He is also charged with having on the 15th of February, 1903, sworn falsely to a statement of the company's assets and liabilities to deceive the public.

On being asked to plead, Mr. Wickett, solicitor for Mr. Rowley, entered a plea of "not guilty," and stated that he wished as speedy a trial as possible, suggesting two weeks from Monday next. The County Crown Attorney agreed, and Judge Ermatinger therefore named Monday, July 20, at 10 a.m., as the date for the trial.

Mr. Donahue remarked that the list of charges was sufficient grounds for RUSSIA PLUNDERS CHINESE. Spite of Protest of British and American Financiers.

Shanghai, July 6. - The Bankers Commission met on Monday to fix the Commission met on Monday to fix the rate of exchange at which, the half year's indemnity is payable. The current rate of the tael in exchange was two shillings and four pence. The commission, adopting the Russian proposal, decided by a vote of the majority to claim payment at two shillings and three pence, an arbitrary rate, fixed without consulting the Chinese, who have no means of protesting or of contesting the decision. The difference in the amount involves a total loss to the Chinese Government of £40,000 in the half year's account. Russia alone benefits to the extent of 80,000 taels. In whatever light this is regarded, such methods, amounting to an organized attempt at plundering a defenceless debtor, are unworthy of the representatives of a great nation, and afford moral justification to the Chinese in maintaining their refusal to pay gold. The American and British delegates demurred to fixing this rate, the latter, on behalf of the Hong Kong-Shanghai Bank, recording a formal protest. rate of exchange at which the half

NEW PASTOR HAS CHARGE

Introductory Services of Rev. T. C. Malott at Victoria Avenue Church

mpressive Sermon in the Evening-Asks the Congregation to Aid in Church Upbuilding.

Large congregations greeted Rev T. C. Malott at both services yesterday, his first day in Victoria avenue Methodist church as successor to Rev. T. T. George, the former highly esteemed pastor.

Rev. T. C. Malott has a good ad dress, an exceedingly distinct and clear voice and a pleasing way.

At the evening service yesterday he introduced himself as the new pastor of the church, he desired to be useful in the hands of God in building up believers in the faith. The hearty co-operation of all connected with the church he felt was heartily assured and asked for the prayers of the congregation for the succes of the church work. He asked for large attendances at the week night services. In his opinion, they were more valuable in spiritual develop ment than any other service. He wished to be notified of anyone being

Taking his text from St. Luke 2 49, "I must be about my Father's business," Rev. Mr. Malott gave short 20 minute address. "I must be about my Father's busi ness." These are the first words of Jesus recorded in the Bible. He was Jesus recorded in the Bible. He was at Jerusalem at the great festival at the time of speaking and had remained behind after his parents had returned home. When they returned to look for Him, they found Him with the learned doctors questioning and answering questions and when asked why he had not returned home he said 'wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business.' If this was our first thought, as it was Jesus, what a difference it would make. There would be none of those colorless vapid filves which we see about us to-day. When Jesus said He must be about his Father's business He did not mean that of His earthly must be about his Father's business He did not mean that of His earthly father, carpentering, but the lifting of this world Godward. He has honored us by giving us a share in this great business, and to be a success in it we must make haste. What would you think of a man who would wait till forty to start to school or wait till old age to learn a trade. There are a great many who never think of entering God's work until they are in old age. Deliberation is another quality of success. It saves one from rashness, hurry and blunder.

Zeal, too, is necessary to succeed, it is earnestness, fervency of spirit. Progressiveness is always looked for in a business man. If he is a progressive business man he is always enlarging his business in some way. Our Father's business is the greatest in the world to-day; it is the most progressive, and ought to be.

A REAL WAR TEST. French Minister of Marine Believes in Thorough.

New York, July 6.-The Sun has the following special from Paris :- In naval circles comment is aroused by the determination of Camille Pelletan, Mintermination of Camille Pelletan, Minister of Marine, to submit the new and fully up-to-date battleship Suffren to an actual artillery test off Brest. The experiment was at first denounced as sheer madness and wanton extravagance by civilian critics, but the technical naval men now declare that this experiment, as revolutionary as it may seem, is of the highest value, and the decision of the Minister is fully approved. The object of the tests is not to find out whether or not the armored plates of the Suffren's turret can be pierced by the 305 millimetre gun, plates of the Suffren's turret can be pierced by the 305 millimetre gun, which is the most powerful arm possessed by the French navy. That experiment has already been made with the Suffren's turret plates in the usual way at L'Orient, but the idea of the Suffren experiment, during which the Suffren experiment, during which the Massena will actually open fire with her 305 millimetre guns on the Suffren, is to ascertain what effect the 305 millimetre gun will have on the rotary machinery mechanisms of aiming and the general working of the Suffren's turgeneral working of the Suffren's tur-rets when prepared for action. As the shock is the principal element in the test, the Suffren's turret will be covered by supplementary armor as a pro-

A DISGRACE

It seems very strange that in presumably Christian community, such as the Maple City claims, it should be impossible for a pedestrian to walk the streets without experiencing the disgust and annoyance of listening to outbreaks of lusty profanity or coarse obscenity from loitering loafers or loud-talking passersby.

This nuisance is particularly noticeable on Saturday night and it has now come to such a pass that no lady can go abroad in our atreets without assuming the risk of being forced to hear the blasphemous and vile epithets distributed broadcast and with apparently no fear of molestation by these young-and olderrowdies.

Exaggeration? Not a bit of it, more's the pity. It is a regular, common, every day and night occurrence. It is a disgrace-one of the most humiliating characteristics of Chat-ham, and one that is being advertised by every disgusted visitor who has patrolled our streets.

Silence has been observed in dealing with this matter long enough. It is now quite evident that nothing will be done so long as publicity, with its accompanying unpleasantness and ugly reputation-giving effects, is denied.

The loathsome practice must be stopped-and The Planet proposes to unhesitatingly do its part to stop it. The city pulpits might do some vigorous home mission work, and the Police Commissioners might-and ought -to give strength to the arms of the police by some strong, vigorous, unmistakeable resolutions.

THE RADIAL RAILROAD

On Thursday next the bill granting a charter to the proposed Kent and Chatham electric railroad will come before the Senate for approval. The good offices of Mcssrs. Geo. Stephens, M. P., James Clancy, M. P., and Arch. Campbell, M. P., have been secured, and it is to be hoped that the enterprise will not be blocked by the Sen-

The project is essentially one contributing not only to the advancement of this district but to the welfare of the whole Dominion. The granting of the Dominion charter will place the promoters in a better position in negotiating with the trunk lines and do much to facilitate the successful culmination of the enterprisc.

The project is one which has the hearty endorsation and support of the people throughout the entire district and the securing of the charter would be universally popular. The granting of franchises by the municipalities would immediately follow, as it is felt that the road would be an immense advantage to the whole district and do much to develop all industries and commercial progress.

The refusal of the charter would be a serious blow to the people of this district. It would practically mean the abandonment of the project. Consequently the course of the Senate and our representatives will be watched with deep interest-and the earnest hope is expressed that they do their duty by the people of this Peninsula.

PAVEMENT PROBLEM.

To the Editor of The Planet: In reading over the newspaper reports of the special meeting of the City Council, I notice that reflection is sought to be cast upon the business methods of the Dominion Paving and Contracting Company in connection with Queen street pavement

As one directly interested in the work and strongly in favor of a brick pavement, I feel myself called upon to answer the arguments advanced by those who are now petitioning the Council to substitute a bitulithic pavement for brick pavement.

From conversations had with those directly interested and from their course of action in the matter, I have every reason to believe that the greater portion of those now asking for bitulititic pavement are still of the opinion that the brick pavement is the better for the work in question, and that their action in petitioning the Council to substitute bitulithic for brick, is more a matter of pique than anything else. If the facts be properly looked at I feel that all persons concerned will readily see that the Dominion Paving and Contracting Company are not at all to blame in the course that they have pursued in this matter, and for this reason, as one directly interested in the work and desirous of seeing a brick pavement put down on Queen and Fourt streets, because of the honest belief that it is the better pavement for the work, I desire to take up some of your valuable space by stating the facts as I know them.

Bago for two years and could not do my work. I was also suffering from urinary troubles and had to get up at night so much that my rest was spoiled.

"I bought one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and after I had used them began to see and feel a change. I have used three boxes and T am now cured."

About the end of May last, Mr. Kennea, the foreman for the Dominion Paving and Contracting Company, was approached by ratepayers directly interested and urged to state a price for 4-inch comerete and brick pavement. He desired to submit the matter to Mr. VanVleck, the president of, the company at Toronto, but those who approached him in the matter demurred to this step, on the ground of delay and the necessity—as they said—for having a letter stating the price for use in canvassing the ratepayers interested for their signatures to a petition for brick pavement on concrete foundation, to over-ride the attempts that were then being made by others inter-tion, to over-ride the attempts that were then being made-by others interested to secure the necessary petition for the bitulithic pavement. Under these circumstances, Mr. Kennea, without consulting the president of the company, authorized a letter given the price at 4.85 research a variety.

without consulting the presented of the company, authorized a letter giving the price at $1.85 per square yard, assumed to be based upon the actual costs of doing the work at the time the figure was given.

This letter, I am informed, was used for the purpose of securing signatures to the petition, but since that time the company have never received contract for the work, and prices both for material and labor have materially advanced, putting it out of the power of the company to proceed with the work which they were quite prepared to do at the time, had the contract been awarded them. His letter quoting $1.85 per square yard, was based upon 5-inch concrete, whereas specifications upon which their recent tender was made, called for a 6-inch concrete—a very materials assumed the secret of the work the secret of the work assumed.

whereas specifications upon which their recent tender was made, called for a 6-inch concrete—a very imaterial change in the cost of the work. At the time the figure was given, I am creditably informed that the company was in a position to purchase necessary brick at a price of ten cents per square yard less than it can now be procured for, and in addition to this, labor has advanced from 15 cents to 20 and 22 cents per hour. Any reasonable ratepayer, taking all these facts into consideration and doing a little figuring on his own account, can easily see that the tender of $2.08 per square yard, put in by the company, is a fair and reasonable one, and I am sure that the work done by the company on William and Sixth streets—particularly when compared with that done by another company on King street—should result in the Dominion Company securing the confract for a brick pavement from all right thinking people.

In the proceedings of the City Council at the special session on Friday night, tenders for exactly similar work with like specifications for Thames street were opened, when the lowest tender was found to be $2.23 per square yard, and the Council at once accepted the tender of these tenderers, Messrs. Blight & Fielder therefor. This should have a direct bearing, considering the honesty and reasonableness of the tender made by tenderers, Messrs. Blight & Fielder therefor. This should have a direct bearing, considering the honesty and reasonableness of the tender made by by the Dominion Company of $2.08 per square yard for the Queen street pavement. Enquiry from material men and those employing labor will promptly satisfy those interested, that there is an advance in prices quite warranting the increase in the tender for the work.

I trust that upon reflection, the ratepayers will see their way clear, to proceed with the brick pavement, and to give the work to a company that has shown itself to be quite equal to it, and whose work has commended itself to those concerned in the city's welfare, and now stands as the best paving improvement that the city of Chatham has ever put down or undertaken.

BUILT UP THE SYSTEM AND ADDED TEN POUNDS IN WEIGHT.

Mr. Ed. J. Harris, Newbridge, Ont., was in poor health, but has now been restored to full health and vigor. Here is what he writes us: "Last spring I was in a very critical condition, my system was all run down. I felt drowsy and miserable, and thought I would surely die if I did not get something to build me up. After reading one of your almanacs I decided to try Burdeck Blood Bitters, and before I had taken two bottles I had gained ten pounds in weight, and am new in perfect health, and I can certainly recommend Burdock Blood Bitters to build up the system."

WERE MEN

"No worse, I'll bet, than I am at having been scared back to camp by such a bogy."

"I felt so ashamed," continued Brainard, "that I really wished there might be soldiers somewhere in the neighborhood to give me some honest excuse for being frightened. My wish was gratified pretty soon, for after gother alone pratty lively for a few mining along pretty lively for a few min-utes I heard 'Halt' right in front of me as a couple of men sprang from a fence corner. Awfully hard to swallow one's heart sometimes, isn't it? I soon saw, however, in spite of the semidarkness, that they weren't dressed like Johnnies, se I swallowed my heart and gave them the countersign. Then they asked me if I had seen any cavalry in the woods. Three of the general's orderlies in succession had tried to reach the center and had been frightened into returning. So, you see, you and I and the man who started before us are not without company."

"Ye-es," I replied. But the information didn't comfort me much. Brainard had succeeded. I hadn't. That reflection filled my mind to the exclusion of all others. Brainard went on:

"I found the headquarters in two or three minutes, passing through a road full of men who had been posted to repel an expected cavalry dash. There was a half battery of artillery with them. The general, too, was awake and nervous—all on account of those three horses standing knee deep in a brook and shaking in their har-ness! The general kept me until dawn to bring back some dispatches. But here I am."

The lucky little rascal! At least men

CHAPTER XVIII.

AGAIN THE UNEXPECTED.

FTER the night riding at which I failed and Brainard succeeded we spent several days in worrying the enemy on our front, but when several cavalry dashes on a single day proved to us that the enemy had become weary of us and had abandoned the vicinity we all went back to camp and began to do our spring housecleaning. This work was greatly needed, for only the make believe sick men had occupied the camp in the last fortnight, and they made the place look like a lot of houses that had been abandoned to tramps. In-deed, in later days I've been compelled to believe that the war was the origin of the great army of tramps that has invested and infested the country ever since 1865.

After careful inspection our colonel decided that the best way to have a clean camp was to make a new one, so he formally asked for ground for the purpose, but the general said that all the troops at the post would have to make new camps elsewhere very soon, for since our trouble with Longstreet the war department had determined that the post was not worth the cost of holding it. Further, General Hal-leck, the president's right hand milltary adviser, declared that he could not understand why the post was ever occupied.

When this information reached us, all of us were amazed and disgusted. We had gone out almost a year before to help save the Union. We had spent all our time and suffered innumerable discomforts, privations and fears. Now, according to the highest authorities, we might as well have remained at Clovne, Brainard and I held an indignation meeting over it, and Cloyne moved formally that we join the Mick McTwyny gang and assist big Pat Callahan in cursing the government, but Brainard objected, saying that governments, being human, bad to learn some things by experience, and as on general principles I always sided with Brainard, Cloyne's resolution was voted down by a two-thirds metosity.

majority. Meanwhile preparations for evacuating the post had been made. The heavy artillery was removed, one regi-ment after another followed it, and finally there came an early July morn-ing when we were informed we were to pack our own effects at once and be ready to abandon camp.

Up to that time we had supposed that our effects were only what could be carried on our horses, but some of us soon learned to our sorrow that we had accumulated enough stuff to load balt a dozen horses. I, for one, had collected at least a ton of war relics, tanging in weight from a Johnny's fron stirrup to unexploded shells and solid shot weighing a hundred pounds. All of this old iron lay in a row on the All or this old from lay in a row on the topmost log of our room and directly over the inner edge of my bunk. I tried to bribe teamsters to provide transportation; I even labored with the sergeant of our howltzer battery, hoping to coax him to carry them in unoccupied corners of his gun calssons, but he, too, was obdurate—he had luggage of his own—so I had to content myself by selecting a single three inch shell that could go in my box of extra clothing without exciting suspicion by its $500 Reward for Women Who Cannot be Cured.

Who Cannot be Oured.

Proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Evorite Presc'ption now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"My wife was sick for over eight years," writes Albert H. Fulte, Esq., of Altamont, Grundy Co., Tenn. "She had terine disease and was treated by two physicians and got rease and was treated by two physicians and got rease and the stream of the decided to try his 'Favorite Prescription, we decided to try his 'Favorite Prescription, sent to the drug store and got one bottle and the sent dose gave ease and sleep. She had not slept any for three nights. Being sure that it would cure her I sent for five more bottles and when she had taken the sixth bottle she was sound and well."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

instead of being relieved, were entirely withdrawn, and the relief was posted within a quarter of a mile of the main body of the regiment. The men on these new posts were relieved at 8 in the morning by members of a single troop, which happened to be our own. From the new outposts—I was the corporal in charge of one and Brainard of another-we were soon drawn in to

given to prepare to fire the houses, stables, etc. The signal, the officers told us, would be the fall of the camp flagstaff, at which a man with an ax already stood, while the entire band, mounted, stood near by, playing "Auld Lang Syne." To prepare for firing camp was simple enough. It was merely to "stand by" with matches ready to light, for every bunk was of pine and contained a mattress full of hay, straw or leaves that had been well sunned and seasoned. The walls were of pine, and so were the roofs. No plaster or partitions could delay the spread of flame, and everything was as dry as a July sun could make it.

Down crashed the pole, hundreds of matches cracked, and the band began playing some solemn music, familiarly known as "Old Hundredth," and then dashed into "There's No Luck About the House," for "A Hot Time In the Old Town" had not yet been written. In a moment all the men were hurry-ing to the stables, where the horses stood all saddled. Orders had already been given to dash to the road as soon as mounted; the guidon bearers were already there as rallying points for the men of their respective troops. Already flames poured from the windows of all the houses and even from some of the roofs. The remaining hay in camp had been thrown by the stable orderlies upon the pine brush roofs of the stables. The instant a stable was entirely cleared of horses the roof was lighted and the fire quickly spread.

The spectacle that followed was as good as a fight, so some of our lest fighting men said. At least 60 buildings were aflame, and 900 mounted men were dashing between and around them in their effort to reach the road. Some of the slower men were obliged to make a detour of half a mile, for the heat of that aggregation of burn-ing pine was intense, even to men already in the road.

VALUE OF COURTESY.

Governer-General's Recent Good Advice to Toronte School Boys-Others on That Virtue.

on That Virtue.

Lord Minto recently gave some good advice to the school-boy cadets in Toronto. "Be courteous" was the main tenor of his brief but seasonable speech. His Excellency said: "Both pupils and teachers ought to remember that it is not the actual education, but the training of the general character which tends to insure the success of the race. With all the self-reliance that marks a new country like this, it would be well to remember the generous traditions and the courteous manners of the Old Country. There was sometimes a tendency to demonstrate self-reliance by a want of respect to fellow-menand to those in authority. While he was a believer in self-reliance and in the words of the poot:

"The rank is but the guines's stawn."

"The rank is but the guinea's stamp, The man's the gowd for a' that," he thought one was much more like by to succeed by learning respect to those above and courteous manners. Respect was not at all an imitation of servility, and he felt sure that the younger generation would benefit by studying the generous traditions of the Old World to which he had already alluded."

studying the generation would beneat by studying the generous traditions of the Old World to which he had already alluded."

This advice implied no reflection on His Excellency's public school audience. But it was timely, and, if what has been remarked by other observers be true, it touched one of the infirmities of Canadian youth. The Canadian boy has a fair average of virtues. He is probably neither better nor worse than other boys; but in a country described by an ominent publicist as "rough, raw and democratic," juvenile gfaces of behavior will always stand in need of cultivation. It is well to see ourselves as others see us and not to be over-sensitive of the criticism. Dr. Newman Hall, the famous preacher of Surrey Chapel, who labored among the working classes and the slums of London, once said that Canadians could learn something of respect for their elders from the poorest lads in his parish. The gallery witticisms of a university convocation are too often the acme of rudeness, although probably not so intended. The President of Princeton College was so "roughed" on one of these occasions in Toronto that he was forced to bring his address to a close. The late Premier, Mr. Hardy, was similarly treated. Lord and Lady Aberdeen, most kindly critics of anything Canadian, more than once was similarly treated. Lord and Lady Aberdeen, most kindly critics of anything Canadian, more than once hinted that youthful respect for age and authority in this country might be very fluch improved. "Courtesy and a consideration for the feelings of others is one of the best tests of a gontleman," was the fit rebuke of a Toronto college professor to his ill-mannered, unruly class Obedience is on the same plane, and it was ill-mannered, unruly class. Obedience is on the same plane, and it was impressed on the cadets by Earl Dundonald. "They must remember," he said, "that no man ever became great in commanding others who did not first learn to obey. The man who could not obey could never command." And he might have added that the courteous youth is never slow to obey in either civil or milision.

ed that the courteous youth is never slow to obey in either civil or military life.

In his "Recollections of an exFrench Master in England," Max O'Rell says: "I have often been asked the question, 'Are English boys better or worse than French ones?
Well, I believe the genus boy to be pretty much the same all the world over. Their characteristics do not show in the same way, because educational systems are different. They cational systems are different. They are both inclined to bestow their affection and respect on the man who is possessed of moral and intellectual power; it is in their nature to love and respect what is powerful, lofty and good. Boys are what masters make them."

has been sent us from Montreal we has been sent us from Montreal we learn that orders have been placet with the Slater Shoe Company, of Montreal, for repeats of footwear similar to that with which Strath-cona's Horse and the Canadian Mounted Eifles were equipped during the late South African war. It is stated that these goods stood so well the test imposed upon them that many a man wore one pair of boots throughout the campaign, and sold his second, one reserve pair to the less fortunate Tommies shod in the invincible and unyielding ammunition boot of the English Army. The boot less fortunate Tömmies shod in the invincible and unyielding ammunition boot of the English Army. The boot is cut from chrome tan calf, machine welted and machine stitched aloft to the hee! A correspondent, who has carefully examined it, says the upper is delightfully soft and pliable, yet so tough that even spear grass does not cut it. More than can be said of the uppers of the War Office pattern. The boot is similar to that wora by the American army in China, and which English officers in the Indian army declare to be perfect for marching purposes. The same reason is given for the native preference for the Cawnpore boot. It is not étaimed that it is half as well made as ours, or that the material is as good, but the fact remains that it is assier in wear and is generally liked. Evidence of this kind is so tons ant that we wonder how much longer it is to be ignored, or when liked. Evidence of this kind is so constant that we wonder how much longer it is to be ignored, or when Pall Mail will be up-to-date, and give English makers a chance of supplying a light machine-welted army boot. Not, we fear, until the whole place has been swept and garnished by men who really understand their business."

FATAL ACCIDENT

George Simmons, a colored man living on the 11th concession, Chatham township, met with an accident on Saturday from the effects of which he died yesterday. He was working in a sawmill on the 10th concession, and was engaged in cutting up slabs into pickets when the board he was sawing became caught in the saw and flew up, striking him in the jaw.

Dr. Hall was summoned and he found that both of the unfortunate man's jaws were broken and forced back to the base of the skuil. Simmons lived just 12 hours after the accident occurred.

The deceased man was 52 years of age and leaves a widow and family mourn his loss. He was born in Tennessee and has been a resident of Chatham township for some time. He was in religion a Union Baptist. The funeral will be held to-morrow.

the handsomest and most modern of the many splendid structures on Chatham's business street. The plock is a three story building and has many original features. The rooms are all bright, airy, well lighted and elaborately finished in quartered oak. The lighting of this block was the most difficult problem that the architects had to contend with but this has been successfully overcome and the result is that the block is one of the best lighted in the city. Owing to the high brick walls that surrounded the site of the Sheldrick block, it took considerable thinking to secure daylight from the rear, but the architect has secured splendid results.

The ground floor is occupied by Mr. Sheldrick's tailoring establishment as a show and fitting room. The workshop is on the top floor to the rear and communication is had with the workshop by means of a dumb waiter and a speaking tube. The ground floor is handsomely furnished. There is a chosed show case for fine imported blue and black goods. There is a well appointed fitting room in which customers can try on their suits. The large plate glass front is one of the finest features of this store and is something new. The plate glass in any other window in the store and the store is dressed right up to the window. The result is novel but attractive. Another original feature is Mr. Sheldrick's sign plate. It is painted on plate glass and makes a conspicuous and artistic sign. The work was done by Albert Trato.

The first and second floors are fitted with large roomy vaults. Houston, Stone & Scane, Frank P. Weldon and J. W. Humphrey all have nice roomy offices. Houston & Co. have a suite of offices at the front. The third floor has the workshop at the rear. There are three nice rooms at the front. Miss Hill and Miss Edna Martin have each engaged one of these rooms for a studio and the other has not yet been 'taken.

Mr. Sheldrick is to be complimented on his fine new block. It is an architectural triumph.

POCKET BOOK FOUND

Another link in connection with the Rankin House robbery mystery comes to hight. Thomas Whelan, a Harwing the Harmer residing at Vosburg, about six mites east of Chatham, while walking on the railway track on the Sunday morning following the night of the robbery, found a torn pocket book. On examining he found written on the inside W. R. Peck, Rankin House, Chatham, 1893. YOUNG LIVES CUT OFF.

Victims of the Swimming Season Port Carling, July 5.-A drowning eccident occurred here last night about 6 o'clock, by which Mr. W. E. Moore, aged thirty one years, of this place, lost his life. He had been in bath-ing is Thompson's Lake, and was ing in Thompson's Lake, and was paddling around the lake in a boat with his wife. When near the shore he jumped into the water, saying he would swim ashore. Appearing to be in distress his wife handed him a paddle, but he must have taken cramps, for he was not able to help himself. He sank at once, and did not come up again. The body was recovered this morning and taken to Saintfield, Ont., for burial. Mr. Moore came here from Toronto this spring and rented a farm.

Though hovering on the brink of death, the life of the Pontiff is still prolonged by means of strong stimulants and concentrated nourishment, and while he is still alive, his wonderful vitality may again resist and conquer the attack of this illness. Late last evening, after the excitement of the ceremony of the last sacraments was over, the Pope seemed less restless, partly soothed by the religious service and partly by a dose of chloroform which was given to him in considerable quantity. The Pontiff is lying on a small bed drawn up to a window overlooking the plaza of St. Peter's. The chamber is very large, and draped with green curtains. The only picture in the room is an antique Madonna, and the sole ornament a great ivory crucifix.

IMMENSE WATERSPOUT

TERRIBLE LOSS OF LIFE AT GREENSBURG, PA.

Greensburg, Pa., July 6.-A waterspout of immense proportions struck in the vicinity of Oakford Park at 4 yesterday and created flood that caused great loss of life and property. It is known that at least twenty persons lost their lives, and rumors place the number of dead at rumors place the number of dead at more than 100, but up to a late hour to-night only three or four bodies have been recovered, having been washed to the banks of the little creek that runs parallel with the park. The names of those known and believed to have been drowned are:

Council Light, wife and two children of Greenburg.

At 3 o'clock rain began to fall in torrents in the vicinity of the park and spread over territory covering probably ten miles. Half an hour later the cloudburst occurred. The waters in the lake north of Oakford Park began to rise, and Manager Jas. McGrath, believing there was danger of a final break in the great walls of the dam, hurried among the crowds of pleasure-seekers who had gathered under the roofs of the eating stands, the dancing pavilion and other buildings, and warned them to run to the hills. On both sides of the pleasure grounds are high hills, the park being located in a ravine, about a quarter of a mile wide and a mile long. The people were loath to leave their protection, and not until Mr. McGrath and his assistant, Charles. E. Thomas, entered each building in turn and simply drove the crowds out into the rain did they realize that the managers, were in earnest. The gathering flood meant the breaking of the wall that held five acres of water. Soon after the buildings had been cleared the waters swept over the wall of the dam, and in a moment a torrent of water was racing over the entire length of 400 feet of the dam. The park buildings, the merry-go-round, and other amusement places were twisted about and all but the dancing pavilion and lunch stand were carried from their foundations.

Alex. Jamieson had a white and colored man call on his livery stable on Wellington St. to-day, whom he thinks are the two the Collingwood police have been looking for. Mr. Jamieson says they answer the description of the pair. They got a drink of water and then began inquiring the way to Dresden. They said they were going to that town.

Clarence Tickner saved a horse from drowning on Saturday. He is driving a rig for the Chatham Mfg. Co., and was delivering some wood at the residence of Mr. Lamont, Thames St. Mr. Lamont's yard is on the river bank and when the horse got nicely into the yard he backed into the river and horse and rig disappeared beneath the water. Clarence is an expert swimmer. He plunged below the water, cut the horse loose and helped it out. Then, securing a lifting boat, Tickner raised the wagon. In freeing the horse the plucky 'swimmer was kicked on the thigh by the horse.

SWITCHMAN KILLED. Charles Hodgins Caught in a Frog at Windsor

Windsor, July 6.-Charles Hodgins, switchman in the Grand Trunk yards here, met death in a horrible form last night. He had just given a signal to the engineer of one of the yard engines to back down when his foot was caught in an open frog directly in front of the engine. There was no one near at the time, and, on account of escaping steam, the engineer tailed to hear his cries to stop. The wheels passed entirely over his body, which was ground literally into a pulp. Hodgings was 23 years of age, and unmarried. Coroner Bell, who was called, has empanelled a jury and will hold an inquest to-morrow evening.

Chief, Mr. R. A. Stupart, Is the Mest Emiment Authority in the Country-Outmeets of the Weather Man-Distribut-Sing the News - The Cones and the Drams-History of the Bureau-Two Minds of Weather Talk

Taking about the weather has long been considered one of the most commonplace, puerilo of occupations. For generations the faturative of remarks such as "Hot example of overlay" or "See any most common to the com His views on the shifting conditions which combine to give us our weather are published in every daily peaper in Canada, and a few remarks on the manner in which these opinions are formed and how disseminated cannot fail to be of interest. Outposts of the Weather Man.

From Dawson City to Cape Breton Canada is dotted with meteorologi-cal stations, established, as nearly and spessible, at regular intervals. Of these there are five kinds, classified executing to the importance of the www.rk they do. Altogether there are 2223 of these weather watch-towers, www.ence scientific soldiers, armed watch weapons of precision, send in amounts of the movements of the enerange, the weather. In 244 of these ratations the observers are volun-dieses, most of whom are gentlemen and scientific proclivities. The Government, through the Central Burcomment, through the Central Burcomment at Toronto, provides them with the mecessary instruments, and in rethe information he needs. In a few ling athouses and ports in the far mosth, small sums are paid for the resports, and in the other stations strained weather men are employed.
From 36 stations in Canada and 60 first the United States despatches are Fram 36 stations in Canada and 60 in the United States despatches are sent to the quaint old building in Queen's Fark twice every day. These give the barometrical pressure, readings of wet and dry thermometers, readings of wet and dry thermometers, readings of wet and dry thermometers, readings of wet and minimum temperatures for the past twelve hours. At about 3.30 a.m. and 8.30 p.m. the telegraph instrument begins to tick, and for an hour the messages from Canadian points between Lake Superior and Cape Burcon continue to arrive. They are at once forwarded to the Thated States Bureau at Washing than. Then the American builetins are received, and afterwards the Camadian reports from Manitoba West, which are filed at the United States Weather Bureau in St. Paul, Minn. Weather Bureau in St. Paul, Minn.

Distributing the News.

Having gathered its news, the great object of the central office is the distribute it as quickly as possible. Fifteen minutes after the last the lagran has been received the work-ing chart for the weather map is useady. By ten o'clock the isobars hause been drawn, and some of the flower last sent out. The Cones and the Drums.

As far as the average conversationist is concerned this is the weawither. It comprises, however, a small past of the bureau's work. Of the cather branches, the most important, cather branches, the most important, perhaps, is the storm-warning service supplied to 73 stations. The signals for which the mariner turns an anxious eye are in two shapes—comes and drums. When moderate spaces are expected the cone is displayed, and when heavy storms are shown. When the apex of the cone practice downward, the storm is compared from the south or east, and when meg from the south or east, and when ungward, from the west or north. It is noted in Mr. Stupart's report to the Government in 1901 that the Eureau's warnings were verified in 186.4 per cent. of the cases in which where were issued. When not engaged in preparing either forecasts or warnings, the staff of 20 at the observatory works are compiling statistical information regarding the climate, or fine advancing the monthly weather chart. For some years bulletins were supplied trains at different points, and travelers appreciated this convenience. The practice was discontinued, however, because of the train hands failure to regularly postution. Within the past few days an important improvement in the daily multin has been made by adding 1854. Wistery of the Bureau Like the universe as a whole, and like many of its most important institutions, the Canadian weather bureau evolved itself from nebulae. bureau evolved itself from nebulae. Its beginnings were very modest, indeed. Founded originally more than half a century ago, it continued for some years as evidence of the insatiable curiosity of some of Toronto's early scientists. Since 1841, indeed, observations have been made in the worm-eaten old building, and for thirty years afterward learned gentlemen continued to make observations of sun moon and stars withtlemen continued to make observa-tions of sun, moon and stars with-out the aid of the Government. In 1871 a grant of $5,000 was made to Prof. Kingston, then in charge, the Government being anxious to vessels warning of approaching storms. By 1880 the observatory had become a regular Governmental bureau, with Mr. Charles Carpmael, had become a regular Governmental bureau, with Mr. Charles Carpmael, an English scientist, in charge. For fourteen years he continued in this position, to be succeeded by Mr. R. A. Stupart, the present chief, whose special qualifications for the post have been widely acknowledged. The expenditure has increased to $80,000 a year, and more money is needed to properly equip the present observatory and pay the salaries of the little army engaged in the work. As to the importance of the results achieved by the bureau it is superfluous to speak. Merchants, farmers, mariners and picnickers will vouch for it. Timely prognostications, worth of property, and hundreds of lives. Untimely prognostications, scarcely less valuable, have given us something to valuable, have given us something to talk about. For all of which we should be grateful to Old Probs, says the Toronto Mail and Empire.

A NORTHERN FOREST FIRE Terrifying Experience of Three Explorer -300 r 45 Miles Bursed.

A geologist who explored with two perpendions a region on the western have of Hudson Bay had an exper-ence in a forest are which could ha dly be equalled in scope and ferceness farther south, where the woods are broken by settlements. The men had pushed far to the no.th of Port Nelson into a land inhabited by tribes of Indians, where to white had left a trace.
"We had crossed the mouth of a stream," he says, "which forked twice some distance from where it opens into the bay, making two long, narrow deltas. By sundown we had gone a mile or so north of the upper branch. The air grew hot equalled in scope the upper branch. The air grew hot and dry. The light in the western sky was more dense and solid than that of the sunset, and it extended round to the north beyond the range of the setting sun. We knew that it was a fire, and halted on a rising slope, where we could get a broader iew of the sky.

"The wind was from the north-west, and the fire must be coming straight toward us. In the hope of reaching one of the deltas of the stream which we had crossed over stream which we had crossed over about a mile to the south, we turn-ed back and walked for our lives. "We reached the upper branch of the stream before the fire overtook us, crossed it, and sat panting on the southern shore. The sun had set, and the fire marked its limits in wide sweep covering the north

"As we sat waiting, the brush across the stream crackled, and five or six deer broke from the woods and stood on the bank, sniffing.

and stood on the bank, snimmg.

"The air grew dense. A dull roar like a distant surf was blown to us from the north. I climbed half-way up a small tree, and then I saw a sight. Perhaps five miles away came the fire, a sea of red flame under a wall of smoke that rolled on in advance.

"Before I descended from the tre the smoke was on us. One of my companions, noting that the trees of the delta were of a smaller growth, thought we were safer on the lower delta, with two strips of water and an island between we and the fire. So we moved on for a few hundred yards to the next mouth of the stream.

"We were wrapped in smoke. The roar of the fire grew like a storm. We waded into the water, took off We waded into the water, took off our coats and wrapped them wet about our heads. Then we noticed that we were not alone. Round us, only a few yards away, stood groups of horned creatures. Behind us a black shape lay in the water, evidently a bear. The danger had made the whole world kin, and fear of the common enemy had made all the driven animals tame to each other. "Ashes and cinders settled over us, and we bowed our heads close to the

and we bowed our heads close to the water. The heat grew intense. Then with a stride the fire burst over our northern bank. We waded to the south shore and waited. Our coats grew hot on our heads, and we ducked again and again. I turned and looked at the fire. I mounted, I should say, more than a hundred feet and leaned across the stream, which was fully two hundred feet wide. Under that leaning bank of flame we crouched in the water, which grew tepid, and was foul with the countless animals that for miles on to the next stream. We were dazed and parched, and if the fire leaped this stream it would have caught us in the woods.

Suddenly I raised my head, saw the flames like clouds of fire leap over our heads and seize the tops of the trees on the southern bank. The fire nad jumped the stream "For an hour we stayed in the wa ter, waiting for the fire to burn out on the northern shore. A great weariness and stupor weighed down. Presently we felt the air grow cooler. It was raining; and we dragged ourselves to the northern bank, noses close to the baked earth and slept.

"Afterwards we learned that the fire had ruined a stretch of timber three hundred miles long and seventy-five miles wide."

About Lord Minto.

Marquise de Fontenoy, in Chicago Tribune: Lord Minto, whose term of office of Governor-General of Canada office of Governor-General of Canada has just been prolonged for another year, is a man whose life has been more replete with excitement and adventure than most of his predecessors at Ottawa. Thus, during the Turko-Russian war of 1876 and 1877, he was attached throughout the campalgn to the Ottoman forces, was present at the bombardment of Nicopolis, besides taking part in many other engagements. Subsequently, he served under Lord Roberts throughout the Kurrum Valley campaign, and it was only by mere chance that he was prevented from joining the mission of Sir Louis Cavagnari, who with his entire staff and retinue, was massacred at Kabul. LATE SIR DLIVER MOWAT. A RELATED SCOTSMAN STORY

M.A.P. Voices London the Great's Regret at His Falling Out.

Many in London felt a twinge of keen regret the other day when the news came that Sir Oliver Mowat, after a long and sturdy struggle with the grim enemy, had fallen out at last. The peculiar and searching eloquence of the little Ontario lawyer had often graced important gatherings and functions in London and yer had often graced important gatherings and functions in London, and there is a general and deep sorrow for his loss among those who were privileged to make his acquaintance on this side of the Atlantic. He had dropped in his harness at his eighty-thrid milestone, although this is no extraordinary feat for a Canadian. Dwellers in the great Prairieland seem to have a knack of sticking to hard work till they are eighty or so, and then retiring for a well-earned rest from their labors. Some hold on longer, as for example the gay and lively Lord Strathcona, now going on for eighty-four, who still atand lively Lord Strathcona, now going on for eighty-four, who still attends to the business of his various bank and railway directorates and the Canadian High Commissioner-ship, and may be expected to knock off for a holiday in five years' time or thereabouts.

Sir Oliver Mowat's public career began long before the federation of the Canadian provinces, and he was thus familiar with the various courts of the succeeding Governors-General —Monck, Lisgar, Dufferin, Lorne, Lansdowne, Stanley of Preston, Aberdeen, and Minto. An interesting period it has been since 1867 in the history of Canada, and the Vice-Regal sojourners in the Dominion have enjoyed the life as well as the Canadians themselves. Things are more prim about Rideau Hall now perhaps than they were thirty years ago, when there was much freedom and fun at official headquarters. The Marchioness of Dufferin tells a story of 1873: "Two men dined with us; one, the Speaker of the Legislature in Manitoba, who has lately been of the succeeding Governors-General one, the Speaker of the Legislature in Manitoba, who has lately been tarred and feathered by the people, and who came to relate his experiences of that operation."

The gifted Marchioness shared to the full her husband's popularity in Canada, and her homeliness won the hearts of everybody. A baby girl came to Rideau Hall in 1873, and as the Queen volunteered for godas the Queen volunteered for mother, the new "Canadian immigrant" became Lady Victoria Blackwood, with Sir John Macdonald as her godfather. Lady Dufferin had the whole of her six children at the christening ceremony, and Lord Basil Blackwood—not then four—got himself into a scrape by climbing over a pew at an important juncture in the proceedings and knocking down a pile of prayer-books. Lord mother, the new "Canadian immiin the proceedings and knocking down a pile of prayer-books. Lord Basil has been busy in South Africa for the last three years, and Lady Victoria, the Ottawa baby, has for the last eight years been the wife of the brilliant young Lord Plunket.—From M. A. P.

Curious Facts About Shad. In Canadian rivers the schools of shad come in from the sea about the middle of May, says Prof. Prince, the Canadian Commissioner of Cus-toms, and continue during June; but in the United States rivers they are often very much earlier. Dr. Per-ley speaks of them as appearing in January at Charleston, N.C., on the sount off New York they come in-shore in March and early April, and at Boston in the latter part of Ap-ril. An old Massachusetts fisher-man, in 1881, when he was nearly 90 years of age, stated that about April 1, the shad in millions ascended the Atlantic coast rivers, and continued during April and May. He added the statement—a very remark-able one, which exact scientific ob-servations have confirmed, that the first schools coming in, in early spring, were males, no females ever accompanying them. The females follow eight or ten days later, and the later schools are larger female fish with enlarged roes containing fish with enlarged roes containing eggs in a more advanced condition. In such a river as the St. John, New Brunswick, they ascend 50 or 60 miles up the main channel and turn up the tributaries on both sides. They frequently wander over the fields submerged during the spring freshets and deposit immense quanfreshets, and deposit immense quar riries of spawn of which much is inevitably lost when the water re-cedes. The choice of spawning grounds appears to be most erratic, as tributaries, which present every as tributaries, which present every apparent favorable feature are passed by, and others uniformly chosen which possess no superior advantage, so far as can be judged. Some shad fishermen assert the same erratic choice in the selection of the spawning sites in the rivers frequented by the shad. Thus one fisherman quoted in The American Angler, Justice 1988. ed by the shad. Thus one fisherman quoted in The American Angler, July 1897, declared that on the eastern side of the Delaware River, at Marcus Hook and Tinicum, he always caught fine, large shad, that were full of solid roe, while directly opposite on the western side, the shad were not in such fine condition, and seemed to be in a spawning state that is, the spawn of the female and the rollt of the male ouzed constantly from the fish.

A Successful Trapper.

It would appear that the the sum of the king of local trappers is summer. Henderson, who lives in Omemee and operates on Pigeon Creek. We have it on good authority that in less than three weeks this spring he trapped 406 muskrats, 8 mink, and 3 raccoons. In addition to this fine catch he secured 36 mink between fall and spring. He sold the manifold and spring. He sold the manifold and spring. He sold the manifold and spring is a total of $277.49 for his catch. In this connection it would be interesting to know the total value of the small fur secured in this county every year—it must amount value of the small fur secured in this county every year—it must anount to a very considerable sum. That there is need of better protection every trapper is ready to admit. Take muskrats, for instance, it is an open secret that kittens are slaughtered in the fall, when only 5c, or 6c. can be obtained for the pelts. The fishery overseers should be empowered to u. t as game warders. Omence Pest.

beef," said one of the fishermen, exultingly.

"Or perhaps bacon," remarked the other, smacking his jaws.

To their great disappointment they found two oil paintings. Sadly they trudged to their huts and placed the pictures alongside the woodbox near the fireplace. Hopes of corned beef and bacon were dashed. Oil paintings, even by great masters, do not count for much up Labrador way. Months later these pictures passed into the possession of Mr. Johnson, and they turned out to be Sir and they turned out to be Sir Joshua Reynelds' "Countess of Es-sex" and Gainsborough's "Portrait of a Lady." Mr. Johnson corres-ponded with the shippers in England, and the pictures were returned to their rightful owner, the then Gov-ernor-General of Canada. The salv-age was, of course, paid, and the fishermen received their reward, which will keep them in corned beef and bacon for the rest of their natural lives

Niagara Falls to Toronto. Tesla replied as follows:

"The problems of transmission and storage of electrical energy have occupied my attention for many years. I have given a solution of the former in my multi-phase system, which is now accepted all the world over. Through the efforts of a great many able experts of the Westinghouse and General Electric Companies the machinery forming part of this system has been brought to a perfection General Electric Companies the machinery forming part of this system has been brought to a perfection such as to leave little room for improvement. But the aerial lines are still objectionable, and there are decided limits as to the electrical pressures which can be safely employed with them, and consequently as to the distance, at which power can be profitably transmitted. My energies have been largely directed towards overcoming these defects, and I believe that in my new underground system, in which the mains are insulated artificially by the circulation of gas at a very low temperature, they are completely done away with. By this method electrical energy can be transmitted to the greatest distance practically without any loss, and as to cost the new system compares very favorably with aerial lines.

'In regard to the storage of elec tricity I am not yet prepared to make my own results public. Speak-ing generally, the activity in this field is bordering on high fever heat and great advances cannot but fail to come soon. In view of all this, I know of no safer and at the same time, more promising undertaking than the exploitation of large water

The King Edward VII. will be the most costly warship that has ever been constructed. The original estimates were for $7,500,000, and although they have been cut down, it authoritatively stated that the total expenditure will amount to well over $7,000,000. This outlay on a fabric which a well-directed torpedo might annihilate makes one realize how costly the game of modern naval war would prove

Hardy then deliberately struck at Higley several times, but Higley, without returning a blow, managed to elude Hardy's attack. The crowd rushed on the field and grabbed Higley by the hair, dragged him from the field and forcibly ejected him from the grounds. Another general fight ensued. I ruled Higley off for three minutes and Hardy for the remainder of the game. Higgins and Hardy, both of Thamesville, then attacked me, but I was protected by some of the better class of spectators. I gave, Thamesville three minutes to clear the grounds and line up. This they refused to do and proceeded to jangle. The Chief of Police then ordered the game off. The score at this time was 5 to 2 in favor of Chatham. I declared Chatham to be the winners. I think the Thamesville players, Hardy, Higgins and Sherman entirely to blame, and they should be ruled out of the game, the foul language they used being enough to disgrace them, had they not proved themselves unsportsmanlike in other ways. I may say that Chatham got the same reception on the Thames-

SHAMROCKS HOLD THE CUP.

Montreal, July 4.—(Special.)—What the Shamrocks had in the matter of the world's championship, as represented by the Minto Cup, they still hold, but they have to say to Brantford as Dr. Drummond's soldier in South Africa said of Oom Paul, "You gave us a mighty fight." The champions of the Canadian Lacrosse Association couldn't get the trophy away, but they scared the Shamrock crowd haif to death, and after to-day's match was well on the followers of the green and white had only the proverbial Shamrock luck on which to base their hopes of retaining the championship. The Brantfords were leading by two games on the round and playing the Shamrocks of their feet, and a continuance of such brilliant form as they displayed in the early stage would have made the champions look like juniors, but they didn't continue. Instead, they fell away after half-time, and at the end the Shamrocks were doing to them what they did to the champions earlier in the afternoon.

To-day's game was played.

A rules, and was won by the Shamrocks by 6 to 3, whose Lotal was 12 to 8 on the round. The weather was fine and the by 6 to 3, whose total was 12 to 8 on the round. The weather was fine and the crowd occupied every portion of the accommodation at the Shamrock grounds out at Mile End. The attendance was probably over 9,000, and the receipts for the two games must have amounted to about $9,000, which is divided equally between the clubs after the expenses are taken out. Grand Trunk Safe Wrecked by Dyna-

Waterloo, July 6.-The Grand Trunk station office was broken into here President Lennox, of the C. L. A., has ordered the game between Wallaceburg and Chatham to come off here on Thursday next and has cancelled the Rodney-Chatham game for that date. Young, of Rodney, will referee the game. This will be the game of the season and Chatham will turn out in mass to see it. The locals had a practice Saturday evening and will likely be out every evening till the game. about 3 a.m. on Saturday. The burglars blew off the safe door with nitro-glycerine, and the explosion badly wrecked the safe and the interior of the office. Fortunately, no money was left there over night, and all they secured was a bonded parcel of little value.

DROWNED THE HUSBAND. Little Girl's Story Against Her Mother.

Ottawa, July 6.-Ms. Lalonde and man named Desrosiers were arrested by the Ottawa police in consequence of queer reports in circulation. The woman and her husband formerly lived on St. John's Island in the Georgian Bay, and Desrosiers was a boarder with them, taking out in board a debt that Lalonde owed him. The Lalondes had a three-year-old child, and the little one is alleged to have stated that while crossing to the mainland her father was thrown overboard and drowned. The police were unable to obtain any further evidence to justify them in detaining Mrs. Lalonde and Desrosiers, but are looking into the matter. of queer reports in circulation. The Pacing stalkion Hal Patchen, owing to an oversight while writing the pedigree of Hal Patchen his num-tioned. This mistake was made by his owner, Mr. Wheeler. His correct number; si. Wheel. has standard under rule 1, vol. 15 and 16 of the American trotting register. The official certificate is dated 4th day of August, 1902, and signed by John H.
