

WHITNEY WOULD RESIGN IF HE FOLLOWED HONEST MEN'S LEAD

Mr. Rowell at Monster Liberal Gathering at Aylmer Tells the Electors How Government Purchased Silence With People's Own Money and Saved Itself From Being Overthrown.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Aylmer, June 12.—"Are the people of Ontario less sensitive than the people of Hungary on questions affecting the honor of our public men and the honest administration of public affairs? I do not believe they are."

The Whitney Government the act was not only illegal, but was criminal as well. If such damaging admissions as have been forced from Sir James Whitney and Mr. Hanna had been forced from any cabinet minister in Great Britain, if any British cabinet had adopted such measures to block the inquiry into their conduct and suppress evidence, does anyone doubt that public opinion in Great Britain would have demanded their immediate retirement?

Some Principles. The principles laid down in the case of the Hungarian cabinet applied equally to the Whitney Government with this important addition, that with St. Thomas Clergyman and a Toronto Hotelkeeper Are Amongst Those Victimized.

There are a number of men in London a minister in St. Thomas, a hotelkeeper in Toronto, and numerous residents of other small places who would like to learn the whereabouts of a gentleman who at one time conducted a woodworking shop in this city.

Several weeks ago the north end man was called to Rochester, and while there his partner called on the absent man's wife, and told her that everything was in readiness to start the business in Toronto. All he needed, he said, was $200, which he would get a building and pay for some machinery.

Pet Crow Wants to Know Who Has That $500

[Special to The Advertiser.] Goderich, June 12.—Goderich has a marvelous real live talking crow. The young daughter of R. R. Saloway, the leading photographer of Huron County, has tamed a young crow to speak fluently by spitting his tongue and educating him so that he repeats the news coming from the Central and Separate schools, keeping up an animated conversation on local topics, calling the boys and girls by their names, and calling such phrases as "I can't boys, because I'm married now."

SEPARATION MAY RESULT FROM OPPOSITION TO CHURCH UNION

Rev. Dr. MacBeth, Leader of Party Fighting Resolution Passed by Assembly, Says If Secession Takes Place in Presbyterian Church Those Favoring Union Will Be To Blame.

[Canadian Press.] Toronto, June 12.—Rev. R. G. MacBeth, of Ayr, who is taking an active part in the organization in the Presbyterian Church to oppose union, when interviewed today made the following statement. "In view of the attitude manifested by the assembly or certain members of the assembly yesterday afternoon a meeting was called of all those opposed to being forced into organic church union, at the St. Andrew's Institute last night, which was remarkably well attended. There was a discussion of the situation and a committee of twelve was appointed to perfect organization for the conservation and defence of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Those at the meeting took the ground that if there is any separation in the church it will be due to those in favor of union seceding from the church to enter in the new body."

Old Canadian Southern, Buffalo to Detroit, To Be Linked Up With the Wisconsin Central, and $15,000,000 Spent on Terminals at Detroit.

Branch Lines in Ontario To Be Developed, and Entrance to London May Be Secured in a Downtown Part of the City.

A report reached a number of London railwaymen on Wednesday that the Canadian Pacific Railway had acquired the Canadian lines of the Michigan Central Railway Company, and that possession would be taken on July 1.

Superintendent King, of the Canadian Pacific, said that a rumor to the same effect had been circulated for six months, but that he was unable to make any statements as to its truth.

The information came to The Advertiser from a high authority, who gave the assurance that he was possessed of first-hand information, that would give every indication of being authentic.

Makes New Link. The line, so the report runs, will be taken over from Buffalo to Detroit, and will be linked with the Wisconsin Central, which was acquired by the Canadian Pacific some years ago. These lines—the M. C. R. and the Wisconsin Central—have the same terminals at Detroit, and it is said to be the intention of the C. P. R. directors to spend $15,000,000 on the improvement of these terminals.

NO WORD RECEIVED AS TO WHEREABOUTS OF EILEEN BARRON

Father of Little Girl Who Was Spirited Away Has Issued a Writ to Recover Possession of Child, and May Take Up Refusal of Police to Act in the Matter.

The father of little Eileen Barron, who was taken away from the Talbot street school on Tuesday, has issued a writ, through his solicitors, O'Day & Sullivan, Toronto, to recover possession of the child. It is believed that the unknown man with the lady, who said she was Mrs. Barron, was a cousin of hers, who is an automobile worker in Oshawa. Mr. Barron wired his sister, Miss Barron, and said that he was coming to London immediately and that steps were being taken to recover the child. About Christmas Mr. Justice Britton issued a habeas corpus order, giving the father possession of the little girl. The man and woman are supposed to have come from Toronto in an automobile and returned the same way. Messrs. O'Day & Sullivan are watching the case in Toronto and expect to find the child in a few days.

Extend the Branches. Branch extension in Ontario to relieve the congestion on the old Canadian Southern is part of the plan advanced. A line to Woodstock, thence to Brantford, is planned.

The M. C. R. has its Canadian lines by virtue of a long lease of the Canadian Southern, and the London terminals of the London and Southeastern Railway and terminals, now under lease by the city of London to the M. C. R., and upon which the M. C. R. holds an option, expiring the end of the present year, would be an important factor in the dealings. It is said that the option would be taken up and that the C. P. R. would thereby gain a downtown entrance into the city of London either by securing running rights over the London and Port Stanley Railway, or by some other arrangement.

A Significant Fact. One fact that gives credence to the rumored purchase is that Vice-President Leonard, of the C. P. R., has been in Western Ontario for a matter of two months going over the properties. The M. C. R. in Ontario has been on the market for some time and a definite announcement is promised before next month.

HOME INFLUENCE Women's Institute Members Enjoyed Fine Program at Mapleton. [Special to The Advertiser.] Mapleton, June 12.—The June meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the residence of Mrs. David O. White. The president, Mrs. James Moore, was in the chair.

Mrs. Laura Rose Stephens, of Hunt-ington, Que., a former teacher at the Agricultural College, Guelph, gave an address on "Environment." The speaker emphasized the need of proper home influence in the training of the child and also that the home and its furnishings should be such a high character as to raise the ideals of all the occupants of the home, especially the child. Mrs. Stephens' address was one of the best ever given here, and she was accorded a hearty vote of thanks at the close of her address.

The program included a reading by Miss Sarah Moore; a piano solo by Miss Myrtle B. Charlton; a vocal solo by Miss Mabel White, and piano duets by Misses Eva Herbert and Myrtle Charlton.

At the close a lunch was served on the lawn, about sixty being present.

BOMB EXPLODED Suffragettes Blamed For Stir at Liverpool—Others Think Explosion a Joke.

[Canadian Press.] Liverpool, June 12.—The explosion of a canister caused great excitement today at Runcorn, 16 miles from this city, where it was thrown into the street from the window of a street car crossing the suspension bridge over the ship canal. The canister burst with a loud report. A local chemist, after an examination, said it contained sulphur and chlorate of potassium.

Militant suffragettes are suspected by the authorities of committing the outrage, but in other quarters it is believed that it may have been a practical joke.

CONDONING THE HANNA CHARGES.

Messrs. Sir James Whitney and Hanna show a Christian forbearance towards the charges of corruption, now openly made against them, not within the privileged walls of the Legislature merely, but on the platform and in the press. Sir James seems, in particular, like a new man. It is not like him to say nothing, but turn the other cheek. The Windsor Record presses vigorously upon the Premier, his man Friday and Friday's friend, Dr. Reaume, Saturday let us call him. It quotes Saturday as saying that he would not think of resigning himself nor expect Friday to do so either. "Campaign funds," he said, "have been contributed since the days of Julius Caesar." Bacon excused himself, when impeached by the English House of Commons, by saying that all the other judges had been doing the same thing. But he was convicted and heavily fined all the same, was deposed from his office. It was sheer effrontery, as the Record says, to suggest a comparison of Hanna and Caesar, or else it was an unfortunate carelessness. Julius was hardly the model of political purity to whom a friend of Mr. Hanna would be expected to liken him in such matters. If Dr. Reaume was aware of the colossal corruption carried on by the destroyer of the Roman Republic, he comes forward as frankly, brazenly, the upholder of such things in the political life of Ontario. "I don't see a reason," he thereupon says, "why Mr. Hanna should resign or why anyone should wish him to do so." The Record comments: "It is bad enough for Sir James Whitney and Hon. W. J. Hanna to remain silent, but we hardly expected that the Minister of Public Works had become so hardened as to condone and defend such acts."

THE CIRCUS.

A strange blend of many things is the circus. Its basic element is the old-time, obsolete English fair, which was a rout of dancing, wrestling, fighting, juggling, bear-baiting and horse-racing. There were also the tents of freak exhibits. In one of his plays Shakespeare alludes to the fashion of showing monstrosities about the land with good financial returns. Fortune-tellers, mountebanks, acrobats, equestrians and clowns all hung upon the skirts of the country fairs, to say nothing of beggars and pickpockets. Wild animals were often on exhibit, the first rhinoceros, for example, having been brought to England as early as 1585. Circuses were started over 100 years ago, which provided many of the features of these old fairs. It is recorded of a Monsieur Chabert that he made a sensation at the Argyll circus by "entering a hot oven and remaining there during the cooking of several dishes of raw meat." There was doubtless some trick in this feat of French cookery. People were reminded, however, of Daniel and Chabert was a hero. The clown was a factor in the fairs derived from the popular pantomime, which is as old as the Romans. But the one element in the modern circus that links it to the circus proper of ancient Rome is the chariot race, though when the mob clamored for their "patem et circenses," the latter requisite included not only the chariot-races of the circus proper, but also the gladiatorial and other attractions of the general arena. The circenses of Rome were not for children, who by Christian doctrine are the inheritors of earth and heaven. The Roman circus was a function or department of the state. A magistrate presided, religious rites accompanied or preceded the show and it was held on public festival days like our First of July or Twenty-fourth of May. The early English and present English or American "shows" may be national institutions in a way, but run themselves. It was the genius of P. T. Barnum that made the modern, three-ring circus with its tremendous standard of menagerie, trained animals, curios genuine or otherwise, and variety show, all in one. E pluribus unum was his object, with the emphasis on the pluribus always. Barnum first made a hit with the old negro, whom he carried about the country with the claim that she was 160 years old, and once the nurse of George Washington. When she died it was proved that she was only 79, a considerable cut in the estimates on television; but Barnum had now money in the bank. Soon after that he made a good thing out of a dwarf whom he called General Tom Thumb. There could be no doubt at any rate as to the size of this exhibit, nor about the quality of Jenny Lind's voice, which Barnum secured for 150 nights at $1,000 a night, a big thing 60 years ago. He decidedly developed the museum side of the circus. So huge have the museum, the variety performance and the menagerie grown in the modern circus maxims that the old equestrian features have dwindled, and the clowns make less impression in the vast space of the tent. The stationary London Hippodrome has contrived to out-Barnum Barnum in its aggregation of wonders, such as realistic representations of floods, earthquakes and volcanic eruptions, and the exhibition of ferocious animals on the free rampage in the arena. It is the modern coliseum with the creatures cut out. It has advantages in its metropolitan situation and stationary character. All the more credit is due to the organizing genius which provides the strange, barbaric spectacle of the travelling show with all its curious interests. Instruction is not absent from it. Particularly the menagerie, with the human attendants from various countries, constitutes a lesson in geography to the children and their elders, too.

PEACE AND WAR.

Dr. Lyman Abbott, of New York, has been removed from his position as one of the vice-presidents of the American Peace Society because he signed a memorial by the United States Naval League in favor of increasing the navy. The question thus raised is not an easy one to answer. Can a man be a consistent advocate of peace who recognizes the possibility of war and favors making preparation for it? It may be assumed that everybody in civilized countries today, except the manufacturers of guns and war material, is in favor of international peace. Even military men, especially those who have ever been in battle, are opposed to war. But the fact remains that wars do occur. Under these circumstances, can any one nation, in its desire for peace, reduce its armaments so that it would be utterly unable to defend itself from aggression? That would, of course, render peace compulsory, so far as that particular nation was concerned, because it would not be able to fight, and would have to submit to whatever terms its stronger and more aggressive neighbor might impose. But would such a peace be advisable? In other words, is war for the preservation of national interests permissible under any circumstances? We are inclined to think that even the most earnest advocate of peace would be disposed to admit that there might be circumstances that would justify his country in going to war. While the highest standard of patriotism is that which makes a man willing to give the best of his life's service for his country, it may also require that he should be willing to give life itself.

"In time of peace, prepare for war," is a maxim that may be abused, but there is an underlying sub-stratum of truth in it. If people are justified in having a police force ready to fight for the protection of the community from robbers and murderers, then there would be the same justification for having an army and navy to protect the nation from aggression. It does not seem reasonable that any one nation should place itself in a defenceless position, while its neighbors maintain a war strength. There must be a united and simultaneous action among the nations for the abolition of war, and for the general acceptance of the principle of an international court for the settlement of national disputes. And that desirable condition can only be brought about by a long-continued course of education, such as that in which peace societies are engaged. No one nation can bring about general peace by disarmament. The leading civilized nations must act together. That they will do so in time is a matter of little doubt. It may be slow in coming, but the time "when the common-sense of most shall keep the fretful realm in awe," is sure to come. And the societies and individuals who work for that end will not work in vain.

Australia plays cricket. They play it in Toronto a good deal, but what Australia did to Toronto yesterday it is almost a shame to record. The Methodist Conference just over in this city was marked by vigor and spirit even more than usual. The resolutions against militarism and for abolition of the bar were concisely in fighting language and solidly backed. A committee worked all night, which shows enthusiasm indeed.

A strange story came to town that Premier Asquith was going to resign and a general election was to come in England by the fall. It will likely be news to Premier Asquith. The story reads like free press electrification interviews with prominent citizens. Theatrical stars have been setting like winter constellations in the last month. Some of them have been saying "farewell for ever." But that "forever" is sometimes, like the "until death do us part," of temporary effect. The star comes back with the Pleiades. "Whatever it may be necessary to appropriate in this direction will not be felt by the people at large; it must make a material difference to the people immediately affected. On the principle of the snowshoes, the burden becomes lighter the wider the area over which it is spread."—Hamilton Spectator (Con).

This refers to the prospective dole to Farmers' Bank depositors and shareholders. According to Mr. Crothers they were to be completely reimbursed. Everybody will want to invest in Canadian banks and loan companies if Mr. Crothers' promises are fulfilled. Nothing like it in the world. How does Hon. Mr. White enjoy his work?

A resignation by Mr. Asquith would be a curious thing from a party point of view, to say nothing of statesmanship. He has over 100 majority, and owing to the obstruction of the hereditary House of Lords has not yet finished the program he was elected to carry out. The election is not billed to come before 1916. In the meantime the Government's land and education policies have to be unfolded. Home rule is to be put in operation, and plural voting to be abolished.

The Montreal Star prints the following: An American Opinion. Washington Post. "The throw-back in Canada is not likely, however, to halt naval construction in other parts of the Empire. Australia is preparing to build her second Dreadnought for imperial defence. New Zealand is making progress with her first contribution, and South Africa is counted on to do her duty among the mother country in similar fashion." Isn't this something of a boomerang for the tribute advocates? Australia, New Zealand and South Africa all dissent from "contribution" in the broad sense of tribute. The defeat of tribute in this country will certainly not halt naval construction in the other dominions. Construction is just what the opponents of contribution in Canada want and have pronounced for.

A MODEL POSTMASTER. [New York Sun.] Knicker—He wants to be postmaster, yet can't read. Bocker—Fine; he couldn't find out what was in the letters of the summer boarders.

A PRESSING NEED. [Baltimore American.] "Why was it necessary for Mrs. All-cash to undergo an operation?" "I guess it was because the surgeon's wife wanted to go to Europe."

FAVORITE FICTION. [Chicago Tribune.] "Clean Cash." "Mamma's Good Little Boy." "I Hate to Mention It, but—" "I Know You'll Never Tell a Living Soul." "If He'd Said Another Word I'd Have Smashed Him." "Yes, I'll Be at Home Next Wednesday Evening, Mr. Googly, and I Shall Be Glad to Have You Call."

HOW IT WORKS. [Montreal Star.] Austria and Italy are building Mediterranean fleets, thereby necessitating more French battleships and a new burden on the British admiralty. Russia is preparing her war-machine as rapidly as she can.

ORDER OR DISORDER. [Montreal Herald.] Wiseacres who lean strongly toward the old order have been properly shocked at the radical nature of Austrian legislation. But, for some reason, the country does not seem to be toppling into a Gulf of Socialist ruin. The country is prospering mightily, and the visit of Hon. George E. Foster in the interests of a closer trade relationship between Canada and the United States should not be without the best of results.

OVERLOOKED SIGHT DETAIL. [Boston Transcript.] Mrs. Shopley—"Oh, Henry, I bought the loveliest set of books today on the installment plan. All I have to pay is a dollar and a half a month." Mrs. Shopley—"Mercy! I forgot to ask. This so good a joke on the women that we trust that no man will ever admit that he had been fooled in the same way."

WHY BRITISH LABORERS COME. [Toronto Globe.] The farm laborer is carrying too great a load. Somebody must get off his shoulders. He must become a partner instead of a hired hand, as it usually is when he comes to Canada, or goes to Australia. The possibility of owning land—of working for his own profit—is the thing that sends the British farm laborer swarming overseas, and he will continue to come till the people of Great Britain decide to re-establish the yeoman on the land that his ancestors not only tilled, but in a large measure owned. There would be a fat living for all the agricultural laborers of the United Kingdom on the public commons inclosed during the past three centuries. And the sturdy, solid-nerved lads of the countryside would be happy till they get it back again.

HER UNDERSTANDING OF IT. [Chicago Tribune.] "No," said Mrs. Lapsling in answer to a question, "I don't think there has been any old age pension law passed, but I understood my husband to say the legislature had several old Bills under consideration."

OUR LANGWIDGE. [Cincinnati Inquirer.] She—Why do you call Mr. Gruff a blunt man? He—Because he's always saying sharp things.

CONDESCENSION. [Philadelphia Bulletin.] He—May I see you home? She—No, but you may watch me start.

IMPUTING BAD MOTIVES. [Toronto Star.] The Newmarket councillors who have resigned are mad, clear through, and they have a right to be angry. Public ownership is good. The Hydro-Electric deserves support. But this is no reason why everybody who is opposed to either should be vilified. We do not seem to appreciate the value of free speech, or the possibility of honest difference of opinion. One opinion is placed on a pedestal of infallibility; the other is condemned, not only as wrong, but as evil, and rooted in dark and sinister motives. To hold a conviction firm, and to give credit to others for holding the opposite conviction honestly, is part of the necessary education of a democracy. It is about time to begin the process of education.

DANGER OF WAR IN THE BALKANS IS DIMINISHING

Emperor of Russia and France Making Every Effort for Peace.

Possibility of an Austro-Russian Mixup Causes Europe Some Alarm.

[Canadian Press.] London, June 12.—With the "little white flag" of all the Slav wars in the Balkan States of wrath to come, and beseeching them to avoid a fratricidal war, and with France keeping the war chest closed tight, the chances of preserving peace among the allies is improving. But the situation is still critical. The powers may join the Russian Emperor in the demand that the allies demobilize, while Russia arbitrates, but one of the chief dangers of Russian arbitration lies in the possibility that it may precipitate another European crisis unless it is preceded by an Austro-Russian understanding.

May Intervene. The powers are expected to intervene at the Serbian and Bulgarian capitals today with a demand for demobilization, and since the opinion at Sofia urges immediate action, the question of war or peace ought to be decided by the end of the week. A Belgrade dispatch to the Daily Telegraph says: "The Serbian minister to Bulgaria has left here for Sofia with final instructions which he is to present to the Bulgarian Government. If Bulgaria delays a definite answer to the request for an early meeting of the premiers of the allies the minister is instructed to leave Sofia. General Putnik, chief of the general staff of the Serbian army, has left to resume command at Uskup. It is currently reported that he has received instructions from the Government to repel with the utmost vigor any attack by the Bulgarians and oppose any attempt on their part to cross the Serbian line of demarcation."

CHOLERA OUTBREAK. [Canadian Press.] London, June 12.—A Saloniki dispatch to the Times says that cholera on an extensive scale has broken out among the Bulgarian troops at Serres and Demirhisar. The civilian population at Serres is also affected. The Greeks are making precautions to prevent the disease from spreading to their territory.

Republicans Ready To Fight Tariff Will Attack Sugar Schedule Changes Now Being Prepared By Democrats.

[Canadian Press.] Washington, June 12.—Republican leaders in the Senate are working hard in preparation for their fight against the Democratic tariff bill now being rounded into shape. Sen. Penrose, ranking Republican member of the finance committee, is to lead the opposition on the floor after the bill is reported. The measure probably will not reach the Senate until June 28. Senator Smith of Michigan, is preparing to lead the fight against the sugar schedule, and Senator Smoot will command the anti-free wool debate. Senator La Follette, has amendments which amount practically to a new bill, plans to make a speech that will extend over a week. Others, who are preparing long tariff arguments, include Senators Borah, Cummins, Weeks, Lodge, Root, Burton, McCumber and Gallinger. The minority members of the finance committee are already at work on their report.

Musketry Practice Will Be at Cove Planned to Give Men Training Similar to Active Service. A change is being made in the arrangement of musketry practice at the militia camp this year. Previously the miniature range at Carling's Heights has been the scene of much of the preliminary rifle practice, gallery ammunition being used. This year all the shooting will be done at the cove ranges, the regulation rifle being used and regular service ammunition. The aim is to thoroughly acquaint the men with the use of the rifle under circumstances similar to those which would be experienced in actual service.

The Ontario Motor League has had white bands placed on all the telephone poles between Toronto and Detroit so that no one will miss their way. The society is fixing all the bad roads in the vicinity of London. The league is attempting to create a better feeling between the automobile owners and the public.

PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY LIKELY TO CLOSE TODAY

Large Number of Minor Matters Are Being Settled in Final Hours—Appointment of Dr. Grant as Head of Finance Board Confirmed. [Canadian Press.] Toronto, June 12.—With a multitude of comparatively minor matters remaining to be discussed, there are, however, excellent prospects that the Presbyterian General Assembly will reach its final stage this afternoon. In the evening which today succeeded to the church union storm, there was a tendency to expedite routine business, especially as many of those who have been in the city attending congress and assembly for nearly two weeks are becoming anxious to get away. There was little news of the lengthy program prepared for the guidance of the assembly today, most of the items being reports already presented remaining to be adopted or refused. For instance, there was the report of the board of finance, the hymnal committee, Sabbath school publications, and half a dozen others, introduced at previous sessions, and only awaiting final disposition. A report from the resolutions committee was expected with the customary vote of thanks, the introduction of the subject of divorce, of universal peace, rural problems, and possibly some others were expected through the media of recommendations from the presbyteries. The appointment of Rev. Dr. Grant as executive head of the finance board was confirmed by the assembly last night. The appointment is for the time being a temporary measure, and Dr. Grant will not be required to give up his duties as superintendent of home missions.

NEVER AWAKENED Death Came to Ingersoll Citizen While He Was Sleeping. [Special to The Advertiser.] Ingersoll, June 12.—Mr. Eliphaz Bodwell, a native of Dereham Township, and for many years one of the best-known farmers of that district, died suddenly last night at his home on Albert street. He had been in poor health for upwards of five years, but when he retired at 9 o'clock last night there was nothing that indicated that the end was so near. He passed away while sleeping. He left the homestead, in Dereham, a year ago, since which time he has resided here. He was in his 63rd year, and is survived by a widow, two sons—H. L. of Prince Rupert, B. C., and O. R. of Dereham, and two daughters—Mrs. H. O. Gidgin, of Cudworth, Sask., and Miss Vera, at home.

HURON DOCTORS IN SESSION AT WINGHAM. Dr. Tamlyn Gave Paper on Pioneer Practice at Big Meeting. [Special to The Advertiser.] Wingham, June 12.—A most successful meeting of the Huron Medical Association was held here yesterday. Among the members present were Drs. Taylor, Macklin, Hunter, Emmert, Gallow, and Holmes, of Goderich; Drs. Gunn, Shaw, and Thompson, of Clinton; Dr. Gillies, of Teeswater; Dr. Stewart, of Belgrave; Dr. Allison, of Lonsdale; Dr. Weir, of Auburn, and Drs. Kennedy, Redmond, Tamlyn, and Calder, of Wingham. F. W. Marlow, M.B., F.R.C.S., of Toronto, delivered an address. Interesting papers were presented by Drs. Kennedy, Redmond, Calder and Thompson. An address by Dr. Tamlyn, on Pioneer Practice in Huron County, was much appreciated by the members present. Dr. Tamlyn having been in active practice in this county for over 51 years.

FEEL BULLY? TAKE CASCARETS TONIGHT Gently Cleanse Your Liver and Sluggish Bowels While You Sleep. Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver, delayed fermenting food in the bowels, or sour, gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache. Cascarets, cathartic pills, oil and purgative waters force a passage way for a day or two—but they don't take the poisons out and have no effect upon the liver or stomach. Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the consipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels. A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels clear and regular for months. —for the typewriter 3-in-One oil

How'd You Like to Hike With Miss Gladys?

SHE'S ONLY GOING TO WALK SOME 3,000 MILES, AND ALREADY ONE THOUSAND LADS WANT TO HOOF IT ALONG WITH HER.

New York, June 12.—Miss Gladys Mason, vegetarian and pedestrian, is embarrassed. She asked for one man, but got 1,000. And still they're coming.

Miss Mason is the New York girl who announced recently that she was going to take a little stroll from her home at 214 W. Eighty-fifth street, to San Francisco. Also that she wanted to hire a guard-and-manager—an athletic young man who liked walking and didn't mind a jaunt like that. And she complained that she hadn't been able to find one.

It pays to advertise. As soon as Miss Mason's complaint broke into print, applications for the job came to pour in at the rate of 100 or more a day.

She soon found a man to suit her, and after a few more hundred applications by letter, by telephone, by telegram and in person, she began to feel annoyed. She says now she may leave New York "earlier than she expected, just to avoid the rush.

It's going to be a strictly vegetarian trip. Miss Mason won't eat meat or drink coffee or tea, and will do her daily 25 or 30 miles on two meals.

"People eat too much," she says. And her trip is largely in the nature of missionary work. She wants to show what can be done by a woman who doesn't use up all of her energy just digesting food. She eats fruits, vegetables and nuts, but doesn't believe in raw food except for people who live a very primitive life.

Miss Mason will be accompanied by a maid, as well as her manager. But she won't insist on the maid walking all the way.

She is distressed by many of the letters from men who want the job of managing her and her trip.

"I would like to hire them all," she says, "for most of them seem to need employment. But what could I do with 1,000 men? I'm not doing any Gen. Coxy stunt."

PROBLEMS OF THE FAIR SEX SOLVED BY CYNTHIA GREY

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn as they are received. No letters can be answered privately.]

Strawberry Shortcake. Dear Miss Grey: Kindly oblige me by sending me a recipe for strawberry shortcake.

Where did London and St. Thomas get their names? What do the names of Elsie and Ellen mean?

1. Almost every housekeeper has a different recipe for strawberry shortcake, but this formula has been often tried with great success: Sift a pinch of salt and one teaspoon of baking powder into two cups flour, in which has been rubbed a small piece of lard or butter; add half cup sweet milk and enough flour to make a soft dough; take it on the molding board and divide the dough into two parts; do not mold or knead it, but flatten each piece of dough into buttered jelly-cake tins or any round pans; bake quickly and turn each one onto a dinner plate; butter each piece, spread with mashed berries mixed with sugar; place other half on top, adorn with whole berries and serve with whipped cream.

2. I think if you had stopped to think a minute, you would not have written this query. London, Ontario, is a course named after "Old London," the world metropolis; St. Thomas bears the name of the "doubting" disciple—why either name was chosen I am unable to say.

3. Elsie, is a variant of the name Helen, derived from "solace," the moon, and "helios" the sun. The name therefore means "light." Elsie is a form of Elizabeth, meaning "Worshipper of God."

4. A dark shade of green, some of the brown shades, and certain blues should be becoming.

Signs For Brides. Dear Miss Grey: Would you kindly give your advice on the following questions.

- 1. Do you know of any sign when you break a needle in a bride's dress?
2. Is a black silk dress suitable for a lady of thirty, for a June wedding?
3. Do you know of any sign when you cut a bride's suit in a mistake?
4. Are tight skirts going to be fashionable this summer?
5. Do you think it is all right for a young girl of eighteen to get taking pictures with a gentleman friend?
6. What do you think of a young girl, who has been going with a girl for three or four months, and then goes with another girl for a month and comes back, telling you he would much sooner go with you. Should the girl take him back, when he had no reason to leave her the first time?
7. Is it proper for boys and girls to exchange rings and snapshots?
Hoping I have not tired you asking so many questions.

month and comes back, telling you he would much sooner go with you. Should the girl take him back, when he had no reason to leave her the first time?

7. Is it proper for boys and girls to exchange rings and snapshots? Hoping I have not tired you asking so many questions.

TROUBLED SISTERS. A.—I. Not being a believer in "signs" I am not versed in such lore. I wonder if any reader knows what dire fate or exceedingly good fortune awaits the bride whose dress has had a needle broken in it?

2. Black silk looks well on elderly women for almost any occasion, and for a younger woman would be quite suitable, if white or rose-colored trimmings were used to relieve the griminess. But usually wedding festivities are marked by gay clothing, and for such a young woman a colored dress, or one of white, would look nicer.

3. See answer to No. 1.

4. From present indications, yes.

5. Quite.

6. It would look as though he was coming back because the other girl had first of his corner rigged out in a military or for destroy moths. (girl number one) would feel like treating him rather coolly, to say the least.

7. The promiscuous exchanging of rings or other pieces of jewelry, I think, extremely foolish, as if either person is unfortunate enough to lose a setting, or the entire article, it means expense, or irretrievable loss in some cases, and is apt to lead to hard feelings. As to the snapshots, that seems a different matter. It is very nice for both boys and girls to have prints of a snap taken at some jolly outing in which all have participated.

Wants Moth Destroyer. Dear Miss Grey: I noticed in The Advertiser about four weeks ago, a military or for destroy moths. Would you kindly repeat it, if possible, and greatly oblige?

A.—I cannot locate the paragraph you refer to, but believe it was probably gasoline or benzine that was recommended. Either fluid can be applied without injury to carpets, furs, clothing, etc., and will destroy both moths and eggs. Fresh insect powder blown around where the moths are thick will do excellent work. To give furs or woollen clothing a thorough airing and sunning, then sprinkle with a little gasoline and wrap securely in newspapers is about the best precaution one can take. A cedar-lined chest is a great protection against the pests.

WHEN THE CIRCUS COMES TO TOWN

By "Olive."

Circus is coming! Of course you have seen the bright posters with their glaring pictures of the wonderful show, and the spectacular acts, in front of which small boys gaze with bulging eyes, and open mouths. It makes a chap fumble deep down in his pocket for a few coins, and puzzle his brains to solve the problem of just how he is going to earn enough to pay his way to the circus.

You Become a Model Boy. Doesn't the circus make you wish you were young again? Perhaps when you were young, your home was in the country, and you lived on the old farm. Your attention was first called to the circus when you were on the barn down the road. Immediately a decided change comes over you. How careful you are to see that your boots are thoroughly clean before entering the house, while your attention to the filling of the wood-box is astonishing. You are a model boy, and great is your joy when father and mother decide that you and sister Anne shall go with them to the circus.

Being a small boy, and of the teasing type, you at once exclaim to all present, and much to sister Anne's mortification, "Now I know why his put on her best dress." Silas fumbles deep into his pocket, and with surprising alacrity produces a dime. Why you'd keep quiet even for a nickel!

You never dreamed town was so distant. It seems ages before the dusty streets are reached, but at last the city of tents comes to view, and your heart gives a bound as that faint echo of the band reaches your expectant ears.

The Circus at Last. Father puts the horses up, and everybody hurries to the ticket man. There is a rush and crush, in which the pink bow on sister's sash becomes entangled in Silas' watch chain.

The next part of the program seems like a dream from which you hope never to wake. As to the performance, well, a small lad's vocabulary is inadequate to express himself properly on the merits of the show. You decide then and there that you will be an acrobat, when you grow up — just imagine being a farmer compared to all the glories of turning somersaults, and the fine art of swinging high in the air.

You consume an enormous quantity of peanuts and candy, despite the efforts of mother, who divides her attention between predicting that you will be sick, and keeping herself cool. It is out of the question to take in all the grand sights at once. The acting amazes you, while the beautiful lady in gold and silver with the crim-son plume in her hair, and riding the white charger, performing hair raising "stunts" renders you speechless.

You wake from the dream as the brass band plays "God Save the King." Everybody rushes to get out to the fresh air. You are swept, off your feet, but manage to cling desperately to father's sleeve. You are tired, but so

The Dustman

AS TOLD BY AUNT GERTIE.

Chapter I. THE DUSTMAN IS COMING!

Children, don't you love to feel the Dustman coming? He creeps up and touches your eyes. He makes your arms and legs feel sleepy and he seems to make you drowsy all over.

Well, did you ever know that the Dustman is a wonderful story-teller? Did you know that he comes and sits by the bedside of little boys and girls? Did you know he wears a wonderful, many-colored coat, and that he carries two umbrellas?

Over the heads of good, sleeping children he raises the umbrella on which pictures are painted. Then these children dream beautiful dreams as he tells them.

Over the heads of naughty children he raises the umbrella without pictures, and the children sleep a heavy, dreamless sleep. In the morning they wake up tired.

Well, the fairies say this is true, whether you have heard it or not! I am going to tell you about the stories the Dustman told to little Hialmar, one each night a week. This was his Monday story.

"I am going to decorate your room," said the Dustman as soon as little Hialmar was in bed. No sooner had he said it than the flowers in the flower pots grew up into large trees. The branches extended along the walls and over the ceiling. The whole bedroom looked like a beautiful arbor instead of an ordinary room.

The branches were covered with beautiful flowers, and the perfume from them was wonderfully sweet. Fruit hung from the branches, too. Dimples full of currants were there as well.

My, oh, my, no one ever saw a room like that before! As Hialmar watched the lovely scene someone or something rapped, tapped, hard on the inside of the table. "What can that be?" asked the the boy had made. Hialmar's copybook lay near by, too. The fuss was all over the letters he had written so poorly.

"You ought to look like this," said the copybook, pointing to the copy in its own pages.

"Yes, you ought," said the pencil. "Oh, we would if we only could," said the crooked letters.

"I will give you some powders and drill you so that you shall be straight," said the Dustman.

The letters cried out, "NO!" But the Dustman started off saying, "Left, right, left, right," to them and was obliged to leave Hialmar all alone in dreamland.

He promised to come back Tuesday night, though. Let's see if he does!

In the Shobs

Carriage parasols with natural wood handles and those pinked ruffles about the edge are attractive.

Small silver mesh purses with chased clasps, provided with a finger ring and a smaller ring so that they can be worn on a chain, are shown with silver tassels at the three points of the triangular shaped lower edge.

French bronze novelty flower baskets three or four inches high are decorated with tiny porcelain flowers, and each little basket contains three or four small glass tubes to hold flowers.

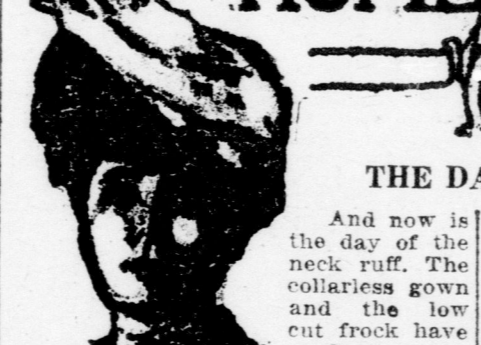

Vanity bags are made of satin in soft shades, lined with contrasting color. One bag, of sage green, is lined with rose color. In the middle of each bag is a cold powder holder and a generous puff. Rose-color satin roses are bunched on the outside of the bag and rose-color silk cords close it snugly. A mirror forms the bottom of the bag.

Bead bags with white background, squared off with gold and silver beads and with a rose of green and red at the intersections of the gold and silver lines, have gilt clasps.

Cases for steamer rugs and umbrellas are made in gray cravenette cloth, with black leather straps and handles. One in blue and green plaid with tan straps can be purchased.

KEEPS SANDWICHES. Put a damp cloth or damp napkin over sandwiches or bread if it is necessary to wait before serving.

KATHERINE LESLIE'S HOME CHAT

ate features and coloring! Short little ruffs they are, these confections in tulle and chiffon, only the size of the neck, finished in front with soft bows of satin in the same shade as the ruff. They are made in all the Oriental colorings, enter largely into these ruffs, as well as all the bewildering color combinations of the season. Those in pretty Paddy Green are to go with a green trimmed hat, and there are ruffs in combined colors such as blue and Paddy green plaid tulle, laid together till they stand out like a Pierrot's around the neck. Then there are black tulle ruffs, black and white, cerise, some adorable pink affairs, and a few in pure white tulle that are quite lovely. Of course printed and painted chiffons have been requisitioned, and these are made so that the rose and white and green floral designs are in the middle of the ruff, while the plisse edges have lines of black satin that is very effective. A fetching little variation of the neck ruff is a fluffy cape-like affair, long enough to cover the décolletage of the evening gown—made of the same filmy and airy materials. And you, girl of the limited means, may easily make either of these little accessories for a trifle.

The Poets' Corner

TRULY GREAT.

My walls outside must have some flowers, My walls within must have some books, A house that's small, a garden large, And in it leafy nooks;

A little gold that's sure each week, That comes not from my living kind, But from a dead man in his grave, Who cannot change his mind.

A lovely wife, and gentle, too, Contented that no eyes but mine Can see her many charms, nor voice To call her beauty fine.

Where she would in that stone cage live, A self-made prisoner with me; While many a wild bird sang around, On gate, on bush, on tree.

And she sometimes to answer them, In her far sweeter voice than all, Till birds, that loved to look on leaves, Will note on a stone wall.

With this small house, this garden large, This little gold, this lovely mate, With health in body, peace at heart— Show me a man more great.

happy, and you drowsily admit this fact to mother, and beg for just one more bag of peanuts.

The Ride Home. Of the ride home you scarcely remember, for you fall asleep with your head on mother's lap. You are dimly conscious of the beat of the horses' hoofs on the gravel; also that sister Anne and Silas have the back seat to themselves.

By and by you are lifted out and deposited on the ground with one idea uppermost in your mind—to get out of the sticky, and realize for the first time, the inadvisability of eating too much candy. But the day was worth it all, for the circus comes but once a year, and with a contented little sigh, you drift away to slumberland; back again to visions of delight: to the haunts of the roaring lions, and the home of the monkeys and elephants. For after all next to school picnic, and Christmas, circus day is very dear to the little folks.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

FLORENCE. The meeting of the Woman's Institute for the month of June was held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Webster. The subject, canning strawberries, taken by Mrs. Walker, was well conducted, and many valuable hints carried away. The next meeting will be held at the house of Mrs. McRobert, in July.

WHEN YOU PACK.

See that the top of the talcum powder can is closed tight. Take as few bottles as possible, and see that they are well wrapped. Wrap shoes individually in cloth or newspapers. Place books flatly on the bottom of the trunk.

If the tray is heavily packed be sure that it is well supported. Handkerchiefs should be placed between laundered clothes if you do not have a handkerchief box.

Chocolate Junket. Grate some sweetened chocolate, about two tablespoonfuls to the pint. Melt it in a little of the milk, cooking till a smooth paste. Sweeten the rest of the milk, and stir in the chocolate paste. This will probably make the milk sufficiently warm, if not, heat it a little. The milk must be only blood warm. Add a teaspoonful of rennet to a quart of milk, pour at once into a dish in which it is to be served. Whip a gill of cream, sweeten and flavor with vanilla and place on top of the dish.

Rhubarb Pudding. Rhubarb is plenty and here is a delicious way of serving it: Wash the tender stalks, cut into inch pieces without peeling, place a thick layer in a buttered baking dish, then OMO does three things well.

OMO cleanses white clothes perfectly—
OMO bleaches white clothes without the aid of the sun and makes them spotlessly white—
OMO purifies white clothes and makes a wholly sanitary wash.

OMO does all this in one operation without rubbing or hard work. It will harm the finest fabrics and will save much time and much labour. Doesn't hurt the hands either. OMO removes tea, coffee, cocoa, fruit stains, etc., like magic.

Simply add a tablespoonful of OMO to a gallon of water, thoroughly dissolve, cover articles completely with this water, boil for half-an-hour to an hour. Let the clothes soak for an hour longer and hang out to dry. Get OMO at your grocer's.

CHURCH UNION CAUSES SPLIT AT ASSEMBLY

Proposal Carried by a Three-to-One Vote—Gordon Resolution Withdrawn.

Strong Faction in Opposition Holds Special Meeting to Consider Action.

Toronto, June 11.—After one of the liveliest discussions that has taken place at the Presbyterian General Assembly the vote taken favoring organic church union carried by a vote of 178 to 51.

This, however, will not end the matter, as a number of those who are opposed to union met at St. Andrew's Institute, and afterwards issued the following statement:

Many Opposed.
"An organization to conserve the rights of the Presbyterian Church in Canada held its initial meeting at St. Andrew's Institute this evening. The attendance was large. A committee was appointed to nominate officers for the different provinces of the Dominion. Three of the millionaires of the Presbyterian Church have offered to finance a new Presbyterian journal which will advocate the views of those opposed to union, and also all the legitimate expenses in carrying forward their plans in opposition to the union of the Presbyterian Church and other churches at this day of the history of the church.

This committee will report to a second meeting at St. Andrew's Institute at 1:30 tomorrow, when organization will be commenced."

It is stated that the committee includes Rev. Mr. MacBeth, of Paris; Rev. G. H. Smith, of St. Catharines; Mr. Walter Paul, of Montreal, and Rev. Mr. Cunningham, of Welland.

May Not Go Through.
As the matter now stands, the report of the committee, with the addition of Dr. Christie's amendment, is before the Presbyterian Church, with the addition that Nov. 30 of this year is fixed as the last date by which suggested amendments or alterations to the present proposed basis of union can be received by the committee.

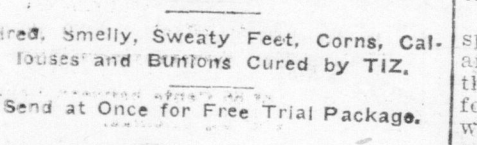

This makes possible, though from the bitterness of the opposition to union it does not seem probable, the submission of a final basis of union agreed upon by the joint committee of the three negotiating churches to the general assembly of 1914, and which, if approved by them, will be adopted or submitted to the people at the assembly seen to.

Dr. Gordon's Views.
At the opening of the afternoon session the motion of Dr. Gordon, designed to make a straight issue of organic union forthwith, was spoken for by its mover. While not suggesting

"BANISH THE BAR" FAVORED BY BAPTIST ASSOCIATION

Rev. W. E. Mason, of Mount Brydges, Is the New Moderator—Next Annual Meeting Will Be Held at Arkona.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Strathroy, June 11.—The annual meeting of the Middlesex and Lambton Baptist Association came to a close today after a most successful session. Rev. T. T. Shields, of Toronto, gave the closing address.

Dr. Farmer gave a splendid address on the gospels. The question of rearrangement of associational boundaries was dealt with by passing a resolution that the question be laid on the table till next year. The general feeling seemed to be against enlarging the bounds of the association.

Rev. S. E. Gregg, of Toronto, who has been invited to become superintendent of the department of social service for the Baptists of Ontario and Quebec, gave an address in which he attempted to disabuse the minds of the delegates of any erroneous ideas in regard to the work of this department.

Mr. Gregg referred to the changing conditions of social life, and advocated the policy of the social service committee. He was supported by Dr. Farmer, and several other speakers.

The New Officers.
The officers of the association for the next year will be: Rev. W. E. Mason, of Mount Brydges, moderator; Rev. T. E. Meldrum, of Mount Brydges, clerk; Rev. G. A. Saunders, of London, next year.

The executive committee will be the moderator, clerk, pastor of the entertaining church, Rev. W. C. Riddell, and D. H. Gillies, of London.

Favor Temperance.
Strong resolutions indorsing the general temperance movement, the social service program, and McMaster University forward movement, were enthusiastically adopted.

By a standing vote the delegates adopted a resolution expressing their appreciation of Dr. Parmer's scholarly and inspiring messages about the death of Christ.

There were a large number of cattle left over at the close of the market. Butcher's cattle, choice, sold at $7.00 to $7.50; medium, from $6.50 to $7.00; and common, from $6.00 to $6.50. Good butchers' cows, ranging from $3.00 to $6.25, and common cows, from $2.00 to $3.50. Milk and springers, sold from $1.50 to $2.50, according to quality.

The Bookkeeper Bought a Burroughs

"What are the best terms you'll make me?" said the bookkeeper of a store in Coffeeville, Mississippi.

The Burroughs man told him, and he bought—paid for a Burroughs out of his salary.

His boss wanted to "wait awhile."

The bookkeeper knew he would not only be worth more to the store, but that he would free his mind of the drudgery—he would have time to think—to improve—to grow into a bigger man and into a bigger job and a bigger salary, if he had a Burroughs Assistant.

No machine built will do as much for the bookkeeper and for the business as will the Burroughs Duplex—a machine that compares with the ordinary adding machine as two men with one.

We would like to show you and every bookkeeper how this Duplex will do two jobs at once.

Send for Duplex Folder, or ask for demonstration—free, of course.

WALLS—THOMSON.
Denfield, June 12.—A quiet but very pretty June wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Walls, Denfield, recently, by Rev. C. J. Moorhouse, when their eldest daughter, Nellie, was married to Mr. Samuel Thomson, of Denfield.

The bride looked charming in white embroidered veil, trimmed with Maltese lace and duchess satin, with a veil and carried a beautiful bouquet of bridal roses. Amid the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Olive Hargrave, the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, took her place under an arch on the veranda, which was handsomely decorated for the occasion.

The bride was attended by Miss Marion Prest, while Mr. John Walls (brother of the bride) assisted the groom.

After the ceremony all assembled in the dining-room, where a dainty luncheon was served, after which the happy couple left in a touring car for London, Hamilton, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

As an illustration, you may read the following, which was received a few days ago:

Mrs. John Wright, 52 McGee street, Toronto, Ont., states: "We have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for ten years, and would not be without them. My husband suffered from kidney trouble, and after taking treatment from several doctors without receiving any benefit, tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which worked a complete cure. ANOTHER PUZZLE FOR CITY DADDIES

Some Doubt as to What Body Can Appoint a Wiring Inspector.

ORDER FIRE SUPPLIES

Fire Committee Decides To Offer For Sale the Old Chemical Engine.

Just where the city "gets off all" in reference to the appointment of an electric wiring inspector is puzzling some of the gentlemen who designate themselves "city fathers." Some time ago the hydro-electric power commission communicated with the city and asked that an inspector be appointed. Wednesday night there was a second communication before the fire and light committee. This was from Manager Gault, of the city hydro department. He intimated that it was an appointment of the city, and that under the new law passed at the last session of the legislature, the appointment of inspectors was under the jurisdiction of the hydro commission and that a uniform system was being used. As the committee has no way of checking up on the manager's assertion, so until such time as they are the question will remain in abeyance.

DARING HOLD-UP

Highwaymen Robbed Passengers on Street Car in Vancouver.

[Canadian Press.] Vancouver, June 12.—An interurban car on the Burnie Line, in the South Vancouver district, was held up near here last night, and the car crew and passengers robbed. Two masked men boarded the car at McRae road and instantly commanded the conductor to stop the car. Then lining up the passengers on the street, one rifled their pockets while the other covered them with a gun.

Was Troubled With His Heart. HAD TO GIVE UP WORK.

When the heart begins to beat irregularly, palpitates and throbs, skips beats, and sometimes seems to almost stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm. Many people are kept in a state of morbid fear of death, become weak, worn out and miserably and are unable to attend to either social or business duties, through this unnatural action of the heart.

To all such sufferers Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief.

Mr. Alfred Male, Elmdo, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with my heart for two or three years. I thought sometimes that I would die. I went to the doctor, and he said he could not do anything for me. I had to give up work. My wife persuaded me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. The first box relieved me, so I kept on until I had taken seven boxes, and they cured me, as you can see by their weight in gold. I advise my friends and neighbours who are troubled with heart or nerve trouble to try them."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents a box, 3 boxes for $1.25, all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Was Troubled With His Heart. HAD TO GIVE UP WORK.

When the heart begins to beat irregularly, palpitates and throbs, skips beats, and sometimes seems to almost stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm. Many people are kept in a state of morbid fear of death, become weak, worn out and miserably and are unable to attend to either social or business duties, through this unnatural action of the heart.

Don't Swat the Fly!

He's a deadly gentleman—a dirty tramp—at best, and not at all the proper playmate for your children. His manoeuvres in a dining-room may be entertaining, but the pest has got no manners. Invite him in today, by the open door or window, and he'll have all his friends and relations (even into the thirtieth and fortieth generation), buzzing around your shack tomorrow, the same as if he owned it. And the whole breed will drop muck from their scow-like feet into your broth when they're not dancing a jig on your butter. Keep the disease-promotor out. The will do that for you. Once it's on the nerviest fly can't get his eye-lash in. It keeps him outside, where he belongs. The Ferguson Screen is built on a new principle. The frame is done away with. The main body of the screen is one clear strip of wire cloth, which cannot shut out the light or obscure the vision. There is nothing about this screen to get out of order. Whether in use or not, it is always on its place outside the sash. The sash can be raised any height desired, from quarter of an inch to 18 inches, the screen fitting snugly, it does not matter what position the window may be in. When you want to close the window you don't have to take screen out. It occupies its place permanently.

If you want a perfect screen, perfectly made, of high-grade materials—a real Fly-Defier—you will buy the Ferguson Screen.

PRICE: 50 CENTS AND UP.
