THREE ADMIRALS AND ALL
STAFF OFFICERS CAPTURED.

Three admirals and all staff officers captured; two first-class battleships captured; injury to Japanese vessels insignificant, all being still engaged in operations.

We would not belittle Togo's vast achievement, but these despatches throw a new light upon the opposition which he had to overcome. "Three admirals and all staff officers captured!" This does not make a flattering commentary upon that Russian courage which so deeply stirred the responsive nature of Senator Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, says the Detroit Journal.

One has only sympathetic respect for the people who go down to defeat, however disastrous, while fighting bravely, but what fighting the Russian ships waited to do against Togo has not been shown forth thus far in the despatches. One can forgive bad judgment, poor equipment, wild marksmanship; it is hard to forgive surrender without resistance, such as this seems to have been. Had the tide of battle turned, would three Japanese admirals and their staff officers have surrendered? Would fighters of the Togo school have surrendered two first-class battleships?

It begins to look as if we should have to make over our estimate of the morale of the Russian nation. For centuries Russia had been a terra incognita to the rest of the world. And the world has brooded and fed upon the mystery. The Russian estimate of Russian prowess has been accepted; we have come to accept the "invincible Russian advance" as actually invincible. The little information that a benighted government allowed to pass its borders only served to increase our superstitions. It is human to reverence and fear the unknown. We sobered at the mention of the czar and the "secret police." We shook our heads at the mention of the Russian warships and actually paled at the suggestion of "Cosaks." But we have been disappointed by a country less than one-half the size of Texas which has humbled an empire that occupies one-sixth of the land of this terrestrial globe.

No doubt the three admirals and their staff officers who surrendered will be court-martialed—court-martialed by those who did not go to the front themselves. That, however, will restore to the world the ill-founded awe which had been all these years accumulating. Life seems to be very sweet in Russia, while to the rest of the world cowardice continues to be a thing abhorred.

GEN. CRONJE ON WAR.

Decorates Graves and Tells Children to Survive For Peace.

New York, June 1.—Because of their exertions in five performances yesterday it was impossible for the veterans of the Anglo-Boer conflict to carry out their plans to visit Greenwood cemetery in a body and decorate the graves of the soldiers. Gen. Cronje, however, insisted on carrying out the program, and a detail from both the Boer and British contingents acted as his guard of honor. The British Lt.-Colonel, under Capt. Franklin, and the Boers, under Commandant Boshoff, accompanied him.

Gen. Cronje was recognized by the children at the cemetery and said to the little ones:

Children, when you place these flowers on the graves of the men who fought and died for their country, remember that, although war is often necessary, it is the most dreadful thing on earth. When you grow to be men and women do everything in your power to make war impossible on this earth.

An Odd Wedding Custom.
A unique wedding custom prevails in Manchuria. The bride and her attendants, all mounted on stilts, proceed through the main streets of the village to the domicile of the groom, who meets the procession and conducts it to the place where the ceremony is to be performed. He and his friends are also on stilts. Social prominence is indicated not by richness of attire, but by the height of the stilts worn by the assembled guests. The higher the rank of the wedded pair the loftier the stilts they wear. If, as sometimes happens, the contracting parties are of differing social standing the effect is more than usually ludicrous.

Having Fun After Death.
A humorist in Japan who joked all his life told his friends when he was dying that his body was not to be washed after death, but was to be taken at once to the family temple to be cremated. When he died his instructions were followed. As soon as it was set on fire the mourners were astonished by several loud explosions. At first they were inclined to take to their heels, but curiosity got the better of fear, and careful inspection showed that the humorist had stowed away a large number of fireworks about his person before his death.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

At The Grand—

THE VERNON STOCK CO.

The Vernon Stock Co. opened a three nights' engagement at the Grand last night, playing the sensational drama, "The Slaves of Opiam." Mr. Benj. B. Vernon took the leading role as Fang Low, a rich, educated Chinaman, and he deserved much praise for his exceptional good work; while Miss Dottie Green as Maggie Murphy, and Miss Dot Jewell as Marie Lyndon, the flower girl, both ably supported Mr. Vernon. The balance of the company, which is a large one, are all well versed in the work, there not being a weak member in the cast. Much laughter was caused by R. B. Horne, who took the part of Dainty Willie. The vaudeville part of the program was perhaps the best enjoyed by the large audience, and it might be said that some of the acts are superior to any seen at the Grand in long while. Miss Dottie Green sang two songs, "Coax Me" and "You must think I am Santa Claus," with favorable electrical effects, which made the audience scream with laughter. The Julian Bros., the acrobatic team, did some very clean work.

The moving pictures and illustrated songs were of the best. Mr. John Wicks as a buck and wing dancer has no equal, which was proven to the audience. To-night the bill is a funny farce comedy, entitled "The Strange Adventures of Miss Brown," with all new vaudeville acts.

To-morrow there will be a special ladies' and children's matinee at 2:30 p. m., "Miss Hurrey, from Jersey." To-morrow night that western comedy-drama, "In Montana," will be presented.

In presenting the great comedy, "A Friend in Need," next Monday evening for the Stoddart Stock Co.'s initial performance, the management positively guarantees that the play has never been seen here and is one of the late eastern successes, a bright and sparkling comedy without a dull moment, absolutely devoid of all horseplay. A clever comedy in the hands of a clever company of comedians, including Leah Stoddart, W. L. Stewart, Frank Sorocak, Otto S. Kiehl, J. Arthur Nelson, Geo. T. Serrel, Wm. Lee, Francis Greene, Al. Waldon, Bessie Whitney, Ethel Von Osthoff, Cora Lee Jefferson, Madeleine Goodwin, Alice Greene and the Leo Sisters.

A special vaudeville feature, incidental to the play, is Waldron and Whitney's sensational aerial ladder act.

A carload of special scenery is carried by the Stoddart Stock Co., and all productions will be given at the same prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents. Ladies will be admitted free Monday night upon the usual conditions.

ENJOYABLE RECITAL

The piano and vocal pupils of Miss Margaret Trotter, at Florence, gave a very successful recital in that place last Wednesday evening. Those who assisted in the program were Miss Gertrude L. Hart, of Appleton, Wisconsin, and James Trotter, basso, of Chatham.

There was a very large audience present, who were delighted to hear the talent displayed by the pupils, which spoke volumes for the excellent training given by Miss Trotter. A large number from Chatham attended the recital.

DISTRICT DOINGS

BLENHEIM

June 1.—At Raglan, on May 27th, the wife of Mr. Geo. Armstrong of a son.

Last evening one of the most successful concerts ever held in town was given by the Ladies' Military Minstrels under the auspices of the W. A. M. A. of Trinity Church. To single out any particular one would be an injustice to the others. The drill and chorus, Our Own Canadian Boys, was well done. The ladies wore black skirts and red jackets, the regulation cap, and carried their guns, costume. The Canadian Sailor Boys, was much appreciated by the large audience. Great credit is due to Mrs. Q. F. Goulette, whose painstaking efforts brought the concert to such a successful issue in every way.

Mrs. James Brink, of the Gore Line, is quite sick. Mrs. H. W. Edmunds and son and Miss Peacock, returned on Tuesday from Lismore, where they have been visiting friends.

Mr. E. G. Thompson is in Toronto and Montreal this week on business.

CUBAN DIARRHOEA.

U. S. soldiers who served in Cuba during the Spanish war know what this disease is, and that ordinary remedies have little more effect than so much water. Cuban diarrhoea is almost as severe and dangerous as a mild attack of cholera. There is one remedy, however, that can always be depended upon, as will be seen by the following certificate from Mrs. Minnie Jacobs, of Houston, Texas: "I hereby certify that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured my husband of a severe attack of Cuban diarrhoea, which he brought home from Cuba. We had several doctors, but they did him no good. One bottle of this remedy cured him, as our neighbors will testify. I thank God for so valuable a medicine." For sale by All Druggists.

WALLACEBURG

June 1.—Miss Mairie Gird, of Sarina, visited Miss Maude McKelvie this week.

Mr. Claude McDougall is visiting relatives and renewing old acquaintances.

Miss Maude McKelvie entertained a large number of friends on Monday evening in honor of her guest, Miss Mairie Gird. A very enjoyable evening was spent.

The funeral of Mrs. Luce, mother of Mrs. William McKelvie, took place on Tuesday afternoon last. It was attended by a large number of friends. Mrs. Luce was an old and much respected citizen.

Early Tuesday morning the ashery on Marsh avenue was burned, the flames sounding at three a. m. calling many to the place. The lumber company which took place last Wednesday night on the agricultural grounds was attended by a large number. The game was between Dresden and Wallaceburg. Up to the third quarter the score stood 1-3, making the game fast and close. During the last quarter the local team scored four goals, making the score 8-3 in Wallaceburg's favor.

A large crowd visited Detroit today per steamer "Winona."

Owing to special services in the R. C. church the separate school is having a holiday.

Miss Irene Mount, of Chatham, is the guest of Miss Margaret Ooh-rane.

Miss Olojet Brent left this week for her home after spending a couple of years in town as operator for Mr. J. A. Burgess, agent for the Dominion Express Co. Miss Ida Husband has returned from Deseronto and accepted the position.

The skull in the souvenir window at Colwell's book store is proving a great attraction.

A WANDERER

Remarkable Case of a Little Child Who Likes to Take Strolls in the Country

A remarkably queer case of a little colored girl named Willard has come under the attention of the local police authorities. This little girl, who is only about ten years old, is in the habit of running away from home and staying away for some time, never giving any warning to her parents and depending upon the charity of the people whom she meets for her food and clothing.
She generally chooses the country for her rambles, and a short time ago she was found a good many miles up the creek by Bruce McKinley. At the time she was wandering along the road, and McKinley asked her where she was going. She said her father and mother were dead and she was alone, and friendless, which was an absolute creation of her fertile little brain. She refused to give her name, and McKinley brought her into Chatham to the police, where she was identified as a daughter of E. J. Willard, the painter, who at this time was wondering where his little daughter could have gone.
The little girl was taken home to her parents, but she didn't remain there long. On Sunday afternoon she made her appearance in St. Paul's Sunday school about five miles up the creek. James McCormick, the keeper of Harwich, was there and after hearing her story took her to John Houston, who brought her into town. Mr. Houston and once more she was returned to her anxious parents who seem to be utterly unable to keep her at home.
Yesterday she was missing from home again and a report comes from D. McEachy, of Harwich, that a little colored girl about ten years old called there and that at Everett's end and said she was an orphan. They took her in, gave her a good meal, because she was almost starving at the time, and also gave her a lot of clothing. They wanted to know what to do with her. The little girl, however, said she was the same little wanderer, and once again she will be returned to her parents. She is a bright, clever little thing but evidently has a mania for roaming around through the country. An effort will be made to keep her at home this time.

Non-Coms. tonight to-night.

BROKE IN

Burglars Make a Haul of $3 From the Ark and Try to Rob Another Store.

Once again petty thieves come on the scene in Chatham and raid a couple of stores, and although they did not make very big hauls one Chatham merchant has the uncomfortable feeling of knowing that a thief was prowling around inside his store early this morning before it was time to open up shop.
This morning Mr. Wilkie, the head salesman at the Ark, came down town at the usual time and opened the store. A customer came in and made a purchase, and when Mr. Wilkie went to the register to make change he found it empty with the exception of three coppers. Upon an examination of the premises it was found that the window in the rear door had been broken and the window between the front and back shops had also been broken. The thieves had taken in all about $3, and had left about 60 cents worth of stamps and three coppers in the till, and one cent on the floor. Nothing else was missing, so that the thieves are not much better off to-day than they were yesterday.
Some person or persons, supposedly the same gang, tried to break into Drew & McCallum's hardware store also last night. They tried to pry the back door open with a crowbar, but were evidently scared away, as they left the bar in the crack of the door. The door of the hardware store was barred securely, but the rear of the Ark was not very well protected.

The police report that there are several stores in Chatham with the rear doors poorly protected and burglars have an easy time breaking in. A few bars across back windows would make the job far more difficult.

NO NEW POLES

There was a meeting held this morning for the purpose of finding out the number of poles needed for the electric railway. There were present at the meeting representatives for the city, the Chatham Gas Co., and the electric railway. The electric railway got the permit to use the Gas Company's poles on King street as far as possible. They also were allowed to use the city's poles in any part of the city. This was done for the general appearance of the city, as if the railroad had to put in new poles there would have been a great many on the public streets.

What a Gas Stove Brings To

Husband—Meals on time, well cooked and delicious. Good humor, wifes at meal time as well as other hours of the day. Increased bank accounts through decreased fuel bills.
Wives—Release from the drudgery of cooking. Well fed, good natured husbands. Saving of time at meal hours. Kitchens as neat as drawing rooms.
Daughters—Opportunities for securing "any young man's" affection. Take your "Prince Charming" to the kitchen some evening and let him help you make a cup of cocoa on the gas stove. If that experience doesn't make him anxious to possess a nice gas stove and a pretty home of his own with you as general manager, nothing will fetch him.

EXPLOSION WAS VIOLENT.

Bomb Thrown At Alfonso Injured Ten Persons—His Majesty Leaves Paris—Assassin Known

Paris, June 2.—Before his departure for Chalons yesterday, King Alfonso attended ascension day service at the Church of St. Etienne. Rigid police measures were in force along the route followed by the young monarch. Accompanied by President Loubet, his Majesty left Paris at 3:30 a.m. for the camp at Chalons-sur-Marne to review the troops of the Sixth army corps. Everywhere he was the recipient of tremendous ovations, as Wednesday's outrage evoked a national sentiment of affection and sympathy for the young monarch.
The front of the Louvre, facing the Rue de Rivoli, shows three distinct traces of the projectile. The violence of the explosion was so great that particles of the bomb were found on remote portions of the roof of the Louvre.
The number of injured has reached ten, including several who were struck while watching the procession from balconies.
"Never give up" is the motto of a lot of men, especially when they are seated in a crowded car.

ON CAPE TO CAIRO LINE

GREAT ACHIEVEMENT, WORLD'S HIGHEST BRIDGE.

Spans the Rapids of the African River Zambezi Below Victoria Falls and is Now Nearing Completion—Bridge Had To Be Self-Sustaining at Every Stage of Its Erection.

The bridge spanning the rapids of the African river Zambezi below Victoria falls is nearing completion and constitutes another wonder of engineering. Railroad trains on the Cape to Cairo road will pass over the Zambezi by means of this bridge. Owing to the method of construction adopted, every stage of its erection. The plan pursued was to push two arcs of the span out from the river banks simultaneously, fasten them in place and keep on pushing others out until the two sections of the span should meet in the centre. The height above the river was too great to permit of the erection of scaffolding, and falling workmen and tools were caught in a traveling rope mesh and canvas cradle.

The Victoria falls somewhat resemble the falls of Niagara, but are on a grander scale. They are over a mile wide and about 400 feet high, or about two and a half times the height of Niagara falls. The bridge is across the gorge in front of the falls and within reach of their spray.

Near the Victoria falls are the massive coal deposits known as the Wankie fields, from which it is estimated enough coal can be taken in the next ten years to pay the entire cost of the Cape to Cairo railroad.

JAPAN'S SOCIETY LEADER.

Characteristics and Achievements of Marquis Oyama's Wife.

Marchioness Oyama, wife of the Japanese Napoleon, was a precocious high school pupil. When only ten years old, she won a western education at the expense of Japan. Going to the United States in her eleventh year, she was prepared for Vassar College in a Connecticut private school, at twenty-one was a Vassar graduate, at twenty-two the wife of Baron Oyama, and now, in her forty-second year, is recognized as the most versatile woman in the Empire. She won fame years ago as an expert fencer, swimmer and horsewoman. As a student of botany, zoology and foreign languages she is in the first rank.

The marchioness is the foremost authority in her country on Shakespeare. Her intimate knowledge of German and French quickly sent her to the head of society in Tokyo, and foreign-ers of distinction who have attended her receptions regard her as one of the most brilliant of women.

Despite her Yankee education, the marchioness selected England as the school home for her two daughters and a son. Marquis Oyama studied military tactics in Paris, taking a three years' course. The two years following in England in the observation of the English army won him many warm friends there, which was the prevailing reason in sending the children to British schools.

Curious Japanese Cult.
A curious cult has sprung up in Japan in memory and honor of Newton, which numbers in its members the professors, graduates and students of the mathematical, astronomical and physical classes of the Tokyo university.

This society has no president. A portrait of Sir Isaac presides over its meetings. It keeps no records or minutes, but its simple traditions are handed down from year to year. An entertainment is provided by the second year students, assisted by those of the first year. Each professor is expected to make a little speech, which may be historical, scientific or whimsical, but in no case must it suggest the blackboard, for the gathering is essentially social.

The annual festival of this eastern cult is Christmas Day, which in the year 1643 was Newton's birthday.

A New Anaesthetic.

Particulars of a new and painless anaesthetic are published by the Petit Journal of Paris. This drug, which is obtained from a plant found in Japan, has been named "scopolamine." It is administered by hypodermic injection, and has the effect of inducing deep sleep for eight or nine hours. Scopolamine, it is claimed, is far superior as an anaesthetic to any of the drugs at present in use for the purpose of operation and has absolutely no after effects.

The Piano and the Nerves.

A Berlin physician says that out of 1,000 girls who played the piano before the age of twelve years he found out of the same number who did not play the instrument he found but 100 cases. The author of these experiments states that the piano should never be used by a child before the age of sixteen years and only two hours a day at the maximum.

OPERATION AVOIDED

EXPERIENCE OF MRS. GLENN
She Was Told That an Operation Was Inevitable. How She Escaped It.

When a physician tells a woman suffering with ovarian or womb trouble that an operation is necessary, the very thought of the knife and the operating table strikes terror to her heart, and our hospitals are full of women coming for ovarian or womb operations.

There are cases where an operation is the only resource, but when one considers the great number of cases of ovarian and womb trouble cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after physicians have advised operations, no woman should submit to one without first trying the Vegetable Compound and writing Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice, which is free.

Mrs. Robert Glenn, of 434 Marie St., Ottawa, Ont., writes:

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so well and widely known that it does not need my recommendation; but I am pleased to add to the many which you have in its favor. I suffered untold agonies from ovarian troubles for nearly three years, and the doctors told me that I must undergo an operation; but as I was unwilling to do this, I tried your Vegetable Compound, and I am only too glad to say that I did so, for it restored me to perfect health, saving me the pain of an operation and the immense bills attending the same."

Ovarian and womb troubles are steadily on the increase among women. If the monthly periods are very painful, or too frequent and excessive—if you have backache or swelling low down in the left side, bearing down pains, leucorrhoea, don't neglect yourself; try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Provident Animals.

All birds of the crow tribe, rooks especially, exhibit a tendency toward winter-like squirrels and some other animals—to lay up a store of provisions for their sustenance against a season of scarcity. While jackdaws select holes of trees and old buildings to store away such provisions, rooks convey their way to their rookeries. There in last season's nests they deposit them. Toward springtime, when they begin thinking about setting their houses in order, they visit their rookeries and when rebuilding their nests throw out the unused stores. Thus it is we often find an accumulation of acorns, potatoes and what not on the ground under their nests.

An Ancient Tunnel.

Tunnels are no new things in history. The only known inscription in early Hebrew records that the conduit which conveys water from a spring to the pool of Siloam, on the west side of Jerusalem, was like the Simpson tunnel, cut from both ends of the intervening ridge. But the Hebrew workers miscalculated, and while there should have been still three cubits (about five feet) to excavate they heard the voices of the workers in the other tunnel, as there was a deviation of the line, which should have joined.

WHEN CURED YOU PAY ME

The fact that you could not be cured may have deterred you from taking honest treatment or you may have been one of the unfortunate who have been treated in vain by inexperienced physicians, free treatments, free trial samples, patent medicines, electric belts and other similar devices. Such treatments cannot and will never cure you, nor will these medicines cure themselves. When I offer you a cure, and am willing to risk my professional reputation in curing you, I expect you to have been treated in vain by other physicians. I should convince the skeptical that I mean what I say, and do exactly as I advertise, as I am positive of curing you in the shortest possible time, without injurious after-effects. My charges will be as low as possible, for conscientious, skillful and successful services, and my guarantee is simple and true. Not a dollar need be paid until cured. I have 12 diplomas and certificates from the various colleges and boards of medical examiners, which should be sufficient guarantee of my standing and abilities. It makes no difference what failed to cure you; it will be to your advantage to write to me for my opinion of your case, which I give you free of charge. I want to hear from patients who have been unable to get cured, as I guarantee a positive cure for all general, nervous, blood and skin diseases, which I treat for treatment. I do not cure the condition itself, but likewise all the complications, such as rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles, blood poison, physical and nervous debility, lack of vitality, stomach troubles, etc. All medicines for patients are prepared in my own laboratory, and I will send a booklet on the subject which contains the 14 diplomas and certificates, entirely free. Address simply, Dr. S. Slocum, 305 Woodward Ave., Suite 311, Detroit, Mich.

ALMOST SILENT VISIT

KING EDWARD'S PARIS SOJOURN
SIGNIFICANT AND IMPORTANT.

His Majesty Was Heartily Welcomed, Not Only Because Paris and Her Royal Guest Understands One Another, But Because of the Kaiser's Recent Blow Aimed at France—Paris Feels Compensated.

The last week has belonged to the King of England, writes the world-known Parisian correspondent, M. Cornely. His presence among us has been heartily welcomed, because Paris and her Royal guest understand one another. In a half a word or even in silence King Edward has given us his presence and his good humor as compensation for the last blunder of Emperor William. He has played for us the part of comfort, for which the Tsar is sorely suited, that poor unfortunate Tsar who is hindered to-day by all sorts of troubles heaped upon him; the Tsar who is obliged to keep his soldier retreating before the Japanese and to employ against his own subjects those that remain at hand; the Tsar who is thus hindered with a peasant rising in the country and insurrection in the towns.

The visit of the King of England is, moreover, all the more significant and important, inasmuch as, by an innervation which has been much appreciated, the Ambassador of the United States in presenting his credentials to M. Loubet congratulated France on her alliance with England as that of a new tie between French blood and Anglo-Saxon blood. These ties are numerous and strong. France became fused with England in the Norman conquest, the Americans in the English, so the new Ambassador and President Loubet did not go beyond the bounds of historic truth when they showed that the American Republic and the French Republic are united like sisters.

Book Hunger in Children.

Observers of the likes and dislikes of children in books offered them for entertainment have noted that the little ones nowadays are the sharpest of critics. It is found difficult to please and difficult to fool a reading boy or girl. They may appear to find life in books as they know it, and they at least insist that it shall be natural and true, according to their standard. Moralists recall the fact that the didactic literature of the past had a sobering effect upon young readers.

There are a hundred books to-day aimed at young peoples' tastes, where there was one fifty years ago, and perhaps from their nature books of to-day attract readers in the same ratio. Biographers of celebrated people often press the fact that their subjects were hungry for books and made progress by reading. There is more book hunger in this age among adults than in the past, more stimulus and more food, but reading with grown folks is not restricted to literature which will build character. People read for pastime and are as often displeased as pleased with a book which they read to the end.

It is for adults to decide what books may add to the growth of children. Little folks cannot see so far ahead. They can, however, tell what soothes their feelings and what rouses them, and their reflections about the boys and girls must with in the books are very keen. A mind that will be molded by contact with playfellows will be impressed by the characters in books if they are realistic. Modern books for the young have young characters on the boards. The more wholesome the lives depicted the nobler the lesson, and the rule will work the other way as well.

Vitality of Mosquito Eggs.

According to the investigations of Prof. John B. Smith, it is not so easy to destroy the mosquito as some persons imagine. The eggs of the salt marsh mosquito, for instance, may remain in dried mud for months and yet the eggs of the last autumn brood hibernate. The consequence is that the first spring mosquito swarms is the largest of the season, and migrating adults of this brood live until September, swarming the number of midsummer mosquitoes.

Power in Dead Leaves.

The use of dead leaves, straw or hay as a source of power is the latest contribution to practical science made by French experimenters. Henri de Parville, writing in the Journal des Debats, Paris, vouches for the truth of this announcement. The experiments are being carried on by M. S. Bordene, who has found it possible to produce enough gas by the combustion of vegetable matter to run a small but serviceable motor. The different materials used were straw, leaves, hay, etc., compressed into bales.

Stamping Glass Tumblers.

An electrical apparatus for stamping glass tumblers invented by a Liverpool official enables one man to stamp 1,200 glasses an hour, while by the old system two men could only turn out between them about 500 glasses an hour.

Rapid Circulation in the "Bison" Heater

The expansion of hot water in the heater causes circulation. If the water heats at the bottom first, it cannot circulate till the water in the upper sections is also heated. Most heaters heat the bottom water first.

The "Bison" heats the water at the top first.

That is why it gets almost instantaneous circulation of hot water into the radiators—it is one of ten reasons why the "Bison" is the best heater.

NO REASON YOU SHOULD GIVE UP

Because Your Indigestion has Become Chronic—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Will Cure It Just the Same.

If your indigestion has turned to dyspepsia and become chronic (that is, no reason you should despair). Others just as bad as you have been cured by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. Take the case of Mrs. James Bradley, of Smith's Cove, Digby, Co., N. S. Here's what she says about it herself:

"I had dyspepsia for nine years. I tried the best doctors in the place and never found relief. I had to starve myself from eating. No tongue can tell what I suffered. I bought six boxes of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and before I had finished taking them I could eat most anything and sleep comfortably."

There is no need to comment on a statement like this. It's true. What was done for Mrs. Bradley has been done for thousands of others. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will do it for you.

The Bulldog's Nose.

Froude told Dr. Boyd an interesting little anecdote of an Oxford undergraduate who was asked in an examination in Paley's "Evidence" if he could mention a solitary instance of the divine goodness which he had discovered for himself. "Yes," he replied, "the conformation of the nose of the bulldog. Its nose is so broad that it can hang on to the bull and yet breathe freely. But for this it would soon have to let go."

NO SATISFACTION IN EATING.

Food does you no good. You can't digest—consequently you're afraid to eat; tongue is coated, mouth tastes bad, stomach is bloated. Pretty soon you'll be overcome by weakness and nervous prostration.

Best prescription for your condition is Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Bismuth. For dyspepsia and indigestion it is doubtful if any remedy will ever be devised. These pills bring the strength and vitality to the stomach and digestive organs; they build up the general health and instill such vim and vigor, restoring power into the system that sickness is impossible; try Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

The Ideal.

It is in making endless additions to self, in the endless expansion of its powers, in endless growth in wisdom and beauty, that the spirit of the human race finds its ideal. To reach this ideal culture is an indispensable aid, and that is the true value of culture.

CHARMING FEMINITY.

Famous beauties pay particular attention to the purity of their blood, knowing that nutritious blood means soft, delicate skin, bright eyes and enduring nerves. Those whose looks are so delightful, use Ferron's, because it's the exact food needed to tone and stimulate the blood. Ferron's invigorates, braces, feeds, it makes those delicate, vivacious women so pleasant to meet. You'll have the rosy bloom of health, dash and spirit, the satisfaction and joy of true health after using Ferron's. You should get Ferron's to-day. It's everywhere in 50c. boxes.

What a splendid type of tireless activity is the sun as the psalmist describes it, burning like a bridegroom from his chamber and rejoicing like a strong man to run a race. Every man ought to rise in the morning refreshed by slumber and renewed by rest, eager for the struggle of the day. But how rarely this is so. Most people rise still unrefreshed, and dread the strain of the day's labor. The cause of this is a deficient vitality and behind lies a deficient supply of pure, rich blood, and an inadequate nourishment of the body. There is nothing that will give a man strength and energy, as will Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It does this by increasing the quantity and quality of the blood supply. This nourishes the nerves, feeds the brain, builds up enfeebled organs, and gives that sense of strength and power which makes the struggle of life a joy. The "good feeling" which follows the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" is not due to stimulation as it contains no alcohol, whiskey or other intoxicant. It does not brace up the body, but builds it up into a condition of sound health.

RECORD OF A LIFE-SAVER.

Late Charles Nurse of Toronto Said to Have Averaged One Rescue a Year For Forty Years.

Charles Nurse, life-saver and 30 years ago one of Canada's most prominent athletes, died the other day at his hotel, Humber Bay, Toronto, of rupture of the muscles of the heart, which commenced to bother him one day when he went to the assistance of a man named Morrison and a team of horses. The team was hauling sand, and it got into the river just near the bridge. Nurse ran across the bridge with a heavy coil of rope, when he was attacked with very severe pains. At the beginning of December, he was sent to the hospital, where he stayed till the middle of February. He was found for a week or two, and then had to take to his bed again. He has been sinking for the past three weeks. There are probably a score or more of people living in the vicinity of Toronto now who owe their lives to the ability of Charles Nurse as a life-saver. During the 40 years Mr. Nurse has been resident at the Humber, he has been the hero of many thrilling adventures in the uncertain waters of Humber Bay, and has averted many tragedies. His friends estimate that he has saved on an average one life a year. He used to say he couldn't understand the foolishness of some of the Humber Bay pleasure-seekers, and he could spot people who seemed to be going to get into trouble. It was the good fortune of many that his watchful eyes had been working.

Mr. Nurse was an eyewitness of several tragedies, and has recovered many bodies. His services were always sought after a drowning accident in the Humber vicinity, and if he could not find the body of the unfortunate no one could.

Although many of Mr. Nurse's acts of valor were unrecognized, he has many valuable mementoes from people he rescued. For years he has proudly carried a handsome gold watch which was presented to him by Dr. Ellis and Barristers, Delaney and Black, whom he rescued during a gale soon after he was established at the Humber. Mr. Nurse also has the Royal Humane Society medal and a bronze medal presented to him by Lord Dufferin.

Among Mr. Nurse's valued presents is a watch chain, which he has worn for many years. It was presented to him in gratitude by William Fitzgerald and R. Crothers, for his gallant services to them at the great Humber disaster 20 years ago, when by a collision of a freight and passenger train 30 lives were lost. The service rendered by Mr. Nurse in this lamentable disaster in assisting the injured out of the burning carriages, and alleviating their suffering was highly commended.

Referring to the Humber disaster, Mr. Fitzgerald said: "Charles Nurse was the only cool man there that morning."

Charles Nurse was born in Malden, Kent, in 1842, so he was 62 years of age. In the old country he was a toolmaker, and was an athlete of some prominence. From his home he went to Brighton, where he received a nautical training that has been of great service to him and of benefit to many others when they were in peril in Toronto waters. He lived in Brighton for eight years, during which time he got special recognition from the Royal Humane Society for demonstrating the best method of saving life from drowning. This was in a contest open to all corners. A dummy man of about 150 pounds weight was provided. A strong ring, made of India rubber, was tightly sewn on to the body of the dummy and the ring was attached to a hoop in a place of iron of sufficient weight to sink the dummy to a depth of nine or ten feet below the surface of the water. Each competitor, when he diverged for the dummy man, had to unhook it from the iron, otherwise, even if he brought it to the surface, he could not hold it. The additional weight of the iron attached making the whole preternaturally heavy. The start was made from the shore from which there was a swim of about 50 yards to where the dummy was moored; it then had to be diverged for and brought to the surface, and swam with a buoy 75 yards distant, on which the swimmer was to land it. Nurse sailed outclassed all other competitors, which included several old country experts, among them being Mr. Cavill, who had accomplished the feat of swimming the English Channel. From the start to the time of bringing the dummy to the surface, after the first dive, only occupied two minutes, and Nurse then carried the dummy to the landing buoy in 3 minutes and 25 seconds.

The winning of this recognition from the Royal Humane Society is considered a high honor to any navigator. For four years Nurse held the championship for swimming and diving in Brighton. Mr. Nurse became expert as a foot runner before he came to Canada in 1871. In all his foot races from one to ten miles he was eminently successful. He defeated the running celebrities of the day with ease. In 1873 on the College street cricket grounds he defeated the famed Indian runner Keronawa in distance of one, two and four miles. He was a popular athlete and in addition to his running prowess acquired a colonial reputation as an expert diver, swimmer and canoeist. Many indeed are his trophies, including several handsome pieces of silverware won in England and many medals won in Canada.

Post Detroit's Surrender. Two old letters written by Gen. William Hull of the United States Army in the war of 1812, before the surrender of the post of Detroit, have come into the possession of C. M. Burton, of Detroit, a collector of antique letters and documents. They are said to contain preliminary offers from Gen. Hull to surrender the post. It has been supposed that Gen. Hull's surrender only followed Gen. Brock's show of force and demand for surrender. The letters were found in Toronto among a heap of ancient papers. At the court-martial of Gen. Hull following his surrender of Detroit it was estimated, Mr. Burton says, that such letters existed, but they were not produced.

The deepest sounding yet made in the ocean to the Aldrich depth-sound was 26,930 feet deep.

TO STOP A CRYING BABY.

Babies cry because they are sick. It may be a pain in the stomach, colic, or cramps—but in any case a few drops of Nerviline soothes away the distress and allows the baby to sleep peacefully. Where there are young children there should also be Nerviline. It cures all the minor ailments just as promptly as the doctor, and not so expensive. For nearly fifty years Foleon's Nerviline has been the great household remedy of Canada. Sold everywhere in large 25 cent bottles.

POPE PIUS X.

His Policy Has Already Wrought Extraordinary Changes in the Vatican's Foreign Relations.

Pius X. has brought about such extraordinary and radical changes in the domestic and foreign policy of the Vatican since his accession to the papal throne that there is plenty of good ground for attaching importance to the report now current, both at Rome and at Vienna, to the effect that the Pontiff has intimated to Emperor Francis Joseph and to other Catholic sovereigns that they must come to Rome and visit the quinal without any danger of finding the gates of the Vatican closed in their faces, writes Marquis de Fontenay. Pius IX., after the loss of his temporal power, and Leo XIII. throughout his entire reign declared that while they were quite ready to receive the visits of any non-Catholic sovereigns or royal personages they would not countenance any Catholic monarchs or princes or princesses of the blood holding communication with the royal family of Italy at Rome, that these illustrious personages must choose between the head of the church and the King of Italy, and that if they crossed the threshold of the quinal during their stay in the Eternal city they would only find the doors of the Vatican closed in their faces but papal nuncios would be withdrawn from their courts.

It is for this reason that Emperor Francis Joseph has until now been prevented from returning at Rome to the King and Queen of Italy the visit paid to the court of Vienna in 1873 by the late Victor Emmanuel I., and nine years later by King Humbert and Queen Margherita, a delay which has profoundly affronted the Italian people and the Italian Government. It was for this reason, too, that the King of Portugal, deposed as he was to his uncle, King Humbert, was debarred from attending either his silver wedding or his funeral, and why the Italian court, in one word, has been boycotted by all foreign reigning houses professing the Catholic faith.

Pius X. has been sagacious enough to realize that this policy was not only useless but also that it served to irritate foreign courts and the Italian people against the church, and there is no doubt that the papacy will derive increased prestige, influence, and popularity by throwing open the doors of the Vatican to foreign Catholic rulers, and by encouraging them to visit Rome irrespective of their relations with the quinal.

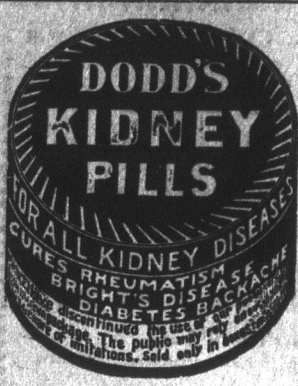

Only a few years before the death of Leo XIII. the papacy demanded of Austria the recall of its ambassador to the Vatican for no other offense than that he had invited to either a dinner or to a reception at his palace a number of the diplomats accredited to the quinal, and a noble guard who had been indiscreet enough to allow some of his relatives belonging to the court of the quinal to call upon him at the Vatican and subjected to all sorts of disciplinary measures.

Now, however, the most friendly relations are tolerated between the members of the two courts, and at a charitable amateur entertainment the other day at the Argentina theatre, at which Queen Helena was present, the adjoining boxes being occupied by great dignitaries of the Vatican, one of the chamberlains of the King came before the footlights, with one of the noble guards of the Pope, to sing a duet, which was one of the features of the evening. There are few of the gentlemen and ladies in waiting of the King and of the two Queens who have not been within the last few months to the Vatican to pay their respects to the Pope and to receive his blessing, and the utmost cordiality prevails between the dignitaries of the two courts, the Government and its officials lavishing demonstrations of respect and regard upon the prince of the church.

Moreover, Pius X. is acquiring a popularity among the people at Rome which Leo XIII. certainly never enjoyed. The late Pope touched no responsive chord of sympathy in the heart of the Roman and Italian masses. Most of the lives lived without setting eyes upon him, while all the others ever saw of him was when he was borne past them, shoulder high, on the portable throne through avenues of guards in St. Peter's. Pius X., however, preaches to thousands of them in the open air in one of the huge courtyards of the Vatican every Sunday. He receives not only the great but also the humble people. His doors may be said to be open to every one. Sometimes huge cohorts of people are permitted to wander through the gardens, where the Pope will happen among them, talking to them kindly, and he has managed to get into such close touch with the masses that were he to make his appearance in the streets of Rome he would be hailed by the public with the most enthusiastic tokens of affection and devotion, whereas there was always an apprehension during the reign of Leo XIII. that if he had ventured forth out of the Vatican he might have been subjected to the outrageous indignities that were offered by the populace to the remains of good old Pius IX. when borne to his last resting place. Indeed, they narrowly escaped being hurled into the Tiber.

Deceased Wife's Sister Muddled. Our refusal to recognize marriage with a deceased wife's sister—which is legal in the Australian commonwealth—has led to many complications in the inheritance of property, and very embarrassing social incidents have happened. One of the most unpleasant occurred during the reign of the late Queen. Arrangements had been made by the Colonial Office for the presentation of an Australian cabinet minister and his wife at court, but when it was found that the lady was a deceased wife's sister the proposed presentation was promptly overruled. Such an episode is not likely to be repeated, for King Edward, when Prince of Wales, voted in the House of Lords for the legalization of marriage with a deceased wife's sister.—London Chronicle.

7,000 RUSSIANS
KILLED OR DROWNED

Nearly Four Thousand Prisoners Already Landed.

JAP CASUALTIES UNDER 800

The Terrible Details of the Destruction of the Russian Fleet in the Battle of the Sea of Japan—Admiral Voelkersam Killed in the Conning Tower Before His Ship Went Down—Japan's Naval Losses.

Tokio, June 2.—Rough estimates made of the Russian losses in the Sea of Japan, exclusive of nearly 4,000 prisoners, vary from seven to nine thousand. It is feared that the majority perished. Calculating the complements of the sunken and captured ships at upwards of ten thousand, seven thousand men remain unaccounted for. It is possible that the ships which escaped rescued some of the members of the crews of the less fortunate ships. Many bodies have been washed ashore on the islands and on the shores of the neighboring coasts near the scene of the battle.

Sisal Velly First to Go Down.

The Navy Department made the following announcement yesterday: "Later reports from the different divisions of the fleet engaged in the naval battle of May 27 show as follows:—The Russian battleship, Oslabla, was heavily damaged in the early part of the fight on Saturday, going down at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The first Russian vessel sunk was the battleship, Sisal Velly, which was destroyed by torpedoes during attacks by night and was eventually completely disabled. They drifted in the vicinity of Tsu Islands, where they were discovered on Sunday morning (May 28) by the auxiliary cruisers Shilano, Yawata, Tainan and Sado, which were about to capture them, but they both escaped."

"The crews of our auxiliary cruisers rescued 915 of the crews of the sunken Russian ships. The battleship Navarin was torpedoed four times after sundown on Saturday (May 27) and sunk. The survivors of the Navarin's crew confirm the story of her destruction. Sunk at Once.

"The cruisers Nitala and Okawa discovered the Russian cruiser Svetlana at 9 o'clock on Sunday morning in the vicinity of Chappan Bay and immediately attacked her. She was completely disabled and sunk. The commander of the Nitala reports the fact.

"It is expected that the Russian cruisers Almas and Aurora were sunk by torpedoes on the night of May 27. The former was sunk in the vicinity of the statement that the Russian cruiser Jemchug was sunk as yet unconfirmed, and the cruiser's name has been excluded from the revised list of Russian vessels destroyed."

"Judging from this and other reports, the enemy's main strength, consisting of eight battleships destroyed or captured, three armored cruisers and three coast defense ships destroyed or captured, with the second-class cruisers and all the rest of the fleet, the Russian fighting power is annihilated."

"Later reports show that during the night of May 27, our torpedo boats numbered thirty-four, thirty-five and sixty-nine were sunk by the enemy's fire. Comrades rescued the majority of their crews. Besides the above there was no damage worth reporting. No warship not destroyed suffered any loss of fighting or navigating power."

Jap Casualties Below 800.

"We anticipated a heavy loss of life, but find that our casualties were comparatively slight. They do not exceed 800 killed and wounded. The casualty reports will be rendered as speedily as possible in order to reassure families and friends."

"Nearly the whole strength of the combatants met in battle, and the area of the fighting was very wide. On the first day, the fighting was even without the smoke and fumes resulting from the battle it was impossible to see five miles. Consequently during the day it was impossible to locate or observe all the ships under my command. Moreover, the fighting having lasted two days, the ships of my command being scattered for the purpose of chasing and attacking the enemy, some having received special orders after the battle, it is impossible to collect and frame any detailed report covering the whole battle at the same time."

Fate of the Admirals.

Admiral Rojestvensky's injuries consist of a wound on the forehead, a slight outer fracture, and other slight wounds.

Rear-Admiral Voelkersam, who was commander of the battleship squadron of the Russian fleet, was, it was announced yesterday, killed the first day of the battle; May 27, in the conning tower of his flagship, the battleship Oslabla, one of the vessels sunk by the Japanese.

Rear-Admiral Voelkersam was appointed commander of the battleship squadron of the Russian fleet in July last and left Cronstadt August 25 with the other vessels commanded by Admiral Rojestvensky. It was Voelkersam's squadron, according to report, which fired on the British travelers in the North Sea, mistaking them for Japanese torpedo boats.

Rojestvensky's Condition Serious.

Nagasaki, June 2.—A report reaches here to the effect that little hope is entertained of the recovery of Admiral Rojestvensky, who is now in a hospital at Sasebo.

A Slight Fracture of Skull Only.

Tokio, June 2.—The serious wound of Admiral Rojestvensky, who was taken to Sasebo on a Japanese battleship, is a bruise in the forehead and a slight fracture of the skull. The nature of his internal injuries is not known. The admiral's temperature and pulse are normal and there is no sign of brain trouble. He has other wounds, but they are not serious.

Nagasaki, June 2.—Fully 2,000 Russian naval prisoners have been landed.

Three damaged Russian vessels have drifted ashore off the coast of the Province of Nagato.

Captured Hospital Ships.

London, June 2.—The Daily Telegraph's Shanghai correspondent says that the hospital ships Orei and Kestroma have been captured and taken to Sasebo, charged with infringing the Hague convention.

Was British Crew Drowned?

Nagasaki, June 2.—The fate of the remainder of the crew of the British steamer Oidhami is at present uncertain. They were on board of the Russian battleship Orei, but it is supposed that they were afterward transferred to one of the transports.

Prize Crew Turned the Tables.

Nagasaki, June 2.—Russian torpedo boats from Vladivostok captured the Japanese steamer Datshen of 700 tons off Hokkaido and placed a prize crew of thirteen men on board with orders to take the vessel to port. By mistake the Russian commander of the Datshen headed for Gensan (Cores) and met a Japanese transport. The latter, seeing the Russian flag flying from the Datshen, intended to recapture the vessel, when the Japanese captives aboard the steamer on seeing their comrades attacked the prize crew, recaptured the vessel and eventually took her to Gensan. The Russian prize crew have been taken captives to Sasebo.

Secrets at Last Released.

Tokio, June 2.—The necessity for secrecy no longer existing, the Navy Department confirms the reports of the loss of the Japanese battleship Yashima off Port Arthur in May, 1904, and announces other naval losses heretofore withheld. The list is as follows:—

At the conclusion of the meeting Dr. Bray made the announcement that this is his last year as a Water Commissioner, but it is hoped he will reconsider his intentions before the elections come around again—in fact it is doubtful whether the gatekeepers would listen to even the suggestion of such an action on Dr. Bray's part. Dr. Bray has made an excellent Commissioner and during the time he has been chairman of the Board, with W. D. Sheldon associated with him, the Waterworks Department has undergone some radical changes and improvements which make it now one of the most complete and up-to-date systems in Canada. Now that such an important matter as the piping of the city is coming up, the necessity of having experienced men with keen business ability on the Board is plainly evident.
