ST. GEORGE WINS Lubec Easy For Locals--Score 14-1.

Before about two hundred and fifty fans our boys furnished a surprise to one of Maine's best teams on Monday afternoon. This time the Lubec team, who have the honor of beating the St. Stephen and Eastport teams, were trounced to the tune of 14 to 1.

The game was delayed until 4.30 pending the arrival of the Lubec boys, and when it finally started the fans witnessed the slowest and most one-sided contest yet seen on the local field.

Many left before the game was finished and were disgusted at the brand of ball put up by Lubec. So after two hours of heavy hitting by the locals and loose fielding by Lubec the contest was called a game by agreement after six innings were played.

Humphrey of St. John and Chapdelaine of St. Stephen were hired for the occasion and formed an invincible battery while the Keegan brothers found it hard to deliver the goods.

Dixon was a new addition to the team and the fans did not seem to appreciate his style of fielding and batting. We kept track of things and can furnish the fans with a detailed account.

FIRST INNING. Morrison out Hob unassisted. Grey fanned. Basley doubled to O'Neill. Wilkinson singled to Dan Gillmor. Chances looked good for a score but Bridgman fanned. No runs.

SMITH WAS SAFE ON W. KEEGAN'S ERROR. Hob bunted safely. Stewart singled to left filling all corners. Ford hit to Bridgman who fumbled and threw wild to first and Hob and Smith scored.

O'Neill fanned. Dixon was hit. Chapdelaine hit to pitcher who fumbled letting Stewart score. D. Gillmor fanned. Humphrey singled to right scoring Ford and Dixon. Smith hit to Bridgman and was thrown out at first. Five runs.

SECOND INNING. J. Keegan hit to Dixon who made no effort to catch the fly. W. Keegan walked. F. Keegan went out on an infield hit. Thayer fanned. Morrison fanned. No runs.

Hob singled to Wilkinson. Stewart hit to Wilkinson who fumbled, Ford sacrificed. W. Keegan to Basley. O'Neill lined to Bridgman who failed to catch his man at the plate and the ball was thrown to Wilkinson who booted it letting in another run. Hob and Stewart scored. O'Neill was out stealing second. Dixon sent an easy liner to W. Keegan who threw him out at first. Two runs.

THIRD INNING. Grey fouled to Chapdelaine. Basley hit to Stewart who could not make connections with first. Wilkinson sacrificed. Chapdelaine to Hob. Basley stole third. Bridgman fanned. No runs.

Chapdelaine hit safely to deep short. D. Gillmor hit to left for a double scoring Chapdelaine and taking third on the throw home, and kept on to the plate on a wild pitch. Humphrey hit to Bridgman and was safe on the error, stole second and third and scored on Smith's liner to W. Keegan who threw him out at first. Hob was hit by the ball but was out stealing second. Stewart walked but was out stealing second. Three runs.

FOURTH INNING. J. Keegan lined to Humphrey and was safe on a close decision. W. Keegan lined to Ford, who let the ball go through him. With second and third occupied F. Keegan fanned. Thayer hit to Humphrey who threw him out at first, and Hob caught his man at the plate. No runs.

Ford hit to right and stole third. O'Neill fanned. Ford was out stealing home. Dixon fanned. No runs.

Tea is used just as freely in Canada as freely as Coffee is here, with the result that Canadian have become very exacting about the quality of their Tea. The second game in the series between the Tibbles and Cubs was played on the St. Stephen diamond Saturday afternoon and was won by the Tibbles by the decisive score of 6 to 1.

The game was notable in that it marked the passing of the purely local team, long the pride of Calais, that team disappearing with O'Connor, pitcher; Shannon, second base, and Keeves, shortstop imported from Boston. Cobb did the catching. Carter and Cavene were the battery for St. Stephen, while Huddles of Woodstock played second. R. Doyle was umpire.

Fifty years ago, as current story goes, a Connecticut farmer called together his four sons, gave them his blessing and $700 apiece and told them to go out in the world and prosper. They obeyed exclusively so. When they met, the other day, at a golden wedding of the oldest, it was noted that every one of the four was worth a million dollars, or thereabouts. Nor could it be said that one clever business man had dragged his brothers to prosperity, for each settled in different towns and there, by virtue of ability, became one of the wealthiest citizens.

HOME READING COLUMNS

What to Teach Girls

Teach her that 100 cents make a dollar.
Teach her to arrange the parlor and library.
Teach her to say "No" and mean it, or "Yes" and stick to it.
Teach her how to wear a calico dress and to wear it like a queen.
Teach her how to sew on buttons, darn stockings and mend gloves.
Teach her to dress for health and comfort as well as appearance.
Teach her to cultivate flowers and to keep the kitchen garden.
Teach her to make the neatest room in the house.
Teach her to have nothing to do with intemperate or dissolute young men.
Teach her that tight lacing is unbecomely, as well as injurious to the health.
Teach her to regard the morals and habits, and not money in selecting her associates.
Teach her to observe the old rule: "A place for everything and everything in its place."
Teach her that music, drawing and painting are real accomplishments in the home, and are not to be neglected if there be time and money for their use.
Teach her the important truism: "That the more she lives within her income the more she will save and the further she will get away from the poor-house."
Teach her that a good, steady, church-going mechanic, farmer, clerk, or teacher without a cent, is worth more than forty loafers or non-producers in broadcloth.
When most people are not taking medicine to cure them, they are eating something to make them sick.
Keep up with the wagon. Change your old views and habits for new and better ones when you find them and be always on the lookout for them.

Boys, Don't

Don't forget that you are to be men and husbands.
Don't smoke in the presence of ladies. It is never respectful.
Don't measure your respect to a person by the clothes he wears.
Don't try to make your fortune by easier means than hard work.
Don't speak carelessly of a lady's character. It is her only anchor.
Don't forget that the best and greatest man that ever walked the earth was a boy.
Don't haunt the lady of your choice at a ball, party or picnic. She has certain civilities to pay elsewhere.
Don't fix your stare on the fair ones who pass along the streets. To stare at anyone is not manly at all.
Don't neglect your business. Take pains to do your work well. Good workmen are always in demand.
Don't sneer at the opinions of others. You may learn wisdom from those far less pretensions than yourself.
Don't swear. It is not necessary and does no good. It is neither wise, manly nor polite, nor agreeable to others.
Don't grow up to be a soured old bachelor, when there are so many true and lovely girls that will make such excellent wives.
Don't flirt with a young lady to whom you are a perfect stranger. It looks most ridiculous, and you may get thrashed for it some day.

Don't unnecessarily make enemies. The good will of a dog is better than his ill will. But don't cripple your independence and your individuality to please friends.

Jealousy

How fortunate it is that there is not a jealous person among our large family of readers. We do not know of one; do you? Such being the case we can severely censure these jealous people that are to be found in most all other communities. The first boy ever born was jealous. If you remember Cain took a rough stick and killed his brother Abel because he was jealous. The sacrifice of Abel had been accepted while Cain's was rejected. Jealousy is simply a grief we experience on account of the superiority in talent, wealth, beauty, virtue or social or political recognition. It is the thunder of our neighbors' popularity which sours the milk of human kindness in us. It is the father and mother of half the woes and crimes of the human race.
When you hear a man or woman abused drive in on the defendant's side. Watch for excellences in others rather than for defects, morning glories instead of night-shades. If some one is more beautiful than you, thank God that you have not so many perils of vanity to contend with. If some one has more wealth than you, thank God that you have not so great a stewardship to answer for. If some one gets a higher office in church or state you can thank God there are not so many to wish for the besting of your obsequies. If you are assailed by jealousy take it as a compliment, for people are never jealous of a failure. Substitute for jealousy an elevating emulation. See how other industries let us work more hours. Life is short at the longest; let it all be filled up with helpfulness for other's work and sympathy for each other's misfortunes, and our arms full of white mantles to cover up the mistakes and failures of others. Surely this world is large enough for you and all your rivals, God has given you a work to do. Go ahead and do it. Mind your own business. In all circles, in all kinds of business, in all professions there is room for straightforward success.

Was "Taken Drunk."

Here's Luther Little's latest story: What threatened to be a serious situation at an up-town club late Monday afternoon was relieved by the ingenuity of a prominent New York lawyer whose name cannot be given.
When he was leaving his house his wife informed him that she was to give a five o'clock tea, and exacted a promise that he would assist in receiving the guests. The lawyer went to his club, where drank numerous Scotch highballs. Suddenly he thought of the 5 o'clock tea. It was then 5:15, and an excuse came to him like an inspiration. Scrawling the following note he sent it by messenger: "Dear Ma'am: I am sorry to disappoint you, but I have been most unwell, drunk."

Neglecting the East

Our maritime province members have in the past been too servile in their party allegiance.
They have obeyed the party lash without regard to the interests of the maritime provinces.
The work of developing was begun by the Conservative party. Under Sir John McDonald millions were spent in the construction of railways through the west provinces. Millions more were spent in inducing immigrants to settle in that portion of the Dominion with but little resulting good. Since the Liberals came into power the same policy of expenditure has been continued. "The Conservative policy is bearing fruit and the Liberal policy is bearing fruit." It is in fact the tide of immigration that has risen so high at present that it is doubtful if we can assimilate the foreign population as rapidly as we should for the good of the country. If the Conservative administration failed to get immigrants there is danger that at present we may be receiving too many different races on our shores and bidding them welcome to Canada.

The West will keep. There is no particular hurry to deed away its fertile fields to foreigners. Some of our own sons whose fathers were taxed for its early development may desire a share in the heritage. What is being done in the east a wharf here and there, a public building in a few towns but no fixed policy of improvement has been inaugurated by any government for the past twenty-five years. Our province members should lay partisanship aside and formulate a definite policy that would aid in retaining our sons at home. Not an effort is being made by our Dominion government to settle the vacant lands of this province. It is quite true that here in the East the local legislatures have greater powers over public lands than in the West but that is no reason why the West should be advertised at the expense of the East. Let our maritime members drop their sawdust wharf policy and get together to see that Nova Scotia and the other provinces get their share of the public expenditure.

Why should the Grand Trunk Pacific stop at Moncton, why not extend it to Country Harbor and open up a portion of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia that have but poor railway services at the present time.
Extreme partisanship is the bane and curse of our political life. Our provinces first and the parties second should be the motto of the men from the East. — Amherst News.

A Blue Rose at Last.

No true horticulturist is satisfied with the colors given to the blooms by nature. If a flower is essentially yellow or red he desires to produce a variety which shall be green or blue or black.
Formerly the 'blue rose' the 'green carnation' and the 'black tulip' were synonyms for the impossible, but thanks to the striving of growers after unnatural tints such phrases have lost their old significance.
Alfred Smith, F. R. H. S., of Downley, High Wycombe, who is well-known rose specialist, has been experimenting for three or four years with the view of the production of a blue rose. By the process of crossing different strains he has now succeeded in obtaining the most distinct blue rose yet produced and has given it the name of Lady Coventry.
His nursery is near the estate of the Lord Beaconsfield at Hughenden and he has previously achieved success by blending the common dog rose with the cultivated roses, a notable example of his work being a climbing rose, pure white which grows in clusters of from forty to sixty blooms.

That this is the age of the horseless vehicle, of bird-men and miniature motor craft will be forcibly demonstrated at the Dominion Exhibition in St. John, N. B. September 5th to 15th next, in the Transportation Building, where automobiles, aeroplanes, motor boats, etc., will be shown in profusion.

AN OPINION
"What impressed the writer (in the Educational Review) was the admirable system that prevails in the management in every department of work; the kindly personality and tact; the genial sympathy in the relations between teacher and pupil and the interest which each one seemed to feel in the work of the day. An Education Under Such Conditions is a Great Asset."

Nearly 100 electric fans keep the air cool in St. Thomas cathedral, Bombay. This is probably the only place of worship in the world so equipped.

Mrs. Roscoe [Royal of Bath, Me., is the ancestor of 80 children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. She is 80 years old, in excellent health and has scarcely ever been ill a day.

In Brooklyn two young women, armed with hatchets, put nine rowdies to flight. Man may play his tens. But it would look as if, with this new weapon, woman is destined to slay her thousands. Shortly there will probably be a demand for new hatchet legislation.

The contradictions of life are many. An observant man remarked recently that he was prowling about a certain city square, when he came upon a drinking fountain which bore two conflicting inscriptions.

One, the original inscription on the fountain, was from the Bible: "And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely."
Above this hung a placard: "Please do not waste the water."

The destroyer Swift is the fastest ship in the world. It was launched recently at Portsmouth, Mass. This ship, which has 1,800 tons displacement has a speed of thirty five knots per hour. Her fires are fed by petroleum. The turbines give 80,000 horse-power, divided among four screws. The English admiralty has already realized 34 knots in the destroyers Cobra and Viper, and one of these excessively long boats broke in two upon a wave not long after she was launched. The minimum speed of the French torpedo boats averages about 31 knots.

Dressed as a working man and carrying a bucket filled with mysterious compound, a Paris burglar has been in the habit of calling at flats, saying that he had come by the landlord's orders to disinfect the place. During the operation such an unpleasant smell was omitted that the tenant hastily decamped to the room farthest removed from the scene of "disinfection," leaving the door open. The burglar, the latter at length presented himself at the flat which happened to be occupied by the landlord himself and a few minutes afterward he was handed over to the police.

Edward Lawless of Milltown, N. B., narrowly escaped a shocking death, Sunday afternoon. Lawless mistook the yard of the W. C. Ry. near Salmon Falls for his bedroom, and lay down for a nap, using the rail for a pillow. While he was resting comfortably in the arms of Morpheus a shifting engine came along, and but for sharp lookout of the driver, Lawless' sleep would have lasted to all eternity. As it was he was struck and shoved off the track by the engine, causing him with a bad gash in his head which necessitated the services of a surgeon. His hat, which fell off, was cut in twain.

In driving about the country it is certainly interesting to notice the names which have been given to summer camps by their owners. There is a great deal of originality shown in the coling of words which express a meaning and yet seem to be rather fancy. For instance lately I have noticed several which have struck me fancy. One was 'Weclykit.' This being interpreted comes to "We like it," which expresses the sentiments of the owner, and at the same time gives an original name. Another was 'Haytoquittit,' and here we have the profound sentiment of the owner, and a very excusable one to the effect, "We hate to quit it." Another was, 'Weona,' "We own her," and another certainly clever one, and which sounds like Japanese but is not, was 'Itatus' which being translated comes to "It suits us." Gloucester Times.

Save Tiny Child

A tiny boy of four stood on the edge of the roaring traffic in Second avenue at One Hundred and Sixteenth street yesterday afternoon. He seemed bewildered. The rumble of the many heavy drays, the clanging of the trolleys and the deafening overhead thunder of the "L" made him afraid.

Once he started out a few steps from the curb, but he ran back again as an automobile truck sounded a warning horn.

Across the avenue seven-year old Ben Goldman was also standing on the curb. But Ben wasn't afraid of anything in Second avenue. He had been just around the corner at No. 325 East One Hundred and Sixteenth street, and the East Side trolley was the ceaseless accompaniment of his days.

Ben saw the other little chap trying to cross the street, and wriggling his way safely through the catarract of traffic, he said: "I'll take you, boy."

"I am goin'" said the little fellow. "I'm scait to go."

"Wotcha takin' 'bout?" exclaimed Ben, hurt by doubt of his prowess. "Ain't I going to take care of yah?" And, gripping the small stranger's hand, he started back across the street.

They dodged a brewer's wagon and passed, midstream, to let a trolley pass. But the roar of an elevated train filled their ears and the lines of elevated pillars blocked their view to the approach of a large automobile on the further side of the street.

Hand in hand, they were off on the final dash to the safety of the curb. A shout, a shrill blast from the driver's horn, and the machine was upon them. But even then Ben did not forget that he was "takin' care" of the other boy.

Turnin'g, he pushed him back with all his strength and the child fell clear of the wheels. But Ben was under them.

A foreign woman had rushed out—too late—to save the Goldman boy. The swerving car struck her a glancing blow that felled but did not hurt her.

Policeman Haggerty carried the crushed end of the small hero to a drug store where Dr. Balamuth from Harlem Hospital, found him dead.

Basil Brangieri, the man in the machine, was arrested and paroled. The child whom Ben had saved at the cost of his own life found his way to the sidewalk and toddled off before anyone even learned his name.

Milltown Girl Is Seriously Injured.

Calais, Aug. 31.—A terrible accident occurred in Milltown on Monday afternoon, Miss Ella Scott, aged 22, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manley Scott, had four fingers of her left hand shattered, her face badly lacerated and her breast torn by the explosion of a dynamite cartridge which she was holding. Some young boys picked up a number of the cartridges around the work now being carried on by the Washington county railway at the Salmon Falls, and not knowing their deadly nature, distributed them among her friends. One of the Scott lads got some, and the baby of the house was given one to play with. Miss Scott noticed what the infant had and, taking it away from the child began picking it with a hat pin. A terrific explosion resulted in the maiming of the young woman whose injuries it is feared may result fatally. She was removed to the Chipman hospital where she was made as comfortable as possible.

Another story credited to the late Justice Brewer has it that, while he was judge in a minor court he was presiding at the trial of a wife's suit for separation and alimony. The defendant acknowledged that he hadn't spoken to his wife in five years, and Judge Brewer took a hand from the bench in examining the witness.

"What explanation have you," he said severely to the defendant, for not speaking to your wife in five years?" "Your Honor," replied the husband, "I didn't like to interrupt the lady." Kansas City Journal.

It is easier for some men to become famous than it is for them to earn a living.

Not a Drop of Alcohol

What is a "tonic"? A medicine that increases the strength or tone of the whole system. What is an "alterative"? A medicine that alters or changes unhealthy action to healthy action. Name the best "tonic and alterative"? Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the only Sarsaparilla entirely free from alcohol. Ask your own doctor all about it. Never take a medicine doctors cannot endorse. *J. C. KEPT MOURNFUL VIGIL AT SEA.

Falmouth, Aug. 31 On the arrival here of the Liverpool bark Samaritan 107 days out from Adelaide, there was landed a large, rough wooden case. It contained the body of the captain's wife who died at sea July 17.

Ever since the captain and his seventeen-year-old daughter have kept the vigil in turns by the body enclosed in its ship-made coffin.

Captain Parker said that his wife had been going to sea with him for the last twenty years and five years ago his daughter, now seventeen years old, joined them.

At the beginning of last July his wife was taken ill with fever, and though he and his daughter nursed her and did all they could, she succumbed.

Just before she died she desired that she should be buried at Halifax, Nova Scotia, her birthplace, or if that were impossible, at the first port, she did not want to be buried at sea.

Captain Parker decided to carry out her last wish and so the ship's carpenter made a case of pine, caulked with pitch. In this the body was placed and sealed down.

The case was then placed in the life boat on the bridge, and then for twenty days and nights the captain and his daughter kept incessant vigil by it.

As the ship was towed into Falmouth the daughter, a pretty girl with her hair falling over her shoulders could be seen pacing the bridge near the lifeboat containing the coffin.

Captain Parker abandoned the idea of shipping the body to Nova Scotia, and the funeral took place here. The body was buried in the ship made coffin.

Support Your Paper.

There is nothing that calls attention and draws people to a town equal to a good newspaper. In order for a man to make a good newspaper he must have the patronage of the people among whom he lives. If he has halfway support it stands to reason that he must make a poorer paper, and in doing this every man in town and surrounding country has to bear a portion of the loss. For this reason, if for no other, the man who tries to have a good newspaper should have the support of his town people, all of whom reap fully as much benefit from its efforts as he does himself.

Terrible Death.

Auburn, N. Y., Sept. 1: Tolding unobserved from a porch where her mother sat. Rather, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stevens, of Meridian walked under a heavy draught horse that stood near. The frightened animal knocked the child down and stepped on her head, killing her instantly.

ALMOST DISABLED

Father Morrisey's No. 7 Cured His Rheumatism in 3 Weeks.

Father Morrisey's prescription, called "No. 7," cures Rheumatism completely as well as quickly, as Mr. James Major, of Hartland, N.B., gladly testifies.

"I want to tell you," he writes, "of the wonderful cure Father Morrisey's medicine made of me. I was troubled with Rheumatism so badly that I could not get into my wagon alone. After using his medicine for three weeks I was completely cured, and felt like a boy. I am now a man of 73 years of age, and in good health yet—so Father Morrisey's medicine I owe all thanks. I can truly advise anyone suffering from Rheumatism to use this medicine at once."

Father Morrisey's No. 7 Tablets act directly on the kidneys, invigorating them so that they can thoroughly cleanse the blood of the Uric Acid which causes the Rheumatism, and thus permanently cure.

Cut Throat With Piece of Glass

St. Petersburg, Aug. 31—Russian prison conditions are once more illustrated by a grim story which comes from Astor.

Long term prisoners in Russia have what they call a convicts court, which is a system or code of honor among themselves infringements of which are punished by various forms of torture. There is also a sentence of death, which in this instance was pronounced for some offence upon a fellow-prisoner.

The man's throat was cut with a piece of glass. To conceal their deed the murderers hoisted the body to the barred window, moving its arm about so as to give the impression that a man was trying to clamber through. A sentry outside saw the supposed fugitive and fired three shots into him.

Afterwards it was discovered by chance that it was not the bullets that had caused the man's death.

Wanted, A Popular Song

I had a dream of long ago
I heard the by gone hits,
The weepy home and thriller tunes,
The sentimental hits.
A shade sang 'Annie Rooney,'
And it moved my heart to hear
A song that charmed its millions,
Though dead for twenty years.
And then a haunting measure
Came floating down the hall,
And I almost failed to recognize
"After the Ball."

An air of sprightly sadness
Then wove a dreaming spell,
And I murmured in my vision,
Goodby, Blue Bell.

A swinging ragtime ditty
It's title will not rhyme,
But it often made them merry
Good old Hot Time.

They're dead and most forgotten
In this modern day of grace,
But where, I ask you gently,
Are the songs to take their place?
For the measures of the moment
Are neither sweet nor strong
And a man could make a million
With an old time popular song.

A Unique Society

A society has been formed at Darmstadt, Germany, to incultate the theory that alman should not raise his hat in meeting an acquaintance. The military salute is being substituted for the customary civilian mode. The objections to raising the hat are that the practice wears out the brim, that there is a slight danger from colds in uncovering the head in bad weather, and that the custom originated in France.

Monster Sturgeon

John Bartlett and Thomas Carle, of St. Marys, have caught what is believed to be a record sturgeon for the St. John river. The fish was about eight feet six inches long, weighed 350 pounds, the head alone weighing 371-2 pounds. The fish was caught between Oromocto Island and the mainland and has been sent to the Boston market.

Little Tots Die Together

Byng Inlet, Ont., Sept. 1: Two little children, a boy and a girl were burned to death while playing in a small barn owned by John Longmaid, father of the boy.

The lad was four years of age and the girl, a daughter of George Woods, was aged four years and five months. The little bodies, when discovered about an hour after the building was destroyed, were lying side by side.

Did you ever hear any one say they could not get good coffee except in the States?

I have heard it, scores of times, and it's one of the reasons that made me decide to go into the Coffee business.

Of the Americans who visit us in summer, hundreds take home a supply of Red Rose Tea because they have never tasted such good tea before. I determined to put up a coffee that would make for itself just as good a reputation. It has not been easy, but I am sure I have succeeded.

Estabrooks' Red Rose Coffee, put up in sealed tins is—well, it's good coffee. You and your American friends will say so.

The Alliance

The report which comes from South America that Brazil, Argentina and Chile have in effect formed an alliance for mutual protection and to maintain peace throughout the continent by the formation of such an agreement or the statement of the fact. It is this friendly understanding should be carried into effect and the alliance should be a common one. It would be a good thing if the South American nations could be united in a continental Europe. Brazil, Argentina and Chile have in the past been the enemies of the United States. It is the hope of the United States that the alliance of these three nations will be a good thing. It is the hope of the United States that the alliance of these three nations will be a good thing. It is the hope of the United States that the alliance of these three nations will be a good thing.

We have received a piece of correspondence from the Church of the Milltown Baptist team which arrived too late for this issue. I had reference to a piece in our last issue in which we reported the Milltown team for mischief and among other things we stated that Mr. Murray was obliged to erect them from the field. We were in error in this. Mr. Murray did not find it necessary to erect them but kept several of the best Milltown boys over night.

Now our article was not pointed at Milltown boys but at the importations who certainly did not have a very gentlemanly demeanor. We were wrongly informed by one of our own baseballists who came to us with an indignant air and demanded that we secure the Milltown team for mischief, etc. Our paper has always been opposed to mischief and is ever ready to uphold the claims of those who have a gentlemanly demeanor.

Now to the local Milltown boys we apologize for not making exception to them, but the others we do not as we can give instances of rowdiness. We heard a fellow man using very abusive language to the umpire after the game and he even threatened to "hand him one." Now these players were representing Milltown and our statement had reference to them. It is another case of "believe nothing you heard and half you see."

St. Stephen, Sept. 5.—The Calais hat team played a double header on their own grounds today winning from the new Milltown aggregation in the morning 8-3, and winning from the Thistles in the afternoon, 3-1. In the morning, Akerley and Fore formed the battery for Milltown, O'Connor and Wilson for Calais. Excepting in the third inning, when Milltown went in the air and allowed six runs, the game was close throughout, but without special features. Nepeun played at third for Calais and E. Doyle umpired.

In the afternoon game Peasley and Corney formed the Thistle battery, while O'Neill pitched and Iott caught for Calais. E. Doyle was in Woodland to umpire a game and Frank Taylor from the Calais post office, filled that position but not in a manner satisfactory to either team. The Thistles suffering most severely from the decisions.—Standard.

One Royal Trip

For the first time since the late war a special train is to be built to cater to a single pilgrimage on the part of the royal visitors who are to occupy them. Not since the Car ever has included in such a luxury. The occasion is the forthcoming South African tour of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught. It is to involve a large amount of travelling, the present programme calling for an itinerary of 4,000 miles. For the comfort and convenience of the royal visitors a special train is now under construction by the Central South African Railway. The cars are being built at Pretoria. The fitting up and upholstering of the royal salons is under way in England. Sir Richard Solomon, the High Commissioner for South Africa, came to London to supervise the preparation.

The royal train will be composed of ten magnificent coaches, sleeping and dining cars in the following order, starting from the engine: 1, kitchen staff and baggage; 2, private coach; 3, Duchess of Connaught's saloon; 4, royal dining car; 5, observation car; 6, first class coach for ladies; 7, dining car for ladies; 8, second class car; 9, kitchen staff and baggage. In the case of a head-on or rear-end smash the coaches and the trucks will serve as buffers.

The Duchess's saloon is a creation in line with velvet and satin upholstered furniture. The car will have a double roof to keep out the heat. The side walls will be South African walnut and mahogany. The carpet and cushions are of velvet. The side panels of the tables, writing desk, chairs and sofas are of silver and oak. The bed chamber, which takes up the front half of the car, is white, except the carpet, which is blue. A bathroom with a nickel tub adjoins the Duchess's bedroom and next to the bathroom is an apartment for the maid. The Duke's car is also finished in mahogany and day saloon. The general scheme of solar treatment is in green, white and maroon. The furniture consists of coaches at the front and back and dining chairs in the centers. Along the sides of the car a large writing table has been fixed and by its side a small writing desk, while in the centre of the saloon is a table.

At the terminal elevators, the storage capacity of which now aggregates 2,250,000 bushels, more than at this time last year—the first few cars of grain have been received, and everything is in readiness for the annual fall race with time and wheat.

With the Canadian Northern road being in much better condition than it has ever been before, with the second trunk of the Canadian Pacific between Fort William and Winnipeg carrying one half of that line's freight between the two cities, and the Grand Trunk Pacific in readiness to bring forward its hundreds of thousands of bushels of wheat, the more dreaded grain blockades of Western Canada are declared a bugaboo of the past.

The man about to pay his fire on a pay-as-you-enter car, dropped a dollar, which fell to the pavement and rolled off across the pavement into an opening, where it disappeared.

The loser watched its course.

"It wouldn't have gone half as far if I had spent it," he said.

The Black Faced Minstrels
A full house greeted the Minstrels in the hall on Friday evening thus signifying their willingness to aid the Baseball Association. Part I consisted of a musical program by the four endmen assisted by a chorus of twenty. An outpouring of jokes, yarns, and riddles was broken intervals by songs by the endmen.

Mr. Woolf's selection, "Shovelin' Coal," was appreciated. The instrumental quartet was well executed. Part 2 consisted of a farce entitled "A Prodigal Son," an original sketch by Mr. Dixon. The only feature of the entertainment which was displeasing to the audience was the personal allusions made concerning one or two of the young ladies of the town. These remarks were not even funny and entirely uncalled for. The sum of $25 was cleared and given to the Baseball Association.

Doctors Condemn Oily Liniment. The Public are Warned to be Careful of these Strong Smelling Oily Liniments Containing Acids, etc.

Many people have clung to the old-fashioned idea that a thick, greasy liniment is the best kind. Doctors say not so they know.

Recently a number of these white ointments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormous high percentage of harmful acids, and such irritating chemicals as ammonia, etc. For the moment they may cause a warm sensation when first applied, but their continued use never cures rheumatism, and only deteriorates the skin, sets up inflammation and causes endless trouble.

When a doctor warns you to quit using a white oily liniment, do so. He knows that a thick oily liniment can't penetrate, can't sink through the pores and reach the seat of pain.

When asked his opinion a few days ago, Dr. Roberts stated that he considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment, such as 'Nerviline', to be superior to any of the white ammonia liniments.

In his twenty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago that simply would not respond to ordinary liniment but Nerviline cured them.

The same physician also spoke of the great advantages of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house always, because of cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disorders, earache, toothache, headache, and such minor ailments. Nerviline is a first class cure. There is scarcely an ache or a pain, internal or external, that Nerviline won't cure. In thousands of homes no other pain-relieving medicine is used. Fifty years' continued success and the endorsement of the profession are proof that Nerviline is the liniment for the home.

Any good druggist or dealer can supply Nerviline in two sizes 50c. and 25c.

A Fish Story

While enjoying a sail about the harbor in his motor boat, accompanied by friends on Tuesday forenoon, Albert Morrison discovered floating on the water apparently in a dying condition, a huge monk or tallast-fish, known as the sea-scuttler, a fish with voracious appetite and a subway mouth and throat which devours everything almost that comes his way. With little effort the fish was captured and brought ashore to the Spear market on Capen wharf where on opening, a live codfish which tipped the scales at 23 pounds, was found imprisoned within the great fish's maw. It would seem almost impossible for the fish to have been swallowed at its present size and the supposition is that it entered the big fish's stomach when much smaller and that it has been growing there for a long time. Facts for Weak Women

Nine-tenths of all the sickness of women is due to some derangement or disease of the organs distinctly feminine. Such sickness can be cured—is cured every day by

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

It Makes Weak Women Strong. Sick Women Well.

It acts directly on the organs affected and is at the same time a general restorative tonic for the whole system. It cures female complaint right in the privacy of home. It makes unnecessary the disagreeable questioning, examinations and local treatment so universally insisted upon by doctors, and so abhorrent to every modest woman.

We shall not particularize here as to the symptoms of those peculiar affections incident to women, but those wanting full information as to their symptoms and means of positive cure are referred to the People's Common Sense Medical Advisor—1925 edition, newly revised and up-to-date edition, sent free on receipt of 21 cent cost of postage in cash.

TOURISTS

No one's character and personal traits are to be read in the teeth also tendencies and traits, cultivated and uncultivated.

Teeth that point inward remind you of a fish's teeth. They are usually short, rather sharp, and the inward curve is very pronounced.

Such belong to the selfish, and also denote some personal vanity. If you know people whose teeth curve inwardly, beware for they look out for themselves first and for you afterward. They are usually inordinately fond of good things to eat, and they will go to great lengths to get what they want.

Teeth that are separated by large, open spaces generally belong to a vicious disposition. The man whose teeth are separated is cruel in his nature, and the woman whose teeth are not pushed together, but that grow apart so as to leave big spaces between, is the woman whose fits of temper have often got her into trouble.

Very large teeth that show prominently and come to a point in front denote much animal spirit. Women who have such teeth as this are inclined to laugh a great deal and to enjoy life. When you find such a set of teeth you find a good disposition; and the teeth if well-carved for, are a positive beauty in the good-natured face.

Teeth set in a narrow jaw indicate refinement. No matter how large they be or how irregular, they show that the owner has refined tastes and quick natural sympathies.

Very short, stubby teeth denote obstinacy, and when the teeth are very blunt, as though they had been sawed off, those blessed with such teeth can be relied upon to hold their own in an argument, whether they are right or wrong. They will neither give up nor in to anybody. Projecting teeth are hideous, but they denote generosity. Women with projecting teeth are usually pious, generous, good-natured, and free from affectations of woman kind. Such teeth belong to the best people in the world, those who can be relied upon in time of trouble.

Very talented people have uneven teeth, all sizes, all shapes, and gathered together apparently at haphazard by Mother Nature. Precocious children who show such teeth as this, and you will find such a row of teeth in the mouths of a man or woman who has done something in the world.—Rx.

The Secret.

"I noticed," said Dr. Franklin, a mechanic among a number of others, at work on a house erecting but a little way from my office, who always appeared to be in a misery humor, who had a kind word and a cheerful smile for every one he met. Let the day be ever so cold, gloomy or sunless, a happy smile lanced like a sunbeam on his cheerful countenance.

"Meeting him one morning, I asked him to tell me the cause of his constant overflow of spirits. 'No secret, doctor,' he replied. 'I have got one of the best wives, and when I go to work she always has a kind word of encouragement for me, and when I go home she meets me with a smile and a kiss; and then tea is sure to be ready, and she has done so many little things through the day to please me that I cannot find it in my heart to speak an unkind word to anybody.'—Christian Endeavor World.

The Laconic Waiter

The waiter who hauled out his order to the cook in the kitchen may soon be as excited as the bride, but his cries should live forever.

"Attention! bread in a hurry," says a customer. "Bread in the rain! Make him eat!" shouts the waiter.

"Beefsteak and onions," says a customer. "John! John! Make him a gony!" shouts the waiter.

"Where's my baked potato?" asks a customer. "Mrs. Murphy in a scaliskin coat!" shouts the waiter.

"Two fried eggs; don't fry 'em too hard," says a customer. "Adam and Eve in the garden! Leaves their eyes open!" shouts the waiter.

"Chicken croquettes," says a customer. "Foot ball!" shouts the waiter.

"Hash," says a customer. "Gentleman wants to take a chance!" shouts the waiter. "I'll have a hash, too," says the next customer. "Another sport!" shouts the waiter.

"Glass of milk," says a customer. "Let it rain!" shouts the waiter.

"Frankfurters and sauerkraut, good hot," says a customer. "Fido, Shep and a tale of hay!" shouts the waiter; and let 'em sizzle!—New York Evening Sun.

His Decisions Ready in Advance.

Mayor Lyons of Mobile said in a recent interview:

"No; I cannot pronounce judgment on this question yet. Do you take me for Judge Talliaferro?"

Judge Talliaferro, the Mayor explained with a smile, was holding back court before the war in a little court house of Citronelle. It was a cloudy spring afternoon and a very difficult and puzzling case was on. The lawyers wrangled, quoted from great law books into grand flights of eloquence, while Judge Talliaferro listened solemnly or paced out of the window at the approaching storm.

"This is the case," he said, "and I have a decision ready in advance. The parties to the suit are, I think, the plaintiff and the defendant."

"Colonel," he said finally, to the lawyer, who had the floor, "assume me to interrupt you, and say I want that you should go right on with your argument, for it's a good one."

But it's snafu goin' to rain this evenin', colonel, an' I just natchery got to get out my sweet potatoes right awdy. But you go right on, colonel; and majah, you follow him up; an' when you two gentlemen get through you'll find my decision under this heap weight."

And the Judge disappeared through the door before the lawyers had time to exchange one astonished glance.
