ARABS REBEL AGAINST GT. BRITAIN

GEN. WRANGEL'S ARMY TAKES 5,000 BOLSHEVIK PRISONERS IN DRIVE IN SOUTH RUSSIA

Commander of Anti-Soviet Forces Lands Additional Troops in Kuban Ports in Order To Encourage Uprisings Against Reds—Cavalry Cuts Off the Bolshevik Forces Along Dnieper.

Constantinople, Aug. 21.—Gen. Wrangel, the anti-Bolshevik commander in Southern Russia, has landed three additional invading forces in Kuban ports with the purpose of encouraging Kuban uprisings against the Bolsheviki. The landing parties are reported to aggregate over 10,000. Gen. Wrangel took 5,000 prisoners on the lower Dnieper, in the Alechi region, where he permitted the Bolsheviki to cross the river and then cut them off by a speedy cavalry charge.

In the northeastern sector, Wrangel has taken a thousand prisoners and many guns.

15,000 SOVIET TROOPS TAKEN BY THE POLES

Fighting Continues in Full Force Around Warsaw.

Warsaw, Aug. 21.—The Poles had captured 15,000 soviet prisoners up to Thursday, it was announced here today.

HEAVY FIGHTING IS STILL IN PROGRESS IN WARSAW DISTRICT

London, Aug. 21.—Heavy fighting continues north and northeast of Warsaw, near Plonsk and Ciechanow, according to a Bolshevik official statement issued yesterday in Moscow and received here by wireless. Near Lemberg, the statement says, the Bolsheviki are developing their advance. In the Crimean sector, the Bolsheviki have occupied the village of Vasilyevka after fierce fighting.

BREST-LITOVSK FALLS.

BERLIN, Aug. 20.—The Poles have taken Brest-Litovsk, according to a Warsaw dispatch, dated Thursday.

The dispatch says three Bolshevik divisions were annihilated in the operations around Warsaw.

WARSAW, Aug. 20.—Poland's army is rapidly following up the retreating enemy northeast and east of Warsaw, and further successes for the Poles are reported. The recapture of Sokolov, Drohiczyn and Bials, with thousands of prisoners and great amounts of war material, is reported in today's official communique.

At Siedlce the Poles captured armed volunteer Jewish detachments composed of local communists.

To the northwest of Warsaw the Bolsheviki attacked Plock in a drive designed to carry them across the Vistula, where there is a pontoon bridge, but a Polish counter-stroke broke the attack. In this operation the Poles were aided by civilians who fought side by side with the infantrymen.

Today's communique announces the repulse by Polish infantry of a detachment of Gen. Budenny's Soviet cavalry, which had reached Winniki, nine miles southeast of Lemberg.

Peasants in the region of Lipno, southeast of Thorn, are reported to be fighting the Bolsheviki with axes and scythes. Newspaper accounts of the operations there say the peasants are taking no prisoners.

MILLERAND TO SEND ENVOY TO WRANGEL

PARIS, Aug. 20.—According to the Temps, Premier Millerand, upon returning from his trip through Northern France, will designate a diplomatic representative of the French Government to the Government of General Baron Wrangel, the anti-Bolshevik leader in South Russia.

FEAR CLASH OF GERMANS AND POLES

LONDON, Aug. 20.—Advices from Upper Silesia last night said that strong contingents of French troops were occupying the principal streets of Kattowitz and that cavalry patrols and armored automobiles were dispersing pedestrians wherever they threatened to congregate. It was feared, according to the advices, that more clashes were imminent between the German and Polish elements.

The labor leaders of Kattowitz were reported to have demanded peremptorily that the French troops of occupation be withdrawn and replaced by Italian contingents, declaring this to be the only available method of pacifying the populace and preventing further outbreaks.

A Breslau dispatch reports that Polish troops have crossed the Silesian frontier and arrived before Kattowitz.

WRECKAGE FOUND NEAR CLEARVILLE

Large Hatchway From the Steamer John Wright Discovered by Fishermen.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Duart, Aug. 21.—The fishermen at Clearville report finding in the lake a large hatchway-covering, bearing the inscription "Str. John Wright." The covering was tangled in among the spiles of the dock, and had evidently drifted in during the night.

The find gave rise to the supposition that some steamer had encountered rough weather, and either foundered or lost part of its upper works. The lid is exceptionally large and heavy, and must have been through a very severe blow to have been wrenched from its bearings.

A large piece of timber was also seen further out, drifting down the lake, but owing to the heavy roll it was impossible to go out and investigate.

Mary Pickford's Mother Seeks To Lose Name Smith

Los Angeles, Aug. 20.—Mrs. Charlotte Smith, mother of Mary Pckford, has filed a petition in court here to change her name to Pickford. She is the last of the family to take this action. Harry, Lotta and Jack, all of whom were once Smiths, are now legally regarded as Pickfords.

IRISH MODERATES TO DISCUSS NEW HOME RULE BILL

Question of Demanding Withdrawal of Bill To Be Considered.

HOW PLUNKETT STANDS

Premier Lloyd George Will Receive Delegation On Tuesday.

Dublin, Aug. 21.—All moderate sections of opinion in Ireland are greatly interested in next Tuesday's conference, called to enable every shade of home rule sentiment to unite in a statement to Premier Lloyd George relative to the future government of the island. This statement will in particular detail what measures short of a republic will keep Ireland within the Empire and which, though possibly opposed by the Sinn Fein, may satisfy the general body of Irish opinion. The meeting which while suggested by the Dominion home rulers, will be open to every section and group, and will include many men who until six months ago were identified with the Unionist cause.

The main point for discussion will be whether a demand should be made for a complete withdrawal of the Irish bill, now before the House of Commons or whether an attempt should be made to graft on to it a wide extension of powers, especially regarding finance which would make it acceptable and workable.

Favors Withdrawal.

The party headed by Sir Horace Plunkett favors the complete withdrawal of the bill and the establishment of a convention elected on proportional representation from all Ireland to put forward a joint Irish plan. An attempt has been made to associate with the meeting leading Irishmen who, though not declared Sinn Feiners, are in the confidence of that organization. Among them is Lawrence O'Neill, lord mayor of Dublin, but it is known he intends to hold aloof.

It is regarded as certain that Premier Lloyd George will receive a deputation from the conference, no matter what its decision may be. The Sinn Fein attitude toward the conference is put in a few words by Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein organization, in the leading article of this week's Young Ireland.

"England's policy toward Ireland," he says, "was disclosed this week. The republic is to be ravaged, while dupes are to be set clamoring for dominion home rule in order that the attention of the world may be distracted and the minds of other nations confused."

ACT GIVES WIDE POWERS TO COURTS

London, Aug. 21.—The act for the restoration of order in Ireland gives the authorities wide powers to suppress disorders in that country. It will set up new tribunals for the trial of all crimes and offences under the defence of the realm act; which in effect means court-martial. In the case of capital offences provision is made for modification in the court, so as to bring in the civil element as well as the military. The act also gives the military and police wider powers for apprehending suspected persons.

The inability of the Government authorities to arrest criminals and obtain juries in South and West Ireland caused the breakdown of the crown courts, it was explained at the time the bill was under discussion, and forced the Government to resort to juryless system. The crown will appoint the high justice and other court officials who will sit only in Dublin to obviate the possibility of attack if court sessions were held in remote localities.

30,000 HARVESTERS NOW IN THE WEST

Government May Be Asked To Send 10,000 More.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 21.—Three trains of the Canadian Pacific Railway last night and one over the Canadian National Railway this morning finished the harvest invasion from the east for the time being. With these latest arrivals the 30,000 men asked for by the Government agents have been supplied. It is possible the railroads will be asked to furnish a further 10,000 men to supply the anticipated needs in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

LETVIN GOVT. HAS BEEN OVERTHROWN

Cabinet Members of Radical Party Succeed.

Berlin, Aug. 20.—The Letvin Government headed by Karl Ullmani, has been overthrown and has been succeeded by a cabinet composed of members of the left radical party, according to a rumor from Riga published by the National Zeitung.

TWO LONDON FIRMS GRANTED CHARTERS

Toronto, Aug. 20.—Among the companies granted provincial incorporation this week is the Benson-Hines London Hotel Company of London, Ont., with a capital of $500,000.

Among the other incorporations are: Parisian Laundry Company, Limited, London, capital $300,000, and the Dominion Motor Castings, Limited, Windsor, capital $250,000.

FEE SYSTEM MUST GO IN ALL DEPARTMENTS OF JUSTICE

Magistrates As Well As County Officials Will Be Affected By Important Changes Contemplated by the Ontario Legislature—Many Complaints Being Made Regarding Present System.

Not only in the county police system of the province is the fee system of remuneration likely to be abolished, but, according to E. A. Pocock, the London member of the commission appointed to reorganize the outside offices of the attorney-general's department, the magistrates' and all other offices through which justice is administered will in all likelihood be put on a permanent basis. The fee system is not considered to be conducive to the awarding of fair and disinterested judgments.

Although no recommendations have yet been presented to the Government, nor has any definite decision been reached by the commission yet, the consensus of opinion is that the entire system of appointing squires and inexperienced and improperly trained magistrates, who at times cannot even sign their names, is all wrong, said Mr. Pocock. The fact that these officials are remunerated only by the fees for convictions made has a tendency to induce them to make convictions when the case does not warrant it.

Traveling Magistrates.

Along with a plan to put a permanent police force in each county, the London member has prepared a plan of appointing magistrates and other offices, which he will lay before the commission. In the opinion of Mr. Pocock, traveling magistrates in career should be appointed to administer justice in the counties.

These officials must be the best that can be had, properly trained and educated. Instead of a magistrate or a squire in each town and village, the traveling magistrate would hold court in one town one day, and in another the next. Paid a permanent salary, they could give disinterested judgments.

From the data gathered from the legal profession and others in the province, it is almost certain that the sheriff's office has outlived its usefulness. The majority of the lawyers, according to Mr. Pocock, favor its abolition. The duties now accomplished by the sheriffs could be easily combined with those of different other offices. The doing away with this appointment would mean a big saving to the province.

An Evil Practice.

One other thing which, Mr. Pocock said, had been brought to the attention of the commission as working much evil is the practice of allowing every part?time magistrate and justice of the peace to issue warrants on complaints sworn by anyone. By this system many characters are injured through spitefulness.

In proof of this was the case, it was proved to the commission, that 80 per cent of the rape cases on which warrants have been issued were sworn out for the express purpose of injuring someone. In the majority of the cases the county magistrates and justices of the peace do not know enough about law to know whether a person has sufficient grounds for a warrant.

To remedy this evil, Mr. Pocock said that the warrants should be sworn out by crown attorneys who were trained lawyers, and could prevent anyone taking revenge by this means. When a person went to his office to lay a complaint the crown attorney would be able to talk the case over with him and would know whether there was sufficient ground to warrant an arrest.

HEALTH OFFICER ORDERED TO QUARANTINE DRUGLESS HEALERS

Osteopaths, Chiropractors and Others Are Affected by the Instructions Issued From Provincial Board of Health—Danger To Other People Is Feared by Practice.

Instructions to quarantine osteopaths, chiropractors and other drugless healers who have been in attendance on cases of communicable disease, were received today from the Provincial Board of Health by Dr. W. S. Downham, local medical officer of health.

The letter claims that these classes of doctors have been attending cases of a communicable nature, and asserts that the danger of the practice is apparent. "For example, every physician knows that the diphtheria mortality is directly in proportion to the delay in using diphtheria anti-toxin and other recognized plans of treatment, none of which are used by the persons referred to."

"You are therefore advised," the order continues, "where you find unlicensed persons attending communicable diseases, to take steps to have these parties quarantined as contacts as laid down in the regulations."

None of the drugless healers in London have dealt with communicable diseases lately, but in the past a few have reported them to the Institute of Public Health, Dr. Downham stated.

FATHER FINDS BODY OF SON

Remains of Harold Scarlett Were Washed Up On the Beach At Port.

While walking along the beach near Erie Rest at Port Stanley this morning at 6:30, ex-Ald. Wm. Scarlett found the body of his son, Harold, who was drowned while canoeing on Tuesday afternoon.

The remains were badly battered as a result, it is supposed, of the storm during the night. They were found about three miles from where the drowning occurred. The body was brought to the city this afternoon.

From 100 to 150 delegates are expected. They will arrive at 11:30 Sunday night and remain until 3 o'clock the next day. Following breakfast at the Tecumseh House, they will be taken on an automobile tour of the city and will lunch at the London Hunt and Country Club.

BLOWN INTO RIVER BY FORCE OF BLAST

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Wingham, Aug. 21.—While employees of the Hunter Bridge Company of Kincardine were blasting the old dam here, the concussion caused two citizens fishing near by to fall into the water. Fortunately it was not deep, and they escaped with a duckings. Some stones from the river bed were thrown a distance of 100 feet during the blasting operations.

LAD IS SENTENCED FOR WHISKEY THEFT

Convicted of stealing two bottles of whiskey from the cellar of a local citizen, a juvenile was sentenced by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon today to an indefinite term in the Victoria Industrial School at Mimico. A companion was discharged, while another of the trio, who also faces a charge of stealing from the Canada Railway News Company, where he was employed, was remanded one week. A large quantity of cigarettes and other goods were included in the latter booty.

BRITAIN RUSHING TROOPS INTO MESOPOTAMIA, ARABS ARE IN REVOLT AGAINST BRITISH RULE

Fears Are Entertained That Empire Will Be Forced Into a Costly Military Campaign—British Officers Are Murdered and Railways Cut—Natives Claim That They Are Not Allowed Voice in Administration of Country's Affairs—70,000 British and Indian Soldiers Now On Ground.

London, Aug. 21.—Fears are expressed here that recent events in Mesopotamia will involve Great Britain in a costly military campaign. Official reports show that the country is in a state of anarchistic rebellion against the British administration, particularly northeast and west of Bagdad and between Bagdad and Mohul. British garrisons have been invested, railways cut and British officers murdered. According to official accounts, the situation is much graver than has been revealed in the official dispatches. Only last night the India office issued a statement confirming the disaster to a British force at Shas Raba, Mesopotamia, last Sunday. It adds that the wife of Mr. Buchanan, an irrigation officer, who was killed, was captured by the Arabs, but is reported to be safe and being well treated. Her child is believed to be with her. Already there are 70,000 British and Indian troops in Mesopotamia and 10,000 or more with artillery are on their way thither from India, but apparently many more such reinforcements will be required to restore order.

The revolt is presumed to be against the methods of the British administration. Under the mandate in Mesopotamia, Great Britain undertakes to establish local autonomy, and the Arabs complain that they are allowed no share in the administration.

NEW INSPECTOR-GENERAL OF CANADA

In the re-organization at militia headquarters, Major-General Sir S. E. Burstall, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., A.D.C., has been appointed inspector-general, succeeding Sir Arthur Currie, with the rank of lieutenant-general. He had distinguished service overseas as commander of the Canadian Artillery, and he accompanied the Prince of Wales on his tour through Canada.

GIVEN 3 YEARS IN KINGSTON FOR ROBBING MAILS

William L. Beech Stole a Letter Containing Check for $441.

Three years in Kingston Penitentiary was the sentence meted out today to William L. Beech, who pleaded guilty in police court to a charge of robbing the mails. The information was laid against him by Assistant Postmaster Harrison, and according to the evidence Beech purloined a letter containing a check for $441.74 while accompanying a city mail driver on his rounds. The check was a tax payment and accused destroyed the notice, retaining this document. However, he did not attempt to cash, but left it in a pair of trousers which he later pawned. The trousers were sent by the pawnbroker to a local laundry to be cleaned, and the check was discovered here and sent to the original owner.

From this point the police traced the check to Beech, who was arrested last night, and who was on suspended sentence on a charge of theft committed last April.

"You don't seem to show any appreciation of the consideration shown you at that time," committed Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon. "You have gone back to your evil ways, and it is unfortunate that a young man like you should persist in this thing. You are earning a living, and do not need to steal.

"Stealing from the mails is recognized by the criminal code as a very serious offence. If it were not all business would be endangered. The maximum penalty for the offence is life imprisonment, and the minimum three years in penitentiary. Having regard for your youth, I shall be as lenient as I can, although you do not deserve it."

"He is one of the worst thieves in this court for some time," declared Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop. "There is another information to be laid against him, charging the theft of a suit of clothes and a club bag."

The prisoner denied these charges, and stated that his only living relative is a sister residing in London. He wept when sentence was pronounced upon him.

APPEAL FOR VOLUNTEERS IS ISSUED BY THE WAR OFFICE

London, Aug. 21.—The war office today issued a call for volunteers among former army officers for service against the revolutionists in Mesopotamia.

Bagdad, the chief city in Mesopotamia, is being fortified by the British.

The war office in appealing for volunteers asked particularly for men who had experience against the Turks in Mesopotamia during the world war.

British reinforcements are being rushed from Indian to quell the disorders, the war office announced today.

"Northeast and west of Bagdad, the outbreaks are on a considerable scale," said the war office.

"The railway line between Bagdad and Kifri Kirkut has been cut and the bridges burned. The British garrison at Kifri Kirkut has been surrounded. Anarchy prevails in some districts.

The seat of the Mesopotamian uprising is near the Persian frontier, south of the point where the Russian red army invaded Persia. The fighting reported by the British war office was between the Tigris River and the Persian border, near the junction of two railway lines that branch from the Bagdad system and lead into Persia toward Teheran, the Persian capital. This is territory that was formerly part of the Turkish Empire, but has been taken over by Great Britain under a mandate.

PUTS IRISH ACT INTO OPERATION

London, Aug. 20.—The London Gazette tonight prints an order-in-council putting the new Irish act into operation forthwith. It is a long document of six pages. It gives minute regulations as to how the act will be enforced, but does not stipulate localities where it will be enforced.

STEAMER SUNK IN COLLISION DURING A FOG ON SUPERIOR

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Aug. 21.—The steamer Superior City, a freighter, was sunk in Whitefish Bay, Lake Superior, last night, following a collision with the Willis L. King, according to word brought here early today by the steamer Turner, which had picked up one of the four members of the Superior City's crew known to have survived. The King, which left here early Friday, upbound, collided with the Superior City in a dense fog.

OVERSEAS EDITORS VIEWING SCENERY THROUGHOUT WEST

Banff, Aug. 21.—Scenery as one of Canada's assets occupied the attention of the delegates to the Imperial Press Conference when, as guests of the Southern Alberta Press Commission they were taken by motor through nearly 100 miles of foothills and towering peaks between Calgary and Banff. The drive lasted all day and the visiting newspapermen rested last night at the Banff Springs Hotel. The party will spend today in informal recreation, proceeding at midnight to Lake Louise and Lake Winderemere.

MONTREAL LIQUOR FIRM COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

Montreal, Aug. 21.—A case following on several others instituted by Messrs. Hiram Walker & Sons, Limited, Walkerville, Ont., prosecuting officers alleged to be forging or affixing forged labels to spurious liquor supposed to be Walker's Canadian Club was heard here before Judge Lanctot at the preliminary hearing.

The case was taken against a local liquor firm for the sale of 500 cases of Walker's Canadian Club. They were prosecuted on a double charge of theft of $15,000 paid by one, Mr. Davis, believing that he was buying the genuine article, and also by Messrs. Hiram Walker & Sons, Limited, firm, for the illegal use of their trade mark.

The accused were committed to stand their trial on both the charges. The case will very likely be heard in September.

LOCAL TEMPERATURES.

Following were the highest and lowest temperatures recorded in London during the 24 hours previous to 8 o'clock last night: Highest, 83; lowest, 65.

The official temperatures for the 12 hours previous to 8 a.m. today were: Highest, 72; lowest, 66.

MANNIX ADMITS HE HAS RECEIVED NOTE FROM ROME

Vatican Message Urges Him To Be More Moderate in Opinions.

London, Aug. 21.—Archbishop D. J. AGE LIMIT ALTERED FOR NAVAL OFFICERS

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—By an order-in-council gazetted this week, the age limit for petty officers and chief petty officers entering the Royal Canadian Navy has been altered to allow of the entry of men between the ages of 26 and 40 years. The limit previously was 36 years.

PASTORS NOW GETTING $1,500 PER ANNUM

Methodist Ministers Are Well Satisfied With Action That Has Been Taken.

All local Methodist ministers are now getting the minimum salary of $1,500, which was proposed at the last meeting of the London Methodist Conference.

A committee was appointed by the conference to interview the various boards of the churches throughout the country circuits under the jurisdiction of the London Conference, with a view to getting the congregations to give the required minimum salary. In many of the rural charges the committee has been favorably received, and the minister has been given the minimum stipend.

It has also been requested by the conference that where a horse is kept by the minister of a circuit that $150 be added to his stipend for the keep of the horse. If this is given the country and city clergy will both be working on the same financial basis.

RAILROAD SMASH.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 20.—Several passengers were slightly hurt late tonight when the second section of New York Central Train No. 32, eastbound, carrying express, ran into the first section, carrying passengers, on a curve three miles east of Ripley, N. Y., according to company officials here. One parlor car on the first section and two express cars on the second section were derailed.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE IN WORLD OIL BLUFF

Washington Discredits Report U. S. Will Be Barred in Mesopotamia.

EMBARGO LIKELY REPLY

As Two-Thirds of World Supply Is Here, Such Action Would Have Effect.

Washington, Aug. 20.—British and French officials are indulging in the gentle art of baffling, in the opinion of officials here, in connection with the report of a combination to control the oil development of the world. Representations to Great Britain and France now are being made on this theory.

"The United States now is producing more than two-thirds of the world's supply of oil," said Chief Geologist White of the Bureau of Mines. "It is inconceivable that Great Britain and France should refuse to allow America a share in the development of oil fields believed to exist in Mesopotamia, Persia and other countries which they control."

The United States, it was said, is in a position to cut off present supplies of oil from Great Britain and France by an embargo on all exports of oil and products thereof, including gasoline. For instance, the British navy would be in sore need if lubricating oils alone were shut off by the United States.

Approximately 378,000,000 barrels of oil were produced in the United States in 1919. At the rate of production maintained so far this year production in the United States in 1920 will reach approximately 400,000,000 barrels.

Rumania, concerning whose oil wells much has been written in the last few weeks, produced 3,000,000 barrels last year. That amount is produced in the United States every three days at the present rate.

Mesopotamia and Persia are what American drillers call "wildcat" territories—that is, supposed to hold immense oil deposits; but drilling for oil there is a gamble.

Together with Mexico, the United States now is producing approximately 50 per cent of the world's total oil supply. Representations made to Great Britain on the oil question are intended merely to persuade that country to grant American citizens the same rights as British subjects to prospect for oil. Cecil Harmsworth, under secretary for foreign affairs, mentioned the subject in the House of Commons Thursday. He said the United States had asked equal rights for American citizens in territory held by England under mandate.

Before making representations to England the state department called for reports on the oil subject from the United States Shipping Board and other departments having data on the subject. The plan for an embargo on oil exports was suggested in one report to be used only as a last resort.

Oil now being produced in the United States and Mexico is sufficient for the world's needs. The controversy that has arisen, however, has to do entirely with the future, when production in the United States is bound to be reduced. Oil is becoming more and more necessary to the world commerce. Coal is being given up as fuel for ships and oil is coming to take its place almost exclusively. Aside from fuel, there is the lubrication for ships and machines in factories. Demand for oil products is increasing all over the world.

Without a supply of oil that can be depended on to last 100 years the United States might as well give up its hope of establishing a merchant marine. Admiral Benson, chairman of the shipping board, stated publicly recently.

Benson said the United States should go into the business of developing oil producing territories in all parts of the world, so ships could always be near a supply of fuel. England and France, it is believed, are working along this line in their present admitted agreement.

The British Government during the war is said to have purchased two-thirds of the stock of the Anglo-Persian Oil Company. Great Britain now is fighting to obtain control of the vast oil fields of Ukrania north of the Caspian Sea. She already had a mandate for Mesopotamia, regarded as a probable oil territory well worth developing. English prospectors recently were reported at work on South America.

Government officials here say England's oil plans explain why her government officials are dickering for time in which they must pay the $4,000,000,000 loaned to the empire during the war. Part of this money went into plans to develop oil territories, it is believed. France, another large war borrower of the United States, is believed to have used part of her loans on oil projects.

CHICAGO DRYING UP

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Chicago is threatened with a "liquor famine."

Illegal whiskey is now reported by saloon men to be scarce at $130 a case. Many saloons have been unable to procure bonded liquor at all and have been compelled to fall back on preparations consisting chiefly of grain alcohol and coloring matter.

"It's been harder to get hooch this week than at any time since the prohibition amendment went into effect," said a Loop saloon man who was consulted on the subject. "It isn't a question of price; you simply cannot get bonded goods for love or money."

SKIRTS HER BADGE OF DISTINCTION.

The more skirts a woman wears in the La Pas district of Bolivia the greater her social distinction. In Africa social distinction is marked by an umbrella. An umbrella is not used when it rains, however; instead a native will take off what little clothing he had on and wrap it around his umbrella when it rains.

FACTS FOR FARMERS

THE VALUE OF LIME STONE ON EASTERN SOILS.

[Experimental Farms Note.]

Few crops thrive well on acid soils. Especially is this true of clover, which is one of the most important crops considered, both from the standpoint of food value and as an improver of soil fertility. Hence, if we expect to increase the yield and at the same time improve fertility, we must first study our soils and be reasonably sure that they have been treated in such a manner as will facilitate a maximum growth. Examinations show that the soil of many comparatively large areas in Eastern Canada is acid.

To determine the most economical and effective method for the correction of this soil acidity an experiment was started at the Experimental Farm, Nappan, N. S., using ground limestone at different rates per acre. This soil has been tested and found to be distinctly acid.

The field used for this test was cleared during the fall of 1915 and the spring of 1916. The land was plowed and given an even dressing of barnyard manure at the rate of twelve tons per acre. In the spring of 1917 the 13-acre field was divided into acre lots.

The first five plots received an application of ground limestone ranging from one to five tons per acre, respectively. Plot six was left as a check, while plots seven to eleven inclusive were duplicates of one and five, and plots twelve and thirteen were checks.

All plots were sown to grain the spring of 1917 and seeded down with the ten pounds of red clover, ten pounds of timothy and two pounds of alsike. In 1918 it was in clover and in 1919 timothy.

Calculating the returns from the average of two plots, over a period of three years, charging the ground limestone at $4.80 per ton, grain, straw and hay at 75c per bushel, $6 and $12 per ton respectively, the following results were obtained:

Where one ton was used the loss over the cost of limestone was 38c per acre. Two tons gave a profit of $3.56 per acre. Three tons gave a profit of $2.71 per acre, four a loss of $2.86 per acre, and five gave a profit of $1.69 per acre.

The returns from the first three-acre plots are about as one would expect to see, but members four and five are just the reserve. This can be accounted for by plots eleven and twelve being more fertile than any other plots in the field, consequently, the yields were heavier.

The first six-acre plots were very uniform in fertility throughout, and in comparing results obtained from these plots each year for three consecutive years, the beneficial effect of the ground limestone was most marked, especially between the limed and unlimed plots.

Very little difference in yield was noted between the plots where three, four and five tons of lime had been applied. One of the most outstanding differences between the limed and unlimed plots was the amount of clover in evidence. On the former the first year it was two-thirds clover and the balance good timothy, while on the latter there was not much more than one-half of it good timothy. The balance browntop and no clover. The average yield for two years on the limed area was 4,602 pounds of hay and on the unlimed area 3,180 pounds per acre, a difference of 1,422 pounds per acre in favor of the limed area.

Similar results were obtained from the grain and straw, for example on the limed area the average yield for the five plots was 19.4 bushels grain, 2,336 pounds of straw, on the unlimed area it was 16 bushels of grain and 1,806 pounds of straw, a difference of 3.4 bushels of grain and 530 pounds of straw in favor of the limed area.

There is satisfactory evidence from these results that from two to two and one-half tons of ground limestone could be advantageously used on soils showing marked acidity and that the stronger the acidity shown by a soil, the greater the need of liming.

APPLE AND PEAR BLIGHT.

[Experimental Farms Note.]

Blight of apple and pear is a specific and contagious disease. Some varieties of pears are more susceptible to this disease than are others. There are three places on the tree where blight commonly occurs, the blossoms, twigs and larger limbs or trunk. The names blossom-blight, twig-blight and body-blight or canker are commonly used, but it should be remembered that these are different manifestations of the same disease. The bacteria which cause blight grow as parasites in the inner bark tissue and kill it. The individual bacteria are too small to be seen by the unaided eye. Nevertheless they are present by millions. They live over the winter at the edge of the cankers on the limbs and trunk. When warm weather comes in the spring they multiply to the extent that they ooze out in small drops near the edge of the canker. It is at this point that the new season's destruction begins.

Insects Carry Bacteria.

Bees and other insects are attracted by the ooze and after their bodies have become smeared with it they carry the bacteria from place to place. In this way, bees deposit bacteria in the blossoms that they visit and a few days later the blossoms wilt and turn black. In a similar manner other insects in their roaming, inoculate a few bacteria into the bark here and there, and twig blight results. All this could be avoided by the grower of apples and pears if the cankers from which the ooze comes were eradicated during the winter. The cankers are irregular and slightly sunken areas of bark usually separated from healthy bark by a definite crack. By cutting into the canker it will be found that the bark is dry and brown. To remove the canker make a spindle-shaped cut with a sharp-pointed knife, always keeping the outline of the cut at least a half inch outside the edge of the canker. The ends of the cut are brought to a sharp point to facilitate healing. After this outline cut has been made just deep enough to cut through to the wood, the bark is peeled off. Adhering shreds of bark should be removed and the wood scraped. It is advisable to wash the wound with corrosive sublimate solution (one tablet to a pint of water), which should be carried in a glass bottle and applied with a sponge. Although canker eradication is very important there are other sources of infection in the spring which need attention. Badly infected trees should be cut down and burned. Wild crab apple trees and hawthorns are often blighted and they should be removed from the vicinity of the orchard. Care should be taken also that any twigs which were blighted the past season are removed. They are evident during the winter by the fact that the dead leaves cling to them. All suckers or water sprouts should be removed several times during the season. The operations outlined above must be carried out thoroughly if benefit is to be gained from them. They all serve to reduce the chances of infection the next spring if they are finished before any warm weather occurs. During the spring and early summer the grower should make careful inspections two or three times a week walking down each row. All blighted blossoms should be removed by breaking off the spur. Blighted twigs should be broken or cut off several inches below the evident blackening. If cut with a tool the end of the twig should be swabbed with corrosive sublimate. All these control measures demand care and time, but they result in reducing the blight to a minimum.

COSTUMING A PLAY REQUIRES MUCH STUDY

New York, Aug. 20.—We are apt to be impressed with the importance to the production of the bizarre costumes of such plays as "Chu Chin Chow," or costumes of a risque character like those of the Winter Garden or fantastic and beautiful creations like those of Leon Bakst for the Russian Ballet, or the period dressing in the "Jest," "Hamlet" and "Richard III," or the fashionable gowns for such a play as "Declassee," but we give scant consideration to the fact that any particular effort or thought has been expended in the costuming of such a simple comedy as Rachael Crothers' clever characterization in her play "39 East," which sketches an appealing story of youthful love against a humorous background of boarding-house life.

The experienced costumer, however, will tell you that in just such a play as this, the producer faces the grave danger of over-accentuation, of losing the author's subtle characterization, in attracting the attention of the audience to the clothes rather than to the character.

An eminent playwright has said: "To an audience seeing a finished production, the matter of dressing may seem a minor detail, suggesting little of the time and attention given to it. In fact, when a play is so costumed that the onlooker leaves the theatre without any dominating thought of the clothes that have been worn by the characters in the story, it is reasonably sure the producer has succeeded in giving them just the right value."

In a play like "39 East," the time of day must be given thought, and the atmosphere and manner of a typical "genteel" boarding house following depicted. The designer must realize the potency of dress, which so truly reflects the traits and characteristics of the individual, and every means should be taken to give a faithful reproduction. A sympathetic mind for character study is of great value in this work.

The audience should not have to be told that the twins, Saidee and Myrtle Clarence, are unsophisticated, and that their clothes are remodelled home-made affairs, or that Miss McMasters represents an elderly New England spinster, with all the traditions to boot, nor that Mrs. Smith, the southern widow, is of a somewhat feline type and disposition; her whole attire must declare it—her clothes must be exactly what such a type would be apt to select. And as for the cold, unbending henna-haired, hardened boarding-house keeper, the costumer could not think of anything better to reflect her type than stiff black, large figured moire, or a pretentious wine-colored velvet.

All these clothes must in color as well as type be a foil for the heroine's charming and unique little figure, which must be gowned in a trim and tidy fashion, which in spite of its inexpensive simplicity must be chic and possess individuality, and so we have the bright pink chambray, the simple blue chiffon and the becoming tan jersey of Penelope Penn. The fichu is a nave touch to emphasize the desired quaintness.

In costuming a play, taste, imagination and observation are usually the main requirements; even the simplest production has its atmosphere and moods, and it remains true, that while some society plays and musical comedies are not difficult many plays that look the simplest are, as a matter of fact, the hardest to correctly dress.

CONSTIPATION AND HEADACHES

Completely Relieved by This Grand Fruit Medicine, "FRUIT-A-TIVES."

MR. ALFRED DUBOISSEAU.

"482 St. Catherine St. E., Montreal.

"For three years, I was a terrible sufferer from Indigestion, constant Headaches and Constipation. I took various medicines for the trouble, but nothing seemed to do me any good.

"Then a friend advised me to try 'Fruit-a-tives.' Now I am free of Indigestion and Headaches, the Constipation is cured, and I have gained considerable weight; and my general health is fine.

" 'Fruit-a-tives' is a grand medicine and I cannot say enough in its favor."

The Fireless Cooker

Is Solving the Fuel Problem Every Day

THIS WILL BE DEMONSTRATED IN BASEMENT EVERY DAY NEXT WEEK.

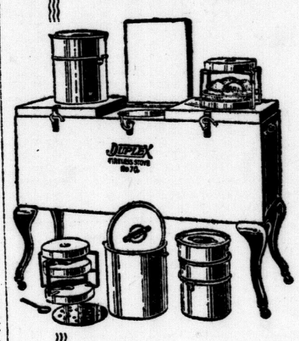

This is a demonstration, not a sale—just to introduce the Duplex Fireless Cooker to the housewives of London and show you what it will do. How it will cook without any fuel, gas, coal or electric power. An expert will give practical demonstrations all next week on a Duplex Fireless Cooker, not only to show you how you save on fuel but that the meats, etc., are so much better cooked, no shrinking as is the case with other stoves—your roast will come out of the oven just the size it goes in, retaining all its strength and flavor, which is not roasted out into the pan. Don't fail to visit this demonstration in the Basement next week. You'll be interested. With the high cost of fuel today this cooker will in a short time save more than its cost, and during its life of service will pay back its cost over and over again.

Demonstration Next Week

Duplex Fireless Stove, the stove that cooks without fire. Demonstration in basement of these stoves next week, beginning Monday. We have arranged for a practical demonstration of these fireless stoves.

Westervelt School

RICHMOND AND FULLARTON.

BUSINESS SHORTHAND

Announces Its Fall Opening Monday, August 30

Mr. W. Floyd Marshall, the new manager, comes from Sarnia, where he has managed Sarnia Business College for the past eleven years. For the past five years he has also operated Port Huron Business College, Port Huron, Michigan, and last year he opened London Business College. The last mentioned college has been moved to Westervelt School, and in future will be conducted with it.

Another change is that the Western Business College, which has been in the Coo Block on Dundas and Talbot streets for so many years, has been moved to Westervelt School, and becomes the Pitman Department of the school, still under the management of Miss N. M. McCoy.

Mr. J. W. Westervelt, Sen., and J. W. Westervelt, C.A., still remain on the staff of teachers, and will take classes daily. Mrs. Harris of the Commercial Department and Miss MacArthur of the Shorthand Department also continue on the staff. Miss Selman, who has had several years' teaching and business college experience, will be the manager of the Typewriting Department.

Policies which have kept Westervelt School a leading educational institution in Western Ontario for the past 35 years will be continued. All the factors which have made Westervelt School "A School of Strength and Character" will be continued.

The college office at the corner of Fullarton and Richmond streets is open daily, giving all information to prospective students.

GIVE REASONS WHY PENSION OFFER OF GOVT. NOT POPULAR

Central Veterans' Council Issues Statement of Warning To War Pensioners.

The Central Veterans' Council at a special meeting last evening arrived at the conclusion that it would not be advisable for all pensioners receiving a disability pension to accept it in one amount, as proposed by the Government. The council has had several special meetings to discuss this matter, and at each one gave the matter a thorough probing. The following is a report submitted to the council by Col. J. P. French, and F. B. Lavender, president and secretary, respectively:

To all Pensioners of the Great War in the City of London:

The Central Veterans' Council of London, composed of delegates from the Army and Navy Association, the Great War Veterans' Association, and the Grand Army of United Veterans, having thoroughly investigated and discussed the proposals made by the special parliamentary committee appointed by the Dominion Government on pensions and gratuities, has unanimously decided to advise all veterans who come under the scheme not to accept the lump sum payment in lieu of their yearly pensions for the following reasons:

(1) A man drawing a 5 per cent disability pension of $45 per annum would receive a lump sum of $300 from the Government, whereas if the man was only 30 years of age, and by the "law of average" he would live for another 30 years he would receive altogether $1,350; consequently, he would lose $1,050 by accepting the lump sum payment.

(2) A man of 30 years of age, drawing a 10 per cent disability pension would receive $90 per year pension, or if he desires to commute he would get $600, whereas if he lived for another 30 years he would receive altogether $2,700, thereby losing a total of $2,100 by accepting a lump sum payment.

(3) According to life insurance risks, a man aged 30, drawing a 10 per cent pension of $90 per annum, would receive approximately $1,440.

A man aged 40 drawing a pension of $90 per annum would receive approximately $1,282.

A man aged 50 drawing a pension of $90 per annum would receive approximately $1,080.

The above amounts are figured out at money being worth 4½ per cent per annum which is a very conservative estimate.

The payment of a lump sum of $600 is only equivalent to a pension of $90 per annum for eight or nine years, whereas a man of 30 years of age would, according to statistics, live another 30 or 40 years. Therefore, it is quite obvious to all concerned that they would lose very considerably by accepting the lump sum payment.

Should the disability, for which a man has commuted his pension increase, it is understood that he may apply to be reboarded, according to the new act, but his future payment of pension would only be the difference between his last disability and the increased disability; for example, if a man whose disability was 10 per cent accepted a lump sum payment of $600 and his disability increased to 40 per cent upon being reboarded, he would receive a pension of 30 per cent instead of 40 per cent, the difference between the former pension and the new one.

AUTO TRIP.—More than 100 soldiers of the "San" will be the guests of the Rotarians for an auto trip next Wednesday afternoon.

CONDUCTS SERVICES.—In the absence of Roland Heathcote, the service at the Church of the Epiphany, Manor Park, will be conducted by Raymond Smith at 7 o'clock tomorrow, Sunday, August 22.

ISSUE WRIT.—Acting for Clara B. Thomas of this city, Judd & Henderson have issued a writ in the county court here against Eva Upthegrove, also of London, to recover possession of part of a lot on Yale street.

POWER WILL BE OFF.—Hydro power will be shut off in all parts of the city from 6 to 7 o'clock Sunday morning, because of changes which are being made in high-tension switches at the Horton street substation, the public utilities commission announced today.

SEEKING ADDRESS.—Secretary J. W. Cunliffe of the local branch of the G. W. V. A., has a letter for Joseph M. H. Emsley, son of the late Lieut.-Col. Emsley. If anyone knows where Mr. Emsley is, the secretary would appreciate information.

GOING TO CONVENTION.—London will be represented at the meeting of municipalities in Montreal August 25 to consider action in regard to the proposed increase in telephone rates. Mayor Little said today that while he might not be able to go, it was certain that some member of the city council would be there.

SOCIAL EVENING.—On Friday evening the local International Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers held a social evening at their rooms. Instrumentals, vocal solos were given, and an enjoyable game of euchre was played. Refreshments and cigars were given the members. A committee of the sheet metal workers has arranged for similar social evenings, to be held at the end of each month.

FAREWELL SERVICES.—Rev. G. H. Cobbledick, of Edmonton, who has been supplying the pulpit of Askin Street Methodist Church for the past five Sundays, will preach farewell sermons tomorrow. At 10 o'clock Mr. Cobbledick will deliver an address at a special gathering of the Men's Brotherhood, his subject being, "Men of Vision." It is expected that the pastor, Rev. Cosby Morris, will preach on Sunday, August 29.

IS IMPROVED.—The condition of H. S. Blackburn, county registrar, seriously ill at St. Joseph's Hospital, was reported today to be improved.

HIT IN EYE.—Ralph Gordon, 295 Hill street, had his left eye badly cut and bruised when he was struck by a stone thrown by an unknown boy Friday. He was riding with a companion on a delivery wagon on High street, when a boy who was standing on the roadside threw a stone. The police are trying to locate the culprit.

PIGEON RACE—More than 600 homing pigeons started in a race from this city to Hamilton at noon today. The birds were shipped here by express early this morning and were released at the G. T. R. station by two representatives of the club. Earlier in the morning 50 young birds were released by some of the expressmen at the request of the officials of the club who wished to find out the ability of the birds. The pigeons immediately circled eastward on rising in the air, and were soon lost to sight.

GARDEN FETE.—A decided success was the garden fete held on Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart McCallum, 629 St. James street, under the auspices of the Women's Guild of the Church of the Redeemer. The lawns were beautiful with flowers and flags, and a quaint country store made a pleasant and profitable detail of the scenery. Friends of the guild furnished a splendid program. Mrs. Hugh McCormick, Miss Krittle and Mr. Gordon Knapp sang, Master Herbert Bird gave a piano solo, and the Imperial Quartet gave several much-enjoyed numbers. Rev. John Morris, who was chairman, in a happy little speech at the close of the program, tendered the thanks of the church members and their friends to Mr. and Mrs. McCallum.

HOSPITAL STAFF IS REAPPOINTED

Several Vacancies Yet To Be Filled by the Trustees.

All members of the medical and surgical staff of Victoria Hospital were reappointed for a year by the hospital commission at a meeting Friday. There are several vacancies to be filled, caused by resignations during the year. The complete staff will be announced when these have been filled.

An imoprtant step in bringing Victoria Hospital in line with the foremost hospitals of the continent by standardizing the practices here with those of the other big institutions was made when it was decided to take institutional membership in both the Ontario and American Hospital Associations. No important changes will be required here to conform to the standards demanded by these associations.

The resignation of Miss Miller, who has been the hospital dietitian for the past year, was accepted. She is assuming a similar position in Cleveland, Ohio.

The superintendent was authorized to call for tenders for supplies of foodstuffs, comprising groceries, milk, bread and other articles.

The report for July showed an equal number of admissions and discharges for the month, 448, with 224 patients in the institution at the end of that period. There were 28 births and 14 deaths. At the free dispensary, 331 patients were treated. Cash received totalled $14,555. Accounts aggregating $29,875 were passed.

Those present at the meeting were the chairman, Lieut.-Col. W. M. Gartshore, Commissioners James Gray and J. W. Laidlaw and Superintendent T. H. Heard.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

DEATH OF ROBERT SCOTT.

Word has been received in the city of the death of Robert Scott, recently in San Jose, California. Mr. Scott, who had been living in San Jose for some years, was born in Westminster Township, and for 57 years was a member of local St. John's Lodge, No. 20, A., F. & A. M., and he was buried in the Masonic Cemetery under Masonic auspices in San Jose.

Mr. Scott was the inventor of the Scott quicksilver furnace in 1876 and he built many such furnaces in different quicksilver mines throughout the world. Although eighty years of age at the time of his death, Mr. Scott was an active man and on the day of his death was motoring 25 miles to the ranch of his son, when an accident occurred which proved fatal. Mr. Scott, who will be well remembered by the older generation in London district, is survived by his wife, Sarah; one son, Walter; two brothers, Walter and Andrew of Michigan, and two sisters, Mrs. A. Logan of this city, and Mrs. M. S. Gibson.

DEATH OF JAMES FLANIGAN.

James Flanigan, aged 30 years, died this morning in St. Joseph's Hospital after an illness of some weeks. Prior to his illness he was an employee of the Ford Motor Company, and had lived in the city for ten years. He is survived by three brothers, two residing in Ireland, and John of this city, and three sisters, Mary of Chicago, and two living in Ireland. The funeral will be held on Tuesday morning from the residence of his brother, 23 Garfield avenue. Requiem high mass will be sung at St. Peter's Cathedral at 9 o'clock. Interment will be made in St. Peter's Cemetery.

HAMILTON LABOR COUNCIL HOLDS STORMY SESSION

No Action Is Taken On Resolution Regarding Russian Soviet Republic.

Hamilton, Aug. 21.—Last night's meeting of the trades and labor council was the stormiest of the past decade, the trouble arising over the effort on the part of some of the more radical members to press a verbal resolution indorsing the action of the Toronto Trades and Labor Council, which at its last meeting instructed delegates to the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada to press for an indorsation of the Russian soviet republic, and to place itself on record as being opposed to military intervention in the Polish-Russian trouble.

President Harry Bourne ruled the motion out of order on the ground that no official word had been received from the Toronto council. He refused to accept newspaper versions of the meeting.

Another delegate wanted to name a committee to draft resolutions for submission to the Canadian congress, but this was also rejected unless a specially summoned meeting was called. The meeting got absolutely beyond the control of the presiding officer, and was adjourned without any action being taken.

RAILWAY MEN AND STRIKERS FIGHT IN CHICAGO YARDS

Seven Are Placed Under Arrest Following Trouble.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Seven men, one wounded, are under arrest today as a result of an early morning riot resulting from a clash between about a hundred railroad men and an equal number of strikers. Scores of shots were exchanged, bottles, sticks and stones were thrown, and heads were broken before police, responding to riot calls, broke up the fight.

The riot was an outgrowth of frequent attacks by striking railroadmen on the workers who refused to walk out last April in the unauthorized railroad strike. Several men are believed to have been wounded, but all but one were carried away when the police arrived.

SIR ADAM DENIES STORY FROM TORONTO

"The report is made out of whole cloth. Apparently the wish must have been father of the thought," Sir Adam Beck declared today in reference to an item in the Financial Post stating that he had purchased an estate in England, and might withdraw from Canadian public life.

In reference to rumors that he intended to sell part of his London property, he admitted that these were correct. "I have had a sign on the back part of the property offering it for sale for about ten years. It has been there so long that I guess the wind may have blown it off by now. But nobody has come along with a suitable offer.

BOYS SENTENCED TO GO TO BED EARLY

East Orange, N. J., Aug. 21.—Six boys, ranging in age from 10 to 13 years, found guilty of robbing neighbors' fruit trees, today faced a court sentence to go to bed at 6:30 o'clock each evening for 30 days. The parents, who were ordered to enforce the sentence, were given discretionary powers in administering the further punishment of castor oil to the culprits.

LIBERALS UNDECIDED AS TO A CANDIDATE

St. John, N.B., Aug. 21.—Canadian Press.—No decision was reached by the Liberal executive, which met last night to discuss the proposal to nominate a candidate to oppose the Hon. R. W. Wigmore, minister of customs, when he stands for re-election. It is thought a decision will be arrived at next Tuesday, when they meet again.

Lieut.-Col. G. G. Corbett, M.D., has been mentioned as a possible candidate.

MELITA ARRIVES IN MONTREAL.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—The C. P. O. S. Melita arrived here from Liverpool, carrying 1,850 passengers, including 496 cabin, 1,300 steerage passengers, disembarked at Quebec yesterday.

Among the cabin passengers were five bishops of the Anglican Church in Canada returning from the Lambeth Conference. Sir Kenneth Goadby and Hon. Mr. Justice Duff were also passengers on the Melita.

ACTION IS INDORSED.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—It was stated at a meeting called under the auspices of the Independent Socialist party of Quebec, held last night in the Labor Temple here that the object of the meeting was to get the opinion of members present as to the formation in Canada of a committee of vigilance along the same lines as the council of action of the allied trades unions in England.

A resolution strongly indorsing the action of the British trades unions on threatening a general strike, if war was declared on Russia, was read and adopted by the meeting.

COMMANDING POLES

GEN. WEYGAND, who was assistant to Marshal Foch in the world war, has taken over the command of all Polish troops, and already his work is being felt in the setback given to the red armies. The general took up the offer on condition that he be allowed to run the campaign in his own way. He has transferred Polish troops from Galicia to the Warsaw front, and Gen. Weygand went to Poland at the head of 800 French officers.

PROPOSED PEACE BETWEEN RUSSIA AND ENTENTE

"Because, you see, I need a new skin!"

Here is a Viennese way of looking at the Bolshevist attempt to open up commercial relations with the entente. What will he do when he gets a new skin? No one knows, but it is safe to say that it isn't what he is telling Johnnie Bull he will do.

Reading Under Difficulties at Sea

If books are treasures anywhere it would seem that they would be especially valuable at sea. But, speaking of the average seaman, an old-time mariner says that the rarest sight to be seen in a ship's forcastle is a man with a good stock of books. Occasionally, it seems, a sailor does get hold of a good book or two, and it is quite pathetic to see how he will treasure them.

The mariner adds that he was never in but one forecastle that had not a Bible and a copy of Shakespeare, the property of some man who held on to them voyage after voyage. And such books get read at sea with a closeness and persistency one may look for in vain ashore except among students.

It is interesting to note the difficulty of reading in the forecastles of ships, especially foreign ones. In the ship's forecastle it is seldom possible to read at all owing to the absence of light, either by day or by night. Men have been known to expose a ship to terrible risks by fire by sticking odd lengths of purloined candle on the edges of their bunks so that they might have light to read when lying down on the only spot on board rightly their own. One man, an American of great mental qualities, had such a passion for reading that he would sit up the whole night with a favorite author, Dickens for preference, and bribe his watch mates heavily to take his duties for him, such as wheel or lookout, so that he might remain undisturbed. Bent nearly double in his bunk, the miserable lamp hung upon a surreptitiously shifted hook so as to bring it nearer to him while still affording some light for his shipmates to rise or retire by, he made a pathetic picture of the pursuit of literature under difficulties, yet one familiar to many deep water sailors.

INDEPENDENT LABOR PARTY HOLDING BIG PICNIC AT HAMILTON

Premier Drury Will Speak At Gathering.

Hamilton, Aug. 21.—All signs pointed today to this afternoon's provincial picnic of the Ontario Independent Labor Party being the biggest demonstration in the history of the organization. By boat and by train thousands flocked to Hamilton to attend the event, and the committee in charge estimated than 10,000 people would be on the grounds at Wabasso Park this afternoon by the time the speech-making and games start. Premier Drury, who is to be the guest of honor, is scheduled to speak earlier in the afternoon at Preston. He will motor down from there. Other speakers include Hon. F. C. Biggs, Hon. W. R. Rollo, George C. Halcrow, M.L.A., and W. A. Crockett, M.L.A. Important announcements are expected from the premier and his cabinet ministers regarding the Drury Government's attitude towards labor.

WOMAN MOURNS FOR TRAITOR TO FRANCE

Secretly Removes Fragments of Col. Wolff's Remains From Grave.

PARIS, Aug. 20.—Secret exhumation of the remains of Col. Wolff, former commander of the Thirty-sixth French Colonials, from the tomb where the body was placed, near Luneville, after execution ordered by court-martial in September, 1914, presents a mystery thus far unsolved, although a Luneville court of inquiry believes it has a clue to the identity of the heavily-veiled woman who removed fragments of the bone and flesh in a common market basket a few weeks ago.

The French censor during the war prohibited any reference to the reason for Wolff's execution, but it is now known that he was accused of pro-German sympathies and a readiness to surrender to a brother in the enemy's forces while charged to defend a line between Epinal and Rozelieures. His forces were decimated in the German advance and Wolff was said to have tied a handkerchief to a sword and awaited capture. Instead of German, French officers arrived and arrested Wolff. He was placed immediately before a court-martial and shot the following morning.

He was buried a few kilometres from Luneville in a grave because it was known by the French population of what he had been accused, but once a year an unknown woman placed a wreath of flowers on the grave. A few days ago the inhabitants noticed the grave had been disturbed, and reported to the officials having seen a mysterious woman seated beside the grave talking confidentially to the sexton. Others testified that the black gowned woman lugged a basket from the vicinity of the cemetery to the neighboring station, refusing the help of willing villagers. The grave was opened Monday and revealed only a few fragments of bone, a military uniform and a colonel's identity tag.

LEGAL QUERIES

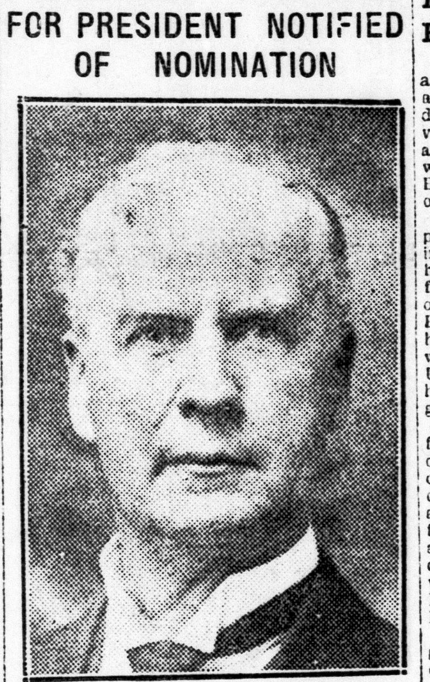

SUBSCRIBER—Have the trustees of a village public school the power to fit up a room and engage a continuation teacher without consulting the ratepayers?

ANS.—Yes.

AUTO RACE POSTPONED.

Elgin, Ill., Aug. 21.—The Elgin National road race, scheduled to start at noon today, was postponed this morning for one week on account of rain. Officials stated that the rain of last night and this morning had so flooded the course that a start would be impossible. The same starting hour will be in effect next Saturday, August 28, as has been scheduled for today.

THE WISE MAN AND THE FOOLISH.

[Tillsonburg News.]

The wise man is he who, when some adverse wind comes and the passage is rather rough, carefully trims his sails and whistles merrily, keeps up his courage and bravely goes on his way. He is the winner.

The foolish man is he who, when the skies are a little dark and things are not going quite so smoothly as he would wish, turns about and scurries for a hiding place. He never gets anywhere.

The wise man is he who, when money is not quite so easy and to get business is not so easy to do, redoubles his efforts, puts spurs to his energies, summons all his confidence and boldly goes on and on with his enterprises. He is sure to come out ahead.

The foolish man is he who, under such conditions is afraid, is panicky, cultivates distrust, abandons his plans and tucks his money away in the cookstove to be burned up. He always comes out behind.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

EDUCATIONAL DISCIPLINE.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Under "Voice of the People" in The London Advertiser of August 17 an article appeared entitled "Education" signed by Charles Lush of London, in which he disapproves of corporal punishment. Is Mr. Lush wiser than Solomon, who wrote, "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it"? "Foolishness is bound in the heart of a child, but the rod of correction shall drive it far from him." (Proverbs, xxii., 6, 15.) "He that spareth his rod hateth his son, but he that loveth him chasteneth him betimes." (Proverbs, xiii., 24.) Or is he wiser than Jesus Christ, the best and wisest of teachers, who "taught as one having authority" (Matthew, vii., 29; Mark, i., 22), and who "made a scourge of small cords" and drove out of the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and exchanged money within the sacred inclosure. (John, ii., 15; Matthew, xxi., 12.)

When other means of discipline prove inadequate, corporal punishment applied with common sense discretion is a helpful and useful means of maintaining a respect for parental authority, school discipline, and a proper regard for the observance of the laws of the state.

I venture to state that as many children are spoiled in character and conduct through laxity of parents who do not insist on obedience when they should do so, as there are of children spoiled through the application of the rod. It is the too severe and unduly harsh use of corporal punishment, or when a parent or teacher is in a fit of anger, that the punishment is wrong and should be condemned, not corporal punishment in its entirety. Even horse trainers frequently find it much more expedient and helpful to make use of the whip to some extent than to try to train horses without the whip.

Why does Mr. Lush proclaim himself as not a Christian, and as being more of a Buddhist or Gnostic? Does he think Buddhism or Gnosticism produces a better type of humanity? He had better go and live in India for a while. If he agrees that Jesus Christ is the one perfect ethical model, why doesn't he accept him as Saviour and learn to love and obey him, and become a practical Christian, such as he thinks Christians ought to be? Why not accept him today. Read II. Corinthians, vi., 2; Hebrews, iii., 7, 8, 12-15; John, iii., 16; Acts., iv., 12; xvi., 30, 31; John, iii., 36. WM. E. DE FOREST.

15,000 PRISONERS

EFFORT TO CUT OFF RETREAT OF RUSSIANS

PARIS, Aug. 20.—Gen. Pilsudski's army has reached the Middle Bug River, according to plan, and is marching down the stream to join the army advancing up the fork between the Bug and Narew Rivers toward Ostrolenka with the object of cutting the Warsaw-Bialystok road, the enemy's sole way of retreat.

Down this road the Reds are bolting, profiting by the large number of horses in their possession. The fact that they have these horses is said to account for the comparatively small number of prisoners being taken by the Poles. Pursuing French aeroplanes, however, have prevented the enemy from taking with him many guns and much material. Up to date seven Bolshevik divisions have been cut to pieces, and all their guns captured.

The Polish right wing, advancing from the south, is now before the forts of Brest-Litovsk, and part of it has crossed the Bug River in the direction of Kovel, thus providing a safeguard against flank counter-attacks. Polish forces in this region are supported by a Ukrainian division and Gen. Balachowicz's Russian volunteer army, which has remained in Polesia, east of Brest-Litovsk and to the rear of the Bolsheviki.

Thus, it is pointed out, the Bolsheviki garrison at Brest-Litovsk is virtually cut off on all sides.

BREST-LITOVSK TAKEN?

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. — Brest-Litovsk has been occupied by the Polish army, according to advices received today by the state department from the United States commissioner at Berlin. His dispatch was based on a report received by him from Posen.

CEREAL CROPS WILL BE LARGE

Barley and Oats Promise the Best Yield in Many Years.

The following is a summary of the weekly reports made by the agricultural representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

The general success of the cereal crops is one of the leading features of the season. Barley and oats are spoken of by most representatives as being worthy of being classed as bumper crops, and the quality of both these grains is well up to the standard. Unlike fall wheat, the spring grains have plenty of straw. Waterloo speaks of some oats standing between five and six feet high and as thick as they can grow. Straw will be a most welcome commodity after last year's scarcity.

Grain cutting started in the New Liskeard district on August 4 on the demonstration farm, where a field of O. A. C. No. 3 oats was cut that had matured in seventy-five days.

Fall wheat is threshing out better than was expected by some. Oxford reports ranging from 25 to 35 bushels to the acre. Huron states that some are threshing from 30 to 40 bushels to the acre, while Welland places yields as running from 25 up to as high as 50 bushels to the acre. As against all this, there have been yields running as low as 12 bushels in some parts of the province.

Sugar beets are likely to make a record for generous yield. Just now all classes of roots are making rapid growth under most favorable conditions.

Potatoes Plentiful.

Potatoes will also give good results. Prices have already gone as low as $1.25 a bag in Grenville.

Essex remarks that while wet weather has delayed threshing, it has been good for the corn and tobacco crops.

Hay is selling in older Ontario at from $20 to $28 a ton, but Kenora reports that in the north as high as $50 has been paid, while at Dryden $30 a ton was given for hay right from the field. Dundas says that timothy kept for seed is yielding well.

Grey states that buyers have been going through the county paying $15 a bushel for sweet clover seed. One man there with seventeen acres has been showing a stalk from a field seeded this spring that measures 3 feet 7 inches in height. Peterboro places the yield per acre of sweet clover in that county at from 10 to 12 bushels per acre.

Apples are plentiful, especially the fall varieties. Wentworth reports that the Hamilton market is being flooded with early apples. Huron says that buyers are now offering $1.50 a barrel for apples under the tree.

Peaches are being marketed, and will be fairly plentiful. Lincoln states that tomatoes as being a glut on the market.

Live stock continue in good general condition, owing to the favorable state of pastures. As an exception, Prescott and Russell reports a few young cattle lost from blackleg.

Buying Stockers.

Waterloo says that a number of farmers are speaking of buying stockers, as there is going to be a good supply of feed for carrying them over winter, especially of silage and spring grains.

The milk flow continues to be strong for the season. Essex claims that it is prastically as good as in June, but Oxford states that many dairy cattle have about finished their lactation period.

Cheese sold in Glengarry during the week at 25¾c a pound for colored and 26⅛c for white.

Hogs are being marketed steadily, many being rather light. Norfolk says brood sows are scarce.

In the counties where the Hessian fly appeared this season there is a disposition to sow less fall wheat, or, if not less, to sow later than usual. Elsewhere a normal acreage is likely to be put in, although a bigger area is expected in the Port Arthur district. Middlesex says that farmers will pay more attention than usual to the fields recently attacked by the fly by plowing down the affected wheat stubble or burning it.

Wentworth states that the local farm labor shortage is being further influenced by the western farm excursions.

SHOCKED BY LIGHTNING.

KIPPEN, Aug. 20.—Going from the kitchen door to the cellar outside entrance, Mrs. Alexander McBeath, during a severe thunderstorm, was knocked down by the shock of a heavy lightning bolt. After suffering a severe headache for several days, she has now recovered.

Miss C. McLaren, nurse, of Clinton, is visiting friends here.

Mrs. W. Fasken is visiting her daughter in Toronto.

CO-OPERATIVE THRESHING UNION.

KIPPEN, Aug. 20.—Local farmers have organized a co-operative threshing company, and have purchased equipment from the Sarnia and Port Huron firms. James Grassick, Wesley Harvey, Joseph Hood and Charles Penfound are the managing committee. Crops in the district are unusually heavy, and it is impossible to get threshing outfits to meet the demands of the farmers. Wheat is yielding 30 to 40 bushels to the acre.

FACED SERIOUS CHARGE.

TILLSONBURG, Aug. 20.—Charged with indecently behaving towards an eight-year-old girl, a Tillsonburg boy of sixteen, appeared before Magistrate Ball. The boy's father appeared in his behalf, and he was allowed to go to report to the magistrate on September 11, as to his conduct and work in the meantime. The boy had left school and was ordered to find work.

NEXT CONVENTION IN ST. JOHN.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—Next year's convention of the Canadian Pharmaceutical Association will be held in St. John, N. B., it was stated here last night after the convention, that has just been held here, was closed. J. Hoag of Kingston, was elected vice-president of the association.

WALL STREET REVIEW.

New York, Aug. 21.—Stocks continued to lose ground in the first half of this weeks' dull sessions, but made up much if not all of their loss in the more active trading of the later period.

Technical conditions, as again expressed by foreign and domestic conditions apparently favored a confident short interest, that there was little actual liquidation, most of the selling emanating from professional sources.

The Russo-Polish situation weighed upon the market for foreign remittances, the British rate showing especial heaviness. Quotably the money market was unchanged, but call loans were relatively easy, and banks bought of merchants' paper in moderate amounts.

Prominent banking interests were of the opinion that the general business situation is in process of greater stability and advices from leading steel centres were of a more hopeful tenor than at any recent period.

MONTREAL STOCK EXCHANGE.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—The local stock exchange was very quiet at the opening this morning, and prices remained around yesterday's close. Smelters made an overnight gain of ¼ point to 25¼, as did also Montreal Power, selling at 81¼. Spanish preferred moved within a narrow range, from 125¾ to 126, and the common held around 118 to 118½. Laurentide was another feature at 118, up 2 points from yesterday's close. Other paper stocks were dull. Sugar sold at 146 and Bell Telephone at 102.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

New York, Aug. 21—Wall Street, 10:10 a.m.—Stocks were firm to strong at the opening of the week-end session, shorts contributing to the further rally. Outstanding features included Canadian Pacific, independent steels and Mexican oils.

GRAIN.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Opening: Wheat—Dec., $2 36; March, $2 38½.

Corn—Sept., $1 44¾; Dec., $1 21⅞.

Oats—Sept., 67⅞c; Dec., 68¼c.

FOSS MAKES A NEW RECORD POLE VAULT IN OLYMPIC GAMES

Chicago Man Cleared Bar At 13 Feet 5 1-8 Inches, Practically 3 Inches Over Old One.

ANTWERP, Aug. 20.—Phenomenal pole vaulting by F. K. Foss, Chicago A. A., which broke all existing records, and a brilliant distance race by four European runners, in which the French marvel, Guillemot, went down to defeat, furnished the thrills for the 10,000 spectators at the sixth day of the Olympic games today. The performances in both these events were exceptionally praiseworthy in view of the rain and cold.

The day was ending with a brilliant sunset, but with November-like temperature, just as Foss, the former Cornell star, sailed over the bar which had been placed at the height of 13 feet 5 1-8 inches. The old record was 13 feet 2¼ inches.

Foss already was the winner of the first place for the United States in the pole vault, but he was urged to go and break the olympic record. This he did, and then after a consultation by the officials, the bar was set at the top height, so that Foss might have a chance to excel the world's record. When the height of the crossbar was announced an absolute hush fell over the spectators.

Twice Foss essayed his task and failed. Then, after a long rest, and with the spectators tense, he took an exceptionally long run and a terrific leap, sailed upward and curved his body over the bar like the letter "s," snapped the pole backward and dropped amid a great splash of sawdust into the pit on the other side. The crowds in the stands yelled themselves hoarse, as the feat was accomplished, while Foss' team-mates lifted him upon their shoulders and marched around, the band meanwhile playing. Flags everywhere were waving in unison with the melody of the band, and photographers were scurrying here and there in order to obtain pictures of the momentous event. There was scarcely less enthusiasm over the 10,000 metres run, which developed into a sensational full-distance contest between Nurmi, Finland, Guillemot, France, Wilson, England, and Maccario, Italy—Undoubtedly four of the greatest distance runners who had been brought together in years.

From start to finish, the quartet ran most of the time toe to heel, and closed in a sprint that would have done credit to fresh men. Nurmi had the greatest reserve, dashing away to win from his French rival in the final milliards. The French runner had enough strength left to outstay Wilson, who himself at the tape had just sufficient stamina to beat out the plucky, stocky little Italian. Nurmi's time was 31 minutes, 45 2-5 seconds. This was 45 3-5 seconds behind the world's record of Jean Bouin, the famous French runner, who was killed in the war. Bouin established his mark in France in 1913. The belief prevailed that Nurmi would have made a record if the run had been anything life a fast track.

WIND HARNESSED TO OPERATE FARM

Dakota Man Invents Storage Plant For Breezes.

FARGO, N. D., Aug. 20.—Governor Lynn J. Frazier has installed on his farm near Hoople a plant which will transform the wind into electricity to heat and light his home and operate farm machinery.

The machine is the invention of Geo. Manikowske, a North Dakota farmer. It has been called "the most remarkable piece of wind-driven machinery ever produced by man." An ordinary windmill supplies the motive power. Manikowske's problem was to store the power of the wind for use in periods of calm. Though many scientists had worked out this problem and pronounced it impossible, Manikowske solved it.

A belt placed around the wheel of the windmill is attached to a dynamo. Wheel and dynamo are attached to a heavy steel standard running up through the windmill standard so that they swing together with the wind. There are only three rotating parts—the wind wheel, the idler and the armature. Each part rotates on either roller or ball-bearings packed in hard oil. By driving directly from the wheel to the belt, the machine utilizes almost 100 per cent of the power of the wind.

The speed of the wheel is governed automatically by the blades, which open in a gale and close in light breezes. The "governor" works so perfectly that the speed of the wheel remains constantly the same. The electricity generated is conducted by wires to a storage battery and power plant in the basement of the residence, from which it is distributed through an automatic switchboard.

As an illustration of the power supplied by the machine, one on the farm of O. J. Seiler, near Jamestown, furnishes light for 120 incandescent lamps, runs a washing machine, cream separator, vacuum cleaner, flat iron and fanning mill, pumps water for 200 head of stock and lights a church. The machines are coming into use on farms throughout North Dakota. Only one has been sold outside the state. Manikowske, who as an inventor "has achieved the impossible," is still a farmer.

RAILROAD BRIDGES BURNED AT KAMLOOPS

KAMLOOPS, Aug. 20.—Passengers on the Canadian National Railway are still being transferred across streams where bridges were burned in the great forest fires which occurred over a large territory, north of Kamloops, on Monday night and Tuesday.

Latest reports received from the district show that 30 ranchers or homesteaders were absolutely burned out, and many people had a very narrow escape with their lives. At one time sixty fire fighters were in an exceedingly precarious position. They were trapped by flames, but successfully sought refuge in the Thompson River.

More than forty employees of the Fennell mill, which was burned, had to cover four miles of burning territory, threatened every moment with the flames.

CRITICISES DOHERTY OR USING GOVT. CAR

TORONTO, Aug. 20.—The Telegram in a news story declares that Hon. Manning Doherty, minister of agriculture in the Ontario Farmer-Labor Government, is at present making a personal trip across Canada to see his sick brother at Vancouver, in an Ontario Government private car, "The Whitney," while other members of the Ontario Government are traveling about the province of Ontario, presumably on public business, "almost at an inconvenience."

EVERY WOMAN'S AMBITION FOR ROSY CHEEKS NOW EASILY SATISFIED

Hollow cheeks with dark lines under the eyes, how a woman hates them!

But rosy cheeks, clear skin, and bright eyes, give them to a woman and she is happy.

The woman who attracts, whose fresh, dainty complexion compels admiration, is always careful of her health, particularly of her blood condition. Bad complexion always means bad blood.

Girls, don't let your blood grow thin or watery. To do so brings on haggard looks and declining strength.

Many a woman who has allowed herself to rundown, to develop that tired, worried look, has built up again in this simple way. Why don't you try it?

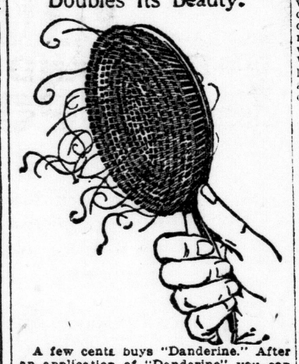

At the close of every meal, just take two small chocolate-coated Ferrozone Tablets—any person can do this in a minute. The action of Ferrozone is apparent at once. It sets you up, makes you feel good, starts up your appetite, aids digestion, brings that old-time feeling of youth into the system again.

Ferrozone puts you on the right road—the one leading to health.

Not a man, woman or child needing blood, vigor, endurance—not a person who is weak, nervous or sickly, not a person in ill-health who won't receive immediate help from Ferrozone.

As a tonic and restorative, as a health-bringer and body-builder, Ferrozone is unrivalled. It cures because it feeds and nourishes, because it contains the elements that build up and strengthen. For better looks and better health try Ferrozone yourself, sold everywhere, 50c per box, 6 boxes for $2.50, or by mail from The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

ESSEX MAN IS ARRESTED ON A SERIOUS CHARGE

Walkerville Girl Is Victim of Brutal Attack.

Windsor, Aug. 21.—Daisy Blake, 19 years old, daughter of John Blake, manager of one of the farms of Walkerside Dairy, was severely injured last night, when she was assaulted on Walker road, near the Canadian Pacific Railroad track. The girl suffered a severe cut on the skull, evidently administered by a piece of lead pipe which was found near her. Her leg was also fractured. Miss Blake, who is a stenographer in Detroit, had complained for the last two or three days of a man following her from the ferry dock.

The Blake residence necessitates a walk of about half a mile from the street car. At about 8:30 last night W. F. H. Hackney, accompanied by his wife, was driving along Walker road, when they noticed the hat of Miss Blake lying in the road. They stopped the car, and as they did so a man several hundred yards away jumped on his wheel and ran away. The girl was taken to the hospital, where she is today in a serious condition.

Late Friday afternoon Provincial Officer J. P. Hannas went to Maidstone and arrested Joseph Drouillard, aged 17, on suspicion of having committed the crime, which the authorities declare is nothing less than an attempt at murder. Drouillard was arraigned before Magistrate Myers in Walkerville at 6 o'clock Friday night, and remanded for a preliminary hearing.

As a result of continued complaints to Mayor Winter of short weights being given on Windsor market and local streets by hucksters, fifty citizens having registered reports within the past few days, sales and measures of all hucksters were today ordered investigated by Mayor Winter. The majority of complaints have to do with potatoes, the complainants declaring that hucksters are selling but twelve pounds for a peck. Special licenses issued to peddlers to ply their trade on streets will be revoked, following their conviction, Mayor Winter said tonight.

As a result of two big seizures of liquor, while being smuggled across the Detroit River from the Canadian side into Michigan within the past 24 hours, appeals will probably be made to the Government at Toronto or Ottawa by the border authorities for the provision of motorboat patrols on the Canadian side of the river, similar to that being maintained by the American authorities on the other side.

Patrolling the Canadian side below Fighting Island, near Sunnyside, late Thursday night, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and Fort City constables gave chase in a motorboat to three rum runners in a high-powered craft who were towing a small rowboat loaded with 32 cases of whiskey across the stream. When the towline was cut the bootleggers escaped, and the officers captured the cargo. The consignment of liquor was addressed to seven or eight persons.

Nineteen Barrels Seized.

A seizure was made early this morning by special license inspectors of a launch owned by Miss May Moore, proprietor of a Detroit resort. Nineteen barrels of real beer were on board when the boat was captured. Ernest Nedeau, who was driving the boat, was arrested and granted bail at $3,000 in Windsor police court today, while the launch valued at $4,000, was turned over to the customs officials, and will be confiscated because no clearance papers were made out before it left. The Moore woman was fined $1,000 and costs in Windsor police court a week ago, following a raid on the Sunnyside Hotel, a well-known roadhouse, where she was caught with a supply of whiskey.

Austrian Case Adjourned.

The trial of Nicholas Shabala and Phillip Lech for indecent assault on a 14-year-old Austrian girl on Marion avenue was interrupted today, and had to be adjourned, when Barrister Frank Wilson and Magistrate Miers went to the mat in a wordy war when Wilson insisted upon his cross-examination of witnesses being taken down verbatim. This the court refused to do because of the absence of an official court stenographer. When Wilson, in spite of repeated refusals of the magistrate to take down the evidence, demanded his point be granted, the court replied: "Well, then, I'm through with this case. We will adjourn it."

The two men originally faced a much more serious charge, which was reduced by the police.

Charged with soliciting orders for liquor on the border, contrary to provisions of the Ontario temperance act, Henry Lewis and Nathan Brown were today arrested, and are out tonight on $2,000 bail each.

Bank Clearings $3,881,800.

Windsor bank clearings for the week ending today aggregated $3,881,800, an increase of $1,815,375, as compared with the corresponding week of the previous year, when the total was $2,066,425.

Two men, one of Windsor, and the other of Detroit, are held by federal authorities in Detroit following the seizure of a large, high-powered motor car at Woodward avenue ferry dock late last night with seventeen cases of liquor. The car and liquor have both been confiscated.

Spracklin Fined $10 Plus.

Mayor E. H. Donnelly of Sandwich is authority for the statement tonight that License Inspector Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, "fighting parson" of the border, was today fined $10 and costs for speeding, after pleading guilty to the offence. Spracklin was recently summoned to appear in court when he was caught in an automobile, driven by a taxi driver, exceeding the speed limit. Spracklin claimed he was on duty as license inspector at the time.

POLICE TAKE VAG IN BRANTFORD JAIL BACK TO THOROLD

John Paddy Gaghen Still Talks Ramblingly of Border Crime.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 20. — John Paddy Gaghen, tramp, who talked rather freely to women in this city that he knew more than the authorities did over the Thorold murder, that McNeal was not the right man and that he know who was, was taken to Thorold this afternoon. Chief Collins and Constable Dunn of that town came up for the purpose of acting as his escort this afternoon and without questioning him further, took him back to Thorold. Gaghen has continued to talk very ramblingly.

Highway Worst Ever.

The Brantford-Hamilton highway, taken over by the province, is declared to be in the worst condition in its history, and Reeve Greenwood of Brantford Township, will appeal to Hon. F. C. Biggs to at least have the roadway levelled. Traffic is at the heaviest mark in history.

A remand was granted today in police court in the case of Sarah Crosby, charged with conducting, and Christian Crosby, Lena Watts and May Flaherty charged with being inmates of a disorderly house at 80 Market street.

Finances of Radials in U.S.A. a Warning to Ontario, Says Powers

United Farmers' Co-operative President Says Government Could Not Go Ahead On Promises of Traffic Without Insisting On All Facts.

LORNEVILLE, Ont., Aug. 20.—At a U. F. O. picnic here today the hydro radial situation was dealt with by A. A. Powers, president of the United Farmers' Co-operative Company. In vindication of the Government appointing a commission of inquiry, Mr. Powers said there was a scarcity of information before the people of the hydro commission's scheme. Municipalities had accepted estimates that were high as to cost of construction and extravagant as to revenues.

Mr. Powers referred to the campaign of detraction of the Ontario Government's action. It was quite unjustifiable on the part of those who derived the existence from the Legislature and were unaccountable to it and the lieutenant-governor in council. An effort was also made by glowing articles in the press to make out that electric radials in the United States were great successes.

Earnings Lower.

The truth was, he said, that, though none of these lines cost anything like those for which provincial guarantees were demanded, the earnings of most of them were much lower than any of the hydro estimates, and their financial condition generally was a warning to the municipalities of Ontario. Quoting from the report for 1919 of the Public Service Commission of the State of New York, Mr. Powers said that out of 68 operating companies, only six—or 8.7 per cent—paid dividends for 1919. Seven companies were being operated under receivers, three of them with lines starting from Buffalo. This official report, said Mr. Powers, stated that of all those roads, "the corporate surplus in 1915 was a deficit of $1,768,738. In 1918 it was a deficit of $14,945,742, of an increase in the deficit of 745 per cent. The total amount of dividends declared in 1918 by the paying roads was only $309,059."

Full Elucidation.

In face of figures like these, what could any sane government do, asked Mr. Powers, but insist on a full elucidation of all the fact pertaining to electric radials before putting the province's guarantee upon projects which were founded upon promises of traffic that had no reasonable basis? He predicted that in the end the whole province would be thankful to the Government for insisting that Queen's Park was really a neighbor to Missouri. It was time the public had full and thoroughly reliable information on this great question and he and his friends would do their best to see that it was forthcoming in good time.

SOME THRESHING IS BEING DONE ALREADY IN SOUTH ALBERTA

Fifteen Per Cent of Wheat Is Harvested—Slight Frost in Saskatchewan.

LETHBRIDGE, Aug. 20.—Harvesting is in full swing in every section of Southern Alberta, with the exception of the Cardston district, where rain a week ago checked the crop in the ripening stages. Monday will see the binders busy there, and harvesting will be general.

Crops vary greatly in Southern Alberta. Some districts will average 30 bushels of wheat or better, while in others the crop is light. The average yield will be about 12 bushels.

The average wheat yield over the whole of Southern Alberta will be about 20 bushels. The grade will be uniformly good, though there will be some shrunken wheat owing to the too rapid ripening.

The oat crop is not heavy as a rule, and will probably average about 40 bushels. Flax will be good with 12 bushel to the acre. Alfalfa on irrigated land will yield close to 5 tons for the two crops, the biggest yield in the history of the province.

Wheat cutting is 15 per cent complete, and some threshing is being done. There has been no sign of frost yet. The labor situation is satisfactory.

HAS SLIGHT FROST.

REGINA, Aug. 20.—Potatoes in unprotected fields and gardens are black today as the result of frost last night. Beans, cucumbers and other gardenstuff susceptible to light frosts also suffered. The official thermometer at the Parliament Buildings registered 33. The one at the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Barracks showed 30 as the lowest point.

Small gardens protected by hedges, high fences, or buildings, escaped almost unscathed. Opinions differ on the damage, if any, to the wheat crop. One farmer declares that the quality will be lowered to No. 3 northern, meaning a loss of about 7 cents per bushel. Potatoes are sure to suffer, although experts say they will ripen, but will be small.

ONE OF BEST CROPS.

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Aug. 20.—Northern Saskatchewan is now harvesting what will prove to be one of the best crops in its history. Wheat will average 22 to 25 bushels to the acre; oats, 40 to 120, and barley from 35 to 50. Potatoes, field roots and garden products were never better. Farm labor is slightly below the demand, but the situation in this regard is not such as to seriously hamper harvesting.

SERBIAN REGIMENTS WAR WITH ALBANIANS

ROME, Aug. 20.—A wireless message from Scutari, Albania, states that fierce fighting is proceeding north of that place between Serbs and Albanians, and that Serbian regiments in their defence of Taraboso yesterday lost 220 dead and 250 prisoners. It adds that a revolution has broken out at Kostovo, and the Albanian Government has called to the colors four new classes, numbering 60,000.

GOLDEN-FACED GIRLS NEW VOGUE IN PARIS

Eyes Black Pencilled and Lips Painted Scarlet.

Paris, Aug. 20.—Americans coming in Paris must not be shocked if they see girls with golden faces on the boulevards and in the cafes. It is only the new fashion. Instead of applying cold cream and powder so that their faces look like wax, many of the Parisian beauties are now using gold dust in the making of their complexion. This new vogue requires a very free use of the black pencil around the eyes and a heavy coat of scarlet paint on the lips. Gold, red and black do not make a bad combination of colors when applied to certain faces that are seen on the boulevards.

Speaking of innovations, a dispatch from Brussels relates that a young and good-looking girl created considerable surprise by appearing on the boulevards of that city in a sweater, loosely knitted in khaki wool, which fell straight from the neck to the feet, and that no one could make out whether it looked more like a nightgown or a shroud.

PLAN NOT SATISFACTORY.

London, Aug. 20.—By the Canadian Associated Press.—The Daily Mail's financial editor, discussing the possibility of the introduction of more Canadian mining shares on the London market soon, remarks that it can hardly be claimed that such investments, up to the present, have proved so satisfactory that there is likely to be any great rush for new schemes. The writer says that the Canadians seem to have kept for themselves the best of the mines, or let Americans finance them.

ADMITS STEALING TWO CASES LIQUOR FROM C. P. R. CAR

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 20.—W. Nolan, an employee of the C. P. R., pleaded guilty in court today to stealing two cases of liquor and two pairs of shoes from a C. P. R. car. Nolan was remanded to jail for a week, and in the meantime the magistrate will look up his record. His arrest came about as a result of a carousal staged by himself and some friends. He came here from Detroit two weeks ago.

STRENGTH

"Red blood, rich in iron is a never failing source of strength and endurance," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.) New York, and the Westchester County Hospital. "Many a man is losing the strength, health and enthusiasm of earlier years simply because there is not sufficient iron in his blood to send it, pure and red, flowing through his body, rebuilding wasted tissue and renewing energy and force.

"It is the man who keeps his blood filled with organic iron—like Nuxated Iron—who is building within himself the strength that towers in an emergency; a strength that masters obstacles and clears the way to success."

Nuxated Iron is prescribed and recommended by physicians and is now being used by over 4,000,000 people annually to build red blood, strength and endurance.

WHATEVER YOU DO, DON'T NEGLECT YOUR EYES, SAYS DR. LEWIS, WHO Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight 50% In One Week's Time In Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

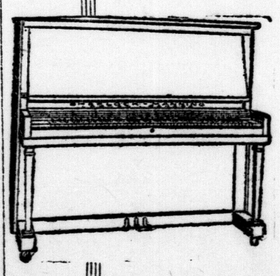

Philadelphia, Pa.—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eyestrain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. He says neglect causes more eye troubles and poor sight than any other one thing. Many whose eyes were failing say they had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says after trying it "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days, everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two or four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

NOTE: Another prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist, and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." It is sold in this city by Standard Drug Stores and Strong's Drug Store.

CO-OPERATIVE HOME CLUB FOR MOTHERS PROVES A SUCCESS

New York Experiment Accomplishes Wonders Along New Lines.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—West Ninety-Second street, in the block between the Park and the "L," was amazed to see itself one night recently "all dolled up" for a block party exactly as if the year of our Lord was still 1917-1918 when that kind of festivity was common in New York. The block was roped off and at either end sat pretty ticket sellers who easily persuaded the curious passersby to come in by payment of a small fee and enjoy themselves. There was a band that played for dancing at the end nearest the park, there were flags galore and so many lights under Oriental shades that the use of the conventional term innumerable is for once almost permissible.

The building at No. 60 in this block was the centre from which all the gay features of this party emanated, and it was for what this building holds that these features were inaugurated.

It is the Mothers' Co-operative Home Club, and what moneys were taken in at the party went to pay for a roof garden that was recently installed there. The women behind the club realized that a roof garden was essential to the happiness and well being of the inmates, so they put it in and then made plans to pay what it cost. That's the modern way of financing things.

The Mothers' Co-operative Home Club has not been in existence quite one year, and it is still in the experimental stage, but everybody connected with it says with a happy smile that the experiment looks like a success. If it proves so, and the proof will be found in the fact that the club is self-supporting, then others will be started, some of them to be in less expensive quarters of the city.

For Those of Fair Salaries.

The idea used as the basis of this undertaking is that there are numerous mothers, widowed by the war and other causes, who have been compelled to become the wage earners of the family. These women are stenographers, bookkeepers, teachers, etc., and are in receipt of fair salaries. Fair as it may be, this salary is not adequate to pay the hire of a housekeeper, a nurse or governess to look after an apartment and the children while the mothers are at their business. Under present high rent conditions, in many cases, it is not sufficient to provide the apartment.

There are many day nurseries throughout the city where the children of working women of the manual class are cared for during certain daylight hours for a small sum, but these places do not answer the needs of the class referred to above, and the Co-operative Home Club does. It is modelled in a degree on a similar institution which has been established for several years in Chicago, but with this difference, the Chicago institution is partly charitable, this one in New York asks for no money from its founders, but starts to pay its own way.

At the opening, the Ethical Society, with Dr. Felix Adler and his able associates, manifested a willingness to father the club. It was soon found, however, that these men and women could give little working time to its interests, and besides the connection gave an incorrect conception of the club's purpose, which is to keep it strictly non-sectarian. The women, therefore, who had organized the club decided to follow it up alone. The officers are Mrs. Simon Frankel, Mrs. Lionel Sutro, Mrs. Henry Wurzburg and Mrs. J. J. Frank. The resident superintendent is Miss Rae Lewis.

Mothers are received as paying guests with children from 2 years to 12 years old. They pay for room and board (mother and child), $17 per week; for more than one child the additional price is pro rata. Thus it will be seen that charity has no part in this business arrangement. When it is once entered into with an applicant the working mother may dismiss from her mind all fears about her child's welfare during the hours she is compelled to be absent from it. She breakfasts with it in the large and charming dining-room, and then turns it over to a nurse instructor, whose duty it is to keep the child healthfully entertained and, in the case of the elder children, instructed in simple educational matters until the parent returns in time for dinner.

There are large play rooms fitted up to help in the child's intellectual development and games indoors are constantly going forward during the waking hours of the little ones in these rooms, when the weather is too cold or inclement for outdoor exercise. But there are few days when the children do not get at least a walk in the nearby Central Park, and very many days see them in this big outdoor play room all day long. The afternoon nap is, of course, insisted on.

When it is observed how large a staff of assistants is required for this kind of personal attendance, the price asked by the directors of this club will not seem excessive, being little more than the wages demanded by the ordinary child nurse.

Can Take in 25 Mothers.

The Home Club can accommodate at 60 West Ninety-second street 25 mothers with from one to two children each. A parent has her own room, and service is included in the sum she pays for it. The club directors were fortunate in being able to get possession of their present quarters, which would seem an ideal for their experiments as if it had been built for them expressly.

The house was erected some seventeen years ago by Judge Keeler as a sort of community home for his married children. It is 25 feet wide and four stories above the basement. On each floor arrangements were made for the married sons and daughters to keep house if they so elected, or they could at will have their meals in the big family dining-room. There is due to this arrangement more than the ordinary house conveniences on all the upper floors, including bath room and offices. At comparatively small cost changes were made, such as large rooms partitioned off into smaller ones, etc., to make the house suitable for club purposes.

"There are two points the directors wish to make clear," explained Mrs. Lewis, the present superintendent, to a reporter for the press, "they are that everything else being satisfactory about an applicant, we receive mothers of every religious denomination, and that there are here no institutional rules. This is just what it purports to be—a Mothers' Co-operative Club, and while we have rules, as every well conducted home must have them, ours are not widely different from home rules.

"The impression has gone abroad that we are a Jewish society; that is due to the personnel, but the directors and officers are broad minded, unprejudiced and unsectarian women of the world, whose aim is to accomplish a good thing in a fine way without being hampered by parochial ideas and to fill a real want that everybody acquainted with the situation must admit exists.

"Our children show by their facial characteristics that they come from various races, and every child received here with its mother is taught morality in a universal way, the kind of ideals of honor and truth, fidelity and patriotism that are found, or should be found, in every religious sect.

"These are big words to use with regard to little children and in fact our little ones are permitted to grow up naturally without too much stress being laid on matured systems of ethics. We look after their growing bodies and minds, but we do nothing calculated to force either one.

"Everything is done here on a liberal scale; the table is of the best but simple foods, the rooms are more than comfortable, they are prettily furnished, and we try to look out for the mothers' comfort as well as that of their children. To do it satisfactorily eats up a great deal of money, but we don't expect to ask aid to make up a deficit at the end of the year.

"A great many women besides those named in the prospectus are interested in our success, feeling that the aim is high and the need great. These women help us out with personal effort; they can be called on to do almost anything for the club, and they would reply with donations if that were necessary. We don't want it ever to become so. Among these workers for us are as many Gentile as there are Jewish women.

"In the block party which we held all of our neighbors without regard to creed turned in and helped to make it a success. The women baked cakes, cookies, bread and pies in great profusion, and then came and helped to sell them. Others brought donations of fancy work, children's layettes, flowers, etc., while still others dressed up in costumes and told fortunes or did anything they could turn their hand to and helped increase the fund we required to pay our bills for the roof garden.

"That was an expensive outlay, but it was undertaken without too many misgivings. You see it was appointed so that we can heat it and use it in the winter time. It will be a great solace to the children and none of the expense of it will be felt by our co-operative boarders. Whatever we can do to make the club attractive and beneficial to our little people we mean to do, but we are not increasing the board bill to pay for added attractions.

Ample Reward in Results.

"The good this club has already done in removing anxiety from the minds of the mothers who hold good clerical positions with fair salary, but which is yet not great enough to warrant a separate establishment, has fully rewarded all the time and trouble and expense. Our mothers are happy, able to give their best work to their employers, and you can see for yourself that the children are well and happy too. It is, in fact, a happy family, and the wish of everybody who has taken the interest to come and see what we are doing is that our work will prosper and become extended."

The children boarders surely looked well kept, and by the constant ripple of that sweetest human music, child laughter, that was to be heard about the clubhouse their spirits were felt to be gay.

As the writer turned to go down the front steps of the big white and red house a band of little ones with ages ranging from 5 to 8 or 9 passed him returning from an afternoon in the park. They seemed like the happy and healthy progeny—these little half orphans—of well to do parents.

WOMEN SUCCESSFUL IN ART GLASS WORK

Revival of Ancient Window Making Offers Field For Originality.

It is not known when artificial glass was first made and used. There is an amulet in the form of a lion's head in the British Museum upon which, in hieroglyphics, is the date 3064 B. C. The process of glass blowing is depicted in the paintings on the walls of the rock-built tombs of Beni-Hassan, 2851 years before Christ, and in sculpture in the ancient tombs at Memphis more than a thousand years before that time (B. C. 39000).

To Germany belongs the honor of reviving, in our day, the making of colored glass windows, although France and England, after the French revolution, produced the first picture windows, but these windows were due to the efforts of individual artists, while in Germany the subject was studied seriously.

A Revival of Stained Glass at Munich.

Great artists gave the matter their attention and founded a school of glass painters, with Munich as the centre of the movement. The seven or more windows which were painted by French and German artists between 1809 and 1825 were, so to speak, the seeds from which grew the great window glass work.

American artists in glass refuse to copy the works of antiquity. To do so would be, they think, a confession of inferiority, and that is one of the confessions to which Americans do not take kindly. One of the many criticisms of the foreign glass workers is that the American artists seek too much to perfect color effects, paying little attention to form.

In rebuttal the American says: "Perfect color with perfect form are seldom found in nature." In confirmation of which stand by the Americans, Ruskin said:

"Color to be perfect must have a soft outline and a simple one; it cannot have a refined one, and you will never produce a good painted window with good figure drawing on it. You will lose perfection of color as you give perfection of line."

The American glass artists are, first and most important, colorists; they are masters of their materials and have compelled recognition from the most artistic nations of the world. John La Farge, who executed such remarkable altar pieces and interior decorations, was honored by France with the Cross of the Legion of Honor. In the American manner La Forge designed stained glass windows for churches and many other buildings. eH designed the "battle window" in Memorial Hall, Harvard University.

If there is any art which has been developed by American genius it is that of making ornamental figure windows in colored glass. Our artists have most skillfully developed the mosaic motive. The softening of the colors in the Old World windows is the work of the ages. Our chemists and artists attempted and succeeded in producing glass which will give the same effect.

One of the great difficulties was to get a glass which would produce the flesh tints of the hands and face; for which effect even to this day paint is sometimes used.

When a window is to be made its form and shape must first be chosen. Then the artist makes a color sketch in order to get his composition for the cartoon. From this primary sketch a full-sized cartoon is made, the figures of which are studied from life. From this finished cartoon two transfers are made on paper in the identical manner in which an embroiderer transfers her pattern to the cloth upon which she is going to work.

One of these patterns is given to the artist who assembles the glass required ofr the window. The other is cut up into patterns following along the path which will be taken by the lead lines. These pieces are arranged upon a glass easel, placed against the light.

The artist now chooses from the selected glass for a section of the figure. He removes the paper pattern and in its place inserts the glass between himself and the light. The glazier marks the portion of the glass which is to be cut and places his pattern on it.

Women Now Do Fine Glass Work.

When the piece of glass corresponds exactly with the template it is placed upon the glass easel and held in position with wax, taking the place of the paper pattern. This is continued until the entire window is cut and placed upon the easel. Some of the finest work on glass windows is now done by women.

There is a touching story of the origin of the picture called the "Five Sisters" in the north transept of York Cathedral. These sisters were beautiful and good to the poor. Like many of the ladies of those olden days they sepnt much time in embroidery. A pious old monk who wished these ladies to go into a convent condemned this work as worldly; but their mother had worked upon that same piece of tapestry and before she died she bade her daughters finish it.

Finally, Alice, the youngest and most beautiful of the five sisters, died. Again the monk pleaded with theothers to enter the convent. The thought of cloistered walls senta shudder through the beautiful sisters; but through artists of great celebrity the sisters obtained the sanction of the church to continue their work.

Then the sisters arranged for the making of a richly-stained glass window, in five large compartments, which must hea faithful copy of their precious embroidery work. As the sun streamed through the glass the light fell upon the name of the loved Alice. For many hours each day the sisters paced up and down the nave, or knelt by the side of the stone beneath which Alice slept. After a time three only were seen, then two, and fora long time afterward but one woman, bent with age, trod the pathway. At length she came no more and there were five names on the stone. Time has worn all the names away, but the stranger visiting York Cathedral is shown an old window and told the story of the "Five Sisters."

DIVERS RALLY FOR RICH HAULS OF SEA

Pearl Seekers Will Spend Much of Earnings On Movies.

PAPEETE, Tahiti, Aug. 10.—The opening of the pearl diving season, the great event of the year in the French settlements, comes in July. Diving is not permitted for two years in succession at the same island. The various pearl islands are opened in rotation. This means that all gear, stocks of merchandise and building material must be taken to a new island each year—no small undertaking when it is remembered that the coral atoll, which in ordinary times supports less than 200 persons, becomes in the diving season the abiding place of 2,500 or more.

This year the open island is Hikueru, one of the Paumatu Archipelago, four brass band, and, it is reported, electric lights along the "Great White Way" of this little ring of coral sand.

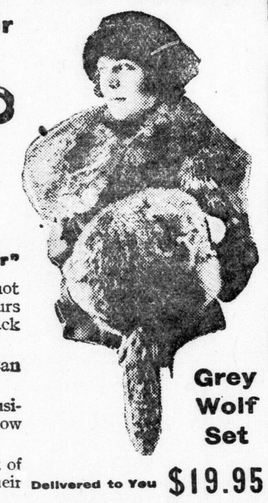

Late advices indicate that the season this year at Hikueru will be the most active in many years. It is estimated there will be at least 1,000 divers at the island. These, together with their families and the traders with their stags, will swell the population of the island during the season to nearly 4000.

hundred miles to the eastward of Tahiti.

Already this lonely atoll is taking on a metropolitan appearance. The profits to be gained come not only from the pearl shell won from the lagoon, but from the sale of all kinds of wares dear to the native heart and from the providing of entertainment to refresh the weary diver and his women folk after the labors of the day are over. The average native diver wins a good sum from the bottom of the lagoon, and much of it goes on expensive silk dresses for his wife and daughters, on the delectable canned goods of the "popaa" (white man), and on the "movies."

This year there are to be, it is said, three moving picture theatres, any number of motor cars for hire—the length of the roadway in Hikueru is less than a half mile, but that apparently does not make any difference—a

PUTS LIFE LIMIT AT 150 WITHOUT MONKEY GLANDS

Jean Finot, 70, After Twenty Years of Study, Tells Secrets of Nature.

MUST NEVER FEAR DEATH

Greatest Danger in Dr. Voronoff's Theory Is Possible Spread of Maladies.

PARIS, Augf. 20.—It does not require Dr. Serge Voronoff's method of grafting monkey glands on a man to enable him to live to the ripe old age of 150 years. And what's the use of taking chances on developing tuberculosis, a disease from which 75 per cent of the monkeys suffer, when all that is needed is careful attention to ordinary laws of moral and physical hygiene?

This is Jean Finot's contribution to the constantly increasing literature on how to prolong life beyond the ordinary three-score years and ten. M. Finot has written numerous volumes on scientific subjects and has just completed a treatise on longevity, which embraces the results of twenty years of study. He cites scores of cases of Europeans who have lived for more than a century under conditions, and in temperatures not greatly different from those here today. Moreover, M. Finot is nearly 70 years old, and is traveling constantly. According to his friends, he is as sprightly as a youth of 21. But let him tell his own story.

"It is very easy to live to be 150," he said. "First, when you reach 70 Don't begin to fear death. No one must say, 'I am nearing the end.' On the contrary keep thinking that only half your life has been passed. Endeavor to live in an atmosphere of constant auto-suggestion, instead of suffering from a false idea of death.

"But this is not enough. Keep your interior and exterior organisms healthy. Keep the skin free from imperfections. Learn to eat and to drink properly. Drink less and less and eat less. Masticate thoroughly. Above all, do not neglect to pass ten minutes in gymnastics every morning before breakfast.

"That is all. Take plenty of pleasure in life, but do not abuse the pleasures."

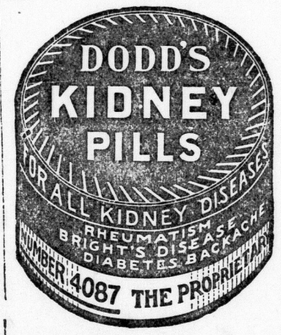

Discussing Dr. Voronoff's suggestion for the transmission of monkeys' vitality to men, M. Finot intimated that the greatest danger therein lay in men falling heir to maladies peculiar to monkeys.

"Besides, what would be the effect on our mentality?" he asked. "Is it not possible that such rejuvenated humans would adopt the vices and the habits of their simian benefactors?"

However, he was unwilling to prophesy that Dr. Voronoff's theory, put into practice, would result in men acquiring the nut cracking, tree climbing propensity of monkeys.

M. Finot called attention to the fact that religious history is filled with incidents where such routine as he advocates prolonged life, for the saints achieved more than double the usual span.

THE IRISH ENIGMA.

There are many critical situations confronting the world today. The fate of nations and even empires hangs in the balance. The future of Ireland, Mesopotamia, Arabia, Palestine, Mexico, Poland and the Crimea no one but a prophet would venture to predict at the present time.

An article by Lord Bryce recently appeared in the New York edition of the London Times which presented the Irish question in a very clear and unprejudiced manner. He points out that whatever the majority of the English people formerly desired, at the present day only a minority is opposed to some form of home rule, and a great many would favor a modified Dominion status. The trouble is that there is an energetic minority in Ireland itself that is unalterably opposed to any form of home rule whatever, and whose opposition, if home rule were granted to Ireland, would create a situation in Ireland that would be as intolerable as it is today. Civil war in a more intensified form would be the inevitable result.

The Ulsterites, it seems, would agree to home rule if certain counties were eliminated and left under direct British control. It is hard for an unprejudiced observer to see what rational objection the Nationalists can have to this arrangement, especially as they are always upholding the right of all minorities to govern themselves or to choose their own government.

Under present conditions, however, it is impossible to grant self-determination to every country. If, for instance, Ohio or Virginia or the Southern States were to demand a separate government, independent of the United States, they would certainly not get it. The United States Government would refuse, if only for military reasons. It is quite conceivable that a state where there are a majority of Germans or negroes might demand absolute self-determination, but such a course would endanger the safety and peace and the commercial stability of the whole United States. And yet the United States senators hypocritically advise complete independence for Ireland, as if geographical objections did not exist.

As Lloyd George said the other day, the Irish ports would be strategically the most dangerous in the Empire if they belonged entirely to another nation, and nothing is more certain than that if there was an island 50 miles off New York harbor, these United States senators who are so free with their advice would not dream of granting that island complete independence. Such a course, from a military, naval and political point of view would be an absolute madness. So it is that many Englishmen and Canadians would only be too glad to let Ireland "cut the painter," but for strategical reasons, if for no other, the thing is absolutely impossible. Therefore, if the Sinn Fein make such extreme demands they must know that they can only be gained by the destruction of the British Empire, which is the aim of the Germans and the Bolsheviki.

It is to be sincerely hoped that some modified form of Dominion rule will in the near future be granted to Ireland, that the sacred rights of minorities be as far as practicable respected, and that a future of more amicable relations among the different factions of this talented and energetic people be thereby established.

BRITISH ALWAYS THERE.

It seems to be a habit of Britishers to work silently. Other people may talk about the work being done, but it is not until the task is well on toward completion that someone suddenly discovers that England has been very busy on some big project. The British navy did a wonderful war work, but if it had not been for what others said about it the world might never have known there was a British navy. So it is now with the reconstruction of Europe. Some really tremendous developments are taking place, but it is only by stray dispatches here and there that one gathers the great part England is taking in shaping the course of future events. Her diplomats are working silently, but none the less effectively. One never even hears of the men who are making the moves now that will vitally affect the lives of millions of people in the coming years.

One might imagine from the cable dispatches that while England is taking some part in what is happening in Poland, it is more or less of an indifferent effort. This is what the head of one of the largest firms of its kind in the world writes from Poland: "Danzig is a wonderful city, with huge shipyards. It was here that the Germans built most of their submarines. The city is of the utmost importance from a business and strategic standpoint. The British hold undisputed command. The whole place is bubbling and boiling with revolution, but the English have a firm grip. The French and also the Germans have battalions here, but the English are in control."

The man who wrote this is not a Britisher, but he was struck forcibly by the dominant hold England has in a spot where history is in the making. So it is in all parts of the world.

THE MAGIC OF THE MOON.

"You made a wish with me,
When the moon was new——"

Just what is the magic of the moon is difficult to explain, even to oneself; nevertheless, to wander into a twilight room and discover upon gazing aimlessly out of a window into a darkening world, the "clear-cut crescent of the newborn moon" is to realize that something beautiful has suddenly happened. The old childish desire to "make a wish" brings with it a half-belief in the magic of its coming true, a feeling that there is delightful mystery hovering about one's ordinary daily path and the delectable things of which our dreams are made are not so impossible and absurd after all! Friends ask if we have seen the new moon, and eagerly point it out to us, and the discovery of its pure outline in a soft night sky is like the finding of hidden treasure. Then to go strolling in the direction that will let us keep worshipping eyes on the pale golden crescent! Then to play hide-and-seek with this delicate bit of skylight as the trees occasionally steal it from view, to note the timid trembling of the stars, athrill with the wonder of their new companion, to love the invitation in its very cradlelike curve, is to realize the old wonder of our childhood, without which we are told "we shall not enter into the Kingdom of Heaven."

There is a glamor irresistible about the lavish glory of a night of full moon. Dreams awaken of moon-swayed madness of that old time and this—gay gatherings carefully planned by the consulting of the calendar and the graciousness of the visit of the "queen of night"—old love-makings, old loneliness made hopelessly desolate because of the silvery glory of a quiet pause, and an utter emptiness that meets us often when joy is fullest, old memories, old promises and old friends! Who is not won to dreamings of the past, to hopes of the future, "when the moon is full"?

"Again the moon was new—
And neither of us doubted
That our wishes had come true."

DOOM.

[Montreal Star.]

If there remain anywhere followers of the former Emperor of Germany who boast of that individual's escape from the tragic results of the war he helped to launch, an event has come to silence their voices. The evil end of the ex-kaiser's youngest and favorite son, former Prince Joachim, who shot himself to death, has thrown a shadow of misery over the Hohenzollern household, and has bent that familiar defiant head which had menaced civilization even in defeat. And who will say that the retribution is not just—that fate has not overtaken the Hohenzollern family with one well-earned result of its bloody course in recent history?

ANOTHER "WORLD POWER" MOVEMENT.

[Calgary Herald.]

Science and industry combined are the two essential factors in the scheme for Canadian supremacy in future world relationships. This British dominion admittedly has the natural resources in such abundance as to make her future as a world power certain. Proper development and utilization of these resources is what is needed, and for this industry and science must join hands.

MEDIOCRITY AND DEMOCRACY.

[Boston Globe.]

Of course, there is a way of extolling democracy and singing the virtues of the common man which amounts to little more than flattering mediocre people in their mediocrity. Of this believers in democracy must beware. Democracy does not mean a dead level of plenty of things to eat and wear. It means an equal chance for everybody to work his hardest to develop whatever abilities he has. For mediocrity, or the state of being fifth-rate, is not absence of talent. Mediocrity is absence of effort. The only person who is really commonplace is the one who won't try.

EXCHANGE OF WINGS.

[Montreal Star.]

People unable to swim who try to navigate in deep water with "water wings," are in danger of exchanging their wings for another pair.

A GREEN SUMMER.

[Belleville Daily Ontario.]

The present summer has probably been the greenest, take it all through, within the memory of living man. At this season we almost invariably have pastures burned brown and leaves wilting and turning yellow. Instead of that we still have superb growing weather, with cool nights and bright sunshine through the long days. Those who have gone to summer resorts are complaining of the unpleasantly cool nights, which produce chills and rheumatism, and many resorters are leaving for home. But the cool nights, bright days and moist soil are bringing along a crop of spuds that will, in a few days, make the $1.50 a peck demand look like 30 cents.

MISTAKEN FEMALES.

[Buffalo Courier.]

Different organizations of women are campaigning against what they consider the extremes to which some women go in their dress to attract the male. Jane Austen once said many ladies would be mortified if they knew how little attention men paid to what was new or costly in their attire.

WELL IN HAND.

[Woodstock Sentinel-Review.]

Bonar Law told the House of Commons the other day that the government was getting the Irish situation better in hand. This is good news, but if it be true there must be evidence of it with which the public is not familiar. Much of the news which is allowed to reach the public tends to leave the impression that the situation is very badly out of hand. When police are slaughtered, soldiers blown up on the public streets, court houses destroyed, and the administration of justice suspended because of the refusal of jurors to serve, it does not look as if the situation was very well in hand.

CANADA'S GREAT HINTERLAND.

[Quebec Telegraph.]

The Sun and New York Herald has been drawing attention to the future of Canada's great hinterland extending northward to the Arctic regions, and makes special reference to the promising outlook of the Peace River, a great stream which, after breaking through the Rocky Mountains only a few miles from the source of the Columbia River, flows in a winding course, generally northward, receives many smaller tributaries, past Athabasca Lake, thence taking the name of Slave River, and then, a mile or more broad, falls into the Mackenzie River and finally empties into the Arctic Ocean. Of this enormous river, one of the largest in America, but little more is known today than was on the maps of fifty years ago. Now, however, adventurous settlers are flocking into these vast regions along the river. A correspondent recently went down this river on the first boat of the season to Fort Vermilion and beyond into the lands of the Crees and the Chipewyans. His trip on the broad river was between earthen banks sometimes two or three hundred feet high, banks and country covered with scrub poplars and willows, and slender, white-stemmed birches just then putting on spring green after the long and cold northern winter, during which the temperature is sometimes 50 degrees below zero, and for six or eight months the few scattered settlements and trading posts along the river from Edmonton to Fort Vermilion are cut off from the outside world.

Yet in this vast region there are agricultural and grazing possibilities that will soon be developed, for here can be grown grains and grasses, flowers and vegetables, and cattle can be grazed on ranges that are practically unlimited. This land may not be attractive to all, but real pioneers of the hardy, adventurous sort will probably soon make this great Canadian hinterland a new tributary to civilization.

THE MIDDLE TEMPLE MURDER

A Detective Story by J. S. Fletcher.

Copyright 1920, Fred A. Knopf.
Copyright, 1920, by the Public Ledger Company.

Spargo sat drumming his fingers on the desk before him. His eyes were fixed on a map of London that hung on the opposite wall; his ears heard the throbbing of the printing machines far below. But what he really saw were the faces of the two girls; what he really heard were the voices of two girls.

"Clear as noontide—as noontide," repeated Rathbury with great cheerfulness.

"What's clear as noontide?" he asked sharply.

"What? Why, the whole thing!" Motive—everything," answered Rathbury. "Don't you see, Maitland and Aylmore (his real name is Ainsworth, by-the-bye) met at Dartmoor, probably, or, rather, certainly, just before Aylmore's release. Aylmore goes abroad, makes money, in time comes back, starts new career, gets into parliament, becomes big man. In time, Maitland, who, after his time, has also gone abroad, also comes back. The two meet. Maitland probably tries to blackmail Aylmore or threatens to let folk know that the flourishing Mr. Aylmore, M.P., is an ex-convict. Result—Aylmore lures him to the Temple and quiets him. Pooh!—the whole thing's clear as noontide, as I say. As noontide!"

Spargo drummed his fingers again.

"How," he asked quietly, "came Aylmore to be identified?"

"My work," said Rathbury proudly. "My work, my son. You see, I thought a lot. And especially after we'd found out that Marbury was Maitland."

"You mean after I'd found out," remarked Spargo.

Rathbury waved his cigar.

"Well, well, it's all the same," he said. "You help me, and I help you, eh? Well, as I say, I thought a considerable lot. I thought—now, where did Maitland, or Marbury, know or meet Aylmore twenty or twenty-two years ago? Not in London, because we know Maitland never was in London—at any rate, before his trial, and we haven't the least proof that he was in London after. And why won't Aylmore tell? Clearly because it must have been in some undesirable place. And then, all of a sudden it flashed on me in a moment of—what do you writing fellows call those moments, Spargo?"

"Inspiration, I should think," said Spargo. "Direct inspiration."

"That's it. In a moment of direct inspiration, it flashed on me—why, twenty years ago Maitland was in Dartmoor—they must have met there! And so we got some old warders who'd been there at that time to come to town, and we gave 'em opportunities to see Aylmore and to study him. Of course he's twenty years older, and he's grown a beard; but they began to recall him, and then one man remembered that if he was the man they thought he'd a certain birthmark. And he has."

"Does Aylmore know that he's been identified?" asked Spargo.

Rathbury pitched his cigar into the fireplace and laughed.

"Know!" he said, scornfully. "Know? He's admitted it. What was the use of standing out against proof like that. He admitted it tonight in my presence. Oh, he knows all right!"

"And what did he say"

Rathbury laughed contemptuously.

"Say? Oh, not much. Pretty much what he said about this affair—that when he was convicted the time before he was an innocent man. He's certainly a good hand at playing the innocent game."

"And of what was he convicted?"

"Oh, of course, we know all about it now. As soon as we found out what he really was we had all the particulars turned up. Aylmore, or Ainsworth (Stephen Ainsworth, his name really is) was a man who ran a sort of what they call a mutual benefit society in a town right away up in the north—Cloudhampton—some thirty years ago. He was nominally secretary, but it was really his own affair. It was patronized by the working classes—Cloudhampton's a purely artisan population—and they stuck a lot of their brass, as they call it, in it. Then suddenly it came to smash, and there was nothing. He—Ainsworth or Aylmore—pleaded that he was robbed and duped by another man, but the court didn't believe him, and he got seven years. Plain story, you see, Spargo, when it all comes out, eh?"

"All stories are quite plain—when they come out," observed Spargo. "And he kept silence now, I suppose, because he didn't want his daughters to know about his past?"

"Just so," agreed Rathbury, "and I don't know that I blame him. He thought, of course, that he'd go scot-free over that Marbury affair, but he made his mistake in the initial stages, my boy—oh, yes!"

Spargo got up from his desk and walked around his room for a few minutes, Rathbury meanwhile finding and lighting another cigar. At last Spargo came back and clapped a hand on the detective's shoulder.

"Look here, Rathbury," he said, "It's very evident that you're now going on the lines that Aylmore did murder Marbury. Eh?"

Rathbury looked up. His face showed astonishment. "After evidence like that!" he exclaimed. "Why, of course. There's the motive, my son, the motive!"

"Spargo laughed. "Rathbury," he said, "Aylmore no more murdered Rathbury than you did."

The detective got up and put on his hat.

"Oh!" he said. "Perhaps you know who did, then?"

"I shall know in a few days," answered Spargo.

Rathbury stared wonderingly at him. Then he suddenly walked to the door. "Good-night!" he said gruffly.

"Good-night, Rathbury," replied Spargo, and sat down at his desk.

But that night Spargo wrote nothing for the Watchman. All he wrote was a short telegram addressed to Aylmore's daughters. There were only three words on it, "Have no fear."

CHAPTER XXIX.
The Closed Doors.

Alone of all the London morning newspapers, the Watchman appeared next day destitute of sensationalism in respect to the Middle Temple murder. The other daily journals published more or less vivid accounts of the identification of Mr. Stephen Aylmore, M. P. for the Brookminster division, as the ci-devant Stephen Ainsworth, ex-convict, once upon a time founder and secretary of the Hearth and Home Mutual Benefit Society, the headquarters of which had been at Cloudhampton, in Daleshire; the fall of which had involved thousands of honest working folk in terrible distress, if not in absolute ruin. Most of them had raked up Ainsworth's past to considerable journalistic purpose; it had been an easy matter to turn up old files, to recount the fall of the Hearth and Home, to tell anew the story of the privations of the humble investors whose small hoards had gone in the crash; it had been easy, too, to set out again the history of Ainsworth's arrest, trial and fate. There was plenty of romance in the story; it was that of a man who by his financial ability had built up a great industrial insurance society; had—as was alleged—converted the large sums intrusted to him to his own purposes.

He had been detected and punished; had disappeared after his punishment, so effectually that no one knew where he had gone; had come back, comparatively a few years later, under another name, a very rich man, and had entered parliament, and been, in a modest way, a public character without any of those who knew him in his new career suspecting that he had once worn a dress liberally ornamented with the broad-arrow. Fine copy, excellent copy! Some of the morning newspapers made a couple of columns of it.

But the Watchman, up to then easily ahead of all its contemporaries in keeping the public informed of all the latest news in connection with the Marbury affair, contented itself with a brief announcement. For after Rathbury had left him, Spargo had sought his proprietor and his editor, and had sat long in consultation with them, and the result of their talk had been that all the Watchman thought fit to tell its readers next morning was contained in a curt paragraph:

"We understand that Mr. Stephen Aylmore, M.P., who is charged with the murder of John Marbury, or Maitland, in the Temple on June 21 last, was yesterday afternoon identified by certain officials as Stephen Ainsworth, who was sentenced to a term of penal servitude in connection with the Hearth and Home Mutual Benefit Society funds nearly thirty years ago."

Coming down to Fleet street that morning, Spargo, strolling jauntily along the front of the law courts, encountered a fellow-journalist, a man on an opposition newspaper, who grinned at him in a fashion which indicated derision.

Poetry and Jest

AN AUGUST DAY.

[Albert Durrant Watson.]

When the languorous air and the hazy light
Are spread o'er the face of field and height.

And a sultry noon sees each fleece afloat
On a sea of blue, like a faerie boat;

When the cattle stand in the sluggard stream,
And the maples sleep and the rushes dream;

When the wagons creak 'neath their golden sheaves,
And a bulging barn its wealth receives;
When youth doth keep in its heart's deep bower
Like a fragrant dream, love's passion flower;

I know by the lovely far away
Soft summer glow 'tis an August day.

RELIABLE DECISIONS.

"I understand you have told your wife to throw the ouija board into the wood-box."

"Yes. I'm not going to have any such superstitious nonsense deciding questions around my house. When I come to a point where I can't make up my mind what to do I simply flip a coin."

AN ECHO FROM WILLOW-WOOD.

[Christina Rossetti.]

Two gazed into a pool, he gazed and she,
Not hand in hand, yet heart in heart, I think,
Pale and reluctant on the water's brink,
As on the brink of parting which must be.
Each eyed the other's aspect, she and he,
Each felt one hungering heart leap up and sink,
Each tasted bitterness which both must drink,
There on the brink of life's dividing sea.
Lillies upon the surface, deep below
Two wistful faces craving each for each,
Resolute and reluctant without speech;
A sudden ripple made the faces flow,
One moment joined, to vanish out of reach;
So those hearts joined, and, ah, were parted so.

GAME NOT WORTH THE CANDLE.

[London Morning Post.]

"It took me an hour yesterday to convince my wife that I was right."

"You succeeded then?"

"Oh, yes; but she hasn't spoken to me since."

ELLIS PARK.

[Helen Hoyt.]

Little park that I pass through,
I carry off a piece of you
Every morning hurrying down
To my work-day in the town;
Carry you for country there
To make the city ways more fair.
I take your trees,
And your breeze,
Your greenness,
Your cleanness,
Some of your shade, some of your sky,
Some of your calm as I go by;
Your flowers to trim
The pavements grim;
Your space for room in the jostled street,
And grass for carpet to my feet.
Your fountains take and sweet bird calls
To sing me from my office walls.
All that I can see
I carry off with me
But you never miss my theft,
So much treasure you have left.
As I find you, fresh at morning,
So I find you, home returning—
Nothing lacking from your grace.
All your riches wait in place
For me to borrow
On the morrow.

Do you hear this praise of you,
Little park, that I pass through?

INCREASE OF FLOWER LOVERS.

[Kingston Standard.]

It is satisfactory to see that the number of members attending the Canadian Horticultural Association meeting at Toronto is larger than ever before. People are finding out the pleasure of growing flowers.

MUSIC I HEARD.

[Conrad Aiken.]

Music I heard with you was more than music,
And bread I broke with you was more than bread;
Now that I am without you, all is desolate,
All that was once so beautiful is dead.

Your hands once touched this table and this silver,
And I have seen your fingers hold this glass;
These things do not remember you, beloved:
And yet your touch upon them will not pass.

For it was in my heart you moved among them,
And blessed them with your hands and with your eyes;
And in my heart they will remember always:
They knew you once, O beautiful and wise!

CLEANED OUT.

[Boston Transcript.]

"Hi there, sir!" shouted a Florida landlord to a departing guest who was rushing for the train, "you've dropped your pocketbook."

"All right," shouted back the guest without stopping. "I've no further use for it."

TO AN UNKNOWN MATE.

[Allan D. Rowe.]

I cannot tell! We may have roamed
On fleecy clouds ere yet time came,
Or ridden wild where breakers foamed,
Or mingled spirit's ether flame.
Have sailed upon the seamew's back
Or passed the swift with speedier flight,
Or through the lowering pall of black
Slid down on rays of moonbeam light.
I cannot tell! but this I know,
In some before, beyond, or state
A kindred touch made joyous glow
'Twixt me and thee and laughing Fate.

THE RIVER OF LIFE.

[Noel Brown.]

Life is a river flowing from its source,
And gathering speed and volume on its way,
Until its varied, desultory course
Merges at last, toward the end of day,
Into the vast unfathomable deep.
Awhile through smiling countryside it flows
With gentle lapping sound, then thro' the steep
Wild racks of sorrow, where for ever grows
Naught but rank dreary weeks. Now little streams
Of stirring friendship and pure gentle love
Flow in to meet it, and the sunlight gleams
With radiant golden light, and all above
The skies are blue with joy; and now the rain
Blots out the pleasure of the distant sight
And lashes life with the fierce storms of pain
And winds of discontent. So day and night,
The river flows its changing, ceaseless way,
Until it falls into the boundless sea,
Where Time's eternal whispering breezes play
With golden mists of dim infinity.

ANIMALS AS COMPANIONS.

[Farm and Ranch.]

Animals cannot express their appreciation in words for the care their owners bestow upon them, but they reciprocate kindness. They can convince most animal husbandmen that plenty of feed, sufficient shelter and gentle treatment are profitable, as well as humane. They can grow, reproduce and return income for the business judgment and acquired skill used to raise them on the farm.

The choicest traits of human character are shown in man's care of animals raised on the farm. He who feelingly caresses the animal when it is in pain, and soothes the wound that has been draining its life blood, is mightier than the warrior who goes forth to battle to win fame. The farmer who can call the cows to the barn, summon the hogs to their beds, and coax the horses to accept their collars has leadership among the patient and the magnanimous creatures of the earth.

MADE IT INTELLIGIBLE.

During a christening in a little fishing village the clergyman noticed that the embarrassed father was holding the child so that its fat legs pointed toward the font.

"Turn her this way," he whispered.

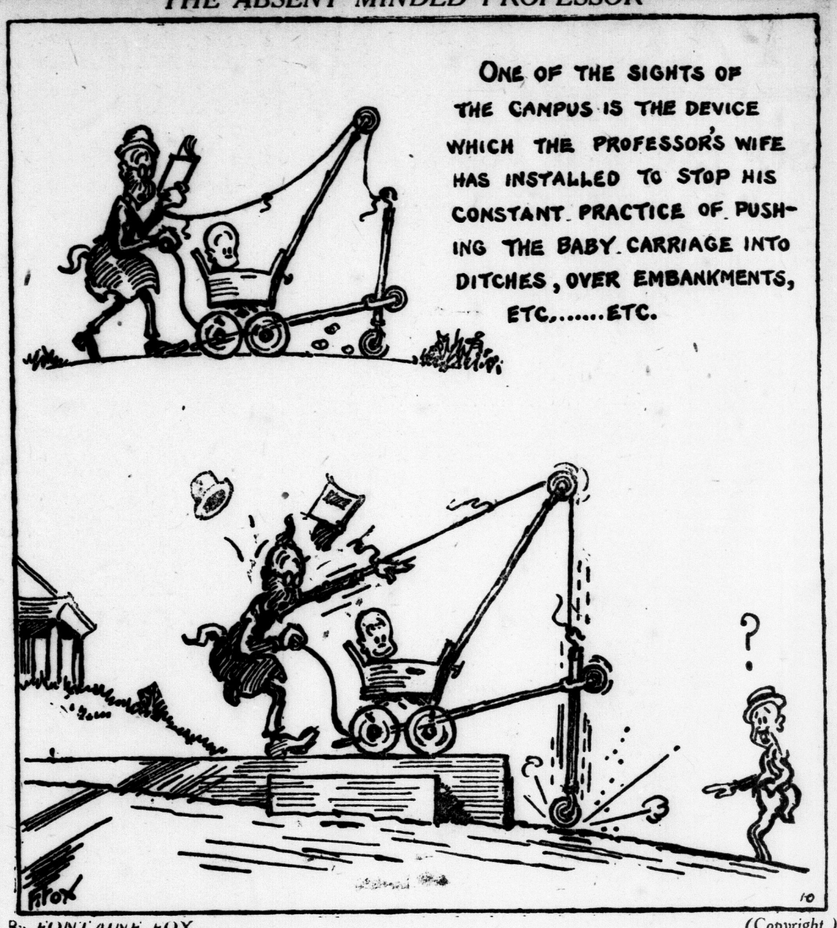

But the father was too disconcerted to hear or understand.

"Turn her feet around," the minister whispered again, but there was no response.

An old seaman in the back of the church came to the rescue. Putting his weather-beaten hand to his mouth, he roared across the aisle:

"Head her into the wind, Tom!"

Overland

Across Continent 32.6 Miles a Gallon

IN a remarkable night and day continuous run an Overland stock car arrived in San Francisco on July 26, only 7½ days after leaving New York, averaging 19.2 miles per hour for 3,442 miles. Its average of 27.2 miles per wine gallon was the same as 32.6 miles per Imperial gallon.

Twenty-five different drivers, who had never even seen this particular car before, drove it through every known condition of weather and road.

Come in today and see a duplicate of this remarkable Overland with Triplex Springs, whose Economy and Stamina is being established in new records every day.

The garden party which was to have been held on the Colborne Street Methodist Church lawn last Friday evening, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, was held in the Sunday school room on account of the stormy weather. The country store, ice cream, buttermilk, candy and flower booths were well patronized. An excellent program, consisting of piano selections by Misses H. Powell, I. Foster. Mesdames Charles Craig and D. Frank Smith, were much appreciated. Mr. Frank Webster was in excellent voice, and rendered several selections. The Sunset Male Quartet, consisting of Messrs. Callard. Ball, Green and Robertson, delighted the audience with several well-chosen selections. Mr. J. Elliott gave a short speech at the close of the program.

LEWIS—GILLIES.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at noon on Wednesday at 701 Queen's avenue, when Miss Margaret Gillies, younger daughter of Mrs. M. Gillies and the late John Gillies of Lobo Township, was united in marriage to Mr. H. Winnett Lewis, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis of 653 Queen's avenue. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. Evans, minister of the Presbyterian Church at St. Marys, in the presence of immediate relatives only. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis left in the afternoon by motor for Toronto, where they will spend a week, and later will be for some time at Port Stanley before taking up their residence at 701 Queen's avenue. The bride was gowned in blue charmeuse and carried a shower bouquet of roses, her traveling costume being of navy blue, with black and cerise hat.

CLEANING ODDS AND ENDS.

Rub-a-dub-dub, rub-a-dub-dub, shall we ever be done with the everlasting cleaning? Not this side of Jordan, I very much fear, so we may as well learn how it ought to be done, and then it is not such drudgery, and besides we are not so likely to ruin some of our dearest possessions. Soap and water are good for nearly every cleaning task, but some there are where expert knowledge is really required if we are not to injure the thing we would improve.

To clean leather bindings, for instance, put a little castor oil into a jar and shred into it half its weight of paraffin wax. Warm it and work a little of the mixture into a piece of flannel. Rub the leather with this and finish with a soft clean cloth. This must be used very sparingly.

To clean nickel, mix fine emery powder with linseed oil, and polish vigorously with it; then rub the nickel dry and shining with a flannel cloth.

Another method is to rub the nickel well with oil or vaseline, and leave it on for some time. Then rub it dry and bright. If the nickel is rusted it may be oiled, than dusted with unslaked lime, and polished. If the nickel is both rusty and greasy, a mixture of emery powder and soft soap can be used to clean and polish it.

For bronze, take a teaspoonful of lavender oil, an ounce of alcohol and an ounce and a half of water. Mix and apply quickly with a soft sponge. This requires no rubbing.

To clean copper use oxalic acid. Oxalic acid is poison and should be so marked plainly.

To clean piano keys rub over with alcohol.

TALKS ON HEALTH

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D., Noted Physician and Author.

Birth Marks.

Intelligence has the drawback that the more you learn the more you realize how little you know; and total ignorance must be an exceedingly comfortable state, because if your mind is as good as dead you never even dream of the wisdom of the world of which you are innocent.

A reader sends a newspaper clipping showing a carefully retouched picture of an English baby, born with a mark. The mark, according to the caption with the picture, is that of one of the Zeppelins which raided England in the great war. I think there must have been some mistake, for the baby is not marked with a Zeppelin at all; she is marked with a five-cent cigar. The reader challenges me to explain the remarkable instance. I must refer her to the newspaper artist who prepared the picture and to the staff man whose fertile imagination produced the legend to accompany it.

Another reader cites an authentic case of an expectant mother seeing. I forget whether it was a jack-roach or a cock-rabbit, galloping through the fields near her home. And sure enough, just as all the old fishwives had NOT predicted, for superstition goes hand in hand with hindsight in such cases, when the baby was born there was a perfectly formed silk hat on his head.

Science has not discovered why birthmarks occur. Neither has it explained why earthquakes sometimes happen. Science ought to consult a few old women about these things.

Some birthmarks are capillary nevi—the minutest blood vesseis are enlarged and multiplied to produce the red mark. Others are formed by multiplied and enlarged veins. Many of them are minute or unnoticeabe at birth and increase in size to a certain point as the infant grows, then remain unchanged until surgically removed. Rarely one undergoes spontaneous involution or disappearance, only a slight scar.

Some of these marks may be removed by one or several applications of liquid air or carbon dioxide snow by a surgeon or medical specialist. Others are best treated with electrolysis, of course, in the hand of a surgeon and not a self-styled "beauty doctor." Electrolysis is especially suitable in the removal of birthmarks in which there are hairs. X-ray treatments and radium treatments have produced very happy results in certain disfiguring birthmarks. It is crude and dangerous to apply acids or caustics to these blemishes. Large marks call for surgical removal and in some cases grafts of skin from another part of the body.

In the case of an infant with a birthmark, the earlier the treatment is begun the more satisfactory the result will be.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Nimble with the News.

We are two girls, aged eleven and fourteen, and we love to play ball, swim, take long hikes and other tomboy games. But we live in a small town where women gossip a lot and they say we are sporty because we do these things. That hurts our feelings. Must we give up all our fun and be always on our dignity? Does cold cream injure the face? (W. V. C. and D. M. H.)

ANSWER—Cold cream, if freshly made, does not injure the face. As a rule, women who are nimble with the unprinted news are a bad lot—they delight in scandal because misery loves company. I hope you will keep right on with your good fun and not worry about the gossip.

Predetermination of Sex.

Is there any way in which it is possible to sure'y predetermine the sex of a child? (Mrs. E. S.)

ANSWER—If there were, I'd soon be launching a junior health column, for juniors only, by Dr. Brady Junior. I'd have little doctors running all over the place, like a rosy rambler. Boys are much too scarce.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

A word is dead when it is said, some say.
I say it just begins to live that day.
—Emily Dickinson.

Who Wants the Baby?

Dear Cynthia and Readers,—Just let me take the easy chair for a few minutes. I promise I will not stay long this time, as I have a great favor to ask of some of our noble hearts. One that has some of a mother's heart, someone that could or would take a dear little baby boy without a home; someone that could love and raise it as their own. It is two weeks' old, has lovely blue eyes, and as pretty as a picture, but its dear mother has gone to the Great Beyond. I feel that someone would have it. A Protestant home is preferred. Its parents are very respectable people and of good character. Now, Miss Grey, if anyone would like it, if they will write to you, you can forward it on to me. I would like to hear as soon as possible. One of your constant readers and lovers of this page. I remain, ONE THAT LOVES TO HELP ANOTHER.

Ans.—I'm sure there will be a real demand for that lovely baby, and leave the letter to the mother hearts of the Mail-Box.

Pictures of Late Summer.

Dear Friends,—In the "Land of Delight" stands the "House of the Open Door," an exquisite haven of rest, a gem of beauty, with a setting of fantastic flowers. Bright-plumaged songbirds are flitting about like fairy spirits, and presiding within is a most gracious and lovable mistress.

To pass by this enchanted palace is simply impossible for those who know what joys lie within.

As we pass along the sylvan path leading up to the portals, a most refreshing breeze rushes out to meet us, bearing on its wings an ever-pleasing aroma, and an enraptured melody of song.

There are at least four things that, to my mind, heavenize this otherwise gloomy old world. These are Babies, Music, Flowers and Birds.

Of all the creatures of instinct, birds are surely the most fascinating. They have the happy privilege of moving in space, thereby eluding or defying pursuit. They dart like meteors in the summer sunshine, and fade away in the solitary recesses of the forests or across the gleaming expanses of water. How musical and joyous are these roving sylphs of nature, to whom the earth air or water are almost alike habitable! I, too, think August a charming month. Busy and oppressively hot, yet full of wonderful things, after all.

On one hand we see the green grandeur of the corn fields, so full of promise for the days to come. How very soon will these fields be swathed in a golden sheen, ready for the onslaught of the reapers.

"What joy in dreaming ease to lie
Amid a field new-shorn,
And see all 'round on sun-lit slopes
The piled-up shocks of corn,
And send their fancy wand'ring o'er
All pleasant harvest fields of yore.
The sun-bathed quiet of the hills
The fields of Galilee,
That eighteen hundred years ago
Were full of corn, I see,
And the dear Saviour take his way
'Mid ripe ears on the Sabbath day."

Contrasting with the green of the corn is the wealth of the oat fields, and on all sides we may see the busy plowmen and their faithful co-workers plodding up and down, turning under the green and outward the brown. These long stretches of freshly-turned earth will soon intermingle with kernels of gold, and what a mystical process will then take place, a process that means bread for the coming year.

March Wind, the last two letters you wrote were full of beautiful thoughts, and I enjoyed them immensely. My deepest sympathy is yours in your recent bereavement. Experience is a great teacher," therefore I know all about the anguish through which you have passed. The spot that marks the resting-place of my own dear baby is not many rods away from the one whose freshly-made grave was bathered in the "warm July sunshine." But why worry, when we know that both are safely anchored in the Mansion of Glory?

Mrs. Homebird, have you plucked out that wing feather yet and sharpened it up? If not, get busy right away. Move out under those apple trees and pen me a good long letter.

Hoping that I have not monopolized too much space, I will move out and leave room for others.
ROSE OF SHARON.

Ans.—Your letter is full of inspiratoin, Rose of Sharon, and it is good to have you visit us again.

For Children's Hospital.

Dear Miss Grey,—I wrote to the page Monday and forgot to inclose mite for hospital fund, so am sending it today. You need not print this. RUBY L.

Ans.—Many thanks, Ruby L., for this hospital gift.

Veranda Chats.

I saw where English Mother would like the word of "Mother Shipton's Phrophecy," so I am inclosing the words. PEONY.

Ans.—Thank you, Peony. Verses have been forwarded.

Etak—Thank you very much for the books you sent. I received your card, and can quite understand your request. Never mind the reason. I can guess.

I am sending in the needlecraft books that have all ready been asked for. Am sorry I have such a few, I wish I had a great big heap of them.

I wonder if I can get a little help from the Mail-Box again.

Now that corn is coming in more plentiful, I would like to do some corn relish or pickle. Could I get a recipe? I have used several of the various recipes that are printed in our helpful columns. And thanking you for the nice way you welcomed me back a few days ago; I am still that. MOUSIE.

Ans.—Thank you very much, Mousie. The books have gone their various ways. Here is a corn relish recipe: Seven ears of corn, cook and shave off the cob, 8 medium-sized onions, 1 large cabbage, 2 bunches of celery, 3 green peppers, ½ cup salt, 2 cups sugar, ¼ pound of mustard, mixed in a pint of cold vinegar. Cook all together 15 or 20 minutes. True to your name you refuse to reveal your whereabouts, don't you? We hope you will scurry into the Mail-Box frequently just the same.

Dear Miss Grey,—Inclosed find ten cents for hospital fund and your popular foot pattern. I have several pairs of stockings that need reinforcements.
Yours repectfully, STACY.

Ans.—Thank you very much for hospital dime. Pleased to mail your pattern.

What Can Be Done?

Dear Miss Grey,—This is my first letter to the Mail-Box. I just want to ask a few questions, so won't stay long.

I am a girl 16 years old. There is trouble in the family; I am put down and run on, am used like a dog, and I can't tell if I will be living in 5 minutes from now. If I leave home, can my parents bring me back under such circumstances? Would the law listen to a girl under age? Or would she have to get someone else to prove it?

What day did September 23, 1900, fall on?

Well, I will close, hoping to see this letter in print. Best luck to the Mail-Box. CARNATION.

Ans.—Your letter makes me feel very incapable of helping you, Carnation, and help is something you evidently very much indeed. There is much sadness in your brief little statement, "There is trouble in the family." There should be harmony and sunshine in the home of a girl of 16, shouldn't there? I sincerely hope the difficulties have smoothed out much better than you dreamed, and that you have given up all notion of leaving home. The law would allow your parents to bring you back should you leave. If the matter was taken up by law, you would have to have proof of your statements. September 23,1900, was on Sunday. I am anxious to receive another letter from you with news of your troubles having straightened out. Be brave and do what is right and appeal to a trustworthy older friend that knows your circumstances if you need hasty advice.

Armed Against H. C. of L.

Dear Miss Grey,—As I have received some help through your Mail-Box, and so will try and help a little, too. I am sending yoke pattern for Florence, and butterfly lace for Freckles. Hope they are of some use. Well, Boxites, how many are drying and canning vegetables for winter use? I am sure everyone has a little garden plot of their own, and at no time of the year does the garden offer us such a variety of vegetables to choose from as in August, and I can see by the many useful recipes in the Mail-Box that none need go to the garbage pail, and this is the only way of keeping down the high cost of living, and I will enter a few very good recipes:

Chili Sauce—Twelve large ripe tomatoes, 1 cup vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt, 6 large onions, ¾ cup of white sugar, ½ teaspoon red pepper. Boil half an hour and seal.

Beet and Cabbage Pickle—One quart boiled beets chopped, 1 quart raw cabbage chopped, 1¼ cups white sugar, 1 cup grated horse radish, ¼ teaspoon red pepper, 1 teaspoon black pepper, 2 teaspoons salt and vinegar to cover. Heat to boiling point and then seal.

And last but not least, could I have that wonderful stocking-foot pattern? Inclosed find dime in stamps for hospital fund, and cover mailing me the S. F. P. FLOWERS AND FOLIAGE.

Ans.—Thank you for hospital gift. Flowers and Foliage, and for your good recipes. Patterns have been forwarded to boxites.

Veranda Chats.

Charlie Chaplin's Wife.—Thank you so much for the big box of sweet peas. It was lovely of you to send them, and they were beautiful. How lovely they must be in your garden.
CYNTHIA GREY.

This is my first visit. Although I have wanted help from you for a long time, have simply kept postponing it. May I ask: Would you ask "Manny" (I believe was the name) if she would kindly help me make a paper and bead portiere? And would some of your kind readers, as you have a lot of musical ones, sell me, if they possess a copy of song A Handful of Maple Leaves, written by W. Westbrook? I cannot get it at any music store, as they were canvassed around this way a year or two ago, and surely someone has it. I am just about exasperated trying to get it, and it's a beautiful thing. I am so fond of it. I have a beautiful recipe for curried cucumbers. Will send it you, Miss Grey, in a day or two. Inclose mite for S. C. H. Dear little darlings. Wish I could give a million, and we all ought to make a donation to you, as you certainly have to be an encyclopaedian. You are wonderful. My name and address, dear Miss Grey, inclosed. Trusting I will have luck. Your very interested reader. SAN DUSKIE.

Ans.—Thank you very much for hospital gift, San Duskie, and for your very kind words. I hope you may be successful in securing the song you want so much. We will be very glad to have the recipe for pickles.

It's a long time since I was in your Cosy Corner. I read the letters of the Mail-Box every day. We have taken The Advertiser for a few years and like it fine. I am 11 years old and just passed into the junior fourth before holidays, and maybe try entrance next year. We have all the oats shocked that are cut, and a lot more to cut. My neighbors across the road from us know a girl in London, and she came out to stay. So one day we went back to the woods and found a little grove of maple trees and we fixed it up like a house and called it Maple Grove. As your columns are few, I will close asking for a correspondence with someone about my own age. DAFFODIL.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Facts about your name; its history; its meaning; whence it was derived; its significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel.

ALISON.

Among the Scotch names which have found favor in this country is Alison. The flavor of romance still lingers about it as persistently as in the days when it was first introduced into Scottish nomenclature by the coming of the archers from France. Alison signifies "famous war"; it has its origin in the Karling romances. Three monarchs of the Karling line bore the name of Aloya, and the fifth descendant of Hugh Capet brought it into vogue again, after which it came to special honor with the saintly Crusader, ninth king so-called, from whom it became continuously associated with French royalty. The most famous lady who bore it was the heroine of the romantic correspondence with Abelard.

Etymologists believe that this name, redolent of poetry and romance, was transplanted direct into Scotland in this form, but it had too foreign a sound for Scottish ears, and the subsequent change to Alison represented an effort to preserve the romantic tradition of the name without sacrificing national tradition.

The amethyst is Alison's talismanic gem. It is believed to give her a cool head, good judgment and protection from contagion. Friday is her lucky day and 4 her lucky number.

KINTORE W. I.

A meeting was called recently of the Kintore Women's Institute for the purpose of reorganizing, this society having been replaced by a Red Cross society during war times. The meeting opened by singing "The Maple Leaf," after which a vote was taken as to whether it was advisable to reorganize. All present were in favor. The former president and vice-president, Mrs. J. R. Armstrong and Mrs. W. J. Dunster, were re-elected to office, and Mrs. Watt Armstrong was re-elected secretary, and the following ladies put on the board of directors: Mrs. W. R. McDonald, Mrs. (Dr.) McDonald, Mrs. Dunlop, Mrs. Blashill, Mrs. E. Land and Mrs. Anderson. Meetings are to be held on the last Wednesday of each month at 2:30. A very instructive paper was given by Mrs. (Rev.) L. H. McDonald on "How to Make Women's Institutes Successful." Mrs. Dunlop and Mrs. Dunster sang a duet. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. Those present to the number of 20 became members. At the next meeting Mrs. Atcheson of Embro, district president, is expected to address the meeting.

"TIZ" FOR SORE, TIRED FEET--AH!

"Tiz" Is Grand for Aching, Swollen, Tender, Calloused Feet or Corns.

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet; no more burning feet; no more swollen, aching, tender, sweaty feet. No more soreness in corns, callouses, bunions.

No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "Tiz." "Tiz" is the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. "Tiz" cures your foot trouble so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore and swollen. Think of it, no more foot misery, no more agony from corns, callouses or bunions.

Get a box at any drug store or department store and get instant relief. Wear smaller shoes. Just once try "Tiz." Get a whole year's foot comfort for a few cents. Think of it.

Use Paper Serviettes
For Informal Occasions

NOWADAYS in most Canadian homes you will find a supply of paper serviettes. Housewives vote them indispensible for their casual guests—always at luncheon—when serving refreshments at night—or when off on a picnic.

They defeat the high cost of laundry. They are most attractive in appearance. In fact, they are just one more Eddy improvement in housekeeping methods.

THE DOG THAT CHANGED PLACES WITH A BOY.

Part Five.

Rocks' mother, believing he was a boy, would have nothing to do with him, so the poor dog had to go out in search of other playmates. He had never been right out in front of the house before, and when he got on the sidewalk he spied some dogs playing farther down the street. Rocks tried to bark out a greeting to them, but all that came from his throat was a loud yell. At such a sound, the dogs took to their heels and ran away. After them went Rocks, but the faster he ran the faster ran the dogs, and soon they were out of sight. You see Rocks could not run so fast now that he was a boy, and he became tired much more quickly than usual.

"Come on, Johnny, we are going for a swim," called some voices from across the road. It was not until three boys came over that Rocks knew they meant him.

"Thanks, very much," he heard his voice saying. "I'm not supposed to go in swimming, but I'll go," and then, although he tried to stop them, his feet started off with the boys, so, of course, he went with them. All the way there his voice kept talking to the boys, although the dog did not know what it meant.

Rocks knew that all dogs could swim, so he was not afraid of the water, but when he got in he could not swim at all. How heavy his feet were, and all he did was get his eyes, mouth and ears full of water, and his hair very wet

* * *

But to get back to the real Johnny—the boy who changed places with Rocks—he was not having a much better time of it than the dog that had taken his place. Old Fan was trying her best to get him to play and he found himself playing with her. How she scratched and bit at him, and how it did hurt! It was awful being shut up in the yard like that, and that was the very day he had promised the boys he would go swimming.

"Where's Johnny," he heard his mother say, and the real Johnny tried to call out from the kennel to tell her where he was, but all that came from his lips was a bark. He tried to call again and again, but every call was a bark.

"Go down and make that dog stop its noise," he heard his mother say, and then his father came out with a big stick, and gave Johnny a good whack with it. Of course, if he had known it was Johnny he would not have hit him like that. But how was he to know?

HECK FINISHES STRONG

Fanned Nine Men, But Had Poor Start, and Nearly Slipped.

HAMILTON, Aug. 20. — Hamilton bunched hits on "Lefty" MacCallum, a former Tiger, in the fourth, sixth and seventh inings of today's game and won by 4 to 1. Bobby Heck, pitching for the Tigers, got off a trifle slow, but improved as the game progressed, and toward the finish he was mowing the Beaver batsmen down with regularity. He fanned nine, and after the third inning allowed only three hits.

Between the fourth and fifth innings play was suspended for one minute, while the players and fans, with hats off, stood up and paid silent tribute to the memory of Ray Chapman, the former Cleveland shortstop, who died as the result of being hit by a pitched ball. The score:

ACES CLEAN VEHICS

SAGINAW, Aug. 20.—Flint could not hit Richardson in the pinches today, while Saginaw made the most of its chances off McDonald, new Vehic pitcher, and the Aces won, 6 to 2, although outhit by 14 to 7. Richardson left 15 Vehics stranded on the sacks. He was hit safely in every inning, but would have scored a shut-out had not Wetzel's hit to short bounded badly out of Hegedorn's reach in the third inning.

Both teams stood at attention at home play for five minutes at 4 o'clock honoring Ray Chapman.

Halligan Releases Four and Gets Two

FLINT, Aug. 20.—President Tom Halligan has released Honick, Lawler, Power and Farley and has taken on a pitcher by the name of Scotty MacDonald, a fellow whom Quinn of the St. Louis Browns dispatched here last night. Scotty lost his game to Saginaw today, but only allowed six hits. He has more stuff than any of Halligan's present hurling staff and has a big promise for next week in Canada at Hamilton and Brantford. Quinn also sent an infielder by the name of Gray, who looks well.

BAINS DEFEAT CAYUGA 12--10 IN O.B.A. SEMI-FINALS

It Is Expected a Sudden-Death Game Will Be Staged at Brantford To Break the Tie.

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 20.—After getting away to a bad start in the first inning, when Cayuge hit the ball hard and scored five runs, the Bains went out and defeated the visitors by 12 to 10, in the second of the home-and home games in the Ontario O. B. A. semi-finals. Cayuga won at home and now a third game is necessary. Brantford will likely be the place for the final bout.

The game today did not display any too good ball. The visitors can certainly hit the ball, but their fielding was poor.

Thompson, on the mound for the Wagon Makers, looked pretty good after the first round, and worked himself out of several tight places. He was accorded good support after the first stanza. Heinnell, a big six-footer, was on the mound for Cayuga, and twirled a very creditable game. The fielding features were supplied by Sedge with a couple of circus catches in left field. At the bat Kindree and Barn starred with three safeties each.

The score: R.H.E.
Cayuge 10 16 7
Bains 12 10 3

Heinnell and Kindree; Thompson and Bloor.

Umpires — Kennedy (Woodstock), Craven (Cayuga).

Locals Blanked 5 to 0 by Herbst and Red Legs Even Series

Devinney, Boston Red Sox Recruit, Hurls Hitful Ball and His Help Showed Four Errors in the Collection Box.

To Mr. Herbst was assigned the task of slowing up the leaders yesterday in the shady twilight over the river and he turned in an entirely spotless job 5 to 0. Devinney stood on the same mound, but he found it hard sticking up there, and eight bingles with muss-ups behind him made the hillside slippery.

"Babe" Dye sat in on three hands in which Devinney got nicked, driving in the first Brant counter with a clean single, bunting in a run and sacrificing in a third in the seventh just along about the time the Tribe should have been coming through with one of their noted rallies. However, there wasn't even a banner to rally around yesterday. Herbst had them all hidden.

Devinney pulled off the only sensational play of the whole game, when he showed that there was nothing knocking above his waist by taking Brady's low pop in the sixth and whirling around to get Byrne in the middle of a snore at the second flag station, saving himself a lot of trouble thereby, for a hit came right after that which would have sent Byrne across the plate.

The Red Legs didn't leave anybody in suspense as to what they were going to do right from the ump's word. Orme singled sharply to centre for the first up, stole second and Dye's single scored him.

The Brants threatened again in the third with one gone, when Orme collected himself another knock, this time for two sandbags. A choice and a walk made them look double on the sacks, but Clark bronzed over a golden opportunity when he popped out to Kuhn. They came back to the attack in the fifth with renewed wigor. Herbst singled to right, Orme sacrificed him along and Murphy was on when Calbert dropped his hard bending fly to the foul lines. Dye tapped out a grounder, which caught Devinney going the wrong way and scored.

In the seventh Murphy rapped one at Neitzke and went to second on Neitzke's bad throw to first. He pilfered third and came home while Kuhn and Dowling juggled around first to get a run. In the ninth the Brants made a rally look one more run harder by Moorefield and Orme working around to third and the backstop came in on Murphy's long sacrifice fly to the middle garden.

The Tribe didn't even threaten very hard. Witry's single and Crichlow's nice double to right with one gone in the second canto made it look as if the Tribe would tack up something not so curved on the score board, but the next two were easy infield outs. Neitzke poled out a double to right in the sixth with two passed away, but Calbert popped out to Murphy at short. In the ninth King Brady retired the side along with Werre, the whole three outs going to that corner.

Knotty Had a Lot To Report On Yesterday

Chestyville, Aug. 20.

Dear Sirs,—Well, we won today's ball game, and all these birds on the London team have made a run on their tailors, putting in different chest measurements for their winter suits.

I kept off O'Hearne and also the hen coop. Herbst got so warm yesterday sitting on that roof that he didn't need any warming up this aft. The London club claims they are going to charge you for new hinges for the gate in the grandstand—we get it so often—but I never asked for any more than the old per cent in my life, so don't you pay for them. Next thing they'll be charging Shaughnessy for wear and tear on the London police, escorting him out the exit.

I done as you told me about having Byrne's steak well done, but he slipped out on me last night and got a hold of some raw meat. However, as some of the London fans say, not paying by the pound, it's just as cheap carrying him as some of the lighter ones on the club.

We got pretty strong in the spot light today, but the red coats didn't fade any. I might say in the ninth as it were that we had Devinney's knees knocking all through the game, but we wasn't to blame for that.

Corjully yours,
Knotty Lee.

LONDON ROWING CLUB WILL STAGE TOURNEY ON LABOR DAY, SEPT. 6

The Dunlop and Trebilcock Trophies and Four Sets of Prizes Will Be Played For.

Secretary Farrow of the London Bowling and Rowing Club, wishes all city rinks which are taking part in the third annual tournament of the club, to send in their skips' names early. The event, which is being staged on Labor Day, Monday, September 6, is expected to draw a large number of out of town rinks into play, as there will be four sets of valuable prizes competed for, as well as the Dunlop and the J. C. Trebilcock Memorial trophy.

Owing to a large entry list being looked for, the eight new greens which the club prepared this year, will be put in use. They are in good shape and are said to be as keen as the old greens. Four fifteen-end games will be played. The usual Saturday afternoon tournament of the club will be held this afternoon.

Entrants are requested to telephone their names to 276 before 2 p.m.

PLAYGROUND RESULTS

The following are the results in the boys' events at Queen's Park Playgrounds yesterday afternoon:

Dash, juniors—D. Currie, F. Green, S. Cunningham, G. Quirie, E. Atkinson.

Dash, senior—G. Tambling, K. Dunlevy, J. Sharpe, J. Fitzgerald, B. Fitzmaurice.

Three-legged race, juniors—Cunningham and Arnold, Mills and Gramlick, Green and Fleming.

Three-legged race, seniors — Fitzmaurice and Sharp, Dunlevy and Tambling, Cunningham and Fitzgerald.

All-up relay — Fitzmaurice's team won from Fitzgerald's.

EDNO EARLY TAKES 2:06 PACE IN GRAND CIRCUIT, POOR TIME

A Heavy Track At Philadelphia Slowed Up Meet.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 20.—The downfall of another world's record-holder featured the grand circuit races today at Narberth. The best Rifle Grenade, which hung up a new world's record for three-year-old pacing gelding this season, could do in the 3-year-old race was to win the third heat in the slow time of 2:08¼. Rifle Grenade went lame and the heavy track was not to his liking, but he was a favorite with the big crowd and his defeat was a surprise.

The meeting will conclude tomorrow with five races on the program.

PONTON FAILS.

ANTWERP, Aug. 20.—(By the Canadian Associated Press).—Alex Ponton, Toronto, was fourth in the semi-final heat of the 200-metre race at the Olympic games today, and did not qualify for the final. Ponton lost ground at the curves.

CINCINNATI PULLS AWAY FROM DODGERS; CUBS BEAT GIANTS

Three Brooklyn Hurlers Fail To Put a Stop To Fast-Going Reds.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 20.—The Reds won the second game of the series from Brooklyn today, scoring 10 to 3, by hard hitting of three visiting pitchers. Mamaux was knocked out of the box in the fifth and Mitchell suffered the same fate in the sixth, while Mohart also was pounded freely.

Score: R.H.E.

CHICAGO MAKES IT TWO OUT OF THREE, TAKING TWIN BILL

Sox Make Sure of Win in Second As Fans Force Forfeiture.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 20.—Chicago made it two out of three from Philadelphia by winning both games of today's double-header. The score of the first game was 7 to 4 and the second was forfeited.

With two out in the Philadelphia half of the ninth inning of the second contest, the bleacher crowd swarmed on the field, thinking a foul grounder from Styles' bat had ended the game. The fans refused to leave the field, and Umpire Chill declared the game forfeited to Chicago. The score at the time stood 5 to 2 in favor of the visitors. At the start of the fifth inning of the first game players, umpires and spectators stood with bared and bowed heads for two minutes in memory of Ray Chapman. The scores:

First game— R.H.E.
Chicago ....400 000 300—7 12 3
Philadelphia ....100 100 002—4 8 0

Stan Coveleskie Joins Ranks of Three Balls-Three Out Hurlers

George Dauss Was Only Man To Accomplish Feat in 1919, Getting Three White Sox in Row.

[By Ernest J. Lanigan.]

Stanley Coveleskie of the Indians joined the limited few who have used only three balls in retiring the side in one inning, in the seventh session of the game in Speakerville on Friday, August 6, his victim's being Clarence and Frank Walker and Joe Dugan of the Athletics. Clarence Walker flied to Speaker on the first pitch. Frank Walker grounded out to Chapman on the first pitch, and Dugan rolled out to Wambsganss on the first pitch. George Dauss of the Tigers was the only man who accomplished a feat of this kind in 1919, getting three of the White Sox on three pitched balls in the sixth inning of the contest of June 3.

A real one for the book is using seven balls to pitch to seven batters, six of whom were retired. This happened in an inning (two consecutive half innings, rather) in Baltimore this year. The date was Wednesday, May 26, and the contesting clubs Baltimore and Reading. The dope:

Fifth inning, Baltimore, batting against Justin—Holden doubled to left on the first pitch; Boley hit to Justin on the first pitch, and Holden was doubled with him, Justin to Marriott to Sheridan to Brower; Bishop flied to Altenberg on the first pitch.

Sixth inning, Reading, batting against Frank—Konnick singled to centre on first pitch; Justin forced Konnick, Bishop to Boley, on the first pitch; Altenberg forced Justin, Bishop to Boley, on the first pitch; Burns flied to Holden on the first pitch.

The Orioles will make about $30,000 this season. Fred Maisel is a stockholder in the club to the extent of $4,000, and he expects to get $3,000 as his share of the profits of the club.

It is hinted that next to Jack Dunn, the biggest stockholder in the Baltimore club is Edward Trowbridge Collins, second baseman of the White Sox.

ORIOLES SMASH UP LEAFS WIN STRING WITHOUT TROUBLE

Toronto Pinch Hitters Failed To Come Through At the Right Time.

TORONTO, Aug. 20. — Baltimore broke Toronto's string of ten straight victories here today, winning by a 6 to 2 score. Manager Duffy used three pinch hitters in an endeavor to gather needed hits, but to no avail.

The score: R.H.E.
Baltimore .... 202 020 000—6 13 1
Toronto .... 000 101 000—2 9 0

Bentley and Egan; Bader, Ryan and Sanberrg.

BISONS WIN IN FOURTEENTH.

BUFFALO, Aug. 20.—Buffalo and Reading battled for three hours before the Bisons were able to put over the winning run in the fourteenth inning, without an out being made in that frame, winning 4 to 3. Wiltse sent in four pitchers. Swartz held his own with the entire lot.

The score: R.H.E.
Reading ....100 000 000 101 00—3 11 1
Buffalo ....000 100 000 101 01—4 14 3

Swartz, Brown and Konnick; Martin, Thomas, McCabe and Carruthers, Niebergall.

SKEETERS TAKE ONE.

ROCHESTER, Aug. 20.—Wild throws by Beck helped Jersey City score five runs today, and the Skeeters made it three straight over the locals, winning, 7 to 4. The score: R.H.E.
Jersey City ....120 010 300—7 11 1
Rochester ....200 002 000—4 8 5

Carlson and Freitag; Beck, Snyder and Manning.

STARS BEAT AKRON.

AKRON, Aug. 20.—Overcoming a six-run lead in the ninth inning Syracuse knocked Hill out of the box, tied the score and then defeated Akron 9 to 7 in a 13-inning game.

The game was halted five minutes in the first and second innings out of respect to Ray Chapman.

Score: R.H.E.
Syracuse .... 000 000 006 100 2—9 13 6
Akron ...... 211 100 010 100 0—7 19 1

MINT JULEP AND MIXIN' 'EM

Yesterday was Divinney's last appearance in a London uniform. The Red Sox recruit wasn't such an asset that he couldn't he dispensed with, and as the liabilities don't look heavy for the rest of the season, he is being allowed to go back to Boston.

* * *

He had a lot of stuff, but he didn't seem to play in luck. If the Tribe had a harder fight for the pennant on their hands right now, he probably would have been kept around.

* * *

Shades of Night—" quoth Umps O'Hearne, but he wasn't going to break out into oration—just hurrying the game along.

* * *

At one time O'Hearne opined it was too dark to see the menu card. At other seasons of the year, say during the winter months, it would be probably safe to suppose that many umps don't see them for another reason.

* * *

Byrne wanted to know what hole some of the fans in the right bleachers crawled in, or something to that effect, as he went to bat first.

"Aw, gwan! Lookit what's here. Nobody out and nobody up. We paid the 40 cents which keeps you in eats," came the unanswerable reply in chorus.

* * *

"Babe" Dye isn't any babe in the professional rushes any more. He handled everything that came his way in the field, and there were a few, very nicely, and besides driving in three runs, was left stranded on second in the fifth.

* * *

None of the fans had to wear smoked glasses to watch Bill Kuhn work yesterday. He picks them up seldom on the bound, but he gathers everything else in, and collected one good hit.

* * *

One of the London's three heartiest fannettes switched her batteries on O'Hearne yesterday, but with true Italian grace, the umps proffered a rose, and what was a good little fannette to do?

* * *

Brady looked better over at second than at short. He covered a lot of ground yesterday, and his stab of Dowling's bounder in the fifth was a nice piece of fielding.

* * *

It looked as if O'Hearne was hearing things, when he called a third strike on Witry a foul. Though Witry afterwards got on, and Crichlow doubled, this faint rally of the Tecs, and the loudest one, wouldn't have happened if the umps was wrong.

* * *

A tall and broad-shouldered young man, with an athletic swing, was walking through a New York park some time back. He was nattily attired, carried a cane, and had a style and manner that would attract a second look most anywhere. As he walked he came upon a bunch of kids playing baseball, and he stopped with evident interest to watch.

Suddenly one of the small boys caught sight of him, let out a war whoop, and ran in from the field, yelling as he ran. The other kids stopped, looked, dropped bats and gloves, began to yell and also to run. They gathered around the broad-shouldered young man carrying the cane.

A score of boys fell in behind, dog-trotting along, some imitating the young man's walk, others making a study of his figure, and pointing and talking excitedly. The crowd of boys grew to a hundred or so.

The young man who was the object of all this attention, failing to escape, turned at bay. Just then a policeman hurried to the scene. "Hey, what's this all about?" he demanded.

"Officer," answered the pursued young man, "I don't know. I was just about to try and find out."

The policeman, not satisfied, took hold of the young man rather roughly. Immediately there was a great yell of protest. "Hey, copper," shouted a hundred shrill voices, "dat's Babe Ruth; you take your hands offen him!"

"They say you are Babe Ruth," said the policeman, puzzled.

"Well, if that's it, I'm not Babe Ruth, or Babe Anybody-Else. My name's Harrington Blake of Hollywood, and here's my card to prove it. Now let me go and chase these kids away."

The policeman finally dispersed the crowd, and then rejoining the young man, who had walked away, he said to him:

"If you are not Babe Ruth, you look enough like him to fool anybody."

"Well, I'm not trying to fool anybody," was the positive answer, "and, say, would you mind telling me, who is thus Ruth person anyway, that seems to look like me?"

Game Halted While Tribute Is Paid Chapman

The three-minute silent tribute paid the memory of Ray Chapman, who was buried yesterday afternoon from his Cleveland home, by both the London and Brantford players during the game yesterday at Tecumseh Park was exceptionally impressive.

Between the third and fourth innings, the game was halted, and the players gathered at the short field position with heads bared, while President Maines of the Mint League and President Heard of the local club placed a wreath at shortstop position. "Last Post" was blown, giving added solemnity to the silent tribute of the players and the fans to a player who had done much to add to the cleanliness and honor of sport in all branches.

MONTREAL MAN MAKES RECORD OF 22 BULLS

Morris Makes Sensational Score of 158 Out of 160 Possible.

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—The day's shooting at the D. R. A. at Rockliffe consisted of the City of Ottawa match and the London Merchants' Cup. The City of Ottawa match was shot in 1913 at long ranges; this year they went back to the 300 and 500 yards. Some splendid shooting was done in this match and Mr. P. Morris of Montreal made the great record of 22 consecutive bulls' eyes. Between what he made in extra series and in this match he made 158 points of a possible 160.

The principal feature of the match was the grand aggregate which was completed with the shooting of the Ottawa City match. Sergt. Hawkins, 48th Highlanders, Toronto, proved the winner, with a score of 499 out of a possible 545. The scores in this aggregate are added to the scores in the second stage of the governer-general's, which is the only match shot tomorrow and the first 20 in this aggregate are the leading Bisley team for 1921.

The London Merchants' Cup, a team competition, fell to Ontario. The choice of the team at that was questioned, but the men pulled through and the choice of the selection committee was sustained by the results.

City of Ottawa Trophy, 300 and 500 yards; ten rounds at each. Teams of eight men for Ottawa City cup, gold medal for best individual score:

Medal and $30—Mr. F. S. Morris, Montreal, 98; $25, Sergt. S. Dawson, G.G.F.G., 95; $20, Sergt. J. Cole, 28th, 95; $16, Pte. John Broe, 104th, 94; $10, Sergt. WOODSTOCK AND SARNIA TO PLAY IN LONDON TODAY

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 20.—The protest committee of the W. F. A., which considered the Sarnia protest against Stratford Seniors in the semi-final play-off has sustained the protest and ordered Stratford and Sarnia to play a sudden-death game in London Saturday afternoon. The Stratford team defeated Sarnia, and were ready to meet Galt to decide the senior championship of the W. F. A. However, the Tunnel Town boys protested on the grounds that Stratford played a man named Forsyth under the name of Leigh. This was sustained and the replay is the finding.

THOUSANDS PAY LAST TRIBUTE TO R. CHAPMAN

Speaker and Graney Are Overcome by Emotion and Cannot Attend Last Rites To Comrade.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 20.—Raymond Chapman, star player of the Cleveland American League Club, and idol of Cleveland fans, this morning received the reverential homage of a sorrowing city.

While the bell of St. John's Roman Catholic Cathedral, where the funeral services were held, was tolling, thousands of persons stood with bared heads as the body of Chapman, who died in New York last Tuesday, a victim of a pitched ball there Monday, was carried to the altar and the last rites of the church were said.

It was the largest funeral in Cleveland in years and not since the visit here of Cardinal Mercier, hero of Belgium, has such a mass of people attempted to enter the cathedral.

Long before the services started thousands of persons congregated in the vicinity of the church awaiting the arrival of the casket and unable to gain admission to the building. Tears were in the eyes of men, women and children in the throng, which was so dense that mounted police and patrolmen strove almost in vain to keep streets open to traffic.

Bancroft B. Johnson, president of the American League, and James C. Dunn, president of the Cleveland team, were among the first to reach the church. Several other club officials and players were present, including three from the New York Americans.

The members of the Cleveland team arrived from New York this morning to attend the funeral, today's game at Boston being postponed. Manager Tris Speaker and Outfielder Jack Graney collapsed and could not attend the services. Graney had recovered sufficiently, however, to leave for Boston tonight with the team. Speaker had a high fever tonight and did not go east. He may leave tomorrow.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—While the funeral of Raymond Chapman, shortstop of the Cleveland Americans, fatally injured here last Monday by a ball pitched by Carl Mays of the New York Club was being held today in Cleveland, Mays was lying in his home here, suffering from a nervous breakdown.

This became known this morning when an official of the Yankees appeared in traffic court and pleading guilty for Mays to a charge of speeding last month, paid a $25 fine.

Mays has not played since resumption of the New York-Cleveland series, nor has he been seen at the Polo grounds.

ALDBOROUGH OLD BOYS

Thousands Gather For Reunion At Picturesque Port Glasgow.

[By Staff Reporter.]

PORT GLASGOW, Aug. 20.—For the occasion of the Aldborough Old Boys' Reunion hundreds gathered at this picturesque resort on the shores of Lake Erie to renew old acquaintances. Many came long distances to a celebration that will go down in the history of the old boys' reunion association as one of the most successful ever held. The weather was ideal, and the cooling breezes from Lake Erie added zest to every event. Hundreds of motor cars, which lined the roads and the fields adjoining the six-acre park, indicated the prosperity of the farmers of Aldborough Township. Many of those present had travelled thousands of miles to once again set foot on ground which brought fond memories of happy childhood days. Small groups of people could be seen all over the grounds rehearsing incidents whch had caused both laughter and pain in the days gone by.

The Brunswick Trio and the Brunswick Pipe Band of London presented an excellent musical program. Jock Ballantyne, who has attained a reputation as a Scotch comedian, delighted the gathering with his antics and comic songs. Including the work of McKellar and McAllister, the Scotch dancers and pipers, the musical program was one of exceptionally high order.

New Ground Purchased.

The grounds where the reunion was held, have recently been purchased by the association for the sum of $1,200, and are a splendid location for a big annual event held regularly for over twenty years with only a break of two or three years during the war. Trees will be planted and pavilions erected to make it as convenient as possible for the old boys when they return to celebrate on the grounds where the first settlers in Aldborough Township landed after many months spent in travelling across the ocean and Lake Erie. This is the reason why the present residents and the old boys gather at the park annually to commemorate historic days. A short distance from the park is a mound which reminded many of the stories told of the hardships experienced by the sturdy Scotch who first settled in Aldborough Township. When the first settlers arrived it was necessary for them to cut down trees before they could find room to erect a building in which to live.. Many of the speakers dwelt on the hardships which were experienced by those early settlers and the number of descendants of those who with probably greater than ordinary foresight still live on the farms which were tilled by their forefathers more than a hundred years ago.

Hon. F. G. McDiarmid, president of the Old Boys' Reunion Association, opened the program by stating the aims and objects of the association. The reunion was an event which everyone in Aldborough Township should attend. Co-operation was needed to keep alive the memories of the pioneers and the sons of the township who went overseas to help win the war.

"We want to keep alive the ideals for which our forefathers fought for more than a hundred years ago. We have every confidence in the future and with the co-operation of the residents of the township I believe it will be a successful undertaking."

Good Enough For Grit.

Major J. C. Tolmie of Windsor, in a forceful address, told those present why they should work together to make the reunion a success every year. In opening his address he referred to Hon. Mr. McDiarmid being a Tory. "He is almost good enough to be a Grit. He is good enough looking, anyway," he remarked.

"I am a Liberal and am not ashamed of it either. I am broad-minded enough to see that all the parties are working in the interests of the province."

He referred to the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier in his address as being a man who put his life into the betterment of the nation. He, whose career was taintless of any wrong-doing, political or otherwise, is a man whom we will recognize more and more as the time goes by. We always recognize the good men have done after they have crossed the great divide," he said.

"I am interested in this community because my father was a student missionary in Aldborough Township."

In speaking of the celebration he said: "Shame would it be on the people of Aldborough if they did not honor the pioneer settlers and the soldiers. You will never have to bow down in shame for what the Canadian soldiers did in the great war. The blood of the sturdy men and women who emigrated from Scotland is in the veins of many of the residents here, and it was coursing through the veins of the majority of the soldiers who left this township when the call came to help defend their country.

"A few of the old residents spoke to me of them growing old," he said, "but age makes no difference if we do our duty, serve our God and serve our country. That is the spirit in which to live."

Church Great Institution.

He said that he had been informed that the women used to walk ten miles to church, and sometimes carry their babies with them. The women who would do that and the men who would stand by their church would have children worth while.

"The greatest institution in the world is the Church of God," he said.

"I don't altogether agree with the U. F. O. party, but that party is making the people living in the rural districts read more. They read the newspapers to see what their party is doing, and it educates them. If we are to have a safe community it must be an educated one.

"Bolshevism, which started in Russia and which is rapidly spreading through Austria and is threatening the whole civilized world, cannot be suppressed by soldiers of arms. The only defence is an educated people.

"Our system of education is not what it should be. There are 1,500 schools in Ontario, where the average attendance is less than ten. I believe in the idea of consolidated schools, an idea which was put forward by Dr. H. A. Cody, former minister of education. There has got to be rivalry and emulation among the scholars and the teachers for proper education."

In speaking of the progress that the country has made, he touched on the question of women's pensions, which he strongly supported.

"We should not always be thinking of ourselves. We should think of the other fellow, too, and have a larger vision of life."

Raps Hydro Rates.

P. L. Thomson, reeve of Rodney, stated that the farmers of Ontario are not getting a square deal on hydro. Hydro is provincially owned, but the farmers are the last to receive its benefits. He stated that there should be a flat or uniform rate. London citizens were receiving the benefits of hydro at less than one-third the price that Rodney citizens were paying. St. Thomas citizens were also paying less than half what was being charged Rodney citizens.

Peter Stocker, ex-reeve of Aldborough ,addressed the gathering on the changes in Aldborough Township, where he has resided continuously since 1851.

He said that he was well pleased with the whole program, especially the Scotch dancing.

"Nowadays it is all shimmy and some other kind of dance. I like to see the real dancing. The way our fathers and mothers used to dance," his remarks evoking much laughter.

Peter Cameron spoke on the strides which the northern country had taken in the past ten years. He also congratulated the committee in charge of the reunion on it being so successful.

D. A. Grant, superintendent of city schools, Portland, Oregon, one of the Aldborough old boys, and Wm. Tolmie, Liberal candidate for West Elgin, also spoke.

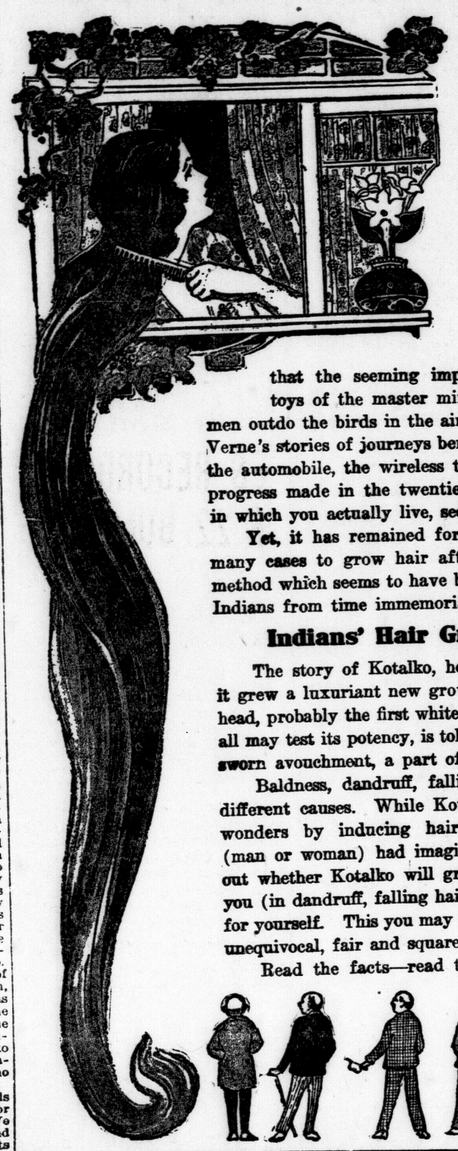

Hon. F. C Biggs, although scheduled to attend, wired that owing to pressure of business he found it impossible to do so.

A baby show and a number of races completed the celebration.

HAS SECRET OF AGES BEEN UNEARTHED AT LAST?

Unquestionable Affidavits show New Hair Growth after Baldness!

Remarkable Preparation was Known to Indians—How Long?—No white Man seems to Know! Contains genuine Bear Oil and other Potent Ingredients from Three Kingdoms of Nature

FOR ages man has sought the secret of growing hair on human heads after it had fallen out from one cause or another. Many theories have been advanced as to the best means for preserving the hair, for increasing its growth, and for the prevention of dandruff, falling hair and baldness. Yet scientists have come and gone, leaving behind them the task of solving one of Nature's greatest problems.

Has it at last been solved?

Has Nature herself opened her portals to the wonderful secret? Your own observation in recent years proves that the seeming impossibilities of yesterday are but mere toys of the master minds of today. The aeroplane, in which men outdo the birds in the air—the submarine, which has made Jules Verne's stories of journeys beneath the sea come true. The telephone, the automobile, the wireless telegraph, all go to show the marvelous progress made in the twentieth century—that history-making period in which you actually live, see and understand.

Yet, it has remained for Nature herself to show us the way in many cases to grow hair after baldness. And this simple, natural method which seems to have been known to certain tribes of American Indians from time immemorial, can now be yours.

Indians' Hair Growing Secret Revealed

The story of Kotalko, how the Indians' secret was obtained, how it grew a luxuriant new growth of hair on John Hart Brittain's bald head, probably the first white man to try it, how it is now obtainable so all may test its potency, is told by Mr. Brittain in his own words, under sworn avouchment, a part of which is printed in the next column.

Baldness, dandruff, falling hair and grayness, each have several different causes. While Kotalko cannot create papillae, it has done wonders by inducing hair growth when the baldheaded person (man or woman) had imagined there was no hope. The way to find out whether Kotalko will grow hair in your case or otherwise benefit you (in dandruff, falling hair or grayness) is to make a test of Kotalko for yourself. This you may do under the $300 guarantee—an absolutely unequivocal, fair and square money-refunding offer.

Read the facts—read the additional overwhelmingly convincing evidence of the success of Kotalko submitted by men, women and children who have tried this hair elixir. Decide to have new hair, make the test for yourself. Don't stand and doubt. Use Kotalko now!

A Fortunate Discovery

The Cherokee promised that Mr. Brittain's hair might be grown again if he used a certain exiir.

"WHILE traveling on business (in the old Indian territory, near Tahlequah) I came in contact with an Indian 'medicine man' of the Cherokee tribe, who told me that my hair could be grown again if I used a certain peculiar salve.

"If you have had any experience with American Indians you know that every tribe has one or more men who understand healing, surgery, etc., in a primitive way, yet they often achieve astonishing cures. The scope of these 'wizards' also includes the ability to improve the appearance and welfare of their tribesmen.

"Although I had foresworn any more speculation in hair-growing lotions or the like, as probably you, the reader of this narrative, have done several times, already, the picturesqueness of this old Indian sage and the rather peculiar odor of his ointment fascinated me. I agreed to use it."

Applied it to His Scalp

"Faithfully I applied the pomade to my bare, shiny pate. It became even more shiny. That was easy enough to understand. Nevertheless, I persisted.

"Quiet perseverance is a very valuable factor in life sometimes. So it proved in this test, for after a little while a light fuzz, or down, became visible upon my scalp.

"This pleased me. It gave me encouragement.

"Thereafter I watched the top of my head in the mirror as persistently as a scientist observes the development of anything under his microscope.

"Slowly the fuzz changed into real hairs and they actually grew. Yet, they grew and grew.

"It seems almost ridiculous to tell it, but I felt unusually good—I was mighty happy.

"Finally there was enough hair for me to apply my brush upon!

"What joy!

"I could actually part my hair! Think of it! This was after complete baldness and after being told that the hair roots were dead."

No Trace of Baldness

"My hair today is as luxuriant as anyone could ever wish.

"Explain, if you can, why a certain mixture of animal, mineral and vegetable components, compounded in a special manner, can induce hair growth when all else fails.

"Even the old Cherokee could only say that the recipe came to him through his predecessors. He was wont to remark that among the real—the full-blooded—Indians of most of the big tribes there was never any baldness."

Traded Rifle For Secret

"I must now tell a most important fact of my experience—one which will interest you.

"I came into possession of the Cherokee wizard's secret. That of Ko-tal-ko—which I now call Kotalko.

"It contains three potential classes of components—animal, vegetable and mineral. These are combined in certain proportions and compounded in a certain manner. I am neither a chemist, doctor of medicine nor scientific theorist. I don't pretend to give any reason for the peculiar action of this pomade.

"The primitive men of our country did not have the advantage of our modern scientific chemistry. They operated upon elementary principles. For example, if an Indian was given to attacks of biliousness, the 'medicine man' made a decoction of selected herbs and surrounded the delivery of it with mysterious incantations. The patient was soon well.

"And so with this hair ointment. It was easy for me to prove to the wizard of the forest that I had no thought of entering into competition with him. Consequently, by the giving of a valuable rifle, I obtained the principle of the compound and was taught just how to prepare it, and since then it has been improved by the processes of practical chemistry."

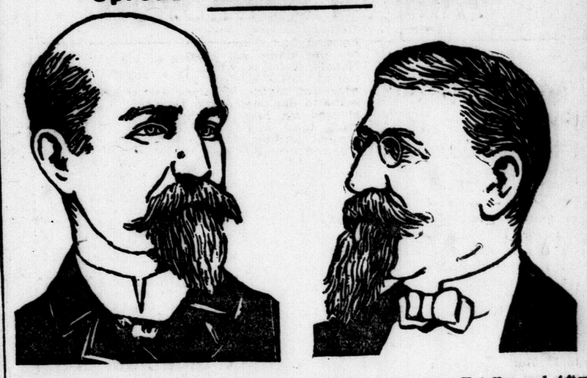

Victory Over Baldness

"When the old Indian gave me this recipe—with considerable ceremony—he asseverated to me that the most important feature was the combination of the animal, vegetable and mineral elements. He allowed that even his formula could be modified and improved (which has been done), so long as these kingdoms were represented. He gave me specimens of the ingredients that he employed.

"I had given most of the contents of my jars to men who were bald and to ladies who were distressed because of the thinness of their hair. The reports which I received were so convincing that I was positive of having found at last just what the world needed."

NOTE: Although Mr. Brittain for many years kept the secret of his victory over baldness to himself, Kotalko is now obtainable at druggists' everywhere. Or get a proof box, postpaid, with book on hair and many testimonials by sending 10 cents to KotalCompany, Limited, 366-H Adelaide Street W., Toronto, Ont.

Reports in Legions of Cases Now Prove Astonishing Results in Hair Growth Almost Beyond Belief. Voluntary Statements from Men and Women of All Ages Causing Wide-Spread Demand for Kotalko

Above are from Photographs of John Hart Brittain Before using Kotalko, and After

REPORTS: An endless quantity of reports on Kotalko, because they are constantly coming in. Full addresses and sworn avouchments on file at our offices. Here are excerpts:

WILLIAM SHAW: "My looking glass is ample proof that Kotalko will grow hair. I had a bald spot over 12 years that has become covered. I am sure that Kotalko will become the most famous hair preparation in the world."

MISS MARY FERREIRA: "When I began to use Kotalko my hair had nearly all fallen out. Then the hair grew again."

GEO. M. SCHWANK: "Even after the second application of Kotalko I could see a difference, for the hair stopped falling out. When I had used two full boxes my hair growth was as good as ever."

LOUISE A. GRAY: "My head is the surest proof that Kotalko is all that it is claimed to be. After a few months of Kotalko my hair is twice as thick and long as it was."

G. K. SKINNER: "I had bald spots on my head for a number of years, and they are now entirely covered with a new growth of hair. Kotalko is what did it."

C. F. HEISER: "I had a large bald spot. Kotalko has developed real, healthy hair all over my head."

AFFIDAVIT re HAIR GROWTH

While completely bald on the top of my head as shown in my photograph which is accompanying this affidavit, I adopted a hair cosmetic and formula given me by an old Cherokee Indian. Within six months my head was covered with a new and luxuriant growth of hair. I now supply Ko-tal-ko, a pomade prepared according to the original formula which resulted in my own hair growth. The statements in my advertisement are true and my photographs are correct.

John Hart Brittain

Personally appeared before me John Hart Brittain, this fifth day of June, 1917, who signed the foregoing in my presence and who being duly sworn, attested that same is true.

PALLID CHEEKS MEAN ANAEMIA

New Health Can Be Obtained by Enriching the Blood Supply.

When a girl in her 'teens becomes peevish, listless and dull, when nothing seems to interest her and dainties do not tempt her appetite you may be certain that she needs more good blood than her system is provided with. Before long her pallid cheeks, frequent headaches and breathlessness and heart palpitation will confirm that she is anaemic. Many mothers, as the result of their own girlhood experience, can promptly detect the early signs of anaemia, and the wise mother does not wait for the trouble to develop further, but at once gives her daughter a course with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which renew the blood supply and banish anaemia before it has obtained a hold on the system.

Out of their experience thousands of mothers know that anaemia is the sure road to worse ills. They know the difference that good red blood makes in the development of womanly health. Every headache, every gasp for breath that follows the slightest exertion by the anaemic girl, every pain she suffers in her back and limbs, are reproaches if you have not taken the best steps to give your weak girl new blood, and the only sure way to do so is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

New, rich, red blood is infused into the system by every dose of these pills. From this new rich blood springs good health, an increased appetite, new energy, high spirits and perfect womanly development. Give your daughter Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and take them yourself, and note how promptly their influence is felt in better health.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

SAYS NEW GROUPS WILL NOT CHANGE POLITICAL PARTIES

Liberal Leader Predicts Return To Old Camps in Long Run.

MILTON, Aug. 20.—Hon. W. L. M. King, leader of the Liberal party in the House of Commons, and A. R. McMaster, member for Brome, addressed a large meeting in Victoria Park here tonight.

In the course of his speech the Liberal leader said he did not believe the two old political parties could be changed, even if Canada did have groups of U. F. O., Labor and other so-called parties. They would have to come back to the two old parties in the long-run. He maintained that the present government was selected only for the purpose of winning the war, and that Hon. Mr. Meighen upon his elevation to the premiership should have at once gone to the country.

Mr. McMaster said the first thing Canada had to do was to get rid of religious differences, and the next was to straighten out the language question. The present trouble was the work of political tricksters, who were trying to divide the people. He also said that now that women had the franchise things would be better looked after in the future at Ottawa.

SUMMER VISITINGS.

SOUTH DELAWARE, Aug. 20.—Miss Mabel Scott has returned home to St. Thomas after visiting her aunt here, Mrs. William Heron.

Miss Annie Bruce and brother Hugh of Dutton are visiting relatives here.

Harry Able of London is spending a week at William Heron's.

Mrs. George Axford of Alvinston is visiting at William Vicary's.

Mrs. Carl Jones and son of Boxall have returned home from visiting relatives.

Dr. Neil Munro, wife and two daughters have returned home to Cleveland after visiting relatives here.

Miss Mary McFarlane has returned home from Hamilton, where she has finished her course in kindergarten work.

Thomas Parsons will leave shortly on a business trip to his ranch in Alberta.

Miss Maude Robertson, local teacher, and her mother have returned from a visit to relatives in the Southern States.

SUMMER HEAT HARD ON BABY

No season of the year is so dangerous to the life of little ones as is the summer. The excessive heat throws the little stomach out of order so quickly that unless prompt aid is at hand the baby may be beyond all human help before the mother realizes he is ill. Summer is the season when diarrhoea, cholera infantum, dysentery and colic are most prevalent. Any of these troubles may prove deadly if not promptly treated. During the summer mother's best friend is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and keep baby healthy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

LITTLE CHANGE IN MESOPOTAMIA, SAYS BRITISH WAR OFFICE

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The latest reports show little change in the Mesopotamia situation, says a war office announcement today. The Bakuba area is still in revolt as far west as Thanikin, the announcement says. A British post at Sakiya, 25 miles south of Kifiri, has been invested.

The railway from Hillago to Bagdad has now been secured at both ends by lines of blockhouses. Defences are being constructed in the vicinity of Bagdad itself. Heat and the lowness of the rivers have impeded operations.

WINDSOR WEARIED OF BOOMING O. T. A. COURT INDUSTRY

Wheels of Justice Clogged With Border Booze Cases —City Suffers.

WINDSOR, Aug. 20.—Windsor will demand the appointment of a special magistrate, who will devote his entire time to the hearing of cases for this city, Mayor Winter declared tonight. A resolution, prepared by Ald. Sam Keyser, following a complete investigation into the situation here, is to be submitted to the city council Monday night and will be forwarded to the attorney-general immediately.

So serious has the situation become here as the result of innumerable cases involving breaches of the Ontario temperance act from all parts of the county, being brought into the Windsor police court for settlement that witnesses called in local cases have recently showered complaints on officials at the city hall. Policemen on night duty have been compelled to waste entire mornings on repeated occasions to appear in cases in which they were involved, thus seriously affecting their efficiency through loss of sleep, and the wheels of justice generally have become clogged with the hearing of outside cases.

In addition to these phases, the name of Windsor has been dragged in the mud as a result of the number of bootlegging cases brought before the local court for settlement, the vast majority of which have been from other parts of the border district.

City ordnances are being grossly violated daily because of inability to have complaints heard, charges of this nature being sidetracked in the heavy mass of detail associated with other more serious charges from outside points in North Essex.

Mayor Winter tonight expressed the opinion that Windsor, a city of 35,000 people by itself, was quite large enough to justify the appointment of a separate magistrate to deal with all local cases.

In addition, Windsor authorities claim they have been imposed upon in administering justice for the surrounding territory, its police officers, cells and courtroom all used with no remuneration in return.

EVERY BIG CITY SHOULD APPOINT TREE INSPECTOR

SARNIA, Aug. 20.—A civic movement for the scientific handling of city shade trees was inaugurated here last evening, when H. J. Moorse, the county-appointed provincial highway forester, addressed a meeting of businessmen in the chamber of commerce. Mr. Moore made no allusion to the plans adopted by the Government for the beautification of the new provincial highways, but urged strongly that the cities should co-operate in the idea, by reorganizing their civic planting programs on a scientific basis. He recommended the appointment of trained arborists in cities of sufficient population, and expressed the belief that the next few years will see a great change in the appearance of urban Ontario, due to the employment of trees in conformity with the principles of landscape gardening.

SENATOR DOUGLAS DIES.

CALGARY, Aug. 19.—A private dispatch received here tonight reports the death of Senator J. M. Douglas, at his country home at Tantallon, Sask.

INVESTIGATION AFTER FIREMEN ARE DISMISSED

Peterboro Fire Chief Discharges Three Members of Department.

PETERBORO, Aug. 20.—Three members of the local fire department were summarily dismissed this morning by Chief Orange, on the ground of inefficiency, and this has precipitated an investigation into the general administration of the department.

It was because the dismissed men attended a meeting of the district trades and labor council and presented a resolution asking for this investigation that they were dismissed, the firemen assert, and not because they were inefficient. Mayor McIntyre promises to have the investigation under way before Tuesday.

The firemen say they realize they are inefficient as a department. They have not had a drill for two years. They say that when the stable doors open the horses stand in their stalls as if nothing had happened. Instead of running to their places in the trucks they have to be led out.

When the three men were dismissed the remainder of the force were ready to strike in sympathy, but have agreed to remain on duty until after the investigation, and have promised not to leave the city without fire protection.

ASSURANCE SOLICITOR DIES AT TORONTO

TORONTO, Aug. 20. — Alexander Bruce, K.C., general solicitor for the Canada Life Assurance Company, died today at his residence here after a two-months' willness.

Mr. Bruce was born in Aberdeenshire, Scotland, and was in his 84th year. He came to Canada when quite young and married Miss Robb. Mr. Bruce made his practice in Hamilton for many years with the firm of Bruce, Bruce & Counsell, coming to Toronto in 1907 as general solicitor for the Canada Life Assurance Company.

Besides Mrs. Bruce, who survives him, there are two sons and three daughters. Ralph Bruce is a barrister, practicing in Hamilton, while C. A. C. Bruce is manager of the Canada Life Assurance Company branch in Newfoundland

AT LOEW'S

William S. Hart in "The Toll Gate," Comes To Loew's Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Next.

The feature photoplay attraction at Loew's for the first of next week brings the famous Bill Hart in one of his greatest pictures, "The Toll Gate," and acclaimed by himself to be the greatest picture of his entire picture career. It is a rugged western drama of hot passions and cold lead, and should more than delight patrons of London's Theatre Beautiful for the first three days of the week.

Mr. Hart appears as Black Deering, head of a bandit gang, but an honorable man beneath his rough exterior. Deering is anxious to abandon his life of pillaging, but Jordan, his chief lieutenant, urged him to one more hold-up. It is a frame-up, and Deering is captured. But he manages to escape and performs several thrilling and hazardous feats in order to elude the sheriff's posse that is trailing him.

Eventually Deering reaches safety in a clearing where the cabin of Mary Brown is located. She proves to be the deserted wife of Jordan. Under her influence, Deering resolves to do the right thing and gives himself to the sheriff. As a volunteer, he rescues a detachment of deputies from Jordan and kills the traitor. As a reward, the sheriff allows him his freedom, provided he departs south into Mexico.

Anna Q. Nilsson makes an appealing leading woman. Bill Hart's famous Pinto pony comes in for a good share of the attention and takes a notable part in many of the thrilling scenes. Mr. Hart and Lambert Hillyer are the authors of the story, and the latter directed the picture.

"The Toll Gate" is the first of the big new William S. Hart productions made by his own company to be released by Paramount Artcraft. It augurs well for the future.

A ripping comedy with a laugh a second, the ever-popular Loew Pictorial and Loew's high-class extraordinary vaudeville completes an excellent bill of diversion for first night fans.

Charles Ray Comes To Loew's For the Last Three Days of Next Week in 'Paris Green'

Charlie Ray, that natural star of screendom, comes to Loew's for the last three days of next week in one of his latest releases of simple life, "Paris Green." All Ray pictures seem to abound with human interest and comedy, with a touch of old romance combined, which make for better and more enjoyable pictures. "Paris Green" is one of those rural classics of the simple life and there is a girl, and a love story per usual and Loew patrons will undoubtedly be treated to one of the most enjoyable Ray pictures of the season. A funny comic, the popular Loew Pictorial of world events in pictures and Loew's extraordinary vaudeville will complete a classy bill of amusement for the remaining three days of the week.

AT THE GRAND

"The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" Will Be Seen For the Last Time Today At the Grand.

"The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," John Fox Jr's romantic story of the Kentucky mountains will be presented today at 2:30 and again at 8:15 this evening. The cast is a good one and the scenic investiture is atmospheric in every respect. Delighted audiences for the past two nights at the Grand augers well for the calibre of the play. Monday brings the picture and vaudeville policy back again, and Mary Pickford in "Pollyanna" will be presented for the first of the week with Bert Lytell in "The Right of Way" the last three days.

Mary Pickford Comes To the Grand Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Next in a Return Engagement of the Glad Play, "Pollyanna."

The charming sweetheart of the screen will be featured at the Grand for the first three days of next week in the famous glad play "Pollyanna." When "Pollyanna" played here last fall, the influenza was rampant, and Manager Minhinnick believing that many Londoners did not have an opportunity to see this great play decided to play a return date to enable everyone in London to see Mary at her very best.

A most capable and well balanced cast, including some of the best established players in the industry, supports Mary Pickford in "Pollyanna," her first release for the United Artists Corporation. The juvenile lead is played by Howard Ralston, a veteran "trouper" fifteen years of age. In the part of Jimmie Bean he gives an excellent interpretation of a boy hero.

Howard comes of a theatrical family and has been in the business since babyhood. At the age of two he was in "legit" and for the past three years has played in picture. He appeared in "Huckleberry Finn," "Cupid's Little Sister," "The Doctor and the Woman," and many other photoplays. Howard's pet aversion is ancient and medieval history.

William Courtleigh cast as Mr. Pendleton in "Pollyanna," is an actor of twenty-nine years' experience. He came into pictures from the stage, where he appeared in Belasco and Frohman productions, and also in stock with Augustin Daly. He played leads with Mrs. Fiske, Margaret Anglin and many others. "Pollyanna" is Courtleight's fifth picture. Other productions in which he was featured are "The Better Man," "Birth of Character" and "Eyes of Youth." Courtleigh is the proud father of three sons, the eldest of whom is seven. This lad's great ambition is to be a burglar, instead of an actor, which inspiration was given him by the film serials.

The principal feminine role, outside of Miss Pickford's part, is that of Aunt Polly, played by Katherine Griffith, one of the most capable actresses in the picture world. Mrs. Griffith has been before the public twenty-five years—eighteen years in the spoken drama and seven years in the shadow realm. She is the mother of three children, one of whom, Gordon Griffith, is now under contract to the National Film Company.

Mrs. Griffith delights in the title of "Filmland's most domestic artist." Her home is her greatest pride and she can wield a broom or a fry-pan with the same dexterity that she does an eyebrow pencil or a powder puff.

On the stage Katherine Griffith was featured by William A. Brady for five years and her film triumphs are too numerous to mention. This is her second appearance with Miss Pickford, with whom she worked in "The Little Princess" as the school mistress.

For the first time in several years, Herbert Prior again appears with Mary Pickford. He is the village doctor in "Pollyanna," a role which he handles extremely well. Ten years ago Prior entered pictures under D. W. Griffith at the old Biograph studio, where Little Mary was then in the swaddling clothes of her fame. Later these two photoplay veterans worked together at the old Majestic studio, and again during the picturizing of "The Poor Little Rich Girl." To Prior goes the distinction of having appeared more times with Miss Pickford than any other member of the cast.

The other players who are participating in "Pollyanna" have all had a wide and varied experienced in the amusement field, with the result that the highest possible efficiency has been obtained in this story.

The vaudeville for the first three days brings three excellent acts, Larabee's French Pantomime Dancers in a novelty dancing turn, George and May De Glenn in a comedy singing and dancing turn entitled "After the Masquerade." Leon, Cook and Ross will present a comedy burlesque on the much abused mind-reading stunts, which should more than knock the house over with laughter. The piece was built for laughing purposes only and as such should more than please.

The last half of the week brings the Mallory Sisters in a high-class singing act of popular and classical numbers, that should please all musical patrons. The girls are shapely and good to look upon and with an extensive wardrobe of exquisite gowns should meet with approval at the hands of Grand fans. Worden and Naidy will delight in a novel little skit of song and comedy entitled "That's Nice." The Three Alvoras in a classy musical revue should reap the honors for the week. The trio is composed of piano, cello and violin, and their reportoire of numbers includes all the late hits and many of the classics. All in all a tidy bill of vaudeville is presented for the week and Grand patrons will again welcome the advant of vaudeville to the Grand.

Larry Semon Keeps Audience in Uproar—"The Stage Hand" Is Funniest of His Comedies.

Larry Semon goes through even more than his usual allotment of dangerous "stunts" in his latest gloom killer "The Stage Hand," a Vitagraph screen comedy, which will be shown at the Grand Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Vitagraph star makes his appearance first from the folds of a rolled-up carpet, and from then until the last flicker he keeps whirling hilariously from one funny incident to another. He falls through a trap door underneath the stage, plunges from the wings high over the footlights and goes through a score of other bone-breakers in order to get the last bit of fun out of the comedy.

Although the novelties were prepared, rehearsed and acted with the greatest care, so expertly was the production made that it seems to have been done spontaneously. Theatrical managers may moan of the troubles that beset them in putting on a show, but they are sure to grin and feel better after having seen the tornado of misfortune which follows in Larry Semon's wake as he breezes serenely through this picture.

The added feature will bring the ever-popular Pathe Weekly of World Topics, which should be of keen interest to all patrons, in view of the many turbulent events which the world over is now enjoying.

Bert Lytell in "The Right of Way" Coming To the Grand Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The feature photoplay attraction at the Grand for the end of next week brings Sir Gilbert Parker's famous drama of Canadian life "The Right of Way." This is undoubtedly one of the greatest dramas of the season and the big cities in which "The Right of Way" has been have acclaimed "The Right of Way" to be the greatest picture of the year.

What promises to be one of the real motion picture events of the year—and from film gossip concerning the production, the promise bids fair to be satisfactorily realized—will come to the Grand Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday in a picturization of Sir Gilbert Parker's greatest novel "The Right of Way," starring the magnetic and versatile young actor, Bert Lytell.

It will be recalled that before the author wrote this book he was plain Gilbert Parker, a Canadian writer of note; and that after its publication he was by royal proclamation knighted, becoming because of the distinction of "The Right of Way," in the field of letters, Sir Gilbert Parker. The publishers of the volume, Messrs. Harper & Brothers, estimate that the readers of this book run into the millions.

Translating celebrated books to the screen has in many instances been disappointing, especially to readers to whom widely-known characters, such as that of "Beauty" Steele in "The Right of Way," are crystallized in imagination into real persons. But when Screen Classics, Inc., the producing unit which distributes its pictures through Metro, undertakes such production those who have read the book may go to see the picture with the assurance that atmosphere, characterization, story and setting will have been faithfully, intelligently translated into the form of a motion picture; that the cinematographic version will equal, if not surpass, in power, picturesqueness and heart appeal the original story.

That Bert Lytell should be chosen to enact the principal role is another recommendation. Seen last in that delightful comedy of the Hattons, "Lombardi, Limited," Mr. Lytell demonstrated that he is that rare being among actors, a star who can portray sympathetically and intelligently a variety of parts and do it with conviction, charm and that histrionic skill which is born only from long experience in the art of acting. Supporting the star is a cast of players of proportionate merit, including Leatrice Joy, Gilson Gowland, Virginia Caldwell, Antrim Short, Carmen Phillips, Henry Harmon, Frank Currier and Larry Steers. The production was made under the direction of Jack Dillon and photographed by Robert Kurrie. June Mathis adapted "The Right of Way" and wrote the scenario, and the entire production was done under the personal supervision of Maxwell Karger, director general.

McIntyre and Heath in "Hello Alexander," At the Grand August 30-31.

James McIntyre of the team of McIntyre and Heath, coming to the Grand for two nights, August 30, 31, in their new musical extravaganza, "Hello, Alexander," claims that the French word "vaudeville" in the sense of a variety show, was made use of the first time in this country in San Antonio, Texas, in 1874. At that time San Antonio had not yet been reached by railroads, and so performers had to make it by stage from Austin. And yet, in that far-away corner of the United States, he found the place where he and his partner were to appear bore the sign, not electric of course, "Harris's Vaudeville Theatre." McIntyre and Heath joined forces in this house away back 45 years ago. The use of the word vaudeville instead of variety interested young McIntyre. He asked Mr. Harris why the name vaudeville, which he had been told that in France was used to indicate a light musical piece, was made use of here. Mr. Harris replied that he never liked the name "Variety," and in casting about for a better name had hit upon "Vaudeville," which had been suggested to him by a "variety performer," who had come that way via stage on the way to California. This performer, who had been in France, had told Harris that vaudeville meant "a balad or typical song, something light and merry," and that it was just the right word to replace variety, which was commonplace.

AT THE ALLEN

Henry B. Walthall, Famous Star of "Birth of Nation," Comes to Allen in Daring Picture of Race Across Sea and Continent For Buried Treasure—"Splendid Hazard," Season's Greatest Thriller, At Allen Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Eight great stars support Henry B. Walthall is one of the most thrilling and colorful pictures ever produced, which comes to the Allen on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. "The Splendid Hazard," rich in atmosphere, packed with unusual and sensational thrills, with Henry B. Walthrall, Norman Kerry, Ann Forest, Harold Kirkland and others, promises to be one of the greatest screen successes Londoners have ever seen.

The story covers two continents and two great sea trips. Beginning in France, the scene shifts to America, and after many thrilling adventures in this country goes back across the water to the Island of Corsica, where the search is made for the hidden treasure said to have been buried by Napoleon.

The story is of a man who defies the world in his search for wealth, and wrecks the love of his sweetheart in his mad race for gold. The story is by Harold McGrath, and vibrates with thrills like a five-thousand volt electric wire.

A special musical score accompanies the picture, and will be presented with full justice by the famous Allen concert orchestra. There will also be many extra film attractions on this exceptionally entertaining program.

Rex Beach Writes Rollicking Comedy, "Going Some," For Movies — Turns Out One of Best Comedies of Year.

Fun with a punch, comedy with strong dramatic action—that's what Rex Beach gives picture fans in his new production, "Going Some," founded on his own famous stage and book success. It's a thirty-third degree chuckle chaser, guaranteed to be a laughing gas tonic for that tired feeling induced by hot weather and hard work. It's a mile a minute humorous romance of a college tenderfoot from the East, who is by his own boast, a champion sprinter, and compelled to race with a lot of cowboys and a famous sprinting champion. He has to make good or lose his girl. And he wins! How he wins, is the fun of the thing, and it's some fun, as you'll agree when you see it at the Allen soon.

Will Rogers Ziegfeld Follies Star At Last Seen in True Character in His New Comedy Feature—"Cupid the Cowpuncher," At the Allen Next Thursday, Thrilling Comedy of Rough Riders of West.

At last we will have Will Rogers in his true character as a cowboy of the West in his new comedy romance, "Cupid the Cowpuncher," which is to be shown at the Allen next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Cupid" Lloyd and his flock of carefree boisterous cowpunchers are the real West. The wild and woolly country of the old movie thrillers, with its two-gun fighters, its scenes of preposterous melodrama and its impossible deeds of valor existed mainly in the fevered imaginations of scenario scribblers. But here is the real thing. Only one shot is fired in the whole picture—and that one part of a practical joke. You will revel in the scenes in the corral, the picturesque herds of cattle, the roping, the daring riding, the care free groups gathered around the chuck wagon. Will Rogers introduces something entirely new in "Cupid the Cowpuncher," the humane note of the West, in its true atmosphere of the great plains and lonely mesas.

Another of those big laughing Sunshine comedies, with many extra film attractions, will also be presented on this program.

AT THE PATRICIA

A new Harry Carey picture in which the popular Universal film star is said to exhibit all the likable qualities of boyish enthusiasm, prevailing good humor and virile manhood that have characterized "Marked Men," "Overland Red," and his other recent Universal success, it coming to the Patricia Theatre. "Bullet Proof," produced under the direction of Lynn Reynolds, is the star's newest vehicle.

Carey is supported by Kathleen O'Connor, who has attracted attention by her work in other Universal productions. J. Farrell McDonald, known as one of the best character actors on the screen, and other well-known players, including Beatrice Burnham, Charles Le Moyne, Robert McKim, Fred Gamble, W. H. Ryno and Bob McKenzie.

In "Bullet Proof" Carey has the role of Pierre, a young man studying for the priesthood in a rough section of Northwestern America, where a member of the clergy must be developed physically as well as mentally.

The murder of his father by McGuirk, a notorious gunman and outlaw, leads Pierre from a career in the church to the life of a bandit pledged to avenge his parent's death.

One night Pierre comes upon a girl pinned beneath a fallen tree. While he is trying to save her they both are buried by a landslide. Each thinks the other dead until they meet unexpectedly several years later.

Pierre and McGuirk finally met and the hero's pledge to his dying father is fulfilled. In a beautiful closing scene Pierre and the girl can see coming true the dreams of love born that night upon the mountainside when they faced death together.

ONE-REELERS

Gertrude Olmstead, age 17, has arrived in Los Angeles and as the choice of the Illinois Elks will be given an opportunity to appear in camera-drama for the Universal Company.

Mrs. Humphrey Ward's fine story, "The Marriage of William Ashe,' is to be put on the screen by Metro. That the company proposes to do it full justice is shown by the selection of its talented star, May Allison, and leading director, Edward Sloman, to bear the chief burdens. Sloman has just completed the filming of three of Jack London's stories.

Los Angeles is said to be the residence place of 90 per cent of the American film stars. The proportion was raised a little last week by the arrival there of Ruth Clifford after a year's absence in New York, where she has been starring in new Frohman productions. Miss Clifford brought with her a new contract with that company at a large increase in salary, which binds her to appear in ten special features to be made during the coming two years.

Many picture fans who have wondered why J. Fenimore Cooper's stories have not been shown on the screen, will be pleased to learn that Maurice Tourneur is now filming, "The Last of the Mohicans."

More than half a million dollars is said to have been expended by D. W. Griffith on his film translation of "Way Down East," which he proposes to make into a screen production rivaling his "Hearts of the World" and "The Birth of a Nation." Most of the well-known Griffith players have prominent parts. Griffith paid $175,000 for the screen rights.

The first American-made comedy of Max Linder, the French star, is completed. It is called "Seven Years' Bad Luck." Linder was decorated by the French Government for his war record.

The Charles Ray production of "45 Minutes From Broadway," most famous of George M. Cohan's comedies, has been completed under the direction of Joseph de Grasse. Charlie will take only three days' rest before commencing work on his next production, an adaptation from a magazine story of southern life.

Mrs. William Vaughn Moody, widow of the late dramatist, is in Hollywood to co-operate with George Melford in his production of "The Faith Healer," one of Mr. Moody's best plays.

Photographs of Bessie Love and Babe Ruth, taken on the Polo Grounds in New York, are appearing in the illustrated sections of the newspapers. It looks as if the champion home-run hitter would make about fifteen of Bessie's size. Bessie has on Babe's playing glove in the picture, and at first glance looks like she might be carrying a ham home from the market.

One of the interesting scenes in Ibanez' "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" will be a picture of 10,000 sheep on one of the great California ranches.

One of the stage's big prizes, the play "East is West," has been captured by Sessue Hayakawa. It has run over a year in New York, with Fay Bainter starred.

Vigorously denying that her marriage will make any difference in her picture activities, Beatrice la Plante has begun work on her second picture with Clara Kimball Young.

Frances X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne seem to have deserted the screen for an indefinite period. They are to be starred in another play by Oliver Morosco called "The Rainbow Bridge."

It is now estimated that the returns from "The Miracle Man" in the United States have exceeded $1,175,000. To this the producers expect to add $800,000 from foreign sales.

The vigorous and abundant action in every Jack London story makes its transformation to the screen a particularly arduous task. Edward Sloman, who has put into films two of the most virile stories London ever wrote, "Burning Daylight" and "The Mutiny of the Elsinore," is staying away from the Metro studio in an attempt to recover from his exhaustion.

After a year of hard work, William Farnum will go to Sag Harbor, N. Y., to spend three months at his summer home.

A sight common in Los Angeles, which in any other American city would make people stare in amazement, is that of a wealthy film star standing before a theatre waiting to pay money to see himself. Charles Ray is often seen standing in line, sometimes for a period of half an hour. That he does not take advantage of his name and fame to ask special privilege of the theatre is only another proof of Charlie's modesty.

"Frank Borzage has scored a knockout with 'Humoresque,' now showing on Broadway," writes Jerome Storm, who directed Charles Ray in that star's Ince successes. "The human appeal, the fidelity of characterization and the perfect welding of dramatic elements places 'Humoresque' among the classics of the screen. Frank Borzage lands among the big-leaguers for sure."

After long experience as a leading woman, Helen Jerome Eddy will be put forward as a star by the Smith Syndicate, who also are exploiting Zasu Pitts.

"I ended corns forever in this scientific way"

Millions have said that about Blue-jay.

Others tried it and told others the same story. So the use has spread, until corn troubles have largely disappeared.

If you have a corn you can settle it tonight. And find the way to end every corn.

Apply liquid Blue-jay or a Blue-jay plaster. The pain will stop.

Soon the whole corn will loosen and come out.

Think what folly it is to keep corns, to pare or pad them, or to use the old harsh treatments.

Here is the new-day way, gentle, sure and scientific. It was created by a noted chemist in this world-famed laboratory.

It is ending millions of corns by a touch. The relief is quick, and it ends them completely.

Try it tonight. Corns are utterly needless, and this is the time to prove it.

IN MEMORIAM.

ROBINSON—In loving memory of Pauline Rae Robinson, who died six years ago, tomorrow, August 22, 1914:
We often sit and think when we are all alone,
For memory is the only thing that grief can call its own,
What peaceful hours we once enjoyed, how sweet their memory still;
But they can leave an aching void this world can never fill;
Her memory still is very dear, for oft is shed a silent tear,
A bitter grief, a shock severe, to part with one we loved so dear.
—Inserted by her sister and her husband. b

Executor's Sale Florist and Market Garden Business

In order to close the estate, the executors offer for sale the Florist and Market Garden Business carried on by the late A. R. Murdock in the City of London, together with the land and buildings in connection therewith.

This is an old established business with good connections, having been in existence since 1876.

The land comprises nine acres of first-class black soil, situated within the city limits. The land has a southern exposure, being well protected on the north, making it one of the best locations in Western Ontario for a florist or market gardener.

On the property are five greenhouses, with 12,000 feet of glass, steam heated. Packing shed in connection also steam heated. Also a two-story solid brick residence with four bedrooms, bathroom, electric light and gas.

This is an exceptional opportunity to purchase a profitable business at a reasonable figure.

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF FARM PROPERTY

The executor of the estate of the late George Ferguson Robertson, deceased, will offer for sale, by public auction, at the premises on Saturday, the 28th day of August, A. D., 1920, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the following property: The northwest part of lot number 41, in the first concession of the Township of Westminster, being a 20-acre lot, situate on the Pipe Line road, about five minutes' walk from the Springbank car line. Buildings consist of a two-story cement block house, six rooms, small barn, in good repair. The property is adapted to fruit farming or gardening.

For particulars and conditions of sale apply to

U. A. BUCHNER,
Solicitor for Executor,
426 Talbot Street, London, Ont.,
or to the house directly opposite the property, on the Pipe Line road.

CLOVERSEED YIELD HIGH AT CLAREMONT

CLAREMONT, Aug. 20.—Indicative of the fine alsike crops harvested in this district, 60 bushels of seed were secured from twelve acres on William McKay's farm. He alternates a crop of wheat on this ground with good results. There is also a heavy crop of buckwheat in night, plus a fine yield of honey this season.

Bruce Brown, twelve-year-old son of William Brown of Brown's Corners, and nephew of Mrs. Evan Ward, here, lost his life last Sunday morning. When pulling a buggy across the barn floor, he fell through a hay-covered trap door, striking his head in his fall to the floor of the basement.

In the recent heavy thunderstorm here, Mrs. Roy Redmond of E. Ward's farm received a severe shock when a bolt shattered the chimney of the house and knocked down the kitchen stovepipe near which Mrs. Redmond was sitting at the time.

Milne's barn at Cherrywood, with hay, considerable grain and five large hogs was burned to the ground during the same storm.

The Claremont High School Girls' baseball team who defeated the Brougham Girls' team on Saturday by a score of 13 to 5 played a return match at Brougham with a score of 6 to 4 in favor of Brougham.

NO SUCCESSOR YET.

OTTAWA, Aug. 19. — (Canadian Press.)—There is as yet no talk of a successor to W. J. Black as chairman of the soldiers' settlement board. Neither is any new appointment likely for the present. Just now it is all that can be done to muster a corporal's guard among the ministers.

EXPORT LIQUOR HOUSES REQUIRE LICENSE, RULING

Ottawa Magistrate Holds That License Commission Has Power.

LIQUOR CONFISCATED

Counsel For Defense States That Case Will Be At Once Appealed.

OTTAWA, Aug 20.—Export liquor houses in Ottawa can not legally operate without a license or permit from the board of license commissioners.

Magistrate Askwith has decided this to be the lawful interpretation of the Ontario temperance act, and he handed down judgment in police court this morning in the case of Edgar Lemaire, manager of the Great West Wine Company of this city, who was charged with keeping liquor for sale contrary to the provisions of the liquor law.

Lemaire was fined $300 and costs, with an alternative of three months in jail. Magistrate Askwith's judgment is an extremely important one, in view of the fact that expert cunsel for the defence claimed that the board of license commissioners were powerless to say who should and who should not be granted export licenses. The case was much disputed in police court one week ago on the ground that a recent judgment handed down by Mr. Justice Masten held that any person could operate an export liquor business, in spite of the license department, providing that a warehouse was equipped with the facilities required by law.

The Great West Wine Company loses 140 cases of liquor, valued at $3,500, which was seized by the local police.

The counsel for the defence afterwards stated that there would be an appeal from the decision.

FRANCE TO GET NEW PRESIDENT

Deschanel Will Resign When Polish Crisis Passes—Millerand May Succeed.

PARIS, Aug. 20.—The resignation of Paul Deschanel as president of the republic of France, has now been definitely decided on, and the turbulent international situation is the only factor which delays putting into action a cut and dried program mapped out for his retirement and the choice of a successor.

In the face of the many rumors that have filled the political air here on this subject, the correspondent is able today to give an outline of the actual facts.

Offers to Resign.

M. Deschanel has already offered his resignation in a communication to Premier Millerand. In view of the Russo-Polish crisis, however, which requires more than ever a solid political "home front" in the entente countries, the premier and his colleagues have prevailed upon the president to remain in office until the situation has calmed down.

When that time comes the following procedure will be taken:

Premier Millerand will address the chamber and senate, suggesting that they meet in congress at Versailles to revise the constitution by inserting a clause which would empower the president of the senate to act as vice-president and to exercise the duties of the president at any time the latter is ill or out of the country.

Millerand's Chance Good.

But before the congress actually meets, President Deschanel will resign, whereupon the two houses will elect his successor, and make the proposed constitutional revision.

Regarding M. Deschanel's probable successor, all predictions thus far are based on guesswork, but Premier Millerand appears to have the strongest chance to enter the Elysees Palace as France's chief executive.

WILLIAM B. COLLINS, FORMER SARNIAN, DIES IN WINNIPEG

SARNIA, Aug. 20.—A message received from Winnipeg tonight stated that Wm. B. Collins, former president of the City Electric Railway line and Gas Company of Sarnia, is dead at Winnipeg, word to that effect having been received in Port Huron by his daughter, Mrs. Stanley W. McFarland. Mr. Collins was in Winnipeg, visiting another daughter, Mrs. Mathews, when he was stricken. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

For many years Mr. Collins was prominent in the business life and public affairs of Sarnia. Mrs. Collins died about three years ago. Mr. Collins had lived retired for the past few years, making his home part of the time in Port Huron, with his daughter, Mrs. S. W. McFarland.

New Nurses' Home.

The issuance of a permit for the erection of a nurses' home for the Sarnia General Hospital at an estimated cost of $40,000, the structure to be of brick, aids materially in bringing the building total for this month up to $80,811, according to the official records of Building Inspector H. Walton. In all 38 permits have been issued since August 1, five of which were for the erection of new houses.

BURNED BY LIVE WIRE; FALLS TWENTY FEET FROM POLE

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 20. — Ernest Hagerman, leading local hockey player and active in baseball circles, is going to Buffalo to engage in the photographic business.

James Scott was badly burned when he touched a live wire and fell from a pole 20 feet to the ground. He did not suffer any broken bones.

Woodstock fall harness race meet will be divided between August 25 and Labor Day (September 6), this city having been awarded those dates by the Canadian Racing Association.

James Jones, a trusty, escaped yesterday from the Oxford County jail, making the fifth escape in four months.

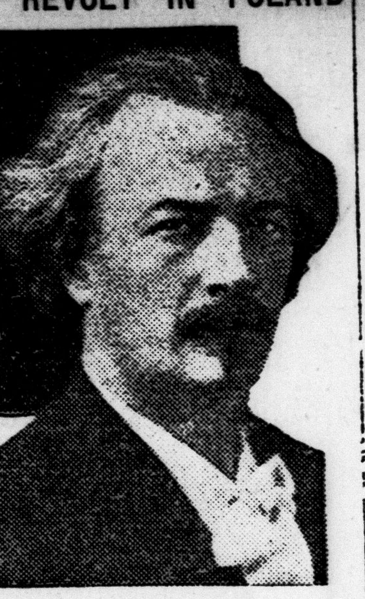

Peter Johnson, decorated with a badge reading "Whiskey Inspector," and coming from Cleveland, was ordered deported in Woodstock police court today.

PRINCETON CIVIC HOLIDAY.

PRINCETON, Aug. 20.—The civic holiday celebration passed off successfully. The village was gay with flags, bunting and evergreens, and the day was an ideal one. The calithumpian procession was excellent and the attendance large. A large program of races was held. The concert in the evening was in the hands of Messrs. Brazil and White, comedians, of Toronto, and much amused the crowd. The dance was well patronized, as were the refreshment booths all through the day. The Princeton orchestra played the opening number. The proceeds from all sources amounted to $661.

Mr. C. V. Fraser, wife and sons left in their motor car this morning for New York, whence they sail for Jamaica on Tuesday by steamer Santa Martha. Charlie Moore accompanied them to New York, but will return home shortly.

PADEREWSKI SUPPORTS REVOLT IN POLAND

The famous pianist politician is named as one of those giving aid "under cover" to Roman Dmowski, leader of the Reactionery National Democratic Party, and head of the Polish delegation at the peace conference. Dmowski's action in setting up a government of his own in Posen has aroused the indignation of the Socialists and Liberals.

BARE BACK GOWNS GO OUT OF FAVOR

New Models Have Sleeves and High Collars.

Paris, Aug. 20.—Bare backs and jeweled spinal columns seem to be doomed, according to some of the leading fashion displays in Paris. Even the moderate decollete has been abandoned in the creation of the new models, and apparently women who are fashionably gowned will in the future vie for length of sleeves and high collars, although the collars will not be ruffled after the Elizabethan styles.

Brown, instead of brilliant colors, is regaining favor, even brick red on copper brown being a popular combination with copper-colored bodices embroidered with gold and with black velvet skirts.

For evening wear the skirts promise to be somewhat longer, but are still short of pre-war days, while there is plenty of evidence that completely nude shoulders will be taboo with well-dressed women.

Unlike the models of last year, the waistline is again marked, usually with ribbon or sash of crepe de chine.

DOHERTY PROMISES BIG IMPROVEMENTS FOR RONDEAU PARK

RIDGETOWN, Aug. 20.—Every day sees crowds of visitors at Rondeau Park, which, with its present scenic beauties and government improvements promised, will soon be recognized as one of the finest pleasure spots in Canada. An electric railway is greatly needed to provide easy access to the park, which contains 6,000 acres of virgin forest. Rondeau Bay is one of the finest duck-shooting resorts in Ontario and attracts hundreds of sportsmen every fall. Boating and bathing are other attractions, and six miles into the park is a colony of beavers. About 500 deer are running wild in the woods. The rangers have constructed two good roads running to a point five miles in, and Hon. Manning Doherty has promised big improvements for next year. Electric lights are to be installed, a new pavilion and a dance hall built, and a dock constructed on the Eau side. The park attracts many summer resorters, because of the low rate, five dollars a year, at which a lot may be leased for 20 years. A road along the lake runs from the Morpeth dock to the park about four miles.

LISTOWEL ENJOYING BIG BUSINESS BOOM AND NEW INDUSTRIES

LISTOWEL, Aug. 20.—Listowel is rapidly growing in reputation as one of the leading towns in Western Ontario from a mercantile standpoint, and is a shopping centre of a rich country extending 25 miles all around. Parked on the main streets, Main and Wallace, the other evening, were counted over five hundred automobiles of shoppers from out-of-town. Listowel enjoys steady prosperity through its varied industries, all running at capacity, and including manufactures of phonographs, furniture, pianos, well-drilling rigs, knitted goods, flour and flax products.

The Listowel Amateur Athletic Association is taking keen pride in the high standing of its football and baseball teams, in the W. F. A. intermediate and North Wellington leagues respectively.

The Canadian Farmers' Power and Machinery Company is taking over the Listowel well-drilling rig plant, owned by George Melrose, and will manufacture a new type of oil engine, invented by a Chicago man. It is already being manufactured by several companies in the United States, and is claimed to get far more power out of crude oil than a gasoline engine will supply at the same costs.

Noted Singer Home.

George M. Bogues of the Boston English Opera Company, an old Listowel boy, while holidaying in the old home town, participated in a concert program that proved clearly the high type of artistic talent produced here.

Carl Tremain of Cleveland, bantam champion of Ohio and Michigan, with his brother Verne, aged 15, presented a four-round exhibition of boxing, and a three-round bout with a younger brother, aged 14.

The Listowel flax industry, established here 50 years ago, has been recently revived. The local flax mill company has 350 acres of good crop in the district, and is installing machinery in the brewery property.

HAY PRICES MAY DROP.

CENTRALIA, Aug. 20. — Coldwell Bros., one of the largest firms in the province dealing in pressed hay, are not buying hay at present, because of the high prices demanded by the farmers. The dealers anticipate that hay will drop in price. Last spring they shipped large quantities to Calgary, Edmonton and the southern states.

Leonard Abbott, with the Molsons Bank at Harrow, and noted as one of the best amateur baseball players in Canada, has been holidaying at his home here.

The village appears deserted these days, every man and boy who can be spared having gone to work in the harvest fields.

"IDLE RICH" MUST WORK, SAYS WOMAN

Mrs. French, War Worker, Declares Employment Bolshevik Antidote.

SHE EXPLAINS SOCIALISM

Finds Unrest Due to Failure of Wealthy To Realize Responsibilities.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The "idle rich" and all persons of large property holding in the United States must go to work if Bolshevism is not to grip America, Mrs. Seth Barton French, prominent in New York society, who has been engaged in war work abroad for the last five years, declared yesterday before sailing for Europe on the White Star liner Adriatic.

Mrs. French said it was her intention to return next spring to engage in business herself. Owing to the fact that her arrangements are not yet complete, she would not discuss her plans, but said emphatically that it was time for those with money to get busy, and correct the wrong impression now existing in this country concerning those who are favored with the good things of life.

"Although I have only been here a short time on private business, I have found out that there is a wrong attitude here toward Bolshevism,'" she said. "While I hold no brief for it, it is generally understood here to stand for murder, rapine and seizure of private property. Many fail to see that it is only a sort of advanced Socialism, and that it must be examined from that angle, too. The people in America must wake up.

"Time All Should Work."

"When people drive a high-powered car at full speed, endangering the lives of children of workers playing in the streets, they are making Bolshevists, and making them fast, for the workers do not see why the rich are not working as they are. It is time that young men who are spending the wealth made by their fathers wake up to the danger that is threatening.

"America has made great wealth from the world war and has suffered but little in comparison with England and France, which count their dead above a million each. The least that can be done here is to come to a realization of the responsibilities that come with wealth. Work is the true correction of things for a long time to come."

J. P. Morgan sailed with Mrs. Morgan for a vacation of about six weeks in England and France. Mr. Morgan reiterated that his trip was for pleasure and for pleasure only.

Dr. Serge Voronoff, the Russian scientist who startled the world by his experiments in the gratifying of glands as a means of renewing vitality, sailed with Mme. Voronoff, who is a daughter of the late Jabez A. Boswick, Standard Oil magnate. During his stay of several weeks Dr. Voronoff demonstrated the transference of glands from animal to animal.

Before sailing on the Adriatic, Col. Duncan F. V. Neill, D.S.O., yachting adviser to Sir Thomas Lipton, went to Tiffany's to take a last long look at the America's Cup, which the Shamrock IV shook, but did not lift. Sir Thomas and many others went to the pier to see him off.

Others on Adriatic.

Also on the Adriatic were Hugh Gibson, American minister to Poland, who recently had a conference with President Wilson; Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Van Rensselaer Cruger, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Curtis, Major Sir George A. Dolby and Lady Dolby, Mr. and Mrs. Martin W. Littleton, Col. and Mrs. Frank Milburn Smith, James A. Smith, United States consul at Calcutta; Countess Castelli Solenas, Mrs. Rodman Wanamaker and Dr. Frederic E. Sondern, president of the New York Post-Graduate Medical School and Hospital.

The Cunard liner Kaiserin Auguste Victoria also sailed, bound for Liverpool, with 1,075 passengers, including Capt. W. A. Bambra, commander of the Lamport & Holt liner Tennyson; Timothy Healy, president of the Stationary Firemen's Union; Countessa Pappenheim and Samuel Ralston, former governor of Indiana.

What To Use and Avoid On Faces That Perspire

Skin, to be healthy, must breathe. It also must perspire—must expel, through the pores, its share of the body's waste material. Certain creams and powders clog the pores, interfering both with elimination and breathing, especially during the heated period. If more women understood this there would be fewer self-ruined complexions. If they would use ordinary mercolized wax instead of cosmetics they would have healthy complexions. This remarkable substance actually absorbs a bad skin, also unclogging the pores. Result: The fresher, younger under-skin is permitted to breathe and to show itself. The exquisite new complexion gradually peeps out, one free from any appearance of artificiality. Obtain an ounce of mercolized wax from your druggist and try it. Apply nightly like cold cream for a week or two, washing it off mornings.

To remove wrinkles, here's a marvelously effective treatment, which also acts naturally and harmlessly: Dissolve an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half-pint witch hazel and use as a wash lotion.—Advt.

FURTHER PROGRESS TOWARDS RECOVERY MADE AT NEW YORK

Thursday's Rebound From Low Levels Enhanced—Transactions Largest of Week.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The stock market made further progress towards recovery today, yesterday's rebound from low levels of the early days of the week being very substantially enhanced on a pronounced expansion of business.

Not only were the day's transactions the largest of the week, but they encompassed a more diversified group of stocks, including investment rails, as well as many speculative specialties recently subjected to severe pressure. While the rally was affected chiefly at the expense of an emboldened bear faction, commission houses reported signs of a moderate revival of out-of-town interest in steels, equipments and high-grade transportations.

Among the developments which evidently contributed to the greater stability of the market were the further success of the Polish offensive, improvement in the important foreign exchange quotations, and relaxation in money rates.

Local banks manifested a more liberal attitude regarding time loans, though holding to long-prevailing rates, and call money upset the calculations of the shorts by loaning over the weekend at 7 per cent, that figure ruling throughout the session.

Steels, equipments and oils were the most active stocks, followed by motors and their subsidiaries, rails and shippings. Sugars recovered part of their loss, and tobacco, leather and paper issues featured the specialties, metals also hardening. Profit-taking caused the usual irregular recessions towards the close, but many gains were registered. The total sales of stock aggregated 525,000 shares.

The bond market failed to keep pace with stocks, either as to tone or activity, although Liberty issues, excepting the 3½'s, were mostly higher. Among foreign bonds United Kingdom and Belgium issues eased slightly with Anglo-French 5's, while Paris 6's made a fractional gain. The total sales of bonds, par value, aggregated $7,475,000. Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

THEORY THAT GOOD RECOVERY IS BEING MADE, SUPPORTED

Atlantic Sugar, Spanish River, Leaders At Toronto—Papers Show Gains.

TORONTO, Aug. 20.—Several stocks were sufficiently active and strong on the Canadian exchanges today to support the theory that a good recovery was being made from the recent shake-out.

Atlantic Sugar and Spanish River were leaders, but to them was added, especially on the Toronto Stock Exchange, a good day's trading in Dominion Steel, which again passed the 60 mark. It was thought that the good reports presented at the directors' meeting of Dominion Steel on the previous day might have influenced the market. In an case it went up to 60⅛, and closed at 60, with ½ point advance on a turnover of 250 shares.

There was a good demand for Atlantic Sugar, and the common rose 1½ points at the close to 146½, after selling at 148 in the morning. Sugar, preferred, was 28 points, ex-dividend, today in the wiping out of the accumulated arrears, but the closing price of 147 left it nominally 25 points below the previous day, really meaning a 3-point advance.

The bulk of the Spanish River trading took place at Montreal, but in this market a gain of 3 points was made, by the common, and 5 points by the preferred, moving the former up to 118, and the latter to 125. This compares with a high of 124 on the common in the early summer, and of 126 on the preferred, after the payment of dividend arrears.

A little wider interest was shown in the paper stocks generally, with North American Pulp enjoying a fresh spurt with a turnover of 515 shares, making an advance of ½ point to 6½. Mattagami and Abitibi showed gains, and Western Canada Pulp was trded in for the first time on this market, selling at 37 and 38.

Scattered trading in various other stocks revealed prices fairly steady, the gains including Steel of Canada, both issues of Canada Steamships, and Merchants Bank. Dome Extension led in the mining stocks, and gained another 1 ½points to 35.

Total trading: Listed stocks, 2,016 shares; unlisted stocks, 4,105 shares; war bonds, $4,900, par value.

ACTIVITY INCREASES; BUSINESS CONFINED TO FEW FAVORITES

Spanish River Issues Have Largest Gains—Sugar Up Two Points.

MONTREAL, Aug. 20.—There was some more activity and a continuation of the improved tone noticeable yesterday in today's trading on the local stock exchange. Business was again confined to a few favorites, which either held yesterday's gains or added somewhat to them.

The largest gains were registered by Spanish River issues, of which the common closed at 118, a net gain of 1⅞ points, and the preferred sold up 4 points to 126, and retained a 3-point gain at the close.

Sugar sold as high as 147⅝ and closed at 147, up 2 points. The preferred was 146 bid, ex-dividend 28 per cent. Laurentide added 3 points at 116; aCnadian Cottons was up 2 points at 94; Steamships, common, added a point at 68; Bridge, 1 point at 86, and Breweries, ⅞ point at 65@. Brazilian showed an increase in trading, but no change in price.

Only three issues showed a net decline—Ames-Holden, preferred, and Steamships, preferred, each being down a small fraction, and Bank of Commerce was off 1 point. There was little feature elsewhere in the list.

Stronger stocks included Abitibi, Brompton, Detroit United, Dominion Steel and Steel of Canada, each fractionally higher.

Total trading: Listed stocks, 9,320 shares; bonds, par value, $11,300.

EVENING STOCK LETTER.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20. — Thomson & McKinnon wire Jones, Easton, McCallum Co., Ltd., brokers, Royal Bank Building, London, at the close of the stock market today as follows:

Following a period of uncertain business with declining prices and restrictions in way of credit, it would be but natural to encounter more or less embarrassment among industrials and corporations, and in the near future it is just possible that announcements of this kind may momentarily have effect on sentiment and market fluctuations.

But we must proceed on the theory that the stock market has anticipated all this, for otherwise there would be no satisfactory explanation for the present level of values, a level that is probably far below actual worth, with only a few exceptions. There are not wanting at the present time signs of improvement in business. Pig iron production for the past six months is well above the corresponding period of last year and very materially in excess of the second half of last year. The Colorado Fuel and Iron Company has earned during three months four times as much as in the preceding three months. A leading distributing house, in its weekly review, says that there is a big demand for goods, but the public demands fair prices. Each decline in commodity prices puts us on a sounder basis; not only are we thus approaching a more normal demand, but a corresponding reduction in the strain of credits.

Technically the stock market is no doubt in a satisfactory position since sentiment has been adverse and a protracted decline usually means a substantial short interest. Therefore, with more encouraging news from Europe, favorable business developments here should find prompt response, and we are inclined to look hopefully toward the future.

There is nothing at the moment to indicate any important upward swing, but there will be opportunity for profitable operations on the long side and would take advantage of weak spots.

TEN-CENT ADVANCE IN PRICE OF PEACHES DESPITE BIG SUPPLY

Abundance of Fruit and Vegetables Offered On Local Market.

Peaches advanced 10 cents a basket on the market today. They were offered in fairly large quantities and were of excellent quality. Buyers were plentiful, and most sales were made at 85 cents for 11-quart baskets.

Six-quart baskets of plums sold at from 50 to 60 cents, and the 11-quart baskets brought 75 cents.

There was a brisk demand for thimbleberries at 30 cents a box. Black currants were offered in small quantities, and sold at 40 cents retail and 35 cents wholesale.

Cauliflowers were plentiful at 15 cents each. Ear corn brought 15 cents per dozen. This quotation is much lower than it has been selling at all week.

Butter beans are nearly done, but a few 11-quart baskets sold at 25 cents. Tomatoes were in demand at 90 cents per 11-quart basket. Friday they sold at 60c per 11 quarts.

Potatoes by the bushel were easier at $1.50. The high price for some time has been $1.75. By the peck they sold at 40 cents.

Five-pound pails of honey sold at $1.90 retail and $1.60 wholesale. The demand was active.

A few baskets of pears brought 65 cents.

LIQUIDATION IN CORN CAUSE OF BREAKS IN ALL CHICAGO GRAINS

Wheat Closes Strong; France, Britain Out; Germany Takes 200,000 Bu.

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—Further breaks were in evidence in all grains today because of the liquidation in corn. At the finish wheat for December delivery was unchanged from yesterday's finish at $2.37, while March was off ¾c at $2.38½. Corn showed a net loss of ⅞c to 4⅛c, while oats was up ½c to ¾c. There was a decline in pork of 20c, and a loss of 15c to 17½c in lard, while ribs were a shade to 12½c higher.

Buying by strong commission houses caught the wheat market after it had broken 3c at the start, and prices were carried back to about yesterday's finish, the market closing strong.

France and British commissions were still out of the market, but Germany took 200,000 bushels at the Gulf. Offerings from the southwest were larger toward the last, and houses with seaboard connections became good buyers of rye futures, seaboard bids being on a firm basis. Germany and Sweden have been the best buyers of late.

Over confidence on the part of the bears led to their undoing in the corn trade. Early in the day the market, with September in the lead, declined because of highly-beneficial rains over part of the corn belt. It soon became an over-sold market, and free bidding of the September delivery by strong commission houses absorbed the surplus in the pit, causing a rally which carried this delivery up 7c from the low of the day.

Oats showed stubborn resistance to selling pressure from the start, there being persistent buying by commission houses for several days, and an oversold condition developed here also. Country offerings were small, and the movement is expected to fall off in the near future.

Provisions declined after an early bulge, and the average of prices was lower, with packers buying some lard.

EXPORT MARKET IS REPORTED AS EASIER

Egg Prices in Country Unchanged—Chicago Weak —Should Be Strong.

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—The export market for eggs is reported easier. Prices in the country remain practically unchanged. Ontario track shippers report paying 58c to 60c, and selling firsts at 68c to 70c, f.o.b. shipping points, cases free. A special Chicago wire states that the market there statistically should be stronger with light receipts and light storage stocks, but that it is actually weak and dull.

AUSTRIA FEARS RAID ON VIENNA FROM HUNGARY

Americans Know Plans of Hungarians, Berlin Dispatch Says.

ARMY BEING MOBILIZED

Deny Military Force Will Be Used To Aid Poles Against Reds.

BERLIN, Aug. 20.—An invasion of Austria by Hungarian monarchist troops and the capture of Vienna by them is feared in the Austrian capital, according to a Vienna dispatch to the Vossische Zeitung here. Both the American and the British missions were said to have obtained reliable reports to this effect. These reports, it was added, were brought to the attention of the Austrian authorities at a conference in Vienna this morning.

The Austrian Trades Union League has published an appeal to the international trades unions asking labor in England, France and Italy to protect the helpless Austrian people from Hungarian reaction.

Budapest dispatches report plans for a Hungarian offensive against Russia to relieve Poland and which will be undertaken, it is asserted, under French leadership. The News Freie Presse discounts this report and says that negotiations in Budapest have not reached a stage justifying the announcement that the plans have been completed.

Hungarian mobilization is in progress but has met with considerable opposition from the population

There is much excitement in Budapest and a military move is expected there. Pogroms and a monarchist revolution are feared.

It has been charged frequently that the militarists who have the grip on affairs in Budapest have accepted the Treaty of Neuilly merely a "military necessity" and that they were prepared to agree to any treaty which the Entente Allies presented to them. Since signing the pact they have fanned the flame of reaction and meanwhile have done everything in their power to further the reorganization of the Hungarian army..

When this army is reorganized and they are in a position to ignore the terms of the treaty they propose to do so, it was asserted. The charge has beeu made many times that Admiral Horthy, the Hungarian regent, is fully committed to this policy. Attention was called to the fact that of all the one-time enemy powers Hungary alone has returned to the monarchist tendencies which plunged the world into the greatest conflict in all modern history.

What the establishment of this Hungarian militarist government means to the mass of the Hungarian people was stated briefly in the Prager Tageblatt recently.

"In Hungary," it said, "a piece of the Middle Ages has suddenly established itself in the midst of a Europe which is given over to revolutions. While everywhere else the class to which the authors of the war belonged has been deprived of the possibility of deciding the fate of the people, the new Magyar state penitently turns back to its officers and nobles.

"That Hungary is going to have a king seems certain. Horthy does not conceal that he stands for the re-election of the old Hungarian kingdom within its historic frontiers. This program, if it is carried out, will lead to a conflict with all of Hungary's neighbors."

For aid Hungary is looking to Pan-Germans, it was charged, and they were greatly pleased when the first news of the revolt of Wolfgang Kapp, which rocked Germany, and, for a moment, threatened to place the militarists again in power in Berlin, came to them. An alliance between these Hungarian military leaders and nobles and the German militarists is not outside of the reel of possibilities, close students of the Hungarian and German situations hold.

MILK PRODUCERS MEET.

EMBRO, Aug. 20.—The Embro Milk Producers' Association will meet at the Farmers' Club Saturday evening.

Wheat in this district is selling freely at $2.25 per bushel and at $2.45 to $2.50 per bushel for well-cleaned grain.

A big union farmers' picnic will be held at Dalrymple Park, Lakeside, on Monday, September 6.

One rink of Embro bowlers attended the Norwich tournament yesterday, but failed to bring home any of the prizes.

The local egg circle is still paying 63 cents a dozen for eggs. The storekeepers are paying 59 cents.

HANOVER JUNIORS BEAT WINGHAM LACROSSE TEAM

Rough Game Marks 7—3 Win of Northern Town for Group Honors.

Wingham, Aug. 20.—Hanover won the junior lacrosse group honors of this district yesterday by defeating Wingham in one of the roughest games ever played in Wngham by a score of 7 to 3. The referee was evdently not anxous to see Wingham win, and was seen to openly applaud Hanover's score. One of Wingham's best players was deliberately slashed over the face, an incident the referee pretended not to see until his attention was called to the matter. Another Wingham player quite close to the referee was deliberately struck by a Hanover player, although the ball was not even near that part of the field. These incidents and several others so disgusted the spectators that they began to interfere, and from this until the end rough-house prevailed. The game was played with lacrosse sticks. That's about all the lacrosse there was to it. Hanover probably deserved to win, and tht Wingham boys do not grudge the victory to them ,but ftel that a better game would have been played had the game been properly handled by the referee, who will doubtless cherish a tender spot in his affections for Wingham for the balance of the season at least. It is reported that he was roughly handled before leaving town, ancient eggs being used as a substitute for grenades, and that the matter will be investigated in the police court before Mayor Gurney next week.

CARL MAYS EXPECTED TO PITCH TODAY'S GAME AGAINST DETROIT TEAM

New York, Aug. 21.—Manager Miller Huggins of the New York Americans, said today that Carl Mays, pitcher, would be used in the series with Detroit opening here this afternoon, "procided he feels equal to attempting any baseball within the next few days. May was reported yesterday to be suffering a nervous breakdown.

DISSATISFIED WITH MANAGEMENT OF OIL FIRM AT GLENCOE

TORONTO, Aug. 20.—Shareholders of the Rockwood Oil and Gas Company who are dissatisfied with the management have asked that a special meeting be called for the near future, at which the alleged deficencies of the executive may be considered. The oil wells of the company, situated near Glencoe, Ontario, have, it is said, never ceased flowing, the overflow being small, but continuous.

GOVT. TO HELP GET V. C. HEROES TOGETHER

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—(Canadian Press)—It was announced this evening by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, minister of militia and defence, that the Government had decided to assume the railway expenses in connection with the plan of bringing together all Canadian Victoria Cross heroes at the Toronto Exhibition. A deputation, headed by Capt. Patterson, recently urged that the Government assist the plan. It is expected that the cost of railway fares will be in the neighborhood of $5,000.

SAYS RAILROAD RATE DEMANDS ARE ARROGANT

"Inconsistent," Says Manitoba Counsel, Regarding Application.

TARIFF PALES BESIDE IT

States Increase Would Pay Interest On Nation's War Debt Twice Over.

OTTAWA, Aug. 20.—(By Canadian Press).—Counsel for the railways having presented their case for an increase in the rates at the morning sitting of the railway board, opposing counsel voiced their objections at the afternoon and evening sittings. It was the first night sitting since the hearing opened, and it was regarded as necessary in order that the case might be closed by noon on Saturday, when Chief Commissioner Carvell expects to leave for Nova Scotia on important business in connection with the coal situation.

A feature of the evening session was the address of H. J. Symington, counsel for the province of Manitoba, who characterized the application of the railways as "arrogant and inconsistent."

The railways, without submitting to proper procedure, he said, had simply decided that they wanted an increase and that they must get it before September 1.

"I submit," said Mr. Symington, "that this board cannot possibly do justice to this important case and give any sort of judgment between now and September 1."

Wrong Hypothesis.

The application, Mr. Symington declared, had been submitted upon a wrong hypothesis. "It should," he said, "be based on what we know to be the facts and not upon conjectures."

D'Arcy Scott, a former member of the railway board, who preceded Mr. Symington, speaking for the Government of Saskatchewan and the Canadian Dairymen's Association, was strongly opposed to any increase in rates being given to the C. P. R. The position of the company was by no means serious, he argued, and no harm would be done if it were called upon to pay present dividends out of accumulated surpluses for a time. If the board decided that there should be an increase it should be based on the requirements of the C. P. R. and they should be applied, he thought, west of Port William.

G. R. Gearey, corporation counsel for Toronto, like Mr. Scott, thought it would not hurt the C. P. R. to wait a while. His proposal was that no rate increases should be granted until the C. P. R. has actually experienced a deficit and met it. Then it would be time for the company, in view of its great resources in reserve, to come back to the board seeking relief.

Mr. McMaster, counsel for the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and the Toronto Board of Trade, was inclined to think that the C. P. R. might need some relief, but he did not think the company entitled to half as much as it asked for. He, too, suggested that the C. P. R. might fall back upon its reserves if money were required.

Level of 1912.

Hon. Robert E. Finn, on behalf of the Nova Scotia Government, not only objected to higher rates, but asked that rates on the Intercolonial be restored to the level of 1912. He objected to the railways making an application for increased rates on a percentage basis. Tariffs should have been filed for the approval of the board.

Mr. Symington, in opening his remarks, described the application as the most important ever made in Canada. It involved more money than any previous rates case, as well as a serious change in our economics and possibly in our social structure as well.

The increase requested was so great that it would pay the interest on Canada's war debt twice over. The tariff paled into insignificance beside it.

Several Times Over.

To a producing country like Canada, said Mr. Symington, an application like the one before the board was particularly important, for the reason that the producer must pay the increase on his shipments in the first place, and pay it again perhaps several times over when he was purchasing commodities. In a producing country the inevitable result of forcing freight rates too high would be that the producer would refuse to ship and would grow only for his own consumption. He had, he said, obtained the figures of Canada's population from the census department. It was placed at 8,800,000 persons, 6,300,000 of whom were domiciled east of Fort William and 2,500,000 west. He figured that the increases, if granted, would mean a charge of $22 per annum to every man, woman and child east of Fort William, and $45 west.

The C. P. R., said Mr. Symington, was the only Canadian railway which could be taken as a basis in considering increases. It would be unfair to charge deficits in the Government roads to the shipping or traveling public exclusively. They were the legacy of years of folly and should be paid by the people of Canada as a whole.

"I refuse to accept the statement that the C. P. R. has a vested right to earn a large surplus every year and pay its shareholders 10 per cent every year," declared Mr. Symington. He went on to say that this was one of the worst times that railways could have chosen to demand an increase.

Strongest Road.

"If this increase does not go through," said Mr. Symington, "the C. R. R. will be doing business at the same old stand next year, and it will still be the strongest road on the American continent."

During the year ending June, 1920, it had paid fixed charges, dividends on common and preferred stock and added to the pension fund. They complained that they would have increased wages to meet this year, but they did not tell the board that this fall the C. P. R. would have 188,000,000 more bushels of grain to haul than in other years.

If an increase was necessary to let the C. P. R. pay its way he would not object, but it should be only what was absolutely necessary. The situation in the West was absolutely serious. Down here there was "more talk about a tuppenny-ha'penny phone increase," but freight rates were a matter of life and death to the West.

Not Rolling in Wealth.

The farmers were not rolling in wealth. Despite the glowing reports of prosperity, the three Governments, of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, would have to provide fuel and food for a great number of people.

Chairman Carvell disagreed with Mr. Symington's pessimism. He said in the East the farmers had more money than ever before.

"That must be because of short hauls and low freight rates," declared Mr. Symington, who added that thousands of farmers from the East were now in the West lining their pockets with the six or seven dollars a day paid for harvest laborers. The wealth of the Western farmer, he declared, came from increased land values only.

Mr. J. B. Coyne, counsel for the Western Boards of Trade, will address the board when it meets at 10:30 tomorrow morning and argument in the case is expected to be wound up by noon adjournment.

STEAL MAIL POUCH CONTAINING $100,000

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—A mail pouch believed to contain money and valuables worth $100,000 was stolen by two men today from a suburban station of the Illinois Central Railroad. The robbers escaped in an automobile.

Weygand Gives Poles Credit

PARIS, Aug. 20.—The success of the Poles in throwing back the Bolsheviki in the battle of Warsaw was "a Polish victory," the French General Weygand told delegations at Warsaw, who had come to tell him that he was the most popular man in Poland, and was proclaimed by all as the "Savior of Warsaw."

Advices received here from the Polish capital quote General Weygand in his response to the delegations as follows:

"Preparatory military operations were executed by the Polish generals according to the Polish plan. My role, as well as that of other French officers, was limited to filling certain gaps in the details of execution. It is the Polish nation that has been its own savior.

"This magnificent victory consolidates the Polish state, whose existence is indispensable to France's existence. Germany, who had hoped to resume relations with the Soviets and to throw Red armies against the enemy across the Rhine, must renounce for the moment such means of annuling the Versailles treaty. If the Polish leaders know how to profit by victory, I am convinced that the Bolshevik army will soon cease to exist."

STATION MAN HURT, RIDING FREIGHT HOME TO LUNCH

W. C. Thompson, Assistant Agent At Lucan, Fractures Ribs, Hurts Spine.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

LUCAN, Aug. 20.—W. C. Thompson, assistant station agent here, was hurt very badly at noon today when he jumped off the rear end of a moving freight car. The car at the time of the accident, was passing over the main street crossing. Thompson was getting off the car to go to his dinner. As he was about to jump he lost his balance and fell heavily on his back across the rails. He sustained three broken ribs and his spine was hurt severely. Several scratches about the face were also received. Thompson was only been employed in the local station about a month. It is expected he will recover, although his injuries are serious.

NEW GAS PLANT BEGINS OPERATING

Kitchener Hopes All Local Gas Problems Are Now Solved.

KITCHENER, Aug. 20.—Kitchener's gas problems have been solved as a result of putting into operation here today of the new gas plant. The new plant is known as a carburettor water gas plant. It will double the capacity of the present system here and give the much-needed pressure for domestic and industrial purposes.

The fact that certain farmers in the vicinity are insisting upon exorbitant prices for their land in connection with its purchase by the city for a cemetery, is causing considerable delay to the cemetery committee of the city council in selecting a suitable site. Ald. Scrieter intimates that a purchase will be made as soon as some reasonable price can be agreed upon. Some of the farmers are asking city prices for their land.

WALTER ROBSON, AYR CATTLEMAN, DIES SUDDENLY

AYR, Aug. 20.—Death came very suddenly to Walter Robson, one of the best known cattle dealers of the province, at his home here, Thursday evening, in his 75th year. He was born on his father's farm, adjoining Ayr. Early in life he settled on a farm in Blenheim Township, and married Helen Wakefield, who still survives. Farming soon became incidental to his main occupation, that of cattle dealer, a vocation which he followed up to the time of his death, and with maked success. For fifteen years he was one of the biggest exporters in the province, asociating himself with the Brown, Snell Company of Galt. His dealing were always on a large scale and he will be much missed in the village.

HURON AND PERTH PRESS ASSOCIATION ELECTS OFFICERS

STRATFORD, Aug. 20.—Officers of the Huron and Perth Counties District Press Association were elected today, as follows Honorary president, W. R. Davidson, Mitchell; president, Malcolm McBeth, Milverton; vice-president, J. W. Vanatter, Goderich; secretary-treasurer, Alex Abraham, Stratford; executive, J. L. Kerr, Brussels; H. D. Davis, Mitchell, C. V. Blatchford, Listowel.

The visitors were extended a welcome by Mayor Stevenson and R. T. Orr, president of the Chamber of Commerce. The meeting went on record as favoring the $2 weekly.

Sent In False Alarm.

Local police are on the lookout for someone who sent in a fire alarm from the drowning signal along the river. The alarms were but recently put in, and the authorities are determined to put a stop to tampering with the signals right at the start.

EXPECTING SUGAR DROP IN ST. CLAIR BORDER MARKETS

SARNIA, Aug. 20.—Plenty of sugar is in sight in Sarnia and Port Huron markets, according to wholesale dealers today. Sugar was quoted at $23 by the wholesalers, while retailers were still at the 24-cent a pound mark. This price has been in effect for the past ten days, but according to dealers a slump will take place the first of next week.

Remove the Bark From the Tree
—And the tree deteriorates, loses its strength, shrivels up, the trunk and branches become rotted and the tree dies.
This fact is true with humans. When the skin becomes unhealthy through impure blood and skin diseases, the health and vitality of the body becomes impaired, and if the infection is molested the body loses strength, the vital organs cease to function, and the afflicted dies.
Protect the bark of the tree and the tree develops a strong, sturdy growth, with years of life. When the skin of the body is protected from infectious diseases and eruptions, the body functions properly, becomes strong and sturdy, with an assurance of a long lease of life.
Most illnesses develop through non-protection and neglect of the skin. The face and hands are at all times subject to the attacks of every known germ. For your protection and health S. & S. Powders have been placed on the market.
