C. N. R. Is Shipping Western Cattle Via Port Of St. John

AGREEMENT BETWEEN ANTHRACITE COAL STRIKE

FIFTY CARS OF BEEF ARE FORWARDED

C. N. R. Demonstrates That Cattle Exports Can Be Handled

SERVICE EXCELLENT
Almost Continuous Movement of This Freight Expected

The Canadian National Railways have recently demonstrated that Western cattle for Overseas export can be handled expeditiously via the Canadian National route and through the Port of St. John.

The railway has just recently handled two train loads of beef cattle from the Northwest to this port for shipment to England. These trains consisted of 25 cars each and were only five days en route, including the time consumed in feeding and watering and allowing for the necessary resting while in transit.

Fast Service Counts.
This is a case where fast freight service was given to a live stock shipment and where every care and precaution was taken for the comfort of the animals while travelling.

ROBBERS RAID CLUB AND COLLECT $3,000

New Move in Ordering Members to Keep Hands on Pool Table.

New York, Aug. 30.—Eighteen members of the G. Independent Political Club at 200 East 114th Street were held up on Friday night by four well-dressed men armed with revolvers and blackjacks and robbed of $3,000 in cash and jewelry. News of the robbery was withheld for some days. New hold-up methods were introduced by the robbers. Instead of ordering their victims to hold up their hands, they were lined up around a pool table and directed to keep their hands on the table while being searched. This process completed, the eighteen men were ordered to sit on the floor and remain there for ten minutes.

The four robbers, all wearing straw hats, range the bell and were admitted to the club. Then, drawing revolvers and blackjacks, they mobilized the victims about the pool table. Three of the robbers stood guard with their pistols while the fourth, who was short and stocky and had a deep scar on his face, canvassed the pockets.

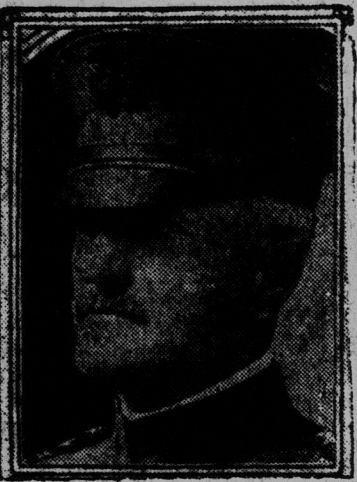

He went about his work leisurely, spending fifteen minutes on the job. One of the members pleaded with him not to take his $200 stipend, which was a present from his dead mother, but the robber replied by ripping off the tie with the pin. Another member tried to save a diamond ring by dropping it under the pool table. The hold-up men apparently had anticipated such a ruse as they looked under the table before leaving and found the ring.

After collecting the members' cash and jewelry the visitors asked if there was a photograph in the place. When it was pointed out to them, one of the men started off with it, but found it too heavy and left it.

ELECTION IN IRELAND IS UNCERTAIN

Government Said to Be Sure of 30 Seats Following Voting

REPUBLICANS 14.

Tedious Task to Learn Who Has Been Elected to New Parliament.

(Canadian Press.)

London, Aug. 30.—The tedious task of ascertaining who has been elected to the new parliament of the Irish Free State has developed into a long drawn out affair. Under the proportional representation system, the counting and recounting still continues today, but the final reports may not be available until next week.

The Freeman's Journal of Dublin, makes the following tabulation of the latest election returns:
Government—30 seats.
Republicans—14.
Labour—8.
Farmers—5.
Independents—11.

Most of the returns so far tabulated have been from the cities. The results in the country districts must be made known before it will be possible to draw definite conclusions as to the exact complexion of the new legislative body, but the Government party, with nearly 30 seats so far, continues to maintain its plurality.

Less than one third that number are available for the final congress which Republicans have threatened to establish for their victorious candidates.

President Cosgrave, and other Government leaders, have deemed the situation safe enough to leave for Geneva to prepare for Ireland's entrance into the League of Nations.

Polling Is Heavy.
Dublin, Aug. 29.—Heavy polling by ministers of the Free State Government, was the feature of the election of Monday's election results which were published here today. Kevin O'Higgins, Minister of Home Affairs, was given 8,287 and 8,011 votes. The total votes in the county were 14,107 and for the four Republicans were 14,107.

In Cavan, R. F. Baxter, Farmer, Patrick Smith, Republican, J. J. Cole, Independent Farmer, and Sean Milroy, an influential Government officer all were elected. The results here mean the defeat of two Government candidates.

S. could better attain their mutual destinies.

PRINCESS DIES IN N. Y. PENITENTIARY

Famous Portrait Painter and Former Protégé of Kaiser Wilhelm.

New York, Aug. 30.—Death yesterday saved Princess Luowf-Parlaghy, famous Hungarian portrait painter and former protégé of Kaiser Wilhelm from the ordeal of seeing her princely art treasures seized to satisfy judgments against her for $210,000.

A few hours after she died, a deputy sheriff took possession of her rare art objects and furniture for the benefit of Ludwig Neisen, a retired diamond merchant who held the judgments against her.

Princess Luowf-Parlaghy not many years ago moved in the elite society of Europe and was a member of the notables who sat for portraits by the former Emperor Wilhelm of Germany, Bismarck, Admiral Dewey, Andrew Carnegie, Clarence W. Dodge, Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison.

In recent years, her vague passions and her love for the Kaiser's son, the Princess shut herself up in her home and awaited the end. She died practically penniless, clinging to the end to her art possessions.

Turro, N. S., was selected for the convention next year. M. Moser of Halifax was elected Director of Ceremonies and A. J. Smallwood of Halifax, was elected one of the lecturers.

New York Yankees Displease Toronto
Toronto, Aug. 30.—The visit of the New York Yankees to Toronto, says the Star, "left an unpleasant impression among the fans, which even the energetic, all-around good player Babe Ruth failed to dispel. Their indolent methods on the field and their apparent lack of interest in the game naturally made the spectators sore and there were several outbreaks in the stands when some particularly poor play was made by a team that is sure to be in the final of the world's series. The Yankees have outclassed all the other teams in the American League and have one hundred points lead in the percentage column today, yet they performed at the island like a lot of big leaguers."

GANGSTER IS KILLED IN POLICE CARE

Notorious Gunman is Slain on Way to Court in New York.

SCENE IN GANG FUED

"Kid Dropper," Robber of Children, Suspected of Murder, Killed.

New York, Aug. 30.—Although two police captains and a half dozen detectives and a heavy detail of uniformed men were employed in and about Essex Market Court shortly before noon yesterday to meet the gang trouble they were sure would come, "Kid Dropper," a notorious gunman of the East Side, a prisoner in their custody, was shot to death at the court house door. He died in an ambulance on his way to Bellevue Hospital without recovering consciousness.

"Kid Dropper," whose name was Jack Kaplan, and whose ill-repute was notorious, had been arraigned on a charge of being implicated, either as principal or instigator, in several murders through Hollywood's underworld. He had been arraigned had discharged him.

As he came from the bar of the court he was joined by his wife, a slight little woman, and with her at his elbow he left the building and descended the steps. At the curb was a taxicab, assumed to take "Kid Dropper" to his home. Side court Detective Jesse Joseph, who had been detailed to escort him up town, was at his side.

Many Police There.
In Second street and about the corners of Second avenue an unusual number of uniformed policemen were to be seen. Behind "The Dropper" and his escort came half-a-dozen detectives. It seemed that the neighborhood could not have been more policed. Standing beside the taxicab was his chauffeur, Ernest Goldfinger, holding open the door for the gangster. At the moment was filled with gunfire possibilities, went to Goldfinger and said, "Behold, your seat and seat and seat." Goldfinger went to the wheel, and Mrs. Kaplan put her arm about her husband's shoulder and kissed him, who was there to meet whatever possibilities might happen, thrust an arm between them and said: "You can see your husband when he is in court uptown," and pushed her aside.

Shoots Her Idle Son "To Save His Soul"

Chicago, Aug. 30.—A woman turned and twisted restlessly upon her cot in the Women's Annex of the West Chicago Avenue police station last night torn with anxiety and remorse. Her 18-year-old son lay in Alexander Brothers' Hospital, a bullet wound through his neck, inflicted by her. If a rapallo occurs, the lad cannot live, the doctor says.

"I'm sorry now—so sorry," moaned the mother, Mrs. Rose Simiz. Tears welled in her eyes and she buried her face in the bed clothing. And then grief-stricken, she went over again the story of how she shot her son, Dazzo, "to save his soul."

"He wouldn't work—loaded all the time," she sobbed. "Today, when he got home at 8:30 after rambling around all night with a bunch of wild fellows, I tried to make him clean up and go look for a job."

"If you insist on getting money out of me, I can go out and steal all you want. I don't have to work," was the answer he gave me. And he laughed sneeringly and prepared to go to bed for the day.

A kind of blind rage seized me. The idea of a child of mine becoming a bum and a thief overwhelmed me. "I stepped into the bedroom and got the revolver."

No Trouble to Pay His Taxes

Lee Houser (right) dressed up for a picnic after he found a box of gold and currency while working on a mountain road near Hagerstown, Md., to pay his taxes. He doesn't say how much was in the box, but the sum has been estimated at $100,000. It is thought to have been cached by Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, escaped slacker. Robert E. Lee Waters (left) was digging alongside Houser, but missed the hidden treasure.

Million Dollar Baby Film Star Only One Of Many Child Actors

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 30.—News of the accession of "Baby" Peggy-Jean Montgomery, aged three years—to the million dollar star class, a position occupied by only one other child actor, Jackie Coogan, sent a tremor of excitement through Hollywood's movie mammas and papas today.

Peggy's father and mother have just signed a new contract which insures an income of around $5,000,000 during the next few years, as wages for their little girl's work before the movie camera.

While "Baby" Peggy is easily queen of movie babyland as eight-year-old Jackie Coogan is king, there are upwards of 200 child actors working daily in studios, with at least double that number of parents and close relatives dependent on them wholly or partially for support.

COMMITTEE AGREES ON MINE ORDER

Agreement Now Between Policy Committee of Anthracite Operators.

PUMPMEN TO STAY

Men Named in Classification Needed to Keep Mines From Flooding.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 30.—

An agreement was reached today between the policy committee of anthracite operators and the officials of the miners' union under which union men employed as pumpmen, engineers and maintenance men would be allowed to stay at work after September 1, even if suspension of mining now ordered becomes effective.

The men in the classifications named are needed to prevent the mines from flooding and caving in during periods of idleness.

Proposals for settlement of the anthracite coal controversy, which Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania laid down before operators and miners yesterday, met today before each group in separate meetings for intensive study.

S. D. Wannier, chairman of the operators policy committee, called his associates to meet in Philadelphia, away from the scene of negotiations, but John L. Lewis and his scale committee of the United Mine Workers stayed at the capitol to conduct their deliberations.

Sharp divergence in views taken of the operator's proposals early cropped out between operators and miners representatives. The offer of a ten per cent. flat increase for the anthracite workers of the universal eight hour day, of the right to have a union agent in the company offices for collection of union dues, which the governor made, along with a tender of union recognition and of the principle of collective bargaining, won a more than friendly reception from the union contingent.

HE WON WAY TO PRINCE OF WALES SPEAKS OF THE GREAT EMPIRE EXHIBITION

Judge Bigelow, Nova Scotian, Has Been Visiting St. John.

A prominent visitor to the city this week was Mr. Justice Bigelow of Regina, who, accompanied by his wife and two children, is on a motor trip through Eastern Canada and the Eastern States. The party left Regina by train and had their automobile sent to Toronto. On their arrival at that city they started on their motor trip and visited Montreal before coming to this city. This morning they left for Boston and New York via Portland and intend returning to Toronto and entering for their home in the west. Judge Bigelow is a native of Toronto, N. S., and a graduate of Dalhousie University. He went west seventeen years ago and his efforts in the practice of law was attended with marked success. Recently he was appointed to a judgeship. While in this city he took the occasion of renewing old acquaintances.

PRINCE OF WALES SPEAKS OF THE GREAT EMPIRE EXHIBITION

Says Moderate Success No Good—Predicts a Brilliant One.

(London Times July 28)
The Prince of Wales, the President of the British Empire Exhibition, attended by Admiral Sir Lionel Halsey, entertained a small party at luncheon yesterday at the exhibition grounds at Wembley. The following had the honor of receiving invitations:—The Duke of Devonshire, Lord Burnham, Lord Rothmere, Lord Devonport, Lord Beversbrook, Lord Riddell, Lady Bathurst, Lord Cowdray, the Lord Mayor of London, Sir James Stevenson, Sir Edward Hulton, Sir George Sutton, Sir William Berry, Sir Charles Hyde, Sir John Leigh, M. P., Sir Leicester Harcourt, Colonel the Hon. Sir James Allen, Sir Travers Clarke, Sir Charles C. McLeod, Lieut. Colonel Sir Henry McMahon, Sir Charles Starmer, Sir Roderick Jones, Sir Robert Bruce, Sir J. R. Findlay, Sir Arthur Suberland, Sir Alexander Jeans, Sir William Davies, Sir James Owen, Sir Robert Baird, Sir James Hill, Major J. J. Astor, Brigadier-General E. B. Cutbertson, Lieut-Colonel the Hon. F. S. Jackson, M. P., Colonel Charles Clifford, Colonel Egbert Lewis, Colonel C. C. Mason, Major F. Fox, Major E. A. Belcher, Sir Edward Cadbury, Mr. Thomas Marlows, Mr. James Heddie, Mr. Robert Donald, Mr. Maxwell Ayrton, Mr. E. P. Scott, Mr. D. C. Thomson, Mr. Philip Agnew, Mr. O. E. Williams, Mr. A. G. Chuter, Mr. W. C. Bersey, and Mr. Harrington Hooper.
The Prince of Wales said that his guests would probably guess his motive. A cynical man of politics divided his visits into two classes—those who knew everything and understood nothing, and those who understood nothing, but knew nothing.
Speaking for representatives of great newspapers, he could safely presume that they understood everything and knew everything. (Laughter and cheers.) They would understand there that his motive, as President of the British Empire Exhibition, in asking them to Wembley Park was to try to inspire them with an enthusiastic interest in a project of the highest imperial importance. As they knew everything, they would know that the exhibition had had difficulties in the past. Such difficulties, he believed, were almost necessary accompaniments of any exhibition project. Certainly they had raged round the exhibition of 1881, but since that exhibition was so successful, perhaps it was fair to conclude that controversies were not an unfeeling soil for the growth of success. Certainly he would be content if the triumph of 1881 was repeated in 1924, for the exhibition of 1881 had helped British trade and industry enormously. (Cheers.) He could assure them with confidence that the organization of the exhibition was on a sound basis, and that they could reasonably hope that there was no obstacle now to hinder their progress to a brilliant success. He said a brilliant success because a moderate success was no good. It was a bold challenge which the British Empire Exhibition made to the world when it undertook the task of organizing this venture so soon after the devastation and unsettlement of the Great War.
The challenge must be carried through to the point of success that was nothing short of "measure full, pressed down, and overflowing." They must show to the world that the Empire possessed the same unity, courage, and perseverance in peace-time as in the stress of war.
He was grateful and appreciative for the good friendship of the press in the past, and he asked them now to help him again. He commended to them the British Empire Exhibition. It had enlisted the enthusiasm of the Dominions and Colonies, which, within the last few months, had had a record increase in their demands for space for exhibits. It was certain that they would have at Wembley Park a great pageant of Empire, in which would be represented all the races under our flag and which would illustrate fully the economic resources of all our territories and our peoples.
The exhibition, he had enlisted the powerful help of the great organizations of manufacturers and traders of the United Kingdom, which had responded generously to the appeal to form a Guarantee Fund, and in other ways. Considering the bad times, the business men of the country had done wonderfully well for the exhibition, and he and the exhibition authorities were most grateful.
In conclusion, his Royal Highness said he was not suggesting that the press should treat the British Empire Exhibition with undue favoritism, or with any lack of candour, but he sincerely trusted that they would recognize that it was a project with a definite and important purpose, fully worthy of serious and continuous support. If the British Empire Exhibition achieved the success which they could help so much towards making, it might well mark a new era in imperial trade and point the way to new paths by which to repair the ravages of the Great War.
Lord Burnham, replying on behalf of the guests, said he did not believe that the influence of the British Crown was ever so great as it was today. He was sure that no Prince of Wales standing at the steps of the Throne, could ever appeal to all parts of the British Empire with so powerful a voice as his Royal Highness. When the question of Imperial patriotism had to issue his wishes were law. He had appealed to the newspaper press, which was not, as some people appeared to think, one and indivisible. That day, however, without right or title, he would venture to speak for it as a whole. They recognized that the British Empire Exhibition with its mighty imperial ideal. Every ideal has its ideal, and that exhibition, as it took on its shape in steel and masonry, was an embodiment of the Imperial ideal. Never was it more necessary to cling to it. We had to sound a clarion blast, a fresh note of hope and restoration. That exhibition would be their opportunity. There would be an unprecedented throng of visitors from the Dominions across the seas, all belonging more or less to the English-speaking world. They had to make them feel that there was still strength left in the old London that they could hold their places in the world in spite of all that had befallen them. They would do all they could to help the Prince, and why he believed that, by giving the public information and advice, to the best of their practical hands, they could make a magnificent success, and be able, year hence, to offer him their congratulations and give him the credit he deserved.
After the luncheon the Prince of Wales, accompanied by the members of the exhibition, visited the grounds of the exhibition, and showed them the rapid progress, but knew nothing of the various buildings.

DETECTIVES SEEK OWNER OF CAR

Find Abandoned Automobile on Gypsy Settlement Road.

That the practice of stealing automobiles is becoming steadily more prevalent is evidenced by the number of cases reported. There have been several instances in the city this summer. This morning Sergeant-Detective Power and Detective Biddecombe found an abandoned car on the Gypsy Settlement road, back of the Manawagonish road, sometimes used as a short cut from Fairville corner to the Westfield road. It is a Studebaker Special, from which the license plates had been removed. It bore, however, an "A. L. A." disc, and for this reason it is fair to suppose that it is an American car. The detective department have reason to believe that it belongs to the State of Maine, and effort will be made to locate the owner. The car was in excellent condition.

It was considered significant in this connection that the representatives of the chief officials of the union group met yesterday with Father Curran, a well-known Catholic priest, who has been active in strike settlements since 1902 and that later Father Curran saw Governor Finchet, who has been thought that Governor Finchet's proposal had already a tentative acceptance from the union spokesmen.
The Finchet Terms.
The Harrington, Pa., Aug. 29.—Governor Finchet tonight submitted to representatives of the anthracite miners and operators in joint conference, a proposed basis of settlement including:
1.—Recognition of the basic eight-hour day for all employees. If longer hours are necessary at certain times or in certain occupations, the overtime to be paid for at the rate for 10 percent.
2.—A uniform increase of 10 percent to all employees, this increase to take effect Sept. 1.
3.—Full recognition of the union by the operators, without the check-off, but with the right to have a union representative present when the men are paid.
4.—Suggests Way to Settle Disputes.
A fourth point proposed complete recognition of the principles of collective bargaining.
The Governor also suggested that as a method of settling difficulties in case of disagreement between miners and operators, each side select a man agreeable to both to attend and take part in discussions but without a vote and not as an umpire or referee.
If the two sides agree he proposed the differences be referred to the conciliation board "which will be provided with whatever equipment is necessary for the rendering of prompt decisions."
Light on the Cooking.
The lighting of the kitchen is most important. If the centre light does not give a good light on the stove a side socket would be worth the expense of installation. One cannot cook well without a good light on one's work.

VELVET HATS NEW AUTUMN RAGE

Felt Fall hats have rapidly given way to velvets, duvety and silk plush and the shapes are taking on a more dressy look. New York importations just come to Spear's show lots of liveliness and artistry of get-up.
Mentioning just an odd one here and there the Louis XIV poke has side dropping brim in mode, an otchek feather pointing round to the front and a high crown topped by huckle feathers. The brette is a whimsical conical crown, one in beaver shade, having down seams of orange velvet, and a curving ear lap pierced by a fancy quill. A caramel French poke has a felt brim and a velvet crown ornamented by a sprightly Egyptian enameled medallion. Other pokes run much to browns, while a notable one is a doe wattle with silk notes in variable tints. Another dove poke has head trimming and henna feather stitching. Spear's New York hat displays are an artistic treat.

Held For Woman's Death After Joy Ride

Boston, Aug. 30.—The sequel of a wild joy ride ending in a smash-up and the death of a woman companion came in East Cambridge District Court, when Judge Cotnam held George W. Harvey, Jr., a colored chauffeur living at 148 Washington street, Cambridge, in $1,000 bail on a charge of manslaughter.
Harvey was driver of the machine which hit a telegraph pole in Belmont the morning of July 29, causing the death of Harriet Burke, also of Cambridge.
Harvey asserted he had only one drink "to take the chill off." He was sentenced to a year in the house of correction for driving under the influence of liquor and 90 days for drunkenness. He appealed.

A NEW CONFERENCE OF NATIONS TO DEFINE RULES OF INTERNATIONAL LAW

Recommendation to Meeting of the American Bar Association.

Minneapolis, Aug. 30.—Action by the American Bar Association endorsing the idea of calling a new conference of nations in continuation of two former conferences at The Hague in efforts to clarify the rules which govern the principles of international law, was recommended in the report of the Committee on International Law at today's session of the American Bar Association.

It would not seem to be a matter of serious doubt that much may be accomplished in the direction of creating and preserving harmonious relations between nations and toward the reduction of causes of international disagreements, if the principles of international law should receive consideration at a new conference of the nations in accordance with recommendations by the committee of jurists assembled at The Hague in 1920, the report read.

The purpose of the suggested new conference would be to restate the established rules of international law, especially in the first instance in the fields affected by the events of the world war; to formulate and agree upon the amendments and additions, if any, to the rules of international law and intercourse which have followed the war; to endeavor to reconcile divergent views and secure general agreement upon the rules which have been in dispute heretofore; to consider the subjects not now adequately regulated by international law, but as to which the interests of international justice require that rules of law shall be declared and accepted.

Permanent Court. The committee refrained from making any recommendations concerning a Permanent Court of International Justice. At the 1922 meeting of the association it was instructed to formulate such amendments or changes in the statute which now constitutes the court, which in the judgment of the committee might make it possible for the United States to accept it.

Changes in circumstances since the instructions were given, especially in view of the fact that the late President Harding submitted a message to the Senate asking the advice and consent of the Senate to the accession to the protocol on the part of the United States, were given as reasons for the change in recommendations. The question has become one of political discussion which the committee declared was another reason for refraining from suggestions.

George Donworth, James Brown Scott and George W. Wickensham, three members of the committee, however, expressed their personal views as follows: "In accordance with the privilege accorded by the report of each member of the committee to express his personal views, we beg to state that we are unequivocally in favor of the participation of the United States in the present Permanent Court of International Justice, upon such terms and conditions not inconsistent with the character and function of the court, as the president and secretary of state may suggest and the Senate of the United States approve."

Pythians Honor Memory of Brothers Gone Before

Bayard Stilwell of St. John, Grand Chancellor, Maritime Domain.

George C. Cabell of Norfolk, Va., Supreme Chancellor.

The annual decoration day ceremony of the St. John Knights of Pythias today with which this year is combined the unveiling of a memorial to the memory of the founder of the order in Canada, John Beamish, is international in character. The St. John lodges are honored by having as their guests the Supreme Chancellor of the order, Hon. George C. Cabell, of Norfolk, Va., who unveiled the memorial to Mr. Beamish in Fernhill.

New Brunswick Lodge, No. 1, organized on October 28, 1870, is not only the mother lodge in the British Empire but the mother of Pythianism outside the borders of the United States. The Order of Knights of Pythias was organized soon after the close of the civil war and it made such a brotherly spirit between the north and south in an effort to heal the wounds made by the war and it made such an appeal to Mr. Beamish, already well known as one of the foremost community workers in the world, that he secured all the information he could have about the order and set about to organize a lodge here.

Worked Hard to Start It. At this time he conducted a barber shop and many of the older citizens can recall his advocacy of this order while they were in the chair. Many were inclined to turn down the proposition because it was a "Yankee" organization, but his patience was finally rewarded and success crowned his efforts.

Mr. Beamish came to St. John from Ireland when a young man and conducted a barber shop until the year 1877, when he, like so many old-fashioned men, was succeeded by a younger man. It is in that capacity that the younger generation remembers "Uncle Johnny" as he was so generally known. Always deeply interested in church and society, he had taken a large part in temperance activities and was one of the leaders in the Sons of Temperance organization, which he held the office of Grand Worthy Patriarch.

The procession. The procession formed up in front of Castle Hall, Union street, at two o'clock in the following order: Barouches of flowers. Barouches containing the Supreme Chancery and party. St. Mary's Band. Uniform Rank under command of Capt. F. L. Potts. Grand Lodge Officers and Chancellor Commanders of the four city lodges. 62nd Band. Knights of the four city lodges.

They marched by way of Union, German, King and Charlotte to the south side of King Square, where moving pictures of the parade were taken in front of the Imperial theatre. Down Sydney to Union, Prince Edward and Westmorland Road to the cemetery.

The majority of the grand lodge officers were present and took part in the parade, among them Roy Mills, Moncton, grand chancellor; and Bayard Stilwell, St. John, vice chancellor, elected to this office at the recent meeting of the Grand Lodge in Moncton. Mr. Stilwell was chosen from the floor of the house, an honor not very often conferred on any member of the order.

The Service. The programme for the service at Fernhill this afternoon is as follows: Unveiling of Beamish Memorial by Hon. G. C. Cabell; hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee"; Scripture reading, led by W. H. White; hymn, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus"; address, Rev. H. E. Thomas; hymn, "Abide With Me"; prayer, Rev. H. E. Thomas; Doxology, Benediction, God Save the King. The hymns were sung to the accompaniment of the organ.

Supreme Chancellor's Tribute. In unveiling the memorial to the memory of Mr. Beamish, the Supreme Chancellor made a touching reference to the part played by him in the extension of the order outside the bounds of the United States, where it was first organized.

first organized. Fifty years ago the order was but a small one, but its principles gripped the heart of John Beamish, a man who loved his fellow man and wanted all men to be brothers, and it was to the foresight and labors of this man that credit and growth of the order in Canada must go.

Mr. Beamish lived to see his beloved order grow from a handful of members in one lodge to over a thousand in three lodges in his own city and numerous lodges at other points in the Maritime Provinces. Every member of the order in these provinces loved the man, who by his likeable qualities had twined himself round their hearts.

The memorial was a fitting tribute to the memory of one who gave himself freely in all good works and brought to the minds of generations to come the life of a good citizen and a true Knight.

Rev. H. E. Thomas. In his address Rev. Mr. Thomas said in part: "It is in this place on this day that we bear testimony that the memory of one who gave himself freely in all good works and brought to the minds of generations to come the life of a good citizen and a true Knight."

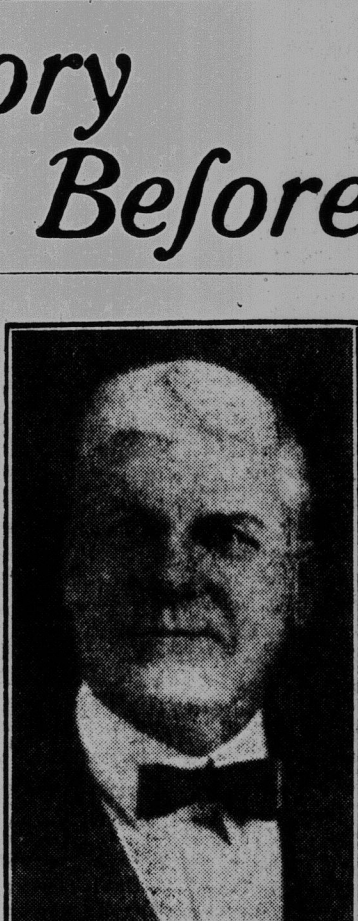

But we have not come to this place to mourn. We have entered these gates with bands playing and banners waving to bear testimony to the great benefactor of the world, the man whose memory we honor here in this place, and we are alive forevermore.

Because of the faith and hope which are in our hearts we think of the departed loved ones as merely gone into a serene clime; as sitting at endless feasts in a great banquet hall; as journeying along the avenues of a crystal city; as climbing those supernal heights where before met sev'ntured eyes, ages and eternities and infinitudes are unrolled.

We like to think that those who left our hearts and our lodge room had learned the true way of life and at Heaven's Crystal Bar received the word of approval.

The glory of man is as a fading flower. For what is your life? It is like the vapor of a fleeting cloud that chases another cloud across a blue sky and then sinks away into the infinite azure of the past. In view of the stern facts of life and death the wise man trims his light, keeps the staff in his hand, studies his chart and compass and is ever ready for the long journey.

In a few moments we will form ranks and march back to the city, to the home, to the market place and mingle with the busy throng; but if we take to heart the lessons we learn

George C. Cabell of Norfolk, Va., Supreme Chancellor.

EAST AND WEST.

The three Prairie provinces have had their boundaries pushed away north and are confident that they will profit in time from the resources which these northern areas contain.

Any one of those ways would satisfy some people. But there is one way that is so good, so absolutely right, that it would satisfy everybody.

It is prevented by party pledges and principles from lowering the tariff. The only hope, apparently, lies in an increased world demand for foodstuffs, a greater purchasing power on the part of the countries against which the Americans have raised such high tariff barriers.

TAKING CRITICISM.

Most people agree in theory that criticism is good for them, but in practice most people are impatient under criticism, resenting it as unfair, unconstructive and sound they lose steadily through such an attitude, characteristically human as it is.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Stockford-Mott.
A quiet wedding was solemnized last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Vincent, 88 Newman street, when Miss Lily Josephine Mott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Mott, of Queens county, was united in marriage to Cedric Lowell Stockford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon J. Stockford, 176 Adelaide street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William Phillips in the presence of the immediate relatives and friends. The bride was becomingly gowned in navy blue crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. Many friends extend good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Stockford for their future happiness. They will make their home in Providence, R. I.

Rayworth-Dunham.
At the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Dunham, in Moncton yesterday at noon, their only daughter, Helen Logan Dunham, was united in marriage with John Rayworth, by the Rev. E. H. Cochran. They were unattended. Following the ceremony they left for St. John and will go to P. E. Island before locating in Moncton.

RECENT DEATHS

Mrs. Jane Treadwell.
The death of Mrs. Jane Treadwell, widow of William Treadwell, formerly of Hampton, occurred on Tuesday at her home in Hartford, Conn. She was 82 years of age. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Lila Appleby, of Hartford, and Mrs. John Keyes, East Boston; two sons, George and William, of Hartford, Conn., and five sisters, Mrs. William McQuarrie, Woodstock; Mrs. Maud Hutton, Fairville; Mrs. Charles Hamms, West St. John; Mrs. George Miller and Mrs. Robert Appleby, St. John.

WHO FIRST FELT "LIKE A FIGHTING COCK"?

COCK-FIGHTING was born with the cock.
But it is only 80 years ago that the first man felt "like a fighting cock!"
Now he has brothers, sisters, nephews, nieces, all over the world—all feeling "like a fighting cock!"
It happens this way: A person half sick with bad stomach, dull and heavy headache, takes Beecham's Pills just before going to bed. Immediately the Pills begin to harmonize the digestive and eliminative organs.
Consequently, this person has a good night's sleep and arises in the morning with clear brain, bright eye, keen appetite, and full of energy for work and play.
It is now just 80 years since Beecham's Pills first began correcting disordered stomachs and stirring sluggish livers and bowels to natural activity—and feeling "like a fighting cock" is associated as inseparably with Beecham's Pills, as the pills are with good health.

The China Inland Mission was formed in 1865 by Rev. J. Hudson Taylor for work beyond the coast provinces of China inland then open. The mission is interdenominational, international, evangelic and evangelistic. The work has so prospered that at the beginning of last year there were 1,073 missionaries on the field working under the C. I. M., aided by 1,968 paid Chinese helpers, and 1,876 voluntary Chinese helpers. It has stations in 221 centres, out-stations established in 1,688 localities and was maintaining 11 hospitals, 100 dispensaries and 484 native schools.

The Value of Charcoal
Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.
Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when properly prepared and taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.
Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better. It is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.
Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking and after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.
Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.
It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.
All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges; they are composed of the finest quality Willow charcoal powdered to extreme fineness then compressed in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being sweetened to be smooth and palatable.
The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.
Many physicians advise Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges to patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat. They are also believed to greatly benefit the liver. These lozenges cost but thirty cents a box at drug stores, and you get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets.
J. E. Dalrymple, vice-president of the C. N. R., who was in the city yesterday on an inspection trip, when asked about the new depot, said the matter was under consideration, but nothing would be done this year.
Peter Wood, 81 Kennedy street, was found unconscious on Main street on Tuesday night. Dr. J. T. Dalton found he had a cut over the right eye. It is thought that while suffering from a

MIGHTY BATTLESHIP COLORADO ADDED TODAY TO AMERICAN NAVY

Said to be the Most Powerful Fighting Machine Afloat.

Washington, Aug. 30.—(Associated Press.)—The addition of the battleship Colorado, which was commissioned at Camden, New Jersey, today, to the United States battle fleet once more places the navy in undisputed possession of that trophy marine construction, "the most powerful fighting machine afloat."

Naval engineers of the principal maritime powers practically without exception have conceded that the 35,000-ton, 21-knot monster, electrically equipped throughout and with the ability to toss eight tons of metal and explosives 34,000 yards, is without an equal on any of the seven seas.

Authorized in the navy bill of 1916, the Colorado was constructed at the Camden yards of the New York Shipbuilding Company on a "cost plus fee" basis, which brought her total cost to $27,000,000.

Each of the propellers is driven by an 8,000 horsepower motor, to which power is supplied by two turbine generators, each of 15,000 horsepower.

The Colorado will possess all the conveniences of a well equipped city. Within her hull are spacious quarters for her complement of 1,469 officers and men, as well as reading and writing rooms, a recreation room, special out limitations as to the number of pieces to be handled, a barber shop, a tailor shop, cobbler shop and moving picture theatre.

Torpedo tubes, two 21-inch, submerged. Main engines, two 18,000 horsepower Westinghouse motors, each connected to a propeller shaft.

Complement, 66 officers, 1,328 men, 78 marines.

READY TO FIGHT FOR THEIR RIGHTS

British Women Suspect Hoaxing by Men Lawmakers.

London, Aug. 30.—That women have been deliberately hoaxed by men lawmakers is the deplorable suspicion of feminist leaders in England. So strong is the feeling that a deputation representing the principal organizations of women throughout the country is to wait upon the Home Secretary to urge amendment of the Sex Disqualification Removal Act.

In the opening sentence of the act it is laid down that a person shall not be disqualified by sex or marriage from the exercise of any public function. It is now clear, say the feminists, that when ever it is challenged the act fails to secure sex equality. Its chief effect has been to enable women to sit on juries which, rightly or wrongly, is regarded by most English people as a penalty rather than a privilege of equal citizenship.

Further, women have been admitted as lawyers, but this is because the legal societies have accepted the spirit of the act and have not chosen to challenge its letter. Apart from these points the act, according to its women critics, has signally failed in some vital particulars.

The act does not give women equality of opportunity in the Civil Service, and it does not safeguard the position of women public servants, as exemplified in the differentiation between men and women police when, the plea of economy being necessary, most of the latter were dismissed. It does not secure women public servants from dismissal on account of marriage. It does not secure admission for women to the universities on equal terms with men, and it does not permit women, otherwise qualified, to sit in the House of Lords.

HER BABY SUFFERED WITH SUMMER COMPLAINT

A fact mothers must face is that summer complaint with the prostration, often verging on collapse, which sometimes accompanies this disease, makes it one of the most serious and dangerous to contend with during the hot months.

Thousands of infants die annually whose lives could have no doubt been saved by the timely use of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and it has been the experience of thousands of mothers during the past 78 years this valuable preparation has been on the market, that it is the safest and most effective remedy for use in all cases of looseness of the bowels.

Mr. S. Lafontaine, Great Desert, Ont., writes:—"My baby, when a year old, was suffering with summer complaint. Two doctors attended him, but nothing would stop the vomiting and diarrhoea. A friend told me to try Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and after the second dose the baby was better and I can say it saved my baby's life."

I wouldn't be without a bottle of "Dr. Fowler's" in the house for untold gold."

Price 50c a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SCIENCE LINES IN GUARDING BANKS

Directors Recognize That Safe Robber is Past Master.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—The bank robber of today is a post graduate of the university of crookedness and his methods of cracking safes are improving just as other inventions or theories are being improved upon in the evolution of things.

This fact, according to the Illinois Bankers Association, has led to protective measures by banks that are based on the very latest and most scientific lines. The bankers, according to the association, have long ceased to believe that any safe is impregnable to the fingers, acetylene torches or "soup" of the modern bank robber.

Accordingly the bankers, now are concerned with building safes that will give the robber the most trouble to open. When new vaults are constructed, they are built from the standpoint of how long it would take an expert safe cracker to enter them, rather than from a viewpoint of being absolutely impregnable.

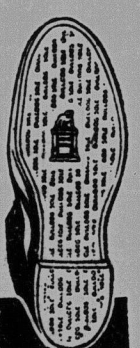

What the bankers call "tin door safes" are safes with doors of one-half inch steel. Statistics show that these can be opened with an acetylene torch in 30 minutes. Therefore the association wants round or screw doors 31-2 inches in thickness.

In addition to keeping in touch with the construction of safes, the association has divided the state into ten districts, with an inspection department operating in each district. At regular intervals each bank is inspected with a view to improving its protective features.

PRESBYTERIAN ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the executive of the New Brunswick Presbyterian Church Association was held last night in the lecture hall of Knox church with the president, Colonel Murray MacLaren, C. M. RICH NECKLACE LOST; SEARCH N. Y. STREET SWEEPINGS

New York, Aug. 30.—A necklace containing 101 pearls, valued at $50,000 and owned by Mrs. Benedict Erstein, living at the Gotham Hotel, Fifth avenue and Fifty-fifth street, disappeared three weeks ago and has not been found. Search by inspectors of the street cleaning department through the city's sweepings have failed to bring the necklace to light. A reward of $5,000 was offered for its return.

Neither the police nor Mr. Erstein, a silk dealer, would advance a theory as to when or how the pearls disappeared.

The pearls were of the finest quality and graduation, the largest weighing 12 1/2 grains. It was fastened with a marquise diamond clasp.

PALESTINE OAKS TO RIVAL "CEDARS OF LEBANON"

Will the "oaks of Palestine" come to be a term in common usage like the "cedars of Lebanon" of Biblical fame? Large numbers of trees are being planted throughout Palestine today by the Jewish National Fund. In 1918 there were 80,000 trees in the country, and now there are 767,000. About 80,000 of these are fruit-bearing; the rest are forest trees.

Some time ago a fund was started to establish a forest in memory of Theodor Herzl, founder of the Zionist movement, who predicted the creation of a new Jewish state. Instances of one forest, ten have been planted in his memory. Besides the new trees set out by the fund, an old forest at Nahal, fast dying out, has been cared for, and about 11,000 oaks have been restored to a healthy condition.

MR. CHARLES KEDDY HIS GREATEST FIND

Noted Prospector Crowns Interesting and Useful Career With Discovery of Dreco.

Mr. Charles Keddy of Lake Ramsay, New Ross, Nova Scotia, great grandson of the founders of the city of Halifax and whose parents and grand-parents bore almost equally distinguished parts in the early development of the city, is himself famous all over Canada as a successful prospector and mineralogist.

He located the first tin ore in the solid in Canada and discovered radioactive ore in the solid but it is doubtful if any of these successes brought him greater personal satisfaction than his timely discovery of Dreco and a health builder.

Mr. Keddy, at 78 years of age found that years of hardship and exposure had told on even his robust constitution. Today, thanks to Dreco, Mr. Keddy is again active and strong and straight as a flagstaff. He feels fit enough to break again the trails of his vigorous youth. Here is Mr. Keddy's statement:

"For a long time I suffered from rheumatism so bad that I could not work. My back ached terribly and I was almost bent double. I had pains in my knees and feet and every time I moved, my joints cracked. Some time ago I had an operation for an ulcer just below my knee and was in the hospital for two months. After that my troubles seemed to start. My stomach and kidneys were in bad shape and my bowels were irregular.

"Thank goodness, I have found Dreco. It has relieved my stomach and kidney trouble; I have no more rheumatism and walk perfectly straight. My bowels are regular and in fact I am a new man and feel extra fine for my 78 years. I cannot praise Dreco too highly. The results I obtained surprised me and I gladly recommend it to anyone. I feel much stronger in every way and have gained five pounds in weight."

Mr. Keddy's picture published here, shows him as a hale and hearty man. It will be welcome news to his many friends in mining circles to know of the benefits his latest discovery has given him.

Dreco is made from herbs, roots, bark and leaves that tone and regulate the entire system, contains no mercury, potash or habit forming drugs.

Dreco is being specially introduced in St. John by Ross Drug Co., 100 King street; Moore's Drug Store, 105 Prince Edward street; F. W. Munro, 357 Main street, and in West St. John by Watson R. Dunlop. It is also sold in Fairville by T. H. Wilson, and by a good druggist everywhere.

BABY KILLED; WOMEN ARE HURT

Train Hits Car on Grade Crossing in New Hampshire.

Bretton Woods, N. H., Aug. 30.—Horrorful to see an automobile and a locomotive meet on a grade crossing a few hundred yards away, guests of the Mt. Pleasant hotel rushed down from the veranda to assist the victims. The crash resulted in the death of an infant boy and serious injuries to his mother and grandmother. Octave Collette, Jr., died at the Morrison Hospital soon after physicians had amputated a mangled leg. His mother, Mrs. Octave Collette of Fitchburg, Mass., received internal injuries, and his grandmother, Mrs. Isadore Howarth of Nashua, suffered a fracture of the spine. Their names are on the danger list at the hospital. George Howarth was driving the car. He and his younger brother escaped with slight cuts, although the automobile was tossed at least 80 feet by the train. It is expected that relatives of the injured women will call for them tomorrow if their condition warrants removal.

The spot at which the accident happened is near the Ammonoosuc river bridge.

Find Petrified Tomcat in Walls

Feline Tragedy of 50 Years Ago Revealed by Carpenters.

New York, Aug. 30.—Somebody's cherished tomcat did not return home one day or night about fifty years ago. Its failure to live up to the well known feline tradition in this respect was due to walls of brick and plaster, unbroken by any means of exit or by any chain of light. Its petrified remains are now in the possession of Dr. Joseph Wiener, of the Madison Sanatorium, 41 East Seventy-eighth Street following their discovery by several carpenters engaged in making alterations in the sanatorium building. Dr. Wiener believes the cat was immured when the Seventy-eighth Street house was built fifty years ago.

The specimen measures twenty inches from its head to the tip of its tail and weighs three ounces. Its face is lifted above the body and wears an expression of insolent curiosity. The legs are outstretched, with talons and claws discernible, and the ears are upstanding, in an attitude of listening. The specimen's composition appears to be an even quality of gray and fragile stone. It is not unlike the unnummated cats removed from Egyptian tombs and temples. What was considered to be a leather collar, which immediately crumbled, was found about the animal's neck.

The process of petrification responsible for the cat's condition, Dr. Wiener declares, is not easily demonstrable. It concerns organic and organic gases acting upon themselves in an airtight space. Mummified remains coming out of Egypt, Dr. Wiener says, have remained intact only because they were walled in airtight compartments. The carpenters vouched for the airtight condition of the third story burial ground, where the cat was discovered.

Various conjectures as to the cat's walling up have been made by nurses at the sanatorium. One version makes the whole affair accidental. Another version, more realistic, considers that the crumbling collar was a rope, and that the cat had been hanging by workmen following its theft of a stone-tuson's lunch. The vengeful laborers, by this explanation, then flung the feline into the compartment to cover

MRS. ANDERSON TELLS WOMEN

Pain Backache and Periodic Head Yields to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Leslie, Sask.—"For about a year I was troubled with a distressing downy tearing pain before and during the periods, and from terrible headaches and sickness. I hated to go to a doctor, and as I knew several women who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with good results, I finally bought some and took four bottles of it. It certainly did recommend it to every woman with troubles like mine. I feel fine now and hope to be able to keep your medicine on hand at all times, as no woman ought to be without it in the house."—Mrs. OSCAR A. ANDERSON, Box 15, Leslie, Sask.

Mrs. Kelsey Adds Her Testimony

Copenhagen, N. Y.—"I read your advertisement in the papers and my husband induced me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to get relief from pains and weakness. I was so weak that I could not walk at times. Now I can do my household work and my husband out doors, too. I am willing for you to publish this letter if you think it will help others."—Mrs. HENRIETTA KELSEY, R. F. D., Copenhagen, N. Y.

Sick and ailing women everywhere in the Dominion should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before they give up hope of recovery.

O'HEARN KILLED IN MOTOR CRASH

Father of Yale Athlete Victim of Collision in Waltham.

Boston, Aug. 30.—Michael O'Hearn, 63, a contractor, of Brookline, and father of Charles M. O'Hearn, Yale athlete, died on the operating table at the Waltham hospital, after an automobile accident on the highway between Watertown and Waltham.

KEEPING STAINS OFF TAN SHOES

There is no shoe which looks more unsightly, when not polished, than a tan shoe. If you go out in the rain when your tan shoes are soiled, stains may be left in the leather which it may be impossible to remove. No tan shoe can look well which is stained and discolored. But you must be careful in the kind of tan polish you use. Tan-O preserves the fine texture and natural color of the leather, keeps it soft and pliable and adds to its wearing qualities.

TEACH SAFETY IN CHICAGO SCHOOLS

Systematic Classroom Work in Fundamentals Planned.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—(Associated Press.)—Systematic classroom work in safety education for every child in the public schools is Chicago's plan in the nation-wide campaign to check the mounting toll of accidental death and injury.

A plan for schooling in accident prevention, safety methods, and first aid activities drawn by a committee appointed by Superintendent of Schools Peter A. Mortenson will be put into practice in the elementary schools at the opening of the fall term.

Safety education through slogans and jingles, class room games, themes, dramatization and debates is a part of the plan. In addition, an effort will be made to relate accident statistics with the students' work in arithmetic, grammar and geography.

operation with more than 50 agencies interested in the aims of the undertaking.

"It does not contemplate the addition of a school subject," Mr. Mortenson explained, "but rather the implication in several subjects of concern for the safety of children."

Separate treatment of various classes of accidents in successive months is provided. September, October and November are given respectively to street dangers, fires, and weapons; the next three months to burns and scalds, poisons and asphyxiation, and electricity; and March to June, inclusive, to falls, railway accidents, carelessness in play, and drowning. The work under each monthly classification will be graded to meet the requirements of the various ages between the first and eighth grades.

"From sense training in the kindergarten to elaborate projects for study in the upper grades, there is opportunity, without serious detriment to other worthy subjects, to develop in the child attitudes and habits of thought and action that shall serve in the earlier stages to protect him from harm, and in the later stages, help him to protect others from harm," said Mr. Mortenson.

CITY HAS CLAIM FOR TRESPASS

Water and Sewerage Lands Invaded by Lighting Commission.

At a meeting of the city commissioners this morning Mayor Fisher reported that he had written to New Brunswick Electric Power Commission asking for further details about their bill of $20,000 for services in connection with the plans and specifications for the city distribution system and something which would show the legal liability of the city to pay a reply had been received in which there was no mention of the legal liability but certain notations had been made on the bill. It was also explained that in the items where Instruments Ltd., was mentioned this was a firm from which the commission bought supplies. The communication was referred to the council.

Re a City Bill.

Commissioner Thornton expressed the opinion that as the Commission was so keen on collecting from the city, they should be billed for damages for trespassing on city lands in the Parish of Lancaster. Commissioner Wigmore said he had taken up the matter of trespassing on water and sewerage lands near Spruce Lake and had received an offer of $1,285 in settlement. He was having the matter checked to see if the damages mentioned by the Commission were right and to find out if the payment offered was the same as received by other parties. The lands taken were 1,570 lineal feet in one place and 14,020 lineal feet in another.

Mayor Fisher reported that he had written the city solicitor asking him to confer with the council on the injunction matter. This met with the approval of the members of the council.

An invitation was received from the Exhibition Association for the council members to attend the official opening on Saturday night in a body and it was decided to accept.

A request for permission to install a gasoline tank on his premises, on Richey street, was made to E. E. Wetmore and referred to the Commissioner of Safety. Mr. Wetmore also wrote that the south end of the railing on the Stanley street bridge was without a support. Mayor Fisher said the latter was a matter for the C. N. E.

A request from G. A. Cameron to install an electric sign at 141 Charlotte street, was referred to the Commissioner of Public Works, city engineer and city electrician.

The Barber of '57

Old Time "ad" Discloses St. John Conditions in Tonsorial Parlors.

The St. John barber of 1887 had no electrical appliances to operate on customers, but one of them had much more than a shave or hair-cut to offer. Here is the advertisement:

"Heffer's bathing, shaving, shampooing and hair-dressing saloon, No. 21 Germain street. Perfumery, face soaps, hair dyes, combs, brushes, etc., in great variety. Also Columbia and retail. Fishing rods, lines, flies, etc.—Richard Heffer.

"N. B.—Baths open every day, Sundays excepted, from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m." We can imagine the gallant of 1887 proceeding to Heffer's, taking a bath, getting a shave and shampoo, having Columbia hair wash applied, getting a dash of perfume, and salving forth to the conquest of the fair sex. Since Mr. Heffer dealt in angles' requisites, it may be assumed that fish stories regaled the waiting customers and turned their minds to rods and flies. It is also apparent that dyed hair was not regarded as an unusual phenomenon over sixty years ago.

THEY LIKE RING

That the new junior rowing champion, Grenville Ring, holds a high place in the regard of the officers and members of the Millidgeville Summer Club was evidenced by the remark of a member this morning, speaking for the club. He said that Ring had the best wishes of the club and he would be complimented on the great race he had put up against McCavour and Logan. These two had been rowing for several years but Ring had been in his boat only a short while. The opinion was expressed that if he continued to improve next year as he has recently he would make the intermediate champion, Harry Giggy, look to his laurels.

As Hiram Sees It

"Well, sir," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to The Times reporter, "I was talkin' yesterday to a feller from the North Shore. He says they haint been holierin' about hard times fer quite a spell up there. Looks as if they was gittin' along fast-ate. The hay crop is short, an' the farmers think they orto get a low rate on the railroad to git a thousand ton or so to feed their stock. I don't believe the railroad 'ud be doin' a bad thing to help 'em out. Us farmers don't git any too much from anybody, but Mebbe that's one reason the towns draws so many away. The's a good deal in what that Prof. Biglow says—when he says if men could make money on a farm they wouldn't be so anxious to git away. An' I believe he's right about farmin' bein' a science these days—when it costs so much more'n it used to do to raise a crop an' get it into market. We don't send half enough fellers to them there agricultural schools. But I'm glad they're havin' good times up north in spite of the bad hay crop. It's good to know somebody's gittin' along well—kinder stiffens up your back-bone—By Hen!"
