Vienna, Nov. 5.-There was another tumultuous scene last night in the Reichsrath, the Leftists continuing to oppose the discussion of the bill for prolonging for a year the Austro-Hungarian compromise, although the house had adopted a resolution to debate it. The Leftists actually entered the president's tribune, and retused to budge. Dr. Lueger displayed a placard, incribed "I claim the right to This was greeted by an increased tumult. The uproar was incessant. About the election generally, the paper is quite cheerful, adding:

The Chicago platform, minus the nonser about free silver—if that is what 's many's victory means—won't scare the English. To most of us in the old country your plutocrats seem a much greater menace to the commonwealth than the Democrats, even if they do swear by Croker and Tammany Hall. Outline the Policy of the Government.

London, Nov. 5 .- There was a flood of political speeches last evening. Mr. Arthur J. Mr. Chamberlain's speech was an elaborate defense of the general policy of the

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, who was the principal speaker at the cutlers' banquet at Sheffield, maintained the attitude he assumed two years ago, that England wanted reform in military matters rather than an increase in the army, which he called "the costliest in the world." He said that if it could be shown that an increase was imperative the nation would cheerfully pay the cost, but he was by no means convinced that a mere increase of men and expenditure was all that was needed. Mr. Balfour, at Norwich, roundly denounced Lord Rosebery's statement on Monday night at Manchester that an imperial zollverein would "weaken the empire internally and excite the hostility of the whole world." He said "it is no concern of foreign nations what we do within the empire." He announced that the government had no crastination, and now when the hour desire of aggression on the northwest frontier of India, but sought only to maintain the present frontier.

London, Nov. 5.-A bye-election was held yesterday in the Middleton division of Southeast Lancashire to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Mr. Thomas Fielden (Conservative), who secured the seat at the last general election by a majority of 865 in a total poll of 12,659. The result of yesterday's poll is the victory of the Liberal and Radical condidate, Mr. Alderman Duckworth, by a majority of 300, in a poll of servative candidate, Mr. William Mit-

Madrid, Nov. 5 .- The Spanish Government has come to the decision to try Gen. Weyler by court martial, no matter where he lands, if he confirms the accuracy of the press reports of his utterances. Gen. Weyler turned over his command in Cuba on Saturday last to his successor, Marshal Blanco, and then sailed for Spain on board the Montserrat, but the steamer has apparently become disabled, for word has reached Havana that the Montserrat has arrived at Gibara, on the northern coast of the Province

Santiago De Cuba. That portion of Weyler's proclamation issued last Friday, which is represented as being objectionable to the Spanish cabinet, reads as follows:

"My release from my post and responsibilities did not surprise me. I have expected it from the death of Senor Canovas, not believing that any political leader would be strong enough to sustain me, when the United States and the rebels were together constantly demanding that Spain should come to a settlement. I count it an honor to have been identified with the local for what it represented on behalf of my country.'

W. S. Seaton 80 PUNCTURE-PROOF.

Detroit, Nov. 5 .- J. D. Jackson, who keeps a bicycle repair shop here, has invented a puncture-proof wheel, and wants to enlist capital. There are two wooden rims, the outer one being held to the inner by a strong rubber lace, which works easily on little rollers set in each rim. This is where you get the resiliency. The lace is three yards long and is made of stands of fine rubber bound together and covered. There is scarcely any way of breaking it except through ordinary wear and tear. When it does give out a new one can be laced through the holes in a few minutes. The tire is solid. Mr. Jackson cannot tell yet how the new wheel would compare with a pneumatic in cost, as he has had to have his model made by hand. He has ridden the new wheel, and says it works easier than one with a pneumatic tire.

A LONG BIKE RIDE. Picton, Ont., Nov. 5 .- Mr. Perry Mc-Donald arrived in Picton last evening on his wheel Canada, which he has ridden all the way from Monterey, California. He was met some distance out of town by the Citizens' Band and the members of the Picton Cycle Club, heading a torchlight procession. Mr. McDonald left Monterey on Sept. 15, and rode the entire distance of 3,200 miles on his wheel. SPOKES. There are 350,000 wheelmen in Greater North Carolina leads the south in the matter of good roads.

CHATHAM APOLOGIZES. The Chatham football club has made the amende to the Windsor men who were rotten-egged in their town the other day, by passing a resolution denouncing the hoodlums who brought their town into disrepute. This resolution has been published in the local papers and a copy sent to each member of the Windsor team and their supporters. "But an apology will not wipe out the stain of a rotten egg,' said J. H. Hanna, quizzically, and he ought to know.

TO FINE THE UMPIRE.

Cleveland, Nov. 5.—President Frank be in order. Wholesale dealers in grode Haas Robison will propose a new scheme at the coming annual meeting of the National Baseball League. It is that the fining of players by the umpires be done away with, and that the umpire be fined $50 for every case in which he fails to enforce the rules. Every time a player breaks a rule, especially those regarding personal conduct toward the umpire, the umpire must put him out of the game. When enough players are out of the game to make it impossible to proceed, the game must be stopped and the admission money returned to the spectators and made good to the management out of the salaries of the players. Robison firmly believes this plan will do away with disorderly tactics.

There is practically no change in the trade situation at Toronto. The demand for wools and heavy drygoods generally has been restricted in consequence of mild weather, and prices show little change. A fair sorting-up trade in fancy goods, hosiery, etc., has been done. Stocks of merchandise at country points, generally speaking, are not large, and with seasonable

Several large western millers have orders ahead to keep them busy all month, and the prices are satisfactory. Red wheat is in best demand for export. THE KESWICK DELEGATES.

With all the respect I feel for the Rev. Mr. Clark, I must differ with him, even though my opinions may have no weight with the clergy. The speaker was | ment. not in the road, as speakers sometimes are. We are thrilled with their eloquence or put to sleep with their platitudes. In that particular sermon I felt that the Spirit was abundantly present, and the people were fed. We in the pews know when the Spirit is in the pulpit. We come hungry, and the Spirit-filled speaker somehow has the power in the simplest words, of doing us a world of good. We have learned in some way that being fed is better than being pleased. "Feed my sheep," and "Feed my lambs," is as much a duty today as in the time of Peter. The hunger for higher life is strong in our city now, particularly in the pew. We think if it was not presented as a far-away attainment, very vague, an endlessly progressive work, the results would be different. We think the person who has not the blessing himself cannot lead us in it. What a thrill it would send through the pews if some of our clergymen would tell it out pub-Hely that they are sanctified, and then tell us of their conviction for it, the consecration, the faith, the divine, inand Fort Erie. RESTOCK THE WATERS. Alaska Salmon Will Disappear if This

Is Not Done. San Francisco, Nov. 4.-The United States fish commission's steamer Albatross has arrived from Alaskan waters. The report of Commander Moser will say that the Alaskan salmon will disappear if there are not efforts made to propagate the fish and restock the waters. This is recognized by the packers, and some of them are now maintaining private hatcheries to fill the stream from where they draw their supplies. Last year the output of the Alaska packers was 1,000,000 cases of 43 pounds each, or 48,000,000 pounds of canned salmon. This year there will be a material falling off. It is understood that Commissioner Brice will ask congress for enough money to establish hatcheries, and thus keep alive the salmon in the northern waters. Commander Moser reports that many shads planted in these waters were caught in the traps of the Alaska canneries this

ALMOST A PANIC.

Rapid Fluctuation of Wheat-Fell Nearly 4 Cents in Five Minutes, and Then Shot Suddenly Up.

Chicago, Nov. 5.-There was a very sensational break in wheat yesterday, and an equally sensational rally. The December option started at 951/4c to 951/2c. Suddenly and without any apparent reason at the time, the price plunged 1/2c and 1c at a time to 91%c. The recovery was equally sensational, the price advancing to 95c again five minutes after the drop. The suddenness and violence of the fluctuations bewildered traders for a time. It is generally believed that the break was but a phase of the fight which is on between the grain elevator owners and the interest known as the bull clique. New York, Nov. 5 .- Without warning the bottom fell out of wheat yesterday morning and prices sustained heavy breaks all along the line attended by excited speculative trading. In a space of ten minutes, December here fell from 99c to 97%c, and in Chicago from 951/2c to 92c, part of the decline be ing at the rate of 1/2c a clip. Towards noon prices recovered on firm cables

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY CON-DEMNED. Brantford, Nov. 5 .- Rev. R. M. Hamilton, of the First Presbyterian Church, preaching on Sunday said that trouble in the church arose from desire to mix with the outside world. This produced the desire for playing cards, dancing, theater-going, and novel reading, and he challenged his hearers to point him to a single instance where a Christian of this sort was any use in church work. "The public library of this city," said Mr. Hamilton, "is not an unmixed good or an unmixed evil among us, and in some respects it is a curse to Brantford. Tammany's Victory.

Boss Hanna Says He's Satisfied-The Ohio Situation Still Unsettled.

DR. PARKHURST BLAMES THE REPUBLICANS.

Paris, Nov. 5.-Rev. Dr. Chas. H. Parkhurst gave out the following statement in regard to the Democratic victory in New York city: "If New York has not moral genius from them, may the Lord have mercy on New York.

"Republican votes have restored Tammany to power, and upon the men who cast them will devolve the responsibility for the jobbery and van-dalism of the next four years; and don't let us forget it.

"New York will not become a respectable city till its clergy are so pos-sessed of the spirit of the old prophets as to be prepared to put governing pressure upon secular events; till the press becomes so distinctly and unwaveringly the exponent of unmarketable truth as to command the confidence of the reading public; till reputable citizens are sufficiently wedded of the general tendency and integrity. New York, Nov. 5.—Senator Marcus A. Hanna telegraphs as follows to the Evening World of today: "They tell me I am sure of a re-election; that is all I know about it. It is an off year, and compared with elections that usually follow presidential years in Ohio, I think there is nothing to complain of. The weather was against the Republicans this year, and good times have made them careless. I don't think the ered cheap at this figure. result has much significance as to the money question. I don't see how the Democrats can reasonably bring silver to be considered as affected either way.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 5.—The political situation in Ohio is still unsettled, but the Republicans believe they are justified in claiming the Legislature by five on joint ballot. Democrats have conceded the state, and are making no definite claims on the Legislature. Denver, Nov. 5.-The result in Colorado is still in doubt. The News says William H. Gabbert, Democrat-Populist candidate for judge of the supreme court, is probably elected by 8,000 majority. The Republican says that Charles D. Hayt, Republican and Silver Republican, will have 3,000 majority, or Louisville, Ky., Nov. 5.—In addition to the affray at Frankfort, shooting occurred at the following places in Kentucky on election day: Crooked Creek, three men killed; Junction City, two men killed; Paducah, one man killed; Paris, two men wounded; Middlesboro, two men wounded. Kentucky keeps up her ancient reputation as "the dark and bloody ground." NOTES.

In New York the executive committee of the Democracy of Thomas Jefferson have arranged to continue the organization. New Jersey Republicans have a majority of 21 in the Legislature and Senate on joint ballot. George Fred Williams, defeated Democratic candidate for governor of Massachusetts, has issued a statement in which he says he sees plenty of cause for thanks in the great strength shown by the friends of silver in the various states. He says the next Congress will be Democratic, and that there will be no change in issues be-

HORSE IN A CHINA SHOP.

It Had Blind Staggers, and Ruined Great Quantities of Property.

Troy, N. Y., Nov. 4.-There was a wild scene on River street yesterday afternoon when a horse attacked by blind staggers caused damage to the amount of several thousand dollars. The animal was owned by Morris Herschman, and was hitched to a light delivery wagon. It was attacked about midway between Grand and Fulton streets, and was held by several men while one attempted to bleed it. The horse broke away and dashed up the west side of the street on the sidewalk. Despite the heavy rain which was falling the street was crowded with people. The wild appearance of the horse created a panic. One woleft-over hominy porridge, warmed, two cups of flour, one egg, two cups man fainted. The horse crashed of milk, one cup of water, two tea- against a large window of the store spoonfuls of baking powder, half a of W. B. $150,000 GONE UP IN SMOKE. Mariboro, Mass., Nov. 4 .- A serious fire broke out here this morning in the three-story wooden block occupied by the Central Hotel, on Main street, and spread to the Corri block, adjoining, which it completely destroyed, causing a total loss of nearly $150,000. The tee found Mr. Janzen guilty, and recause of the fire is unknown.

YELLOW FEVER IN JAMAICA. New York, Nov. 4.-James L. O'Connor, a New Yorker, who returned from Jamaica on the steamer Ardanroth this morning, said the ravages of the yellow fever epidemic there had been greatly exaggerated. "There have been only 45 deaths in four months and these were foreigners who were unacclimated." He said that the epidemic had almost entirely disappeared.

God's in His heaven, All's right with the world. -Browning

London, Friday, Nev. 5, 1897. A Sleepy or Vindictive Critic of

ington. It points out that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, speaking at Toronto said: "I will not purchase trade with the United States at the expense of my coun- filth. try's dignity," and it pretends that Sir Wilfrid is now in Washington to belie that noble sentiment, and to plead, hat in hand, for reciprocity.

Will someone in Hamilton jab a pin been asleep, or he deliberately misrepresents the Prime Minister. In no sense can it be said that Sir Wilfrid Toronto. He is not now in Washington country reciprocity. Of no act of Sir Wilfrid can it be truly said, as it is alleged falsely in the Spectator, that he "crawls to the foot of the Presitable." Sir Wilfrid is not now in Wash- advertising it gets. ington, as our Hamilton contemporary says, and if in the near future he goes there, it will be as a representative of Canada to aid in maintaining the rights of his country in the Bering Sea seal fisheries. The dignity of Canada, the best interests of this country, are safe in the keeping of the Prime Minister. As for reciprocity in trade, Canada's position is declared. It is a selfrespecting position. It will remain so.

There is one kind of farming that should be discouraged-baby farming.

Another Great Liberal Victory Yesterday's Liberal victory in Lancashire is the third seat gained from the Conservatives in a short time. Coming go soon after other big gains for the Liberals, the carrying of Middleton division of Lancashire by them is especially significant. Alderman Duckworth, ex-President of the United Methodist Free Church, is the victor There is no more familiar figure in of yesterday. He beat Mr. Mitchell, a strong and popular Conservative manufacturer. The turn-over was enormous. At last election the Conservative majority was 865; now the Liberals carry the seat by 300.

The next vacancy in the Imperial House of Commons to be filled is Exchange division, Liverpool, where Mr. Bigham was recently elevated to a judgeship. As the Conservative majority in 1895 was only 254, it is highly probable that Mr. Russell Rea, the Liberal nominee, will succeed in wresting that constituency from the candidate of Lord Salisbury.

The recent bye-elections in Great Britain show a distinct revival of public sentiment in favor of Liberalism. Were a general election to take place tomorrow, there is little doubt that the Liberals would sweep the country.

St. Louis Board of Health will not let its citizens eat horseflesh. Some men have eaten it without knowing. Dainty Parisians were glad to get a choice bit of horse or ass during the long siege.

How Bad Water and Lack of Drainage Kill a Population. There is much sympathy with the stricken cities of the South, where yellow fever has once more played havoc with life and commerce. In New Orleans alone, the loss of life is away up in the hundreds, and of trade many millions of dollars. The plague has respected no class in the community. Rich and poor have alike suffered, and the effects of the disease will not be overcome for many a year. And yet sanitary experts tell us that yellow fever, like typhoid, is a filth disease, and that it might have been overcome at the start if reasonable precautions had been taken in advance. In New Orleans, for example, there is a population of 250,000, many of them ignorant and poorly housed, and a soil saturated with water. Yet it is absolutely without a sewerage system! Liquid wastes from the houses find their way through yards to large open gutters on each side of the street. The city is poorly governed or it would have followed the example of all progressive cities, and established an effective municipal sewerage system many years ago. It is true that in 1892 it granted a franchise to a sewerege company, which let a contract for laying many miles of sewers. But the contractor found construction difficult, I am often asked questions by sportsand abandoned the job. Then the company went into the hands of a receiver. The city is now seeking to have the franchise declared void, but the people remain without sewers. The city authorities are also quarreling with contractor to whom they let the task of removing the garbage, and while the dispute lasts the waste is dumped into the river. The water supply of New Orleans has also been bungled. A company provided water in 1833. In 1868, the city bought the works, only to sell them again ten years later. One result is that the poorer class of the population refuse to buy the comparatively dear Mississippi water, using rain, collected in cisterns, instead. Those who have drank of the water drawn from that muddlest of streams say that there is not much choice between it and the stored rainfall. How difficult it is for a city so mis-Your little hands were never made managed to get rid of an epidemic To tear each other's eyes. which feeds on dirt, after it has once got a hold, can readily be imagined. New Orleans is today suffering from the supineness of its civic rulers in placing the provision of great necessary civic conveniences under the control of private corporations. A good water supply and an efficient disposal of sewage, under constant civic control, are even more necessary to the welfare of a city than is a police force. though all three services are, of course, needed in a civilized community. A man can protect himself against an open enemy; but no means have yet been discovered whereby even a healthy citizen can enjoy immunity from the diseases that are fostered by impure drinking "water and festering

London than Police Magistrate Parke. It is hard to believe that his upright frame carries the weight of 74 years, so easily does it bear it. Mr. Parke was born on Nov. 1, 1823, and studied law in the offices of Sir John A. Macdonald and Sir Alexander Campbell at Kingston. He was called to the bar in 1847, and for 45 years has practiced his profession in the Forest City. His long experience both at the bench and bar, specially qualifies him for the important office he fills so ably.

Lest we forget-lest we forget!

"Dies," he tells us should be plural to agree with the plural subject. O wise man! Shakespeare, Milton and the Bible are full of such errors. Why haven't you pilloried them instead of waiting for poor Kipling? Perhaps you haven't read them? Kipling wrote "dies" to rhyme with "sacrifice," but he had more than a poet's license for it - he had the sanction of grammar itself. The nominatives "tumult" and "strife," express a single individual idea, and by usage and authority a singular verb is correct. Bullion's grammar, a standard work, says: 'When two nouns are used to represent one subject the verb must be in the singuar; as "Why is dust and ashes proud?" But perhaps Kipling deserves little mercy, after that stretch of poetical license in "The Lady of the Snows"

'I am a lover of healthful amusement." said a well known citizen this morning, "but I am not prepared to pay $1 or even 75 cents for the ordinary show that comes to this city. The prices are altogether too high for the pockets of our people. and I think they will come down if we refuse to pay them. No performance that is ordinarily given in this city is worth more than 50 and 25 cents."

men and others as to the laws affecting game and fishing in this country. The best authority on the subject is A. H. O'Brien, M.A., assistant law clerk of the Canadian House of Commons. Having examined his little book, I find that it gives a comprehensive digest of the whole law, both Provincial and Dominion, affecting birds, animals and fish in Ontario, alphabetically arranged, with references to the various statutes and ordersin-council to the present date. No one interested can afford to be without this handy book. It is published by the Canadian Law Joural Company, Toronto.

In Toronto Nasmyth's counter restaurants seem to be doing a rushing business, the idea being quick and inexpensive service. For instance, a nice plate of stewed oysters is served at the counter for 10 cents.

Writes an indignant correspondent: "Why does not the Street Railway Company do better in having cars ready, without tedious waiting, at the C. P. R. station, at the two night trains, to carry people down? I have frequently come in from Toronto, and have never been able to get a car down without vexatious waiting. The street railway could make friends by attending to the above complaint."

As London West will soon be merged in the city, it is well to point out that the village should, after amalgamation, be known as West London. By many people, the fifth and sixth wards are to this day very improperly called London East and London South. These are misnomers, conveying the idea to strangers that the two wards are separate and independent municipalities, whereas the terms East and South London imply that they are integral parts of the city of London, as they really are. The metropolis of Western Ontario should have all of the honors of its expansion. By the way, if its boundaries continue to stretch it may have to be rechristened Greater 'Political differences should not be allowed to interfere with business relations or private friendships." said a level-headed citizen yesterday. Commonsense maxim!

London!

The other day I heard two entirely opposite views about lawyers. Said one citizen: "I never go to law; I always settle somehow; I keep clear of lawyers." Said the other: "I used to think the same way, until my self-confidence led me into several expensive and humiliating blunders. I now rarely take any step of consequence without consulting my lawyer, and I have found my best expenditures those I have made for the use of the trained and suggestive mind of my legal adviser. I am not fond of legal fighting. O no! I pay my lawyer to keep me out of fighting and other legal entanglements as far as possible."

JINGOISM ON THE DECLINE.

[Bystander, in Toronto Sun.] There are symptoms of the approachng decline of jingoism in England. Jingoism reached its height at the time of the jubilee. The jubilee of George III. is called by Sir Samuel Romilly, writing at the time, a "political en-gine." The Victorian jubilee, also apart from its character as a personal tribute, was a political engine of innumerable horse-power. Every other sentiment was lost for the time in the enthusiasm which, with its magnificent display of naval force, it created. But the effect of every stimulant has its The tide now begins to ebb, the fever begins to abate. Recent elections have been going for the Liberals. In Denbigh and Barnsley, though they Thieves and Tramps Put Themselves On Record.

Prose and Poetry Written On London Police Cell Walls.

The room at the London police station where the floating army of tramps occasionally seek shelter reminds one of a dungeon. There are two windows closely barred, through which only a limited amount of light streams. One side is greatly discolored with age and water marks, caused by a leaky roof. The floor is white and clean-just as a bed ought to be, but very hard. The wall on the other side of the room is a veritable autograph album and penpicture gallery. It is literally covered with signs and names, figures and small pictures. The writing of the tramps who have occupied the place indicates that the majority of them have been men of no ordinary education. There seems to be an affinity be-Receipts of wheat during the past three days 309,000 centals, including 264,000 centals American. Receipts of American corn during the past three days, none.

A LONDONER KILLED.

F. J. Bullock, Struck by the Electric Cars at Ottumwa, Iowa. Mr. Fred J. Bullock, a former Londoner, and better known to old residents here as "Uncle John," was killed at Ottumwa, Iowa, this morning by ped, though local buyers did the great-est business. the electric cars. A telegram to this effect reached Detective Thos. Nickle, his son-in-law, this morning, and the sad news will be received with sorrow by many in this city.

Mr. Bullock a number of years ago, was one of the most successful butchers in Western Ontario. For a long time he carried on business in a store next to the Dewdrop Inn, where the Hayman block now stands, on Dundas street east. He afterwards did business in the store now occupied by Mr John Morley, on Richmond street, where he enjoyed a large trade.

Mr. Bullock went to Ottumwa from here a few years ago, and by his removal the city lost one of its most public-spirited citizens. He was widely known for his generosity and goodnature, and his untimely end came as a great shock to his daughters and other relatives in this city. He leaves five daughters and one son. The daughters Mrs. William Gammage, Mrs. Thomas Nickle, and Mrs. Henry Short, London; Mrs. Wm. Hughan, Thorndale; Mrs. James Mahon, con. 3, Nissouri. The only son, Fred J., occupies a prominent position in a large pork packing establishment in Ottumwa. The deceased was getting well advanced in years.

Railway Disaster

Near Charlottesville, Va.-Four Persons Killed and Seventeen Injured.

Two Cars Plunged Over the Embankment and One Went Into the Rivanna River.

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 5.—The Chesapeake and Ohio vestibule express, known as the F. F. V., from Cincinnati to Washington, was wrecked near Oldshadwell, five miles east of this place, yesterday afternoon. Four persons were killed and seventeen injured. The dead are: Henry Burnett, negro porter, Keswick, Va.; an Italian woman named Merara and an infant, believed to be from Cincinnati, and Phelix Mareno, who died after removal to Charlottesville. The accident is believed to have been due to spreading rails. The engine left the track on a sharp curve and was hurled against a rocky hill. All of the cars, except the dining car and the Richmond sleeper, were derailed. Two cars plunged end foremost down the steep embankment, and one of them went into the Rivanna River, which at this place skirts the track. The day passenger coach and the express car one young man would have lost his were badly wrecked. Engineer Duke was hurled from the cab and crushed under the engine, besides being terribly scalded by escaping steam. He was rescued by his fireman and conductor.

THE INTERMEDIATE GAME. The Londons will have their last practice tonight before they journey to Toronto to meet Varsity II. on the finals for the O. R. F. U. intermediate championship tomorrow afternoon. An interesting contest is expected. The Varsity team is in good condition, and although the Londons are somewhat crippled by the loss of Reid, Evans, D. Mills and Baldwin, the recent practices show that they can play good ball. Another misfortune was added last night by the injury of Ransford while at practice. The formidable half-back severely wrenched his leg, but will, however, enter the game tomorrow. CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION.

The Gathering to Choose Partisan Aldermen Takes Place Tomorrow Night.

The original intention of the London Conservative party wirepullers was to Causes a Flurry on the New York hold a convention for the nomination of mayor and aldermen on the evening of Monday last, and type-written circulars with that object in view were prepared. Then it was deemed requisite to postpone the gathering, and tomorrow night was chosen for the selection of aldermen, as will be seen from the annexed circular given below, which was addressed to more than one citizen who at one time was a Conservative, but no longer is so:

"CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION. "London, Oct. 29th, 1897. "Dear Sir,-I beg to notify you that you are one of the delegates appointed to a convention to be held at the club rooms on Dundas street, on Saturday evening, the 6th November, at 8 p.m., ders. to select candidate for aldermen for No. 1 ward for 1893. "Please don't fail to attend.

"A. R. GALPIN, Chairman." Whether or not the Conservative mayoralty candidate will be selected tomorrow night is a question. A Con-servative worker said this forenoon that the candidature of Mr. Thomas Jones is a bluff, "intended to draw out the hand of the Liberals," and that the Conservative mayoralty candida-ture will not be finally settled for some time.

Terrible Tragedy at Rawdon, Quebec-Supposed to be the Work of a Tramp.

[G. N. W. Special to Advertiser.]

St. Julienne, Que., Nov. 5 .- A dreadful tragedy was enacted at Rawdon, a place about twelve miles from here, yesterday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Nulty came to St. Julienne to transact some business, leaving their four children, the eldest 17 years of age. The parents on their return home in the evening were horrified by the terrible sight presented, their four little ones lying cold in death, having been brutally butchered. Suspicion rests upon a well-known tramp, who was in the vicinity.

LATER PARTICULARS. [Special to The Advertiser per G.N.W.] Montreal, Nov. 5.—Later details of the tragedy at Rawdon state that the children murdered were three girls and one boy, aged 18, 16, 14 and 10. A friend named Morrin of Chertsey called at the Nulty house in the afternoon and found the door broken in, two of the children lying on the floor with their heads cut off. He then went out and found another girl dead on the floor of the barn, and the oldest girl dead, with her clothing all torn. Mr. Morrin quickly gave the alarm to the neighbors, all of whom lived a considerable distance away. The parents were sent for at once. No motive can be assigned for the crime, except that

Their alleged grievances are small wages, long hours of toil and the dislike said to be entertained for members of labor unions by their employers.

Stock Exchange. New York, Nov. 5.-The course of prices on the stock exchange this morning reflected an acute apprehension in the minds of traders and security holders that the relations of the United States with Spain were tending towards open rupture and war. The factors which awakened this apprehension seem to have been largely local. The first fall covered stop-loss orders, and there was such a throwing-over of holdings as has not been seen on the exchange for many a day. The disposition seemed to be to sell at any price, and the buying power in the market was apparently insignifiant. As a consequence, stocks were offered down large fractions, and even full points before meeting with any buying or-The decline came to a stop at the

MARK TWAIN'S PROPOSED CRU-SADE.

The Chicago Chronicle says: Mark

Twain proposed some time ago to start a crusade against the insolence of menials and the encroachments upon individual righty by corporations or servants. He must have mourned the death in England the other day of the Rev. William Jenkins, rector of Fillingham, Lincolnshire. Jenkins was a man af-ter Mark's own heart. He had during New York, Nov. 5 .- The Red Star his whole dife carried out the principles which the novelist advocated. He was known in London by every cabman and tramway conductor, for he was a terror to all who tried to extort from him more than the law allowed. He never went abroad without a copy of the acts of Parliament, from which he expounded the law to those who tried to get more than their share. He knew to a penny what the legal fare to various parts of the city was, and he was heavy to lift. versed in all municipal regulations. If frequently did, he hailed them before a magistrate and insisted that the law deal with them. He became the terror of all drivers in London, and gained it is lighter than a lump of slaty coal, and the sobriquet of "the litigant." He compelled the railways to provide everything which the law demanded, and to grant every privilege which their charter called for. Many considered him a very disagreeable person by reason of his sturdy insistence on his rights, but he is responsible for many accommodations being granted to travelers and citizens generally which would never have been granted if it had not been for his severe sense of justice. The fact that he died of liver complaint is said by the London newspapers to explain much, but his irregular liver has done a great deal for his fel-

Bacteria as a Blessing.

Its Benefits Have Been Ignored by Scientists.

Prof. Ward, in an address before the Physiological Section of the British Association at its recent meeting in Toronto, gave several reasons for his belief that the danger from infection by disease bacteria through their presence in the streets and in the rivers used for a supply of drinking water was much overrated. The chief enemy of the dis-ease bacteria, according to Prof. Ward, is sunlight, which has the effect either of killing them outright or of retarding their growth and multiplication. This can clearly be shown by Dr.Janowski's experiment. He exposed typhoid germs in a tube to the action of sunlight, and found that direct sunlight killed these germs in from four to seven hours. Then he filtered out the heat rays of the sun by means of screens of alum and found that the typhoid bacilli died as quickly as in the former case. He next took yellow and brown solutions, which allowed the red and yellow rays to pass through, but prevented the violet, or chemically active rays, from passing, and surrounded a tube containing typhoid germs with them. Under these circumstances he found that the germs flourished as well as if they had been in the dark. On the other hand, a violet solution, which allowed rays of that color to pass through it was fatal to the continued existence of the germs. He therefore concluded that it was the chemical rays of the sunlight which had the effect of destroying the vitality of these germs. Prof. Ward thought that too much attention had been paid to the disease bacteria and not enough to the benign or "good" bacteria. Mankind was so much indebted in so many fields to the benign bacteria that he thought that before long colleges would build laboratories in which the behavior of these good bacteria might be observed. As a matter of fact the benign bacteria far outnumbered the disease ones, though they were classed together in the public mind as being all bad with-ut redemption. Prof. Conn, of Middletown, Conn., found out after patient investigation that the fine flavor of good butter was almost entirely due to the presence in it of a certain kind of bacteria. This bacteria he now breeds regularly in large quantities and it is sent all over the world to improve the quality of butter. The makers of Rocquefort cheese in France and of Gruyere cheese in Switzerland mix a little old ripened cheese with that which was only in preparation. This is now known to have been only a rough and ready way of propagating the right kind of bacteria. The bacteria are the really great and wherever there is decomposition of organic matter, whether it be in the case of an herb or an oak, of a worm or a whale, the work is done exclusively by bacteria. They are the important, almost the only agents of universal hygiene: they clear away more quickly than the dogs of Constantinople or the wild beasts of the desert the remains of all that has had life. They protect the living against the dead; they do more-if there are still living beings, if since the hundreds of centuries the world has been inhabited life continue.

"No; it has been accumulating, luckily for us," replied Hervey; "indeed, it was accumulating for years before his death. Old Myddelton's money is more than a million in hard cash now, in-

"Oh, she will not think of him," interposed Capt. Trent, superciliously; "he is a regular snob, settled down into a pettifogging country lawyer, and almost as mean as was old Myddelton himself."

"Suppose you were to recollect the fact that he's my guardian, Hervey," observed Honore, quietly.

"That would make no difference," returned Capt. Trent, laughing. "You know very well how little you think of A vivid, painful blush rose to the girl's cheeks, and even Royden could

"Perhaps," he said, "Lady Lawrence may choose an heiress in preference to or Theodora which it would need Lao's an heir. She might very naturally wish for a young relative to live with her, as she has no daughters of her own." "So I often say," spoke Mrs. Trent, blandly; "and it pleases me to think how admirably my daughter is fitted

"What a childish idea," said Theodora, with a curl of her lip.
"And I would do good to others, for I could afford to pay for a master in deportment, and so relieve Hervey from his onerous duty.' "You are right. Such wealth should have some such noble end in view," said Royden, with a laugh of quiet irony. "Gold is, as we all know, heaven's physic, life's restorative,' but we also know there are other virtues it can possess." "There is one evil it cannot cure." observed Honore, puzzling a little over his tone, but answering it merrily, "and tried to train me. "Under those circumstances, it might almost be a good thing if you were me," was Honore's dry and ungram-matical rejoinder, as she took as comfortable a seat as Mrs. Trent and Theodora allowed her, and settled herself to gain as much enjoyment as possible from the inevitable dissertation on

There was a circular mirror on the wall opposite her, and between the candles burning on each side of it she could see the fireside group, the elder lady sleeping in her chair, comfortable and handsome, and the younger one, almost as motionless, with one ringed hand supporting the fair, regular face, round which the mirror showed such gorgeous setting of silk and gold.

to be there. Theodora Trent possessed no brilliant talent or versatile powers. She had no depth or force, or strength of character, but she had that one slender filament in her nature, and knew its power. She understood exactly how far the splendor of dress was needed to give effect to her shallow, toneless beauty, and in this matter, which was her one deep study, she was thoroughly and, indeed, to a certain extent, skilled. At every ball she attended (and Miss Trent favored all she could, both in town and country) she was looked upon as a formidable rival by many a prettier and brighter and better girl; and not a few of the young men who stood up with her to dance felt proudly conscious of having won the most admired partner in the room. What wonder? The face is, after all, but a trifling part of the whole; and who could miss variety and brightness there, when they found it in the mani-fold adornments which Theodora car-

"Suppose," she mused idly to herself,
"that were the mirror of Lao, and reflected the mind as well as the person. What should I see? Not much," she added, with a half-smile, still uncon-glass to reflect." As she thought this, still with her eyes upon the mirror, the door behind her was opened, and another figure was added to the group on which she gazed. Then an involuntary and rather puzzled feeling rose in her mind, that this figure had given a new character to the picture in the glass. "Now," she said, letting her fanciful thoughts run on, "if it were but the glass of Lao now. Most probably Royden Keith would have objected to enter the room at all if that circular mirror had been the magic instrument she thought of, but, being the harmless reflector it was, he sat down opposite it with the greatest ease, and was, to all appearance, totally unconscious of its very presence on ent.

Electrocuted.

She Trod on a Live Wire in the Dark-None Dared to Help Her.

Cries of the Child Brought Many Persons, Who, Trembling, Watched Her Die.

Hartford, Nov. 4.-Annie Belle Elisha, years old, was electrocuted here last night. She trod on a broken electric light wire, through which a strong current was passing, was felled and done to death.

The child lived at No. 241 Pearl street. In the afternoon an electric light wire broke near Asylum and Haynes streets, near Annie Belle's home. The end of the wire fell into the yard of Strong's dairy. The electric light company's employes did not know of the break, and when dusk fell the current was turned on. At 7:20 p.m. the child's mother sent her to the dairy for milk. Annie Belle knew the people at the dairy, and so she walked through the yard. Of course, she could not see the deadly wire and she trod on it. She fell, uttering frightful shrieks. People ran to her from the houses around, from the streets. For two or three minutes the girl lay there, writhing on the wire, with dozens of people standing around her, but none brave enough to touch her. Then she was silent.

A man ran to the electric company's plant and the current was cut off. When Annie Belle was raised from the wire she was dead. Her mother was summoned. Frenzied, she threw herself on her child's body,

One great disadvantage which the owners are now suffering is the inability of the two local sawmills to furnish enough lumber to make sluice boxes. The demand exceeds the supply by fully 40 to 50 per cent, and it may be the means of preventing several of the dumps on the largest mines being sluiced early next spring. the council to find out if they could get any more money.

To the mayor, the chairman said the amount necessary for "urgent walks" would be about $500. If they were laid,

$1,000 would be required by that department for the balance of the year. The walks considered "urgent", with the estimated cost, was: Hellmuth ave-

Trustee Evans was empowered to arrange for a supply of water at the cottage on the Colborne street south property, and also to supply lumber for a floor in the back kitchen, the tenant to do the work. Trustees Burdick, McCormick and Wilkins were authorized to have the water pipes at King street school attended to; also the blackboard in the kindergarten room. The carpenter's risk on the new school was given to Mr. J. A. Nelles. It was decided to recommend that the seats in Miss Rogers' room at Simcoe street school be taken for the new school; that the seats in Mr. Graham's room be placed in Miss Rogers' room, and that new single seats

About four o'clock yesterday afternoon a young horse driven by Mr. W. H. Bennett, became uncontrollable at the corner of Dundas and Clarence streets. A part of the harness had broken, and allowed the buggy to strike the animal, which kicked furiously. Twice the horse's hoofs went over the dashboard, and struck the driver on his pany's iron poles, but fortunately was not overturned. The frightened animal succeeded in freeing itself from the vewith the broken shafts flying behind it. The dangling shafts caused it to buck like an unbroken broncho. There was a general scurrying for doorways, as the horse approached the sidewalk, and several people on Dundas street, east of Wellington, where it took to the sidewalk, narrowly escaped being struck with the flying shafts. The runaway was caught after going north on Wel-Hobbs Hardware Company, and was

KINGSMILL'S Dundas and Carling Sts. STAPLES. It is simply impossible for the Staple Department to fall behind in a store like Kingsmill's. It is, as it were, the needle that indicates the course being followed by the whole establishment. It is likely that you have never seen such a complete department as that to be found at the first two counters on the east side of our store. Everything is there in the way of Flannels, Flannelettes, Wrapperettes, Cottonades, Shirtings, Saleens, Calicoes, French Fiannels, etc., etc. To give prices is untuey are the lowest that is how we do situated on the north side of Carling street, directly opposite one of our Dundas street stores, through which entrance may be had to this department. Many residents in all parts of Cauada are familiar with the size and range of the stock we here carry. To those who are not, we would say that it is a sight worth seeing—Carpets to the right of you— Carpets to the left of you, Carpets in front of you piled four tiers high, 60x100 feet—that's the position. Without prejudice to any other department in our three stores, it can be said that the Carpet and House Furn shings Department takes a particular and special place in this store's business. A carpet haven't you? And of course they often need underwear, shirts, collars and ties—but men are so foolish when it comes to shopping—they would like to go to the most expensive would pay 50c for the name on the tie, and 25c for the stuff that's in it. Now we sell the tie for 25c and don't put our name on it at all. Besides we have an immense stock—far larger than most furnishers—and we sell correspondingly cheap. Come to Kingsmill's when in need of where we can get another nickel," he GENTS' FURNISHINGS.
