POLITICAL MEETING.

Hon. A. G. Blair and Sir Louis Davies at Woodstock.

At Woodstock on Friday, 1st inst., Hon. A. G. Blair and Sir Louis Davies addressed one of the largest and best political meetings ever held in the county. The Opera house was crowded. John Harper, president of Carleton County Liberal Association, presided, and James Watts, secretary of the Association, read an address of greeting to the ministers, commending the vigorous commercial policy of the government and the establishment of an increased trade with Great Britain.

Hon. A. G. Blair received a rousing reception and delivered an eloquent address. After expressing his thanks he paid a tribute to Carleton County as first in rank in the dairying industry. He was pleased with the loyalty to the Liberal party displayed and the confidence in the government which was in strong contrast to acrimonious nature of the opposition's meetings which breathed a spirit of despair and appealed to the passions of people and not to their judgement. Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. Foster in the role of prophets were spoken of in an amusing manner. The leader of the opposition knew the great West, Ontario and Nova Scotia were lost to the Liberals and would be told by his lieutenant what would happen in New Brunswick. The opposition claimed gross negligence on the part of the government and singled out Messrs. Tarte, Sifton and Blair for special attack because they were heads of the great spending departments. Mr. Blair ably refuted these attacks.

Mr. Blair showed that no greater calamity could happen this fair and prosperous Dominion than that the government should be transferred from Sir Wilfred Laurier and his associates to Sir Charles Tupper and his friends. Charges that the Liberal party had violated pledges were refuted. They promised to be and were economical. Any service now cost less than was paid for the same under the previous government. More money was spent and spent in the public interest. Of the fifty millions voted the opposition could only find objection to $30,000. During 18 years the Conservatives added six and a half millions a year to the debt, while the Liberals after paying many obligations incurred by the previous government, had made an increase of but $2,000,000 a year or less in three years than the previous government had in one. Hon. Mr. Blair went into the tariff question and convincingly argued from Sir Charles Tupper's own words that the tariff had been reformed. The change had meant $3,000,000 reduction in taxation. Tariff regulated the prices asked by the home manufacturers, and in this way too, this reduction means a lessening of the prices paid by the people to home manufacturers.

Dealing with the Transvaal question Mr. Blair showed up Tupper's political loyalty, telling how Sir Charles Tupper, as Canadian high commissioner in England, had repudiated, in the strongest terms, any obligation on the part of Canada to assist Great Britain if she became involved in war, and he was diametrically opposed to Canada contributing a dollar for this purpose. He asked his hearers if they were not ashamed of the organ of the Conservative party, the St. John Sun.

Mr. Blair closed amid cheers. Sir Louis Davies made a very happy speech referring to the charges against the government by persons whose own hands were not clean. He aroused laughter by referring to Mr. Foster's "moment of weakness" on the prohibition question. Any charges made by Mr. Foster came with bad taste after the ex-finance minister's treachery to his leader, Sir Mackenzie Bowell. The Liberals had given clean and honest government, and he only asked that the three years under Sir Wilfred Laurier be compared with the term of corruption and rascality of the former rule.

On the question of pledges he referred to the promise of the plebiscite on prohibition, and in passing said every bit of temperance legislation on the statute books was made under the Liberal party. On prohibition he said no amount of votes had been designated as necessary, but it is well understood a substantial vote of the people of Canada must be given. The result was twenty-three per cent. of the electorate of Canada voted for prohibition. No thoughtful temperance man would say prohibition could be given on this small vote.

Sir Louis Davies showed that under Liberal rule prosperity was the watchword of the Dominion, and there was more hope in the future and faith in the men now at the head of affairs in Canada. He was heartily applauded.

TO Begin at Once.

Work on the Bridge.

The Bridge tender which was accepted by the company and the Government was that of Albert Brewer of Upper Woodstock. This was the lowest tender and the figures were $27,945. Mr. Brewer was the only competitor from this county, but there were two tenderers from York: one for $28,897, and another $10,000 in excess of this.

The contract is signed and Mr. Brewer proposes beginning operations at once; indeed, there has already arrived at the station here, tools and appliances for beginning the work.

It is expected the bridge will be completed within a year. The first work will be the construction of the shore pier and abutment and work is expected to begin next week.

Auction at Campbell & Nixon's December 23rd.

That Fair.

"It was very interesting and decidedly well worth attending." This is the popular verdict of the "Old Folks Fair" given by the Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union last Tuesday and Wednesday. This body of energetic young women are to be congratulated on the unique idea and the manner in which it was carried out. One would hardly think it possible in so small a town as Hartland to procure such a number and variety of quaint, curious, antique articles, the ages of which ranged from 50 to nearly 400 years. The collection consisted of dishes of all kinds, candle sticks, lamps, books, coins, letters, papers, fans, pictures, silverware, jewelry, articles of clothing, in fact, almost everything that can be imagined. Besides these there was a large collection of curios from India, Venice, and other Eastern countries, including sandals, bracelets, gods, pipes, gongs, samples of vegetation, dishes, purses and numerous other articles. All these things were shown and explained by the young ladies who were in attendance.

Following are some of the articles of especial interest: A block of lignum vitae used for stopping a port-hole in the fort at Quebec in 1759 under Gen. Wolfe, a fan that came over in the "Mayflower," a pair of scales over 300 years old, a "Sentinal" of 1854, a pair of apothecary cases of the year 1564, a document signed by Thos. Carleton, the first governor of N. B.

Cake, coffee and homemade candy was for sale, and were liberally partaken of. On Wednesday evening the band was in attendance.

The sum of $18 dollars was realized, which, considering the small admission fee, showed that it was a success financially.

Train Wreckers Captured.

On Friday last a Frenchman named Octave Cariveau was arrested on charge of having placed the obstruction on the track that caused the derailing of the train five miles below Edmundston, on October 19th. Vital Cariveau, a brother of the suspect, attacked the constable who made the arrest, and was himself taken prisoner on this charge. Next day after this a young lad, Larry Bellefleur, gave himself up confessing that he and some other boys placed the obstruction for the fun of seeing the wrecking take place. An examination took place on Monday before Justice Raymond at Edmundston, and the first prisoner was discharged and the boy and Vital Cariveau were remanded.

BREACH OF PROMISE CASE.

A Wellknown Widow Brings Suit Against a Prominent Citizen.

Human nature is fickle. As this is evident in a child who will throw away a new toy for a newer one, so it is made manifest by the people of Hartland who all at once forgot the all-exciting fire investigation for a new sensation which came out on Saturday last. Human nature also has other peculiarities, and one of these is its fondness for matters that concern man and woman in the marital relation, be it love, courtship, marriage, divorce—or breach of promise. Of all these various phases probably the latter holds the most interest, and it is just such a case that Hartland possesses all its own.

Ralph Waldo Emerson said that Cupid rarely shot at a mark over 30 years of age, but other authorities claim that the little imp is blind, and this may account for his playing pranks with a callow youth well up in the fifties and a blushing damsel of 63.

Saturday afternoon Deputy Sheriff Foster struck town and plastered the youth with a bailable writ. As the youth is very popular among his fellow-citizens it was not difficult to get two good bailsmen. The story might not have got out, had not the youth esteemed it too good to keep, and straightway told it. To him it seemed that the hills and river, the houses, fences, and the very sidewalk as he gazed at it smiled broadly; the gentle zephyrs giggled and every man, woman and child rudely grinned. So why not treat the matter as a joke? The end may be serious enough.

The Damsel? We know not her emotions.

It seems the youth having all his life been a good deal of a flirt, wooed and was an easier winner of the damsel fair. It is said calculations if not preparations were made for a speedy marriage, but alas! fickle, as man is, the youth said "Nay! Nit! Not!" Hence the suit. The suit is to be tried at the next term of the County Court. The papers are issued by A. B. Connell Q. C., and it is said a prominent legal man from Fredericton will be employed for the defense.

Big public auction in Campbell & Nixon's store December 23rd, afternoon and evening. See handbills for particulars.

The Grand Falls Boom.

For some time the public has heard little of what became known as the "Grand Falls boom," but now there once more looms up on the horizon sufficient evidence of bona fide intentions to give reasons for renewed hope. E. C. Crawford of Boston, who represents a large English syndicate, has been over the timber grounds of the Upper St. John, and has secured options of three sites for a pulp mill. Two are in Quebec and the third is at Grand Falls. Mr. Crawford has an option of the claims of the Company of which Senator Proctor is head, and, while rather reticent as to giving out matter for publication, it was hinted that Grand Falls would be the site chosen. The works are to be of prodigious size, and will use 120,000,000 feet of lumber a year after the first year, when they will use 80,000,000 feet. They will cut their wood on both sides of the St. John in Maine and in Quebec.

If this work as promised goes on it will mean a tremendous impulse to business all along the river.

 Among those from Hartland who attended the Messrs. Blair and Davies meeting at Woodstock were, J. T. G. Carr, C. Humphrey Taylor, S. S. Miller, Allen Bradley, Allen Rideout, Fred H. Stevens, and Arnold Porter.
 Frank McCready of Patten, has been visiting his sister, Mrs. G. B. Nixon, the past week. Mr. McCready was in the Spanish-American war and saw active service in three campaigns in Cuba and two in Puerto Rico. He is one of the few Maine boys who "got hit." He was cut on the cheek with a sword, injured on the forehead with a blow from a rifle barrel, and, before San Juan, had a part of his ankle shot away.

Sudden Death.

At Woodstock last Sunday death came very suddenly to a highly respected and useful citizen. Mr. William T. Drysdale had started for church with his wife but complained of not feeling well and went back home. When Mrs. Drysdale returned at 12:30 she found her husband quite ill. A doctor was sent for and all was done for his restoration that was possible, but it was of no use. He died shortly before one o'clock. Mr. Drysdale was born in Sheffield, Queen's Co., 49 years ago, and came to Woodstock 16 years ago, and has lived there ever since. He leaves one son. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon and was very largely attended. The Masons held a service at the grave. Mrs. G. C. Watson of this village is a sister of the deceased.

After a Successful Season.

Sawyer's Mill Shut Down on Monday.

Sawyer's mill shut down on Monday afternoon, having run later in the season than ever before. It opened up on May the 10th, and has been running continuously up to December 4th, except a few days when shut down for repairs. The longest season was in 1897, when it began operations on April 2nd and closed on November the 20th. This season from 40 to 50 men have been employed, and $110,000 have been paid out in wages. The cut was about 6,000,000 of long lumber, and 7,500,000 laths. Preparatory to next season's cut men are in the woods and will probably get out over 6,000,000 feet.

Getting Better Value.

"The people never got as good value in tea as they are getting today," said T. H. Estabrooks, the North Wharf importer and blender to the Gazette this morning. "A pound of Ceylon tea that sells at 30c. is as good as a pound and a half of the thirty cent teas of not many years ago. Competition, direct importation and the increasing demand for Ceylon and Indian teas have brought about great changes in the business, and the chief benefit has been to the consumer, who gets a better article at a lower price."—Gazette.

Andover.

The construction of the new steel bridge over the Tobique at the narrows is proceeding satisfactorily. Already the piers have been completed and are now ready for the superstructure. The last work was done upon them a few days ago. Strangely enough the tenders for the iron work have not as yet been let, or even called for. It is expected, however, that tenders will very shortly be asked but the erection of the bridge, though promised by March, will probably not be done until late in the coming summer.

The new roads which were being built in the same locality by the Government have also just been finished last week. They comprise three miles along the Tobique river leading from the bridge, and two and a half miles approximately, into Tilley Settlement. Their construction, owing to the rough character of the country, has been the means of the expenditure of a large amount of money in the neighborhood. Perth village will probably now benefit to some extent as the trade of a large piece of country will be diverted towards it.

The new building which the Post office is in the future to occupy, has been so far completed that the Post master today took possession of his new quarters. Though an improvement on the past, regret is expressed that a larger waiting room was not provided for, and the office itself is not large enough for convenience.

It may interest other small communities in which it is difficult to effect an organization for edification and improvement, to learn of the success attending the Andover Literary Society. Their attendance has been very satisfactory and genuine interest is shown in the programmes. At each meeting a lady or gentleman appointed by the President, reads a paper upon any book or theme of their own choice, the subject being afterwards discussed by the Society. A critic, also appointed by the President, gives a criticism on the paper read and sums up the manner in which the subject was handled. Some excellent papers have so far been presented, and the prospects are good for the future.

There seems to be rivalry here as to who will get the most subscribers for the Family Herald and Weekly Star.

Salt Springs.

The Parish Sunday School Convention took place here last Tuesday. The attendance was large especially in the evening. The president, J. B. Allaby spoke quite briefly. The devotional exercises were conducted by Geo. Stevens. B. W. Morgan addressed the meeting for some time on the "Periodical Institution of the Bible." He was followed by Revs. Hubly and Marr. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: J. B. Allaby pres.; Miss Melinda Fowler, vice-pres.; Miss G. E. Reid, sec. treas.; G. H. Stevens and George Titus, executive. The next Convention will be announced later.

DIVIDING THE BURDEN.

Well-Known Wheelman Gives His Opinion as to Who Should Pay for Good Roads.

"The great reason why we have so few good roads in the United States is that we have left it to the farmers alone to build them. This is wrong. It is absolutely impossible for the farmers alone to provide a system of good roads. The cost is altogether too great, and unless substantial help is furnished them, upon some reasonable basis, progress in road building will continue to be slow and unsatisfactory," says Otto Dorner, chairman of the L. A. W. highway improvement committee.

"The help which the farmers require in building roads should come from the cities. The cities are the great centers of wealth; they are the great markets in which business is done—the great distributing points for manufactures and for agricultural products. Agricultural America has built them up and maintains them. The union between the cities and farming districts is close, upon a hundred different channels of trade. Each depends upon the other. What is more proper, therefore, than that the city should unite with the country in constructing and maintaining suitable and efficient means of communication and transportation?"

"There need be no doubt that the taxpayers of most American cities are willing and ready to contribute to the cost of building country roads. Their necessity is as thoroughly realized in the cities as it is by the farmers who become stalled on a muddy road with a load of grain hauled half way to market. City people know the country better than they have ever known it before, and their business relations with country people are growing more and more intimate. They are quick to see the convenience and saving which would result from the construction of good roads, and know that they themselves would be, in large measure, the gainers."

"But how can a tax be levied upon city property for expenditure in country districts for road building purposes? A city tax is out of the question, as much as it would be to levy a town tax upon farm property for building sewers in a distant city. True, a county tax might be levied, a large share of which would be paid by the cities situated in the county, and which might be used for the building of roads in any locality within the county. But this is not sufficient, especially in the case of large cities like Chicago, New York, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Minneapolis and Baltimore. Their interests extend far beyond the counties in which they are situated; indeed, the cities themselves constitute the greater part, or nearly all, of the taxpaying property included in these counties. They may properly contribute to the cost of building roads in all the territory from which they draw their trade."

"The best method yet devised for levying taxes upon city property for the purpose of building country roads is by the medium of a state tax. This is levied upon city and country property alike, upon all classes of people, so that every locality, every taxpayer, contributes proportionately, according to the amount of property owned, the wealthy property-owners contributing the largest amounts."

"Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York and Connecticut are probably the states which have made the greatest progress in country road building. They have all levied state highway taxes, and have built roads by a system of state aid. While the rate of taxation has been low, the amount collected has been considerable. In New York $50,000 were collected by a state tax of one and one-tenth cents upon every thousand dollars assessed valuation, and four-fifths of the whole amount was collected in the cities, where most of the property in the state is situated."

"The state aid system does not interfere in any way with present methods of road building, but simply provides a means by which an enterprising country community, desiring to possess first-class highways, may obtain financial assistance for the purpose from the cities. The state does not pay for building such roads, but simply contributes to their expense, just as it contributes to the cost of maintaining public schools, which are conducted by the local school officials, but which, to receive such state assistance, must be up to a certain standard."

Feed and Pork Flavor.

There is a vast difference in the quality of pork. Some is sweet, tender and juicy. Some is directly the reverse. Feed is largely responsible for this difference, says the Epitomist. In experiments, conducted for the purpose of determining the influence of food on the quality of pork, it has been found that milk, corn, barley, oats and peas produce the most solid and best-flavored meat. Potatoes produce a soft pork. By-products of the flour mill make an inferior pork. Oil meals produce pork that is oily and of poor flavor. The meat made from feeding beans is without flavor, and hard and indigestible. Acorns do not make good work.

APPEARANCES COUNT.

The Man Who Packs His Fruit Attractively Is the Man Who Makes Fair Profits.

When there is anything like a full crop of fruits it often occurs that the markets become overstocked and the price drops so low as to give little or no profit to the owner. At the same time large quantities of fruit are being sold every day. In a majority of cases it is the better appearing fruit—that which is put up in neat, convenient packages and that presents an inviting appearance—that sells first and best. The inferior is what is left, if any.

The grower who is careless in picking and sorting his fruit, who pays but little attention to the kind or appearance of the package in which it is sent to market, is the worst sufferer. It is this class of fruit that is passed by when there is an oversupply. When there is a scarcity and the demand exceeds the supply almost any kind of fruit will sell at some price. But with plenty of good fruit the poor grade won't sell at a low price, if it is sold at all.

In all cases it pays when picking the fruit to sort carefully, grade according to quality, and with small fruits especially it pays in addition to send to market in attractive packages. The difference in the cost is small, especially as compared with the better opportunities of selling, and the higher price it is possible to realize, and this is more important in a year when there is a good supply of fruit than at any other time, although a difference in favor of the better fruit is made at all times. But usually it is only when there is a scarcity that poor fruit is marketable. The grower who carefully sorts his fruit and takes pains in sending to market in a way that will be attractive to the customer not only realizes good prices, but does good missionary work in encouraging the consumption of fruit.—Farmers' Voice.

COLD STORAGE EGGS.

They Are Good Enough for Ordinary Purposes, But Not Up to Fresh-Laid Ones.

Cold storage of eggs opens opportunities for sales that would not otherwise be afforded. Objections may be made to them by some, but they are nevertheless a necessity at the present time, as they relieve the market of the surplus during certain seasons when the supply of eggs and poultry is unlimited. The eggs are kept at a temperature just above the freezing point, the object being not to allow them to become frozen, and at the same time to keep them in a condition which prevents any changes. The main objection to the system is that the eggs are sold as "fresh laid," which is an imposition on the purchaser, and there seems no way to overcome the difficulty. There should be a law compelling those who subject eggs and poultry to the cold storage process to label or mark them in such a manner as to make the fact known, the same as is done with bogus butter. If anyone wishes to purchase cold storage materials the right to do so should not be denied them, but to sell cold storage eggs as "fresh laid" is a fraud and imposition. When poultry is kept by the cold storage process decomposition begins as soon as the low temperature is removed, and the meat becomes flabby. Any person who has compared such poultry with that which is fresh can easily detect the difference, but the great army of buyers are ignorant of the fact that to a certain extent cold storage destroys the quality, and they willingly buy an article that has been preserved by cold storage, believing it to be strictly fresh, although they would not do so if they were informed of the facts by proper labels or marks.—Farm and Fireside.

THE ROAD MOVEMENT.

Early in the Century Highway Improvement Was Agitated Quite Generally.

The good roads movement in this country is not of recent origin, as many who are following and agitating it may think. In the earlier part of the century an agitation for good roads was kept up for nearly 50 years, and had among its leaders such men as Henry Clay and John Calhoun. This movement resulted in the government taking a sufficient interest in it to provide for a national turnpike through the leading eastern cities to those in the west. About the time the movement was well under way, the railroads, as a means of transportation, became so prominent as to cause the road work to stop.

Vigilance is Necessary.

Any crumbs from the table are valuable for young chicks. Change of diet is requisite. Do not let the chicks get chilled, as they are of no earthly use after that. I hear people say: "Oh, I can't bother that way. It is too much trouble." Well, I go into poultry houses where lice get onto me in a moment. I say those people have no business to have chickens. Our chicks will show it, and it pays. Eternal vigilance is the price of chicks—good ones, and I would want no others.—Mrs. Curry, in Pacific Poultryman.

Canadian Order of Foresters.

Among the many fraternal societies in the Dominion of Canada the Canadian Order of Foresters stands at the top as regards finances, having the largest surplus per $1,000 of risk of any society doing business in this country. The membership now numbers 34,000, and the surplus in the insurance fund at the end of September last was $802,000, and it is increasing at the rate of $11,000 per month. The business of the Society is confined to the Dominion, hence the death rate is very low, being only 4.56 per 1,000, of membership in the year 1898, and the average death rate since the organization of the society in 1870 has been only 4.94. The society is adding largely to its membership, new Courts being established in all parts of the Dominion, and the old courts are being strengthened. The insurance premiums are very low, being as follows, payable monthly in advance:

Between the	On	On	On	On
Age of	$500	$1,000	$1,500	$2,000
18 to 25	35c	60c	90c	$1.20
25 to 30	40c	65c	98c	1.30
30 to 35	45c	70c	$1.05	1.40
35 to 40	50c	85c	1.28	1.70
40 to 45	55c	$1.00	1.50	2.00

The Sick Benefit Department, though an optional feature, is very popular among the membership, upwards of 17,000 being enrolled in that department. The benefits are very liberal, considering the low rates charged, which are as follows, payable monthly in advance:

Between 18 and 25 years	25 cents
" 25 and 30 years	30 cents
" 30 and 35 years	35 cents
" 35 and 40 years	40 cents
" 40 and 45 years	45 cents

When to Harrow Land.

Land should be harrowed after plowing before the clods become hard and difficult to crush, and the surface made as fine as possible. Frequent harrowing of lands already planted will check the loss of water. Orchards, especially those containing bearing trees, will be greatly benefited by harrowing at brief intervals until midsummer. The disk harrow is best adapted to clayey soils. The disks should be set at such an angle that the entire surface will be filled. If the land has been put in the proper condition early in the season a spike tooth or smoothing harrow will be all that is needed during the summer.—Farmers' Review.

Small Celery is Best.

There is a great difference in the quality of celery, and this makes the size a matter of comparatively little account. The giant varieties of celery are now superseded in favor of dwarf kinds that are crisp and nutty in flavor. Something, however, depends on the soil and method of growing. A moist soil makes the celery grow much fuller of its native juices than one which is dry. The soil can hardly be too rich, for the quicker the growth the better it is, whatever the variety. Celery that is any way stunted in growth becomes stringy, and if it is checked by drought it will have comparatively little of the characteristic celery flavor.

Railroad building has practically reached its limit in this country now, though there will be extensions of the system gradually, but the good roads movement which they stopped in the earlier days is now receiving fresh impetus from the lessons that good steel highways have taught the people, and because of the necessity of good highways as feeders to the immense railroad systems of the country.

Instead of having one kind of good road to the detriment of the other, it is very probable that the work of the League of American Wheelmen, in conjunction with the Farmers' National congress and other agricultural organizations, will result in the work of road building being taken up where it was left off some years ago and completed as far as the necessities of the country demand. To do this will require millions of dollars and much patient effort, but the good roads agitators are confident they can convince the legislators and the people that improved highways are an economic necessity.

A New Shade Tree Pest.

That beautiful and graceful shade tree, the white birch, which decorates so many parks and home lawns, has been attacked by a very destructive insect enemy in our state. For several years past some of the finest specimens of this tree in Buffalo's parks have died each year. It is now known that the cause was a small, slender beetle, whose grub makes tortuous tunnels just beneath the bark. To scientists the insect is known as Agrilus anxius, but we may well speak of it as the birch Agrilus. . . . I have, as yet, no better suggestion to offer than to cut down and burn immediately, especially before May in the spring, all trees found dying; I doubt if any protective wash for the trees will be found practicable and effective.—Prof. M. V. Slingerland, before the W. N. Y. Hort. Society.

The only safe remedy for the yellows is to cut out every affected tree and this must be done systematically and thoroughly.

Currants do better if mulched after the bushes come into bearing.

Drowned in Dyspeptic Despair.

Are Thousands of Suffering Canadians, like the stab of a knife it catches you in the side, or sends agonizing pangs through the pit of your stomach after eating. It worries and wears you till your nerves give out, and, like a drowning man, you feel you are sinking day by day and help can not reach you. In this you are mistaken. No matter how deep you have sunk, PETTY'S will reach you. As the fabled Mermaid is said to seek and soothe the drowned, so will the real PETTY'S seek your trouble and soothe your pain. Indigestion, biliousness, headache, and that despondent feeling that makes so many lives miserable, depart when PETTY'S are called in. No other medicine is compounded with such care, no other is so pure, so effective as DR. PETTY'S PILLS.

D. L. Jones Esq. B.A. B.Sc. (Lond.) the well-known chemical analyst and scientist writes as follows: "I have analyzed DR. PETTY'S PILLS, and find that they contain THE ESSENTIAL ACTIVE PRINCIPLES ONLY of the various elements of the prescription from which they are compounded, ensuring the best results from the smallest possible dose."

25 cents a bottle, 50 cents for 250, all drug-gists or from The Dr. Petty Medicine Company, Ottawa, Canada.

The Railways.

Despite the push and go-ahead of the B. & A. railroad management they are not nearly so much thought of by the merchants in the Aroostook towns as the C. P. R. It is said the B. & A. "knife" their patrons at every opportunity in the way of freight and passenger rates, although the train service is good; whereas, the C. P. people cater to every want of the merchants, oftentimes, too, to the convenience of patrons further down the line.

Canadians all Proud of It.

All Canadians point with pride to the "Family Herald and Weekly Star" of Montreal. When the "Family Herald" makes a promise to its readers, they have the fullest confidence that that promise will be carried out. Their promise made some time ago, that subscribers would long remember the closing year of this Century by the beautiful pictures secured for them has been more than fulfilled. The pictures "Alma," and "Pussy Willows," are the talk of the whole country; wherever one goes he hears of these beautiful pictures. A dollar invested for the "Family Herald and Weekly Star" with these two pictures pays better than a share in a binder twine company.

Remember that Wednesday is Campbell & Nixon's SPECIAL BAR GAIN DAY.

A very worthy and charitable act was done in an unostentatious manner by Mr. Wm. Weeks, proprietor of the Snell House at Houlton, on Thanksgiving day. Mr. Weeks conceived the idea that while the children of the more independent would feast on turkey last Thursday, there would be many poor who could not afford such a luxury. Therefore acting under the big impulse of his generous heart he authorized "The King's Daughters" to bring in all the poor children they could find in the town to take their Thanksgiving dinner at his table. Twenty-six little urchins were brought in and were feasted and made happy.—Press

There was a double wedding in Boston recently when Miss Estelle J. Wilcox of Mars Hill, Me., was married to Everett E. Sweet of Boston; and Miss Charlotte H. York of Waterville, N. B., was married to J. William Matheson of Wakefield, Mass.

The members of Hipwell L. O. A. Lodge intend having a Xmas tree and peanut social at Middle Simonds Saturday evening Dec. 23rd. A fee of 10 cents will be charged at the door which will entitle the person to a fine treat and a vote for the most popular young lady in the hall, to whom a suitable prize will be given the one receiving the most votes.

Joel Chandler Harris contributes to the Christmas number of "The Saturday Evening Post" an authentic account of the daring attempt to warn the Confederate cabinet of the great movement whereby Grant and Sherman were to co-operate in crushing the Confederacy. How the attempt failed and why it failed are the subjects of a chapter of the little-known history of the Secret Service. Mr. Harris has his facts first-hand, and he has woven them into a story of such absorbing interest that it might easily be mistaken for pure fiction.

Advertiser Free.

The ADVERTISER will be sent free six months to any one who will send us on a post card the addresses of five friends once residents of Carleton or Victoria counties but now living elsewhere.

That Shorthand Scholarship.

Any bright young person has a good chance to learn an excellent system of shorthand by entering the ADVERTISER contest. The young man or young woman who during the winter renders the most satisfactory service as correspondent for this paper will be awarded a scholarship in the Robert F. Rose School for Shorthand. (See ad.) Those so far leading the van are the Andover and "West Side" correspondents. Line up, young people, and try hard for the prize. Points that count are regularity, good clean copy, lots of news—getting always the facts of the case. Stationery and encouragement supplied free from this office. Those who do not win the prize can win useful experience. Send copy—be it much or little—every Tuesday.

About Advertising.

If we got up before an audience of 4000 Carleton and Victoria county people every Saturday and told the people that you were still doing business at the old stand and had a bigger stock and more pleased patrons than ever, and also mentioned a few special lines in which you were making special offers, would you not call it valuable advertising? That's what we propose to do; that's what we do for a large number of business men. Yes; every Saturday the ADVERTISER preaches business gospel to 4000 people. Now shall we not do this for you? Write us about it—find out the cost of obtaining such profitable publicity.

Merchants and produce dealers in Florenceville, Centreville, Bath, Boisdale, Perth, Andover, and all up river villages should join the procession and get preached about. It will do their business as much good as it does that of Hartland merchants.

When we say 4000 readers we do not mean to claim that many subscribers, but we know five or six people read every copy of the ADVERTISER—hence the claim.

STOMACH TROUBLE.

A Frequent Source of the Most Intense Misery.

Mr. Harvey Price, of Bismark, Suffered for Years Before Finding a Cure—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Restored Him.

Those who suffer from stomach troubles are truly to be pitied. Life seems a burden to them; food is distasteful, and even that of the plainest kind is frequently followed by nausea, distressing pains and sometimes vomiting. Such a sufferer was Mr. Harvey Price, a well known farmer and stock-grower living at Bismark, Ont. To a reporter who recently interviewed him, Mr. Price said: "I have found Dr. Williams' Pink Pills of such incalculable value in relieving me of a long siege of suffering that I am not only willing but anxious to say a good word in behalf of this medicine, and thus point the road to health to some other sufferer. For five years I had been afflicted with stomach trouble and a torpid liver. I doctored and also denied myself of many kinds of food pleasant to the taste, but neither the medical treatment nor the diet seemed to help me to any degree. In January, 1899, the climax of my trouble appeared to be reached. At that time I was taken down with the grippe, and that, added to my other troubles, placed me in such a precarious position that none of my neighbors looked for my recovery. My appetite was almost completely gone, and I experienced great weakness, dizziness, vomiting spells and violent headaches. I was also troubled with a cough which seemed to rack my whole system. I shall never forget the agony experienced during that long and tedious sickness. Medical treatment and medicines of various kinds had no apparent effect in relieving me. After existing in this state for some months, my mother induced me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In May last I purchased three boxes, and before these were gone undoubted relief was experienced. Thus encouraged I continued the use of the pills, and with the use of less than a dozen boxes, I was again enjoying the best of health. I can now attend to my farm work with the greatest ease. My appetite is better than it has been for years, and the stomach trouble that had so long made my life miserable has vanished. I have gained in weight, and can safely say that I am enjoying better health than I have done for years before. I feel quite sure that those who may be sick or ailing, will find a cure in a fair trial of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make pure, rich blood, thus reaching the root of disease and driving it out of the system, curing when other medicines fail. Most of the ills afflicting mankind are due to an impoverished condition of the blood, or weak or shattered nerves, and for all these Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a specific which speedily restore the sufferer to health. These pills are never sold in any form except in the company's boxes, the wrapper round which bears the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." All others are counterfeits and should always be refused. Get the genuine, and be made well.

Tragedy at Ashland.

Another terrible atrocity has been committed at the Sheridan Plantation near Ashland, Maine. Phillip Souci and Jean Dupree, Frenchmen, both intoxicated, got into an altercation. Dupree sunk an axe in Souci's back. The wounded man with the axe still in his back ran some distance to a neighbor. Dupree followed, endeavoring to pull out the weapon. Souci is probably dead by the time of going to press and the murderer is in custody.

New Drama.

In another column will be found the advertisement of Wilmer Atkinson Co., publishers of The Biggle Book. In conciseness of statement, in the thoroughness with which the ground has been covered, The Biggle Books have won praises on every hand. The build-down, common-sense, cream not skim-milk method, which characterizes the pages of the FARM JOURNAL has been carried out in their preparation. For mechanical effect no expense or pains have been spared, and the highly finished paper, the beautiful illustrations, the excellent type and press work, and the handsome cloth binding, makes these books models of the printers art. The color work in the Berry, Poultry and Cow Books has never been attempted before any book selling for reasonable price. No farm or rural home is complete without Judge Biggle's Books, and no one interested in these subjects can afford to let another day go by without sharing in the helpful things with which their pages are filled. Pay $4.00 for a farm library other than this and you will not have more value. The price is 50 cents, free by mail; address the publishers, Wilmer Atkinson Co., Philadelphia.

J. T. G. Carr is paying 29 cents cash, and 30 cents trade, for Oats.

A Good Cure.

THE GRODER DYSPEPSIA CO., L.T.D. ST. JOHN, N. B.

GENTLEMEN—For over one year I suffered with what the four doctors I consulted in N. B., called dyspepsia. For hours at a time every day I suffered the most excruciating pains. The cramps would double me up so that I would have to groan. I would vomit up everything I ate for days at a time. I was terribly wasted and so weak that I could scarcely raise a teacup to my mouth. Nothing I could get would do me any permanent good. Finally a friend persuaded me to try Groder's Botanic Dyspepsia Syrup. I took four bottles and am now able to do a good day's work. It is six weeks since I finished the last bottle. I eat anything I ever was fond of and suffer no inconvenience. I send you this voluntary testimonial, hoping that you may use it and that some one who reads it may be benefited by the use of Groder's Botanic Dyspepsia Syrup as I have been.

Yours Truly,
