

42ND YEAR. NO. 17671

PRICE TWO CENTS.

West Lambton for Pardee Prosperity and Progress

Opening Gun of Bye Election Campaign Fired at Sarnia.

An Ovation for the Candidate— Rattling Speeches by Robbette and Cowan.

[By Our Own Reporter.]
Sarnia, Nov. 13.—The first gun of the West Lambton election campaign was fired tonight at the Boys' Brigade Hall. An immense audience listened with the greatest interest to the different speakers. Mr. T. C. Robbette, K.C., of Toronto, was the chief speaker, and he delivered a powerful speech. He defined clearly the issues between the parties and declared it decidedly inadvisable for the people of the country to offer any rebuke to the administration of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Mr. Robbette kindled great enthusiasm, and his address made a most profound impression. The candidate, Mr. F. F. Pardee, also made a splendid speech, and that his candidature is popular was evidenced by the great ovation he received. Every day he is gaining friends and general approval marks the state of the opposition. The certainty of Mr. Pardee's election is assured.

MR. F. F. PARDEE,
The Liberal Candidate for West
Lambton.

and in most instances, difference of opinion is largely on the matter of majority. Mr. John Cowan, K.C., also made a capital speech.
Mr. Pardee has been working industriously in his campaign. Last week four meetings were held, at Camlachie, Uttoxeter, Wainstall and Maudsland, at which the candidate, Mr. Pardee, Mr. John Cowan, K.C., and Mr. Petty, ex-M. P. E. spoke. Byington, C. M., enthusiastic in support of Mr. Pardee, and an old-time majority is assured. Tonight Mr. W. S. Calvert, M. P. for West Middlesex, and ex-Mayor of Sarnia, addressed a meeting at Court House. This meeting was also well attended, and great unanimity was manifested. Mr. Calvert made a fine impression.
On the platform, at Sarnia, were the chair, Mr. W. A. Wiggins, president of the Sarnia Reform Association; Mr. T.

MARTIAL LAW FOR NORWAY DECIDES RUSSIAN POLAND FOR A MONARCHY

Witte Decides to Nip the Polish Separatist Movement in the Bud.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 13.—The formal proclamation of martial law throughout Russian Poland and the promulgation of the Government's intention to suppress the Polish movement to autonomy almost created a panic on the bourse today, imperial falls again falling to 56. Industrials seem to have no bottom.

The city is full of rumors to the effect that the imperial ukase was issued over Count Witte's head at the instigation of the reactionaries which is equivalent to the count's retirement, but it can be stated with positiveness that the action was taken upon the premier's advice. Count Witte favored and impressed on his majesty the advisability of restoring Finland's constitution and reversing the policy of the Russification of the grand duchy, but to surrender autonomy to Poland after all the old grievances of the Poles had been redressed and they had been placed upon an equality with Russians, the count considered would only be a prelude to an attempt to set up the ancient kingdom as a separate entity and would not be tolerated and either the dismemberment of the empire or the necessity for bloody suppression such as marked the crushing of the revolution of 1831 and 1839. It was regarded as wise therefore to take the bull by the horns and let the Poles understand that the separatist movement would not be tolerated and that until they came to their senses further efforts to place in operation the reform, manifestos would be suspended. Private and reliable reports from Warsaw today say that all the parties there are joining in the nationalist movement, following the tactics of Finland, for a complete strike. So long as their attitude of passive resistance continues the issue will be one of endurance.

ONTARIO FARMERS STATE THEIR CASE

Say Don't Want Protection for What They Produce.

OPPOSE INCREASE IN DUTIES Maintain the Manufacturers Are Sufficiently Protected Now—Ask Raw Material on Free List.

Toronto, Nov. 13.—The tariff commission held its first meeting in Toronto, in the Board of Trade council chamber, this morning. All five commissioners were present—Hon. W. S. Fielding, Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. William Patterson, Hon. Sidney Fisher, and Hon. L. P. Brodeur. The meeting was called for 10 o'clock, and the commissioners set down to work shortly after that time. The morning was taken up with hearing representatives of the Farmers' Association of Ontario and the Dominion Farmers.

At the close of this morning's session Hon. Mr. Fielding, the chairman of the commission, thanked them, and said that the commission would like them to be present at the succeeding sessions to hear the other interests state their cases.
The first speaker before the commission was Mr. James McEwing, of Drayton, Ont., president of the Ontario Farmers' Association. Farmers, he said, took a keen interest in the tariff question. The Farmers' Association recognized the difficulty the Government would have in making a rearrangement of the tariff which would suit all the diverse interests of the country. It also realized that the Government required large revenues for the ever-increasing demands of the public service. A rearrangement of the tariff was necessary to meet this demand, and he hoped that this rearrangement would make for the prosperity of the whole Dominion.

Conditions required that a large range of goods should be subject to customs duties. These duties should be so leveled as to produce as large a revenue as required, but to bear in an equitable manner on the various interests of the country. The agriculturist interest was the greatest wealth-producing interest in the country. It was also the greatest consuming interest. It was therefore a very important factor in the consideration of the tariff problem.
The present tariff discriminated against the agriculturist interest, and in any revision this injustice should be removed. That could be done by the inauguration of a lower average tariff.

WHAT FARMERS ASKED.
Mr. McEwing read a resolution of his association opposing any increase of the tariff, approving the institution of a minimum tariff, and endorsing the British preference. This latter, he said, was done both on national lines and because the association believed that such a preference would benefit the consumer. The maximum tariff should not be any higher than the present tariff, the minimum should be much lower. An industry which is successfully conducted under the present tariff should be allowed to die a natural, easy, and early death. The increase in the tariff recommended by certain bodies would mean a great injustice to the large body of consumers. It would not give any adequate compensation for the loss of revenue. Increased tariff would mean higher selling prices, and higher selling prices would mean higher prices for the consumer. The Government would not return so much to the Government as the farmers would give in return for a greater volume of imports.

THE FARMERS' FIGURES.
Mr. McEwing quoted figures to prove his contention that the farmer was discriminated against. The imports of hogs and other products amounted to $329,000, and the exports to $13,524,000. No reasonable man but would concede that no tariff protection could increase the selling price of hogs in this country when so much was exported, and yet the farmers received a lower price for their products.

It was the same with live cattle and products, of which in 1904 only $229,000 worth was imported, and over $12,000,000 worth was exported. Another instance was sheep and lamb products, of which only $138,000 was imported and a million and a half dollars' worth exported.
WHERE THEY WANT PROTECTION.
But in wool, where the farmer received no protection, $13,910,000 worth was imported, and only $315,000 exported. In hides, where four and three-quarter millions were imported and two millions exported, there was also no duty. In both wool and hides the duty had been taken out to benefit the manufacturer.
Here Hon. Mr. Fielding remarked that there had been no duties on these articles, and duties had not been specially taken off by the present Government.

Mr. McEwing said that it did not matter as far as his point was concerned, but Mr. Fielding remarked that it might convey a false impression.
With cheese, $104,000 worth was imported and $24,250,000 worth exported. And likewise with other products. Truck farmers might derive some benefit from the tariff, but the producers of the great staple agricultural products, such as hogs, sheep, and cattle, would be injured. Capital invested in agriculture amounted to $47,000,000, in agriculture $1,760,000,000. Therefore, as far as the number of men engaged and capital invested agriculture was by far the more important of the two. The manufacturer paid out in wages.

COMPARING THE INDUSTRIES.
There were 14,650 factories in the country, and 471,833 farms. In manufactures $44,000 were engaged, in agriculture $1,760,000,000. Therefore, as far as the number of men engaged and capital invested agriculture was by far the more important of the two. The manufacturer paid out in wages.

'FRISCO TO HELP JEWS $25,000 Will Be Contributed Before End of the Week.

San Francisco, Nov. 14.—P. N. Lillenthal, chairman of the Russian relief fund, wired $10,000 yesterday to Jacob Schiff, New York. An additional $10,000 will be wired within a day or two. Many non-Jews are among the contributors. A number of public meetings have been arranged for the next few days to further appeal to the public. San Francisco will probably send $25,000 before the end of the present week.

MATHESON MUM

Refuses to Make Statement About That Loan Negotiating Trip.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—"I am quite satisfied with the result of my trip," was all that Hon. Col. Matheson would vouchsafe when asked last night regarding his endeavors to negotiate the loan of the London and Lancashire Provincial Treasurer was mum, however, when pressed for a statement regarding his mission, intimating he would have to confer with the Government before saying anything.

BARRON AFTER TOM LAWSON

Warrant for Latter's Arrest on the Charge of Criminal Libel.

Boston, Nov. 14.—Counsel representing Charles W. Barron stated today that after a private hearing today Judge O'Connor of the municipal court, had decided to issue a warrant for the arrest of Thomas W. Lawson on a charge of criminal libel preferred by Mr. Barron. The case resulted from statements made by Lawson in a magazine article by Mr. Lawson, and the question of the issuance of a warrant has been the subject of hearings covering a period of several weeks.

MIKADO GOES TO WORSHIP

Will Thank Ancestors for Victories at the Temple of Ise.

Tokyo, Nov. 14.—The Emperor of Japan, followed by the Premier, ministers and other court dignitaries, started in state this morning for Ise to thank his ancestors for the successful termination of the war and the restoration of peace.
The Temple of Ise is the depository for the Imperial regalia, a mirror, a sword and a crystal, representing respectively justice, power and virtue. Ise is one of the most important of the temples, being the only one which the reigning emperor personally visits. There is general rejoicing over his visit today.

PROTESTANTS FLEE

The Anti-Foreign Feeling Growing Among Unconverted Natives.

Hong Kong, Nov. 14.—All the Protestants at Lien Chow, the scene of the recent murders of American missionaries, have been ordered to places of safety. The continued display of anti-foreign feeling has caused the British authorities to take steps to protect the missionaries. It is stated that the British minister, shown by the Chinese officials in dealing with the outrages.

OFFERED WITNESS $50

To Testify Against Member Dan Gallery, of St. Ann's, Montreal.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—A turn of affairs took place yesterday in connection with the St. Ann's election trial, when Dennis Mabey, on cross-examination, said that George Gaynor had told him evidence against Mr. D. Gallery, M. P. He had replied that he would do anything to "hang Gallery," and a little later Mabey received an invitation from Bissonnet to go to the United States and tell what he knew. Further cross-examination failed to upset the statement. Several other witnesses categorized the evidence against Gaynor and Allen to the effect that one night at the Center street committee room Gallery had given Hinchey $50 to treat the boys.

THE WEATHER.

TOMORROW—MILDER.
London, Tuesday, Nov. 14.
Sun rises: 7:10 a.m. Moon rises: 6:57 p.m.
Sun sets: 4:54 p.m. Moon sets: 3:08 a.m.
Toronto, Nov. 13—5 p.m.
During last night a pronounced cold wave moved down from the northward, bringing a change to decidedly colder weather from Eastern Manitoba to the Maritime Provinces, attended by very strong northerly to northerly winds. In Alberta and Saskatchewan the weather became colder and drier. Minimum and maximum temperatures: Victoria, 44-50; Edmonton, 32-34; Calgary, 30-38; Qu'Appelle, 32-42; Winnipeg, 12-22; Port Arthur, 12-18; Parry Sound, 12-22; Toronto, 18-24; Ottawa, 16-30; Montreal, 16-30; Quebec, 12-30; St. John, 34-50; Halifax, 42-52.

Tuesday, Nov. 14—9 a.m.
Today—Moderate to fresh northerly to west winds; fine and cold.
Wednesday—Strong breezy or moderate gales, southerly to westerly; milder.
Stations. 8 a.m. Min. Weather.
Winnipeg. 24 22 Fair
Parry Sound. 12 10 Fair
Toronto. 18 16 Rain
Ottawa. 16 12 Fair
Montreal. 16 12 Fair
Quebec. 12 10 Fair
Father Point. 10 12 Rain

THE coldest weather prevailing this morning from Ontario to the Maritime Provinces promises to moderate again after 10 p.m. The highest and lowest readings of the thermometer at the local observatory for the 24 hours ended at 8 p.m. Monday were: Highest, 47°; lowest, 15° above.

GEORGE WILLIAMS LIES IN ST. PAUL'S

Immense Concourse Attends Final Obsequies of Y. M. C. A. Founder.

London, Nov. 14.—The body of the founder and president of the Young Men's Christian Association, Sir George Williams, who died Nov. 6, was buried beneath the dome of St. Paul's Cathedral today in the presence of an immense throng of mourners, including 100 ministers of various denominations, nearly 1,000 delegates from British and foreign branches of the Young Men's Christian Association and other organizations, with which Sir George Williams was connected, and the Lord Mayor and sheriffs in their robes of state. The funeral procession through the streets was very impressive. Two hundred and thirty carriages followed the hearse.

MARRIED OR NOT? THAT'S QUESTION

Change in the Issuance of Marriage Licenses Sets Some a-Thinking.

The interference of a government in the small matter of issuing marriage licenses has caused many a head to rest uneasy on its pillow in this city—and no doubt in all parts of the Province, as well as in London.

Here the question of the validity of probably a score of marriages has been questioned on the ground of whether the old license issuers had power to issue licenses after the Whitney Government had made out the commissions for the new commissionaries. Gushing brides, saturated with the opinion that at last they had the man of their choice, were he could not escape them, almost fainted when questioned as to whether their marriage licenses were legal.
A BASE QUESTIONING.
Who did you get your license from? Had he the power to issue a license? Was his authority revoked the instant the new license commission was signed? And if he had not the power to issue a license, where stood the bride?
Horrible thought! To be or not to be—a bride, Ay, there's the rub. Young husbands sought advice on the matter, and it is said that some have even gone to a lawyer and paid for expert information. It is not known as yet whether they resorted to the law shop in ecstasy or sorrow.

A LEGAL OPINION.
Today a reporter saw a local legal light, who said that the matter had been brought to his attention some days ago. He was not prepared to say just what effect the issuing of a license by a man whose authority had been revoked would have on the marriage ceremony.
Mayor Campbell was also spoken to on the subject, as chief magistrate of the city. He gave an opinion which would do much to allay the suspicions of numerous young persons.

Tommy Woodbury's opinion that in any event the marriage is legal, but it may be that the clergyman who performed the ceremony and the man who issued the license may be hauled over the coals.
Blessed relief! It's no joke to think you're married and find out you have been misled.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS

In Progress at Somerset Hall—The Classes About Usual Size.

The annual civil service examinations for London district are in progress at Somerset Hall, before Mr. George Duncan, examiner.
The preliminary examination is being held today with fourteen candidates.
Tomorrow the qualifying examinations will be held. Twenty-two candidates are expected to write.
The classes are about as large as usual. The candidates come from all parts of the district.

CAN'T BE OVERLOOKED

Offense of Carrying Obscene Pictures Punished by P. I.

As compared to drunkenness, having possession of obscene literature and pictures is an unpardonable offense in Police Magistrate Love's opinion. Invariably, when the former offense is overlooked, the latter is severely punished. This morning, John Biggar still showed the effects of a spree on the previous day, but the court allowed him to go on the charge of drunkenness, but for having several obscene photographs in his possession, he was fined $5 or 20 days in jail.
Mary Stephenson is not a white-rabbit advocate. She had $5 in her possession yesterday, and expected it to be still in her pocketbook, notwithstanding the fact that she became intoxicated. Her loss of the five-spot worried her more than the week's imprisonment ahead of her.
The case of Susan Laburtis, the alleged voodoo doctor, was not settled this morning. The magistrate wished further time to consider the case, and a postponement was made for one week.

MESSAGE TO U. S. WILL JAR SOME

Roosevelt Will Hit Out for Im- portant Reforms—Railroad and Insurance.

New York, Nov. 14.—A Washington dispatch to the Tribune says: President Roosevelt's message to the 59th Congress has been completed, and is in type, and the President is now going over the proofs, which have been sent to him from the Government printing office.
Although no official forecast has yet been given out or will be made public before the message is read to Congress, it may be said that the forthcoming pronouncement is one of the strongest and most vigorous thus far written by President Roosevelt. It is considerably longer than last year's message, because it deals with a greater number of important topics. The most important portion of the message is that dealing with the subject of railway rate legislation. The President's recommendations are practically the same as those contained in his message of a year ago. The President deals characteristically with the subject of federal supervision of insurance, recommending the enactment of legislation which will make it possible again to ascertain the temper of the supreme court on this subject.

GROCERS AND THE TARIFF

Say Duty on Fruit and Vegetable Is Now Sufficiently High.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, Nov. 14.—The Retail Grocers' Association is of the opinion that the tariff is sufficiently high now on fruits and vegetables imported into Canada, and a resolution to that effect has been agreed upon. Fruit growers in the country are anxious to have the tariff associations make representations to the tariff commission now sitting in Toronto, to the effect that the tariff should be made higher than it is at present. The tariff is a dry town, but a lot of whisky is sold there on the quiet. Mr. Wilson scored Marshal Strawder for not seeing that the law was enforced, and the marshal arose and called the minister a liar. He left the church just as things were shaping for a fight. The following day, when they met in front of the postoffice, the marshal slapped the minister's face.

SLAPPED PREACHER'S FACE

Former Hamilton Pastor in Sensa- tional Mixup at Frankfort, Ont.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Hamilton, Nov. 14.—A special from Frankfort, Ont., received today, tells a sensational incident there in which Rev. M. Wilson, a Hamilton man, and well-known Presbyterian divine figured prominently. While here he was noted for his strong views on temperance. Frankfort is a dry town, but a lot of whisky is sold there on the quiet. Mr. Wilson scored Marshal Strawder for not seeing that the law was enforced, and the marshal arose and called the minister a liar. He left the church just as things were shaping for a fight. The following day, when they met in front of the postoffice, the marshal slapped the minister's face.

WIFE WOULD NOT RETURN

Adrian Burton Succeeded in Getting Daughter Back.

The Port Huron Times of Monday contained the following:
"Adrian Burton, a London, Ont., boilermaker, returned home Saturday and found his wife and 12-year-old daughter Anna missing. Fanned to a window curtain was a note from his wife, stating that she had returned home to her parents at Lenox, Mich. Burton learned that his wife and daughter had left for Port Huron, and he immediately telegraphed to his wife to return. The woman declared she would not return home. The husband consented not to interfere with her provided she would return to her parents. The woman finally yielded. A few minutes later the wife took the Detroit train for Lenox, and at Port Huron she and her daughter returned to London."

MOROCCO CONFERENCE.

Paris, Nov. 14.—The international conference on Moroccan affairs will meet in the city hall in Algiers in the first week in December.

British and U. S. Tars Join in Plucky Rescue

New York, Nov. 14.—The American and British tars collaborated late yesterday afternoon in a melodramatic rescue.
At 4:30 o'clock the tide was running strong and the boats had some difficulty in making a landing against the starboard gangway of the R. M. S. Bedford. A little boat got alongside and, landing about six passengers among them Warrant Machinist Fred F. Inerham, of the United States warship Massachusetts, and a man were still on board when a wave swept the little boat up against the gangway and overturned it. The boat sank like lead. J. Janssen, the boatman, had been standing in the bow holding a rope which ran from the gangway. He reached down and pulled out J. Dixon, a little boy. George Quinlan and James Frazier, two boys of about 13, went down paddling helplessly.
Five hundred visitors on ships' rail saw all this happen. Before they had gasped their first gasp, they saw a British bluejacket, J. Janssen, dive from the rail and come up with one hand under the armpit of Quinlan and his other waving for help. At the same moment, Inerham, the Yankee, dived from the Massachusetts and, after he had swept a little way out and had already sunk twice, Inerham, swimming an overboard spread the net. The boys were up and going along just then, pulled out the two tars and the wet and struggling boys. They were landed on the gangplank and the crowd of visitors cheered like mad as they came, all dripping, on deck.
Both the boys were all right, although Frazier had swallowed a good deal of water and had to be cared for in the sick bay. The British tars fitted them out with dry clothes and sent Frazier ashore. They kept Inerham a while; he seemed to like him on the Bedford. Janssen's dive was new enough for a kinetoscope show.

HE DINES WELL ON HIS "NERVE"

Pretentious Stranger Eats Talks and Goes, Having Consumed All in Sight.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—A tall, gaunt, hungry-looking individual stepped briskly into a Dearborn street restaurant last evening and hailed the head waiter. With a clasp of his hands, head waiter No. 1 passed him along to head waiter No. 2. Head waiter No. 2 held up his right index finger, turned on his heel and hurried in the direction of a table.

The lean individual drew himself to his full height, expanded his chest, raised his chin impressively and, following the head waiter, deftly pulled out a chair and the tall man sank into it, carefully laid a ruffled silk hat on the floor, withdrew a small comb from his vest pocket and ran it quickly through the two wings of his drooping mustache.

"Pardon me," said he to the despatcher at his left, touching his elbow lightly, "may I borrow your evening paper?"

"It was just about to read it myself," snapped the despatcher, "but go on and look at it."

"Thank you," the man opposite the despatcher winked at the young salesman installed at the right of the hungry-looking individual, and the good-humored agent for a breezy at the far end of the table remarked that the weather was a little chilly. The four men eyed the newcomer. They saw a mustache that started at the usual place, and ended at the point where a striped necktie disappeared under a greasy coat collar on either side of a narrow expanse of blue throat. They saw a pair of eyeglasses held by a silver cord, a long, narrow face, and a receding, highly-polished forehead, crowned with a few carefully-brushed hairs from which was wafted the odor of bay rum.

"I see Hearst is contesting the election in New York," commented the tall man, cheerily, peering over the borrowed paper at the despatcher. "Let me see," he went on, "who was elected mayor of New York?"

"McChellan," snapped the despatcher. "Oh, is that so?" continued the newcomer. "George is an old friend of mine. I'm a 'McChellan' myself. George's father and my father, side by side along the Potomac. I should have known who was elected, but you'll have to excuse my apparent stupidity, as I have been so overwhelmed with work that I haven't had a moment to read the papers."

"I'm here as the representative of J. Pierpont Morgan," I'm here to buy the whole traction system and arrange for the extension of the franchises already controlled by the city."

"Will you give me your order, please," interrupted the waiter.

"Mr. Morgan's representative looked up at the waiter.

"I'm expecting a friend to dine with me—a personal representative of Mayor Dunne," he explained. "You may arrange places for two, but I'll defer ordering until my friend arrives—how long would it take the chef to prepare two orders of soup?"

"From twenty to thirty minutes. Shall I put in the order now?"

"No, I'll wait until my friend comes. He may prefer duck or a porterhouse."

Mr. Morgan's representative again turned to the despatcher.

"This man, O'Neill, is having a pretty hard time of it, isn't he?" he asked.

"I was said for brecon of promise once, and the kid got a verdict of $20,000. But I managed to keep the thing quiet. I detect nothing, but I came near making up the $20,000 in a bet I put on Cleveland against Blaine at the time McKane elected him by regaining the vote in Long Island city. I'd have gotten the other fellow got cold feet and backed out."

The waiter deposited a plate heaped with bread and corn muffins and masticating rolls and a small representative of Mr. Morgan. He laid a second plate at the place reserved for the mayor's representative. Two plates of butter and two glasses of water also were set at the two places. Mr. Morgan's representative tucked his napkin in the top of his collar and began on the bread.

"I'm pretty hungry; guess I might as well begin," he vouchsafed. "By the way," he continued, "I had a queer experience in London this summer, which goes to prove that foreign officials are just corrupt as American political bosses. I'm Marshall Field's attorney, and when he wanted to marry Mrs. Carnegie the authorities here were so determined as to keep him out of the city that he couldn't come off, and Mr. Field had not acquired a legal residence in London."

"And would you believe it, I actually had to bribe the lord mayor of London before he'd allow the marriage to proceed. I can't tell you the amount, but that feature of the transaction must be kept confidential."

By this time the plates that had been heaped with rolls and bread had been emptied. Mr. Morgan's representative leaned back in his chair, smacked his lips, and then folded his napkin and carefully laid it on the table before him.

"I guess my friend isn't coming," he commented, "and I can't waste any valuable time waiting for him any longer. I bid you good-evening, gentlemen."

Mr. Morgan's representative helped himself to a tootlick and strolled out of the restaurant. As he pushed the door open he dropped the despatcher's evening paper into the pocket of his overcoat.

"What became of that customer?" inquired the waiter, returning from the kitchen with a piece of mince pie for the good-humored guest.

"He's gone," growled the despatcher, "and the infernal took my paper with him."

"And got his supper for nothing—ate up two plates of bread and rolls, two butters, and drank two glasses of water," complained the waiter.

The problem of the ascent of sap in trees, an English botanist tells us, is yet unsolved. It appears that in the highest trees the total pressure would be nearly 100 atmospheres, and as we cannot suppose that leaves can exert so intense osmotic suction, the only theory at all probable is that the living cells exert some sort of pumping action in the wood.

There is a remedy over sixty years old—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Of course you have heard of it, probably have used it. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and colds. Ask your own doctor about it. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

For Coughs and Colds

There is a remedy over sixty years old—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Of course you have heard of it, probably have used it. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and colds. Ask your own doctor about it. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

For Coughs and Colds

There is a remedy over sixty years old—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Of course you have heard of it, probably have used it. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and colds. Ask your own doctor about it. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

For Coughs and Colds

There is a remedy over sixty years old—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Of course you have heard of it, probably have used it. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and colds. Ask your own doctor about it. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

For Coughs and Colds

There is a remedy over sixty years old—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Of course you have heard of it, probably have used it. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and colds. Ask your own doctor about it. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

For Coughs and Colds

There is a remedy over sixty years old—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Of course you have heard of it, probably have used it. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and colds. Ask your own doctor about it. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

For Coughs and Colds

There is a remedy over sixty years old—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Of course you have heard of it, probably have used it. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and colds. Ask your own doctor about it. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

For Coughs and Colds

There is a remedy over sixty years old—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Of course you have heard of it, probably have used it. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and colds. Ask your own doctor about it. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

For Coughs and Colds

There is a remedy over sixty years old—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Of course you have heard of it, probably have used it. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and colds. Ask your own doctor about it. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

For Coughs and Colds

There is a remedy over sixty years old—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Of course you have heard of it, probably have used it. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and colds. Ask your own doctor about it. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

For Coughs and Colds

There is a remedy over sixty years old—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Of course you have heard of it, probably have used it. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and colds. Ask your own doctor about it. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

For Coughs and Colds

There is a remedy over sixty years old—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Of course you have heard of it, probably have used it. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and colds. Ask your own doctor about it. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

For Coughs and Colds

There is a remedy over sixty years old—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Of course you have heard of it, probably have used it. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and colds. Ask your own doctor about it. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

For Coughs and Colds

There is a remedy over sixty years old—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Of course you have heard of it, probably have used it. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and colds. Ask your own doctor about it. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

For Coughs and Colds

There is a remedy over sixty years old—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Of course you have heard of it, probably have used it. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and colds. Ask your own doctor about it. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

For Coughs and Colds

There is a remedy over sixty years old—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Of course you have heard of it, probably have used it. Once in the family, it stays; the one household remedy for coughs and colds. Ask your own doctor about it. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

HAPPENINGS AT FRENCH CAPITAL

The Most Aristocratic Families of France About to Enter Political World.

Paris, Nov. 13.—The French aristocracy has decided at last to enter the political arena, after 25 years of seclusion and disdain of republican institutions and all that liberty and equality entail.

The next electoral campaign will be conspicuous for the huge number of titled Frenchmen who will take part in it. They will mingle with their republican colleagues in discussing such questions, for instance, as the separation of church and state, but they will not contest the decision of the Government. At the head of this new regime among the aristocracy stands a man who bears one of the most distinguished names in the French past. He is the Prince de Tarant, future Duke de la Tremolles.

He takes his place beside the members of the staunch old Republican party in declaring that the days of clericalism are over and that religion should be a spiritual province exclusively.

This example of independent thought, coming from so high a quarter, is sure to find many followers, but of course it cannot be expected that such a radical change of attitude on the part of the aristocracy will pass without causing comment or wounding the susceptibilities of the pious old ladies in the province.

Prince de Tarant and his charming wife will have all they can do to hold their own against the prejudices of certain old-fashioned members of aristocratic society this coming winter.

The Marquis of Modena, who under the reign of Napoleon III, was one of the shining lights of fashionable society, is about to marry. He is 75 years old, and his bride-to-be is Mademoiselle de Bajan, a charming young girl, noted alike for her wit and beauty. The news of the engagement, which had up to the present been guardedly kept secret, has startled Parisian society like a thunderbolt.

After a moment of astonishment, due to the unexpectedness of the announcement, society gathered its wits and the affluence have been the recipients of innumerable good wishes. Mademoiselle de Bajan is praised for having the courage to disregard the social customs of her set and given her hand to a man whom all society proclaims, even at his advanced age, to be charming. It is a fact said "Mademoiselle de Bajan" is always an old beauty, but "Mademoiselle de Bajan" is to marry a man of wit, and what could be more natural, since like seeks like, and she herself is so witty?

The death of the Duchess de Talleyrand has given rise once more to the question of the remarriage of her son, the Duke de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

The funeral of the late Princess Pierre Bonaparte has just given fresh proof that the name of Napoleon is still a powerful factor in the life of the French people. As a matter of fact at the funeral society was treated to the spectacle of the son of the deceased, Prince de Valeney, and Miss Morton.

It was at the duchess' instigation alone that the courts pronounced a divorce which circumstances did not seem to justify. Hardly had the good lady closed her eyes forever than well-meaning friends of the young couple are setting about remedying them. They have ordered without their best. Two years of freedom have given the duke a taste of bachelor life which he says nothing in the world could induce him to give up again.

##

ORNAMENTAL FENCE 25 designs all steel.
Handsome, durable. Cheaper than a wood fence. Special increase in price for gates. Catalogs free.
Churches, cemeteries, residences.
London Fence Machine Co.,
London, Ont.

COUNTESS WARWICK LUNCHES LABORERS

And Set Ideas of the Aesthetic Butler Were Shocked.

GOES ABROAD FOR HER HEALTH

She Had Been Foiled in Attempt to Get Visiting French Socialists as Her Guests.

London, Nov. 13.—The Countess of Warwick's friends are beginning to be seriously alarmed about her health—of her body, but of the mind. She has become such a rabid Socialist apparently that no one knows where she will end.

For in her desire to get the French Municipal Socialists to lunch with her at her town house, Lady Warwick has ordered her butler and footman the other day to ask a number of laborers who were mending the road near St. James street to lunch.

They came in their corduroys, feeling very uncomfortable and dirty, and Lady Warwick harangued them afterwards.

Thinking that things were going too far, Lady Warwick's friends advised her to go abroad, and a visit to Paris appears to have cured her.

Mrs. Nord, a wealthy American widow, who has lived for many years in Park Lane, has sold her fine mansion in that fashionable thoroughfare to a Bond Street art dealer, and has retired to a beautiful apartment in Grosvenor Place, Portman Square, she still, however, keeps her villa at Cannes.

Mrs. Nord, who is one of the leaders of the Christian Scientists in London, has never done much entertaining since the death of her son, who, after being "treated" by Christian Science leaders for two years, succumbed to consumption and died in California.

The blind folk enjoyed the afternoon immensely, and each of them went home with something in their pockets.

The Liberal party are in a social quandary. They are searching for an "official hostess" in vain. The Conservatives have at least a dozen great hostesses at their disposal, who are always ready to give receptions and dinners to help their party.

It was hoped that as there is every chance of the Liberal coming into power Lady Crewe would be the chief Liberal hostess, as the daughter of the ex-premier, Lord Rosebery, and the marriage of Lord and Lady Crewe has proved an unhappy one, and now the Liberal leaders in their despair are attempting to bring the couple together sufficiently for "official purposes." The friends of Lady Crewe declare that she is heartily attached to her husband.

The Tweedsmores, who were the great social lions of the Liberal party, are now too impoverished to entertain on a grand scale, and Mrs. Asquith (Margaret Tennant) has failed the hope she inspired in her unmarried days.

Many Liberals would welcome a brilliant hostess, but she is scarce, and at present she is not forthcoming.

The Dowager Duchess of Devonshire, mother-in-law of the young countess (Mrs. Grace), is leaving shortly for Egypt with her beautiful daughter, Lady Evelyn, and her son, who is accompanying her to a party which includes Mrs. Titus and her son, who married a year ago an English girl from the Leicester hunting set.

The interesting fact about this Egyptian party is that young Mr. Titus was one of Lady Norton's most ardent and unsuccessful admirers only two years ago.

Mr. Titus is establishing a great reputation for himself as an Egyptologist and archaeologist in Egypt, second only to that of Mr. Theodore M. Davis, whose wealth has been devoted to the discovery of some of the greatest archaeological treasures of the century, notably the royal tombs of Ancient Thebes.

Mr. Titus is said to have already spent the sum of $120,000 in the neighborhood of Luxor, and has made valuable finds. His mother, who has wintered in Egypt for several years, moves in the very exclusive and serious set, and keeps away from the frivolous crowd.

The theatrical profession are still so busy fighting over the merits of the late Sir Henry Irving that they have little time for the usual "shop" which is asked off by hand.

There have been some disgraceful When Bilious and Sallow

REMEMBER THAT THE LIVER IS PROMPTLY SET RIGHT BY

DR. CHASE'S

KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Many people are subject to periodical attacks of biliousness, sick headache, stomach troubles and bowels irregularities who do not realize that the liver is especially responsible for this suffering.

Toxipia, sluggish action of the liver is almost invariably accompanied by inactivity of the kidneys and bowels. The whole digestive and excretory system become clogged up and there are pain, discomfort and suffering.

Because Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have a direct and combined action on kidneys, liver and bowels, they effect a prompt and thorough cleansing and invigoration of these organs.

With all the poisonous waste matter removed, pains and aches disappear, the digestive system resumes its functions, the appetite is sharpened, and health and vigor are restored.

As a family medicine Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have never been so popular. They get right at the cause of the common ills of human life and remove it. By their promptness and thoroughness they win the praise of all who give them a trial.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, of Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author on every box.

IRELAND'S LAND PROBLEM UNSOLVED

Wyndham's Scheme Costing Much More Than Expected

BUT WILL NOT BE DROPPED

Opportunity to Purchase the Land Taken Advantage of by Large Section of Irish.

London, Nov. 13.—In the October issue of the Edinburgh Quarterly Review is a very exhaustive study of the operation of the Irish Land Acts, with which the name of George Wyndham will be forever associated. It has been a matter of general knowledge that, for reasons not clear, the hopes that the original of the legislation had not been fully justified; but at the same time it is exceedingly satisfactory to learn that the unforeseen difficulties that have arisen do nothing to weaken the belief that the Acts were the expression of a high and wise statesmanship. It is not to be said that the obstacles to the realization of Mr. Wyndham's purpose are ephemeral and insignificant. Nevertheless, the Review can find in none of them permanent obstruction, and the indications are that, though the end may be delayed, it will not be abandoned.

It is certain that a year hence there will be far fewer horses in the stables of Wyndham and Lord. For purposes of the land, such success as the King's will, however, never countenance motor cars, so that there will still be large stables in both towns.

At Windsor matters look even worse for the stables. Two new motor vehicles will be ready in time for the visit of the King of Greece, who with the Crown Prince George, is an ardent motorist. Queen Alexandra, who disliked motor cars intensely at first, is now more than reconciled to them.

There is growing feeling of alarm among the men employed in the royal stables owing to the King's increasing love of motor cars. Some of the younger men in the royal household are already spending part of their savings learning to be chauffeurs and skilled mechanics.

Of course, the older men—the coachmen and other "principals"—feel more secure in the fact that they are sure of a pension for loyal service. The Buckingham Palace are already spending part of their savings learning to be chauffeurs and skilled mechanics.

NOTED CATHEDRAL FALLING TO RUIN

England's Historic Edifice at Winchester, 400 Years Old, Near Decay.

London, Nov. 13.—Two famous old English churches, Winchester Cathedral, and Cripplegate, the burial place of John Milton, are in danger of becoming ruins. They are suffering from old age.

The dean and chapter of Winchester recently engaged a trio of architectural and engineering experts to examine the edifice and their report discloses "the danger which threatens one of the grandest and most historical cathedrals in the country."

The decay is most serious in the south wall of the presbytery and is of long standing. For at least 400 years there has been from time to time a falling of the east portion of the building and the movement has been of late more marked. This is attributed partly to the untimely foundation, which rests upon a bed of soft marl, only ten feet below the surface and which permanently is washed by water.

Other walls show signs of subsidence, while the spires and pinnacles of the west front are in a dilapidated if not dangerous condition.

To effect requisite repairs at last $30,000, and probably more, will be required, but as the dean and chapter possess no fabric fund, they appeal to the public for aid.

The safety of what is a national possession—a church which contains the bones of Saxon kings, and in which the great architectural beauty is almost without a rival.

The bells of Cripplegate church can't be rung now without causing such a rumbling noise that they shake them out on the roadway, to the danger of the passersby. The tower is nearly 800 years old, but the danger is not considered anything like so serious as at Winchester. Still, a great deal of money will be required to save from ruin what is considered the historical city monument in Jewry street.

The demolition of some old buildings has brought to light a splendid specimen of the Roman wall of London in a good state of preservation. It was found about eight feet below the street level and is about eight feet high and nine feet thick. There are three tiers of tiles, the other part being built in cubes, and the wall is a perfect specimen of Roman masonry. Great care has been taken to preserve the wall as a memorial of early London.

BANISH FAIRY TALES? NO!

Her Grace of Somerset Rouses Her Sister Peers.

London, Nov. 13.—The Duchess of Somerset has raised a terrible storm by stopping the mistress of her village school from reading fairy tales to the children. "I protest," she said, "against filling children's minds with such nonsense and rubbish. They should be taught from their earliest years, instead, the lives of the world's great men, Julius Caesar, Dante, Shakespeare, Milton."

It was immediately pointed out in explanation of this austere view of children's training up that the duchess is childless and comes from a dour Scottish Presbyterian family.

Other duchesses are evidently anxious to relieve their order from the stigma of being the Duchess of Somerset's unsympathetic attitude towards children, for the Duchess of Marlborough says: "Fairy tales are the greatest blessings in child life, and teach the little ones ideals higher than the lives of the great men. The Duchess of Somerset's notions, which would be no adequate or practicable substitute for them."

The Duchess of Buckingham, also, by the way, childless, feels specially hit by the Duchess of Somerset's denunciation. "These tales," she says, "have been in our childhood, and have been in the lives of the present generation. Besides, the pleasure of the imagination is often a pleasant enough thing to have in their childhood, and why should the duchess seek to deprive them of it?"

The Duchess of Bedford says: "I think good for little children to soar into fairyland. It does not hurt them to picture bright, happy beings in ideal surroundings. History is also taught in an attractive form, but children without a little nonsense would be sad little people."

"The Duchess of Somerset," she adheres to my view. There is no fear that children will not get enough nonsense into their heads, without teaching it to them."

In the Colorado desert there are rain-storms during which not a drop of water touches the earth. The rain can be seen falling from the clouds high above, but when it reaches the hot, dry air beneath the clouds it is entirely absorbed.

IRELAND'S LAND PROBLEM UNSOLVED

Wyndham's Scheme Costing Much More Than Expected

BUT WILL NOT BE DROPPED

Opportunity to Purchase the Land Taken Advantage of by Large Section of Irish.

London, Nov. 13.—In the October issue of the Edinburgh Quarterly Review is a very exhaustive study of the operation of the Irish Land Acts, with which the name of George Wyndham will be forever associated. It has been a matter of general knowledge that, for reasons not clear, the hopes that the original of the legislation had not been fully justified; but at the same time it is exceedingly satisfactory to learn that the unforeseen difficulties that have arisen do nothing to weaken the belief that the Acts were the expression of a high and wise statesmanship. It is not to be said that the obstacles to the realization of Mr. Wyndham's purpose are ephemeral and insignificant. Nevertheless, the Review can find in none of them permanent obstruction, and the indications are that, though the end may be delayed, it will not be abandoned.

It is certain that a year hence there will be far fewer horses in the stables of Wyndham and Lord. For purposes of the land, such success as the King's will, however, never countenance motor cars, so that there will still be large stables in both towns.

At Windsor matters look even worse for the stables. Two new motor vehicles will be ready in time for the visit of the King of Greece, who with the Crown Prince George, is an ardent motorist. Queen Alexandra, who disliked motor cars intensely at first, is now more than reconciled to them.

There is growing feeling of alarm among the men employed in the royal stables owing to the King's increasing love of motor cars. Some of the younger men in the royal household are already spending part of their savings learning to be chauffeurs and skilled mechanics.

Of course, the older men—the coachmen and other "principals"—feel more secure in the fact that they are sure of a pension for loyal service. The Buckingham Palace are already spending part of their savings learning to be chauffeurs and skilled mechanics.

NOTED CATHEDRAL FALLING TO RUIN

England's Historic Edifice at Winchester, 400 Years Old, Near Decay.

London, Nov. 13.—Two famous old English churches, Winchester Cathedral, and Cripplegate, the burial place of John Milton, are in danger of becoming ruins. They are suffering from old age.

The dean and chapter of Winchester recently engaged a trio of architectural and engineering experts to examine the edifice and their report discloses "the danger which threatens one of the grandest and most historical cathedrals in the country."

The decay is most serious in the south wall of the presbytery and is of long standing. For at least 400 years there has been from time to time a falling of the east portion of the building and the movement has been of late more marked. This is attributed partly to the untimely foundation, which rests upon a bed of soft marl, only ten feet below the surface and which permanently is washed by water.

Other walls show signs of subsidence, while the spires and pinnacles of the west front are in a dilapidated if not dangerous condition.

To effect requisite repairs at last $30,000, and probably more, will be required, but as the dean and chapter possess no fabric fund, they appeal to the public for aid.

The safety of what is a national possession—a church which contains the bones of Saxon kings, and in which the great architectural beauty is almost without a rival.

The bells of Cripplegate church can't be rung now without causing such a rumbling noise that they shake them out on the roadway, to the danger of the passersby. The tower is nearly 800 years old, but the danger is not considered anything like so serious as at Winchester. Still, a great deal of money will be required to save from ruin what is considered the historical city monument in Jewry street.

BANISH FAIRY TALES? NO!

Her Grace of Somerset Rouses Her Sister Peers.

London, Nov. 13.—The Duchess of Somerset has raised a terrible storm by stopping the mistress of her village school from reading fairy tales to the children. "I protest," she said, "against filling children's minds with such nonsense and rubbish. They should be taught from their earliest years, instead, the lives of the world's great men, Julius Caesar, Dante, Shakespeare, Milton."

It was immediately pointed out in explanation of this austere view of children's training up that the duchess is childless and comes from a dour Scottish Presbyterian family.

Other duchesses are evidently anxious to relieve their order from the stigma of being the Duchess of Somerset's unsympathetic attitude towards children, for the Duchess of Marlborough says: "Fairy tales are the greatest blessings in child life, and teach the little ones ideals higher than the lives of the great men. The Duchess of Somerset's notions, which would be no adequate or practicable substitute for them."

The Duchess of Buckingham, also, by the way, childless, feels specially hit by the Duchess of Somerset's denunciation. "These tales," she says, "have been in our childhood, and have been in the lives of the present generation. Besides, the pleasure of the imagination is often a pleasant enough thing to have in their childhood, and why should the duchess seek to deprive them of it?"

The Duchess of Bedford says: "I think good for little children to soar into fairyland. It does not hurt them to picture bright, happy beings in ideal surroundings. History is also taught in an attractive form, but children without a little nonsense would be sad little people."

"The Duchess of Somerset," she adheres to my view. There is no fear that children will not get enough nonsense into their heads, without teaching it to them."

In the Colorado desert there are rain-storms during which not a drop of water touches the earth. The rain can be seen falling from the clouds high above, but when it reaches the hot, dry air beneath the clouds it is entirely absorbed.

All India to Welcome the Heir to the Throne

Masses of the People Think That King Edward Controls Everything.

Calcutta, Nov. 13.—Perhaps not since a former Prince of Wales landed in India, 30 years ago—King Edward VII.—has anything occurred of this sort which has attracted the enthusiasm that is being attracted by the visit of the present Prince and Princess of Wales. For exactly 30 years have elapsed since King Edward VII. landed there as Prince of Wales and heir-apparent of Queen Victoria, who only assumed the imperial title a year later.

The horizon of the vast majority of the inhabitants of India is a very narrow one, stretching no farther than the personality of the distinct officer, often not so far as that. Governors, commanders-in-chief, and viceroys, the countrymen may have heard of, but they are generally mixed up in his mind with some confused idea of the British "Raj," the existence of which he recognizes with perhaps more difference than active interest, so long as he is left alone. With the sovereign and his family the case is different, and there are few villages where there is not some definite conception of the "Kaiser" and his son the "Shahzada."

The idea of a personal ruler is a familiar one to every Indian, and perhaps almost inseparable from that of a beneficent deity to whom is due a reverence and an active loyalty which can hardly be felt for representative monarchs. To the bulk of the people the idea of a constitutional monarch is inconceivable, and in India the Emperor is regarded as the sole fountain of all administration.

In great cities among the educated classes and the faculty of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position of the Emperor and his representatives, but the active feeling of loyalty towards the sovereign and his family is no less marked. Thus, to all classes, the visit is a source of genuine satisfaction, which will be expressed in a clearer understanding of the position

SNAP-SHOTS AT VARIOUS SPORTS.

With the advance of civilization, the "car knocker" has disappeared. It is quite possible that the other species will die out also. Not a person has hampered the fighting game or football for two days.

Dan Patch, after many trials, and much health food, beat Star Pointer's record of 1:59 1/4 for a mile without wind-shield, and set the figures at 1:58. It is said that Dan Patch has earned $21,000 as his share of the gate receipts in his exhibitions. Of course, it is not stated how much he was allowed for advertising.

Robt. Robert Fitzsimmons objects strenuously to being called the "grand old man of pugilism," but, with good conscience, we cannot call him the boy wonder. It becomes wearisome writing his full name every time he butts into the limelight. Will Robert kindly inform us what we should call him? We are open for suggestions.

There is this to be said about these stories of paid football players in colleges. Nobody would blame them very much if they did.

Those gentlemen drivers of Cleveland seem to have done a few things to Governor Herrick, of Ohio, for having given them the double cross on the post-selling business. He will not monkey with the betting privileges for some time at least.

Barney Oldfield has not been doing a thing of late, as he feels that it is about time he breaks into the spot-light. He announces that he is going to attack the five-mile record of the Pointe Breeze track, Philadelphia. If the Pointe lives up to its windy name, may be there will be no opportunity of gathering up the fragments. Barney is charter member of the Finish Hasteners' Union, all right.

The Americans won the cable chess match from the Germans. Emperor Bill won the endurance gab match, however.

A Philadelphia gentleman is out with the explanation that only cowards play dirty football, etc. That will be very fine reading for several Ottawa gents.

Now they have it that since Walter Camp saw the Tigers of Hamilton play that Yale, under his coaching, have amazed the Americans by their brilliant plays, etc., all due to his following the Tigers' tactics. Somebody is doing an awful pile of kidding. Next thing they will say that Hal Walters is responsible for the rough play of Yankee teams.

Stagg, of Chicago University, has fired his freshman coach, because he fed the team too much candy. Can it be that the slump of the Hamilton Tigers is due to too much taffy?

Battling Nelson is engaged to a 17-year-old California girl, so 'tis said. His press agent must be running short of fight talk.

When Battling Nelson goes to Denmark he and his dad are going to call on the king. No doubt the latter will be delighted to meet Denmark's most distinguished son. The topic for discussion will no doubt be, "The Solar Plexus, or the Best Way to Kill Natives."

The New York Horse Show is now on. Society will be present, and it is rumored that "Reggie" Vanderbilt will send a few horses over, so that the qualifying word, horse, can be used. It is needless to add that Reggie is the main gazaboo.

Mr. Most is still telling of his most famous achievement—winning $65,000 on a race at Latonia. It is said that Mr. Most had a ten-spot up, and that was his limit. That dream of his, his most interesting as the dream of the Cuckoo who found in Dan Patch his long-lost horse.

Kilbride, N. Dymond's latest purchase, looks like a good 2-year-old. He will race at Woodbine in the spring, and will in all probability duplicate the winnings of Port Hunter and Tongador at Toronto during the last two seasons. On his breeding, and performance, he ought to do better than either of them on the metropolitan tracks.

The Kirkfield Stable, including Wire-In and Wharwhop, have been sent to California to race there this winter. The horses in that stable will have to do better than they have done this season to make the trip worth while.

The list of 210 trotters of 1905 presents an interesting study from a breeder's standpoint, and one particularly interesting feature is the fact that of the 33 new 210 trotters in the list, 25 are by record sires. Five of the sires represented in the new 210 list have records better than 2:10, as follows: Peter The Great, 2:07 1/4; Blngen, 2:06 1/4; Directum, 2:05 1/4; William Penn, 2:07 1/4; and Del Norte, 2:08. All of the above-named sires are trotters, with the single exception of Del Norte, 2:08, and in the light of their showing as sires of 210 trotters it would seem that the record sires are at least holding their own in the battle for supremacy. Seven of the 25 210 sires have records of 2:15 or better, as follows: Axtell, 2:12; Zombro, 2:11; Bellini, 2:13 1/4; Delmar, 2:13 1/4; Norval, 2:14 1/4; Grattan, 2:13 1/4; and Silverton, 2:15. The other record sires represented are as follows: Bobby Burns, 2:19 1/4; Heffy F., 2:28 1/4; Strathway, 2:19; Anderson Wilkes, 2:22 1/4; Boreal, 2:15; Gambetta Wilkes, 2:19 1/4; Adbell, 2:22; Silent Brook, 2:16 1/4; Tom Miller, 2:18 1/4; Blitzen, 2:27 1/4; and Little Corporal, 2:19 1/4. The sires without records are Nitrogen, French Plate, McRoberts, Moko, Adrian Wilkes, Happy King and Guardsman.

After breeding trotters for more than a quarter of a century in Tennessee, in 1905, that state gave to the turf its first 210 performers in Turkey and Boreazelle. Tennessee pacers have earned a world-wide fame on account of their extreme speed and other desirable racing qualities, and now it can no longer be said that she has never produced a 210 trotter. As between the two, Turkey and Boreazelle, Turkey, 2:07 1/4, is entitled to first honors for the reason that his record is the fastest and on account of his thoroughly Tennessee pedigree. A singular coincidence, after so many years' effort in Tennessee producing a 210 trotter, is that on the day on which Boreazelle entered the 210 list at Lexington, Anita, a mare bred and owned by George Campbell Brown, of Ewell Farm, Spring Hill, Tenn., was driven a trial mile over the Lexington track in 2:08 1/4. This performance was witnessed by hundreds of spectators, and plainly bespeaks the progress that is being made in Tennessee in the effort of her breeders to produce a superior type of the light harness horse.

A Detroit paper has found an honest wrestler. Such an event called for a half-column's explanation. The world's not as bad as we suspected.

Washington, of Smith's Falls, in defending himself at the O. H. A. meeting at Toronto on Saturday, said that an Ottawa newspaperman who was present said that the Marlboro-Smith's Falls game last winter, was not rough, only a hard game. That proves that Mr. Washburn's team must be decidedly in the wrong. If we remember correctly, the Rat Portage-Ottawa games are only good, hard games, according to Ottawa reports, but it is not straining the truth to classify them as brutal. No Washburn should not quote an Ottawa newspaperman on the subject of roughness.

The University of Michigan football team has scored 408 points this season already, and have blanked all opponents. That is 100 points more than any other team in the States has scored. That helps the senior O. R. F. U. team, too. They have not had that many points scored against them.

Minnesota defeated South Dakota by a score of 81 to 0 on Saturday. We guess that is what the President means by brutality.

COVERPOINT.

THE TURF.

YESTERDAY'S WINNERS.

At Aqueduct-Birmingham, 11 to 5; Tommy Waddell, 8 to 1; Sidney C. Love, 5 to 5; Jack Young, 9 to 1; Cabin, 7 to 1; Seville Girl, even.

At Nashville-Colabash, 2 to 1; Hadur, 3 to 2; Miss Riffe, 2 to 1; Lights Out, even; My Eleanor, 3 to 5; Woodlands, 8 to 5.

FAVORITE BEATEN FOR STAKES.

New York, Nov. 13.—Sidney C. Love, at 6 to 5, won the Stonybrook stakes, selling, at Aqueduct today, defeating the 1 to 1 favorite, Grenade, by two and a half lengths. Jockey Schaffner had six mounts, winning with three of them, third in one and unplaced in the others. Two favorites won.

ARCHER'S BIG FORTUNE.

London, Nov. 13.—The biggest fortune ever accumulated by an English Jockey was left by Fred Archer when he died two years ago. It was then valued at $600,000, but by shrewd investment upon $1,000,000.

SOMETHING WRONG BETWEEN AVERAGE FIGHTER AND MONEY

Fitzsimmons Says They Don't Hunch at All, and the Pugs Go Broke.

The story of George Dixon's defeat last night brought me up with a round turn to take a look over the field of fighters who have gone to the bad financially after winning all kinds of good hard money in the prize ring, says Bob Fitzsimmons in the Chicago News. It is a funny thing, but the average fighter never has much horse sense. When he comes to handling money, perhaps some of these college sharps who find a good living in figuring out things of that sort and writing in a boxer's future brings him down that way, but I can't, and so I'll leave it to them. I've been looking up, and I've seen a lot of them, and the first instance I can remember of the bat, so to speak, is "Yankee" Sullivan.

Anybody who knows anything about the ring at all knows he was a top-notch in the game half a century ago. "Yankee" was, as I say, a real fighter, and his real name was Frank A. Murray. He was along and beat everybody, and he went to jail for a while, and a while and a good while at that, until he met Tom Hyer, and Tom took his measure. John Morrissey, who was against John Morrissey, and he was down and out, and he went west. He landed in California somewhere in the fifties, and the records show that he ran across the vigilantes who were dealing out law and order in Frisco about that time. They figured him out for a bad man and he went to jail for a while. While he was there it was doped out that he was mixed up with a gang of burglars that were pretty busy there, and while there wasn't a shred of evidence against him, the vigilantes arranged to execute him. He was murdered in his cell, but he put up a game fight just the same. He had a penny when he passed over the divide.

FAMOUS JOHN MORRISSEY.

There was John Morrissey, who gathered up more money than any other fighter of his time, and he was a good man and he died well. John L. Sullivan, and he died well. John L. Sullivan, and he died well. John L. Sullivan, and he died well.

It's a fact, too, that his widow went to work in a collar factory up in Troy, N. Y., and she was paid for a year for a dollar a day. They tell a lot of stories about Morrissey, and it has been said he gave his wife $300,000 worth of diamonds, and she used to like to wear them all at once.

HIT WITH A BUNGSTER.

George Fullam got his up in Manitoba a few years ago, while he was in the ring with an unknown. A local man got a heavy money bet on the unknown, and when the time came where George was going to hand his opponent his, the local man brained him with a bungster.

There was John Gully, a crackerjack English fighter. He made a pot of money, and after he left the ring he got into bad luck, and then went in for racing and some dicker on the exchange. He began to drop his cash as if he was catching cold, and towards the end he feared he was going to die in the workhouse. A lot of his old pals, however, saved him from that, though he died a pauper actually.

Ned O'Baldwin, a splendid fighter, who gave Jim Mace a whole lot of trouble to put away—come to think of it, I've never would meet him for the world's championship, after all—was shot in the back in New York by a loafer he had fed and taken care of for years. It was a very sad case, and that he didn't go to the potter's field. He was absolutely stone broke.

Johnny Heenan went up with a rush and a roar, and he was going to get all the money, but he didn't. He opened up a gambling house on Broadway and went down with a rapid rush. When they came to bury him they had to take up a collection for him. He died out of Green River, Col.

SOME HAVE MONEY SAVED.

Of course there are a whole lot of good men of today who have managed to keep a little of their money, but look at George Dixon. It's a safe bet that George drew in over a million at the time he was in the ring, and he has it all now. I've seen Tom O'Rourke hand him a ten-spot pretty frequently, because he didn't have a place to sleep, and I guess a whole lot of others have seen the same. With George it was just the colored man's place for hot living. He couldn't seem to make money stick to him anyway he got it. He bought everything in sight and was a "good fellow" at the time.

I don't believe anybody ever figured up just how much John L. Sullivan made during his lifetime, and it's not doing John a wrong to mention that he's no millionaire now. He isn't, and that's all there is to it. Remember Johnny Griffin, the handiest little man with his fists that came down the Manhattan Chess Club. Poor Johnny fell down a flight of stairs in New York and broke his neck, and they put him away without a cent to his name. Scores of players are on the hospital list, with injuries ranging from barked shins to broken noses and fractured collar-bones and ribs.

There is a list of the deaths of the list of football fatalities so far for the twentieth century. Exclusive of the present season, 539 wearers of the mole skin have received injuries on the field, more or less severe. The fatalities recorded are those that occurred during the season, but in many instances the deaths have followed after months of suffering from injuries. For the last four seasons the casualty list, as completed from the reports in the newspaper files, is as follows:

Deaths, Injured.

1901 .....

1902 .....

1903 .....

1904 .....

THE ROUGHRIDERS WILL NOT BUDGE

Decline to Play for Dominion Championship Game Outside of Ottawa.

The Toronto Star of yesterday said: It looks today as if there would be no game on Saturday for the Canadian Rugby championship between the Hamilton Tigers and Ottawa Rough Riders.

Saturday evening Rev. A. F. Barr and Dr. W. B. Hendry held a conference at the King Edward and sent the following telegram to Messrs. Clancy and Shillington at Ottawa:

"We cannot agree to any proposition in regard to the proposed game, which you will be playing in Ottawa. Will you do this? If so, we will agree to any proposition you suggest."

"W. A. HENDRY."

At noon today the following reply was received:

"Ottawa, Nov. 11.

"Rev. A. F. Barr, Toronto: In reply I beg to state that as I have given my vote in favor of playing the first game in Ottawa, I don't see any reason for changing my decision. I am very anxious that this game should be played, and I can see no valid reason why it should not be played in Ottawa. I think in the interests of the clubs that are to play you should do all in your power to have this game played. In conclusion, I may say that so far as I am concerned, my decision is given and I see no reason to change it."

"THOS. F. CLANCY."

This virtually means that there'll be no game at all for the championship, so far as Hamilton is concerned.

Varsity's case hasn't been considered yet, but it isn't likely the athletic directorate will let them play in Ottawa.

THE RING.

FITZ TRYING TO CRAWL?

Chicago, Nov. 12.—The efforts of Tommy Ryan, manager of Marvin Hart, claimant of the heavyweight championship title, to match his protégé with Bob Fitzsimmons having failed because O'Brien had got in ahead of him. Tommy Ryan had this to say about Fitz:

"This is the worst case of crawl I ever heard of. I expected to close the matter at once and am surprised to find that O'Brien has pulled it all. But this is the last chance Fitz will have to get a crack at Hart. We will put him among the dead ones on our list and have nothing more to do with him."

"Fitz has been crying around for a match, and when he gets a chance to fight Hart he takes on some one else. That is just like him."

GUS WANTS CHAMPIONSHIP.

New York, Nov. 12.—Gus Ruhlin, the local, took steps today to claim the world's heavyweight championship, from which James J. Jeffries has voluntarily retired. Ruhlin announced that he has posted a $500 forfeit with Al Smith to box any man who desires to take up his challenge, and that if at the end of six weeks this offer remains unaccepted he will claim the heavyweight title.

RADBOURN'S RECORD NEVER EQUALED

Great Work That Won National Penant for Providence in 1884.

In all the years that have gone by since it was made—21 of them—no pitcher has ever equalled the record of Charles Radbourn, the mainstay of the victorious Providence Grays, when that unequalled team won the championship of the National League in 1884 for the second time.

The club had but two first-class batteries, Radbourn and Gilligan, Sweeney and Nava, and seemed crippled when Charles Sweeney was expelled from the nine and the league in the twelfth week of the season for conduct characterized as disgraceful. After the 23rd of July the bulk of the pitching fell on Radbourn, who, before that time, had been somewhat at outs with the management.

But when he found that everything depended on him, Radbourn worked in a manner that has never been equaled, and in these days, when a pitcher feels overworked with more than two days a week, never will be.

He promised Manager Bancroft that he would face all the opposing teams that the season was over, and he carried out that promise in a manner never since equaled, winning 20 consecutive games in August and September, and 29 games with but one break in the run.

At the beginning of August Providence was leading the league, August 11, with a record of 10 wins and 9 losses, and Providence won 9 to 2, at Philadelphia, from that team. Rain interfered and the next game was played on the 6th, at New York. Providence beat the Yankees in 11 innings by the score of 2 to 1. Radbourn pitched in this game. On the following day, at New York, Providence earned the victory, winning 4 to 2, with Radbourn pitching again. On Friday, Aug. 8, Providence won at Philadelphia, 6 to 0, with Miller pitching. The Rhode Islanders, on Saturday, won the team play at Boston, winning in 11 innings by 1 to 0, with Radbourn and Buffington pitching. Irwin made the winning run, putting the ball through a hole less than a foot square in the slats erected over the right-field fence to shut off the view from the surrounding house-tops.

Monday's game with the Yankees was a fight with a past. It was this game the Journal said:

The pitching record of Charles Radbourn in the last two championship games with Boston stands unparalleled in the history of the national game. The Bostonians have secured but four single hits in 29 innings and but one run. True it is that his support from his plucky little backstop, Gilligan, and the rest of the team, which has been making a splendid record for themselves, has been all that he could desire, but to his thorough mastery of the game, and his intimate knowledge of the weaknesses of the opposition, and his own manly and manly play, his seven consecutive wins are attributed his phenomenal record.

It was held in such high esteem in the minds of Sullivan's friends that when Sullivan came to the Southern Hotel in St. Louis and asked $5,000 to defend the very name of Sullivan, then an undefeated man, the big fellow refused a meeting, saying he had retired from the ring and was perfectly willing to hand over the championship to the sturdy and hustling Australian.

Then came Sullivan's fight with

GALT AND PETROLEA TO PLAY HERE SATURDAY

Semi-Finals of the O. R. F. U. Arranged by the Executive Committee of the Union.

The semi-finals of the O. R. F. U. have been arranged. London will see one more football match, as Galt and Petrolea are ordered to play off in London on Saturday next. Galt has a fast team, but so has Petrolea, and the two of them will be well worth going to see. The other games arranged are as follows:

Nov. 18—Victoria vs. Gananogue, at Belleville.

Nov. 18—Galt vs. Petrolea, at London.

The intermediate semi-finals are as follows:

Nov. 18—Petersboro at Dundas.

Nov. 25—Dundas at Petersboro.

DEATHS ON GRID-IRON NUMEROUS

Ten Already This Year, and Fifty-Nine for the Twentieth Century.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Ten deaths from injuries received on the gridiron—the football harvest to date—big fair, to make the season of 1905 a record-breaker for fatalities on the field. Every week of play is rolling up the list, and by the time the Thanksgiving matches end the season, the outlook is that the number of casualties will eclipse that of 1902, when fifteen victims fell in the games.

At the rate of three victims a week, the death crop is being gathered on the gridiron. Three players were killed the week before last, while three more died last week from injuries received early in the season. Last Saturday three players were injured so seriously that the latest reports are that their recovery is doubtful.

Besides the deaths and the fatally injured, hardly a team in the country yesterday boasted eleven perfectly sound players. Scores of players are on the hospital list, with injuries ranging from barked shins to broken noses and fractured collar-bones and ribs.

There is a list of the deaths of the list of football fatalities so far for the twentieth century. Exclusive of the present season, 539 wearers of the mole skin have received injuries on the field, more or less severe. The fatalities recorded are those that occurred during the season, but in many instances the deaths have followed after months of suffering from injuries. For the last four seasons the casualty list, as completed from the reports in the newspaper files, is as follows:

Deaths, Injured.

1901 .....

1902 .....

1903 .....

1904 .....

CHESS. A CABLE MATCH.

New York, Nov. 13.—The first cable chess match between New York and Berlin, which was begun Saturday was continued yesterday and ended in a draw. The Manhattan Chess Club by the score of 4 points to 2. On only one board were the Berliners successful, while three wins were recorded by the Manhattan players, the remaining two games being drawn.

IS THE FATE OF OTHER BEATEN MEN IN STORE FOR JIMMY BRITT

Some Fans Believe He Will Never Be the Same Man in a Ring Again.

While Jimmy Britt is crying his eagerness to fight Battling Nelson, men who take more than a passing interest in affairs of fistiana are wondering if Britt will be as good a man as he was prior to the terrible beating he received at the hands of Nelson. Britt himself holds that he was not hurt very much. Nelson says that he literally beat Britt black and blue, inside and out.

"When he was taking the final count," said Nelson, "I noticed that his tongue, which protruded, was black as any shoe and swollen to twice its natural size. Several times during the battle I saw that his tongue was enlarged and hanging out. I warned him that a blow on the chin might make him chop it off."

Billy Nolan, who says that Britt is the hardest man in the ring to make weaken, said that Nelson fairly hammered the heart out of Jimmy. In the light of what terrific lickings did to other fighters, it will be interesting to know how Britt will perform in his next bout.

Abuse Injures Fighters.

As a rule one or two good beatings destroy the effectiveness of a fighter. The beatings Kid Carter received at the hands of Marvin Hart and others have put him to the bad mentally and permanently.

Young Corbett gave Eddie Hanlon some pretty rough usage. Westerners are asking themselves the question: Will Hanlon ever be as good again as he was before that fight?

Few if any fighters completely recover from a solid hammering.

Tom Sharkey got his quietest at Coney Island from Jim Jeffries. Never after did the sailor figure in the light of his battle with the champion. It is the first intimation that he had gone back from Jeffries' tumbled him over in two rounds all the while that Thomas was a fighter with a past.

JACKSON KILLED SLAVIN.

When Frank Slavin came from Australia he was heralded as a man who could take any amount of punishment without flinching. His battles with Jack Burke, Jim Smith and Jake Kilrain showed that the high estimate of his ability in taking gaffs was not amiss.

He was held in such high esteem in the minds of Sullivan's friends that when Sullivan came to the Southern Hotel in St. Louis and asked $5,000 to defend the very name of Sullivan, then an undefeated man, the big fellow refused a meeting, saying he had retired from the ring and was perfectly willing to hand over the championship to the sturdy and hustling Australian.

Then came Sullivan's fight with

ENGLISH RUGBY TOO SLOW SAY BOYS OF HARVARD

Don't Like the Old Country Game, but President Elliot Is Delighted With It.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 13.—An exhibition game of English Rugby football was played Saturday afternoon in the Harvard Stadium between the Dalhousie College team and an All-Harvard team composed of former varsity players. Halves of 35 and 30 minutes were played and both sides succeeded in scoring a touchdown, but neither side was able to kick goal. The score at the end of the game thus stood 3 to 3. The object of the game was to compare the more open English system with that of the American game and if possible to change the American method of line bucking and tackling. In detail the game was played on fifteen on each side, eight forwards, four three-quarter backs, two halfbacks and one fullback. There is no line bucking nor interference for the runner. The scrimmage consists in the sixteen forwards lining up head to head and rolling the ball in between them to be heeled out, thence to be kicked or carried down the field. The ball is advanced by long punts, short kicks or running with the ball, the man tackled passing it to the player behind.

President Elliot, who was one of the spectators at today's game, expressed his delight at the way it was played, but the general run of undergraduates pronounced it slow. In spite of its openness, rough play, dirty football as possible in Rugby as in the American game, hence it does not offer many opportunities for the student with the disagreeable features which the coaches are trying to eliminate.

BANKERS WILL HAVE A HOCKEY TEAM

Some Good Material Obtainable for a Seven-Jack Bray Is President.

The London bankers will have a hockey team this winter. This decision was reached at a meeting on yesterday afternoon, when the following officers were elected:

Patrons—Messrs. John Pringle, P. W. D. Brodie, Alexander Hay, A. H. Beddome, A. S. L. Mackintosh, G. B. Gerard, F. L. Coleson, M. E. Holden and F. E. Kain.

President—Jack Bray. Vice-President—George Mathewson. Secretary—Treasurer—J. A. Woods. Manager—W. MacLennan. Committee—Messrs. Snyder, Tierney and Macgregor.

There is some good material among the city bankers, and a strong seven can be got together.

FOOTBALL. THE FRIEND OF FOOTBALL.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—The tenth annual meeting of the National Association of State Universities met here today, with 32 presidents of state universities present. President Andrews placed his chief interest as the friend of football and, in fact, all other college athletic sports. He said: "I approve under reasonable regulations all the usual forms of college sport, track athletics, tennis, baseball, basketball, football and rowing—though rowing is not to be specially commended, partly because few can engage in it, and partly because it is not a safe place sport for matches."

"Football itself does not deserve the censure it is now fashionable to mete out. The game is strenuous, which is its glory, for it is a training in training in that quality; but it is not rough in the sense mostly morally assigned that word. Played under due oversight football breeds not callousness, but kindness and restraint."

Football itself does not deserve the censure it is now fashionable to mete out. The game is strenuous, which is its glory, for it is a training in training in that quality; but it is not rough in the sense mostly morally assigned that word. Played under due oversight football breeds not callousness, but kindness and restraint."

Football itself does not deserve the censure it is now fashionable to mete out. The game is strenuous, which is its glory, for it is a training in training in that quality; but it is not rough in the sense mostly morally assigned that word. Played under due oversight football breeds not callousness, but kindness and restraint."

Dempsey Never Recovered.

Jack Dempsey never recovered from the beating Fitzsimmons gave him at New Orleans.

He could not have beaten a bantamweight after that fight, and yet he was a wonderful pugilist until it took the heart out of him.

The terrible walloping that Kid McCoy gave Dan Creighton placed that ex-famous fighter in the ranks of has-beens, there to remain, unless he put him away in Alaska. Buxey could not have lasted ten seconds when Slavin was at his best.

Whatever fight Peter Maher had in his make-up when he landed in America was taken out of him in his meeting with Fitzsimmons at New Orleans, when in referring to Fitz he said: "He have 't devil in him. I can't hit him."

Young Corbett took all the fight out of Kid Broad when he tumbled him about in New York City.

McFadden fixed George Lavigne so that never after did he again place himself among the champions. Gans placed Frank Erne where he would never be dangerous again."

Solly Smith was considered a wonder in California, and his progress was of the meteoric order. His battle with Johnny Griffin almost put him to the bad. As he was, however, he kept on and his heart was not broken. But when George Dixon plastered him about the heart and put him down and out his fighting days were a thing of the past, and he never again ranked as a champion.

The punishment that Kid Parker received from Young Peter Jackson reduced him from a stake horse to the commonest selling pattern, and he has been whipped by almost every man he ever tackled since, until today it's a shame to even call him a fighter, and only his brilliant record of the past secures recognition for him.

LONDON SCHOOL CHILDREN DO NOT SUFFER BY COMPARISON

Their Work Equally as Good as That Done in New York and Boston Schools.

Today the children of Princess street schools and those of the Protestant Orphans' Home are attending the school exhibit in the city hall, and the committees in charge have their hands full looking after the little ones. Yesterday afternoon the attendance was very large. The children of Simcoe street, Colborne street, Colborne street south and the separate schools took in the show, and all put in a very pleasant time. The Sisters of St. Joseph who teach in the separate schools were shown through the exhibit by Inspector Edwards, and they admired very much the work of the public school scholars.

PARENTS INTERESTED.

Interest is being taken in the exhibit by the parents of the pupils as well as the pupils themselves. No prizes are being offered, and there is consequently no jealousy, and no artificial interest created. Those who go to the exhibit go simply to see the work of their own hands and brains or the work of their children. And it is interesting to find that those who have the affair in charge to see so many parents and citizens of all classes present. The attendance shows that they are all very much interested in educational matters, and those who are coming now for the first time to see what is being done in the schools are loud in their praises of the teachers and teaching methods employed in the schools of the Forest City.

WRITING IS GOOD.

In the literary section may be seen the exhibit which may be properly said to be the chief point of interest for the business man. In this section samples of the writing of the different scholars are shown. And these exhibits of handwriting are absolute gems of the penmanship of the children. They are all about bugs and insects.

Some Slashing Is Done by the Court of Revision

Nearly $10,800 Struck Off the Assessment for 1936—No Heavy Reductions.

The court of revision, after hearing evidence in a large number of cases, has handed down the following decisions. Many other cases remain to be decided, and they will be published as soon as the court makes known its judgments.

So far the court has struck off the sum of $10,755.

James G. Angus, against income; $1,200. Allowed.

H. Arnott, against income. Withdrawn.

A. Anderson, against income, $125. Allowed.

William Aust, against statute labor. Allowed.

Christina G. Allen, change in ownership. Allowed.

R. Bayly estate, against income, $114. Allowed.

R. Bayly, against income, $251. Allowed.

J. R. Boyce, against assessment on buildings. Confirmed.

Mrs. S. J. Berry, against income tax, $90. Allowed.

A. Butler, to be assessed as owner of 2-1 public school supporter. Allowed.

Thomas Bryan, against income, $180. Allowed.

Sarah Bowman, over-assessment on real, $75. Allowed.

Sarah Bowman, over-assessment on real, $50. Allowed.

Sarah Bowman, over-assessment on real, $25. Allowed.

Thomas Bryan, against income, $120. Allowed.

E. W. Boyer, against income, $100. Allowed.

Canada Wire Fence Company, over-assessment. Confirmed.

George Church, over-assessment. Confirmed.

V. Cronyn and G. A. Somerville, against income, $85. Allowed.

V. Cronyn and G. A. Somerville, against income. Allowed.

Mrs. A. E. Carpenter, to be assessed as owner of stock. Granted.

Mrs. H. Connor, to be assessed as owner. Confirmed.

Arthur E. Cooke, not owner of property. Granted.

Thomas Caldwell (executor), against income, $20. Allowed.

Laura Cooper, against income, $25. Allowed.

A. E. Christie, against income, $60. Allowed.

Jerry Collins, to be assessed as tenant. Confirmed.

John Cunningham, to be assessed as tenant. Confirmed.

James Clarke, against business assessment, $120. Allowed.

R. T. Davis, against income tax. Confirmed.

Annie L. Duncan, assessed for too much of lane. Confirmed.

Miss E. Douglas, against income tax. Allowed.

A. J. R. Darcey, against income tax, $300. Allowed.

Cleveland Dack, against statute labor tax. Confirmed.

J. Darcey, to be assessed as separate school supporter. Granted.

John T. Dundas, over-assessment on real. Confirmed.

Frank Dewar, against income, $100. Allowed.

W. E. Davidson, against income, $500. Allowed.

William E. Ellis, against income. Confirmed.

Edward Elliott, against income, $120. Allowed.

W. C. Fitzgerald, to be assessed as tenant. Granted.

George E. Gosling, over-assessment on real. Confirmed.

Mrs. Ida Gardner, over-assessment on real. Confirmed.

Clifton Griffin, against income. Confirmed.

Neil R. Gray, against income, $600. Allowed.

Graydon & Graydon, change in property. Allowed.

Millie Giddens, against income, $125. Allowed.

Thomas Guest, over-assessment on business. Confirmed.

Bella Grive, against income tax. Confirmed.

Thomas Hanlon, against income tax, $110. Allowed.

John Hughes, against income tax, $380. Allowed.

G. B. Williams, against income, $400. Allowed.

Samuel P. Wood, to be assessed as owner. Confirmed.

J. Wishart, against income tax. Confirmed.

J. Wishart, against income tax, $132. Allowed.

G. Whitehead, against statute labor. Confirmed.

William Wood (per Joseph Pevier), to be assessed as tenant. Granted.

Frank Webster, against statute labor. Allowed.

HANNA WILL BE AT HOME OPENING

A meeting of the Children's Aid Society was held in Inspector Sanders' office in the city hall yesterday afternoon.

It was decided to hold the official opening of the Thomas Alway Hall Home for Neglected Children in South London on Friday afternoon, Dec. 1. Hon. Mr. Hanna Provincial Secretary, who was in control of the children's aid societies of the Province, will be present and will give an address, as will also Mr. J. J. Kelso, of the department of neglected children, Toronto; Mr. James Mitchell, of Goderich; and Mr. S. M. Thompson, of Brantford.

A committee, composed of Mr. Yarker, Sheriff Cameron and Mr. J. I. A. Hunt, was named to make arrangements for the opening. Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

WANTED IN TORONTO

Two of London's detectives laid their hands on a man last evening who is wanted in Toronto on quite a serious charge.

C. H. Taxon, a Hebrew, president of the Toronto Social Club, was arrested for obtaining from G. Goodman, of Agnes street, Toronto, the sum of $30 under false pretences. Taxon received $30 from Goodman, who was later a note in return, which is alleged, when offered at the bank, was declared to be no good, as Taxon had no funds there.

A SOCIAL GATHERING

A pleasant social gathering of the people of the First Congregational Church, held last evening, was largely attended. A short programme of music was carried out, amongst those contributing being Mr. W. A. Bleuthner, Miss E. McFarland, Miss O. Langridge and Mr. F. W. Robins, all of whom were heartily received.

WHIST AT LIBERAL CLUB

The first of a number of whist matches to be conducted by the Liberal Club will be held in the clubrooms on Friday night. Some nice prizes will be given.

CONDENSED LOCAL NEWS

—Mrs. George Frank, of Lapeer avenue, Port Huron, has returned from a short stay with friends in this city.

City Engineer Graydon is still confined to his home with an attack of bronchitis, but he is improving rapidly.

—Mr. Wm. Kitchen, champion quilter of Canada, is visiting in this city, the guest of Mr. Maurice Lee, of South London.

—Mrs. Standing and family, C. Simpson, William Hall and Miss Coney were booked by F. B. Clarke, to sail by the Translin of the Allan Line.

A very interesting game of basketball took place last evening between Courts Victoria and Hope of the I. O. F. The former won by a score of 20 to 15. Bro. T. Ball, of Court Victoria, referred to the satisfaction of both teams.

—Mr. Alex. McNeil, of Lobo, whose wife left him some time ago, and was supposed to have died, has been seen in Detroit that he did not desire Mrs. McNeil to return home, but was anxious only to have her sign away her rights to the property. Mr. McNeil says that for the sake of his three children he is willing to have his wife return.

—The many friends and acquaintances of Mrs. E. E. Bodeker, of Chicago, will be very much surprised and pleased to hear that she was formerly cured at Wesley Hospital Chicago, last week, from blood poisoning, following an operation. The internment took place in Chicago. She was formerly Miss Flora Lowry, was born in Detroit and lived in London some few years ago. She left a husband and one son.

THE DAIRYMEN'S CONVENTION.

The date for holding the Western Ontario Dairymen's convention at Ingersoll is announced as Jan. 16 to 18, inclusive.

Joseph B. Stephens, over-assessment on real, $100. Allowed.

J. W. Scott, against income, $210. Allowed.

Fred Stubbards, against statute labor tax. Confirmed.

George A. Somerville, over-assessment, $120. Confirmed.

W. E. Saunders, over-assessment on real. Withdrawn.

Fred Stone, against income tax, $205. Allowed.

H. Stewart, against income tax. Confirmed.

Charles Strongman, against income tax, $60. Allowed.

Steele & Forsyth, over-assessment on real. Confirmed.

William M. Spencer, against income, $100. Allowed.

James Spiller, against statute labor tax. Allowed. To be assessed as tenant. Granted.

R. H. Smith, against income, $200. Allowed.

John Stewart, against statute labor tax. Confirmed.

John Tanton, against statute labor tax. Confirmed.

J. F. Sangster, against assessment on real, $150. Allowed.

J. W. Smith, against business tax, $100. Allowed.

George H. Tambling, against income tax, $400. Granted.

George H. Trace, over-assessment on real. Confirmed.

T. Treleven, re-assessment of L. Durward, $40. Allowed.

Charles Taylor, against statute labor. Allowed.

Miss Mary E. Tolhurst, against income. Confirmed.

John Tanton, against statute labor. Allowed.

John Upton, against income, and to be assessed as tenant, $150. Granted.

Thomas Vallier, against income tax, $15. Allowed.

Samuel Wright, against income. Withdrawn.

Clearing the air tubes and breathing apparatus of obstructions, soothing and healing the soreness, Angier's Emulsion quickly cures coughs. Having a pronounced beneficial influence upon nutrition, it enables the constitution to resume its natural vigor and to resist further attacks. There is nothing better for acute and chronic bronchitis.

HONORED OLDEST LONDON METHODIST

After routine business matters were disposed of at the meeting of the trustees board of the Methodist Church last evening, an event of a very happy nature took place, when on behalf of the board, Rev. C. B. Lancelotti, pastor of the church, presented an address to Mr. Isaac Webster, of Maitland street, who has the honor of being the oldest Methodist in the city.

Messrs. C. J. Beal and T. B. Escott presented Mr. Webster with a beautiful leather-covered album containing photographs of all the ministers of the church since its dedication, the members of the trustee board, and old church members.

Mr. Webster, who is 83 years of age, joined the Methodist Church when but fourteen, thus having been for nearly 75 years a member. Although so advanced in years, Mr. Webster still takes an active interest in church affairs, having attended last night's board as usual, unconscious that the board had been the subject of a Methodist service in the township of London was held in the home of Mr. Webster's father, at which the son was present.

It is a touching story that the call incidents of that meeting, such as the snuffing of the candles at the home of Mr. Webster, who was a member of the firm of Webster & McCutcheon, Dundas street.

A committee, composed of Mr. Yarker, Sheriff Cameron and Mr. J. I. A. Hunt, was named to make arrangements for the opening. Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Inspector Sanders was appointed delegate to attend the annual conference of the Conference of Churches and Correction, which opens in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Sanders is now in Toronto.

Mayor Campbell will be present at the opening and an invitation is extended to all to be present.

An invitation from Mr. C. W. Bennett, manager of Bennett's Vaudeville Theater, for the children of the shelter to attend any matinee performance free of charge during the season, was gratefully acknowledged.

Keep the Skin Comfortable

You need never know the discomfort of having chapped lips, face or hands if you learn to depend upon our

BALM-ZOIN

It makes and keeps the skin soft, smooth and comfortable. It is not greasy or sticky, so that gloves don't stick after it has been applied. If you have never tried it you cannot imagine anything more deliciously soothing and healing to the skin than Balm-Zoin. Price, 25 cents.

Strong's Drug Store

134 DUNDAS STREET.

Strong's Baking Powder—maximum satisfaction, minimum cost.

BEAVERS IN LINE

The Beaver hockey team held a most enthusiastic meeting last night and elected the following officers:

President—Frank Babcock. Vice-President—Barney Wartig. Secretary—Mr. Banks.

Treasurer and Manager—W. Dube. The team is in the junior series, and will in all probability be grouped with Watford and St. Marys. Both of these teams have a strong team, and the Beaver boys will have to hurry to win. The outlook for good games in the series is good.

The Beaver team will be chosen from the following players: Dwyer, J. Wilson, Devaney and Corman late of Belleville; Pugh, Algic, Reynolds, Kersey, Richardson, Stevens and Parkinson.

The games will be played in the Princess Rink. A committee from the Beaver team will meet the Princess authorities tonight to arrange for the use of the rink.

NO JUNIOR HOCKEY

The Junior Hockey League that created so much interest last season will have to wait this winter.

The Junior Rink will not be used for ice skating, and the Princess Rink will have all it can handle with the two O. H. A. teams doing business there.

The Princess League, however, may take most of the younger players and develop them.

The games of the Junior League that would have more interest last winter, possibly, than any other league in which Londoners were concerned, and the passing of the organization will be regretted.

MAY END IN LAWSUIT

City Building Breakwater on West Londoner's Land.

Mr. W. Patrick, of London Township, has notified the city that the breakwater on Bridges street is being built on his property without his consent, and that he must be recompensed for the use of his land.

He says that when the matter was advertised he did not know that the breakwater was to be built on his property as the name of the street had been changed since he purchased the land.

STOCK MARKETS.

H. C. Becker, stock broker, Free Press building, received the following private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington today:

New York, Nov. 14.—Now—Heavy buying by London houses had a favorable effect upon sentiment this morning and tended to stiffen the whole market. The highest feature was the London market, which was strong.

Reading, where liquidation continued in moderate volume. Of the specialties, the Railway Steel Springs was the leader, stable at a new high record.

As has been pointed out in these letters before, considering that this market has now floating or bonded indebtedness and that the stock market is paying 4 per cent and earning a good deal more, the advance seems to be warranted. Heavy buying by a prominent commission house made its appearance in N. K. and T.

The old story has been revived that the control of that road was being bought by H. C. Becker. Rates for money were somewhat lower than yesterday, the renewal rate being 16 per cent against 17 and 18 per cent yesterday. It was reported that some money was being received from the interior. The professional element still talk in a bullish strain, but commission houses believe that money will be tight for some time to come and are advising caution. Sales to noon, 415,000.

INJURED IN RUNAWAY

Mr. William Malloch, of Waterloo street, sustained injuries yesterday morning which have confined him to his bed since, and from which he will not fully recover for some time.

Mr. Malloch was the victim of a peculiar accident. While driving on Piccadilly street with one of his employees, he was struck by a horse and cart, striking the horse's heels and causing the animal to bolt. The occupants of the buggy were thrown out, before they realized what was the matter.

Mr. Malloch received a very severe cut on the face, and there is a possibility of his being internally injured. Whether his ribs are fractured or not cannot be ascertained at present.

—Mr. E. H. Best, formerly of this city, gave an address in St. Thomas recently on "Air Brakes." Mr. Best was for some years connected with the C. P. R. in this city, and is thoroughly conversant with the air brake question.

SLEEPLESSNESS.—When the nerves are unstrung and the whole body given up to weariness, when the mind is unable to rest, and the body is restless, the result of derangement of the digestive organs, sleeplessness

BUSINESS SOLD

We wish to announce to our many customers that we have disposed of our Stove and Tinware Business, 385 Talbot Street, to Mr.

J.A. Brownlee

from whom we are sure you will always receive good values, courteous treatment and prompt attention.

Wm. Wyatt & Son

385 Talbot Street, London

Nearly Every Young Girl

Could be independent at womanhood if she began to save early. If she has an object in life, cash in bank will be the greatest aid to the fulfillment of her ambitions. We furnish a free home savings bank to help her save her small change. Three per cent interest.

DOMINION Savings and Investment Society

NATHANIEL MILLS, Manager.
Masonic Temple.

FARMERS!

The prices for live hogs, for next Thursday and Friday mornings, delivered at the packing house:

Shiners, 100 to 250 lbs., per cwt. $5.50
Fat, light and heavy, per cwt. $5.25

The Canadian Packing Co.
LONDON JUNCTION.

MARKET PRICES

LOCAL MARKET.

London, Tuesday, Nov. 14.
The prospects were not very bright for having a market, but later on, after the early part of the forenoon, but later on quite a large crowd of farmers came in with the products of the farm, mostly hay and oats. The demand in all lines was up to the average. Prices were about steady.

Grain—Oats were in good demand for the dozen or so loads that were offered; prices were made at $1.01 to $1.03 per cwt.

Hay and Straw—There were 20 loads of hay on the stand; sales were brisk, at $8 to $9 per ton. Straw sold at $5.50 and $5.75 per ton.

Butter and Eggs—The supply was small; prices were somewhat higher on Saturday.

Potatoes—About a half-dozen large loads were on sale; prices ruled at 65c to 70c per bag, wholesale.

Dressed Hogs—There was a good demand for the 50 carcasses that were offered; sales were made at $7.75 and $5 per cwt.

There were quite a few bags of apples offered, at from 75c to $1 per bag, or $2 to $2.50 per barrel.

Butchers' Meats—The demand was fair; there was no change in prices.

FARMERS' POULTRY.

Highest prices paid for all kinds, alive and dressed. Write today for quotations.

FLAVELLES, LIMITED.

564 BATHURST STREET, LONDON.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

CATTLE.

London, Nov. 14.—Cattle are quoted at 2c to 15c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 35c to 40c per lb.; sheep, 10c to 11c per lb.

TORONTO JUNCTION.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—Although the weather was light and the yards this morning, prices did not advance at all; in fact, importers dropped a little. Prices continued low in the old country, and this morning buyers were rather scarce.

The run was 53 cars, consisting of 1,152 cattle, 81 sheep, 7 hogs and 2 calves.

Butchers' cattle were very good and quite plentiful. Exporters were poor, and the prices did not mislead as to quality.

Milk cows were scarce. There is a great demand at present for good milk cows, which sell readily at $50, and some would go as high as $60.

There is fair demand for good export bulls, and prices range from $3.75 to $9.00; stock bulls, $2.50 to $2.75.

Canvases are selling today from $1.50 to $2.

Crawford & Co. sold 1 load of butchers, 1,125 lbs., at $4; 1 bull, 1,250 lbs., at $3.25; 1 load of odds and ends at $3.25 to $3.75.

Fred. Rutherford bought 7 milch cows, averaging $50 each, and wanted more.

Hogs sold this morning at $5.40 for 1,200 lbs., at $2.45; 18 butchers, 1,000 lbs., at $3.25; 5 butchers, 1,050 lbs., at $3.25; 4 light exporters, 1,340 lbs., at $3.90; 22 exporters, 1,350 lbs., at $4; 1 export bull, 1,550 lbs., at $4.25; 2 export bulls, 1,400 lbs., at $3.50; 1 butcher bull, 1,450 lbs., at $2.55.

W. B. Leavack bought $4 sheep and lambs, sheep, $2.25; $2.50; $2.75 to $2.90.

Lunness & Halligan purchased 2 loads of steers, 1,175 lbs., at $2.40; 1 load, 1,100 lbs., at $2.50.

William Leavack bought 12 loads; exporters, $4 to $4.25; 1 load, $4.40; butchers, $4 to $4.25; 1 load, $4.25; common, $3.25 to $3.40; cows, $2.25 to $2.50.

McDonald & Mayhew sold 19 butchers, 960 lbs., at $3.50; 22 butchers, 1,050 lbs., at $3.50; 6 butchers, 1,250 lbs., at $3.70; 20 butchers, 1,150 lbs., at $3.50; 11 butchers, 1,200 lbs., at $2.45; 18 butchers, 1,000 lbs., at $3.25; 5 butchers, 1,050 lbs., at $3.25; 4 light exporters, 1,340 lbs., at $3.90; 22 exporters, 1,350 lbs., at $4; 1 export bull, 1,550 lbs., at $4.25; 2 export bulls, 1,400 lbs., at $3.50; 1 butcher bull, 1,450 lbs., at $2.55.

PRODUCE MARKETS.

TORONTO.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—Wheat—Ontario—Unchanged, holders asking 50c for No. 2 white, with red and mixed, 45c to 46c; lower grades, 40c to 42c; spring, 45c to 46c; No. 2 Manitoba wheat are reported at 50c for No. 2, 1 northern, 45c for No. 2.

Flour—For Ontario 90 per cent patents, for export, in buyers' bags, west, the general bid is $3.10 to $3.15; holders asking more; no business; Manitoba, $4.50 to $4.90 for first patents, $4.30 to $4.60 for second patents, and $4.20 to $4.50 for bakers.

Millfeed—Ontario bran, $12.50 to $14 per ton, in car lots at outside points; shorts, $15.50 to $18; Manitoba bran, $15.50 to $16; shorts, $17.50 to $19, at Toronto and equal points.

Oats—Higher, at 35c to 38c outside.

Barley—No. 2, 35c to 38c; No. 3 extra, 35c to 38c; No. 4, 35c to 38c; at outside points.

Peas—35c outside.

Rye—40c to 45c outside.

Barley—50c to 55c outside.

Corn—New American, 50c, Toronto freights, 10c to 12c.

Roller Oats—Barrows on track here at 55c, and bags at $4.50; 25c more for broken lots here and elsewhere outside.

Butter—Receipts fairly large, demand good; creamery, 22c to 23c; solids, 20c to 21c; dairy pound rolls, good to choice, 15c to 20c; medium, 15c to 16c; tubs, good to choice, 15c to 16c; inferior, 15c to 16c.

Cheese—Firm, at 12c to 15c.

Eggs—Firm, at 22c; medium, 18c to 19c. Dressed Hogs—$7.75 to $8.

SUGAR MARKETS.

TORONTO.

Toronto, Nov. 13.—Sugar—Prices here are steady; extra granulated, $4.27; yellow, $3.88; bags, 10c; Ontario sugar, $4.15; bags, 10c less.

NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. 13.—Sugar—Raw quiet, fair refining, 24c; centrifugal, 90 test, 37-10c; molasses sugar, 15c; refined quiet, No. 6, 24c; No. 7, 23c; No. 8, 22c; No. 9, 21c; No. 10, 20c; No. 11, 19c; No. 12, 18c; No. 13, 17c; No. 14, 16c; confectioners' "A", 14c; "B", 13c; "C", 12c; out-land, 11c; crushed, 8c; powdered, 4c; granulated, 3c.

C. N. SPENCER,

STOCK BROKER. Stocks, Bonds, Provisions bought and sold for cash or on margin. Office, Market Lane. Phone 130.

laid, $4.90; cubes, $4.85. Molasses—Firm; New Orleans, open kettle, good to choice, 25c to 28c.

LONDON.

London, Nov. 13.—Raw sugar—Centrifugal, 90 test, nominal; Muscovado, 85 to 90, nominal.

DAIRY MARKETS.

CHICAGO.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 13.—Butter—Steady; creamery, 22c to 23c; dairies, 12c to 13c. Cheese—Firm, 12c to 13c.

ELGIN.

Elgin, Ill., Nov. 13.—Butter ruled firm today, selling at 22c per lb., an advance of 1/2c from last week; sales for the week were 62,000 lbs.

UTICA.

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 13.—Sales of cheese on the dairy market today were 37 lots of 32 1/2 boxes at 12c to 12 1/2c. Butter—Creamery, 14 packages sold at 22c, 12 at 23c and 5 at 24c.

N. S. WILLIAMS, Broker

115 MASONIC TEMPLE.

Correspondent W. F. DEVER & CO. (established 1890). Stocks, Bonds, Grain, Provisions and Cattle bought and sold for cash or on margin. Phone 1,113.

OIL MARKETS.

LONDON.

London, Nov. 13.—Petroleum, American refined, 7 1/2d; spirits, 8 1/2d.

ANTWERP.

Antwerp, Nov. 13.—Petroleum, 19 francs 50 centimes.

PITTSBURGH.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 13.—Oil opened and closed at $1.58.

OIL CITY.

Oil City, Pa., Nov. 13.—Credit balances, $1.58; shipments, 125,001 barrels.

FLAXSEED.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Flaxseed—Northwest, $1.30; southwest, 34c.

HAY MARKET.

TORONTO.

Toronto, Nov. 13.—Baled Hay—Steady to firm, $5 per ton for No. 1 timothy, in car lots on track here, and $5 for No. 2.

Baled Straw—Unchanged, at $6 per ton for car lots on track here.

BEAN MARKET.

DETROIT.

Detroit, Nov. 13.—Beans—November, 2 cars at $1.57, 1 car at $1.58; December, $1.58; January, $1.58 bid.

ONTARIO FARMERS STATE THEIR CASE

(Continued from page 1.)

wages and for material $380,000,000.

The farmer paid out in wages $24,000,000.

If a fair wage were allowed to himself and family, the farmer would have to pay $250,000,000, and the cost of material, some of which he raised himself to feed to stock, amounted to $200,000.

On these figures the annual profits to the manufacturers was estimated to be $100,000,000, to the farmers nothing.

The Ontario farmer told the Dominion who was engaged in business for 30 years would not at the end of that time have anything more than the increased value of his property.

The speaker knew this to be true from personal knowledge.

He then reiterated his statement that the agricultural interests were by far the most important, and should receive more consideration than the selfish private interests.

TARIFF NO USE TO FARMER.

When Mr. McEwing has concluded his address, Hon. Mr. Fielding asked him if it was right to draw the inference from his statement that the duties on farm products were of no practical use to the farmers at all, and that no great damage would be done to agricultural interests by their abolition.

Mr. McEwing asserted that his position had been fairly stated.

Mr. Fielding referred to his products, saying that he had been told by lumbermen that the duty on that class of goods was burdensome.

"The farmers of Canada produce principally what is known as the bacon hog," said Mr. McEwing, "while in the United States they produce the kind of animal that is used mainly by the lumbermen."

"Then from the farmer's point of view you don't think that is of any great value?" asked Mr. Fielding.

"I don't think it cuts much figure."

"Do you think you represent the farmers generally?"

"I do. Of course, there may be isolated cases where local conditions would permit making a difference for some farmers along the border, for instance."

"In making a tariff we must remember everybody," said Mr. Fielding.

"Yours is not the representation that has generally been made to us."

IN CASE OF CLOTH.

Turning to another subject raised by Mr. McEwing, the Finance Minister asked, taking cloth as an example, what was produced in Germany, the United States and Great Britain, whether the burden of taxation on the consumer would not be the rate of duty which would be imposed on goods coming from Great Britain, which was under the preference.

The effect of the maximum tariff would be to divert trade to Great Britain, and not to increase the price, so that no

BRIGHT'S DISEASE

A Cure of Marvelous Merit That Gives Instant Effect Found at Last.

No malady is more stealthy or fatal than Bright's disease. It claims more victims than famine and war combined.

In the beginning it is marked by puffiness under the eyes, yellow, sallowness and pain in the back. The urine becomes scanty, often contains sediment, causes great irritation and pain.

Reader, if you are troubled with these symptoms get Dr. Hamilton's Pills at once. This vitalizing medicine will fast restore brilliancy to your dull, anxious eyes. Exhaustion will be replaced by surplus vigor. Your back pains and urinary disorders will cease.

Renewed life is put into the kidneys, and Bright's disease passes away forever.

PERMANENT CURE IN EVERY CASE.

"I was stricken with Bright's disease two years ago," writes Mrs. G. E. Matthews, of Middleton.

"I grew worse. Sugar was almost eleven per cent and the doctor gave me up."

"After using Dr. Hamilton's Pills one week I began to mend."

"Dr. Hamilton's Pills have made a well woman of me, and I know others who have been cured also by this medicine."

Why wait any longer? Dr. Hamilton's Pills will restore you to robust good health. No medicine in the world so efficient for diabetes, Bright's disease and affections of the kidneys, liver and bladder. Price 25c per box, or five boxes for $1, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

one need worry very much as to what the maximum tariff was.

Mr. McEwing was forced to admit the validity of the argument.

Hon. Sidney Fisher pointed out that many hogs are produced in the world, and that the tariff on these animals was not an aid to the farmer, but a tax on the consumer.

Mr. McEwing thought that cutting off the supply would have the effect of raising the Canadian farmers produce a higher grade and higher-priced animals.

OATS AND OATMEAL.

Hon. Mr. Patterson, the Government had been approached last year by those engaged in the manufacture of oatmeal, who wanted a license of duty on the finished material. The Government had suggested reducing the duty on the raw material, but the millers had said that this would injure the farmers. They consequently had increased the duty on oatmeal.

Mr. McEwing pointed out that in 1904 there had only been $18 worth of oatmeal imported. This was evidence of the fact that the farmers, who were the largest consumers of oatmeal in Canada, were at the mercy of the millers, who had raised the price. "I claim that the farmer has as much right to get his raw material as the miller has to get his finished product," said Mr. McEwing, and he advocated a lowering of the duty on both raw and manufactured oats.

THE TOBACCO FARMERS.

Hon. Mr. Broderick raised the question of tobacco. A duty of 10 cents per 100 lbs. of raw leaf had been imposed in 1896, and the industry had grown from 500,000 pounds to 5,000,000 pounds in the nine years. Some farmers had recently asked for an increase in the tariff in this respect. Did Mr. McEwing think this request reasonable?

The farmers' spokesman said that this might be one of the exceptions he had spoken of. In Ontario tobacco was confined to a small area, and he was not informed as to it. The tobacco farmers did not belong to the Ontario Farmers' Association, followed. He described the bonusing of beet sugar in Ontario as a mistake. It simply added to the burden of the producer, as, except in the German districts, where the women do field work, beet root sugar culture is not profitable.

Mr. Drury, of Simcoe County, claimed that the farmers in that county had a year by tariff duties, that Ontario farmers are being driven to seedling down their farms by letting their buildings in many cases go to ruin.

MENT ON THE NORTH AMERICAN CONTINENT.

"It should be stated that, apart from continuing the assistance by finances and organizers, it has been my purpose to be further helpful in every way within my power to the better organization and success of the workers of Canada, and to establish firmly and the power of opponents the unity and identity of our entire movement."

"To cement further the bonds of fraternity between the organized workers of Canada and those of the remainder of the continent, we interchange fraternal delegates, and we welcome most heartily among us Mr. Wm. V. Todd, who occupies that distinguished position to this convention and who is with us now."

Referring to the international progress and brotherhood of labor, Mr. Gompers said: "In no country have the workers done more for their fellow workers of Great Britain and our own; and to cement further the bond of unity and fraternity and jointly to be helpful to our fellow workers of the world, the labor parliament of Great Britain, the British trade unions in their congress, send their ambassadors of peace to this convention of the American Federation of Labor in the persons of Mr. Wm. Mosses and Mr. David Gilmour. We extend to them a thousand welcomes."

Union Shops and Eight Hours.

The union shop demand, Mr. Gompers declared, is just, and that as a rule "open shop" declarations were the work of immediately followed by wage reductions or the imposition of poorer conditions upon employees.

Concerning the eight-hour work-day of Mr. Gompers said:

"There is no field of action upon which if we concentrate our greatest activity there will result so great advantages to all, with the least possible injury to any, as the movement to reduce the hours of daily labor, the establishment of a normal work day of eight hours."

"The International Typographical Union is in the midst of a great contest to establish the eight-hour work-day in the book and job offices of the trade, it having achieved the eight-hour work-day in practically all newspaper offices where machine composition obtains. The International Typographical Union sought to avoid the strike in which it is now engaged by every honorable means at its command. It has been provoked and anticipated by four months, owing to the autocratic attitude assumed by employers in that trade associated under the title of the United Typothetae of America. At our last convention this matter received considerable attention and it was the unanimous decision that every possible assistance, financial and moral, be pledged and given to the International Typographical Union in its effort, and, if necessary, to enforce the eight-hour day."

Cash or Cure

If Shiloh's Consumption Cure fails to cure your Cold or Cough, you get back all you paid for it. You are sure of a Cure or the Cash.

If it won't cure you, this offer would not be made.

Can anything be fairer?

If you have a Cold, Cough, or any disease of the Throat, Lungs or Air Passages, try

SHILOH

25c. per bottle. All dealers guarantee it.

The Gentle Kidney Cure.

Don't think that Bu-Ju is not effective because it does not "tear things loose." Them, who talk most, does least. Kidney remedies that purge—arouse and stimulate the kidneys—upset the stomach—are going to do you mighty little good.

Bu-Ju

THE GENTLE KIDNEY CURE

goes about curing you gently, mildly, correctly. You never know you are taking medicine—except that you begin to get better and keep on getting better. Bu-Ju heals inflammation in the kidneys—takes away that sharp pain in the back and the dull ache through the hips—stops excessive urination—restores the diseased portions of the kidneys to health and strength.

Cures Rheumatism Too.

THE CLAPLIN CHEMICAL CO., LIMITED, WINDSOR, ONT. NEW YORK.

The Wornout Nerves, The Weak Heart, The Tired Brain, The Wasted Strength.

What a multitude of women there are who feel that these words exactly suit their case. From early morn till late at night they have been on the go, year in and year out, attending to the daily household duties, looking after the wants of her children and spending the rest of her time attending to social and church work. Is it any wonder then that sooner or later there comes a general collapse? The action of the heart becomes weak and palpitating, the nerves become unstrung, the brain feels in a whirl all the time and the usual force of vitality is lacking.

It is at this time that women should look after herself. If she does not, serious female disorders may set in and often cause weary months and years of helplessness and miserable suffering. What she needs is something to build up her system. For this purpose there is nothing so equal

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

They are the women's friend in every sense of the word.

They will strengthen the weak heart, tone up the shaky, starved nerves, make the brain clear, and restore the lost vitality.

Mrs. George Lohnes, Stanley Section, N.S., writes: "I was greatly troubled with weak and dizzy spells and was so run down I could not attend to my household duties. I bought two boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and after taking them I found that my trouble had all passed away. I am now strong and healthy again."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 60 cents per box or 3 for $1.25. If your dealer does not handle them, send direct to The Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

$1000. Reward

Recent investigations have disclosed the fact that unscrupulous handlers of flour are endeavoring to take advantage of the great popularity of Ogilvie's "Royal Household" Flour by refilling, with cheap inferior flour, the bags and barrels bearing the Ogilvie Brand, and selling it as the genuine article.

You Take No Chances

IN THE
F.C.B.C.

(Y. M. C. A. Building, London.)
The graduates are in demand because business men from experience know that they are well drilled.
Let us tell you where some of our students may be found.
J. W. WESTERVELT, Principal.

When Women Meet

They take in at a glance the appearance and style of each other's costume.
Ours pass the most critical inspection.
They are made by experienced tailors.

O. LABELLE, LADIES' COSTUMER
ODDEWELLS' BLOCK CORNER.

Only a Few Days More

Shooting this fall, as the season closes on the 15th December. If you intend to take advantage of them, remember that we have the finest stock of rifles, shotguns and the very best of hand-loaded cartridges. Also guns to rent.
BROCK'S GUN STORE
152 DUNDAS ST., LONDON, ONT.

London Institute of Physical Culture

619 Richmond Street.
R. C. BARKLEY, PRINCIPAL.
Branches: Physical examination, with prescription of exercises, body building, curative gymnastics, corrective work, fencing and boxing, shower baths. Office hours, 10 to 11 a.m., 7 to 8 p.m. wty

R. H. SMITH Contractor and Builder, Manufacturer of Cement Blocks and Sills.
Phone 1,548. wty

ELLIOTT & OLMSTED,
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Lady assistant when desired.
Day phone 1,755, night phone 1,387.
28 DUNDAS. Residence, 28 King.

D. A. STEWART
(Successor to John F. Stephenson.)
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER.
Reasonable charges. Best equipment.
Open day and night. Residence on premises.
104 DUNDAS ST. PHONE 450.
GEO. E. LOGAN, Assistant Mgr.

SMITH, SON & CLARKE
Undertakers and Embalmers.
Lady assistant. Night calls personally attended. Rubber-tired funeral cars.
112 DUNDAS ST. PHONE 656.
629 DUNDAS ST. PHONE 678.
Residence on premises.

That Watch, How is it?

Perhaps your timepiece has not been giving complete satisfaction of late.

No other establishment in Canada is so well equipped for watch needs as is Diamond Hall, with its recently enlarged facilities—and its half century of experience.

A wooden box in which to mail your watch to us will be sent you free on request.

RYRIE BROS.
—LIMITED—
134-138 YONGE ST.
TORONTO - ONT.

Practical Harmony.
O'DONNELL,
(Late of Kneller Hall, England.)
NEW METHOD:
"It expresses anything I have ever seen."—W. C. Barron.

TAUGHT ONLY AT THE LONDON CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC,
374 Dundas Street.

ASK YOUR GROCER FOR

Hunt's Diamond Flour

Purity and Excellence...

There is no contentment in drinking the common brew of Ale and Porter after one has once tasted a superior beverage like

HAMILTON'S.

There's no guesswork in its manufacture. Purity of ingredients is our first essential. People insist on getting them and no other.

THOMAS WILSON

MERCHANT TAILOR

212 Dundas Street,

HIGGINS BLOCK,

TELEPHONE 596.

DENTISTRY!

A first-class Set of Teeth $6 00
The best Whites or Just $8 00
Gold Crowns ..... $5 00

Dr. Fred L. Wood,

1814 DUNDAS STREET.

Beauty Originality

and quality characterize the Silverware that graces this store's stock.
They are "Odd Things," in that they are different and better and exclusive.

THOS. GILLEAN

402 RICHMOND STREET.

DAISY

Quality never varies from perfection.

Ask your grocer for it and don't take any other.

FLOUR.

R. K. COWAN,

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, ETC.

County Bldgs., next Court House, London.

The Best Bread We Have

is what the grocer invariably says to a customer when speaking of Johnston Bread. XXX Bread. It's full of health-giving properties. Order it today.

AT GROCERS OR DELIVERED.
JOHNSTON BROS. PHONE 818

LONDON AND DISTRICT.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Coghill, of Wyoming, are visiting in this city.

—Mrs. A. R. Burness will receive on the second and third Mondays of every month, instead of first and third Wednesdays, at 348 Piccadilly street.

—Rev. D. S. Hamilton, of the First Congregational Church, and Rev. F. A.
Steven, of the Inland Mission, will visit to Woodstock today to take part in the installation services in connection with the settlement of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Skerrett, recently called to the Woodstock Congregational Church.

CHICKEN THIEVES MAKE RAID.

Chicken thieves paid the Huron College henchmen a very informal visit on Saturday night, and as a result of their call a dozen fat fowls are missing. Footprints in what little snow there was showed that the thieves had come in at the west gate and left by the same way, but further trace of their movements could not be secured.
KERR HAS RECOVERED.

William Kerr, who, while drunk, created somewhat of a sensation at Delaware Village not long ago, appeared before Squire Nugent yesterday to answer the charge of being drunk and disorderly. Kerr, at is a stranger at Delaware, had been drinking hard, and when he reached the village he was in a very bad way. He was desired to be locked up, to prevent doing harm to himself or to anyone.
He has been in jail for a couple of weeks, and the magistrate discharged him, as Kerr appeared to have recovered from the effects of his jamboree.

Taste well, smell well, sell well, smoke well. Try them, Bruce Carruthers, 56.

THOSE JOLLY DRUMMERS

Travellers to Hold First of Three

Smokers Saturday Night.

Keep Saturday night disengaged.

You cannot afford to even consider the making of an engagement if you are a traveler, or have a traveler for a friend. The reason is that the travelers intend to entertain at their club on Richmond street on Saturday night, the event being the first of three smokers which are to be given. The drummers and their friends are expected to be present in large numbers.
There will be plenty of music supplied by Tony Cortese's orchestra, and there will be cigars, cards and a good time for all.

A night with the travelers is a night

HOOD'S The Painless Cathartic

PILLS

Easy to take, easy to operate, cure biliousness, constipation, morning and sick headache; break up colds and ward off fevers.
All druggists. 25c. C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

A FULL SET OF

TEETH

$5.00

THAT'S ALL

Western Dental Office,

S.W. Cor. Dundas & Richmond Sts.

Phone 15.

Special Prices

And terms, we are offering on a large stock of second-hand UPRIGHT and SQUARE

PIANOS. Also a number of Organs, which must be sold, and will be sold, no matter what they bring.

Call and see if any of them is about what you want.

W. McPhillips,

189 Dundas St., London.

For Sale GUARANTEED COAL

JOHN MANN & SONS

401 CLARENCE ST.

425 YORK ST.

Phone 470

A visit to our bakery

will give you an idea of how Parnell's Bread is made. Phone 929.

The Webb C. Ball Watch

is the safest and surest watch for railroad men to carry.

THE JEWELER.

374 Richmond Street.

WAGE EARNERS' SAVINGS ACCOUNT

welcomed by this company. Improve your bread. It's full of health-

giving properties. Order it today.

AT GROCERS OR DELIVERED.

JOHNSTON BROS. PHONE 818

THE CANADIAN

Savings and Loan Company.

M. H. ROWLAND,

Manager.

420, 422 Richmond Street.

THE CHARITY CONFERENCE

Both Were Fined

Harry Steele and Fred Wyatt Assessed for Playing Rough House.

Harry Steele and Fred Wyatt were each fined $1 and costs yesterday afternoon by Squire Lacey for going into

Dennis Flanagan's house, in London

Township, and smashing the furniture on a Sunday not long since.

Each also has to pay one-third of the damage inflicted on the property.

The chief culprit, Fred Blackwell, was unable to be in court owing to illness. It developed from the evidence that the work was done at the instigation of Blackwell. The trio went to Flanagan's house without an invitation, and had a "rare good time," smashing furniture, flower pots, etc.

They had annoyed Flanagan some before that, also. Blackwell will appear as soon as his health permits. He is at present serving 21 days for being disorderly and carrying obscene pictures.

DATE NOT YET FIXED

Time of Tariff Commissioners' Ses- sions in London Still Undecided.

President Arthur White, of the board of trade, has been notified by Secretary Bain, of the tariff commission, that the date of the London sitting of the commission has not yet been decided upon, but that as soon as the date has been fixed he will be informed without delay, so that the manufacturers will have ample time to prepare their arguments.

President White also informed The Advertiser today that arrangements have been made with Mr. Heaton, the insurance expert of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, to read a paper on insurance before the London

Board of Trade, on the occasion of the regular meeting on the last Friday of the month.

Equaled by few, excelled by none. Rajah clair, 10c.

HIGHEST OFFICE TO LONDON LADY

Mrs. Gordon Wright Elected

President of the Dominion

W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Gordon Wright of South London, was yesterday elected president of the Dominion Women's Christian

Temperance Union in a keen contest at the convention at Hamilton. On the ballot, Mrs. Wright won out by a vote of 56 to 14.

The returns of the vote on the informational ballot were as follows: Mrs.

Wright, London, 43; Mrs. Sanderson,

Quebec, 13; Mrs. Thornley, 11; Mrs.

Gordon, Ottawa, 2; Mrs. Rutherford,

Toronto, 2; Mrs. Craig, Alberta, 1. On the second ballot Mrs. Wright, London, received 56 votes, and Mrs. Sanderson,

Quebec, 14. Mrs. Wright was declared

Uphart, Hon. W. J. Hanna, Prof.

Goldwin Smith, Mr. Adam Brown, Mr.

J. Kelso, and others.

There will be a session at 8 p.m.

Wednesday, one at 9:30 a.m. Thursday,

2:30 and 8 p.m. Friday, and one at 9:30 a.m. Friday, after which the conference will be closed.

GOOD VAUDEVILLE

BILL THIS WEEK

Acts Are First Class, With "A

Matrimonial Revolution"

as the Top Liner.

Bennett's Vaudeville last night played to record-breaking business, the audience being one of the largest which has as yet filled the cosy theatre on a Monday night. The bill proved a decided success, and all went away pleased.

At the matinee in the afternoon a decorated shovels was given to each lady who had purchased a fifteen-cent seat. Shovels will be given away at each matinee during the week. Thursday night the ladies will also be presented with these pretty decorative articles, which are handsomely painted by Herbert, the armless wonder, and on Friday night an amateur contest will be held.

There are several good acts on this week's bill. Chief among them is the sketch of Lillian Leighton and John Byrne entitled "A Matrimonial Revolution." It last night made a big hit with the crowd.

Cassie and Collins, who have been in London before, are a pair of black-faced comedians who are worthy of the name. They sing and dance well, and tell jokes cleverly that you almost forgive them for ringing in a has-been once in a while.

The Gregory family of acrobats—the father and three daughters—are extraordinarily clever. A feature of this act is the work of a little tot who performs some astonishing feats of strength.

A very neat sketch is that of Louise

Arnott and company entitled "Regan's Luck." Miss Arnott is probably the cleverest Irish comedienne ever seen in London, but the story upon which the sketch is built is not exactly of entrancing interest. But this much must be admitted—the sketch is natural and the acting is natural.

The two Macks—a pair of children—sing and dance in a somewhat amateur-