

LLOYD GEORGE URGED TO QUIT LIBERAL RANKS

Former Premier, However, Sees Difficulties in Way

BREACH IS FINAL

Reconciliation of Former Premier With Asquith Considered Impossible

By HERBERT BAILEY... LONDON, May 28—Personal friends and staunch supporters of Lloyd George are urging him to repudiate his enemies in the Liberal party and to form a new centre party appealing to the rank and file of Liberalism.

Lloyd George is undoubtedly attracted by the idea, but the difficulties in the way of its accomplishment are great. He still has control of the huge war fund accumulated while he was coalition Prime Minister, but the party machine is solidly in the hands of Asquith and his associates.

Possibly Lloyd George could capture this organization but it would mean a complete smashing up of the Liberal party and an entirely reorganization which would take much time.

SAY BREACH FINAL... Lloyd George's friends say that his breach with Lords Oxford and Asquith is final. It is impossible that they should ever become reconciled again, accordingly they urge that Lloyd George must command his own future if he would ever hope to return to any position of political power.

Conservatives throughout the country regard Lloyd George's career as finished. They feel that he has no longer any force in politics and that he has done nothing but blunder since the war.

His defenders retort that Lloyd George will surprise them yet. One thing is certain that the whole country is keenly interested in his future.

Commander Tells of Epoch-Making Flight in Interview With Reporters

GRAVESEND, Eng., May 28—This town in Kent today had the honor of welcoming the second man who ever reached the North Pole. He is Lt. Commander Richard E. Byrd, United States Navy, who sailed into the Thames last night on the steamer Chantier from Spithead harbor.

The steamer took the Byrd expedition to King's Bay and waited there for Byrd and his pilot, Chief Petty Officer Floyd Bennett, to negotiate the something like 1400 miles over the frozen Arctic in the aeroplane Josephine Ford to the pole and back. The feat was accomplished Sunday, May 9, in about 13 1/2 hours.

ALL ARE WELL... To a correspondent of the London Daily Mail he said: "I felt very elated when assured by my compass and other reckonings, that I was over the pole. I wrote a note to my companion (Bennett) to whom I could not speak owing to the noise of the engine, saying: 'We are at the pole.' He shook hands with me and smiled."

MAYOR WHITE ADVOCATES FREE NATIONALIZED PORT HERE

Declares Policy Change Would Attract Industries To District And Increase Its Population

His Worship Sees City At Parting of Ways and Stresses Need of Immediate Action

SPEAKS AT TRADE BOARD BANQUET

Figures Harbor Valuation at $6,000,000 and Says Revenue From Sale Applied to Municipal Debt of $8,000,000 Would Be Good

ADVOCATING nationalization of the harbor of Saint John as a free port for at least the first 10 or 15 years, His Worship Mayor White gave a highly interesting review of the difficulties under which Saint John was laboring, and advanced several proposals for the betterment of conditions, before 300 members of the Saint John Board of Trade at a banquet in the Admiral Beatty Hotel last evening.

His Worship declared that the people of this section of the country were a maritime people and their destiny was on the sea. He expressed the opinion that the city's greatest need at the present time was more population, but felt that with the development of a great national port here, industries would be attracted to the city and that a natural growth in population and prosperity would follow.

He figured that the value of the harbor was in the vicinity of $6,000,000 and if this amount could be realized in the sale of what the people had spent several years in building up, the amount could be placed against the city's indebtedness of $8,000,000 and would be a good piece of business.

While he was optimistic for the future of the city, he said that it was rapidly going out of business—that it was at the parting of the ways, and that something must be done as soon as possible.

SIMMS SPEAKS

Mr. Simms introduced the speaker of the evening in a brief address in which he also referred to the recent campaign to secure increased membership for the board. Mr. Simms announced that the effort had been completely successful and that the total number of members had been practically doubled. The membership was now slightly less than 400, which figure it was believed would be attained in the near future.

The Board of Trade, Mr. Simms went on, realized the necessity of seeking closer and more harmonious co-operation with City Hall. It was recognized that the responsible heads of government were the Common Council, but on the other hand more than ever before the board represented those members of the community who were responsible for its financial life, its improvement and its ultimate success.

The gathering, he said, represented an infinitude of potential power. Great things might be accomplished through co-operation and vision.

SUCCESS CAN BE GAINED

There were many present who had learned that success could be gained in Saint John as well as by seeking more distant fields. He was confident that the next decade would see many more of those successes.

Mr. Simms spoke appreciatively of the services rendered by F. Maclure Scandlers, commissioner of the board, and regretted that he had been unable to attend his activities because of indisposition. He was glad to say that he believed Mr. Scandlers would be able to return to duty in about three weeks.

In calling upon Mayor White, Mr. Simms paid him a tribute as having won the complete confidence of the people, and said that his opportunity for service was one of which the counterpart had not been seen for many years.

MAYOR OPENS ADDRESS

In opening his address, Mayor White referred to the fact that in the early days of the city the lot on which the hotel, the scene of last night's gathering, stands was sold for $20 for use as a windmill; when those behind the Admiral Beatty Hotel project purchased the land they paid $100,000 for it, and in the light of recent gatherings, His Worship expressed the opinion that it was not being diverted much from its original use.

Mayor White said that he was far from being a pessimist. He had confidence in the city and in its citizenship. There was no cause for panic, he declared, pointing out that the corporation of the city was in a healthy condition financially, and in this regard compared favorably with other cities in Canada. There was available for taxation about $20,000,000 in income; the bonded indebtedness of the city was $8,000,000, while its assets were placed at $12,000,000, which His Worship considered was a very conservative figure.

DEFENDS TAX RATE

The tax rate he did not consider excessive, although the valuation of real estate was higher than he felt property owners would like to see it. The value of the city's securities in the financial markets of the country, however, was an indication, he declared, of Saint John's stable condition.

While he would not say that the city was out of business, he expressed the opinion that it was rapidly going out of business. He went on to discuss possible reasons for this condition and added that only by making the conditions favorable could the opportunities for development of the community be made possible.

There was a time, he continued, when conditions were far different from what they were at the present time—when the city was busy with a multitude of industries, including shoe factories, iron mills, lumber mills, locomotive works, and various other branches of activity. He called to mind the fact that in those days trade the common council, to compel people with money to invest it, but if the locality was made favorable for investment, he said it would be impossible to keep the money out. Only in that way could Saint John progress, he added.

MORE POPULATION NEEDED.

The city must have additional population, he declared. In the last 30 years had doubled while the best, remained in the city, he claimed. In the present time, he said, the population, he estimated, was 10,000. Saint John a free port, he said, would be expected to attract a population of 25,000. The harbor would be there still, no body could take it away, and there would be at least as much work for the longshoremen. A new policy, he felt, could not make the conditions any

HARBOR REVENUE.

Last year, the Mayor continued, the net revenue from the harbor was some $300,000, or a return of about one-tenth of one per cent. on the investment. If the city should sell its harbor for $8,000,000 and use the amount received to offset its debt of $8,000,000, he figured that that would be good business. This money could be invested at five per cent. and give a very satisfactory return.

Should the harbor be sold there were some advantages which existed at the present time, he declared, which were invaluable and which would not be transferred with the deed of sale. These included the employment of labor and other indirect advantages. The harbor would be there still, no body could take it away, and there would be at least as much work for the longshoremen. A new policy, he felt, could not make the conditions any worse than they were at the present time.

COURTENAY BAY.

If the port were nationalized—if it were put into the hands of a harbor trust—and he felt that Courtenay Bay should be included—such a trust, co-operating with the C. N. R. in carrying out the program of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the routing of all Canadian trade through Canadian ports, and with all discrimination eliminated, Saint John would have one of the most favorable sites for the development of both industry and business in the whole of Canada.

He gave several examples of the possibilities of the city as an industrial center, referring particularly to the Atlantic Sugar Refinery, which imported its raw product by water to its own wharf and shipped the finished article without the necessity of having to resort to rail connections. He also spoke of the industry which was being operated by the president of the Board of Trade, L. W. Simms, which drew its raw material from as far away as China and Turkey and shipped the finished article to 50 countries of the world.

PARLIAMENT AWAKENING

There never was a time, he said, would never capture the markets of Canada to any great extent; the markets of Maritimes were overseas, he declared, and he thought that there were unlimited opportunities in England for the products both grown and manufactured here.

With a large port and with a policy that reached well into the future, with steamers running frequently and regularly to all parts of the world, he felt that it would be possible to get investors to locate near the seaboard. He also saw unlimited possibilities in the import trade, particularly from the West Indies and through the British preference.

"Given a large import and export trade," he said, "with the consequent development of industries, Saint John would be an all-year-round port, but the great benefit of a large port would be overshadowed by a large industrial centre and a big increase in population. For one, we will have nothing to do with a harbor trust."

"But we must have a free port, or I am not a seaman," he said, as the gathering broke into loud applause.

"The wisest man uses the simplest words."

High Spots I Address

WE are a Maritime port our destiny lies on the sea. Our future prosperity depends on greater export business.

We have abundant supplies of excellent limestone in New Brunswick. This with clay is the basis for cement. Something could be done in this line, despite the fact that we could scarcely hope to compete with the big cement plants.

We have the soil and the pastures to raise immense quantities of foodstuffs and beef cattle. There is an unlimited market for these just across the horizon in England.

We have been playing with the fish industry for 150 years. Yet here is an industry which we have a monopoly, and no limit to the extent in which it could be developed.

We want a free port, or as nearly free as may be—if not permanently so, at least for 10 or 15 years until it has developed.

We have some business to transact, and as we say when we go to the bank, we want a little "accommodation" from the government.

We are going out of business, despite possession of a large surplus, because we have not mobilized our man-power and woman-power to the best advantage.

One of our greatest needs of the moment is more population.

At present Saint John is like a man who has lost his position and is looking for some other occupation.

The time has come for us to lay the cards on the table and face the facts to take stock and see if this city cannot regain some of its commercial supremacy.

Saint John is approaching, if not already at, the parting of the ways. A wise policy, he said, a business-like way will mean success.

If it had not been for the C. P. R. we would have had to close up our books long ago.

kept our man-power and woman-power properly mobilized."

POPULATION STATIONARY.

The population of the city has remained stationary or a little worse, he said, and while he would not say that the city was in decline, he said that it had come to the parting of the ways; it had lost its shipping; it had lost its lumber industry.

"What can we turn our hands to now?" he asked. He answered this question by pointing out that the province still had its natural resources which might be re-ported to.

In the first place, he pointed to the forests. While the thirteen lumber mills once located in the city had disappeared, he felt that pulp could be manufactured at a profit in Saint John. He instanced the case of the New Brunswick mill and expressed the opinion that there was more than enough in prospect than would keep one mill in operation.

RICH CEMENT DEPOSITS.

Turning to the mines he said that in addition to coal, the province had rich deposits of both limestone and clay, both of which entered into the manufacture of cement. While he felt that it would be useless to attempt to compete with the Portland cement he said that he thought there was no reason why at least a local market in cement could not be built up.

Next taking up the matter of farming, he declared that the meat packers of the west had captured the Maritime field and he figured that this condition of affairs was strange in view of the valuable farming lands which the province possessed and which he felt would make a good living for a large proportion of the population.

FISHING PLAYED WITH.

Touching on the matter of the fishing industry, the Mayor declared that for the last 150 years, the people had played with this feature of the country's resources. He compared conditions here with those in Gloucester, Mass., a city comparable to Saint John in size, which was practically built upon fish and which exported its products to many countries, even supplying a great portion of Canada.

The tourist question, he said, he would leave to the tourist association, but incidentally he pointed out that Switzerland made its living from the tourist traffic and the State of Maine received a great proportion of its revenue from the same source. Saint John, he felt, could derive a great benefit from the trade with proper and judicious advertising.

POWER DEVELOPMENT.

In the matter of power, he referred to the development at Grand Falls, at Musquash and on the Nepisiquit. Coming nearer home, he said that the problem of the Levering Falls had never been solved, but he felt that the power was there and when the price of coal became prohibitive, such development would have to be resorted to. He also spoke of the plans for harnessing the tidal power at the head of the Bay of Fundy, which had been abandoned on account of the fact that no market was in sight for the power.

It was impossible by act of parliament, or of the legislature, or even act

Old Age Comes to Us All—Don't Let It Find You Empty-Handed—Start Now to Save Money, to Cultivate Affection, to Lay in a Supply of Friendship and to Store Up Mental Riches for Future Happiness.

WHAT are you storing up for your old age?

Are you laying up any money against the time when you will be old and feeble and no longer able to work?

The hour your earning powers will be gone. Your hands will be too stiff and clumsy to keep on with their accustomed task. Your mind will be too slow to go the pace in the fierce competition in the commercial world.

If you are an employe, you will lose your job if you are a business man, you will find that your trade has somehow drifted away from you. If you are a professional man, you will be superseded by the new men whose stars are just rising on the horizon.

Nothing that you can do will alter these conditions. No miracle will save you from the common fate of all who grow old. But you have saved up enough money to make you independent, it will be merely a matter of mild regret to you. If, however, you have laid up nothing for the rainy day that is bound to come to you, it will be a tragedy that you will pray death to end.

FOR in all the world there are no people so pitiable and forlorn as those who are forced to use bitter bread of dependence in their old age, and find how steep are the stairs of another man's house. Wherever they go, they know themselves unwelcome. Wherever they are, they feel themselves a burden. There is no humiliation of the spirit they are not forced to endure. Their hearts are scared all over with the stabs from cruel and caustic speeches.

In youth, money is a convenience, an aid to pleasure. In age, it is an absolute necessity, for when we are old we have to buy even consideration and politeness from those about us. This is true, even in the households of our own children, for between the father and mother who are able to pay their own way, and are the source of a never-ending flow of gifts and treats, and the father and mother who must be supported, is a great gulf fixed.

It is the difference between having the place of honor on the back seat between being listened to with respect, and having one's opinions derided; between having one's little peculiarities catered to as interesting characteristics, and being snubbed for one's old-fashioned ways.

NOB is this as unfeeling and hard-boiled as it seems. The average young couple have all they can do, in these times of the high cost of living, to provide for their own wives and children, and it makes their burden crushing to have to add to it the extra weight of the support of the old people of their families.

The fate of the dependent old is so terrible that it is a marvel that it does not frighten every one into trying to provide against it, yet it was recently stated in a journal of statistics that 80 per cent. of the men and women more than 60 years of age were dependent either upon their children or upon public charity.

DON'T let this misfortune befall you. Guard against it. Begin systematic saving while you are young, so that when you are old you will at least have the comfort of being independent.

Are you laying up affection for your old age? Most of us have a curious and naive belief in what we call "natural affection." We befool ourselves into thinking that people must love us because they stand in a certain relationship to us, and because there are blood ties between us. Never was there a more fallacious theory.

THERE is, to be sure, the mother passion for the child she has borne, and the instinctive clinging of the child to its mother while it is young and helpless, but that is all. It doesn't follow as a matter of course that grown-up men and women love their parents just because they are their parents.

As a matter of fact, they don't, unless the father and mother have won their love by years of tenderness and understanding and sympathy. You can't be hard and tyrannical and selfish and stingy with your children, and expect them to love you because it is their duty to do so.

If YOU want your children to love you when you are old, you have to begin winning their hearts when they are in the cradle.

Have you laid up a good supply of friendship for your old age? NO COMPLAINT is heard more often from the old than that they are lonely. Few come to see them. They are seldom asked out. No one sends them flowers when they are sick. They are neglected, and they crave the little attentions that we all like, and yearn for the society of their fellow creatures.

Now, when old people are lonely, it is always their own fault. It is because they have neglected to lay up any friendships for the sore and yellow days when they have no longer the power to attract people to them.

THEY have gone their selfish way through life, sufficient unto themselves in their youth. They have never held out a helping hand to those in need. They have never wept with those who wept, and rejoiced with those who rejoiced. They have not bothered to write notes of condolence or congratulation. They have never visited the sick and afflicted. They have never spent an hour listening to an old person's garrulous talk, and so, when they get old, they are repaid in the same coin.

Are you laying up any mental riches for your old age? I KNOW an old lady so feeble that she cannot stir from her chair, and who never has failed so that she cannot tell day from night, and who is so deaf that she cannot be read to, but who passes her days delightfully reciting to herself whole cantos of Scott and Byron, and recalling word for word chapters of Dickens, Thackeray and Miss Austen. Her mind to her a kingdom is, in which she finds entertainment and amusement.

Will you be amused or bored when you are in your nineties, and have nothing but your own society? I know another woman, middle-aged, who is deliberately laying up a treasure of memories of travel to solace her in her old age. She will never know a dull moment, for she will have something to think about besides her rheumatism and her diet when she sits alone in the twilight of life.

OLD age comes to us all. Don't let it find you empty-handed or empty-minded. Thus shall you make it a time of happiness instead of torment.

Preparations For Opening of Lady Byng Camp Going Ahead

Preparations for the opening of the Lady Byng camp at Belmont, near Ketchikan, on July 1 are going forward steadily. The Gyro Club's very generous gift of the rent for the camp for the season is much appreciated by those in charge, and will be a very great assistance in financing the endeavor.

Miss H. Dykeman, who has charge of the arrangements for camp, said yesterday that the total additional amount that would be required to finance the camp this year would be $1,000, and gifts of provisions, clothing and money would all be most acceptable. Yesterday a dozen very nice flannellette nightgowns for the children at the camp were received as the gift of the DeMotts.

DEEP-SEA HUNT FOR $5,000,000 TO START ANEW

Group of Adventurers to Seek Treasure Aboard Sunken Steamship

NEW YORK, May 27—The quest for the $5,000,000 sunken treasure of the Merida, which that luckless steamer dropped into the ocean fifteen years ago off the Virginia Capes, will be taken up again within the next two or three weeks by another band of adventurers.

The New York and Philadelphia sportsmen who hazarded considerable money last year to wrest this hidden hoard of silver, gold and jewels from the Old Man of the Sea have given up the task as hopeless and yielded the alluring enterprise to another junta, headed by the Reno Marine Salvage Corporation, of 281 Broadway.

The sportsmen called themselves the Sea Hawks, including A. J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., J. Harvey Alexander, W. Hayward Drayton III, Worthington Davis, Roswell C. Tripp and Franklin I. Mallory, and a number of them have associated themselves with the new attempt.

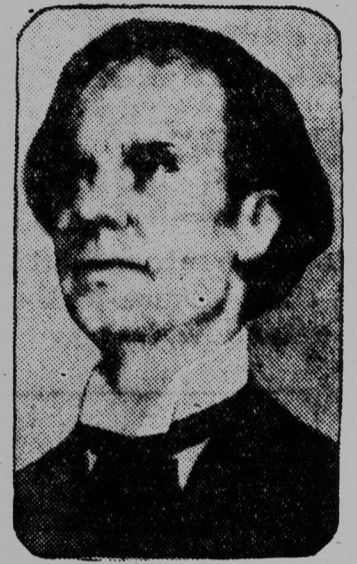

They feel that they can be successful this time with a sand-sucking "pile" and a one-man tank tractor, the new devices with which Jesse W. Reno, engineering head of the undertaking, expects to make the strongroom accessible to the divers for delivery of the cache. The 400-ton steamer from England will be brought over from the coast and taken to the scene of the hunt for immediate operations.

MADERO JEWELS LOST
The Merida, a 10,000-ton Ward liner, was sunk on May 12, 1911, when it was rammed in a dense fog by the Admiral Farragut, of the United Fruit line, about fifty-five miles east of Norfolk.

It was carrying Mexicans fleeing to New York for political reasons, who took with them their most precious family heirlooms, including at least $1,000,000 worth of jewels. Among the passengers of the vessel were the entire Madero family, regarded as one of the wealthiest in Mexico.

Among the Madero jewels in the purser's safe is a collection of historic renown—the crown jewels of Emperor Maximilian, including the fa-

Pastor Sued

The Rev. Robert McGill of a Brooklyn, N. Y., Baptist church, has been sued for $100,000 by Benjamin Tutbill because the pastor in his sermons accused Tutbill of staging petting parties in a church pew with a Sunday school teacher.

The charges resulted in Tutbill being ejected from the church membership and sued for separation by his wife.

Some rubies which the mad Empress Charlotte saved after Maximilian was executed. This is said to be the finest collection of rubies in the world. In addition, it is known that Mexicans of great wealth had deposited their valuables with the purser, including the Bishop of Yucatan; Carlos Zetina, leather millionaire; Senorita Bolle, heiress of a great fortune in southern Mexico; and four Mexican bankers who were carrying large shipments of money and securities to New York.

The wife of a Cuban planter offered the purser of the Merida $25,000 if he would return to the sinking ship and rescue her jewels from the strongroom. It was too late.

GOLD BULLION ABOARD
There were on board also at the time twenty-two tons of half refined gold and silver; gold bullion in bars worth approximately $1,000,000; eighty kegs of American $20 gold pieces; 2,000 barrels of Bacardi rum and about 4,000 tons of copper ore.

No less than five attempts have been made to recover this treasure. Percy Rockefeller and Harry Sinclair, having been associated with the earlier efforts. But the exact location of the wreck was discovered only last year.

Under the laws of the sea all property rights in the ship and its con-

Remarkable Story of Elephant's Revenge

LONDON, May 27—A remarkable story of an elephant's revenge is reported from Vellore, a town in Madras. A boy annoyed the animal by repeatedly pricking its trunk when the elephant stood tethered. Later, while the elephant was led in procession during a religious ceremony, he recognized the boy among the spectators and immediately picked him up and dashed the boy to death. A panic followed in which three women were killed.

The ship was found to be lying on her side, partly imbedded in sixteen feet of fairly hard sand. The strong room containing the bullion and safe, said Mr. Reno, is on the main deck about amidships, and although the divers worked incessantly for three months to get at this room last year, they were defeated by the sand ridges barring their way.

With the sand banks sucked away by the new device to be employed by the Reno corporation, said its chief, the dynamiting of its door will be a comparatively simple matter.

CARPET TO HOLD TREASURE
"A large carpet of heavy material will be spread upon the floor of the sea," explained Mr. Reno hopefully, and the gold bullion and silver and jewels will shower into it as in a magic carpet. The four corners of the carpet will then be gathered together and hoisted out of the sea."

When the most precious part of the cargo had been removed, Mr. Reno said, pontoons then would be fastened to the wreck and the ship, with its barrels of rum and heaps of copper, lifted to the surface.

Once they got started, said the engineer, it will take only three days to have the sand scooped away and dynamite applied to the strongroom door. The operation will cost around $25,000, and six deep-sea divers are to work on the job.

The recovery of the cache, however, is only a part of the adventure, the presence of bootleggers and hijackers presenting a hazard at the surface that hardly could be ignored. Due precautions will be taken, said Mr. Reno, to protect the treasure when it is found, and a small armament of machine guns, side arms and ammunition will be available to secure the bonanza against pirates.

Menagerie Animals Fight Death Duel
LONDON, May 27—A polar bear and a big Canadian timber wolf fought to the death in a menagerie at Saffron Walden recently. Insuperable companions for five years, they suddenly, for some unexplained reason, had a tiff. In a few seconds the cage rocked with the thrilling splash of blood and savagery of a death-grip combat in the wilds. The awesome din roused the fighting instincts of the other animals in the menagerie, and the noise was eerie and affrighting. Attendees rushed to the scene, but intervention was impossible, as the battle, short, sharp and decisive, left the wolf dead. Examination showed that the bear had bitten its "chum" clean through the back of the neck, severing the spinal cord.

New York Gunman Apologizes To Girl
NEW YORK, May 28—Three gunmen held up a hardware and parquetry floor establishment at 1407 Webster avenue, the Bronx, recently, seized $1 envelopes, containing the weekly pay roll of $1,440, and escaped after shooting at Harry Pashovsky, one of the proprietors. The bullet missed its mark. Witnesses told detectives they had seen the gunmen loitering at the

Jury Answers Questions in Royal Assurance and Melvin Ross

After deliberating an hour last evening on the evidence in the case of the Mount Royal Assurance Company vs. Melvin Ross, St. Stephen, the jury in the County Court brought in their answers to ten questions submitted by the court, but no verdict was entered. There will be argument of counsel on points of law at a later date before Judge J. A. Barry, and the latter will direct the finding in the matter.

The action was brought by the company to recover $200 paid to the defendant under a fire policy, setting up that there had been concurrent insurance with another agency at the time the policy was taken, and that the plaintiff had no notice of the other insurance, and that this constituted a breach of a statutory condition.

The defence maintained that H. H. Butler, who effected the insurance with the Mount Royal, was an agent of the company and he knew of the other insurance at the time.

ANSWERS QUESTIONS.

The jury, on the questions of fact submitted to them, found that there had been other insurance, that the defendant had relied on Butler in effecting the policy with the plaintiff company and making their claim, and that Butler was an agent of Machum & Foster, general agents of the Mount Royal, merely for the purpose of soliciting applications, forwarding them to Machum & Foster. The jury did not give any finding as to whether the company should recover or what amount they should obtain, if any. This matter will be decided by the court after hearing argument.

The jury was composed of—E. W. Rowley, O. S. Trentowsky, C. E. Baxter, C. W. Warren and F. I. Withers. H. O. McInerney, K.C. appeared for the company and F. Earle B. Smith, of St. Stephen, for the defendant.

COUNT HISSED

BERLIN, May 28.—Count Ludwig Salm Hoopstraeten, estranged husband of the former Millicent Rogers, who has been severely criticized on several occasions for his tactics during tennis matches, was openly hissed at the closing rounds of the Whitson tournament at Berlin's fashionable "Red White" tennis club. The count's opponent was a promising 18 year old player named Wetzel of Baden. Count Salm, who was defeated in the first set, refused his opponent's request for a new set of balls, whereupon young Wetzel left the court and the Count claimed the match. The spectators who hissed the Count for his action also accused him of attempting to settle his young opponent during play with cries of "come on, you're Germany's hope," and similar interpretations.

MODEL AIRPLANERACES IN ENGLAND

Kings County Producers Keep Milk Price At Present Level

There will be no reduction in the price of milk in Saint John this summer as a result of a decision reached by the Kings County Milk Producers' Association at Apohaqui on Wednesday afternoon. A delegation from the city milk dealers conferred with the producers in an effort to secure the customary reduction but without success. About 80 of the producers were present at the conference.

The city deputation, which was headed by J. N. Riley, president of the Saint John dealers, tried to induce the producers to reduce the price of the eight-quart can from the winter price of 50 cents to 40 cents f.o.b. the shipping point, as was done in other years. This the producers would not do.

Frank Roach, of Sussex, then moved that the summer price remain at 50 cents. This motion was carried, an amendment that the price be set at 45 cents, receiving only about eight votes.

The 50-cent rate will remain in force until Sept. 1 when another conference will be held. The retail price of milk will remain at 13 cents to 14 cents during the summer. It had been hoped that a reduction of one cent would be effected.

Ren Smith, president of the Kings County Milk Producers' Association, was in the chair.

Local dealers declared after the meeting that they were desirous of reducing the price as was done in all other cities but that they were at the mercy of the producers and powerless to resist their demands.

Men Here Closes

The Maritime convention of Famous Players Lasky exhibitors and salesmen came to a conclusion last evening in the Admiral Beatty Hotel when a dinner was served the visiting picture men. During the evening vocal solos were given by E. Clyde Parsons, Mrs. Blake Ferris and Arch Mason, of Springhill, and humorous readings by Steve Matthews. Dancing and singing numbers by a group of the Rossley Kiddies in costume were also much appreciated. The impressive entry of a large birthday cake with 15 candles was a pleasing incident of the proceedings and after the formal cutting of the cake the toast to the host of the occasion was proposed by W. H. Golding and "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" was heartily sung.

J. F. O'Connell, manager of the Majestic and Strand theatres, Halifax, presided at a short round table discussion in which all the motion picture men took part.

Choose the Laundress who uses Sunlight Soap

SOME laundresses do your washing without regard to the damage they do to your clothes.

If it were only a matter of getting the washing done, you could get along without soap.

Just common sand, a little alkali and water would do the work.

But expert laundresses want to preserve the fabrics entrusted to their care. The expert laundress washes your clothes with Sunlight Soap, because she knows this pure soap will cleanse every thread safely. She knows Sunlight is faithful to fabrics, but ruinous to dirt.

And so, when your laundress uses Sunlight—be sure she has your best interests at heart.

NEW PASTOR AND WIFE WELCOMED AT MAIN STREET

Not only members of the congregation and of the Baptist denomination, but a large number of other clergy were present to extend hearty good wishes and warm welcome. A short formal program in the church was followed by a very greatly enjoyed social gathering in the vestry of the church.

For the opening program W. J. McAlary, senior deacon, gave the address of welcome on behalf of the congregation. Rev. Dr. C. R. Freeman extended the greetings of the Baptist Ministers Institute. Rev. Fotted plants were tastefully arranged about the vestry.

The members of the social committee were Mrs. W. F. Roberts, Mrs. J. R. VanWart, Miss Phoebe VanWart and Mrs. Albert Macchum. Those who replenished were Mrs. E. M. McLean, Mrs. R. McKel, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Heane, Mrs. R. J. Burke, Mrs. J. W. McAlary, Mrs. Fred McAlary and Mrs. Burpee MacDonald.

Eclectic Club Has Closing Session

The last meeting of the Eclectic Club of this season was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Heber Vroom in Hothessy, when a very interesting program was given. The subject of the evening was "Punch," and F. T. Short had charge of the program. Mr. Short gave the opening descriptive paper relating the history of "Punch" during the evening selections from "Punch" were read by the members of the club, as follows: "The Mahogany Tree," by W. H. Thackeray, read by R. J. Hooper; "The Song of the Shirt," by Tom Hood, read by Mrs. Heber Vroom; "Mrs. Caudle's Curtain Lectures," by Douglas Jerrold, read by Mrs. W. Malcolm Mackay; "Happy Thoughts," by Sir P. C. Burnand, read by Rev. Dr. W. R. Hibbard. The song, "His Art Was True to Poll," was sung by Mr. Short.

At the close of the evening, announcement of the program for the next season was made.

FINE RECITAL IS GIVEN BY PUPILS

Miss Louise Knight's Students Give Excellent Program in Trinity Hall

The song recital by the pupils of Miss Louise Knight, given last evening in Trinity church hall, was very greatly enjoyed by the large audience present. In that group of singers were many of exceptional gifts and particularly sweet voices and the numbers which they sang were specially appealing.

The whole program was well calculated to please the most critical music lover and the pupils gave very fine renderings reflecting great credit on their teacher, as well as on their own aptitude and musical talent.

Miss Knight was the accompanist and her playing added much to the enjoyment of the evening. Mrs. P. J. Steel, on behalf of the pupils, made the presentation of a basket of lovely flowers to Miss Knight and made a very pleasing speech, to which Miss Knight replied.

The numbers of the program were as follows:

Little Boy Blue (Nevin), DaFollis (English), Lavender Dreams (Coningsby Clarke), Mrs. Percy Steel; I've Such a Host of Things (Perrini), When Two That Love (Secchi), Arr. by A. L. Miss Frances Withers; Madrigal (Chaminade), Somewhere in This Summer Night (Carew), Mrs. H. H. Richardson; Drink to Me Only (Old English), Lord God of Abraham (Mendelssohn), Aris from "Elijah," Mrs. Arthur Long; O Fair, and Sweet Holy (Nevin), Where the Bee Sucks (Dr. Arne, 1710), Miss Ruby Leonard; The Arch Deacon (Dr. Arne), God That Madest Earth and Heaven, (Sanderson), Miss Margaret Henderson; As I Walked thro' the Meadows (Somerset Folk Song), Snowflakes (Cowan), Miss Marguerite Barrett; The Green Hat (Schumann), Sombre Woods (Hally), Miss Etiee Spence; Let Me Wander (Handel), from "L'Allegro," Come, Beloved (Handel), from "Ata-

Says Driving With One Hand No Crime

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 28.—For a man to drive an auto with one arm around a girl's waist, is no worse than for him to drive with one hand while his other is sounding his horn. Chief Justice Gordon Hunter, of the Supreme Court, said yesterday in quashing the conviction of Jerry Vink, bakery truck driver, who had been fined $10 and costs for driving to the common danger.

"I Didn't Want To Be a Miser!"

"It was a difficult place to be in, but what was I to do? I knew I was losing out with my wife and family, and myself too, but I just couldn't think of what the future might be for Alice and the children and spend every last cent.

"So I worked, slaved, saved; but it didn't give me much pleasure nor satisfaction.

"—Finally I discovered something.

"I found that by depositing just a little more than 10% of my salary with The London Life, I actually guarantee everything for which I had been striving,—protection for my family and our home and other investments, together with provision for my own old age.

"Now we do get genuine enjoyment out of the pleasures we treat ourselves to. We have money for the present because our plans for the future are so well laid."

The London Life Jubilee and Duplex policies meet perfectly the needs of men in this position. Any of our representatives will be pleased to explain them without obligation.

Word has been received here that George H. Estabrooks, of this city, has successfully completed his work for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at Harvard University and will receive his degree in June.

Stone Church Scouts And Cubs At Supper

The Scouts and Cubs of St. John's (Stone) church last evening held their closing meeting. At 6 o'clock some 45 hungry boys sat down to a sumptuous repast made possible through the willing services of Miss Grace Estey, Miss Anderson and Miss Alice Knodell.

The guests present were Dr. W. B. Peck, district commissioner, Hammond J. Evans, Rupert Buchanan, Sr., L. L. Johnson, former district secretary, "Sub" Wetmore, Rev. John Unsworth, and the rector, Rev. A. L. Fleming. The scoutmaster, Norman Smith, who is leaving the city soon, was presented an Eversharp pencil as a small token of the love the Scouts had for him.

After supper the boys went to the main hall where Jack Buchanan, Cecil Saunders, Joseph Likely and Andrew Lakely were formally invested as Scouts. Through the courtesy of the Ford Motor Company the boys were thrilled with a six-reel motion picture show. Brief reports of the year's work were made by Jack Lipssett, the Cub leader, and Norman Smith, the retiring scoutmaster. The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

WEST INDIANS HAIL PACT WITH CANADA

See Both This Country and Islands Profit, Says Visitor at Montreal

MONTREAL, May 27.—Discussing the new West Indies trade treaty, Alfred S. Nichols, general manager of the Jamaica Public Service Co., Ltd., who is here en route to England, declared that its operation was being constantly watched by the people and that no small enthusiasm was being evidenced. It was felt the treaty would greatly benefit both Canada and the West Indies, providing a ready outlet for the fruit trade from the south and a market in the West Indies for Canadian manufactured products and also fish, butter and cheese.

Trade in Jamaica was suffering from depression, Mr. Nichols said, due to the condition of the sugar market. Bananas, on the other hand, were showing an advance in price, and the people seemed fairly hopeful of a clearing up of the general slump in the fairly near future. As to Canadian goods, flour was notably developing a steadily increasing market on the island.

Questioned as to his own company, Mr. Nichols explained that the Jamaica Public Service Company was a Canadian concern, financed by Canadians, and controlled from Montreal. It operated the tramways in Kingston and St. Andrew, serving some 125,000 people; and the light and power supply of Kingston, St. Andrew and St. George's—La Vega, the old Spanish capital.

JUNE 28 IS SET FOR ALBERTA ELECTION

Writs Issued; Nomination Date Fixed For 18th of This Month

EDMONTON, Alta., May 27.—General election date in Alberta will be Monday, June 28, with nominations on Friday, June 18.

The writs have been issued for those dates.

The Government that is about to try conclusions at the polls in Alberta came into office in July, 1921, when a ticket nominated by the United Farmers won in a landslide majority over the former Liberal Government. A cabinet of Farmer members was struck, with Herbert Greenfield for premier, and one lawyer member for Attorney-General in the person of John E. Brownlee.

After a few years of the Greenfield administration some dissatisfaction arose within the Government ranks and last fall a change was made at the instigation of the United Farmers' Association members, as a result of which Mr. Brownlee became Premier in place of Mr. Greenfield.

A policy of co-operation with Labor has obtained from the first, and four of the members elected were Labor nominees, including one of the ministers.

AURORA, Ill., May 28.—Two of four men arrested in connection with the poisoning of four horses at Exposition Park today, resulting in the cancellation of the feature race and the death of one of the thoroughbreds late last night, were said by the chief of police to have confessed that they fed poison to the horses as part of a betting coup plot.

Those taken for questioning by the police were: U. G. Young, Charleston, W. Va.; Frank Marion, Utica, N. Y.; E. Laver, Toronto; Charles Davis, Dayton, Ohio.

An effort is being made, detectives said, to locate Earl Clark, Columbus, O., for questioning.

Fire In Prince Wm. Street Building

Fire from an unusual cause last evening about 6:30 o'clock caused an alarm to be sent in from box 26. The fire was in the third floor of the Hall & Fairweather, Ltd., building, 108-107 Prince William street, and originated from friction caused by the belt of the elevator. After all employees had left the building the elevator started from the ground floor on its own accord.

Sir Walter Scott's Classic in Pictorial Form —By REDNER

HE BESIEGERS HAD GAINED THE ADVANTAGE, BUT HIS RESISTANCE SURELY WOULD HAVE BEEN LONGER HAD NOT THE SIGNAL SPOKEN OF BY ULRICA BEEN SHOWN. THEN THE BESIEGERS PRESSED FORWARD AT THE PORTER GATE, WITHIN THE CASTLE CONFUSION REIGNED, FOR ULRICA HAD SET FIRE TO A POWDER MAGAZINE AND FLAMES WERE SPREADING.

HE BRACY WAS OVERCOME BY THE BLACK KNIGHT AND YIELDED HIMSELF. BRIAN DE BORG-GILBERT RAN TO THE CHAMBER OF IVANHOE AND DRAGGED AWAY THE SHRIeking REBECCA. AT THE GATE HE WAS MET BY ATHELSTANE WHO, FINDING HIMSELF FREE, HAD GRABBED A MACE, BUT THE SAXON WENT DOWN UNDER A DREAful BLOW FROM THE NORMAN'S SWORD.

HE BLACK KNIGHT RAN TO IVANHOE'S RESCUE AND BORE HIM OUT OF THE BURNING CASTLE. LIKEWISE WERE THE REST OF THE CAPTIVES SET FREE, THE LAST OF THEM ISAAC, WHOM THE BURLY FRIAR TUCK ENCOUNTERED IN HIS SEARCH FOR WINE. FRONT-DE-BORUP PERISHED IN HIS CASTLE, AS DID ULRICA, SINGING A BARBARIC BATTLE HYMN FROM THE TURRET.

THE NEXT MORN THERE WAS A REUNION AMONG THE BESIEGERS, AND THE BLACK KNIGHT DEPARTED, FIRST EXACTING A BOON FROM CEDRIC, WHO STILL MOURNED THE DEATH OF HIS KINSMAN ATHELSTANE. THE WOUNDED IVANHOE HAD BEEN REMOVED TO THE FRIARY OF ST. BOTOLPH, AND DE BRACY WAS GIVEN HIS FREEDOM BY THE BLACK KNIGHT.
