM
Mayor Graham, of Saint Stephen, also replied to the address of welcome in place of Mayor Max D. Cormier of Edmundton, who was not present. Referring to the position of his town, Mayor Graham said that, while its population was 3,500, the total of the poor account last year was $550.

The resolution committee was named as follows:—G. O. Dickson, Otty, Hampton; Mayor W. C. Clark, Fredericton; Mayor Ambrose Wheeler, Moncton; Mayor Max D. Cormier, Edmundton; Mayor A. McAdam, Campbellton; Mayor Graham, Saint Stephen.

REGISTRATION
Those who had registered today were as follows: President, Hon. R. W. Wigmour, Warden of Saint John City and County; J. King Kelley, county secretary, Saint John; J. L. Thorne, county treasurer, Saint John; Dr. H. A. Farris, East Saint John; Thomas Murray, town clerk, Saint John; George C. Bight, secretary-treasurer, Albert county; Edward H. W. Snider, Hatfield's Point; Mayor A. McAdam, Campbellton; A. T. Lallan, Shelburne; J. H. Currier, Fredericton; George A. Anderson, Musquash; James O'Donnell, Musquash; G. O. Dickson, Otty, secretary-treasurer, Hampton; Mayor A. H. McCready, Sackville; P. L. Andrews, R. B. Liddy, Sackville; A. H. Ridgeway, Plaster Rock; M. H. Rutledge, town manager, Woodstock; Mayor M. D. J. Graham, St. Stephen; Mayor Ambrose Wheeler, Moncton; Dr. B. Gilchrist, Norton; William Golding, Lancaster; William Smith, M. A., Hampton; Hon. Lewis Smith, Minister of Agriculture, Cordova; Warden A. Murdoch, Restigouche; Dr. Truman, president, Mt. Allison University; W. L. Harding, Saint John; J. F. Mersereau, Chatham.

President's Address
Hon. R. W. Wigmour, president of the Union, in his annual address, said:
It is with great pleasure, as Warden of the City and County of Saint John, that I bid you welcome and to assure you that while this Municipality is loaded with problems and difficulties, we are conscious of a duty and willingness to assist every action of the Province of New Brunswick to the utmost of our power, personally as well as officially.
You have heard it said that what affects Saint John affects the whole Province, and this is true, and its truth is not detracted by frequent repetition. Therefore, stronger is the reason why in social, business and municipal life every action should strive to contribute its best to the common fund of citizenship.
Your presence here, from all sections of the four sides of the Province is strong evidence of a desire to join in measures looking to the solution of problems making the Province of New Brunswick the dwelling place of happy communities.

The Union of New Brunswick Municipalities was organized in the City of Saint John in February, 1907, and since that time I consider that it has been a great benefit to the Province as a whole. It has watched legislation in the House at Fredericton, and since the organization of the Union, lobbyists are not as frequent in their attendance as formerly. I consider that all Municipalities in the Province have

C., honorary secretary-treasurer of the Union.

Telephone Company applied for power to increase its capital stock. The application was opposed because we felt that increased capital would demand increased rates. The opposition to the application brought from the company a promise that the rates would not be increased.

THE EMPIRE
Since last we assembled in the City of Moncton, the world has been struggling in the agonies of the birth of Nations. Poorer in immediate resources the war has made our Nation, but she is richer in spirit. Great Britain, worn and tired from the battle fields, seeks no craven rest from the responsibilities of civil life she wraps no cloak of selfish doctrine of isolation from the troubles of Europe or of the world about her. Let us repeat, the thought that, poorer in wealth of the banker's counter, she stands out immensely more wealthy than people which regenerates the soul of men.

Since last we assembled, two governments have been in power at Ottawa, and the third is now settled there. In New Brunswick and Nova Scotia the Governments have changed, and no one will hope but that the change in each case has been for the best whatever our party affiliations may be. In the three Maritime Provinces a vigorous campaign has been in progress, looking to the return of "good times." The struggle of the Maritimes you will hear from gifted speakers before the close of the convention. I will leave it to them to make statements of our claims; but let me remind you that being sons and daughters in the homestead of Canada, no internal controversies can or will deprive us of our share in the old homestead.

Loosen Up That Cold With Musterole
Have Musterole handy when a cold starts. It has all the advantages of grandmother's mustard plaster without the burn. You feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

LEGISLATION
The Legislature in 1925 passed an act for the protection of the children of unmarried parents, which was modified in 1926. The promoters of this act were no doubt sincere in their motives on former legislation.

An act respecting the maintenance of deserted wives and children passed in 1926, ought to bring relief to deserving mothers from brutal and unscrupulous husbands. Under certain circumstances a magistrate may order a husband to pay $20 per week for his wife and children.

An act respecting the distribution of estates of intestates, which will come into force on the 1st of May 1927, will make many changes in estate of persons dying without a will.

The Union of Municipalities in 1924 consolidated the general rates and taxes act, but gave no consideration to the various local taxes. The time is past due when these local taxes should longer prevail in New Brunswick.

RATES AND TAXES
There is need of a general rates and taxes act applicable to every city, town, village and county, bearing evenly and equitably on the inhabitants and all sources of taxation.

THE PROVINCIAL HOSPITAL
It is the intention of the province to place the cost of maintaining the Provincial Hospital more largely on the municipalities. There cannot be any serious objection to this course, except that fines collected under the Prohibition Act might be earmarked and wholly used to maintain that institution.

Feeble-Minded Case

Mabel L. Hannington delivered an interesting paper on the practical side of the feeble minded question, in part as follows:
"When some eight years ago I began my work here, as Medical Inspector of the City and County Schools, the question of the feeble minded was thrust on my notice. My heavy work as Medical Inspector leaves me little leisure for our country's welfare, for provincial welfare, for our country's welfare, I know you have not so realized it, I think you will do so when we have considered it together more fully.

There is that hopeless family where the man never seems to retain a job or get forward.
"Here is that woman who is never made capable of improving her own condition from the deplorable state that you know to exist, to keep her children decently clothed and properly fed, and off the street."

Dr. Hannington urged the necessity of special classes to take care of the feeble minded in every parish, where she claimed, they were poisoning the streams of life of the province. She related several pitiful cases of the result of feeble-mindedness among women and young girls.

Should we not—where we have some places, she continued, "where we could send these girls? where their parents, if need be, could ask for their admittance in the days of their safety and their innocence? Why let them remain unprotected among us till the worst happens?"

"Do you know the Industrial Home for boys here? A few years ago a survey was made. Out of 46 boys, resident, 38 were feeble-minded, in varying degrees, of course; their intelligence running from 4 1/2 to 11 years of age.

One lad, 17 years of age physically, and 4 1/2 in mind, who sat and played with my hand while I talked with him, looking at me with innocent blue eyes the while, was committed for four years for stealing. Boys seven in mind were found stealing sheep in one of your counties. Others were in for like misdemeanors. The superintendent knows these things; his work deserves the highest tribute. With inadequate equipment, and a very small staff, he accomplishes a very great deal for those boys who can be taught a standard that will keep them from falling again. But what of the great number we send him who should not be there at all?"

MUNICIPAL HOME
"Take our Municipal Home. You know that half of the people at least who, in younger years, are admitted on your hands again. Show them to earn a livelihood for themselves. They come in, perhaps, with their children for the winter and go out again in the spring; and their family increases, and the children of the next generation on your hands again. Show them not to be a more suitable place than any 'poorhouse' where those among these children who are such victims of sub-normal in intellect, could be sheltered and trained, that they be not again a part in the same vicious circle."

OUR FISHERIES

NATIONAL FISH DAY is a reminder of the value of one of the great resources of the Maritime Provinces. The real development of the fisheries industry is yet to come.

The value of fish as a food no longer needs to be demonstrated. It contains elements which distinctly promote health.

THE AEROPLANE AND THE EMPIRE

THE attention paid by the Imperial Conference to air force matters is indicative of a progressive outlook one is apt occasionally to fear lacking.

The aeroplane, and possibly the airship, will be the attacker and defender and the transport of the future.

Odds and Ends

It seems absurd to suppose that this earth is the only inhabitable world merely because it is the only one of which we are certain.

Some people are so conservative about motor traffic that it is a wonder they don't demand a speed limit on farm tractors.

It is easy to keep your mind on the ball after you've been told to forget how your legs look in knickers.

"Two handts hold up a poker dive." Here is a case on record, of a pair beating a full house.

A good story was told recently by the famous Professor Sayce of Oxford University.

The obvious reply to this last remark is that if the Maritime Provinces had free access to the American market of more than a hundred million people they would be far more prosperous than at present.

It is further to be noted that the Maritime Provinces are Canada's only winter outlet to the sea, except through foreign ports, and that these ports have been denied by the rest of Canada the port development and the trade which are right-

A RAILWAY PROBLEM (Regina Leader) RIGHT Hon. George P. Graham, former minister of railways, estimated that motor cars of all sorts had taken $23,000,000 from the railways of this country in 1924.

In the aggregate the damage by Monday's storm in southern New Brunswick amounts to a large total, and is the more serious because roads and bridges are affected and a large expenditure will be necessary either now or in the spring to restore them to their former condition.

An untoward fate pursues the Armenians. Not only have they been the victims of many wars in which they had no concern, and of a persecution which destroyed great numbers of people and caused the death by starvation of other great numbers, but Nature herself has been unkind to them.

The Minister of Trade and Commerce has assured the Saint John Board of Trade that this port will not suffer in connection with any change there may be in the West India steamship service.

The more one reads of the comment in other provinces upon the situation and clamor of the Maritimes the more one is convinced that Mr. Patterson's book, "The True Story of Confederation," should be given a much wider distribution.

One way and another we have had almost enough wars, earthquakes, floods and hurricanes during the past ten or fifteen years.

It is not surprising that the Maritimes are so conservative about motor traffic that it is a wonder they don't demand a speed limit on farm tractors.

It is easy to keep your mind on the ball after you've been told to forget how your legs look in knickers.

Increased in the last ten years. There are certain spectacular crimes such as bank holdups, but the general volume is decreasing. There has been a diminution of vagrancy and drunkenness.

Addresses Heard At Union of N. B. Municipalities Meet

Innocent and potential criminal? Think.
And then, thirdly, we have the much larger class, called the Morose—those of intelligence from 6 to 12 years of age, amongst whom we find our most difficult problems and our greatest number of delinquents. The nearer a person short of normal mentality approaches to the normal, the less he is protected, the less labeled, and so on or she is the more liable to drift out into the world into the dangerous theory of freedom alone, unguarded and unguided, with disaster haunting every step.

NOT ALL HEREDITARY

You will ask me: Are all feeble minded cases the result of some hereditary strain? No. About 65 per cent. are hereditary. But there is no known element that is communicated down so unerringly as feeble mindedness and the majority of our worst cases will probably show the double dosage from both sides of the house, though not necessarily directly shown in the parents. About 25 per cent. of cases of feeble minded persons occur in the best homes of every class, even the latest in the land, and to them we have as yet no clue, but it is probable that the skilled scientist now working along this line will sooner or later find some underlying psychologic cause which will account for some of these sad, heart-breaking cases.

SUGGESTION MADE

The Minister of Health, as did also his predecessor, authorized me long ago to say that he is heartily in favor of anything that can be done to relieve the solution that the feeble minded problem that confronts us in New Brunswick. The N. B. Social Service Council is fully alive to the gravity of the issue. It is prepared to receive at any time donations of money or land, looking towards the erection of an institution for the feeble minded in this province, such an institution to be run on the simplest and most practical lines obtaining elsewhere.

Care For Aged Poor

A paper by Dr. Roy B. Liddy, professor of philosophy, Mount Allison University, Sackville, on Methods of Caring for the Aged Poor, was in part as follows:
Among the major problems which perplex society and demand constant and careful attention, the problem of poverty is not by any means the least important. This problem and indeed all social problems can be successfully attacked only if the efforts that are put forth are directed by intelligence as well as by sympathy.

CHURCH'S EARLY TASK

Throughout the early development of Western Europe the care of the poor was in the hands almost entirely of the church. In the middle ages the monasteries were the chief agencies dealing with this social problem. Though much good was achieved in this way yet, to quote from Ashley's Economic History, "the monasteries had been altogether inefficient for the diminution of pauperism and it was this failure and the similar decay of the hospitals and other charitable foundations which rendered it necessary to transfer the relief of the poor to civic and afterwards to state authorities."

SOLUTION STILL SOUGHT

Out of a background like this are emerging our present methods and money. In 1913 old age pensions of twenty years or more and for five years or more in the province in which application is made. The maximum pension was to be $240 a year, subject to reduction by the amount of the pensioner's income, if any, in excess of $125 a year. The Federal government was to pay one-half the net amount expended in pensions by each province, the cost of administration being met by the provincial governments. This bill was the culmination of a movement dating as far back as 1906.

CONTRIBUTORY PLAN

The bill which passed the House of Commons in Ottawa this last session, but which met with defeat in the Senate, is a bill of this type so-called which, like this Standard Bill just described and like the 1908 act in Britain, was based on the non-contributory scheme. The other chief provisions of the bill are now well known. A pension was to be paid to British subjects

UNION SUGGESTED

The county almshouse, in my opinion, should give place in this province to the district almshouse. Two or three counties should, I believe, unite to provide one large, well-equipped, well-managed institution. In this way overhead would be saved and better accommodation provided. Such an institution should be near a hospital, yet not too near, and there should be careful supervision by competent boards free from political interference and especially appointed for this purpose. The plan of letting out the management to the highest bidder is conducive to abuse, tending to the exploitation of the inmates, and should be discontinued.

OLD AGE PENSIONS

"Old age pensions are of the contributory and the non-contributory types. Where the contributory type is in effect the beneficiary makes a direct contribution to the pension fund. The municipality or state and, in some places, employers contribute also to the fund. In the non-contributory type the pensions come entirely from public the family budget, his care by his own children is made more easy and, in some cases, thereby made possible. If, on the other hand, the aged parent can make no financial contribution to his support, in many instances his support by his own children will, unfortunately, be possible, if at all, only at considerable deprivation to the family. It is not possible that old age pensions would tend to prevent rather than to cause the disintegration of family life.

ARGUMENT FOR PENSIONS

"That old age pensions injure the self-respect of the recipients is also open to grave question. We pension from public funds civil service employees, soldiers and sailors without any result being manifest. It is inconceivable that much of poverty in old age is due to misfortune and not to the fault of the individual. The man who has served his country faithfully in industry in peace time but who, because of low wages or sickness or dependents, or all of these, finds himself in penury in old age, is just as deserving of a small pension from society as the young man who has served his country in time of war.

COMPROMISE SUGGESTED

"But, it is said, we cannot afford pensions of this sort. If the recent bill had been passed, and if the Province of New Brunswick had co-operated, it would have added, so it has been claimed, 18 per cent. to the public expenditure of the province. If, on the other hand, a purely provincial scheme, without any Federal support and without, of course, any corresponding Federal obligations, were introduced, and if the pension were no less than that suggested by the Federal bill, which is surely small enough for the province, would be still greater. If we cannot afford the Dominion scheme, still less can we afford a provincial scheme. The conclusion seems to be that we are too poor in these provinces to give to our aged poor the benefit of old age pensions such as are provided in a number of other countries.

Men Prefer Widows to Old Maids of the Same Age Because Widows Know How to Cater to Their Tastes, are Experienced Housekeepers, and, Most of All, Because They Don't Expect Too Much in a Husband.

A WOMAN correspondent says: "I want to know why, at 40 years of age, I am called an 'old maid,' while a woman of 40 who has lost her husband is spoken of as a 'young widow'?"

THE ANSWER to the question of why the widow can out-marry the old maid (age looks and general eligibility being equal) is that men are like sheep so far as women are concerned.

IF YOU will observe a girl at a party you will see that she has either many partners or none.

NOTHING succeeds like success with a woman. The more popular she is the more men run after her.

ON THE contrary, the mere fact that a girl never has a date keeps any man from going to see her. The old legend that men seek out the modest violet that every other man has passed by has no foundation in fact.

SO IT is literally true that to the girl who has been twice married, while her who has not shall be taken away unto her, while from her who has not shall be taken away unto her.

THE old maid may be, and often is, a golden matrimonial proposition, but men pass her by in favor of the widow, because they have a general idea that if she had been highly desirable some other man would have married her long ago.

THE widow can out-marry the old maid because she has the inalienable advantage of having had experience in handling men. She has had a husband and she learned about men from him.

THE widow knows how to play upon a man's weaknesses as upon a harp of a thousand strings and how to tole him so artfully and subtly into the matrimonial fold that he never suspects that he is even near it until he hears its clang behind him.

IT is the widow who knows how to sell matrimony to the poor, hungry widower, sick and tired of restaurant food and club chefs, by spreading her table with good home cooking and putting him down in a comfortable chair by her bedside, instead of making him take her out to a place of amusement of an evening.

IT is the widow who knows how to do the clinging-vine act about the neck of her husband's most eligible bachelor friend, and who helplessly appeals to him to straighten out her business and do the things for her that dear John used to do, until before he knows it he is wearing dear John's shoes.

IT is the widow who jollies a man into believing that he is as strong as Dempsy and as wise as Solomon; who hangs upon his words and applauds his sentiments and laughs at his jokes, until he marries her to obtain a permanent audience with a glad hand that never grows tired.

SOMEHOW, the old maid can never do these things. Somehow, she has hardened into form and cannot adapt herself to the individual man, but the widow is as pliable as a piece of chewing gum, and as adhesive.

IF THE man she wants is domestic she lives with the cookbook in her hand. If he is pious she goes in for church work. If he is sporty she memorizes the race chart and the baseball reports. If he is absorbed in business she listens with a rapt expression while he monologues by the hour about the stock market or the grocery trade.

SHE is past mistress of the art of being all things to all men, and she can pure over any man until all he wants to do is to curl up and lie on her heart's rug and let her stroke his fur the right way.

ANOTHER reason why the widow can out-marry the old maid is that she knows that the widow is, so to speak, husband-broke, and that she will be reasonably easy to get along with. She doesn't expect too much of her husband. She doesn't look to him to be a romantic hero or a demigod.

SHE knows from experience what husbands are—just fallible human creatures, with a million faults and a million virtues, and that if one pays the bills with only a moderate amount of grumbling he is a handy thing to have about the house, especially around the first of the month.

SHE knows how to make allowances and not to take things too tragically. Many a thing that a young bride would break her heart over that would horrify the old-maid bride, the widow merely laughs at.

FURTHERMORE, in marrying a widow a man knows that he is generally getting a good cook and housekeeper. She has learned on his predecessor—God rest his soul—and is in no danger of giving dyspepsia while she experiments with cooking-school recipes or of bankrupting him while she learns how to manage a budget.

PERHAPS these reasons explain why the widow can out-marry the old maid. Perhaps not. Anyway, she can do it.

Progress Reported at Annual Meeting; Tribute Paid to Curator

F. B. ELLIS, retiring president of the Natural History Society having declined re-election at the 64th annual meeting of the society last night, because he will be absent from the city, Judge George A. Henderson was unanimously chosen to fill that office. The year's reports submitted showed exceptional success had attended all of the society's endeavors and much praise was given the various officers and the curator, Dr. William Macintosh, whose work has been outstanding. Mr. Ellis presided and the meeting was largely attended.

Membership totals were reported between 800 and 900 and receipts included $900 city grant, $1,000 government grant, $130 annual fees, $147 associate and $115 sustaining fees. The total receipts were $4,983.89 including amount contributed to the building fund. Funds on hand will be about sufficient to defray expenses of alterations.

COSTIVE BOWELS, HEADACHE, COLDS TAKE "CASCARET'S"

No Headache, Sour Stomach, Bad Cold or Constipation by morning

Get a 10-cent box now. Furred Tongue, Bad Colds, Indigestion, Sallow Skin, and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

MRS. HATTIE M. P. WILSON

WISHEK, N. D.—Celebrating her fiftieth anniversary as a teacher in this community, Mrs. Hattie M. P. Wilson, 79, declares she would not change her teacher's life for any other kind. Coming to North Dakota before it was a state, Mrs. Wilson has instructed three generations of citizens—often having seen the only teacher a family ever has known. "I have acted as nurse to former pupils who were dying, and have heard their last word 'Teacher,'" Mrs. Wilson relates. "I have played wedding marches for my students grown up. I have, in some instances, been called to dress their first-born. And I have seen the first-born become pupils and be graduated under my charge. Many of them I have attended at cradle, altar and grave."

Wilson's first school was a shanty board with only two windows at the banks of the Misssippi. Her present school is a modern brick building.

At the building which has been made and will "greatly increase the museum space."

LADIES' ASSOCIATION

The report of the Ladies Association which has been a generous contributor to the society, was presented by Mrs. R. R. Rankin, the secretary. By Mrs. Stead reported as librarian and also read the treasurer's report in the absence of A. Gordon Leavitt. John McKay, recording secretary, his report referred feelingly to the loss the society sustained in the death of many life-long members, included in the number being Dr. J. Roy Campbell, F. Neil Brodie, Frank Skinner,

Mrs. James Frink, Hon. R. J. Armstrong and William Jack. W. P. Burditt gave the reports of the building and geological committees.

OFFICERS NAMED.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Honorary president, F. B. Ellis; president, Hon. George A. Henderson; vice-presidents, first, T. H. Eschbrooks; second, A. H. Wetmore; treasurer, A. Gordon Leavitt; curator, and corresponding secretary, Dr. William Macintosh; recording secretary, John A. McKay; librarian, George Stead; additional members of the council, W. P. Burditt, Dr. Murray MacLaren, C.M.G., M.P., and W. Slives Fisher. At its first meeting the council elects five additional members.

CURATOR'S REPORT.

The curator's report stated that the number of persons visiting the museum had increased so greatly as to make it impossible to estimate the total and during the summer the number of tourists visiting the museum had been practically double that of the previous year. The guide books of the collections had been revised.

In educational work more than 1,300 nature study notes had been supplied to teachers who had asked for them and the secretary of the Moncton School Board had requested to be supplied with copies of these notes to be loaned to teachers in that city. A great deal of material was loaned to schools and this included birds, minerals, botanical specimens, Indian relics and many other articles.

INFORMATION SOUGHT.

Information on various subjects, chiefly with reference to natural science or local history, was asked by 2,029 persons, and in addition requested information was supplied the United States government, the Dominion and Provincial Governments, cabinet ministers, Saint John Board of Trade, several foreign museum libraries and other important organizations. Addresses given by the curator before various organizations totalled more than 125. All of the Boy Scouts of the city were shown through the museum and given an illustrated address. An education exhibit by the society at the Saint John Exhibition won very favorable comment.

MANY GIFTS.

The report acknowledged gifts of 1,013 objects from 142 persons, the youngest donor being a child of five, who brought a somewhat frayed specimen of moth, and the oldest contributor being long past four score years in age. During the year the curator wrote 12 newspaper and magazine articles and there were 442 letters despatched from the office. There were 1,242 specimens identified by farmers or teachers and some by young people who are making collections of various kinds.

Miss E. Katherine Matthew and Mrs. D. V. White gave volunteer assistance that was greatly appreciated and the assistant curator, Miss Leonora Belyea, was taken up as one of the important agencies that had made the work of the museum so successful. Dr. A. O. Hayes during the summer finished the geological survey of Southern New Brunswick and is to complete his report this winter.

BUILDING COMMITTEE.

The building committee reported that alterations in the building had been made to provide a compact apartment for the curator on the ground floor and leave three more rooms available for much needed museum space on the upper floor. In all about 1,450 feet of floor space were released in this way. There was much need for repainting, but it was regretted funds did not permit of having this work done.

Quality and Why The TEA before it Reaches your Cup has been scrupulously examined and tested for quality, for richness, for flavor, none but the best chosen. KING COLE Tea.

The geological committee reported on work done in the province this year. Dr. B. F. Howell, of Princeton University, studied Cambrian formations of southern New Brunswick, carrying forward the work of the late Dr. George P. Matthew, and was arranging for the Princeton geological train to visit Saint John next year, a step which might lead to the establishment of a permanent summer camp in New Brunswick of Princeton students.

NAMES LAKE.

Among the recently acquired knowledge to be embodied in the report would be fact of the great lake or island sea which during the carboniferous period stretched from Rothery east, past Albert and Moncton. The rich oil shales of New Brunswick were deposited at the bottom of this lake in the carboniferous period, and Dr. Hayes has decided to name the lake, Lake Albert.

CIRCLE MEETS.

The Jessie Chipman Mission Circle of Portland United Church held a parlor meeting last evening at the home of one of their members, Miss Etta Bell, 149 Adelaide street. A large number were present. Devotional exercises were held in charge of Mrs. Joseph White. The president, Mrs. Fred Smiler, occupied the chair. The study book, "New Days in Old Shales of New Brunswick," was given by Miss Laura Fanjoy, Miss Greta Robinson, Miss Mildred Kirk and Miss Gertrude Harper. Dainty refreshments were served and a most enjoyable evening spent.

LARGE NUMBER ATTEND TEA AT ST. PATRICK'S

Annual Event of Church of Assumption Is Given Good Opening

The Assumption parish Halloween supper and sale in St. Patrick's hall was away to a splendid start last evening and the large number of patrons greatly enjoyed the excellent feast that was served, took in all of the many games and enjoyments and found some excellent bargains at the different booths.

ARTISTIC DECORATIONS

The decorations are most artistic and attractive. Halloween colors of orange and black have been used most effectively both in the dining hall and in the upper hall, where the games and booths are placed. Beautiful orange and yellow chrysanthemums in handsome vases were placed at intervals on the long tables and orange and black candles in graceful candlesticks enhanced the decorative scheme. The vases and candlesticks on two tables were of brass and on the third table they were of silver. Twisted ribbons of black made side curtains for the windows that were shaded in bright orange and twisted black bands entwined the yellow draped pillars. On the walls Halloween novelties in pumpkins, witches and black cats were effectively displayed and some very beautiful sprays of autumn leaves were also prominently placed.

CAPABLE COMMITTEES

Mrs. Walter Bardy, president of the Ladies' Society of the church, is the general convener and she has assisting very capable committees. The members of the orchestra are Mrs. C. O. Morris, Miss M. Sweeney, Miss Gertrude McKenna, Mrs. R. Patton and Miss Lena Scully.

Commons Votes 185 to 68 For Regulations to Stay in Coal Dispute

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The government's emergency powers in connection with the coal strike have been continued by the House of Commons, 185 to 68. A new movement outside of parliament yesterday may possibly lead to a settlement, but parliament itself has thus far been able to make no progress towards a settlement. A deputation from the general council of the Trades Union Congress sought and had a private meeting with Premier Baldwin, in which the coal situation was discussed. In the deputation will see the miners' new proposal, and ascertain whether any new approach is possible. In the meantime of the work is a steady drift of miners back to work.

UTILITIES BOARD GRANTS SOME INCREASES IN MILLTOWN RATES

SOME CHANGES ASKED FOR ARE NOT AGREED TO

Board Also Deals With Matters Under Sales Securities Act

MONCTON JUDGMENT IS NOT YET GIVEN

Woodstock Rates Question to be Taken up Nov. 16

AT the meeting of the New Brunswick Water and Power Board, held this morning, judgment was delivered in the application of the Calais Water and Power Company for an increase in the rates for water supplied to the Town of Milltown, N. B.

Several matters under the Sales Securities Act were dealt with. It was decided to cancel the certificate of the Maritime Carriers, and to issue a certificate to Phillips & Co. to sell the stock of the Fiske Gold Mines, Ltd., and to cancel a certificate already issued to W. H. Thornburn & Co.

MILLTOWN RATES

In the matter of the application of the Calais Water and Power Company for an increase in the rates charged in the Town of Milltown for water supplied to general consumers, and of the rate charged to the town for hydrant service, the judgment of the board was read by the chairman, as follows:

Upon hearing the petition and application of the Calais Water and Power Company, hearing held at Milltown, N. B., on May 26, 1926, praying for the approval of a new schedule of rates to replace the schedule put in force by the board under date of July 27th, 1921, and also requesting an interpretation of the term "tax assessment" in said previous order of this board; and upon reading the affidavits of publication and posting, and upon the evidence of Mr. C. Cockburn, K.C., and H.H. Murchie of the Maine Bar, counsel for the applicant, and Gordon F. Nicholson, counsel for the Milltown Cotton, Limited, and for the town of Milltown, N. B.

It is ordered that the following schedule of rates to replace the former schedule of rates by this board be in force:

Metered service, as follows:
For the first 1,000 cu. ft. per month, 40 cents per 100 cu. ft.
For the next 1,000 cu. ft. per month, 35 cents per 100 cu. ft.
For the next 1,000 cu. ft. per month, 30 cents per 100 cu. ft.
For the next 3,000 cu. ft. per month, 25 cents per 100 cu. ft.
For all excess of 6,000 cu. ft. per month, 10 cents per 100 cu. ft.
The town of Milltown to pay a flat rate of $10 for hydrants.

All other rates to remain as per existing schedule.

Alteration in rules and regulations as filed with the board and approved by order of the board, dated at Saint John, N. B., on the twenty-sixth day of October, A.D., 1926.

By the Board: G. EARLE LOGAN, Secretary.

REASONS STATED

In announcing the judgment the chairman said the board could not agree to the request of the Company for increase of the meter rent from $2.50 to $6 a quarter because this would not be proportionate to the existing rate service.

In refusing the increase asked for in meter consumption charges, the board pointed out that its opinion the division of expenses between Milltown and Calais was a purely arbitrary one and in the opinion of the board an erroneous one.

In granting the increase in hydrant rental from $100 to $110 a year it was pointed out by the board that while this was not as large an increase as the company wished, the cost of fire protection in Milltown was not low and the town of Milltown required a greater number of hydrants in proportion to population than did Calais and the normal demand per hydrant would be much lower.

MONCTON JUDGMENT.

STARTS WITH CREDIT
The Philatelic Club of Central Baptist church held its first meeting for the fall and winter season at the home of Mrs. W. Herbert Downie, the president, at 48 Hazen street, last night and more than 25 active members attended. Plans for the season were decided upon including a rummage sale and Yuletide tea and sale next month. In the Badminton department Miss Wilson was appointed president and Mrs. W. G. Sanctor secretary-treasurer. Refreshments were served. The Philatelic Club enters upon its 1926-27 season with a substantial cash balance. Its activities at Central have been an important factor in the renovation and furnishing of the Sunday school and social facilities of the church.

Board said that the Board were talking up some essential details in connection with the application of the City of Moncton for a decrease in the rates for electric light in the city, and that they had dealt with the judgment would not be delivered.

A communication was read by the secretary from the Fiske Gold Mines, Ltd., that they were no longer represented by W. H. Thornburn & Co. and asking that a certificate to sell stock in New Brunswick be given to Phillips & Co.

WOODSTOCK RATES
M. J. Rutledge, for the Town of Woodstock, asked that the board hold a meeting in Woodstock to take up the rate schedule filed by the Woodstock Light and Power Co. as some features were not satisfactory to the people, mainly the minimum rate and the charge for power to the town. In connection with the power charges he contended the town was entitled to the same rate as Houlton, of 1 1/2 cents a kilowatt, instead of the 2 1/2 cents a kilowatt, which the schedule provided. He suggested the meeting might be held during the week of November 8.

J. D. P. Lewis, for the company, asked that the meeting be held in the following week and it was decided to meet at 10.30 on the morning of Tuesday, November 16, in the court house, Woodstock. He gave notice that in the event of the schedule of the company being sustained by the board he would make an application that the cost of the hearing be assessed against the town, as in the opinion of the company the great majority of the citizens were satisfied with the rates proposed which were much lower than those previously in force.

Mr. Rutledge said this sounded to him like a threat and poor policy on the part of the company.

Mr. Lewis said no threat was intended.

R. G. McInerney, for the Maritime Carriers Ltd., said the company had had an audit made of their books and would like the hearing adjourned until they had placed the position of the company before the shareholders and arrived at a course of action to pursue. The chairman said there would be no adjournment and the certificate of the company to sell stock had been cancelled. The board would, however, entertain an application for a new certificate at any time, if it was felt the company were doing the right thing in reorganizing.

The secretary reported that the Co-operative Creameries Ltd. had come under the board and had forwarded their fee with a request that the check be returned to them by the provincial government, this being a non-profit concern. It was decided to recommend the return of the check.

Queens County Farm Produces Nature Freak

TALK about your "queer quirks of nature!" We have some of them here in New Brunswick. One was brought to this office yesterday. It was a freak potato, on rather the ears, all joined together in a like representation of friend Biliklin. One potato forms the body, another the head, and two others the ears, all joined together by nature. The head is the "piece de resistance," having two eyes, a nose and mouth, and to give it additional "beauty," a dimple in each cheek. Two small protuberances on the forehead give the whole an impish expression. The freak potato was dug on the farm of William J. Henderson, at Henderson, Queens county, and brought to this office by Charles G. Taber.

EXPORTS FROM THIS COUNTRY INCREASE

Declares Trouble Over Religious Question Not Affecting Business

That Canada's exports to Mexico had increased substantially during the last few years and had now reached $4,000,000 a year, was stated today by G. H. Wilde, Dominion's Trade Commissioner, here from Mexico. Mr. Wilde declared he was very optimistic regarding the possibilities of Canadian exports to that country and that the export trade was steadily increasing.

GOODS IN DEMAND.

There was a great demand in Mexico, he said, for chemicals, leathers, paper, textiles, furs, tinware, canned salmon and sardines. Mr. Wilde said that there had a huge amount of chemicals expected for mining purposes. Canada had almost a complete monopoly of certain kinds of chemicals.

BUY MORE AUTOS.

The automobile industry was on a rapid increase, he said, and it was surprising the number of automobiles that were being imported from this country. General conditions in Mexico, he said, were stable and the religious controversy had virtually no effect on business. He declared that there had not been any disturbances recently.

STORM GETS WORSE

Things began to get worse. The storm increased, proportionately with that of the velocity of the winds, and the rain came down in torrents. EIGHT OF CREW QUIT VESSEL AT NEW YORK

"Teeguicalpa," Now at Sand Point, Narrowly Escaped Being Sunk

ONE of the most graphic and interesting accounts of the great hurricane that recently swept the coast of Florida—a hurricane that took the toll of many lives and which unrelentingly devastated everything that came in its path, and struck fear into the hearts of stalwart mariners, was unfolded last night at Sand Point in an interview with a representative of The Evening Times-Star by Captain William Klavens, commander of the S. S. Teeguicalpa, which narrowly missed being sent to "Davy Jones' locker" during that terrible storm.

Captain Klavens declared that never during his 23 years of seafaring experience did he encounter such a hurricane. So terrific was the experience that eight members, which comprised the steward's department, quit the ship immediately upon its arrival in New York city.

DANGERS OF COLLISION

Recounting his experiences, Captain Klavens said: "When I left Baracoa I had no record of a hurricane, and the first report that was brought to me was at 10 o'clock. About a half hour later we ran headlong into the hurricane. At that time we were midway between San Diego and Bird Rock, fifteen miles off Rum Quoy. The storm descended upon us with great force. The waves swept over the decks and at times I feared that some of my crew had been swept overboard. To add to this the night was cloaked in an inky blackness and at any moment our ship was in danger of a collision with some other vessel that might have lost its course during the gale.

"STORM GETS WORSE
Things began to get worse. The storm increased, proportionately with that of the velocity of the winds, and the rain came down in torrents. We had only one chance of escape and that was by pressing the ship to full speed ahead against the hurricane gale. By doing so we could manage to get past the track ahead of the hurricane.

We put full speed ahead—the only thing in this world that could be done to save our ship. It was a terrible experience—an experience that will go down in my memory forever. During the midst of our struggle against those obstacles—obstacles that seemed insurmountable, the stern tube started to leak and our position became more precarious than ever. All available hands were at once put to work to repair the damaged tube. The leakage was finally repaired, however, and the expiration of hours—hours that seemed like an eternity—was cleared the storm-struck area."

MANY WRECKES SEEN

Captain Klavens said that during the storm the wireless operator of the Teeguicalpa received an S. O. S. call from a ship that had lost a rudder in the gale, but that the Teeguicalpa was too far away to be able to render assistance. He also declared that while the ship was passing the Florida coast, several vessels were seen piled up in the woods.

SYDNEY FARMER IS CHASED BY DINGOS

Pack Led by Half-bred Dog Gives Australian Settler a Merry Time

SYDNEY, Oct. 27.—A farmer driving a fiver by moonlight along a rough country road in the Dimmore district of New South Wales had the unenviable distinction of being chased by a pack of huge dingoes.

It was one such union that the farmer in the fiver met. He had been attending a meeting of farmers about 20 miles from his home, and was driving through rough country, when, topping a rise, he saw strange forms slinking in the shadows and then recognized two or three dingoes running in the glare of the car's headlights.

MAHARAJAH VISITS SHRINE ON FOOT

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Sir Hari Singh, the young Maharajah of Kashmir, who will be remembered as the "Mr. A." of a famous case, has paid, according to time-honored custom, his first yearly visit as the ruler of Kashmir to the Shri Nathji Cave, in Northern India.

It is a journey to be done on foot and involves considerable hardship. Sir Hari walked the whole of the distance, and then performed the usual religious ceremonies in the cave. He was accompanied by a long retinue and thousands of pilgrims followed the party. One of the pilgrims was an old man who could scarcely walk the latter half of the steep ascent in the piercing cold. Sir Hari saw him stumbling, and helped him to a seat and calling one of his attendants, asked the latter to give the old pilgrim a lift. After the performance of the usual

LISTEN IN FOR MARS SIGNALS

Position of Planet Tonight Most Favorable for Reception

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Thousands of British radio enthusiasts will listen in Wednesday night (tonight) for possible messages from Mars, which will be in a more favorable position for radio reception than it has been for 100 years.

Astronomers and other scientists for years have toyed with the idea that beings of equal or even far superior intelligence to inhabitants of this world might populate Mars.

Mars will be 42,000,000 miles away during the period from Oct. 27 to Nov. 4. Two years ago, when Mars was last near the earth, many listeners picked up signals that could not be assigned to any known station, and this year the Wireless League of Great Britain has asked its members to listen in for messages from the neighbor planet.

Reports of any strange signals will be sent by receivers to the wireless league for investigation and co-ordination.

Neither the British Broadcasting Company, a semi-official agency, which holds a monopoly on internal radio communication, nor the Marconi Company will make any effort to receive from or send communications to Mars, and their officials are skeptical about possibility of inter-planetary communication.

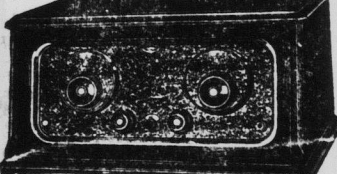

They point out that the most powerful world sending station can transmit only about 10,000 miles, while it takes seven valve receiving sets to get messages well even from the United States, six 3,000 miles away.

The possibility that the Martians may have transmitting instruments strong enough to reach the weak instruments of this world, or receiving sets strong enough to pick up messages from the earth, they declined to worry about, they said, until some one gives evidence that there is human life on Mars.

The message picked up in 1924, they believe, came from radio operators tuning up.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Mr. Lloyd George, long known as England's champion originator of catch phrases, has taken to designing his own hats. The war-time Premier likes a hat with individuality. FISH INSPECTOR SHOT IN HEAD

"Gippy" LeBlanc Also Hit Over Head, Doctors Say at Inquest

MONCTON, N. B., Oct. 26.—Positive evidence that "Gippy" LeBlanc, fishery officer, was murdered on Wednesday night last while in the performance of his duty, searching for illegal fishermen in Buctouche Bay was forthcoming today, when Doctors Oulton and Cyr continuing their postmortem examination, found fine shot embedded in LeBlanc's head.

In the opinion of the medical men LeBlanc's assailants fired at him with a shot gun, hitting him in the top of the head and then continuing their attack on the officer, struck him over the eyes with some blunt instrument, knocking him insensible. The fine shot found in the dead man's scalp were not sufficient to cause death, but their presence furnished convincing proof that there was a fight between the officer and unknown parties, and that LeBlanc's death was due to foul play. The officer carried no gun, therefore it is quite clear the shot must have been fired by those responsible for his death.

THREATS OVERHEARD. Coroner Dr. Landry opened an inquest this afternoon, but no material evidence was brought, other than that some persons not named, it was stated, had been heard to make threats against the fishery officer.

Witnesses examined included Dierdome LeBlanc, brother of the dead man, and Tom and Arthur Cormier, the latter being two of the men who were seen on the body Sunday evening last.

The brother of the dead man simply told of his brother going out on the bay last Wednesday night to search for poachers, and when he did not return, searching the shore and finding his boat.

The inquest will continue tomorrow, but Coroner Landry stated that it would not be prolonged as the evidence to be given by the doctors holding the postmortem would prove that LeBlanc came to his death by foul means.

PARAFIN PAPER DECISION IS UPHELD

Robb Says Government Sees No Reason to Change Classification

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 27.—Representatives of manufacturers of paraffin paper used in wrapping butter, meat and fish were informed late yesterday by Hon. J. A. Robb, acting prime minister, that the government saw no reason to change the previous decisions of the customs board, which had refused to grant a higher classification on this class of paper under the customs tariff.

The acting premier's statement was made following representations made in camera before a sub-committee of the cabinet.

Mr. Robb suggested, however, that the matter might be one for consideration of the tariff advisory board, and it is understood that the manufacturers intend to make a similar application shortly before the board.

"I've Guaranteed Things"

"It's wonderful to feel that no matter what happens to me, my wife and family need never suffer hardship. I have life insurance protection that guarantees their future."

—And it is so easy to furnish this "Protection" the London Life way. For instance, a man age 30, by laying aside any proportion of his monthly earnings for a London Life Jubilee Policy, can make it guarantee four times as much monthly to his wife (age 30) for life—no matter at what time he may die, nor how long she may live after him. For instance: A deposit at the rate of $25.00 per month would provide $100.00 per month income for life.

Such protection for the family can not be obtained by any investment other than life insurance. And the policy that makes it possible at so low a cost is issued by the London Life.

Play safe! Secure life insurance and then enjoy your income in the happiness of knowing that all is well.

Concrete is chosen because thorough investigation showed that permanent type was meeting traffic requirements in thousands of other cities, and doing so with very little maintenance.

This investigation also proved that concrete lane and street pavement is unaffected by extremes of climate—that it is unaffected alike by sub-zero temperature and by summer's heat.

CANADA'S ADVANCE INTERESTS BRITAIN

Progress Watched With Sympathy and Satisfaction, Says Daily Mail

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Introducing a series of articles by Sir Percival Phillips on the expansion of Canada and trade prospects, the Daily Mail, in an editorial, says that the progress of Canada is watched with sympathy and satisfaction by Great Britain. "All that we desire is advance and prosper," the paper states. "The British have not forgotten the noble spirit of Canada in the great war. Just Imperial preference originated in Canada."

ONE DARK SPOT

"Today the Canadian people are our best customers. The custom of each Canadian is seven times as valuable as the custom of an American citizen. It is the difficulty of supplying her with suitable and reliable goods and the system of duties and reckless out-door relief schemes in Britain stops her from being a more important customer. Banking

— the Hub of Business

... WHEREVER BUSINESS is conducted, the bank becomes the clearing house for the transaction. It is the hub of the great wheel upon which business turns.

Banking is an essential service—a necessary public utility, just as important as the Railway, the Telegraph and the Telephone.

With the turning of the wheel of Canadian commerce, new services and commodities have come into being—the radio, artificial silk, electrical refrigeration and many others. A readjustment of merchandising is constantly taking place—new methods of buying, selling, distributing, affecting all agencies which play their part in the general scheme of merchandising. Banking service must adapt itself to meet these new conditions.

The Canadian Bank of Commerce, in keeping with its name, has been a central factor in all this readjustment. It was ready and prepared to meet these changes, not only for the benefit of its customers, but also with a view to the development of Canadian business in general.

The position that The Canadian Bank of Commerce occupies in the commercial life of Canada today is the result of constructive planning, and this enables it to render adequate service to every industry in all sections of the country.

OVERHEADWAY IN MILL STREET IS DISCUSSED

Council to Consider Taking Question Up With C. N. R. Authorities

The question of an overhead bridge in Mill street is to be reopened with the C. N. R. and the council will forward to the railway authorities a request for copies of the plans in connection with the proposed new depot here and the overhead crossing in front of the station. Commissioner Wigmore was of the opinion that more progress would be made if the C. N. R. did not expect the city to pay such a large proportion of the cost of making the necessary changes. The matter came up at the council meeting yesterday afternoon when the question of changing the crossing gates was under discussion.

MAYOR WHITE HEARD

Mayor White said he thought the city should have in its possession copies of plans connected with the station and street changes made necessary by its erection and the railway should also be asked whether the proposed train shed was a part of the new depot plan or not. If it was not a part of the new depot plan, he would be in favor of asking that the train shed be not built now.

The request of the committee of the whole, recommending that the C. N. R. be allowed to make some changes in the location of the crossing gates in Mill street; that the application of the Central Bowling and Billiard Rooms for permission to erect an electric sign in front of their premises, King street, be referred to the commissioner of public works, city engineer and city solicitor, with power to act; that a new retaining wall be built in front of the property of James Carleton, Guilford street, when the council provided the money; that the application of E. N. Herrington for a retaining wall in front of his property, 468 Main street, be referred to the commissioner of public works for a report, was adopted.

TRUSTEES SEND NOTICE

The Board of School Trustees wrote that the vocational committee would require $4,426.53 on Nov. 1 to meet obligations and this was ordered paid when the comptroller was satisfied. The chairman of the Board of Assessors wrote that L. A. Cooper had resigned as district commissioner and he had appointed in his place Chauncey Burton, a returned soldier, and he recommended that the salary be $1,400 a year, the same as paid to the other district commissioners. The recommendation was adopted. Mayor White expressed surprise that the appointment was not made by the Common Council rather than by the chairman of the board of assessors.

TO CITY SOLICITOR

An order from Chief Justice Hazen, taxing the costs in the appeal of F. W. Ross, an employee of the federal government, from the imposition of the business tax at $100, was referred to the city solicitor for report.

On motion of Commissioner Harding the application of George H. Ellis, proprietor of the Central Garage, Waterloo street, for permission to install an additional gasoline tank and pump was granted.

Several Heard at Meeting of St. Andrew's Kirk Club

At a meeting of the Young Men's Club of St. Andrew's Kirk last evening, with Vice-President Stanley Rankin presiding, the following speakers were heard: Sir Walter Scott, to be given at a future meeting; Rev. S. Bonnell led at discussion on "The Will to Succeed." Among the instances cited were Dillard's statement that "Man is not creature of circumstances, but rather that circumstances are the creatures of men" and the fact that Sir Walter Scott at the age of 45 took up his pen to redeem a liability of $800,000—and succeeded. As Hiram Sees It

"See them fellers streakin' along in that there canoe," says I to the town feller, pintin' to the patch o' moonlight on Long Reach. "Them," says he, "is French fellers that got away from old Ben Church—got up to Fort Nashwaak to tell what had happened. That 'ud be about two hundred an' thirty yers ago. The French had sent out cannon an' materials to build a noo fort at the mouth o' the river. Old Ben—he was a great Injun fighter—was sent down from Boston to wipe up the Frenchmen wherever he could find 'em. He run into Saint John harbor—closed the fellers that was workin' on the noo fort into the woods—an' wounded an' captured one feller. They had him an' he told 'em where twelve cannon was buried below high water mark—an' where the carriages an' wheelbarrows an' pork an' flour was hid in the woods. Old Ben got 'em all aboard of his sloop. The Injuns that helped him killed one Frenchman, English Chevalier, an' brought in three others—but the rest took to the woods. Them was the ghosts o' their messengers to Fort Nashwaak we jist seen in the moonlight on the river."

A. E. Francis of McLean, Kennedy Ltd., Montreal, is in City Today

A. E. Francis, of McLean, Kennedy, Ltd., Montreal, was in the city today and spoke optimistically over the outlook for business from the port of Saint John this winter. The carrying of coal to Europe had taken up a great many of the tramp steamers, he said, and this was bound to react to the benefit of the liners. The first winter sailings of the lines represented by McLean, Kennedy Ltd. would be early in December for Copenhagen and Irish and Baltic ports. It was also hoped that in that month there would be one sailing to South American ports.
