REPORT.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE of the ALUMNI of KING'S COLLEGE, in the discharge of their duty, have now to present a brief Report to the General Meeting of the Association, for the year which has just closed.

There is necessarily but little to report, more than that your Committee have carefully attended to all matters entrusted to them at the General Meetings of the Alumni. At one of these, which was held at Halifax, on the 17th day of October, and at which many of the members residing in the country were present, the subject of Proxies underwent full discussion. The result was, that the present mode of voting by proxy should not be interfered with, although a very strong opinion is held and was expressed by many valuable members, that it is unadvisable for any one person to hold more than four or five proxies, unless their object be distinctly specified.

It is always pleasing to be able to notice acts of the Alumni of the College, attesting their continued interest in its welfare, and your Committee are thankful to record, that beside the donation by Doctor CHARLES COGSWELL, last year, of £100 to found a Cricket Prize, Doctor ALMON has set apart the like sum for a Prize, to be called the WELSFORD TESTIMONIAL. This Prize is to be competed for in June, by all students who have not kept more than three Terms, the yearly interest to be assigned to the best essay commemorative of the gallant Major WELSFORD, an Alumnus of the College, who so nobly fell in the assault on Sebastopol, on the 8th September, 1855.

These sums, respectively, are vested in the Governors of King's College, who, at the request of your Committee, have granted to each of the donors a Certificate, entitling them to a free nomination.

Your Committee trust that the honorable example set by these Alumni, will be followed by many others, in adding to the attractions and the usefulness of the Institution—in regard to which, ample scope remains for the exercise of their largest liberality.

The usual annual Prizes were voted by your Committee, at the last General Meeting.

One-half of the salary of the Professor of Modern Languages, is still paid by the Alumni; as also, for the year now expiring, the sum of £25 to the Principal of the Collegiate School—which latter allowance, however, terminates with the year.

Your Committee feel the importance of aiding the College in other ways, but are restricted by the limited funds at their disposal. They would, therefore, earnestly invite an increase to the Subscription Lists of the Association, and also press the immediate payment by all who are in arrears, of their respective dues. Special attention was called to this point in the last year's Report, a copy of which was duly forwarded to every Life Member, and to every Annual Subscriber, but, unfortunately, without producing the desired result. It is satisfactory to be able to add that all the Halifax Subscribers have paid in full.

Your Committee have unanimously recommended to the General Meeting to grant the sum of fifty Pounds, for the purchase of modern works, in the various departments of Literature and Science, under the direction of the Executive Committee, the same to be placed in the Library of King's College.

Your Committee beg to remind this meeting that there appears, still, to be much need for zealous co-operation on the part of the Alumni, in upholding and enlarging the Institution at Windsor.

From some cause or other, neither the College nor the School has filled up as much as might have been expected. The former, with a highly respectable corps of Professors and greatly improved appliances, and moderate charges, still contains but a small number of students; while the latter, notwithstanding its local advantages, has not reached a self-sustaining position, and gives little prospect of recruiting the ranks of the College.

Although not charged with the government of these Institutions, your Committee feel deeply anxious to see them more largely attended than they are; and they submit to this meeting whether any steps can be devised by which this Association can assist in promoting an increase in the number of students at the College, and of scholars at the Academy.

The following is an abstract of the Treasurer's Account, for the past year :

Total receipts for the year ending 30th April, 1857, . . .	£222	4	7
Total expenditures,	£211	5	9

In concluding this brief Report, your Committee have to remind this meeting that the important duty of selecting two Governors of the College, in place of the Rev. G. HILL and the Rev. W. BULLOCK, devolves upon those assembled here to-day; also that A. M. UNIACKE, Esq., President of this Association, and S. L. SHANNON, J. G. A. CREIGHTON, and WILLIAM HARE, Esquires, go out of office, but are eligible for re-election, agreeably to the fourth Bye-Law.

All which is respectfully submitted,

P. C. HILL,
