GLAD TIDINGS!

Peace Terms Signed By All the Boer Delegates.

King Edward's Message to the British Nation—Kitchener's Laconic Cablegram—Kruger a Surprised Man.

How the News Was Received in London, Ottawa, Wash-ington, Toronto, Montreal and Other Cities—St. John Pastors and Congregations Joined in the Universal Thanksgiving.

LONDON, June 1.—An official cablegram from Lord Kitchener, dated from Pretoria, 11 o'clock last (Saturday) evening, states that a document contain- ing terms of surrender was signed there at 10.30 p. m. by all of the Boer representatives as well as by Lords Milner and Kitchener.

LONDON, June 2.—Peace has been declared after nearly two years and eight months of a war, which tried the British Empire to its utmost, and wiped out the Boers from the list of nations. The war has come to an end with Lord Kitchener's announcement from Pretoria that he, Lord Milner and the Boer delegates had signed "Terms of surrender." This announcement had been anticipated for several days, and it was definitely forecasted in these despatches, but its receipt Sunday afternoon took the nation by surprise, as everybody had confidently believed that the house of commons would hear the first news today.

LONDON WILL WITH JOY.

The clerk on duty at the war office transmitted this message to Bucking-ham palace, where King Edward was lunching. At about 5 o'clock word was received permitting the publica- tion of this message, and the small notice which was stuck up outside the war office consisted of a copy of Lord Kitchener's cablegram. A similar notice was put up outside of the colonial office.

KING EDWARD'S MESSAGE.

The King has received the welcome news of the cessation of hostilities in South Africa with infinite satisfaction, and His Majesty trusts that peace may speedily be followed by the restoration of prosperity in his new dominions, and that the feelings necessarily engendered by war will give place to earnest co-operation on the part of His Majesty's South African subjects in promoting the welfare of their common country.

KRUGER'S AMAZEMENT.

According to a despatch to the Daily Express from Utrecht, Holland, Mr. Kruger, shortly after 9 o'clock last night was informed that peace had been declared. Mr. Kruger had been asleep. When he was told the news he said: "My God, it is impossible." Mr. Kruger and his entourage, the mayor, gave hearty cheers for King Edward, followed by others for the men who had died in South Africa since the war commenced.

JOY IN ST. JOHN.

The cable from London announcing the termination of the long and bloody war in South Africa reached St. John about four o'clock yesterday after-noon. It being Sunday, with no pa-pers to disseminate the news, the glad word travelled slowly and did not reach the general public until between seven and eight o'clock in the evening, when from several pulpits in the city it was announced and received with ex-pressions of joy and thankfulness.

IN STONE CHURCH.

In St. John's Church the announce-ment was accompanied by a prayer of thanksgiving and the hearty singing of hymn 46. "Now thank we all our God." The pastor, John DeSoyres, said that in reviewing the importance of the news the sermon which he had prepared for the evening would be laid aside and in its stead he would voice a few unpremeditated thoughts before in accord with the present mind of his congregation. For the text of his impromptu, but feasible and elo-quent address, he chose Psalm 147.

LATEST FROM PRETORIA.

Cabling from Pretoria, the corre-spondent of the Daily Mail, after an- nouncing the signing of the terms of surrender, said that the Boers were absolutely rejected the suggestion of the Boer delegates that the terms of surrender should be ratified by Mr. Kruger, and declared that the Boers in Europe had no hand in the settle-ment.

INTEREST ON TRANSVAAL BONDS.

PRETORIA, June 1.—A proclamation which was issued yesterday, in con-nection with the signing of the peace terms last night, declares that not- withstanding the proclamations of Mr. Kruger that interest on the bonds of the Transvaal Republic would be sus- pended so long as the war lasted, such interest shall begin to accrue June 1, June 28 and June 27, the days of King Edward's coronation, have been proclaimed public holidays here.

THE MESSAGE AT WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The offi- cials of the British embassy here share the jubilant feeling existing in London over the termination of the war in South Africa. They view with much satisfaction the close of the long struggle.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF THE SIGNING OF THE SURRENDER.

Official notice of the signing of the terms of surrender came to Mr. Ralke, the British charge here, in a cable-gram from the foreign office. It was very brief and was in accord with the statements contained in the Associated Press despatches. It probably will be communicated formally to the United States government tomorrow.

NOTICE OFFICIAL HAS REACHED THE STATE DEPARTMENT FROM AMBASSADOR CHATEAU FROM ANOTHER SOURCE.

President Roosevelt was furnished a copy of the Associated Press despatch giving the news of the signing of the surrender terms.

FROM A COMMERCIAL POINT OF VIEW

the cessation of hostilities will result beneficially to American exports to South Africa, the reports issued from time to time by the foreign commercial bureau of the state department show- ing that they have suffered considerably since the beginning of the war.

fittingly acknowledged by clergy and congregations.

S. JOHN BAPTIST MISSION CHURCH.

At St. John Baptist Mission church, Rev. P. Owen-Jones announced that peace had been declared, and the choir and congregation joined in singing the well known hymn, All People That on Earth Do Dwell. In his sermon Mr. Jones made a brief reference to the matter.

ST. MARY'S.

Prior to his sermon, Rev. Mr. Ray-mond referred in feeling terms of thankfulness to the declaration of peace. The courtesy of the company who had tendered the telegram was also mentioned. After the announce-ment, the doxology was heartily sung by the congregation, many of whom remember the war as directly affect- ing their homes. No reference was made in the preacher's address to the peace declaration.

TRINITY CHURCH.

Rev. Canon Richardson, the pastor, read the announcement of the peace negotiations and spoke a few words with reference to the same. The dox- ology and the national anthem were sung. The new curate, Rev. G. R. E. McDonald, preached his first sermon.

ST. JAMES' CHURCH.

Rev. A. D. Dewdney, the pastor, af- ter reading the announcement, gave utterance to a few remarks anent the war. The national anthem was sung.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

The pastor, Rev. L. G. Macneil, last evening read the cable announcing the completion of the peace negotiations. The reverend gentleman expressed the gratitude of the congregation to Pro- vidence for the happy solution of the great problems. The grave question had been settled on the principles of justice and liberty and the rights of our fellow subjects in South Africa had been fully maintained. The war had lasted a long time. Rev. S. B. Hillock, who preached on this occa- sion, returned thanks in prayer for the news of peace.

ST. STEPHEN'S.

In St. Stephen's Presbyterian Church after the peace bulletin had been read the congregations rose and joined with heartiness in the doxology. Rev. D. J. Fraser spoke of the gratitude with which the news must be received not only through- out the British Empire, but by all lovers of humanity throughout the world. He had met fighters worthy to be the opponents of British soldiers. The qualities which had made the Boers such sturdy foemen, their passion for independence, and their magnificent physical characteristics, would make them once their loyalty was won among the best of British citizens. In closing, Mr. Fraser announced that a formal thanksgiving church service would be held in St. Stephen's Church next Sunday. The service was con- cluded with the National Anthem.

ST. DAVID'S.

In St. David's Church after the reading of the news, the congregation gave vent to their enthusiasm and thankfulness by a vigorous singing of the dox- ology. In reading the announce- ment, Dr. Morrison expressed his thanks to the C. P. R. Telegraph Com- pany for their kindness in furnishing the bulletin. One would be lacking in patriotic feeling and emotion, he said, who did not hear such grand news with delight and gratitude. He jus- tified the presentation of reports of war in the house of peace by the fact that this war had been begun and carried on in the interest of civiliza- tion. It had been a righteous war in the result of which men could replace not only as Britons, but as Christians.

ST. JOHN THE BAPTIST.

The glad news was conveyed to the congregation of St. John the Baptist Church (Broad street) at vesper last evening. In a brief address after read- ing the announcement, Rev. W. C. (Continued on Page Eight)

ONTARIO ELECTION.

Ross Government Sustained By Reduced Majority.

One of the Closest and Hottest Contests in the Political History of Canada's Largest Province.

It Will Take an Official Count to Determine the Result in Several Constituencies—The Conservatives Put Up a Magnificent Battle Against Tremendous Odds.

Deep interest was taken in the city Friday over the result of the Ontario elections and as the returns came in showing that the struggle was a very close one, excitement ran high. The sun office was thronged till a late hour and the telephones were kept red hot answering enquiries from hundreds of citizens and people in many parts of the province where the long distance service is in operation. The first bulletin announced the election of 6 liberals and 11 conservatives, but that ratio did not last, and it soon became evident that the result would be in doubt till the last returns were received. Toronto and other cities showed conservative gains in majorities and the capture of the second seat in Ottawa was regarded as a particularly good sign by the opposition's friends.

By 9 o'clock it was seen, however, that both governments had opposition were pretty much holding their own and that the predicted landslide had not taken place. At 9:45 the figures stood: 49 liberals; 44 conservatives. At 10 o'clock these figures were cancelled and the following substituted: 41 liberals; 33 conservatives. Before midnight the Sun was advised that the government had won the fight by a close majority, no greater, it is as large, as that in the lake house. The returns given below are conflicting in some few constituencies, which both sides claim because of the closeness of the vote, and it will be a day or two at least before the exact standing of the two parties can be ascertained.

The Sun, in response to telegraphic enquiries, received the following answers: THE WORLD, TORONTO. TORONTO, May 28.—Liberals, 53; conservatives, 44; unknown, one. WORLD. MAIL AND EMPIRE. TORONTO, May 28.—Liberals' majority is nine, with Mantoulin to hear from. MAIL AND EMPIRE. THE TORONTO GLOBE. TORONTO, May 28.—Liberals, 53; conservatives, 44, with one constituency to hear from. The liberals gained 12 seats and lost 12 seats, counts given below are those in which the liberals carry five and the conservatives one, and the balance are in serious danger.

A MONTREAL REPORT. (Special to the Sun.) MONTREAL, May 28.—The Gazette's bulletins show 50 conservatives and 47 liberals with Mantoulin missing. MONTREAL, May 30.—The majority of Mr. Ross's government is now four, the parties standing: Liberals, 51; conservatives, 47; liberal majority, 4.

There is, however, no permanency in this majority. Included in the list of members given to each party are constituencies in which the returns are not yet in and others in which the majority cast for the candidate ranked as successful is so small that the official count, or the result which is sure to follow, may reverse the situation. The Toronto Globe's returns for the Ontario general elections indicate a government majority of four. Algonia gives Smith (cons.) a majority, while North Grey gives McKay (liberal) a majority. Two or three constituencies may be changed to either side by the official recount next week.

THE LATEST RETURNS. Following is a statement of candidates elected on Thursday up to latest available figures last night, also of the way in which the constituencies went in the general elections of 1918: ADDINGTON, con.; Reid, 213, con. MIDNIGHT BRIEFS. A new Boxer insurrection has broken out at Southwest Chi Lin, and several missionaries killed. The rebels defeated the troops sent to subdue them. Fire at Rockaway Beach, yesterday, destroyed all the public buildings and restaurants. Three persons lost their lives and many were severely injured. Loss of property is estimated at $120,000.

GOOD POLICE WORK.

Officer James Greer's Clever Capture of Two Young Men Charged With Three North End Burglaries. A sharp piece of detective work on the part of the north end police culminated Friday morning in the clever capture of two young men who are suspected of being the perpetrators of two burglaries which have mystified that section of the city lately.

On March 27th the store of D. J. Purdy on Main street was entered from the rear by some person or persons and $70 in cash taken from the safe. Two cheques, one for $93 and the other for $30, were also stolen. On the same afternoon the matter was reported to the police, and after enquiry suspicion fell on a young fellow from Golden Grove. It was found that the suspected person had left the city immediately after the theft, and he was traced to the United States.

On Sunday evening last A. M. Rowan's store on Main street was entered and among the stuff stolen were two guns, two electric light lamps, a number of razors, knives and about ten dollars in cash. This matter was also reported to the police.

It was learned that Oscar Kilson, the young fellow who was suspected of entering D. J. Purdy's store in March, had returned to the city from the States and was in the company of a younger chap, who gave his name as James Smith, and who is a stranger in the city. The police watched them carefully and learned that both of the guns were secreted in a box at the home of George Kilpatrick wheeled out on Thursday to the Grove and paid a visit to Kilson's house. He was rewarded by finding the guns and nearly all of the articles supposed to have been stolen. His return with the tools and yesterday morning about three o'clock started out there again with Detective Kilson and Chief Clark to arrest the men, but when the police arrived the birds had flown. The police searched the goods, including a fishing basket, was found.

Early yesterday morning Officer James Greer saw a couple of men who answered the description of the above pair. They were seen on Paradise row. They made their escape, but the officer, suspecting their destination, caught the early train for the west to head them off. At Fairville he saw the two get on board. He kept himself out of sight until the train had attained such headway that escape by jumping was impossible. Then he walked into the car where the two thieves were chucking over their escape and snatched the bracelet stolen on Paradise row. They were aware of his presence. Stopping the train he took his prisoners off, marched them to Fairville, brought them to St. John and placed them behind the bars. For his share of the clever work, Officer Greer was heartily congratulated last night.

After his arrest the boy who had previously given his name as Smith admitted that his real name was James Bradley. Early yesterday morning, as was discovered after their arrest, the grocery store of Benjamin Dean on Wall street was broken into and a small amount in cash, some cigars and other stuff stolen. The police station some of these goods were found upon them, including a package containing one dollar in cents. So young Oscar Kilson and James Smith, the two boys who were charged with three burglaries, are of them of considerable magnitude.

CONTRADICTS THE OTHER EXPERTS.

B. C. Mineralogist Issues a New Statement of Fernie Mine Disaster. FERNIE, B. C., May 29.—Provincial Mineralogist Robertson this morning made public a statement which directly contradicts all statements as to the cause of the explosion in the Fernie mine. The original report, which was issued by Messrs. Blakemore, Wilson and other experts on the scene, these are agreed that the explosion must have occurred through use of machine in workings and injudicious practice that the mine had been found in drill 2, and that while holes had been drilled they had not been charged when the explosion occurred, and consequently could be held in no respect responsible. There have been 76 bodies brought up to the town to date, among these the bodies of John Joseph Shelling, Alex. Boyd, Steve Rasco, Andrew Patterson, Nots Rasoria, Antonio Pietro, John Satarovich, F. Fredericke and George Tuko.

GOING TO MEXICO.

Fred Lockhart, son of W. J. Lockhart, I. C. R. trackmaster, Moncton, and Willie, son of Thomas Moncton, left on the maritime express yesterday night for Mexico, where they have secured good positions. Mr. Lockhart returned from Mexico a couple of years ago and has since been employed in the I. C. R. latterly being on the staff of the superintendent of cars and telegraph. Mr. Gledennig was assistant to the I. C. R. ticket agent for some time. The former was presented with a beautiful leather dress suit case by his fellow clerks, and the latter was presented with a set of military brushes. William Duncan succeeds Mr. Lockhart and Jas. Donald takes Mr. Gledennig's place in the ticket office.—Moncton Times.

CHILDREN CRY FOR CASTORIA.

PANAMA, Colombia, May 28.—General Victor Salazar, the governor of the department of Panama, has received news that revolutionists fled on the approach of government troops, leaving many valuable war munitions. The revolutionists had the whole of the Chiriqui Grande and Boca del Toro districts. It is added, are now close to the payment of the business of the American banana companies will not be interfered with.

KING'S BIRTHDAY.

Royally Observed in Mother Country on Friday. His Majesty Presents Colorfully to New Irish Guards—A Brilliant Review.

LONDON, May 30.—The birthday of King Edward, who was born Nov. 9, 1841, was officially celebrated today, it having been decided, as announced in the official gazette, April 15, that his majesty's natal day was to be celebrated in London and on the home stations on May 30, as being the most suitable time for military display. On the other hand, foreign stations will celebrate it Nov. 9, the actual anniversary of his majesty's birth.

General interest in the celebration was apparently not seriously diminished by the expectations of the greater of the series of events surrounding the coronation. The towns throughout the kingdom were gaily decorated and beflagged today and the shipping at the various ports made the gayest displays of bunting. The day was observed at all the home military and naval headquarters, with parades and salutes. The chief celebration of the day was the ceremony of "trooping the colors" on the Horse Guards' parade square, and the presentation of colors to the new Irish Guards. Stands covered with crimson cloth were erected on three sides of the parade ground and were occupied by thousands of privileged spectators, including the United States ambassador, Joseph Choate, and Mrs. Choate, and the secretary of the United States embassy, Henry White.

Thousands of other people were grouped closely around the lines of sentries. The troops taking part in the ceremonies were battalions of the Irish Guards, Grenadier Guards, Scots Guards and detachments of the Life Guards. Tremendous cheering greeted the appearance of the king and his brilliant escort, which included many notables. His majesty, who rode between the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Connaught, wore the uniform colonel of the Irish Guards. Lord Roberts, the commander in chief of the forces, who led the procession, also wore the uniform of colonel of the Irish Guards. Queen Alexandra and other members of the royal family viewed the scene from the windows of the Horse Guards. The crowds present bared their heads while his majesty proceeded to the saluting point. After an inspection of the line of troops and the presentation of the colors, the ceremonies ended with a review of all the troops on the ground. The king, during the afternoon, presented colors to the King's Grenadier Guards. The weather was wet and raw.

THE COURTS.

The case of Fowler v. Curran, an action for damages, was taken up yesterday by Mr. Justice G. C. C. Jones for the plaintiff and A. A. Wilson, K. C., for the defendant. An application was made on behalf of the plaintiff in Gould v. Britt for an attachment for contempt of court in disobeying an order of examination. Court ordered his appearance in county chambers next Friday. G. H. V. Bell-year for the plaintiff and J. J. Porter for the defendant.

MONCTON.

A Boy Drowned in Humphrey's Mill Pond. Committed for Trial for Living With a Married Man—Sillock Charged With Manslaughter—Found Dead in the Albert Co. Woods.

MONCTON, June 1.—Alvin Edgett, a boy about 15 years of age, son of William H. Edgett, blacksmith, was drowned at Humphrey's saw mill pond this afternoon. Young Edgett had gone out on saw logs to gather gum, when he slipped and fell into the water. A number of other boys about the same age were with him, but though he came up several times and made a brave fight for life no assistance was possible. The last time he came up a plank was thrown to him, but he seemed dazed and unable to take hold of it. Besse Estabrook was on Saturday committed for trial on a charge of unlawfully living with a married man named John W. Colpitts, who had previously been committed on a similar charge. The complainant is Colpitts' wife, who had been living apart from her husband. Both cases will come before the county court on Tuesday, Judge Forbes of St. John presiding in the absence of Judge Vail.

Chas. A. Sillock, I. C. R. blacksmith, voluntarily appeared in court on Saturday afternoon on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of his wife, May 23rd, after the coroner's inquest. Sillock is charged with culpable and negligent conduct in not having the boiler in good repair. Sillock is a member of the Holy Ghost and U. S. Society, and so was his wife. Sillock, when he appeared in court, said he had been out of town fishing. The evidence of Dr. Botford, given on Saturday was similar to that given by him at the coroner's inquest. The case was adjourned till Monday morning for further testimony.

Geo. W. McLean, a man of 75 years, was found dead in the woods at Rosevale, Albert Co., on Friday afternoon. He was last seen alive on Sunday last, when he said he was going to take the wood road to another part of the settlement. He never reached his destination, and search being made his body was found a considerable distance from the road. The deceased was seen by St. Martins about 25 years ago and made a living by selling salvé, had a mania for searching for minerals, and it is supposed left the road for this purpose and became lost, dying from exposure. He was a widower and had seven children living. One of them is a sea captain sailing out of St. John.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

MAIN RIVER, Kent Co., May 28. To the Editor of the Sun: Sir—I didn't know what to say when I saw that the editor of the Chatham Advance tried to poke fun at me, as I thought, about me writing to you about the Fenian medal, and I treated it only as a joke until I was up to Harcourt station the other day and heard then that Mr. Smith was afraid that if too many of us went in for this medal his boss would stand a poor chance to get it. When I wrote the other letter I had no notion how many were trying to get the medal, but I felt that if it was given at all I had just as good a show for it as any that drilled in Chatham in 1866, but from the way I heard it I thought it was a waste of business, because none of us ever did anything to earn a medal. But since I got the straight tip the other day I see how it is and how the cat paws. Now if I had a little bit of the power the Smith's boss is supposed to have, and I wanted that medal as much as he does, I guess I would get it without any help from the Advance man, and he needn't sneer at me or anyone else that thinks he has a good right to it as his boss. I wish old Tom was alive now. That's what we

ANDREW BONAR LAW.

Clever New Brunswick Man in the British House of Commons. Among the native Canadians who have seats in the British House of Commons the name of Andrew Bonar Law has not been prominently mentioned, and yet he promises to shed considerable lustre on his native land. Mr. Law was born in New Brunswick in 1858, the son of Rev. James Law, M. A., a Presbyterian minister. He was educated partly in his native province and afterwards at the Glasgow High School. Mr. Law is now a prominent iron merchant in Glasgow, chairman of the Scotch Pig-Iron Association, and ex-chairman of the Glasgow Iron Trade Association. He entered parliament at the last general election as representative of the Blackfriars division of Glasgow, defeating by a thousand votes A. D. Provan, who had represented the division as a Gladstonian and a radical since 1888. It is rather creditable that the two leading cities of Scotland should have among their representatives at Westminster two Canadians, Mr. Law, a conservative, from Glasgow, and Geo. M. Brown, a liberal, from Edinburgh. Mr. Law took part in the recent discussion on the budget, and the London Sketch says of his speech: "One of the hits of the budget discussion was made by Andrew Bonar Law, son of a merchant, from Glasgow. His father was a Presbyterian minister in Canada, and everyone familiar with ecclesiastical affairs in Scotland has heard of Andrew Bonar. Mr. Bonar is only 41, and a young member with a grave face and bright eyes, and with head well set on shoulders. Scotchmen are familiar with economic questions, and Mr. Law held the house with his eloquent and easy treatment of the corn duty, although he supported the budget, his speech was warmly praised, even by liberals, and unless he is a one-speech man he will make his mark."

BRONCHITIS.

A SERIOUS DISEASE. Becomes Chronic and Returns Year by Year or Develops into Bronchial Pneumonia, Croupous Bronchitis, Asthma or Consumption.

The real dangers of bronchitis are sometimes overlooked. It is too serious a disease to trifle with, and for that reason everybody should be familiar with the symptoms which mark bronchitis, and, if neglected, it becomes chronic, and returns year after year, until it wears the patient out or develops into some deadly lung disease. The approach of bronchitis is marked by chills and fever, nasal or throat catarrh, quick pulse, loss of appetite, and feelings of fatigue and languor. Bronchitis is also known by pain in the upper part of the chest, which is aggravated by deep breathing or coughing, and it seems to burn and reach the delicate linings of the bronchial tubes. The cough is dry and harsh, and is accompanied by expectoration of a frothy nature, which gradually increases; is very stringy and tenacious, and is frequently streaked with blood. There is pain, not unlike rheumatism, in limbs, joints and body, constipation and extreme depression and weakness. In some people, the exhaustion amounts almost to nervous collapse, delirium follows, and in young children convulsions may follow. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is, we believe, the most effective treatment for bronchitis that money will buy. This fact has been proven time and time again in many thousands of cases.

It is the most effective remedy for bronchitis, because it is far-reaching in its effects on the whole system, not merely relieving the cough, but actually and thoroughly curing the disease. It loosens the congestion of the chest of tightness and pain, aids expectoration and permanently cures. There are other preparations of turpentine and linseed put up in imitation of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. To be sure you get the genuine, see the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, on the box you buy, 25 cents a bottle, family size, three times as much. All dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

To the Editor of the Sun: Sir—I notice in yesterday's Sun an item of news from Sussex in re the death of Henry Carr, late of Waterford. The facts are as follows: Mr. Carr left home in the morning and came to Waterford Corner, where he spent the day, starting homeward about three o'clock, and having gone about three-quarters of a mile, he stopped where a crew of men were working on a log. He took a piece of cant a log, but lost his balance and plunged into the raging water between two ledges of rock, about six feet apart on top, ending at the bottom some fifteen feet below. The water here is swift and deep, and it was impossible for the men to save him, after once going down in the dark water. Mr. Moore being notified, had boat hooks brought from the mill, with which the body was recovered about an hour after the accident. Robert Hawks and others took him home to his stricken wife and family, who have the sympathy of the community.

To cure Headache in ten minutes use KUMFORD Headache Powders. EXTRAORDINARY HOUSEBOAT. An extraordinary houseboat was built by two prospectors on Lake Tealin Yukon territory, during the autumn of 1898. It was constructed of lumber picked up from the shores of the lake—driftwood from the only saw mill ever operated in that remote region. In this strange craft the two men navigated and explored the whole of Tealin lake—one of the great headwaters of the Yukon river—and the floating village, the outlet of the lake, for a distance of over 100 miles. They allowed the boat to become stranded on the beach as the water receded in the summer, and refloated it again in the following spring. This houseboat was the most unique dwelling-place in the Yukon country, and roused great envy in the hearts of other prospectors less conveniently housed.—Wide World Magazine.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

Ottawa Lady whose Symptoms were Somewhat Unusual. A Curious Complication of Conditions which, however, yielded very easily to the Curative Influence of Dodd's Kidney Pills. OTTAWA, Ont., May 30.—(Special)—A most singular case has just come to light at No. 380 Gladstone street, this city. Mrs. I. Wm. Rousseau, a married lady, suffered for over three years with an ailment which manifests itself in three separate and distinct symptoms, each very painful, and the whole combining to make her life during this period one of almost perpetual misery. Perhaps the most painful of these was a backache which never left the poor woman for a moment. At times she felt as if her back were breaking in two, and the slightest pressure in the region of the kidneys would cause her intense pain. In addition to this terrific pain in her back, she was tortured beyond endurance by a never-ending headache. Morning, noon and night it tormented her with a stupefying dizziness and pain which completely prostrated her. The third symptom was a swelling of the hands. This only appeared at times and would come and go, but as the case progressed the return of this symptom was more frequent. To the student of kidney diseases these symptoms have but one meaning—diseased and deranged kidneys. Madam Rousseau at last turned to the medicine which proves to be her deliverer from one and all of her painful and distressing conditions. She used three bottles of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and says: "I cannot tell what Dodd's Kidney Pills have done for me, words do not express it. I was so sick for three years with my back, my head and my hands, and I am now completely cured. To say that I am grateful for my escape from such excruciating pain does not half express my feelings. I am very, very thankful."

THE TERMS.

The terms of peace with the Boers are the best answer to the charges that Great Britain has been fighting in Africa for any kind of gain.

The Boers lay down their arms and are permitted to take back their rifles for purposes of protection. The prisoners who are now scattered about the world are to be returned by their captors to their own homes and are to be free from all penalties.

The terms are more than lenient. They are generous beyond all precedent. All that Britain demands is immunity from other Boer depredations and some sort of fair play for her own loyal subjects.

The terms of peace will not be criticised for their leniency. Any fault found with them will be on the ground that they do not remove the source of danger.

But the Transvaal Boers will not have forgotten that they prohibited the teaching of English in public schools nine-tenths paid for by English speaking people.

victors pay for the Boer war. Britain exacted an indemnity. Germany pays one. Germany abolished the French language in the annexed territory.

For the present at least the Transvaal and the Orange River Colony will be administered either by the army or the crown.

In making terms Lord Kitchener did not allow himself to be persuaded to place the Cape Colony rebels on the same footing as the alien enemy.

The large grant for the restoration of Boer property implies another indemnity. It goes without saying that the Boers should not be repaid the losses brought about by their aggression while the British are left to suffer the losses occasioned by their loyalty.

ton did not apply to the fishermen of British Columbia. It has also been suggested by the newspapers referred to, which seem to be the case, that the provisions of the bounty law should be extended to the fishermen of British Columbia.

There has been loose talk for several years in the maritime provinces, and even in the province of Quebec, that the award which was obtained under the Warbyon treaty should be distributed amongst the provinces.

Mr. Fielding spoke more clearly in his speech than a few days later. He described the claim set up by the provinces as "a somewhat hazy claim," and said it had been coming in some form from one or other of the provinces at all times during the last ten years.

By the time that Attorney General Pugsey has drawn another ten thousand dollars for his services as a negotiator, he will, perhaps, discover that the fishermen of British Columbia do not "participate, equally in this grant with the fishermen of the maritime provinces," and will ascertain that only those of the four eastern provinces should have it.

The principal remedy he relies upon in such cases is Peruna, which every woman should have, who has any affection of this kind.

In view of the great multitude of women suffering from some kind of female disease, and yet unable to find any cure, Dr. Hartman, the renowned gynecologist, has announced his willingness to doct the treatment of as many cases as may make application to him during the summer months without charge.

ST. JOHN CELEBRATES.

The Loyalist City's Grand Demonstration in Honor of News of Peace.

The loyal people of the Loyalist City, freed from the restraint which the Sabbath had imposed upon the expression of their feelings when the glad tidings of peace were proclaimed, gave vent to their pent up enthusiasm yesterday in royal style.

The general jubilation was really opened by the members of the commercial travelling fraternity who happened to be in the city. These, nearly fifty strong, formed in procession at the Royal Hotel about three o'clock in the afternoon.

DISEASES PECULIAR TO THE FEMALE SEX.

Picking up the paper one day she happened to read an item which contained the news that Dr. Hartman would treat such cases free of charge by letter.

Another woman who used Peruna without becoming one of Dr. Hartman's regular patients had the following experience.

Miss Ida Green writes from Baldwinville, Ga.:

"Peruna is wonderful and good, and a certain cure for female weakness. I have been ill and have been taking doctor's medicine for several years, and found that none did me any good."

"Every day it was a worry. I was always sick. I had come to the conclusion to give up, and not use any more medicine. I was sick indeed for the past two years. Just before I began to take Peruna I was very weak, besides I was bilious and constipated."

"I had pains in my back and side and falling of the womb, with bearing-down pains."

"One day while reading my newspaper, I came across an ad. read of the book for women entitled, 'Health and Beauty,' and sent for it. Then I began to use Peruna. After using several bottles I am now thoroughly cured."

Mrs. Theresa Keller, of Fremont, Wash., writes:

"Peruna not only cured me of female trouble but prevents me catching any cold, and as long as I have a bottle in the house my family needs no doctor."

Funeral of Stanley Brand, Who Met Death on the Central Railway.

NORTON, N. B., May 30.—This village is in deep mourning and sadness today, many people having just returned from laying to rest one of the bright and noble young men of the place, Stanley Brand, who was killed in the recent accident on the Central railway.

The band of the 3rd R. C. A. was first in the field, and taking up its position on the roof of a building near King square, entertaining the waiting crowd until the regiment arrived.

The members of the 62nd Fusiliers assembled at the drill shed at eight o'clock, under Major Sturdee in nearly full strength.

The inquest into the cause of the death of Stanley F. Brand, the Central railway fireman, was continued on Thursday evening by Coroner Perry at Cady's.

DEATH OF MISS DALZELL.

The tug Springhill, which came down from Parrsboro on Sunday with coal barges, brought also the remains of Miss Rachael May Dalzell, daughter of George T. Dalzell, keeper of the Swallow Tail Light on Grand Manan.

The late Miss Dalzell had been living in Parrsboro for a year, with her sister, Mrs. Charles E. Ellingwood, whose husband is in the employ of the Cumberland Railway and Coal Company.

BOSTON LETTER.

Will Join Canada to Put Down Fishing With Dynamite.

Box Shook Exporting an Industry That Maritime Provinces Should Promptly Develop.

Deaths of Former Provincialists—Personal Mention—Spruce Lumber Firm and in Good Demand—Fish Trade is Generally Steady.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) BOSTON, May 31.—The principal event here this week was the arrival of the French party headed by Count de Rochebeaucourt, which has been touring the east since the dedication of a monument in Washington to the memory of the distinguished member of the well known French house who assisted the colonists in resisting British arms during the revolution.

The announcement recently made in the Sun that the American government would probably take some action looking to the suppression of dynamite in the eastern waters, was confirmed this week. President Roosevelt is interested in the matter himself, and the state department at Washington has requested one of the officials to go to the scene and report.

The total fish exports from places on the Canadian side amount to $5,000,000 yearly, while Lubeck and Eastport do a business of about $3,000,000 a year. Many claim that the use of dynamite will ruin these communities. The Americans admit that they are to blame for the introduction of the new methods in fishing.

An important and rapidly growing industry which should be of some moment in the maritime provinces is the box-shook export trade. Consular reports from England state that there is an increasing demand there for American boxes, and the growth of this trade with England in the winter or two, it is stated, has been phenomenal.

Some misunderstanding has been created by the reference in the American and English systems of measurement. American shippers are advised by their consular agents to adopt the English system of measurement in their correspondence and quotations.

It is announced that Hon. Henry D. Yerxa of Cambridge, member of the governor's council, will not be a candidate for re-nomination this year on account of business pressure.

Alfred R. Maxwell of Moore's Mills, Charlotte Co., won second place in the annual competition for the Greenwood oratory prize at Tutts Divinity School on Tuesday.

Mrs. Zilpah A. Brookbank observed the 38th anniversary of her birth at her home in Brantree on Monday. Mrs. Brookbank was formerly Zilpah Ann Rogers, and was born in Miramichi, N. B.

Among the recent deaths of former provincialists in New England were the following: In this city, May 27, Philip Ryan, aged 29 years, formerly of Halifax; in Boston, John A. Jones, formerly of St. John; in Somerville, aged 75 years, native of Halifax; in Cambridge, Adelaide Hamilton, formerly of Nova Scotia; in Charlestown, May 26, Geo. W. Vaughn, aged 68 years, native of Nova Scotia; in Lubec, Me., May 23, Dr. N. P. Duffy, aged 48 years; in Harvey, N. B., in Houlton, Me., May 23 (by shooting), Emerson Brynton, aged 26, of Newcastle.

POSSIBILITIES OF THE POSTAL SYSTEM.

"Common is the commonplace." The most valuable of civil benefits is such a commonplace matter, that we scarcely give it a thought. It would take a winter on a whaler nipped in an ice floe to make us truly appreciate the worth of the postal service. What a wonderful thing it is! Wonderful in its organization, with its vast machinery for the collection and distribution of letters, its railway mail cars, its route riders, the unfailing order and precision of its methods. Wonderful it is too in its results. It knits together families widely separated.

It carries across the sea some tender lover's message or perhaps a little flower picked from the daisied grave of an English churchyard. Every day of every day the message is packed with words which waken love in the furrow in the cheek and dim the falling sight with bitter tears.

Three Young Lads Arrested for House Breaking.

"Jack the Peeper" Locked Up by the Town Marshal—Gave His Name as Thomas Nash of St. John—Lecture on Christian Science Next Tuesday—Per-sonal.

ST. STEPHEN, N. B., May 28.—Rev. W. C. Goucher is attending the closing exercises at Acadia College. His church will be closed next Sunday morning. Rev. S. R. Belyea will preach in the evening. While absent, Rev. Mr. Goucher will visit his mother, who is very ill, at Loyal, N. S.

Mr. and Mrs. Trainer, James Bonness and Miss Mamie Bonness, who were here to attend the funeral of Mrs. Howard Bonness, have returned to Boston.

J. E. Ganoon is visiting Montreal, Toronto and other cities. A pleasant event occurred in the Presbyterian Sunday school on Sunday last, when Miss Mabel McMullen was presented with a handsome travelling case by the officers and members of the school and the Christian Endeavor society, on the eve of her departure for Boston. Miss McMullen has been a faithful worker in both of these branches of church life.

Capt. C. W. Brooks, of the schooner Flyaway, recently wrecked on the Shoals, left Monday night for Mill-bridge to look after his new vessel. The captain and his friends have purchased a three-quarter interest in the schooner Alice Lord now loading at Mill-bridge. She is a fine three-masted schooner, 124 feet long, 32 feet beam, 11 feet depth of hold, built of hardwood and yellow pine, and of 300 net tons register. She will cost $20,000, and will be launched in July. Capt. Brooks is one of the best known masters sailing out of Calais.

Thos. H. Maxwell of Boston, accompanied by Mrs. Maxwell and their pleasant family, were guests at the St. Stephen school on Sunday. Mr. George, where they are to visit for some time. Mr. Maxwell is a St. George man, who has prospered in the Massachusetts city.

Capt. W. H. Laughlin, of No. 8 Company, Milltown, is attending the military school at Fredericton. He is expected home next week. Mrs. A. D. McFaul has concluded a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. P. O'Shaughnessy and returned to her home in Macleod.

An interesting event is to occur next Wednesday, when Rev. A. S. Morton will unite in marriage W. H. Keys and Miss Mamie Graham, two popular young people.

Three young lads who recently broke into the Fry-coed hotel at Campobello and stole a quantity of goods, afterwards disposing of them in Eastport, left that town on Saturday, when Marshal McDonald got after them. They drove to Calais, where they were intercepted by the Eastport officers, who had come up by train. They were found at the Jewett wharf, just below Calais, where they were evidently awaiting an opportunity to cross to the Canadian side of the river, and were captured after an exciting chase over the flats and under the wharf. They were taken to Eastport for trial.

THE FEEDING AND MANAGEMENT OF COLTS.

By J. W. Hodson, Dominion Live Stock Commissioner.

Many people think that a mare should rest from work for several weeks before foaling. This is not so. If a brood mare has been accustomed to farm work, let her continue at such work moderate work before she is due to foal. Moderate work is not only harmless, but beneficial to mares in foal, provided proper care be taken not to overload them. It is certainly better than keeping them tied up in the stable, or per- mitted to run at large in the fields with other horses. In the former case they suffer from want of exercise, and in the latter they are very liable to accidents from racing, playing or fighting with one another.

After the foal is dropped the mare should have a few days' rest, not only for her own sake, but for that of the foal. When the time of foaling approaches the mare should be turned loose in a large box stall, or if the weather be mild, in a paddock. When the mare is a valuable one, and the prospective foal is looked for with a good deal of interest, it is well to watch her closely, as many accidents have been lost, which by a little attention at the right moment might have been saved. About May, as there is then an abundance of grass and the heat is not excessive, autumn colts in midsummer are better foaled than during the day, and the mare fed green food. These extra colts are an objection to this time of breeding. For a considerable period before foaling the mare should be fed on soft food, such as clover hay, alfalfa and stimulate the flow of milk. In colts that have been found useful in increasing the milk secretion, the extra colts have the same effect upon the mare. Wheat bran is particularly desirable, fed in the form of a mash, and mixed with other good all good, but plenty of good fresh grass is probably the best aid to healthy and abundant milk secretion.

It is of the highest importance that the young horse should start life in full health and vigor, and to this end he should receive after birth take a good draught of the colostrum, or first milk of the dam. Colostrum has a purgative effect, which is necessary in order to cause the bowels to assume their natural function. If this is not accomplished naturally, a gentle purgative of castor oil should be given.

If the foal does not nurse, the foetal membranes, it must be liberated at once, or it will suffocate. If the navel cord is not free, it may be cut, but should be done in a clean place, and cut between the navel and the body. It may be severed by scraping with a sharp knife, or by using a pair of forceps. The navel cord should be kept close to the body, and too soon after cutting it should be carefully watched. It is better to cut it at such time as the mare is lying down, and the foal called joint evil, which is almost always fatal, and when not actually fatal, renders the foal not worth rearing. The best practice has shown that this disease is caused by blood poisoning, the poisonous matter being absorbed from the navel cord, from the litter or some other injurious substance touching the wound, and that by carefully disinfecting the navel cord, this disease can be avoided in most cases. A weak solution of carbolic acid is very good for the purpose. The other common troubles of young colts are diarrhoea and colic. The former is usually caused by over feeding, and the latter by indigestion. Both should be checked at once by the use of castor oil, and a branched flour meal gruel, and boiled milk. Constipation on the other hand may be relieved by the use of castor oil, and a branched flour meal gruel, and boiled milk. IN DEN OF THIEVES.

Strange Story of Girl Found in Boy's Clothing.

"Ernestine Hamilton's" Narrative of Trip to Brooklyn—Had Been Newsboy and Bootblack in New York, Climaxed the Under World of Boston in Company With a Female Pickpocket, and Tramped the Country Selling Baskets—Never Stole a Dollar

Capt. Joseph Dugan, who is taking the place of Chief Inspector Watts, now on a tour across the country with Supt. Pierce for the purpose of getting information on which to improve Boston's police force, believes that "Ernestine Hamilton," the young woman arrested in Sharon Tuesday, disguised in the attire of a boy, is a runaway.

After the first interview yesterday noon with the girl by Inspectors Wolf and Rooney and the Sharon constable, Capt. Dugan was closeted with her for an hour or more, and questioned very closely. At the end of this interview he told a group of reporters that he believed, notwithstanding the story she told, investigation would prove that the girl had run away either from relatives or a guardian.

The story she told at the first interview, and which was printed yesterday afternoon in the Globe, differed in many respects from that told later to Capt. Dugan. The captain, being cross-examiner of many years' experience, drew from the young woman particulars which others had failed to get.

"She said she was born (getting the date from those whom she had lived with) on Sept. 19, 1885. Her first recollection was when she was about four years old. She recalls being taken away from some place where she was living to a place some distance away. Where she was taken from, or by whom, she said she did not remember.

Her next recollection was while living with a family in Fitchburg. The family consisted of Mrs. John Lane, Thomas, a son, Mary Silver, a sister of Thomas, and Mrs. Francis, another sister.

At the age of 7, the girl said, she was taken to South Truro, where Mrs. Francis had a boarding place. She remained there until she was 9 years of age, living with Mrs. Francis.

At South Truro, she said she attended public schools. Mary Stocker, a teacher, was greatly interested in the young girl, and hearing her say that she had been taken away from her parents, and their names and address kept a secret from her, the school teacher interested George H. Peabody, who at that time was living in South Truro, in her behalf.

At the age of 9 years the girl seemed to realize that she had been kidnapped for some purpose, and, impressed Miss Stocker with her story.

Mr. Peabody took the child to his home, where she became one of the family, and remained for a year or more, and when Mr. Peabody was called to Fitchburg, Mass., as secretary of the Y. M. C. A., she was taken with him. Mr. Peabody still resides in that city, and holds the position of secretary.

Capt. Dugan believes that up to that point in her story the young woman told many things which were true. Her subsequent autobiography, Capt. Dugan does not believe.

After remaining in Fitchburg some time a young girl calling herself Edith Simonds appeared in that city and made her acquaintance. Ernestine says that Edith had a great influence over her, and after an acquaintance of several weeks caused her to leave Mr. Peabody's home and go with her to Brooklyn.

She said that after a while she found that Edith Simonds was a thief, that she worked as a domestic in houses simply for the purpose of locating a place where burglars could make "big hauls." The Simonds girl took her to a house on Washington street, Brooklyn, and she remained there four days. Seeing that the Simonds woman was not a good woman, she ran away from her.

Not having any money or place to stay, she looked for some place to go, and at the suggestion of a newsboy she put on long trousers and became a newsboy and bootblack. She remained there for a time and then came to Boston, how she happened to come here, she does not seem to know.

On arrival here, she says, she lived with a family in East Boston, but on what street she does not know. She was positive, however, that the name was F. C. Freeman. She stayed there only three days.

The next place she recalls being at was at the home of Mrs. L. E. Vose or Vokes, 1889 Cambridge street, Cambridge. She remained there, doing domestic work, for more than a year and a half. She was contented until the Simonds woman came across her path again (how the Simonds woman knew where she was she did not say), and then she was ready to make another move.

She said that the Simonds woman caused her to go to the local police station, where the second time four weeks and then came back to Boston. She was dissatisfied with the way she was treated in Brooklyn, claiming that all the while she was in a "nest of criminals," who tried to get her to go to the streets and to the places where burglars might be committed. It was that, she said, that caused her to run away and return to Boston.

On her return here she secured work in a restaurant and after working there a short time the Simonds woman showed up again. This time she brought with her an 18-year-old girl whose first name was Mary and whose last name she did not recall. All she knew about "Mary" was that she was a pickpocket, and robbed men in hotels. On leaving the restaurant to accompany Mary about town she met numerous men and women of the "under world" whose names she did not recall.

Her acquaintance with these men and women led her into company with a woman pedlar, who for a year or more kept her with her travelling about the country selling baskets and small wares. They travelled as Egyptians, getting their living as they went from place to place by begging and by selling baskets.

She told the captain that it was while peddling these baskets that she travelled toward Sharon, but she said it was not for the purpose of selling baskets that she went into the village of Sharon. Her story was to the effect that in some way or other she strayed away from the woman pedlar Monday, and after losing her decided that she would become a farm hand.

It was for the purpose of getting a job on some farm in the country that she walked the highways to Sharon. She denied absolutely having any connection with thieves in Sharon or anywhere else, except with the Simonds woman, and said she never stole a dollar in her life.

During the interview with Capt. Dugan the prisoner was more or less nervous. The captain noticed that she pulled her short knickerbockers down at the knees every few seconds, and shifted her legs frequently. To him it was apparent that she was not used to small attire, and he questioned her as to how long she had worn trousers and what made her appear so unaccustomed to them.

She accounted for her nervousness by saying that she had always worn long trousers and the knickerbockers made her nervous. Asked where she got them she said she made them herself out of a cast off skirt, and in cutting them had made them too short. The shortness was another reason for her nervousness, she said.

After the interview, Capt. Dugan caused Inspectors Rooney and Wolf to make inquiries at addresses which she had given in and around Boston. At Cambridge Mrs. Vose (or Vokes) was seen by the inspectors. She told them that Ernestine worked there about a year ago, and went from there to work in a restaurant on Avery street. It was in July, she thinks, that Ernestine left. It was on the recommendation of Mr. Peabody that she was employed.

From other sources the inspectors learned that the girl had worked in Frazer's restaurant at Cottage City.

HER EARLIER STORY. According to an earlier story of the girl she lived six years with a Mrs. Thomas on Montgomery street, Brooklyn. This woman, she said, when dying, told her she had been kidnapped.

As the child of death crept over the old woman she passed a letter to Ernestine, saying it would lead her to her relatives. In the girl's pocket, when arrested, was an extract of this letter. The paper is yellow with age.

Theodore Hamilton. This is your niece. Take care of her and be kind to her. Ask your father if you do not know her, and he will tell you all about it. Her name is Ernestine Hamilton. I trust her to God. Edith.

(Signed) "H. R. Hamilton." The girl said that it was directed to where Theodore Hamilton could be found, but she had never seen him, he having gone away from the address furnished her.

The prisoner is held as a vagrant, and was taken to Dedham jail late in the afternoon.

CONSTIPATION.

Causes Headache, Abdominal Pains, Piles and in Severe Cases Insanity and Apoplexy.

It is a common mistake to conclude that Constipation is not a dangerous condition. Although at first it is only accompanied by slight inconvenience and pain, yet if not corrected, it will inevitably lead to very dire results.

Great care should be used in selecting a remedy for constipation, because if a violent purgative is employed, it is sure to set up pain, irritation and inflammation, and result finally in piles.

The experience of those who have tested all the cures for constipation, seems to prove that Ferrozone is the most agreeable and satisfactory treatment. It makes the bowels so well ordered that natural and unassisted action is established. Nothing can do so the immediate sense of comfort it produces, and pains in the head, and stomach, and in the intestines, disappear almost at once.

Ferrozone is very mild and certain in its action, and never causes irritation or distress. Ferrozone can be taken early as long as regularity and it in no way interferes with business or pleasure, and nothing may be feared from its use however prolonged it may be.

For Constipation, Piles and Sick Headache, Ferrozone stands unrivalled. The driver of the city Express Company, who suffered from piles, says:—"Constant sitting on the wagon seat, produced a rectal irritation, which combined with constipated condition of the bowels brought on a severe attack of piles. I used without benefit, different ointments and other remedies; but got quick relief and most satisfactory results from Ferrozone. I can recommend Ferrozone to all who suffer from piles."

Ferrozone always cures, and can be purchased at any reliable drug store for 50 cts. a box, or three boxes for $1.25. Sent to your address by mail. If price is forwarded to N. C. Poisson & Co., Kingston, Ont. Recommended and sold by A. Chipman Smith & Co.

HON. M. C. HERBERT Will Probably be Next British Ambassador to U. S., But His Appointment Will Not be Made Till Lord Pauncefoote's Remains Arrive in England.

LONDON, May 30.—Hon. Michael Herbert, who is nominally secretary to the British embassy at Paris, will probably be the next British ambassador to the United States in succession to the late Lord Pauncefoote.

Mr. Herbert's appointment to this post was probably not announced until the remains of Lord Pauncefoote arrive in England. The only question in regard to Mr. Herbert's selection for the Washington post is the approval of King Edward.

The Associated Press understands that His Majesty is taking a keen personal interest in the matter of Lord Pauncefoote's successor, but the King will not be asked officially to confirm or disapprove the candidate.

SMASHED WINDOW TO GET FOOD. A Hungry Youngster Tempted by Good Things in a Grocer's Window Broke Glass to Get at Them.

A little ragged urchin, about eight years old, weel, shivering and half famished, stood looking with ravenous eyes into the grocery window of N. S. Springer on Simonds street about half-past ten o'clock last night.

The sight of the eatables inside excited the cravings of his empty little stomach till he became become irremediable, and picking a paving stone from the gutter he slammed it through the glass that barred him from the good things and closely related to the proprietor, who had seen the occurrence, grabbed him and hustled him to the north end police station.

Here he sobbed a pitiful story of privation interjected with earnest protestations that the window was not an accident. "The stone just bounced in," he said. "I didn't go fer to steal nothin'. I wouldn't darst steal nothin' fer me father said he would lick me if I did. Ain't had no money 'an' then I only had a piece of dry bread and a cup of tea. I'm awful hungry an' me feet is cold."

And he shivered before the fire—a picture of fearful misery. A man who was in the station produced a couple of bananas, and the way the youngster got outside of them removed all doubt regarding his hungriiness. Then a cop with gruff threatenings of a terrible lashing to follow handed him something substantial as his lunch basket. That also vanished with wonderful rapidity and was followed by more until he was satisfied and warm, when he was curled up comfortably to sleep.

The boy gave his name as George Goldie. He said he lived near the suspension bridge and had been visiting his brother's wife at the foot of Portland that afternoon. "I didn't git nothin' to eat there," he said in answer to a policeman's question, "because she had nothin' to eat in the house only a piece of dry bread, and she told me to go home. I don't know why I didn't go home. I was goin' home anyway. I want to go home now only I don't know what my father will do to me."

AT BISLEY. OTTAWA, May 30.—The secretary of the D. R. A. has received the revised programme for the Bisley rifle meeting. FEEDING AND MANAGEMENT OF COLTS

W. Hodson, Dominion Live Stock Commissioner.

People think that a mare should work for several weeks before this is not so. If a brood mare accustomed to farm work, let her do such work until a few days before due to foal.

Moderate work is beneficial, but beneficial to mares provided proper care be taken of them. It is certainly better than being tied up in the stable, or permitted to run at large in the fields and pastures.

In the former case they do not want exercise, and in the latter case they are liable to accidents from being tied up or fighting with one another. A foal is dropped the mare should be given rest, not only for her own sake but that of the foal as well. When foaling approaches the dam should be turned loose in a large box stall, where she may be attended to as she wishes. A mare is a valuable one and the foal is looked for with a good deal of interest. It is well to watch her many valuable animals have which by a little attention at the time she might have been lost.
