PROVINCES PREDICT TENTH OF CUSTOMS AND DUTIES AS AN ADDITION TO SUBSIDIES

Premiers Call Attention to Increase in Federal Revenue and in Expense of Conducting Provincial Administrations—Distribution on Basis of Population is Proposed.

OTTAWA, Oct. 28.—(Can. Press)—Resolutions adopted by the interprovincial conference this afternoon propose a complete and radical readjustment of the financial arrangements between the Dominion of Canada and the provinces. In addition to present subsidies the provinces ask that the federal government should pay the provinces ten per cent. of its total revenue derived from customs and excise. The discussion of financial matters took up all the sitting today. There were several suggestions which however, were finally concentrated in unanimous resolutions which were conveyed to Premier Borden.

The increased cost of provincial administration is the basic ground on which the demand is made. It is claimed that the cost of administration now reaches the limit of revenue in the various provinces.

The resolutions which were adopted, on motion of Sir James Whitney, seconded by Hon. G. H. Murray, were placed before the premier, who promised careful consideration.

Federal Revenue Scoring.

The resolutions follow:

Resolution No. 1: "Whereas under the provisions of the British North America Act, 1867, and the various amendments thereto, the existing financial arrangements between the government of the Dominion of Canada and the various provinces thereof are inadequate to provide for the expenditure, in consequence of the heavy and steadily increasing amounts required to be expended to maintain the efficiency of the services of their respective governments as by law provided, and to provide the moral and material progress of the people;

"And whereas the financial arrangements at the time of confederation and since have been regarded as final by the provinces;

"And, whereas, in 1867, the provinces surrendered customs and excise revenue amounting to $11,580,968, and received in lieu thereof but $2,227,842, and whereas in 1912 the total revenue from customs and excise was $133,212,143, of which the provinces received only $10,280,042, it is therefore resolved:

Ten Per Cent. of Customs.

"(1) That in the opinion of this conference an additional subsidy equal to ten per cent. of the customs and excise duties collected by Canada, from year to year, should be granted to the provinces, payable semi-annually in advance, in addition to all the other subsidies to which the provinces are now or may hereafter be entitled.

"Under reserve of the right of any province to submit to the Dominion Government a memorandum, in writing, concerning any claim it may have

MINERS FOUGHT THREE BATTLES

Proclamation of Martial Law in South Colorado Coal Fields Increases Bitterness.

BERWIND, Colo., Oct. 28.—(Can. Press)—Three battles, the hottest fought since the strike of coal miners in Southern Colorado began, marked the first day of martial law in this district. One mine guard was killed, four union men wounded; two seriously; two children of non-union men shot, one mine guard missing and a county marshal wounded, were the casualties of the three fights, one here, one at Tabasca and the other at Hastings.

The most serious fighting took place at Hastings, where the mine guard was killed and the strikers wounded. The mine camp had been hemmed in on two sides by strikers, who climbed the steep hills of either side of the canon during the night and, at daylight began shooting into the camp.

While fighting outside of the stockade Guard Angus Alexander was killed. Alexander had shot a Greek striker thru the leg, the fighting being at very close range at that time, and another Greek, one of four who had attacked the guard, fired a bullet thru his skull.

At Tabasca the two children were the only injured, tho it is from this fight that the one guard is reported missing.

YOUNG MEN FORM A "NO BOOZE" SOCIETY

Insists That Situation is Not Hopeless and That He Could Dominate It, But if Lives and Property of Himself and Family Are Safeguarded He Will Step Out.

(Special to The Toronto World.) MEXICO CITY, Oct. 28.—It is currently reported—and officially denied—that Gen. Huerta received the ministers of European governments at the palace today and announced his readiness to resign, upon specified conditions.

According to the report, which gave the Norwegian minister, Michael Strom, as authority, which was accepted as true until late tonight, when Cabinet Minister Lie officially assured the American secretary it was without foundation, a majority of the diplomatic representatives, including Carden of England, Von Hintze of Germany, Cologan of Spain and Lefevre of France, called upon Huerta this morning and discussed Mexican conditions with him. Charge O'Shaughnessy, was not there, as he had been intentionally ignored.

Ready to Resign.

Cologan, as spokesman, asked Huerta many blunt and direct questions as to the condition of his government and the prospects of improvement, if any. Huerta replied frankly. While insisting that the situation was not even approximately hopeless, and that he could dominate it if given time and money, he finally, it is said, expressed his willingness to resign rather than expose his country to the risk of American armed intervention, the seriousness of which the diplomats impressed upon him.

The diplomats agreed that some concerted effort should be made by the European powers to aid the United States in solving the Mexican problem and to forestall armed intervention.

Huerta made his resignation, if it should be offered, conditional upon a compact by the powers that the lives and property of himself, his family and members of the government be safeguarded.

Also, he suggested that David De la Fuente, former minister of communications in Huerta's first cabinet, be chosen for provisional president.

As stated, this is the rumor officially denied, but still current despite the denial.

ELMIRA TURNS ON HYDRO POWER TODAY

BERLIN, Ont., Oct. 28.—(Special). Wednesday will be a red letter day in the Village of Elmira. To mark the event of the turning on of hydro-electric power big programs have been arranged, including a Made-in-Elmira exhibition. Invitations have been sent out to all the cities and towns and villages in the country. Berlin will run a special train and the members of the board of trade and city council will go accompanied by the Legion Band. Waterloo also will send its full quota.

New Temperance Organization to Centralize Efforts of All Associations Connected With Churches and Y. M. C. A. Branches, and to Take Part in Local Option Campaigns.

A new temperance organization, to be known as the Ontario Young Manhood Association, which will conduct an active campaign among the young men of the province, was formally organized last night at a meeting in the West End Y. M. C. A. of representative leaders in the various young men's movements in Toronto and throughout the province. The primary object of the organization will be to centralize the efforts along temperance lines of all the present existing organizations connected with the churches and Y. M. C. A. branches. The new organization will take an active part in the coming local option contests in York and Scarborough Townships, concentrating its efforts upon getting out the young men's votes, and next year it is planned that all municipalities voting on local option will be invaded. Every member of the new movement is to wear in his lapel a button bearing the words: "No Booze."

The following men actively connected with young men's work were elected last night to be the first officers of the association: Honorary president, George A. Warburton; general secretary, Y. M. C. A.; president, Dr. H. A. McLean; Howard Park Church vice-president, W. J. Gallagher; president University College Y. M. C. A.; general secretary, Newton Wylie, University of Toronto; associate secretaries, J. E. Shortt and W. A. Dunlop; treasurer, T. A. Silverthorn; executive committee, J. B. Lawson, president of Toronto Men's Christian Association; an amalgamation of all the young men's organizations connected with the different churches in Toronto; H. W. Ausman, president of the Ontario Federation of Brotherhoods, having a membership in the province of 50,000; Mr. Morris, ex-president Brotherhoods of Andrew and Phillips; Fred Smith, physical director, Central Y. M. C. A.; Fred Gerred, president Baptist Young Men's Union; A. R. Hewetson, vice-president Ontario Christian Endeavor Union; J. K. Burns, organizer Methodist Men's Association; Joseph M. Lawson, president of Church of Epiphany Men's Association; W. M. Murdoch, secretary Canadian Men's Brotherhood; and George H. Moodie of the Royal Templars.

It is believed that the C. P. R. train which passes the spot daily about 12:30 struck the child. A pile of sand at the side of the track, placed there by the railway for grading purposes, has lately been a gathering place for the youngsters of the neighborhood, and it is believed that the lad was building sand houses when the fatality occurred.

The body was removed to the morgue, and an inquest will be held.

NEW PLAN FOR A HYDRO RADIAL

Owen Sound Business Men Forward Scheme for Line From Guelph

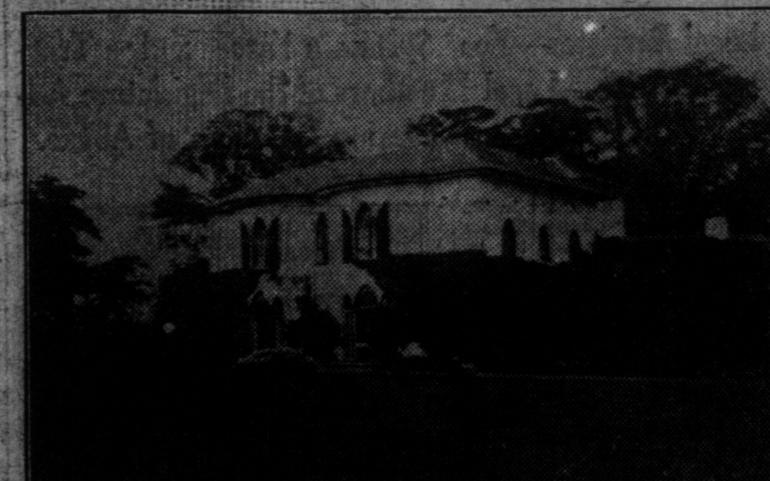

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Oct. 28.—(Special).—The board of trade of the Town of Owen Sound, at their meeting held tonight, and at which there were one hundred members of the board present, unanimously decided to ask the town council to request the Hydro-Electric Commission of the province to go into the cost of a radial line from Guelph to Owen Sound. One and all the members expressed the approval of the idea of the construction of the line in question.

They were addressed by Mr. G. B. Ryan, of Guelph, and it was largely due to the representations made by him that the board decided to act as they have done. The council will decide on the matter at their next meeting to be held on Monday night next.

POWERS AGREED ON FREE HAND FOR WILSON

Britain, Germany and France to Maintain "Stand Pat" Attitude Toward Mexico Pending Announcement of Definite Plan by U. S. — Concurred Action Deemed Necessary.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(Can. Press)—Three European nations—Great Britain, Germany and France, have agreed to adopt no new policy toward Mexico until the government of the United States can submit for their consideration a definite plan for the future treatment of the revolution-torn republic in Central America.

That a request of the powers to await a proposal regarding Mexico from this government had been made and that the three great European nations had yielded to the request was announced late today by Secretary Bryan. President Wilson was enroute to Washington from the south when the announcement was made, and the secretary of state did not indicate what would be the nature of the contemplated negotiations with the foreign governments. The president arrived here late today and has planned to confer early tomorrow with Mr. Bryan.

Wait Election News.
When the note to the powers is to be presented has not been determined, but the belief prevails that reasonable time will be given for the announcement from the Huerta Government in Mexico of the result of last Sunday's election for a new government. That the announcement will be that the election of a new president had failed because of the insufficiency of the vote still it is the expectation of the officials here (and it is believed President Wilson and his advisers are proceeding on the theory) that some concerted effort must be made by all the governments interested in Mexico to rid that nation of the domination of Gen. Huerta. The interest in this development overshadowed all else in official circles.

MORE CONSTABLES FOR WILD BOYS

Todmorden Prepares for Hallowe'en—Another Council Candidate.

HOTEL CHANGES HANDS

W. E. Draper of Arthur Now in Charge of Todmorden House.

Special county constables will be on duty in this district on Friday night (Hallowe'en), to keep the boys in order. There has been very much unrest among the youngsters of late, and two large bats have recently appeared on the scene. Mr. George Clay, town engineer, hydro lights and discharging air rifles. One lad who discharged a shot thru the window of a dining-room of a house on Gowen avenue was fined five dollars.

The Todmorden Hotel has again changed hands, and is now conducted by W. E. Draper, of Arthur, Wellington County, who took possession on Monday.

Mr. Draper is new to the hotel business, having previously been engaged in mail contract work. For the past twenty-five years he has operated a small hotel near the residence of the locality, who promised to support him if he would stand.

Must Extend.

At the rate the construction of the Don Mills United Methodist Church is increasing, the question of enlarging the church will soon have to be taken into consideration. At the evening service to the seating accommodation is given to the Ewforth League Concert.

A concert under the auspices of the Ewforth League has been arranged for next Tuesday night, when an excellent entertainment will be given.

DEPUTATION TODAY TO THE CITY HALL

North Toronto Ratepayers Executive Met Last Night to Organize.

At their meeting last night the executive of the North Toronto Ratepayers Association, a lame delegation of the citizens of North Toronto to attend the meeting at the city hall today at 2.30 o'clock when the widening of Yonge street will come up before a special committee.

The executive also hope that a large number of residents both on Yonge street and the adjacent streets will attend.

At the regular meeting of the association on Saturday the redistribution of city wards will be discussed and the members of the board of control and council who have been appointed to look after this question have been invited to be present.

A delegation of ten members from the Erskine Association is also expected on Saturday night to take part in the redistribution discussion.

Residents on Erskine avenue are wondering whether the works department will go to move and make their street passable for traffic. At the time the sewer was laid there was a good deal of grading and digging done while the road is a regular quagmire. As Erskine avenue is the main approach to Mount Hope Cemetery, it would be only common decency to put it in shape.

EARLCOURT.

The last public appearance of Haydn Maxwell will be at the general meeting of the Earlcourt District Voters Association on Thursday next at Little's Hall. He leaves for New York on Friday morning to join the S.S. Caledonia en route for Scotland, where he will spend the Christmas holidays. By the way, Mr. Maxwell is a nephew of Sir John Striling Maxwell, bart., of Pollock Estate, Lanarkshire, Scotland.

Lumber is surely not so very much as that the civic authorities did not afford a few steps from the tracks to the curb at the terminus at Caledonia road of the civic cars for the passengers to step upon and walk upon dry-shod to the sidewalk. It is no exaggeration to say that people of all creeds can ride over the ankles. The same is true of all stepping places, and Nairn avenue is positively dangerous.

Earlcourt football team plays at Earlcourt on Saturday afternoon at regular time at the grounds, Yerin street.

Saturday next being the Feast of All Saints the mass at St. Clare's church will be at 9 a.m.

WHOLE FAMILY LOCKED UP.

Father, Mother and Daughters All Engaged in the Fight.

INDIANAPOLIS.—John J. Clark, 18, 15-year-old, impeded his family and started to break up the furniture, and his wife phoned for police. Mercer was arrested, charged with malicious destruction of property, received an official drubbing. His 15-year-old daughter, Nellie, and Clark, his wife, are charged with interfering with an officer.

Both the daughter and wife changed their minds about having Mercer arrested and tried to pull him out of the patrol wagon.

Mercer was no sooner lodged in prison that he took exception to the presence of John Crittenden, a constable, who was cleaning the cells, and he pounced upon him. Crittenden was able to subdue Mercer without assistance.

The mother and daughter were released without bond.

JUSTICE A SCARCE QUANTITY IN COUNTY POLICE COURTS

Says a Local Barrister—Fee System a Farce and a Travesty of Justice—Local Members of the Legislature Advocate a Change—Some Glaring Instances of Abuse.

"I was glad to notice a report in The World that the county council has at last decided to take action and try and remove the gravity of justice which is enacted daily in the county police courts," said a well-known barrister yesterday. "The fact I cannot understand why something has not been done before, for few people are acquainted with the way the police courts can fail to notice the Kitchener-like attitude adopted by the constables even to the magistrates and J.P.s."

"Suppose you tell us all about it?" said the barrister. "I am sure they will be glad to be informed."

"Well, I think they should be informed," he said, "and what is more, I hope the county council will go thoroly into the matter and clear it up completely. They must just as surely have a right to demand when they appear for that special legislation the police committee has advised the council to se-

Remarkable Fact.

"Possibly the most remarkable fact about the whole business is that the county committee are not responsible. When they discover a crime or an alleged crime or violation of any of the statutes they themselves decide who shall try the case. As they are paid by the county, they can take the case before the J.P. or magistrate, who will allow them more fees and who is most likely to make the fine a good stiff one when he is at it. Now, this may stagger some people I know, especially those who have a knowledge of law, justice, jury and justice, but I regret to say that in many country cases, particularly minor offences such as motor speeding, assault cases, family disputes, etc., the scales of justice are always weighed in favour of the constable and the judge will have labored in vain unless a conviction is made and somebody is mulcted a dollar and costs, mostly costs, or five dollars and costs, as the case may be."

"Suppose, for instance, that John Jonathan is charged by a county constable with motor speeding or violation of the Lord's Day Act and pleads guilty. The J.P. once again paid by fees finds that he is not guilty, then that constable will no doubt take his case next time when he is sure of getting a conviction. On the other hand, if John Jonathan should say to the constable, 'I settle this thing out of the court,' the constable would say, 'sure you can; $4 and costs that means $50.'

"Nine-fifty for what did you say? When nine-fifty for being sumptuous of money, by a constable, and when that same constable has decided that you are guilty, and has been in fact judge, jury, clerk of court, in addition to being constable."

Doesn't Blame Constables.

"Mind you, I'm not blaming the constable, I'm trying to blame him for a minute. He is only human and earns his bread by securing convictions. If he can get a little jam as well, he gets it, and if the truth be known, there's a good deal in it. If John Jonathan should say to the constable, 'I settle this thing out of the court,' the constable would say, 'sure you can; $4 and costs that means $50.'

"Nine-fifty for what did you say? When nine-fifty for being sumptuous of money, by a constable, and when that same constable has decided that you are guilty, and has been in fact judge, jury, clerk of court, in addition to being constable."

Will Be Held at Sir Henry M. Pellatt's Farm Next Tuesday.

HUMBERVALE MAN DIED INSTANTLY

Hugh Morgan Killed While Blasting Rock Near Inglewood.

White engaged in blasting the rock on premises of the Peters Coal Co. in Inglewood, Ontario, Monday morning, 30 years ago, of Humbervale, had his head practically blown off, when he went back to recharge a mine which he thought had gone out.

Two men were killed at the same time by Morgan, and his comrade and the pair retired to a safe distance to await the explosion. One went off all right, but Morgan's charge did not explode in the allotted time, so he had to go back to relight the fuse. Just as he bent over, there was a tremendous explosion, and his body was flung twenty feet.

The remains were removed to William Speer's undertaking rooms, and interment will take place today.

The Canadian Northern Ontario Railway Company will exhibit at the Electric Show in the Arena, Nov. 19 to 25, a model of its new two tunnel through Mount Royal, at Montreal, now in course of construction. The model will show the general system and electric trains in operation. The tunnel is one of the most important engineering undertakings in progress in Canada at present.

Officers for the year will be elected at the annual meeting of the Midway Conservative Association on Friday night in the Lakeshore Avenue Presbyterian Church. As a large batch of important business must be disposed of by the executive specially requests every member to make a point of being present.

HAMILTON. Oct. 28.—(Special)—It was announced today that Ryrie Bros., the well-known Toronto jewelry firm, were looking for a suitable site to open a branch in the city. According to the report, the firm's plans call for a handsomely-appointed store in the central part of the city, and it is reported that a prominent estate dealer had secured an option on the Christopher property, on West King street, at $1000 per foot. If the deal goes through, it is likely that the Ryrie firm will have a branch here at once.

At the meeting of the controllers this morning, the city treasurer reported that there was $35,000 less in controllable funds this year than last, and that there will be $100,000 less in controllable funds next year.

A Paper Millionaire.

In conversation with the press today, Mayor Allan stated that the chalk talk on finance to the members of the board of control was designed as a reply to those who thought he had hinted that Hamilton was on the point to run into bankruptcy.

"We are paper millionaires, and our credit is splendid," remarked the mayor, "but we are like the paper millionaires—we are not millionaires, but we are not facing bankruptcy, by any means."

BROOKS INQUEST NOT CONCLUDED

Contradictory Evidence Led to Adjournment of Cooksville Accident Probe.

So contradictory was the evidence given last night at Chief Coroner Johnson's inquest into the death of Arthur Brooks, killed in an automobile accident near Cooksville, that the authorities are practically no nearer the solution of the mystery than they were before the investigation was begun. After the evidence of several of the men who were in the truck had been taken the inquest was adjourned until Friday.

The story told by Arthur Maddox was to the effect that, after having left Prince's about 12 o'clock on the night of Sept. 24, the boy, in which he was riding, was being driven along the middle of a straight road, at a speed of about 40 miles per hour. Suddenly the back of the machine jumped at least six feet, struck a tree at a distance of about 100 yards and continuing a distance of almost one hundred feet came to a stop.

He swore that the driver, Walter Reynolds, tried to tell him what had happened but two weeks created somewhat of a mystery. Walter Lockett, contradicted himself so often that eventually he said he did not see the accident.

The testimony of Arthur Edmundson was mentioned, and Coroner Johnson will have him testify, as he was supposed to have been in one of the cars.

Resolution No. 2: "That the additional subsidy be paid to each province as follows:

"(a) There shall be set aside out of such additional subsidy an amount sufficient to pay a per capita sum equal to fifty per cent. of the amount now payable to each province for government and legislature.

"(b) The balance of such additional subsidy shall be payable to each province according to its population as ascertained at the census last taken."

Resolution No. 3: "That in case of the government of Canada concurring in the views of this conference as expressed in the above resolutions a measure should be submitted to the parliament of Canada to give effect to the proposal for the payment of such increased subsidies as may be determined upon pending an amendment to the British North America Act if such is deemed necessary."

AMERICAN GOVERNORS.

Another resolution asks increases of salaries of Lieutenant-governors, and there is also one which asks that their titles be changed to governor.

Hon. Mr. Taschner asked that the postage be granted to the provinces to enable them to file public documents, sessional and departmental, and the conference unanimously agreed to the proposal.

The provinces will also ask that the government take steps to have the stocks of provincial corporations cleared up in England in the list of those securities in which trust funds may be invested.

Berlin Telegraph Views Plan With Disfavor—New Electric Line Mentioned.

The Berlin Telegraph publishes an article in Monday's issue stating that it is proposed to divert the main line of the G.T.R. so that it will pass thru Hespeler, Preston and Galt, and that J. D. Conroy, agent at Hespeler, has laid the mat-high-speed electric line from Guelph to Berlin next year.

The Telegraph quotes The Galt Report, which states that the proposal would greatly benefit Galt and the two neighboring towns.

The plan, as outlined by Mr. Conway, is to divert all main line trains from Berlin to Galt via the Elgin-Waterloo junction at Galt; proceed via Preston and Hespeler to Guelph, and along the present line of tracks to Berlin.

The Galt section of the line, traveling in the opposite direction, would be diverted at Guelph.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 28.—Reports were received here this afternoon that rebels had begun another attack on Monterrey. Telegraphic communication with that city is interrupted.

During the fighting there last week the rebels burned the property and equipment of the national railways, valued at more than a million pesos.

News of a serious outbreak against the government by Serano Indians and other elements in the State of Oaxaca also has arrived. This revolt has been brewing some time. The government credits the Diaz elements with inciting it.

While the ex-minister of labor was speaking Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. George P. Graham entered amid an outburst of enthusiastic applause.

After the speech, Sir Wilfrid reiterated his views that reciprocity with the United States was still a live issue. Sir Wilfrid was presented with an address by R. E. Little.

Touching on the record of the Liberal when in office, he declared that the administration had failed to substantiate the charge that there had been any discreditable transactions and that the same held true of the probing into the wireless contract with the U. S. He blamed the Borden administration to the man reactionary in the history of Canada.

In reference to the blocking of the highways bill by the senate, the speaker asserted that the government is prepared to accept the amendment provided that the money be distributed to the provinces according to population, had been guilty of murdering its own child.

Reverting to the third reading, submitted in opposition to the naval constitution bill, he declared that the so-called German scare was an absurdity so far as Britain was scared, although there might be some truth in the stories told by the German press.

Opposite Germany are strongly represented in the omnibus brown eyes of a rivel beauty, and away in the distant perspective the wife and the young wife of the bride stand, blushing and abashed. High above all heads is elevated a white bride, smiling and gazing down upon her. Her gaze is fixed upon the bride's head, and the eyes of all are turned upon the bride pair.

BANANA INDUSTRY IN ISLAND OF CUBA

Nearly All Its Export Goes to United States Cities.

While bananas can be raised in any part of the Island of Cuba, so far they have been grown on a commercial scale only in Baracoa, Sagua de Tánamo, Nipe and Santa Clara, all on the north coast. There are about 25,000 acres under banana cultivation, thirty per cent. of this area being owned by fruit companies, and the remainder by small growers, who sell their fruit to the exporting companies.

Bananas can be grown in many different kinds of soil, although, of course, with varying degrees of success. In Baracoa they are planted not only in the rich valley, but also on the hills and in rocky soil; in fact, some of the best producing land is that section which is largely composed of limestone rock that many of the growers, when planting, take the sucker or bulb and drop it with a handful of soil in a hole in these rocks, and from this position the tree grows and flourishes.

The bulb is set out only on the first planting, when the fruit is ready for cutting the tree is felled and one of the suckers from the same root is allowed to grow. In ten or twelve months this again produces, and so on, until there are about 150 suckers, when it would be better to plant new stock every six or seven years, but this is not done in Cuba. The tree grows to a height of seven to twelve feet, and is four to five inches in diameter. At the end of the first year it bears a few small flowers, and the fruit ripens in December.

Having performed the remarkablefeat, Varyoung did not claim the $50,000 reward offered for his discovery, but instead gave the compensation for his four years of research.

A rich man today, with an assured income, Varyoung will continue his researches and devote his life to the welfare of other problems of science.

"But the day of cheap meat is past, and the present market prices of food animals point to the fact that it is becoming more difficult to import them, especially when the cost of living is high."

AMERICA'S ANNUAL WASTE RESOURCES

Ten Billion Dollars Yearly Goes to Rack and Ruin.

INEFFICIENCY'S PRICE
Such a Sum Would Defray
Cost of Government for a Decade.

Officials of many government bureaus are interested in the figures presented by a German author who claims that there is a waste of natural resources in America amounting to $10,000,000,000 a year, representing the cost of inefficiency of the government for an entire decade. Frank Koester is the man who has come up with the loss figure in his recent book, called "The Price of Inefficiency." With the waste of ten billion dollars of resources he figures that this amount would be enough to pay off the national debt and to save the people in this country $300 for each wage earner on whom the burden principally falls.

Koester's claim is, presumably, true, but he backs up his statements with careful estimates made by the United States government which are not always accounted for with conditions in all parts of the country. Included among the resources which this author claims are needlessly wasted to be saved, Mr. Koester includes the following:

A billion cubic feet of natural gas daily. This is considered the most perfect of all fuels, and enough to supply every city of more than 100,000 population in the United States.

Two and a half million dollars a year in lost gases in the manufacture of coke.

Two hundred million dollars annually in losses thru floods and freshets, which could be prevented by proper engineering and proper methods of control.

Five hundred million dollars a year in soil erosion, which could be saved by proper methods of cultivation.

Six hundred and fifty-nine million dollars a year thru losses to growing crops, fruit trees and grain in the fields, not our farms where multiplication can be prevented.

Two hundred and sixty-seven million dollars a year thru attacks of flies, ticks and other insects on animal life.

One hundred million dollars a year in losses of live stock due to disease, rats, mice and other predatory animals.

Ninety-three million dollars a year in losses of live stock due to disease, which a large part is chargeable to Texas fever.

Seven hundred and seventy-two million dollars a year in loss of income due to industrial diseases; that is, diseases which attack workers on account of their employment in unhygienic surroundings, while the work is carried on.

One and one-half million dollars a year thru loss of life and health to industrial accidents, which are preventable.

Two hundred and fifty million dollars a year in fire damage to combustible buildings and structures.

Four hundred million dollars a year in city water supply used for fire protection, which is one of the chief causes of loss in and in distribution charges, all of which make the losses far greater than country ten times that of industrial accidents.

Twenty-five million dollars a year in failure to adopt the potato drying process used in Germany to the great profit of the German potato crop from rotting unnecessarily.

Twelve million dollars a year in failure to utilize leaves of the potato and other plants, a source of profit in Germany, but a total loss to the United States.

Yeast, land, resources of great value are wasted by failing to drain swamps and overflowed areas.

$100 million dollars a year in failure to utilize water power which is now wasted.

The German author outlines all of these and many other sources of waste of valuable products in the United States. Practically all of these facts have been gathered by various government bureaus and federal commissions.

Oakland, Cal., Oct.—Discord between Louis Piver and his wife led to the discovery of their son, John Piver, who disappeared ninety days ago.

Piver was locked up in the city jail and struck up a friendship with the man in the cell immediately above him. When all the prisoners were lined up for inspection in the morning, Piver saw that the man to whom he had been talking much of the night was his missing son.

Scientific Wrinkle Remover Easily Made

(From Ladies' Favorite Magazine)

A few dermatologists have long held the secret that a certain product, known to the drug trade as squaline, had the properties when used in solution, of instantly removing wrinkles. Anyone can readily make this same solution by dissolving an ounce of powdered squaline in a half pint of witch hazel. Bathe the face in this and note the immediate transformation. The skin tightens, becomes firmer—deep wrinkles, once believed to be permanent, are smoothed out. This action will of course also reduce hanging cheeks or double chin.

When the hands show signs of aging, the skin becomes coarse, creased or flabby, but then the secret solution, since the ancient publication of this formula, men and women all over the country have taken advantage of the information, according to reports, with most satisfactory results.

“Blind love, that is, love without mind, is no longer adequate,” he added.

Prof. Adler has plans by which the new mother of the next race will be an advancement, an advanced expression of the divine purpose of motherhood.

“We may assume that every woman desires a calling, a career, expression and achievement in her life,” he said.

She does not always recognize this at first. Girls who work in factories, in shops, in offices, pursue their calling for the most part, helpless and ignorant of the rewards of their obligations to the newborn being whom they themselves were born to cherish. It is then that the woman, that a woman’s greatest desire is to work for the benefit of her offspring.

“It is not enough, however, merely to have the will, the mother must know how to fulfill her obligation to the infant life of the tiny baby, as well as the character-molding of the child. Finding herself face to face with this tremendous problem, she frequently realizes that she is unprepared for it, that she has no training, no adequate plan of active management has been set forth.

Nature has planned for the woman to be a mother, but she must be compelled by compelling mother love, so that the infant does not come into the world a stranger among strangers.

That much motherhood accomplishes, but it is not enough, for too often, in spite of the mother’s love that fosters her, the vocation of motherhood must, therefore, be recognized as imperative to the progress of the race.

“The vocation of motherhood, that I should call human horticulture, the evolution of natural laws by means of the process of discovery and propagation, must be trained to a high level, so that the mother who must be trained in guidance, even more than the child. The mother’s contribution to the race is a child adored, but what more must she do? So many, many things that she scarcely knows where to begin.”

About Cold Storage Fowls.

ONE eats the best chicken in the world abroad. Here at home we have the finest fowls grown, but they come to our tables with questionable flavors that must be disguised. How do we manage this? It is because we buy fowls that are plucked and packed in barrels and are thawed and sold.

Now this is not a pleasant topic to write about, but it is more unpleasant still to think that unless it is harped upon continually women will throughtly continue buying them for their family’s consumption.

Dealers will tell you that fowls are stored in this disgusting condition because they keep better than if they are drawn. U.S. Government has made hundreds of experiments. “Under the same conditions of temperature and humidity, fowls drawn for two weeks last longer than uncleaned ones. Those packed without drawing have a strong intestinal flavor”—and then follows a full explanation of why housekeepers should reject storage chickens, but read this for yourself.

The real reason poultry dealers leave the viscera in the body is because the fowl can be weighed before it is cleaned, and this means more profit weight of the fowl.

If it is not repugnant to your sense of nice ness to eat chickens that have lain for months uncleansed, remember it is dangerous to your health. Buy live, healthy fowls, feed them yourself for a few days, or have your meat man do this, and then see that they are killed humanely. I might tell you how the Chinese pluck their fowls alive, and of practices among American butchers quite as cruel, but I do not like to write about these things, so I’ll not break my rule.

It lies with us women whether these disgusting, unwholesome cold storage dangers shall continue. No one knows what miracles determined Canadian women can do once they work to a single end. Personally, I think we can have pure food at a low price if we co-operate, and do our best to accomplish it.

“to thaw them out,” they say, but this adds many ounces to the original weight of the fowl.

“Lord Harry,” ejaculated Jarvis, stepping backward in genuine amazement. “A princess, and I have been ordering you around with a gun.”

“You don’t know,” Jarvis answered simply.

“It almost seems as if Providence had sent you to me in my path,” the princess added. “I suppose I ought to be a hard bargain with you.”

“Hard as you please!”

“Oh, Jarvis, you said there would be no justice for you at the court of law,” she said.

A CANADIAN BANK CLERK

Years after Abraham Lincoln's crusade was over and plantation slavery was abolished in the United States the whisper began to circulate in industrial communities that the abolition of slavery was proving an economic advantage to the capitalist. Before the war was over, said the slave owner fed and clothed his slaves and looked after their interests well, because a starved slave could not work as well as a healthy negro. Under the wage system the employer fed and clothed his men, but did not feed them well or see that they were well clothed, because a starved employee merely meant a new name on the payroll. It became more and more to the interest of the selfish employer to get the last bit out of every man, then throw him aside and get another man. There were always plenty of men ready to enlist.

J. P. Buschlen has written a book entitled "A Canadian Bank Clerk," seven years in the employ of a wealthy Canadian bank, giving him the material for one of the most bitter and realistic stories of labor conditions which has ever been penned, the hardest-hitting book ever crooked within the brain of a Canadian author. It is more terrible than the "Ballad of Reading Gaol" for it deals with the workingman. It is more terrible than "The Jungle" for it does not deal with the unskilled. It is the tragedy of the educated man. It is the story of aspirant youth crushed by premature cynicism, a weight upon the chest. Behind the heat-up the sweat and the keen face of the bank clerk is revealed the naked soul of the man-boy, "married to his ledger, fighting to retain his self-respect on wages that are insufficient, always hoping for the something more which he feels must turn up." "A Canadian Bank Clerk" is a remarkable book.

Low wages for highly specialized drudgery and a wage scale in which the increases are fixed automatically, with little regard to man's productive ability, is the keynote of the book. It does not constitute all the money that is paid into the coffers of Canadian banks," declares Mr. Buschlen, in a pregnant paragraph. "Employers and towns help the bank feed, clothe, house, educate, and supply one returns to their former state. Old associations are revived and with one exception their lives swing back in the same old groove.

YOUTH'S ENCOUNTER

There are other characters in the book, of course. There is Michael Fane, son of a banker, who has been brought up by Bell & Cockburn a most wholesome story of boyhood, helpful of action, vim and buoyancy. It applies to every boy as Michael Fane constitutes a general type of boyhood. There is also the young man who has come from the junior, the boy who has come from the senior, the boy who has come from the middle, and the boy who has come from the bottom of the social scale. He goes thru the perils of platonic love, of real love and the disillusionments and as we pass through the various stages of life, the boy begins all over again."

ROBIN HOOD'S BARN

Alfred Stavson was a journalist. He could do more of the "stunts" his paper assigned to him. He was ambitious and looked upon life as a great adventure. In bank slavery, viewed thru Mr. Buschlen's eyes, the employee must work for the bank and against his master. He is encouraged from the head down to hinder his master, but only stretches, but Michael is the outstanding figure. "Youth's Encounter" is sure to be read, and perhaps, re-read by a large number of persons who have lost heart and innocence in the midst of the over-much present-day boldness and vulgarity that seems to dominate the youth of our nation.

"The Double Life of Mr. Alfred Burton," by Louis Pearcey, published by McClelland & Goodchild, is a sort of fairy tale, the characters are just simple, common folk, the hero a street button, based on the office of an amateur and amateur agent. "Joan Thursday," a novel by Louis Pearcey, author of "The Brass Bowl," "The Black Bag," etc., has to do with the social and professional life in question as sex—a question which, in this case, means the moral undoing of a young shopgirl whose aspirations are above the tedious and dull round of the everyday duties of the businesswoman. The girl of the stage makes her a ready victim of those managers. She starts out none too well fixed in character and when evil-intentioned man hangs before her eyes the one word "Success," she readily joins the ranks of the under-worlders. The result is a picture of a combination of public applause, flattery of men, wine suppers, trifles and turbae mean success. But of the real success poor Joan has none. She has given up all the precious possessions of young womanhood to win it. She became a "temporary" wife of Vincent Marbridge. She also be-

The real value in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets consists of their instant acting digestive abilities. They digest the food in the stomach very quickly, so that the assimilation rate in the stomach is when the nourishment of the food is taken into the system they go with it into the blood and thus replenish the digestive fluids.

Thousands of men and women in this country have proved, to their complete satisfaction, the digestive and curative values of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

One ingredient of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is so powerful that one grain of it will digest 3,000 grains of food and it will even do this in a glass tumbler. The secret of this is that if a combination of public applause, flattery of men, wine suppers, trifles and turbae mean success. But of the real success poor Joan has none. came a "star." Vincent Marbridge had had other "temporary" wives and other "temporary" stars return for indulgence in matrimonial mirth. The last to leave of Joan just after she has made one of her great Broadway triumphs. Her brain was confused by praise and swollen with fatigues; but despite this above the weight of her thoughts, a single tremendous idea stood. To bring the clever and attractive young girl into the life which she was leading, and even in times of her greatest success, the memory of it all gave her little room for happiness. J. P. BUSCHLEN

Author of "A Canadian Bank Clerk," one of the strongest novels of the year.

"Years after Abraham Lincoln's crusade was over and plantation slavery was abolished in the United States the whisper began to circulate in industrial communities that the abolition of slavery was proving an economic advantage to the capitalist. Before the war was over, said the slave owner fed and clothed his slaves and looked after their interests well, because a starved slave could not work as well as a healthy negro. Under the wage system the employer fed and clothed his men, but did not feed them well or see that they were well clothed, because a starved employee merely meant a new name on the payroll. It became more and more to the interest of the selfish employer to get the last bit out of every man, then throw him aside and get another man. There were always plenty of men ready to enlist."

J. P. Buschlen has written a book entitled "A Canadian Bank Clerk," seven years in the employ of a wealthy Canadian bank, giving him the material for one of the most bitter and realistic stories of labor conditions which has ever been penned, the hardest-hitting book ever crooked within the brain of a Canadian author. It is more terrible than the "Ballad of Reading Gaol" for it deals with the workingman. It is more terrible than "The Jungle" for it does not deal with the unskilled. It is the tragedy of the educated man. It is the story of aspirant youth crushed by premature cynicism, a weight upon the chest. Behind the heat-up the sweat and the keen face of the bank clerk is revealed the naked soul of the man-boy, "married to his ledger, fighting to retain his self-respect on wages that are insufficient, always hoping for the something more which he feels must turn up." "A Canadian Bank Clerk" is a remarkable book.

LONDON POLICEMEN ORGANIZING UNION

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(Can. Press.)—The policemen of London have become inoculated with the trade union germ and a provisional committee drawn from their ranks is busily enrolling members in what has been the Metropolitan Police Union.

Every member of the force below the rank of superintendent is a comrade in the union, and at least as skilled a member of the most worshipful assemblage on earth, as he thought. As a biographer he was already famous, even though he had no literary attainments, and his association with the police force is comparable to that which was the aftermath of the abolition of slavery.

In the days of slavery, the belligerent man worked for, not against, his own.

He was so widely regarded. It is likely that he exaggerated, but he was certainly not intending to exaggerate.

As he worked Evan Nelson, thru his eyes, the employee must work for the bank and against his master.

He is encouraged from the head down to hinder his master, but only stretches, but Michael is the outstanding figure. "Youth's Encounter" is sure to be read, and perhaps, re-read by a large number of persons who have lost heart and innocence in the midst of the over-much present-day boldness and vulgarity that seems to dominate the youth of our nation.

There are other characters in the book, of course. There is Michael Fane, son of a banker, who has been brought up by Bell & Cockburn a most wholesome story of boyhood, helpful of action, vim and buoyancy. There is also the young man who has come from the junior, the boy who has come from the senior, the boy who has come from the middle, and the boy who has come from the bottom of the social scale. He goes thru the perils of platonic love, of real love and the disillusionments and as we pass through the various stages of life, the boy begins all over again."

A PERTINENT QUESTION.

We had no idea that in unveiling The Telegram's policy of opposing all city extensions and improvements except one that we would jar the feelings of any other journal. The Globe, however, has indicated a certain amount of susceptibility on the question altho The Telegram itself has adopted that attitude of studied silence and assumed contempt which certain characters in melodrama always adopt when there is nothing to be said. Perhaps The Telegram is too full for utterance, like those younglings who, under physical provocation, have a long preliminary period of suspended vocalization before the storm breaks. To "catch the breath" in this stage, apportioning vociferation according to domestic tradition, is liable to be fatal. We hope The Telegram will be able successfully to vociferate.

The Globe does, however, hasten to disclaim any connection with The Telegram's endeavor to put a flat board on the east side of Toronto, so that the bulge would develop on the west. It says: "There are no doubt many readers of The World who believe that The Globe is in some mysterious way connected with interests that are hostile to the growth of Toronto easterly." The Globe makes a strong disclaimer, thus:

It may, therefore, be as well to say, once for all, that neither The Globe nor its editor has any position to influence whatsoever with any land exploitation concern and that his interest in the matter is that he is a citizen and one of all other citizens who feel the burden of heavy taxation and have no intention of giving Sir William G. Mackenzie $12,000,000 for the ransom of the streets of Toronto for a period of less than eight years.

There are two points in this disclaimer that interest us, because if The Globe can prove them, and it has made no attempt yet to do so, Mayor Hocken would feel his case to be weaker than we are led to believe it is. In the first place, it is implied that the ownership of the street railway will increase the burden of heavy taxation." Does The Globe mean this, or is it only a subtle bit of deceit? We trust the explanation is that The Globe does not understand the question, otherwise it would not have implied such an idea. In the second place, The Globe has never yet met the fact, as the Arnold-Moyes report appears to put it, that we are to pay $12,000,000 for $25,000,000 less discount for present value, less discount for extra cost of improved service, less discount on other scores which The Globe seems to think must be allowed for all over again.

And then The Globe takes up the cudgels for The Telegram and Mr. Home Smith, and imagines that the Laird of Donlands is jealous of the Laird of Lambton Mills, who has "the biggest real estate exploitation round the city." The absurdity of this is patent to everybody who is aware that the Humber Valley exploitation is already in the city, while Donlands is neither in the city nor approachable even by a double or triple carfare.

Why, then, does The Globe seek to cloud the issue and object to the wiping out of double fares to the Beaches, double fares to Kingston road and East Gerard, double fares to the Danforth district, double fares to North Toronto, double fares to the St. Clair avenue suburbs, and double fares to West Toronto and Weston? This does not matter in the least that The Globe repudiates association with The Telegram and The Telegram game, if it lines up alongside and plays that asked for by Ald. Wanless is inevitable.

Is The Globe set against the abolition of double fares and eight years more strafing for the people of Toronto? Perhaps we should not expect an answer until the MacKay report is presented.

THE VERSATILE MR. VANDERLIP.

Mr. Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York, did his best the other day to hold up currency reform in the United States, by proposing a big central bank of issue, to be owned and controlled by the government. To make his proposal more attractive, Mr. Vanderlip included nearly every feature of the administration's bill, which he denounced so bitterly to Chairman Glass of the house banking and currency committee, a few months ago. "Political control," "socialism" and "confession" are no longer objected to if the government will only have the paper currency of the country issued by a bank.

Mr. Vanderlip knew that the administration would not adopt his scheme. A big central bank of issue, with branches over the country, has been twice tried in the United States. The Democratic party fought and destroyed the second United States bank, and has gloried in doing so ever since. Woodrow Wilson and the present congress were elected upon a platform pledging the Democratic party if returned to power, against the establishment of a central bank. The president of the big National City Bank took no chances, therefore, in denouncing his central bank scheme with government ownership and operation.

The senate committee on banking and currency is now at work on the Glass-Owen bill behind closed doors, and will in a few days report the measure to the senate. That it will become law at this session of congress is generally conceded.

One is astonished to find how many bank presidents and financial experts in the United States, who derive government control of banking and currency, learned the little they know about finance from service in the treasury department. We might mention Mr. Hepburn, Mr. Dawes, and many others. The National City Bank is the largest bank on this continent, a member of the money trust and backed by the vast capital and credit of the Standard Oil Company. Many people, therefore, assume that Mr. Vanderlip knows more about finance than the entire United States Government. Perhaps he does, but he went from the treasury department to the vice-presidency of his bank. His biography is typical of the versatile American newspaper man, who assimilates rapidly and quickly fits into any position. He theorized about finance until the government set him to work as assistant secretary of the treasury, a position corresponding to our deputy minister of finance. Then he went to the National City Bank, which probably paid him ten times as much as the government. By some process of reasoning the banks agree that it is absurd for the secretary of the treasury or the comptroller of the currency to tell them anything about banking and currency, and yet those officials go from the treasury department to the highest places in the biggest banks in the country. On the other hand, the bankers who have been called to the head of the treasury department, as a rule, have not made good.

But we were speaking of the versatile Mr. Vanderlip. His biography, we have said, is typical, and we therefore produce it briefly from Nelson's Encyclopedia, xii, 381:

Vanderlip, Frank Arthur (1864). American banker, was born in Aurora, Ill. After his father's death he began work in a machine shop, at the age of 16, saving enough money to enter the University of Illinois. In 1889 he became a reporter on The Chicago Tribune, and later financial editor. From 1894 to 1897 he edited The Economic Review, served as a member of the editorial board of the New York Evening Post, and placed that department as a more efficient basis. He was vice-president of the National City Bank, New York City, from 1901 to 1905, when he became president.

LOSSING.

No better example could be had of the effect of lobbying than the result of the voting on Monday evening on the question of the reorganization of the architect's department. Aldermen who lobby, or who permit themselves to be lobbied, are not doing their duty to themselves nor to the city. Nothing but the strenuous lobbying of Ald. McBride could have brought about the condition of affairs that led to the setting aside for the second time of the board of control's recommendation. We confess to surprise at finding the names of Controller O'Neill, Ald. Anderson, Ald. Walton and Ald. Robins among the reactionaries, and we are quite willing to give credit to Controllers Church and Foster on this occasion: the both of them made false moves in their support of the board of control, one in pressing the motion haphazardly and the other in giving way to his propensity for reducing estimates.

Ald. Burgess either knows nothing about the conditions with which he is attempting to deal or he has allied himself with influences which will render him useless to the city. The electorate will scarcely pardon either form of weakness. Ald. Risk, who stated he had been "hail well filled up," will be able to appreciate the voters' kindest feeling when they consider him.

Under the circumstances the enquiry asked for by Ald. Wanless is inevitable.

LEPROSY'S EXTENT IN UNITED STATES

Establishment of a National Leprosy Hospital Has Been Urged.

Leprosy exists in many states and in all of Uncle Sam's island possessions. The control of the disease is a problem of national importance, in the opinion of Surgeon-General Rupert Blue of the United States Public Health Service. In a recent issue of The Journal of the American Medical Association, he discusses in detail its existence and the possibility of its spread.

This disease, which has afflicted mankind since the beginning of history, and which most persons know of only from the Bible, Dr. Blue says was undoubtedly introduced into this country from abroad, but the exact time of its first appearance in this country is uncertain. Cases have been imported into the gulf states three seaports, to the Pacific coast, the Great Lakes, and into the northern central states. In some of these states the disease was evidently more common many years ago than at the present time.

In Louisiana, where no record is found of leprosy 140 years ago, the number of leprosy beggars on the streets of New Orleans in 1785 was so great that the city authorities had to isolate them in an institution outside the city. The records of the facts of birth, death, and disease in many of our states, the extent of leprosy in the United States cannot be accurately estimated. A report made by United States Marine Hospital Service some years ago showed 278 cases in the United States, and another report contained of 183 cases in thirteen of the states, 764 in Hawaii, 17 in Porto Rico, and 239 in the Philippine Islands. In 1912, 140 cases were reported in the United States, 69 in Canada, 18 in Porto Rico, and 2754 in the Philippines, making a total of 3624 officially reported cases in the United States and its possessions.

The leprosy is the loathsome character of the disease, but the public dread regarding it leprosy has been the subject of consideration by the federal government.

In 1881 the surgeon-general of the Public Health Service recommended the establishment of a national leprosy hospital by the federal government. The need for such an institution still exists. Federal state and municipal health authorities are in agreement on the establishment of a national leprosy hospital. In the meantime, the Public Health Service is studying leprosy in the hope of devising methods of prevention and cure, so that this serious problem may be properly solved.

HOSPITAL 27 YEARS.

Death Finally Comes to Patient Friends Had Maintained Him.

PORLAND, Ore., Oct. 26.—William A. Lambert, pensioned volunteer fireman and for twenty-seven years a patient in St. Vincent's Hospital in Portland, died last week. He had been a patient in the hospital for many years, and his old nurse in the institution does not remember when he came there, and for the last ten years he lived in the hospital.

During all these years he had been kept by the Sisters of the hospital, while his clothing and tobacco were supplied by the city. His friends said he was practically helpless.

Lambert sustained an injury to the spine just after the volunteer firemen had come to the aid of his bed to his death. He had no relatives.

The batting and bowling averages of the Toronto Cricket Club were recently given out by the hon. secretary, Mr. J. S. Dimock. They show T. Official of the New Westminster Hockey Club will name a manager this week, and the choice lies between Hugh Currie, the star goal keeper; Ray McDonald and Bill Mallon. The former has had managerial experience in the east, and will probably land the job for the season of 1913-14.

Riley Hearn, former star goal tender of the Montreal Wanderers, is of the opinion that the newly organized hockey commission is a poor preparation without a manager, and may succeed in handing him.

Manager Quinn of the champions stated that satisfactory arrangements had not been reached yet between McLaughlin and the club.

THREE THOUSAND SAW JASBO DEFEAT PRIDE OF TORONTO

Charlie, the William Cross Entry, crossed the line ahead. But was disqualified for receiving assistance—Miss Texas Mulhall winning jockey over fast track.

Nearly three thousand members of the sport-loving public harped the elements yesterday morning to witness the greatest horse race event of the year at the Hillcrest racetrack.

The occasion was to decide a side bet between the owners of the two mules who were to race once around the half-mile track.

Charlie, owned by William Cross of Toronto, and ridden by a well-known jockey (it was whispered that the jockey was Texe Smith), moreover was no confirmation of this report).

Jasco, owned by the "Girls of the Folies," and ridden by Miss Texas Mulhall.

Odds Entry Way.

The race proved plenty of excitement for the spectators and was hotly contested to the full distance, the betting being 3 to 2, say donkey.

They were set off on their long journey by John L. Lewis, who immediately taking the lead, which she maintained until they reached the first bend, when it was noticed that Charlie was "fast" making up the ground which he had lost.

This practically a neck to neck race all the way until they reached the home stretch. Then Charlie, who had all along shown signs of jealousy on account of the rider on his opponent's back, tried to savage Jasbo, and the race turned into a kind of catch-as-catch-can struggle.

Going Was Fast.

They were, however, finally separated and came along the home stretch at a terrific pace. Texas Mulhall kept her mount right up to the finish. When near the winning post Jasbo let up somewhat; Charlie was seen to be gaining and in the excitement of so close a finish somebody pulled Charlie past the post, winning the race by a nose.

The judges, Messrs. Barnes and R. T. Smith and F. J. Ryan, however, disqualified the horse, product on account of the "assistance" he had received. Miss Texas Mulhall received a great ovation from the crowd as she led her "horse" thru the throng of admirers.

May Be Disqualified.

There are, however, rumors of another protest, as it is declared that Mr. D. Barnes, one of the judges, was seen waving a bunch of carrots before the eyes of Jasbo.

As the judge's watch stopped after the race had been in force 25 minutes the time was 10:15.

Up to a late hour last night the expected challenge from "The Whip" had not been received by Miss Mulhall.

NURSES BATTLED WITH PATIENTS

Conditions in Insane Asylum at Worcester, Mass., Under Investigation.

FOOD UNFIT TO EAT

Nurses Made Many Charges of Irregularity in Conduct of Institution.

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 28.—(Can. Press)—The state board of insanity this afternoon began an investigation of charges made that patients are treated cruelly at Worcester State Hospital, and that outrageous conditions exist there.

Nurses Mary E. Boyce, Mary Reed, Barbara Smith, and Mrs. Elizabeth Lakin, all testified that patients have been beaten by nurses, who found this necessary to protect themselves, as there is no competent nursing force to handle patients properly.

It was charged by the nurses that patients and nurses often suffer with the same lack of food and clothing, and the handkerchiefs are not furnished the patients.

All patients are given the same food and the same treatment, regardless of their physical condition, was another charge made. It was further alleged by the nurses that the food, as it is, is unfit to eat. Patients are dragged along the corridor to be punished.

Fought to Save Lives.

Some of the nurses claimed that they are left alone with forty violent patients, and that they were compelled to depend upon the patients to save their own lives.

Dr. G. W. Galvin of Boston was at the hearing to represent the nurses who have complained. He declared that they have been persecuted.

He said that Dr. Scribner is called upon to supervise the treatment of more than 180 patients, when as a matter of fact, no hundred is a safe doctor for the institution to have.

The hearing will be continued tomorrow morning.

SAVING TIME AND MONEY.

Now that a sharp cold snap is heralded by the weatherman, thoughts will naturally turn to the winter overcoat. Fortunately the higher cost of living is so much discussed these days does not seem to include the price of necessary outer wear.

It is what is gathered from the announcements of the stores that cater in this respect to the needs of men.

Among the clothiers of the city, Ed. Mack is conspicuous for his efforts to supply a wide and comfortable coat at the lowest price compatible with the necessary quality. Just now he wants to save the man needing an overcoat or an ulster the trouble of shopping around. His new line in Ulster-coats is at prices ranging from $16 to $25, smart and good-looking, and will guarantee them to be as represented or refund the money.

EATON CASE GOES TO JURY TONIGHT

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Oct. 28.—(Can. Press)—All evidence in the trial of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, charged with poisoning her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, had been put in when the afternoon session closed today, and the fate of the woman will probably be decided by the jury before tomorrow evening.

Before the case of the defense was closed a medical expert, Dr. Arthur E. Austin of Boston, testified that in his opinion the girl was well when the afternoon meal was taken at or after the noon meal, Wednesday, March 6, and that it was taken in one dose.

Mrs. Eaton on that day was visiting in Medford, according to testimony and witnesses for both the state and defence.

COLLEGE STREET CASES RESERVED

Assessment Reductions on Properties Leased From University, Held Over.

TURNED DOWN APPEAL

Of Maitland Street Owners, Who Wanted Too Easy Terms.

The one-foot revenue strip owned by the university on certain properties on College street again troubled the court of revision yesterday afternoon.

At $800 per foot, it demands $12,000 per acre, and J. Beaumont at $6, at $2,000. All three entered appeals, but the court, in the former case on College street, left them over to the assessor with the instruction to determine whether or not the government renders its decision as to whether or not the university can hold the strip. The properties are all leased from the university on long leases, and the university restricts the uses to which they can be put, limiting them to residential purposes.

R. H. Howell appeared before the board to protest against the assessment of the properties of Mrs. Hoag, 33 Grenville street, and Mrs. H. B. Miller, 100 Elizabeth Boyle of 73. The properties were assessed this year for $125 per foot, as against $90 last year. The board agreed to a reduction of $25 in each case.

Prof. W. S. Milner of the University of Toronto was successful in having his assessment reduced to $140, or $120 per foot, at 74 Guelph street, a revenue strip.

George Rudlin, owner of 40, 42 and 44 Irwin Avenue, and E. Greene, 46 and 48 Irwin Avenue, were assessed $100 per foot reduction on their properties.

Mrs. Peagle, 19 Irwin Avenue, and Susanna Carter, 11 Irwin Avenue, were assessed $100 per foot, and W. J. Dority, 24 Irwin Avenue, $16 per foot, too, reduction.

The assessment of $145 per foot on the property owned by Hamilton A. Laughlin at 30 and 32 St. Joseph street was confirmed.

Spiegel McFarlane, George Cunningham and Anne Tomlinson, the owners of 61, 63 and 65 Maitland street, respectively, and it is likely that a company will be formed to operate under the Public Utilities Act, whereby the municipality will guarantee its bonds to the extent of eighty per cent. The rate of rental according to the act must not be more than enough to pay six per cent interest on the investment. Manufacturers are anxious to secure the necessary labour as men as possible. It is stated that Father Brophy made the greater part of the money thru insurance. Years ago, it is claimed, he insured his life and he did so for $75,000. The money did not mature for many years. Father Brophy seeing the money, it is said, the will is to be contested on the ground that the testator was of unsound mind when he made it. The greater part of the estate belongs to his widow, the Rev. Mrs. Brophy, of Toronto.

GERMANY VISIT FARM.

There are four distinguished German visitors at the prison farm today. They were here under the special authority of Emperor William, Canada's prison system having gained a reputation sufficient to send a commission to this country to investigate. The commission was accompanied by Hon. W. J. Hanna and Warden Gilmore, on October 28.

There was apparently no warning of the approaching engine. The driver met the accident three Mr. Kilgour, from the car and he alighted on the board, sustaining a fracture of the skull, besides being badly shaken up. Mr. Vincent, who not long ago ran the auto, was severely beaten and bruised. His engine bore the injured men to Guelph Junction, whence they were brought to Guelph on the regular train. Mr.

KINGSTON, Oct. 28.—(Special) Houses at a reasonable rental are so scarce that the manufacturers have for some time past been at their wits' end to secure sufficient labor to run their plants. The finance committee of the city council has taken the matter up, and it is likely that a company will be formed to operate under the Public Utilities Act, whereby the municipality will guarantee its bonds to the extent of eighty per cent. The rate of rental according to the act must not be more than enough to pay six per cent interest on the investment. Manufacturers are anxious to secure the necessary labor as men as possible. Found guilty on the charge of stabbing his brother-in-law, John Merriott, John Coughlin was sent to jail for one year by Magistrate Farbill. Coughlin became drunk in a row over his wife's leg, his brother-in-law several times in the face and bit Merriott in the head. Coughlin was at the dock for several days, but is now able to be around.

The death occurred of Miss Mattie Crawford, many years a teacher in the public schools after a lengthy illness. She was daughter of the late Anthony Crawford and a sister of Captain Crawford.

Kilgour was taken to the General Hospital. The crossing where the accident happened is an especially dangerous place. Owing to the nature of the approaches, it is almost impossible to know if a truck is coming.

A message has been received from Rev. G. A. Little, of Augustine Church, Winnipeg, accepting the call to the pastorate of Chalmers. The induction will take place on the evening of Nov. 25. The decision gives general satisfaction to the congregation.

By Alderman Wanless' Hold-Up Breaks Strangle Hold of Filibusters.

Ald. Wanless' during hold-up of the city council on Monday midnight, causing a stampede of the filibusters, who were attempting the alienation of the rights of the board of control in the city architect's department, has caused a deadlock. An appointment of a city architect by the filibusters is no longer possible, because they would not have the necessary two-thirds majority. The board of control has no desire to make another nomination in the meantime, as it is very doubtful if the filibusters would permit its adoption in the council.

Ald. Wanless has given the filibusters the option of either showing appreciation of the rights of the board of control or holding on a motion of adjournment of the city architect's department. He is not willing to give the option for more than a single vote.

The fact that Ald. Wanless has taken from the filibusters the power they have so joyously been exercising in the council, and has reopened the polls, is a situation that was bound to develop before the end of the year.

MAHER'S EXCHANGE IS REPORTED SOLD

T. Eaton Co. Said to Be Purchasers of Hayden Street Property.

Maher's Horse Exchange on Hayden street has been reported sold, and with the report is linked the name of the T. Eaton Company, Limited. For some time a deal has been pending for the sale of this property to one of the department stores for stable use for delivery wagons and horses. A little while ago it was believed announced to do this, but good sum was realized by the executors of the Patrick Maher estate, who held the property. It is well-known that Eaton's present stable accommodation on James street is not only too small, but the site is becoming too valuable for such purposes.

On Hayden street there is a frontage of 115 feet, 10 inches. Another block of 17 feet, 10 inches, 19 feet, 6 inches, has 132 feet running parallel with Bloor street, and a depth of 57 feet.

ELECTRICITY IS THE REMEDY OF TO-DAY

I don't see how anyone can doubt the value of electricity as the most natural and the most effective of all remedies for the cure of ailments which afflict the human body.

There are thousands of people in whom the life force has given up the struggle and disease have eaten up their strength, energy and ambition. They are nervous and run down.

But there is always a spark left to kindle from, and by applying Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt while you sleep you can fit into a flame, regaining your health.

You can talk with the men and women who have been cured by my belt, and they will confirm my proposition that no other method gives any attention to my argument. But when I tell you I have cured your neighbor, Mr. Walker, or your old friend, Mr. Williams, and that you can go and ask them when I have given you proof, and you know that I can do all that I claim.

And I want you to give me credit for what I prove. There's nothing surer than the word of an honest man, and when such men as these admit that you know what I claim, that I can cure you.

Dr. McLaughlin, Tilsonburg, Ont.

Dear Sir—it is a month since I got one of your Belts. I can say I felt stronger from the first day I wore it. I can now sleep and rest better at night. It has stopped me from walking in my sleep. I fall out of a window last August and almost lost my life from walking in my sleep, so I think your Belts are cheap at double the price.

Yours truly,

JOHN REYNOLDS.

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt Cures

Rheumatism; Kidney Troubles; Lame Back; Sciatica; Stomach Troubles; and every indication that you are breaking down physically.

My Belt is a scientific device for infusing a subtle stream of life-energy directly into the human system for hours at a time without the least shock or irritation.

Under its powerful influence your pains and aches vanish like mist before the morning sun. The blood courses through your veins with renewed vigor. The glow of health returns to your cheeks, and you feel the thrill of new life that comes with increased strength and nerve power.

Now, when we have lost our strength, our tone, our endurance, "the spring" on our nerves is weak because they are not properly fed. I don't mean that you do not eat enough. Nerve force is a food that comes from electricity.

When your supply of nerve force has become depleted the nerves do not get the proper nourishment and waste comes in through the pores.

UNION TRUST CO.'S PROSPECTUS MISLEADING IN MANY RESPECTS

Literature Published for Distribution in England Criticized by C. A. Masten at Investigation—Mr. Symonds Did Not Think Investors Would Be Misled.

To make their calling and election sure in the British Isles, the Union Life Assurance Company appears to have left no stone, actuarial or verbal, unturned. The prospectus issued with this aim in view abounds in figures and promises of a marvellous Jekyll-Hyde significance. To the workingman or capitalist, into whose hands they fell, they presented evidence of an almost unparalleled progress, and promised investment returns calculated to entice the most cautious. Whereas the actual was actually fighting for existence, to the British investor it appeared seeking new fields to conquer.

This was the spirit of the whole edition, as far as the author could ascertain by Referee Kappelle. Misrepresentation abounded in the booklet. The figures of gain hoped for were presented as being attained by active management. Assets were claimed that are not recognized by Canadian Insurance rules. The whole, as acknowledged by Harry Symonds, ex-president, was misleading and could not be otherwise from the facts of record. The author believes that in ignorance of certain directors' appointments were made in the same way, and the fact that was not mentioned in the prospectus. Yesterday's session was consumed in trailing out the quips and quirks which began in the public and British insurance business.

Glowing Promises

The British prospectus advertised a flotation of £100,000,000 of stock of $100 each offered for public subscription at the fixed rate of £24 12s. payable in five installments. One of the statements of the promoters stated that these shares would rank pro rata with the existing paid-up capital of the company, and dividends and capital. For three years the national agency would guarantee a minimum dividend of 6 per cent, and a maximum of 12 per cent.

The British prospectus also advertised a flotation of £100,000,000 of stock of $100 each offered for public subscription at the fixed rate of £24 12s. payable in five installments. One of the statements of the promoters stated that these shares would rank pro rata with the existing paid-up capital of the company, and dividends and capital.

"That is the law," but the action of the company did not accord with it," said Mr. Masten. "How could it possibly be said that any board of directors with a deficit of £100,000 would be entitled to a dividend of £24 12s?" asked Referee Kappelle.

Real Estate News

REALTY SITUATION
GOOD, W. S. DINNICK

Spoke Before Toronto Ad Club on Real Estate.

The real estate situation is good, very good, it has changed, that is all. Mr. Dinnick said that the whole world had suffered from a real estate "boom" that unfortunately many people had bought properties that had little or no value and had lost money. However, he was showing itself in the greater caution and discrimination with which the buying public look at properties. No longer will they buy blindfolded, and companies selling real estate have either got out of business or are going. Real estate, said Mr. Dinnick, has to be sold on the basis of strict and sober truth, and must be absolutely backed up by the properties sold.

Few Houses For Rent.
While Mr. Dinnick said that Toronto's real estate condition could not be called normal, he said there were few houses for rent, yet it had been so for several years. The "boom" has passed; people want value for their money, and they will get it.

HIDES 18 YEARS IN TEXAS.

Returns to Find that Others Have Been After Father's Estate.

LAPORTE, Ind., Oct. 23.—After an absence of more than eighteen years, Mr. John E. Williams, of Williamsburg, who died in January, has unexpectedly returned to Laporte. General interest is taken in the case because of the world-wide search for Buck and the fact that several fake claimants have been presenting claims for the estate of $12,000.

Among the most persistent was Carl Flechner of Racine, Wis., found after investigation to be crazy, who had presented claims for large estates in various places over the country.

Otto Buck walked into the drug store at Laporte, Ill., Otto Tanko, on North Clark street, Chicago, and it was then that he first heard of his father's death.

He wept, as he had always entertained hope of a reconciliation with his father before the latter died. The son had several times asked his father to leave Buck a small allowance by the terms of the will, but it is now probable that there will be a contest in an effort to get the $12,000 estate for the son.

Buck, unidentified, has been living in Texas.

INVENTS A BEET DIGGER.

Russian Refugee's Contrivance Saves Much Hard Labor.

LONGMONT, Col., Oct. 23.—George Hester, who a year ago departed as a refugee from Russia for the United States, knowing nothing of the customs or language of this country, has completed an invention which beet growers in this region say will eventually revolutionize the methods now used in digging beets. His contrivance weighs only two pounds, is a combination beet digger and topper and with one man can do half as much work as by the method now in general use.

The machine, which is carried like a corn planter, first tops the beets with one hand, and the other neatly uproots the vegetable.

Mix stove polish with equal parts of household ammonia and turpentine and apply to the coal stove; rub off with a soft woolen cloth.

DEADLOCK OVER CURRENCY BILL

Committee of U. S. Senate Divides on Central Bank Proposal.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—(Can. Press)—A threatened deadlock in the senate banking and currency committee over the proposal to substitute a government-owned central bank for the regional reserve bank plan, in the administration currency bill, became apparent today, when the committee began executive consideration of the measure.

Discussion was confined to the central bank scheme, and no vote was taken on the federal deposit insurance for the government-controlled central regional system.

The five Republicans on the committee, Senators Weeks, McLean, Nelson, Crawford and Bristow, argued for the central bank plan, while the three Democrats, Senator Hitchcock, one of the Democrats, who has been opposed to the administration bill in many of its provisions, Senator O'Connor, and Senator Smith, expressed themselves in favor of the central bank plan, swung into line with the other Democrats for the administration plan.

The vote was delayed until tomorrow, and Chairman Owen, at the close of this evening's session, said he believed the administration plan would be finally adopted.

"Both sides have shown a considerable disposition," he said, "and I believe the vote tomorrow will dispose of the matter to everybody's satisfaction."
