I. C. R. PENSION BILL TO BE INTRODUCED THIS SESSION.

Cartwright Announces That Idea of Fast Atlantic Service Has Not Been Abandoned--Logan Wants Government to Buy 'All Maritime Branch Railways--Shore Line's Bridge Over St. Croix Turned Down.

Ottawa, July 7--(Special)--The estimates of Sir Richard Cartwright were taken up in supply today when the house met. The only changes in the staff department of any consequence was the appointment of an accountant. The minister said this was necessary on account of the large disbursements in connection with the payment of bounties and other business. The correspondence of the department had increased in recent years by 100 per cent.

Sir Richard stated the Allans had the Canadian mail service, and were under two years' contract to continue the work with four steamers, the Bavarian, Tunisian and two new turbine steamers now being built. These would be 17-knot 10,000-ton cold storage boats, which would make the passage from Monville to Rimouski in six days, about the same time required for the New York passage. The boats were subsidized by the trip, and the new contract called for summer passage for the Bavarian and Tunisian in seven days, and the turbine boats in six days, under a penalty of one per cent for each hour over that time. The winter allowance of time was about twelve hours more. The penalty principle had been an active one, the lines imposed upon the Allans amounting to $10,000.

The first turbine steamer is to go on the route in August and the second one in the spring. Sir Richard said he had not given up the idea of a fast service, but the government could not get a tender for a 20-knot service for less than a million or a million and a half a year. The difference between a 17 and 20-knot passage was only about fifteen hours per passage, and that did not seem to be worth the price. The tendency in New York was to seek comfort rather than speed in new boats. The 17-knot boats there were as great favorites as the faster boats.

Cost of the West India Service. On the estimate for a subsidy between Halifax, St. John and the West Indies, the minister of trade and commerce stated the Canadian government and the imperial government each paid $80,700 a year for the service. The steamers ran every seven days, and as far south as Trinidad.

Mr. Borden asked the minister if it had been suggested to him that he should extend the service as far south as Brazil and Argentina.

Sir Richard said that the establishment of a service to Argentina was worthy of consideration. Brazil offered little trade opportunity. However, he doubted if the British government would arrange for the extension of the present service to Argentina. The route was too long already. However, it might pay to establish a direct steamship connection.

Better Cold Storage Facilities Wanted. E. D. Smith, of Wentworth, who is a large fruit grower, declared there should be provisions in the contract for freight subsidies providing for cooling facilities in the steamers for fruit and dairy products, and a further provision controlling the rates and forcing them to be as low as the rates from New York.

Sir Richard Cartwright said that such arbitrary control could hardly be placed upon freight rates as desired. Competition and local conditions had to be taken into consideration. As to cold storage, the contract provided the right to reduce the subsidies if the cooling and ventilating facilities were not satisfactory.

Mr. Wade (Annapolis) said that all the apples shipped to the old country from Nova Scotia orchards only one cargo failed to reach its destination in good condition. A whole brigade of Japanese, with masses of cavalry, followed and occupied the village of Nan Tay, driving out two companies of Russian infantry and two companies of Cossacks who were entrenched there. The Japanese arrived within five miles of Kai Chou. It was then nightfall. General Samanoff made a heroic attempt to check the Japanese, halting out to the Russian vanguard to fall back. A whole brigade of Japanese, with masses of cavalry, followed and occupied the village of Nan Tay, driving out two companies of Russian infantry and two companies of Cossacks who were entrenched there.

Mr. Lennox asked if the government intended to purchase the Canada Eastern.

Mr. Emmerson said that the premier had stated that a bill would be introduced in this session in connection with that matter.

Mr. Logan hoped that the government would purchase the Canada Eastern, and also all the other small lines that were feeders of the government road in the maritime provinces. He referred to the scarcity of passenger cars, and also cars for lumber and coal.

Mr. Emmerson said that he expected to be able to introduce a bill this session dealing with pensions for the employees of the Intercolonial railway.

All estimates relating to the government railway have been passed, excepting a couple of items which have been left over, and upon which Mr. Haggart

JAPS WIN ANOTHER SHARP ENGAGEMENT

Russians Fled in Haste.

Togo Reports Losing Gunboat and Several Men by Running Against Russian Mine in a Fog--Kuropatkin Tells of Light Skirmishes.

Ta Tche Kiao, Wednesday, July 6 (delayed in transmission)--The Japanese swarmed over the mountain crests early this morning and advanced on Kai Chou, compelling General Chirikoff to the centre of the Russian vanguard to fall back. A whole brigade of Japanese, with masses of cavalry, followed and occupied the village of Nan Tay, driving out two companies of Russian infantry and two companies of Cossacks who were entrenched there.

The despatch of the London Daily Telegraph from Liao Yang announcing that a battle was proceeding twenty-five miles from there, probably refers to this fighting. The speaker made a fitting reply to the foreman who was being paid $1.62 in 1896, and now $1.85. If the Conservatives returned to power, then there would have to be a decrease in intercolonial wages.

NOTABLE MEN TALK ABOUT MISSIONS.

Interesting Meeting at Fredericton Thursday Evening. IAN HANNAH'S SPEECH. President of King's College Discusses Japanese Success and Tells of Admiral Togo Being a Christian--Dr. Tucker's Thrilling Address--Matters Before the Synod.

Fredericton, N. B., July 7--(Special)--The missionary meeting at the Church here this evening was attended by a very large gathering, including many of the members of the synod, and was enthusiastically conducted. Dean Partridge, who presided throughout, the health of the bishop rendered it impossible for him to be present.

The meeting opened with singing the Church's One Foundation. Rev. E. J. Wood presiding at the organ, and prayer was led by Dean Partridge, who afterwards spoke eloquently on the subject of Canadian missions. The dean, in the course of his speech, paid a well merited tribute to the energy and zeal of Rev. Dr. Tucker, the organizing secretary of the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada.

Admiral Togo and many other men high in the estimation of the government are Christians. The missionaries of the church are doing grand work and the prospects are bright for the future. Japan is one of the great powers of the world. (Applause.)

What really hinders the progress of Christianity in Japan is the condition of the cities of the interior. If we do not reach the interior, we are at our doors for them, the laborers of the missionaries in distant lands will be doubly blessed.

A striking missionary hymn composed by Dean Partridge, was very hearty sung. Rev. Dr. Tucker said this hymn was of home manufacture (applause), a Canadian missionary hymn. Dr. Tucker said he had hoped to have had an opportunity of addressing the synod, but such opportunity was not afforded him, he must try to combine the message he had hoped to deliver to the synod with a missionary hymn of his own. The speaker made a fitting reply to the foreman who was being paid $1.62 in 1896, and now $1.85. If the Conservatives returned to power, then there would have to be a decrease in intercolonial wages.

TRAGIC DEATHS OF MANY N. B. PEOPLE

Lewis Mitchell, of Macnaquac, Drowned While Washing False Teeth in River. KING'S BODY FOUND. Coroner's Jury Finds That He Fell Over Fredericton Wharf While Intoxicated--I. C. R. Brakeman Killed--Miss Flewelling, of Sussex, Dead from Her Injuries.

Fredericton, July 7--(Special)--The body of Frank King was found floating in the river today by John Paisley, C. E. Railway section man, who, while crossing the railway bridge, observed the dead body in the water.

Coroner Alfred Rowley was notified and after viewing the body and deciding that an inquest was advisable, passed the case over to Geo. A. McEwan, who in the meantime had taken out his coroner's commission.

King was the man who was seen going down Regent street towards the Star Line wharf about 11 o'clock on Saturday night in a drunken condition, shortly before Mrs. Matheson, who occupies a dwelling over the Star Line Company's office, heard a splash of water as of some one jumping into the river. A flask of whiskey was found in one of his pockets.

An inquest was held this evening. The witnesses examined were Mrs. Matheson, John Christie, Engineer Barton, Charles Fleming, James Richards, Policeman Rideout and the city marshal.

The jury brought in a verdict to the effect that Frank King was accidentally drowned by falling from the Star Line wharf while intoxicated and that the officers and crew of the steamer Victoria as well as a number of the public generally were deserving of praise for their efforts in trying to find the body.

LORD AYLMER, G. O. C., SURPRISED SUSSEX CAMP THURSDAY.

His Arrival Was Unexpected, But His Inspection of Troops in the Afternoon Proved Very Satisfactory to Him--Field Day Today--Col. H. H. McLean Will Lead Attacking Force, and Col. Campbell Will Defend.

Sussex, N. B., July 7--(Special)--This was the best day yet at camp. Lord Aylmer, acting G. O. C., arrived from Ottawa at 11:30 today and, as one cavalry officer expressed it, was in the lines before anyone knew it.

When the troops paraded this afternoon the review and march past took place before him. This was unexpected; in fact, an air of mystery regarding plans had pervaded the camp since yesterday evening. All the regiments, however, acquitted themselves most creditably, and called forth the warm compliments of the general. Later in the day Lord Aylmer entertained the commanding officers of the regiments at luncheon.

Tomorrow will be field day, and as in preparation at the present.

The attacking party, the blue force, under command of Lieut.-Colonel H. H. McLean, will include B. C. and D. squadrons of the 8th Hussars, half of the Brighton Engineers, half of No. 8 Bearer Company, and the 67th, 73rd and 74th Regiments. Early in the morning they will mass at two points. Ferguson's farm, on the north side of the Kennebecensis west of Sussex, and Ellison's Corner, on the south shore near Apolonia. At 10 o'clock they will move on the town and will be met by the red defending force, under Lieut.-Colonel H. Montgomery Campbell. At his disposal will be A. squadron of the Hussars, the 71st Regiment, and the remainder of the engineers and No. 8 Bearer Company.

Twenty rounds of blank ammunition will be served out to each man, and firing will cease as the two parties come within 100 yards of each other.

Colonel White, D. O. C., will be umpire-in-chief, and will have other officers acting as umpires with each party. As the scene of action will be within easy reach of the town, it is expected that even a larger number of visitors than today will follow the manoeuvres. A large number attended the band concert this evening, and general regret is expressed that so enjoyable a camp is to end so soon.

THIRTY TRURO PEOPLE HURLED OFF A BRIDGE.

Party Was Returning from a Lodge Visit and Wagon Went Off--Two Seriously Injured.

Truro, July 7--(Special)--Thirty people in a large hand wagon driving home from Greenfield, ten miles from Truro, tonight, were dumped over a bridge into a brook and narrowly escaped fatal results.

Mrs. Horton and Walter Hill are seriously injured, but no bones are broken. A party of fifty people had been paying a fraternal visit to Greenfield Lodge of Good Templars in two wagons. The first wagon had crossed the bridge but the second driver drove off too close and the wheels went over. The carriage was badly smashed up, and the horses were both thrown over the bridge, but were uninjured. It is considered a miraculous escape for all.

CANON WEENEY TALKED OF FOR N. S. BISHOP

Toronto, July 6--It is stated on good authority that the name of Canon Sweeney, rector of St. Philip's, has been suggested to the diocese of Halifax as a fit and proper person as candidate for the vacant bishopric to break the deadlock in the selection which at present exists.

SCHOLES PROVES HIMSELF A WONDER.

Wins the Diamond Sculls at Henley, Thursday, Breaking All Previous Records--Victor's Win Unpopular, and He is Dubbed a "Foreigner"--Winnipeg Lose.

Montreal, July 7--(Special)--A cable from Henley says: "After beating Kelly, the holder of the Diamond Sculls yesterday, Lou F. Scholes, the Canadian representative, beat A. H. Cloutie, of the London Rowing Club, in the final.

"Cloutie had the better of the start, but at the top of the island, Scholes took the lead, increasing it at the quarter distance to two lengths. At half distance, which was reached in four minutes, Scholes was still two lengths ahead. At three-quarter distance Scholes went back half a length, when the mile was passed he was one and three-quarters lengths in front.

"At the Leader enclosure, Cloutie spurred and cut down Scholes' lead to a length and a half, but his spurt was no good. Scholes still held the lead. After passing the lower end of Phyllis Court Cloutie made another effort, but Scholes spurred too, getting home a length and a quarter ahead in the record time of eight minutes, twenty-three and one fifth seconds.

"The previous record time was made by Howell, of Cambridge University in 1890, viz. eight minutes, twenty-nine seconds. Last year Kelly won in eight minutes, forty-one seconds. Thus Scholes has beaten the previous best record by five and one-fifth seconds.

Scholes' Win Unpopular. "There was no intense excitement along the bank of the river, mostly cheering for Cloutie, but at the encouragement did not go good. Cloutie kept looking round continually for Scholes. Scholes was not pushed on any part of the course. The Canadian time in the result justified the prediction of his friends. The wind was up stream and the conditions were favorable for fast travelling. Under the prevailing conditions there was little advantage in the choice of positions.

"Scholes was quite fresh after the finish and took a swim in the river. Cloutie was almost done out. The weather and water conditions for the day were excellent. There was scarcely any wind and there was no advantage in either station.

"Cloutie, speaking to the Canadian Press eventually by one and a half lengths. The remark heard hundreds of times yesterday at Henley. If the Winnipeggers win the English scullers' cup of bitterness will be filled to overflowing.

Winnipeg Lose in Steward's Cup. "In the final heat for the Steward's Cup, Third Trinity, Cambridge, the holders, beat the Winnipeg crew. It was a grand race for the first quarter of a mile, but after that Third Trinity led by a quarter of a length; then at the half distance, time three minutes 31 seconds, they had increased their lead to one and a half lengths, at three-quarters distance, they were two lengths ahead, Trinity winning eventually by one and a half lengths. Time eight minutes 30 seconds, and one-fifth.

"The Winnipeggers steered very badly at one time getting clear over to the Bank's shore; then at the half distance going back to their own Berkshire side. They lost fully two lengths by bad steering. Had they won if they would have been a greater surprise than the success of Scholes. The Winnipeggers blame the boat for losing the race. Trinity could have beaten them by two or three lengths more."

Mine Destroys Lap Gunboat.

Washington, July 7--The Japanese legation has received the following telegram from Tokyo:

"Admiral Togo reports that on July 5, our gunboat Kaimon, while on a special mission in the waters outside of Talien, was destroyed by a Russian mine. Three officers, including Commander Takahashi, and 19 petty officers and men are missing. The rest were saved."

Kuropatkin Reports Some Skirmishes. St. Petersburg, July 7--Emperor Nicholas has received the following despatch from General Kuropatkin, under date of July 5:

"Rifle firing between patrols took place July 4 on the outskirts of Wangang, nine miles southeast of Sushen, and in the neighborhood of Potatia. The Japanese patrol retreated to the southward. We had only horses wounded.

"In the outskirts of Sushen on Halo heights, six miles south of Sushen, a Russian patrol lost two Cossacks killed and two wounded. Nine horses were disabled.

"A reconnaissance to the southward showed that there was an advance guard of 1,000 of the enemy in the outskirts of Yan Shan Pan, six and a half miles south-east of Tschina, and that there was a battalion and twelve guns and one squadron of cavalry at Diamintza.

"More considerable forces are concentrated at Waofun. According to Chinese accounts these troops were landed at Datchiangku, thirty-seven miles south-west of Tschina.

"A Cossack patrol on July 4 pushed forward to Palamatza, five and a half miles northeast of Lamintza, there considerable forces of the enemy were discovered."

Russians Capture Lap Convoy.

Liao Yang, July 7--According to a trustworthy report, Major-General Mischenko on July 5 captured a large convoy of Japanese provisions, principally rice. In the convoy were fifty head of cattle.

In view of the extreme heat most of the moving of troops is done at night.

Special sanitary measures are enforced with rigor in all the camps and an abundant amount of boiled drinking water is supplied. Up to the present time the health of the Russian troops remains good.

HIGHER SALARIES FOR CHURCH OF ENGLAND CLERGYMEN HERE.

Recommended by Bishop to Synod.

Invitation to Archbishop of Canterbury to Visit This Diocese—Committees Appointed—Encouraging Parish Reports.

HIS LORDSHIP, BISHOP KINGDON.

Fredericton, N. B., July 5.—(Special.)—A feature of the business of the first session of the Church of England Synod here today was Bishop Kingdon's suggestion, which he urged in his annual address, that higher salaries should be paid the clergy.

Another interesting matter was the passing of a resolution inviting the Archbishop of Canterbury to visit this diocese.

It was a day of much work in the synod and a great deal was accomplished. At 8 o'clock Holy Communion was celebrated in the cathedral, Bishop Kingdon presiding, assisted by Dean Partridge and Archdeacon Forsyth.

The synod commenced in Church Hall at 10 o'clock, the bishop presiding. After prayers by the bishop came the calling of the roll by Canon O. S. Newham, secretary. After the routine of opening the bishop delivered his address.

Who Are Present. There was a very fair attendance at the opening, the attendance of clergymen being fifty and lay delegates about thirty. Other clergymen and delegates arrived later, and were present at the afternoon and evening sessions. Those at roll called included the following clergymen:—

Deanery of Chatham—Archdeacon Forsyth, T. H. Outhbert, J. H. Hooper, M. E. Shawen, W. J. Wilkinson, G. L. Freshman. Deanery of Fredericton—Dean Partridge, Canon Roberts, H. Montgomery, T. W. Street, J. R. de W. Corrie, A. B. Murray, E. E. Dibble. Deanery of Kingstons—D. W. Pickett, C. D. Schofield, C. P. Hanington, A. W. Daniel, S. Neales, J. Spencer, A. J. Gollmer, C. S. Warnford, W. J. Bate. Deanery of St. Andrews—Canon Newham, R. J. Langford, J. W. Millidge, H. F. Bigby. Deanery of St. John—L. A. Hoyt, J. de Soyres, W. O. Raymond, A. D. Dewdney, R. P. McKim, W. H. Sampson, G. F. Scovill, P. Owen-Jones, H. M. Spike, G. E. Macdonald, R. W. Colston. Deanery of Shediac—Dr. Campbell, E. B. Hooper, C. F. Wiggins, W. B. Armstrong, E. J. Wood. Deanery of Woodstock—Archdeacon Neales, A. W. Teed, C. J. Mainville, E. M. C. Bedell, J. E. Flewelling, C. H. Fullerton.

Among the lay delegates are W. M. Jarvis, F. S. Neales, P. J. G. Keegan, M. E. Shawen, W. J. Wilkinson, H. B. Schofield, H. Peters, J. R. Campbell, A. C. Fairweather, St. John; G. T. Whelpley, W. E. Smith, T. C. Allen, G. O. Dickson, Fredericton; T. C. L. Ketchum, St. John; Raymond, G. N. A. Burnham, Woodstock; F. W. Clements, Kingsclear; John H. Peat, U. O. Maaza, Andover; Wm. Whyte, Blissett; Henry Wilcox, Oromocto; Judge Hanington, Dorchester; G. O. Dickson, Otty; T. F. Giger, Hampton; W. A. Daniel, New Maryland; Geo. Armstrong, A. W. Coombes, St. Mary; Alfred Whelpley, Woodfield.

The most animated debate of the morning session took place on the subject of Sunday school libraries. The report of the board of church literature gave rise to this discussion.

The Bishop's Address. Bishop Kingdon, in his annual address, referred to the severity of the past winter, yet was happy that no minister had been called away. He referred to the departure of Rev. H. A. Ody for missionary work in the Yukon, and paid a tribute to his faithfulness and good work. He spoke of the missionary conference of 1903, when a great thanksgiving is to be made. He was desirous that a commencement should be made at once to raise this offering. It will be under the direction of the various provincial synods.

He appointed the following committee to plan for and carry on the raising of this fund in Fredericton diocese: Archdeacon Forsyth, Canon J. A. Richardson, Rev. A. G. H. Dicker, G. O. Dickson, Otty, W. M. Jarvis, H. B. Schofield. The bishop referred to the plea made last year for funds to repair the cathedral and the generous response made. Reference was made to the issue of the Transfiguration and the services to be held.

Speaking of the investment of church property and the laws which govern such investment, he said it had now become his duty to see that every investment was made in compliance with all laws, civil and ecclesiastical. Several other phases of this matter were touched upon. The board of education has now been in existence four years. The work may not show very great results, he said, yet progress has been made. The bishop spoke of the fact that it had now become possible to have religious instruction in schools. He also spoke of the excellent work done in the Fredericton school and of needs of the school for modern equipment. The work of the Sunday school committee of the diocese was praised and a tribute paid to Dr. Smith, of New York. He urged the adoption of a system which would provide for lessons by experts on how to teach, if necessary, having skilled government teachers employed. The need of school literature was emphasized. He hoped for an opportunity for discussion the Sunday school report and formulating plans for the improvement of work.

Increased Salary for Clergy. His lordship spoke of increase in the cost of living and urged that the synod make provision for increase in the salary of the clergy. Reference was made to the large salaries paid elsewhere in Canada. He thought the clergy in orders more than five years should receive at least $800 and house.

His Lordship, Bishop Kingdon.

Archbishop of Canterbury invited to New Brunswick. A motion was made by W. M. Jarvis that a cordial invitation be extended by the synod to the Archbishop of Canterbury to visit New Brunswick on the occasion of his visit to Canada and the United States this autumn. The motion was seconded in a very happy speech by Rev. J. de Soyres, and carried enthusiastically by a standing vote.

The debate on Sunday school library books brought out some pronounced differences of opinion as to the merits of the books of the S. P. C. K. and those written on this side of the Atlantic. Messrs. Sampson, Scovill, Otty and others thought many of the books "too English." Rev. J. de Soyres and others who held there had been a great improvement in the books issued of late years by the S. P. C. K.

Progress has been made today in the work of the synod, and the session will not probably be a long one, nor so far as is present known are there likely to be any changes in the program. The question of the election of a coadjutor bishop has not even been mentioned and probably will not come up in any definite form at present.

At the evening session of the synod, the bishop introduced the newly-elected president of King's College, Windsor, Ian Ianah, and it was decided that Mr. Hannah should address the synod tomorrow at 11 o'clock in the interests of the college. The evening was occupied with the reading of reports from parishes, which were, on the whole, of great encouragement and interest.

Fredericton, July 6.—(Special.)—The address of the Bishop at the morning session yesterday was largely that of yesterday, a good many clergymen and delegates having arrived since the opening. So far the proceedings have been free from any discussion and the only breeze that has ruffled the tranquil waters was when Judge Hanington somewhat fiercely assailed the board of finance which he said had shown undue timidity in making investments of funds and had accepted rates of interest lower than might with safety have been obtained. He also criticized the composition of the board as composed of many of the members of the synod, many of whom had their clients' interests to protect and gave them the preference when investments were offered.

A motion of F. J. G. Knowlton was passed that the reports of all boards and standing committees be made up and sent to the secretary of the synod three weeks before the annual meeting, and that they be printed and distributed to the clergy and lay delegates for their information and use. There was an animated discussion of this subject and the motion was finally adopted.

A similar provision was made for appointment, in case of a vacancy, of a new secretary or treasurer by the executive committee. The report of the nominating committee was presented by Archdeacon Neales just before the adjournment of the synod. Many of the members of the standing committees have seats on these committees ex officio.

GRANTING OF LAND TO THE LOYALISTS.

Rights of New Resident Grantees on St. John River Forfeited in Favor of Loyalists—How This Affected the Settlements.

THE OLD COUNTY OF SUNBURY AND ITS TOWNSHIPS.

The proximity of the township of Conway to the settlement at Portland Point naturally led Messrs. Hazen, Simonds and White to make special efforts for its improvement...

At the close of the Revolutionary war in 1783, the authorities of Nova Scotia gave notice that the rights of all non-resident grantees in the townships of the St. John river in cases where no improvements had been made should be forfeited...

The township of Conway was also included under an agreement with the government that the interests of Messrs. Simonds and White were to be protected...

The land interests of Hazen, Simonds and White were by no means confined to their rights in the townships. They possessed more than 4,000 acres on the east side of the Harbor of St. John...

In the magnitude of their land speculations, the members of the old Portland Point trading company had a formidable rival in Captain William Sperry...

General Sperry died in England about the year 1800 and letters of administration were taken out in this province by his daughter. He was a man of wealth and influence.

Another English gentleman who was interested in lands on the River St. John was Charles Newman Godwin Jervis. He had been a captain in the 1st Regiment of Foot Guards...

The report of the exploration committee is printed in full in the collections of the New Brunswick Historical Society, Vol. I, pp. 100-113, and is of great interest...

The indenture to Edward Coy is a printed document and is signed by James Simonds as attorney for the said Sperry. It was registered at 11 o'clock on the forenoon of Tuesday, January 25, 1778...

LADY LAURIER WOULD HAVE WORLD AT PEACE.

Ready to Fight for Tranquility Among Nations of the Earth—The Premier's Wife a Helpmeet Indeed to Her Husband.

Ottawa, June 29.—During the recent debates arising out of the DUNDONALD incident, the galleries of the house of commons have been secured by an unusually large number of ladies.

The wife of the premier has, on several occasions recently, spent some time in the gallery. Indeed, Lady Laurier's interest in the government of the country, of which her husband is first minister, has frequently been evinced by her presence in the speaker's gallery.

Knowing Lady Laurier's dislike of being "in the public eye," I had refrained from writing about her in this column. I had some knowledge also of her love of peace, not the personal peace in which we all may dwell, but peace and brotherhood between nations, which can only be secured by united effort and constant striving towards an ideal.

Dr. Silex. A STIRRING TALE OF ADVENTURE. By Harriette... Dr. Silex is the latest thing in fiction.

"And when you first saw that lady," he said, indicating the Princess, "had you any reason to believe that she was not the 'Princess Thora de Brie'?"

"I had no reason, my lord."

"Do you know who she is?"

"I do not know, my lord; but she is not the Lady Thora de Brie?"

"By her own request, my lord, I examined her. She told me nothing of her purpose, but asked me in jest if there were any marks on her as a child. I told her of these. She said she was anxious to look if they still existed, and asked me to look. I looked, and there were none. Of my own accord, and knowing nothing of her wishes, I said to her that she was not the child I nursed, and was therefore not the Lady Thora de Brie."

"Were these marks such as would remain for life?"

"They were, my lord. Two of them were large moles, and the third a long one across the ankles. It was done by my father's sword, which she one day pushed off a table on to her foot, and was of such a nature that it would leave a mark for life."

"You have an excellent memory for trifles."

"Things that are trifles, my lord, in the case of an ordinary child, are great events in the memory of one who has nursed a princess. The Court Physician Lavarre attended the wound. He will bear witness as to the truth."

"Let Lavarre be sent for," said Lord 'n'k, and a knight led the room to give riders to a messenger; and now, my lords, of Chabert and D'Armel, I must bid you if this old woman has spoken the truth on two points within your knowledge. Has she examined the Queen and her maid so without previously knowing that the Queen was herself desirous of her imposture being discovered?"

"She examined the Queen," answered the Countess D'Armel, "and knew nothing of what you have heard of her. I have seen who she awakened from her trance. We are also able to bear witness that the marks she discovered were not on the 'Princess Thora de Brie'."

Lord Fulk continued to examine and re-examine the nurse until Lavarre entered. On being questioned, he said he would write her a mark till death, and he further stated that he remembered the marks on the back of the Princess, but that he seemed offended at so intimate and delicate a question being discussed at a Council of State.

When he had finished, Lord Fulk gave him leave to withdraw, but before he reached the door the Queen called to him: "Your patient, your patient? Have you any news of him for us?"

"He lives, my lady, and I think I may say for the second time that he is cured. Then he left the room. The face of the Queen was lit with gladness, as she turned to the Council, who were still grave with the serious matter before them.

"Do not waste your address on me, my lords," she said; "rather rejoice that the one man who is most worthy to rule over this nation may be spared to you. The reign of Asturia will rest more firmly in the helmet of a strong man than on the 'craque' of a foolish girl."

"You speak lightly, my lady," said Lord Fulk, with a frown of sadness on his face; "yet less than a day ago we thought that the happiness of this kingdom was more near to you than to any other man of the world. Was this but part of the deception you say you have practised upon us?"

At these words she buried her face in her hands and was silent. Then she rose quickly to her feet, with flashing eyes, and said, "Do not waste your address on me, my lords; rather rejoice that the one man who is most worthy to rule over this nation may be spared to you. The reign of Asturia will rest more firmly in the helmet of a strong man than on the 'craque' of a foolish girl."

Accident at Johnville.

Young Woman Returning from Church Has Ribs Broken.

Carriage upset and she was thrown out and dragged along the road—Innovations at Father Dollard's Church.

Bath, N. B., July 6.—Miss Nellie McCann, daughter of John McCann, of Glouceville, with a very serious accident Tuesday afternoon, while returning from the confirmation services at Johnville.

Miss McCann was driven from home, and while at the foot of the "Carroll hill" the carriage upset, throwing Miss McCann to the ground. She was rendered unconscious and dragged quite a distance along the ground. She was taken to the home of Matthew Commis, nearby, and Dr. M. E. Commis was summoned and found that six ribs had been broken. It is likely that the young lady will be unable again in three or four weeks.

The foundation is being laid for the new hall on the Catholic church grounds at Johnville. A very pretty veranda has just been added to the main of the church of St. John the Evangelist. In all probability the church picnic will be held some time in August. This year's events will in all probability be a banner affair.

Many of the parishioners enjoyed a social given by Father Dollard one evening last week to the workers who had offered their services in connection with beautifying the church grounds.

A severe hail storm visited outlying districts last Saturday afternoon. Farmers in Glouceville, Canaan and other places reported that their backwash crop was destroyed.

The new sidewalk is being laid here. It will be a great improvement. Many new buildings are going up, and a new street will likely be laid out this summer.

A crew of men are now repairing the water works. Much improvement will be made in the system.

The Bath Consolidated Telephone Company are extending their line. Forty miles of new wire is being placed, from Killybeg Settlement to the borders of Northumberland county. This will mean the getting out of a large number of poles and the employment of a big number of men.

The crops are a little more backward than usual at this season of the year. The mornings and nights are cool and there has been much cold rain.

"Frosts" and "darn raisings" are the order of the day just about now, and it's a struggle week that at least five of these affairs do not occur.

There is not much talk here of the Gee petition for clemency, and as the time draws near for the execution the people hereabouts seem to accept the fact that the law will take its course.

JUMPED FROM SUSPENSION BRIDGE, BUT NETTING HELD HIM HEAD DOWN IN MID-AIR.

BARNEY MCKEOWN'S ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE IN THE FALLS STRANGELY FRUSTRATED.

Thrilling Rescue by Passers-by, With Whom McKeown Fought That He Might Take the Fatal Plunge—Disordered by the Effects of Drink He Begged Them to Let Him Go.

With nothing but space between him and death, Young Barney McKeown, of Douglas Avenue swung head downward from the side of the Suspension bridge about 3.30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

A rescue was effected, but only under the most difficult of circumstances, for McKeown fought off his saviors, whose determination to rescue was equal only by their gallantry. A more thrilling scene has rarely been witnessed on either bridge.

McKeown, when he found his strength to be unavailing against his rescuers' grip, begged to be let go, and even continued his pleading after he had been handed over to the netting, and in the clutch of the crowd, was being hurried toward Douglas Avenue.

He was first seen on the bridge by William Willis, Wm. Barker and Thomas McRim, all employees of the A. Christie Woodworking Company, who were returning from Fairville, having been engaged there during the early part of the afternoon.

When about half way across the bridge the party noticed young man running past, going toward the Douglas Avenue end of the bridge.

Within a moment or so, though, the men beheld a slight figure, who rendered them incapable of immediate action. With body nearly-free of the framework, with arms reaching yearningly toward the breadth of fruit-streaked water.

and with legs tugging in the attempt to break away from the hold of the netting, he was hurled toward his view.

The men rushed toward him, and at the same time a man coming from the Fairville side hurried up to assist in the work of saving.

He wanted to die and assuredly would have but for the fact that as he leaped outward from the bridge framework, his feet became entangled in the wire netting.

Further descent was instantly checked, and though he struggled to free himself with the strength born of a liquor-crazed brain, the slender grip on his feet did not relax.

THE PRINCESS ROYAL GOLD MINE (LIMITED) Company's Mineral Areas on Princess Roy Island, British Columbia, Consisting of 83.9 Acres—Crown Granted.

STOCK FOR SALE—DIVIDENDS GUARANT

There are two remarkably fine ledges or veins, parallel to each other about 200 feet apart, running right through all the Company's mineral claim larger vein, from six to eight feet in width, carries ore running from $100 to $200 per ton.

The shipments of ore from the smaller, or high grade ledge, have averaged slightly over $100 TO THE TON, of gold, silver and copper—principally the smaller vein, from which the shipments have been made.

We own $100,000 of stock fully paid-up and non-assessable, which, careful investigation and examination of the property by experts, we have secured and paid for. For a portion of it, being Treasury stock, we paid 25 cents and the balance we purchased at a lower figure in the early stage of the mine.

We have delayed offering this stock to the public until the mine had reached an experimental stage, and the cash returns from the smelter gave positive evidence of the value of the property.

There is no department of the church's work here which has not been benefited by your wise counsel and energetic work. In the Sunday school, the Epworth League, the prayer services, as well as in your private ministrations we have felt the influence of your administrative skill and energy and will, we doubt not, long continue to be a blessing to the church.

You may be assured that you have won the respect of young and old of the community included in the circuit. We can only regret your departure from among us. We will regret to lose your administrative skill and energy and will, we doubt not, long continue to be a blessing to the church.
