THE GREAT AUSTRIAN SURGEON; HIS METHODS AND PERSONALITY

Dr. Lorenz Described by Mr. G. M. Reid, of This City.

Interesting Features of Vienna and Its People.

Mr. George M. Reid, of this city, during his three months' sojourn in Vienna, this year, enjoyed intimate relations with the great Dr. Lorenz, whose exponent of bloodless surgery, whose visit to America last year created a sensation in the medical world. He is described by Mr. Reid as a man of imposing presence, about six feet in stature, slim rather than portly, but with a build, very erect in his bearing, with a

Dr. Lorenz of Vienna.

This cut is reproduced from an auto-graph photo presented by the famous surgeon to Miss Margery Reid, of this city. Peculiarly winning expression, which reflects a most lovable personality. "He is a delightful man in every respect," said Mr. Reid to an Advertiser reporter who questioned him about the famous surgeon. "He speaks English very well among other accomplishments. He is thoroughly in love with his work, and no one could be more indifferent to the pecuniary side of it. What to charge for his skill and advice is the hard part of his profession, he told me. As you are probably aware Dr. Lorenz is a specialist in bony diseases and all deformities of the limbs. Patients flock to him from many countries, the majority of them children, though he has effected some remarkable cures in middle-aged people.

"His methods? The patient, on the first visit to Dr. Lorenz's institute, or suite of offices, is thoroughly examined by Dr. Lorenz himself, who takes complete notes. He is then sent to the private sanitarium and operated upon by Dr. Lorenz, the surgeon's summer residence, which is a beautiful building in the city. The patient is then sent to the doctor's institute and is treated daily by massages. Dr. Lorenz also handles each patient one day, and the day following, excepting those suffering from certain deformities, are sent to an exercising room where all sorts of mechanical appliances are provided, particular ones being adjusted to particular deformities. The doctor is exceedingly anxious to spare everyone pain and suffering. All his methods are regulated by this desire. As an illustration, he is left to his subordinates; he supervises everything, even the adjustment of the appliances. As an illustration of his kindly and sympathetic nature, I may relate that no matter how busy he is he visits the children in his institute every day at noon and gives each a package of candy.

A BEAUTIFUL CITY. Mr. Reid describes Vienna as a very beautiful city. The Ring, the thoroughfare, the Ringstrasse, is built on the site of the old wall of the city and forms a circle. It is 62 gardens wide and is embellished by splendid rows of trees. Along it are the museums, universities, emperor's palace and the fine buildings generally. Schoenbrunn Park, which is the zoological gardens and the site of the emperor's summer palace, is a wonderful resort. A striking feature is the trees which are trimmed up to a height of forty feet in the form of hedges—huge walls of verdure. The Haupt Allee is a driveway two miles and a half long, so densely shaded by trees that the sunlight cannot enter—a most refreshing stretch in warm weather. The great resort for the masses, the Prater, is a Coney Island for popular amusements and recreations, and is in full swing on holidays and Sundays.

"A Viennese crowd, viewed as a whole, does not impress one as being different from any other crowd. A stranger, especially one from America, is struck by the military bearing of the soldiers everywhere. While liquor drinking is prevalent, there is little or no drunkenness. Coffee is a favorite beverage and the coffee houses are crowded at certain hours of the day. There are no bars; everyone sits down at a table and is served by a waiter. The drinking system is unknown—a good thing, in my opinion. If you asked a man to join you in a cup of coffee or any other beverage he would be offended if you offered to pay for his share. No features about "Buster Brown" comes for two nights, beginning Monday next, special matinee Tuesday, and the feature being the novel comedies which can be enjoyed no matter how often you see it, as the music is of the highest, the blending of the colors of the costumes so pleasing to the eye that one does not tire even with all its gossameriness.

"BUSY ISZY." George Sidney, the little comedian, who has given to the stage a genuine, funny Hebrew character in "Busy Iszy," in the musical comedy of that name, will be seen at the Grand Opera House for three nights, beginning on Wednesday, Sept. 14. Sidney's entrance on the stage is to the accompaniment of a parody on "Mr. Doodle." Sidney's verses are of a topical nature, and the idea is a great winner in that it popularizes the comedian before he has occasion to speak a line of his characterization.

"VIROQUA" Indian Remedy. It is made exactly as the medicine men of the U.S. Indians prepared it for hundreds of years. It is a natural cure for all forms of stomach, liver and kidney troubles. But nature is generous, she gives us a cure for all these troubles.

matter how large the party, each one pays for his own drink and consequently no one drinks more than he wants.

THE COST OF LIVING. The conductors on the street cars expect to be tipped. They are paid only cents per day by the state, which controls the tramway system, and they calculate to make another forty cents in tips. There are much poorer than in America. In fact, the general cost of living in a city in America, of the same size as Vienna, would be decidedly greater. The well-to-do class live in villas, the kitchens facing the street and the fronts looking out on the lawns and gardens in the rear, which are usually very handsome. The bulk of the people, however, live in apartments. Anyone who stays out after 9 o'clock at night has to pay the porter a fee of twenty heller, or about our cents. There are no larch trees in Vienna. Departmental stores are prohibited; every tradesman must confine himself to his special line. For instance, a watchmaker and clockmaker may not sell jewelry, and a jeweler may not sell clocks or watches. The majority of the tradesmen and their families live above their business premises. These are much smaller, on the average, than our own. The windows are attractively dressed, but the stores are disappointing inside, because much of the goods is kept wrapped up. There are exceptions, of course; the leather stores are perhaps the finest in the world.

The Viennese look to be a well-nourished and contented people. I saw no extreme poverty, though it is odd to see a Canadian beggar sitting on a bench in the streets, carrying a begging bag, and doing manual labor in this country. One reason for this is that so many men are taken from the ranks of industry by the military system.

"I saw the emperor frequently in his drives around the city. He is very popular with all classes and there is a fear that when he dies the empire will be in danger of breaking asunder owing to racial discord."

MUSIC AND DRAMA

LONDON OPENS MONDAY NIGHT. The Rodney Stock Company opens Monday night at the London. The company of sixteen people will present "Lost and Won." The vaudeville number lets are exceptionally good. Little Rosette Machan, the 7-year-old singing and dancing child; Cassius Sutton, the baritone soloist; Charles Fitzgerald, pianist; Ed Mills, character comedian, and Miss Myrtle Adell, whose picture appears above.

"HAMLETT." See the ghost walk in "Hamlett" at the Grand Opera, matinee and night, a special feature being the novel manner of introducing the spirit of "Hamlet" father. Edward N. Hoyt, who has starred for several seasons, has been especially engaged for the leading role, and the supporting company, they claim, is excellent.

"BUSTER BROWN." Critics say that one of the enjoyable features about "Buster Brown" which comes for two nights, beginning Monday next, special matinee Tuesday, and the feature being the novel comedies which can be enjoyed no matter how often you see it, as the music is of the highest, the blending of the colors of the costumes so pleasing to the eye that one does not tire even with all its gossameriness.

"BUSY ISZY." George Sidney, the little comedian, who has given to the stage a genuine, funny Hebrew character in "Busy Iszy," in the musical comedy of that name, will be seen at the Grand Opera House for three nights, beginning on Wednesday, Sept. 14. Sidney's verses are of a topical nature, and the idea is a great winner in that it popularizes the comedian before he has occasion to speak a line of his characterization.

THE SPLENDID PIPERS. Those of the Black Watch Know Sixty Different Selections. On great attraction of the Black Watch Band, which is to make a tour of Canada, will be that in addition to the brass band of forty-eight, there will be ten of the royal pipers. The programmes which they have prepared for the various concerts on tour include no less than sixty different selections, which they, of course, play without intermission. It is remarkable that the ordinary piper fifteen or sixteen selections are a considerable tax on the memory, the recollection of the notes of the Black Watch pipers will be apparent. The appearance of the pipers will undoubtedly create the most intense enthusiasm, and in addition to the large number of tunes which they can play, their dances will be of the most inspiring and interesting nature. One of their achievements will be a four-square sword dance, the like of which has never been seen in Canada before. The pipers will appear twice in the programme, and the audience are requested not to unduly lengthen the programme by two encores of the pipers. They appear in a distinctive uniform from the brass band, and their pipers are of scarlet tones, instead of the dark blue and green of the brass band. They will be a very attractive feature of the Black Watch Band's visit to London on Wednesday next.

New Rifle Club Starts With a Good Membership—Recruits at the Barracks.

The latest civilian rifle corps to be formed in the district has for its members the employees of the McClary Manufacturing Company. The organization is known as the McClary Rifle Club, and has as captain, Mr. K. H. Pope; secretary, Mr. George C. King; and treasurer, Mr. Joseph Nicholson. Success is assured the club it started with a membership of 45, but this number has been considerably increased, and it is expected, still further, for the interest among the employees appears to be growing. The members took part in the initial shoot, and while the scores of some were not very high, they were perfectly satisfactory for non-combatants. The fact that some of the marksmen had never handled a rifle before, shows it arranged for this afternoon, when a large contingent of the members are expected to compete. The scores at the initial shoot were:

Mr. K. H. Pope, Captain of the McClary Rifle Club.

Table with 2 columns: Name and Score. Includes Bowden, Secretary King, Rogers, Crawford, Aligrove, Jacob, Webb, Scott, Lee, McKellar, Nobbs, J. Webb, Spencer, Huff.

Michael O'Donoghue, William Johnston, James Dymond and George Woodlett, of the 1st Company, Royal Canadian Rifles, for a three-year term of service.

The Seventh Regiment Band will play each day during fall week from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, at the fair grounds at 1 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Lieut. H. G. Brunton, Twelfth Regiment, York Rangers, has gone to Ottawa for a course of instruction at the Canadian School of Musketry.

Private J. S. Cheney, of No. 1 Company, R. C. R., has been appointed military clerk at Walsley Barracks, with the rank of sergeant. Sgt. Cheney is well known in London. He was formerly a member of the 2nd Battalion, Essex Fusiliers, and a school teacher in Windsor. He succeeds Corporal Scanlon, who recently resigned.

The band of the Seventh Regiment has been engaged to play at the Festival Fair, Friday, Sept. 23.

Col. F. L. Lessard, C.B., Inspector of Cavalry, has been granted leave of absence, with permission to travel abroad.

The official militia list now contains the names of the different cadet corps throughout Canada, together with the names of their captains and lieutenants. This is a move in the right direction, and will do much to encourage esprit de corps among the various organizations, which will some day furnish the material to take the place of those now serving in the active list.

The military writer in the Toronto Star makes an objection to certain names which he has suggested for the names of the different cadet corps. "Tally-ho buglers, who make a practice of sounding regimental calls, are reminded that it is extremely undesirable in a military context, and is open to censure. It would be more in keeping with their dignity as militiamen to refrain from using any of the calls which are used on parade or in the field."

Capt. J. G. Burnham, R. C. R., who has been stationed at Stanley Barracks, Toronto, for the past four years, has been transferred to No. 5 Regimental Depot, Quebec. The change will leave No. 4 company with but two company officers, Capt. LeDuc and Lieut. Butcher. It has not been announced who will succeed Capt. Burnham.

The members of the headquarters militia staff, among them Col. W. H. Cotton, Lieut. Col. Cartwright and Lieut. Col. J. Lyons Biggar and Sir Adolphe Caron, and the hundreds of other military men who visited the Sub-Target Gun camp at the Toronto exhibition this week, expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the results of the test with the new target gun. The camp has been the meeting place of military men throughout the exhibition, and was usually crowded. The sub-target guns were exhibited by members of the regular corps and formed one of the most attractive features of the exhibition.

deposits for the postoffice savings bank. The Army Council have this morning issued orders that all commanding officers will carefully consider the advantages which will thus be offered by the postmaster-general, that they will bring the particulars of the scheme to the notice of all soldiers serving under them, and that they will co-operate with the postal authorities in giving every encouragement to soldiers in the opening of accounts should they desire to do so. In the only fragment of the scheme has been so far experimentally it has met with the greatest success.

Toronto has been credited with many a clever and useful invention in the military, but for ingenuity of construction and death-dealing properties the shell is the most remarkable of man's handiwork. The shell is not only a killing missile, but it is also a fragmenter. A senior officer of the Forty-eight who is an expert in the use of shells, months past on a new form of shell for field guns, which if it fulfills the predictions of the inventor will greatly increase the effect of artillery. The construction of the shell differs from that of anything heretofore attempted in the use of shells. It is of this nature, being a solid forging of hydrocarbon steel, through which are bored two cylindrical holes, filled with a large number of small bullets or slugs. The top of the shell contains a very heavy bursting charge of giant powder, which on ignition not only releases the bullets from their chamber, but creates a dense cloud of white smoke, which will facilitate ranging. Drilled through the length of the shell are small holes, which contain the fuse, which contains the bullets, containing a powerful explosive. Into these holes are inserted the fuse, which causes a secondary explosion, which breaks the shell into hundreds of fragments, and hurls them downwards with terrific force. The effect of this shell, which the employment of a shell would produce upon troops entrenched in the open, is so great, that it is predicted by its use can be expected to be the most effective of any shell yet devised. The effect of being under the fire of common shrapnel, which is only a shell with a heavy and sharp exterior, is to be a very different matter. The bullets perform their ordinary functions while hundreds of broken and jagged pieces of solid shell are searching the trenches of the enemy. The effect of the second explosion is the result of years of extensive study by the city engineers of the Royal Canadian Engineers, and is a thoroughly practical engineering feat. Toronto is proud to have as one of its Canadian engineers, and as a whole, much interest the result of the tests which will shortly be conducted.

Mr. J. K. H. Pope, Captain of the McClary Rifle Club, and treasurer, Mr. Joseph Nicholson. Success is assured the club it started with a membership of 45, but this number has been considerably increased, and it is expected, still further, for the interest among the employees appears to be growing.

It was suggested that the parade be held between representatives of the various denominations, and that the parade be held on the second Sunday in October. HOW TO RAISE HOGS FOR EXPORT. Some Expert Advice As To the Breeding and Feeding.

The farmer should first of all select the best long white sows, and breed them to the best white Yorkshire boar. The pigs coming should be fed as usual, in a field of grass or clover until they weigh about 140 or 150 pounds each, and then they ought to be penned up in a dry, clean pen for about five or six weeks, and the food should be whey, skimmed milk or buttermilk, mixed with ground grain and ground corn. Make the mixture: 25 per cent ground small peas, 25 per cent ground small barley, 25 per cent ground small oats, 25 per cent ground small corn.

All ground grain should be soaked overnight in whey, skimmed milk, buttermilk or water. Hogs will grow better and faster by sowing them clean, and in cold weather and when they are young plenty of straw in one corner of the pen, and feed three times a day. Don't give them more than they comfortably eat up at each meal, and let them be quiet.

THE TRADE REVIEW

Business Conditions In All Sections of the Dominion. Toronto, Sept. 9.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade in Canada says: "There has been further improvement in the wholesale trade situation at Montreal this week. The brighter crop reports from the west have largely contributed to this end. Orders have been coming forward in an encouraging manner, and the general outlook for the fall and early winter trade is, for most departments of business, regarded as particularly promising. It is generally felt now that the damage to the Manitoba wheat crop has been largely exaggerated, but it seems certain, in any event, that the western farmers will receive a much higher price for their wheat than last year, and that will to a large extent serve to offset any decline in the yield below earlier expectations. The values of staple goods and imported lines are firm. New cotton prices have not yet been issued, but are expected soon. Business in Toronto has continued active this week. There have been many buyers in the market, and they have been purchasing liberally for the coming season. The travelers, as a rule, are still in the city, helping with the house sales, which have been heavy, the buying not only showing good general distribution, but it has been of large volume. The buying for shipment to inland water points has been greater, and is expected to show a large increase over the present movement as the end of the season of navigation approaches nearer. The more favorable crop reports from the west have been an additional incentive to buying, while the prosperous conditions in the rich agricultural sections of this province have imparted a greater degree of confidence in trade circles.

At Quebec the business of the week in various lines has been fairly active. The exhibition, which has been in full swing, has been well patronized, and the exhibits in the various departments showed up well. The shoe trade is still very dull, and an improvement is not looked forward to until fall orders come in. Collections are still reported slow. Outside of the coasting trade shipping is extremely slow.

"Clark's Pork and Beans." When Pork and Beans is mentioned one naturally thinks of Clark's, as no other is in the same class. 5 and 10 trade is still very dull, and an improvement is not looked forward to until fall orders come in. Collections are still reported slow. Outside of the coasting trade shipping is extremely slow.

New York, Sept. 10.—The favorable bank statement seems to be well regarded by the financial community, and it is evidently believed that with the surplus reserve, $38,000,000 at this time, no reaction of any kind is to be feared.

Stock exchange is in a very optimistic mood, and as usual under such circumstances looks only at the favorable developments and neglects or minimizes facts as it does not find agreeable. It is hopeful that the favorable condition of our wheat crop will be more than offset by a great increase in the price of cotton.

The proceedings closed with a short speech by Colonel Younghusband. The Dalai Lama is now supposed to be well on his way into Mongolia, and the officials insist that his action amounts to abdication. The administration is now carried on by a council of regency. It is believed that the Tashi Lama will eventually be recognized as the supreme religious leader. Esopus, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Democratic newspapers, representing various parts of the country, and all aspects of the Republican administration, are being visited by J. G. Parker. They were received by the candidate and the visit was a political success. Parker, said he would not discuss the great issues upon which the party confidently expected to win the election. He referred to the Republican platform, which, he said, opened with the declaration of Cleveland's administration, and the growth of expenditures, that it resulted in each instance in cutting down the budget. He urged the control of the executive department of the government below that of the preceding administration; that each succeeding Republican administration after 1863 increased expenses, and, in some instances, so greatly as to indicate reckless extravagance and waste of the people's money. Instead of a surplus of eighty millions, which the present executive found on assuming control, there is now a deficit of forty millions. After a comparison of the Cleveland cabinet and the present cabinet, he said that the latter was a co-operation of all, and the elimination of personal, factional and unimportant differences involving no surrender of principle as essential to success.

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 10.—"I am at peace with the world and my fellow-beings, and now at the age of 95 new sunshine has come into my life, and I trust that no man has days more than I," said Mrs. Mary Corbell after finding her two sons, who had been lost for 48 years. It was at a family reunion which took place a few miles out of Asheville between Mrs. Mary Corbell and her sons, Philip and Russell. The sons lived for the number of years stated in ignorance of their mother's whereabouts. Each has amassed a moderate fortune, which they will freely use in providing for their mother's comfort and pleasure in her declining years.

SIGNED TREATY WITH TIBETANS

Yonghusband Crowns British Expedition With Success—Dalai Lama Abdicates.

Lhasa, Sept. 7, via Guangtse, Sept. 8.—Colonel Younghusband, head of the British mission and the Tibetan officials signed a formal treaty today in the apartments of the Dalai Lama, Potala. The ceremony was simple, and was conducted amid quiet and picturesque surroundings. The terms of the treaty were read out only in the Tibetan language, and its details will be published later by the foreign office at Simla. The proceedings closed with a short speech by Colonel Younghusband. The Dalai Lama is now supposed to be well on his way into Mongolia, and the officials insist that his action amounts to abdication. The administration is now carried on by a council of regency. It is believed that the Tashi Lama will eventually be recognized as the supreme religious leader. The arrangements of the return of the British mission are complete.

KNOCKING ROOSEVELT

Nominee Parker Flakes a Speech on Republican Extravagance.

Esopus, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Democratic newspapers, representing various parts of the country, and all aspects of the Republican administration, are being visited by J. G. Parker. They were received by the candidate and the visit was a political success. Parker, said he would not discuss the great issues upon which the party confidently expected to win the election. He referred to the Republican platform, which, he said, opened with the declaration of Cleveland's administration, and the growth of expenditures, that it resulted in each instance in cutting down the budget. He urged the control of the executive department of the government below that of the preceding administration; that each succeeding Republican administration after 1863 increased expenses, and, in some instances, so greatly as to indicate reckless extravagance and waste of the people's money. Instead of a surplus of eighty millions, which the present executive found on assuming control, there is now a deficit of forty millions. After a comparison of the Cleveland cabinet and the present cabinet, he said that the latter was a co-operation of all, and the elimination of personal, factional and unimportant differences involving no surrender of principle as essential to success.
