L.S.R. SERVICE CUT ON TWO LINES

London Medical Students On Equal Basis With Toronto

Service Cut on Normal and Oxford Lines Brings Protest.

BREACH OF 916

City Engineer Not Notified—Council Will Demand Explanation on Monday.

Four street railway crews will be laid off work tomorrow by the L. S. R. Company, following an order to cut service on the Normal and Oxford lines. An eight-minute service will be maintained on the Oxford route and a 10-minute service observed by Normal cars.

Failure of the company to notify the city engineer of change in service caused criticism from members of the council today. As a result Ald. Robert Carewell and Ald. Frank McKay will likely demand an explanation at Monday's council meeting.

Eylaw 916 calls for arrangements being made with the city engineer whenever a change in service is to be made by the street railway company. Failure to do so is to be considered another breach of agreement of franchise rights.

Near Not Notified.
"I have had no request from the street railway regarding a change in service," W. P. Near, city engineer, stated today in answer to a query. "I know nothing about the change. I don't know just how service will be affected."

At the same time orders have been given to street railway employees that, after today, service will be cut on Normal and Oxford lines. Normal cars will run only to Richmond and Dundas, and will make a short loop around Oxford and Adelaide streets. Normal cars will no longer operate south on Richmond street. For the past week Normal cars have been operated to the north side of Ridout street bridge, but this "blind end" will be eliminated, and a 10-minute service will be conducted around a north loop.

"That will provide all the service that is necessary," commented Leonard Tait, general manager of the road. "We can give service south on Richmond street by Oxford, Richmond or Ottawa cars."

McKay Wants Explanation.
Ald. Frank McKay, chairman of No. 1 committee, draws attention to the street railway agreement whereby the company must notify the city engineer of any intended change in service. He will seek explanation of this breach of agreement.

"The change in Oxford service is certainly going to affect Hamilton road residents," complained Ald. R. J. Carewell. "We should have had information of the change at least. Please see page 3, column 5."

FOUL PLAY OR HOLIDAY IS MYSTERY TO SOLVE

EDGAR J. THOMAS.

Police Trace Missing Salesman As Far As Departure For Chatham and Then Clues Fail—Theory of Foul Play at Wallaceburg Exploded—No Arrests Made.

SISTER EXPECTED HIM BACK HERE FOR MAIL

Edgar J. Thomas of Mount Brydges, salesman for the Ontario Fertilizer company of Toronto, remains "missing" despite the energetic efforts of police of two counties to locate him since his mysterious disappearance from Wallaceburg two weeks ago.

Fearing that Thomas may have been the victim of foul play or is suffering from temporary loss of memory, every available clue in connection with the case has been thoroughly investigated by both High Constables Wharton of London and Peters of Chatham. His activities from the time he left Wallaceburg on April 15 until he boarded an electric trolley for Chatham have been traced, but from then on nothing is known of his actions.

A wife and five small children anxiously await news of the missing man at their little farm home on the outskirts of Mount Brydges. Police informed Mrs. Thomas today they had been unable to make any satisfactory progress with their investigation.

Circulars To Be Sent Out.
Meanwhile the hunt for Thomas continues. Circulars bearing a minute description of the missing man, and the story of his disappearance two weeks ago will be printed this afternoon and broadcasted to police departments in all parts of Ontario and Michigan.

High Constable Peters resumed his investigation at noon today. He journeyed to Wallaceburg, where he will pick up threads of the story of Thomas' disappearance to piece them together along the route of Electric and Chatham, in an attempt to arrive at an explanatory conclusion. His intention is to question farmers of that district in the hopes of finding someone who might throw light on the case.

When police declare they believe Thomas may have been murdered, no imaginative conclusion is jumped at, they say. Following their investigation of two days and taking into consideration every suggested reason for Thomas' continued absence, they were firmly convinced the man has met with foul play. His character alone and what they know of his home and business life would disprove any other theory.

Sister Is Puzzled.
Edgar Thomas' sister, Mrs. William Pearce, who lives at 58 Bruce street, this city, stated to The Advertiser today that she could give no reason for her brother's absence. He visited her shortly before his disappearance owing to the fact that his own home at Mount Brydges was in quarantine for scarlet fever. For two weeks he has stayed there at periods when he was not engaged in salesmanship in Western Ontario towns.

The Monday morning previous to his disappearance he left word with Mrs. Pearce not to forward his mail to the general delivery at Wallaceburg, as was her custom. He would be in London later in the week, he told her, and would be able to get the letters then. On the following Wednesday he telephoned to inquire if mail had arrived at the house for him. When informed there was no letter he talked generalities for a while and then rang off with a cheerful, "Good-bye, I'm going back home to Mount Brydges on Friday."

Mrs. Pearce is not inclined to believe the fact that her brother warned her not to forward his mail to Wallaceburg is indicative that he had anticipated an absence from London or his home. "He told me that," she explained, "because he ex-

ESCAPED TO CAR

Robbery With Violence Case Opens Against Three Colored Men—Victim in Box.

Damaging evidence against Ernest Smith, Front street, John Johnston and Arthur Harris, charged with robbing and wounding Frank Uttley, of Zurich, at the Smith home early on the morning of March 24, was given by Sheldon Howard just before court adjourned at 12:30 today. The star witness for the crown, who was a surprise for the defence, identified all three of the colored prisoners as being connected with a fight in which Uttley alleges he lost $230.

The case, which commenced before Judge Judd at 10:30 this morning, will likely take up most of the afternoon. Crown Attorney Albert M. Judd is prosecuting the prisoners, who are being defended by Frank Curran.

Smith sat between Harris and Johnston, wearing a blue and white striped shirt, and minus a coat. His companions wore blue suits. All three sat with their heads bowed and seemed impressed at Howard as he told of seeing Smith bending over the blood-streaked face of Uttley as he passed them on his way to the front door.

Other witnesses heard were Uttley, Dr. W. J. Tillmann, E. Dinsmore and George A. Brown.

Dr. Tillmann, who attended Uttley at St. Joseph's hospital, said that the injuries received by his patient were serious and could have been caused by a blow from a bottle.

Smelled Liquor.
Questioned by Mr. Curran, Dr. Tillmann said he had smelled liquor on Uttley's breath at the hospital.

Q.—Would a man be affected by drinking three quarters of a pint that night? A.—I don't drink ale, so I couldn't tell you. That amount of ale would contain about four ounces of alcohol.

Judge Judd—I've seen a man drink six bottles and it didn't affect him at all.

Mr. Curran then asked that all crown and defence witnesses be excluded from the courtroom. This was granted by his honor.

Frank Uttley said he left Zurich on Monday, March 23, to buy a motor car. He had $230 on his person. Early Tuesday morning, about 12:30, he hired a taxi driver to take him to Smith's house at 9 Front street for some ale. Smith opened the door and invited him in. Witness said he had also visited the house on Feb. 11.

"I went in with Mr. Dinsmore, the taxi driver, to the kitchen, where three colored men and a woman were playing cards. A white man and woman were also present. Dinsmore stayed but a few minutes," said Uttley.

Smith sent two women to get some Please See Page 6, Column 3.

DISPUTES ACT BEING FRAMED

Legislation For Measure To Replace Lemieux Act Is Nova Scotia Plan.

PREMIER CONFIDENT

Canadian Press Despatch.
Halifax, N. S., April 30.—That legislation similar to the Lemieux act, providing for the investigation of industrial disputes and found ultra vires of the dominion parliament by the privy council, would be incorporated by means of a bill to be introduced, probably today, was the statement made to the Canadian Press by Premier E. H. Armstrong, following the adjournment of last night's session of the house of assembly.

Subsequently the attorney-general, Hon. W. J. O'Hearn, stated the proposed legislation would be made amply to the present struggle in Cape Breton. This means that the tie-up in the coal mining industry, now in its eighth week, will be subject to an investigation by a board of conciliation, to be made up of a representative of the British Empire Steel Corporation, a representative of the United Mine Workers of America and a chairman to be mutually agreed upon, or failing an agreement, to be appointed by some authority designated by the legislation.

WHIPPING POSTS ARE NOT NEEDED IN CANADA

Crown Attorney Judd Claims Present Methods of Punishment Are Adequate.

Whipping posts for criminals as planned by the Michigan state senate yesterday are not necessary in Canada in the opinion of Crown-Attorney Albert M. Judd.

"The way justice is carried on here and the way punishment is imposed by the judges of our courts, there is no need of whipping posts," declared the crown-attorney. "In the state of Michigan they probably have to resort to that kind of thing owing to the fact that there is no capital punishment in that state. In my opinion it is not as brutal to hang a man as to tie him to a post and whip him."

MARY MACSWINEY MAKES HUNGER STRIKE THREAT

Associated Press Despatch.
Chicago, April 29.—Miss Mary Macswiney, sister of the late Terence Macswiney, Irish republican leader, said tonight that she had no "passport to enter this country, did not need any, and had no intention of ever getting any."

"If I should be arrested," she said, "although I have no fear of it, my only recourse would be a hunger strike. And I certainly would not hesitate in the least to resort to it if I should be arrested."

Miss Macswiney made the statement at her hotel as she prepared to depart for Minneapolis to continue a lecture tour of this country in connection with the Y. W. C. A. physical exhibition to be presented in the arena tomorrow night.—Photo by

FEAR SECOND PORT BOAT AND CREW LOST IN LAKE

Port Stanley Alarmed by Report of Another Lake Tragedy—Cartons of Beer Are Picked Up West of Erieau—No Verification Yet Established—Inquiry To Be Made.

Fishermen have picked up beer cartons floating in the lake west of Erieau, and Port Stanley is now disturbed by reports of another lake tragedy.

It is definitely stated in some quarters this morning that a second boat is missing and that it has sunk with all her crew.

No reliable verification of this alarm, however, can be obtained and inquiry is proceeding this afternoon by Port Stanley harbor men.

It is pointed out that the cartons picked up may have been part of the freight carried by the Valkyrie, lost in the lake last week.

Can't Sell Ice By Weight As Long As Old Sol Shines

Ice Company Officials Say the Council's Effort Against Shrinkage Is Futile.

SELL BY BLOCK

Weights Are Only Approximate and Price Is Fixed by Size.

It is impossible to sell ice by weight as long as there is such a thing as weather, according to city ice men.

A move was made in No. 1 committee last night to protect the public against short weight, ice caused by shrinkage between the time the sun left the ice house and the time it arrived in the home refrigerator. George A. Finn, manager of the Crystal Lake Ice Company, said today that ice is not sold by weight but by the block. The cakes are called 50-pound cakes and 25-pound cakes, but they are only approximate weights. Sometimes a block of ice weighs 65 pounds and at other times 45. It cannot be helped. He does not see how the method can be improved upon.

The London Pure Ice Company says that ice weights are not guaranteed. They cannot be as long as the sun shines. A block of ice is sold by measurement. A block 12 inches square is called a 50-pound block. It is cut a little over size to allow for the vagaries of the weather while on the street.

WESTERN GAINS IN EXAMS

Graduates of Local Medical School Can Now Try All Exams Here.

NO TORONTO TRIP

Change Will Give Students of Western Equal Advantage With Toronto.

Doctors graduating from the university of Western Ontario Medical school here this summer will be able to try examinations in London which will enable them to practice anywhere in Canada. This will be the first instance wherein the products of Western will have an opportunity of writing the medical councils of Canada at home. In former years the students have had to go to Toronto to try the examinations.

Dean Paul S. McKibben, B.S., Ph.D., F.R.S.C., of the medical school, announced this morning that the 21 graduating students would try their examinations here. At least ten will take the papers of the medical council of Canada. The remainder will try the examinations of the college of physicians and surgeons of Ontario. It is optional with the students which examinations they try.

Practice Provincially Controlled.
The practice of medicine is provincially controlled, says Dean McKibben. That is why there are the two sets of examinations, or really a set for each province, as well as the dominion examinations.

The only advantage in trying the Ontario examinations instead of the dominion council's is that some students feel that the provincial papers are not so difficult because there are not so many. A student who intends to take up his work in London and means to stay here sees no need of trying exams that will permit him to practice in Western Canada or the maritimes.

For some time efforts have been made to have the dominion councils available for graduating students here. It was necessary to have at least ten trying them before it could be done. It was arranged recently. It means a saving for the students since they will not have to go to the expense of going to Toronto and giving them a better chance to write when in familiar surroundings.

Start Early in June.
The examinations of the college of physicians and surgeons of Ontario will be held starting June 2. The medical councils of Canada will begin June 9. There will be two examiners in each subject. There will be one local and one from Ontario, presiding in the oral and clinical examinations.

Asked if the time was coming when the one dominion examination would replace the provincial examinations, Dean McKibben said that there was a marked increase in the number of students who took the dominion exams. Every year saw a greater number trying them. It indicated that students felt it better to write off papers that would once and for all permit them to move where they pleased.

Brilliant Dance Revue Will Be Held in the Arena Tomorrow.

The Arena will present a brilliant spectacle tomorrow night, when the annual Y. W. C. A. physical exhibition will be presented there under the direction of Miss Edith Wynne-Pryce. The annual Y. W. C. A. exhibition has now become an institution in London, and each year two audiences increase. For the first two years the exhibition was held at the armories, and the crowds were turned away. The building of the Arena, however, made possible new quarters for the exhibition, which will be better than ever this year.

Three hundreds will take part in the revue.

Jimmy Skunk Has An Adventure On An Old Road In the Green Forest

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Jimmy Skunk was a very good father and liked to walk out with his family and show the youngsters where good things were to be found. But he still liked to slip off by himself once in a while. You see, he had been by himself so long that he had grown rather independent. The family was all right, but once in a while a fellow does like to be by himself. Then there is nothing to worry about. So once in a while Jimmy would leave the family and go off adventuring by himself.

He didn't consider it adventuring. Jimmy was such an independent little chap, so untrammelled, that it is rarely that he has a real adventure. You know, everyone steps aside for him. It is only when food is scarce and Hooty the Great Horned Owl is very hungry, so hungry that he cares nothing for Jimmy's little bag of secret, that Jimmy feels that necessity for watching out. It is then that sometimes he knows what real adventure is.

But one night Jimmy had a new and very real adventure. He had slipped away by himself early in the evening, and to make sure that he would be by himself the rest of the night he had gone farther than usual. He had gone too far from the lair of his children, and he had grown rather independent. The family was all right, but once in a while a fellow does like to be by himself. Then there is nothing to worry about. So once in a while Jimmy would leave the family and go off adventuring by himself.

WOMEN and THE HOME

MUSICAL COMEDY IS GIVEN BY CHOIR

Empress Avenue Chorists Present "The Bells of Cornville—Realistic Scenery.

An exceptional entertainment was afforded an enthusiastic audience last night, when the choir of the Empress Avenue church presented the clever music comedy, "The Bells of Cornville," frequently known as "The Chimes of Normandy." In the auditorium of the Empress Avenue public school.

It was a big undertaking for the choir, but it did not seem as much to those who watched with fascination the plot of the story. With some very realistic stage settings across the sea to the coast of France, where a delightful story was woven around the servants of that section of the country.

The story itself is based on an old custom of Normandy. Years ago all servants went to the annual fair, where they were rehired by their masters, or hired by someone else. The opening scene was the seashore and the time was just before the fair. The servants were gathered together ready to take the boat for the market place. Some very attractive choruses opened the play, and throughout the entire production the music was of the best.

As the story developed it was discovered that Germaine (Mrs. S. Orth), by refusing to marry the Bailie (Leslie Lucas), makes her uncle furious, so he hired herself as a servant. Germaine (J. F. Chapman), who had also infuriated the uncle, hires himself, too. And so it happened that Henri, the Marquis of Cornville (Arthur Rossiter), after an absence of 20 years came to the market place to obtain servants to open his new chateau. About this time it was learned that old Gaspard, the uncle (Charles Robinson), was left in charge of Henri's estate, but that he had been a very poor manager and things were well upset. Then came a scene in the lovely chateau, and here the scenery was something out of the ordinary, with its handsome stained glass windows, when the name of the Marquis de Lucenay was mentioned. From this point on to the end of the play were some very exciting situations, but each was overcome with grace and ease by the actors, of which too much cannot be said.

Miss Hazel Taylor was the directress of this decidedly successful play. Supporting the leading roles with enthusiasm and charm, were Miss Eva Metcalfe, who excellently portrayed Serpolette, a wail, who caused most of the trouble throughout the play; Gobo, the Bailie's shadow, Jack Smeltzer; George Cook, as the clerk of the court; S. Parson, the notary of the court; George Cook, who also portrayed Christophe, the marquis' shadow, as well as the clerk of the court, and the Misses Helen Bowle, Nellie Warner, Margaret Boyie, Merle Mitchell, and Missie Lucas and Mrs. Leslie Lucas, who prettily portrayed the peasant girls. The play will be repeated this evening.

Shall Good Women Forever Remain Aloof From a Woman Who Has Sinned.

Dear Miss Dix—I know a woman who, in her very early girlhood, through love and ignorance, stumbled off the straight and narrow path. For eighteen years she has tried to atone for her mistake by living an almost perfect life, but the sense of her wrongdoing has made her very shy and reserved, and she leads an extremely lonely life.

Now, some of my friends and I have talked this matter over and we think that this woman is as good as we are, and we want to ask her to join our club, but we have decided to put the question up to you. Shall we?

MRS. K.

Answer:

By all means do so. It would be a kind, and gracious, and Christian thing to do. Christ said to the repentant Magdalen, "Neither do I condemn thee. Go, and sin no more." And certainly we can do no less than follow his example.

But certainly it would be a red-letter milestone in woman's advancement when a woman's neighbors, instead of tearing her to pieces in cruel gossip over their tea cups and drawing their skirts away from her when she passes, are big enough in heart and soul to blot out her past with their sympathy and take her by the hand and welcome her into their sorority.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I am just 20 and am going to be engaged to a very nice girl quite soon. But just now I am not capable of supporting a wife, and I positively will not marry until I can give one a good home and the comforts of life. I am working for my father, who is well off and has a good business in which I will have an interest some day.

Do you think I should ask the girl to wait for me and tell her just what my business prospects are?

L. C. W.

Answer:

Of course, you should tell her all about your business affairs. L. C. W. A man who does not give an honest and truthful statement of just how much money he is making, what he has and what his outlook for the future is to a girl before marriage deals very unfairly with her.

Some men don't do this because they want to seem rich and prosperous in the woman's eyes. And so many a girl marries a man, thinking I am not capable of supporting a wife, and I positively will not marry until I can give one a good home and the comforts of life. I am working for my father, who is well off and has a good business in which I will have an interest some day. Do you think I should ask the girl to wait for me and tell her just what my business prospects are?

Therefore, the man saves himself as well as the woman when he lays all of his cards on the table in the days of courtship and lets her see just what sort of a partnership she is going into. For you must remember that when a woman marries she puts all she has in the firm.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I am a young woman, old enough to marry, but I don't want to marry and am determined not to, but I want love. I want some man to love me and be true to me. Can't I have love without marriage?

PUSS.

Answer:

Certainly, if you are willing to enter into an illicit relationship with some man. But this has all the objections and none of the advantages of matrimony. Also it puts a woman without the pale of society.

The idea that romance is killed by marriage is nonsense. It is the daily companionship, the sharing of the vivid details of everyday life that disillusion men and women, and they get this just as much when they are unmarried as they do when they are husbands and wives.

For what we get we must pay. This is true, even of love. It is not fair for a woman to expect a man to give her love of his heart, faith of his soul and work of his hand, and for her to give nothing in return.

Believe me, you are a selfish woman, Puss. You want love, but you do not wish to give love; and, as a matter of fact, you have never been in love. When you are you will want to marry the man you love.

CENTENNIAL WOMEN HOLD ANNUAL SESSION

Splendid Reports Are Given—Silver Basket Presented to Mrs. A. E. M. Thomson.

The annual meeting of the W. M. S. of the Centennial Methodist church was held Tuesday afternoon in the Sunday school room, with Mrs. Sinclair, the retiring president, presiding. The opening devotional exercises were led by Mrs. H. Walton. Very gratifying reports were given by all the officers and group leaders, and the treasurer's report showed a membership of 88 annual members and 22 life members. Receipts for the year amounted to over $300.

Much regret was felt by the women at the loss of Mrs. Sinclair, who has found it necessary to resign from the presidency. It was through her untiring efforts and efficient service that the auxiliary has reached its high standard of efficiency. The services of the retiring treasurer, Mrs. Collinson, and of the superintendent of little light bearers, Mrs. Doan, were also very much appreciated.

Rev. A. E. M. Thomson, the pastor, conducted the election of officers, and read the following: Hon. president, Mrs. L. W. Wicketts; hon. vice-president, Mrs. A. Allan; president, Mrs. H. Walton; first vice-president, Mrs. Sinclair; second vice-president, Mrs. T. B. Wright; third vice-president, Mrs. R. H. Read; treasurer, Mrs. O. Pirie; secretary, Mrs. Dunlop; assistant secretary, Mrs. Pruss; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. P. Dundas; strangers' secretary, Mrs. Liddicoat and Mrs. Russell; superintendent of Christian stewardship, Mrs. R. Tufts; superintendent of watch tower, Mrs. Braithwaite; superintendent of mite boxes, Mrs. A. E. Sherlock; superintendent of little light bearers, Mrs. Edwards; superintendent of shut-ins, Mrs. J. W. Showler; superintendent of Henry Castle fund, Mrs. Watkins; temperance herald, Mrs. Wright; convener of outlook committee, Mrs. Gowan; press secretary, Mrs. Joseph Cake, and pianists, Miss Read and Mrs. Rawlings.

At the conclusion of the election Mr. Thomson installed the new officers. During the afternoon the officers of 1924 presented Mrs. Thomson with a lovely silver basket, accompanied by a kindly worded address, expressing the appreciation of the members for her faithful services and also their regret of having to lose her so soon, and wishing her God's blessing in her new field of service. The address was read by Mrs. T. B. Wright, and Mrs. Wicketts made the presentation. Mrs. Thomson charmingly replied, thanking the ladies, and wishing for them success in all their efforts. Mrs. Sinclair was appointed the delegate to the W. M. S. convention being held in Sarnia in May.

ST. GEORGE'S WOMEN ORGANIZE NEW W.M.S.

Members of Auxiliary Enthusiastically Plan Work—New Officers Are Elected.

The women of the continuing Presbyterian churches of the city are very energetic, and enthusiastically they are going ahead with their work. Missionary work will not be neglected, even while the churches are waiting for June 10, and no women are working harder than those of the non-concurring churches to aid the work in the foreign fields.

One of the outstanding groups to carry on is that of St. George's Presbyterian church. In order that the missionaries will not suffer in other lands, a meeting of the women's missionary society of this church was called yesterday afternoon. The members met in the vestry of the church and Mrs. J. Hosie presided over the meeting.

The meeting was arranged for the purpose of abandoning the auxiliary as constituted before the confirmation of union. The following resolution was read and adopted: "That we, the officers and members of St. George's auxiliary of the women's missionary society of the Presbyterian church in Canada, both individually and as an auxiliary, having determined to be and continue to be members of the women's missionary society of the continuing Presbyterian church, by whatsoever name it may be known, do hereby disband this auxiliary as part of the existing women's missionary society and sever our affiliation with and membership in such society from this date." The resolution was signed by the president.

Following this meeting of disbandment another meeting was called for the purpose of organizing a new society of the continuing Presbyterian church. Mrs. J. McLeod presided over this gathering. The following resolution was read and adopted: "Be it resolved that we, the women of St. George's Presbyterian church, organize a women's missionary auxiliary in affiliation with the provisional Presbyterian of the continuing church by whatsoever name it may be known." This, too, was signed by the president.

The new officers were then elected and include: President, Mrs. J. McLeod; vice-president, Mrs. J. Hosie; secretary, Mrs. F. D. Hardie; treasurer, Miss Mary I. Veir; strangers' secretary, Mrs. W. Adams; home helpers' secretary, Mrs. G. Wallace; supply convener, Mrs. George Cairns; mission band president, Miss E. Moffatt, and press correspondent, Mrs. Stanley Grosvenor.

Mrs. W. E. Kelley, provisional president, was present, and in a short address presented some very helpful and interesting facts to the women. At this session arrangements were also made to send the bala of linens and clothing to Matthewson hospital in June instead of in September as formerly arranged. There was a large attendance.

The women of St. George's church will be the guests of the Elmwood avenue Presbyterian ladies at their church-home this afternoon, when the latter women will entertain at their first at-home.

AUTHORS' CLUB TO COLLECT PETER McARTHUR CLIPPINGS

Will Also Make Autographed Collections of Canadian Writers.

IN WESTERN LIBRARY

The Western Ontario branch of the Canadian Authors' association, which meets in this city, is planning an interesting program of work for the coming year. Among other things, the members will begin a collection of Peter McArthur material, books, clippings, anecdotes, and so on, to be placed in the library of the university of Western Ontario. The public is being invited for contributions to this collection. The source of the contribution will be credited in the collection. Miss Jennie Fidler, 24 Belgrave Place, secretary of the organization, will be pleased to receive articles toward the collection.

Another interesting activity of the club next year will be a collection of the writings of the authors of Western Ontario, bearing autographs. The suggestion is that this collection will also be put in the library of the university of Western Ontario. The club has begun an interesting autograph book, which will bear the names and a brief statement from visiting members of the writing profession.

An interesting meeting planned for next year will be meeting to discuss and study all the phases of Canadian literature, and to study the sources of material in the district. The object of this very attractive

Independent Race Tracks Nearing the End, Is Belief

Gigantic Merger of Several Plants Said To Be in Offing.
C. R. A. TO GOVERN

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, April 29.—The Telegram publishes the following in its night edition:

A gigantic race-track merger is said to be in the offing. Word reached Toronto from New York last night that an immediate gathering of race-track owners and representatives of horsemen racing on all circuits in the east is to be called to formulate a plan to take racing out of itself and eliminate the duplication of race tracks all over the continent.

It is understood that the Canadian Racing association from now on is to be the real governing body in Canada.

At any rate the day of independent circuits is over. Merry-go-rounds are to be ruled down and out. Several tracks in Ohio will be closed as soon as the merger gets under way. Kentucky is safe from interference at present, as is Maryland, but some of the New York courses are shortly to be abandoned.

Around Ontario, the merger may do away with at least one of the Detroit plants running across the river at Windsor, Niagara Falls and Fort Erie may pool their interests for one course in that district.

Around Montreal the plan is for three one-mile courses only, which means that half-mile tracks must succumb.

The Mount Royal Jockey club is now in the hands of a New York syndicate. The directors propose to spend $50,000 on the plant this summer. The club will then make application to race under the jurisdiction of the Canadian racing association.

A scurry is now being made to get into the C. R. A. on the part of race-track promoters throughout eastern Canada. The idea to establish an independent circuit seems to have been frustrated. Kenilworth went out this year. Thorncliffe will probably be admitted to membership in the C. R. A. in time for the autumn session at that course.

In the meantime, the Montreal interests which control the Stamford Park course at Niagara Falls have definitely decided to extend that half-mile course to one mile. This looks like a real leap in the dark, and considerable of a gamble.

Want to Throw Slow Ball? It's Easy—See Here!

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher, N. Y. Giants)

Three varieties of slow ball:
1. Knuckle Ball—Can be thrown with either two, three or four fingers pressed against the ball. Ball does not revolve and comes up to the hitter in the same manner as a slow pitchball. Eddie Rommel of the Athletics is the leading user of this ball today.

2. Fadeaway—Was originated by Christy Mathewson as a change of pace against left-handed hitters. It is held like a fast ball, but just before it leaves the hand the wrist is turned, and the ball is rolled off under the second finger, so that it breaks down and away from a left-handed hitter. It has made such stars as Grover Cleveland Alexander and Edna Rixie doubly effective.

3. Fork Ball—A variety of non-revolving slow ball used by many pitchers in the majors as a change of pace. Pete Standridge, old-time Chicago pitcher, is supposed to have discovered it. Rube Marquard, Jack Bentley and others have used it.

TRUE NATIONAL POLICY OFFERED BY LIBERALS

Hon. Ernest Lapointe Justifies Course of King Government.

MODERATION NEEDED

Would Rather Be Defeated Than Win by Sectional Appeal.

By E. C. BUCHANAN,
Special to The Advertiser
by Staff Correspondent.

Parliament Buildings, Ottawa, April 29.—The true national policy is one that will permit all Canadians to live and give equal justice to all. That equal justice, I am afraid, cannot come from those who want everything their own way without considering the interests of others, declared Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, in the House this afternoon.

"It cannot come from any party which would be eastern or western in its character, and whose policy appeals only to one or the other of our great geographical sections. How many times did we hear the suggestion made by different people in eastern Canada that Quebec and Ontario should unite against the activities of the west? Sir, I would rather see the Liberal party and the government of which I am a member go down to defeat many times than attain an ephemeral success, an inglorious victory, by such nefarious methods. I believe in Canada, in the whole of Canada. Canada for Canadians has been the policy, but it must be Canada for all Canadians, not for any privileged section of the people."

Justifies Moderate Policy.

This was the intent of the policy of the Liberal party and of the present government compared with the aims and purposes of critical opponents by Mr. Lapointe. It was the conclusion of a speech in which he justified the moderate policy of the government, its pursuit of the middle course which would serve all sections of the country to the greatest advantage without prejudice to any particular section or sections.

"The party that inscribes moderation on its banner will stand out among the others like the rock of Gibraltar," declared the minister. While one opposition party was advocating one extreme and the other opposition party demanding another extreme, the government had taken a stand on moderation and that had secured the interests of the country as a whole.

What Canada required, declared the minister, was the policy of compromise, the truly British policy by which the empire survived. It was such a policy that the government sought to follow to the end of serving the larger interests of the dominion. If justification of that policy were required, it was to be found in the conflicting contentions from across the floor. Members had announced their intention of going against the budget for entirely opposite reasons. They amply illustrated the need for an attempt to harmonize their apparently uncompromising attitudes.

aged 80, whose body was found in the Humber river district of Ontario a few days ago. The cause of death remains a mystery. A cobbler by trade, he left an estate worth $15,000.

ganda of the official opposition, Mr. Lapointe said from Dr. Manion the admission that the factories in Fort William, whose collapse he had been lamenting, did not succumb to tariff reductions on the articles they manufactured, because there had been none. Dr. Manion's complaint was that the government had not increased the tariff beyond the point where the Conservative government left it.

The minister quoted official statistics to show that not only had the number of business failures been decreasing during the last three years, but that those occurring were not due to causes arising out of the tariff. Almost all of them were ascribed by Bradstreet's to incompetence, lack of capital and similar causes, while only 88 out of more than 2,000 are due to competition.

He also refuted the assertion that this country had the largest per capita debt and heaviest taxes in the British Empire. Both debt and taxes were lowest, the figures on the per capita debt being: Canada (federal, provincial and municipal) $44.46; Great Britain, $22.48; Australia, $20.58; New Zealand, $18.14; South Africa, $14.71. And those on per capita taxes: Canada, $23.51; Great Britain, $9.36; Australia, $6.22; New Zealand, $7.12; South Africa, $7.92. Canada's per capita taxes were below those of the United States also, her debt being higher on account of the railways.

Amendment Weak.

Describing the Drayton amendment to the budget as "emasculated and political instrument deprived of all vitality," Mr. Lapointe appealed to the Progressives to give the tariff modification inaugurated by the government a chance to vindicate themselves, and to show that the policy of the high protectionist was wrong. To criticize and prefer a preference, which had even been the policy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, he replied that last year Canada had imported from Great Britain $150,000,000 worth of goods and had sold her $361,000,000 worth, and also that the Mother Country had paid Canada on the goods sent her $28,000,000 in duties, whereas on Canada's exports no duty had been paid. The benefit of the preference was decidedly to Canada, Mr. Lapointe maintained.

The Conservative speaker of the day was R. V. Lesueur, West Lambton, who could not bring himself to agree with the budget, and who deplored the failure of the government to attack expenditure. He advised it to establish a business administration.

Leaders To Speak.

The division is to be reached some time tomorrow night or Friday morning, unless something intervenes to prevent. Before the vote it is the intention of Mr. Mackenzie King and Mr. Meighen to speak. Others may carry the debate into the small hours of the morning.

In the red chamber, Senator Chapais rose to the defence of the senate. He said that it was non-partisan, democratic and highly essential. He pointed out that such major legislation which the senate had rejected in recent years had been sent to it within a few hours of prorogation, when no time had been allowed for its consideration. The senator saw no reason for changing the method of selecting the members of the Upper House, since a review of those who had served in that Chamber showed that they were in the front rank in experience, capacity and integrity.

Hawken & Lang Get Contract For 3,000 Tons at $7.05.

Bituminous and anthracite coal tenders let by the executive committee of the board of education yesterday afternoon will effect a saving of approximately $5,000, as compared with last year's coal bill.

The Hawken & Lang Coal Company, city, will supply the board with 3,000 tons of bituminous coal at the rate of $7.05, while William Buchanan will supply 200 tons of anthracite Scranton egg coal at the rate of $13.50 per ton, and Scranton nut coal at the rate of $14 per ton.

The executive committee decided to recommend to the board that the public schools be closed on the afternoon of May 27, on the occasion of the visit to London of Col. Harry Cockshutt, lieutenant-governor of Ontario, to inspect the 1,000 cadets in the public school corps.

Captain William H. Robinson, supervisor of caretaking and repairs, was empowered by the board to purchase the necessary shrubs for the beautification of the London central colliery grounds.

The Hawken & Lang Coal Company tender was for Kingston smokeless egg coal, with a British thermal unit strength of 14,710. The coal is shipped from Kingston, Fayette county, West Virginia. Capt. Robinson re-
