In a contest against machine politics and against such odds as probably no man in London ever faced in a mayoralty fight before, Dr. Clarence T. Campbell, who has been known to Londoners the past few years as Ald. Campbell, gave Mayor Beck the warmest kind of a fight for the mayor's chair.

Standing alone and without a political organization or organization of any kind at his back, without the assistance of a machine, and with nothing but the record of his past life as a native Londoner to appeal to the electors upon, Dr. Campbell nevertheless rolled up such a vote in the limited number polled as to for a time at least cause Mr. Beck and his friends to look askance and wonder where they were at in the contest. As it is, Mr. Beck's majority does not add anything to his prestige.

There does not appear to be the slightest doubt that had Dr. Campbell the support of an organization as had Mayor Beck, the present victory of the latter would have been turned into a complete rout, and Mr. Beck's desire to hold all there is in London to hold would have been left unsatisfied.

The organization which was behind Mayor Beck, was everywhere in evidence. The streets were alive with rigs, and the polling booths were fully manned by Conservative workers. In the vote of yesterday the vote that was allowed to remain at home was largely the Liberal vote, as the Conservatives saw to it that all those of a favorable shade of politics were brought to the polls.

Ald. Campbell's splendid run in the face of such tremendous odds earned him the congratulation of many friends, among whom were several prominent Conservatives, who have grown tired of toadying to Mr. Beck's eternal game of grab and his machine politics.

It is a significant fact that in the ward which contains the most business interests and business men of any ward in the city, Ald. Campbell secured a majority, thus reflecting the confidence which the business public repose in Dr. Campbell, and indorsing his actions towards the business interests of London, while a member of the city council.

In the election of 1902 Mr. Beck polled 4,049 votes, with three candidates in the field, but yesterday against Dr. Campbell he only secured 2,866 against his opponent's 2,415, giving him a majority of 421. His worship will probably find but small consolation in a comparison of yesterday's figures with the figures of two years ago.

As the returns came in they were bulletined in front of the newspaper offices, but the crowds, owing to the extremely cold weather, were rather small. The cold weather appeared to be too much for the election enthusiasts, and chilled their ardor as it did the ardor of many voters during the day. The first returns received credited Mayor Beck with a majority of 451, but the later figures showed a mistake of 30 in his favor in subdivision 3 of ward 4.

The returns were received by The Advertiser promptly, and were bulletined in the large windows on the second floor. They were posted in such a manner that the interested crowds on the streets could readily tell the standing of the various candidates as the figures were exposed.

ALD. CAMPBELL'S GRATITUDE.

After the returns were received, and the result of the fight for the mayoralty was known, Ald. Campbell was seen by a representative of The Advertiser.

"I am extremely grateful," he said, "to the citizens who in such large numbers voted for my election as mayor, and while the result is not as satisfactory as may have been desired, the run which I made is one of which I have every reason to be proud, and of which my friends need not feel ashamed.

"Coming into the field as I did with practically only a few days' notice, facing a gentleman who is the recognized leader of his party, having a strong party organization at his back, which felt that the very life of the party depended upon the success of their candidates, while on the other hand I had no organization, whatever, I think the vote polled for me was very good. Only within the last two days some of my personal friends made an effort in my behalf.

"On the other hand I might say that any person who went from booth to booth during the day could see that every polling subdivision was thoroughly manned by party workers for Mr. Beck, and that the subdivisions were being as thoroughly worked as they would be for a parliamentary election, while in many of the subdivisions there was hardly any person to look after the vote for myself. Some few divisions were well worked for me, however, and I am very grateful to those who spent a bitter cold day at the polling booths and going for voters.

"Under all the circumstances, the result is highly gratifying. I retire from the contest with no ill-feeling towards any, and with the best wishes for the new council elected, and an earnest hope that they may work in the best interests of the city.

"I have no ambitions for the future. I am not looking for anything, but my best efforts as a private citizen will always be given for the advancement of the interests of my native town."

MAYOR BECK SPEAKS

Mayor Beck spoke from a Free Press window and was enthusiastically received. His speech was short, and he was followed by other Conservatives elected.

The mayor said: "Ladies and Gentlemen,—I am sure that the honor you have bestowed on me today by electing me for the third time as mayor of this beautiful city is one of which I am not quite deserving, and one of which many more deserving might well be proud. I feel that the citizens have approved of my work for the past two years. Notwithstanding some things said about partisanship, a force, I am sorry to say a political force, has been pitted against me, for unfortunately I am a politician. But I will show them once more that I will do justice to all. I don't think any mayor ever found a stronger candidate pitted against him than I had in Dr. Campbell. There was never a stronger, yet quieter force pitted against me, but were it not for the cold weather, I would have had a greater majority. The ladies would have come out in greater numbers, and I know that I would have had their votes. I am glad to see that so many of my old colleagues on last year's council have been re-elected, and it is a fortunate coincidence that on the council there will be eight Conservatives. In the water commissioners we have two friends. Mr. Pocock has defeated the man who happened to slip in last year ahead of him, but this year he has defeated him. I am sure the people are satisfied, and if they are tonight they will be the more so a year hence. I and the council will do all in our power by hard work, by honest work, and without partisanship, for the citizens of London. Though it may be hard work, I shall be able to look back and say that I served the people for three years. There were men who worked hard against me, and I believe that they, too, will be satisfied with me. There are many issues to settle, and we will satisfy you."

ALDERMEN-ELECT SPEAK.

Ald. Judd, who was the next speaker, thanked the assemblage for re-electing him by such a substantial vote, and he was glad to say that he was once again one of their representatives. As in the past he would support Mayor Beck in the good government of London.

Ald. Matthews then got a hearing. "You don't know what satisfaction it gives me," he said, "to be at the head of the polls." He was very glad that the mayor had also been returned by such a handsome majority. He would do all he could to represent the people faithfully and well.

Ald. Becher thanked his fellow citizens for the magnificent majority they had given him. He promised to look after the city's interests as he would after his own. He attributed his election to the vote of the ladies.

Ald. Cooper, who was the next speaker, expressed his thanks. In the past, he said, he had tried to do his duty and would try to do so in the future.

The new water commissioner, Mr. Pocock, was the last one to speak. After thanking the electors he said they would not have to drink river water. He was especially proud of his victory as his opponent had had a long political career.

THE ALDERMANIC FIGHT

Two of the 1903 Members Fail—Three New Faces.

In the aldermanic fight the following were successful: Abram, Becher, Cooper, Forristal, Garratt, Greer, Judd, Matthews, Wyatt, Gerry, Greenlees, and Stevely.

Owing to a clerical error in the seventh subdivision of ward 1, by which a vote of 50 for Mr. A. B. Greer was reported to be 30, it looked for a while as though ex-Ald. Saunders was again elected, and Mr. Greer defeated. In going over the returns, however, City Clerk Edwards noticed the mistake of 20, and notified the newspapers. The city clerk, of course, did not count the ballots, but merely takes the figures from statements made out for his use by the deputy returning officers. How the newspapers were given the wrong figures remains a mystery.

Of the aldermen elected, nine were members of the council of 1903. Two have served the city before as aldermen—Messrs. Stevely and Garratt—and Mr. A. B. Greer is what may be classified as new blood.

The counting of the ballots and the posting of the returns showed the work of the Conservative machine to advantage. In subdivision after subdivision, Abram, Becher, Cooper, Carson, Forristal, Judd, Matthews, Wyatt, Greer and Garratt polled an almost identical vote, showing that Conservative electors had gone into the booths and voted with the Conservative card as a guide. No votes were given to those who were not on the slate, the Conservative managers apparently impressing it upon their friends not to be greedy and vote for twelve aldermen, but to vote for those only who were on the Tory slate.

Compared with the vote of January, 1902, when there was also a mayoralty contest, the vote of yesterday is not at all small. For example, two years ago Ald. Beattie headed the polls with 2,815

NEW YORK CITY IS ICEBOUND

Traffic On Land and Water Is Almost Impossible.

HARBOR RAPIDLY CLOSING UP

Ferryboats Swept Far Out of Their Courses—Intense Cold and Great Suffering.

New York, Jan. 5.—Traffic on land and water is in serious trouble. The harbor is rapidly closing up, and trans-Atlantic liners arrive loking like spectre-ships. Both East and North Rivers are barely navigable, while the Harlem River, for the first time in eight years, is impassable above MacComb's Dam Bridge. Ferryboats and tugs are swept out of their courses by the drift ice, and every ounce of power in them is required to reach their slips. The boats which land at the battery have to run battering rams to part the ice in their slips.

Mails from the west and east are from 6 to 10 hours late. Snow is not to blame for this so much as the inability of the locomotives to keep steam up under the great outside cold pressure.

The severe work, too, has been the cause of an unusual number of fires.

When the Government thermometer reached 4 below zero at 5 o'clock this morning, all local January cold records since 1875, when 6 below was registered, were beaten. Thermometers in various outlying parts of the city went several degrees lower, and in the suburbs from 8 to 12 below zero were reported. At 9 o'clock the official thermometer had gone up to two below, and the absence of wind was some relief.

From 20 to 25 below zero is recorded at Albany. Near Newburgh the thermometer registered 42 below. At Troy there is much suffering among the poor.

THE OUTLOOK IS SOMEWHAT GLOOMY

Britain Has Her Troubles at Home and Abroad.

DOMESTIC POLITICS CHAOTIC

Eastern and Far Eastern Complications—Some Reminiscences of Herbert Spencer.

London, Jan. 5. — It cannot truthfully be said that Englishmen are looking forward with any general satisfaction. At home politics are in chaos. No man can count even three months abroad. Abroad there are Somaliland, Nigeria, Tibet, and, above all, Korea and Manchuria. To many cautious observers, war in the far east now seems almost inevitable, and, once that they have started, no man knows where the flames will end. Consols, the premier security of the world, the mainstay of all institutions which aim at safety and permanence, have already fallen below the most pessimistic prophecies of a few years back. War in the far east, with its grave risk of British entanglement, would carry them down further still, with possible consequences here in England, which are not pleasant to contemplate, for the root of England's disquietude lies in her want of faith in the men at the helm.

The attitude of the ministers, in every crisis, has been inconstant and irresolute. Lord Lansdowne, upon whose word as foreign secretary, depends Great Britain's peace or war, was the admitted ministerial failure of the South African conflict, and there is no Duke of Devonshire, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach or Lord Goschen, now in the cabinet, to act as a steadying factor. In sympathy Great Britain is heartily with Japan, and if the early fortunes of war should go against Japan, British public opinion might easily sweep a weak ministry into a conflict, for Japan's victory in diplomacy or war means Great Britain's gain, and the gain of the open door for every nation's commerce. Her defeat means one more future market closed to British goods. For that very reason, Russia's victory, war or no war, would most certainly bring many fresh adherents to Chamberlainism.

As it is already, even the Radical papers are little disposed to deny that 1903 has been Mr. Chamberlain's year. He has only one rival in that respect, and that rival is the King. As the Westminster Gazette truthfully says: "The King has done great things in inducing international amity. His tact and good feeling have done what was quite beyond the power of the present ministers acting alone. If peace is maintained in the far east, it will be chiefly thanks to France, and that France is peacefully disposed, the world has to thank King Edward's friendly initiative."

While eagerly awaiting Herbert Spencer's autobiography, his admirers are being treated to casual reminiscences. One friend remembers Mr. Spencer rejoicing that he never was married, because so many of his married friends came at length only to tolerate their wives. He reduced all questions to this sort of calculation. Another friend relates that when Mr. Spencer was staying in her Scottish home, which was the manse, he surprised her by requesting permission to join in the household family prayers. He sat out the Bible reading patiently enough, but when the little congregation turned to kneel, he rose, placed himself on the hearth-rug, and tucking up his coat-tails, stood warming himself at the fire, curiously surveying the worshipers till the close of the service.

TO BUILD ETERNAL CITY

Dr. Dowie's Object In Purchasing Matagorda Island.

San Antonio, Texas, Jan. 5. — John Alexander Dowie, the founder of Zion City, is not going to Australia on this trip. He has arrived here to investigate Matagorda Island, on the Texas coast, as a site for a new "Eternal City."

Dowie's plan is to enter upon extensive stock farming and factory work. He has an option on the island, which embraces thirty thousand acres. Dowie admits that he may bring his entire following to the new settlement.

FLEEING FROM RUSSIA

Ten Thousand Jews Leaves Kishinef Permanently.

Kishineff Russia, via Bucharest, Jan. 2. — As the Russian Christmas, Jan. 7, approaches, the fear of a repetition of the massacre of last April is increasing. Jews are fleeing from Kishineff daily. About 10,000 have left the city permanently and a similar number temporarily, the latter intending to return after the period of danger shall have passed.

Certain amazing features of the present situation are the openly avowed preparations made by the Antisemites and their freedom in advertising the threatened massacre by broadcast circulation of handbills. The local authorities have done nothing to suppress these menaces or stop the circulation of inflammatory posters.

DEATH OF FAMOUS WRITER

Mrs. E. M. Lattimer, Novelist and Historian, Dead at Baltimore.

New York, Jan. 5. — A Baltimore special to the Sun says: Mrs. Elizabeth Wormley Lattimer, novelist, writer of historical works and a well-known contributor to the magazines, died here yesterday. She was 81 years old. Her husband, Randolph Brandt Lattimer, died on Dec. 23 last. She was born in London, Eng. She was the daughter of the late Admiral Wormley, of the British navy. Her family connections in Great Britain gave her entrance to the best society of that country. Her family connections in America were as distinguished as those in Great Britain. Her paternal grandmother was the niece of Edmund Randolph, General Washington's aide-de-camp, and secretary of state. Her paternal grandfather was a captain in King George III.'s bodyguard. Much of her time was spent at the French court during the reign of King Louis Phillippe, and she was in Paris when Napoleon's body was brought from St. Helena. She witnessed the coronation of Queen Victoria.

POLICEMAN'S CLOSE SHAVE

New York Mob Tries to Lynch an Insane Constable.

New York, Jan. 5. — Policeman William Kenny has narrowly escaped death at the hands of a mob in West Sixty-ninth street.

It appears the officer ran amuck and was beating with his club every person who came near him. When rescued by brother officers two men were found unconscious as a result of his efforts. Kenny also was badly used up.

A riot call brought a detail from the station house to the scene. Hundreds of people were found blocking the street, and the police had to club their way through. At the end of the street, which is formed by a high wall, they found Kenny, bruised and torn. A howling mob cut off his escape and they were howling "Kill him! Lynch him!"

Two men who had fallen victims of Kenny's club were carried to the sidewalk. The officers had a serious time to get out with Kenny, however. They were surrounded by the maddened inhabitants of the tenements near by and had to fight their way to the station, where they carried Kenny. The crowd surrounded the station and made efforts to enter a complaint against Kenny, but were refused admission and finally dispersed.

Has Son Part of Day.

Paris, Jan. 5. — The court is still occupied with the marital troubles of the actress, Rejane, and her former husband, Porel, a theatrical manager. A decision was handed down recently regarding the rights of possession of the young son during the holidays, giving to Porel the right to see his boy Dec. 31 and Jan. 1, 2 and 3. Mme. Rejane taking her turn Jan. 1 from 9 o'clock in the morning to 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and having the lad Jan. 4, 5, 6, and 7.

Washington, Jan. 5. — Minister Allen at Seoul has advised the state department that the Empress Dowager of Korea, died on the morning of Jan. 2.

RUSSIA GIVES IN TO JAPAN; GREAT CONCESSIONS MADE

In Reply to Mikado's Note Czar Expresses Hopes That Proposals Will Be Acceptable.

BIG ARMY OF JAPANESE TO OCCUPY KOREA

A French Naval Squadron Receives Orders to Sail for the Far East—Combination of the Powers to Insist Upon Opening of Ports of Wiju and Yongampho.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 5.—The foreign office informed the Associated Press today that instructions had been sent to Viceroy Alexieff, on which the reply was based. The letter was drawn up in the most conciliatory spirit. Some of the Japanese proposals were accepted, while others were made the subject of extended observations and were met by counter proposals. There are strong hopes that on Thursday next, the Russian Christmas, the Czar may be able to announce that peace is assured.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 5. — In her reply to Japan, Russia made great concessions, and hopes her proposals will prove acceptable to Japan.

Paris, Jan. 5. — An official dispatch sent from Tokio late last evening, says the minister for foreign affairs has not received the Russian reply up to that time. The officials here conclude from this that Viceroy Alexieff is awaiting an opportune moment to present it. The general tone of the comment in official circles is slightly less hopeful. The most significant feature of the dispatch from Tokio is the statement that Japan is hastening final preparations for a far more extensive dispatch of troops to Korea than at first contemplated. The Government has now decided to send an army of 35,000 men, organized as two divisions, to Korea. This is more than double the strength of the first expedition contemplated, and requires a large fleet of transports and extensive arrangements, which are proceeding rapidly, towards completion. The destination of this army is expected to be Southern Korea, particularly Fusan and Masampho. Russia may object to the dispatch of this large army, and it may develop into the first act of the impending conflict.

Rumors are in circulation at Marseilles that a French naval division is about to receive orders to sail for the far east.

London, Jan. 5. — The Korean charge d'affaires in an interview says he has good reason to believe that the negotiations between Korea, the United States, Great Britain, Japan and Russia regarding Wiju and Yongampho, will result in the opening of those ports at an early day. Russia, he added, is still opposing the opening, and a few Russian troops have occupied Yongampho.

Korea, he declared, would never agree to Russia's proposal to establish a neutral zone in Northern Korea, running south from the Manchurian frontier as far east as Yuensan and west to Ping Yang, as it would prejudice the sovereignty and integrity of Korea, which is guaranteed by the Anglo-Japanese treaty.

Telegraphic advices received from Seoul by the charge d'affaires two days ago did not mention the possibility of Japan landing the troops at Masampho. Should, however, such action be taken Korea would not offer armed opposition. Corea's relations with Russia and Japan were friendly, and the charge did not believe war would result from the present negotiations.

Cologne, Germany, Jan. 5. — According to advices received by the Cologne Gazette from St. Petersburg, the terms of the Russian reply to Japan were decided upon at a council on Sunday presided over by the Czar and attended by the Grand Dukes Vladimir and Alexis, the foreign, war and marine ministers, and M. Witte, president of the council of ministers. This correspondent, like others, understands that the reply renders a peaceful issue possible.

GRAND JURY FOR HORROR

One May Be Called for the Iriquois Calamity.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—A special grand jury may be called to investigate the responsibility for the Iroquois fire horror. The coroner will inspect the ruins of the theater during the day, after which the public prosecutor will be given an outline of the evidence to be produced at the inquest. On the report of the assistant state attorney will hang the decision as to the summoning of a special grand jury.

ALL ON ACCOUNT OF A TERRIER

Young Man Saves Pet From Flames, Is Arrested For Burglary and Gets Rewarded.

Windsor, Ont., Jan. 5.—The beautiful home of Mrs. William M. Boomer, of this city, was damaged by fire and water last night to the extent of $2,000. A defective furnace is held to account for the destructive blaze.

Mrs. Boomer is an old lady, but her burden of years did not prevent her from attempting to climb a ladder to the second story of the burning house for the purpose of rescuing a small pet Scotch terrier. When the fire was discovered at an early hour this morning, the inmates of the house fled precipitately, forgetting the little dog. Firemen and police officers prevented Mrs. Boomer from climbing the ice-covered ladder. A young man named Donohue shinned up the ladder and brought the little dog safely to the ground. A patrolman immediately arrested him on a charge of burglary, but he was released by the order of Mrs. Boomer, who was so overjoyed by the recovery of her pet that she gave Donohue a handsome reward.

MEMBER OF HUN DIET MURDERED

In Revenge for Loss of Lawsuit Peasants Beat Eremits to Death.

Budapest, Hungary, Jan. 5. — Paul Eremits, a Liberal member of the Hungarian Diet, was murdered at Nagy Kikinda this morning by two peasants. He was first shot at and wounded, and was then beaten to death with iron bars. The motive of the crime was revenge for the loss of a lawsuit brought by the father of the murderers against Herr Eremits.

NEGLECTED THEIR DUTY

Mounted Policemen Are Punished for Letting Cashel Escape.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 5. — Three Northwest Mounted Police constables, who were found guilty of neglect of duty in allowing the murderer Cashel to escape, have been sentenced by Commissioner Perry at Calgary. Piper, who had control of the guard room, was given a year; Fallips and Leslie were given six months. All sentences are at hard labor, and, besides, the men were dismissed from the force.

HORROR SPARES ONLY THE BABY

Four Members of a Family Are Dead and Head of Household Missing.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—In a darkened cottage at 1272 Lyman avenue there is left no one to mourn for four lives that were lost in the Iroquois horror or for the head of the household, who has been missing since the night of the disaster. Next door sympathetic neighbors are caring for a 10-months-old baby—all that is left of the family of a Fred Pond, who, until recently, was an employe of the Deering Harvester Works.

Mr. Pond was thrown out of work by the recent shutdown in the reaper factory, and a cheerless Christmas was relieved only when Miss Grace Tuttle, a sister of Mrs. Pond, and a teacher in the Ravenswood school, bought theater tickets for Mrs. Pond, her two children—Raymond, aged 14 years, and Helen, aged 7—and herself. Mr. Pond volunteered to stay at home and care for the youngest of the three children.

When the party failed to return home on Wednesday afternoon Mr. Pond became apprehensive and left the baby with a neighbor while he went to investigate. Almost at his own door he heard a newsboy crying the disaster. Wild-eyed and fearful, he boarded a car for downtown, and that is the last seen of him by his friends.

MILLIONS FOR CHRISTMAS GIFTS

The Late Capt. Pabst's Presents to His Family Aggregate Six Millions.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 5. — Captain Frederick Pabst, whose funeral has just been held, on Christmas made gifts to every member of his family, said by his close friends to aggregate some $5,000,000 or $6,000,000. Captain Pabst fully realized that his illness would be fatal, and that the end was not far off.

To his wife and each of his four children he handed stock certificates and deeds representing, it is believed, something over $1,000,000 in each case.

The entire wealth of Captain Pabst is estimated at $10,000,000.

SUICIDE CRAZE AMONG RUSSIANS

Blamed to Loss of Influence by State Church.

YOUNG GIRLS END THEIR LIVES

Epidemic Is Ascribed to the Universal Feeling of an Impending Catastrophe.

Kieff, Jan. 4. — An illustration of the rotten state of society in South Russia is afforded by the constant occurrence of cases of suicide among even young children.

A schoolgirl of 17, witnessing a quarrel between her father and mother, went into a bathroom and deliberately opened a vein with her father's razor, dying in the water.

A young married student poisoned himself without cause a day or two later, and a few hours after his death his child-wife inquired what was the poison he had taken, and herself used it to end her life.

Again, a few days ago the daughter of well-to-do parents in good society entered a restaurant with her lover, and the two, having taken a private room, ended their lives with a revolver. The reason the girl gave was that she was not pretty enough to live any longer.

All Kieff was stirred a day or two ago by the suicide of a young officer and his fiancee in a room of the Metropole Hotel. Both belonged to good families, and both had excellent prospects.

A gentleman, discussing this epidemic of suicide, said that he felt sure the universal feeling of impending catastrophe had something to do with it, and he also believed that the church had no longer any influence among the educated classes.

Quite lately the craze for 'discovering" imperishable saints' bodies became so serious, owing to the constant pilgrimages to the last place of discovery, that orders were issued forbidding the "discovery" of any more such marvels without permission of the Czar.

The Government makes use of the church simply to retain a hold on the people, and it is the realization of this which is destroying in the educated children of Russia any last moral support on which to fall back.

DR. SHOOP'S RHEUMATIC CURE
Costs Nothing If It Fails.

Any honest person who suffers from rheumatism is welcome to this offer. For years I searched everywhere to find a specific for rheumatism. For nearly 20 years I worked to this end. At last, in Germany, my search was rewarded. I found a costly chemical that did not disappoint me as other rheumatic prescriptions had disappointed physicians everywhere.

I do not mean that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure can turn bony joints into flesh again. That is impossible. But it will drive from the blood the poison that causes pain and swelling, and then that is the end of rheumatism. I know this so well that I will furnish for a full month my Rheumatic Cure on trial. I cannot cure all cases within a month. It would be unreasonable to expect that. But most cases will yield within 30 days. This trial treatment will convince you that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure is a power against rheumatism—a potent force against disease that is irresistible.

My offer is made to convince you of my faith. My faith is but the outcome of experience — of actual knowledge. I KNOW what it can do. And I know this so well that I will furnish my remedy on trial. Simply write me a postal for my book on rheumatism. I will then arrange with a druggist in your vicinity, so that you can secure six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure to make the test. You may take it a full month on trial. If it succeeds the cost to you is $5 50. If it fails the loss is mine and mine alone. It will be left entirely to you. I mean that exactly. If you say the trial is not satisfactory I don't expect a penny from you.

Write me, and I will send you the book. Try my remedy for a month. If it fails the loss is mine.

Address Dr. Shoop, Box 41, Racine, Wis. Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists. 89c-y

Cut His Throat.

Montreal, Jan. 4. — R. Mativier, a wine house traveler from Paris, was found sitting in a chair in his room at the Savoy Hotel Saturday morning, dead, with his throat cut from ear to ear, and a pool of blood about his person. He was 38 years of age, and nothing is known about him apart from his business.

The Customs Returns.

Toronto, Jan. 4. — This year, 1903, was the busiest which the local customs house has experienced in its whole history. The total receipts for the year amounted to $7,675,000, as compared with $6,468,000 in 1902, an increase of $1,207,000. The total number of entries was 120,200 in 1903, and 109,516 in 1902. For the month of December the receipts this year were $635,000, as compared with $549,000 in December a year ago.

Necessity of Sleep As a Restorer.

The Vitality Consumed During Waking Hours Must Be Replaced During Sleep — Otherwise Collapse.

Sleep is more essential to life than food.

Men have lived for weeks without food, whereas a few days without sleep and man becomes a raving maniac—a mental and physical wreck.

Nights of sleeplessness tell of a feeble and depleted nervous system, of approaching nervous prostration or paralysis.

The use of opiates merely gives temporary relief, and actually hastens the collapse of the nervous system.

The regular and persistent use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will form new, rich blood, create new nerve force and thoroughly cure sleeplessness and nervous exhaustion.

By keeping a record of your increase in weight while using the great food cure you can be certain that new firm flesh and tissue is being added to the body. You will feel the benefit in every organ.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2 50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations, the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

Brim-full of Health and Energy.

Life is worth living when one can awake after a good night's sleep—ready for anything the day may bring. Eye clear; tongue clean; liver active; stomach right; hand steady and every nerve vibrating with that splendid sense of the power of perfect health. Too few enjoy this enviable morning awakening, but can always be depended upon to restore the system to its natural condition and keep you in good sound health. A gentle laxative it helps nature to rid the system of poisonous impurities, stimulates the liver and tones up the digestive organs.

Ferguson 582, W. Daly 567, J. Welsh 540, S. J. Malcolm 532, Wm. Preston 596, Joseph Orr 586. For water commissioner, Albert Yates defeated George McLagan in Avon ward for public school trustee; W. H. James defeated I. W. Steinhoff, Romeo ward, for trustee, and Dr. W. N. Robertson defeated James Gadsby, in Hamlet ward, also for trustee. William Hepburn will be mayor for the second yearly term by acclamation. The labor union ran four candidates for aldermen — Messrs. Norfolk, Malcom, Schmidt and Hurley. Only the two first were elected. In the contest for school trustee the labor candidates were elected. Bylaws were carried by large majorities for the establishment of a board of park commissioners, which will take over the public parks, and for water commissioners to manage the city waterworks.

Sarnia, Ont., Jan. 4.—The municipal elections here today passed off quietly, very little excitement being manifest throughout the entire day. This is the first time in history of the town that the labor men put candidates in the field, and the result was a victory for them to the extent of one of their number being chosen as a representative of the people. The result was as follows: Mayor, Thos. H. Cook, by acclamation. Councilors, J. B. Dagan, D. Milne, Dr. Morrison, W. Kirton, Frank Mitchell, Jas. Proctor, Geo. Kirby, Robt. Fleck. School trustees — First ward, R. Kenny; second ward, R. C. Palmer; third ward, J. W. Smith; fourth ward, James Knelson.

Wingham, Ont., Jan. 4. — Voting on a bylaw for the expenditure of $36,000 for the new system of waterworks and sewerage resulted in a majority of 19 against.

RIOT IN ST. LOUIS

New Year Revelers in a Battle With the Police.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 4.—The new year was ushered in with scenes of wild revelry. Until a late hour in the morning the streets were thronged with people blowing horns, ringing bells and firing off bombs and revolvers. In the central district along, 300 revelers were placed under arrest for transcending all rules of decency.

At the corner of Fourth and Locust streets a party of revelers came into collision with a squad of police, with the result that four officers were severely injured and a dozen or more citizens were taken to the police station. The disorder was not suppressed until after a riot call had been sent in, bringing a dozen policemen to the scene. Policeman O'Brien was felled with a brick, and a long gash cut in his head; Policeman Cronan was hit over the head with a club, and his kneecap was dislocated by his fall to the sidewalk; Sergt. Kavanaugh was knocked down with a barrel stave and seriously injured, and Policeman Morrissey was badly beaten. The windows of street cars were smashed in with missiles thrown by the crowd.

SEVERE COLDS are easily cured by the use of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, a medicine of extraordinary penetrating and healing properties. It is acknowledged by those who have used it as being the best medicine sold for coughs, colds, inflammation of the lungs, and all affections of the throat and chest. Its agreeableness to the taste makes it a favorite with ladies and children.

WEST LORNE.

West Lorne, Jan. 5.—A very pretty and happy event was solemnized at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Parker, Graham street, this village, on New Year's afternoon, when their daughter, Miss Myrtle, was united in matrimony to Mr. George Waite, a prosperous young farmer of Dunwich. Promptly at 5 o'clock, the bride was given away by her father, and while the couple stood under an arch of evergreen, in the center of which hung a large horseshoe trimmed in white, Rev. W. J. Ashton pronounced those magic words which made them husband and wife. The bride was very becomingly attired in a dress of white moire silk, while little Miss Martha Balkwell, of Dutton, niece of the bride, and Miss Myrtle Waite, of Dutton, niece of the groom, who were maids of honor, and carried the ring on a white satin pillow, trimmed with pink carnations and ferns, were also dressed in white. The house was tastefully decorated with red, white and blue bunting, trimmed with evergreens, and which was illumined by Japanese lanterns.

After the ceremony had been performed, the guests, who consisted of immediate friends and relatives, about 50 in number, sat down to partake of a sumptuous repast. The many beautiful presents testify to the esteem in which the young couple are held.

Mr. and Mrs. Waite left on the M. C. R. express, No. 37, for Detroit, Chicago and other western points, and on their return will take up their residence at "Spruce Lawn Farm," near Dutton.

PERISHED IN THE THEATER

Miss Radcliffe, of Blanchard, a Victim at Chicago.

Her Remains Identified and Buried Yesterday at St. Marys.

The Advertiser's St. Marys correspondent writes:

Miss Annie Radcliffe, teacher, whose relatives reside in Blanshard near Granton, was a victim of the Iroquois Theater fire, Chicago. A brother, who lives in Toronto, was telegraphed for and identified his sister's remains by a small piece of wearing apparel and a ring on her finger. The remains were brought to St. Marys on Saturday evening and taken to the undertaking rooms of Gracey & Mitchell, and kept there till Monday afternoon. The funeral took place from there to St. Marys Cemetery. It was the intention of the undertakers to have taken the remains to the relatives near Granton, but owing to the snowdrifted roads and danger of upsetting the trip was abandoned and the interment took place to St. Marys Cemetery, the funeral being largely attended.

The town councilors and water commissioners were elected by acclamation, viz.: Water commissioners, T. D. Stanley and C. Richardson; councilors, west ward, George Woolway; south ward, M. J. Dewey; north ward, Geo. H. Gibbs, V. S.; east ward, Dr. James Roberts; the two councilors to represent the town, or all the wards, Alex. Mennie and T. T. Garner.

Miss Ethel Silvernail, of Rochester, N. Y., who has been the guest of the Misses Lily and Edith Darling, Elgin street east, for the past two weeks, returned home on Saturday night.

Daniel Cameron, ship carpenter, of Toledo Ohio, is on a visit to friends in Blanshard and St. Marys.

Andrew Martin, contractor, Regina, N. W. T., is visiting friends in East Nissouri, and St. Marys. Mr. Martin was a former resident of St. Marys, and was a building contractor when a resident here.

The quotation on the local market for live hogs is $5 per hundredweight.

Arthur Riordan, of Detroit, Mich., a former resident of St. Marys, was a visitor in Blanshard and St. Marys, the past week.

The various roads of the surrounding district, centering in St. Marys, are badly drifted with snow.

RE-ELECTED TO THE COUNCIL

Ald. A. V. Becher.

DIFFERENCE OF ONE VOTE

And a Recount in Westminster May Be the Result.

Contest for Township Council — Its Political Standing.

The Westminster Township Council for 1904 will comprise:

Reeve—T. Hardy Shore (acclamation).

Councilors — Angus Beattie, Robert Brown, Joseph Dale and J. H. Mair.

The ratepayers took considerable interest in the elections, even though there was no contest for the reeveship, and they turned out in fairly large numbers. Mr. Beattie headed the polls with a vote of 374. Mr. Brown was second, with 355 votes; Mr. Dale third, with 338 votes, and Mr. Mair fourth, with 236 votes. The other candidates were: J. Foreman, who polled 205 votes; Caleb Millson, 202 votes; Mr. Grant, 196 votes, and David Nicholls, 162 votes. There is talk of a recount on behalf of Mr. Foreman, who was only one vote behind Mr. Mair for fourth place. Of the council three are Conservatives and two Liberals. This is possibly the first time in Westminster's history that the Liberals have not had a majority.

The ratepayers of Ekfrid Township were not called upon to leave their homes to vote yesterday, the entire council being elected by acclamation. The council comprises: Reeve, L. L. McTaggart; councilors, John E. Hull, John C. Fletcher, John G. Lethbridge and John McMartyn.

WAS NOT RE-ELECTED.

In East Williams Township, John Milliken sought re-election as reeve, and was defeated by D. A. Campbell by a vote of 176 to 150. The councilors chosen were: H. D. Ross, 214; W. Phillips, 199; R. Tweddle, 197, and W. Stewart, 182. J. C. McDonald was the only other candidate. His vote was 60.

JAMES H. HODGINS WON

Elected Reeve of London Township in Monday's Contest.

Old Councilors Will Serve Again — S. F. Glass Close in Race.

Mr. John R. Hodgins, reeve of London Township for 1903, was defeated yesterday by Ex-Reeve James H. Hodgins. Considerable interest was evinced in the contest. The victorious candidate was the one who supported the Pottersburg claims for a settlement with the London Street Railway for city fares.

Pottersburg supported well its resident candidate for the council, Mr. S. F. Glass, who made a good run for a new man. He was defeated in the whole township, but was only three votes behind the last one of the old councilors, who were all re-elected.

The council will therefore consist of Reeve James H. Hodgins, and Messrs. Joseph McLeod, Hamilton Needham, George Kimball and John Edwards.

ESCAPED UNHARMED

Westminster Man's Sister-in-Law and Children in Fated Theater.

Nilestown, Jan. 5. — Joseph O'Brien, 2nd concession, Westminster, has just received word that his brother, Tom's wife, and two children and his sister's child (all of Chicago), were present in the ill-fated theater, but happily escaped unharmed.

HAD A PLEASANT YEAR

Annual Meeting of Belvidere Club— Officers Chosen.

The annual meeting of the Belvidere Club was held in the Duffield block, on Saturday evening. The retiring president, Mr. E. Moule, reviewed the work of the past year, and thanked the officers and members for their generous assistance during his term of office.

The report of the secretary and treasurer showed the club affairs to be in a most flourishing condition. The year was the most prosperous in the Belvidere's history. The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—H. Peacock.
First Vice—J. Pollock.
Second Vice—E. Perrin.
Secreteary—E. Reid.
Treasurer—W. Taylor.
Chairman of Rooms Committee—H. Perrin.
Auditors—A. McCallum and Chas. G. Ellis.

The club will hold its annual carnival on Jan. 13 at the Princess rink.

WALTER BAINARD'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Walter Bainard, who was fatally hurt at the London Machine Tool Company's works, took place from his father's residence, lot 17, con. 9, Westminster. A large concourse of people attended, to pay the last tribute of respect to the deceased, whose many good qualities of heart and mind won him large circles of friends. Rev. R. D. Hamilton, pastor of Wellington Street Church, officiated at the house, and Rev. Mr. Gibson at the grave. Notwithstanding the severe weather, a large number of the fellow-employes of Mr. Bainard were in attendance, following the remains to their last resting place in the family burying ground at St. Thomas.

The sweet, natural fragrance of fresh violets.

Extra Violette...

(Violet—Paris.)

The most delicate and most exquisite violet perfume made.

The modest violets are dainty creatures, and their sweet odors are their songs of thanksgiving and happiness, their voices of rejoicing in pure air and bright sunshine, in the rain and the dewfall. These conditions they enjoy in idyllic perfection in the Valley of the Var, in Sunny France, and there they fill the air with the perfume that hymns their happy lives.

Extra Violette is put up in dainty packages, and makes an ideal gift.

Cairncross & Lawrence,

Beware of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia displaces consumption in certain cities as the disease of greatest fatality. In all cities it is more deadly than in the country. Mainly, perhaps, because the conditions of life in cities are less favorable to the maintenance of a good average state of physical strength. Because of these facts the announcement by the board of health of a considerable recent increase in the number of cases is important to the people.

Now that this malady is recognized as an acute infectious general disease consequent upon poisons developed in the system by a microbe, it naturally appears to the people that there is no advantage in knowing of its prevalence, since, though the knowledge might stimulate precaution, no precaution can be of any avail. But this conclusion is erroneous. Nobody can certainly defend himself against the reception of the microbe, but the presence of the microbe does not necessarily induce the disease. There must be in the system contributory conditions to produce this evil consequence. The conditions are generally those of lowered vitality. All depressing causes predispose.

Exposure, privation, unsanitary houses, excessive fatigue, the free use of alcoholic stimulants; in short, whatever cause may be imagined as producing debility, may put a man within reach of this disease who but for those things would be above it, and whose normal strength would enable him to resist it. Cleanliness at home, a good overcoat, sobriety and a reasonable care to avoid at least unnecessary exposure, may make to many a man all the difference between resistance to a prevalent scourge and counting as one more of its victims.—New York World.

Early Marriages Happiest.

The common experience is that the happiest marriages are those which take place early in life, and that when an elderly man or woman gets married—we are not speaking of widows and widowers—they more frequently make a mess of it. The reason for this is not hard to find. It is absolutely essential to the happiness of wedded life that there should be common concessions. Two minds cannot always think alike; two people cannot always desire the same thing. One of them must, therefore, give way. Young people can learn to do this more readily than older ones. As to the wisdom of getting married and marrying young, there should not be two opinions. Home life is the most wholesome and the very best estate, and every woman should be a homemaker. There are many things, as society is now organized, which mitigate against marriages except among the rich and the very poor. Among the very poorest classes of the population poverty is not considered a bar to marriage. But there is a great class in every community which is ambitions to "keep up appearances," and which thinks it cannot afford to marry. The young woman has been used to living with a certain amount of luxury, and there is a distinct inclination to fall lower in the social scale by living in a cheaper neighborhood and with fewer of the comforts and conveniences of life. Each one wishes to begin where the parents left off. Plain living and high thinking are no longer the aspirations of the many.—Baltimore Sun.

A Victim of the Cab Habit.

The cab habit has led a woman cashier to embezzle $37,000. She acquired a craze for cabs and carriages. She went to her work in the morning in a cab. At noon she had a cab to take her to luncheon. She had another to bring her back to the office after the noon hour. In the evening there was another cab to take her home, and at night she went to parties, always riding in a carriage. This habit finally placed her where there will be no need of cabs or carriages for a long, long time to come. This episode, but one in many, reminds us that the taste for luxury and display, the general laxity which has marked our temper, leading from private life into business, and thence into politics, has apparently reached its climax, and is about to ebb. There are signs that simple living will become the fashion, and once this begins among the prosperous the mode will extend to those below.—Collier's Weekly.

LONDON, TUESDAY, JAN. 5.

The Municipal Elections.

The most surprised men in the city yesterday were Mayor Beck's supporters. They had calculated on burying Dr. Campbell under a landslide, and with good reason. Behind the mayor was a powerful and well-oiled political machine. Behind Dr. Campbell was a purely personal support, with a skeleton organization improvised by his friends on Friday and Saturday of last week. Mr. Beck's assertion that he was opposed by a political machine can be authoritatively denied. Everyone in the inner councils of the Liberal party knows that the Liberal organization refused to sanction a mayoralty contest. Dr. Campbell was fully aware of this when he entered the field, and he exhibited no little courage in facing the tremendous odds. The election was not a convincing test of public opinion owing to the smallness of the vote, which is partly explained by the extreme cold. It required a vigorous canvass to get many electors to the polls in such weather, and the advantage was naturally with Mr. Beck, who had more than a sufficiency of men and teams. Dr. Campbell was crippled in many subdivisions for lack of assistance and fought almost single-handed against an army of trained election workers. A review of the vote cast shows that in the business section of the city, the divisions immediately north and south of Dundas street, Dr. Campbell had a majority over Mr. Beck—a very handsome tribute from the mercantile community. It was in the outlying districts that Mr. Beck had his best support. In these divisions the effect of the unjust appeals to popular prejudice was evident. The hospital question was worked for all it was worth. Dr. Campbell was in favor of allowing every patient in the hospital to have his own physician, and though Mr. Beck will only go so far as to grant that privilege as a favor in special cases, as the bylaw in force shows, Dr. Campbell was charged with desiring to hand over all the patients in the public wards to the medical college. Mr. Beck knew the facts as well as anyone, but he was quite willing to use any means to beat his opponents. Religious prejudices were also quietly worked upon. It was whispered around that Dr. Campbell was instrumental in bringing a certain character to the city at the time of the Conservative-P. P. A. combination—a most ridiculous charge, as anybody acquainted with the circumstances must know. Even the silly old cry of "Scotch domination" was resurrected. An earnest appeal was also made to party loyalty. All things considered Dr. Campbell made a magnificent run. He emerges from the contest stronger than when he entered it, but the same claim can hardly be made for Mr. Beck, who owes his majority more to the efforts of the machine than to any personal prestige. In a fair fight between the two men, Mr. Beck would have been snowed under.

Mr. Beck dropped the mask last night and showed himself in his true colors, as a thorough-paced partisan. His record during the past two years has been that of a politician in the mayor's chair, but many people, who have been decived by his pretense of fairness and impartiality will now have their eyes opened. Mr. Beck, more than anyone, else is responsible for the system which has struck a blow at the best interests of municipal government by his prostituting it to the uses of a patronage-conferring clique. The city hall is made an annex of the Conservative Club and the city council a cog in the political machine. One-half the community, paying one-half the tax, is to be shut out from any position of power or emolument in the city's service. The municipal administration is degraded into a vote-catching concern, and the city is private pasturage for one party. This is an excellent way to build up a loyal and vigorous civic spirit.

The aldermanic elections reveal some freak features, though seven or eight capable men have been elected. The poll is headed by Messrs. Matthews and Becher, two young men who burned a good deal of red fire last year to attract public attention. They displayed a certain amount of raw energy on the council and have no black marks against them. An infusion of young blood is not a bad thing, but why they should poll more votes than some of the older heads on the same ticket is beyond explanation. Ald. Abram is an absolute nonentity, and was probably elected because his name was first on the ballot paper. Ald. Cooper and Ald. Garratt are relics of the old ward system and should have disappeared with it. Ald. Green, Stevely, Greenless, Judd Forristal, Gerry and Wyatt are competent men. The machine element will have things its own way during the year.

Mr. J. W. Jones' unmerited defeat as a water commissioner is easily accounted for. His supporters generously gave their extra vote to one of the two machine candidates and helped to elect both. The attempt to make it appear that the commissioners of last year favored the use of river water had some effect. It is only fair to say that last year's board approved no particular scheme, and went no further than the securing of a report on the water supply.

A Strong Candidate.

The Liberals of East Lambton are to be congratulated on the selection as their candidate for the Commons, of Mr. Charles Jenkins, of Petrolea, the well-known oil man. It is not too much to say that Mr. Jenkins is one of the very ablest men in Canada, and is fitted to shine in any deliberative assembly. He is a happy combination of the scholar and the man of business. He is a very effective speaker of the parliamentary type, and would rank high in the House of Commons as a debater. His character, as well as his abilities, command admiration. He is deeply interested in religious and philanthropic work, and as a theologian can hold his own with many members of the cloth. He is one of the most prominent figures in the Church of England in Canada. In the Diocese of Huron he is a tower of strength, and at the annual meetings of the synod he is almost indispensable. With such a candidate the Liberals of East Lambton should easily redeem the riding.

The Iron and Steel Duties.

The framing of the iron and steel tariff schedules is beset with great difficulties because the products of blast furnaces and rolling mills are the raw materials of so many manufacturers. Hardware and Metal, a paper published in the interests of the iron trade, recently sent out a circular to iron-using manufacturers inquiring of each what the effect would be on his business of an increase in the duty on pig iron.

Senator Frost, head of the great agricultural implement works at Smith's Falls, answered, "A higher tariff on pig iron would be detrimental to our business."

Mr. F. C. McMath, president of the Canadian Bridge Company, Walkerville, wrote, "We are not directly users or pig iron to any great extent, our raw material being rolled structural shapes, plates and bars, which we have to buy from sources outside of Canada, there being no Canadian concern able to furnish even a small fraction of our requirements. We are much opposed to any general increase in the iron and steel schedule of the Canadian tariff. A higher tariff on the iron and steel schedule will inevitably mean higher prices for products manufactured from steel and iron, and this certainly will be detrimental to every customer or manufacturer not in the business of making pig iron or steel."

Mr. Samuel Coulson, of Montreal, replies, "A higher tariff in Canada on pig iron would simply mean an additional tax on our business," adding, "Most of the manufacturers that I come in touch with do not deny that they are doing well now. Some of them claim that if hard times come they may not do so well. If hard times come my belief is that the manufacturers as a whole will not suffer more than anybody else. Our duty to the country is more to prevent hard times coming than it is to prepare for it by insisting that some people shall have a chance to be made secure, even though there are hundreds who must necessarily suffer, and will suffer more by reason of the effort to make this one secure. We must not allow ourselves to be carried away by the extremists."

Mr. W. H. Frost, of the Smith's Falls Malleable Castings Company, used the one word "Adverse," in reply to the inquiry.

There is a sharp division of opinion among the manufacturers on the tariff question, and any attempt to Dingleyize the fiscal policy of the country would bring all the latent antagonism to the surface.

Mr. T. J. Murphy came within 26 votes of being elected in spite of the machine.

The drop in Mr. Beck's majority from 1,820 to 420 is about the size of the drop in Mr. Beck's prestige during the past two years.

It should not make a particle of difference whether the City Council is Conservative or Liberal. It made no difference until two years ago, when Mr. Beck turned the Council into a partisan body.

The dispatches today indicate that Russia has concluded to come down before Japan shoots. The Russian Government will soon need all its strength to crush the forces of discontent at home, unless all signs fail.

The cumulative voting system in Toronto did not work satisfactorily in the election of controllers. Every elector had four votes, which he could distribute as he chose, giving them all to one candidate if he thought best. The result of this was the election of Controller Richardson, who ran behind in five wards of the city, but pulled up in his own ward, because his supporters plumped for him. Under the ordinary system Richardson would have been defeated, and from all accounts he deserved it.

Canada's Railways.

[Boston Transcript.]

Indeed, Canada is in a position very similar to that of the United States in the seventies and eighties, when we were opening up our wheat and corn lands. About 3,000,000,000 acres of Canadian grain land are now under cultivation; about 100,000,000 acres more are equally arable. That means railroads. Canada will be the great trunk line builder of the coming decades.

The Poet's Prayer.

[Smart Set.]

A poet prayed aloud for power to sing
To all mankind one sweet, soul-thrilling song,
To bring forgetfulness of daily wrong,
And swift surcease of transient trials bring.
O'er all the land his earnest prayer took wing,
Soft echoing, here and there, amid the throng,
From heart to heart, as gently borne along
As breeze-blown fragrance from the flowers in spring.
And when the poet walked among his kind,
Behold! they did great homage to his name;
Gave thanks for endless good his words had wrought,
And blessed the teachings of a master mind.
Nor knew he whence came luster to his fame,
For lo! his prayer had been the song he sought.

BLOOD HUMOURS

Skin Humours, Scalp Humours, Hair Humours,

Whether Simple Scrofulous or Hereditary

Speedily Cured by Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills.

Complete Treatment for All Kinds of Humours.

In the treatment of torturing, disfiguring, itching, scaly, crusted, pimply, blotchy and scrofulous humours of the skin, scalp and blood, with loss of hair, Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills have been wonderfully successful. Even the most obstinate of constitutional humours, such as bad blood, scrofula, inherited and contagious humours, with loss of hair, glandular swellings, ulcerous patches in the throat and mouth, sore eyes, copper-coloured blotches, as well as boils, carbuncles, scurvy, sties, ulcers and sores arising from an impure or impoverished condition of the blood, yield to the Cuticura Treatment, when all other remedies fail.

And greater still, if possible, is the wonderful record of cures of torturing, disfiguring humours among infants and children. The suffering which Cuticura Remedies have alleviated among the young, and the comfort they have afforded worn-out and worried parents, have led to their adoption in countless homes as priceless curatives for the skin and blood. Infantile and birth humours, milk crust, scalled head, eczema, rashes and every form of itching, scaly, pimply skin and scalp humours, with loss of hair, of infancy and childhood, are speedily, permanently and economically cured when all other remedies suitable for children, and even the best physicians, fail.

Cuticura Resolvent, liquid and in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Soap are sold throughout the world. MUSIC AND DRAMA

SPLENDID STOCK COMPANY.

A fine line of specialties was put on by the Myrkle-Harder Stock Company at their initial performance at the Grand last night. The specialties are the feature of the show, and that is saying a good deal. "Little Alabama" was put on by a fine company, and it was witnessed by a good-sized audience, considering that last night was election night. As stock companies go, this is certainly a top-notcher, and it can be looked to to make a good impression on Londoners. Christie and Baird were entertaining in a dancing and monologue specialty, and Kelly and Kelly also made good with their repertoire of coon songs. This evening the "Silver Dagger" will be presented, and good houses should greet it.

THE PAPAL CONSISTORY

New Princes of the Church May Be Appointed.

Rome, Jan. 5. — It seems now that the papal consistory will be definitely postponed until June, when among the new cardinals to be created will be Monsignor Nagiano, the pontifical major domo; Monsignor Lorenzelli, the nuncio at Paris, and Monsignor Rinaldini, the nuncio at Madrid, who have often been mentioned as certain of becoming princes of the church. Mgr. Bisleti, the master of the pontifical chambers, will be created major domo, and also prefect of the palace, the position now held by Cardinal Merry Del Val, the papal secretary of state.

STEVENSON-McLEAN

Brilliant Wedding at Home of Mr. and Mrs. G. McLean, Exfrid.

Nearly a hundred guests assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert McLean in Ekfrid, on the evening of Dec. 30, to witness the marriage of their daughter, Miss Minnie McLean, to Mr. Archie Stevenson. The wedding was a brilliant affair. The bride's handsome gown was of cream satin with pearl and lace trimming and court train, and she wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms. The bridesmaid, Miss Ethel McLean, sister of the bride, was tastefully attired in sea-foam blue satin, with rich trimmings. Miss Laurier McLean and Miss Mary Galbraith, the little maids of honor, were daintily dressed in white Japanese silk. Master Curry Carnell, of Dutton, the page, wore the kilts and plaidie of auld Scotland, and gave the picturesque Highland air to the entire affair, which was in keeping with this thoroughly Scotch gathering. The bride's mother, Mrs. McLean, wore a handsome dress of black peau de soie, elaborately trimmed with lace and sequins.

The bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Edna McCall. After the ceremony, which was performed by Elder Curry, of Dutton, the guests repaired to the diningrooms and partook of a real marrage feast. The rooms were decorated in red, white and blue with white roses and white carnations. At the feast, various toasts were happily responded to by different persons, and the evening was pleasantly spent in games and dancing, the music being furnished by Mr. and Miss Gallagher.

The presents were many and valuable. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful gold bracelet set with turquoise and pearls, to the bridesmaid an elegant ring, and to the maids of honor gold pins. This was in all respects a "social event," and will be long remembered by all who were present. Long and prosperous live the bride and groom!

Felling Trees by Electricity.

The report from France that a new method of felling trees by means of a platinum wire heated by electricity has been tried with success, calls to mind a similar announcement that came hot over the wires from Lake Superior a few weeks ago, to the effect that the Canadian forests are being electrocuted as rapidly as dynamos can be installed in the woods. When it is a matter of bringing down timber the Frenchman will have to get up early to be ahead of the American lumbermen.—Boston Evening Transcript.

Ottawa Postoffice Destroyed by Fire—The Damage Will be $40,000.

Ottawa, Jan. 5. — The city postoffice, one of the most ornate public buildings in Canada, was practically destroyed by fire last night. The frame-work of the roof, as well as the floors, partitions and massive tower structures were all of wood, and in half an hour the entire flat was aflare. The night was bitterly cold, and, the fire brigade was also handicapped in locating the seat of the conflagration, so that it was not until the flames burst through the roof that the dozen hose lines from the fire engines and the hydrants direct could be brought to bear upon the burning woodwork. In an hour the roof was burned away and the second flat, occupied by the inland revenue and customs long room was soon after a prey to the flames. The fire's progress was there stayed, however, and the ground floor, in which was the postoffice proper, was damaged solely by water, as were also the examining warehouse and other customs offices in the basement.

The postal staff, as soon as the fire broke out, all went to work to save the mails. These and other movable equipment of the postoffice were taken to the House of Commons and from there the mail will be dispatched pending the completion of other arrangement of temporary quarters.

The building was of dressed free stone in the Romanesque style of architecture and cost, when erected 30 years ago, about $100,000. Its roof story, by reason of the great mass of woodwork of which it was composed, was a veritable fire trap, and like the old Western block, partially destroyed in 1896, once the flames gained a footing no water supply could stay their progress.

The damage to the building is about $40,000. The Government carries no insurance on its public buildings.

ST. THOMAS GETS THEM

Wabash Company Accepts Proposition for Their Carshops.

St. Thomas, Ont., Jan. 5.—The mayor yesterday received the following letter from the superintendent of the Wabash Railway:

"Dear Sir,—Regarding location of our shops on Buffalo division, I am instructed by Mr. J. Ramsay, jun., president of this company, to notify you that your amended proposition of Dec. 7 is acceptable to this company, and that as soon as you can secure the necessary legislation, exempting this company from taxation, and providing funds for the payment of land and cash bonus, we will be ready to enter into the necessary agreement. Yours truly, A. E. Robbins, superintendent."

G. T. P. WILL GO THROUGH

Mr. Sutherland Says Port Simpson Will Be Terminus.

Toronto, Jan. 5. — Mr. Sutherland, minister of public works, is registered at the Queen's Hotel. When seen by a reporter, he stated that the Grand Trunk Pacific scheme was going through, notwithstanding all that might be said to the contrary. All that had taken place was some little delay in regard to the carrying out of the details of the scheme. Mr. Sutherland spoke in this connection with definiteness and confidence.

Mr. Sutherland said also that the policy of the Government was to make as safe and commodious as possible the harbors of St. John and Halifax.

"I suppose," suggested the reporter, "the same will be done for Port Simpson in the west?"

"Yes, that's in view."

"Port Simpson then will be the terminus of the G. T. P.?"

"Yes."

It was also stated by Mr. Sutherland that the Government intended to increase the protective craft on the lakes to safeguard completely the interests of the Dominion.

THE BANK CLEARINGS

Reports of Various Cities for the Past Twelve Months.

All the big cities of Canada show remarkable increases in bank clearings during the past year. The clearings in this city as mentioned last week am this city, as mentioned last week, amounted to $42,830,581. Last year the clearing house was in operation only seven months, for which period the clearings were $23,097,539.

As to other cities the Montreal Star says: In round figures the clearings of all the Montreal banks for 1903 show a gain of $15,000,000 over 1902. The total clearings this year were $1,113,987,000 compared with $1,093,879,000 the previous year. These figures are small, however, when the increase in 1902 over 1901 is taken into consideration. A year ago the enormous increase of over $200,000,000 was shown, but this was in a considerable measure due to the very heavy transactions in the stock market. While general business has increased there was a marked falling off in stock transactions which would result in a considerable reduction in bank exchanges.

Bank clearings at Toronto, in 1903, totalled $808,748,260. Last year they were $805,881,130, this year's increase being $2,867,130.

The total bank clearings for the year at the Quebec Clearing House amount to $88,329,358. Last year's clearings were $73,247,341.

Ottawa Clearing House returns for year 1903, $106,083,750.51. Last year's total was $95,409,130, making an increase of $10,674,620.

St. John, N. B., total bank clearings for year, $49,013,467. Last year's figures were $41,507,196, an increase this year of $7,506,271.

RADICALS APOLOGIZED

For Treatment of Mr. Cumberland at Newton Abbott.

London, Jan. 5. — A deputation of Radicals of Newton Abbot called on Barlow Cumberland, after the breaking up of the tariff meeting on Saturday night, to apologize on behalf of the town for the rough treatment he had received. Mr. Cumberland, who was formerly of Toronto, was one of the speakers at a tariff reform meeting, and the workingmen of the town broke up the meeting and ejected the speakers. On calling on Mr. Cumberland at his hotel, the delegation expressed the hope that the demonstration would not be considered anti-colonial in purpose. Mr. Cumberland said were these people in Canada when behaving in such a manner as disturbers of a peaceful and orderly meeting they would be thought to have a very bad case to defend.

Took Fatal Dose.

Kingston, Ont., Jan. 5.—Russell Allan, aged 17, driver for the Gardiner biscuit factory, suffering from neuralgia, took carbolic acid yesterday afternoon, and died some time after in agony. It is not known whether his act was with suicidal intent. He ate his dinner and went upstairs and took the acid, and later was found in the throes of death.

Five Hundred Insane Rescued.

Taunton, Mass., Jan. 5.—The women's wing of the Taunton insane hospital caught fire at 11:30 Sunday night and burned fiercely. It is believed all the inmates were rescued. There were 500 patients in the women's ward, and all were taken out safely.

A Yukon Gold Strike.

Dawson, Y. T., Jan. 5.—The White River strike is gaining importance, and it is now certain there will be a big stampede there. Two men arrived on Saturday with $1,200 and glowing reports of the finds. At least twenty miles of the White River is on the Canadian side. The gold brought in on Saturday is heavy and of excellent quality. If a quarter of what is reported is true, thousands will stampede from here during the coming season.

INTERVIEWED MR. SIFTON

Government Not Assisting Immigration of Mechanics.

Toronto, Jan. 4. — A deputation from the Toronto District Trades and Labor Council waited on Mr. Sifton yesterday afternoon and presented their views in opposition to assisted immigration. In reply the minister explained that no monetary assistance was given immigrants, the only payments, other than to Government officials, being to steamship agents. This latter payment is made only after a certificate has been received from the Government agent in the Northwest that the settlers has been located there. Under these circumstances, it was wrong to charge the Government with assisting mechanics to come to this country and to flood the labor market. The Government agents were seeking only farmers or farm laborers, and the class that would settle western land. Last year, at the request of the Ontario Government, he had asked officials to direct some farm laborers to Ontario, and if these had drifted into the towns it was unfortunate. He did not think much would be accomplished by directing laborers to the older provinces in the future. He pointed out the need of men in the west to harvest the crops and told the deputation that the surest way of maintaining wages for mechanics and others in Ontario was by developing the west, and furnishing a home market for Ontario manufacturers.

Broke Up the Dance.

London, Jan. 5. — The Marchioness of Donegal was patroness at a fancy dress ball given in Brighton to the dumb and their friends by a league, but owing to rowdiness during the dancing of the Lancers by a smart set, many of whom were members of aristocratic families, she ordered the band to cease playing.

WHEN WRINKLES COME

Health Departs and Beauty Fades. They Can Be Recalled by the

FOOD TONIC,

FERROZONE.

YOUR mirror will tell you the bitter truth.

Healthy women look younger than their age, but you look far too old for your years. Time deals lightly with the woman in good health, but the wasting hand of sickness and disease spares neither your youthful looks, beauty, nor complexion.

The Creator has endowed every woman with beauty, and every woman in good health is beautiful and comely to look upon. A clear, fresh, wholesome look is the result of the possession of good health, and no woman can be beautiful and attractive without good health. The dull, dead, gnawing pain, the sense of nervousness, weakness, oppression and discouragement; the tired, listless, languid feeling, the shooting pains, the aching head, the pain in the back, all these are symptoms of a disordered system, and all these are beauty killers, producers of dull, leaden complexions, unnatural flushings, dark circles under the eyes, humors, eruptions, blackheads, lusterless eyes and other disfigurements which divest women of their natural gift of beauty. Why be homely when you can be beautiful and attractive?

FERROZONE Makes Health and Happiness.

Get good health and with it those looks and attributes which attract, please, and fascinate. It is within your power to do so, for it is within every woman's power to be well and strong, and hence look her best, if she will use Ferrozone to give her strong, vigorous nerves, pure, rich blood, a clear complexion, and thus restore the energies and vitality of perfect health. Good health means youthful, good looks to every woman. Therefore the wise woman will maintain her health, keep up her vitality restore her nerves by the great food tonic, Ferrozone. It enriches and purifies the blood, fills it with new force. It nourishes back the weakened organs and puts a feeling of youth and buoyancy into the system. There is no other medicine, or no amount of lotions or cosmetics that will keep your skin in such a clear, attractive state as Ferrozone. Thousands of ladies who use Ferrozone alone, find it does more for their general welfare than any other remedy. Read the following letters carefully:

Ill Health Destroys Beauty and Happiness.

FERRO-ZONE

Makes You Well and Restores Your Good Looks.

It builds up the blood, restores the nerves, increases the appetite, converts your food into nourishment, bone, muscle and sinew.

Three Sisters Cured of Chronic Weakness.

Miss Dorothea Boardman, well-known in Wilmington, writes: "I am a school teacher and my sisters are dressmakers. We have to work hard and feel worn out when night comes. This spring we were all tired and depressed. We were pale and haggard looking and felt as if some very severe illness was hanging on our heads. I was nervous and found it very trying to keep up with my work. Noticing in the Toronto "Mail" that many Canadian women were being built up by Ferrozone, I sent for a supply and took it regularly for a month. So great was the improvement that my 2 sisters also started Ferrozone. Well, the results were just wonderful. Not one of us ever had a spark of color in our cheeks until we tried Ferrozone, but it soon brought our complexions up to a ruddy glow. We had good appetites, slept better and in every way could see that Ferrozone was doing a lot of good. We still use Ferrozone because we find it keeps our systems in a strong healthy condition. It is certainly the most effective tonic I ever met and I am willing that my testimonial should be used in any way that will bring the merits of Ferrozone before other suffering women; it has been worth its weight in gold in our family."

Ten Years of Female Weakness Cured.

Mrs. J. J. Perry, of No. 4 Peter street, Lindsay, Ont., writes: "About ten years ago I was confined to my room for five months, under the constant care of a doctor, suffering from weakness and female trouble. Since then I have scarcely ever been able to get around, being always run down in flesh, nervous and hysterical. My appetite and digestion became so poor that my strength failed entirely. A constant headache, palpitation of the heart and sore at the corners of my mouth, were then added to my burden, and the doctors said that nothing could ever make me well.

"This year my druggist, Mr. Dunoon, advised me to try Ferrozone. I used about three boxes at first, and feeling an improvement bought six more. I improved right along, got stronger each day, until Ferrozone finally cured me.

"I am twenty pounds heavier, have a splendid appetite and my complexion is just what could be desired. The heart troubles are gone, and so are all my other troubles.

"Today I am a strong, vigorous, healthy woman — just what Ferrozone made me. As it saved my life I desire to add my testimony to its great merit."

There is no blood builder, nerve strengthener, or food tonic that restores weak, despondent women like Ferrozone. It produces that high standard of health and beauty, so much desired by every woman. Moreover, it gives relief to headaches, weariness, dragging pains, irregularities, suppressions and cures all interferences with the womanly functions. If you want to feel strong and young again commence today on a course of Ferrozone. You'll honestly be surprised at the change. In a thousand ways you will quickly notice its beneficial effect. Ferrozone is sold only in 50c boxes, or six boxes for $2 50. Refuse substitutes, as no imitation can possibly build you up like Ferrozone. At all druggists, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U. S. A.

CANDY TO START REVIVAL

Minister Makes a House to House Canvas With Sweets.

Indianapolis, Jan. 5. — The Rev. J. B. Sites, of Colfax, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, announced to his congregation that he would enter upon a revival service and that he intended to introduce a new method to arouse interest.

He did not say what the method was, but went among the people of the town and distributed candy to all the children, and invited them and their parents to attend the meetings, promising to have candy on hand and distribute it freely.

Mr. Sites spent the entire day at the work and did not miss a house in town. He visited houses where possibly, minister had never entered before and met with varied experiences. In the majority of places where there were children the candy made good, but at several places when he announced that he was a preacher admittance was refused.

BEAR HOLDS UP TRAIN

Animal Gets in Front of Freight and Delays Traffic.

Altoona, Pa., Jan. 5. — An almost frozen bear held up a freight train on the Pennsylvania road near Dunlo early this morning. While toiling up grade the engineer saw a black form on the track, and, thinking it a man stopped the train. When the gleam of the headlight flashed on the object it slowly arose and come toward the locomotive.

The engineer saw it was a bear and made an effort to start the train again as the pipes of the engine were fast freezing. While the train crew stood out in the snow and abused the animal bruin made a leisurely inspection of the locomotive and the engineer made futile attempts to start his train again, but it remained stuck until men with shovels helped the train out of the drifts.

The bear stood in the glare of the headlight for half an hour trying to get warmed, but, finding nothing doing in that line, ambled into the laurels.

SOLDIERS IN REVOLT

A Serious Outbreak Amongst the Hungarian Troops.

Vienna, Jan. 5. — In Trebinje and Bilek, in Hungary, a serious revolt has broken out among the troops, whose terms of service expired at the end of the year, but who were retained with the colors owing to the failure of the Hungerian Parliament to pass the annual recruiting bill. When the men were paraded they jeered at the officers after which they discarded their arms and went to the village where they caroused and created disturbances, shouting "we won't serve any longer." The soldiers then tore down the portraits of the Emperor and the Crown Prince. Finally the garrison was summoned and the revolters arrested.

THE ELECTION TRIALS

Postponed Owing to Coming Session of Legislature.

Toronto, Jan. 5.—The pending election trials in the four Norths, Center Bruce and Sault Ste. Marie will not take place on the dates recently fixed by the election judges. At Osgoode Hall yesterday morning the Liberal respondents in the different petitions took advantage of the privilege given them by statute of refusing to consent to a trial during the session of the House. Mr. Hugh Clarke, Conservative M. P. P. for Center Bruce, was the only respondent willing to proceed, but declined to do so unless all the other trials went on also.

STOCK MARKETS.

New York, Dec. 5—Noon.—No development of material importance transpired during the forenoon session today, and the market was relatively narrow and uninteresting. The feature of the market was the sharp advance in Alton preferred. Whether this advance was due to the knowledge that the suggested deal is going through, or merely to manipulation, remains to be seen. There are some evidences that the movement is not wholly a natural one, but in view of the fact that the stock is being accumulated in a blind pool, any developments are possible, it is intimated rather broadly in certain quarters that Clover Leaf is likely to follow Alton so far as market movement is concerned. Among the tractions there has not been animation. The railroad list generally has been steady, but without other specific features. The Steel stocks have been erratic, at times weak, and generally irregular. The minor Steel and Iron stocks, Car Equipment and Supply stocks have been heavy, and some evidence of pressure in that quarter has been noted. Specialties are comparatively neglected. The market has been generally dull, and it is likely to continue for the afternoon. Sales to noon were 204,000 shares.

LOCAL MARKET.

London, Tuesday, Jan. 5.

The market today was not very well attended, and with the exception of hay, oats and dressed hogs, there were not a dozen sleighs on the square during the morning with the small products of the farm. Sales were brisk and prices firm.

Grain—There was a fair supply of oats and they sold at 84c to 86c per cental.

Hay and Straw—There were nearly 40 loads of hay, and all had been sold with the exception of six or eight, by 11:30 o'clock. A couple of loads of straw sold at $5 per ton.

The supply of butter and eggs was exceedingly small; prices ruled as quoted.

A few bags of apples sold at 50c per bag.

Potatoes are held by the dealers and hucksters at 90c to $1 per bag; there were none on the market today.

The supply of poultry was light and prices were as quoted.

Dressed Hogs—There were about 75 carcases offered, selling at $7 to $7 50 per 100 pounds, only a few going at the last-named figure.

There was not a great deal of butchers' meat offered; some medium quality of beef sold at $6 to $6 50 per 100 pounds.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, Jan. 4.—About 600 head of butchers' cattle, a few small calves and 200 sheep and lambs were offered for sale at the east end abattoir today. The winds were fiercely cold, and the new covered cattle pens were greatly appreciated. The butchers were out in considerable numbers, and trade was fair, with prices a little higher than on last Wednesday, but not so high as they were two weeks ago. Prime beeves sold at from 4¼c to 4½c per lb; good mediums at about 4c; ordinary mediums at about 3½c, and the common stock at from 2½c to 3¼c per lb; the calves were small and sold at from $3 50 to $6 each; sheep sold at 3c to 3¼c and the lambs at from 4¼c to 4¾c per lb; fat hogs sold at from $5 to $5 40 per 100 lbs.

WITH PURSE OF MONEY

Mr. James Currie Presented by the Street Railway Employes.

Mr. James Currie, cashier of the London Street Railway Company, left today for Cleveland, where he is to take the position of secretary-treasurer of the Eastern Ohio Traction Company. The other day Mr. Currie was summoned to the car barns in East London, where he found a large number of the motormen, conductors and car barn employes assembled for the purpose of bidding him farewell and extending their best wishes for a successful future. On behalf of the employes, Mr. Charles Tolmie, of the office staff, read an address, expressing the regret felt at the departure of Mr. Currie. Mr. Tom Kerr, of the construction staff, presented Mr. Currie with a purse of money. The recipient made a suitable reply.

DEATH OF MRS. MARY BENNETT.

There entered into rest, near Kerwood, on Wednesday, Dec. 30, Mary Anne, beloved wife of James Bennett, county councilor of Middlesex. Mrs. Bennett had been confined to her bed for nearly four months, first with typhoid fever, terminating in stomach trouble. She was born Nov. 15, 1844, in the Township of Metcalfe, and was the only daughter of the late Cornelius Hull. She was married to James Bennett, also of Metcalfe, in June, 1866. They resided in Metcalfe until seven years ago, when they moved to Adelaide Village, and had occupied their present residence since last spring. Of a cheerful, kind-hearted disposition, Mrs. Bennett was greatly beloved by all who came beneath her hospitable roof. Her hand was ever ready to help the distressed and destitute, and many will miss her kind assistance. As a wife she was sympathetic and loving, a true helpmeet, to her now sorrowing husband. To her children she was an affectionate mother, and they can truly "rise and call her blessed." She died peacefully, trusting in the love of her Saviour, to await the resurrection of the just. She leaves to mourn her loss besides her husband, five children: James, of Kerwood; Cornelius, of Metcalfe; John, of Sarnia; Mrs. Harry Mueller, of Toledo, and Annie at home; a niece, Nellie McDonald, adopted in infancy, and a brother, George S. Hull, sen., of Kerwood. The funeral, which was a very large one, took place on Friday, Jan. 1, to the Strathroy Cemetery, and was conducted by Rev. L. W. Reid, Methodist minister of Kerwood. The pallbearers were Messrs. William Armstrong, of Strathroy; John Hughes, of Napier; Robert Morgan and Henry Freer, of Kerwood; Fred Barrett and Joseph Brent, of Adelaide.

In Paris a youth attempted to kill his father in order that as a widow's son he might escape conscription.

NO IMPORTANT CHANGES MADE BY OFFICIAL COUNT

City Clerk Makes His Official Declaration — Will Be Scramble for Chairmanships.

At noon today City Clerk Edwards made known the official count of the votes polled in Monday's election. The figures do not change those of The Advertiser in regard to the mayoralty, Mr. Beck securing 2,863 votes and Dr. Campbell 2,445, the mayor's majority being 421.

The official figures for the water commissioners are as follows: J. W. Jones, 2,174; Wm. Jones, 2,588; and J. W. Pocock, 2,442; Mr. Pocock polling 268 more than Mr. J. W. Jones, who was defeated. There are no changes in the votes for school trustees.

The votes polled by the aldermanic candidates were as follows:

ALDERMEN-ELECT.

Matthews	2,245
Becher	2,160
Judd	2,018
Gerry	2,015
Wyatt	1,976
Cooper	1,940
Garratt	1,919
Stevely	1,302
Forristal	1,883
Greenlees	1,861
Abram	1,773
Greer	1,695

THE DEFEATED CANDIDATES.

Buchner	1,598
Carson	1,613
Dreaney	1,150
Heal	172
Murphy	1,670
Park	1,084
Saunders	1,682
Stevenson	1,651

So far none of the successful candidates have taken the oath of office. The city council will meet on Monday next, Jan. 11, at 11 o'clock in the morning, for the purposes of organization, when in all probability the proceedings will be opened with prayer by Rev. Canon Dann, of St. Paul's Cathedral.

If any of the candidates desire recounts they have fourteen days in which to make applications, after which time, if no recounts are ordered, the ballots will be burned.

THE CHAIRMANSHIPS.

The unwieldy Conservative majority on the council board will, in all probability, have some trouble deciding upon who shall be appointed to the chairmanships of the several committees. By all rights of precedent, Ald. Matthews who headed the poll, is entitled to any chairmanship he desires, and also to be appointed acting mayor in Mr. Beck's absence. This will be a bitter pill for many of his Tory colleagues to swallow, for many of them look askance upon Ald. Matthews and his self-styled designation, "The People's Dick." Rumor has it today that in view of his unexpected success at the polls, Mr. Matthews will humbly put forth a claim for the chairmanship of the board of works. Alderman Cooper and Garratt are also said to have an eye upon the same chairmanship, and Ald. Wyatt is understood to be averse to letting the chairmanship slip through his fingers this year. Ald. Judd is said to be slated for and satisfied with the chairmanship of No. 1 committee, which handles the finances of the council, and the chairmanship of No. 3 committee will probably go to one of the gentlemen who have their hands out for the chairmanship of the board of works, and whose ambitions must be satisfied in some way. Thus it looks as though the chairmanships will yet cause trouble in the council's little nest.

BUSINESS OF THE YEAR.

The most important problem with which the city council will have to deal this year will probably be the matter of Niagara power for London, and the defraying of the city's share of the costs of the commission. Of course most important business is liable to spring up at any moment.

Mayor Beck has a scheme on foot which he intends to place before the council as soon as possible. It is his worship's idea that it is a mistake to elect aldermen for one year only, as just when the aldermen are beginning to understand civic business they are liable to be defeated. He thinks that the mayor as well as the aldermen should be elected for two years, the same as are the school trustee, the hospital trustees and in future the water commissioners.

If the mayor's scheme goes through six of the present aldermen will retire at the end of the year, drawing lots to see who shall do so, and thereafter but six alderman will be elected each year. The elections will also be held on New Year's Day.

THE MAYORALTY CANDIDATES.

Mayor Beck and Dr. Campbell were around the city hall at noon, and both received many handshakes from friends. The doctor's defeat did not bear heavily on him and he was bright and cheerful.

The mayor would say nothing about the election other than what is contained in his statements made in his speech of last night.

Today Mr. Beck received a telegram of congratulation from Mayor Urquhart, of Toronto. His worship also received a pictorial postcard from Sydney, New South Wales, signed: "From an Old London Boy, Who Extends Best Wishes." Nobody around the city hall has any idea who sent the card on its long journey.

SIZING UP THE RESULT.

The result of Monday's vote as far as the aldermen are concerned, puzzles civic experts. Ald. Matthews' success astonishes his own friends much more than it does those politically opposed to him, and several city fathers are listening to the probable causes which led to the big vote with the air of men willing to study and try the new method. That Ald. Matthews has burned Roman fire in an extravagant manner all year, all who have attended the council meetings are well aware, but nobody appeared to have any idea that he would be so successful. Already certain of his own party workers are beginning to discern in Ald. Matthews an aspirant for the mayoralty, and already, it is said, they are picturing in the mind's eye how they will "kill" him off. Ald. Abram's defeat was looked upon as sure even by his own party, and his election is also a great surprise. Many people thought Ald. Wyatt was in for a beating also, but he, too, came out on top.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE FOR MARTIN MURRAY; HE HAD BEEN DRINKING

Otherwise Magistrate Thought He Would Not Have Stolen — Numerous Cases.

Police court lasted an hour and a half this morning, there being several cases on the docket. The case of Thos. F. McCarthey, charged by Herbert Howard with the theft of money from the C. P. R. station at Fort William, was again adjourned to give the prosecution time to bring witnesses from Fort William, if the Attorney-General will consent to the crown bearing the costs.

Martin Murray came up for sentence. He is the young man who with a companion took a young woman driving on Christmas night and then took her purse with some money in it. The magistrate said he was satisfied that if the defendant had not been drinking he would not have committed the offense. The girl had also laid herself open to censure for going with strangers. Murray was allowed to go on suspended sentence, his previous character being good.

A charge of disorderly conduct was registered against William Watson, Thomas McDonald and David Jackson, but it was withdrawn, the chief pointing out that the plans for a "time" were nipped in the bud, and no disorderly conduct had taken place.

Edgar Foxworthy and George Buller had taken Dundas street as a convenient place and Christmas night as a convenient time to have a horse race. They were fined $1 each for immoderate driving.

James Nolan was heavily fined for fighting in a hotel—also on Christmas night. He was not satisfied with fighting, but talked back to the policeman, so was fined $5 or 20 days.

William J. Winslow was arraigned on a charge of stealing. The young man pleaded not guilty. The crown was not ready to go on, and the trial was set for Thursday.

Considerable time was taken up with the case of Dote Webb, charged by Mr. George Kelly, his employer, with using grossly insulting language towards another cigarmaker, Miss Kate Barkner. He pleaded not guilty, but it was shown that for some time he has been troublesome in Mr. Kelly's shop, where he has yet some of his apprenticeship to serve. Other girls were said to have left on his account. The boy claimed it was all spite work, and said Mr. Kelly threatened "to mash his brains out," to which the latter retorted that he did not think defendant had any. Such pleasantries were indulged in for some time and the court finally decided to postpone sentence for a week, in which time the defendant will have an opportunity to go back to work and do what is right.

HORSE PLUNGED INTO THE SIDE OF A GRAND TRUNK LOCOMOTIVE

Accident at the Rectory Street Crossing—John Anderson, of Derwent, Seriously Injured.

The Rectory street crossing of the Grand Trunk Railway was the scene of another accident between 10 and 11 o'clock this morning, in which John Anderson, a farmer residing near Derwent, Dorchester Township, met with injuries which, though serious, are not expected to prove fatal.

Mr. Anderson was driving to the city at the time. He was accompanied by his wife, and was proceeding north on Rectory street. As he approached the crossing, passenger train No. 63, in charge of Engineer Cripps, of this city, and Conductor Tasselton, of Stratford, pulled into the yard and slowed up for the east end station. Whether Anderson's horse got beyond the control of the driver is not known. At any rate, the animal ran headlong into the side of the locomotive, and was thrown around and into an ash-pit some distance west of the street line. It was removed with difficulty, and found to have escaped with very slight cuts about the legs and nose.

The rig was overturned, and the occupants both received injuries. Mr. Anderson was the more unfortunate of the two. He suffered from cuts on the face and head, and the doctors are unable to say yet if he has sustained a fracture of the skull. He was unconscious when picked up, and remained in that condition for several hours. Mrs. Anderson sustained a severe shaking up, but escaped without any broken bones. She suffered somewhat from shock.

The crossing watchman is unable to account for the accident, except that the horse was unmanageable. The flag was waved to Anderson to stay back until the train had passed, and the bell on the locomotive was ringing.

Anderson was removed to the city hospital in the ambulance, where he was attended by Drs. English and Drake.

COLDEST SNAP IN MANY YEARS WAS EXPERIENCED BY LONDONERS

Thermometer Registered 22 Degrees Below Zero During the Night—Heavy Frost Did It.

...ther last night, the like of which they have not experienced in five or six years, and do not want to have again in a hurry.

The lowest point reached by the thermometer at the official observatory was 22 degrees below zero. That was at 2 o'clock in the morning, and for several hours there was very little change. It was one of those biting colds that chilled a person from head to foot, no matter how warmly he may be clad. Fur hats and heavy overcoats did not appear to be sufficient to keep it out, and after the election returns were received, there were few people on the streets unless they could not avoid it. Policemen got so far into their fur hats and big overcoat collars that little of their faces was exposed to the frost, and it was not an uncommon thing to see an officer going along his beat with his gloved hands over his face to save it from being bitten by the frost. The men on the railways who were working in the yards or on the through freight trains suffered not a little, the men in the yards having an advantage over the other class by reason of the fact that they were almost continually on the move, whereas the brakemen on the freights could not keep themselves warm by exercise of that kind.

The thermometer commenced to drop early in the evening, and at 8 o'clock the mercury in the bulb was at 8 degrees below zero. A thick heavy frost set in about this time, and with very little or no wind it gradually grew more severe. At 2 o'clock in the morning the thermometer reached 22 degrees below, and it hovered around that point until 9 o'clock this morning, when it had only moderated to the extent of 2 degrees. After that hour the mercury went up rapidly.

The severe cold made it impossible to operate trains on time. Engines would not "steam" well, and consequently they had to haul smaller loads to make reasonable runs or attempt to carry the regular tonnage and drag along. Several of the passenger trains were hours late — few of them were anywhere near the schedule.

GRADUATING RECITAL.

At the London Conservatory of Music, which has reopened after the vacation, a graduating recital was given last night by Miss Louisa Pascoe, of Woodstock, A. L. M. C. Miss Pascoe is one of Mr. Barron's most clever graduates and her graduation programme was varied and difficult, but accomplished in a masterly manner. It was as follows: Sonata, op. 2, No. 3, (Allegro con. Brio Adagio, Scherzo, Assai, Allegro), Beethoven; Scherzo, op. 39, Chopin; Rigoletto (paraphrase), Verdi-Liszt; Toccato and Fugue, Bach-Tausig; Rhaphodie Hongroise, No. 4, Liszt.

SPOKE AT MASSEY HALL.

Evangelist T. L. Belcher, of this city, at a temperance meeting held in Massey Hall, Toronto, on Sunday, declaring alcohol to be the greatest of world's conquerors. The liquor habit, he said, was the anarchist of the working classes. It was the great enemy of the nation. For half an hour the speaker held the interest of his audience as he narrated, out of his experience on the road, the terrible result that had come to many well-known commercial men because of the habit of using intoxicating liquors. In the evening Mr. Belcher occupied the pulpit of the Queen Street Methodist Church for Rev. Dr. Tovell, preaching to a large congregation.

Vera's Love Affair

CHAPTER V.

But the wood, all close and clenching
Bough in bough and root in root—
No more sky (for over-branching)
At your head than at your foot—
Oh! the wood drew me within it by a glamor past dispute.

But after all they had not to face the foe in any form. Mr. Dysart, it appears, on a closer knowledge of his habits, never eats in public, and indeed for several days after their arrival the girls do not see him again. By degrees it is forced upon them that life at Greycourt is likely to be a very monotonous affair, with no possible opening for change of any sort. They find themselves driven into a little narrow ring, bound everywhere by absurd regulations, beyond which they must not stir. To girls born to a rather pronounced freedom, such restrictions are galling in the extreme.

Rigid simplicity, according to Mr. Dysart—rigid meanness, according to Griselda—is the order of the day. Dinner, instead of being served at the decent orthodox half-past seven, is on the table at two sharp—thus luncheon is saved; and, when served, resolves itself into two small—exquisitely dressed, certainly—but very small chops. No accessories. The chop, in fact, is the dinner pur et simple, unpleasantly simple.

To two healthy, youthful people, however, this curtailing of the established elaborate meal goes for little, save as a thing for surprised comment first and for laughter afterwards. But after a while the monotony of it offends.

"If it might even be cutlets one day," says Griselda, when a week of unvaried chop has gone by. No soup, no fish, no pudding. One etcetera, indeed, is allowed; the butler, and with him a dish, containing three potatoes—one for Vera, one for Griselda, and one over, in case either of them should have appetites so voracious as to require it. Could generosity go further?

They are, however, as I have said, sufficiently young to care little for the culinary goods the gods provide; and one great source of joy at least is theirs; at none of these sumptuous banquets does their uncle (wise man!) appear. How he spends his days — what occupations, what enjoyments are his, they never know; one thing, however, they discover, that, dead as he may be to the human world around him, however soured his heart, it is still open to the divine influence of flowers.

Beyond the parterre that had met their eyes when first they arrived, they discovered later on a small but perfect garden, through which a tiny streamlet rushes merrily on its joyous way to the broad river down below; a garden where myriad blossoms live and thrive and bloom, as it seems to Vera, as never flowers bloomed before, casting with every breeze their scented breaths upon the air. Such a delicious, old-fashioned spot! A very world of sweetness. That it should belong to Gregory Dysart, that it should touch or affect that cold and sordid nature in any way, seems to Vera inexplicable. Rather it would seem to her that such gentle things as flowers would fade away and shrivel up and die beneath the glance of those wicked, scorching eyes. But,

"In all places, then, and in all seasons,
Flowers expand their light and soul-like wings;
Teaching us, by the most persuasive reasons,
How akin they are to human things.

"And with childlike, credulous affection,
We behold their tender buds expand,
Emblems of our own resurrection,
Emblems of the bright and better land."

How Mr. Dysart regards them, and what lessons they teach him, there is nothing to show; but every evening, when the sun has gone down, and the air is yet warm with the memory of it, the old man emerges from his den, and slowly now, and now with quickening footsteps, walks from flower to flower, his face, so unearthly in its pallor, bent towards each delicate blossom.

The deaf old coachman is, they discover, gardener as well, in name, the real work being done by a young man, called Bob, who has grown up at Greycourt, from boy to man, and who still works on there at the original wage, though he has long ceased to give only a boy's labor—not without grumblings, however, and much discontent.

Today has arisen in an unwonted splendor. Even through the eternal shadows that encompass the garden, and past the thick yew hedge, the hot beams of the sun are stealing.

"A day for gods and goddesses," cries Griselda, springing suddenly to her feet, and flinging from her on the green sward the musty volume she had purloined from the mustier library about an hour ago. That library, too, had failed them; no book of any value, no book that could fetch even a meager price, has there a home. It has been well weeded out, and the marketable portion of it sold. "Away with such fudge as that. Come for a walk, Vera, into those green woods yonder; see how temptingly cool they look."

"Uncle Gregory said something, did he not, about our not leaving the garden?" says Vera with hesitation.

"I'm always sorry I'm so deaf," with a mischievous little laugh. "I never hear things like that. And besides—a fig for Uncle Gregory! An old fossil like that shouldn't dare preach to a lovely young creature like me."

"Do not make acquaintance with your neighbors," said he; "that is all of his dark sayings that I have taken to heart. I say, Vera, do come. Do, now. Here, I'll pull that book out of your hands if you don't."

"Oh, don't, don't," laughing. "To tell you the truth, it isn't so much a decent awe of Uncle Gregory as a dislike to exertion on this hot day that keeps me chained to this spot. There, go, if you will; but don't stay away too long."

"Perhaps, I'll never come back. The spirit of adventure is full upon me, and who knows what demons inhabit that unknown wood? So, fare thee well, sweet, my love! And when you see me, expect me." She presses a sentimental kiss upon her sister's brow, averring that a "brow" is the only applicable part of her for such a solemn occasion, and runs lightly down towards the hedge. Half-way there, however, she looks back. "Vera, Vera, if I shouldn't be back in time for the succulent chop, eat mine, too. If you don't, some horrid thought tells me we shall have a rechauffe tomorrow."

She runs through one of the openings in the hedge, crosses the graveled path, and, mounting the parapet, looks over to examine the other side of the wall on which she stands; after which, she commences her descent. One little foot slips into a convenient hole in it, and then the other into a hole lower down, and so on, until the six feet of wall are conquered and she reaches terra firma and finds nothing between her and the desired cool of the lovely woods.

With a merry heart she plunges into the dark, sweetly-scented home of the giant trees, with a green, soft pathway under foot, and, though she knows it not, her world before her.

It is an entrancing hour. Nay, it gets to hours; and all so full of life and warmth and beauty, that she forgets to count time; so that it is only when she has gone a long, long way into the heart of this exquisite wood, and when the sun has traveled very low down in the heavens, and many miles lie between her and Greycourt, that she wakes to the fact that her hands were not formed to carry any more ferns, and that she has lost her way, and doesn't know how on earth to get back to Vera.

She has stopped short in the middle of a broad green space encompassed by high hills, though with an opening towards the west, when this uncomfortable conviction grows clear to her. She is not of the nervous order, however, and keeping a good heart she looks hopefully around her.

STANLEY CUP STAYS AT OTTAWA; WINNIPEG LOST THE LAST GAME

Londoners at the Whist Congress at Hamilton--Senior City Hockey League Games to Start.

HOCKEY.

THIS IS A BAD CRACK.

It looks as if there won't be much Peel to the chimes that ring in O. H. A. circles this season, at least that's the opinion shared by the good people of London, Ont. — Toronto Telegram.

MIGHTY THUNDER SPEAKS.

Toronto Telegram: By the way, these bank matches do not seem to be creating much stir in hockey circles this winter. Have you noticed that? In fact, it is said that this association is not going to do nearly the business it did in bygone days. There was a time in the days of "Blondie" Gilmour, Gordon Crawford and a few others of the faithful that the rink side was filled to overflowing by the fair sex, who cheered their favorites on to victory; but that seems to be a thing of the past, and the youth and beauty of this ere town are passing up the Bank League for the O. H. A. schedule matches. In fact, it is said on good authority that it won't be long before the Bank League will go out of business. There is a feeling among the players that they would sooner play in a recognized association like the O. H. A., an association that has some standing in the community. The winning of a cup in the O. H. A. means something to a club, while in the Bank League it means little or nothing. Hardly any one bothers with a Bank League match, and the sooner they come into the big association the better it will be for them.

By the way what's the matter with Gordon Crawford this season and why is he not out with the London team? Crawford used to be one of London's main stays, but for some reason he has so far not shown up.

BARRIE ENTERS SENIORS.

At a meeting held in Barrie it was decided to make application to the O. H. A. to play in the senior series. Secretary Hewitt has received their application and it will be considered at an early date. Barrie is in group 7, section A., of the intermediate series with Collingwood. Section B. is composed of Midland, Victoria Harbor and Penetang. If Collingwood will consent to go in with section B, Barrie will likely be taken in the Toronto section of the senior series with thee St. Gorge's and Marlboros.

FRONTENACS OUT OF O. H. A.

Kingston, Ont., Jan. 4.—The Frontenacs have dropped out of the senior series of the O. H. A. Recently three of the best men left the city and to fill their places the best of the Beech's Grove-Frontenac's would be added This would weaken the junior team so badly that the Frontenacs retired sooner than do that, especially as the juniors are likely to be in the running for the championship. By this withdrawal it is now likely that the schedule can be arranged to end on Jan. 30.

OTTAWA WINS THE CUP.

Ottawa, Jan. 5.—Ottawa hockey team proved its right to the Stanley Cup last night, when they defeated the septette representing the Winnipeg Rowing Club by 2 goals to 0, at Aberdeen Rink in about the most brilliant exhibition of hockey ever seen in the capital. From commencement to the conclusion it was a bitter struggle for supremacy and during the first half both teams resembled winners.

PALMERSTON DEFEATED

Mount Forest, Ont., Jan. 4. — In the first league game played tonight at Palmerston, Mount Forest defeated Palmerston by a score of 4 to 3.

THE NORTHERN SCHEDULE.

Mount Forest, Ont., Jan. 4.—Schedule of games to be played in Northern Hockey League: Wingham at Mount Forest, Jan. 5; Palmerston, Jan. 3; Harrison, Feb. 4; Harriston at Wingham, Jan. 11; Mount Forest, Jan. 22; Palmerston, Feb. 9; Palmerston at Harriston, Jan. 7; Wingham, Jan. 25; Mount Forest, Feb. 5; Mount Forest at Palmerston, Jan. 11; Harriston, Jan 14; Wingham, Feb. 1.

ST. JOHN'S AT WATFORD.

The St. John's will take a good team to Watford tonight, when they meet the team of that place in the second of their scheduled games. The match will likely be an interesting one.

FIRST GAMES TOMORROW.

The first games in the Senior City League will be held on Wednesday night at the Jubilee rink, when the Seventh team and the Aberdeens meet in the first game and the St. John's and Y. M. C. A. in the next. This was decided at a meeting held last night. The names of Dr. J. B. Campbell and Bert Sheere were added to the executive. The rest of the schedule will be drawn up at a meeting to be held tonight. The teams are said to have large followings and the attendance at the games should be good.

WHIST.

THE HAMILTON CONGRESS.

The New Year's Whist Congress of the Hamilton Whist Club was a most decided success. Visiting whist players from Toronto, London, Woodstock, Brantford, Welland, Pittsburg, Dundas, and Port Huron participated in the games.

The following schedule gives the names of the winners of the different events:

Thursday night — Howell Compass—J. Levy and J. S. Wallace, plus 8; W. H. Robins and G. R. Judd, plus 8; J. T. Crawford and Dr. Burt, plus 7; H. L. Frost and F. C. McBurney, plus 6.

Friday morning—Howell Compass—Trasher and Wilcox, London, plus 11; Lapatnakoff and Brennan, plus 9; Coulthard and Garratt, plus 8; Frost and McBurney, plus 5.

Friday afternoon—Fours championship, north and south—Wallace and Gallagher, plus 10; Logan and G. H. Levy, plus 7. East and west—Wilcox and Young, London, plus 7; total 17; Burt and Crawford, plus 5; total, 12.

Friday evening — Mitchell Compass—North and south—G. R. Judd and W. H. Robins, plus 9; Mrs. Meyer and W. F. Patterson, plus 7; A. Levy and J. D. Wilson, plus 6. East and west — J. S. Wallace and R. C. Sinclair, plus 14; M. G. Gould and W. McBrayne, plus 6; W. Logan and G. H. Levy, plus 6.

Saturday morning — Howell Compass — J. Levy and Logan, plus 9.6; F. W. Magee and Patterson, London, plus 8.8; Sears and Lapatnakoff, plus 3; R. Sinclair and Manning, plus 1; A. Gallagher and Miss McIntosh, av.

Saturday afternoon — Howell Compass—R. Sinclair and A. E. Manning plus 7; Seymour and Dean, plus 4.4, Frost and M. Burney, plus 3. Mixed pairs—J. S. Wallace and Mrs. E. Beeton, plus 8; F. R. Martin and Miss Jessie Gartshore, plus 8.

THE TURF.

YESTERDAY'S TURF WINNERS.

At New Orleans—Reckoner (Helgerson), 7 to 10; Jompino (Hennessy), 9 to 5; Dusky (Gannon), 5 to 2; Footlight Favorite (Higgins), 5 to 1; Big Ben (Robbins), 7 to 5; The Messenger (W. Fisher), 9 to 7.

FEWER LIGHT WEIGHT RIDERS.

The ranks of the first-class jockeys are somewhat depleted at present, and the prospects for success are not very brisk. Many of the riders who have attained prominence in the riding world have either become too heavy to ride or have gone to Europe for good, and there are none to take their places. The most serious trouble is the weight problem, and many of the jockeys have suddenly increased in weight, and owners are afraid to sign them for longer than a few months.

TREVELYAN'S NEW JOB.

Francis Trevelyan has been engaged by the Chicago Jockey Club to succeed Frank J. Bryan as presiding judge of the Hawthorne race track. The appointment of associates and other persons connected with the judicial end of racing at Hawthorne will be left to Trevelyan. The latter is a turf writer by profession. He is an Englishman by birth, and is a prominent turf critic in his own country. He has also served several New York newspapers both with reports from the races run in this country and in England. His last newspaper connection in this country was with the Morning Telegraph, of New York, for which he was correspondent last season. At the end of the turf year he returned to England, and is now there.

HARD LUCK TALE OF RACE HORSE

Was Beaten by a Head When $10,000 Against $50 Was Depending On Him.

"Talking of hard luck stories," said an eastern trainer at New Orleans recently, "I can spin you a yarn, and it is not all hard luck, either. Last spring I saw a colt that I thought might be a prospect, and I bought him for $500. He was royally bred, and a tough, wiry customer. I sent him along in his work with the rest of my string, and did not think much about him until one morning he showed me a quarter in .24 and a fraction. That interested me. Shortly after that he worked so well that I made up my mind I had a good one, and I thought I might as well try to get a price against him when I sent him to the races.

"I started him at Aqueduct, and got an indifferent boy to ride him. He had never been to the post, although he had schooled well to the barrier, I was afraid he would run green, but I had a little bet on him at 300 to 1. I told the boy to go on with him and do the best he could, but if he saw he was beaten not to punish him. It was a big field, and my colt got away last, which, of course pleased me, because it was his first try, and I did not want to show him up. Well, around the far turn that colt ran over his horses as though they were standing still. He went by half a dozen of them in as many strides. In the stretch the boy hit him once with the whip, and he came like a house afire, finishing bang up fourth. Fortunately, he was on the extreme outside in a head finish between four or five, and nobody noticed him.

"When the boy dismounted he said: 'That colt can run. If I had hit him again, he would have beaten them horses.' A couple of weeks later I got him in a race at Aqueduct with the same boy up. I bet $50 on him against $10,000 to win, and $50 against $1,000 to show. Some of my friends among the trainers knew a little about him, and I told all of them that I thought he was worth a small bet. This time he got away well, rushed to the front, and opened a lead of six or eight lengths on his field. The boy got overconfident at the finish, and something or other slipped up and beat him a head. If he had gone on about his business I would have won my straight bet, as well as the show. The lucky angle to the story is that subsequently I won two races with the youngster, getting 15 to 1 against my money on one occasion. Then I sold him for $4,000. His feet were bad, and I feared he might go wrong on me. I wish now I had kept him." — New York Telegraph.

MADE HIM SIT UP

Wm. Doeg's Rheumatism Wouldn't Let Him Lie Down to Rest—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

Sundridge, Ont., Jan. 4. — After four years' torture from Rheumatism, Mr. Doeg, a farmer living on con. 3, Strong township, is entirely free from his old enemy. Dodd's Kidney Pills did it. Mr. Doeg makes the following statement regarding his cure:

"The trouble started in my back and spread to other parts of my body. The pain got so bad I could not lie down to take rest, and had to sit night and day in a chair.

"I was treated for Rheumatism by several doctors and tried different medicines without getting relief. I thought I would never again be free from pain.

"Then I started using Dodd's Kidney Pills and before I had finished the second box all my pains had gone. They have never come back; I am a new man."

DYNAMITE AT A DANCE

Five Hundred Dancers in Mad Panic, Many Seriously Hurt.

Woodbridge, N. J., Jan. 5.—An explosion wrecked the hotel and hall of Joseph Galaida and more or less seriously injured 30 persons at Keasbey, while St. John's Benevolent Society was celebrating its anniversary by a dance. There were 500 people in the hall, and they became panic-stricken and fought to get out, many being trampled on and seriously injured. Galaida was burned about the head and his wife became unconscious. Gertrude Eilon had one eye destroyed, her nose broken and her jaw dislocated. Michael Ponger had his right arm torn off at the elbow. Dynamite used by some aggrieved person is believed to have caused the explosion.

DESTROYED BY FIRE

The Windsor Methodist Church Burned Down.

Windsor, Ont., Jan. 5.—Lack of water pressure and equipment baffled the Windsor fire department in its attempt to save the old Windsor Avenue Methodist Church at Windsor avenue and Chatham street, which was destroyed yesterday morning, only the brick walls and massive towers remaining when the flames had died out for lack of fuel.

The destroyed building was erected in 1873, and its value is placed at about $33,000, including the $2,000 organ and contents. The insurance is $15,000, and this will barely pay the debt of $13,000 on the property. The congregation is practically no better off financially than it was when the church was built 30 years ago. The work of raising money to rebuild will begin at once, according to the trustees.

MR. J. C. FROST

A Victim of Severe Headaches and Bilious Attacks.

Mr. John C. Frost, Toronto, Ont., a sufferer for fifteen years, writes thus: "I have been subject to severe headaches and bilious attacks for the past fifteen years. During that time I have been doctoring, and have also tried different patent medicines, but nothing seemed to give me relief. Last winter, after suffering with neuralgia for about two months, I started to take Paine's Celery Compound, and before the first bottle was finished my neuralgia was completely cured. I have now taken six bottle, and am very pleased to inform you that my old complaints have also entirely disappeared, and I feel like a new person."

FROZEN TO DEATH

Three Boys Caught In Blizzard Succumb to Cold.

Bay Port, Mich., Jan. 5.—Jay Loundsberry, aged 11; Glen Loundsberry, aged 9, and Dan Dutcher, aged 11, wandered out on Wild Fowl Bay on Saturday forenoon, about 10 o'clock, intending to visit the fishing shanties that dot the bay three miles from shore. Finding the shanties locked, they started to return home, and were overtaken by one of the severest blizzards that this section has ever known. Losing their way they wandered aimlessly around, their tracks showing them to have been at one time about 100 feet from Sharptein Point, near Bay Port Beach. Changing their course they traveled toward Heisterman's Island, going only a short way before they succumbed to the cold. Seaching parties did not find them until 8 o'clock Sunday morning. The two Loundsberry boys were lying close together, frozen stiff, the Dutcher boy about ten rods away.

Two Boy-Drunks.

Toronto, Jan. 5. — Two lads from Guelph, the oldest 17, both wearing short trousers, fell into the hands of the police. They were so drunk they could not tell their names.

Big Gambling Raid.

Toronto, Jan. 5. — The police Sunday night raided what is believed to be the largest Chinese gambling den in the city, at 103 Queen street west. The names of 110 Chinamen were taken and of three white women. One of the latter was arrested. She gave the name of Madge Wilson, Alfred street, Brantford.

LONDONERS AT ARKONA.

Two of London's vocalists and Miss Anthistle, elocutionist, achieved a great success in the annual concert at the Baptist Church, Arkona, on New Year's night. Mrs. Arthur E. Brown, whose singing at last year's concert gave such unbounded satisfaction, again delighted a large audience by her rendering of each selection. Miss Mabel Mountjoy, contralto soloist, was a stranger to Arkona, but she created a very favorable impression. Miss Anthistle's elocutionary efforts were a marked feature of the concert.

LONDON AND DISTRICT

—Miss Beatrice Sales, of Tilbury, is visiting friends in this city.

—Miss Sarah Murdock, of London Junction, has been visiting her sister Mrs. (Rev.) Gilmore, of Blenheim.

—Some escaping steam from Merritt's cigar store was mistaken for fire and an alarm sent in last night. The firemen were, of course, not needed.

THE THORNDALE MISSION

Rev. Arthur Murphy commenced the mission on Sunday in St. George's Church, Thorndale, with an address on the Holy Spirit. He showed that the Holy Spirit was not an influence, but as much a person as the Father or Son. The character of the Holy Spirit was defined as joy, courage, sweetness, unselfishness, and sanguineness. The manner in which the Holy Spirit performed his work was emphasized as taking the things of Christ and revealing them unto mankind.

MACKAY—WELLS.

A very happy event was celebrated at Hamilton on Thursday evening last when Miss Emma Wells, of that city, was united in marriage to Mr. George Mackay, of Thamesford. Rev. Canon Bull, of Hamilton, officiated in the presence of over one hundred guests from Hamilton, Thamesford, London, and Niagara Falls. The many presents to the bride testified to her popularity in her own neighborhood. After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Mackay left for Toronto and Lindsay, followed by the best wishes of their many friends.

MISSION TO LEPERS.

The regular monthly meeting of the London branch of the Mission to Lepers was held in the Y. W. C. A. rooms Monday afternoon. The opening exercises were conducted by Mrs. McMechan, who gave a most instructive Bible reading. An interesting article on the condition of the leper asylum at Sabbathu was read by Miss Tarrey. The sacred solo "Praise Ye the Lord," was acceptably rendered by Miss Gunn. Miss E. Davis, of William street, was appointed secretary of the society for 1904.

RESTLTS OF THE MUNICIPAL VOTE

votes, and yesterday Ald. Matthews was at the top with 2,245. In 1902 the lowest candidate, ex-Ald. Douglass, was elected by 1,830 votes, and this year Ald.-elect Greer, the lowest candidate, was elected by 1,695. Ex-Ald. Saunders is thus defeated by a very narrow majority.

The occupations of the new aldermen are as follows: Abram, builder; Becher, physician; Cooper, auctioneer; Forristal, manufacturer; Garratt, contractor; Gerry, builder; Greenlees, lawyer; Greer, manufacturer; Judd, lawyer; Matthews, printer; Stevely, merchant, and Wyatt, merchant.

The slain of last year's council are Messrs. Stevenson and Saunders, both of whom worked conscientiously for the city's good all through the year. The defeat of Lieut. T. J. Murphy, the well-known lawyer, comes as a surprise to his many friends, who felt sure of his election. However, Mr. Murphy did not canvass a vote, and took his defeat good-naturedly. Mr. U. A. Buchner, another lawyer, made a very good run, and increased his popularity by the large number of votes he polled.

Nine of the aldermen are Conservatives and three are Liberal.

WM. JONES AND POCOCK

Successful in the Race For the Water Commissioners.

Though a sweep did not take place by any means in the election of water commissioners, the methodical operation of the Conservative machine again did its work, Messrs. William Jones and John W. Pocock being elected, and Mr. John W. Jones, a Liberal, who was crowded off the court of revision by Mayor Beck and his friends to make room for a Conservative, was defeated. Two years ago Mr. Pocock was a candidate for water commissioner, but was defeated. This year he fortunately, from his point of view, was placed upon the Tory slate, and met with success. When Mr. Pocock made known his candidature to the public he was looked upon my many as an independent, and he in consequence received many independent votes which combined with the machine influence behind him, elected him over Mr. J. W. Jones.

Mr. Pocock also announced to the public that he was out to oppose filtered river water for London, and that a vote against him meant a vote for river water. Apparently this argument also bore fruit in pulling votes, the people seemingly being under the impression from Mr. Pocock's statements that the commissioners of last year were in favor of river water and nothing else, whereas up to the present no move has been made to shove a filtered water plant onto the public. It was merely proposed some time ago to lay the matter before the electors and allow them to say what they proposed to do to increase the water supply of London. Mr. Jones' defeat is a surprise to his many friends in London, as well as a loss to the city, for he was a faithful, honest and untiring worker in the city's interests.

There was no election for the water commission a year ago, the Messrs. Jones taking office by acclamation. In 1902, however, Messrs. John W. Little, Wm. Jones and J. W. Pocock ran, and the vote was as follows:

Little	2,987
William Jones	2,934
Pocock	2,316

A comparision of the figures shows that the vote for water commissioners this year is much smaller than two years ago, the total for 1902 being 8,287, while for 1904, the total is 7,204.

Yesterday was the last occasion upon which the people of London will be called upon to elect two water commissioners, for at the close of the present year under the new law, the commissioners elected yesterday must draw lots to see who retires, and the people will thenceforward be called upon to elect one water commissioner each year.

The following table gives the vote by subdivisions in each ward, and also the totals:

RE-ELECTED TO THE COUNCIL

A THREE-CORNERED FIGHT

Wm. Yates Won in Ward Three—Chairman Hamilton Re-elected.

The contests for school trustee in wards 2 and 3 resulted in the election of two Conservatives. In ward 2, Mr. Rupert W. Rennie did not canvas to any great extent, and was easily defeated. He had for an opponent Mr. W. T. Hamilton, an old timer in municipal and school matters, and who was last year chairman of the board of education. Mr. Rennie's vote, therefore, is not one to be ashamed of.

In ward 3, the fight was a very interesting one. For business reasons, Mr. Thos. Evans, who had represented the ward on the school board for several years, was compelled to drop out, and the Conservative Club hastened at once to secure a man to fill his place. The choice fell upon Mr. Wm. Yates, well-known in municipal matters, and his name was placed upon the club's ticket. Running against Mr. Yates were also Mr. Harry Clark, a well-known labor man, and Mr. A. E. Welch, a popular citizen. For years Mr. Clark was a consistent Conservative worker, but he was turned down by the club's wirepullers recently, and sought to even matters by opposing the club's nominee. In this he does not appear to have been very successful, as he polled a large labor vote, which would in all probability have gone to Mr. Welch, had Mr. Clark not been in the field, whilst the Conservatives voted the straight party ticket, electing Mr. Yates by a good majority. In ward 3 in 1902 Mr. Thos. Evans beat his opponent, Mr. Wm. Burleigh, by 653 votes. In ward 2, the same year, Mr. Hamilton defeated his opponent, Dr. Hodge by 260 votes. Yesterday's vote was as follows:

WERE FORMER RESIDENTS.

One of the pretty weddings of the season was celebrated at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Dewar, 352 Howard street, on Thursday afternoon, when their daughter, Miss Ellen B., was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. W. Johnston, of Cleveland, O. Dr. Charles L. Arnold, of St. Peter's Church, officiated. The bride wore a gown of white French batiste, trimmed with valenciennes lace and white satin and carried a shower bouquet of violets and bride's roses. The bride's sister, Miss Lillian Gertrude, acted as bridesmaid, and wore white dotted Suisse, trimmed with Irish point, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Mr. R. J. Wright acted as best man. The young couple, both of whom are former Londoners, spent their honeymoon with relatives in this city, and left for their home in Cleveland this afternoon.—Detroit Free Press.
