Widespread sadness and regret will be caused to the people of St. John when they hear of the death of Senator J. V. Ellis, who passed away a little after half past twelve o'clock today.

During the last of his illness, although very weak, Senator Ellis retained all his usual clearness of mind and had been able to converse clearly with friends who came to see him.

All the members of the family have been with their father except his son John who is at present in Washington and who is believed to be in the city.

Senator Ellis was taken ill before leaving Ottawa after the close of the session and was confined to his room in the Russell hotel there. He made the trip to St. John very comfortably, but did not rally sufficiently to leave the house since a show place than as a beacon light for the king and the country to see women suffering an insupportable grievance.

Senator Ellis has been one of the foremost men in the city for half a century, and has taken an active part in the city's public affairs, representing St. John for two terms in the dominion house of commons and one term in the provincial legislature, having been a senator since 1906.

Enemies Assail Her on Every Hand—Her Troops Reported Routed by Serbians—Victory for Greeks

NATURALIZATION OF BRITISH MINES

Bill in Commons Causes Some Amusement But Gets First Reading

London, July 10.—The House of Commons was languidly amazed yesterday when Stephen Walsh introduced a bill for the Nationalization of coal mines providing for the distribution of coal by the government after it takes over the control of the mines. Compensation is offered to the owners of the mines, but the bill does not recognize title to royalties for the purchase should be raised by the issue of stock.

"That would involve some slight change on the taxpayers," remarked the speaker of the house.

The bill passed its first reading without a division.

TABLOID MUSICAL COMEDY AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Minerva Courtney and Her Company to Present the Western Idyll, "The Little Shaver"

"Popularity" will be spelled in large letters at the Opera House next week, for everything will be on the popular basis: a popular star with a popular company in a popular comedy at popular prices; a combination hard to beat. "The Little Shaver," is one of those comedy vehicles just built for fun purposes in order to make a good evening's entertainment.

ANOTHER VERSION

The Times recently gave some account of an encounter between Premier Borden and a pale green emergency on the St. Andrews golf links. The St. Andrews Beacon reprints the story and makes the following comment:—"This looks like an attempt to be funny. No pale green Emergencies are allowed to linger around the St. Andrews golf links—not for the fraction of a minute. Sometimes a long-legged mouse will break away from his forest haunts and cavort over the green award, and sometimes—though the occasions have been very infrequent—a wild-eyed editor from Awayback will center over the green and pound up the sods under the delusion that he is playing golf, but with these exceptions no high brows from the outside world are allowed to disturb the meditations of those who have reduced the pounding of the long green to an exact science. If Mr. Borden's nerves have been shocked by any Emergency, green or orange, or any other hue, since he came to St. Andrews, it was when an Algonquin waiter suggested that he should get outside of a little 'Weiner Schmitt' a la Holstein." He is said to have displayed evidence of deep emotion, but otherwise he behaved with great courage. The fire-lighting staff of the Algonquin have been specially warned to be on their guard against Emergencies, so that Mr. Borden can rest assured that the 'closure' will be promptly applied should any appear."

SARDINE FACTORIES BUSY.

An Eastport letter says:—The prospect for steady work in the sardine factories seem more encouraging these days, since the fish have struck in and the fishermen report that large schools of small herring are playing in along the Canadian shore. About all the factories received many hogheads of fish suitable for sardines this week and a large number of employes went to work. A number of new hands were put to work in the can plant and from now until the end of the season it is expected that this city will be a busy place.

GREAT SALMON CATCH IN THE BAY LAST NIGHT

Lorneville Fishermen Bring in 400 Fine Fish—A Profitable Season

If anyone who enjoys the delicious, nearly cut of Bay of Fundy salmon—who does not—had been walking along the South wharf this morning he would have seen a sight to make his heart glad. Two fishing boats laden deep in the water were coming sailing up the harbor with the record catch of the season—four hundred large, firm salmon. Last night while the people of St. John were reposing peacefully, a fleet of twenty-seven fishing boats set out from Lorneville with nets trailing to catch the coveted salmon lurking in the waters of the bay. Great was their joy in the morning when they gathered in the spoils and found that they had run into a school abounding in the finest fish, instead of the usual catch of 150-200 had found their way into the nets.

After the fish were brought into the end of South wharf they were hoisted up in a great bucket ten at a time and they will be stored for today. Tomorrow some of them will be sent to dealers in the city and the greater number will be sent out on the west bound trains, some to upper Canada, others to Maine and Boston.

The salmon season this year is reported above the average and since in spite of the greatly increased catch the price remains as high as in other years next winter should prove an untroubled one for the residents of Lorneville.

MR. ANGUS TO CONFER WITH COMMISSIONER

Matter of Sidewalk Platform Which Was Declared an Obstruction

If the city had the sidewalk in proper repair it would not be necessary to use the device. The magistrate postponed the case until Mr. Angus could confer with the commissioner.

As the city's witnesses were not present this morning the case against W. Malcolm Mackay's chauffeur for violating the traffic law, was postponed till Monday at 9.30 a. m.
