IRISH MATCHMAKING. Although the preliminaries to an Irish country marriage are frequently lacking in tender sentiment, Irish marriages are proverbially happy.

A GOOD REPUTATION—Brown's Bronchial Troches have been before the public many years, and are everywhere acknowledged to be the best remedy for all throat troubles.

LANDED FISH. A young man who at twenty years of age had patented twenty-four distinct inventions, as had Sir Charles Tilston Bright, may be credited with having been able to think to some purpose at the age of ten, especially when a big fish was the reward.

as a boy to think and act quickly. When we were boys, writes the brother, there was a large pond near our home that held plenty of roach and excellent carp.

One of us would get hold of him, when, after a rush or two, he would start right away for a patch of weeds in the deepest water.

Early one morning my light floater, after swirling about, went quietly down and traveled toward deep water. Then the usual rod-bending commotion ensued.

He scrambled over a hedge and a ditch and borrowed a hay rake, with which he waded into the water. He had the greatest difficulty in getting through the weeds to the edge of the clump, where our foe was secluded, and was soon up to his waist in water.

A GLORIOUS RIVER. The St. Lawrence is a phenomenon among rivers. No other river is fed by such gigantic lakes. No other river is so independent of the elements.

CROOKED HANS.

A Simple Story by Which One Hero Recognizes Another. (By Helen F. Huntington.)

Not all heroes are on the rolls of the Legion of Honor. "Ten days more of this!" grumbled the Hero, looking about at the bare rough walls of his prison.

It was the first time he had complained of anything. The three men smoking by the stove looked over at him collectively.

The wounded man nodded mutely and put his hand to his breast. He sat bolt upright in the stiff little stretcher, his head swathed in bandages, and a frieze greatcoat loosely buttoned over his shoulders.

The door opened suddenly, letting in a driving gust of wind and a big, gaunt lad, who shuffled into the room with a lurch that emphasized his awkwardness of figure and carriage.

"Well, Hans, what news?" asked the Hero, unenthusiastically, knowing very well that Hans had no news to tell.

"News don't come this way between seasons," remarked the man of the leather jacket.

"I don't care about made-up stories. Give me something true. Things happen even out here, I suppose, don't they? Come, talk up, the youngest first. I'll do my part when my turn comes. Hans, tell me a story."

"Oh, heem jus' a lil babby," said Hans awkwardly, "an' I not fetch heem home. Th' half-breed do dat."

"Yes, tell me about it," urged the Hero, drawing his coat closely about his shoulders and looking intently at the stolid, homely face of the young Dane.

"Nobody couldn't see de babby's tracks, foh de snow been freeze hard, but he been so lil dey tink it been easy to fin' heem, foh he not walk fas'.

"All time I hear day lil voice, ve'y soft an' low, lak de sob of de win' ve'y far off, an' I go swif' across de greet snowbank t'ward de nort'."

"An' so I fin heem, a lil black heep in de snow, cryin' foh hees mudder, an' mos' freeze. I jus' grab heem in mah arms an' run. I been so glad he not freeze dead.

in de snow, cryin' foh hees mudder, an' mos' freeze. I jus' grab heem in mah arms an' run. I been so glad he not freeze dead.

"Meester, I been so glad to see dat lil boy I forget to watch de road, an' bym-by I got fraid we been los' in de greet white forest.

"Dere been only jus' a scrap of bread lef' foh day lil boy an' he been so hungry he cry foh more. Put de good chile. He stop cryin' wen I tote heem hees mudder been waitin' for heem wit' nice good tings, an' big fire foh heem warm heesself, so we start out, which way I dunno, wen dere been no stars to look by.

"Wen we cum to de reeber, I tink I hear woves, jus' a lil cry lak a babby's voice, cumin' creepin' 'cross de snow. No, meester, I not 'fraid den. Why de Lord let me fin' dat lil boy if He don' want me save heem? Pretty soon I hear de boom-boom of breekin' ice way down de reeber, so I hurry fas' as mah feet can so, but t'ain fas' lak de woves. Befoh dey cum up we foun' lil hut where de trapper leave in fall, built wid big logs, strong an' tight, but de door been gone. Anyway, I tak de babby in an' wrap heem in mah coat an' tell heem stay inside while I watch foh hees mudder an' keep de woves out. Den I call an' call so loud, seem lak mah fader mus' hear me.

"De woves dey smell humans an' go mad foh taste of blood, but I get out mah knife an' wen one jump up close to de door, I slash an' cut heem bad, an' de res lik lick hees blood an' kill heem. But dat wasn't nuff foh de hungry pack! Dey howl an' screech lak debils, an' de hal-breed cuttin' ice way down de reeber hear 'em an' cum up quick. He been 'fraid foh to ves all hees shot foh fear o' woves foller heem home, so he kill tree woves an' scare de res' away till he can tek de babby an' carry heem off down de reeber.

"De ice have cut mah feet so bad I not walk fas' nuff foh de half-breed an' I tell heem I wait in de hut till he tak de boy home an' sen mah fader back foh me. He look scare an' fry mek de woves ketch heem, an' so he lil' me up on de rafters so de woves can't get me, an' leave me.

"Bym-by de woves cum back an' tear an' crunch de dead woves in jus' 'bout a meent. Den dey howl an' screech an' rush into de hut an' try 'em de wall foh to git me, de greet, hungry pack. Yes, meester, I been 'fraid lil while, but bym-by I stretch on mah stomach easy-lak, an' watch 'em lak dey been kittens, den I fall 'sleep. Wen I wake, mah fader been carryin' me home on hees back."

"And then?" said the Hero very softly. "De lil's boy's mudder nurse me lak she been mah mudder, too, an' I ain't done nuttin' tall, foh de half-breed bring babby home, meester."

"The man in the leather coat looked at the speaker, without visible emotion; then he turned to the Hero and said calmly: 'Twas then he got his crookedness. He was in the worst fix I ever saw—his hands an' arm clawed an' chewed by the wolves, an' feet frozen to the bone!'"

"Hans, come here," said the sick man imperatively. The lad rose and shuffled over to the bed, and the Hero raised himself and looked first at the great awkward feet and the misshapen hands, then at the queer, homely, old-young face. Then he took both the crooked hands in his and pressed them hard.

"You are the bravest lad I ever knew," said he in a voice of caressing tenderness. A sob rose in Hans' throat and a strange, unaccustomed smile lighted his face for an instant, like a flash of sunlight upon dark, still water, revealing a glimpse of unsuspected beauty hidden in the depths of his mute heart.

Charity itself commands us, where we know no ill, to think well of all; but friendship, that always goes a pitch higher, gives a man a peculiar right and claim to the good opinion of his friend.

The Rheumatic Wonder of the Age BENEDICTINE SALVE

This Salve Cures Rheumatism, Felons or Blood Poisoning. It is a Sure Remedy for Any of These Diseases. A FEW TESTIMONIALS

193 King Street East, Toronto, Nov. 21, 1902. DEAR SIR—I am deeply grateful to the friend that suggested to me, when I was a cripple from Rheumatism, Benedictine Salve. I have at intervals during the last ten years been afflicted with muscular rheumatism.

DEAR SIR—It is with pleasure that I write this unsolicited testimonial, and in doing so I can say that your Benedictine Salve has done more for me in one week than anything I have done for the last five years. My ailment was muscular rheumatism. I applied the salve as directed, and I got speedy relief.

DEAR SIR—I cannot speak too highly of your Benedictine Salve. It has done for me in three days what doctors and medicines have been trying to do for years. When I first used it I had been confined to my bed with a spell of rheumatism and sciatica for nine weeks; a friend recommended your salve. I tried it and it completely knocked rheumatism right out of my system.

DEAR SIR—I have great pleasure in recommending the Benedictine Salve as a sure cure for lumbago. When I was taken down with it I called in my doctor, and he told me it would be a long time before I would be around again. My husband bought a box of the Benedictine Salve, and applied it according to directions. In three hours I got relief, and in four days was able to do my work. I would be pleased to recommend it to any one suffering from lumbago.

DEAR SIR—After suffering for over ten years with both forms of Piles, I was asked to try Benedictine Salve. From the first application I got instant relief, and before using one box was thoroughly cured. I can strongly recommend Benedictine Salve to any one suffering with piles.

DEAR SIR—It is with pleasure I write this word of testimony to the marvelous merits of Benedictine Salve as a certain cure for Rheumatism. There is such a multitude of alleged Rheumatic cures advertised that one is inclined to be skeptical of the merits of any new preparation. I was induced to give Benedictine Salve a trial and must say that after suffering for eight years from Rheumatism it has, I believe, effected an absolute and permanent cure.

I was a sufferer for four months from acute rheumatism in my left arm; my physician called regularly and prescribed for it, but gave me no relief. My brother, who appeared to have faith in your Benedictine Salve, gave enough of it to apply twice to my arm. I used it first on a Thursday night, and applied it again on Friday night. This was in the latter part of November. Since then (over two months) I have not had a trace of rheumatism. I feel that you to the efficacy of Benedictine Salve are entitled to this testimonial in removing rheumatic pains.

DEAR SIR—I do heartily recommend your Benedictine Salve as a sure cure for rheumatism, as I was sorely afflicted with that sad disease in my arm, and it was so bad that I could not dress myself. When I heard about your salve, I got a box of it, and to my surprise I found great relief, and I used what I got and now can attend to my daily household duties, and I heartily recommend it to anyone that is troubled with the same disease. You have this from me with hearty thanks and do with it as you please for the benefit of the afflicted.

DEAR SIR—Your Benedictine Salve cured me of rheumatism in my arm, which entirely disabled me from work, in three days, and I am now completely cured. I suffered greatly from piles for many months and was completely cured by one box of Benedictine Salve.

THE EFFECTS OF HARMONY

(Written for The Catholic Register.)

On the human soul harmonic expression produces always a most happy effect. Music calms the raging spirit; and from the days of David and Saul down to our own time, whenever the soft strains of delightful music swept over the agitated spirit of man the result was magic.

As it is in nature so it is in man's own being and in the social organizations into which the human family is divided. And that which applies to individuals also has its application in nations.

"Order is heaven's first law," is an old saying and one that is based upon a great truth. Order, union, mutual understanding, in a word, harmony, may be said to constitute the necessary elements of all great organizations, undertakings, policies, or institutions.

It is obvious to the most unreflecting that the situation to-day in Ireland is due in great part, if not entirely, to the harmony that has of late prevailed in the ranks of the representatives of that country.

After the prayers at St. Mary's the cortege proceeded to the cemetery where the Rev. Father Cummings recited the office for the dead and all that was mortal of the deceased was consigned to the grave.

The Catholic Foresters attended in a body and the Separate School Board was also represented. The Rev. Father Cummings officiated at the church and Miss Nolan sang very feelingly "Loves Last Greeting."

Coming down from the general and wider field of Irish national affairs to the more special question of an isolated instance of harmony and its results, we need but turn our eyes to the Capital of Canada.

It is to be hoped that such examples, both nationally and as regards special instances, may be taken to heart and may serve as lessons for the instruction of others, as models for their imitation as examples for their practice.

OBITUARY MR. D. J. MONOHAN, BRANTFORD.

With deep regret The Catholic Register chronicles the demise of Mr. D. J. Monohan, of Brantford, which sad event occurred at Arnprior, Ont., on Wednesday, Jan. 14th.

When the latter arrived it was not thought that Mr. Monohan's illness was of a serious nature, as he seemed to revive under medical treatment and it was expected that in a few hours he would regain his usual health and vigor.

The late D. J. Monohan was everywhere known and universally respected by the citizens of Brantford. He was a member of St. Mary's congregation and was always foremost in promoting the interests of religion in that young but growing parish.

Mr. Monohan leaves a widow and four children to mourn his loss: Annie, stenographer for the Waterous Engine Works Co.; Madge, stenographer, in the employ of T. J. Fair & Co., and Aggie and another at home, to all of whom the sympathy of the community is extended.
