Why They Like Them

One man says he likes the everlasting wear, another, because he doesn't have to break them in. A third says he's struck on the "action" of the style, and they ALL say that "Astoria" is the best shoe THEY EVER had. Anyway there're none as good in THIS country.

ONCE A CAZAR—NOW PENNILESS.

John I. Davenport, for years the Czar of Manhattan on election day, a man who boasted that he made and spent $50,000 a year, the most talked about man in New York a decade ago, is today broken in health and almost destitute, though not yet 60. From a modest little flat he goes daily to Lower Broadway, where he visits the office of an old-time friend, and sits for hours in the ante-room waiting for the five minutes' audience that he knows will result in a little aid. During the war, Davenport was military secretary of Gen. Benjamin F. Butler. His notoriety came in 1874 with his appointment as chief supervisor of elections under a federal law applicable only to New York city. His plan of campaign was to arrest Democrats by the wholesale on election day and lock them up in an iron cage built on the fourth floor of the Federal building. His object was to keep them from the polls. He usually did. After his retirement from office he practiced law for awhile and soon dropped entirely from public view.

SOLDIERS HAD A MERRY TIME.

Annual Ball of Non-Coms. and Men of No. 1 Co., R. C. R. I.

Affair Was One of the Most Successful in the History of Wolseley Barracks.

The non-commissioned officers and men of Wolseley Barracks provided a very pleasant entertainment for their friends last night, the occasion being the annual ball. The affair has always been a most delightful one, and last night's event was no exception. Nearly 200 of the soldiers' friends "stepped it off," and the extent of their pleasure was best manifested by the many congratulations showered on the committees who made the event so successful.

Precisely at 8:30 dancing began, and the "lights" were called were needed before the merry company retired, as daylight had almost dawned. Three large rooms at the barracks were chosen for the event, and under the careful supervision of Pte. Robinson were attractively decorated. As would be expected, the decorations were symbolic of patriotism. The hallways and banisters were draped in bunting, and the walls of each hall were entirely covered with bright colors. Queen Victoria's portrait and the present King's were draped with Union Jacks and Royal Standards, as were pictures of other members of the royal family and famous battle scenes. Attractive bits of decorative art were several stars formed of regulation bayonets at the east and west ends of the rooms.

Imagination would have to soar high to construct a prettier picture than the one witnessed in the ballroom. Every man and officer was in full military dress. Red and blue predominated, and with the khaki—for some of Africa's veterans attended—the soft colors of the feminine attire, presented a scene of great and ever-changing beauty.

Behind a screen of palms Cortes's orchestra played sweet music. The supper, which was laid in the large room upstairs, was almost as desired. On a large stand in the center of the room were exhibited the Carling trophy and the Canadian Rifle League cup, won by the company several years ago.

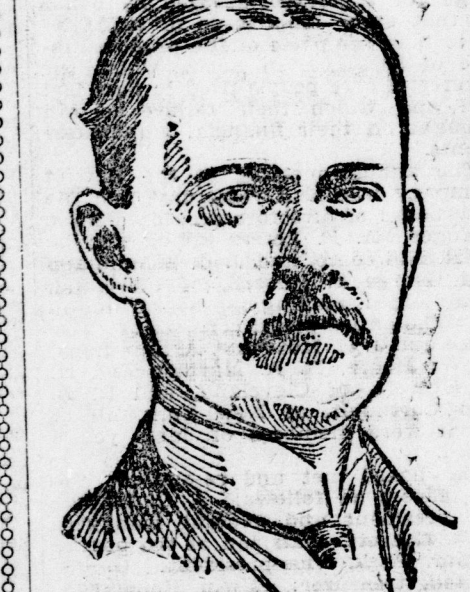

Color-Sergeant Cranston was chairman, and the committees which conducted the affair were the following: Music—Corp. O'Connell, Lance-Corp. Walsh. Refreshments—Quartermaster-Sergeant Dunlevy, Sgt. Blake-Foster, Sgt. Cockburn, Pte. Chairman. Decorations—Corps. Strong, McIntyre, McMahon, and Ptes. Merrick, Downey, Robinson, Glenn, Col-Sergeant Cranston, Cockburn and Ptes. McMahon and Strong acted as floor managers.

Mr. Samuel Taylor was master of ceremonies.

Catarrh of the Stomach

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effective Cure for It.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played-out, languid feeling. There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue, and if the interior of the stomach could be seen, it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily and thoroughly digested before it reaches the stomach, and if the interior of the stomach could be seen, it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

According to Dr. Harlan, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Digestase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux. Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mrs. N. J. Booher, Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of the stomach, without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found renewed appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE

Holds Another of Its Very Brief Sessions.

Several Bills Passed a First Reading—Report of the Game Commission.

Toronto, Jan. 22.—An interesting feature of yesterday's short session was the presentation of the annual report of the game commission.

A number of bills got their first reading, including one introduced by Mr. Macdormand, of West Elgin, to amend the assessment act, providing that the income tax exemption shall be raised from $700 to $1,000, and abolishing the poll tax, on the ground that it is a dead letter in big centers like Toronto.

Among the private bills introduced was one brought in by Mr. Patullo, respecting an estate in Oxford county.

REVISION OF STATUTE LAW.

The attorney-general, in moving the second reading of the bill to provide for the revision of the statute law, entered into a detailed explanation interesting chiefly to the legal profession. Some evidence of the amount of labor involved might be gained, he said, when he mentioned that the imperial statutes embraced in the volume extended back to the reign of Henry III. In the thirtieth century. The number of statutes examined and passed upon by the committee was between 1,100 and 1,200, and embraced 1,800 printed pages in addition to 300 or 400 of manuscript.

It was a remarkable fact that so much legislation enacted in the reign of that great and good sovereign, Edward III., should still be in force. He ventured to say that there was not a lawyer in the house who had not frequently wondered that an attempt had not been previously made to compile all the various imperial statutes in convenient form. Wherever possible, the original phraseology of the acts shall be no imperial statutes in force in the province; and he called the attention of the house particularly to the schedule enumerating the statutes which would be repealed. Nearly all the acts in that schedule were obsolete, worn out, and had been repealed by provincial legislation.

Mr. Whitney congratulated the attorney-general on the measure and on the way in which the compilation had been done.

The bill was then read a second time and the house adjourned.

THE GAME COMMISSION.

The tenth annual report of the Ontario game commission, which was presented yesterday, showed that the past season had been very favorable. The abundance of game of all kinds had been maintained for many years. It was an excellent thing that there were a lot of game preserves in various parts of the province, otherwise the stock of game would undoubtedly be exhausted in a few years. During the past season, the number of deer was issued, compared with 4,200 in 1900. The kill was, no doubt, corresponding to the number of deer. The Ontario Game Commission, for instance, carried 2,222 carcasses—53 more than last year. The weight of venison carried in the past season was 256,657 pounds, against 161,312 pounds in 1900. The commission estimated that the deer would be killed proportionately large amounts. It was within the mark, and the deer were abundant. The commission estimated that at least 10,000 deer were killed during the season.

As usual, a large number of prominent sportsmen witnessed the open season, which commenced on Oct. 15 to Nov. 15, claiming that fewer deer would be killed during a season of half the length. On the other hand, there were those who claimed that the restrictions, such as the prohibition of hunting, the destruction of dogs, and the killing of deer for a term of years or every alternate season. The commission, however, saw no reason to change the present season.

WORLD'S LARGEST GAME DISTRICT.

On the strength of reports from the wood rangers and inspectors, the commission expressed the opinion that Ontario had the largest game district on the continent, and perhaps the world. After due consideration, it had come to the conclusion that the season for moose and caribou might be extended to the district north of the main line of the C. P. R., between Mattawa and Port Arthur, for one month, Oct. 15 to Nov. 15, inclusive, were the limits recommended. The commission recommended that the open season for moose and deer remain the same south of the C. P. R. main line. It also recommended the use of traps in chasing deer, and the killing of deer in the water, be abolished. The new regulations, which will relieve the rush to the districts south of the C. P. R., which at present are added to be overcrowded.

The commission also reported that deer hunting in the River district this year for the first time, presumably from the State of Minnesota. It was reported that in order to protect them, the killing of deer in that district be prohibited for three years.

The commission also proposed that the quail season be shortened to a period from Nov. 15 to Dec. 15, on the ground that many shot in October have been shown to be not sufficiently matured. The commission did not approve of the agitation for the killing of the wood hare or cotton-tail rabbit all the year around, except in the case of the cottontail, which covers as the cotton-tails, and might be slaughtered at the same time. The commission regretted that the efforts were not made towards restoring the game-depleted covers of the province, and the heaviest game birds, for instance, the Mongolian pheasant for the southwestern counties, and the capercaillie for the rest of the province.

SAN JOSE SCALE.

The minister of agriculture has in preparation a bill to make compulsory the treatment of all trees affected by the San Jose scale. The government is considering the advisability of offering limited bounties to those who destroy the scale, and also of making it possible for municipalities to appoint and maintain scale officers.

BLIZZARDS PREVAIL

Northwestern Pennsylvania and New York State Visited by Severe Storms.

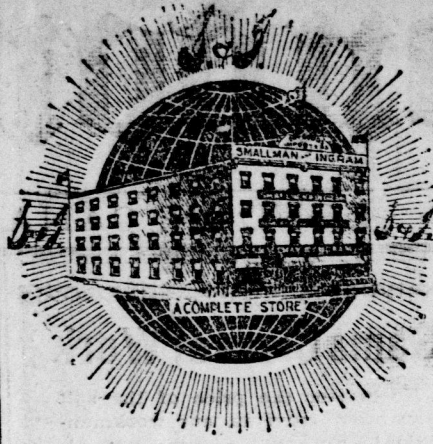

SEVERE BLIZZARD.

Erie, Pa., Jan. 22.—Northwestern Pennsylvania is in the grip of a severe blizzard. The snow is from the east, and already trolley lines and railroads are feeling its effect.

TROLLEY LINES TIED UP.

Buffalo, Jan. 22.—Urban trolley lines are tied up tonight, and the cars in the city are running without regard to schedule time as the result of one of the heaviest snow storms of the season. Reports from Lockport and Tonawanda say that the storm has been severe in that vicinity. Telegraph and telephone wires are down and street car service is almost entirely suspended. Steam roads are running about an hour behind time.

A terrific snowstorm is raging in

Dr. Deimel's Linen Mesh Underwear for Health.

The greatest of all ancient law-givers and physicians, Moses, whose laws provide especially for cleanliness, recognized the purity and healthfulness of Linen Underwear, as well as the heat-retaining property of a woolen garment. Ezekiel, lxxv. 17-18, reads: "They shall be clothed with linen garments, and no wool shall come upon them." They shall not gird themselves with anything that causeth sweat.

The Dr. Deimel Underwear of White and Porous Linen Mesh is of extreme comfort to a healthy skin. It will speedily and safely restore a wool-weakened skin to a condition of normal activity, enabling it to attend to the work for which it is intended. We have the sole right to sell this splendid Underwear for ladies in London.

SMALLMAN & INGRAM,

Chautauque county tonight. Since 5 p.m. fifteen inches of snow have fallen. It is damp and heavy, and does not drift. Railroad lines are getting trains through about an hour late.

CHILLY WINNIPEG.

Mr. R. F. Stupart, superintendent of the Dominion meteorological service of Toronto, has found, by research, that Winnipeg, Manitoba, is the coldest city of any importance in British territory. There are colder places in Siberia and even in Canada. White River, on the north shore of Lake Superior, frequently reports temperatures ten degrees below the capital of the Prairie Province. Winnipeg, when they come east, have a great habit of laughing when the Ontario man declares that the Winnipeg weather is too much for him. He at once tries to make out that the western city is no colder than Montreal or Ottawa, but he can't prove it by statistics.

Winnipeg's average mean temperature for the year is 32.6, while the average for the winter months is 15.6 below zero. The highest temperature on record at Winnipeg is 103, and 53 below zero is the coldest ever registered there officially. Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, is colder than Winnipeg, having a yearly average temperature of 30.5, and a winter average temperature of 3 degrees below zero. The lowest on record at Prince Albert is 70 degrees below the zero mark.

Chatham and Windsor run an another prize race for the warmest place of any size in Ontario. At Chatham the annual mean temperature is 48 degrees, while the highest point ever touched was 102, and the lowest 21 below zero. Windsor's high temperature record is 101 degrees, and the coldest period sent the mercury down to 27 below zero.

HEAVY FALL OF SNOW IN BUFFALO.

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 22.—Since yesterday, about seventeen inches of snow have fallen in this city. It is wet, and has not drifted. By the constant use of snow plows the local trolley company has managed to keep its lines open and cars are running without serious delay. The mails from Chicago arrived this morning somewhat late, but up to 9 o'clock no mails had arrived from New York city. Snow is still falling, but with indications that it will turn to rain.

A TERRIBLY OF NATIONAL REPUTATION

Are Men Who Recommend Pe-ru-na.

(Ex-Brigadier-General and Ex-Congressman J. Floyd King, of Louisiana, Writes His Indorsement.)

EX-BRIGADIER GENERAL J. FLOYD KING

Gen. J. Floyd King, of Louisiana, was a member of the 49th Congress, and was Brigadier-General in the Confederate Army from the commencement to the end of the Civil War. He writes from Washington, D. C., as follows:

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:

Gentlemen—"Being personally acquainted with many distinguished men, national statesmen and others of high character from all over the United States who I observe by the public prints have given their indorsement to your great catarrh remedy Peruna, I unhesitatingly state that I am convinced it is a medicine which will effect all the cures which is claimed for its use." J. FLOYD KING.

Mr. R. H. Harris, No. 306 Potomac Ave., Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "I have never enjoyed such perfect health as I have since I learned the value of Peruna as a tonic and vigorator. Last winter a severe cold attacked me and I lost my appetite, and was unable to do any work. Peruna was called to my notice and after using it for four days I began to improve and the cold disappeared after taking one bottle. I find it a safeguard against colds, and I often take a dose as a preventative."

R. H. HARRIS.
Mr. Isaac J. Neil, Strathroy, Ont., District Master of the Orange Association of British America, West Middlesex county, District of Adelaide, writes: "I cannot speak too highly of the benefits that I have derived from the use of Peruna. I had a severe cough, and my lungs seemed choked up with phlegm which I had great difficulty in raising. My head ached, my eyes were weak, and I was miserable. A friend advised me to take Peruna. I had not much faith in patent medicine, but I tried one bottle of Peruna, and I improved so much that I kept on taking it and I am now on the third bottle and I am well."

ISAAC J. NEIL.
Mrs. Asa C. Danforth, St. Joseph, Mich., writes:

"About a year ago I contracted a severe cold which settled on my lungs. I was threatened with pneumonia, and realized that I must take some immediate steps to prevent a serious illness. A friend advised me to take Peruna with good results. I decided to give it a trial, and found that it gave me relief within a couple of days. The soreness was greatly diminished. I was greatly benefited and I was gradually restored to health. Three bottles saved me a large doctor's bill, and a great deal of suffering. I firmly believe that Peruna is a high class medicine and have perfect confidence in its curative ability."

ASA C. DANFORTH.

Ex-Congressman General of Australia.
Hon. James Morgan, 1735 Twentieth street, Washington, D. C., ex-Lieutenant U. S. Navy, and ex-Congressman to Australia, writes:

"The use of your Peruna as a remedy for cure for catarrh by many of my friends who have been benefited by the same, as well as my own experience as to its efficacy and good tonic properties causes me to recommend it to all persons." JAMES MORGAN.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. H. H. Rogers, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

THE RICE MURDER

Albert T. Patrick Once More on Trial—Hearing of Evidence Will Take a Month.

New York, Jan. 21.—Albert T. Patrick was called to trial yesterday before Recorder Goff on an indictment charging him with the murder of William Marsh Rice, who died in this city Sept. 23, 1900. Rice was a millionaire reclusive. He lived at an apartment house with his valet-servant, Chas. P. Jones. At the time of the murder, Patrick took charge of the funeral arrangements, and notified Rice's relatives in distant parts of the country. Before the funeral service was held, Patrick showed that Mr. Rice was dead when the check was presented to the bank. Payment on this check was refused. Patrick then produced a will signed William Marsh Rice, under which all the estate of more than $5,000,000 was bequeathed to Patrick. An earlier will, dated Sept. 23, 1896, left the greater part of the estate to the Rice Institute at Houston, Tex., and other educational establishments. Morris Mayer and David L. Short, who witnessed what came to be known as the Patrick will, were indicted for forgery. Jones, the valet, was also arrested. He made a statement to the effect that Patrick killed Rice by administering chloroform, and that he was thereupon held for trial upon the charge of murder.

When the case was called it was announced that the hearing of the evidence would require at least a month of the court's time.

SIX MEN KILLED.

Walsenburg, Col., Jan. 21.—Word comes from this place that a terrible explosion occurred in one of the mines operated by the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, at that place, six men were instantly killed, and ten or more wounded, many of them perhaps fatally. The mine immediately caught fire.

Doctors Order It.

Doctors see at once the advantage of taking a medicine right to the part that is sick. You see the doctor orders his own medicines for the disease, and has his patient use Vapo-Cresolene at the same time. It destroys all germs of diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, and other contagious diseases; and croup, sore throat and hard colds. You now see why it often cures whooping-cough in a few days.

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. A Vapo-Cresolene outfit, including the Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a life-time, and a bottle of Cresolene, complete, $1.50; extra supplies of Cresolene and Vapo-Cresolene, 50c. Illustrated booklet containing physicians' testimonials free upon request. Vapo-Cresolene Co., 210 Fulton St., New York, U.S.A.

LABOR MATTERS

Serious Charges Made Against Officers of the United Mine Workers.

Indianapolis, Jan. 22.—President Mitchell announced to the convention of the United Mine Workers yesterday that charges had been made by Miss Millie Meredith, an ex-employee of the national office, affecting himself as president of the national body, against the national secretary, Mr. Wilson, and also against the national executive board. He asked the convention to hear the charges at once, and to elect a committee to investigate. The announcement created a flurry of excitement among the delegates. A committee was appointed to escort Miss Meredith to the hall, and to receive her. She was accompanied by a large number of friends. The reading of the charges presented an unusual scene in a miners' convention. Miss Meredith was a tall, slender brunette of excellent appearance. Her statement, which she read herself, concerned the alleged shortage of $25,000, which she alleged had been taken from the treasury of the United Mine Workers, and that she "willfully lied" to the miners' committee a year ago. She demanded an investigation of the books to see how much Pearce's alleged shortage really was. She intimated that both Mitchell and Wilson sought to protect Pearce, and for that reason did not give out all the facts.

THE LABOR GAZETTE.

Ottawa, Jan. 21.—The Labor Gazette for January was issued yesterday. It contains a brief resume of the condition of the labor market, from which it is gathered that, industrially speaking, the year, on the whole, an exceptionally good one for the wage-earners of the Dominion. An account is given of the strike of piano-makers in Toronto, which was fortunately settled through the friendly intervention of Hon. William Mulock under the conciliation act. Among the subjects of particular interest are an article on Sunday labor, considered in some of its legal aspects, and a review of the experience of Great Britain under the conciliation act, 1896, of that country.

REAL THING LASHING FOR UNCLE TOM ACTOR

John L. Sullivan Played Simon Legree With Fierce Realism in Boston.

Boston, Jan. 22.—An audience which packed the Academy of Music in Chelsea from pit to dome Saturday night saw the greatest bit of realism that has ever been produced on the American stage.

John L. Sullivan, ex-champion pugilist, gave the audience the great treat, but to one man it proved the most painful thing he had ever endured. John L. is starring as Simon Legree in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and made his first appearance in this vicinity Saturday night. Hundreds of the ex-champion's old-time friends crossed the river to give him a welcome. He knew they were in the house, and determined to do himself justice. He simply let himself out, so to speak, and realism got right up on its hind legs and danced the Spanish fandango. Spurred on by the plaudits of the excited spectators, John L. acted as actor never acted before. With countless delicate touches, many of them unperceived by the audience, Sullivan worked up to the climax where Legree whips Uncle Tom to within an inch of his life. Sullivan believes in holding the minor parts up to the required limit, and he did it. He wound his ten-foot lash around the writhing form of Uncle Tom to such good purpose that the actor playing the part screamed in agony, and finally fell fainting to the stage. Sullivan in his artistic frenzy forgot that the waist, which was protected by a leather belt, was the proper place to lick, and he licked Uncle Tom all over the body and legs, anywhere the whip happened to land. It was great acting.

LEGION OF HONOR OFFICIAL SUICIDES.

St. Louis, Jan. 22.—Wm. H. Hoffmeister, of St. Louis, ex-supreme recorder of the Legion of Honor, committed suicide at the Planters' Hotel yesterday by shooting himself. Hoffmeister was defeated last night for re-election as supreme recorder of the Legion of Honor, by C. P. T. White, and an entirely new supreme council was elected after a sensational contest.

Recent Elections.

The recent elections for the Dominion Parliament are instructive. They show an increase of Liberal majorities in Ontario, and a lessening of the same in Quebec, so that, as one journal remarks, if the process goes on, the people who raise the French cry will need to change their tune. As a matter of fact, it would be much better if such tunes were not raised at all. The lowering of Liberal majorities in Quebec are partly accounted for by local jealousies and personal ambitions. That points to a danger which always comes from splitting into factions. Such a danger as we see when we look around, is that it is a general danger in the parliamentary system. That system works best with fairly well-matched living parties. However, each party must settle its own local difficulties in its own way.

The spectacle was again presented of a party with a two-faced policy. To denounce the Government for slackness in responding to Imperial needs, and also to denounce the same Government for being too Imperialistic and subservient to Mr. Chamberlain—that may seem to be very clever, but it is indeed the height of folly. It is as if we have said before quite out of date. Mr. Monk may succeed in creating some discontent and inflaming an anti-English feeling in some corners of Quebec, but at the same time he alienates influential Conservatives elsewhere. Really, the Conservatives, if they mean to be a Dominion party and not a mere collection of factions, should get together, and find out what their policy on Imperial questions really is. That is, of course, their business, but it is also the business of all intelligent people.

The time is coming when Canadians will demand from their statesmen large, clear views, free from narrow sectionalism and racial prejudice. Of course, there will always be legitimate party tactics in political warfare. But when we are properly enlightened, it will be seen that appeals to prejudice of race and religion do not belong to that order.

Two Striking Leaders.

If Sir William Vernon Harcourt is elevated to the peerage, when the coronation of the King takes place, a picturesque figure will be removed from the British House of Commons. Sir William entered the House of Commons in 1863, the year in which Gladstone swept the country on the Irish Church question. Ever since he has been a leader in the Liberal ranks. He has represented Oxford, Derby and Monmouthshire, for which latter constituency he now sits. As for many years he was Gladstone's right hand man in the House of Commons, he naturally enough regarded himself as a fit person to take up the mantle of the veteran statesman when he went out of public life, but somehow or other the Grand Old Man chose to designate Lord Rosebery, lately so much in the public eye, as his successor in the leadership. There is an explanation for that, of course, too. Lord Rosebery it was who was the chief fighter for Gladstone in the memorable campaign in the early '80's, when he went north to Scotland, and measured swords with the great house of Buccleuch. Many of our readers will remember with what energy Gladstone went into that campaign. The odds seemed greatly against him, for the Buccleuch family had great territorial influence in Midlothian, and the Earl of Dalkeith, the heir to the rich dukedom, who was the Conservative candidate, had many elements of strength. However, Gladstone put up the fight of his life in that campaign, and he won. He did not claim for himself the entire credit of his signal victory, for he publicly avowed that the silver-tongued Earl Rosebery had really won the day for him. And it was generally conceded that the master of Dalmeir really had much to do in achieving the famous victory for the great leader. Nevertheless, it is known that Sir William Vernon Harcourt did not take kindly to being passed over, and to seeing the leadership of the party transferred to the House of Lords, and he never pulled very cordially with Lord Rosebery while he was Prime Minister. In one respect it may be noted, Lord Rosebery agreed with Sir William. He did not think it a very satisfactory thing to have a member of the House of Lords for a popular leader. Long before he was asked to assume the leadership he so declared himself. He lamented that by birth he inherited a position in the hereditary chamber which it was impossible to vacate by choice. If it had been so, he was wont to say, he would have much preferred to be a member of the House of Commons where a sphere of usefulness was open to a progressive citizen of the Empire which was closed to him in the dull upper chamber. At one time we do not know what is his mind now—Lord Rosebery expressed himself as favoring legislation to enable a member of the House of Lords to forego his seat in that chamber, and qualify for the House of Commons. Were that possible today, we believe that Lord Rosebery would choose to enter the popularly-elected chamber, for there are probably good grounds for the belief that his comparative inactivity in recent years has, in some measure, been dictated by the fact that he was a peer. It would be an interesting sight to see Sir William Vernon Harcourt entering the House of Lords, and by his inimitable pronouncements on public questions, shaking up the dry bones among the hereditary legislators. It would be an equally interesting spectacle to have a lord with the prestige of Earl Rosebery entering the House of Commons by means of popular elections. If Lord Rosebery is debarred from so doing he might be prevailed upon to shake hands with the doughty Sir William, and the twain could make an offensive and defensive alliance in the House of Lords that might be of great advantage to the Liberal party and to the country.

British Empire League—Col. Denison's Lecture Friday Night.

The newly-formed branch in London of the British Empire League in Canada has induced the President of the League, Col. George T. Denison, of Toronto, to consent to deliver a lecture under its auspices, and those of the Daughters of the Empire, in the Auditorium, on Friday evening next.

Though the admission to this lecture is free, yet those desirous of securing a seat in advance may do so at Northcote's music store, Dundas street, by a payment of 25 cents; the proceeds of which will be devoted to the fund for the care of the soldiers' graves in South Africa.

As there is no doubt that the Auditorium is far too small to accommodate the numbers that will wish to hear a lecture by a man so well known throughout the Dominion of Canada for his views on all loyal, patriotic and national questions, and with such well-known ability to express these views, as Col. Denison, it is to be hoped that those wishing to attend the lecture will not only insure their own comfort, but at the same time add a trifle to a fund that could not have a more worthy object than the care and protection of the graves of those noble sons of Canada, who gave their life's blood for the maintenance of the British Empire in South Africa.

If long experience and the study of a lifetime give any guarantee of one's ability to do justice to his subject, then we can assure our readers that Col. Denison will not be found wanting on Friday night, but that he will handle his subject in that masterful, clear and decisive manner for which he is noted, and which should procure for him a large audience.

Mr. E. J. B. Pense has been nominated as the Liberal candidate in Kingston to succeed the Hon. Wm. Hart, who resigned in order to wage his successful fight for the vacant seat in the Commons. Mr. Pense will make a capital member, being a man of character and ability. The forbears of Mr. E. J. B. Pense seem to have taken the precaution of providing him with a very fair supply of initials, but as Member for Kingston and otherwise, we believe he will do credit to them all.

Editorial Book Table.

"Bright Days in Merrle England," by A. Vandoren Honeyman, 40 pages, illustrated, cloth. Honeyman & Co., publishers, Plainfield, New Jersey.

Of making books on travel, it might be truthfully said there is no end. Yet the world, and more especially that very small part of it, with which Mr. Honeyman's book deals, is so multifarious as to provide an infinite variety of that custom cannot state. One mode of traveling—a mode generally adopted—is to get on board a lightning express and tear through the country at a lightning rate of speed. Towns, villages, farm houses, rolling fields, forests and rivers pass in panoramic procession until at last one finds himself lodged at a destination in some metropolitan inn. Those who read "Bright Days in Merrle England," expecting a breezy description of such a journey will be disappointed. Those who read it, however, for the purpose of becoming acquainted with the pleasant phases of English life and of coming in contact with those who shine in the world of letters and romance, will read it to their satisfaction. The person who cannot go to England can enjoy immensely descriptions of actual travel like those which picture some of the most delightful portions of England, as seen from the top of a coach, and in walks about the cities and towns visited. The volume embraces many of the important historical and literary associations connected with twelve counties of England, including the Shropshire country, the lake district, King Arthur's Land and the Isle of Wight. The picturesque parts of Britain become luminous in this volume to persons who have never crossed the ocean; while to those who have, it is a delightful review of the country, the delight of reading will appeal all the stronger. The mechanical part of the book is worth a passing note. Bound in an attractive cover, with good paper, Mr. Honeyman's book presents a neat appearance, while the 145 half-tone illustrations make the book as vivid as it is possible to do by means of photographs.

Allan-McGregor.

[Windsor Record.]

The people of the county, without regard to party, will be pleased to learn of the well-deserved promotion of Customs Collector Allan to the appointment of Mr. William McGregor to the vacancy caused by Mr. Allan's promotion.

Both are men well qualified to discharge the duties of their respective appointments. The four years of Mr.

Allan as collector of customs at this port has qualified him for the more onerous and important duties of inspector of customs.

Mr. McGregor will fit into the office of collector of customs like bark on a tree. His long business training and his genial manners will enable him to pick up the routine duties of the office, and the public will find in him an affable and painstaking official.

Both gentlemen, from a party point of view, deserve well of their party, and now that both are laid on the shelf, they carry with them the kind wishes and congratulations of their old political associates.

Infirmity on the Bench.

[Toronto Globe.]

Some plan of dealing with judges who are incapacitated by age or other infirmity from performing their duties seems to be called for. It is unpleasant to have to refer to these matters, but delicacy ought not to be carried so far as to countenance serious injustice to litigants, and to members of the bar who are hampered in the discharge of their duty to their clients. We have the well-known case of a judge who is deaf. There is a county judge who is deaf, who is 53 years of age, and whose memory, as might be expected, is seriously impaired, and who by the time a case is finished has forgotten what was said at the beginning. Three other judges have passed or are near the age of 50 years, and ought to be superannuated. Another, somewhat younger, is partly paralyzed. Another is so afflicted with paralysis that for a long time a deputy has discharged his duties.

This condition of things involves grave injustice. One, of course, sympathizes with the reluctance of an old man to quit the post of duty and recognition that his day is done, and with the reluctance of others to tell him the truth bluntly. But these gentlemen are in a much more fortunate position than many others who are stricken with age or infirmity. Provision is made in every case for such an allowance as will enable them to live in comfort for the rest of their days. Some sympathy is due to the lawyers who are compelled to discharge their duties under such a disadvantage as a judge who cannot hear or fairly grasp the argument, and for the client who may lose his case and suffer in justice by the infirmity of the occupant of the bench. We do not say that the ship captains or locomotive engineers who have become blind or feeble being retained from motives of expediency. Everyone admits that the safety of the passenger is the first consideration. So, in the administration of justice the interest of the litigant is the first consideration.

The superannuation system seems to work badly. It does those things which it ought not to do, and leaves undone those things which ought to be done. We have all heard of the abuse of men walking about in the full vigor of life, pensioned because others wanted their positions. One county judge resigned and took a far more onerous position, requiring for the discharge of his duties all the vigor of manhood. At the same time he drew every year the pension which was intended to accompany the infirmity of age. There is surely a reasonable way between these extremes. We do not say that a hard and fast line can be drawn as to the age of retirement; but a certain age retirement ought to be considered. Of this amount $2,500 per year, the same rule ought to be made in the case of such an infirmity as deafness. The cases to which we have referred ought to be dealt with at once, and the judges superannuated and vigorous men put in their places.

are: Law clerk and attorney-general's secretary, salary increased from $1,500 to $1,800; director of colonization and forestry, salary increased from $1,700 to $1,800; assistant commissioner of public works, salary increased from $2,000 to $2,200; clerk and minister's secretary, public works, from $1,100 to $1,200; assistant engineer and architect, from $1,400 to $1,500; assistant registrar of friendly societies, from $1,100 to $1,200.

EDUCATION GRANTS. For judges of surrogate $10,083 is asked upon commutation of fees, compared with $8,551 last year, and for local masters $10,077, compared with $9,677. Under the head of education the grants to high schools are increased by $2,000; to the normal college by $1,000; to public libraries by $2,000; and to traveling libraries from $1,200 to $2,000.

The increase in the cost of the maintenance of public institutions comes largely from the Cobourg Asylum, which was open during only a portion of 1901, the vote asked being $30,585. The expenditure for the Ontario Agricultural College are increased from $32,874 to $34,559, by several small sums.

The vote for hospitals and charities is decreased by the elimination of $4,000 given as a special grant last year to the Essex house of repairs. The vote for maintenance and repairs of government and departmental buildings are reduced by $2,000 expended last year to repair Government House for the royal reception. The charges on crown lands are varied from last year by the following increases: Forest ranging, from $25,000 to $28,000; special timber inspection from $3,000 to $5,000; inspection of mines, from $1,550 to $2,000; School of Mining, Kingston, from $18,500 to $22,500.

COST OF THE ELECTION. The chief changes under miscellaneous expenditures are: Expenses of elections and election trials, from $3,000 to $38,000; gratuities decreased from $22,575 to $5,000; telephone services, from $2,000 to $3,400; sanitary investigations, from $2,900 to $8,000; Algonquin National Park, from $1,500 to $1,800; Rondeau Provincial Park, from $2,000 to $2,800; salary of deputy commissioner of fisheries, from $1,000 to $2,000; expense of outside fisheries service, from $20,000 to $22,000; statue to her late Majesty the Queen, $10,000 voted last year, a revote of $5,000 this year; compilation of imperial statutes, from $1,500 to $2,500; Labor Bureau, from $2,500 to $2,000; assessment commission decreased from $4,000 to $3,000; Temiskaming roads.....

UNBIASED. "I trust," said one practical politician, "that you will approach the election in an absolutely unbiased spirit." "I shall," answer the other. "I have received equal amounts of money from both sides." Every year 20,000 Spaniards emigrate to South America.

SHE WANTED TO STAY WITH BERT.

Boy Bridegroom Restored to His Girl Wife.

Had Been Convicted of False Swearing Regarding the Bride's Age.

Detroit, Jan. 21.—Herbert Hoxey, the boy recently convicted of perjury in swearing falsely that he, a 15-year-old boy, was 21 years of age, was brought up before Judge Murphy for sentence. The wife stood beside the prisoner's dock.

In light of the extenuating circumstances, the age of the groom, and his ignorance of the law, Judge Murphy suspended sentence. "In your presence," said the court, "there is a police captain who may attempt to interfere with you. He has no right to molest you in any way, if you conduct yourself properly, and, if he attempts it, I want you to come to me, and he will receive attention. Bear that in mind." Hoxey said he would. He then told what arrangements he had made to assume the burden of matrimony. He said he was earning $5 a week, and the bride's father would cost them $4 a month, and if they cut out the luxuries, he thought they could live comfortably, if not luxuriously.

The bride was then addressed in the matter. The court told her she was at liberty to declare the marriage void if she so desired. "What do you wish to do, Mrs. Hoxey?" asked the court. "In a thin, small voice and with downcast eyes, she replied: 'I want to stay with Bert.'"

"Well," said the court, "I think you will be much happier with an 18-year-old, hard-working husband than are many American girls who marry titled foreigners to live in luxury and find them degenerate and improvident."

A court officer then opened the locked door of the prisoner's box for Bert. The girl wife came forward to meet him, and the husband and wife, aged respectively 18 and 15 years, went out through the door side by side.

WOULD BE BRIDE TOO YOUNG.

Port Huron, Mich., Jan. 21.—James Bryant, clerk of the Normandie hotel, loved a young miss of Barrie, Ont., and she reciprocated his tender feeling. The parents of the girl objected to a wedding, as the child was under 16 years of age. At Bryant's request, the girl came here to be married, but County Clerk Bartlett refused them a license owing to the consent of the girl's parents not being obtained.

PASSED 15 WORKS.

The Danger of Low Vitality

Severe Colds, Pneumonia, Consumption, Find Easy Victims in Persons Whose Health is in Poor Condition—Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

At no season of the year is a low condition of health more likely to lead to serious results than at the present time. With vitality running low, the blood thin and nerves exhausted, one is made susceptible to colds and catarrhs on the slightest exposure. Gradually a persistent cough, hawking and spitting, is established, and each severe cold is accompanied by chills, fevers, pains in the chest, and sometimes spitting of blood.

This is the short and deadly road that leads to pneumonia, consumption and other deadly troubles, and the only sure method of avoiding them is to keep the general health just as near to the high-water mark as possible all the time. This is best accomplished by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It has come to be so universally used as a means of increasing vitality and raising the standard of health. There is no less than experience more strongly emphasizes than the importance of keeping the body well supplied with health-giving vitality. When a weakened, run-down system is attacked by pneumonia, consumption, or even a heavy cold, the chances of recovery are small. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food builds up the system, while yet there is some foundation to build on. Put new, rich blood in the system, and the body will be able to stand the most potent blood-forming and nerve-investigating elements which have ever been found in nature. You cannot possibly help but be benefited by this preparation, and even in longstanding cases of colds, pneumonia and prostration there is good hope for recovery by the persistent use of this great food cure.

It is not wise to neglect the health at any time. Do not wait until you are completely exhausted and worn out before appealing to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Build up the system while yet there is some foundation to build on. Put new, rich blood in the system, and the body will be able to stand the most potent blood-forming and nerve-investigating elements which have ever been found in nature. You cannot possibly help but be benefited by this preparation, and even in longstanding cases of colds, pneumonia and prostration there is good hope for recovery by the persistent use of this great food cure.

While Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is aiding expectoration, clearing the choked-up air passages, and healing and soothing the throat and ulcerated linings of the bronchial and tubal tubes, do not lose sight of the value of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a means of restoring lost strength and vigor. It is the greatest relief given in the most serious cases of pneumonia and consumption.

Death of a Baby From the Disease at Ottawa—63 Cases in a Montreal Hospital—Belmont Boy a Victim.

Ottawa, Jan. 22.—A 13-month-old baby named Hamel died at Porter's Island Hospital Monday night of smallpox.

ON BOARD THE DAHOMEY.
Halifax, Jan. 22.—The steamer Dahomey, which arrived here yesterday, from London, with a case of smallpox on board, was sent into quarantine. Her 21 passengers were landed at the quarantine station.

FOUR NEW CASES.
Toronto, Jan. 22.—The provincial board of health notified yesterday of four new smallpox cases. One of a male type. The general smallpox outlook is very promising, just at present, but a comparatively few new patients are being reported daily, and several centers of the disease have been cleared up of late.

AT MONTREAL.
Montreal, Jan. 22.—A couple of weeks ago the health authorities thought they had smallpox pretty well stamped out, but there has been a fresh outbreak, and there are now 66 cases in the city hospital, 30 of which have been reported in the past ten days. Thirty-one houses are now quarantined. A great many of the cases come from the surrounding country, where the disease is very prevalent.

A BELMONT VICTIM.
Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 22.—Smallpox is scaring University of Michigan students. Already two cases have developed, and the victims have been made to leave the university. One of them is Freeman Campbell, 1904 dental class, of Belmont.

Health Officer Hinsdale is inclined to believe that Campbell has a case of smallpox. The boy and his Campbell room has been transformed into a detention ward, and is quarantined. Further investigations are being made, and it is probable that rigorous means will be employed to prevent a further spread of the disease.

Was about the university are making all sorts of use of the case. One impecunious undergraduate was caught at home by his washwoman, his creditor having charged with stealing a razor, at him hard and was calling him down severely for being slow pay, but the student took a step backward and muttered: "Beware!"

Full of gossip about the smallpox, the washwoman scented danger, and gasped: "Have you been exposed?" The student waved his hands, and his creditor nearly broke her neck trying to get out of the room.

A Brief But Telling Letter From a Famed Educational Establishment.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND Is Called "The Wonder-Working Medicine."

No Other Remedy Has Ever Been So Highly Recommended.

When the nervous system is out of repair, disease in some form lays its deadly hand upon you. Nerve troubles give full and forcible warning of their presence. Your insomnia, dyspepsia, indigestion, excruciating neuralgia, rheumatism, liver complaint, and kidney disease are all strong reminders that the brain and nerve centers need nourishment and strength.

Paine's Celery Compound does for you a work that no other medicine can accomplish. It quickly nourishes all nerve tissues and purifies the blood, removing from it all impurities and poisonous acids. All you give Paine's Celery Compound a trial soon experience strength and freedom from disease. The sisters of the convent of the "Holy Names of Jesus and Mary," Montreal, write as follows:

"We feel it our duty to add our testimony in favor of your 'wonder-working' Paine's Celery Compound. Many sisters suffering from debility, dyspepsia, sleeplessness and indigestion, have been completely relieved after taking it. We shall strongly recommend its use in all our houses as the best medicine to restore health, and give tone and vigor to the nervous system."

The Anemic Young Girl.
Perhaps she is sixteen. Suddenly she seems to lose strength, her beauty fades because her strength fails, her eyes lose their luster. How her spirit droops! It alarms you. Get her Ferrozene! It is a nerve tonic; it adds the stomach to its work; it gives the system a new lease of life. Get her Ferrozene! It is an absolute specific for the anemia of young people. Sold only by W. T. Strong & Co.

Of 37,500 tons of butter imported in London, all but about 12,000 came from Australia.

THE WORLD IS FULL OF PAINS.
The aches and pains that afflict humanity are many and of indistinguishable causes, but in the main owing to man's negligence in the care of his health. Dr. Williams' Electric Oil was the outcome of a universal cry for some specific relief from the aches and pains that have filled its mission to a remarkable degree.

A small grass seed which has germinated while in a patient's eye has been removed by a Japanese oculist.

WHY will you allow a cough to lacerate your throat or lungs and run the risk of illness and consumption? When, by the timely use of Bickel's Anti-Consumptive Elixir the pain can be allayed and the danger avoided. This Syrup is pleasant to the taste and unobtrusive in its action. It soothes and cures all affections of the throat and lungs, coughs, colds, bronchitis, etc., etc.

Settle by Compromise Rather Than by Force—Harcourt in Practical Accord With Rosebery—Balfour's Defense of the Government.

London, Jan. 22.—Mr. Chamberlain has called the governors of Australia and New Zealand, inviting each to send a further contingent of 1,000 men to South Africa.

It is learned that at the close of the war the British Government contemplates offering special encouragement and facilities for emigration to South Africa on a large scale.

WINSTON CHURCHILL'S PLAN.
Winston Spencer Churchill (Conservative), in resuming the debate in the House of Commons on the amendment moved by Frederick Cavley (Liberal) to the address in reply to the speech from the throne, gained the distinct approval of the opposition benches by his criticisms of the government's shortcomings in regard to the conduct of the war in South Africa, the insufficiency of the troops supplied to Lord Kitchener, and other matters.

He is said to have preferred a settlement by compromise rather than by force, as the latter would entail the tremendous expense of long military occupation.

AGREES WITH ROSEBERY.
Sir William Vernon-Harcourt (Liberal), in a speech of an hour's length, showed himself to be in practical accord with Lord Rosebery's position, and said he would, of course, support any proper measure calculated to bring the war to an end. He insisted, however, that some encouragement ought to be offered the Boers to come forward with peace proposals.

THE GOVERNMENT'S POLICY.
A. J. Balfour, in a vigorous defense of the government, said Sir William Vernon-Harcourt's support of Lord Rosebery was the greatest of all Rosebery triumphs. Mr. Balfour contended the Boers were prolonging the war in the hope that a Liberal Government would replace the present administration, and he appealed to the house to reject the amendment on the grounds that any diminution of the present military policy would encourage their enemies in the field. Mr. Cavley's amendment was rejected by a vote of 323 to 123.

CAN'T HELP THE BOERS.
Paris, Jan. 22.—In the Chamber of Deputies, M. Berry introduced interpellations bearing upon the war in South Africa. The speaker dilated upon the "horrors of the concentration camps" and alleged violations of the rules of war. Mr. Berry urged the French Government to bring about intervention in South Africa.

Abbe Lemire also called upon the government to aid the Boers, not only by sympathetic aid by diplomacy, to become a free people. The abbe concluded by saying: "We made the United States free; let us make the Boers free also."

M. Delcasse, the foreign minister, replying, said: "Whatever may be the sympathies all here profess for that courageous people, intervention on the part of France would only result in entangling her foreign policy, and it is the duty of the government to retain the entire liberty of that policy."

The chamber unanimously approved the declarations of M. Delcasse, and then adjourned.

THE COLONIES AND THE WAR.
Balfour's spirited rebuke to the Irish Nationalists in the House of Commons for an imputation on the loyalty of Canada and Australia is warmly applauded in ministerial circles.

Connor O'Kelly, M.P. for North Mayo, asked whether any steps had been taken to induce the colonies to pay their share of the cost of the war. Mr. Balfour evoked loud cheers by a grateful acknowledgment of the contributions the colonies have already voluntarily made in men and money.

He said the imputation conveyed by the question was uncalled for, and was expressed in quite unnecessarily offensive language.

Mr. Redmond, M.P. for East Clare, asked what the colonies had paid. The speaker ruled him out of order.

Mr. Redmond, whose wife is an Australian, shouted: "Why not ask Australia to pay as well as Ireland?" which evoked loud cries of "Order!" The incident illustrated the appreciation of the colonies.

A LOCAL BUDGET.

—The Presbytery of London is meeting at Dutton.

—Mrs. S. Mason of this city, was in St. Thomas Monday, attending the funeral of his nephew, William Mason.

—Mr. Edward Parker, of Crumlin, has purchased 100 acres, lot 2, con. B,
of good land, from Mr. John Platt, London township.

—The calendar for 1902 issued by the Carling Brewing and Malting Company is a very handsome one. It has an excellent picture of the company's large buildings and grounds. It will be in great demand.

—The 14-year-old daughter of Mr.
McMurray, of Thameston, was seriously injured on Monday while coasting down one of the steep hills in the vicinity of the place. Her injuries will result in the loss of an eye and probably disfigurement of the face.

ACCOMPANIED THE LIBERTY

BELL.

Mr. Thomas Martindale, a former Londoner, accompanied the Liberty
Bell from Philadelphia to Charleston, S. C., where an exhibition is in progress. The following is from the News and Courier, of Charleston: Mr. Thos.
Martindale, chairman of the Board of Trades League, of Philadelphia, was introduced and made a short, but eloquent, speech, in which he said that,
as this was the age of publicity, and Philadelphia felt herself honored in having been able to give the exposit-tion all the publicity in her power by bringing the bell through seven states and making an advertisement for the exposition 1,179 miles long. Mr. Martindale related how the bell had been received everywhere along the route
by splendid outpourings of the people, who greeted it everywhere with shouts and enthusiasm and patriotic ex-ultations. "We have done all we can to help you," said Mr. Martindale, in conclusion, "and now we leave the old bell with you as the greatest possible thing that we could do to help the exposition." (Great applause.)

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Metropolitan Concert Course at the Grand.

The sixth number of the Metropolitan Concert Course was given at the Grand Opera House last night by Mr. Albert Armstrong. His offering consisted of a dramatic recital of Ralph Connor's well-known story, "The Sky Pilot," a story of the Alaskan foothills, illustrated by artistically colored scenes of the locality and the characters. The entertainment was a most enjoyable one for the audience, which filled the house. The delay in starting was due to Mr. Armstrong's late arrival, his train being delayed so that he did not reach the city till after 8 o'clock.

Marks Bros. at the London Opera

House.

The second night of Marks Bros.' appearance was marked by another large audience. Both play and specialties were well received, and the present engagement promises to be a most successful one. "The Country Girl's Revenge" is the offering for tonight.

"VANITY FAIR" SATURDAY.

An interesting feature of next Saturday's engagement of Miss Gertrude Coghlan as Becky Sharp at the New Grand will be the reappearance here of Mr. Charles Bertram (Mr. Arthur Dumoulin, son of Bishop Dumoulin, of Niagara), who last season made a pronounced hit as the Prince of Wales in Andrew Robson's production of "The Royal Box." Mr. Dumoulin, in this season playing the leads in Miss Coghlan's support, and has received no little amount of attention from the press of the south and west for his clever work. He will be the Rawdon Crawley of Thackeray's immortal novel in next Saturday's performances.

The Soldier and His Pot

Fuham, Eng.

Dear Sirs,—
The pot of Kelpion issued in our C.
I. V. kit was one of the few things we took from Cape Colony to the front with us.

It was very useful, indeed, one of the finest and quickest remedies for cuts, sprains, skin diseases, wounds and bruises.

Your Kelpion surprised everyone who used it, for the way it cured vein sores, and it ought to command a great sale in South Africa if advertised for that reason.

I have heard praises from all C. I.
V's and Regulars who used it, and guarantee every C. I. V. will recommend it.

(Signed), C. T. MAYES,
Late C. I. V., M. L. 1,385.

Great interest is being shown by the shoppers at Woods' Furniture sale.
The end of the great grantware sale is near. Just three more days of it.
Everyone is doing the utmost to secure the last of these bargains which have been much appreciated by the housekeepers of London during the last two weeks.
