Books are not absolutely dead things, but do contain a progeny of life in them, to be as active as that soul was whose progeny they are; nay, they do preserve as in a vial the purest efficacy and extraction of that living intellect that bred them. I know they are as lively and as vigorously productive, as those fabulous dragon's teeth; and, being sown up and down, may chance to spring up armed men, and yet, on the other hand, unless wariness be used, AS GOOD ALMOST KILL A MAN AS KILL A GOOD BOOK. Who kills a man, kills a reasonable creature, God's image; BUT HE WHO DESTROYS A GOOD BOOK KILLS REASON ITSELF, KILLS THE IMAGE OF GOD, AS IT WERE, IN THE EYE. Many a man lives a burden to the earth; BUT A GOOD BOOK IS THE PRECIOUS LIFE-BLOOD OF A MASTER-SPIRIT EMBALMED AND TREASURED UP ON PURPOSE TO A LIEE BEYOND LIFE. . . . Methinks I see in my mind a noble and puissant nation rousing herself like a strong man after sleep, and shaking her invincible locks. Methinks I see her as an eagle muing her mighty youth and kindling her undazzled eyes at the full mid-day beam, purging and unsealing her long abused sight at the fountain itself of heavenly radiance. . . . And though all the winds of doctrine were let loose to play upon the earth, so truth be in the field, we do injuriously licensing and prohibiting to misdoubt her strength. LET HER AND FALSEHOOD GRAPPLE: WHO EVER KNEW TRUTH PUT TO THE WORST IN A FREE AND OPEN ENCOUNTER? Her confuting is the best and surest suppressing. . . . For who knows not that truth is strong, next to the Almighty. She needs no policies, nor stratagems, nor licensings to make her victorious. Those are the shifts and the defences that errour uses against her power. Give her but room, and do not bind her when she sleeps. . . . Neither is God appointed and confined. . . . For when God shakes a kingdom with strong and heathful commotions, to a general reforming, it is not untrue that many sectaries are then busiest in seducing. But yet more true it is, that God then raises to His own work men of rare abilities and more than common industry, not only to look back and revise what hath been taught heretofore, but to gain further, and go on some new enlightened steps in the discovery of truth.

Students of English History and Literature will need no reference to that masterpiece of polemics, first published in 1644. It was fifty years after, under Cromwell, when the press became the pass of triumph, through which the English people, from that time, have been marching to civil and religious liberty. But the astounding fact remains. We recently offered for a few shillings a rare folio volume of the English Prose Works of this giant in English literature and circulated 1,200 copies of the Catalogue over territory extending from the Straits of Labrador to the Gulf of Mexico, and DID NOT RECEIVE ONE SOLITARY APPLICATION FOR THIS PROFOUNDLY INSTRUCTIVE TREASURY OF POLITICAL LITERATURE.

The introduction treats of the ethnology and history of the Huron-Iroquois. A map, notes and a glossary complete the work.

Barclay (Captain) Agricultural Tour in the United States and Upper Canada, with miscellaneous notices. Post 8vo, cloth, 1.25. Edin. 1842. 130

We commend to Canadians the author's caustic criticism of Canada, of which the following is a specimen. "On entering Canada I had been impressed with a marked difference between it and the United States. In the latter the people were everywhere distinguished by that cheerfulness and appearance of contentment which attend activity and exertion in personal pursuits. In Canada there prevailed an almost universal gloom, the consequence of recent internal commotion; of the still existing conflict and rancour of political feeling; or of the withered hopes of many who, having speculated largely in land, have received little or no return for their money. This was my early impression, and anything I have since observed, or by inquiry ascertained has served to confirm it, and to satisfy me that of the two countries the States hold out for agricultural pursuits by far the greater advantage to persons possessed of any capital." It has taken fifty years for the Canadians to learn what this quiet server learned in one day. What will the country be like in fifty years from the present time, if continued as a colony?

- Of the purity and sublimity of the moral teachings of the present work there can be but one opinion; while many of the views which it contains will be found to be not only interesting and suggestive in the highest degree, but, in some directions—and notably as regards the hypothesis of evolution, of which they present a rationale that effectually rescues it from the grasp of Materialism—to have anticipated the latest results of scientific research. . . It should be read impartially, and judged on its own merits, without any bias for or against it, on account of the origin which is claimed for it.

H. B.'s Political Sketches. Nos. 1 to 510 of these celebrated humorous and satirical sketches, introducing portraits of all the great political characters of the time, (2 missing). 9 vols, oblong folio, half morocco, gilt edges; ALSO THE KEY TO THE CHARACTERS, 8vo, cloth, gilt edges, 25.50. T. McLean, 1829-37. 1

It was the famous JOHN DOYLE who produced this CELEBRATED SERIES OF CARICATURES, which contains the most comprehensive and striking history of those eventful years. Hundreds of well known characters from the IRON DUKE on the one side, to the great DANIEL O'CONNELL on the other, may be recognized without even the aid of the key. Hundreds of groups are here brought together, and the scenes are continually on the change, from WINDSOR TO WESTMINSTER and from the HORSE GUARDS TO CONSTITUTION HILL and thence to BUCKINGHAM PALACE, CLUBLAND and the HOUSE OF COMMONS is but one step. Here may be seen the history of the great and sweeping REFORM BILL OF 1832, which was to have destroyed Britain and the constitution at once and forever, but has since proved to be the lever to trade, wealth and happiness a hundredfold, and thus proving to the world that the strength of a nation does not consist of armed men and irresponsible princes, but in a responsible and well-trained people. As we turn over these speaking memorandums of the DUKE OF WELLINGTON and SIR ROBERT PEEL, of LORD BROUGHAM and LORD LYNDHURST, of ABERDEEN and ELDON, LORD JOHN RUSSELL and LORD ALTHORP, RIFON and RICHMOND, GREY and MELBOURNE, O'CONNELL on his MEMORABLE TOUR, the HOUNDS on a WRONG SCENT, and the MURDER OF THE INNOCENTS, we make our comparisons and draw our conclusions and regret being obliged to part with such company.

The Leuchtenberg Gallery is one of the finest in existence. The etchings in the above work are executed by Herr Muxel, the Curator of the Gallery, and exhibit with fidelity the peculiar method of treatment of each painter.

Carter's Specimens of ANCIENT SCULPTURE and PAINTING, from the Earliest Period to the Reign of Henry VIII., now remaining in England, consisting of Statues, Basso-relievos, Sculptures, etc., Brasses, Monumental Effigies, Paintings on Glass and on Walls, Missal Ornaments, Carvings on Cups, Croziers, Chests, Seals, Ancient Furniture, etc., etc., designed to show the Rise and Progress of Sculpture and Painting in England, to explain Obscure and Doubtful parts of History, and to preserve the portraits of great and eminent personages, with historical and critical illustrations by the following distinguished Antiquaries: Francis Douce, Richard Gough, William Bray, John Fenn, J. S. Hawkins, and Rev. J. Milner, of Winchester, reprint of the enlarged edition, arranged in topographical order, with additional notes by Sir Samuel Rush Meyrick, Dawson Turner, John Britton, F.S.A., and others, including also the MS. notes contained in copies left by the late Richard Gough and Francis Douce, and now preserved in the Bodleian Library, and a general index with 120 large engravings, many of which are beautifully colored, and several highly illuminated with gold, carefully reproduced from the original plates, in 1 handsome volume, royal folio, bound in half crimson morocco, top edges gilt, 15.00 (first pub. £15 15s.), 1887.

"The present edition has very considerable advantages. It is better arranged and more correct than the first — has large additions and illustrations, in the form of notes, contributed by competent scholars, and is accompanied by a complete index, the want of which has always been felt. The plates are in good condition, and many of them beautifully colored. The Missal Plate, which is splendidly illuminated in gold, carmine and ultra-marine, the Lynn Cup, the Crozier of William of Wykeham, and the Paintings on Glass, have a most brilliant effect, and render the volume perfectly irresistible to the lover of antiquarian lore."

Imperial Gallery (The) of BRITISH ART, illustrated by 48 examples of eminent artists engraved on steel, after the line manner, imperial folio, half red morocco, top edges gilt, 22.00. Cassel & Company, Lon.

317

This is perhaps the most beautiful book issued by this celebrated firm. The masterpieces of J. W. M. TURNER, SIR JOSHUA REYNOLDS, T. GAINSBOROUGH, SIR C. L. EASTLAKE, E. LANDSEER, A. COOPER, SIR DAVID WILKIE, DAVID ROBERTS, and other eminent English painters, are in this volume exhibited in the finest possible state of excellence.

HORTENSIVS, CICERO and ATTICUS were collectors of gems. "You imagine," says Cicero to his friend, who had purchased him some rarities at a cheap rate, "how my passion increases for this sort of thing! Your discovery is admirable, and the statue seems to be made purposely for my cabinet." Thank heaven, the spirit which animated the great Roman orator has not quite disappeared from among us, considering the elevating and ennobling pursuit of collecting and having in one's own possession, even modern representations of ancient art. We take this new departure in the history of print-selling, and offer for the first time in classified and convenient lots, at a cheap rate, this fine collection of Prints and Engravings, almost exactly as they were purchased for us in London. We trust the small profit system here put into practice, will be appreciated; and we earnestly solicit the opinions of our correspondents in this matter for our future guidance. We shall do our best to dispatch all orders with care by express, post or otherwise, according to directions, and trust they will be delivered in the same admirable condition in which they leave this establishment.
