The Monthly Missionary Meeting.

TO maintain and promote the missionary spirit in a congregation, it will be necessary to adopt special means of some kind or other. It may be taken for granted that every minister, with greater or less frequency, brings the missionary aspect of Christianity under the notice of his people from the pulpit. But this is not enough. The subject should be discussed and illustrated from the platform as well, when the members of the congregation would have an opportunity of taking part in the proceedings, by contributing information, reading papers, or asking questions about missionary work. It is customary with some congregations to devote the first Wednesday evening of each month to missionary intelli-sence. It would be well if all congregations did this. But, strange to say, it has been found difficult to sustain the interest in such meetings. We can only account for this by supposing that sufficient care has not been taken to make suitable preparations for successful meetings. Nothing should be left andone to make the meetings attractive. People expect to get information on these occasions, and it ought to be fresh, authentic, and to the meetings. and to the point. To this end a programme extending over say at least six or eight meetings should be carefully prepared beforehand, Printed and circulated among the members. A distinct subject should be appointed for each meeting, let it be India, or Africa, or China, or the West Indies, or the South Seas, or Turkey, Protestant missions in Roman Catholic countries, or Home Missions. In each case a member of the congregation should be named to introduce the subject. For this he should make special preparation interesting information in regard to our and be able to give a brief outline of the Church's work in the South Seas.

history and progress of the particular mission under consideration, its peculiar difficulties, and its results. One or two others might be named to hold themselves in readiness to speak for five minutes each on the same subject, after which the meeting might take the form of a conference, when questions might be asked and answered. The less reading of extracts from papers or manuscript the better. A map of the country under discussion is an essential requisite. It does not need to be an expensive or elaborate one. It may be a mere outline, extemporized for the occasion, or it may be roughly sketched on the blackboard, or it may be one of Colter's missionary maps, which would answer for the whole course of meetings, and which may be obtained through any bookseller for $12. Special works of reference for the several fields are easily obtained, and these when they have served their purpose might go to form the nucleus of a congregational missionary library to which all might have free access. At intervals the stereopticon and photography might be brought into requisition and an entertainment provided that would invest the subject with interest even to the youngest members of the congregation. The best catalogue of books treating on missionary subjects that we have seen is in "The Gospel in All Lands' Missionary Almanac," published by Eugene R. Smith, New York, price 25 cents. The two The two most valuable contributions to missionary literature of a general kind are Dr. Christlieb's "Survey of Protestant Missions," price 75 cents, and Dr. Bainbridge's "Around the World Tour of Christian Missions," $2, Dr. Patterson's "Missionary life among the Cannibals," being the life of Dr. Geddie, first

Missionary Conference in India.

HE second General Decennial Conference of Missionaries in India was held in the Methodist Episcopal Church, Calcutta, commencing on the 28th of December. The meetings continued for six days; the total number of registered members of the Conference bling four hundred and sixty-nearly four times as many as attended the famous Allahabad Conference ten years ago. Major General Sir II. Ramsay occupied the chair, and gave the assembled delegates a hearty welcome. He remarked that the real President was He in whose name they had met together. He asked the delegates to forget their denominational distinctions and consider the allimportant work of saving souls, the work which God had sent them to accomplish in that wide field.

"Preaching to the heathen" was the subject of the first paper read by Dr. Forman, a missionary of the American Presbyterian Church at Lahore. He thought that many missionaries erred in failing to use methods that will attract larger crowds of hearers. Much as Europeans objected to the methods of the Salvation Army, he had never heard a native of India condemn them. Others spoke in the same line, advocating the accompaniments of singing and praying in connection with bazaar and street preaching. The preaching should be followed by house to house visitation. Every thing calculated to excite prejudice should be avoided, when we can with far better results dwell upon the love and the patience of Christ. Thousands had gone away from bazaar wrangles believing that the advocate of Christianity had been worsted in the controversy. It was remarked that in many workers who came to India zeal seemed to evaporate as time went on. At the same time it was admitted to be difficult for those who continually preach to unresponsive, unimpressionable Hindu audiences to maintain the freshness of their zeal. It was thought good that missionaries should have as many private interviews as possible with the people. Dr. Murray Mitchell said that the general feeling of missionaries in Western India was that there ought to be less controversy and more direct preaching of the Gospel. "Sunday-School work" came in for a large share of The young are the hope of the rescind the contract. attention. Church in India; therefore they ought never to be placed under heathen teachers; but owing to the want of Christian teachers in that after introducing Christianity in a heathen many of the day-schools there is the more seed for the systematic teaching of the Sabbath-School, and the testimony of the missionaries goes to shew that progress in this direction has been most satisfactory.

that of the "Higher Education" in relation to its religious or missionary aspect. Dr. Murray Mitchell expressed the opinion that too much. relatively, had been spent on Higher Education, and maintained that the great subject of mass education should be taken up with more energy than heretofore. Mr. Wilson, one of the missionary teachers at Calcutta, referring to the work of Dr. Duff, and the changes that had come to pass in the educated Hindu community, said it was apparent that those changes were largely intellectual, political, social, economic ; where they had been religious at all, they had been destructive rather than constructive. This, indeed, is acknowledged by all who have studied the history of missions in India. Circumstances at first led nearly all the Churches to seek the moral elevation of the upper classes. But circumstances have changed in India immensely in the last fifty years, and the conviction is gaining ground that the conversion of India is to be looked for from below upward; in other words that while Higher Education is not to be abandoned, far greater efforts should be put forth for the evangelization of the low castes, and the aboriginal races who own no caste at all.

• Women, for the first time in India, took part in the proceedings of such a Conference. Their theme was their own work in schools, in hospitals, and in families. Twelve ladies read papers on appropriate subjects. A society was formed, --- " The Indian Woman's Home Missionary Association," the object of which is not to collect funds, but to enlist Christian women of all races and grades of society in direct personal effort to win souls to Christ. Each member is pledged to at least three hours of personal effort every week. Three native christian ladies represented the Baptist Churches at Maulmain, Burmah. In this connection it may be stated that the Conference determined to attack the practice, which is almost universal among families of high caste, of marrying Indian children in early infancy. The missionaries will endeavour to procure the passage of a law which shall make such a marriage null unless approved by the girl when she comes to years of discretion. They would thus in all cases interpret the marriage ceremony, as it is called, as a mere betrothal, and leave the parties free either to ratify it by a later marriage or to "Native Agency" was also discussed very. thoroughly. The consensus of opinion was, country, the first duty of a foreign missionary was to start a native Christian agency. large number of native women were Christians and should be trained for service. There was a time when perhaps this was charitable purposes, men who seemed to necessary but, like many other things in India, the time had come when a readjustment of operations should be made to meet the present exigencies. It would be well to take a lesson from apostolic times. The modern missionary, when, by the grace of God, converts are made, usually settles among them as their permanent pastor, whereas in the early days of the Church the missionary or the evangelist passed on to new fields of labour, leaving the company of believers to regulate their own aftairs. Rev. J. L. Phillips, American Baptist Mission, Midnapur, referred to the difficulty foreign missionaries had in becoming acquainted with the idiosyncrasies of speech and life found in The previous evening, as he listened India. to the lecture of Keshub Chunder Sen, he could not but feel that the natives of the soil must win India for Christ. In Burmah recently a boatman, who was earning to rupces for the supplementing of the salaries of per month, was converted. One day the missionary said to him, "I see you are a good talker; will you go and preach among your people-can you do it for five rupees a month ?" The boatman thought a moment, and then replied, "No, I can't do it for five rupees a month, but I can do it for the sake of the Lord fesus Christ." God give us that sort of men :.11 over India.

Proportionate Giring.

WUR American cousins have made themselves famous for their giving. The donations of private individuals to religious and philanthropic objects have been upon a princely scale. We are surprised to notice that fears are being expressed in some quarters that, perhaps, in this respect the Churches of the United States have seen their best days. We do not believe there is the slightest foundation for such fears. We rather believe that what we have seen and heard are only to be regarded as the drops that preceed the coming shower. Within the last few weeks two millionaires-both members of the Presbyterian Church- have passed away leaving a bright example to all who are similarly blessed with ample means, to do likewise. We refer to the Hon. William E. Dodge and Governor E. D. Morgan, both of New York. At the time of their death they were said to be he is ever the richer for what he wisely and worth between six and seven millions of dollars ¹ lovingly gives to the Lord.

contributors to educational, ecclesiastical, and realize their Christian stewardship. M1. Dodge bequeathed about half a million of dollars for benevolent purposes, leaving for Foreign Missions $100,000, for Home Missions 50,000, and for the education of young men for the ministry $50,000. The money that he left by no means indicates his success in business, nor is his liberality to be measured by his legacies. It is said that during some years his contributions to benevolent and charitable objects amounted to $1,000 per day, and besides this he devoted a great deal of his time in works of philanthropy. He was especially noted for the interest he took in young men and for the help he gave them in prosecution of their studies the and other ways. Governor in Morgan left $795,000 for similar purposes-$100,000 each for Home and Foreign Missions, $50,000 ministers engaged in Home Missionary work. and $300,000 for Theological education. Dr Cuyler, in speaking of Mr. Dodge's death, is reported to have said :- "The secret of Mr. Dodge's power lay in the first hour of every morning. That hour he gave to God with his Bible and on his knees, and if he came down among business men with his face shining with cheerfulness and lovi..g-kindness it was because he had been up in the mount in communion with his Master."

In Canada we have, as yet, only a very few Christian religion greater prominence in the millionaires, but we have a large number of ever of the heathen than it ever had before. people who are "well-to-do." They have enough to live upon comfortably, and something to spare. Upon the whole they are a good sort of people-well-disposed. But, in the matter of proportionate giving-this "one thing we lack." There is a good deal of money given every year for religious purposes, but the usual method of giving is largely "haphazard." We give what we think we can spare when an appeal is made to us, according to momentary impulse; but, too often, the mood passes away and selfishness comes with its cold grip to chill the sympathies and paralyse the hand. There is a more excellent way. We know, or at least we should know, our own income. Let us consider and decide how much we ought to set apart for missionary and benevolent purposes. This decision once arrived at should be adhered to until there is good reason to revise it. Regularity, punctuality, and a due sense of responsibility are all important elements in this matter. If we resolve to give one-tenth, or one-fifth, we must adhere to our resolutions-even if the shoe See brethren, "that ye abound in pinches. this grace also." A man is never the poorer;

He was sure to be arres ed as an apostate. Beter Working Miracles.

Астя іх: 32-43.

Golden Text, Acts 9:34.

HILE the Churches were "at rest," Peter left Jerusalem to visit and enc urage the congregations that had been formed during the ten years since the resurrection of Christ. Peter takes no credit to himself, but modestly ascribes the cure to Christ. Arise-Peter was sure of the result; Make thy Ld-and so give proof of the completeness of the cure. The faith of Encas appears in his instant compliance. The gift of miraculous bolily healing no longer exists, but the more important gift of raising dead souls to life is as active in the Church as ever it was. V. 35. Saron-Sharon; the district in which Lydda stood. Much good may be done to others by an honest avowal of faith in Christ. V. 36. Tabitha, or Dorcas-"gazelle," associated in the East with the perfection of female beauty. It has since become the synonym of that charity with which she clothed the poor by the labour of her own hands, Hence our "Dorcas Societies." There is no beauty to be compared with the lovliness of doing good. Tabitha was a disciple and a saint. V. 37. The brief yet touching account of what was done after her death removes all doubt as to its reality. Being laid in an upper room, indicates that the body had been kept longer than usual in the hope that Peter, known to be in the neighbourhood, might yet raise her to life. V. 39. From the affecting scene here described it may almost be inferred that they only realized her true worth after she vas dead. V. 40. Tabitha arise-At first sight it might seem as though Peter said this presumptuously, in his own name, but it must be remembered he was on his knees, praying for the restoration of Dorcas, as did Elijah for the widow's son, 1 Kings 1: 21, and it may be inferred that he had the assurance that his prayer was to be answered. In the only other case of restoration to life by apostolic agency, though it is not said that Paul prayed, it is clearly implied, ch. 20: 10. V. 42. Many believed in the Lord; i. e. that this miracle was wrought in the name of the Lord. V. 43. Our Own Churck.

HE NEXT GENERAL ASSEMBLY of the Presbyterian Church in Canada is appointed to meet in the City of London, Ont., and within St. Andrew's Church there, on the second Wednesday of June, (the 13th.) The accounts of the several treasurers of the Missionary and benevolent funds of the Church will be closed as usual on the 30th of April The amounts received at this date in the Western Section are considerably less than at the corresponding period of last year. The amount acknowledged for Home Missions is only $21,156, against $24,409 last year, and for Foreign Missions $19,046 as compared with $20,703. The Convener of the former committee asks $15,000 and could invest double that amount profitably if he had it. $40,000 are asked for Foreign Missions, but this is evidently the very smallest sum that will meet current expenses to say nothing of the expansion of the work which may be designated "an anknown quantity."

In the Eastern Section the Home Mission committee are rejoicing in immunity from debt and in the fact that the accounts for the year will close "with the balance where it ought to be." The supplementing committee asked for $2500 to remove a debt and they have got it-$500 from the ministers and $2,000 from the people. Having made provision for their own wants, they are now considering what they can do to aid the work in Manitoba and the North-West. And perhaps we should say just here, without any disparagement of any of the other Schemes, that the Home Mission work in Manitoba and the North-West, and the college connected with it, is beyond comparison the most important work entrusted to our Church. We have not hitherto been able to keep pace with the increase of population-not by a very There are thousands of Presbylong way. terian families wholly destitute of religious ordinances-and hundreds of townships, Mr. Robertson assures us, where the voice of a Presbyterian Minister is never heard. And what of the future? There is every reason to believe that the number of settlers this year will be thankfully received.

will be double the number of last year, and the number next year will probably be double that of this year. So far as Presbyterianism is concerned, now is the supreme moment in the We trust that the people great North-West. in the older provinces, whose sons and daughters are going there in large numbers, will realize their duty in this behalf. And although we are no advocates for craving assistance ab extra for our ordinary Church work, we can honestly commend this work of exceptional magnitude and interest to Presbyterians everywhere, and especially to the churches of Great Britain and Ireland who are contributing so largely to the settlement of this new country, and who we feel sure are willing to share with us the responsibility which in the providence of God has been so suddenly put on our shoulders.

MINISTERIAL STIPENDS.—Public sentiment is beginning to turn in the right direction. While the Church has been considering a General Sustentation Scheme, some of the Presbyteries have taken the matter in hand. That of Montreal has secured a guarantee of some $4,000 a year for three years by private subscription, and with the condition that it is not to interfere with any of the existing Schemes of the Church. This will enable the Presbytery at once to make the minimum stipend, in the country charges, $750 with a manse, and in the city $1200 with a residence.

THE TEMPORALITIES BOARD .- During the last few months the personnel of the Board has undergone a great change. Two of the members were removed by death-Sir Hugh Allan and Mr. James Michie; two resigned their seats at the Board-Rev. D. M. Gordon and Judge Dennistoun; one removed from the country. The following are the new members elected by the Beneficiaries :- Rev. James Patterson, Clerk of the Presbytery of Montreal, Rev. Donald Ross, B. D., of Lachine; Mr. Andrew Allan, Montreal; Mr. G. M. Macdonnell, of Kingston; and Mr. D. B. McLennan, Q. C., of Cornwall. The other members of the Board are Rev. Dr. Cook, and Mr. William Walker, of Quebec, Rev. Dr. Jenkins, Rev. R. Campbell, Mr. William Darling, Chairman, Mr. Alex. Mitchell, and Mr. John L. Morris, of Montreal. The amount subscribed towards the Expense Fund has reached a little over $7,000-not quite one-half the amount asked for. If there are any other congregations minded to express their sympathy with the managers of the Fund in a tangible form their contributions FOREIGN MISSIONS, Eastern Section:-The committee met on the 8th February. The reports and accounts of all the Trinidad misssionaries were laid on the table, and found entirely satisfactory. The estimates of this year 1883 were submitted and accepted, without change. The resignation of Rev. T. M. Christie was accepted with regret, and a suitable minute adopted of approval of his work, which was more blessed during the last year than ever before. Arrangements were made for the appointment of Rev. M. Hendrie, U. P. Minister of San Fernando as Mr. Christie's successor. Miss Blackadder and Miss Semple had arrived. Mr. Morton had been indisposed by cold but was regain-ing his wonted vigour. Special thanksgiving was made for the manifest tokens of progress during the year past at all the stations. Letters from Dr. Steel were read and rate of payment for the support of Rev. Mr. Morrisson's children adopted. As there are many extra demands for funds and a large deficiency requiring to be made up before the first of May, the secretary was directed to give the widest publicity to the facts of the case, and the urgent need of pecuniary supplies in the monthly periodicals and weekly papers .--- P. W. McLean, of Belleville, and Rev. Alexander Young, of Napanee.

LAKE SHORE, Owen Sound:-A very handsome church, completely furnished throughout, was opened for worship at this place on the 25th of February. The Rev. James Cameron preached in the morning and the Rev. J. Somerville in the afternoon to crowded audiences. The building cost about $2500 and is extremely creditable to the congregation which has been vacant for some time.

MANITOBA ITEMS.

Manitoba had a cold month to begin the year. The "oldest inhabitant" does not remember a worse one. But November, December, February, and so far in March have been delightful. The old Parish of Kildonan. under its new pastor, Mr. Pringle, is flourishing, asit did in days gone by. An enthusiastic tea-meeting was held in February. Many touching allusions were made by the different speakers to the memory of Dr. Black. A new church was opened at Sunnyside in February. The Professors of the College conducted the opening services. Manitoba Literary Society has completed a monthly course of of five lectures very successfully. The February lecture on "Livingstone" was given by Rev. D. M. Gordon, and that in March by Rev. C. B. Pitblado on "Dr. Chalmers." Mrs. Pitolado lately gave a festival to the news boys of Winnipeg. Governor Aikins is popular. Government House entertainments have been largely attended. No cards, dancing, or wine are found at these gatherings. The godly rejoice. Rev. J. W. Mitchell has gone to Regina. The cry for missionaries west of Brandon, is becoming heart-rending. There has been gross neglect. Our people are in despair. They are crying out: "Has the Presbytery, the H. M. Committee, the Church forgotten us ?"

PRINCE ALBERT, N. W. T.

During the past year Prince Albert has grown from a hamlet to an enterprising village, in western phrase a town or city. It has passed from its infancy to vigourous youth with anxious and sangnine expectations of a more vigourous manhood and far-reaching influence. The resources of civilization are close at hand. Railway construction will begin when the snow disappears. The telegraph will ere long flash in its messages. Already the press throws off its weekly issues. The place owes nothing to governmental favours or patronage. Had our Ottawa WEST HUNTINGDON.---A landsome new rulers combined to retard progress they could Witholding municipal law and with it a public school system, taking the proceeds of land sales out of the country, leaving not enough behind to bridge even the creeks on the main trails, are methods of aiding the North-West that have at least the merit of novelty. An advantageous position and the resolute enterprise of the people have made Prince Albert what it is to-day The centre of a rich agricultural district with easy access to ample store of fuel and timber, capital and determined push are fast erecting it into a business centre. The bridesmaid was equal to the emergency. She whispered energetically in the bride's ear, "Say A-he," the Cree cognomen for yes. "A-he," was the response, and the light-hearted pair went away to celebrate their nuptials with a dance and a fcast.

Church matters are not behind the versatile energy of business. The building erected about a year ago is already too small for the increased attendance. An important step has been taken toward self-support. Our congregation of thirty, contributes $800-an average of $26 a member-and is looking onward to the goal of its hopes, complete self-support. Should its petition for erection into a separate congregation be granted, an additional misssionary will be needed at once. progress as a denomination would be more visible. Eastern readers would have a better knowledge of what is being done and what is not being done. The trumpet has been so loudly blown about the progress of Presbyterianism in the North-West that many of your readers will doubtless be astonished at the fact-perhaps it ought not to be so but it is -that in this Territory both in educational and missionary work we are behind the Episcopal and Roman Catholic Churches. In the Territories of Alberta and Arthabaska (with one exception) in the far northern trading posts, Presbyterianism, in any visible form, is as unknown as it was to the wife of a Western trapper, who in answer to the question if there wire any Presbyterians in that neigh-bourhood said, "Presbyterians! I guess not. What kind of 'varmint' are they? My husband has'nt shot any."

Missionary work in the west has a remarkable likeness to the same work in the east. Greater difficulties are to be overcome, hence more diligence, zeal and reliance on the Spirit of God is demanded Charles Dickens has drawn a beautiful word painting of a snowytime as comfortable, and comforting. He never was a missionary in the North-West going forth to preach at stations twenty-five or thirty miles away, across weary miles of snow, facing the wind and the drift, the thermometer 50° or 60° below zero.

So impressed are the Presbyterian community with the need of an institution for higher education that at the annual meeting they agreed unanimously to give $3,000 for a building and to do what they can for endowscheme. Fortunately or unfortunately it does North-West. The Church of England has a college in Prince Albert, now applying to the Dominion Parliament for power to grant degrees, under the name of "Saskatchewan University." The Bishop is in England raising funds for its endowment. According to the Superior of the Roman Catholic Mission, it is the intention of that denomination to start an institution for superior education in charge of the nuns. Their zeal is worthy of all praise. The question which the Presbyterian Church must face without delay is, will it hand over the higher education of the far west and the consequent moulding of its nobler intellects to Episcopalians and Roman Catholics, or take a fair share in the work to which providence so evidently summons, and in a resolute Christian spirit, the spirit of Knox and the Reformation, maintain the alliance between Christianity and liberal education; and meet the necessities Would not the prosecution at least of its own children in establishing an ork be more expeditious, institution consecrated to Christ and sound successful? Annual Report of the Managers of St. Andrew's Church, New Westminster, B. C., for year ending Dec. 31st. 1883.

As will be seen by the Financial Statement subjoined, all the current expenses of the year have been met, a large special contribution has been made to the Home Mission Fund, and a small balance is in hand. As an offset to this favorable showing, however, it must be remembered that the grant from the Home M. Committee has been reduced by $400.00 per annum from this date. The year just ended will mark a turning point in the history of this congregation. Founded very nearly twenty-one years ago by the Rev. Mr. Jamieson, who is still in the good providence of God, spared to labour amongst us, this Church has, in common with every interest in the Province, experienced many dark days, and witnessed the death of many buoyant hopes. Changes which in older communities are spread over generations, have taken place here in a few years-sometimes, even, in a few months. Once and again our vacant seats have been filled, and while we were yet rejoicing in the hope of assured prosperity, the changing tide of fortune has carried our brethren to other communities, and other lands. sojourned with us for a season, during the past 'FRASER, Clk.

Remembering these vicissitudes, the managers did not feel justified, when appealed to by the Rev. Dr. Cochrane, in undertakin (for the congregation, to do more than they were then doing towards self-support-$800.00 for annum; but the marked increase in numbers, membership, and contributions during the past few months, encourages them to hope that their successors may be permitted to devise more liberal things in this respect. We do trust that the dark days have now at last passed away; and while we look hopefully to the future, we thank God that He has been pleased to continue amongst us, through all these years of labour and trial, the faithful and earnest proclamation of the Truth, while so many places in the Province have been left unsupplied by those who laboured in them for a time.

In conclusion, the managers have to thank during the year, the Ladies of the Missionary Association for their zealc in efforts, the members of the Choir for their valuable services; and the teachers, and those who aided in procuring the new library, for their successful efforts in behalf of the Sabbath School. The following is a summary of finan-cial report:— The Total receipts for all purposes were $1.386.05, (do. last year $1.126.75.) Contributions to Home Mission fund $151.00, (do. His health continues good and he is still able to carry on his mission with full vigour and without interruption. A Scottish "crank" has caused a brass tablet to be placed on one of the pillars of St. Giles' Church, Edinburgh, to the memory of the clergyman at whose head Jenny Geddes flung her cutty stool. The inscription is said to have been prepared by the late Dean Stanley, and is as follows:--"To James Hannay, D. D., dean of this Cathedral, 1634-1639. He was the first and the last who read the Service Book in of the best debaters in the Church, but, this church. This memorial is erected in happier times by his descendant." memorial to the renowned Jenny Geddes herself would have been more appropriate. Α pleasant episode occurred lately in Edinburgh on the occasion of Professor Flint being elected honourary president of the Theological and Literary Society of the United Presbyterian College. It fell to Principal Cairns, one of the foremost platform advocates of Distablishment, to introduce Dr. Flint, who last winter discharged one of the most formidaable shafts against the movement, and is certainly the ablest man in the ranks of the Church defenders in the country. The duty was discharged most gracefully, and Dr. Cairns elicited much applause when he alluded to Professor Flint as " one of the great lights of The Professor was our Scottish theology." evidently much impressed by the warmth of the United Presbyterian Church, and they in their turn were treated to a masterly dis-course on the subject of "Agnosticism," which could not but raise their opinion of the man they had honoured in so The Established Presbytery unusual a way. of Edinburgh has been discussing an overture anent Theological education. A proposal to require candidates to bring before the Presbytery written forms of prayer for a service according to the Church of Scotland practice, and that the same be considered part of their "trials," was, after long discussion, negatived, some regarding it as back-door way of introducing a liturgy, others, recognizing the desired object might be obtained by other means. In the Free Church Presbytery attention was turned to the school system and to the prevailing tendency to banish the facts of Scottish history, and even the Bible and the Catechism, from public schools in Scotland -changes which were held to be the result of having the management removed to London. Dr. Begg moved that the General Assembly should define the meaning of ordination vows -another way of getting a definite declaration from the Assembly of its real attitude in relation to the vexed question of Church and State connection. Dr. Rainy's amendment, carried by a vote of twenty-nine to seven-a pretty fair indication of the relative strength of the two sections of the Free Church at the present time. Dr. Begg is genial, witty, and one unfortunately for him, some of those who A applaud him to the echo are the first to vote against him. The expulsion of Miss Booth and her companion from the Canton of Geneva has created a good deal of sympathy for the young ladies, and in the meantime will be used as an argument in favour of the move-Mrs. Booth, addressing a crowded ment. congregation at Regent's Hall, London, said that there had not been a word said or an act done by the army in Switzerland which could reflect disparagingly upon any other organization; and "such was the terror caused by the Salvation Army, such was the power which God gave it, that the governments of the earth were afraid of the influence of two young girls, and so sent them out of the Canton. Miss Booth had been presented with a testimonial, signed by seventy-two mothers, thanking God that the Salvation Army had come to Switzerland." At the recent General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Victoria, Australia, several matters of great importance were discussed. A federal union of all Australian Churches; a General Sustentation Fund for the support of the ministry; Theological Education; the new Declaratory Act in respect of the Westminster Confession, and the Foreign The produce evidence of their having studied majority. This union of all Christians was a great strength, and was, we are convinced, one of the chief causes why the Lord so greatly blessed us. Each evening, in spite of bad weather, the attendance increased, prayers were more frequent, souls not yet converted cried to God from anguish of heart, imploring the peace which, until then, they had refused to accept. We decided to hold a second week of prayer. What a blessed week was that from the fourteenth to twenty-first of January! Were we in heaven or on earth? I know not. Whether or not, we lived only for heavenly All work was suspended; hymns things. ascended constantly to the Lord, from one end of the village to the other. The churches and special houses became so many sanctuaries, where women and young girls continued in prayer all day long, and in the evening, our public meetings, which lasted meanwhile more than five hours, (some four hours and a half,) seemed to us too short, on account of the wonderful conversions which God wrought there. Tears of repentance changed to tears of thanksgiving, and joy overflowed the hearts of pastors and people. I cannot possibly describe the holy enthusiasm with which our young men and young women sang the hymns, confessed Christ aloud before large assemblies, and multiplied their efforts and prayers to lead to the foot of the Cross of lecture is sufficient to secure the lasting Calvary, those of their relatives or their friends, still under the bondage of sin." At Saint Mard, at the close of one of M. Reveillaud's meetings, thirty-two heads of families renounced Romanism. IRELAND .- The investigation into the Phoenix Park murder still goes on, and there are rumours of more informers coming to the We are told now that the man who is front. succeeding in uncarthing the horrid plot is the same man who broke up the Thug system of The Indian Thugs and the Irish India. seem to be of the same character precisely, only the former grew up and developed in the darkness of heathenism, the latter amidst the light of Christianity. The disclosures are perfectly sickening. What a phase of human nature it is that is presented, and what fiendish faces the occupants of the dock present if the pictures given in the newspapers be correct ! Professor Witherow, of Magee College, Londonderry, was the Carey Lecturer this He took for his subject the State of voar. Ireland. We have seen reports of some two or three of the lectures. The subject of one lecture was A Century of Healing Measures. In it was given in an cloquent and able manner a sketch of what has been done for a century past by the Imperial Government for the people of Ireland. It is a wonderful record for a century. In spite of the wrongs of many centuries, what was detailed in that gratitude of the Irich people. What has been done is a promise of a great deal more that British statesmen are willing to do, if needed, and the people shew then selves worthy of it. There is no going back, the road is forward. In other lectures the learned and industrious ful raid on the coldness and ungodliness of the city. The meetings were simply wonderful both as regards attendance and the impressions made by the evangelists. In almost every case there were overflow meetings held. The largest hall in Belfast could not accommodate the crowds that assembled. No matter how early in the morning the meeting was arranged for, the result was the same. In nearly every case the services needed to be begun long before the appointed hour. The place was full and no need to wait. The strain on Mr. Moody must be very great. He conducted often three meetings in the day and sometimes four, such campaigns are among the best and truest healing measures for the country. The annual meeting of the Sabbathschool Society for Ireland was held in Belfast lately and was very largely attended. The subject of Sabbath-schools was discussed in a manner befitting its importance. The total number of schools is 1044, of teachers, 9,055. The average attendance of scholars 74,838. H.

SALVATION ARMY IN KINGSTON.

The Salvation Army has been working in Kingston for five or six weeks. There were grave doubts and differences of opinion about it at first, but, however we may object to some of their methods, so far as can be judged by apparent fruits, the results of the movement are such as must give great cause for thankfulness to all who love good and hate evil. The Army now numbers in Kingston about 309 recruits-chiefly raised from the classes which it seemed almost impossible to reach by ordinary agencies. For the present we might say as a reply to enquiries, that "the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, the lopers are cleansed, the deaf hear, and the poor have the gospel preached to them." Ears long closed to the glad tidings of salvation have heard it at last, and those who seemed bound hand and foot in sin have risen up to follow Christ. Inveterate drunkards have become sober men; inveterate swearers have left off swearing, and inveterate smokers given up tobacco-for against this, also, does the Army battle. Men who were notoriously and openly wicked now lead prayer meetings in fair attendance considering the number of their workshops, and their masters bear testimony that the changed lives of their men make it worth their while to subscribe to the Army's funds. No one could look at the rows of young men-who have already donned the uniform and who come forward to give, in homely and simple language, their testimony that by the grace of God they are forgiven and redeemed-without joining in their thankfulness for what this strange organization has been blessed to do for them. It would seem has held its ground but I have had great as if it had been raised up to do a special work, and some of the most earnest Christian ministers in Kingston, Episcopal as well as others, have publicly expressed their sense of There is little teaching of doctrine. It this. is "religion without theology;" with little, at least. But the converts get hold of the fundamental truths, "repentance unto life and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ," and "let him that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity." When God so blesses the labours of the earnest workers, it is not for us to cavil at ways and means. Rather let all Christians pray for its tenfold success; and the Church may learn something from it, to make its own work more effective. A. M. M.

Our Triuidad Mission.

REPORT OF REV. THOMAS CHRISTIE.

T the close of 1881 I had to report to the Board that I had been laid aside from work on account of illness. At the beginning of the the year I began to improve and at the middle of January I was able to resume a part of my usual work, and although I have never recovered my usual vigour yet I have not during the year been laid aside from work. I have always been able to keep up my usual Sabbath services and also to attend to necessary work during the week. My wife was forced to proceed to Nova Scotia in July on account of excessive debility from which she was told she could not rally without a decided change. Although I have not had my usual strength yet with deep gratitude to the Lord 1 am enabled to report that my work has never given me more encouragement or shown more fruit. Both the school work and the evangelistic work have been more successful than in any previous year.

ESPERANZA SCHOOL.—This is still under the charge of a Creole teacher, Thomas Gordon, who has shown great interest in his work, having attended to his duties faithfully and having also given so much attention to the language that he can read Hindustani very fluently. The school has had about the same attendance as last year and a children on the estates. In addition to this school work an important work has been carried on in a night school for adults under the charge of Narayan assisted by some of the Christians on the estates. At least fifty have been more or less under instruction giving an average of about twenty daily since the crop season was over in May. I spent several very happy evenings in meeting with this class. BRECHIN CASTLE SCHOOL .- This school

Three men tried who did not succeed. The fourth at one or other of the large hospitals but since who was taken on at the end of November has the opening of the Calcutta Village and Milton been more successful, and under him the attendance in December rose to forty-one.

EXCHANGE SCHOOL.—This school under the charge of Gajadhar has given me very great satisfaction. The attendance has been larger than ever before and the children have made good progress both in English and Hindustani.

WATERLOO SCHOOL.—This was under the charge of Ramjas who was employed both in school and catechist work. The school is still small but the number of children on the estate is limited and there has been a great deal of sickness.

CALCUTTA VILLAGE SCHOOL.—Last year, during the rainy season, Madhusudin taught a small school at a place about a mile from Exchange school. When the dry season began a number of the larger children were able to come to the Exchange school and his school was given up. In April, a Brahman, a shop keeper in the outskirts of the large Government Coolie settlement, called Calcutta village, offered me a good room free of charge if I would establish a school there. As we had long been anxious to begin work in this settlement I thought this opening should not be neglected and I therefore put Madhusudin in this place and his work both among adults and children has been very successful. There has been an average attendance of more than twenty, and the Brahman referred to and his mother have shown continued interest and have always attended the Sabbath service there.

MILTON SCHOOL.—A grant was made for the school by the Board at the beginning of the year and intelligence of it reached me in April when I took steps to procure a room. I found that none could be had without putting up a building. I felt that a school was very much needed in the district as there are many children within an easy distance and no school of any kind was available for them within two or three miles. I therefore erected a school-house which cost $175. The teacher began working among the people in July and the school was opened in August. It has been very successful. Although it was only open during the rainy season yet there has been an average attendance of thirty and the children at the examination showed that they had already been much improved, have made good progress in learning and have become much more orderly and civilized.

EVANGELISTIC WORK .- As far as strength | Joseph Anagee or himself. permitted I have tried to keep up the usual other points Sabbath services were conducted preaching services

During the first part of the year an early morning service was held schools I have kept up service in connection with them on alternate Sabbaths at 9 a.m. After breakfast I preach to the church two miles distant at 12 o'clock noon. At the close of this service I hold a Bible class to which almost all the adults remain. As our Christian converts are scattered over a large district and many are indenture immigrants having little spare time during the week, I have found that this Bible class is the most favorable opportunity I have of giving religious instruction and I have therefore The whole given especial attention to it. services at the church occupy us from 12 a.m. to 3 p. m. In the evening at 7 o'clock I have kept up a service in the Exhange school near my house. As very few Indians live in the immediate neighbourhood and as they are not accustomed to go out much at night, the attendance has varied greatly but on fine nights has usually been very good. On Sabbath, in addition to this work, services have been kept up in hospitals and estates by Narayan, Gajadhau and Ramjas.

During the week I tried as far as I was able to visit hospitals and estates but on account of weakness have been unable to do nearly so much as I wished. Narayan has done good work this year among the adults in the hospitals and on the estates. In addition to the night school above referred to in connection with Esperanza school he has had for several months an afternoon class on Brechin Castle Estate, two or three times a week. At present twenty are under instruction on this estate. Ramjas visits regularly the Waterloo Hospital and Orange Valley village.

REV. J. W. MACLEOD reports steady progress in his work in the Savannah Grand District. Weekly Sabbath services have been conducted in Hindi and English at Princestown, and fortnightly at St. Julian, Jordan Hill, Cedar Hill, and Mount Stewart, by At Piparo and Since the middle of by the native catechists, and all were fairly ANEITYUM, New Hebrides, 2nd Aug., 1882.

I wrote to you from Efate during our meeting of Synod and forwarded it by way of Noumea; but as our letters sometimes go astray on that route I will again refer to a few facts mentioned then. In April I received by the Dayspring two letters from you, and last month by H. M. S. "Espiegle" 1 got another dated February 19th. We are cheered and encouraged by the kind and liberal manner in which the Foreign M. Board is treating us. Its confidence in us must only make us all the more careful to avoid doing or saying any-thing that might destroy that happy relation-Our Synod was highly gratified with ship. the trust your Board manifested toward it in reference to the removal of one missionary However, as the Free from this Island. Church positively declines to accede to the proposal made, nothing of course can be done for the present. The way of settlement will in due time be opened up. As some members of Synod here this year suggested that if two missionaries remain on Aneityum their services can be all the more drawn upon for the settling of new missionaries and for are thirty-six such villages. They rememdeputation work among the heathen islands, weeks to look after the work there, and I am amongst them again. We have just escaped!

appointed to assist in the settlement of Mr. Gray; whom we expect to locate on Tanna among a people speaking another language different from that spoken at the two stations already occupied. Mr. Neilson has resigned the mission and leaves for the colonies at the end of this year. Mr. Watt is appointed to take charge of the vacant station, and very probably one missionary will henceforth work both Kivamera and Port Resolution. The Synod also recommends that one man henceforth take both Futuna and Aniwa under his care. The work is making progress on all the Islands occupied. Futuna is probably going back somewhat owing to the long vacancy; all the other temporarily vacant places are holding their own to outward appearance at least. Mr. Mackenzie's most prominent chief, " Pomal," died last February. The people are awaiting their missionary's return before selecting and appointing his successor. I saw on our late visit to Erakor that the white ants are again in Mr. Mackenzie's house, so that he will soon require a new one if he be spared to labour among his attached flock.

The mission boxes forwarded from Halifax last January were too late for the "Dayspring" by two or three days. They will no doubt come safely to hand by the vessel's next trip. We are deeply indebted to kind friends for their favours. You say in your letter that you must either send more boxes or else give up sending any. Why so? We are thankful for small contributions; and we do not complain of the smallness of the gifts, but on the contrary we highly esteem them. Please don't forget to pay for our papers again this year or we may find our reading matter suddenly diminished.

LETTER FROM DR. G. L. MACKAY.

To Professor Maclaren.

SO-BAY, 23rd December, 1882

I am here with six students from Oxford College and several helpers. We left Tamsui about two weeks ago and have not seen the sun since. Walking along on foot many people remarked, "It is not raining: but water pouring down." So be it. We were drenched through and through. Six nights in succession I slept on the ground which was black, damp and wet, with some straw under me and a kind of grass covering. We concentrated on several villages of Aborginines and I believe we will soon see the fruits. There bered my former visits. Mr. Junor through This illness never visited the east-side of the both of which duties are important. This illness never visited the east-side of the year Mr. Lawrie goes to Futuna for seven Island. So all rejoiced when I appeared

The path we travelled this morning lay over a mountain ridge where savages roam. All my party knew the danger; but followed me ready for any event. Of course we had nothing but the sword of the Spirit and all went on joyfully. I detest a coward, and admired the charge of the Highland Brigade in Egypt this year. I more than abhor a coward in the rank and file of our Lord's army. Shout the the battle cry, "Let us do or die !" Jesus our Captain leads to victory. We just passed when our steps were drenched with the blood of four Chinamen. The savages cut off their heads and carried them within the mountains. A messenger came running after us bringing the sad news. I wont conceal what we did. On the spot I shouted a halt, and in the open air sang "Forever with the Lord" in Chinese, then pressed forward to preach in other villages the gospel of peace. You will hear ere long of the Lord's doings here on the school the girls are almost all high caste and Pacific coast. Ah Pacific! I don't want to cross you again, but I do want to shout across the waves to America-to Canada, Awake ! Awake !! sleepy Christians, soon we must go and stand before the throne. O God help us to be faithful, death I know is near and judgment follows. G. L. McK.

NOTE .- In another letter by the same mail Dr. Mackay mentions that he has baptized one hundred and forty persons since his return to Formosa.

JUVENILE MISSION SCHOOLS.

Schools at Indore-Letter from Miss McGregor.

Miss McGregor has been laid aside from her work for a time by a serious accident, which at one timethreatened lameness for life, and has had to go to Bombay for medical treatment. Her letter to the children concerning the schools in Indore, has therefore been delayed much longer than she expected, but now that it has come, it will be read with pleasure by all the Sabbath-Schools interested in our Indore mission.

INDORE, Jan. 31, 1883. MY DEAR BOYS AND GIRLS,-It is now some months since I made a promise to the effect that I would tell you about my schools in this city, but owing to having been disabled by a very serious accident, I have not been in condition to keep my word. Now, however, I am much better, and yesterday I visited the city in company with Miss Ross, who lately arrived in Indore. I have often wished that my young friends in Canada could see with their own eyes, the work that we are trying to do here in the Master's name : we smiles and warm greetings from every one ! The teacher told me that very often the little girls had asked her: "Will the lady come today." You will laugh, perhaps, when I tell you that there was a baby's cradle in the middle of the room, and the mother was rocking her little one to sleep. There were twenty more girls, and four grown women present, and when we entered they all rose and made a salaam. It was rather a noisy welcome, but we understood each other. This school is in the very heart of Indore city, aud the windows overlook one of the principal streets. It is not far from Holkar's palace, The little girls were all sitting on the floot-a row of them on each side of the room-the first class on one side, and the very little ones on the other. I was sorry to find that quite a large number of girls had been married, and consequently taken away from school. In this they must be married before they are ten years old, or eleven at the most. Some of them had made very good progress since I visited the school before, and one of the girls was reading in the Fourth Reader. Her lesson was about Queen Victoria. She always stands head of her class, and is a very sweet little girl. By and bye, she too will be married, and then she will not be allowed to learn any more. They were able to point out places on the map of India, and answer questions in geography. Sometimes I give them dictation on their slates, and they write quite as well as boys and girls in Canada. Of course it is done in their own language, which is Marathi. After a time I held up a book of bright colored pictures of animals, and they all gathered round to look. They were delighted, and their teacher told them the name of the animals, what they ate, and where they were to be found: a sort of object lesson. They thought that a cat was a tiger and you would have laughed over the funny names they gave to the animals. The last exercise of all was repeating the Ten Commandments. This they did very nicely, though they had forgotten a little.

I wish very much to have these little girls understand that God has told us not to worship idols. Their teacher gave the scholars sweetmeats in honor of our visit, and they enjoyed them just as much as you would. Miss Ross thought that their fancy-work was very well done, but I cannot tell you any more about them at this time as I have written so much. Hoping that the boys and girls will always remember their little Indian friends and pray for them.-M. McG.

NOTE-The children at Miss McGregor's schools are of the very same race, though of a different caste, with those among whom Miss went up that dark stairway to the school-room Blackader wishes to open new schools in and what a hearty welcome we received! What Trinidad. It is pleasant to be able to state that, in response to the appeal made in last month's RECORD, on behalf of schools in Trinidad, the Treasurer of the Juvenile Mission Scheme has already received the offer of $120 for one school from a single individual, and $50 more from one Sabbath School, towards snother! nearly half the amount asked for has been obtained before the middle of March. This very gratifying promptness of response is an encouraging part of the growth of a missionary spirit and of interest in our missions. -A. M. M.

RONOLULU.—The coronation of King Kalakaua and Queen Kapiolani took Kalakaua and Queen Kapiolani took place on the 12th of February, in the presence of seven thousand persons. David Kalakaua is the son of a castaway American sailor, who having escaped the perils of the sea, landed on the Sandwich Islands in the year 1821, and married the only daughter of the then reign-ing monarch. The new name given him, Kalakaua, being translated, means "Safe Journey" or "Cod Speed," in memory of his escape from the waves. King David finished his education at San Francisco. He is a man of good presence, and a wise ruler, and a defender of the Faith. The first Christian Missionaries arrived at the Sandwich Islands in 1820, at which time the people were living in the lowest condition of heathen barbarism. Now, by the Grace of God, Kalakaua is the constitutional sovereign of a Christian nation, and the Hawiian Church, the first fruits of the percentage of increase in the past ten modern missions, an independent and selfsupporting organization, having its own Home and Foreign Mission Board, its own Bible Society and Temperance Associations all of which are liberally supported.

FIJI.—The death is announced of Thakamhau, the war-king of Nebau, in Fiji, who in 1874, ceded the Fiji group of islands to Great Britain. He was born on the island of Bau about the year 1817. He was a man of herculean frame, and, up to thirty-seven years of age, a blood-thirsty cannibal, and a persecutor of Christianity. But at length he yielded to the intreaties of the missionaries, and the good advice of George Tubou, the converted King of the Friendly Islands, and during the rest of in Iudia, is molding Hindu thought and modihis life did as much as could be expected from | fying social customs, and breaking down the his antecedents to atone for the atrocities of barriers of caste. his younger days. GREAT PROGRESS.

We find the following interesting statement in the New York Independent: -

Just on the eve of the meeting of the Decennial Missionary Conference of India, comes the "Fourth Decennial Statistical Tables of Protestant Missions of India, Burmah, and Ceylon." We cannot offer our readers anything more interesting and encouraging than an abstract of these tables as given in one of our Calcutta exchanges. They have been prepared carefully at the request of the Missionary Conference, and may be relied on.

The result of the last ten years' labour as shown by these speaking statistics is very satisfactory. Not only has the ratio of increase of former decades been kept up, but a great advance has been made upon it, especially in India, where the growth has risen to 100 per cent. But here are the tables:---

In the first of these decades the ratio of increase was 53 per cent.; in the second, 61 per cent.; in the last, 86 per cent. In Ceylon, years is 70, while in India, it is 100. None of the European or American churches can exhibit such an increase. The promise of the future is very bright. There is every reason to believe that this rate of increase will be exceeded in the next ten years, and it may be possible, as the Indian Witness suggests, that "there are many persons now living who will see from ten to fifteen million Protestant Christians in India before they get their release from toil in this earthly vineyard."

The old heathen systems and customs are constantly giving way before the advance of Christianity and European civilization. The new religious force which the West is planting Christianity has proved itself to be a beneficent influence, and to be able to meet all the demands of the most advanced culture; and it is, therefore, morally certain that the Hindu will embrace it in increasing numbers. Another way is being prepared for such accessions, as neither the When the general break-up of Hinduism shall begin-and this event may not be far distant members here, representing twenty-five -the question will be: How shall we receive families. There was a weekly prayer meeting and train the overwhelming numbers? In this connection, it is encouraging to be assured that there has been, in the last decade, "an amazing development of indigenous workers." Of name female agents there are now 1,944, against 947 in 1871. Besides these, there are 541 European and Eurasian women engaged in missionary effort. This force of 2,500 Christian women shows how wonderfully Zenani work has grown. Ten years ago, the majority of the Zenana pupils were in Bengal; now the Northwest Provinces claim the largest number. Ten years ago, there were 31,580 pupils; now there are 65,671. Thus the great work is growing in all its departments, and spreading all over India.

For Sunday-school statistics there are no rneans of comparison. They were not included in former returns. There are, it appears, 83,321 Sunday scholars, of whom one-fourth are non-Christian children.

MISSIONARY ASSOCIATION OF OUEEN'S COLLEGE.

A meeting of this society was held in the Divinity Hall on 13th January. A communication from Garden Island was received and laid before the association. The request for service was considered and a deputation appointed to confer with the people and see whether Wolfe Island could not be worked in conjunction with it. Mr. John McNeill, was the only one appointed to report, who put in an appearance. His story was simply told but was intensely interesting. One of their own men, the society was naturally more concerned about his success than some of the others, and he met with a very fair share of it. His station was Mattawatchan and Griffith, about 120 miles due north from here, in the county of Renfrew, a dreary rocky waste, with plenty of iron stone, asbestos and phosphate but scarcely as much land as would raise food to keep the inhabitants alive, nor fodder enough j for a mountain goat. There were two preaching places, Mattawatchan and Griffith, ten miles apart. Mr. McNeill lived at the former, and had to walk to and from the services. After two months of such needless experience they managed to get him a horse. Were the statutes of the Church, with regard to mission stations, known and carried out by students, there would be no necessity for such recitals of heroism, viz: "that the student is boarded and conveyed to and from the preaching places, free of expense." At Mattawatchan our missionary had services in the part of the population which has hitherto been school-house every Sunday at 3 p.m., and also very difficult of access. New life seems to be a Sabbath-school. averaged seventy persons and the Sabbath- been already converted, and many are deeply school twenty-five. We have thirty-two impressed.

with an average of fifteen, and cottage meetings were held in the district. At Griffith we have four families and four members, the average attendance was about twenty. The Anglicans having a Sabbath-school here, Mr. McNeill did not think it prudent to interfere. There are no Methodists in the vicinity. Rev. Mr. Gracey, of Gananoque, dispensed the sacrament on September 10th, when twelve made profession of their faith and joined our ranks. No one who has never been in this neighbourhood has any conception of its It is thirty-four miles from the isolation. nearest railway station on the K. & P. R., and seventeen miles from a grist mill or blacksmith's shop. The people are very poor and never had preaching till we sent the gospel to them. The country is hilly, poor and stony, but there are plenty of minerals, which will be sure to be sought after when the iron horse snorts through the land. Help ! help ! help ! we want to possess the land for Christ. Mr. McNeill's earnest work must be followed up and we have little to come and go on, -P. M. P., Secy.

THE LION SERMON.

The "Lion Sermon" was duly preached in London on the 16th of October, in accordance with the directions given more than two centuries ago, by the then Lord Mayor of London, who left a bequest to pay the preacher of it. It was founded in commemoration of a thrilling incident in the life of the founder. It is recorded that Sir John Gayer, who afterward held the office of Lord Mayor, on a certain October 16, was travelling in Arabia. Becoming detached from the caravan, a lion approached him. Sir John was unarmed, and thinking his last hour was come, he fell upon his knees in prayer; upon which the lion looked at him, but after a few seconds walke l off. Sir John then vowed to perpetuate the commemoration of his miraculous deliverance; and the funds he left for that purpose have enabled his wish to be carried out faithfully by means of the above service, which always takes place on October 16.

Good news comes again from the Sand wich Islands. A revival has been for some time in progress almost as remarkable in extent and power as that of 1837-9. The work is not confined to the natives, but extends to the foreigners who have gone thither for business, and also to the half-white and half-Chinese The church attendance imparted to the churches. GOME of our agents complain of the Difficulty of collecting "the quarters" for the RECORD. They wonder if it is the same in other congregations, and they ask us what they should do. Well, we sincerely sympathize with our friends who write in that fashion, and we are heart sorry for the man or woman in the Presbyterian Church who begrudges a quarter of a dollar a year for the missionary RECORD of their own church. We don't want to offend a single individual, so we drop that part of the subject right here, and leave our short-sighted friends to their own reflections hoping that they will yet "tak a thocht an' mend." There is a good plan followed in many of our best organized congregations. namely to distribute the RECORD through the congregational missionary association. It. gives the members of the association a reasonable excuse for calling, "to leave the RECORD," and the opportunity is thus afforded of calling attention to its contents, or to any branch of the Church's work. The members of the association in some cases collect the quarters; in other cases the managers pay for the RECORD and distribute them gratis to all who contribute anything to the Schemes of the Church. Where there is no missionary association, there is reason to fear that the congregation The alpha and is not in a very good way. omega of Christianity is to be found in the maintaining and promoting of the missionary spirit between man and man.

learning, this Commentary on the Acts is perhaps unsurpassed, and must be found very useful for reference. Its value has been greatly enhanced by the explanatory notes appended to each chapter by Rev. Dr. Ormiston, the American editor. It will be especially helpful to Sabbath-school teachers, aiding them to a correct understanding of the book and to a right estimate of its historic contents.

CHRIST IS ALL

CHIEF of sinners though I be, Jesus shed His blood for me; Died that I might live on high, Lived that I might never die : As the branch is to the vine, I am His, and He is mine.

Oh, the height of Jesus' love ! Higher than the heavens above Deeper than the depths of sea, Lasting as eternity : Love that found me-wondrous thought ! Found me when I sought Him not.

Chief of sinners though I be, Christ is all in all to me; All my wants to Him are known, All my sorrows are His own : Sate with Him from earthly strife, He sustains the hidden life.

O my Saviou: ! help afford By Thy Spirit and Thy Word ; When my wayward heart would stray, Keep me in the narrow way ; Grace in time of need supply, While I live and when I die.

"WHILE WE HAVE TIME."

Once there was a man who had been made a minister, and he wanted to go as a missionary to a far-off country, that he might teach poor heathen people about the Lord Jesus Christ.

But this good young man was not very strong, and his friends were afraid he might soon die in the heathen land, which was hot and unhealthy, so they tried to persuade him to stay at home.

The young minister asked his physician how long he thought he might live in India.

"Perhaps," said the doctor, "you may live seven years."

2

"Then I will go," said he; for in seven years, by God's help, I may do much work for him!"

So he went ; and as he knew that his time must be short, he tried to spend every moment of it in serving God.

Even before he sailed away for India his friends used to call him "the man who never lost an hour," because he was so careful not to waste any of his precious time; but now he felt it to be still more precious.

In those seven years he did a great work for God indeed.

He preached to the poor heathen people, and taught them about the Lord Jesus; and he wrote the Prayer Book and the New Testament in their language, so that they could read and understand it.

People wondered that he could do so much. It was because his heart was full of love to God and love to the poor heathen; and he remembered that "the time is short."

Let us pray God to-day "to stir up the wills of his faithful people," that we may all "plenteously bring forth the fruit of good works" now while we have time.
