The Song of the Camp.

'Give us a song,' the soldiers cried.
'The outer trenches guarding,
When the heaviest guns of the camp allied
Grew along.'

There was a pause. A guardman said,
'We storm the forts tomorrow;
Sing while we may, another day
Will bring enough of sorrow.'

They sang of love, and not of fame;
Forgot was Britain's glory.
Each heart roared a different name,
But all sang Annie Laurie.

Voice after voice caught up the song,
Until its tender passion
Rose like an anthem, rich and strong -
The battle-axe confession.

Dear girl, her name he dare not speak,
But, as the song grew louder,
Washed out the stains of powder,
And once again a fire of life
Kindled on the German quarters.
With scream of shot, and burst of shell,
And howling of mortars!

And Irish Nora's eyes are dim
For a singer dumb and quiet;
And English Mary murmurs him
Who sang of Annie Laurie.

Sleep, soldiers! still in honored rest
Your teeth and valor wearing,
The bravest are the tenderest -
The loving are the darest.

Dramatic Moments in a Hospital.

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE.
It is twelve hours' journey, just now, from the battered, slushy, trenches behind the sand dunes in the north to the great shed at the rail head known as the Hospital Clearing House.

After midnight has struck, and all is quiet without, the business of the day being over, we sit expectantly under the soft glow of the lowered lights with our fingers literally on the pulse of the war. This way or that the fighting is raging, a day's march away; yet we know all, and the drift of it.

It is an eerie sensation—the whisper of war. It comes to us in little trickles of sound over a thin wire—the telephone wire from the trenches.

This Clearing House is a wonder place. It was once an engine shed; now all the rolling stock has been banished from it; it has been cleaned and polished, warmed and well ventilated, laid out with beds, a canteen, a little operating theatre, a lounge for the quiet, nimble-fingered sisters and many other contrivances for the easing of pain and the comfort of the shattered fighting men who are brought in to the hospital.

Speedily, and with great dexterity, these poor fellows are, after their preliminary treatment, sorted out under 'case headings' and despatched to the great hospitals either in France or at home.

Many long hours have I spent here, watching life and death at close grips. It is not all grim work or ghastly work. There are many soft hours when the day's labor being over, and the great Red Cross vans have whirled off with their loads we turn our minds and our small talents to the entertainment of the wounded who are left behind to rest.

Such was the occasion the other evening. It had been a day of wild, furious rain and wind, with little fighting amid the muddy trenches, and consequently a slack time with us. So we gave the patients remaining in the shed a simple little concert, such as soldiers love.

In the very midst of it—a pretty nurse was singing 'The Shepherd's Cradle Song,' and crooning it very charmingly—a little bell-r-r-r of sound came from the telephone zone, and one of the doctors slipped off, beckoning me to follow him.

There was nothing in the apartment but the telephone on a little table and a couple of chairs. We sat down, clamped the double earpieces to our heads, and waited.

Presently a tiny little voice trembled over the wire.
'Is that you, C. H.?'
'Right of! Go ahead!' (from the doctor) 'What's the trouble?'

'At it again, doc, hammer and tongs—bell and fury! Can you clear for, say, a couple of hundred? Shell and shrapnel mostly. Coming in hand over fist. Our little field hospital behind the firing line working double time. Ambulance train packed up; she'll be ready to start in an hour, if it's O. K. with you down there.'

'Right!' says the doctor. 'Carry on. We'll be all snug and proper for you! By the way where are you speaking from?'

'A dashed hot call office, old chap! Observation Trench No. 16, smack in middle of it. Roof shot away. Secondary batteries all annihilated. Only one wire working, and Heaven knows how long that will hold. Lord, me, can't you hear it?'

The Wheat Area in Great Britain.

Lord Milner's idea that the British wheat area can be trebled, we believe will not bear examination. Any increase would be at the expense of one of the other crops, and these require increasing not decreasing in the coming season. It is not likely that valuable permanent grass land will be broken up in any large quantity for the sake of raising high priced wheat for a single season. In our own country we fear it is hopeless to look for any very great increase in the wheat area, perhaps five hundred acres, or perhaps one million acres might be added to the two million acres normally under the premier cereal, but even that is a good deal to expect.

If the war is going to be a long one, and there is any risk of our losing even temporarily the command of the sea, the policy of the Government should be to aid our farmers to hold and to encourage farmers in Canada, India, and later on in Australia to grow as big a crop as possible, at the same time leaving the importing merchant and miller of the United Kingdom every latitude quietly to accumulate an extra reserve of five or six million quarters. This, of course, they will not do if their enterprise is checked by hints in the press or from elsewhere if prices are raised the authorities may step in and fix an official price. If merchants are to be expected to shoulder the task of assuring the nation's food supply, their enterprise must not be discouraged—Corn Trade News.

The Belgian Army.

So little is said these days in war despatches of the doings of the Belgian soldiers that there has grown up a belief that they have been reduced as to be an unimportant unit in the great struggle. Nothing is further from the fact. The Belgian army to-day is doing as effective work as in the first days of the great struggle, when a few thousands stood against the might of Germany, facing terrible punishment in the hope that each day would bring the expected French and British aid. Today the Belgian army, with its great strength, is holding as tenaciously as it ever the small strip of territory from which the Germans have been unable to drive them. In the early days following the fall of Antwerp, the Belgians were supported by British and French troops, but with the gradual strengthening of both Belgian and British armies through the training of reserves and volunteers, it recently became possible for the French to withdraw their troops from the coast for use at other points. Nobody but those in authority has knowledge of the strength of any of the forces, but a recent British paper points out that the young men of Belgium have responded most enthusiastically to the call of King Albert and eluding the vigilance of the German guards, have enrolled in the army of Belgium. Many of these had first to make their way through Holland. Their patriotism, their love of their king and their determination to fight to the last and to drive the German invader from their land and force from him reparation for the wrongs inflicted on them, are proven by the fact that upwards of eighty per cent of the recruits of 1914 have answered King Albert's call. Today an army estimated to number upwards of 80,000 men is fighting with Belgium's soldier King in the trenches, and it will gradually be increased to probably double that figure. History records no greater example of bravery than that shown by the Belgians.

The Giving Spirit.

A very decided growth of the giving spirit is one of the results of the war, and one which may be hoped will not terminate when peace is declared. The response of the people to the demands made upon them is really remarkable, although as a matter of fact it cannot be said that up to the present time it has involved any degree of hardship. The people have had the money to give. There is good ground for the belief that the giving spirit will not shrink again after the war is over. The people have discovered that they can give without serious results to themselves, and that there is a very genuine satisfaction in giving. They are contributing now to the overthrow of an armed enemy abroad. Why should they not as cheerfully give, when that task is finished, to funds for the betterment of social conditions at home, and the destruction of enemies of the public welfare in their own community?

Nothing Like It For Colds.

Mrs. Holland Ferguson, Sheffield, N. B., writes: 'Dr. Chase's Syrup of Licorice and Turpentine has cured my child, my son and myself of severe colds. We are never without it in the house. There is nothing like it for colds and throat trouble, and it is so soothing and pleasant to take, my children would drink a whole bottle if they were permitted.'

'When does a man become a seamstress?'

'When he hears and haws?'

'No!'

'When he throws his way?'

'No!'

'When he tips and tears?'

'No!'

'Give it up!'

'Never, if he can help it.'

Cardinal Facts.

Everybody can do a little. Every man should do what he can. Every woman should do what she can.

Improved production means increased production. Canada's future depends upon our actions of today.

In serving the Empire we are serving ourselves. Markets are not created, won and held in a day.

Now is the time to prove ourselves the Granary of the Empire.

We have the soil, we have the resources, we must have the energy to use them to the greatest advantage.

As we acquit ourselves at this crisis, so will be our prosperity and pride in the years to come.

With more than half of productive Europe engaged in war, and large sections decimated, other countries and especially those forming the British Empire, will have to make up huge deficiencies, both of foodstuff and material.

Great Britain imported 51,786,915 bushels of wheat from Canada in 1913. She imported 80,013,879 bushels from the United States. She also imported 12,789,959 bushels from Russia and Central Europe.

Great Britain imported 24,148,833 bushels of barley in 1914 from Russia, Austria, Prussia, Poland, and the Ukraine. From Canada she took 5,077,533 bushels, or less than a fourth.

Great Britain took 22,454,683 bushels of oats from Germany, Russia and Roumania in 1913 of which one half was from her bitterest and most savage enemy of today.

Great Britain imported 185,122,000 bushels of wheat from August 1st, 1913, to July 31st, 1914. Russia exported 163,267,000 bushels and Roumania 45,643,000 bushels in the same time. How far is Canada going to help make up the deficiency?

Great Britain imported from August 1st, 1913, to July 31st, 1914, 54,307,000 bushels of oats. Russia exported 41,750,000 bushels, Germany 25,077,000 and Roumania 17,105,000 bushels. Who is going to make up this deficiency of seventy seven million bushels?

Tell me not in mournful numbers advertising is a dream, for the business man who slumbers has no chance to skim the cream. Life is real! Life is earnest! Competition's something fierce; if for dividends thou yearnest, learn the parry, thrust and tierce. In the business field of battle, molly-coddles have no place; be not like dumb driven cattle, be a live one in the race. Lives of great men all remind us, we must bring the bacon home, and departing, leave behind us, footprints on another's dome. Let us then be up and doing, otherwise we may be done; still achieving, still pursuing, advertise and get the 'mon!' - With apologies to Longfellow.

A Father's Love.

One of Rev. John Harris's strong points is anecdotal illustration. To make clear the peculiar feeling a man has for his own children he used the following in his last Sunday evening sermon: 'MacDonald had an unruly son who drank and otherwise behaved badly. One morning, after the boy had been acting very bad, MacDonald's neighbor said to him: 'I hear that your boy was drunk again yesterday and very troublesome.' That's true,' replied MacDonald. 'He's a bad boy and gives you a lot of trouble.'

'Very true,' assented MacDonald. 'Well,' said the neighbor, 'if he was my boy I'd kick him out of doors.' 'So would I, if he were your boy,' said MacDonald; 'but he's mine.' - Chatting World.

How to Cure Rheumatism.

THE DISEASE IS ALWAYS ROOTED IN THE BLOOD, WHICH MUST BE MADE RICH AND PURE.

There are still many people who imagine that rheumatism can be cured by liniments and rubbing, overlooking the medical fact that the trouble is rooted in the blood. Rheumatism can only be cured by cleansing out of the system the blood, thus driving out of the system the poisonous acids which cause the rheumatic pains. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure the most obstinate cases of rheumatism because they go straight to the root of the trouble in the blood. Every dose helps to make rich, red blood and this new blood expels the poisonous acid, bringing health and comfort to the tortured victim. Do not waste time and money in trying to cure the disease with a fair trial and thus drive the disease out of your system. Here is proof of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can do in cases of this kind. Mr. Richard Palmer, Wroster, Ont., says: 'For months my leg was made miserable through a combined attack of rheumatism and sciatica. Rheumatism seemed to settle in all my joints and the sciatica pains were so great I could scarcely hobble about. I am a farmer, and so you can understand that in my condition I was unable to do my ordinary work. Neither doctors nor various remedies I took did me any good. Finally I was induced to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and for this I have much to be thankful for, as after taking a few boxes the pains began to disappear, and by the time I had taken nine boxes every twinge of both the rheumatism and the sciatica had disappeared and I was able to go to work again as usual, and have not lost a day since. I am thoroughly grateful for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me and hope my experience will benefit some other sufferer.'

It is the curing of just such cases as those that have given Dr. Williams' Pink Pills their world-wide popularity. You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at fifty cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Constipation, Indigestion and Horrible Backaches

Searched for a Cure for Years—Advised to Try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Was Cured.

Where there is poison there is pain. This is a provision of Nature to warn you against conditions that are likely to prove serious.

Constipation of the bowels is undoubtedly the greatest source of disease and suffering. By using one of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills at bed-time as often as necessary to keep the bowels regular you can cure constipation and the consequent indigestion and other painful diseases.

"Daily movement of the bowels" is the greatest law of health. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will help you to form this habit and to your years, and bring comfort in old age.

Professor A. T. Smith, 1 Mt. Charles street, Montreal, and formerly of Boston, Mass., writes:—"I suffered for many years from bad digestion, constipation and horrible backaches. I have been treated by many doctors, without any results. One day a friend in Boston advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. After taking two boxes I noticed great improvement, and after the fourth box I was completely cured. My digestion is good. I never feel any pain in the back. My head is clear, and I feel like a young man. I think Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are one of the best medicines on earth."

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., MAR 12, 1915.

Wheat Growing.

Written by request of M. Cummings.

The correspondence coming to the Agricultural College indicates that many farmers are planning to raise more wheat than usual the coming season. Although this is in line with the recommendations of our agricultural experts it should be noted that there is a very grave chance for disappointment to those who are not accustomed to raising wheat and who do not inform themselves properly concerning the requirements of this important crop.

On low land, or any land in a wet fall, a large part of the wheat will be too soft for milling purposes. It should, therefore, be planted on as dry ground as possible, but not necessarily on light soil as well drained heavy soil is excellent for wheat. The land must be fairly rich as wheat requires better land to produce a paying crop than does oats. Furthermore wheat requires soil in better till than for oats, and should therefore be put where roots or potatoes were raised last year. Early seeding is of prime importance. The wheat should be the first seed in the ground in the spring in order to give it as long a season as possible and insure well ripened grain in the fall. If put on sod land extra care must be taken to secure a good seed bed by thorough cultivation. The land on which roots were grown last year will work up to a fine seed bed and will generally contain more plant food than the sod land. The addition of three or four hundred pounds of slag, acid phosphate, or bone meal to such land will do all that is necessary to insure a good crop.

The sod land will probably need six or eight hundred pounds of a good fertilizer, or in many cases it would pay better to use from one to two hundred pounds of nitrate of soda and 500 to 800 of acid phosphate, slag or bone meal per acre, and let the plow go, as it cannot be obtained this year except at prohibitive prices.

If some barnyard manure is used it may be supplemented with four to eight hundred pounds of acid phosphate, slag or bone meal without using any nitrate.

Wheat furnishes excellent conditions for seeding land to grass and clover and has some advantages over oats in this respect.

The best varieties are Red Pile and White Russian. The Marquis may be used where early ripening is essential but has not done as well as the other two in general. Seed may be scarce this spring, but if anyone wishing to put in wheat cannot obtain what they need we will do our best to locate seed for them if they will let us know what they want within the limits of the province.

The seed should be treated for smut by the following method:—Soak the bags of wheat in a solution of one pint of formalin to 50 gallons of water for 30 minutes; lift the bags out and let them drain a few minutes, and then spread the wheat out in the sun or on the floor in a room where there is some heat, stir frequently with a shovel and dry thoroughly and put back into the bags that were soaked in the formalin. Wash out the seed drill with some of the solution. This treatment should kill the spores of stinking smut, and should be done only a day or two before seeding.

Use from one and a half to two bushels of seed per acre.

Agricultural College, Truro, N. S.

Freshmen Athanæum.

An interesting entertainment took place in College Hall on Saturday evening last, when the class of 1915 entertained the Athanæum society in general and the class of 1917 in particular. The program, which was in the form of a copy of the college paper, was characterized by original hits upon the various members of the student body.

The editorials were four in number dealing with various episodes of the college year. During the second feature of the program, an original stump speech, a young pig made its way to the platform from the ranks of the Sophomore class. It did not long usurp the platform from the speaker, who, when order had been restored, delighted the audience by asking if this were another member of the class of 1917.

The 'Battle of Wolfville' depicted the brave deeds of Freshmen under trying circumstances, and the 'Vision' told in plain terms the future of many prominent members of the class of 1917.

After a few other numbers the evening closed with a show of mutual good feeling between the classes.

Teething Time Troubles.

Baby's teething time is a period of anxiety for mothers unless baby's stomach is kept sweet and his bowels regular. Mother medicine has been found to be useless during teething time as Baby's Own Tablets, they make teething painless and by their use baby gets his teeth so easily that the mother scarcely knows they are coming. Knowing the Tablets, Mrs. F. Giddens, Nelson, N. S., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets are a mother's greatest help during the teething period. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 10 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Paupers and Lunatics.

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN:

Since my letter in the 'Advertiser' on above subject about the first of the year I have gathered much more information and wish to give it the wide publicity it deserves.

At the meeting of the Municipal Council on January the Warden and some others spoke very strongly in favor of considering the amalgamation of our township poor houses, and a committee was appointed to investigate and hold public meetings. As the Cornwallis house is soon due to fall down the time is opportune. The Warden also stated that our yearly lunatic bill was already over $4000 and rapidly going higher. As this is about forty per cent. of the taxes ordinarily collected by the county, it is, you will admit, time to be doing something.

'Kings' is the only county in the province with township poor houses. Four counties are divided into 10 municipalities each, mainly for religious and racial reasons as far as I can find out.

Two of our township plants have so few inmates that the expense per head is from fifty to seventy five per cent. more than it should be. Amalgamation ought to save us a considerable sum of money each year. It would give us a chance to build large enough to care for paupers from Wolfville and Kentville which are now farmed out. This would be to our mutual advantage and place us in line with the practice of many other counties and towns. Amalgamation would also do away with the conflicting interests between townships and county in lunatic question. Finally such a union should give us an institution we could be proud of. No body is proud of our present concerns and the inevitable result is plainly seen. Annapolis county is proud of her institutions; the people have the habit of visiting them and the Inspector's report says these plants are a credit to the county. In Kings hardly anyone knows or cares about our public institutions and the natural result is we have come to be ashamed of.

Unfortunately Horton and Aylesford are semi comfortable and are so afraid that an amalgamated poor house will be put in a corner of the county that there is likely to be a strong opposition in these two townships. On this account it is also utterly necessary for the public to take a definite stand that if anything is done the situation of the county home must be within the limits of the shire town of Kentville and where light, water and sewerage may be had.

If nothing is done with the present system the lunatic case will not be so easily disposed of. Kings has no asylum for the harmless insane. Two are kept at Horton poor farm for $182.00 per year. The rest, an even $0 at last accounts, are kept, 37 at New Glasgow. Total yearly bill will be about $9,800, including clothing.

Ten counties in N. S. take care of about three quarters of their insane at an expense of which the following may be taken as samples: Annapolis, 50 at $1.75 each per week; Antigonish, 41 at $1.54; Colchester, 66 at $1.50; Cumberland, 44 at $1.24. Each of the first three counties keep about 12 acute cases at Mt. Hope at an average rate of $4.00 per week each. Cumberland with double the population has 24 at the same place. Richmond county has 28 lunatics at home and her last year's bill at Mt. Hope was $4,621. Annapolis, in a building costing $1,000, keeps 30 county insane and 20 boarders at a yearly expense of $4,500. Income from boarders $3,000. Net charge to county $1,500!

Pictou has the most expensive county asylum I have yet discovered; but even there they keep 50 county patients at home and 17 at Dartmouth, a total of 67, and their annual expense is only $8,500. Compare this with our bill of nearly $10,000 for only 52 lunatics. Kings has the largest bill for insane at Mt. Hope, population considered, of any county in the province. Lunenburg, Guysboro and West Hants are about the only municipalities we are fit to keep company with.

Some seem to imagine that we have such a violent class of insane that the Mt. Hope item of expense is unavoidable. I am prepared to state positively on information furnished by the authorities that our county (towns included) has today at least 40 harmless insane which are suitable for care in a county asylum.

I wish every person in the county could have heard a woman's indictment of our public spirit the evening after the body of her husband was carried to the grave from Horton Poor House, where he had been farmed out for a few short months.

"Oh, why did we leave Scotland! This is a beautiful country, far more so than even our bonnie land. This county is rich beyond anything we knew at home. You prosper but you have no public spirit. You murder people by your criminal indifference. You care nothing about your public institutions. You never go to them if you can help it. You are too busy and don't want to bother. If we do not get an encouragement, if we do not know anything and apparently care nothing, all we ought to do is that expenses be kept down!"

These words were uttered with warmth but without bitterness. They are only too true and deserve a wider audience than the one in whose presence they were spoken.

Scotland may not furnish her people with money and lands but a good proportion of them have been richly

Pastor McMillan's Lectures.

Taking his text from Daniel 2:45. Pastor McMillan delivered in some respects a remarkable lecture on 'The Kingdom of God,' last Sunday afternoon at the Opera House.

He quoted several texts of scripture to show that God's kingdom was established on earth six thousand years ago with Adam as king and that Adam's commission was twofold. First, to have dominion over the earth; second to multiply and fill the earth; and thirdly, to subdue the earth. The speaker said Adam had been given the earth, and he would be filled with perfect beings enjoying conditions as perfect and blessed as God's heavenly creatures do. There would be no poverty, sickness, pain or death; but joy, peace and happiness would fill the whole earth which would be like the Garden of Eden. Thus, he said, God's kingdom would have filled the earth, and His will would be done here as in Heaven.

He then pointed out how sin brought Adam's downfall, expulsion from Eden and how the whole race of rebels have been under God's wrath ever since.

He referred to God's dealings with man from the fall, down to the days of the Jewish kings, when the typical kingdom of God was established, and how it was overthrown in the days of Zedekiah (the last Jewish King) 606 years before Christ.

At that time God took away the kingdom from the Jews and said he would punish them as you have, during the days of the Jews.

G. H. BORDEN WOLFVILLE Sole Agent for Kings County.

ing which time the right to rule was invested in the Gentiles. He then proceeded to prove that seven times meant seven symbolic years of 360 days each making a 2520 days. He quoted from Ezekiel 4:6 to show that a day was sometimes used to mean a year in prophetic matters. Hence he said the period of Jewish punishment began 606 years before Christ and should end 6,060 years later namely 1914 A. D. Therefore Gentile kingdoms are now due to be overthrown. Here the restoration of the Jews was referred to quoting from Jesus' words that Jerusalem (the Jewish nation) would be trodden down (persecuted) till the times of the Gentiles (the period from 606 to 1914) would be fulfilled. He then said this year liberated the Jews the same month (September 1914) that the 'Gentile times' expired. The prospect of an early Jewish state in Palestine is bright, according to present developments.

He spoke at length about the present war-torn times and its outcome—the complete destruction of all earthly kingdoms to make way for Christ's kingdom, that will bring deliverance to the poor and oppressed world.

He pointed out how God has been dealing with Christians during the past 1800 years, getting them ready to take the Kingdom with Christ their head. He further showed how the kingdom has been in the hearts of believers all down through the ages in the sense that the principle of God's government ruled in their hearts and lives; and thus they were learning to obey God's laws prior to commanding others when in time they inherit the kingdom. He then proceeded to show that the present war was mentioned by Daniel and later by Jesus, as the last war, and that it would prepare the world for God's kingdom. Before will then be bound and Christ's glorious reign begin. The knowledge of God will fill the whole earth and His will be done on earth as in Heaven.

He referred to many prophecies relative to Christ's reign and its glorious results, ending in the complete redemption of mankind from sin and death.

In conclusion he referred to the parable of the sheep and the goats as a picture of the kingdom world and its consummation. Christ the King is on the throne and the church, His companions are with Him, and all nations before Him. Then comes the out-separation of sheep and goats. The goats, the symbol of sinners, are destroyed; first being a symbol of their destruction. The sheep representing the righteous, are given the kingdom prepared for them from the foundation of the world, that is, the kingdom lost by Adam and restored by Christ, who said He came to save that which was lost.

At the evening meeting Mr. McMillan proceeded to show at length from the Scripture, that although Jesus said, in speaking about the time of his Second Coming: 'No man knoweth the day nor the hour, neither the angels nor the Son, he did not mean that he would never know but that it was not known at that time. All believe that Jesus now knows and has known the time of His second advent since His resurrection. Furthermore He promised to give His followers 'into an instant' after the Spirit came He would guide the church into all truth—showing them things to come. In speaking about the second coming Paul said in Thes. 5:1-4 'that some would be overtaken as a thief in the night, but the brethren would not get for it would be given to them to know the mysteries. 'Ye are not in darkness that a day should overtake you as a thief in the night.'

Here he emphasized the value of knowing what would take place when Christ would come. If you are looking for the burning up of the earth when Jesus comes you will be disappointed for, said he, 'The earth abideth forever' (Eccl. 1:4, Ps. 104:5). The text referring to burning and melting he claimed are symbolic and refer to the removal of present evil institutions preparatory to the establishment of Christ's Kingdom. He then spoke of the signs of the times, claiming that we are now living in what the bible calls the days of preparation: He here spoke at length about certain prophecies that are now being fulfilled, claiming that Nahum (2:3-4) describes modern autos. Daniel's prophecy was mentioned, particularly the time of trouble referred to in the 24th chapter. Jesus said the great trouble would come just before the second coming. The speaker said the European war was the beginning of this trouble which would end in world wide anarchy, and be followed by the 'second coming' and establishment of God's Kingdom.

He then spoke about the blessings to follow—universal peace, social and political reforms, relief from the burdens of taxation, and oppression of all kinds. Satan being bound would deceive and oppress the nations no more, but instead, the knowledge of God would fill the earth. He said the miracles of Jesus were pictures of what would be done on a large scale for all, John 2:11.

When Christ's thousand years' reign would end the whole world would be perfect as Adam and Eve were in the beginning. This God's purpose to have the earth inhabited and abide in perfection forever will be accomplished.

A Visit to the Older Boys' Conference

WITH THE WOLFVILLE CONTINGENT.

The Older Boys' Conference, held at Halifax on March 5th and 6th, was attended by the following from Wolfville: Rev. W. L. Archibald, Rev. W. H. Ramsay, Rev. C. A. Nowlin, Rev. G. W. Miller, C. A. Patriquin, Murray Millett, Murray Beardsley, George Nowlin, Leander Thurber, Paul Tingley, Theodore Stackhouse, Harold Wilson, Lorimer Simpson, Donald Grant, Andrew Watson, Chas. Schurman, Harold Weatherbe, Claude Smith, Albert Corey, Carl Angus, Harold Johnson, Stanley Morrison, Angus Elderkin, Frances Archibald and E. Percy Brown.

The Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches, the Tabernacle, the College and the Boy Scouts were represented by delegates.

Every county in Nova Scotia and most of the towns were represented. Wolfville having the largest representation of any except Halifax.

On arrival in Halifax on Friday morning the delegates were met by the Halifax boys and escorted to the headquarters at Charles St. church. Here they were assigned to their respective billets, each boy being handed a card introducing him to his hostess.

Friday afternoon was spent in visits to the N. S. Technical College which was both interesting and instructive; and to the Dry Dock, where an armed escort accompanied the party around the Dock and on board the Belgica Relief Ship 'Camino.'

The regular program of the Conference started at 7:45 that evening and was as follows:

7:45, music; 8:00, Address of Welcome, Mr. D. McGillivray; 8:20, Responses by three boys appointed by nominating committee; 8:35, Address, Taylor Statten, national boys' work secretary, Y. M. C. A.; Solo; 9:00, address, Rev. A. B. Cohoe; 9:30, organization of Conference; 9:45, Closing.

At the organization Mr. Murray Millett, of Acadia, was elected President of the Conference and presided most acceptably at all remains; sessions.

The sight of the large auditorium of the church filled with almost 500 boys, whose bright, intelligent eyes were fixed intently on the speaker, was one which once seen could never be forgotten.

Can we ever estimate the tremendous power for good such a body of older boys, whose ages range mostly between 16 and 20 years, can exert on the future of the whole Province over which they are scattered.

The program for Saturday morning was as follows:

9:00, Address; 9:30, Paper, 'The Organized Sunday School Class for Boys'; 10:00, Address, 'The Sunday School Paper, Making the Sunday School interesting for Boys'; C. E. Hill, Halifax; 9:50, Prayer, 'Service for Boys'; 10:00, Talk, Mr. Alexander; 'The Boy Scout Movement'; Colonel Oxfley; 10:00, Conference Photograph.

It is hoped to have a copy of this photograph on exhibition in Mr. Graham's window before this notice is in print.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON. 1:30, Music; 1:55 Address: 'Canadian Standard of Efficiency Test'; Taylor Statten; 2:15, Adults only, 'How to chart Boys according to the Standard Tests'; 2:15, Address to Boys; John L. Alexander; 4:00, Recreation Period, Athletic meet in Y. M. C. A.

About 4:30 p.m. most of the boys formed a squad and under Mr. Murray Millett and Harold Johnson marched across the Citadel and through parts of the city to the Y. M. C. A.

SATURDAY EVENING. 6:00, Banquet; 7:00, Toasts and program around Banquet Table, Toast Master, Mr. A. S. McAllister. A most generous supply of eatables was set before the boys and full justice was done. As all could not be seated at one time a slight delay was caused in the proceedings. This was filled in by the various College yells, and certainly some hideous sounds were produced. Acadia was well to the front.

The toast to 'The Empire' was proposed by Mr. Wavelle, of Halifax, and responded to by Scoutmaster E. Percy Brown, of Wolfville. He was helped out by the Scouts Troop, who sang 'O Canada.'

The toast to 'Our Guests' was proposed by Mr. Fryer, of Halifax, and responded to by Mr. Murray Millett in a rattling good speech.

The toast to 'The Ladies' was proposed, and responded to by Rev. I. S. Nowlin, of Wolfville.

Mr. Alexander closed the evening's entertainment with an address that combined interest, amusement and instruction.

On Sunday morning after a short meeting of the delegates to prepare resolutions, they dispersed to attend various church services throughout the city.

The Conference culminated at the meeting which was addressed by Mr. Alexander at 3:30 Sunday afternoon. This was a 'Forward Step' meeting at which each boy was invited to pledge himself, in writing, to some forward step.

The whole church was crowded at 7 p.m. when the ordinary service was held. The boys and leaders occupied the body of the church and the rest of the congregation, filled the galleries and adjoining hall.

Mr. Alexander was the principal speaker, and was in every other occasion, listened to with the closest attention.

The Club Called Home.

I never have been black-balled in the little club called Home.

I've never met a snob there with a noddle full of foam.

I've never had to vanish from the nuisances that crowd

Around you in the clubhouse with their talk and laughter loud.

God bless the club house

That we go to when we're home.

With its warmth for those who come.

I never have been pestered by the thoughts of this or that,

The fashion of a frock coat or the angle of a hat;

I never have been wearied by the small talk of the town,

Nor bored a whole long evening by the twaddle of a clown.

The little club called Home, dear,

Where the honest hearts belong.

And the simple life is pleasant,

With its story and its song!

Mother is a member, and the children

rule the hours,

The rooms are full of laughter and the hearts are full of flowers;

There's earnestness and purpose and sincerity and zeal.

In the membership you meet there,

and you know they're acting real.

God bless you little club

Where the home lights burn so sweet.

And you wander to its beauty

From the roaring of the street!

The Opium Habit.

The increase in the consumption of opium in the United States is little less than appalling. Since 1850 the population has increased 133 per cent, while the consumption of all forms of opium has increased 351 per cent. Reliable authorities agree that one-eighth of the amount of opium imported would suffice for all legitimate medical needs, and that eighty per cent of the morphia used is to gratify the deadly craving, of which our modern civilization knows all too much. The consumption of cocaine is equally as alarming. It is reliably estimated that 150,000 ounces of this degrading drug are used in illegitimate ways every year in the United States. The profits made in this business are enormous, hence the willingness of druggists and others to accommodate the unfortunate victims of the opium and cocaine habit. On July 1st the Boylan law will come into operation in the state of New York when opium, chloral and morphia and any derivatives and compounds obtained from them, which includes heroin, cannot be sold except on the prescription of a regular licensed physician. A vigorous enforcement of this law will, it is believed, make it impossible for the wretches who are peddling drugs to school children to get their supplies. The public spirited people who brought about the passage of this law, will watch vigilantly to see that its provisions are strictly enforced. Canada should also investigate the drug habit which is no doubt increasing in our midst, and legislate accordingly.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

It is not likely that many Canadians know just where Death is. Though it is merely a speck on the map of England it is important. Death is in Fifehire, the constituency of Mr. Asquith. It has a total population of 12,000, and of these 1,000 have enlisted. In all D-beath there is not a single eligible man who has not joined the colors.

The Brito Tageblatt says "Germany's supply of eggs is unusually great this year." "and the Belgians, who have been paying enormous levies of money and tax to the ruthless soldiers of the Kaiser, are not inclined to dispute this statement.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Robert, aged four, had been fishing for the first time. He caught no fish but proved that he had learned some thing by bringing home an excuse. "Father," he said, "I really don't believe that old worm was half trying."

"GRAY MARE WILL PROVE THE BETTER HORSE"

In modern merchandising the "dark horse" is the article that is not advertised, depending on the "something just as good" argument. It is safer to depend on the "gray mare" that is well advertised. It means that its makers have faith in their product and are not afraid to stake their reputation on the advertisements and insist on getting the advertised brand.

He was a new recruit home on leave.

"Hello," said a friend, "how are you getting on? Applied for a commission yet?"

"Not me. All the rest of my battalion are sending in their names, I think; but I say that a regiment needs at least one regular, steady private."

The Cat Talks.

The household cat, a grey Maltese, Curled up before the grate, Just like a fat Archdeacon in His Archidiaconate. He was a comfortable cat, With placid eyes of gold; And in a soft and rippling tone, This was the tale he told:

"My master is a gentleman Who overflows with charm. My mistress often lets me sleep Upon her conical arm. The older girl is passing kind, The younger, blithe and gay, So, too, is John Adolphus, who Approaches his B. A.

"Each one is here at six o'clock, They always dine together; But afterwards they scatter far In spite of wind and weather. Night after night I take my place Before the grate alone, And meditate betwixt my naps, In soft and rippling tone:

"My master is a Macabre, A Shriener and a Moose; My mistress goes a bridging on The tinnest excuse. The girls go skating every night Beguiled in red and grey, And, oh, the swift engagements of The embryo B. A.!

The household cat, a grey Maltese, Curled up before the grate, Just like a fat Archdeacon in His Archidiaconate. And said: "The flames are flickering low The hall clock sweetly chimes, And one of us has sense enough To stay at home sometimes.

"Is your husband very deaf, Mrs. Muggins?" "Well, he can't hear the alarm clock in the mornings, but he can always hear the five o'clock whistle after-noon!"

PATRIOTISM and PRODUCTION

"I would urge the farmers of Canada to do their share in preventing the people of Great Britain from suffering war or privation."

HON. MARTIN BURRELL, Minister of Agriculture.

The Empire Needs Many Foods

In the past Great Britain has imported immense quantities of these staple foods from Russia, France, Belgium, Germany and Austria-Hungary as shown by the following:—

Average Imports
Years 1910-1913	Millions of bushels
Wheat.....	28,489,609 bush.
Oats.....	23,585,304 "
Barley.....	15,192,268 "
Corn.....	7,621,374 "
Peas.....	703,058 "
Beans.....	639,563 "
Potatoes.....	4,721,690 "
Onions.....	271,569 "
Meat.....	26,609,766 lbs.
Butter and Eggs.....	121,112,916 doz.
Cheese.....	61,765,233 lbs.

By "possible" is meant the actual results which have been obtained by our Experimental Farms and by many farmers. These "possibles" have been obtained under intensive cultivation methods and conditions not altogether possible on the average farm, yet they suggest the great possibilities of increased production. By greater care in the selection of seed, more thorough cultivation, fertilization, better drainage, the average could be raised by at least one-third. This in itself would add at least $150,000,000 to the annual income of Canada from the farms. It would be a great service to the Empire, and this is the year in which to do it.
