SPANISH AFFAIRS.

We recur to this subject chiefly for the purpose of presenting to our readers in concise form the principal events which have occurred in Spain during the past week. And the most important circumstance to be noticed is the flight of the Queen from San Sebastian where she had remained from her interview with the Emperor Napoleon to Bayonne on the frontiers of France. Thus the last of the Bourbons, as she is called, has been hurled from the throne she disgraced, and has become an exile like many others of her race. For nearly three centuries has the house of Bourbon given rulers to France, to Spain, or to some of the provinces of Italy, and during a certain period Bourbons reigned in all three countries at the same time, now all are fugitives and outcasts, brought to nought chiefly by the license they allowed to their own low passions. Charles X was chased from France in 1830, and with him ended the race of Bourbon rulers in that country. The years 1859 and 1860 witnessed the expulsion of those members of this noted family which then held sovereignty in the two Sicilies, and in Parma and Placenza, and in the course of one short, but vigorous and determined revolution, the dynasty has been overturned in Spain, where, with the exception of one brief interruption in the time of the first Napoleon who placed his brother Joseph on the throne, it has swayed the sceptre since the beginning of the eighteenth century. Added to the iniquity of their private deviations from virtue the Bourbons have always had a strong inclination to stretch their power towards fierce despotism, and though nations may suffer long it very frequently occurs that the people come to understand, or at least to believe for a time, that they are sovereign. Thus when Isabella's calamity came she found but few friends, and,

As the last of her race she must either alone, And delight not in days she has witnessed before. It is said that in her exile she has the additional solace of all the Crown jewels, and over twenty million reals in gold.

French revolutions are proverbial for the rapidity with which they effect changes and accomplish their purpose, but none of them has far outstripped in celerity that which has driven Isabella from the throne. Her ministers and generals, her soldiers and sailors deserted her with generosity at the moment's hesitation, and indeed she seems to have been as much despised as our own Charles I, who in the first hours of adversity "found none to say 'God bless him.'" The Conchas, one at the head of the government, and the other at the head of the army have declared for revolution, the Royal forces have been beaten and dispersed, the people have cried "Down with the Bourbons," "Religious Liberty," "Free Education," and a new Cabinet has been formed with the veteran Espartero at its head. All these events have crowded one after the other with a bewildering rapidity. It seems very probable that Republicanism will be the form of government adopted in Spain, and that it will require the subtlety and shrewdness of a Louis Napoleon to restore either a kingdom or an empire. Isabella from beyond the Pyrenees has issued her protest that her rights are not injured by the force used by the Rebels, and the acts of a Junta established by violence are not binding on the people. The sword of her illustrious ancestor, Henry of Navarre, might be of some use to the exigency; as for her protest it will avail nothing whatever.

Toronto Grey and Bruce Railway.

The Toronto Telegraph of Friday says in speaking of the above road: The directors have come to the resolution to combine their forces, and consolidate their means on the construction of the first or eastern division of the Line Good! This division extends from the city of Toronto to Arthur. When Grey is ready to come into line, and work with the road will be extended through her; and she will have all the necessary assistance to get direct communication with this city and with Lake Ontario. Meanwhile, the Directors propose to proceed at once, and in earnest, with the First Division, and they intend to have that completed by the 1st of January, 1870. Good again!

It may be here mentioned that, to-day, the Orangeville by-law for $15,000 will be voted on, and the Caledon by-law will be submitted to the people in a few days. Now, let Toronto come forward frankly, and give the company all the moral and material support that the enterprise really deserves. We are glad to see that Alderman Harrison, M. P. and Alderman Harman have been added to the Board of Directors.

Messrs. C. S. Ross, and W. Smith, of the Civil Service Commission, appointed for the purpose of examining into the affairs of the Post Office, Customs and Excise department are on their inspecting tour in the West. It is hoped they will visit Guelph and recommend the Government to erect a suitable custom house and Post Office in this town. The present post office, as a building, is a disgrace to our town.

PER ATLANTIC CABLE.

PARIS, Oct. 7th.—A report from Spain says that the Carlists are agitating the Basque Provinces and Aragon, and that some of the Local Juntas have issued protests against the supremacy of Marshal Berrano.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Advices from China by the overland mail state that the Emperor has opened the port of Cerifou, on the Gulf of Pehete, to foreign trade.

Trouble with the Indians.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 7th.—The cases of Edward J. Keenan, deputy chairman of the Democratic state committee, and others, charged by the Hon. John Covide with colonizing the voters of his district, appeared before the Court to-day. The charges were withdrawn and the defendants discharged, the prosecutor paying the costs.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7th.—A mass meeting of German Republicans was held at the Cooper Institute this evening under the auspices of the German Grant and Colfax Campaign Club. Addresses were made by Ex-Governor Solomon, of Wisconsin, and Hon. John A. Griswold.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7th.—There was a slight fall of snow at St. Joseph to-day.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8th.—The Herald's Washington Telegraph despatch says Gen. Sherman has written the authorities for more troops to aid in subduing the Indian warriors. He is said to complain bitterly of the tedious delays in sending reinforcements, and to state that unless he is promptly furnished with all the troops he desires nothing can prevent a wide spread and disastrous series of conflicts with the discontented tribes.

The Times' despatch says General Sherman and General Sheridan in their despatches from the frontier, are both of the opinion that there will be a serious war with the Indians from this time until winter sets in. The latest intelligence shows that the Arapahos, Cheyennes, Kiowas, and Comanches have already cut loose and ready for robbery and murder. The Kiowas and Comanches have already swept across the country from Fort Searsh to Fort Dodge. The total force of these tribes is about 4,500 warriors. Fortunately we have a larger force to meet them than last year, though still not large enough to punish them as they deserve. Gen. Sheridan will take the field in person and lively work may be expected in that quarter soon.

Mount Forest Correspondence.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

There is not much of public interest transpiring in this locality at present. The railway excitement is still simmering throughout the townships, opinions thereon are various, and the only thing that can be said on the question is that a general want of confidence is freely expressed in both schemes. Farming operations are pushed with vigor. Considerable fall wheat is sown, and the appearance of the crop is splendid so far. The partial failure of the spring wheat this season on certain soils, and the fair yield from the fall wheat has induced many farmers to try fall wheat this season, who probably never dreamed of giving up the time honored system of ploughing up the hard soil in spring with a lean yoke of oxen, sprinkling sparingly the ground with spring wheat, and trusting to chance for an abundant harvest. But it is to be hoped that this primitive style of husbandry will speedily be numbered with the things that have been, and that the small farmers as a class will be more self-reliant, push their business with vigor and take lessons from their more prosperous neighbors who date their success from the day that they commenced to deal generously and reasonably with their farms.

Public improvements generally indicate the prosperity of any people or place. Mount Forest therefore can claim a fair share of progress even in this hard season. Mr. G. Bezz has a large grist mill in course of erection, situated in the north end of the village. The machinery will be brought up next week, and the work will, no doubt, be completed at once. The congregation of St. Andrew's Church are erecting a splendid manse. The work reflects credit on Messrs. Green & Watson the contractors. Some of the stores are much improved in their general appearance in several instances by slight alterations, paint, &c., but still there is room for improvement in this matter of store fronts. Methinks the man who shows good taste in this respect is likely to select his stock in trade with like taste, as well as economy, and that customers will most certainly purchase to advantage and profit from the man who erects an attractive front on his place of business, keeps his stock in apple pie order, and is generally courteous and attentive to all, poor and rich.

ITS EFFECT IS MIRACULOUS

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RESTORER

It is a perfect and wonderful article. Cure baldness. Makes hair grow. A better dressing than any Oil or Pomatum. Softens brush, dry and wiry hair into beautiful and Silken Tresses. But above all, the great wonder is the rapidity with which it restores GRAY HAIR to its ORIGINAL COLOR. The whitest and worst looking hair resumes its youthful beauty by its use. It does not dye the hair, but strikes at the root and fills it with new life and coloring matter. The first application will do good; you will see the NATURAL COLOR returning every day, and before you know it the old, gray, discolored appearance of the hair will be gone, giving lustre, shining and beautiful locks.

Ask for Hall's Sicilian Hair Restorer; no other article is at all like it in effect. See that each bottle has our private Government Stamp over the top of the bottle. All others are imitations.
