TO BURN WOOD

At the Stations of the Boston and Maine Railway.

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 1.—The Boston and Maine road will burn wood in all stations along the line this winter with the exception of a few of the larger places which cannot be heated with stoves, says the Telegram.

The officials have placed orders for thousands of cords of hard wood fitted for stoves and are looking for more. The coal situation has struck the railroad at last and for fear that there may be a scarcity of soft coal before the season is over the Boston and Maine is unwilling to have any of its stores of coal burned in the offices and stations for heating purposes.

With the possible exception of Gardner and Fitchburg all the Boston and Maine stations in the vicinity, including both the Worcester, Nashua and Portland and Fitchburg divisions, will be heated with wood stoves.

HIS LAST CALL.

An Old I. C. R. Operator Gets the Final Message.

AMHERST, Sept. 30.—Receiving and sending messages for over a quarter of a century Jacob Jodrey received his last message early Sunday morning and passed over to the great majority after a lingering illness of many months. Perhaps no man in the employ of the Intercolonial was better known or more highly esteemed than Mr. Jodrey. An employee in the Western Union Telegraph Company's offices at Sackville, he came here over 26 years ago to fill the dual position of I. C. R. ticket agent and manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company, both of which offices he filled in a praiseworthy and painstaking manner. Popular alike with the officials and patrons of the Intercolonial, he had a wide range of acquaintances, who will regret to hear of his death. He married Bell A., daughter of the late James Lamy, sister of J. R. Lamy of Amherst and Mrs. C. A. Lowe of Sydney. Mrs. Jodrey and several children survive him.

THE OLD CLERGYMAN'S NERVE.

N. Y. Commercial-Advertiser.

The Rev. Richard D. Spellman, of Fort Wayne, one of the oldest and most widely known Methodist ministers in Indiana, being in his ninety-first year, demonstrated his vigor in an unusual manner a few days ago. He had to undergo an operation for appendicitis. As he was being taken to the hospital he said: "It's a pity that I've carried this useless thing around with me for nearly a century to have it bother me now." Before the operation he said to the surgeon, Dr. C. B. Stegman: "You will find no larger beer, whisky or tobacco smoke in this old body of mine, and I'm not afraid of the result."

He went under the anesthetic humming a Methodist revival tune. He is recovering.

RELIGIOUS NEWS.

American Brotherhood of St. Andrew Raises Objections.

A "Retreat" for Methodists at Worcester—Baptist Mission Reform.

(New York Sun, Sept. 29.)

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew, the young men's organization in the Episcopal church, which is represented here by three strong assemblies, respectively in New York, Long Island and Newark, is the subject of an attack from within its own religious body which may result in a wholesale change. A large proportion of the clergy of the Episcopal church are opposed to the brotherhood, that it is dead and ought to be buried. On the other hand some strong friends declare it is doing good work. The annual convention of the brotherhood meets in Boston next week, and about one hundred men from New York will attend. Bishop Potter will be one of the principal speakers, and the lay element will be represented on the programme by President Kiernan of the New York assembly and President Braddon of the Long Island assembly. The attack upon the brotherhood comes in the shape of an effort to change it into a men's auxiliary to the Board of Missions of the Episcopal church. In line with this effort a proposal will be made to change the wording of the rule of service. The proposed change has been agreed to by the brotherhoods in Canada, Scotland and England. It omits the word "young" and says members shall make an effort each week to bring one man nearer Christ through His church. At a recent meeting of the New York assembly the change was voted down overwhelmingly, and so was the one to turn the brotherhood into a missionary auxiliary.

Feeling in New York is very strong on the subject, this being a diocese where the brotherhood is active, and is doing good work. The opposition comes chiefly from western dioceses.

The head offices of the brotherhood were removed last year from this city to Pittsburgh, and officials report from that city that the organization was never in better shape, in spite of the opposition it meets with. Appeals are being made from there to the leaders in New York to work against the proposed innovations.

The position of New York men is that the brotherhood has been a training school for workers, and that it ought to be kept in that shape.

"RETREAT" FOR METHODISTS. A new movement in American Methodism begins in Worcester, Mass., today. It is what Roman Catholics and Episcopalians have called a "retreat." To avoid criticism, however, the announcement says the meeting is held for the deepening of the spiritual life. But it is unlike the meetings Methodists have heretofore held under such announcements.

The Rev. James Mudge, long a missionary in India, but now stationed in Webster, Mass., has organized the gathering and some ministers from this city are to attend. The meetings will have, not the usual Methodist features of exhortations, but long periods of silence or meditation, with short addresses at various parts of days and evenings. Secular topics are zealously barred.

While meetings for the deepening of the spiritual life of Methodist ministers date from the time of John Wesley, this is the first time Methodist ministers in this country have come together in a meeting having practically all of the features of the Roman and Anglican "retreat."

BAPTIST MISSION REFORM.

Widespread dissatisfaction obtains among Baptists over the conduct of business affairs of the church's three principal benevolent societies, the American Baptist Home Mission Society, the American Baptist Publication Society of Philadelphia, and the American Baptist Missionary Union of Boston. A committee of fifteen, appointed last May, has just been called to meet in this city to map out a plan for reorganizing these societies. The cry among Baptists is that there is want of co-operation, duplication of energies and agencies, and overlapping of work. The committee consists of President Strong of Rochester, Faunce of Brown and Weston of Crozer, Judge Shallenberger of Washington, the Rev. Dr. C. R. Henderson of Chicago, Mrs. Robert Harris of this city, Mrs. A. B. Coleman of Boston, Mrs. J. N. Crouse, of Chicago, and seven others. The income of all three organizations approaches $2,000,000 a year.

1,000 men's four-in-hand ties will be placed on sale Thursday morning at F. A. Dykeman's at 15c each, the 60c quality.

THE DEATH ROLL.

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 1.—Hon. Erwin Ledyard, for eight years managing editor of the Mobile Herald, died yesterday. He was born in 1841 and for many years was connected with the Mobile Register.

Admiral James E. Jouett, U. S. navy, (retired), died at his home at Silver Spring, Md., early this morning. He was 74 years of age and had a long and distinguished career. He was born in Kentucky and was appointed in the navy from that state. He was retired in 1890.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The statement that President Baer of the Philadelphia and Reading has resigned is absolutely without foundation.

MONCTON.

Death of C. C. Hamilton—A Paying Coal Company.

(Special to the Star.) MONCTON, Oct. 1.—News of the sudden death of C. C. Hamilton of Shediac will come as a shock to many. Friends in different parts of the province, Mr. Hamilton retired last night as usual between ten and eleven o'clock. Shortly afterwards Mrs. Hamilton noticed he was breathing heavily and called to him, but got no response. She alarmed the household and W. A. Russell, who lives near by, was hastily summoned. He administered brandy, but is not sure that the patient was able to swallow it. In the meantime Dr. Belliveau was sent for, but before he arrived the vital spark had fled. Mr. Hamilton was a man advanced in years, and for some time had suffered from a weak heart. For many years he carried on a large business at Shediac and was well and favorably known throughout the province. Recently owing to advanced years and failing health he disposed of his business at Shediac to Mr. Dickey. His wife, who was Miss Fish of New-Castle, survives him, but they have no children.

The Strathcona Coal Company, organized last year to operate a mine at River Hebert, has declared a dividend equal to 8 per cent. Allen E. Wall, on retiring from the position of store keeper for the R. F. and M. Company to accept the cashiership of the I. C. R., was last night waited on by fellow-employees and presented with a highly complimentary address accompanied by a gold headed cane for himself and set of pearl handled cutlery for his wife. Mr. Wall made a suitable response.

NEARLY NINETY WOMEN.

Plodded Through the Mist in a Game of Golf.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 30.—Through fog and mist and over the soggy turf of the country club, plodded today nearly 90 of the best women golfers of the nation, in a qualifying round of the national championship, and when the last player had covered the three miles in the water and had completed the 18 holes it was found that Miss Margaret Curtis of the Essex County Club and Miss Louise A. Wells of the home club had excelled all others and were tied for first place with scores of 89 each. Following close were Miss Ruth Underhill of the Nassau County Club, Glen Cove, L. I., and Miss Georgianna Bishop of the Brookline Golf Club of Bridgeport, also tied for third place, with scores of 90 each. Misses Curtis and Wells and the winner of the tie between Misses Underhill and Bishop will receive individual prizes given by the association. Twenty-seven other players, with scores ranging up to 102, are also in the running for the first round of match play tomorrow. Two more players, Mrs. J. T. Hubbard of the Harbor Hill Club, Staten Island, and Mrs. Alex. McGreggor of the Oakley Country Club, Watertown, Mass., were tied for the 32nd position, with scores of 103. There were 48 other players who completed the course and handed in cards with scores from 104 to 133, but they will have to wait until next year for another chance at championship honors. Nine players withdrew.

A MYSTERIOUS LETTER.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—With a bottle that had contained prussic acid lying near him, Gilbert S. Lyles, a partner in the Chicago Picture Frame Co., and for many years a well known business man, has been found dead in his room in West Adams street. The cause of death is entered in the police records as "not ascertained," and much reticence is displayed by them and the physicians who were called in the case. Until one year ago Mr. Lyles had resided with his wife and three children in Calumet avenue. Their domestic troubles caused a separation, and the American and the children went to her former home in Buffalo, N. Y. Recently Mr. Lyles informed mutual acquaintances that the estrangement had been ended and that he was to go to Buffalo to bring back his family. All preparations for the trip had been completed, when a letter was delivered to him. It was found in minute pieces close to the body. Mr. Lyles was forty-three years of age and had been considered the most expert printer of photographs in the country.

THE COAL STRIKE.

Gompers Appeals for Aid for the Strikers.

The Government May Act—Situation Growing More and More Serious.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—President Roosevelt, Attorney General Knox, Secretary Moody, Postmaster General Payne and Governor Crane of Massachusetts held a conference today to consider what could be done by federal authority to settle the coal strike. The conference will be resumed today. The president is deeply concerned over the situation, but the dispatches do not indicate any proposed line of action. The gravity of the situation is recognized throughout the country.

A conference of mayors of various cities is to be held in Detroit on October 6th. In New York the Bakers' Association are considering the question of raising the price of bread in view of the high price of coal.

GLASGOW, Sept. 30.—It is said that the Scotch coal masters have secured large contracts for anthracite coal to go to the United States.

GOMPERS APPEALS FOR FUNDS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor has issued an appeal to working men throughout the country, and particularly to all organizations affiliated with the federation, to contribute to the support of the striking miners.

Mr. Gompers declares that the reports of weakening on the part of the strikers are erroneous, and calculated to deceive. The appeal, which asks not only for contributions from the union treasuries, but from each individual as well, reads as follows:

"The strike of 150,000 miners in the anthracite region of Pennsylvania is now in its twentieth week. Personal investigation upon the ground demonstrates beyond doubt that the determination of the men to stand fast and faithful to each other in this great contest is even stronger than in the early stages of the contest.

"The miners, as well as all others in a position to know, feel confident that at least some measure of victory will be attained, and that the organization will be upheld at all hazards.

"Organized labor and many sympathizers are splendidly responding to the appeal of financial aid, but as can be well understood, large expenditures are being maintained in the needy miners' wives and children, even in the common necessities of life.

"Let no false rumors or reports of the weakening of the men deceive our fellow workers and friends. The men are standing firm."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The president, Secretary Root, Secretary Moody, Attorney General Knox and Postmaster General Payne resumed their conference on the coal strike situation this morning.

He had the handling of a hundred and fifty to two hundred thousand dollars annually. The books are now being investigated.

CHICAGO TEAMSTERS.

Take Advantage of Coal Situation to Enforce Their Terms.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Members of the coal teamsters' union have decided not to haul coal to any public school building until the board of education induces the anthracite bituminous coal company, which has the school's contract for the northwest side to pay its men the union wage.

The teamsters employed by the company went on the strike last week, but the matter was considered of minor importance until the union heard that the company was about to employ non-union teamsters. The company has not direct connection with other firms under contract to the board of education, but the teamsters believe a fight against all would force the anthracite bituminous company to an immediate settlement. The school contracts for coal were let last week, but there has been practically no hauling and should the weather turn cold the situation would be serious.

THREE RECKLESS FELLOWS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—According to a despatch to the Times from Goshen, N. Y., the hold-up of the coach Pioneer, between Goshen and Warwick by three masked men heavily armed, was a hoax perpetrated by young society men from Warwick. The passengers, however, were in entire ignorance of the affair. The joke was arranged, the despatch declares, as a fitting climax for the coaching season. The Pioneer was on its last trip.

INTERVIEW WITH MR. ANDREW CARNEGIE

PITTSBURG GAZETTE, JULY 17, 1902

"IF YOU WERE A YOUNG MAN, and had your start to make in the world, would you take up the manufacture of steel?" was asked of Andrew Carnegie by a gentleman who met him on the train to New York after his last visit to Pittsburgh.

The philanthropist hesitated a moment, then shook his head. "No," he said, "the best opening for a young man to-day is in rubber. Rubber will, in a few years, make a greater fortune under present conditions than steel, or, in fact, any other branch of manufacture. The great value and manifold uses of rubber are just beginning to be properly appreciated, and the profits in its production are greater than almost anything about which I am informed."

Mr. Carnegie then launched forth in a long discussion on the growth of the rubber tree, the best product and the hundreds of uses to which it has been put, and even suggested a number of improvements that showed deep study of the subject.

"Watch the men engaged in the manufacture of rubber," he concluded, "and as the years go by you will see them amassing splendid fortunes. The opportunities for young men are as great to-day as ever in the history of the world, and I firmly believe that rubber furnishes the greatest."

The apparently startling statements of Mr. Carnegie, startling only to those who have not investigated, have aroused the greatest interest and everyone wants to at once know all about this wonderful new industry. Of course time is required to grow rubber trees as well as any other trees and those who wished to take the matter up now would be in a bad way were it not for the fact that energetic and farseeing men had already started plantations. Early in 1901 the Obispo Rubber Plantation Company acquired a tract of rich land in the true rubber belt of Mexico, consisting of fourteen square miles or nine thousand acres, over fifteen hundred acres of which have already been cleared and planted to rubber. There are over seven hundred thousand one year old rubber trees in the nurseries, besides from 500 to 1,000 acres planted in corn and other crops. The plantation force is fully organized, labor abundant and transportation facilities perfect, a railroad being on one side of the plantation and a river on the other. The best and quickest way for you to benefit by Mr. Carnegie's prophetic utterances is by sending to the Obispo people for full particulars of their proposition. What is thought of them by their neighbors in Mexico is shown by the letter from the largest American Bank in Mexico from which we quote as follows: "Knowing the personality of the Company and the advantageous situation of the Ranch 'El Obispo,' we feel safe in saying that their success is assured."

AN ENTERPRISING HOST.

(Philadelphia Record.)

"I know that we drummers have a reputation of not always adhering strictly to the truth," said one of the travelling fraternity yesterday, "but I'll take my oath when I tell you about the tooth brushes I encountered in a little hotel down Jersey on my last trip, I am not even exaggerating, much less lying. The hotel was one of those primitive taverns still to be found in the small towns of south Jersey, presided over by a landlord who had never been twenty-five miles away from home in his life. Still, he had attempted to introduce some modern innovations, and one of them—would you believe it?—was a tooth brush in each room! The one in the room to which I was assigned was chained to the washstand. I called the proprietor's attention to this. 'Yes, be gosh,' he drawled, 'I had to do that to protect my property. Some of those gold-darned smarties started to walk away with 'em, and I found the only way I could keep 'em what them belonged was to chain 'em up, be gosh! You can't fool your Uncle Dudley.'"

THE BOER FARMERS.

The Boer agriculturists will arrive in Quebec tomorrow night and will be met by Geo. F. O'Halloran, deputy minister of agriculture, and W. W. Moore, who is to accompany them through Canada. The departments in Ontario, Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick have all volunteered to send parties to conduct the visitors through the province.

ALCOHOL AND DRUG USERS.

Victims of the above habits will be interested in the discovery of a harmless antidote which quickly and permanently removes all desire for liquor and drugs. This medicine has been publicly endorsed before Congress of Bishops and at Father Mathew's Anniversaries, also by Clergymen from their pulpits and by temperance societies of all denominations. Interested persons can obtain full particulars from Mr. Dixon, 51 Wilcox St., Toronto, Canada.

Seven negroes have been arrested at Indianapolis for the robbery of a hundred graves. The bodies were sold to the medical college, one of whose doctors will also be arrested.

CHAPMAN FESTIVAL.

Yesterday's Concerts Were the Best of All.

The New Brunswick Musical Festival of 1902 is over, but, thanks to the energy and the faith of those who have been foremost in promoting this, regardless of financial considerations, the music lovers of St. John will next year be given an opportunity to hear music perhaps even of a finer quality than has charmed them during the past two days. For yesterday afternoon a meeting of the chorus was held, with Dean Partridge presiding, and it was unanimously decided that the festival should be continued and every effort made to wake the people of St. John to a sense of the privilege so given in having at their doors such music as otherwise they might look upon as far larger cities in vain. It is for the people of this city now to come with their encouragement, their patronage and their financial support to the aid of this scheme, which will mean so much for the broadening and uplifting of St. John's musical life.

To Mr. Chapman, whose masterful conducting and magically musical personality dominates orchestra, chorus and principals, every minute of each entertainment, congratulations most hearty and the thanks of the city are due.

The matinee yesterday, fairly well attended, opened with one of the best pieces of orchestration shown during the festival—a splendid rendition of Richard Strauss' 'Don Juan.' As an encore to their second selection they played with an audacious indiscreetness, Bocherini's Minuet, a piece of music daintily as dancing fairies through soft grasses, and so fascinating that it had to be repeated again, and later in the evening received another enthusiastic encore.

The other features of the matinee were Madam Bouton's charmingly encoiled Aria from Gounod's 'Queen of Sheba,' executed in splendid style. Kronold's cello solo and a selection followed by an encore by Archambault, who was in better voice than on the previous evening, and sang with the verve and rich resonance that won him his popularity here before. The chorus sang well, giving their selection from Carmen even better than when they won the rapturous applause of their hearers the day before.

At night the great auditorium was packed with an audience so popularly enough to satisfy the most insistent artist. And well they were rewarded. The orchestral and choral work was the best of the festival. Miss Howe repeated her triumph of Monday night, Miles sang in glorious voice, and Archambault and Bouton gave a duet 'Faure's Crucifix' that won perhaps the greatest applause of the day.

But it was Mary Howe who owed the audience—Mary Howe with the winsome face, the beautiful figure and the voice that lifted you out of your seat and made you want to wave your hand at her when she sang. Her wonderful power, of grand range of appealing sweetness, and she has it under marvellous control. Both her pieces, the mad scene from Donizetti's 'Lucia' and 'The Magic Flute,' showed her crystal clearness and splendid dramatic gift. Her singing, her applause was instant, enthusiastic and insistent. To her first number she had to respond with two encores—the sweet coquetry of 'Comin' Thro' the Rye' and the plaint of 'Robin Adair'—and the storm that followed the second she responded to with 'The Rose of Summer,' sung in a way that showed that in the following of classical work Miss Howe has not lost sympathy with the old melodies that come nearer home to the most of people.

Gwylm Miles was in grand voice and in every number was heartily received. To the enthusiastic applause he returned a couple of encores, that pleased the audience even better than the more ambitious selections preceding. The closing number of the festival was a splendidly rendered repetition of the 'William Tell' selection that won such favor the previous evening. This request was substituted for Liszt's 'Polonaise,' as printed on the programme.

Just before the close, Mr. Chapman, in a neat and forceful speech, expressed his hearty thanks to all who had assisted in making the festival a musical success. He paid special tribute to the work of Mr. Ritchie, Dr. Robertson, Mrs. Harrison and Dr. March for bringing the chorus to such a state of efficiency, and also extended his thanks to Dean Partridge, Mr. Saunders, Mrs. Sherman and Mrs. West, who so ably assisted in the work of the festival. He announced the decision of the chorus to continue the concerts and asked the support of all who had enjoyed this series.

A meeting of the committee is called for Thursday evening next, and the chorus is requested to meet on Monday evening for practice.

A PARLIAMENTARY-MINDED MAN.

(Melbourne Punch.)
A well-known western man was imparting some clinical instruction to half a dozen students who accompanied him in his rounds. Pausing at the bedside of a foolish case, he said: "Now, gentlemen, do you think this is, or is not, a case for operation?" One by one the students made their diagnosis, and all of them answered in the negative. "Well, gentlemen, you are all wrong," said the wielder of the free and flashing scalpel, "and I shall operate tomorrow." "No, you won't," exclaimed the patient, as he rose in his bed. "Six to one is a good margin; gimme my clothes!"

The Haverhill team will be here to play the best possible team that can be raised in the province. An effort is being made to bring Fred Yapp or Dunaway to pitch for the locals. Yapp would be the biggest attraction possible and the supporters of the same hope he will come. Yapp is the best pitcher St. John ever knew and is sure to give a good account of himself. He is personally popular and as a ball player ranks second to none.

STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Wall Street—Opening prices showed some sharp losses. The buoyant rise at the close yesterday offered attractive profits and many were eager to avail themselves of them this morning. Denial of the report of the settlement of the coal strike also prompted selling. There were 3,500 shares of Reading sold simultaneously at 9 1/2 to 10, compared with 7 1/2 last night. Losses of 1 to 1 1/2 were scored by St. Paul, Louisville, Manhattan, Norfolk and Western, and Tennessee Coal. A number of specialties showed gains and U. S. Steel rose nearly a point, but the general tone was weak. The stock market opened weak.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Wall Street—Offerings increased as the market declined, and there was a return to the lowest for St. Paul and Louisville. The general list did not respond to a rise of over a point in Colorado Fuel, Tenn. Coal, Hocking Coal and Peoples Gas. Call money loaned at 5 per cent. Business became semi-stagnant toward noon, but the tone was firmer. Norfolk and Western rose about a point last night. Bonds were steady.

CHEAP COAL.

Ferry Service Will Be Supplied at $3.50 a Ton.

At the meeting of the board of works yesterday, the tender of the Dominion Coal Co. through the Messrs. Starr, to supply 1,800 tons of coal at $3.50 per ton delivered in the ferry sheds was accepted. This is nineteen cents less than last year.

The New Brunswick Southern railway, through Mr. McPeake, repeated the request for petition to extend their track up Union street and down Dunn's wharf. This was the first favor the New Brunswick Southern had asked of the city; now the C. P. R. wants permission to run up Union street, and Mr. McPeake thought the New Brunswick Southern ought to have precedence.

Mr. Wetmore was heard in regard to the C. P. R.'s request. The matter was sent back to a sub-committee, and the questions brought up by Mr. McPeake were sent to another committee. A stenographer was present in the interest of Col. H. H. McLean and an effort was made to have him put out, but unsuccessfully.

The harbor master's report on the top wharfage derived from 1 and 2 berths will be heard before that is allowed.

PHILOSOPHY AND PENSIONS.

(Washington Post.)
The world abounds in moral philosophers, and some of them are found in spots and places least supposed. But for the most varied assortment of the queer in philosophical interpretations, argumentative discourse, and unconscious humor, however crude they be and however tinged with pathos or craftiness it may be, a small minority on the pension roll of Uncle Sam hold the record.

Here, for instance, is one who recently wrote the Pension Bureau and who believes like Lincoln, that a narrative clinches the argument and leaves little more to be said: "Mr. Commissioner: There is nothing to keep me from it (a pension) unless you gentlemen are like the negro that stole the goose and the old lady caught him and told him he would pay for it. The day after judgment, and he told her it she would wait that long he would take another."

The marriage of Miss Ella, daughter of Howard Scott, street commissioner of Moncton, and Albert T. Weldon, of Halifax, formerly of Moncton, took place yesterday afternoon at the First Baptist church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. Hutchinson.

Mrs. Irvine Torrie of Moncton on Monday night received a telegram announcing the critical illness of her sister, Mrs. Bennett, of New Glasgow. Mrs. Torrie, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Bray, left for New Glasgow yesterday.

The death occurred late last evening of Harry Harris, the 19 year old son of Jos. and Sarah Harris, of Stoughton, Mass. Deceased was visiting his aunt, Miss Burns, Douglas avenue, but had been ill for practically the last three months. The body will be forwarded by train this evening for interment at Stoughton.

RUNNERS' ATTENTION.

The attention of all runners is directed to the fact that there is to be a great event for both amateur and professional runners at the autumn carnival. Handicaps will be satisfactorily arranged and handsome prizes will be offered for all events. It is desired by the management to get as large a field as possible, and they wish all runners who are willing to compete to communicate at once with R. J. Wilkins or F. MacIure Scandlers. The time is short and no time should be lost.

WANT A ST. JOHN TEAM.

F. W. Coombs has received a letter from R. T. MacIure of Halifax stating that the Northwest Arm Rowing Club, of that city, intends to hold a tug of war tournament on the 22nd and 23rd of October. Among the events is one for ten men, averaging 1,600 pounds, professional, for which the prize is one hundred dollars. The promoters of the tournament are anxious to have a team from this city come over and compete in this event. There ought to be material among the longshoremen and other organizations sufficient to separate that hundred dollars from the Halifax people. Mr. Coombs can give further information.

ALBERT CO. MAN

Who Fought and Worked in the Philippines Talks to the Star

Willard Lutz, who was with the United States army in the Philippines and later assistant Y. M. C. A. secretary in Manila, is in the city. Mr. Lutz is a native of Albert County, but for a number of years has been engaged in association work in Pennsylvania and there in the spring of 1899 and enlisted in a volunteer regiment for duty in the Philippines. The regiment went to its destination by the Eastern route and on their arrival were immediately sent to the front. Part of the time Mr. Lutz was in Samar and later, as a sergeant, had charge of Albura, a city of considerable size in the island of Leyte. Here he came into some contact with the Spanish friars, concerning whom his opinion is not of the best.

"One of these gentlemen," said Mr. Lutz to the Star this morning, "corresponded with the insurrection leader down and drive us out. Some of the letters were intercepted. At any rate the insurrectionists did not come down. The friars, as a general rule, were a bad lot."

"When I was at Albura I heard of the 'water cure' being administered, but no instance of it ever came under my observation. The cases were not so numerous as were reported, but that the talk over one instance spread like wildfire and the whole affair would be greatly exaggerated in a short time."

After I had served in the army about a year and a half," continued Mr. Lutz, "I left to take the position of assistant Y. M. C. A. secretary in Manila. There was a large work to be done in that department. In that city there were eight thousand young men, civilians, besides the soldiers, and among these the association worked. Although I escaped wounds and fever in the field, the work as an assistant secretary rather broke me down, and I came home, visiting Japan and China on the way."

"The Philippines are a good country, and will prove to be exceedingly valuable in time. The people, as a general rule, are neat and quite intelligent. Morally, they are superior to many races."

It is Mr. Lutz's intention to remain in this province for a short time recuperating, and then he will go to Worcester to engage in Y. M. C. A. work.

JEWISH NEW YEAR.

How It Will Be Observed by Hebrew Citizens.

The religious observances in commemoration of the Jewish new year begin at sunset this evening, and services of different kinds will be continued for almost three weeks. From sunset till eight o'clock this evening the service will consist of prayers only; tomorrow morning the tables of the law will be read at the trumpets blown to proclaim the new year. In the afternoon and evening other prayers will be held and on Thursday morning the ceremony will be the same as on Wednesday morning.

Saturday, Aug. 11th is the Day of Atonement, and during this day fasting is observed. Members of the Hebrew race are not permitted food or drink in any form, and must not indulge in a smoke from Friday evening until sunset Saturday, a period of twenty-six hours. They are told to remain in the synagogue all day and spend the time in prayers and reading of the law.

Four days after the Day of Atonement, on Wednesday, Oct. 15th, the feast of the Tabernacle commences, and is continued for one week, until sunset on the 22nd.

From sunset this evening until the same hour Friday, all Jewish stores must be closed, and also on the Day of Atonement.

The morning services of the New Year celebration are of a most interesting character, all the old Hebrew rites being observed.

AN INTERNATIONAL MARRIAGE.

There was a very pretty wedding at the home of Mrs. J. A. White, 71 Paradise row, this morning, when her daughter, Augusta May, was married to George A. Chandler of Hartford, Conn. Mr. Chandler is a well known chemist in Hartford. His father is the senior member of the firm Chandler & Co., wholesale druggists. Miss White is a graduate of the Hartford training school for nurses.

The room in which the happy couple were married was beautifully decorated, the groom and bride standing in an alcove filled with potted plants and ferns. The groom stood beneath the stars and stripes which were intertwined with the union jack, under which the bride stood.

The gifts to the bride were beautiful and costly, the groom's present to the bride being a diamond brooch.

The happy couple left on the Boston train for their future home, after a trip to New York, followed by the good wishes of the friends of their international marriage.

WE'LL DO OUR BEST.

The members of the interesting Diggs family read the reprint in vain these days for essays on their moral lapses and uncleanly surroundings. Isn't there some danger of a shrinkage in the circulation?—Telegraph.

For the benefit of the Telegraph, which seems to be in an agony of suspense, the Star hereby offers the information that Alex. Diggs is boarding with acquaintances near the corner of Pitt and Duke streets, and that Charles Diggs is still in jail. This paper will be pleased to furnish the Telegraph with necessary information concerning the Diggs family or any other subject except the forgery of the Rothesay lists. Holm is still at Dorchester, and there is a new moon today.

THE LAST DAY.

Today was the last day for paying taxes and getting the rebate. As a result the chamberlain's office was blocked during business hours. In fact it has been in that state for some days past, and the amount of discount saved must be considerable. Those who are paying are mainly people whose taxes run up into pretty large figures, and the discount from which makes a nice snug sum.

WHAT WE MAY EXPECT.

Probable Outcome of the Scarcity of Fuel.

While, owing to the price of coal, householders are becoming bald-headed with worry, those who live and move and have their being in boarding houses are hugging themselves with joy at the thought that they are safe even though the price of coal goes ten feet higher.

There are many unpleasant features connected with boarding-house life, but it has some advantages, and those who have in the past endured these inconveniences without very clearly seeing the advantages are now waiting their turn to boast.

But it may be too soon.

The wiles of the boarding house mistress are many. Her plans are deep hidden beneath the pie crust surface of her disposition and it is open to belief that away down at the bottom of her mind she has the germ of an idea which in the near future may grow and expand into a project which will overwhelm with dismay those satisfied boarders who are now hugging themselves under the prospect of undiminished warmth during the coming winter.

If the price of coal, which in spite of the ferry service and safety board's bargain, is still pretty high should continue on its upward path, those boarders may expect to see in the columns of the newspapers some such developments as this:

"Board may be had at No. 601 Union street for two gentlemen bringing their own coal."

Or this:

"Boarders—Rooms to let at No. 2394 King street. Heat turned on every week, from 7 p. m. till 10 p. m. Sundays."

Or this:

"A number of ladies or gentlemen can secure good accommodation at 449 Mill street. Cars pass the door every five minutes. Gas charged extra. Three meals a day. Oil stoves rented at a moderate rate."

Or this:

"Board and lodging for a man and his wife at 384 Charlotte street. Within five minutes of all the leading churches. Heat turned on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings and for one hour on Sunday afternoon."

Or this:

"Two gentlemen supplying their own coal may be accommodated at 673 St. Patrick's street. Stoves rented at moderate rates."

Or even this:

"Wanted—Boarders for the winter months. Rooms large, food good and honest. Central location, near coal dealers, one scuttle of coal supplied free of charge each week."

These ads may not be unexpected, and as they are a very possible and even probable product of the landlord's brain all boarders should for a time at least, refrain from rejoicing.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

BISHOP SWEENEY'S EXAMPLE.

To the Editor of the Star:

Sir,—I think your suggestion re the advice of a city clergyman for many of the poor people who may well dread the outlook for the winter, to go into the country, a good one.

Bishop Sweeney's best monument is Elphinstown, one of the most prosperous settlements in the country and in one which the good bishop founded. Bishop Sweeney saw that many of his people were living poorly in the city when they might live comfortably in the country. He found out with that business tact so characteristic of him that there was good wilderness land in Carleton Co. He made arrangements with the local government, and in a short time a number of sturdy settlers had gone into the forest and commenced making homes which were rough and rude at the beginning, but are today beautiful and comfortable, and in many instances luxurious. Perhaps the disastrous fire of '77 sent in to the colony a larger number than would have gone but for the fact that their homes in St. John were destroyed. At all events that fire proved a blessing to those who were driven to the country by it, for they have prospered as they could not have done by remaining in the city.

There are many able bodied men in this city who will be out of employment before the winter ends, who might find steady employment for themselves and families if they would go to the country. Since the demand is in the city, would it not be to the interests of both if the supply and demand could meet?

Is this not a subject worthy the consideration of the philanthropist and political economist?

Yours,

FINANCIALLY SUCCESSFUL.

Citizens will be glad to learn that the music festival, besides giving great pleasure to thousands, has proved a financial success. It was feared that this would not be the case, but last night's magnificent audience, consisting of over two thousand people, brought the receipts up to a good figure. While no large amount of money has been made, the expenses were cleared and this is regarded as very promising, for, as a rule, the festivals throughout the eastern states did not pay during the first couple of years. These festivals are now fairly planted in St. John, and it is believed that in the future even a larger measure of success will attend them.

POLICE COURT.

Alex. Northrup and Sydney Morgan are two boys in whom a love of music was found no place. They, instead of being carried away by the magnificent harmonies at the festival concert, waited until some of the rink attendants performed this task. On Monday evening the boys endeavored to carry on an improvised accompaniment to the orchestra by means of some pieces of the side of the rink. Their efforts were not appreciated, and the two boys were reported by the police. This morning they got off with a warning—the same old warning which has been handed out time after time, and is still ready for use.

COMMODORE STEWART.

Writes a Caustic Letter to the Fredericton Gleaner.

To the Editor of The Fredericton Gleaner,—

Sir,—Your editorial on my differences with the Tweedies is founded entirely on misinformation. You personally know very well that I am not capable of attacking Mr. Tweedie's son as a way of striking at the father. Like yourself, I go straight for the head of any concern I want to hit. The paragraphs in reference to Fred Tweedie were the result of the dissatisfaction felt by racing club members at his non-payment of prizes, and had nothing to do with politics. I charged him with having failed to pay prizes, one of them won two years ago, and to pay which he held the money. This was true, as was shown by his financial statements at two annual meetings. I spoke to him personally on the matter, two or three times, and when he failed to carry out his promises to attend to it, and no yacht appeared when racing days arrived, because of the dissatisfaction of owners with the facts, I published the paragraph, after another race day had passed without a race, the sec-treasurer was spoken to as having used the money for his own purposes. Mr. Tweedie professes to consider this a charge of "embezzlement" or "theft." I disclaim any such intention. I made this disclaimer at the club meeting and in the World. Everybody knows that the provincial secretary has plenty of money, and can produce the club cash any day he chooses to do so. His accounts are not questioned. The racing men know that the sec-treasurer is good for the paltry sum in his hands, but that is not satisfactory to them. They have won the money and want it. A racing yacht is a ravenous devourer of small change, and the prizes are needed for racing expenses. Hence the dissatisfaction that found expression through the World. At the club meeting the sec-treasurer made explanations and excuses for his conduct that, of course, satisfied the meeting, consisting of eight or nine close political and personal friends of his father, and resolutions were adopted accordingly. Here, were the facts and the men are all known. I am not concerned with the resolutions that may be passed or the statements that may be made, but I object to such absurdly incorrect statements as those you have been responsible for in a paper of high standing whose readers have no knowledge of the facts.

Yours fraternally,

J. E. STEWART.

GOT A MOOSE.

Arthur B. Hannay and A. M. Dewar of the Montreal Herald staff, who have been hunting down in Charlotte county, have been more successful than most hunters in that vicinity. They got a moose. After going into the woods near Bonny River, they discovered moose tracks to be so plentiful that they immediately trekked back and obtained the necessary license to allow them to shoot. Shortly after their return dusk and Mr. Hannay laid over by a long shot. The rest of the time was spent in getting their prize out of the woods. Residents say that it is a number of years since a moose was shot in that vicinity.

SUSSEX EXHIBITION.

The Result of Yesterday's Horse Races.

SUSSEX, Sept. 30.—The exhibition is a great success. On Wednesday morning the cattle and poultry will be judged. The grain and roots were judged today by S. H. Clark of Ottawa. The horses, sheep and pigs will be judged on Thursday morning.

The very cheap excursion rates arranged by the management should ensure a large outside attendance tomorrow and Thursday.

Tonight there was a large attendance at the exhibition.

The exhibition races this afternoon, in spite of the threatening weather, were attended by a fair crowd, and the 2.25 race was one of the best trotting events ever seen on a maritime track. It took six heats to decide it and any horse at times had a chance of the money. The 2.40 race was a disappointment as only two started and answered the bell and the event was uninteresting. Following are the summaries:

2.25 Class.

Rev. R. G. Fred Warren, 1 4 5 3 1 1

R. T. M. C. E. Beck, 3 1 1 6 6 2
