FLOODS IN ENGLAND.

FRIDAY, Nov. 15. A Berlin despatch says the Russian attempt to enter into special arrangements with Austria respecting Eastern affairs had no immediate success.

Loydon, Nov. 14.—An influential committee," under the charmanship of Lord Lawrence, is being formed to obtain, in view of the probability of war with Afghanistan, an expression of public opinion in favour of the immediate summoning of Parliament.

A despatch from Berlin reports that it is asserted that England declined Russia's good offices relative to Afghanistan. It is considered improbable that Russia ever offered them.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Various parties, New York, Nov. 14.—Various parties, professing to represent the robbers of the Manhattan Savings Bank, have attempted to negotiate with the bank for the return of the stolen securities. The directors have placed the matter in the hands of their counsel, Waldo Hutchins, who has thus far rejected all overtures. Mark Sherburn, a noted burglar, is believed to have been the principal in the bank robbery.

SATURDAY, Nov. 16. London, Nov. 15.—The British gun-boat Condor recently went to Bourgas to investigate an alleged outrage on the Brit-convention with Russia not prescribed by treaty.

Constantinopile, Nov. 18.—Nine regiments of Russian cavalry have arrived at Adrianople.

The Turkiah Council of Ministers has adopted the view in favour of a Greek frontier line in Thessaly, as recommended by the Congress, but only favoured the cossion of a quarter of Epirus, excluding Janina.

considerations would have justified that the United States Government can only explain its magnitude on the assumption that the Commission has mistaken the question that was referred to it. That Mr. Evarts' reason is powerful it is not necessary for me to say. Nor, on the other hand, will he be surprised to hear that her Majesty's Government still retain the belief that it is capable of refutation, but, in their opinion, they would not be justified in following him into the details of his argument. These very matters were examined at great length, and with conscientious minuteness by the Commissioners whose award is nuder discussion; the decision of the majority was given after a full hearing of all considerations either side was able to advance, and that decision of the body had been found at or near Shamong, Burlington County, N.J. The News states that the hiding-place of Stewart's body has been found at or near Shamong, Burlington County, N.J. The News infers that Superintendent Walling is now with the body and secure it at a moment's notice, but as all the parties implicated cannot now be taken, the police are patiently awaiting results. It is said the body and one thief can be brought to this city to night if so desired. The one in charge of the body has had a "shadow" of following him for some time, and his location has never been lost sight of for one moment.

Lord Salisbury's Second Des-WASHINGTON, D.C., Nov. 17.-Lord WASHINGTON, D.C., NOV. 17.—LORG Salisbury's reply to the despatch of Secre-tary Evarts concerning the Halifax fishery award recalls the circumstances which led to the organization of the Halifax Commis-sion, and asserts that the matter was carefully and thoroughly investigated by the Commissioners. Lord Salisbury then says:

—" Mr. Evarts seeks to invalidate the award which is the result of this exhaustive investigation upon the ground that in estimating the claims of Great Britain, the Commissioners must be assumed to have taken into consideration circumstances which the Treaty of Washington had not referred to them. There is nothing upon the face of the award which gives any countenance to the supposition that the Commissioners travelled beyond the limits assigned to them by the treaty. Mr. Evarts' argument in favour of this contention is en-tirely deduced from what he considers to be the magnitude of the sum awarded. It is, he contends, se far in excess of what the United States Government believe to be the true solution of the problem submitted by the treaty, that some factor which the treaty has not recognized must necessarily, in his opinion, have been imported into the calculation. He contends that the sum awarded is excessive, and that therefore the award must have been arrived at by some illegitimate process. If the American fisherman may violently break the law which according to the Treaty of Washington the believes to be contrary to the treaty a woundland fisherman may violently nouncing any decision unless its members were unanimous, is one in which her Majesty's Government are unable to concur. It is not difficult to produce from a text-book, even of very from a text-book, even of very recent date, authority for the doctrine that in international arbitration the majority of the arbitrators bind the minority unless the contrary is expressed. I am not aware of any authorities who, in respect to international arbitration, could be quoted in a contrary sense, and it would not be diffi cult to show by reference to cases in American, as well as in English courts, that the same rule has if a law has been inadvertently passed which is in any degree or respect at variance with the rights conferred on a foreign power by treaty, the correcting of the misitself, as far as they are explicit on the sub ject, point to a similar conclusion." Had it been known five years ago that the award would be prevented by the dissent of one of the members of an arbitration constituted on the same principle, though I do not venture to conjecture what the course of the United States Government would have been, I feel confident England would have declined to enter upon so unfruitful a litigation. Her Majesty's Gov ernment may appeal to the cogent proof that in accepting this arbitration they did not contemplate that the award was likely to be prevented by the requirement of unanimity. Believing in agreement with the majority of the Commission that they were to be heavy losers by the exchange of concessions contained in Articles 15, 19, and 21 of the treaty, they nevertheless have for five years allowed those concessions to come into orce trusting to the compensation which the Commission would give to them. That they have done so is sufficient proof that they did not anticipate a construction of the treaty which would make the delivery the treaty which would make the delivery of the award almost impossible. A valuable property has actually passed into the enjoyment of others and cannot be recalled. The price to be paid for it was to be determined later by a tribunal agreed upon between the parties. Two of the Alleged Burkers Committed in Default of Bail.

Nov. 14.—Superintendent Walling, of the New York police, accompanied by a friend, got off the train at Shamong, a few below here, last evening and took a carriage in waiting for unknown parts. He had a dog and gun with him, but rumour connects his appearance here with the Stewart body case. NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The News states that the hiding-place of Stewart's body has been found at or near Shamong, Burlington cannot now be taken, the police are patiently awaiting results. It is said the body and one thief can be brought to this city to-night if so desired. The one in charge of the body has had a "shadow" ollowing him for some time, and his location

The police disclaim all knowledge of the reports that Stewart's body had been found either in Shanong, Burlington County, N. J., or in Canada. Judge Hilton said tonight he hoped it might be true, but could not say. The Elizabeth, N.J., story on investigation proves to be a myth.
Shamong, N.J., Nov. 14.—No clue to any body can be found at this time (1 a.m.) The rumour seems to have no foundation. NEW YORK. Nov. 16 .- The Tribun enies the alleged discovery of the Stewart ourkers as a sensational story, while the other morning papers report it as truth.

The World says the detectives have traced the robbers until every act is known. The robbers entered the grave-yard on Thursday morning at 3.17; breaking into the vault and securing the remains occupied an hour. The men who did the work inside the graveyard and vault turned waiting outside. The robbers then went in one direction and those having posse of the body went directly to the N River and thence across into New Jersey The body was there deposited near Weehawken, but since has been moved. One of the men engaged in the robbery.

The reports circulated yesterday that the hiding place of Stewart's body had been clear and satisfactory reply is received by November 20th the Viceroy will be comdiscovered and the thieves had been shadowed are generally disbelieved. Re-garding the arrest of Vreeland, the police refuse to say whether he had been arrested

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The Times says the five men who were hired to steal Stewart's are to be arrested. The other two bribed the private detectives who were shadowing outside the limits of Weehawken cemetery. It was rumoured this afternoon that several arrests had been made in the Stewart case by an up-town police captain. It was said that an ex-employe of the Morgue, an east-side undertaker and two others were arrested. It was afterwards learned that five persons, including those mentioned, had been brought to the station omplaint against them was sworn to. Capt. REVIEW OF THE NECOTIATIONS.

LONDON, Nov. 20 .- The Central News says:—"An important despatch from India, which we have reason to believe is Shere Ali's reply to the Viceroy's ultimatum, was An s reply to the viceroy's utimatum, was received yesterday at the Indian Office in London. The Indian Council was immediately summoned, and the result of the conference will be laid before the Cabinet this afternoon."

The Government has published a long despatch from Lord Canbrook, Secretary of State for India, to Lord Lytton, Viceroy of India, recapitulating the negotiations with Afghanistan. The despatch traces the first estrangement between England and the Ameer of Afghanistan to the refusal of the Gladstone Government in 1873 to give a definite answer as to how far they would definite answer as to how far they would help him if he was threatened by Russia. The despatch points out that on the accession of the present Government, the relations of England with Afghanistan had to be reconsidered with reference to the rapid march of events in Turkesten. Consequently when Lord Lytton was sent to India, he was instructed to offer the Ameer the protection he previously solicit. Ameer the protection he previously solicitcognition of his dynasty, and a pledge of material support against unprovoked foreign aggression, conditionally upon the Ameei allowing British agents to have accession to positions in his territory, except Cabul, where they could acquire trustworthy in-telligence of events likely to threaten the tranquility and independence of Afghanis-Such access was necessary as a substantial proof of the unity of the Ameer's interests with those of Great Britain. The despatch then narrates the abortive ending of the missions of Col. Sir Lewis Pelly and Gen. Sir Neville Chamberlain, which were undertaken in pursuance of these instructions, and shows that the latter was suggested by Lord Lytton, who thought that after the ostentatious reception of the Russian mission a policy of inaction was no longer tenable and that the refusal the Ameer to receive the Brit-mission was improbable and would be inexcusable. The despatch concludes stating the terms of the ultimatum. namely, a full and suitable apology within a given time, the reception of a permanent British mission and amnesty to the tribes who escorted the British envoy. ALLEGED ABDUCTION. A Foung Man Arrested for Alluring a Young Girl from Her Home.

On Monday a young man named Edward J. Clarke, aged twenty-seven, living on the Kingston Road, was arrested on King street by Detective Sheehan on a warrant charging him with having abducted a young woman named Josephine Leslie, of Leslieville. The prisoner was put into the cells at the Central station about four o'clock in the afternoon. The complaint of the warrant is as follows:—

The Edward J. Clarke did fraudlently and the save and detail one will. The girl was warned repeatedly of the dangerous course she was pursuing in having any intercourse with Clarke, but with feminine perversity, she refused to act according to the advice of those who were most interested in her well-being. Some days ago she disappeared from her home, and her relations could discover no trace of her whereabouts. Members of her family set out in search of her, but could not learn anything of her until a few days ago when her brother while passing along Widmer street was surprised to see his sister sitting at an upstairs window of a house in that street. When she saw her brother she disappeared from the window. He went down town and made arrangements to have her taken home, but when he returned to the house, she had flown no one knew where. It is alleged that Clarke induced her to leave her home and that he has secreted her from her friends, hence his arrest. An offer was made to bail the prisoner but was refused.

cannot be so contemptionally treated; and I write in the hope that abler pens will be employed in discussing it. While it cannot be denied that credit is abused, I submit that to make it illegal to give or take credit, or worse, without any illegality expressed, to deprive a class or section of those who exercise their rights in trade, of their just and proper share of the law's protection, will be to open the door to abuses far more injurious than that intended to be remedied. The true remedy lies with the trading public themselves; they are not compelled to trust any, and if, in the race for wealth, or in the competition for daily bread, they do so, neither they nor their improvident customers are entitled to seek, nor will be benefitted by, abnormal legislation. As well urge, in view of the numerous failures among retail dealers, and the losses made by wholesalers, losses induced by their own reckless mode of selling on credit, that they shall not be able to collect, by legal process, debts not exceeding says $5,000. The remedy would be at least as just and efficacious; and the result would soon appear in the thinning of the over-crowded ranks of retailers, the excessive competition among whom is the winding canse of the had debts as much excessive competition among whom is the principal cause of the bad debts so much complained of. But then it makes so much difference which ox is gored—and I fear that what may be palatable sauce for the

ALLEGED ABDUCTION.

Young Man Arrested for Alluring a Young Girl from Her Home. On Monday a young man named Edward Clarke, aged twenty-seven, living on the Kingston Road, was arrested on King street by Detective Sheehan on a warrant charging him with having abducted a young woman named Josephine Leslie, of Leslieville, The prisoner was put into the cells at the Central station about four o'clock in the after-The complaint of the warrant is as

That Edward J. Clarke did fraudulently and leloniously allure and take away and detain one Josephine Leslie, a woman under the age of twenty-one years, out of the possession and against the will of her father and mother, they having the lawful care and charge of the said Josephine Leslie.

Clarke, who dresses neatly, tooks considerably younger than his years, and has led quite a gay life around town for some time past. He is married, but is separated time past. He is married, but is separated from his wife. The gil mentioned in the case is said to be possessed of more than ordinary beauty, which seems to have pleased Clarke's eye, for he struck up an acquaintance with her, much against her parents' will. The girl was warned repeatedly of the dangerous course she was pursuing in having any intercourse with Clarke, but with feminine perversity, she refused to act according to the advice of those who were most interested in her well-being. Some days ago she disappeared from her home, and her relations could discover no trace of her whereabouts. Members of her family set out in search of Members of her family set out in search of Members of her family set out in search of her, but could not learn anything of her until a few days ago when her brother while passing along Widmer street was surprised to see his sister sitting at an up-stairs window of a house in that street. When she saw her brother she disappeared from the window. He went down town and made arrangements to have her taken home, but when he returned to the house, she had flown no one knew where. It is alleged that Clarke induced her to leave her home and that he has secreted her from

on the streets to the effect that ex-Alderman dearing, contractor, had absconded, leaving large liabilities. Enquiry was made, and it was found that the rumour, far from being unfounded, was only too true. The first to come aware of the wily ex-alderman's flight was Mr. Jesse Knowles, dealer in nardware at 447 Yonge'street. A child of Mr. Knowles' had been playing with a child of Mr. Gearing's in the morning. Mr. Gearing's child informed her playmate that her "pa" had got up very early that morning, and had gone to the States; that he was not coming back, and that she was going over to meet him. Mr. Gearing owes Mr. Knowles a considerable amount for hardware furnished, and when the latter heard what had been told his daughter, he hurried across the road to Mr. Gearing's house. Mr. Gearing was gone. The fugitive was at one time an Alderman of the city. On retiring from the Council he entered largely into the contracting business. At the time of his flight he was under contract to erect the Bond-street Congregational church, the Erskine Presbyterian church, Messrs. Rice Lewis & Co.'s new building in rear of the old post office, improvements on Little Trinity church, the City Engineer, Mr. Shanly's residence, and other buildings. On these works he had 210 workmen employed, to whom about three week's wages are owing. After the departure of his father, Mr. Gearing, Jr., informed the men employed on the different works of the occurrence, and they immediately stopped work. Mr. Gearing must have left with his pockets well lined. A short time ago he received $1,400 insurance out of $3,000 on a building belonging to him which was burned, the remainder of the money going to the mortgagees. He drew $1,000 on the Rice Lewis contract, and got $500 from Bond-street church in the same manner, $500 from Little Trinity church, and $300 from the Erskine Presbyterian Church. He drew from the Ontario Bank the balance at his account, $1,800, all of which, it is supposed he carried away with him to begin life afresh across the border. The sursties in his contract for the construction of the Bond street Church are making arrangements to proceed with the work. One who is conversant with Mr. Gearing's affairs, told Mail reporter that for some time paet Mr. Gearing has been hard pressed by his creditors, who intended to close upon him on Monday, so he sought safety in Mr. Knowles' had been playing with a child of Mr. Gearing's in the morning.

The market since our last has been quiet, which has been due partly to small offerings and partly to a slack demand. There has been but little change in prices, and the tendency of the few changes which have occurred has been in different directions. Receipts have been of fair amount; stocks of grain have generally increased, standing on Monday morning as follows:—Flour, 3,850 bble; fall wheat, 46,431 bushels; spring wheat, 86,678 bushels; oats, 18,340 bushels; spring wheat, 86,678 bushels; oats, 18,340 bushels; spring wheat, so,6678 bushels; oats, 18,340 bushels; barley, 283,005 bushels; peas, 17,913 bushels, and rye, nil bushels. Outside markets have varied in tendency. English prices were tending downwards in the latter part of last week, and quotations to-day showafall of 1d on red wheat; of 4d on red winter; of 1d on white, and of 3d on corn since this day week. Still the feeling seems to have been improving during the last three days, and to-day we find floating cargoe reported the turn dearer, with a Continental demand for corn, and both wheat and corn held firmly. The supply seems to have been decreasing of late; the total for the week ending on the 9th inst. was equal to 446,000 to 52,501 qrs. The supply of maize for the week was equal to 640,000 to 630, 900 bush against an average weekly consumption of 34,000 to 52,501 qrs. CATTLE.

TRADE—Seems to have been less active.

Breves—Receipte have continued to be large, and in excess of the wants of buyers generally. First-class have been scarce; still some shipping-lots have been offered, but the close of the St. Lawrence navigation has caused buyers to seek concessions, and it is not safe to rely on any more than $4.75, to bring which the cattle must be good steers, averaging not under 1,300 lbs; lighter weights for local contumption have gone off quiety at $1.25 to $4.50. Second-class have been abundant, but generally unchanged at from $3.25 to $3.50, and selling fairly well. Third-class also have been plentiful, but as the byres are now pretty well filled, the demand for "feeders" has fallen off, and prices have ranged from $2 to $5, the former fer inferior bulls.

SHERF—The market has shown but little change during the week; all offering, which are not very many, have been wasted and found a reacty gale at a slight advance in prices. First-class averaging rom 125 lbs. upwards, have been wanted at $4 per cental, and selling by the head at from $5.50 to $6.25, the litter for really fine only, Second-class have been quiet but firm at $3,75 to $4.50. THEFT WEEKLY MAIL FOR 1879.

It is nearly seven years since THE MAIL was established, and during that time it has gradually acquired circulation and influence which renders it second to no other Newspaper in the Dominion. The Publisher takes pleasure in announcing that THE WEEKLY MAIL has met with a very large measure of success in the year just closing, and that notwithstanding the general depression in business, and the consequent falling off in the circulation of almost every other paper in Canada, The Mail both Daily and Weekly has made a very great advance.

The improvements begun in THE WEEKLY MAIL during 1878 will be continued during the coming year. coming year.

Special Editors have been engaged for the various Departments, and no expense will be spared to make the whole paper INTERESTING AND RELI-
