CHATHAM, N. B. APRIL 2, 1891.

The Fire Service.

There is a good deal of comment on the inefficiency of the Steam Fire Engine at Saturday night's fire. The happy-go-lucky, aliphatic condition of the department is due to the fact that the commissioners do not seem to know how to improve its organization. They have all the power they require to effect needed changes, and if they only showed themselves more capable, we have no doubt that they would be loyally backed by the town in incurring any reasonable expense necessary to place the department on an efficient basis. It seems a matter of great regret that no improvement has taken place in the Board's management since it was organized. Chatham has been remarkably fortunate in the matter of fires, but must, at some time, pay the penalty of its present indifference in this important matter.

Treat Regulations.

The return and codification, last week, of a quantity of trout, by the overseer of this district, drew attention to the seeming absurdity of the regulation fixing the close season for these fish. They deposit their ova in the months of October and November, a fact which suggests that the 15th of September is too late for the close season to begin, because the fish are practically out of condition at that time. In any case, all the mature trout killed after Sept 15 are either upon, or in pools near the spawning-beds. It is, therefore, evident that the angling season for trout should end on or about 1st September instead of the 15th as at present. It is well known that trout-bait is the same all the year round, and that the same worms and flies are used for bait all the year round. There is no time of the year that trout are in better condition than when they first come in from the salt water, as they are now doing. It is impossible in the early spring—or at any time before the ice runs out—to net these fish, as is done all through the open season and there is no reasonable objection that can be made to their being caught by hook and line. The regulations should, therefore, be amended so as to make hook and line fishing legal at any time between the 15th March, and 1st of September. The prohibition of trout-fishing until May, as at present, is clearly to suit fly-fishermen only. The change we propose would enable people living in the district to catch trout at any time for household consumption, at a time of the year when that class of food is very scarce and particularly needed. It is, besides, a necessary arrangement for those northern counties, as the fish are scarce and particularly needed. It is, besides, a necessary arrangement for those northern counties, as the fish are scarce and particularly needed. Greater Canada.

Canada is the largest of all the British possessions, comprising nearly one half of the British Empire. It covers more than one-fourth part of the earth's surface, and therefore holds no mean position in the affairs of men. The whole continent of Europe is only 146,000 square miles larger than Canada. The area of the Dominion is estimated to contain 3,610,287 square miles. This is nearly thirty times larger than Great Britain and Ireland, and about 18,000 square miles larger than the United States, including Alaska. Greater Canada lies west of Ontario. There has been considered the centre of civilization for the Dominion, but that is already changing, and no more appropriate advice can be given to our college graduates, enterprising men of business, and farmers' sons, than "Go West, young man!"

The Legislature.

The house having gone into committee of supply and several items passed—

Mr. Wilson's bill establishing lines on logs and lumber was referred to a special committee.

Dr. Alward withdrew his resolution for information in reference to the destruction of law stamps.

Mr. Blair replying to Mr. Hanington showed that the allowance to the commission of the lunatic asylum for attending meetings of that institution were the same now as under former governments. Mr. Hanington had asserted that no charges were made on this account under former governments.

On the motion to go into supply there was quite a long debate on the subject of iniquity.

Mr. McKewen said he had been charged by Mr. Wilson to produce a greater or incorrect statement of the present statements of members of the opposition. He thought there was one gentleman, the name of whom he did not remember, in this respect, were unworthy to disclose. He did not think, however, that the condition of the finances was hopeless, but that the province would find a way of pulling itself out of this position, namely, by selecting another set of advisers for his honor.

Bank discounts have increased 63,000,000

Railways have increased in length, 8,000 miles.

The freight carried yearly has increased 12,000,000 tons.

In 1879 the tonnage was under two tons per head of the population; to-day it is close upon four tons per head.

Our principal western city, Toronto, has increased during the last ten years at the same rate as Chicago. Montreal has increased at nearly the same rate as New York.

Both these cities have swallowed up dense agglomerations of the surrounding country since it came to Canada in 1858. I have lived in both of these some years, and have seen this process. More might be said, but this is sufficient for the purpose. I write as a man of business and not as a politician, and simply with a desire to present those misapprehensions which are so fruitful of bad consequences in the dealings of nations with one another.

The centre of population must remain for some years east of the great lakes, but these too will follow the centres of land area and civilization.

The city of Winnipeg lies nearly midway between the ocean, and may, for all practical purposes, be regarded as the hub of the Dominion.

The introductory sentence in Principal Grant's "Ocean to Ocean" brings this forcibly to our minds. He says: "Travel a thousand miles up the St. Lawrence; another thousand on the great lakes; and a wilderness of lakelands and streams; a thousand miles across prairie and up the valley of the Saskatchewan; and nearly a thousand through woods and over great ranges of mountains, and you have travelled from ocean to ocean through Canada."

Great ignorance prevails in Great Britain and the United States, and even in Eastern Canada, respecting the area of the Dominion, and especially of that part of it which I have designated Greater Canada. Let us see what the land areas are:

Manitoba has an area of 60,020 square miles. This is larger than England and Wales, which contain 58,764; it is larger than the State of New York, which has 47,000; it is 4,000 square miles larger than Michigan with 56,243. Pennsylvania has an area of 46,000 square miles. It is much greater than Illinois, which contains 55,406 square miles.

The District of Saskatchewan has an area of 114,000 square miles. This is nearly as large as Italy, which has an area of 114,410; it is 8,000 square miles less than Nebraska, which has 122,007; it is larger than Colorado, which has an area of 106,818; it has a larger area than the combined States of Massachusetts, Connecticut, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, New Jersey and Delaware, which contain 113,307; it is nearly as large as New England, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and South Carolina combined, with an area of 116,987.

Alberta has an area of 100,000 square miles. This is larger than Illinois and Ohio, which together contain 95,369 square miles. It is nearly as large as Oregon with 102,806. Colorado has an area of 102,816.

Assiniboia has an area of 95,000 square miles. This is larger than Great Britain with 98,864; it is nearly as large as Minnesota, which contains 95,274. The combined areas of Maine, New York, Massachusetts and New Hampshire contain 95,846.

Verily, "No pent-up Ucaica controls our powers!"

There lie within the land areas of Greater Canada, vast tracts of land capable of development, whose extent is bewildering to the social and political economist, and the eye of the observant traveller fails to grasp the magnificent distances of even our prairie lands.

The following comparison is especially significant to every loyal Canadian: The areas of land lying in Greater Canada, embraced within the provincial districts of Saskatchewan, Alberta, Assiniboia, Athabasca, Saskatchewan and the other Territories lying north of these districts, are greater in extent than the combined areas of the following countries, England and Wales, Scotland, Ireland, Prussia, German Empire, Greece, Italy, Portugal, Spain, Switzerland, Japan, China, exclusive of her dependencies, Norway and Sweden. The former areas contain 2,647,730 square miles, and the latter have a combined area of 2,639,187.

What will be the future of this great country? We are burdened with responsibilities in seeking the welfare of the Dominion, and to every man there is given a task to aid by his influence in establishing centres of population in the western world. —Moses Joss Times.

Shocking Barabarity.

Particulars of the dreadful human butchery in Madagascar are to be found in English journals published on the island. It appears that for some years past Ramakatra has availed himself of his position of Governor of Nabua and the Bolona district to oppress the people with a view to accumulate money and wealth for himself. After the return of the deputation which had failed to obtain redress at Antananarivo, in their despair some 500 men, women and children went to plead their case with the governor. He, however, refused to let them enter the town. Crushed in spirit the broken-hearted and almost hopeless band went on to a hill some distance off and there encamped. On January 7, headed by the governor's brother Rasmuel and the Hova soldier, about five hundred of the government's mercenaries sallied forth, and fell upon the helpless people. Eleven of them were ordered to be killed, and the rest were ordered to be stripped of their property and then to be driven from the spot by having their necks slowly sawn under with a spear. Nine others, men, women and children, were captured and dragged back. The women were entirely stripped of their clothing, and were handed over to the military soldiers. The women were slashed with knives, bayonets, and spears and were subjected to indignities, the nature of which is too horrible for publication. The nine victims, helpless and bleeding were dragged outside the palisade, and by order of the governor and in his presence, subjected to further torture and then beheaded. Rasmuel, with his own hands wielded the spears which saved the heads of several of the victims. The Governor ordered the heads of the wretched people to be stuck on poles, and their bodies to be thrown to the village dogs. It is said that the Hova Prime Minister has recalled Ramakatra from the governorship. The feeling among the foreigners in Madagascar is that Ramakatra should be publicly executed for his heinous and cruel deeds. He is said to have been a politician, and simply with a desire to present those misapprehensions which are so fruitful of bad consequences in the dealings of nations with one another.

and laws, that you could better greet the fleeing horse? Have you no nets to cast into the hurrying tide of Time, that you sit thus wrangling and smirking on the bank? Is it that the country may hear? Or a sere, if this good natured monster you call the country could but hear and also, there would arise a wind that would bear ye out from thence to be heard and seen no more.

There can be no question that days and nights as well, have been consumed this season in the discussion of topics here most trivial nature. Charges which should be looked after, no doubt, but not to the exclusion of all other business. Charges as to stamps, charges as to poultry, charges as to Mr. Blair's calls, charges as to fences about the government field, charges as to coaching, charges as to stationery and telegrams, and ink and mullage—really, if one's eyes were not arrested by the noble hero of Silas, the sagacious profile of Alfred, the aboriginal orator of Marcus, and the furrowed front and beaver-springing hair of Daniel, one would be disposed to wonder in what quarter the brains of the opposition were concealed. Is the comical benevolence to supply the statement's place in these historical halts?

Neither are some of the government supporters free from the claims of helping to maintain the farce. On both sides of the horse, the speaker has been delivered out for the purpose of instruction in branches of science and medicine bearing upon the work of the embalmer and undertaker, etc., and for the collection of data on cremation and other methods for the disposal of the dead.

There is a bill before the Toronto Legislature to regulate the business of embalming the dead and undertaking. It provides that the Undertaker's Association of Ontario may establish a college for the purpose of instruction in branches of science and medicine bearing upon the work of the embalmer and undertaker, etc., and for the collection of data on cremation and other methods for the disposal of the dead.

A feud has been going on between the rajah of Manipur and a tribal chief on the Assam frontier. James W. Quinton, chief commissioner of Assam, was sent with a detachment of British troops to quell the disturbance. At a conference with the chief, there was a revolt, the tribes assembled attacked the British camp, and ammunition giving out, a massacre followed. Some reports fix the number of British killed at 270. Two native regiments have been sent to the scene of disaster.

The largest lumber mill in the world is said to be in a hammer twelve miles from Seattle. The machinery of this mill occupies a building 100 by 448 ft., while there is a saw-room 180 by 65 ft., and a shop 170 by 90 ft. An army of about 300 men work in and about the mill, while squads of loggers toil in the woods and on the logging roads, and among the raft and booms, to keep it going. During 1890 the product of this mill loaded no less than 111 vessels, and the mill ran two-thirds of the time.

There is nothing like philantropy to help one bear the ill of life, but in the case of this family what is most needed is a good supply of Dr. Fiero's Golden Medical Balm. It is a simple, and some in the head, from humors internal but some has given it; But in other respects he is doing well.

And he has right views, and a true one; that all our doctors can't seem to drive off. The whole world is full of people, but in other respects he is doing well. There is nothing like philantropy to help one bear the ill of life, but in the case of this family what is most needed is a good supply of Dr. Fiero's Golden Medical Balm.

The latest one of the best novelties for 1891 is an elegant Carnation, growing on long stems, a free bloomer with large flowers, of an exquisite shade of pink, something entirely different from anything in Carnations. This flower is destined to become a great favorite among the florists, as the ladies prize it very highly for bouquets and corsages.

On Tuesday the Legislative committee on privileges, at Fredericton, had before them the matter of Mr. LeBlanc in front. Mr. C. J. Smye, on behalf of Mr. LeBlanc, appeared and stated the following points:—

First—There had been no legal election in the county for the past three days. Second—The returning officer endorsed the writ as having been received on the 16th February, whereas he did not receive it until the 17th. This was done as an attempt to legalize the posting of the proclamation before the receipt of the writ.

Mr. Smye contends that Mr. LeBlanc's seat in the local house is not forfeited because of his having accepted a nomination in this illegal election. The committee requested to hear Mr. Smye again, when he will cite authorities in support of his contention.

London, March 23.—This evening's edition of Berlin state that unusual activity has prevailed for the past few days in the German offices, and an unusual number of employes were busy at the office to-day. The Emperor had had audience with Chancellor Caprivi, and the high officials generally look as if something important was on the tapis.

Military authorities have come into possession through a recent report of evidence going to show that the Kaiser's army was spreading its doctrines through the ranks both of army and of navy and has made numerous proposals and that the propagation of socialism among the troops is not confined to Germany, but is systematically carried throughout Europe, with the exception of Russia, and that all the armies of Western Europe are working towards the idea of the pledged enemies of established institutions.

The war talk which usually makes a sovereign popular has had a contrary effect in the case of the Kaiser, and there is hardly concealed apprehension of his inability to direct Germany in a crisis, while there is also a feeling that his overture to France has had something to do towards bringing a crisis on. Bismarck grows in popularity as faith in the Kaiser, and confidence in the Kaiser just now is at a very low ebb.

A CAST FOR FORTUNE.

In all countries, however, there are men who do not fear to incur the vengeance of God by becoming oppressors of the poor. Such men take advantage of this law to keep the peons in their debt and to hold them in virtual bondage. But no such bondage exists in Miraflores. If a laborer who is in debt wishes to go, Don Maurizio will cancel his debt rather than keep with him one who is unwilling to remain.
